AT THE MILANE

Many and most perplexing are the problems confronting the director of a large motion picture production. Mob scenes seem to be the ones that call for extra-ordinary talents in directing and this William Worley possesses. He proved it in connection with the filming of Universal's "Hunchback of Notre Dame" by using for the first time a radio amplification device which carried his voice to all sections during the scenes in which an army of 3,000 storm historic Notre Dame Cathedral. This is the production which opens a limited engagement at the Milane Theatre, starting on Monday for two days' engagement.

CREDIT BODY IS FORMED HERE ORLANDO MAN

Continued from page one. turned down at the banks in this city during the day will also be listed. Speaking of the matter, Mr. Dickson gave out the following statement: The success of such organizations depends upon the willingness of the merchants to co-operate and give freely and ungrudgingly of all information regarding their charge customers. Successful business teaches the inspiring lesson that no self-centered or selfish policy can long survive and the retailers must be big enough and broad enough to forget competition when it comes to credit matters and work with fellow merchants to eliminate the undesirable account.

Records show that in unorganized cities the same undesirable customers are on the books of all. With organization and an exchange of information this would not be possible. Furthermore, many careless or slow customers who may be financially well fixed, but whose accounts are unprofitable because of length of time taken to pay, have been educated to the necessity of prompt payments in order to keep their credit good. Records also show that when there are large losses from charge accounts, they can be attributed to either lack of knowledge of how to handle credit or the failure of the merchants to get together for the friendly exchange of information or a confidential analysis of the risk involved.

In a city the size of Sanford there should be a local rating bureau so that credit information of these communities can be centralized. This bureau should be linked up with the service division of the Retail Credit Men's National Association and should be exchanging information with other communities.

STATE TO BE REPRESENTED.

A large proportion of the preparatory schools have been invited, and 20 southern colleges and 21 prep schools, already have signified their intention of participating in the meet.

New Hook and Ladder Truck For City Fire Department Arrives

The Sanford Fire Department has received the hook and ladder truck which the City Commission recently purchased through the American LaFrance Company for the sum of $5,000. The latest addition to the equipment of the local department, arrived Wednesday and tested out Thursday by Chief Paxton and his aids. The truck is equipped with 168 feet of ladders, besides having axes, shovels, picks, wire cutters and being equipped with a small chemical fire fighting apparatus. For the most part it will serve the two large LaFrance pumping outfits as a service truck. Its addition, Chief Paxton declared Friday, makes the Sanford fire fighting equipment equal that of any city in the state and much better than the average city.

The truck is equipped with a Red Seal Continental motor. Its weight is said to be about 6,000 pounds. It has solid rubber tires. The chassis part of the body is what is known as the "Rockaway" model.

Conness Peak Carries Alleged Murderer of Saucon Wireless Man

(By The Associated Press) TAMPA, April 4.—Two members of the crew of the meritorious steamer, Conness Peak, were confined in separate cabins in iron today, while the vessel was being loaded for Galveston. They will be given a hearing in a Texas court. Donald Cameron, former chief officer of the American steamer, Conness Peak, is also aboard, enroute to Galveston to face a charge of shooting to death the wireless operator, Hawkins, aboard the Saucon about a month ago. According to Captain Miller, two men, Frank Matudwice and E. Sommers, water tenders, said to be I. W. W. leaders, attacked Chief Officer Townsend at Havre on February 25. They are further alleged to have set fire to their quarters and refused to obey orders.

PROPOSE GAS PLANT.

(By The Associated Press) BRADENTOWN, April 4.—The gas committee of the board of trade has asked the city council to call a bond election to provide funds for a municipal gas plant for Bradentown. The amount suggested is $170,000. This, it is estimated, would provide for building the plant for generating the gas laying mains in the streets, making connections at the houses and setting up meters in the residences.

(Continued from page 1.) be decided and plans drawn, other plans for financing the proposition will be arranged, he stated. He deplored the unsanitary conditions that exist in both jails at present and declared that it is one of the crying needs.

G. L. Bledsoe stated that he wished to deny the charge made in The Herald recently by Mr. Ballard of Altamonte Springs that the tax equalizing committee appointed by the county commissioners is not receiving whatsoever cooperation from A. Vaughn, county tax assessor. He declared that Mr. Vaughn has given much assistance and that he is helping the committee in every manner possible.

SEE DANGER IN RETENTION OF SOME TAX CUTS

(Continued from page 1.) Among bills requiring special appropriations in the next fiscal year and which either have passed the senate or house or are being strongly advocated are: Pensioners $7,000,000; bonus $135,000,000; McNary-Haugen farm relief $100,000,000 to $200,000,000; postal employees salary increase $135,000,000; German food relief, $10,000,000, and good roads $85,000,000. Complete data on the amount of reductions allowed in the revenue bill as framed to date by the senate committee and estimated amount of revenue needed next year by the government have been asked for.

New estimates on the cost of the soldier bonus bill passed by the house, based on revised figures as to the number of veterans entitled to benefits under the bill, also are being prepared. WASHINGTON, Apr. 4.—Taxes on mah jong and radio sets were voted into the revenue bill Thursday by the senate finance committee which at the same time approved the reduction in automobile taxes and repeal of the candy tax voted by the house. The gift tax and increase in the estate tax rates voted by the house however, were knocked out of the bill. The present estate tax rates were restored but provision was made for a charge in the brackets to which they would apply so that the revenue increase of $12,000,000 which would have resulted from the house increase would be effected.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT, NWA Service Staff Writer. WASHINGTON, D. C.—Calvin Coolidge is feeling better. He has a load off his shoulders—and off his mind. Just to study the physical and mental reaction on the president of the retirement of Attorney General Daugherty from the cabinet, I dropped around to the White House a couple of hours after Daugherty had handed in his resignation and taken a train for Atlantic City. As Coolidge arose from his chair behind his desk he pushed the chair from him with a backward thrust of one leg. He slipped his horn-rimmed glasses from over his eyes and dangled them in one hand. He stood slightly stooped, tired-looking eyes sunken deep in his face, and waiting through narrow lids, as though driven too long in concentrated study or without sufficient sleep. Then as he consciously squaring himself for a new contact he threw back his shoulders, lifted his head and smiled a little grimly, perhaps, but still a smile. One sensed, as he talked, an air of relief in his voice and attitude. In the atmosphere of conversation, mental alertness, the line of his forehead in recent weeks was deep. A blind corner had been cleared, and the road ahead seemed a little safer if not easier. On the way to the executive office, as I passed under the north portico of the White House, I glimpsed a stocky, broad-shouldered, swarthy man leaning against the wall of the low wall of the entrance. He was talking with someone, nodding his head with deliberate emphasis, as he spoke. There was a look in his face, however, that suggested the boss of the responsibility of some of the

Settlement Girl Who Never Went To A Theatre Gets Stage Struck And Scores Hit In Chorus

By NEA Service.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Apr. 5.—Miss Bella Heyman, 18, is "The Modern Cinderella."

A poor little settlement house girl six months ago, today she is in the first row of the chorus in a musical revue. Applauded nightly in Chicago, she is due on Broadway at Easter. Then—well, then Bella's friends here will acclaim her as the "one in a million" who has succeeded.

Some of these friends have never seen a musical show. To them, as it was to Bella, the dancers, the music, the tinsel and the lights are a dream.

Bella had never been in a theater. Her family was religious. But the girl had visions.

"I sneaked away to dance—to sing," she said.

"I learned to be a stenographer. I worked in a lawyer's office. It was humdrum. Day after day, I pounded on a typewriter. I watched the clock. I wanted to run away, to dance, to become a star, to marry a millionaire. That is the dream of many girls. I decided to make mine come true.

"Doubling in Brass

"From the lawyer's office, I went to work in a settlement house. There I had an opportunity to get off in afternoons. With money I had saved, I took dancing lessons. At nights, too, I would dance. I told my mother I was visiting friends. Mother was opposed to anything connected with the stage.

"One day, I stole off to a theater. I was bewildered by the number of people at the matinee. I thought most of the people had to work all day, as I had to. This was the first time I was in a real theater—and that was only a year ago.

"From then on, nothing could hold me. I straightout told my mother, I could be happy only as a dancer on the stage. Everybody tried to discourage me. I was told the stage was terrible. 'Don't give up your good stenographer's job,' I was warned. 'The $20 a week did look good.' 'But I gave up my job just before Christmas. A dismal time ahead. I heard of a vaudeville job at $60 a week. But it was too hard. Then, I heard of a road company job. I danced all my dances. I was given a job immediately. The same day, word came to me that a manager was casting a big musical comedy. To me, to appear at a Broadway theater would be heaven.

"I rushed over. I was asked how long I had been a stage dancer. 'For years,' I replied. And I had been—in my dreams. Again, I danced all the dances I knew. And the job was mine!

"I rehearsed hours and hours. Suddenly an order came that we were to go 'on the road' first. The route lay to Atlantic City, Washington, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Chicago. I had never been away from home before. I hadn't even seen Riverside Drive in New York. I had gone to bed at 9 o'clock. I was frightened. My courage left me a little then.

"The day we were to go to Atlantic City, my six-year-old brother died of pneumonia. To me, it meant the end of the world. I went home, finished with the theater.

"Your place will always be open for you,' the producer of the play wired.

"The kindness of that manager turned my family towards the theater.

"Her Dream Comes True

"Beyond the gloom at home lay the fairland that I could not resist. After two weeks, I rejoined the company Philadelphia. There, for the first time, I appeared on a stage before an audience. Blinded by the lights and nearly dead from fear, I danced as if my life were at stake. I had to make good! My biggest task was to go through a jazz number. I shivered with fear so much that I pulled through—for people thought I was doing a shimmy.

"Now, it's all easy. And I wouldn't go back to the old life. Why, my life is my own now. I even go to bed at 2 o'clock in the morning.

"Of course, the stage is bad—for some girls. But I know it will never be bad for me. It is simply my dream coming true. I shall be a star some day—and marry a millionaire. Even if my hero hasn't a million, I'll pretend he has. If a girl has a constant love for someone, a high ideal and great hopes—she can be as clean on the stage as in a settlement house."

A SIMPLE HOUSE IN GOOD TASTE

Fads and fancies in house design, as in most everything else, are but short lived. Good design is a matter of taste and proportion and, as a rule, is akin to simplicity. Freak houses, built just because they are odd, do not represent the best in home building, but rather otherwise.

The curious holds one's interest but a short time, then it becomes loathsome. This applies with double force to home building; once up, a building stands for years, a monument to good taste or to bad.

What a community needs is well designed, attractive homes, planned along sane rational lines—economical, simple, neat and charming, a credit to the owner and a credit to the community, a home that will give one a sense of pride.

The little house shown herewith is a good example of what can be done in the way of simplicity, economy and good design.

The plan is rectangular in shape (the most economical in form, as breaks and extensions are expensive), even the living porch comes under the one main roof; the partitions are placed over each other and the construction is most simple.

The arrangement is compact and livable; full, square rooms with no nooks, waste corners or extravagant halls.

On the second floor the hall has been reduced to a size that just serves the various rooms and the stairs. This arrangement allows three large bed rooms and a bath. All of the rooms are light and airy, plenty of large windows properly placed insures this.

The exterior of the house leaves nothing to be desired. The long sloping roof that extends down over the porch gives a pleasing cottage effect, while the broad dormer allows a full second floor.

The simple detail of the porch and cornices, the well proportioned windows and the broad brick chimney; all lend strong character that no amount of "gingerbread" would give.

Cost about $6200.

Complete working plans and specifications of this house may be obtained for a nominal sum from the Building Editor. Refer to House A-64.

Blue Grass Belle Wins Fame

Miss Nell Hott of Kentucky, went to New York to pursue an artist's career. In less than a year of actual work she has created and sold 24 magazine covers. Here you see her at work in her studio.

MUSICAL PARAGRAPHS

BY F. S. M.

Heipitz, noted violinist, was the first western artist to visit Japan after the earthquake. An earlier planned recital was frustrated because of news of the great disaster, which came just as he was boarding his train for the Pacific enroute to Tokio. He went to China instead. Mr. Heipitz tells us there was nothing novel about the audience in China, which was made up almost entirely of Americans and Europeans.

The Chinese are not music lovers. All was different in Japan, here he found most appreciative audiences. There are many music schools, and the Japanese people have learned to appreciate the best—the "Serious"—A strong predilection for Bach.

Heipitz gave four programmes in Tokio, one of these was a benefit for the earthquake sufferers, 6,000 persons attended. These programmes were all of a day. The people sat on the ground in little basket affairs with trays at their feet. The music was played on a table.

New York has a plan to test thousands of children in the tenement districts, in an effort to discover musical or other artistic talent. First will be group tests, then individual recitals. A psychologist will be a physician, a psychologist, a glad specialist, industrial and other special teachers, as art instructors, of music, writing, etc. Those of especial talent will receive the best instruction.

Music has brought cheer to countless hearts. M. Tautou, composer of "Yes We Have No Bananas" died a short while ago in Paris. He left the greater part of his large fortune to charity.

A brass band preceded the hearse in which his body was carried and saxophones also desired to play the "Banana Song" (would seem a rather lively funeral). And may be this ends that popular "fruit ditty."

"Music is the art directly representative of democracy, in that music is brought to the people there need be no fear about their ability to appreciate it."—President Coolidge.

Mrs. Southgate is honor guest at reception in Orlando Friday. A beautiful event of Friday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock was the reception which Mrs. N. P. Yowell and Miss Elizabeth Yowell gave at their home on East Jackson street, complimenting the former's mother, Mrs. W. W. Southgate.

The rooms of the spacious residence were open en suite and were effectively decorated with palms, ferns and a profusion of cut flowers, gladioli, snap dragons, and baskets of shaded gladioli carrying a power of fulwara and greenery. In the reception room palms and ferns were banked before the fireplace, and across the mantle asparagus fern was arranged and baskets of shaded gladioli carrying a power of fulwara and greenery.

Saturday Evening Sermon

"Angels of growth! Did I descend what were ye more than I? Wait there—wait and invite me while I climb; For, see, I come but slow, but slow! Yet even as your thine, soft and sublime, lifts at my feet, they move, they go. Up the great stairs of time."

My soul is thrilled with the consciousness that the young man who has been misled and lured away from the path, can through God's grace fight his way back to the heights. I have climbed the mountain and found inspiration in the climb. The heights beckoned me. They continued, I heeded to meet me. They called me. When I had reached the top my soul responded to God in gratitude for the call of the heights.

My fellow comrades, at this very hour God is calling you to the climb, and there is wisdom in the call. He knows that hidden in the struggle there is strength, and you will need strength for tomorrow's task. He knows that hidden from you by the fog of a world is a much larger world and this larger world will bring into your soul new inspiration and you will need inspiration for tomorrow's efforts. Yes, God is calling you to the heights, and I rejoice God is doing the calling. He knows quite well that the heights are not reached by flights, but that we must trudge our way to the top. But through this trudging God will give to us increasing strength for the journey. May the spirit of Robert Browning imbue our spirits:

"Then welcome each rebuff That turns Earth's smoothness rough. Each string that bids not sit nor stand, but go. Be our joys three-parts pain! Strive, and hold cheap the strain; Learn, nor account the pang; dare, (never grudge) the throe!"

If we are willing to welcome the rebuffs and suffer the stings by the way, the heights are ours. In any department of life the heights are ready to be captured by the young men who are willing to scale them. You may enter the field of scientific engineering, mechanics, journalism, teaching, railroading, banking, etc., and, if you are willing to climb, the heights are yours.

I think of a lad who asked his father for the privilege of going to school in another section of the country. The lad wanted the privilege of measuring his strength and in this strange world to the father with understanding that he would pay his father the wage of a laborer until he had earned his way. The father walked part of the way to school and reached the village where the school was located with less than eight dollars. That was his new venture. I saw his name recently in a magazine in which only articles of genuine worth appear. The heights called to him, and he was willing to climb.

God is calling you this hour, fellow comrades, and the call is urgent. His confidence in you. I rejoice that God believes in you and in me to the extent that He calls us to the highest reaches, to the largest conquest, and into fellowship with Himself in immortal enterprises. "I will arise and go to my father," is a declaration of wisdom. Back to the springs of inspiration! Back to the fountain of peace! Hidden in the depths of this beautiful and meaningful life is another lesson of tremendous importance for us. In these last moments let us concentrate upon this lesson of superlative consequence.

Every young man wants to live nobly, and if we want to live nobly, we must move up close to God. Fellow comrades, it is indeed a mark of wisdom to offer yourselves this hour to God. Young men, it is indeed a mark of courage to offer yourselves this hour to God. There is a mark of determination—and determination will determine your destinies—to offer yourselves this hour to God. There is a mark of courage to offer yourselves this hour to God. There is a mark of courage to offer yourselves this hour to God.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH. Sunday School, 9:30 a. m. Morning worship and sermon 11 a. m. Subject, "The Tears of Jesus and the Lesson They Should Teach Us."

Habitat Young People's Union, 6:45. Evening worship and sermon, 7:30. Subject, "To-morrow and To-morrow's Message." Prayer meeting and Bible study, Wednesday evening 7:45. Subject, "Christ's Conversation With a Lep-er."

The Berean Brotherhood Notes. Thirty-eight young men were present at the Sunday morning class of the Big Berean Brotherhood, Mar. 30. This is a little below our usual attendance, but we expect to regain our usual strength within a short time. Dr. King's message on "Preparing for Christ's Coming" was very ably rendered.

The class has issued a challenge to the Sunday Morning Club for the largest number of men present during April. The Sunday Morning Club has accepted.

The plans which have been ordered has not yet arrived but is expected to be ready. This will be a splendid addition to the present equipment of the Big Berean Brotherhood.

Every member of the class is urged to get every young man possible to be present on Apr. 13, as this is the date on which the class will have its picture taken to be used in a display of pictures of organized classes at the South-Atlantic Convention to be held in Atlanta, Ga., in May. We should have at least 75 present when this picture is taken.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE. Church services for Sunday, April 6th, 1924. Subject, "Unreality." Church service, 11 a. m. Sunday School, 10 a. m. Woman's Club building, Oak Avenue. All are welcome.

BIG BEREAN BROTHERHOOD CHALLENGES SUNDAY MORNING CLUB. The work of the Big Berean Brotherhood is characterized by courage and boldness. Last Sunday morning the class voted to challenge the Sunday Morning club to a membership contest. The Sunday Morning club is certainly one of the greatest classes of men in the city, and holds a large place in the life of the First Baptist Church. The younger men certainly were demonstrating a daring spirit when they issued the challenge.

The other better class has divined the method which the Brotherhood will employ in the contest. Each Sunday morning the record attendance of each class will be given. Tomorrow morning the first showdown will be made, and many will watch with interest to see which class scores the first victory.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH. J. Carpenter, Pastor. The subject of the morning sermon will be "David's Prayer, Persuasion, and Promise." At the evening service, the question will be answered: "Why am I Not a Christian?"

The Sunday school meets at 9:30 o'clock. The Division of the Kingdom. This is an exceedingly appropriate lesson at this juncture in our national life.

The Scrap Iron Class will begin its morning work at 10. There will be plenty of routing music by the "boys," and a short lecture on the Sunday school lesson. Every man is expected to be on hand on time.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. Tomorrow will be our regular Communion Sunday and we hope to have every member and friend at the morning service. The subject of the morning sermon will be "Love's Greatest Work."

The morning school meets at 9:45 A. M., let all who can, be present. The preaching service at night will begin at 8 o'clock. The subject will be "World Peace. How to Get It, God's Plan." This live subject is worthy of consideration because it is vital to the welfare and salvation of the race. Come and bring your friends.

Our Christian Endeavor will meet at 7 P. M. Remember our night service begins at 8 o'clock and on time. A welcome to all.

The following is a letter that will be of interest to all interested in the State Federation Beautification program. Mrs. Jack Pryor is state chairman of State Beautification and the foregoing letter is copy of letters sent to all the county commissioners in the state. Chairman Board of County Commissioners.

Dear Sir:—As chairman of State Beautification of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, I am appealing to you in behalf of a more beautiful Florida tomorrow. It is a conceded fact that the fate of Florida lies in the hands of her youth, it is in the interest of our youth to instill into them the love and knowledge of beauty, natural and that obtained by planting, work and the elimination of the unsightly, that I make this appeal to you.

Don't your Board of County Commissioners offer two silver cups, one to the rural school and one to the city school in your county that has at the end of the school term the best beautified mile of highway. This cup to be contested for until one school wins it three consecutive times, in that case it to become the property of the school so winning it.

Highway beautification is a very popular movement and a much needed movement. Florida each year is improving her good roads system. Let us do our bit toward making these highways beautiful and restful to the eye. I am sure your county is a very good one, and possibly lead the others of the state in this matter. Offer these cups. They will not only prove an incentive to the schools in your county to beautify their highways, but will provide training and the love of beauty thus instilling a more beautiful county tomorrow and that the beautification done today will be kept up in the future.

Don't you please consider this serious and don't you use your influence with your board to get them to offer these cups for 1924 and 1925 school terms? Please let me hear from you. Believe me most cordially, yours for a more beautiful Florida. (Mrs. Jack) Margaret Pryor.

The Sanford Woman's Club held their regular business meeting Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the club house. Much business of importance was transacted. It was announced that plans which have been under way for some time for a dance to be given Friday April 5 also a get-together banquet Friday May 2, had been completed.

They hope for a large attendance of club members and their friends at both of these affairs. Speakers prominent in federation club work throughout the state have been invited to the banquet and this will be the culmination of the past year's club work. Miss Crawford, representing the Red Cross came before the club and outlined plans for a federation of clubs for welfare work. Miss Crawford said in part: Sanford's greatest need is a trained social worker. How with this social worker the work that 29 different organizations are now doing would be facilitated.

Each would have a definite program thus preventing overlapping work. She spoke of the work of Miss Underhill, the county nurse, but said that she was handicapped for need of help. After the business meeting an informal tea was given in honor of Mrs. J. W. Dickens of Miami. It was under the capable leadership of Mrs. J. W. Dickens that the Sanford Woman's club was organized and the success of the club as attained today is due to the faithful pioneer work done while she filled the president's chair.

Mrs. Dickens is now serving as the state treasurer for the F. P. W. C. Arizona is called the cactus state, but shouldn't get stuck up over that. The state of matrimony is called the same.

GIANTS DESTINED TO REPEAT THEIR 1923 EXHIBITION

Loss of Pat Moran Means Great Deal to Reds—Pittsburgh Will Have Good Team While Phillies Will Bring Up The Rear.

NEW YORK, Apr. 5.—Summary and possibilities of the National League club as they appear today.

NEW YORK—McGraw's club looks better than ever to me, despite the loss of so great a shortstop as Bancroft. In the youngsters, Travis Jackson and the Giants appear to have a recruit able to step right in and fill the bill. Pitching, which worried McGraw a great deal last year, is certain to be better. It is reasonable to suppose that one and possibly two of his star recruits will come through. If such is the case it is going to be a tough job to beat the Giants.

CINCINNATI—The loss of their beloved leader, Pat Moran, at the spring training camp is not going to help the spirit of the Reds. This is no reflection upon the ability of Jack Hendricks, his successor, who is a capable, brainy leader. It would be the same no matter who was selected to manage the club. "Win for Pat" is a slogan that Manager Hendricks hopes to imbue his players with.

PITTSBURGH—A club with great possibilities, that seems to be considerably stronger than last season. Several of the young players on the club are certain to have profited by their experience of last year. In addition, Manager McKechnie seems to have picked up some very likely material among his recruits. A contender last season, the Pirates appear much better equipped to carry on this year.

CHICAGO—A club made up largely of young players, all of whom are certain to be more finished this year. The pitching also should be much improved. This important feature should make the Cubs far more troublesome than last year. Several unsettled spots in the make-up of the infield is the only outstanding fault. In O'Farrell the club has one of the best receivers in the majors.

ST. LOUIS—An improved ball club over last year, but still several points shy as a pennant contender. Pitching is rather uncertain. Young players on the club should show to better advantage.

THREE OTHER CLUBS—Brooklyn, Boston and Philadelphia hardly stack up as pennant timber. No doubt the managers of these three clubs will be more than content if they land a notch or two higher than last season.

BROOKLYN—Wilbur Robinson at Brooklyn must do considerable rebuilding. Some of his veterans are getting old and he is going to develop new timber. It may take him two or three years before he is again in a position to put over a pennant winner.

BOSTON—Day Bancroft at Boston, making his debut as a major league manager, has a lot of problems to work out. The Boston club finished seventh last season, so Bancroft will not have to think very hard to show improvement. The loss of his veteran star pitcher, Tony Boeckel, was a tough break.

PHILADELPHIA—Art Fletcher is making much progress at Philadelphia, but of course still has considerable distance to go before he predicts a pennant. Taking over a feeble aggregation, Fletcher, with a fighting spirit that has always characterized his play, put new life into the team. Despite a weakness in several departments of play the Phillies were always fighting last season. It will be an improved club.

RESUME OF TEAMS—New York, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh again appear to be the outstanding class of the league. Three other clubs, Chicago, St. Louis and Brooklyn, are just a shade away, with the possibility of Chicago being a late upsetter. Philadelphia and Boston to trail the field. New York has a good chance to again win a pennant, making it four in a row.

Young Stribling To Fight Quinn Apr. 11

NEWARK, Apr. 5.—Future plans of Young Stribling, Southern school-boy boxer, who won a newspaper decision Monday night over Mike McGuire, world's light-heavyweight champion, were announced by "Pa" Stribling, father-manager, Friday.

Young Stribling will give an exhibition match at Hartford, Conn., Saturday night; fight Joe Quinn 10 rounds at Appleton, Wis., on Apr. 11, and then return to his Southland where he has bouts scheduled on Apr. 25 and 29 at Norfolk, Va., and Atlanta, Ga. He will meet an unselected opponent about June 2 at Dreamland Park, Newark.

RED CROSS MEET SOON.

Promise To Mother Caused Rickey make Ban On Sunday Ball

(By The Associated Press).
BRADENTOWN, Apr. 5.—Branch Rickey doesn't manage his Cardinals on Sunday, as everybody knows.

It isn't that Branch has any scruples about Sunday ball, as captious critics frequently claim. Rickey made a promise back in the old, old days to a certain beloved member of the family that he'd never play ball on Sunday.

When that promise was made Mother Rickey—still with great reluctance—gave her consent to his ambition to become a professional ball player.

Go ahead and let 'em kid you, Branch, about Sunday baseball. You weren't the first boy ever to make a promise to his mother nor yet the first one to regard it as sacred.

Austria Hopes To Win In Fencing In The Olympic Games

PARIS, Apr. 5.—Austria hesitated long before deciding to participate in the 1924 Olympic Games, but once having made up their minds the Austrian athletes are resolved to make a strong bid for world recognition. At Chamonix her unrivaled figure skaters, singles and pairs, carried off two firsts and one second in the three events competed.

Fencing and rifle shooting are the events in the summer sports towards which the Austrians are bending every effort in their training. Austria's fencers in pre-war Olympic Games have always given a good account of themselves, and French fencers here feel that they will again prove a factor to be reckoned with. Austria will be represented by eight fencers and two jurors.

An Austrian team of six men will compete in the rifle target shooting competition, while two will enter the clay pigeon shooting.

The Austrians have specialized in the light and middle-weight boxing classes, and will be represented only in these two categories.

Ten shot putters and javelin throwers are entered and five wrestlers—also in the light categories.

Austrian athletes, however, have remained irremediable, and absolutely refuse to participate in the Olympic games, when their German comrades are barred.

Washington Owner Denies He Blocks Efforts of Pilots

TAMPA, Apr. 5.—Having had four new managers in as many seasons the belief exists that managing the Washington ball club is no part of an agreeable assignment. In some circles Clarke Griffith, owner of the club, is accused of interfering with the managerial activities.

This year the club is under a new manager, Stanley Harris, the 27-year-old second baseman. Harris replaces Donie Bush, who lifted the club to a first division berth last summer.

"Harris is the sole manager of this ball club," Griffith states with an earnest emphasis when the question is put to him, "and Bush was the sole manager last year."

"No one but an inexperienced baseball man would ever attempt to interfere with a capable team manager, and I am not exactly inexperienced."

"I think Harris will do splendidly with the club this year and if he does I want to see him get the full credit."

Harris is Youngster.

TAMPA, Fla., Apr. 5.—Stanley Harris, the 27-year-old Washington manager, is the youngest team leader in the majors.

SARAZEN IS STILL THE FAVORITE IN DERBY BOOKINGS

Performances of Zev and Morvich In Past Two Years Increases Prestige of Eastern Horses Entered in Kentucky Derby This Year.

NEW YORK, Apr. 5.—Interest in the Kentucky Derby is overshadowing all former future turf events ever scheduled in America, among turf followers in Gotham. WHY BANKS? LESSON VI

By J. H. PUELICHER, Chairman
Committee on Public Education, American Bankers Association

We hear of bank capital, surplus and stockholders. What economic services do they render the community?

BANK CAPITAL—The money necessary to engage in the business of rendering banking services to the community.

SURPLUS—A part of a bank's earnings not paid out as dividends to stockholders but reserved for possible losses or to expand activities as needed by growing business.

CAPITAL AND SURPLUS—Protection to depositors, because if trouble arises depositors must be paid in full out of these funds if necessary before stockholders are paid anything.

DOUBLE LIABILITY—The obligation under the law that rests on a bank stockholder, in case his bank fails and the assets are not enough to pay depositors, to pay an amount equal to his bank stock, in addition to losing his original investment. This is not the case in corporations other than banks. Example: If a man owned $1,000 in bank stock and the bank failed, and after the assets had been used, the bank still owed money to depositors, the stockholders would be required to pay up to another $1,000 if necessary to meet the obligations to depositors.

Thus it is seen that bank capital and bank stockholders perform real economic services.

Gained Ten Pounds

Mrs. George E. Hunter, of Columbus, Ga., 43, she suffered severely with female troubles.

"I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time," says Mrs. Hunter. "I could not work. My... were irregular and I got very thin. I went from 125 pounds down to less than 100. My mother had been a user of and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble, so she told me to get some and take it. I sent to the store after it and before I had taken the first bottle up I began to improve. My side hurt less and I began to mend in health. I took four bottles in all during the last ten months. Cardui acted as a fine tonic. I am well now. I have gained ten pounds and am still gaining."

A Child that Mopes Isn't a Well Child

—W. L. Hand.
A normal child wants to play. If the little one is sullen, listless and irritable, something is amiss. First off, the child needs a laxative. But mothers are so often disappointed when the favorite laxative fails to restore the youngster's spirits. This is because there is a bilious condition usually and the laxative used hasn't the needed effect on a sluggish liver.
My preparation, Liv-o-lax, was made to answer this frequent need. While it can be used in place of calomel, to relieve liver and bowel congestion, it is just as pleasant to take as any of the usual children's laxatives. It isn't a bit drastic, causes no distress and the children love to take it.
Liv-o-lax is available at your own drug store and is just as effective for adults as it is for children.
