SANFORD MEETS LEESBURG IN CRUCIAL GAME

LOCAL ELEVEN PRONOUNCED IN FINE CONDITION

Victory Over Strong Lake County Team Will Place Sanford Squad In Title Fight

Stoinoff Returns After An Injury

Large Crowd Of Local Fans Is Slated To Witness The Contest

After a short signal drill this afternoon, Coach Hugh Welchell pronounced his high school gridiron warriors in excellent shape for their game tomorrow afternoon with the Leesburg team. Welchell will be minus the services of only one of his first string players, Hagan being out of the game because of a broken foot. "Shook-it" Stoinoff, who has been on the crippled list, will be seen in action as will Edenfield who recently suffered a sprained shoulder but who is pronounced in good condition now.

The Leesburg game is considered the hardest of the year and of more significance and bearing on the championship fight than any other contest in which the locals have engaged. Victory for the Sanford eleven will give it the right to play the winner of other district winners in the series to determine the state champions.

The high school gridirers will be accompanied by a large crowd of fans who will journey to the Lake county metropolis in an effort to cheer the locals to victory. Being a holiday, the game is expected to attract one of the largest crowds in central Florida.

The contest will be of unusual interest from a local point of view because several of the leading lights of the team will be playing their final scheduled game for Sanford High School. Among them will be Maxwell, Stoinoff, J. E. Higgins, Stanley, Russell, Adams and Shinholsor. All of them are expecting to play the greatest game of their career to close their high school play in a blaze of glory.

The Leesburg aggregation is exceptionally strong, possessing a powerful backfield and a steady line, according to reports. The little contest between the two full-back candidates for all-state honors and Stoinoff, Sanford's pride, is expected to furnish plenty of interest, while the offensive tactics of the two backfields will hold no little amount of thrills.

Coach Welchell was reticent today about the style of attack which his proteges will follow in their battle with Leesburg, but it is understood it will be varied with a flock of new plays being used after several weeks of constant practice. The coach is pleased with his linebacking crew and has been working to perfect an overhead attack that is expected to baffle the opposition.

The probable line-up for tomorrow's contest will be: Hansell, center; Ball and Symes, guards; Yancey and Miller, tackles; Edenfield and Stanley, ends; Higgins, quarter; Maxwell, Tatterson halves and Stoinoff, fullback.

Crimson Tide Holds Last Practice For Game With Georgia

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Nov. 22.—(INS)—The Crimson Tide of the University of Alabama held a short practice today, the last real workout before the game with the University of Georgia team at the Municipal Stadium in Birmingham tomorrow.

The 'Bama gridirers will entrain for Birmingham this afternoon, arriving there just before dark. Word from Athens said the Georgia Bulldogs left early this morning for Anniston, Ala., where they will remain until Thursday morning. Approximately 20,000 seats have been sold for the game in Birmingham. The stadium will seat 21,050 persons.

Myth That Eastern Teams Play Harder Football Is Exploded By Sportwriter

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Perhaps because he was young and innocent and full of illusion, some of which really may have been prevarication, the writer made one of those mistakes which only time and experience can condone. He permitted himself to be led into tacit acceptance of the theory that Eastern football constituted a more virile man-made game than that which prevailed in the Middle West, an error wholly understandable in view of the fact that the section in question had begun to believe that maybe it was a little more courteous than the book required.

And then he saw Illinois play Ohio state. It was a typical game, he was assured, such as one Big Ten rival played against another and yet no Eastern setting could have been possible for the occasion without a series of penalties. Harvard, in fact, probably would have had either or both of them arrested had they played the Crimson at the Cambridge Stadium.

I wouldn't say that the game was exactly rough. Illinois and Ohio State are very good friends on the gridiron and will continue to be probably until death does them part. In fact, there was nothing objectionable about the play of either team. They merely were very firm with one another. When the occasion arose they were almost adamant.

When a play was finished, there was likely to be twenty two men on the ground, not half a dozen who might be immediately concerned. I have seen many Eastern games in which the standees were in the vast majority and apparently planned to remain so for the afternoon.

If they played such a game as Illinois and Ohio State took as a matter of course, the penalties would be numerous because few Eastern teams of my acquaintance can become at all rugged in their attentions to an opponent without getting rather personal about it. This usually leads to rough play

ARMY PRACTICES IN FINAL SESSION FOR NAVY BATTLE

Oliphant, Famous Player Of Former Days, Appears On Scene To Spur Team On In Scrimaging Army Plebes

WEST POINT, Nov. 23.—(INS)—It's coaching staff strengthened by the appearance on the lines of the famous Elmer Oliphant, the Army was to go through its final scrimmage session today and only light drill will be followed in the succeeding few days before the Army-Navy clash at New York Saturday. With the great Oliphant barking on the heels of the varsity for more than an hour yesterday the regulars went through a strenuous two hour battle against the Plebes who were using Navy plays exclusively.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 23.—(INS)—"Just polishing off." That was the Navy situation today. The Midies romped about the field with only one more practice period intervening before the departure for New York. Like the Army the Navy varsity was going in for secret drill in its final hours as the team worked out new formations which the ball toters have been laboring over for a week. While the Navy has no Wilsons nor Cagles, great faith was being pinned today on Lloyd, Ransford and Clifton who have developed steadily.

Local Dry Cleaning Plant Is Purchased By Orlando Concern

Announcement of the purchase of the plant of the Royal Cleaners and Dyers, 305 East Second Street by the Colonial Cleaners, of Orlando and Winter Park was made today by D. R. Colglazier, who will be manager of the Sanford branch. The new organization assumed charge of the Sanford plant today. In addition to the pressing, cleaning and dyeing work done by the Royal Cleaners and Dyers, the Colonial Cleaners will furnish their patrons with laundry service.

Special attention will be given to the finer cleaning problems said Mr. Colglazier, in commenting on his organization's policy. For several years, he said, much of Sanford's finer cleaning work has been done by them in their Orlando plant, where they have been established for the past three years. Recently they added to their cleaning and dyeing business one of the most modern laundry plants in central Florida located in their own new building in Winter Park. The Colonial Cleaners are members of the National Association of Dyers and Cleaners and Mr. Colglazier said he could promise Sanford patrons the finest of service.

Dude Ranch Owners Meet To Hear Commerce Board Agent Discuss Problems

DENVER, Nov. 25.—The "Dude Ranch Owners" of Wyoming, meeting last week to talk over matters concerning their "industry," listened to words of wisdom from T. Joe Cahill, executive manager for the department of commerce and industry of Wyoming, who urged a campaign of publicity that would serve to the effect east the real attractions in the way of recreation and undeveloped resources that the wide open spaces of the west afford.

"T. Joe," who staged a Pony Express pageant for the benefit of President Coolidge in the South Dakota Black Hills last summer, told the dude ranchers that they should get away from the idea of painting the west is still wild and woolly as it was in the days of the cowboy and Indian.

"Through tradition, and history," Cahill said, "the east likes to think of the west as it was in the days of cowboys and Indians. This appeals to magazine editors and to authors for articles and stories of the old western flavor. The business men of the west are inclined to resent this."

"Let them come west and see the rodeos. That's fine. Incidentally they will pick up a lot of real information about western projects and opportunities. Dude ranchers have been described and laughed at, but why? Let the tenderfoot ride in cowboy togs. While he is having a good time, said tenderfoot is going to learn of the real changes of the new west."

To Seek Publicity
"Europe-bound steamships whistle merrily in New York's harbor every year. How are we going to meet competition like that? Those whistles do not have business opportunities abroad. That is the note to deliver."

And the "Dude Ranch Owners" decided to launch a publicity campaign for the 1928 season that is expected to double the "dude ranch" business of Wyoming.

Descriptions of climatic and scenic marvels will have a place in the campaign of education, as will also the attractions of the rodeo and roundup—but business opportunities, agricultural opportunities, mining opportunities and other investment allurements will also be sold to the easterners in an effort to wean them from Europe to the wide open spaces.

Power Company Is Spending Big Sum Money In Panama

PANAMA CITY, Nov. 25.—The Gulf Power Company is making extensions to its lines and spending a vast sum of money on improvements in the Panama City section. The Dixie Construction Company has been at work in this territory for several weeks with a large crew of men reconstructing all of the distribution power lines and installing the white ways systems at Millville, Panama City and St. Andrews, which, when completed, will be one of the finest connecting systems in the state.

The power company is also beginning the construction of a new sub-station at Millville, which will stop the voltage from 2200 up to 6000 volts, an will enable the company to operate the transmission line into Lynn Haven at a higher voltage. A bank of transformers to be installed will reduce the voltage to 2200 for distribution into Lynn Haven and College Point. All of this construction work, which will soon be finished and which is being done at a cost of many thou-

Queer Actions Lead To Confinement For Fort Myers Woman

FORT MYERS, Fla., Nov. 25.—(INS)—Speculation was rife here today with the confinement of a Mrs. Snow in the county jail for "observation" following the declaration of Dr. F. K. Armstrong, local physician, that the woman was insane. Her daughter, Pearl, is being held with her mother.

Mrs. Snow has been known in this district as "Immokalee's mystery woman," because of her refusal to speak to anyone and her methods of living. They lived in a hovel near a sawmill and maintained a rigid seclusion.

The only social intercourse with other persons by the elderly woman and her daughter, according to Sheriff W. R. Maynard, of Collier county, was when the couple went to the store to purchase food and household necessities. Their purchases were always made with bills of large denominations, some of them as high as $100.

Two trunks that are hard to lift are believed to hold immense fortune, and over which the woman and her daughter kept rigid guard, were being held by the sheriff today until a court order gives him sands of dollars, should be encouraged to the people of that section, for it is positive proof that this large electrical distributing agency of this part of Florida.

permission to open them and examine their contents. Neighbors, fearing the woman would die because of her physical condition, caused her detention by county authorities. The contents of the trunk became a matter of speculation when, investigation showed, no visible means of supplying the woman with such large bills could be found.

When they sought Hugas to collect, his hotel told the bettors the man left for Cleveland, but he could not be located over the telephone.

Duke Of York May Be Elevated To Throne Some Day If Prince Of Wales Never Weds

The well-dressed man. As a British Peer. As a Naval Officer. Princess Elizabeth, the Duke's daughter, possibly a future queen. A morning ride.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The British public is just beginning to wake up to the fact that the second son of King George may some day be the most important man in the kingdom.

None of which is only another way of saying that Albert, Duke of York, has a chance of being elected to the throne of England.

And a chubby, roly-poly baby, the tiny princess Elizabeth, child of the duke, may be destined to reign as England's queen. A court circles these eventualities have been discussed for some time. It has only been recently, however, that the public at large has begun to think of them.

Wales Stays Single

There is the situation that brings likable Duke of York into the spotlight.

The Prince of Wales, direct heir to the throne, is unmarried. Furthermore, he has reached the age of 33 and shows no intention what-so-ever of marrying and providing himself with an heir. Thus, if he remains single throughout his life, now seems very possible, he will never, when he becomes king, have a daughter to inherit the crown on his death.

Such a case the Duke of York would be next in the line of royal succession. Should Wales die childless, his brother Albert would succeed him.

Of course, would make the male child of the Duke of York the next heir to the throne.

The Duke of York's only child is a girl, the wee princess above mentioned. If, at the time of her father's death, she had no brothers, she would become queen.

Accordingly, the British public is beginning to pay more attention to the comings and goings of the Duke of York.

What sort of a chap is he, anyway, this younger brother of the monarch?

To begin with, it is safe to say that he would be every bit as popular as Wales if he were as well known. He is a modest, rather unassuming chap of 31, likable in the extreme, fully aware of the responsibilities that are his and, like Wales, thoroughly democratic and unassuming.

Doubtless it will surprise most people to learn it, but York is considered the best dressed prince in England. His sartorial get-up is chosen with even more care than that of Wales, and his taste in clothes runs to somewhat gayer patterns and cuts.

The responsibilities of his position have made him studious and thorough. He is deeply interested in labor matters. Is president of the Industrial Welfare Society and is constantly working to bring about a better understanding between employers and workers. He is forever studying factory conditions at first hand; any factory superintendent has named that the duke likes to drop unexpectedly at a manufacturing plant and make a thorough tour of inspection.

He is fully as ardent a sportsman as the Prince of Wales, too. He plays an excellent game of tennis, is a very fair golfer and while in the navy distinguished himself as a distance runner. In addition he is rated a good cricketer, and in his youth he played a good game of football.

The duke has a very respectable war record. Unlike the Prince of Wales, he was not kept forever scheduled behind the lines; at the battle of Jutland he was under fire on the battleship Collingwood, and later he was transferred to the air force, making a number of flights in France.

At present the duke holds the rank of commander in the navy and captain in the royal air force. Military men will tell you that these titles were earned, too, and not handed him on a silver platter.

The duke went through the regular British naval training school just like any other British youth, and served a long apprenticeship at sea.

The duke has lately devoted considerable time to a novel establishment of his own invention—a summer camp for boys in Kent. At this camp sons of aristocrats and sons of factory hands mingle annually for fortnightly periods, with the duke in attendance as general supervisor. This camp is in line with his attempts to promote better understanding between England's rather widely-separated upper and lower classes.

Constant activity marks the duke's daily life. He once played a widely heralded game of golf with Frank Hodges, well-known mine union leader. On another occasion he was photographed piloting a locomotive into Euston station London. He also is kept busy with ceremonial matters, representing his nation at many royal functions and state ceremonies throughout Europe.

RUTH COMING

From Glamis Castle

The duke's wife, Princess Elizabeth, is charming and popular. She was born Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, and the home of her titled family is the famous Glamis castle, where Shakespeare's Macbeth started on his bloody career. She is, in the words of Queen Mary, "not one of these modern girls; thank heaven!" and her marriage to the duke four years ago, was heralded throughout the kingdom as a love match, pure and simple.

Incidentally it is worth noting that the Prince of Wales always addresses her as "Queen Elizabeth"—as though he knew that she would some day be queen in sober fact.

LAKELAND, Fla., Nov. 25.—(INS)—Extensive preparations were under way here today for the entertainment of Ruth Elder, American trans-Atlantic flyer who is expected to visit here for Christmas.

Miss Elder is at present fulfilling a $100,000 vaudeville contract with the Lowe circuit. She is playing at the Capitol Theater in New York this week.

Florida Industrial Survey Expected To Show Fine Results

LAKELAND, Nov. 25.—The industrial survey of Florida being made by the Agricultural Department of Florida, will bring out some very interesting facts and figures when the reports now being compiled by Grosvener Dawe and his assistants are ready for publication.

Those who have heard the message of Mr. Dawe, former editor of The Nation's Business, have been impressed not so much by the statistics of the three or four years that have now gone into discard, but by the surveys made by certain large corporations that have already invested millions in Florida and prepared to invest additional millions. It may well be taken for granted that the hard-headed business men who are directing the affairs of these corporations are not investing such large sums of money without first being assured of satisfactory returns. These returns can come only through an increase in population. People use electric current for industrials and domestic purposes; they establish factories of one kind or another; they build homes in which to house and rear their families; they engage in business enterprises and by reason of all this they become potential customers of the public utility corporations. Therefore, when a great company like the Gulf Power Company, a subsidiary of the Alabama Power Company of Birmingham is making preparations for the supplying power to the entire section of west Florida lying west of the Apalachicola river, it means that there is some reasonable assurance of a decided increase in population in all that territory.

And again—Southern Bell Telephone Company forecasts an increase in population. It matters year 1940 of at least twice the present population. It matters not so much as to the estimated gain in the several divisions of Florida, although it is gratifying to note that south Florida is expected to increase more than 200 percent. The point is that Florida is sure to grow and grow rapidly.

CUSTOMS CHANGE

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 25.—(INS)—The age-old privilege of police officers walking a beat to sample fruit, peanuts, and the like off fruit carts and stands, has been officially given the air in an executive order issued by the police department here.

Henry M. Leland, 85, founder of the Lincoln and Cadillac automobile companies, has filed suit in behalf of minority stockholders for $6,000,000 against Henry Ford, charging Ford's promises to minority stockholders of the Lincoln company, at the time he bought it, have not been fulfilled.

Real Managers—These Boys

No, they're not laundrymen, nor their leaders, but just the managerial trio of the University of Florida football team. Jack Pedro, of Orlando, the manager, is in the center. At the left is Bill Bond, of Jacksonville, and Jack Givens, of Key West, the two assistants. Managing a football team is no snap—can't you see that by their expressions—or maybe it was the hot sun!

Go Far in Borrowed Car

Adventure ended abruptly for these two 19-year-old Eau Claire, Wis., girls when the borrowed sedan in which they had driven from Minneapolis, Minn., plunged over a 50-foot embankment near Memphis, Tenn. A trip to Minneapolis for the Wisconsin-Minnesota football game started their adventure. Ava Smith (left) borrowed the car from one of her boy friends and she and Esther Cook (right) started on their way. In jail at Memphis, Ava said her folks could provide bond for them, but she didn't know whether they would.

Making Rules For Husbands

A New Jersey bride-to-be is responsible for a set of ten commandments, handed down to the prospective groom...

Whether they will be observed by her husband or whether he will even agree to them remains to be seen...

Some of the women, perhaps most of the men, will in general disagree with the commandments...

'Thou shalt hold no secrets from me, my right to open all your mail, or whatever kind, to remain inviolable...

Levine's Work

Of all the aviators engaged in ocean flying last summer, perhaps none excited less respect...

To say nothing of his personal exploits in the air, being the first civilian passenger on a trans-Atlantic flight...

Time describes the ship as follows: 'Passenger, engines, crew of the actual ship will be stored in a 180-foot 'single wing'...

'But before the actual ship is built, the model must be well tested in a wind tunnel, i. e.—a stout tunnel built for aviation model tests...

The ship certainly sounds as if she would find the Atlantic no difficult matter to conquer. With seven engines we imagine the propellers should be able to pull the terrific weight...

No matter what you may think of Levine as a man, or his personality, you cannot deny him a high place among the elite of aviation.

Noveltys Chief Feature Of Gentry Brothers Shows That Come To City On December 3

Those who say "all circuses are alike" are slated to get a big surprise when the Gentry Bros. Shows exhibit in Sanford on December 3 because the performance of the Gentry Bros. this season is unlike that of its past 38 seasons and those of the other circuses presented here in past years. The Gentry Brothers performance is setting a new standard in circus productions. No expense has been spared to provide one of the most novel and entertaining circus programs ever offered on this continent.

Not only have the stars of this country and of Europe been drafted to take a part in this spectacular offering but also the talented performers from the more distant lands, the South Sea Islands, India, Borneo, Afghanistan, Persia, and the nearer countries in South America and Central America. Each of these have contributed their talents and present the most novel program ever offered by an American circus.

Great care has been taken to keep out of the routine and the amazing acts of the 60 acrobats, 30 aerialists, 60 riders, and scores of other performers are absolutely new and never before have been seen in this country. Many acres are required to house the immense tents of the Gentry Bros. Shows this season and more than 600 people are required to present the performance. Gentry Brothers have invested more than $750,000 in equipment.

The mile-long street parade will be given at 11 a. m. rain or shine, and the doors to the mammoth managerie tent open at 1 and 7 P. M. The big show performance begins at 2 and 8 P. M.

To the kiddies as well as their parents a visit to the Gentry Bros. Shows will prove to be a two-hour journey through a joyland of the highest type of circus entertainment and an unforgettable amusement as well as educational treat. Among those who will contribute much to the enjoyment of the program will be the 30 famous clowns. These playboys in their eccentric make-up have scores of new stunts that are proving great innovations and in keeping with the novel production of the entire circus performance.

14-Year-Old Boy Rules Moors

Following the death of his father, the beloved Moroccan sultan Mouley Youssef, the youngest son, Mouley Mohammed, 14, took up the first problem of state—what to do with the couple of hundred wives left by his father. The boy sultan (shown in the inset and to the left, rear) must decide the problem for himself. The deceased sultan is pictured in the center, with another son to the right.

Truce Effected In Nine Men Killed Prison Mutiny After Threatened Attack was a threat sent in over the telephone to the convicts that the water in the cell house would be turned off.

"IT" got her into the municipal she meets, police said. She has not of a caloric nature called the police and caused her confinement.

Flanked by machine guns, gattling gun emplacements, armed police cars and a bombing squad, a grim, silent army of 1,000 men today awaited the signal that will send them into bloody prison battle that has already claimed the lives of nine men, left 22 others maimed and turned Folsom Prison into a shambles.

to kill the captured guards if officers moved against them.

The mutiny began without warning. Nothing unusual had occurred on Thanksgiving Day. Some of the prisoners were attending a motion picture show and others were milling about in the yard awaiting a chance to get into the shower.

Suddenly Charles Gorham, a guard was surrounded by several prisoners. Placing a knife at his neck, they marched him to a door leading to the administration building. They threatened the guard with death if he did not order the turnkey, on the other side, to open the door. The turnkey not having the keys, Gorham's order could not be obeyed. Gorham was promptly knifed and his captors, yelling started running through the cell house.

TOO MUCH OF 'IT' LEADS TO ARREST OF KISSING GIRL

Pensacola Flapper Is Jailed After Attempting To Kiss Everyone She Met; Police Puzzled Over Case

PENSACOLA, Fla., Nov. 25.—(INS)—An over-abundance of Eleanor Glyn's now famous "IT" has proven very disastrous to pretty Mamie Robinson, sweet sixteen. "IT" got her into the municipal bastle.

Mamie just must kiss everyone she meets, police said. She has developed an abnormal desire to osculate and "IT" caused her arrest.

The pretty little flapper has been asking every person she met if he wouldn't mind kissing her. One of those persons who were not of a caloric nature called the police and caused her confinement in jail on an open charge.

Police are at a loss as to what to place against Mamie and she is sitting in jail pending their decision. She is of a very refined nature but one of these over-inflated species according to Chief of Police William O'Connell. The chief believes in kissing, but "enough is enough," he says.

A psychologist is making an examination of Mamie's well-shaped cerebrum in order to furnish authorities with a correct diagnosis. The kissing complex is said to be unique in psychological history and is being investigated with interest.

Member Of Purity League Interrupts London Dance Show

LONDON, Nov. 25.—(INS)—"Purity," in the form of a shouting unidentified man, reputedly American, swooped down on the London stage last night and sensationally interrupted a dance number in a musical comedy being presented at the Gaiety Theatre.

Bare female legs seemed to be the provocative issue.

The audience was enjoying the performance of "The Girl From Cooks," Jean Barry, an American dancer making her first London appearance, came on with Jack Holland, both attired in Spanish costumes. Miss Barry's legs were without benefit of hose. Suddenly, "I protest against this dance in the name of the American Purity League. It is a barbaric, disgraceful exhibition."

The dancers stopped. The audience gasped. The shout had come from a man who had risen from his stall seat to deliver it.

After his outburst of indignation, the man left the theatre. He refused to give his name but he told the management that the American Purity League was starting a world campaign against bare legs and had already established a branch in London. He added:

"Wherever there is a disgraceful exhibition of bare legs on the stage some one will protest against it."

After the performance Miss Barry said she had a similar experience in Rhode Island. "Some people," she said, "are just too puritanical for anything. But we have danced this dance in Paris and Boston without complaint."

SOFT COAL MEN PLAN STUDY OF FUEL PROBLEM

Bituminous Experts From All Over World To Gather Next November In Smoky City

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 25.—Bituminous coal experts and research engineers from all parts of the world will assemble in this city again in November, 1928, for the second International Conference on Bituminous Coal, the Carnegie Institute of Technology, sponsor, announced today.

Widespread interest aroused by the first such conference here in November, 1926, resulted in the decision to call the world scientists and fuel technologists together again in 1928.

Thirteen countries sent 1,700 delegates to the first conference which was devoted to the discussion of the better utilization of bituminous coal.

No Definite Program

Although no definite program plans for the conference next year have been made, the following points are expected to be emphasized:

1. Development of substitutes for gasoline from coal.
2. Development of power from coal.
3. New processes for low and high temperature distillation.
4. Smokeless fuel.
5. Gasification of coal.
6. Utilization of coal tar products.
7. Fertilizer from coal.
8. Production of fixed nitrogen from coal.

Dr. Thomas S. Baker, president of Carnegie Institute of Technology only recently returned from a tour of Europe where he went to discuss phases of the second conference with eminent scientists in France and Germany. He will return to Europe early next year to

Then Bedlam turned loose. A volley of shots rang out. Where the prisoners got their arms and ammunition is not known. Ray Singleton was hit by one of the first shots. A convict stabbed him as he fell. His body was picked up by other guards who raced for the door. Among them was Walter Neil, who was shot and stabbed as he carried his keys to safety.

Meanwhile, while other guards repelling the convicts from rushing the main gate, Warden Smith and his secretary, Barnett Huse, were trapped in the administration building. Smith and Huse made a dash for safety just as machine gunners and guards, armed with tear bombs, launched an attack against prisoners in the library building. The prisoners answered with a hot fire. Huse was struck in the hip by one

Clean head

No black kettles to scour!

How much pleasanter cooking is, when there are no black pots and pans to scour afterward! Every woman who cooks with a Perfection Oil Stove is spared that horrid nuisance.

There is never a speck of soot. For in the long chimneys, every drop of oil is completely burned before the heat reaches the cooking.

Soot, as you know, is half-burned kerosene — just wasted heat. With Perfections you have real fuel economy, as all the oil is changed into cooking heat. They burn only kerosene, the safe household fuel.

Perfection flames stay at the height you set them, so you need never fear they will "creep up" and make the kitchen sooty.

With Perfection you will have wonderful cooking results, and your utensils will stay shiny as new. See the newest Perfections at any dealer's — 1 to 5 burner sizes. Priced from $7.25 to $130.
