

Seminoles Fight DeLand For EFC Title Berth Tonight

Winner Of Clash To Battle Northern Leader In Championship Play-Off

With homecoming celebration festivities lingering in the air after this afternoon's mass pep and parade demonstrations downtown, the gridiron representatives of Seminole High School must get down to the more serious business of trying to win the Southern division title of the East Florida Conference from the DeLand Bulldogs tonight at the Memorial Stadium.

Obstacle No. 2 in the path of the Celery Fed quest for their first gridiron championship will be tonight's clash with DeLand. A victory for the charges of Bill Fleming and Fred Ganna would assure Seminole berth in the EFC championship play-off with Ketterling in St. Augustine on the night of Dec. 5.

A loss will of course ring down the curtain on 1952 Celery Fed football season and bring to a close the high school gridiron careers of Junior Joe Lockett, Joe Hutchison, Jake Howell, Joe Pickens, Ray Davis, Terry Correll, Dil Sheffield, Cecil Sheppard, Calvin Wright, and Russell Mann.

Neither coaches are talking about the end of the season but instead are hoping to extend the Sanford football season through the title play-off.

Here are the southern section standings in the EFC.

SANFORD	2 0
DeLand	2 0

DeLand boasts of a powerful running attack that has exploded several times this year in the late period to rout Eustis, Seabreeze, New Smyrna and Palatka.

Sanford has what most scribes think is a "fast" offensive with a fairly good defensive team. This is strictly based upon appraisal of writers who have seen the best teams in the state.

Actually, we believe the battle will be determined in the Seminole's ability or inability to stop the hard running Bulldog halfbacks, Jim Hearn and Bill Henry.

In turn, the Feds will be banking on Junior Metts and Ed Lockett with Ray Davis playing the dark horse role in the backfield. Metts' punting ability will count heavily in favor of Sanford if the game is close.

Metts has been the key of the Celery Fed offense rolling up 1,084 yards on the field, scoring 92 of the team's 159 points. He has averaged over 35 yards per kick in booting over 1,100 yards this year while punting for 14 more points and 185 of the team's 234 yard total.

Lockett has reeled off 426 yards this season for nearly a 4.0 average per carry, and has the No. 2 offensive running job, assuming the burden of the Seminole offense while Metts acts as a decoy.

A gathering of 2,000 fans, including many alumni stars of bygone years, will probably jam the Memorial Stadium to watch the last 1952 Fed game here.

In the previous five home games, Sanford has drawn 8,088 fans with over 5,000 of these paying into the park. If a crowd of 2,000, or nearly 200, shows up for tonight's finale, the home gate total of $115 will pass the 10,000 mark for an all-time record.

This year, for the first time, the federal and state taxes on these games will not be charged because of a new ruling. As a result, S.H. Principal Norman R. Morris has predicted the Seminole will make the first tidy profit on the football season in years.

The increase in gate at the Fed game has insured this profit. "There is no question that the Memorial Stadium has increased the average attendance for our school," Morris declared.

Crooms Faces Eustis In First Annual "Celery Tilt" Tomorrow

Four Bands To Take Part In Pre-Game Parade; Panthers Seeking Revenge

Alpha Phi Alpha, national scholarship fraternity, will stage its first annual post-season "Celery Tilt" football classic in the Memorial Stadium tomorrow (Thanksgiving Day) afternoon at 3:00 p.m. when the Crooms Academy Panthers clash with the Eustis Tigers.

A spectacular parade including bands from Crooms, Eustis, Hungerford and Bethune-Cookman College will lead a gala procession of floats down First Street into East Sanford from there to the Memorial Stadium beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Climaxing the extra curricular festivities will be the coronation of the "Celery Tilt" queen, as yet unnamed — by Dr. R. V. Moore, president of Bethune-Cookman College, Daytona Beach.

The crowning ceremonies will take place at the halftime intermission of the football game being immediately followed by an entertaining demonstration by the famed Bethune-Cookman band.

State chapters of APA have publicized the game throughout Florida and calls have been received requesting reservations from as far away places as Fort Myers and Winter Garden, Dr. G. H. Starke stated today.

Conservative estimates place the expected attendance for this first in an annual series of post-season games at 2,000.

Tickets to the "Celery Tilt" may be purchased in advance at Hummill and Anderson's and Touchon's drug stores, Snorkey's Place, Stapler's Pharmacy, and Martin's Sundry (Midway).

Of course, the main attraction will be the game between Crooms and Eustis. The Panthers, who have been ably coached all season by C. B. Franklin will be out to better their 3-3 record this year and in the process will be seeking to avenge their earlier setback to the Tigers, 2-0.

It was only last month that Louie "Trickman" Jackson was caught in his own end zone for the ignominious safety that provided Eustis with that unusual margin of victory.

This was the same bitterly fought engagement that saw Eddie Ely make such a jolting tackle, as to have eight fresh jarred toes later removed.

The Panthers drew an unexpected week of rest when the Crooms game in Cocoa was cancelled because of rain last Thursday night.

Having won the straight at the very beginning of this season the Panthers have nosed divined in the succeeding three tilts. Coach Franklin, who has had to battle with injuries and the opposition through most of this current losing streak, will turn his charges loose against Eustis tomorrow hoping to return to the winning trail that saw Crooms roll up 10 consecutive victories before losing to Hungerford last month.

The Franklinsmen will depend on their leading ground gainers, Capt. Oscar Williams, who races the team with an overall 24 points scored this year, and G. "Duster" Knight. Hard charging Derry McGill, one of Franklin's mid-season finds, will probably start in the Panther backfield.

Norman Kinard, dependable center, will be on the field at the kick-off. Cubby Malone will be ready on the bench to be inserted when the going gets tough.

Here are the defensive and offensive line ups for Crooms.

BRION WINS

TAMPA — Cesar Brion started slowly and slipped a bit at the finish, but won a unanimous 10-round decision over Big Boy Wilson here in the Orange Bowl.

Brion, 205-pound Argentine, kept his left hand in Wilson's face all the way. The 215-pound Georgian's straight attack was a left that opened a cut over Brion's right eye.

Alpha Phi Alpha scholarship has picked Crooms Academy's Panther grid team to play in tomorrow's first annual "Celery Tilt" game in the Memorial Stadium at 3:00 p.m. The APA's Thanksgiving Day clash will bring together the Eustis Tigers and the Panthers once again. Previously, Eustis nosed out Crooms, 2-0, this year. These Panthers are, top row, left to right, Cecil Richardson, Nathan Williams, Willie Stevens, Johnny Singleton, Eddie Ely, Paul Knight, Thurman Williams, Cubby Malone, Willie Demps. Middle row, John Moore, Derry McGill, Ernest Thorne, Grady Edge, Norman Kinard, William Frederick, Charles Merritt, William Wright, Augustus Gordon, Bill Wynn and T. V. Davis, Herald sportswriter. ## Coach Dodd Lauds Running Of FSU's Fullback Dobosz

TALLAHASSEE — (Special) — Although Florida State University lost to Georgia Tech by a 30-0 count last Saturday, it's doubtful if the Engineers' defensive unit will forget Stan Dobosz, the Seminole hard-hitting fullback.

The chunky East Chicago, Ind. Freshman, who seems to improve with each game, cracked the game early in the final period with a twisted ankle and moved Coach Bobby Dodd to proclaim him "one of the finest runners we have faced all year."

In addition, Dobosz's rushing total is believed to be the most an opposing runner has gained against the Engineers all season which is an accomplishment in itself since Tech is rated the nation's number one defensive outfit.

At any rate, this shouldn't come as welcome news to the Wolford Terriers, Florida State's opponent this coming Saturday in Spartanburg, S. C. The Seminole still looking for their first win of the season, defeated Wolford 13-0 in Tallahassee last year.

And if Dobosz, who has now gained 510 yards for a 4.4 average per carry performs against the Terriers as he did against Georgia Tech, this could be the Saturday the Seminole can stop looking.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK — The hottest topic of conversation among this town's football fans in recent days is the manner in which Freddie Benner, the former Southern Methodist passing ace, has suddenly left the New York Giants up by the slack of their pants and pitched them into the thick of the race for the professional championship.

The tall, rangy rookie had been sitting on the bench and picking up nothing but big hunkies during the Giants' first eight games, in which they had posted the not impressive win-lose record of 5-3. After a fine start, the club's regular quarterback and passer, Charlie Conerly, had lost the knack of hitting his receivers.

As far as three games back, the cry had gone up for Coach Steve Owen to forget his loyalty to Conerly and at least give Benner a shot at the job.

"Do you want me to shoot Conerly just because he has a bad game or two?" Owen demanded. "Anyway, Benner is too fine a prospect to be thrown in there and ruined before he has learned the formation thoroughly. He never worked from anything but the spread formation in college. I won't put him on such a spot until I know he's ready."

And that was how matters stood when Sunday's game began against the Redskins. It was taken for granted that if the Polo groundsers lost that one they would be out of the running for the title in their division. There was Conerly still crunched behind center, and the discontent among the Harlem alumni was vast.

The end of the first period marked the seventh straight in which the Giants won. Conerly's direction had not scored a touch.

Purdue's two 235-pound tackle-ends, Bob Taylor and Bernard Flowers, Boston University's Harry Agganis also has signed up for the North.

Barr Is Appointed President Of K-M-O

George Barr, ex-National League umpire for 19 years and owner of the barber's school bearing his name, was appointed president of the Kansas-Oklahoma-Missouri class C league recently. It was reported today by Sanford's Dick McLaulin, long time friend of Barr.

The George Barr Umpire School will be conducted at Longwood again next February. The school was held in Sanford for four years between 1948-51, then last year it was shifted to Longwood after the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station was re-activated in 1951.

Barr first conceived of an umpire's school in 1935 and the idea was turned into a virtual banana. Barr has graduated over 800 umpires in organized baseball including Scotty Robb and Bill McKinley of the American League.

Hungerford Girl Is "Celery Tilt" Queen

Barbara Baker, 17-year-old senior at Hungerford High School from Winter Park, has been chosen as the "Celery Tilt" queen to reign over the Crooms-Eustis contest tomorrow. It was revealed today by Dr. G. H. Starke, secretary of Alpha Phi Alpha.

The APA members picked the queen at a meeting Sunday. Her record includes secretary of the senior class, star basketball player, member of the H-Y and Home Economics clubs. She ranks in the upper one-third of her class in scholarship and works at a grocery store on Saturdays.

The new queen will be crowned at the Memorial Stadium between the halves of the game by Dr. R. V. Moore, president of Bethune-Cookman College, Daytona Beach.

11 Ex-Red Leaders Of Czech Rule Get Death Sentences

Defendants Had Confessed They Conspired To Destroy Nation's Economy

VIENNA (AP)—A Czech Communist court sentenced 11 former leaders of Czechoslovakia's Red government to death today and imposed life sentences on the other three defendants in the Prague purge trial.

Among the 11 who were named to die were Rudolf Slansky, former secretary general of the Czech Communist party and once believed to be his country's Red boss, and former Foreign Minister Vladimir Clementis.

During the trial, the group headed by former Czech Party Secretary General Rudolf Slansky and other former Foreign Ministers, including Clementis, confessed at length that they had plotted with Israel, Zionist "capitalists," the United States and Britain to overthrow Gottwald's regime and wreck Czechoslovakia's limping economy.

All but three of the defendants are Jews. The violent attacks on Zionism which marked the trial reportedly unleashed a wave of terror through other East European Communist states, where many prominent Jews held high places.

A highly reliable source said open anti-Jewish attacks had broken out in Bratislava, Slovakia, where Nazi-like signs—"Jews" or "Jews live here"—were chalked on the doors of Jewish homes.

The report added that the words "Down with the Jewish capitalists" were spread in front of a synagogue and on the streets and in public places refused to order their removal.

In Tel Aviv, the Israel Foreign Office said it had reports of a wave of suicides among leading Jewish Communist Party officials of the trial. The Israeli Parliament in a resolution has expressed shock at the trial and described it as an affront to the Jewish nation.

In addition to Slansky and Clementis, the defendants included: Bedrich Gomringer, 51, former deputy secretary general of the Communist Party; Ludvik Frejka, 48, former deputy foreign minister; Andre Simon, 57, former editor of Rude Pravo, the Czech Communist party paper; Ludvik Marzouk, 48, former deputy secretary general of the government economic office; Josef Frank, 43, and Otto Bling, 45, also former party deputy secretaries; Rudolf Marzouk, 39, former deputy secretary general of the finance minister; Karol Svab, former deputy minister of state security; and J. Gen. Bedrich Ruzicki, 41, former deputy intelligence man and former deputy defense minister.

All are Jews except Clementis, Svab and Frank.

Their confessions came after long months in jail, for some more than two years, and were the well-

Midwest Gets Another Dose Of Wind, Snow

Second Wintery Surge Of Ice Blasts Punish Mid-Continent Thanksgiving Day

By The Associated Press

The nation's Midlands, hammered by a destructive snow and wind lashing, got belted with a second wintery punch of icy blasts today.

Temperatures plummeted during the night as skies cleared over much of the snow-covered mid-continent which counted 10 deaths in the last November storm. Hundreds of others were injured and property damage was extensive.

The snow and cold prompted thousands to put planned Thanksgiving Day travel plans into the deep freeze along with the cold turkey. It looked like a chilly holiday for the eastern two-thirds of the nation, with the most severe cold in the Plains and Rocky Mountain region.

Winds diminished from the near gale like force which swept the region Tuesday and Wednesday. The wind-swept snow dealt a knockout blow to traffic from Colorado eastward to Minnesota.

Hundreds of travelers were marooned and power and communication lines were ripped down in many parts of the storm belt. Hardest hit areas were from the mountain regions of Wyoming and Colorado through Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Minnesota.

But strong winds whipped across other parts of the mid-continent—Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri and the Dakotas.

The cold air from the Rocky Mountains spread westward across the prairie lands and dipped into the South. It was subtle early today in sections of five states—Wyoming, Colorado, Montana, Kansas and Nebraska.

Temperatures were subsiding in other mid-continent areas. The cold blasts hit Northern Texas. A low of 13 was reported early today in Amarillo, the same reading as in Rapid City, S. D. The chilly air touched into the Southland as far as Northern Florida.

U. S. Weather Bureau forecasters said temperatures will drop gradually during the day and tonight over most of the Eastern states. Subfreezing readings were in prospect for most of the mid-continent.

Today was no holiday for the highway crews and thousands of snow shovelers who continued to dig out from the Midwest's heavy wet snowfall during the day and night. The falls measured more than a foot in some places, but the strong winds caused much drifting. Most trains kept moving but were running behind schedule.

Snow continued early today in Eastern Minnesota and parts of Michigan. There were flurries in other sections of the North-Central region.

Much of Iowa and Nebraska remained snowbound as the fresh mass of cold air moved in to add to the discomfort. Six deaths were attributed to the storm in Nebraska. There were four in Iowa, four in Kansas, one in Oklahoma and one in Texas.

Mostly clear weather and seasonal temperatures were reported in the Pacific Coast states. Rain fell last night over Eastern New York and south as far as Maryland.

Wear your crown, O noble bird. And look your kingdom over. It would seem, methinks, absurd, To do it later as guests say, "More."

Ike Forgets Cares To Spend Thanksgiving Day With His Family

U. S. Marks Time For Observance Of Thanksgiving

Americans From Plymouth Rock To Korea Celebrate Day

By The Associated Press

Americans from Plymouth Rock to Korea celebrated Thanksgiving Day today with feasting and prayer—and hope for more joyous holidays to follow.

At Plymouth, Mass., where the Pilgrims landed 322 years ago, the community mirrored the nationwide reunions, turkey dinners with all the fixings, traditional football rivalries and special church services.

But only at historic Plymouth is witnessed the annual trek of Pilgrim descendants up Leyden Street for a memorial service in the old burial ground.

In the bleak Korean hills, with the battle lines comparatively quiet, troops relished their turkey dinners complete from shrimp cocktail to nuts.

The Americans shared their holiday fare with United Nations comrades and Korean war orphans. Chaplains of all faiths conducted services for soldiers behind the lines.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, told the troops "Last year at this time we thought that peace would be here before Thanksgiving came around (Continued On Page Six)

British Officials Strive To Solve Empire Problem

Commonwealth Ministers Seek Solution In Stormy Outlook

By ARTHUR GAVRHUN

LONDON (AP)—British Commonwealth prime ministers and their deputies gathered here today in winter weather as they and their counterparts in the economic problems they will try to solve.

As heavy snow, gales and ice gripped much of the British Isles, the seven prime ministers and two deputies here for two weeks of conferences during which they hope to work out plans for putting the vast Commonwealth on a paying basis and for stepping up the flow of world trade.

The weather delayed the arrival of Canada's Louis St. Laurent, held up last night in Prestwick, Scotland. Two other attendants, Australia's Robert G. Menzies and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, were delayed by engine trouble flying from New York and did not arrive until this morning.

Already here to meet with Britain's Winston Churchill were Prime Minister Dudley Senanayake of Ceylon, Sidney G. Holland of New Zealand, Kwajin Nazimuddin of Pakistan and Sir Geoffrey Huggins of Southern Rhodesia.

South African Deputy Prime Minister N. C. Havenga and Indian Finance Minister Sir C. Hitteran also came to represent their countries. Daniel F. Malan and Jawaharlal Nehru.

Churchill will speak for Britain's far-flung colonies at the talks.

The prime ministers hope to agree on a master economic plan in which they can invite all of non-Communist Europe and then the United States to cooperate.

Their idea is first to balance their own books by spending no more than they can pay for, then to set world trade moving more easily, then to balance the dollar and non-dollar countries.

The top-level powwow—first of its kind since 1932—became necessary because the Commonwealth's economic situation is an impossible one. With all its wealth of natural resources, production and capital, the powerful group with more than 500 million people can earn a keep in the world only by drastic import cuts. War costs, overvalued and cold war have all helped to build the crisis.

But in 1952 few persons know that direct American help is no longer theirs for the asking. Yet they urgently need new sources of capital. They have concluded that the United States of America must be persuaded to contribute more money to earn more, save more and work more.

Long-term aims include making the pound once more as strong as the dollar, where the British have a project for a vast new international banking and investment system.

Humphrey Will Urge Demos To "Sign Up" Morse

Would Ask That Senator Be Invited To Join Party Councils

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota said today he will urge fellow Senate Democrats to invite rebel Republican Sen. Morse of Oregon to join their party councils.

He said he had told Morse of his plan.

Humphrey declined to discuss the reaction of the Oregon senator.

Morse quit the Republican party during the presidential campaign, announced he would become an independent and plugged for the election of Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson.

Senate Democrats plan to meet a few days ahead of the January convening of Congress to discuss strategy.

"I'm going to propose then that Sen. Morse be invited to sit in on the caucus," Humphrey told a reporter.

"I've talked to Morse and told him that I hope he will join the party officially, or at least work with us," the Minnesota senator continued, "but I am not at liberty to say what his reaction was."

Morse himself has refused to give a hint as to whether he will line up with the Republicans or the Democrats on such partisan

Shakeup Of VA By Republicans Seen In Offing

GOP Action Expected Despite Recent Efforts At Efficiency

By W. JOYNE MACFARLAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials of veterans organizations generally approve newly announced plans to shake up the Veterans Administration, but one today predicted further changes will be made by the Republican administration when it takes over.

Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray disclosed yesterday that the sprawling V. A. was being streamlined in hopes of increasing efficiency, saving perhaps to million dollars a year, and giving better service to 41s.

Commander Lewis K. Gough of the American Legion said the plan seems "basically sound and if properly carried into effect will increase the efficiency of the V. A.'s services to the nation's veterans."

Commander Marshall E. Miller of Annetts said he approved of some parts of the program.

Victor F. Hogan, for 20 years director of claims for the Disabled American Veterans, said he believed veterans would be pleased with some of Gray's plans.

But Col. George E. Hams, national rehabilitation service director of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and himself a former sergeant, said:

General Has Already Named All But Two Cabinet Members; To Work Overtime

By REIMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP)—President Dwight D. Eisenhower put aside the problems of state for today and like any other American sat down to a Thanksgiving turkey with his family.

He had no appointments and did not plan to visit his offices in downtown New York.

The general could look back on a week of heavy labor.

He has now named all but two of the nine members of his Cabinet. The secretaries of labor and commerce are not yet designated. Along with that, he announced his choices for a number of other top-level offices in the administration he is forming.

At the same time, he has been getting up-to-the-minute reports from discussing future legislation, financial problems relating to taxation and the budget, talking politics, and conferring with officials of the military and navy.

He apparently intends to make up for time lost on the holiday today by working overtime this week end.

His press secretary, James C. Hickey, said visitor lists have been made up for both Saturday and Sunday, and that more announcements of designations for office will be made then.

Before he left his offices yesterday for the holiday, Eisenhower announced designations of two more men for key posts.

A gift box has been received from Iran, Mrs. Robb said, which contains various articles which apparently were made by children of that country.

Lt. Dingfelder Is Battery Commander

BAUMHOLZER, Germany (Special)—Lt. Simon L. Dingfelder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Dingfelder of Sanford, is now commanding officer of B Battery, 7th Field Artillery Battalion, stationed at Baumholder, Germany. He assumed command of the battery on June 24, 1952 after serving in it as reconnaissance officer and executive officer.

Lt. Dingfelder, who holds a regular army commission, entered the service at Ft. Still, Okla. in June, 1951. He attended the B. O. A. artillery course there for 18 weeks before joining the 76th at Ft. Bragg, N. C. He shipped overseas in February, 1952.

The young officer graduated from Seminole High in 1947 and Cornell University in 1951.

His wife, the former Miss Adele Brauer of Paterson, N. J., joined him in Germany in June, 1952. They have two children, daughter, Jan Stephanie, age 22 months, and a son, William Michael, born Oct. 26, 1952.

Special Thanksgiving Services Are Being Held In Sanford Today

Thanksgiving Day, 1952, is being marked in Sanford with special religious services, closed houses, stores and public offices, and a welcoming hand being extended to sailors at the Sanford Naval Air Station who are far away from their homes.

Union Thanksgiving services were held at the First Methodist Church this morning with Dr. Herbert J. Bass, pastor of the First Christian Church, delivering the sermon and special music being provided by the Methodist choir. The services were sponsored by the Seminole County Ministerial Association.

Services were held at 7:30 and 9:30 a.m. at the Holy Cross Episcopal Church, marked by the collection of food at the altar for distribution to the needy, in making their Thanksgiving Day a bit brighter. The Rev. H. L. Zimmerman delivered the special sermon.

A Thanksgiving mass at 8:00 a.m. with the Rev. Fr. Richard Lyons officiating marked this day of thanks at the All Souls Catholic Church.

Every single sailor at SNAS is enjoying a homey atmosphere this Thanksgiving, was placed in local homes through the local United Service organization, Mrs. J. L. Corley, chairman of the project, reported.

Closed today in observance of the holiday were the Court House, the City Hall, the American Red Cross office, the two local banks and most of the stores, business houses and offices.

A special Thanksgiving dance will be held at the local USO tomorrow night from 8:30 o'clock until midnight. Music will be furnished by Ed Paul Kraham's orchestra. Mrs. Ed Lane has charge of the affair.

Two Damage Suits Are Filed In Court

Two companies were named as defendants in damage suits of $100,000 each which were filed yesterday with the clerk of the Circuit Court at Sanford. It is reported that the suits are against Albert William Hays, Orlando automobile who died from gas asphyxiation Nov. 26, 1950, in the Daytona Beach.

Information in the suit against the Orlando Botanic and Service center, the company "through its authorized agents negligently and carelessly performed supervision of installation of a gas heater in the room occupied by the deceased, while the contention in the other suit is that the company "failed to use ordinary care in ascertaining the heater's condition."

Korean Wizard Of Finance Has Gained Fortune

Speculation On Booming Stock Market Has Paid Off Well

By FRED SAITO

TOKYO (AP)—The wizard of the booming Japanese stock market is a 37-year-old South Korean who started without a penny of his own in 1945 and now speculates with some 10 million dollars entrusted to him by millions of clients. His personal fortune is a secret but Matsutani Ho's lavish way of life is in marked contrast to more than 600,000 other Koreans in Japan. Most of them are poverty-stricken day laborers, looked upon as second-class citizens. Ho now heads a private stock investment fund with 160 branches throughout the country. The powerful Matsutani Buddhist sect with some 10 million followers is one of his best customers. Japanese brokers look with awe upon this slight young man who adopted a Japanese name and is now a naturalized citizen. He was in the same poor fix as his fellow countrymen in Japan until shortly after World War II. He came to Japan in 1928. He was only 13 when he came to live with his brother, a factory worker now missing in Korea. Now he is one of Japan's richest men. He lives in a palace-sized house and travels in a limousine driven by a chauffeur.

After the war Ho borrowed money and headed for the countryside to buy food and bring it to starving Tokyo. "It was a strenuous business but rewarded with 100 per cent profit in the chaotic days when many faced starvation," Ho told an interviewer.

Ho turned away from his fellow Koreans and set about making money. "I have no friends in the Korean community and don't seek them," he said. With funds gained from his food dealings, Ho started a stock broerage business in Tokyo's East End slum district in 1948. He proved a genius at figuring the twists and turnings of Japan's booming market. He borrowed money from investors and speculated on his own, dividing the yen, early in January, to 320 yen

Next Governor Of West Virginia Belies His Youth

Although He Is Only 35 Years Old, New Chief Is Veteran

By PHIL MANGELSHORF

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Five years ago William C. Marland was graduated from the West Virginia University Law School at Morgantown. Today the 34-year-old veteran on Nov. 10 the Japanese camera firm's stock shot up from 185 yen to 415 yen in two weeks. He learned to call the turn and rode the market to a fortune. He's still at it with no sign of weakening in his speculations. His firm is known as the "Hozen Keizai Kai." Translated that means—despite its way of operation—"Safe Economy Club."

and ex-coal miner stands ready to take over the Democratic administration which has been in power at the statehouse here since 1932.

Although he'll be by four years the youngest governor the state has ever had, Marland is no "boy wonder."

Rather, he moved steadily upward under the guiding hand of the administration of retiring Gov. Ole E. Patton. His self-determination has yet to be proved. Marland moved through a turbulent campaign, rife with vitriol, without becoming involved in the heavy oratorical crossfire. Few GOP attacks were aimed at him personally.

Against him stood Republican Rush D. Holt, who in 1935 was a "boy wonder" senator. United Mine Workers' Chief John L. Lewis came to West Virginia—largest producing state of soft coal in the nation and critic of Holt or any other Republican.

West Virginia was one of nine states which went for Stevenson. Marland's followers fell of the time during a particularly heated period of the campaign when he was to make what was considered an extraordinarily important speech.

As the preliminary speech making progressed Marland had not made his appearance. His workers found him quietly napping in an offstage room.

They credit his experiences as a naval officer for his ability to relax. Marland once took command of an LSM in Philadelphia and found that he, of all the crew, was the only one with sea experience. He got his ship to Pearl Harbor safely.

Marland's father is a mine superintendent at the family home town, Glen Rogers. The new governor worked in the mine there and is still a member of the USM. Marland received an A.B. degree from Alabama University before joining the Navy. After his release from service he took his law degree. He moved into the statehouse as assistant attorney general in 1938, and a year later was appointed attorney general by Patton.

Marland is married and has three children. No great changes are expected under his administration. He made his friendly, hand-shaking, neigh-

Work Continues On Florida's Sizeable Flood Control Job

MIAMI (AP)—Work continued today on Florida's $208,000,000 flood control project in the wake of dedicating ceremonies for 123 miles of levees already built.

Formal dedication was held Tuesday at Twenty-mile Bend on State Road 80, between West Palm Beach and Belle Glade, when charges of dynamite sent columns of dirt into the air.

Sen. Spessard L. Holland pulled the switch that set off dynamite to open a canal. Then Gov. Fuller Warren touched off a blast that marked ground-breaking for a giant pump to be built at the spot where three levees meet.

The ceremony highlighted an all-day motorcade by 100 persons who toured the project in Dade, Broward and Palm Beach counties to inspect the vast network of levees being built by the Central and Southern Florida Food Control District.

The levees, all built in the last two years, stretch from a point near Homestead in Lake Okechobee. The long wall is designed to protect East Lake water from Everglades flood waters and to form the Eastern rim of three conservation pools in the natural floodway of the Everglades.

"You will have the opportunity to improve your land," Col. Walter K. Wilson Jr., U. S. division engineer, Atlanta, told the group. But he stressed that the big federal-state project "will not do the job alone."

Holland predicted that the Republican administration won't affect the flood control work and said no partisan politics has entered the picture to date.

VA Shakeup

Assistant administrator of the V. A., said he believed the Republicans, when they take power in January, will institute further changes.

Hama said that even under the new reorganization plan, V. A. still has "too many top-flight administrative positions."

Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass.), who will become chairman of the House Veterans Committee in January, said she felt it was "unfair and unwise" for Gray to make such sweeping changes on the eve of a change of administration.

All, however, expressed satisfaction with one decision Gray announced: There would be no elimination of regional offices.

Most of the changes are based on recommendations made in a long-secreted $605,000 private survey made by the Chicago management consultant firm of Booz, Allen, and Hamilton. Gray made the survey public simultaneously with his announcement of reorganization plans.

He said he was setting up three major departments—instead of the former 12—as recommended. One will handle medical and surgical care for veterans, one will be in charge of insurance and the third will manage such benefits as claims, loan guarantees and vocational training. Each will be headed by a deputy administrator.

But Gray turned down the suggestion to streamline the regional office setup. The survey said a shakeup of these offices would bring an additional savings of 15 million dollars.

Gray said changes being made might result in a savings of 10 million dollars a year, but would not likely result in any appreciable cut in personnel.

Rep. Rogers attended yesterday's news conference and said later she felt that in general it was "unfair and unwise" to put the new plan into effect before the Republican-controlled Congress meets.

issues as organizing the Senate. Not counting Morse, the Senate now consists of 48 Republicans and 47 Democrats.

Humphrey's suggestion drew support from Sen. Hunt (D-Wy.) in a separate interview, but there were quick signs that there would be at least some opposition.

"I would not oppose inviting Sen. Morse to sit in with us if it is proposed at the caucus," Hunt said. "He resigned from his party, but came out our security of Stevenson in an honorable manner. He did not pretend one thing, and he is another."

Sen. Gillette (D-Ia.) told a reporter he thought such an invitation would not be "seemly."

"I do not believe it would be seemly for the caucus by formal action to issue such an invitation," Gillette said. "We would welcome any other senator who desires to work with us, but the initiative should be taken by the senator himself."

A Southern Democratic senator, declining to be quoted by name because it would be embarrassing to discuss a colleague, said he felt Morse "knows his way around, and can ask to be admitted to the caucus if he desires. We should not invite him."

The Southerner said he doubted any of the Dixie delegation would oppose admitting Morse to the caucus simply because they disagreed with his frequent treatment of proposed "civil rights" legislation.

a place called Orlando," Mr. James L. Hughey was made county clerk and served until about 1880. Mr. J. N. Worthington donated a tract of land for public purposes, upon which the next year, 1887, a one-story brown log building was erected for a court-house, which was later destroyed by fire with all its records, except one book, which contained the earliest records of the county. On the evening before the fire Mr. Hughey, fortunately, had taken it to his home to make some entries.

The little church-school-house, which the trustees had occupied, was burned during their tenure. About 1887 another log building was erected on Mellonville Avenue opposite to where the blackhouse had stood on land also donated by Mr. A. J. Vauchoer for a Methodist Church, which was used also for a school-house. There Methodist services were held once in three months, and a Union Sabbath school was conducted weekly (from 1867. The first Episcopal and Presbyterian services as well were held from time to time in this little edifice; Ernest Chapel (1882 Notes) About 2445 Mellonville Avenue).

Except for occasional depredations, such as the celebrated Shiver's massacre at New Smyrna, the Indians gave no further trouble. Detachments of regular soldiers and some state troops were scattered over the peninsula. As late as 1887 state troops were stationed at Ft. Maitland, under command of Capt. Kendrick and Capt. Robert Bullock. In 1888 military posts were no longer needed in Florida. The camps of the soldiers had been scattered throughout the peninsula and down the coast; and the names of Fort Mason, Christmas, Drum, Pierce, Lauderdale, Dallas, Myers, Davenport, are familiar to us now.

When the camps were broken up and the troops marched away, each of these forts proved the nucleus of a neighborhood. Grace County now settled down to the pursuit of civil life. In the next years that followed, few persons traveled away from, and few came to the county. Some small orange groves were planted and the people produced from the soil, mainly what they consumed. For food, large herds of wild cattle were grazed on the prairies.

Ft. Mellon had been the first military station in the interior of Florida, perhaps for the reason of its situation at the headwaters of the St. Johns River, making easy the transportation of the army and its supplies to the interior. And, doubtless, Mellonville owed its continuance after the withdrawal of the army, to the fact that it was the natural gate way for supplies for the population of South Florida.

United States mail was brought by steambot from Jacksonville. Mellonville was the distributing point, from there it was sent out by horsemen or pack, that for the East Coast going to New Smyrna, from there down the Indian River, on down the coast and government road to the settlements, and fine to Miami (Ft. Dallas). (It is related that twice when the mail bag was opened at the end of the route, it contained but one letter and that was for the poor mail carrier himself.)

at deputy attorney general, and Arthur Vandenberg Jr. as White House secretary.

Rogers, 39, made a reputation as special counsel for Senate committees that investigated cases involving corruption in government and disloyalty. Before that, he was a member of Thomas E. Dewey's staff when Dewey was at the peak of his crime-busting career as district attorney of New York.

Vandenberg, 45, was an assistant to his father, the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan. He served two years with the International Basic Economic Corporation, a commercial development enterprise, 18 months of it in Brazil.

One of the most important sessions of Eisenhower's day was a conference with tiny, dynamic Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower. Mrs. Rosenberg returned from Korea last week end.

She said she came to New York to report to the President-elect on her findings in the war zone. She disclosed few details in talking with reporters later.

She indicated she is not available for a post in Eisenhower's administration.

Eisenhower's last visitor of the day was Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, of Maryland.

Poor Security Risks Arrested In Seoul

SEOUL (AP)—Metropolitan police made a series of arrests today in a roundup of Koreans considered possible security risks when U. S. President-elect Dwight Eisenhower visits Korea.

The number of persons detained was not reported but police stations were jammed. The tightest security measures were being enforced in this ancient and war-torn city.

President Syngman Rhee's government called a special cabinet meeting to discuss preparations for the Eisenhower visit.

Young Trooper Will Face Court Martial

ROVINGTON, Eng. (AP)—A 19-year-old Royal Armoured Corps trooper will appear before a court martial Dec. 2 on a charge of offering information which might be useful to an enemy, the War Office announced today.

The soldier, T. E. Dewick, a clerk in the technical adjutant of a driving and maintenance school, allegedly offered the information to an unauthorized organization. Dewick was said to be a member of the organization, which was not named in the War Office announcement.

again. Let us thank God that we have allies in fight with us and that we have a united team in Korea.

Gen. Mark Clark, U. N. commander, messaged from Tokyo: "Despite the pain and tragedy inflicted upon so many of us in this battle for humanity, we have much for which to be thankful."

In Washington, President Truman, like millions of his fellow citizens, planned to attend Thanksgiving church services, then sit down to his turkey dinner.

In New York President-elect Eisenhower was to carve the holiday bird at his Columbia University home. Missing from that family scene was a son, Maj. John Eisenhower, stationed in Korea.

From Western Germany and other European outposts, American soldiers ate hearty holiday dinners. And with their Thanksgiving services the troops on that side of the world offered special prayers for their buddies in Korea.

At Heidelberg, Germany, U. S. Army authorities recalled many units in the field for a holiday meal in base barracks.

Big parades highlighted the holiday doings in many communities.

Lamarr Says Former Hubby Owes Her Sum

NEW YORK (AP)—Actress Hedy Lamarr says her former husband, actor John Loder, owes her $19,300 for support and maintenance of their three children.

Miss Lamarr filed suit yesterday in State Supreme Court to collect the amount.

She said in her complaint that by the terms of a California divorce decree which became final in 1948, Loder was obligated to pay $1,000 a month for the children's maintenance plus medical and dental expenses.

The total of such costs is $23,500 and Loder has paid only $4,200, she said.

Celery Feds Win South EFC Title From DeLand, 13-7

All-Time Attendance Record Is Set As 2,600 Fans Storm Memorial Stadium

Over 2,600 fans — an all-time high — watched an all-time dream come true last night as the Seminole High School's gridiron heroes successfully repelled DeLand onslaught to record an awe-inspiring 13-0 triumph over the powerful Bulldogs that gave Sanford the unduped championship of the southern East Florida Conference.

Lake Monroe's "Locomotive" — Junior Metts was the power force behind the Seminole attack, scoring both Sanford TD's on runs of eight and four yards. The Feds scored early in the game and after Jimmy Fox converted, the Celery Feds held a 7-0 lead at the initial period.

Metts ran 48 yards on a double reverse to highlight the second scoring attack. DeLand came back with Jim Hearn, brilliant running halfback, smashing 31 yards down to the Fed five. Curry Lindsey showed over and Wheeler Summerhill converted to make the score read 13-7, the ultimate margin.

Both teams fought hard in the last half staying off alternating TD threats. The two star runners in the game for both sides were injured. Hearn hurt his neck when Metts hit the DeLand back knocking him out of bounds in the last period.

Metts sprained his ankle in that bitterly fought fourth quarter. Ray Davis was outstanding, smashing the DeLand line for 84 yards, his best performance all season.

On defense, guards Russell "Wo" Mann, Ross Iannuzzi, tackles Joe Pickens, Jimmy Fox and Nolly Nance turned in a superlative effort not to mention all-EFC center Tarry Cordell, and ends Calvin Wright and Bubba Blabie.

Slated to play the northern winners — P. K. Yonge, — the Celery Feds may become victims of confusion of the newly adopted sectional play-off mix-up. It all came about when Gainesville announced

Crooms-Eustis "Celery Tilt" Game Is Rated Toss Here Today

Thompson Will Miss FSU Game Saturday

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Halfback Roy Thompson, Florida State University's fleet break-away runner, will not make the trip to Spartanburg, S. C. for Saturday's football game with Wofford.

Coach Don Veiler said today it had been decided to leave Thompson home because of failure of a shoulder injury to respond properly to treatment.

With Thompson out, the wingback assignment against Wofford will be shared by Harry Bringer, Al Woodham and Jimmy Messinger.

Veiler said he was well pleased with the way Messinger has been punting in practice this week. He was pressed into service as a kicker when Tommy Brown, regular punter, was sidelined by a twisted knee suffered in the Georgia Tech game.

"Blind" Tackle Intercepts Pass Enables Auburn To Beat Clemson

By REX THOMAS
AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — The last guy you'd expect to intercept a pass is a blurrily nearighted tackle who can't even see a football in the air.

But "Blind Bill" Turnbaugh did it Saturday and gave Auburn the break that led to a 2-0 victory over Clemson. It put the ball in position for an 18-yard field goal.

It was a spectacular performance for the 285-pound lineman whose eyesight is so bad he can't see the opposing backfield from the line of scrimmage. And it was the biggest thrill in the 22-year-old senior's already sensational gridiron career.

Turnbaugh isn't blind, but he's as nearsighted as you'll get. His own hand at arm's length is like a blurry object. But Turnbaugh is used to it and he's a spouting rate of dynamite.

It was part luck and a lot of quick thinking that enabled him to grab one of Clemson Quarterback Billy Blair's passes late in the Auburn game, hold onto it and rumble 10 yards downfield before he was stopped.

"Something hit me in the chest and it was second or two before I realized what it was," the giant griddler explained. "Oh, I knew it was a pass because of the way it was blocked."

"So I just sort of drifted down the middle and ran right into it. I did the same thing once before in an "A" Day (inter-squad) game, but I didn't get to run with the ball. Last Saturday was the longest run I ever made in a game."

Charles' next fight is earmarked for Boston on Dec. 15 against Frank Buford of California.

Charles-Bivins Bout Draws Boos From Tiny Crowd

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP) — Jimmy Bivins admits that Edward Charles hits hard but he says he's not the sharp puncher he is used to be.

Charles, former heavyweight champion, tried to display his so-called new butchering style last night but had a hard time catching up with old Jim after the first round.

Boos frequently echoed through vast Chicago Stadium from the 2,700 fans who contributed to a gate of $7,371. At times, someone out there among the customers shouted: "Take two to Tango."

Charles, who expects to get another crack at the heavyweight title in June after Champion Rocky Marciano has a rematch with Jersey Joe Walcott, slugged Bivins with a right to the jaw at the outset of the first round. It was the only big thrill rained out to a national TV audience during the dull 10-round bout.

The 35-year-old Cleveland Negro went down to one knee in the corner. Bivins blinked his eyes and took a mandatory eight count.

"I still hit him but he isn't sharp puncher he used to be," observed Bivins, who lost three of four previous bouts with the Cincinnati Tiger. He didn't punch sharp. A sharp punch will numb you and stick with you. You can shake off the hard hits."

Charles was not too happy about it.

"Bivins kept out of my reach," he said. "He ran away. I need a guy who will fight back, then I can show my best. I think I'm getting sharper all the time."

As for that blow that sent Bivins down in the first, Ez clinched his left flat and held it up. "I hit him with my right," he explained.

Charles' next fight is earmarked for Boston on Dec. 15 against Frank Buford of California.

Panthers Will Try To Avenge Earlier 2-0 Setback; Big Parade Is Staged

After this afternoon's big "Celery Tilt" parade led by the colorful bands from Bethune-Cookman College, Hungerford, Eustis and Crooms high schools, the two principals of the festivities, Crooms Academy and Eustis Tiger football teams, will engage in the post-season gridiron clash in the Memorial Stadium at 3:30 p. m.

Pre-game doers are up in arms as to predicting a winner. Some forecasters pointed to the earlier record of the final round of the 1952 football season.

Tennessee's Gen. Bob Neyland termed Vanderbilt's freshman quarterback Bill Kreitmeier as the "best young passer in Southeastern Conference history." So he sent the Vols through a lengthy pass defense drill Tuesday, and the Tennessee coach regards the Commodore as an exceedingly tough team.

"They have a fine running game and an excellent passing attack. We're still curbed by the injury list, but we hope to play a creditable game," Neyland said.

Coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech, although jubilant with the news that halfback Leon Hardeman will be in the starting lineup against Georgia Saturday, still worried about the Bulldogs' aerial attack.

Some APA officials are predicting a crowd of 2,000, which would set the football attendance record this year. Seminole High School's game with Ketterling was the largest in the month drew the largest football gate, 1850 with 1394 being paid.

The four-game Crooms attendance record of 3,353 spectators and an unprecedented 2,719 total paid admissions.

Crooms Academy has fared well under the capable reigns of coach C. H. Franklin in the last two years. In 1951, the Panthers won the state title and were undefeated. The Crooms eleven proceeded to extend this victory streak to 10 straight at the beginning of the season. DeLand, 13-12; and Florence Villa, 19-0.

However, the long winning streak was finally ended in Week 10 when the Panthers were blanked by the powerful Hungerford eleven, 13-0. About this time Eustis stepped in and placed the Panthers with untimely injuries. Crooms went into a tail spin, falling to Eustis, 2-0 and succumbing to Leesburg 19-14.

Coach Ed Hahn Jordan was pleased to break their three-game losing streak against Eustis today. Capt. Oscar Williams, the hard-hitting center, and Big Arthur "Gee" Knight, second highest point getter, will be the players to watch in this important encounter.

Famed Eddie Elroy, the Panther end who sacrificed eight teeth and a cut lip to save Crooms from a Eustis touchdown three weeks ago, will be inserted in the starting lineup this afternoon.

Dr. G. H. Starks, financial secretary of APA, stated that college teams to the Memorial Stadium next year to play in the second annual "Celery Tilt" game. He plans on making this game a big event each year," he said.

Coaches In SEC Praise Play Of Dixie Opponents

By The Associated Press
Southeastern Conference coaches are passing out praise for the opposition as most of the Dixie Dozen prepared for the final round of the 1952 football season.

Sugar Bowl-Bound Ole Miss Battles Mississippi State

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi, a team that grabbed national laurels and a Sugar Bowl date by dumping football, famous Maryland, will find Mississippi State eager to gain some lustre for itself when it tangles with the Rebels here Saturday.

Two short weeks ago, twice-titled Mississippi was a football nobody brooding for a big bill when mighty Maryland came down this way. Solely on the strength of the 21-14 upset, Mississippi catapulted into sixth place in the nation and a coveted bid to play in New Orleans Jan. 1 against Georgia Tech.

But next Saturday, Mississippi scarcely used to its new glory, finds itself in Maryland's former shoes and facing cat-in-the-hat Mississippi State, its traditional rival.

Both schools have enough scoring punch to make it a free-for-all.

Both teams have plenty of offense. State quarterback Jack Parker was for a time the nation's leading scorer and still hovers around that mark. He can pass, too. Big "Ironhorse" Joe Fortunato at fullback and Zerk Wilson, halfback, are strong on the State of

FSU's Brown Shines As Football Punter

TALLAHASSEE (Special)—Punting has been the glittering phase of Florida State University's gridiron activities this season, all because of a game, 150-pound competitor whom many college coaches wouldn't look at a second time.

FSU's "Mr. Toe" — senior Tommy Brown of Tallahassee — has been backing up Seminole opponents all year with his talented leg work.

According to latest statistics released by the National Collegiate Athletic Association, Brown ranked 11th among the nation's foremost punters, with a 39.2-yard average on 37 kicks.

Tommy Brown has quarterback Jimmy Lear, a wizard passer and smooth signal man and a stall full of fast runners like fullback Harold Lofton, halfbacks Dick Westerman and Wilson Dillard in the scoring department.

Jerry May, Mississippi regular left guard, is the only varsity man on either squad who will definitely be benched for the game. May was hurt in the Maryland fray, otherwise everything is ready to back, are strong on the State of

Today's Gridiron Contests Include Traditional Tilts

NEW YORK (AP) — College football's Thanksgiving Day menu today serves up mostly traditional games.

The top games of the all-star card will be the two games at Penn State. Cornell against Pennsylvania and Texas A & M against Texas. Cotton Bowl bound Southwest Conference games are Penn State vs. Texas Tech. Penn has a lot at stake in its traditional battle with Cornell. A victory will assure Coach George H. Connelley's second Ivy League championship and also will enable Penn to finish over the 500 mark.

No Penn team has finished below the 500 mark since Senger took over in 1950. Penn has won three games and lost none in Ivy League play.

Texas figures to defeat Texas A & M. Texas sports a 7-3 overall mark and a 5-0 record in conference play. The Aggies have won only one league game and three non-league games.

The Skyline Conference can also be decided tomorrow when Utah and Utah State clash. Utah leads the circuit with a 4-0 record and can wrap it up by winning over State.
