Senator Robert M. La Follette, Jr., of Wisconsin — sometimes known affectionately as "Young Bob" — is already proving to his colleagues that he is a chip off the old block.

"Young Bob" is one of the youngest members of the Senate, and ordinarily a young senator serving his first term is expected to be seen and not heard. But the youthful senator from Wisconsin is already standing out as one of the leading figures in the upper house.

And it is not merely because his father was the great Robert La Follette. Rather, it is because his colleagues are realizing that the son has his full share of the abilities possessed by his father.

Young La Follette stands for the same things his father stood for. Apparently he holds the same grip on the voters' back home. But most important, he is like his father—his manners of delivering speeches, his gestures, his method of argumentation.

Lady Raleigh Publishes Letters Of Her Husband As Part Of Biography

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. (AP)—Lady Raleigh has braved the "brick-bats" of male literary critics which Mr. Edgar Saltus and others say await the woman biographer who attempts to tell the truths about their husbands.

She has given the public the letters of Sir Walter Raleigh, edited by her own hand, and which are described as "his best and only biography." From a collection of some 2000 letters which the distinguished English man of letters wrote to various friends, Lady Raleigh has drawn an intimate picture of his life.

The letters disclose that Sir

Walter was not one of Henley's "young men" as had sometimes been stated. William E. Henley, a noted British author and critic, had a fatherly relation with many young writers who later became celebrated.

"At most Sir Walter got from Henley was the stimulus that comes from friendship and from occasional opposition in opinion," says the book, which MacMillan publishes today.

Sir Walter Raleigh was invited to Oxford University as the first holder of its Professorship of English Literature. As a student in history at King's College, however, he did not make such a high mark. He was placed at the top of the second class, immediately above his friend, Austen Chamberlain.

D. Nichol Smith, reader of English Literature at Oxford, contributes these sidelights on Sir Walter's character in a preface to the book:

"The spirit of adventure was always strong in him; it was this spirit, quite as much as the desire for local color and information on the spot, that took him to Bagdad in his sixtieth year, as the official historian of the air force."

It was one of the few articles of his creed as a professor that too much system kills the study of literature. His true function, as he saw it, was not to discuss theories or to trace influences, so much as to exhibit what was great in great literature.

"Cast, pretense and the doctrinaire view of life would invite him to bursts of intolerance. It was the passing intolerance of a very tolerant and large-hearted man who, with all his scepticism about progress and all its policies, never lost his belief in human nature. 'Something of this is preserved for us in his letters.'"

IMPORTANT NOTICE OF PRICE ADVANCE TO ALL PROPERTY HOLDERS IN

To establish a uniform resale price on all properties in Section 1 (Crystal Lakes Club Division), we are, on February 20th, arbitrarily advancing the price in this section.

WE ARE DOING THIS

That the property holder may have some idea as to the present standard of values in this first section. This advance represents our estimation of the property's worth as of today.

UNDERSTAND CLEARLY

That this is not a fixed price advance at which you must sell your property—you will of course fix your own price if unsatisfied with the present suggested advance.

This advance has been suggested only for the reason that it paves the way for a resale campaign which we are about to put in force—a campaign full of unique features which will, we believe, be entirely successful in giving speculative purchasers a satisfactory profit.

WE SOLICIT YOUR LISTINGS

If you want to dispose of your holdings in Loch Arbor, come to our office and let us be of service to you. We suggest, however, that you not list your property for resale until after our next announcement is published for it will, no doubt, somewhat influence your decision to resell at this time.

POSTOFFICE WILL CLOSE DOORS AT AN EARLIER HOUR

New Ruling Requires Lobby Entrances To Close At 9; New System Will Go Into Effect Within Two Weeks

An order of the postal authorities which makes it compulsory for first class postoffices to close at 9 o'clock is to be put into effect at the Sanford postoffice within a very short time, according to an announcement made today by J. F. Hall, postmaster.

In explaining the order, Mr. Hall stated that he would probably allow the lobby of the local office to remain open until 11 o'clock for the convenience of patrons who wished to remove their mail after the theater hours. He said that, although the order called for closing the lobby at 9 o'clock, he had endeavored to continue the present policy of staying open all night as long as possible.

He also said that by allowing the office to remain open until 11, most of the local patrons, particularly the larger business houses, would be able to deposit their mail in the morning mail, and that no other trains bearing mail came in after 9 o'clock.

It was explained that most of the mail has shifted to the day trains and that second class night mail only was being handled at night by the one clerk now on duty.

Mr. Hall stated that the department had asked the local office to conform to its ruling immediately. Other offices, most of them larger than the Sanford office, now close at 9 o'clock.

Score Of Amendments Before Upper House Today While Plans Go Forward To Undo Tax Cutting Already Voted

Smoot May Seek 2nd Vote Upon Auto Tax

Reduction In Alcohol Taxes Okeyed By Senate; 11-Hour Session Is Held Last Night

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Siding to apply the brakes on tax reduction, as many as a score of amendments came up for consideration today, managers of the revenue bill still were insistent that the Senate undo some of the tax slashing already voted.

Chairman Smoot of the finance committee, announced he would ask for reconsideration on the decision to repeal the tax on admissions and dues and indicated he might also ask for another vote on the automobile passenger car tax which the Senate had stricken out.

A warning from Secretary Mellon that the $100,000,000 additional reduction accomplished by these two decisions were too large, reached the Senate late yesterday, as it was proceeding on its tax slashing course and led to the determination of administration leaders to plan for its recovery.

The proposed expenditure of $100,000 for a new city hospital, to be located on grounds donated by the county near the site of the old poor farm on Melville Avenue, is being considered by the city council.

The continuous 11 hour session fairly well cleaned up work on the bill and the amendments remain to be considered.

Although the strain of the long hours of work became apparent as the session progressed, the city managers planned another session tonight if necessary to obtain a final vote.

H. G. Wells, Noted Novelist Of Great Britain Named In $50,000 Suit As Result Of His Story Of London Party

Bigelow's Questioning Called 'Impertinent'

Change In Topic Of Discussion Meant No Change In Quality Of Speech, Says Wells

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Poultney Bigelow, American lecturer and author, has announced that he is starting a $50,000 lawsuit against H. G. Wells, the English novelist, because he resents being classified as a bore.

The trouble started at a "mid-ten-party" given some time ago by Countess Russell at her London apartment. Mr. Bigelow published a version of the party in a London paper to which Mr. Wells replied vigorously in an open letter.

The Bigelow version of the party said that Wells looked like a prosperous stock broker or bond salesman, and chatted pleasantly of the fabulous prices forced on him by the paradoxical publishers of hundreds of periodicals in every corner of the world. Wells, it was a fairly tame game.

Then Anthony Hope, also at the party, looked out of a window and remarked that the situation appeared to be a dramatic touch was given to it as a member of group two, Pennsylvania Bankers, Association, representing many millions in property, crowded on the scene to watch the passing of a great industrial struggle.

The other scale committee members proceeded to the lobby floor of the hotel and not a word was spoken by operators or miners as to what had occurred in the pasting. The bankers looked on with sympathy at the manner in which the newspaper men got their information as to what had occurred.

Briefly, the terms are as follows:

Work to be resumed at once under the old contract subject to certain modifications and running in effect until Aug. 21, 1930. Once a year each party may, after Jan. 1, (Continued on Page Three)

NEW A.C.L. RULING WILL SPEED UP AUTO DELIVERIES

Permits For Cars Consigned To Florida Points Will Be Issued Under Same System Governing Other Freight

Effective at once, the Atlantic Coast Line will issue permits for single railroads of automobiles destined to Florida points on the same basis as applying to other interstate commodities under the Advisory Board's percentage plan.

The statement issued yesterday by A. H. Clark, vice chairman of the Sanford District of the Florida Division, South Eastern Railway Board, of the American Railway Association.

Mr. Clark stated that all automobile dealers of the district were to be notified of the order and that those who desire Atlantic Coast Line transportation on automobiles should file their request with their district chairman covering the balance of this month.

Representatives for the month of March should be filed not later than Feb. 16, with K. B. McCracken, chairman of the Miscellaneous Committee, at the Sanford District office.

According to officials of the railroad and members of the Advisory Board, the order will result in Sanford dealers getting at least 40 per cent delivery on their requirements.

Railway officials have asked freight receivers to clearly understand that the early filing of requirement requests does not eliminate the filing of requests for permits and that the latter should be filed as heretofore with the local railway agents.

Members of the Advisory Board say that most freight receivers have not clearly understood the procedure in applying for permits. They announce that receivers should ask the local agent for Form No. ARA 1, "Request for Permits," and fill out these papers in triplicate, for each commodity required, and deliver to the chairman of the committee under the name of the commodity. Particular commodity is being handled.

The report will in turn be handed to the vice-chairman for Sanford to L. M. Austry, chairman for the terminal district. The reports will be checked and tabulated, grouped and sent to the transportation companies as a basis for the issuance of permits.

Lions' Club Pledges Support To Bond Issue Proposed By City Commission

Following a speech by Judge James G. Sharon, stressing the necessity for the passage of $2,000,000 bond issue asked by the city for civic improvements, the Lions' Club today went on record as actively endorsing the measure.

In outlining the improvements contemplated by the city if the issue passes, Judge Sharon emphasized the municipal developments undertaken by other cities, and declared that Sanford voters should endorse the issue at the polls if this city is to remain abreast of the contemporary conditions of the state.

In connection with the equipment of local playgrounds undertaken by the club, the Lions' Club had agreed to contribute $250 to the purchase of the equipment for the playgrounds.

Approximately half of the required equipment has arrived according to reports, and Chairman S. R. Dighton reported that the balance will be ordered Saturday.

MINERS AGREE TO PLAN DRAWN BY OPERATORS

Peace Settlement Is Still To Get Okey Of Joint Parley Of Miners And Owners

Workers Meet To Be Held Tuesday

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12.—(AP)—The anthracite coal strike was virtually settled here today when announcement was made at 1 o'clock that the proposition of the operators to return to work immediately on a 5-year agreement had been formally approved by the miners.

The joint conference of miners and operators still has to formally approve the peace settlement after which a convention of miners, called to meet in Scranton next Tuesday, will have to ratify it. All of this is a formality.

Immediately after the miners ended their session the sub-scale committee went into conference with the operators' negotiating committee to draw up the final agreement.

Final agreement for ending the strike was adopted. This agreement will be submitted to the tri-district convention for approval, after which a contract will be formally executed by both parties.

The convention will be held in Scranton beginning Tuesday morning. The mine workers will remain at work within 10 days and it is expected the end of production will be reached by the end of the month.

The six members of the miners' sub-committee separated from the other scale committee members and walked fifty feet to the room where the anthracite operators await the signing of the agreement. The situation appeared dramatic and a dramatic touch was given to it as a member of group two, Pennsylvania Bankers, Association, representing many millions in property, crowded on the scene to watch the passing of a great industrial struggle.

The other scale committee members proceeded to the lobby floor of the hotel and not a word was spoken by operators or miners as to what had occurred in the pasting. The bankers looked on with sympathy at the manner in which the newspaper men got their information as to what had occurred.

One Dead, Another Seriously Wounded During Gun Battle

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 12.—(AP)—A man believed to be E. A. Bousar, and suspected of having robbed a garage at Greenville, was seriously wounded in a gun battle with Sheriff Frank Blount and Deputy Sheriff F. H. Hartfield of Leon county yesterday.

The shooting took place following a chase on the highway, when Sheriff Blount and his two deputies and Sheriff F. C. Allman of Jefferson county, attempted to arrest Bousar and the other man. The latter, an officer, well had overpowered the watchman, blew the safe of the garage at Greenville and fled with the contents of the cash drawer.

Enoch Blount, Blount's son-in-law, was shot after he had wounded Hartfield, and as he attempted to run away from the scene of the shooting, Bousar's possession was broken by a bullet, and his getaway during the chase was blocked. He was shot and is being treated in the hospital.

Atlanta Banker Amazed At Sanford's Many-Sided Growth Within Last Year

M. B. Wellborne, governor of the Atlanta District of the Federal Reserve Bank, was in Sanford yesterday as the guest of Frank P. Forester, president of the First National Bank, and while here was taken on a trip through the city and around the celery districts on the outskirts of Sanford.

Mr. Wellborne is on a tour of the member banks of the Federal Reserve system in the state of Florida and is at the same time making a survey of financial conditions as they exist today throughout the state.

He is a banker of life long experience in the financial world, according to local bankers, and is determined to keep on his toes in possessing more knowledge of financial affairs in the Atlanta district than any other man.

Those with whom he talked yesterday stated that Mr. Wellborne

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Exploration, by two such eminent authorities as Captain Amundsen and General A. W. Greely, of the opinion that "Doc" Cook's north polar claims are as good as Admiral Peary's were, has created a great commotion among the admiral's friends in Washington, where he spent his later years.

They denounce Amundsen and Greely vehemently but that doesn't mean they're mad, and the Pearyites are afraid, coming from men of their reputation, that it will be widely believed.

The upset seems likely to be an effort, by the admiral's supporters, to have every bit of the evidence threshed out afresh, under the auspices of some such body as the National Geographic Society, to settle the last doubt concerning the accuracy of their hero's story.

ONLY the trouble is, as General Greely points out, that there isn't much evidence.

Peary had with him, on the last leg of his journey, nobody to quote the general, but "an ignorant negro" and a few Eskimos, whose testimony is no better than that of the "doc's" gundrop-catchers.

That's where the admiral made his grand mistake. He ought to have had Captain Bartlett along.

IT'S true that Bartlett believes his chief reached the pole. However, he doesn't pretend to tell, of his own personal knowledge, what happened after Peary ordered him to stay behind, as he didn't want a white man to share with him the honor of finishing the ultimate lap.

Bartlett admits this nearly broke his heart, but he certainly is having his revenge now, though he has too long to consider it so.

MUCH as he's been derided by the salty, Cook always has been popular among explorers. Peary emphatically was not.

The "doc" it's to be remembered, wasn't on his first expedition, by any means, when he professed to have found the pole. He'd accompanied several previously.

All accounts agree that he was an ideal companion—helpful, kindly, courageous and competent. Peary was accused of selfishness—as witness his treatment of Bartlett.

So some of the brotherhood, like Amundsen and Greely, may be a trifle prejudiced. Possibly, if they can't believe the "doc" accomplished all he says, they don't want to believe the admiral did.

AT any rate, the captain and the general, between them, have shown Cook to the public in a new light. The former has focused attention on a fact hitherto little

It must give the "doc" a queer feeling, after all he's been through.

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry.

Non-irritating, Mentho-Sulphur subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement.

Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up. A jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.

Let a trial of Mentho-Sulphur show what this means to you. Send the coupon for it. Clip it now.

It's Strawberry Time

Is it difficult for you folks, who are spending your first winter in Florida, to realize that it's strawberry time in Plant City?

Up North the thermometer is hovering around zero yet the first crop of luscious, ripe-red berries were shipped over a month ago from Plant City. Every day our shipping platforms are loaded with more shipments to the eagerly waiting northern markets.

Plant City is the largest winter strawberry market in the world. Before the strawberry season wanes the early vegetables are coming in.

Plant City will be shipping carload after carload of delicious tomatoes, lettuce and celery, to the northern markets just about the time your farmer friend in Illinois is thinking of doing his spring plowing!

Early crops command top prices. Top prices and low overhead make rich farmers. Rich farmers make prosperous, growing cities.

These things are logical and fundamental. Plant City is the market center for one of the world's richest early fruit and vegetable growing sections. It serves a wide and populous territory.

Investment opportunities exist on every side. Values are high, safe and sound but prices are still moderate. A small farm of five or ten acres, in or near our city, will yield a handsome yearly income to its owner.

Plant City is today a complete and growing city. A comprehensive program of public improvement involving an expenditure of more than $2,000,000 is under way.

Permanent industries are thriving and expanding here—there is plenty of room for more, but don't let the other fellow get the "jump" on you. Right now is the time to investigate and invest in Plant City.

Come and see for yourself or write us for more complete information. We'll gladly give your questions prompt attention.

Abraham Lincoln

Abraham Lincoln Is Called Homeliest Handsome And Handsomest Homely Man

Down in Kentucky, a distant, secluded district of the rolling foothills, stands a rude, primitive log cabin. It is a desolate little building, almost a hovel, and yet it is one of the greatest buildings in the world.

In Washington, fronting a wide, placid pool of water, faces a building which is everything the log cabin is not. It is spacious, stately, beautiful, built of marble to endure for centuries. And it was raised to honor the memory of the man who was born in the log cabin.

The log cabin was Abraham Lincoln's birthplace. The marble building at Washington is the Lincoln Memorial, the most beautiful of all the capital's monuments.

Considering first the one building and then the other, one would think that the marble building, the people, centuries hence, will not almost think that Abraham Lincoln was a myth.

For the whole story of the man seems like a tale that someone invented long ago, to give a supply of a real man. It is perfect—almost unbelievable. A boy born in a near, in a primitive, backwoods settlement—doomed, one would think, to a life of unthinking toil and an obscure grave, raised without education other than that which he dug out for himself by the light of a tallow candle, entirely without those advantages which the poorest citizens have today; yet he has this boy growing and expanding to the proportions of a Titan, rising in majesty and strength until he stands forth as one of the greatest figures the New World has produced! Is that not like a fairy tale?

And, as if that were not enough, we have this man retaining the

A board is provided for which shall be obligated within 90 days after appointment to arrive at a decision on all issues in connection with wage adjustment.

To that end the board shall formulate its own rules and methods of procedure and may enlarge the board to an odd number, in which event a majority vote shall be binding.

On the check-off, the agreement says:

The demands of the operators and the mine workers on the questions of cooperation and efficiency are referred to the board of conciliation and efficiency, which shall work out a reciprocal program of cooperation and efficiency.

After the settlement was announced, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, issued a statement in which he said the settlement is satisfactory and constructive. It assures stability and continuous operation for a five-year period, which is the longest ever made in the coal industry.

"Under the agreement the board of conciliation is given broad powers as a stabilizing agency and is instructed to work out a reciprocal program of cooperation and efficiency which will result in a greater degree of confidence and harmony between the operators and miners."

Will Meet on Monday

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 12.—(AP)—A tri-district convention of the miners union to ratify an agreement that may be approved by the scale committee in Philadelphia will be called for this city next Monday, it was understood here today.

In the event that a call is issued for a tri-district convention Monday, the delegates of all local unions of the region will meet tonight and tomorrow to elect delegates to the gathering in which the two sets of interests were pitted for execution in the expected Philadelphia announcement.

At present the rough outline proposed for a settlement is based on a five-year work contract for the

Noted Evangelist To Speak Sunday At The High School

The James S. McGraw, of Pittsburg, called "one of America's most famous civil evangelists," is scheduled to lecture at the High School auditorium Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, according to an announcement made today by members of the First Christian Church, under whose auspices the lecture is to be conducted.

Dr. McGraw's subject has been announced as being "Our Nation and Its Future: Shall We Keep It?" He said that he makes a careful and illuminating survey of the many phases of life and customs of our present day America.

The First Christian Church has issued a pamphlet telling of Dr. McGraw's activities and his abilities in the evangelistic field in which it is stated that he is a most forceful and popular speaker and one of the outstanding speakers on the American lecture platform today.

F. H. Duncan, captain of the University of Florida's 1923 football team and rated as one of the best ends ever seen on a southern gridiron, is in Sanford for a few days in the interests of the Macklanburg-Duncan Company, metal weather strip manufacturers of Oklahoma City.

Mr. Duncan recently played with the Jacksonville All-Star against the Chicago Bears, on which team "Red" Grange figured the South.

Several members of the 22 and 23 classes of the University welcomed Mr. Duncan to Sanford, where he is to remain a few days while on a tour of the state.

ORLANDO, Feb. 12.—(P)—The Dr. Felix A. Murphy is dead, a martyr to his profession. Infected a week ago while operating on a scarlet fever patient, he diagnosed his own case and said that he would not recover. In an effort to save his life an arm was amputated as he directed.

Talking Contest

It is not surprising that in these days when so many endurance contests are held there should have been a talking contest—and that it should have been won by a woman.

The winner of this contest talked for 48 hours without stopping to catch her breath. She used up 4 different sets of listeners, some of whom are still in the hospital trying to recover from her verbal bombardment.

One of my friends says that record is pretty good, but that if his wife had been in the contest the winner wouldn't have had any more showing than a blizzard in Florida. He says his wife has been talking for 48 years on a stretcher and that he's about on a stretcher. He says she even talks in her sleep.

And so many married men might report it is a habit of men to just about how much women talk.

But I just want to say that I know some men who possess ball-bearing tongues, and if they ever quit talking it's simply because their audiences give out on them. There are several men I know whom I have never known to quit talking. I stand it as long as I can and walk off and leave them talking, and when I see them next time they are talking, and I never have been able to figure out whether they are talking still or talking again.

You know the type, Ed, the kind of fellow who takes up 30 minutes of your time saying "good morning" and another 30 minutes saying "good bye."

You've heard about people who could talk the horns off of a billy goat. Well, I know a man who could talk the holes out of a Swiss cheese. He could talk the kernel out of a hickory nut. He could talk the cream out of a quart of milk and then talk the cream into whipped cream and talk the milk into clabber.

The only thing I know of that runs as smoothly and will run as long as this fellow's tongue is

THE STORE WHERE QUALITY COUNTS

"AFTER 12 YEARS MY PERFECTION GIVES GOOD RESULTS"

writes Mrs. E. A. Womble,
127 East 16th Street, Jacksonville.

"I have used a three burner Perfection Oil Stove for twelve years. It still gives the same good results as when I first purchased it."

"I have cooked occasionally on other stoves, but to me the Perfection is the easiest to keep clean and the nicest to cook on. When I need to replace a chimney or flame spreader, they are always obtainable quickly at a reasonable charge. My next stove will be a four burner Perfection."

Mrs. E. A. Womble

All sizes of Perfections, from a one-burner compact to a five-burner range. Prices from $7.00 to $120.00.

Many Florida women have had their Perfections 10 years and more. Perfections give the most efficient cooking service day in, day out, the year around. They get the cooking done on time, and are dependable, convenient and safe.

Cooking begins when you touch a match to the wick. No time lost in heat generation. They burn only the safe, cheap fuel, kerosene. Clean, intense heat flows up the long chimneys direct to your cooking. Utensils are kept clean and unstained, as every drop of oil is completely burned before the heat reaches them. No strenuous scouring.

Every Perfection burner is independently operated and capable of every range of heat. For frying steaks, turn the wick high enough to produce yellow tips 1 1/2 inches long above the flame. You can bake, broil, fry, and simmer on a Perfection—all at the same time. Adjust the flame on any cooking process, and it remains as you wish it.

Perfections are sturdily built, with roomy surface, and a handy base shelf for extra oil supply is visible at all times in its glass door, which is easy to refill. Merely tilt it back by the bail, and your hands don't touch the kerosene at all.

Yes, you can always rely on a Perfection Stove. Ask any dealer to show you Perfection models, equipped with from one to five burners, and vary in price from $7.00 to $120.00 for one with built-in oven.

DISCARDS COMPRISE CUB INFIELD

BY BILLY EVANS

IT is not often that a major league club completes one single department with cast-offs from a neighbor.

But this is just what the Chicago Cubs have done in lining up Charles Grimm for first base, Earl Adams for second base, Howard Freigau for third base and Jimmy Cooney for shortstop.

All are former members of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Grimm was introduced to the big league circuit with the Cardinals in 1918, but was not ripe enough and was turned over to the Little Rock club on one of those "gentlemen's agreements" for seasoning.

But the bond of secrecy was broken some place and, when Grimm was sought by other clubs as a prospect, he was purchased by the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Cardinals did not have their evidence in black and white and lost their appeal for the first baseman.

Loss of Grimm was costly. Playing with the Pirates four years, Grimm joined the Cubs last winter in the famous exchange which shifted A. J. Greig, Grantland Rice and Nicholas to Pittsburgh with Cooper, Maranville and Grimm going to Chicago.

Adams was another junior prospect when he reported to the Cardinals in the spring of 1921. He had Rogers Hornsby for his competition at second base and naturally did not cover more than the spring training period. He was sent to Syracuse, then to Wichita Falls and in the Texas League convinced the staff of scouts for the Chicago Cubs that he was the worthy successor to Zeb Terry.

Adams, like many snappy second basemen, is a midget. He barely reaches five feet, yet he was the leading fielder in the National League for 1925, with an average of .362. He was high for assists with 551 and high for putouts with 354.

Cooney Latest to Join Cubs

Howard Freigau made his debut with the Cardinals as their bat boy, originally coming under Branch Rickey's sharp eyes with the Ohio Wesleyan team. It is quite a jump from bat boy to a regular job but Freigau cleared the hurdle and was the sensation as the Cardinals' third baseman in 1924.

In need of a catcher and having

The fourth member to fill out the infield is Jimmy Cooney, a shortstop. Cooney recently was traded to the Cubs by Pitcher Victor Koen.

Arrangements Being Made For Wills-Lenglen Match Next Monday Or Tuesday

CANNES, France, Feb. 12.—(AP) Preparations are being made by the management of the Carlton Club tournament to speed up the women's singles which have been delayed by rain, so that Helen Wills and Suzanne Lenglen will be able to put on their great sport even next Monday or Tuesday at the latest.

If the two champions come together next Monday it will be during mid-afternoon. If the match has to go over until Tuesday, it will begin at 11 o'clock. Miss Wills has fretted over her inability to get out on the courts and bring herself up to that point of perfection in play which she had recently hoped to attain in the middle of this week in order to be thoroughly prepared.

On the other hand, the French girl who has been playing tennis along the Riviera throughout the winter has been forced to rest a bit. The three days' absence from the courts will doubtless do her good for she is already at the top of her playing form.

Hilliard to Act as Umpire

George W. Hilliard, an Englishman, secretary of the Wimbledon Tennis Association, will umpire the match. The Wills-Lenglen match has been chosen. The protests of Miss Lenglen and Miss Wills over the publicity that has been raised by sale of exclusive film rights for

The NUT CRACKER

by Joe Williams

THE most serious problem facing the British Empire at this moment is what to do to keep Eddie away from horses and hospitals.

EVERY time you pick up the paper these days you read where Eddie has been bounced for a couple of fortnights and a peck of oats by a cockney nag possessing a strong dislike for royalty and work.

THE situation has ceased to be a comedy. It is entirely too one-sided. The act is entirely too on-sided. You never read, for instance, that Eddie has thrown a horse.

EVEN the horses are beginning to complain. It used to be a mark of distinction among horses to throw Eddie. Now this is changed. A really distinguished horse in the empire is one that has not thrown Eddie.

KING GEORGE is in a quandary. "I raised that kid to be a first-class mobarch and he turns out to be a third-rate bare-back rider," George moans.

THEY say Eddie is a good rider but he selects horses much too big for him. He ought to know better than to attempt to apply the principle of Oxford bags to dumb animals.

EDDIE differs somewhat from the king of olden days who wanted to trade a kingdom for a horse. Eddie is agreeable to a similar transaction but he demands a horse he can stay on.

MR. O'GOFTY thinks the queen can solve the whole problem in a couple of minutes and at very moderate expense to the Buckingham household.

"LET them buy him a billy goat," suggests Mr. O'Goftly. "Even if he can't ride the goat he won't have so far to fall."

ADVANCES ANOTHER STEP

CANNES, France, Feb. 12.—(AP) Apparently unaffected by her enforced rest of three days, owing to the continued rain, Miss Helen Wills advanced another step in the Carlton Club tournament today by defeating Mrs. O'Neill of England by the overwhelming score 6-0, 6-0.

ORLANDO TO END CASTING TESTS WITH BIG SPREAD

Haquet At Which Many Are Expected To Speak Marks Close Of Tournament Lasting 2 Days In Orange County

ORLANDO, Fla., Feb. 12.—(AP) Dr. F. F. Thompson has been added to the list of speakers for the banquet on Saturday night which will mark the closing of the state-wide casting tournament to be held here during the week of the 11 and 13 as a part of the state meeting of the National League. The banquet place has been changed from the Knights of Pythias hall to a local hotel.

It was also announced that there has been a change in the casting program due to the large number of entries. The boys' events have been moved up from Saturday to Thursday afternoon and the women's events have been moved up from Saturday to Friday afternoon. This will leave the casting events for the men only to be run off on Saturday with the casting falling on Friday afternoon and Friday evening.

According to Dr. Thompson an invitation has been extended to T. R. Hodges, state commissioner of shell fish, to attend the banquet and to deliver one of the principal addresses along with casting falling on Friday afternoon. J. B. Royal, C. L. Bassett, of the National Isaac Walton League, and El Comanche, short story writer, will be on the program.

The addition of El Comanche to the list of banquet speakers rounds out an excellent program in the opinion of the committee. Mr. Comanche has contributed articles and stories to numerous sporting and outdoor magazines. As a youth he made the trip with his parents to California on the first Union Pacific train. He has made 60 trips across the continent and is known as the traveling sportsman. He was adopted by the Sioux Indians and made a chief.

He also has begun publication of a golf magazine to convey to citizens of his country all available information about golf. After inspecting courses in Great Britain and on the Atlantic seaboard, he played a few holes on one of the courses at Olympia fields here, before pursuing his investigation through the Pacific Coast states.

He proved he was qualified to gather scientific data on golf links by scoring 39 or only two above par for nine holes on the

Best Of Nation's 3-Year-Olds Are Being Prepared For Spring Racing

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 12.—(AP) Comfortably tucked away in winter quarters or being prepared for campaigning on Southern tracks, some 400 three-year-olds are being conditioned for the classic Kentucky Derby.

On May 15 only a score or so of them will face the barrier. These will be greeted by the usual applause of thousands of persons at historic old Churchill Downs and at the end of the mile and a quarter race one of them will find fame and fortune awaiting. Meantime, hopes will be mingled with disappointments as one by one the prospective candidates for the $50,000 classic will be found wanting and withdrawn.

Race horse dope and digest of performance show three of the juveniles standing out as "winter favorites" for the race. Two others also above the average will be pointed for the Derby and winter racing may add others before the nominations close.

Bubbling Over, E. R. Bradley's best since his Behave Yourself and Black Servant ran one-two in the 1924 Derby; Carter, J. E. Griffith's Maryland-bred winner of the Pimlico Futurity, and Pompey, champion two-year-old, are the big three today.

Rhinoc, winner of the Golden Rod Handicap on the closing day of the fall meet here, and Jimmy have been coming along nicely. Mrs. George B. Cox owns Rhinoc and Chicago belongs to Fred Grainger.

"Bubbling Over" Good

In the opinion of some turf authorities, Bubbling Over gets the call over Carter, although the latter needs out the Bradley colt in the rich Pimlico Futurity. In that race, Carter got to the winning post in the last stride. He had

Ike Boone Of Boston Red Sox Leads Team In Batting But Loses His Job

WHEN a major league ball club lets go of its heaviest hitter then it may be guessed that its plans for re-organization are pretty radical. That is what the Boston Red Sox have done in release of outfielder Ike Boone to the Missions club of San Francisco in the Coast League.

Not only did the elongated Ike lead Red Sox hitters in 1925, but he also stood at the top of the Red Sox in hitting in 1924. The previous season with San Antonio in the Texas League he led the Lone Star circuit as a southpaw with a batting mark above .400.

With the Red Sox in 1924 Boone batted .333 in 128 games, with 12 home runs to his credit as part of his extra-base contribution. In 1925 he batted .339 in 133 games.

That Ike will continue to hit in the Coast League can be safely predicted—he always has been a hitter. It probably will be said that hitting lets him out, and that was why Boston discarded him.

It is a fact Ike never would take any medals as a speed merchant, though his length of leg did carry him over his share of ground, as shown by the way he slugged after flies in 1925.

But alas, he was too creaky in the joints to make good at handling ground hits, and that weakness put him last in the list of right fielders when it came to hitting percentage.

Ike Boone has been quite a character in baseball, not because of temperament, but for physical peculiarities. He stands a couple of inches over six feet and weighs more than 200 pounds, yet that weight is so distributed he doesn't look fit.

Boone is a "Gawgria" product and he boasts a brother in base-

Japanese Take Up Golf As Thoroughly As Other Athletics

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—(AP) Japan has taken up golf in the same thorough manner it has adopted other western games and the game is growing rapidly in the island empire.

Walter Crowder, formerly golf champion of Chicago, who first came in contact with Japanese golfers while an army aviator in Hawaii, said today that Oho Ito has completed a tour of the world to study the game under commission of the Japanese government.

He also has begun publication of a golf magazine to convey to citizens of his country all available information about golf. After inspecting courses in Great Britain and on the Atlantic seaboard, he played a few holes on one of the courses at Olympia fields here, before pursuing his investigation through the Pacific Coast states.

Fiddling Contest To Be Held In Sarasota Auditorium Today

SARASOTA, Fla., Feb. 12.—(AP) H. A. Harrison of this city, who claims the championship for fiddling in the state of Florida, will meet Bud Vance, who claims the championship for fiddling in Tennessee, in a fiddling match here Friday night.

Vance, who has been wintering in Fort Myers, challenged Harrison to a fiddling contest, when he read in an Atlanta paper that Harrison had challenged Nellie Dunham, who claims the championship of Maine for fiddling.

TRANSPORTATION is an industry owner as a tax rate. When ing materials cannot be moved are produced, heavy costs fall on roads are delayed and traffic jams necessary costs and wastes result.

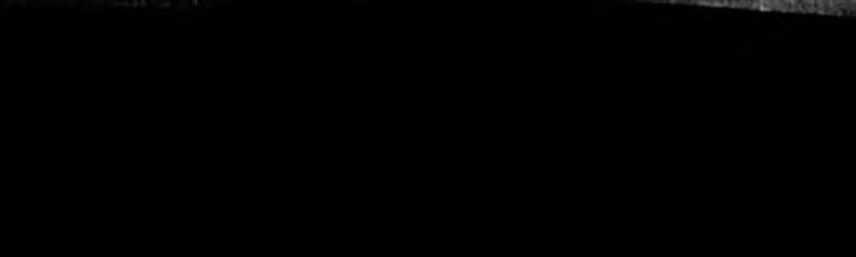

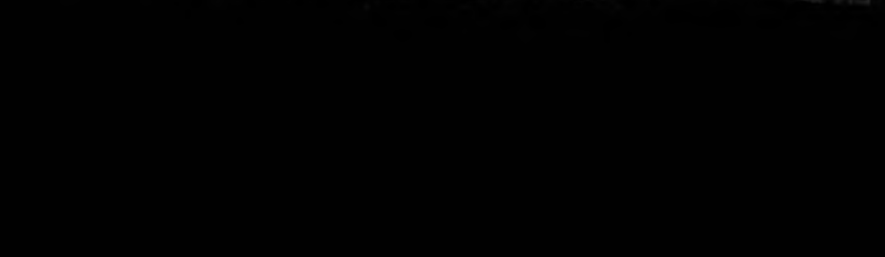

Florida has every need for transportation. The Florida Lime Rock Association stands in a peculiarly favorable position for the road building requirements of the better able to serve as it is better equipped.

Both in immense tonnage and in location, quarries of the Association offer the counties and communities quick, economical, dependable service. They are better supplied with cars, production capacity of 500 cars a day, steadily on various points, capable of even greater tonnage—as better equipped.

You who influence car movement, holding cars or who can release them, consider the benefits of more roads, built roads. Transportation needs and the more means of transportation developed, the greater the public's embetter, congestion and restricted.

The better the means of transportation, the greater the public economy. Good being delayed when cars are not speed up car movement to transport better—to provide good base for our surface roads.

Deficiency in Diet Cause of Pellagra

PELLAGRA is a disease fairly common in certain parts of the United States. Even if you should never see a case of this disease, the facts concerning it, if thoroughly understood, will teach you an exceedingly valuable lesson, namely: the dangers of a diet that is deficient in some essential.

European Women

LONDON—The Countess of Oxford and Asquith, more familiar to Americans as Margot Asquith of autobiographical fame, has set out to bring capital and labor into friendly, peaceful and cordial relations.

LONDON—A dress making club in England has been established for women, the first of its kind in Kensington. The club is open every afternoon, and instead of card tables, smokers' stands and a sideboard for serving drinks, there are sewing machines, fitting stands and all necessary equipment for successful home dress making but which the average home dressmaker does not buy for herself.

Will the next fashion craze for women be jeweled nose studs? A London woman, Mrs. Muriel Blantyre, says they are wonderfully becoming.

Her husband brought back from India a ruby nose stud as is worn by men and women of that country. In a spirit of curiosity Mrs. Blantyre pierced her nostrils, and inserted it.

"I was surprised to discover how pleasing the effect was. My friends who have seen it, quite agreed."

Feeding Experiments

Exhaustive feeding experiments in monkeys and other animals were made with spoiled corn, but the service investigators failed to produce the disease in this way. Then many attempts were made to infect monkeys with blood and body juices from patients dying of pellagra again without success.

Finally, the investigators fed a dozen convicts who volunteered for the purpose at one of the Mississippi prison farms, with a diet resembling the diet of the class of people who most suffered from the disease. In about six months, half of these men developed pellagra.

LONDON—Black silk stockings as a mark of distinction are again coming into favor. Since the vogue of flesh colored stockings which virtually every girl and woman of these days, women of taste in society have adopted the black silk stockings.

Winnie Melville, the prominent English actress, has almost become a marked woman in London because she has not surrendered her individuality and submitted herself to the bob artist, or adopted short skirts, rouged lips or Russian boots.

The death of Dame Louise Brandreth Aldrich-Blake has saddened all professional women of England. She was the first woman to take the degree of Master of Surgery from the University of London and for nearly twenty-five years was England's most celebrated woman surgeon.

Slave bangles made of ivory, tortoise shell and amber, and even common celluloid are the most recent articles of arm adornment among the Russian women. These may be worn singly or in two's and three's.

Color Films Will Bring New Stars to Fame

By JACK JUNGMEYER

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—It is written in the future book of movies that color films will be the commonplace of the better product within the next five years; that black and white will be largely a memory of the cradle epoch of the screen.

Judged by pioneering experiments in color physics now under way, and results already shown in the first venture, this spells revolution in the mechanics, investiture and personnel of the pantomime stage.

The chief disturbance will be in the ranks of the actors, and it may well be that color photography will relegate to oblivion many personages now prominent, while newcomers more happily endowed, will blaze in gorgeous new splendor.

For "color personality"—the way one registers for the tent camera—has been proved decidedly different from one's semblance in the present-day natural.

These prophecies are inspired from comment by Albert Parker, director of Douglas Fairbanks' "Black Pirate," during the course of which he subjected over 60 beautiful actresses to the "lens and paint," with Billie Dove as the final choice.

"Color personality," asserts Parker, whose explorations in this field have been extensive, "is determined by pigmentation, by texture of the skin, by color of the hair and eyes and the indefinable glow of the blood behind the features.

"Nor can this native quality be very much altered by make-up. The color camera peers through any superficial masking and brings out often unexpected tone values and strange emphases. Tests in black and white afford no criterion."

English Countess Is Denied Admittance By U.S. Authorities

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—(AP)—The Countess of Cathcart, today was ordered excluded from the United States. The exclusion order was made by the special board of inquiry at Ellis Island which has been investigating the countess' case since her arrival Tuesday.

Admission of the countess to the U. S. was denied on grounds of "moral turpitude and her admission could be injurious to the country."

She has announced that she will appeal the case to the secretary of labor at Washington. Meanwhile immigration authorities have ordered her held at Ellis Island detention station. Unless Secretary of Labor Davis reverses the recommendations of the board of inquiry, the countess will be returned to England on the next Cunard liner sailing for Liverpool, the authorities said.

Wynnewood

"Nature's Century Old Masterpiece"

A highly improved wisely restricted development in the heart of the extensive activity of the Southeastern Section of the city. At the intersection of Mellonville and Geneva Avenues. Surrounded by all the high type developments where homes are being erected and improvements are being installed with unusual energy. The great progress and the unusual expansion of the city is especially evident in this section here in the city limits.

THE lordly oaks and majestic pines that nature bestowed so plentifully to this spot from a scene of sunshine and shadow, one of rare natural beauty in a sub-tropical setting. This century old handiwork of Nature breathes an atmosphere of contentment and refinement that is only to be found in Wynnewood. The age-old trees, the sub-tropical shrubs and the flowering plants together make for a spot of rare natural beauty that is unrivaled in this entire district, a place in which you will want to build your home.

THE developers and owners of Wynnewood have planned and platted this development very cautiously. The natural beauty has been preserved and will be greatly enhanced by landscape experts. To save the beauty of a tree, or to arrange the plat that every site would have its share of trees re-planting was necessary. Several times this was done before the developers decided to adopt the plat that now makes Wynnewood a home community of distinction.

WE urge every one to visit Wynnewood, to see the exceptional property it embodies. Drive your own car if you prefer, but it is our desire to have one of our representatives accompany you. He will thoroughly understand the development in its entirety and it will be a pleasure for him to explain it in detail. A casual inspection is not sufficient, we want you to spend some time on the property. It will afford you a treat and you will appreciate the environment, general atmosphere and unrivaled natural charm of Wynnewood.
