ROOSEVELT IS KEEPING EYE ON CONGRESS

President Soon Will Propose Legislation Looking To Control Of Stock Exchanges

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(A.P.)—President Roosevelt was said today at the White House to be watching the progress of his program on Capitol Hill with readiness soon to propose legislation on new subjects, including the control of stock exchanges, and an amendment to the Securities Act.

He favors a bill guaranteeing the principal of home loan bonds, and extending the authority of the home loan board to make loans for the modernization of homes.

However, there is some question whether he will propose this in a separate message to Congress or merely sanction a bill already proposed there.

He has sent to the capital a special report of the Administration committee on the ways of controlling stock exchanges.

A special report by Secretary Roper on the operation of the securities law and recommending changes will be sent to the White House for the President's decision in a few days.

Credit Body Officials Visit Celery Fields

High officials of the Production Credit Corporation of Columbia, S. C., headed by Ernest Graham, president of the corporation, paid Sanford and Seminole county a brief visit yesterday, enroute to Columbia after a flying visit to Orlando where they engaged in an important meeting.

The group was conducted on a tour of the celery delta, its wash houses and ice-plants, by Percy Whitehurst, J. H. Conburn, and J. J. Holly, and before leaving for Columbia, each member of the party expressed himself as "deeply impressed" by the magnitude of the industry.

The party included V. E. Johnson, treasurer of the corporation; H. M. Gardner, a representative of the corporation; Dr. Gilles, representing the Farm Credit Administration; Lester Soule, public director, and Kenneth Murphy, Florida representative for the credit corporation.

6 Families Plan Moving To City From Orlando

J. L. Rickett, connected with the Sanford Orlando Kennel Club, Inc., called at the Chamber of Commerce office on Saturday to say that six families who have been living in Orlando since they came into this section to prepare for the dog racing season, are moving to Sanford at once.

Mr. Rickett indicated that this city was selected as the several week home of these families, and others to come, because its merchants and residents stem very friendly, and are anxious to help the newcomers. Mr. Rickett asked information concerning apartments and furnished homes and rooms, and trade body officials supplied him with the names of several home owners who are seeking tenants.

Pre-Repeal Liquor Law Breakers Aided

TICK CAMPAIGN IS BENEFITTED BY FUNDS FROM CWA

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(A.P.)—The Supreme Court ruled today that persons charged with violating the national prohibition law before its repeal cannot be tried for such offenses in Federal courts.

Without this ruling, it would have been possible to use the repeal law to prosecute those who had broken the law before its repeal.

The ruling was a victory for the CWA, which has been active in the repeal campaign.

OPEN HEARING PLANNED FOR CELERY PACT

Donner Says Marketing Agreement Meets With Tentative Okey Of AAA Officials

Reporting that his mission met with success "all along the line," Eric F. Donner, president of the Sanford Agricultural Club who is in a visit with Federal officials in Washington, said tonight that a large hearing at the Court House this morning, that a public hearing on a proposed celery marketing agreement will be held within the next two weeks, probably at Lake City.

The hearing depends entirely upon the attitude of the shippers of celery. Mr. Donner stated, since he is representing the owners of nearly 2,200 of the 2,500 acres of celery in the Sanford field, had after telling AAA officials in Washington of the plight of the celery growers, demanded at the hearing he hold, the official assistance as quick as possible. Mr. Donner stated, this attitude, Mr. Donner explained, was fairly well manifested by the almost unanimous support which shippers of celery lent to the marketing agreement that was proposed last July, although it was rejected last July, although it was rejected last July.

Delay Presenting MacCracken Case

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(A.P.)—The Senate mail contract investigating committee decided today to postpone bringing William P. MacCracken before the Senate for defying its subpoena until after Chairman Black had made report on the cases of L. H. Britten, vice-president of Northwest Airways, and Wilbert Glavin, Washington representative of Western Air Express. Britten told the committee Saturday that he had taken half a dozen letters from MacCracken's air mail files while they were under subpoena and had torn them up. While MacCracken waited in the sergeant-at-arms office under Senate arrest, Black prepared to read his report to the Senate to see if others also would be arrested.

GERMANS SHARE MEAL WITH POOR ON HUGE SCALE

Berlin, Feb. 5.—(A.P.)—Good Nazi partaking of their one course Sunday dinners yesterday dipped spoons into pea soup with pork or green beans and mutton, or bouillon and potatoes with a special devotion.

Obtained by the government to swell the winter relief fund, this monthly meal took on the flavor of a ritual.

An officially inspired statement called it a "sacrificial meal," as persons were asked to turn over what they normally spend for dinner to the relief fund.

The government plans to install the monthly one-course Sunday dinner as a permanent institution, it was learned. Hitherto collections were designed for winter relief but in the future they will go toward year-around charity funds.

One hundred and thirty thousand men and women armed with tin boxes and long lists knuckled at Berlin doors yesterday to take in the collections.

Cavalry officers from France, Sweden, Switzerland and Ireland, here to see the German equestrian tournament, found in the best of German civility the one-course dinner with Gen. Werner von Blomberg, minister of the interior.

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 6.—(A.P.)—An 80-foot plunge from the St. Johns River bridge to the rocks below brought almost instant death early yesterday to William Dodge, 29, son of John W. Dodge, prominent Jacksonville attorney. A few minutes before he had been in an automobile accident and was returning with a companion across the bridge in a taxicab. A witness said Dodge stopped the cab, ran to the bridge railing, removed his coat and leaped, after calling goodbye.

SERIOUS RIOTS ANTICIPATED IN CITY OF PARIS

Daladier's Dismissal Of Police Chief Angers Natives Who At Once Plan Demonstration

PARIS, Feb. 5.—(A.P.)—Fear of more serious rioting brought heavy reinforcements of soldiers into Paris today.

Four separate demonstrations scheduled against the new cabinet of Premier Daladier aroused the apprehension that police would be overtaxed when the ministry is presented to parliament tomorrow.

Reactionists and organized groups of war veterans and young people all were planning demonstrations simultaneously with the reopening of parliament.

Authorities, fearing possible riotous as a result of the ousting of Jean Chappe, police head, began taking the precautions with provocative speeches. Chappe's popularity was demonstrated when a huge throng cheered him as he finally quit the prefecture at noon today giving way to the Premier's appointee, Bonnefoy Sibour.

Stern "Silent Edouard" Daladier made a spectacular show of weeping out France's political house yesterday after deposing Jean Chappe, debonair "Napoleon" of the Paris police.

The sudden ousting of the little Corsican as perfect was the most resounding blow in the shakedown which jared the cabinet and threatened to rekindle which Chappe was nervous eating.

The tremor, however, did not up his cabinet with the ousting of three men and a minister in the chamber Tuesday night of increased support.

 FIFTY YEARS FOR TODAY

WE WILL REAP WHAT YE SOW. He not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man sows, that shall he also reap. For he that sows to his flesh shall also reap corruption; but he that sows to the Spirit shall also reap life everlasting. And let us not weary in well doing, for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. Galatians 6: 7, 9.

MICROSCOPY
 Look not too long upon dark shifting waters,
 Nor on the pallor of the nascent moon;
 Gaze not too keenly on Eve's fair-est daughters,
 Nor vainly strive to read a sacred rune.
 There is no form of loveliness but alters,
 Under an avid eye. A perfect time
 Crows faint from too much hearing,
 Each thing falters,
 Beneath the sultry scrutiny of dawn.

Oh, I have lost all kinship with these days,
 When beauty is automatized,
 The wings of inspiration may be torn ten ways,
 Yet will one never find their secret springs.
 Realize, you who hold deep something dear,
 Know that I honor things as they appear.

 Washington devaluated the dollar in order to raise prices, but so far the plan doesn't seem to have taken hold of the celery situation.
 Rudy Vallee's wife charges he has been carrying on with a couple of "Jane Does." She's willing to let him keep the Jane but she wants the dough.—Fort Myers News-Press. A good business man.

An interesting item in the Tuesday Age column says that the City of New York has some 331,000 persons out of jobs and being hungry. So we had an unemployment problem even in those days. But what a difference between 331,000 and ten million!

After a trip to Washington Governor Sholtz has announced that Florida's rural schools will receive federal aid in order to continue operations. School teachers will prefer to receive their pay from the government, teaching school, than as members of the relief rolls.

Almost at the same time that Congress was passing a law to prevent private Americans from lending money to foreign governments which had defaulted on their debts, another branch of the government was seeking ways and means to enable the R.F.C. to extend credits to foreigners for the purchase of supplies in this country. Strikes in the government ought to get together with itself and decide upon a policy. We can't see where it is any worse for a private citizen to lend his own money to a foreigner than for the government to lend taxpayers' money to him.

Some citizens are hurriedly changing dollars into bonds. After the news about more expansive gold and cheaper dollars came out, the stock exchange had the biggest single day, with one exception, in history. The rush for bonds is not easily understood, since they are payable, principal and interest, in cheaper dollars. Why not have the dollars? The wise man will get goods, income-producing real estate, for as dollars get cheaper, the real estate will bring in more than Arthur Brisbane and everybody else that who is ready to buy the bonds with which the government proposes to finance its recovery program.

Savings Banks

Whenever the number of savings bank depositors is on the increase, business conditions can safely be said to be on the mend. This is the conclusion of Philip A. Benson, president of the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks, when he announced that during the year of 1933 mutual savings bank depositors increased by 144,583 to a grand total of 18,413,049, or only 30,000 less than the all high record.

The trend of saving in the last six months was distinctly better than in the first half last year. Improved conditions of employment were everywhere reflected by the decreased demand for cash reserves held by the public. In the first six months of 1933 all mutual savings banks in the country had a decline in deposits of $37,628,392, but in the final six months the decline amounted only to $47,608,187, leaving deposits of $9,594,610,846.

The mutual savings institutions of the country also had an increase in surplus of $24,758,800, which raised their surplus account to $1,166,871,819. This figure represented a ratio of 12.1 percent of deposits, or 12 cents of earned reserve as security for each $1 of deposits. This figure showed a gain in ratio of six-tenths of 1 percent for the year, thus increasing the depositor's margin of safety by a substantial sum.

The average account belonging to each depositor in mutual institutions on January 1 amounted to $715.32, and the average interest rate paid at that time was 3.31 percent.

In commenting on these figures Philip A. Benson, president of the association, said, "The gain in depositors is a very satisfactory indication of improved national conditions. Throughout more than 100 years of operation the experience of mutual institutions has shown that depositors usually increase toward the end of a depressed period. This time the number is larger than ever before. The lessened demand upon savings for every day expenses points the way to a balanced income and outgo in the average family. It is important to observe that this report does not merely emphasize the improved condition of almost thirteen and a half million people, but reflects the welfare of about one-third of the American people, as represented by this large number of actual depositors, plus their families.

"It is a sound reason for confidence when we find so large a number of people so well protected by their own savings. It suggests that a savings bank account is about the most practical form of social insurance yet devised. This reservoir of savings will have a vital part in plans for national recovery. The capital of the people provides the best possible basis for financing the requirements of the country."

Be Careful!

If you are inclined to worry about the encroachments of old age, don't.
 If you have lost considerable sleep during your lifetime contemplating the ravages of disease and fearing that you may become the victim of some insidious protozoa, stop it.

If the depression has hit you right in the stomach and you have been seriously concerned as to your ability to find merely enough to eat and you have been fearful lest you actually starve to death, abandon that idea forever.

For the chances are that so far as these dangers are concerned you will live to a ripe old age. If you really must worry about anything, give your thoughts to the dangers of the highways and the possibilities of accidental death.

There's something very important to remember.
 Five persons are killed or injured every year to every man who dies a natural death.

Between 6:00 o'clock and midnight tonight, we have it upon the indisputable authority of an outstanding life insurance company, 12,180 persons in the United States will be killed or injured.

In fact the chances are two to one that you will die as the result of some accident and not from old age.
 At least one person out of every nine is injured accidentally every year. At least one person is killed or injured every two seconds of every minute of every hour, of every day, of every year.

During the past year 1,200,000 persons were injured in automobile accidents. 1,500,000 were injured in line of employment, 2,500,000 were injured in public places, and 4,300,000 were injured in and about the home.

During the eighteen months of the World War 182,074 members of the Expeditionary Forces were wounded in battle. Every eighteen months highway accidents result in injuries to 1,576,800 persons, nine times as many.
 During the World War 60,150 members of the A. E. F. were killed in battle. Every eighteen months in the United States 63,650 persons are killed in automobile accidents, a terrific peacetime death toll.

Drive carefully!

Citrus Control Board Hopes To Resume Activity

 behalf of the control committee. "It must be borne in mind that Judge Akerman's decision and order when technically construed affects only the rights of the complaining parties in the pending suit... and this being true, the Florida control committee could continue functioning without being in contempt of court.

"However, it has been my advice, in view of the broad and sweeping effect of Judge Akerman's opinion and order, that some appellate relief be sought before the Florida control committee resumes operation. This can be done in many ways, and I am confident some immediate, affirmative action will be taken.

"At this moment the citrus industry of Florida will have to make time, and do its very best under existing circumstances with the hope that something will develop that will enable the control committee to go forward without further interruption."

Decrying "fair regulated measures," had yielded "substantial increased returns to the citrus industry of this state," Whitehair said it was "the hope and desire of the Florida control committee that it may yet be able to render valuable assistance to the industry, the present season.

"I feel that from some quarters the court's opinion and order have been unduly and unfairly criticized and I regret exceedingly many of the newspaper commentaries released prior to the Tampa hearing. However, I think it was made clear that such releases and news reports were made without my sanction and approval of the government or the control committee, or its counsel.

"I have had the personal privilege and honor of knowing Judge Akerman for many years and as a practitioner and as a judge he always has been respected by members of the bar as a man with strong convictions and courage to pronounce same when called upon to do so."

It is not his policy, he said, to comment upon lawsuits, in which he was an interest, "but in view of the wide public interest in the citrus litigation and in fairness to the industry of citrus growers in this state who are eager to see operations of the Florida control committee continue, I am going to deviate from my customary policy."

 make a statement of policy for the government on sugar control. Further digging into air fuel contracts and quick action on big money bids to help the jobless and to run the government will top the work in Congress which now is coming into its second full month and heading for what leaders hope will be early adjournment.

Today the Senate was to hear from William P. Macfarland, former assistant secretary of commerce, why he refused to give a Senate investigating committee important letters relating to air mail contracts. Macfarland now an attorney for several aviation companies, was arrested Friday and directed to be brought before the late of the Senate.

Over on the House side, a naval affairs subcommittee was to have begun an investigation into charges of too big profits by airplane manufacturers making plans for the government.

Meanwhile, the House plans to pass the $95,000,000 appropriation bill for relief and the Civil Works Administration. Follow this on Tuesday by final consideration of the supply measure, and then begin debate on the general revenue bill.

Appropriation bills already passed by the House are held up in the Senate awaiting the clearance from the latter's calendar of the contrived independent office measure which contains the economy clauses and into which friends of the American Legion are attempting to write increased aid for veterans.

Non-Ferrous Dollar Exposed By Professor

WASHINGTON, Mich., Feb. 5.—(A.P.)—A non-ferrous dollar, a supplementary form of money, is proposed by A. T. Sweet, head of the metallurgy department of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

The new dollar would be money issued against purchase by the government of the surplus of three non-ferrous metals, copper, lead and zinc. Their production is one of the nation's basic industries, centering in 16 states.

For not more than $150,000,000—a small sum these days—says Professor Sweet, Uncle Sam can buy the entire present surplus, thereby putting an industry back on its feet, giving itself a money-saving war-time reserve of indispensable non-ferrous metals, and increasing its money with a safe type of dollars.

Professor Sweet's plan calls for government purchase at cost of production. The market price is now below estimated cost. The metals, he proposes can be stored under bond, and the currency on them be retired when business is back to normal.

He points out that in wartime copper has risen from 36 to 50 cents a pound, its price now is 10 cents. The purchase, he thinks, would give Uncle Sam a stock of metals always important in times of peace, invaluable in case of war."

Steel Industry Orders Full Speed Ahead

CLEVELAND, Feb. 5.—(A.P.)—With huge orders pouring in for railroad cars, locomotives, equipment and rails and steady support continuing from automobile factories, the steel industry—bell weather of American business—Saturday night ordered its engineers to crowd on more steam.

The combined railroad orders already received and those just waiting for virtually routine approvals are estimated at more than $50,000,000. Other railroad projects, only a little further in the office, would double this figure, steel men said.

 that agreement had failed of its purpose because it was blocked by two large shipping agencies, one in Sanford, the other at Sarasota.

Mr. Dorner explained that because action was essential at this time, he had called the meeting so that a new agreement, the 12th of its kind, might be outlined in detail before growers. He said that while they will be given every opportunity to voice their objections or make suggestions to the agreement during the public hearing, he wished them to learn of its fundamentals today.

He also said that the agreement would be discussed in Lakeland tonight by celery shippers gathered from all parts of Florida. He indicated that there would be enough signers of a petition for a public hearing when the agreement was thoroughly discussed tonight. Only 80 percent of the celery shippers of Florida need request for a hearing, he said, in order for Secretary Wallace to call the hearing.

Loring Raoul of Sarasota, who led in the fight for the marketing agreement last July, was introduced by Mr. Dorner with the request that he read the highlights of the agreement.

Mr. Raoul explained that its principal purpose was the creation of a representative committee of growers and shippers who would meet and take steps "Whenever things get so bad that growers are losing money."

This committee's duties would include finding out how much celery is available during any period; how much celery the market could take; pro-rating shipments equally among shippers; reporting violations of the agreement to Secretary Wallace; and in general, protecting the interests of growers and shippers in an emergency.

The committee, which would have to be okayed by Secretary Wallace, would include 14 members. Five of them would represent the five shipping organizations in Florida who shipped 500 or more cars of celery during the 1932-33 season. One additional shippers' representative would be selected by the Sanford group of shippers, and one additional shippers' representative would be selected by the South Florida group.

Three members of the committee would be growers elected by all Sanford growers, while Manatee and Sarasota growers would elect two members each.

J. C. Hitchison of Sanford among several speakers during the meeting called the attention of the growers present to the fact that if the agreement is signed first by shippers of 70 percent can pact, intended to guarantee territorial parity to its members for 10 years to come, was initiated this evening by the foreign ministers of Greece, Rumania, Turkey and Yugoslavia after two days of negotiations. Representatives of Bulgaria and Albania were not present. Bulgaria has indicated possibility of signing the pact later.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Love" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday Feb. 4.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "I will mention the loving kindnesses of the Lord, and the praises of the Lord, according to all that the Lord hath bestowed on us, and the great goodness toward the house of Israel, which he hath bestowed on them according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his loving kindnesses" (Luk. 1:62-73).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God gives the lesser idea of Himself for a link in the greater, and in return, the higher always protects the lower." "rich in spirit help the poor, to one grand brotherhood, all having the same Principle, or Father, and blessed is that man who sees his brother's need and supplies it, seeking his own in another's good. Love growth to the least spiritual idea might, immortality, and goodness, which shine through all as the blossom shines through the bud. All the varied expressions of God reflect forth his love, immortality, infinite Life, Truth, and Love" (Lk. 1:18).
