

Electra Probers Working On 'Bird' Theory

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Investigators are working on a theory that a bird-clogged air speed indicator may have contributed to the crash of an Eastern Air Lines Electra at Boston Oct. 4, it was learned today.

One of the probers looking into the accident was W. H. 42 per cent, told United Press International that all indications point to a loss of controllable air speed seconds after the plane hit a huge flock of migrating starlings.

What investigators will be looking for, he said, is evidence of bird remains in the pitot tubes—an air intake device on the outside of the fuselage connected to the air speed indicators. The air sucked into the tubes governs the air speed readings in the cockpit.

Sufficient air speed is critical during a takeoff. If a pilot encountered trouble during takeoff, such as engine failure, and found his air speed indicator inoperative, he could lose flying speed without realizing it and stall.

It is definitely known that the Eastern Electra lost at least one engine, probably two and perhaps even three shortly after becoming airborne—apparently because the turbine-driven power plants became clogged with birds.

An Electra takes off at a speed of about 135 knots. If two engines quit around that speed, particularly on the same side as seemed to be the case at Boston, the plane would still maintain altitude but there would be a noticeable yaw or turn. To correct the yaw, it would be necessary to apply rudder force—and this is where the air speed indicator theory comes in.

At a speed of below 125 knots, there is insufficient airflow on the rudder for any force to be applied. The investigators are speculating that:

The Electra's air speed indicators were not functioning, thus leaving the crew helpless to determine whether they had dropped below the minimum speed for applying corrective rudder force; this is what "loss of controllable air speed" means.

Compounding the difficulty was the probable spattering of bird remains on the cockpit windshield, thus blinding both pilots so they could not judge the severity of the law.

Cone Firm Suspension Asked In Investigation Of Bribery

TAMPA (UPI) — Cone Brothers Construction Company of Tampa, Florida's largest road-building firm, is expected to be suspended from further bidding on road jobs until a determination is made of their guilt or innocence in connection with the alleged bribery of Road Department employees.

State Road Board Chairman William Killian said he will recommend the suspension to the board at a meeting in Tallahassee Thursday and he expects the board to go along.

Testimony before a legislative committee Tuesday led to suspension without pay for 10 highway engineers, who walked out of the hearing on advice of counsel.

The committee is investigating testimony that the construction firm had been mailing weekly "pay envelopes" to road employees.

Killian said the Road Board will make its own investigation if the committee does not establish guilt or innocence.

Killian said he is not taking Cone Bros. off the seven jobs on which it is now working, totalling some $6.5 million. But he said he has sent inspectors to check each job to determine if there has been any faulty work.

Killian suspended the Road Department engineers on the grounds "their ability to perform their duties under this cloud is impaired," he said. The suspension will continue until the investigation is completed.

The first witness today was M. L. Kimble of Safety Harbor, assistant engineer in charge of construction in the Bartow district. Kimble identified an envelope containing $25 which he said was mailed to him.

He said he had received such envelopes "off and on" but that he did not know where they came from. He said he generally received such envelopes on Saturdays.

Bob Kennedy Jr., a state auditor on loan to the Legislature's Interim Committee on Roads and Highways, told the committee's public hearing Tuesday he had found reports of $25 payments to Road Department engineers in petty cash vouchers and other records seized from the Cone Brothers by a deputy sheriff last Friday.

And Elmer Rounds, chief committee investigator, testified he watched as Road Department employees picked up letters containing the alleged payoffs at a Tampa post office. The employees were served with summonses on the spot.

He testified that he watched a Cone Brothers car deliver mail to the post office Friday afternoon. He said he discovered plain white envelopes addressed to State Road Department employees, all carrying the return address of the home of Fred H. Poe, a Cone Brothers superintendent.

In each of the white envelopes, Rounds said, was a green Manilla envelope "like a pay envelope" containing two $10 bills and a $5 bill.

"How bad can it get when you catch them with the money in their hands," commented Rep. Ray Mattos, committee member from Polk County. "We're just scratching the surface."

Observing the hearing was Sherman Wilson, an investigator for the Blain Congressional Committee that also is investigating the Interstate highway program.

Wilson said he had seen a copy of a letter from the Interstate Commission to the Interstate Highway Commission, dated Oct. 14, 1960.

Judge Explains Importance Of Vote On Amendments

The importance of voting on the six constitutional amendments in the November general election was explained by Circuit Judge Volie Williams Jr. to the Business and Professional Women's Club at its meeting Tuesday night.

Judge Williams stressed that "although you may not favor some of the amendments they are all important and nobody should overlook them on the ballot."

Judge Williams explained that amendment No. 1 proposes additional judges for district courts of appeal. This amendment is of considerable importance as there are more and more appeals coming before the judges and more judges are needed, he said.

Amendment No. 2 provides for absentee registration of voters who are members of the armed forces and their families living outside the U.S.

Amendment No. 3 proposes that the present game and fish commission come under the supervision of the legislature.

Amendment No. 4 provides that not less than 45 percent of all license taxes levied and collected by the state, or under its authority, from the operation of pari-mutuel pools be allocated and distributed in equal parts to the various counties.

The fifth and sixth amendments are considered routine, dealing with changes in the constitution on civil and jury trials in certain counties and Seminole is not included.

U.S. Bans Goods Shipment To Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States moved today to cut away the economic foundation of the Fidel Castro government, banning the sale of "most commodities," except food and medicine to Cuba.

The Castro regime, which nationalized nearly 400 private businesses earlier this month, will thus be left without a source for replacement parts to run its seized U. S.-made machines in oil, sugar and other mills.

The Commerce Department's action, sharp since this country wiped out its subsidy program for Cuban sugar, was teamed up with a Maritime Administration crackdown on sale, transfer or charter of U. S.-owned ships for Cuba.

The department's formal amendment to the export regulations said the curb was being imposed "in view of the deterioration of relationships between Cuba and the United States."

The department, which administers the government's export controls, said the ban on exports to Cuba was in accordance with the wishes of Congress as expressed in the Export Control Act.

"It is a part of the law which declares that it is the policy of the United States to use export controls to further the foreign policy of the government and to aid in fulfilling its international responsibilities and to exercise the necessary vigilance over exports from the standpoint of their significance to the national security."

The department said it has not revoked any individual export licenses for Cuba already issued.

It said commodities banned under the new, tighter export regulation may be shipped to Cuba through Nov. 21 if they "were on dock or landing, on lighter, laden aboard an exporting carrier or in transit to a port of exit" before 12:01 a. m. Thursday.

The announcement said the department would consider applications for export of wheat and wheat flour "in the light of the international wheat agreement."

The department indicated it would continue to let tourists send their baggage and personal effects to Cuba without special license and that it would not interfere with shipment of foreign-origin goods and certain types of gifts.

In a simultaneous announcement, the Maritime Administration declared that it would be illegal for any U. S. citizen or firm to sell or charter any ship or boat, regardless of size or type, to a Cuban national without prior approval by the administration.

The ban included technical information. The government considers such information on production and processing techniques as useful to foreign countries as strategic materials.

Deal By Miamian To Buy Mayfair May Be Canceled

The proposed purchase of the Mayfair Inn, motel and golf course for an estimated $600,000 by Ben Ball of Miami appears to have encountered obstacles.

An official of Rosen Associates of Miami today said that Ball informed the firm handling the transaction that illness has left him physically unable to handle the operation of the Mayfair.

The official closing of the sale was scheduled Nov. 15. "The deal is shaky right now," the Rosen official said.

However, he added that his firm has not entirely given up hope that the final negotiations will be completed.

He denied a report that Ball suffered a heart attack after viewing the recent high water around the Inn.

Ball visited Sanford last month and held a news conference telling the press that he plans to improve the Mayfair facilities and help boost the hotel business in this area.

He said at that time that he hoped to move his family here this month.

The Mayfair Inn was purchased by the Giants in 1948 and has been operated as a hotel for winter visitors.

ACL Engine Hits Truck; One Hurt

A 25-year-old Longwood carpenter escaped serious injury Tuesday afternoon when an Atlantic Coast Line engine slammed into his pick-up truck in Longwood.

Thomas Lee Dyer was reported in "good" condition at Seminole Memorial Hospital at noon today after suffering back and nose injuries and body lacerations.

Deputies reported that the engine was going at approximately 70 miles per hour when it hit the Dyer truck.

Investigating officer Robert Norwood reported that Dyer, turning off SR 414 into Longwood, apparently didn't see the engine coming when the accident occurred.

The truck, a 1932 model, was called a total wreck by deputies. The impact of the engine threw the truck some 75 feet, deputies said.

No charges have been filed as yet.

The Campaign

WILMINGTON, Del. (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon told the Cuban crisis at the fore front of his campaign today, but he also hit hard at the Democrats on the bread-and-butter issue of unemployment.

The Republican candidate issued a statement challenging Sen. John F. Kennedy's "full employment" promises by charging that the Roosevelt and Truman administrations were unable to ease unemployment without wars.

Nixon said on this basis that Kennedy's "showing promises" to expand the number of jobs "aren't worth a plugged nickel."

But the big current item in Nixon's campaign was his announcement at the American Legion's national convention in Miami Tuesday that his country "will very promptly take the strongest possible economic measures to counter the economic banditry" against Americans by Fidel Castro's Cuban regime.

Nixon made the Cuba announcement in a speech which he described as "non-political" but in which he defended the administration's overall defense and diplomatic program and aimed several implied jabs at Kennedy.

As he has been doing repeatedly for the last 11 days, Nixon hit at Kennedy's opposition to drawing a defense line around the Nationalist-held islands of Quemoy and Matsu several miles from the Chinese Communist coast. Kennedy has said the line should be drawn around more distant Formosa instead.

His only reference to civil rights in Florida came when he said "the president of the United States can't make progress in the difficult area of human rights so that a man like Khrushchev . . . cannot again come to this country and point a finger to us and say, 'You deny human rights.'"

County Democrats To Get Out Vote

County supporters of State Democratic candidates and officials of the County Democratic Committee agreed to launch an "all-out get out the vote drive" immediately in preparation for the November general election.

Mayor Earl Higginbotham, who is county chairman for Democratic gubernatorial nominee Farris Bryant, called on all Democrats "to work together to put the Democratic party on top" in November.

State Democratic party workers and the county Democratic committee, represented by Chairman R. S. Billinger, plan an all-out telephone drive to get the Democrats to the polls and to vote "the straight Democratic ticket."

Joe Davis, chairman of the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in the county, said at the meeting his group will work hand in hand with state Democratic leaders here to produce a Democratic ticket vote.

On hand for the meeting were Harold Johnson, county campaign chairman for Doyle Conner, running for commissioner of agriculture; Mack Cleveland Jr., campaign chairman for Richard Ervin seeking reelection for the attorney general's post.

Stewart Gatchel, heading the local campaign for Supt. of Schools Thomas Bailey, Tom McDonald, county campaign chairman for Tom Adams, running for secretary of State, and Dr. Vincent Roberts and Davis, for Kennedy-Johnson.

McDonald was named finance chairman of the drive to handle expenses for the state candidates.

Violent Storms Lash Texas For Fifth Straight Day

By United Press International
The worst outbreak of violent weather in months lashed Texas for the fifth straight day Tuesday. Tornadoes and rain battered the Lone Star State, causing at least six deaths. The storms beat down on the state and beat down on harvest crops into the mud.

Hardest-hit was Victoria, Tex., where nine inches of rain touched off flash floods and sent 30 families fleeing from their homes. Rainfall was heavy from the plains through the Mississippi Valley and into the Ohio and Tennessee valleys. Heavy rain fell in the upper Great Lakes and along the Rockies. Leadville, Colo. had five inches of snow on the ground.

Cold air pushing into the plains states from Canada dropped temperatures to 11 degrees at Minot and Dickinson, N. D., and 13 at Bismarck early today.

The Texas storm hit Victoria in two waves between 8 and 10 p. m. Flash floods sent water pouring into streets and low lying areas.

Civil defense officials set up evacuation centers at two schools, a theater and a store. One family of 14 was housed in a school overnight.

At the height of the storm, E. E. Higdon, 60, suffered a heart attack trying to drive through the rain. An ambulance was unable to get him to a nearby hospital because of high water and by the time he was taken to another hospital across town he was dead.

The water was so high in city streets that several cars and a newspaper delivery truck floated from their parking places. One man chained his car to a telephone pole as the water started to carry it down the street.

Three persons were injured by a tornado near Schulenburg, Tex., which tore up a motel and caused about $100,000 damage. Another tornado hit near Houston but skipped away to the northeast without injuring anyone.

Unidentified Boy Dies In Traffic Mishap

KNOX, Ind. (UPI) — Hundreds of persons passed through a Knox funeral home in the past two weeks.

Each looked at the body of a teen-age boy, about 14 to 17 years old, but no one could identify him.

The youth was killed Oct. 2 at the wheel of a stolen car.

The youth carried no form of identification. But police were hopeful of identifying him because the car was stolen in this area and the boy's clothing bore two name tags that appeared to be either "Godea" or "Gudin."

The boy's red and yellow shirt and black leather jacket carried Canadian labels which were sent to police in Canada. But Canadian police could provide no clue to his identity. And the FBI was unable to trace his fingerprints.

After waiting 16 days for someone to claim the boy's body, authorities decided to bury him.

The Rev. James Burroughs, a Methodist minister, planned to conduct the funeral today, with burial in Oak Park Cemetery.

"It's a shame something like this could happen to a young boy," Coroner Raymond A. Brennan said. "All those people and not a soul that had ever seen him before."

Control Is The Answer

We prefer to look upon the control of Florida water more as a water conservation program than strictly a flood control project.

But call it what you may, the control of rainwater, the channeling of run-off water and the assurance that once inundated lands can be kept dry are the key to Florida's future wealth.

We hear a great deal of discussion on inviting industry to Florida. Payroll sweetener economy, jobs lure the wage earners and industry can take up the slack of employment needed by persons who are brought to Florida because one member of the family is to be located in defense or military programs.

What industrial tycoon in his right mind would want to build a plant on ground that is always flooded?

What grower can afford to have his crops continually underwater?

Florida has an abundance of beautiful water. The ocean, a gulf, straits, bays, lakes, rivers . . . all these add to the climatic conditions and the scenic attractions.

How much of this water is potable? How much of it can be consumed as drinking water?

The supply now is adequate in most areas but its purity is threatened in virtually all of the state.

When rainwater covers the land it runs off to seek its own level. If improperly channeled it goes at random and takes everything in its path.

If it is conducted in proper channels with silt beds to permit slow run-off during which it drops its burden of sand and residue, it eventually can be funneled into reservoirs where it can be treated scientifically, and then distributed as potable water.

We are not concerned in Florida with getting rid of the water that comes down as pennies from heaven.

We are concerned with controlling that rainfall, putting it to proper use, and using it again . . . and again.

Does this cost something?

A considerable amount.

Construction of the intricate system of reservoirs, canals, dykes, gates, silt beds, etc., in a flood control project costs a lot but the Corps of U. S. Engineers has figured a "B to C Ratio" . . . which means, in layman's terms, a comparison of benefits to costs.

The estimate is four to one . . . benefits outweighing the costs.

Does it matter who pays? Does it matter who benefits? Can we afford to let Florida be subjected first to floods and then to droughts just because a few will benefit more than others when soggy land is reclaimed and re-worked with a network of flood control installations dotting the inland part of the state.

The whole state will benefit, even if it is in an indirect way . . . more industry, more people . . . more money.

It is a large project.

Roughly speaking, we figure this project would be the largest earth-moving project since the construction of the Panama Canal.

And what can an educated public which wants to see Florida's water conserved and put to good use do to help such a program?

May we suggest that letters be written to our representatives in Washington. Senators Spessard Holland and George Smathers and Rep. Syd Herlong are in a good position to ask that Florida's flood control program be given a high priority so work can be started sooner.

We needn't be afraid of excessive water and then parching drought if we take steps to control the water and keep it until we have a time and place to use it.

It's time for the people to speak . . . and write.

What-No Good, Healthy Hi-Jinks In Campaign?

By HOLMES ALEXANDER
WASHINGTON, D. C.—"Give me my sin again!" cried the ecstatic Romeo as he kissed his girl. Those were better days than these. We have reached an age when four-letter "sin"-like love and lust—appears to be on the wane in public affairs. The ugly, polysyllabic business of homosexuality seems to be the accepted iniquity of our declining republic. At least, there is much testimony to that effect.

Alien Drury's Pulitzer Prize novel, "Advise and Consent," turns on the boards as a play, now upon the suicide of a Senator whose World War II love affair with a man is threatened with exposure. An international crisis, involving the death struggle between the USA and the USSR, is made to hang and swing upon this scarlet secret. But the villains of the piece are not the sinners—the villains are the ruthless power-seekers and ranting demagogues who wrongly used the dirty information for selfish ends.

Gore Vidal's Broadway hit, "The Best Man," also uses male homosexuality as a central cog. In this play the hero and the villain are deadlocked at a Philadelphia national convention for the party nomination. The liberal hero is brought some court martial evidence concerning another of those World War II homosexual orgies (that's all our boys had to do, you see) and apparently the villain is involved.

Three Minutes A Day

If you are among the 4,000,000 persons in the United States suffering from asthma, you probably know that science has found no complete cure for the affliction. Asthmatics, however, can lead normal, useful lives if they adhere to the treatments and controls that have proven effective in bringing relief.

Incidents in daily life result from the unhappy combination of ordinary things that are not harmful in themselves. The stony silence, the curt greeting or the careless attitude in carrying out routine duties can combine with other factors to cause more difficulties than we imagine. By observing small courtesies you will avoid the needless friction that hinders the peace that Christ wishes us to enjoy.

Potential causes of asthma are everywhere: eggs, milk, feathers, house dust and various types of grasses. The simple but not always easy remedy is to remove the cause when possible. As with asthma, harmful reactions in daily life result from the unhappy combination of ordinary things that are not harmful in themselves.

Direct, O Lord, our thoughts and actions, so that our presence will be a source of joy. (2 Corinthians 6:18)

THE WORRY CLINIC by Dr. George Crane

"Nobody in Evanston would buy these leftover suits," argued the manager of a men's store. But when he ran the ad below, couched in typical terse, factual language of the modern newspaperman, instead of the flowery superlatives of ad writers, see what happened. Scrapped this case and send for the lot below.

Beginning Saturday, Feb. 19 We'll be frank about this. These suits have been in stock for two or three seasons. They are not in the latest styles. Some are in colors and patterns that have not proved most popular. Every suit is all wool. Every one is well tailored. Every one is in perfect condition.

The 2 that didn't sell were of such an odd size, they just wouldn't fit any buyer, or they'd have been gobbled up, too. For more facts about these newspaper advertising strategy, consult my college textbook, "Psychology Applied," at your library or send for the non-profit booklet, "New Psychology of Advertising & Selling," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20c.

Case G-402: Enid G., aged 19, was a Northwestern University coed in my course on the "Psychology of Advertising." "Dr. Crane," she began, "you veto the heavy use of superlatives in advertising." "But do you really think the American public can be motivated as well by simple words when they are so accustomed to exaggeration?"

You see men—well dressed men, too—wearing suits just like them every day, suits they've had for a season or two. Why not get one or two of these suits now when you can get them at one-third or one-fourth of the original price? Sale opens Saturday morning, Feb. 19. It won't last long. Of the 102 suits, 100 were sold like hot cakes. This sale exceeded the previous all-time high of 19 suits sold in a single day.

Belief is the basis of sales. Exaggeration and superlatives sound incredulous, as well as very far-fetched, so they hamper sales. If the terse, factual language used in newspapers were carried over to advertising, more business would result. Newspaper editors should be called upon to tutor our modern advertising copy writers, and I'm not joking. Do you want proof? Then consider the following ad for a clothing store in swanky Evanston, home of Northwestern University.

This store had never sold more than 19 men's suits in a single day. But it was overstocked with 102 suits that were leftovers from several seasons. Printer's Ink recounts the story of how the local manager doubted the power of any newspaper ad to sell those suits.

Our Evanston trader, said the manager, "is the most fastidious in the entire country." "Why, you couldn't give those clothes away here in Evanston." But he was finally persuaded to run the following newspaper ad. Note the absence of superlative adjectives, such as "stupendous," "gigantic," "colossal," "exhilarating," "miraculous," etc. Here's the actual advertisement.

Yogi wasn't taking any chances. He slapped the ball on the runner, the batter, his batting mate, and then, for good measure, tagged the umpire. "I don't know which," he proclaimed triumphantly, "but one of you birds is out!"

Try And Stop Me
By BENNETT CERY
A friend of Yogi Berra's in his sandlot days at St. Louis tells of a game when Yogi was breaking into professional ranks and still had a lot to learn about baseball. In the ninth inning, the opposing team had the winning run on third, when Yogi let a pitch get away from him. He scrambled after the ball, pounced on it, then perceived the runner hotfooting it for the plate. At the same time the pitcher came dashing in to help, and the umpire crouched to make the proper call. Yogi wasn't taking any chances. He slapped the ball on the runner, the batter, his batting mate, and then, for good measure, tagged the umpire. "I don't know which," he proclaimed triumphantly, "but one of you birds is out!"

HAPPINESS THROUGH HEALTH (BY DR. F. LEO KERWIN)

Backaches Leave When Cause Is Removed:

It has long been thought that backache is the reflex effect on the nerves from some organs in front. The science of Chiropractic varies with this opinion. Backache is caused by the slight, misalignment of vertebrae through injury which irritates the nerves as they pass through the bony openings. The interference of the flow of nerve force causes pain in the back and organic trouble in front! This principle has been substantiated in medical writings. The most recent is Dr. H. W. Jernigan's report in the Georgia Medical Association, Vol. XV No. 6, confirming his studies to the fifth lumbar vertebra. He describes a case wherein he states that this articulation slipped as much as one-fourth inch and interfered with the fifth lumbar nerve, resulting in agonizing pain for the patient. A radical spinal operation was resorted to. A vertebra out of place was the cause of this person's condition. A Chiropractor is especially trained to locate and with scientific Chiropractic adjustments remove the cause of the backache. One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific Chiropractic, written by Dr. F. Leo Kerwin whose office is located at 201 S. French Ave. and his telephone number is FAirfax 2-7442.

WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON — Just who's telling the truth in this campaign? The Democrats claim they are. The Republicans come along and challenge them with their truth squad.

The GOP truth squad shadows the Democrats across the country. This self-styled squad of human lie detectors gets up to the podium, when their adversaries flinch, to point to the Democratic lies.

As a consequence, the Democrats have put their own shadows on the Republican shadows to shout the truth about those Republican prevaricators. The Democrats call their device, "Truth-and Consequences."

This gets nobody anywhere, which brings us to the proposal of Helms Rollman.

Heins, who came to the North Carolina hills as a Hitler-fetted German cobbler, is now running for Congress from Waymaville, N. C. Rollman is a well-to-do shoe manufacturer now, and he's running on an unorthodox platform. It's a platform of simple honesty, according to the word I received here.

Heins' proposal: a lie-detector test for all political candidates. He's willing to start this national feud with a public polygraph duel with his own opponent.

He challenged Rep. Roy A. Taylor, his Democratic adversary, several weeks ago. But nothing's come of it yet.

Imagine this on a national scale—the great debate on TV monitored by a political polygraph. Just think of all the costly air time the lie detector would save.

Here comes Sen. John Kennedy before the mike: "Seventeen million people in the United States go to bed hungry every night." Instead of a needle, the lie box has a bell. Bong!

This would save five minutes of "I disagree with Jack."

Or, Vice-President Richard Nixon: "The prestige of the United States in the world stands at its greatest point in history." This lie detector measures fabrications by degrees. Bong-bong-bong! These devices, if mass-produced, could be distributed widely. They would record the accusations of all candidates. Sen. Lyndon Johnson: "Vice-President Nixon is a three-headed monster." (Four bong.) Henry Cabot Lodge: "I've been misquoted by Jack Kennedy on my U-2 statement!" (Just a slight tinkle.)

If the boxes were utilized on the great debates, the TV people would probably bill the show as the Battle of the Bong. One sure advantage would be that the machine would be bonging away so often that you wouldn't be able to hear the debate.

A political polygraph, to be sure, would have to be far more sophisticated than the ordinary criminal-type detector. But all this is too much to hope for. Aware of the verbal dexterity of our chief candidates, I'm sure they'd find a way to outfox these machines.

U. S. Raid Warning System Reported Badly Out Of Date

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army has received a hush-hush report which says the nation's air raid warning system is badly out of date. It was learned today.

The report says that neither the nationwide radio warning system known as Conelrad nor the network of air raid sirens is sufficient to warn the American population of an impending attack by intercontinental ballistic missiles.

It recommended the development of a low-cost alarm system which could be triggered by a special impulse in an area's electric current. It said such alarms should be placed in every house and building in the United States.

The report, entitled "Air Raid Warning in the Missile Era," was prepared by the Army by the Operations Research Office of Johns Hopkins University.

HAVE YOU EVER HEARD A DOG TALKING? Well, I have. Doris and Doc Faulkner, out Loch Arbor way, have a pretty mutt of the half n' half variety named Hornet who growls a convincing "mama" and does even better with "grand mama".

Hornet, a family pet for many years now, has his painted portrait framed in the Faulkner's living room and spends much of his time there cooing an appreciative ear toward the sound of stereo—Doris confesses to turning the record player on just for him. But he isn't too high-brow for television, and an air conditioner he hates to leave the house during the warm months) and a Beauty-rest mattress are also part of the comforts of life.

When Hornet wants out in the morning he pleads with soft brown eyes and growls "mama" to his mistress—but when I met him the other night he was especially hungry and said "grand mamas" for his supper.

SOMEBODY GOOFED! An ad with the wrong telephone number sent Mary (Mrs. Herb) Collier running to the phone for an entire day to say, "No, I don't want to keep any children"—not more, anyway, as her own keep her busy enough!

But Mary is interested in calls that will tell her about an item she found recently in an antique shop in Savannah. It is a sterling silver souvenir spoon engraved with "Sanford, Florida". She'd like to know when the spoon was made and any information regarding it.

RUSHES for Gamma Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi were honored at a coffee, Friday, at the home of Mrs. Joe Corley. They are the Misses John Spolski, Jack Erickson, Otto Mazzilli, Burt Revels, Elmer Boerner, Donald Smith and Charles Bone.

Jennie (Mrs. Clyde) Robertson, rush captain, narrated a skit about the sorority, done in Beatnik style, and those taking part were Faye Steison, Peggy Lawrence and Elsie Iverson.

SOPHIA AND KAY SHOE-MAKER spent the past week-end in Gainesville where they visited his father, a patient at the medical center, and attended the Vanderbilt-Florida football game. This coming week-end will be a busy one, too, for the Shoemakers with the Civilians meet here (Kay is president) and the State Home Builders convention which they will attend in Orlando on Saturday.

Sophia will greet wives of visiting Civilians at a coffee Saturday morning at the Capri. Other hostesses will be Rose Woodall, Margaret Horne and Claire Bliss. Floating hostesses who will give a fashion parade in clothes from Howe's Fashion Shop, will be Ca. Dennison, Ann Reyn, Zona Beckwith, Cynthia Johnson, Sheila Howe, Margaret Echeberger, Sara Gilbert, Sandra Wilson, Julie Anderson and Libby White.

MARTY STEMPER has received a bid to Kappa Delta sorority at Florida Southern—she told her parents, Mildred and Bill Stemper, all about it last week-end when they visited her in Lakeland.

that fabulous city. Highlight of the trip was Dr. John's acceptance as a fellow of the American College of Surgeons.

Nancy said they were constantly dashing here, there n' yon. She wishes that she could have brought back some of the lovely modern pieces of art that she saw and that would have fit into their home so well. "And I wanted to buy Blum candy for everyone," she said.

A SURPRISE PARTY Sunday night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Woodall was a birthday celebration for Sara Gilbert—her husband, Warren, was in on party plans that included snacks, dancing and swimming in the Woodall's pool.

SURPRISED YESTERDAY were Julie (Mrs. Robert) Anderson and Betty (Mrs. Leonard) Sheets. When they met at the home of Shirley (Mrs. G. S.) Blake with other Navy Staff wives for lunch and regular monthly meeting they were showered with gifts for their new arrivals. Co-hostess was Rhelita (Mrs. Paul) Speltz.

FUN, FROLIC AND FELLOWSHIP were the order of the day last Saturday when members of Beta Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma society met at the home of Alice Van Cleef in Glenwood. Among those from Seminole county gathering on the spacious porch of the charming old house were Nancy Brock, Lucy Smith, Mabel Chapman, May Belle Maxwell, Thelma Mitchell, Lottie Nix, Dorothy Rice, Ethel Riser, Alicia Schmidt, Helen Westgate, Hilda Wray, Edna Chittenden and Kate Wharton.

Conversation, group singing (accompanied by Lottie Nix playing her harmonica) and a demonstration of square dancing led by a teacher from Stetson University, were part of the entertainment. After a delicious picnic lunch, the society held its annual White Elephant sale and the proceeds of $70 will go into a scholarship fund.

Irene Vowell, president of Beta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, (an honorary society for women teachers and educators in Seminole Volusia and Lake counties), was in charge of the business session. Application for transfer of membership into Beta Chapter were approved for Eunah Holden of DeLand, Mildred Wright, past state president from Maryland and Betty Palmer from South Carolina, now teaching in Seminole County.

"Utilization of New Discoveries as Teaching Media" was presented with members contributing "how to do" ideas.

In February, local members will be hostesses at a luncheon at the Mayfair Inn Hotel.

Garden Circles

IVY CIRCLE

Mrs. Bill Chandler was hostess last October of the Ivy Circle of the Sanford Garden Club.

Mrs. John Clark presented a program on "candles." She gave a brief history of candle making and their significance in our daily life.

She compared the reason for their use in the past and why they are now used in holiday arrangements and for other special occasions.

Mrs. Clark displayed several different types of candles and gave various ideas for decorations.

Mrs. Harvey Wilkinson, president, reminded the members that club dues for the year should be paid this month.

Plans were discussed for the state flower show. Mrs. Chandler and her co-hostess, Mrs. Charles Wilson, served refreshments to those present, including Mrs. Harvey Wilkinson, Mrs. Ed Gordon, Mrs. J. W. Gordon, Mrs. L. M. Swan Jr., Mrs. Wendall Hirt, Mrs. Jimmy Wade, Mrs. B. M. Dyson, Mrs. Vernon Feddersen, Mrs. W. H. Cagle, Mrs. Randall Reynolds and Mrs. Lynda Powell.

MAGNOLIA CIRCLE

Magnolia Circle met Oct. 13 at the home of Mrs. Elwood Smith. Co-hostess was Mrs. P. L. Eilmore.

Dr. J. F. Darby gave a talk on diseases of grasses and illustrated the talk with color slides.

At the business meeting plans were discussed for the coming state flower show. The circle decided to make and sell baked goods at the show.

A covered dish luncheon was served at noon. A harvest theme was carried out in table decorations, using a green cloth and centerpiece of wax fruit and gourds in a horn-of-plenty.

Gardenia foliage and green candles completed the table decorations. Members attending were the Mmes. Mildred Gramkow, Harold Sherwood, Joel Field, J. E. Nichols, R. E. Witzel, Frank Lieske, William Sinclair, Joseph Saunders, J. W. Messler, Otto Borsdorf, Jack Hama, Harold Ring, James Barnett, S. L. Wiggins and V. M. Smith. Mrs. Leonard Church and Mrs. Robert Lee were welcomed as visitors.

Sanford, Lyman Face 'Rugged' Foes Friday

The Sanford High Seminoles will be looking to break over the 500 mark Friday night when they journey to Winter Park to tangle with the Wildcats there at 8 p. m.

At the same time, displaying an impressive 3-1-1 mark, Lyman riders will host "Big" Bunnell at Longwood.

BHS Coach Jim Pigott reported today that he plans to play up the "punch" of his offensive squad against Winter Park.

The locals will be going into the game with a 2-2 record. Last Friday they were blanked 13-0 by Seabreeze.

"After seeing films of the game, I thought we played a good defensive game," Pigott said.

Thus far this week the Seminoles have been working on offensive patterns while Line Coach Jim McCoy has been stressing blocking.

At Lyman, Coach Bill Proctor, after knocking off highly touted Crescent City, will face tough going again Friday, meeting Bunnell.

Proctor, who said his charges came through the rugged Crescent City contest without any major injuries, will be facing one of the biggest lines in the area.

"They have two tackles averaging 210 pounds each," Proctor said.

"That line is going to be hard to crack," he added.

Proctor plans to go with the same winning lineup he used against Crescent City.

Bucs, Braves Place 4 On All-Star Team

NEW YORK (UPI)—The world champion Pittsburgh Pirates and the Milwaukee Braves placed four players each on the 1960 National League All-Star team named today by the United Press International.

Second baseman Bill Mazeroski, shortstop Dick Groat, outfielder Roberto Clemente and pitcher Vern Law were the Pirates honored while catcher Del Crandall, third baseman Ed Matthews, outfielder Hank Aaron and pitcher Warren Spahn were the Braves selected on the squad of eight regulars and two pitchers.

First baseman Norm Larker of the Los Angeles Dodgers and center fielder Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants were the other players picked by the UPI's 24-man board of experts composed of three writers or radio broadcasters from each city in the league.

The closest race was at shortstop where Groat, who won the NL batting crown with a .323 mark, beat out Chicago Cub shortstop Ernie Banks by a 13-11 vote also was close at first base where Larker, who finished second to Groat in the batting race, beat out Joe Adcock of the Braves, 12 votes to 9.

Aaron and Mays were unanimous choices for outfield positions and Mazeroski, the Pirates' World Series hero, received all but one vote in the balloting for second baseman.

The only pitchers besides Law and Spahn to receive votes were Ernie Broglio, who won 21 games, and Lindy McDaniel, star relief hurler, both of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Seeks Bout Title
LONDON (UPI)—Terry Downes, middleweight champion of the British Isles, appealed today to Secretary John B. Franke of the United States Navy to help him get a shot at the world title. Downes said the three years he spent in the United States Marines "justifies an appeal to use your influence with U. S. boxing authorities to support my claim for recognition as leading challenger for the world middleweight championship."

Five Greyhounds Move Closer To 'Big Time' In Majors

By PETER SCHAAL
Five of Lloyd Brown's Sanford Greyhounds are a step nearer the major leagues in that they are now at Clearwater as members of the Kansas City entry in the five team winter league which opened last Saturday for a two month season during which they'll have a tremendous opportunity to prove themselves.

The five are: pitchers Ken Sanders and Joe Petrivic, catcher Billy Bryan, infielder Bill Dukes, and outfielder Frank Cipriani.

Purpose of the winter league is primarily that of gathering the parent clubs better prospects and giving them two months of intensive study and play under the direction of Kansas City's top pitching, batting, and fielding coaches.

In this way, considerable time is saved and, when the spring training season opens in February, more time is thus available for the coaches to look at the newer recruits signed during the winter, or during the last few weeks of the previous playing season.

From Kansas City came word, too, that Ozzie Chavarria and Dick Green have been promoted to the Sacramento club of the Pacific Coast League where, during the spring training season, they'll be competing for play in that strong AAA loop.

Just which players on the 1960 Greyhound squad will draw their release is not yet known although this is the week that official reserve lists for 1961 must be published.

Finally, local sponsors of the Greyhound club have until Nov. 1 to decide upon renewing their full working agreement with Kansas City.

The Kansas City team, based at Clearwater under manager Marvin Olson, lost their opener Saturday, 7 to 2 to the Washington Senators team. Two former Sanford hurlers — Joe Bonikowski and Joe Kaiser — held the A's to no runs and five hits in six innings with the A's getting their only runs in the ninth off Dick Stange. Cipriani went one for four, Bryan none for three, and Dukes playing second, none for four.

Titchenal Named Coach Of Week
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—He coaches pro-type football at an amateur-type college. He recruits some of his football players from the track and field team.

And he claims he's "lucky" to have playing for him the "world's smallest fullback."

He's Bob (Titch) Titchenal, head coach of San Jose State College, named by United Press International today as college football's "coach of the week."

Stengel To Manage Giants?

Stengel is No. 3 on the list of managerial prospects for the San Francisco Giants, President Horace Stoneham said today.

Stoneham, returning from a meeting of the National League in Chicago, said he had two first men as top prospects for the job as 1960 manager of the Giants.

"But both these men are under contract to other clubs and I can'ticker with them until I get the club owners' approval," he said.

Lance Takes Over First In League

Lance, Inc., stepped up to the foul line and showed the Sanford City League how to roll under pressure, as they turned back the challenge of the Lake Monroe Inn by sweeping their match, to move into clear possession of first place.

Bob Borsdorf led the Lance team with a 595, while Dick Richards was high for the losers with a 567 total. In other league action, the Sanford-Dellary Heart Council took three out of four from Cook's Corner, 17-92 Garage swept all four from Buddy's Auto Service to drop Buddy's from their first place tie, Gene's Seminole Cleaners took Jet Lanes to their plant with three out of four, and George's Tavern and Jim Spencer's split their match, two and two.

Gene Estridge led the bowler's individual effort with a 268-627 evening, while Howard Harrison came up with an even 600 for the night. Doc Ring, Carl Von Herbulis, and Ed Callan had games of over 210 to sooth their feelings.

City New Tourney Plans Underway

The Sanford Recreation Dept. announced plans today for the annual City Tennis Tournament which will be held in the Ft. Mellon Park courts.

To register for the tournament call or stop by the department's office in the Civic Center.

There will be an entrance fee of $1.50 for singles events, and $2.50 for doubles team. Registration will close Oct. 28. The tournament draw will be made that day. Times for the matches will be arranged by the individual participants.

Southside Shudderings

By SUSIE SPINK

Spooks, ghouls, and ghosts, and they came, all with sleeves rolled up, ready to go to work. So many helpful gremlins, ghosts and haunts are scurrying around that this is bound to be the spookiest and therefore the best Halloween Carnival in the history of Southside.

From the archives it has been uncovered that the Southside School Carnival was an innovation back when kids were kids, not juvenile delinquents, and it was thought that a carnival would be a good place to wear off their energy. So well did it work that this fun fest has been going on for night on to 30 years. Why no one wants to miss it and its a wonder time for all the old students to haunt the place once again.

The leader spoke Jerry Kirk has gotten through with another message to tell about her helpers and the rooms of the spookiest they represent. Here is: Mrs. Joe Baker and Mrs. Tommy Ball for Mrs. Wheelbel and Mrs. Morgan's room, fish pond; Mrs. Andrew Bracken for Miss Westphal's room, boat on pond; Mrs. Dwight Blackwelder for Mrs. Carlton's room, pair tree; Mrs. J. F. Darby and Mrs. M. V. Wilkins for Mrs. Walton's and Mrs. Schenburger's rooms, country store.

MRS. J. L. ANDERSON, left, and Mrs. G. H. Sykes discuss plans for the cake and coffee booth they will manage at the Southside School PTO Halloween Carnival to be held at Southside School on Oct. 31 from 5:30 till 9 p. m. (Herald Photo)

Civilians Prepare Final Plans For District Meet Saturday

Sanford Civilians are rushed with last minute plans for the big district meeting to be held here Saturday.

Ray Metcalf is in charge of the wives of Florida Civilians and expects between 75 and 100 women at the meet.

First on the program for the women is introductions and a

Man Gives It To The Birds In A Nice Way

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — D. L. Yost thought the view from his picture window was for the birds—so he gave it to them.

The 73-year-old Yost built a complete recreation area for the birds, including a swimming pool and feeding station. The miniature resort listed out the dismal view of three garbage cans and a rusty fence.

Yost dubbed his resort "Featherfur" when he found squirrels as well as birds flocking to it.

"Featherfur" has a "dancetrarium," a soap box house, a well-groomed lawn, plenty of tree branches to hop around on and a swimming pool that doubles as a drinking station.

It took Yost about a year-and-a-half of spare time work to create his wildlife resort.

A consulting engineer who develops efficiency devices for offices, Yost creates "silly little things" like "Featherfur" to keep his interest up on the job.

"My normal day is 12 to 16 hours," he said. "On occasion I work straight through 24 hours, but I probably won't be able to do that when I get old."

Lodge's Proposal Called Hypocrisy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Charles Diggs (D-Mich.), says Henry Cabot Lodge's proposal to appoint a Negro to the Cabinet is "the most transparent hypocrisy practiced to date by the Republicans" in the 1960 campaign.

The Negro congressman said, "The highest Negro appointment made during the eight years of the present Republican administration was Ernest Wilkins as assistant secretary of labor and he was thrown out in order to give the job to Lodge's son."

Four Airport Employees Perish In Plane Crash

LEXINGTON, N. C. (UPI) — Four airport employees were killed Tuesday when their small plane turned upside down in a steep climb and crashed.

The men, all employees of the Knoxville, Tenn., airport, were on a flight from Morristown, Tenn., to Raleigh, N. C., to familiarize themselves with the terrain. They were identified as James William Austin, Maryville, Tenn.; Lewis H. Adams Jr., Alcoa, Tenn.; D. J. Richardson, Maryville, and Lawrence R. Dickenson, the pilot, also from Maryville.

The men landed "to stretch our legs" at a private airport near the home of Mrs. J. Sherman Dillard here. Mrs. Dillard talked briefly with the men and then watched them take off again.

"The next thing I knew the plane was flying upside down over the woods about a thousand feet away," she said.

Moments later she saw smoke rising from the area. Her husband rushed to the scene and found the plane burning and the men dead.

Art Association Sets New Program

The Sanford Art Assn. has named Joe Mathieux to supervise a new program of one-member shows.

The shows are designed to afford the public an opportunity to see in small exhibits the works of individual members of the art association. They also will give the artists a way to present paintings for public evaluation and possible purchase.

The first one-man show will open Oct. 25 in the new Seukarik Paint & Glass Co. building on Magnolia Ave. A group of pictures by Mrs. Georgia Ball will be displayed for two weeks. Mrs. Ball, one of the many talented local artists, also is a director of the association. This will be the first public showing of her work in an independent group.

"We believe everyone will appreciate the privilege of visiting these one-member exhibits in such delightful surroundings," said Mrs. Helen DeWitt, president of the art association. The paintings will be open for viewing every day during business hours.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: If you can help me, you're a genius. Mel is a wonderful husband but he smokes in bed...

Come noon I saw them drive into our driveway, so I pulled down the shades and locked the doors.

DEAR PRISONER: Your husband. You should have enjoyed your patio, allowed them to join you...

DEAR WIFE: It would appear that your "wonderful husband" is not only selfish but too weak to break a habit...

DEAR ABBY: There is a girl in our school you might call a hit and run type. She likes to go after a boy who is going with another girl...

DEAR ABBY: I heard that you wrote a book called "Dear Teenager". Please send me the book...

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday we were "prisoners" in our own home. Some people we know, terrible bores and freeloaders, called and asked if we planned to be home Sunday...

DEAR B. S. S.: Please send me the check and if it is any good I will send you the book.

DEAR MAD: Don't bust anyone in the mouth. If a hit and run flirt can break you up, it's a break for you.

It's A Boost To Travel

"I am forty-five and am taking a trip to Europe. My first stop is New York City. Please suggest the best type outfit to travel in...

Your husband should have a dinner suit and proper accessories for wear on the boat and later at social events at the home of your relatives...

TV Tonight

Gloria De Haven headlines NBC's "Wagon Train" in "The Allison Justis Story". She plays the widow of a man killed at a horse thief by a man who was her childhood beau.

"I am going to Germany to see my son in the Army. He is stationed near Munich. I plan to stay at a hotel in the city and will be there six weeks and will see my son as often as possible...

I suggest a tweed silk fabric dress, in a coat style to keep it simple, and a greatcoat in black and white tweed, or the same type coat with a black wool skirt and smart cashmere sweater blouse.

How wonderful to be able to visit your son! Wear simple wool clothes and have a warm, loose coat for travel and wear when sightseeing. I was in Munich last year in late October and it was very cold and raining...

"My husband and I are going by boat to Sweden to visit relatives who have a very handsome home. What should I plan to take in the way of clothes? We are staying a month..."

Lodge Surprise Package Of Both Party Campaigns

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Henry Cabot Lodge is the surprise package of this presidential campaign. Evidence accumulates that Lodge is as important to the Republican ticket as is Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

For example: When the chips are down in the concluding weeks of the campaign, Lodge will be given the job of making New York State safe for Republicanism. He is to be assigned five days of campaigning in New York. Republican strategists know that the ticket carrying the five or six top industrial states will win the election. Those are the areas in which Lodge has been heavily exposed with more to come, especially in New York.

The Democratic vice presidential nominee's principal responsibility is the oppose of Lodge's. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson was added to the Democratic ticket in a bid for the South. For Johnson, Democratic strategists want a minimum exposure in the North and a maximum exposure in the South and Southwest.

The left wing of the Democratic Party with command posts in the great northern cities resented Johnson's nomination and said so. There was resentment in the South, too, but the resentments of northern left wingers and southern conservatives were on conflicting grounds.

Southern conservatives resented Johnson's collaboration with a New Deal-Fair Deal presidential candidate and his endorsement of a far left-of-center platform. The clamor of northern protest against Johnson has subsided. His achievement has been more positive in the South.

Outside Virginia and Mississippi, the top Democratic office holders are supporting the Kennedy-Johnson ticket although many of them reject in anger the Democratic platform. Sen. Harry F. Byrd, (D-Va.) and Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi are hailing. Byrd is withholding endorsement of the Democratic presidential ticket. Barnett is in active opposition.

The consensus of pulse-takers in the South is that Johnson, so far, has done a pretty good job of preventing a break-away in that area.

Could it be that Thomas E. Dewey is coming to Washington, after all? Yes, it could be, replied a top Republican strategist who should know what he is talking about.

We're All Wet If We Don't Act

(A Herald Editorial)

The time has come for Seminole County and neighboring counties to stop sloshing around in their water problem and take the only way out.

There is no more time to waste waiting for another dry spell to lull ourselves into disinterest in water control. Dry spells are our alternative problem, although maybe the lesser of two evils.

The only way out of the mire — and that's just what it is — is to get control of the waters of the St. Johns River. This means the Upper St. Johns River basin must be turned into a conservation and control area.

There is a current proposal which would do this in a satisfactory and logical way. This plan would install a series of reservoirs in a line between the Seminole-Volusia area into Indian River County. The reservoirs would store water — taking the overflow from the river and all those waters being drained into it during the wet seasons and keeping it available for return during the dry seasons.

There is nothing simpler than that. And such a plan has gained approval of officials of Seminole County and the four neighboring counties involved. A five-county committee has begun placing the appeal for action on the plan with our congressional delegation in hopes that the engineers will be directed to get moving rapidly on their report on the suggested system.

There is support for the reservoir chain plan among the majority of people in the five counties who have given serious thought to the flood and water conservation problems which seem to get worse each year in one way or another.

It is imperative that a concentrated effort by all these counties be made to get immediate action. County officials need the backing of the citizens, without selfish considerations. There is no individual or group who is not affected by the serious growth of the water control problem in this section. Nobody can say "I'm not involved, my property is dry" or "Why should my land be taken in by any such project?"

When business and industrial surveys show that any part of Seminole County is under water the whole county is written off as far as attracting any new life to the area. We are constantly under scrutiny these days by commercial interests looking for locations and prospective residents looking for homes.

We have lost some of these already and are going to lose more.

If we cannot show some definite plan to eliminate the objectionable flood situations.

Designers of the reservoir plan concede that it cannot suit every individual between here and the Atlantic—but they rightly insist that it is practical and suitable for the majority.

No individual can suffer if this proposal is effected—land for the reservoirs would be paid for at a fair price. Everybody gets a water control system.

The five-counties involved in this mutual problem presently are part of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District. There certainly has not been anything mutual about the projects previously accomplished by this district—they've all been south—way south.

It must be granted that the southern part of the state has great need of the projects there, and more, but in the 11 years of the district's existence, what major undertaking has been listed for the central part of the state—our section?

Tax money goes from the counties into the federal funds which are appropriated each year for the flood control district. Seminole, Brevard, Orange, Volusia, and Indian River Counties must begin to get a return for their money.

And, if we can't get it right away within the structure of the so-called Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District, let's get legislation to form a five-county district to handle the floods and droughts ourselves.

There already is much sentiment among the five counties for such a move.

Every citizen of Seminole County should discuss this project with county officials, congressional delegation members, governor-nominee and other state officials, with neighbors in the other counties—with anybody who will listen.

All should give vehement support to our committee which is trying to get immediate action on a solution to a situation, the magnitude of which easily escapes the casual thinker.

The files of The Herald date back many years and they all tell the same annual story of the fight against water—except when they tell of the fight against drought. We cannot let another 10, 20, 30 years, or who knows how long, go by without control of the St. Johns River waters.

When our county has been declared a disaster area three times in one year isn't it time our people and our neighbors in the same plight stood together and, with-in the human capabilities to control nature, set rid of that label?

Water Supply Reported Safe

Dr. Clyde Brothers, County Health Department director, issued a statement today relating rumors of contamination of public water systems in the Lake Mary area.

Brothers mentioned specifically the water systems owned by Frank Evans and Charles Kruger. His statement read: "Routine laboratory analysis of these water supplies are performed in the State Board of Health laboratory. The results of these reports are satisfactory and no bacteria have been found in the water. Recent special tests have been run to determine if surfactants (detergents) were present in these wells and both supplies were reported free of surfactants."

Val Robbins, county sanitarian, also said today that the October tests of all county public water systems show them to be free of surfactants and safe for drinking.

There are 30 such systems in Seminole County. Public systems are checked each month. If an individual wishes tests made on a home water supply, he must supply the health department with a sample which will be sent to the state laboratories for checking.

6 Who Refused To Testify May Face Contempt

TAMPA (UPI)—The Legislative Roads Committee planned today to check the possibility of recommending contempt citations against six persons who refused to testify about alleged payoffs by Cone Bros. Contracting Co.

The committee, at the end of its two-day public hearing Wednesday night, voted to "turn over to the proper state and county authorities" any information they might want to use should they decide to check for any violations of the law.

Refusals by the Cone employees came as eight State Road engineers admitted they received through the mail anonymous payments in cash. Five said they did not know where the money came from. Three said they understood it came from Cone Bros. They testified the money came in $25 weekly payments while they were connected with Cone Projects.

All eight denied that the cash had influenced them to give Cone Bros. preferential treatment and welcomed an investigation of roads built by Cone in which they were involved.

But three other road engineers denied they had received any payoffs from Cone or anybody else. However, most of them agreed that it was common to get small gifts from road contractors as Christmas presents.

The employees refusing to testify were Nicholas Wingenard, C. R. Brown, John M. Bailey, Charles E. Bailey Jr., George Brandewie, and John B. Hessel, all of Tampa.

Finch Jury Opens Deliberations

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A jury began its first full day today of deliberating on murder charges against Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his young paramour, Carole Tiehoff.

The state asked the jury of 11 women and one man hearing the retrial to return a verdict of first degree murder against the lovers for the slaying of the wealthy surgeon's wife.

Such a verdict carries with it a mandatory sentence of either life imprisonment or death in the gas chamber under California law.

The jury finally began its deliberations late Wednesday after listening to 99 witnesses in nearly 17 weeks of trial. After meeting for less than two hours, the jurors were locked up in hotel rooms for the night.

Although there were no official predictions on how long their deliberations would last, it was recalled by courtroom observers that jurors in the first trial of the couple spent eight days before admitting they were hopelessly deadlocked last March 12. That trial lasted three months and four days.

Lawmakers May Extend Sales Tax

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—The next Legislature may extend the state sales tax and lower the intangible property tax, State Sen. Tom Adams of Orange Park forecast Wednesday.

Adams, addressing the Tax Assessors Association of Florida, said the three per cent sales tax might be extended to tax goods and services.

He suggested that if the intangible tax were cut to its 1958 level it might yield more money rather than less. Many wealthy people decline to retire in Florida because of the tax, he said, but might come if it were lowered.

Ambassador Calls Cuban Isolation Necessary Action

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Robert C. Hill, U. S. ambassador to Mexico, said Wednesday the United States must work to "isolate" Cuba because it has "developed into a serious and immediate threat" to the entire Western Hemisphere.

Hill told the national American Legion convention at Miami Beach "do not be surprised if Castro, on instructions from Moscow and Peking, attempts some colossal and foolhardy antic designed to disturb this nation on the eve of its national elections."

"This could be a move on Guantanamo Bay," he said.

"If Castro moves on Guantanamo," the ambassador said, "the United States must defend Guantanamo with all our strength. This ought to show the world we mean business and will not tolerate any further affronts to our country in Cuba or anywhere else in the world."

Under Castro, Hill said, Cuba is suffering "a blood bath" more extensive than under any previous government on the island.

In apparent allusion to the recent executions of three Americans in Cuba, Hill said "this killing of American boys must be stopped... the murder of American citizens by the Communists must cease."

"... We must act strongly," he concluded, "We must isolate Cuba a dictatorial Red-led regime."

Nixon issued a long statement Wednesday in which he said: "Sen. Kennedy in this campaign has resorted to so many misstatements and distortions that I feel compelled to set the record straight."

The Republican nominee cited what he termed "the facts" on these issues: Defense of Quemoy, Matsui, economic growth, power developments, farm progress, federal aid to education, natural resources, housing, defense spending, health programs, medical care for the aged, civil rights minimum wage, and interest in Latin America.

Both candidates were in New York City, only a few blocks apart, preparing for their fourth, and probably final, radio-TV debate Friday night.

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—U. S. Rep. Charles Bennett, (D-Fla.) said Wednesday Democratic presidential candidate John Kennedy has written him in support of a cross-Florida barge canal.

Bennett said Kennedy wrote him, "If I am elected president, I will be glad to cooperate with you in making this project a reality. I regard it not only as important to Florida, but to the economy of the entire country, which must utilize all of our national resources if we are to achieve necessary economic expansion."

The canal would run west across the state from the mouth of the St. Johns River at Jacksonville, up the St. Johns to the headwater of the Oklawaha River, and west along the Oklawaha to the Gulf of Mexico near Yankeetown. It would cost about $160 million, Bennett said.

Among its effects, the congressman said, would be great savings in the shipments of oil from the Gulf states to the Eastern seaboard.

Kennedy received a tumultuous welcome on his ticker tape parade through lower Manhattan in New York Wednesday despite unfriendly weather. Jubilant Democrats called it the biggest crowd in the city's history, although police declined to set any specific crowd figures.

Nikita Calls Arms Plan An 'Ill Omen'

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today that the new disarmament proposals submitted to the United Nations by the West "are an ill omen for the future."

Khrushchev spoke to 12,000 persons jammed into the Lenin Sports Stadium for a report on his 25 day visit to the UN General Assembly in New York. The speech also was broadcast over nationwide radio and television networks.

"These proposals," Khrushchev said, "show that the Western powers still refuse to approach seriously the solution of the disarmament problem—that they are continuing to use disarmament talks to cover up the policy of the arms race."

Khrushchev said that the first stage of the 13th General Assembly session was marked in the main by "the struggle of the new, progressive with the old, the outward, which was impeding the growth and development of the new."
