STIFF PENALTY METED OUT IN URSCHEL CASE

Bailey, Bates, Shannon All Given Rest Of Lives In Prisons; 8 Others Sentenced

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 7.—(A.P.)—Defendants in the $200,000 kidnaping of Charles Urschel, millionaire oil man, were sentenced today by Judge Edgar Vaughn in Federal District Court.

The sentences ran for life imprisonment for four of the defendants to five years in 8 months for two of them. Herman Bailey and Albert Bates were sentenced to life terms. U. C. "Boss" Shannon and his wife also received life sentences. Arnon Shannon served a 10 year suspended sentence while Edward Herman and Clifford Skellie were sentenced to five years each.

George (Machine Gun) Kelly, accused as one of the actual abductors of Urschel, will plead guilty in an effort to save his wife, Kathryn Kelly, from punishment.

This announcement was made yesterday by Kelly's attorney, James H. Mathers, after conference with the ex-bootlegger and his wife in their cells at the county jail. When assigned to county jail, Kelly's Federal Judge Vaughn, both pleaded not guilty. Prior to Mathers' announcement, additional pleas by the remaining four were denied by Judge Vaughn. Motions for new trial and arrest of judgment were overruled in quick succession.

City Commission To Adopt Tax Roll At Monday Meet

Adoption of the 1933-34 tax assessment roll, consideration of the 1933-34 budget, and further discussion as a means of increasing revenue as a means of increasing license revenues of this city will form the principal matters of discussion at the City Commission meeting in the City Hall on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Considerable time was spent at the City Hall last night by the Commission members who perused and proposed license fees without making a definite commitment. Indications point to the creation of several new classifications which will require payment of city license if a person or firm contemplates opening a business under the new classification.

THOUGHTS UPON THOUGHT

How blank, how empty seems the press Of themes for mirth, or indignation.

While Parliaments are in recess And Conferences on vacation.

All arguments are laid aside; Hushed is the still, small voice of reason.

And leaves Dictators to provide Fit topics for the Billy Season.

A barely adequate goose— For even the Giant Gooseberry reaches.

A point of interest at the As most of Adolf Hitler's speeches:

Yet I confess I hold him dear Since, with veracity unshrinking To all the world he made it clear Just what Dictators think of thinking.

For "inner unity of thought," The Nazi patriot's chief "boss" sign.

Can, so he tells us, best be sought By stifling freedom of expression;

Thus what he means by thought is shown (As we had all along suspected) To center in the tongue alone.

And leave the brain quite unaffected. By MACFLECKNOB

What Cuba needs is a General Johnson.

When you put it this way that inflated currency is the thing that a deflated wage you got a different feeling about it.

A Michigan doctor has declared that sleeping sickness is not dangerous. The Michigan points out that this will come as mighty good news to those St. Louis victims who caught it.

That hurricane which stopped the regulation in Havana scoured the stuffings out of Key West and Miami. It did no worse than give them a tail lashing. Many a local farmer cast anxious eyes at the skies but when the wind shifted from the northeast to the north they felt better.

Mrs. Kirk Monroe, widow of the famous author of boys books, the late Kirk Monroe, denounces proposals for currency inflation, and urges all people to wire their congressmen opposing further tinkering with our money system.

England has sent a delegation to this country to make some kind of a settlement concerning the war debts to this country. England still owes us about four million dollars. That would be enough to pay for our government public works program and leave seven hundred million left over.

It is the end of the country that probably has a right to take the lead in this.

Freedom Of The Press

If any additional evidence were needed to convince the outside world and particularly liberty-loving Americans that the present German government is depraved and cannot long endure, the new press law of Dr. Goebbels, minister for propaganda and public enlightenment, has ably supplied it.

Dr. Goebbels press law, which was signed this week by Chancellor Hitler, not only limits drastically what may be published in a newspaper, but it also defines and qualifies who may publish a paper or be an editor.

It places a penalty of death upon the circulation of treasonable articles, or such opinions or information as may be contemplated "to weaken German military idealism, Kultur, or trade, or offend religious feelings," with Nazi officials of course to be the judges.

It might be, of course, that some government could exercise such arbitrary power in the interest of the people. It might be that a dictator could arise who would so far subjugate his own selfish interests to the welfare of the people that his power over the press would be used to increase the intelligence and understanding of the masses and to promote co-operative effort and greater achievements.

There have been benevolent monarchs in bygone ages who could properly administer censorship laws, but such men have never found it necessary to resort to censorship.

The only rulers who have needed censorship have been those despots who were trying to mislead the people, who were doing one thing and wanted the people to believe another, who always prepared two sets of speeches, one for the classes and one for the masses, who knew that their power over the people depended upon the ignorance of the people, who realized that their official acts could not stand the test of impartial criticism, who believed that light and truth were intended for those only who despoil others.

It is difficult to conceive of a resident of Berlin voting intelligently in any election when he knows only one side of the question. It will be fairly easy for Nazi propagandists to foment war talk if the Germans know nothing of French military superiority and are led to believe that victory lies easily within the grasp of the German army.

While the world condemns the atrocities against the Jews and boycotts German goods, the peasants read only that the world approves and foreign trade expands. Decent government is impossible under such conditions. Freedom of the press and freedom of public discussion are as essential to majority rule as the ballot itself.

A Misdirected Warning

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who has always been a personal dry, but who saw the iniquities of prohibition and switched over to the side of the repealists, has issued a warning to the dry states that they will become a paradise for bootleggers after the adoption of the twenty-first amendment.

Only two days before that in the same city of New York, where he issued his statement, there appeared in a certain newspaper a full page advertisement of a well-known firm which will distribute liquors. Prices were quoted on almost everything from Booth's gin to champagne. We will not go into detail to list the prices as set down, but they were much, much too high.

Now the warning which Mr. Rockefeller seems to have directed at the dry states alone should very reasonably be applied to those which are wet. If the prices of legitimate liquors are out of line with those quoted by bootleggers then the repeal of prohibition will do very little for its object of destroying illicit traffic.

The bootlegging business has become such a highly efficient organization that it is hardly possible it will not find some way of continuing its existence when liquor becomes legal. Bootleggers will not be bothered with federal taxes or import duties. They will find that their costs for "protection" will be greatly reduced by the diminution of federal and state enforcement. With these advantages they will be able to carry on their lucrative trade in much the same old style.

The only way, it seems at this time, to get rid of the illegal liquor traffic is to take the profit out of the business and this can be done only by reducing the duties and taxes on legitimate liquors so that they cannot be undersold by such a large margin.

Tracy explained that shares in the Chicago Rock Island Pacific and the St. Louis and San Francisco roads—both now in receivership—were bought by the U. S. and International through a joint stock account operated with Dillon, Read and Co., which formed the two investment trusts of which he is president.

Blunt-spoken Sen. Couzens (R., Mich.), commenting on Tracy's outline of the railroad share losses, charged that "some wise guys must have been unloading on you" in the market operations in the last six months in 1929.

Under questioning by Peccora, it was developed from Tracy that 45,000 shares of Rock Island carried on the books at a cost value of $5,566,246 had a market value as of Dec. 31, 1932, of $181,875.

FARMERS GET NEW PLAN FOR THEIR BENEFIT

Loans will be 10 cents a pound at the warehouse on cotton classing low middling or better as to grade, 7-8 inch or better as to staple; and 8 cents per pound on cotton closing low middling or better as to grade and under 7-8 inch as to staple.

The effect of the loans will be to assure farmers a minimum of ten cents a pound for the cotton they still hold. It has been somewhat below that for some time.

There will be restrictions as to the time of sale to prevent a run-away market. For example if the price reached 15 cents, farmers would be compelled to sell.

Amplifying President Roosevelt's oral statement, Secretary Wallace said: "Loans will be 10 cents a pound at the warehouse on cotton classing low middling or better as to grade, 7-8 inch or better as to staple; and 8 cents per pound on cotton closing low middling or better as to grade and under 7-8 inch as to staple."

The loans will be available to farmers who agree to abide by the regulations and co-operate with the secretary of agriculture in the 1934 cotton acreage reduction program, provided a reduction of not more than 40 per cent of the average acreage will be required of any farmer.

The loan value will be stepped up at the rate of 45 cents a bushel for each month after October. This will cover carrying charges and interest. The interest rate to farmers will be 4 per cent.

Warning Issued Dry States On Repeal Perils

statewide prohibition will depend entirely upon whether there is within the state an overwhelming majority in favor of the type of control, on no other basis can it hope to be even marginally successful.

If an uncompromising, bone-dry prohibition is attempted, failure to marshal a proper sentiment behind it will, he believes, admit all the abuses which have recently been experienced under the national regime.

Nothing is to be gained by passing a law which is merely to satisfy the consciences of those responsible for it.

This was the first statement of the Rockefeller report, set forth that aside from the Eighteenth Amendment, Twenty-first amendment, transportation of intoxicating liquors, any state holding such laws illegal.

Before 1919, the alcohol it was often considered wet states failed in their ability to adjust to the reduction of the alcohol to state-wide prohibition.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"ARE SIN, DISEASE, AND DEATH REAL?" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Oct. 8.

The Golden Text was from Matthew 10:7, 8, "The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils; freely ye have received, freely give."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless his holy name. Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases" (Ps. 103:1, 3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Instead of God sending sickness and death, He destroys them, and brings to light immortality. Omnipotent and infinite Mind made all and includes all. This Mind does not make mistakes and subsequently correct them. God does not cause man to sin, to be sick, or to die" (p. 206).

With the others, they were forced to lie on the floor, and after being gagged, blindfolded and tied, the robbers went hastily through their pockets and stripped their jewelry.

The holdup men stuffed money and jewelry into their pockets, shoved their pistols into their belts and walked out. From witness nearby, who saw two men on the street at the time, police believe they walked west on Lafayette Street and disappeared north on Ashley Street.

U. S. INTERESTS INFLATION WILL ARE INDICTED NOT BE TRIED BY SAN MARTIN SAYS DALADIER

Cuban President Says Financial Groups Are Conspiring To Oust Him From Post

HAVANA, Oct. 8.—(A.P.)—President Ramon Grau San Martin of Cuba last night charged that "certain financial interests in the United States" are conspiring the destruction of his government.

He made the accusation in an address direct to the American people. The executive spoke in English.

After defending his administration, declaring it "truly representative" since it emerged from the "very vitals" of the Cuban people, the executive spoke in Spanish.

"Certain financial interests in the United States are unfriendly—they are the sworn enemies of our people—and they are still conspiring our destruction, issuing false propaganda and fighting us step by step. They have been at the back of our every misfortune, just as they were under unfortunate circumstances."

"You know these American interests. They have also brought havoc to their own fellow-citizens and poor depression has been their masterpiece."

Requesting American cooperation and understanding, Grau said, "We must raise the Cuban standard of living for our people from economic slavery and give them the elementary advantages of civilized human beings."

"We can no longer tolerate puppet governments, born of monopolies and concessions and converting Cuba into a wasteland for a privileged few."

Meanwhile, Oriente, Pinar and its capital Santiago seethed with unrest today because of labor troubles and a serious food shortage.

Adherents of former President Mario G. Menocal were reported as preparing for a revolution in several Oriente towns. Labor unions met to formulate demands and to plan a general strike. Food stocks are depleted and a thousand hungry beggars walked the streets. The political situation is tense.

Consumers of electricity in at least five towns struck for lower rates.

In Havana soldiers and radical members of the ABC secret society were shot of from house tops while troops searched for arms in the homes of leading oppositionists.

Asking Sacrifices So That Budget May Be Evened, He Upholds Present Policies

VICHY, France, Oct. 8.—(A.P.)—Premier Daladier, sounding the government's policy yesterday at the congress of the radical socialist party, declared it was determined to defend the franc against inflation as well as French soil from invasion.

Revealing that the heaviest pressure had been brought to bear to devalue the currency, Daladier urged that sacrifices be made to assure a balanced budget at the opening of parliament announced for Oct. 17.

"In the week which follows the opening restoration of our finances must be assured or the country will have another government," the premier told the members of his party.

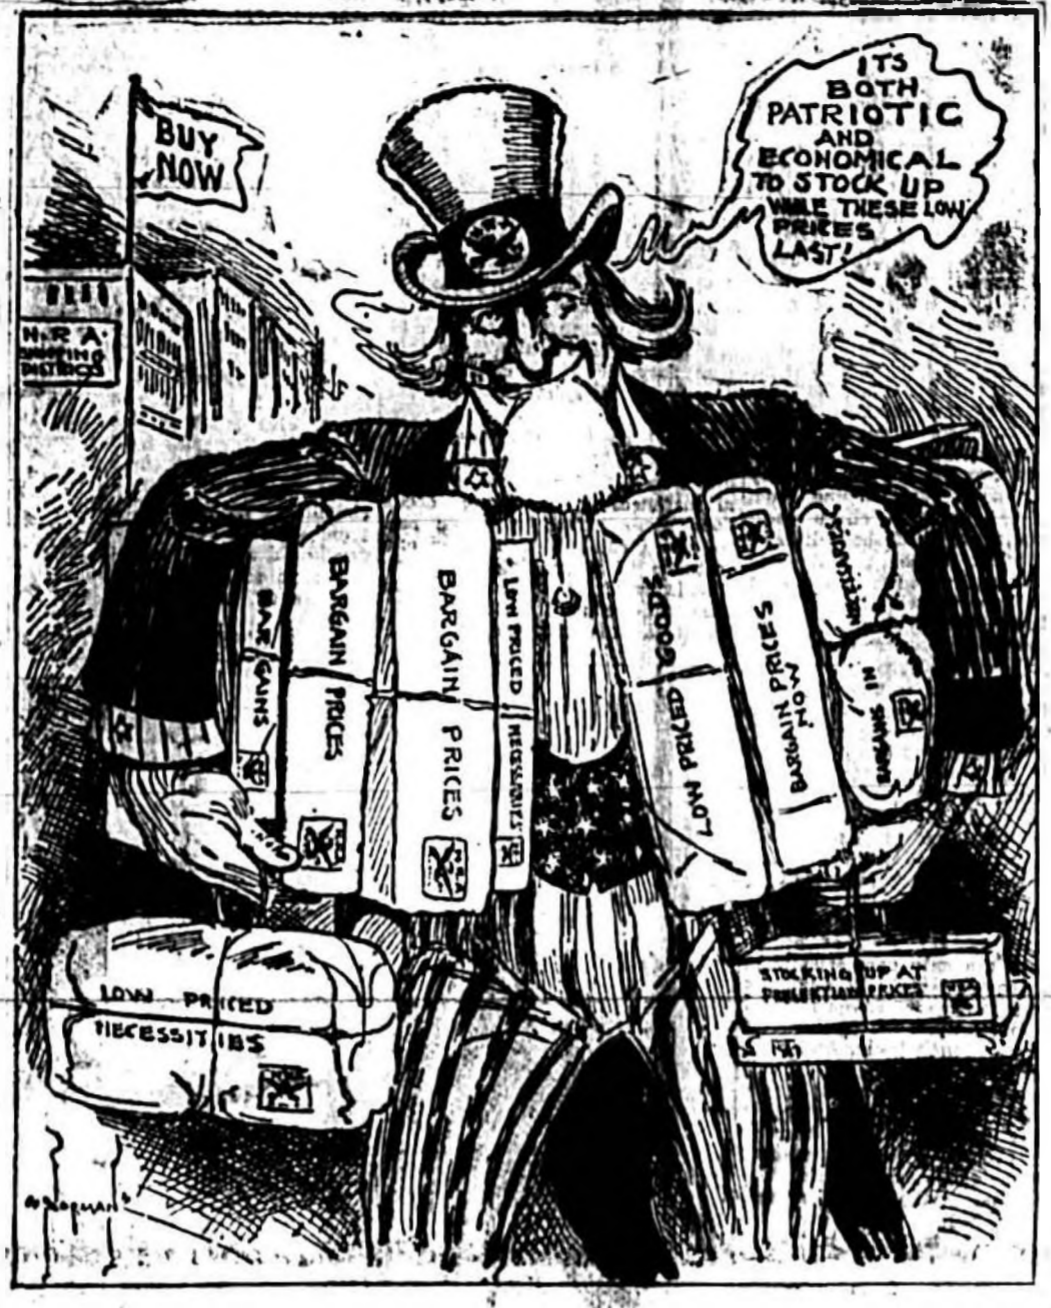

He expressed faith in the parliamentary form of government, however, thus silencing talk that he would seek dictatorial powers. He flatly repudiated inflation, saying:

"It is necessary to destroy the hopes of those who, in their desire for profitable speculation, wish to lead France to alter her money, a step which after several months of false prosperity would increase the difficulties and lead the regions and the country to ruin."

"Devaluation? Our franc already has lost four-fifths of its value."

"Inflation? Who wishes to revive the days of 1926? And since we have neither the time nor the means to make huge experiments and wait for results it is necessary resolutely to end the danger of our finances."

HUMPHREY TO CARRY FIGHT INTO COURTS

Girds For Battle With Roosevelt As G.O.P. Stands Ready To Use Case In Campaigns

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(A.P.)—A reported plan to make a Republican political issue of President Roosevelt's removal of William F. Humphrey from the federal trade commission gained prominence yesterday as Humphrey marshaled legal resources to defend his job.

Humphrey, holding that the President had no power to remove officials of an independent commission, was expected to take definite steps within a few days to provide the legal weapons necessary to carry on his fight. Some Republican leaders were said to be ready to help him along politically.

Mr. Humphrey "removed" by President Roosevelt on Saturday as a Federal Trade Commissioner, sat at his official desk today in defiance of the order. He also attended a regular meeting of the commission. Neither he nor the commissioners would say what action was planned. Humphrey is reported however that he has not the slightest intention of giving up his office unless forced to do so by the courts. While the daily calendar came to Humphrey's desk no other official business apparently was being sent to him.

President Roosevelt was criticized as preparing to go ahead with his plan for remodeling and strengthening the commission as the primary federal agency for securities, and probably also as an NRA and in enforcing industrial codes.

Alving to that end were the appointments of James M. Lane, Harvard professor, and a Democrat, and George C. Matthews, Republican, Wisconsin securities expert.

Lately, credited with a large share in writing the securities act was expected to be the commissioner entrusted with overseeing the act, while Matthews probably would be charged with commission responsibility for any stock exchange regulatory legislation that may be passed eventually. Other members of the commission have had much experience in dealing with problems brought up by the industrial codes.

Thus far Republican leaders are said to be making an important political issue of the Humphrey case, and it is expected some leaders hold that it was a fair and legal way to remove a Republican who represents that party's economic opinion.

If Republican charge President Roosevelt with attempting to play politics with a supposedly non-political commission, Democrats are expected to contend that they are trying to keep politics out of creating a smoother working commission, and that the new powers planned for the commission necessitate a membership of similar economic ideas—ideas which Humphrey was said to oppose.

"Buy Now" Drive Is Begun In Hopes Of Waking Up Buyers

GENEVA CONFAB TAKES NEW TURN UPON CONVENING

GENEVA, Oct. 8.—(A.P.)—As a result of American initiative an era of five power disarmament conversations, with Germany included on the basis of equality began here today.

Foreign minister Joseph Paul-Boncour of France and Count Rudolf Nafodly of Germany were scheduled to confer before night-fall, American Ambassador Norman H. Davis having been successful in bringing the two together in an effort to iron out their differences.

Indications were that the rock on which the conference may be wrecked is the question to what extent Germany's neighbors will record in a treaty their intention to scrap heavy armaments.

Delegates to the disarmament conference, gathering here for the meeting of the steering committee today, were frankly pessimistic.

The steering committee met this morning amid the lowest pessimism since the beginning of the disarmament movement two years ago. Even prospects of temporary stabilization of armaments at present levels until Europe's uneasiness has quieted appear to be fading, delegates admitted.

The chief immediate reason is the diametrically opposed French and German positions on armaments. Delegates also admitted that some knew what the conference could do to avoid a complete breakdown, while none of them knows how to prevent it.

The United States, Great Britain and Italy wish to avert any substantial armament of the money but have indicated a willingness to compromise. Their delegates, however, are considerably annoyed at the extent of the German demands.

Buying Now Is Investment, Says Johnson In Opening Mighty National Campaign

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(A.P.)—Brightly dressed show windows inviting advertisements and well-displayed products greeted America's consumers today in the beginning of a mighty effort by government and business to stimulate buying to support the recovery program.

Hugh S. Johnson, the industrial administrator, and his aides who formally opened the "now is the time to buy" campaign today, spent yesterday going over last-minute plans for the drive, delayed for weeks by the task of bringing industry under NRA codes. Pledges of cooperation in the buying campaign and promises to maintain fair prices, poured in upon Johnson yesterday from thousands of manufacturers and merchants as their contribution to the effort to put the consumer dollar to work against the depression.

In a statement last night Johnson said:

"Industry and trade, cooperating with the government, under codes of fair competition or agreements with the President, have done and are doing their part. Hundreds of thousands of men, long idle, have gone back to work and millions of dollars have been added to payrolls."

"These payrolls cannot be maintained and new jobs for other hundreds of thousands of workers cannot be made unless every consumer in the land does his or her part now."

"The housewives of the country, the purchasing agents who spend 85 per cent of the family income, will realize that now is the time to buy, not only to save money but also because every dollar spent now is helping to keep the wage earner in her family on a payroll."

"For four years the American consumer has been skimping—putting off buying more than necessities until 'better times' better times are here. There is a new confidence abroad in the land. Men are going back to work. Industry is bringing into the market improved products sold back for their better times. Merchants are restocking their shelves and warehouses."

ALL EUROPE IN CRITICAL STATE SAYS STOCKTON

Ex-Minister Sees Race For Armaments As Hinging Upon Meet

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 8.—(A.P.)—Gilchrist D. Stockton, returning American minister to Austria, yesterday described conditions in Europe as "critical" with the prospects of an armament race looming if the disarmament conference fails.

"The conference," he said, "faces an impossible, and only super-human efforts of European statesmen can save it." However, Stockton, who described himself as an optimist, said he believed a solution to the difficulties could be found.

Stockton arrived in his native city yesterday after serving as minister to Austria since May, 1930.

All Europe is watching with intense interest President Roosevelt's administration, he said, and all hope the next deal will succeed because America is the key to world rehabilitation.

He added the collapse of the London economic conference left him ranking in Europe against the United States.

He said Chancellor Dollfus has surmounted almost insuperable difficulties during his 16 months in office and has gained the respect of all patriotic Austrians. Commenting on Dollfus' future, Stockton said "we can best judge a man by his achievements and the chancellor already has demonstrated his leadership and ability on numerous occasions."

As Kathryn paused to kiss a male relative, an officer tried to prevent the greeting by giving her a slight shove. She stumbled and nearly fell. Angered she turned and slapped the officer in the face.
