Delightful Entertainment

Dr. W. F. Blackman, president of Rollins College, who was to have given a reading at the Auditorium of the Sanford High School, Monday evening, for the benefit of the High School Library, was ill and unable to be present.

He kindly sent, in his stead, the College Quartet, who need no introduction to a Sanford audience, as they recently gave a delightful concert at the High School; and Miss Reed, a most accomplished Reader, also a fine accompanist. While it was a disappointment, not to have had the pleasure of hearing Dr. Blackman give the expected reading from "Pickwick Papers," the kind substitutes were perfectly acceptable, and delightfully entertaining, as the following program will convince all those who were not present.

Don't Cuff a Child.

"Don't box a naughty child's ears. Don't allow any provocation to tempt you to strike a child on the head," is the injunction contained in an article on skulls issued by the International Hygiene Exposition at Dresden. Corporal punishment of any kind, says the writer is wrong, but when the head is the point of contact between the angry parent and the child the former may easily become a murderer. In a collection of skulls at the exposition, lent by the Wurzburg university, there are many of children as well as adults which show that the abnormally thin skull is not unusually found, even in otherwise normal human beings, and the causes of death, which are stated on cards attached to the skulls, are intended to serve as warnings to parents, teachers and guardians.

A Motoring Trip.

"Well, Hinks, I see you've returned from your thousand-mile tour in New England," said HJones.

"Yep," said Hinks.

"How did you find the hotels en route?" asked HJones.

"Hotels?" retorted Hinks. "We didn't stop at any hotels. We passed all our nights in the county jails."—Harper's Weekly.

Small Light.

"De man that tries to hide his light under a bushel," said Uncle Eben, "generally ain't got light enough to take chances on in a awdinary draft."

Proof Positive.

"The people next door seem anxious to be friendly. 'How did you get that idea?' 'They have busted their phonograph.'—Houston Post.

Fashions in Smiles.

Let me see. Is there anything more worth setting down about this expiring season? Oh, yes; expression of face. A slightly puzzled look, with the lips parted in a half smile, has been quite popular. The baby stare is out, and wide smiles are distinctly demodes. A small, tired smile is always correct as the season wanes. Of course, I'm speaking of those who dare to have any expression at all. There are lots of women (not so young as they would like to be) who simply banish both joy and sorrow, for fear of what a poet would call "Lines on a fair face." It's no use bestowing any of one's little funniments on these people.—Ina Gagey in "A Comedy of Mammon."

First Users of Topacco.

The tendency now is to rob the North American Indian of the credit of having given to civilization the boon of tobacco. Some ascribe its origin to the Medes and Persians, others to the inhabitants of the Malay archipelago, and still others to the Arabs in general. There appears to be an Arabian word "sakara," meaning to smoke, from which our words cigar and cigarette may have been derived.

NEWS OF THE WORLD

Items of Interest Gleaned From Various Sources

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here the Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers

The Stars and Stripes were torn down and trampled under foot and a red flag substituted during a fierce fight at a May Day meeting of the Socialist party and affiliated unions in Union Square Park, New York. That a serious panic did not ensue is believed to have been due to the fact that thousands of persons on the outskirts of the crowd did not know what the trouble was. Responsibility for the tearing down of the flag is disclaimed by the Socialists, who assert that members of the Industrial Workers of the World committed the act.

The work of identifying the Titanic and identified dead is almost as difficult as their recovery from the Atlantic. To date, not a single passenger who perished has been added to the list of unidentified, and the number of nameless is as much an enigma as when brought to shore. Trinkets and belts give suggestions for names of others, most of whom were of the ship's company.

Oscar Underwood of Alabama is Georgia's choice for President as expressed in the presidential preference primary held in Georgia. Practically complete, but unofficial returns compiled up to midnight show that he carried about the 100 of the 146 counties in the state and that his majority over Wilson will be between 7,000 and 8,000.

The Republican State Convention in Pennsylvania, under the leadership of former State Senator William Flynn of Pittsburg, today wrested control of the party from United States Senator Penrose, who has led the regular organization in the state since the day of Matthew Stanley Quay. The convention named twelve delegates at large and twelve alternates, instructed to vote for Theodore Roosevelt for the presidential nomination.

Weather Report

Showers tonight or Saturday—Unsettled weather until after the second primary.

Mothers' Day

Mothers' Day will be observed at the Peoples Church next Sunday morning. You are requested to bring a white flower as an emblem of the day. Mr. Waldron will give a sermon appropriate to the day. At night the church is closed for the union mass meeting at the Star Theatre.

Raising Oats in Florida

The following article from the Tallahassee Democrat will be interesting reading to northern investors who are anxious to obtain knowledge of diversified crops in Florida:

John Henry Boatwright, the eighteen-year old son of P. L. Boatwright has thirty acres in oats just south of the city, which he expects will harvest forty bushels per acre, and not a pound of fertilizer was used on them.

The entire expense of the young man for extra labor will not exceed $5 and his seed, harvesting and hired labor will not cost more than $150. Oats are easily worth $1.00 per bushel for seed, and the straw sells for $10 per ton. One ton of straw is a safe estimate per acre. So the net financial return to the young man will be in the neighborhood of $1,350.

The oats were sown in November, and will be harvested in a couple of weeks, or within less than six months of planting.

There is certainly a big lesson in this for the hundreds of young men who hang around towns and villages seeking employment for which the wages will be, if a job is secured, from $30 to $60.00 per month. This young man with agricultural experience gained from a practical father, has earned $200 per month from a crop which has required but little labor.

The land can now be planted in corn, and from forty to sixty bushel per acre can be expected, which will bring a big financial return.

Herald in Orlando

For the benefit of the tax-payers who do not subscribe for the Herald and who want a copy of it during the present month, the paper will be on sale at the newsstands in Orlando and other places throughout the county.

Result Of The Primary In Sanford Precinct

Election day passed off quietly enough in Sanford although there was plenty of interest shown from the time the polls opened until the close at sundown. All the candidates had their supporters, and workers on the ground and a small army stood around the polls handing out tickets, cards and platforms for their favorites. The polling places looked like small printing offices at the close of a days business and the voter who had any doubts about the names of the various candidates could easily inform himself on the subject by asking for a card. The Wilson and Underwood men were active and gave the voter information about this vexed subject—a point that did not seem clear to most of them. Wilson carried the day here by about 60 votes while Underwood seems to have a majority in the county.

The ticket was the longest that has ever been voted and a man had to have the candidates pretty firmly established in his mind to be able to vote the ticket in less than five minutes. No authentic returns from either Sanford or Orlando could be obtained until Wednesday at four o'clock and only the official canvass next Saturday will determine the result to the entire satisfaction of those who want to know.

The Herald gives as much of the county vote as can be obtained at this time and if there are any errors the readers are requested to wait for the official returns which will appear in a later issue of this paper.

Below is given the two precincts of Sanford of the principal candidates in which the most people are interested. Elsewhere is given unofficial returns from the state.

RETURNS IN THE COUNTY

Four Precincts That Have Not Been Heard From

Every precinct in Orange county has been heard from but four, Lockhart, Winter Garden, Ocoee and Oakland. The results of the count exclusive of these gives Shine a majority of 316 votes over DeCottes. Mr. Braxton Beacham carried the county over the five other candidates in the race by a majority of 51. Tucker's majority over Slemmons was 166. Lake received the heaviest vote for representative, polling 1,009. Robinson was next highest with 885. Fox was third with 784, and Newton polled 600. Hand's majority over Kirkwood is 118, but Karel received 280, which insures a second primary. Senator Mussey's majority over Donegan was 89, and Landis' majority over Jones was 39. The vote between Underwood and Wilson is very close in this county, the difference now being six votes in favor of Wilson. Frank Clark led his nearest competitor, Hilburn, by 154 votes.

The total vote in the county, excepting the four precincts mentioned, is as follows:

Underwood	684
Wilson	690
Beacham	860
(All other candidates)	809
Burr	342
Clark	925
Hilburn	471

West Side Improvement Society

Regardless of the inclement weather, held a very interesting meeting Thursday afternoon at Robins Nest Hotel.

All officers were present and plans of improvements were suggested, and discussed with members; as to the best method of improvements. One new member was added to our list. Dues were collected which amounted to $2.90.

Several visitors were present which added greatly to the pleasure of the afternoon. After the business was transacted, president turned meeting over to the committee consisting of Mesdames Robins and Gerraw, who served delicious strawberry punch with fruit and pound cake. All bade Good-bye to our hostess, and declared we had not spent a more pleasant afternoon for a long time and wished for many more such meetings.

Thanks from Slemmons

Philip T. Slemmons wishes to thank the voters of Orange Co. for their support in the last primary, and very highly appreciates the vote he received.

Very respt., PHIL T. SLEMMONS.

From Frank Clark

Frank Clark wires that he is leading Hilburn, his nearest competitor, by 3,000 votes. He thanks his Sanford friends for their support, and asks that Sanford stand by him in the second when he will be sure to win.

RESULTS IN THE STATE

Many Precincts Have Not Been Heard From Up to Present Time

Although less than fifty per cent. of the vote cast Tuesday has been reported in the State thus far, the result in nearly every instance can be almost certainly forecasted from figures already available.

For presidential preference Underwood has a decided lead over Wilson, his majority probably being between 3,000 and 4,000. Returns also indicate that all of the delegates elected will be Underwood men.

For Congressman at large, Claude L'Engle ran a wonderful race, and is easily high man. The runner up is still in doubt, but Toomer is slightly in the lead, counting figures already received.

For Governor, Park Frammell leads Cromwell Gibbons by a safe majority, and these two will be in the second primary.

For treasurer it looks very much as if J. C. Luning will go out in the first primary, with Griner and Jones close together for second place in the event a second primary is necessary.

For State Superintendent of Public Instruction, W. M. Holloway is easily high man, with W. N. Shivers second. For Secretary of Agriculture, Dorman and McRae are running pretty close together, with early figures slightly favoring the former.

Royal C. Dunn has easily defeated John L. Neely for Railroad Commissioner.

For Adjutant General, J. Clifford R. Foster has a splendid chance of going out in the first primary. Driscoll is next high man.

The race made by Congressman S. M. Sparkman in the first district was a pleasant surprise to his friends. He carried every county in the district, except Lafayette, and his supporters are now figuring on a majority of 1,000 or more. Polk county, which was almost conceded to be a Phillips stronghold, goes into the Sparkman column by a majority of about forty votes.

NOTICE OF BUSINESS MEETING

All members of the Welaka Club are urged to be present at the regular business meeting on next Tuesday, May 7th. The meeting to begin promptly at 3 o'clock. This is of particular importance as the programme for next year's work is to be discussed and planned. All chairmen and members of the programme committee are especially urged to be present.

The Executive Board are asked to meet promptly at 2 o'clock Tuesday, in the Club Rooms.

By order of the President,

Launch Party

The young men of the Helping Hand Society entertained the young lady members very royally on Tuesday evening with a launch ride. The party, numbering twenty-five, left the City dock at 8 o'clock on the launch "Mamie", landing at Fort Florida. Here a dainty lunch was served, and, after spending a jolly hour, all embarked for home. The evening was ideal in every way. Old Mother Moon doing her best and the trip home was made all too quickly. All the members participating in this most enjoyable affair wish to thank the young men for the pleasant evening, spent on the Dear, Old St. Johns river.

The following were present to enjoy the occasion: Misses Whitehead, Edith Stewart, Ruby Betts, Sinahy Millen, Carrie Lovell, Martha Fox, Ruth Stewart, Daisy Betts, Clara Millen, Marie Stewart, Laura Davis, Linda Connally, Mary Gatchell, Merara Betts, Gatchell, Wright, Plre, Spear, Davis, Douglass, Redding, Randall, Brewton, Mrs. E. E. Cox and Mrs. J. W. Wildman chaperoned the party.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

A number of improvements are to be made to the Clarendon Hotel at Seabreeze during the coming summer months. It is understood that 150 new rooms, each with private bath will be added. A fine golf course will also be laid out.

Many improvements are soon to be made on the city parks in Tampa. New walks will be laid and the place will otherwise be beautified in many ways.

Miami is to have an incinerator plant to dispose of garbage and all forms of refuse. The plant will cost $2,500.

Lake Helen is to have a bank which will be organized with a capital stock of $25,000.

Green Cove Springs is now making its claims as a summer resort, the winter season having been one of the most successful in its history and now the cottages and houses vacated by Northern guests are being taken up by Florida folks who know how pleasant is this pretty place during the summer.

The beach improvement Company, which is applying for letters patent at Miami, is planning great things for the ocean beach near the Magic City.

It is understood that a golf club has been organized in Tarpon Springs and a clubhouse will be erected and a fine golf course laid out.

L. H. Ingraham has a field of about ten acres of very fine cucumbers in Kissimmee, from which he expects to get between four and five thousand baskets of cucumbers.

S. L. Peck, junior of the government building at Gainesville, committed suicide in that city on Wednesday. There was no apparent reason other than being tired of living in such a dull town.

In Tampa the people are pleased over a trip recently made by Manager Stanford of the Tampa Bay hotel from that city to Jacksonville and return by automobile. It had been claimed that such a trip was not feasible and for some time people have thought that to attempt it would mean trouble and delay and disappointment. Mr. Stanford made the round trip in good time, the 614 miles being covered in thirty hours actual running time, and without any real accident or serious inconvenience.

Lakeland is entering the class of modern cities. On Wednesday last the free delivery of mail was instituted by the United States government in that place and the two carriers began their rounds handing out the mails and collecting letters from boxes at various points in the city.

Cannot Get Official Count

There is a misconception of the reason why the four precincts of Orange county—namely, Lockhart, Winter Garden, Ocoee and Oakland have not been officially heard from.

The tally sheets and the count are supposed to be locked in the ballot boxes by the election inspectors, but a copy of the returns is supposed to be sent to the chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee, Mr. Abernethy.

In the cases cited, where no information has been received by Mr. Abernethy, it is evident that the clerks inclosed the count intended for the chairman also in the ballot box. These boxes will be opened today and the official count made.

Hear Hon. J. N. Whitner Sunday Night

Preparations are going forward for the union meeting of Sanford churches in the Star Theatre next Sunday night. Those who have attended the meetings held under the Men and Religion Forward Movement will understand that a treat is in store for this coming Sunday.

Hon. J. N. Whitner has recently come from New York, where he heard some of the best speakers of the nation on this same movement and he comes back with something to say and will say it in his usual vigorous fashion. His subject is "The Promise of the World in the Men's Movement."

All five Protestant churches of Sanford unite in this union meeting which opens at the Star Theatre at 7:30 p. m. next Sunday night. Men, women and children are cordially invited to be present.

GENEVA JOTTINGS

Special Correspondence to The Herald

Mrs. A. A. Moran and children are visiting the family of Rev. Sundell at Lake Mary.

Mrs. C. A. Raulerson was shopping in Sanford last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Wicks spent the week-end in Orlando visiting relatives.

Miss Mattie May Harris of Winter Park visited friends in Geneva for a few days.

The young folks enjoyed a pillean near Lake Geneva last Friday night.

Geneva citizens are watching with feverish interest "that bridge" which is now nearing completion.

Mrs. Henry Baker is now at the coast, where she hopes to regain her health and strength. Mr. Baker accompanied her, but returned leaving her friend Mrs. Anderson company and companion.

Mrs. Curlett has been quite sick, but is now able to be out again.

Mrs. Gresham, Misses Nicholson and Gresham attended services in Chuluota.

A very pleasant feature of last week was the afternoon the ladies' society had with Mrs. McLain. In addition to the responses by the members Miss Mayme McLain recited a laughable recitation in the negro dialect. Little Helen Moran gave "A Child's Remedy for a Sick Mama" and Miss Clare Harrison furnished a musical selection on the piano.

It was decid to observe Mothers' Day at our next meeting; also to observe Memorial Day on Friday, May 10th, it being impossible to arrange for it sooner on account of the work which is being done in the cemetery. After the business session Mrs. McLain served her guests with ice cream and cake. These gatherings are indeed pleasant and the members who do not attend miss more than they think.

Miss Harris closed her school in Geneva on last Friday. In the afternoon patrons and friends were invited to the school-room and there enjoyed an interesting program of music, recitations and dialogues, by the pupils, all doing their parts well. After the program was completed the teacher and pupils served their guests with several kinds of cake and lemon sherbet, which was certainly refreshing. Miss Barbara McLain won the prize for general excellence. Geneva will miss Miss Harris as she has proven a good teacher, a friend and a promoter of all that stands for the upbuilding of the community. She returned to her home in Winter Park Saturday and will at once enter Rollins for the remainder of the term. Many friends wish her success wherever her field of labor may be.

MOORE'S STATION

Special Correspondence to The Herald

Rev. Withman will preach this Sunday, May 5th, at 3 o'clock.

Messrs. Joe Cameron and E. A. Gilbert were in town to hear W. J. Bryan talk on the "signs of the times."

We are most happy to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Haynes. Here's wishing them all possible happiness, long life and prosperity.

James Estridge is here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Estridge for a long vacation, after holding one position in Mulberry for the past six years.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. H. Allen, Miss Maude, Ralph and Dennis enjoyed Sunday at Lemon Bluff with a party of Sanford friends.

C. G. Perry is running a fine new auto. Joe Cameron is fencing 3,000 acres of his land about here and will move some of his cattle here and keep them under fence.

Mr. Edgar Brown of Geneva avenue has sold some of his land to four different parties, some of them are here building homes and improving their property.

Work on the bridge at Geneva ferry is said to be about finished and will soon be ready for travel.

Autos and carriages were here in plenty election day taking the voting population to town. Quite a gala day for the "lords of creation."

It is said that there is a great deal more field corn planted this year than ever before. Spring crops look splendidly. Potato digging is going on. Land Developing Co. have them yielding sixty barrels to the acre. Harry Ward is shipping cukes in car lots. We hear that sweet corn is nearly ready to pick, also tomatoes. C. G. Perry has bean shipping beans in car lots for some time. Some of the farmers are getting ready to sow cow peas and prepare for forage crops. We heard a man say a farmer here could work himself to death on a five acre farm, for crops can be raised the year around on same land, one crop after another.

CLOTHES THAT SATISFY

CAMERON CITY CLIPPINGS

Special Correspondence to The Herald

The heavy work of the year will soon be completed and it is time that it should be. The cropping season is long and as it nears its close the farmers find themselves worn and weary, and oftimes disappointed.

It is with regret that we see Mr. J. W. Gormely making preparations to leave us for a lengthy visit among friends and relatives in Jacksonville and various points in Kansas. We are glad indeed he may have the visit, but Granpa Gormly, as we love to call him, is held in high esteem by us all, and will be greatly missed. Our best wishes will follow him and we shall be glad when he returns to Cameron City.

Mr. C. Thompson, who has been on the Swartz farm during the winter, is on Lake George now, busy with some surveying work.

C. G. Perry is riding about in a new auto.

Dr. Swartz not being able to occupy his pulpit on Sunday last, Dr. Delamater gave a most interesting talk on Alcoholic effects on the human body.

Mrs. Marshal and Mrs. Duke were spending Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Joseph Dressler at her home on Oak street in Sanford.

We certainly miss our car service and trust the work of repair may soon be completed.

We are glad to announce that Rev. Swartz, who has been very ill, is improving slowly. His daughter, Mrs. H. O. Hilderbrand, of Philadelphia, and his grandson, Howard Swartz, and are with him and his sons, W. P. Swartz, of New York, and Charley Swartz, of Baltimore, will arrive Wednesday May 1st.

Dr. Walker, of Sanford, was out Monday calling on Dr. Swartz professionally.

It seems to be quite generally known that we have another clandestine marriage recorded against us. One of our Cameron City grocerymen being guilty as groom, and a most estimable and well-known young lady of Sanford as bride. Why we have no official knowledge of the affair we are at a loss to know, but indications all point to the home bringing of the bride in the near future.

We understand that J. G. Elsworth has sold his interest in the C. C. Grocery to E. R. Gormly and is planning a vacation somewhere in the north, probably Michigan.

ZELLWOOD NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. James Laughlin have gone to their northern home in Pittsburgh, Pa.

C. D. Coughill, daughter and son, Miss Lillian and Carl, left last week for Alliance, Ohio.

Miss M. C. Stewart, a trained nurse, left Wednesday morning for Chicago.

Miss Ruth Gardner of the senior class of Apopka High School, came over Friday, accompanied by her friend Miss Nellie Whiterby.

A number of Zellwoodites attended an ice cream social at Tangerine, Wednesday night. Proceeds for the library of this place.

Stewart Edwards, of Stetson, came over for a few days last week on a visit to his parents here.

Miss M. S. Houston, of Fort Lauderdale is here to spend some time with relatives.

J. S. Garden is expected back from Roanoke, Va. this week.

John Stewart will leave next week for the north.

Two of Apopka's young men called on the fare box here Sunday.

Rev. J. M. Bass

Cairo, Ca., Dec. 5th, 1911.

To God's People All Over the Land:

I feel sure, brethren, that the gracious Lord has directed the continuation of Bro. J. M. Bass in evangelistic work. I write a line to commend him to you—Christians of every name. He, in conjunction with Brother O. W. Stapleton, the concentrated sweet singer, carried on a meeting of great power at the Methodist Church in this town last February—a meeting seldom equalled and more rarely excelled, in its blessed effects and far-reaching influence for good. I endorse him and his Scriptural methods of presenting truth, without hesitation or qualification.

Yours for Jesus' sake,

—ROBT. H. HARBIS, D. D. Pastor Cairo Baptist Church.

Physicians Prescribe Leonard's Blood Elixir For Blood Poison, Scrofula, Rheumatism, etc.

Makes New Rich Blood and Drives Out All Poison Germs. Sold Under $1000.00 Guarantee

If you are disheartened, discouraged, and have given up hope of ever finding a cure for that terrible blood poison, you can follow no better advice than the expert counsel of physicians who every day see before their eyes the wonderful results of Leonard's Blood Elixir among their patients.

Leonard's Blood Elixir is the one medicine that has the confidence of, and is used and prescribed by, physicians in scrofulous affections, eruptions of the skin, boils, tumors, ulcers, old sores, syphilis, nervous debility, rheumatism, catarrh and all diseases arising from impure blood.

They have seen their patients rapidly recover health and vigor from the use of this wonderful blood medicine. No other medicine has so remarkable a record for effectually and lastingly curing those diseases that result from impure blood. The best physicians openly endorse it, recommend it, and authorize the public use of their statements that Leonard's Blood Elixir in case after case has cured rheumatism and kindred diseases, purifying the blood, regulating the liver, bowels and kidneys, rejuvenating the weakened and debilitated nervous system, and making absolute cures of terrible cases of blood poisoning that had not been helped after years of use of the ordinary old-fashioned specifics and other remedies.

While Leonard's Blood Elixir will cure and has cured the worst cases of blood poison and old sores by removing the poison from the blood, yet it is best to take this remedy at the first suspicion of the presence of this loathsome disease. The sooner it is treated, the better chance there is for success, for when the bones begin to rot no power on earth can replace them.

The discoverer of Leonard's Blood Elixir has so much confidence in its power to cure rheumatism, catarrh, scrofula, blood poison, kidney and liver complaint and all diseases arising from impure blood that he has offered a $1000.00 guarantee that the money will be refunded to any purchaser of first bottle if this remedy fails to help. With this guarantee you run no risk whatever in buying the Elixir. Be sure you get Leonard's Blood Elixir for this is the one remedy for blood diseases that is sold under a guarantee of this nature. No other remedy has sufficient merit to allow it to be sold in this way, for when the bones begin to rot no power on earth can replace them.

Shine on, O, Orlando!

Will you Hand it to Kirkwood?

If there is any one who doubts the election returns just ask Jim Harris.

Forest Lake will go to the Legislature again even after the Herald supported him.

Frank Clark expects to revise that nice little story about the "Opening of a Chestnut Burr."

Senator Donegan, Begorra, and d'ye mind that? Ye can't beat the Irish at the little game of politics.

Park Trammell ran right down the pike with his beautiful mane flowing gracefully over his left shoulder.

'Tis said that Gibbons has the smile that wins votes and he refuses to trade it off for a lock of Trammell's hair.

Eston Shine says that one term as County Solicitor is enough for anyone and after that you can retire on a fortune.

The Herald only lost two candidates out of the whole bunch, DeCottes and Beacham, which is prophesying some, even in Sanford.

If the rains continue we will not have enough water left for rainy season and then how will the real estate man explain about the Everglades.

There was a touch of excitement over the Representative race. Some people were afraid Newton would get a vote in Sanford and he did eventually.

The reason Wilson was fifty votes ahead of Underwood in Sanford can be attributed to the fact that Bryan did not speak here in Wilson's behalf.

Tampa man is only sober when he is in the county convict camps according to his wife's statement in the divorce court. She ought to keep him there.

Several dark lanterns and gum shoes have been laid away for future reference and the peanut politicians have gone back to eating hay with the other horses.

Hand and Kirkwood are buckling on their side arms and getting ready for the fray. So far they have had their fingers crossed but they will make it real from now on.

There are rumors every day about that new tourist hotel for Sanford, and ere the summer wanes, there may be something doing. Sanford people should seriously consider this project.

The Herald for the month of May will be on sale at the newstands in Orlando. After that we would be afraid to let them stay there because in ball season those Orlando people would bite us.

Braxton Beacham did not get in the second primary because he started in the race too late but he received a fine vote throughout South Florida, where he is known, and that is something his opponents cannot claim.

Billy Martin was elected Tax Collector by a large majority after a very strenuous campaign in which there was no vomit or mud slinging. His friends stood by him nobly and fought to the last ditch around the Court House.

Several expert canning factory men have been in communication with this paper over the idea of starting a mammoth factory here and will be down later to look over the field. There is no better location in the state.

With several precincts to hear from it is generally conceded that B. M. Robinson will win the race for Clerk of Court in the first primary. Mr. Robinson fought gallantly and was even heard to promise a monument to Sanford ball players if he was elected.

From the commercial standpoint we wish to inform the advertisers that all five issues of the paper will be great advertising mediums and the circulation will be great advertising mediums and the circulation will warrant good returns. Get busy and take peace in the beg edition.

MOTHER'S DAY

Next Sunday is Mother's Day and in the rush and hurry of the week's business the editor had almost forgotten the existence of the day and was only reminded of it by the receipt of a poem written by his mother on March 23, 1912, on her 76th birthday. The sentiment is worthy of more than passing notice especially at the time when Mother is on the mind of every one:

Lines to My Son

Written on My 76th Birthday

Do you know that your soul is of my soul, a part
That you seem to be fiber and core of my heart?
None other can pain me as you, dear, can do;
None other can please me or praise me as you.

Remember the world will be quick with its blame,
If shadow of a stain ever darken your name.
"Like Mother, like son," is a saying so true,
The world will judge largely of "Mother" by you.

Be yours then the task, if task it shall be
To force the proud world to do homage to me.
Be sure it will say when its verdict you've won,
She reaped as she sowed "Lo this is her Son".

—Mrs. M. E. HOLLY.

In this issue of The Herald is the delinquent tax list for Orange county, and this list will be printed in five issues of the paper appearing every Friday until the first of June. The list is a large one and our force had but little time to devote to it, coming as it did, in the heat of the campaign and yet with limited time this paper set all the type, read proof and printed it within the limit which is an achievement for a country newspaper. This is the first time the delinquent list ever appeared in a Sanford paper and demonstrated that The Herald is some paper when it comes to doing big things. The paper will be sent to any one on request when accompanied by five cents in stamps and every tax payer will want a copy for future reference.

A PREACHER'S TALE OF WOE.

If that meeting in the Masonic Hall a week from Sunday does not start the ball rolling for organized charities in Sanford, one of the preachers of this town may soon be headed for Chattanooga. This man feels that he made the fatal mistake when he began publicly, to agitate for a charity organization in Sanford. For since that time some of his friends have been making life miserable for him by sending their charity cases to him for adjustment. Here is a case in point.

Not long ago a young man lost the only job he had been trained to do just at the time when his wife gave birth to their second baby. The older child is less than two years of age. Under such conditions debts began to accumulate with largely increasing expenses and no money coming in. Thereupon a man who had advanced several dollars advised that the young man see this preacher.

This advice cost the preacher a half a half day's time on a Saturday, following one of the busiest weeks of the year. It made him get out and hunt for money, a job from which his sensitive soul shrinks with most cowardly shudders. It compelled him to hunt a job for the young man. And when that job proved too difficult for the young man's soft muscles and somewhat flabby spine, it cost an extra sermon or two before the young man could take his medicine.

Now that the young man has followed the advice of friends and has been helped to better fields, there is left behind a trail of little debts, which it will require a ten-dollar bill to cover, and debts which this same preacher had to assume in order to see the family safely away. Now whether the preacher will take fresh courage and go out and hunt that ten dollars or will go into bankruptcy over the situation remains to be disclosed. Meanwhile another young man presents himself—but that's another story.

No wonder that at least one preacher in Sanford hopes that charity organization will soon be accomplished. In fact he is getting so sensitive to present conditions that he is liable to an attack of heart failure every time a stranger stops in front of the parsonage and looks around. He feels much like that famous Indian who threw his lasso over the first locomotive he saw steaming across the prairie. Only in this case unless relief comes soon there won't be even a piece of copper meat at the end of the preacher's lariat.

College Girl Suggestion. Popularly it like some of the other good things of life, the one who seeks it seldom finds it. However, a hint is that it follows respect. College study is more deceptive than school work. The first few months often seem easy. That is why many girls join the social whirl. When the midyears come they pay the penalty, unless temporary, artificial, sitting "cramming" comes to their aid. Therefore, at the very beginning do the necessary work each day.

Silence. The black sheep of the Warywalk family had distinguished himself again. "This is the last straw!" groaned his respectable brother. "I'm goin' to 'ave it put in the papers that I've changed my name from Warywalk to Wobbleway, 'cos of my brother's disgracein' the name. I'll 'ave it printed on 'and-bills an' distributed by the thousand! I'm detemined nobody shall suspect that I'm related to 'im." -Ideas.

The Matter With Them. "What Is the Matter With Our Public School?" is the title of a page article in the Sunday issue of the New York Times. We submitted it to a high school boy who shall for the present be nameless, and this is his answer: "Too dog-gone many of them ain't got nobody that's heavy enough to play center." -Chicago Record-Herald.

Increasing Use of Aluminum. Aluminum has become indispensable in the construction of automobiles, dirigible balloons and aeroplanes. One of its uses in the textile industry is the making, in combination with silk, of a brilliant fabric, which can be given any desired color and which cannot be excelled for making ceremonial costumes and theatrical wardrobes.

Amusing the Children. A good way to amuse the children on a rainy day is to cut colored pictures from old magazines. These are pasted on cardboard squares and the squares are fastened together by piercing them with a knife and threading them upon a bright piece of ribbon. Select pictures of all kinds, including plenty of animals, birds and flowers.

Restoring Burnt Steel. The following process will restore burnt steel. Mix well together four pounds of fine white sand, half a pound of sal ammoniac, a quarter of a pound of copperas, and half a pound of resin, all pulverized. When the steel is hot, sprinkle with this mixture and allow to cool. This process will restore any burnt steel.

Higher Than Niagara. Far up Potaro river in British Guiana are the Kaletour falls, among the most wonderful in the world and among the least known. Though discovered forty years ago, the falls have been visited very seldom by white men, yet they are five times as high as Niagara.

Modern Business Idea. "You still assert that competition is the life of trade?" "Oh, yes," replied Mr. Dustin Stax. "But we don't care to compete for a chance to sell our goods. What we want is to find people with their money out competing for the privilege of buying them."

The Knocker Abroad. When you hear a man start to boast by saying: "I wouldn't knock anybody, but—" just make up your mind it ain't goin' to be no boast." -Philadelphia Inquirer.

Petrifying. She—Oh, professor! I saw such a funny old fossil in the museum today. I thought of you at once.—Judge.

Greatest of All Mistakes. The only people who do not make mistakes are those who do nothing, and that is the greatest mistake of all.

Hidden Beauty. It is difficult to get a boy to see the beauty of the leaves that he is compelled to rake from the lawn.

Show Strength of Character. High cheek bones are said to indicate great strength of character in some direction.

Got the Wrong Ferry Boat.
 John Wygers boarded at Antwerp on Dec. 9 what he supposed was a ferryboat that would land him at his home town on the left bank of the Scheldt, says the New York Sun. He had been indulging in schnapps and fell asleep. John slept only one day, which shows that the strength of schnapps has deteriorated since Rip Van Winkle's time. He woke up on the Red Star liner Lapland, in the other day from Antwerp, and asked somebody when the ferryboat would get across. Then they told him that he would land in New York in about nine days. He said he wondered what his wife and nine children in Antwerp would say. He was put to work and was glad to get it. He will go back to the Scheldt by the Lapland, not having the slightest desire to camp on either bank of the Hudson.

Brown Bread Baker.
 Mayor Gaynor was talking to an advertising agent about advertisement writing. "I like the literary style of the average advertisements," he said. "Even when advertisements exaggerate, they are written in good style. The best advertisements don't exaggerate; but there are some few advertisement writers who seem to think that in their line of work, a little exaggeration does 'no harm. They remind me, in their mistaken views, of a miner. The miner was passing a bakery with a friend, and in front of the bakery stood a very untidy baker. 'Gee,' said the miner's friend, pointing his pipe at the baker disgustingly—'gee, what a dirty looking chap to be a baker, eh?' But the miner explained with a smile: 'Oh, that's all right. He's just the fellow, you know, that makes the brown bread.'"

Four is Their Limit.
 A close observer has definitely established the fact that magpies and rooks cannot count further than four. A rook never returns to its nest until it is quite satisfied that there is no danger near. When four hunters or less departed in succession from a near by log cabin the rook would return to its nest after the last had gone out of sight. But whenever there were more the bird lost count and returned to its nest even while some were still in the hut. Similarly, apes do not count further than four, and the Boers of the Transvaal, when they want to hunt those animals, hide in numbers exceeding four. Four depart in succession in such a manner as to be noticed by the apes, who then come forth and are easily captured.

Message of the Gulls.
 Have you met a great sea gull beating leisurely up river, his wide stretched wings upbearing him as if he were no heavier than a drifting flower petal? Perhaps the gulls do not come as far as Lewiston, but eight or ten miles down the river they are often to be seen. Who knows what they come for?—clams, very likely or a chance to make fun of the landlubbers. But they always seem like a message from the sea—as if a wild gray wave had taken wing to tell us that there are places where the world is wide and wonderful, and we might see the beat of restless waters clear to the edge of the world.—Lewiston (Me.) Sun.

Beautiful Hand.
 Two charming women were discussing one day what it is which constitutes beauty in the hand. They differed in opinion as much as the shape of the beautiful member whose merits they were discussing. A gentleman friend presented himself, and by common consent the question was referred to him. It was a delicate matter. He thought of Paris and the three goddesses. Glancing from one to the other of the beautiful white hands presented for his examination, he replied at last: "I give it up; the question is too hard for me. But ask the poor, and they will tell you the most beautiful hand in the world is the hand that gives."

Began Campaigning Early.
 Robert Luce, the newly elected lieutenant-governor of Massachusetts, might be said to have begun campaigning at the age of 7, and has been in politics all his life. He was a precocious child and his father took him along on numerous campaigns, with the result that the lad showed a man's capacity for reasoning and work long before his majority. At 17 he went to Harvard and found the studies so easy that he took up newspaper work for a Boston daily, besides doing a large amount of literary work.

Choice of Friends.
 Much certainty of the happiness and purity of our lives depends on our making a wise choice of our companions and friends. It is well and right, indeed, to be courteous and considerate to every one with whom one is thrown in contact, but to choose them as real friends is another matter. . . . If our friends are badly chosen they may drag us down; if well they will raise us up.—St. John Lubbock.

"Preserving" the Baby.
 Young James had seen some fish pickled, and was at once impressed and puzzled by the explanation, elicited by a long and steady fire of questions, that the salting process was to make the fish "keep." A little later he attended the baptism of an infant friend and was still puzzled. But at last a light broke in upon him, and in a shrill tone that could be heard all over the sacred edifice he exclaimed: "Oh, now I know all about it, mother. The water is to make the baby keep!"

Some Fence.
 A New York banker who feels that the privacy of his town residence has been invaded by the construction of apartment houses on adjacent property has filed plans with the building department of that city for a fence 150 feet high. A nine-story apartment building is to be built on the lot west of the home of this banker, who is J. M. Franconini, and he figures that a fence 150 feet high will be required to keep its future occupants from looking down upon him.—Popular Mechanics.

Sounds Made by Fish.
 The skates, when caught, grunts, groans and gasps pretty much after the manner of a human being in distress. Carp and gold fish frequently utter curious sounds, but hardly sounds in the meaning of the term here used, inasmuch as their sounds are produced by approaching the surface of the water and blowing out air in bubbles until a rippling noise is heard.

Natural Stimulant.
 Following is from "As It Is," by M. J. Rodermund, M. D.: "If you are very tired, but must perform a few more hours of hard work, lie down, close your eyes, and breathe deeply and a little faster than normal for half an hour, and see how refreshed and clear your brain will be and how refreshed the body feels, and how easily you can finish your work."

English College for Women.
 One of the flourishing women's colleges in England is Bedford college, which existed for many years in Baker street, London, and is now transferred to a beautiful new building in the middle of Regent's park, looking on to the lake, and surrounded by lovely lawns and flower gardens; almost a realization of Tennyson's "Princess."

One Instance in His Mind.
 She—And you say that you have always avoided blaming me. I'd like to have you mention one instance. He—With pleasure. Remember, right after we were married, I ate a pie you baked, and when the doctor came I told him it was clams.

Brazilians Eager for News.
 Travelers in Brazil remark that not only in Rio de Janeiro, but in the large cities throughout the republic, the public awaits the daily news budget with an eagerness no less pronounced than is the case in the United States and on the continent of Europe.

Much Harder Question.
 "What," said an interviewer to a candidate, "do you intend to do if you are elected?" "My goodness!" said the poor fellow, "what shall I do if I'm not elected?"

The Rank Majority.
 It is stated on reliable authority that there are more than a million and a half different brands of cigars. Yet there are only two kinds of cigars made, good and bad—mostly the latter.

Horrible Thought.
 Alleged Humorist—Can you imagine anything worse than a graffo with a sore throat? Proven One—Sure! A centipede with corns.—Texas Coyote.

Saws Without Teeth.
 The development of circular disks of iron, turning with great velocity, but possessing no teeth on the edge, for sawing material, is common in many workshops.

Why One Still Lived.
 "How many deaths?" asked the hospital physician, while going his rounds. "Nine." "Why, I ordered medicine for ten." "Yes, but one wouldn't take it."

Evidently Not.
 Mrs. Makrop—No, I never was strong on literature. To save my life I couldn't tell you who wrote Gray's Elegy.—Life.

Through Sorrow to Joy.
 In labor lies health of body and mind; in suffering and difficulty is the seed of all virtue and all wisdom.—Dazila.

Impossible to Imitate Opal. Alone among jewels the opal defies the ingenuity of the imitator. It owes its charm not so much to its own intrinsic merits as to the splendor of the rays of light that it reflects. It is the chameleon of stones. Pliny, writing 1,819 years ago, remarked that it "displays at once the piercing fire of carbuncles, the purple brilliancy of amethysts and the sea green of emeralds, the whole blended together and refulgent with a brightness that is quite incredible."

When Every Man Was an Enemy. During the medieval period doors were small and narrow, so that only one person could pass through at a time, owing to the universal need for protection against attack. For this same reason doorways were sometimes set in a recess, commanded by openings through which arrows could be shot. The doors themselves were constructed in one piece and not divided from the center, and were fastened by strong oak bars, which could be drawn across from one side to the other.

Philosophy of Health. This philosophy of health may be summed up in three words: "Work, wash and pray." The greatest blessing that man enjoys—as is realized—is his ability and opportunity to work. Habits of personal cleanliness elevate and civilize man. The firm holding of a faith that urges man to pray builds character and forms habits that lead him to high places of thought and endeavor.

Natural Death Intervened. A woman's natural death in the act of trying to hang herself formed the subject of an inquest at Liverpool, England, recently. Sarah Stafford, thirty-six, widow of a ship laborer, was found hanging in her bedroom by a belt attached to the rail of the bed, but it was established by medical evidence that she died from heart failure before she could actually commit suicide.

Paper Box Industry Large. Paper box making, one of the new but very important industries of this country, has made its greatest progress during the last half century and particularly within the last twenty years, after modern machinery had been introduced. The business has assumed wonderful proportions in New York city, where the capital investment exceeds $5,000,000.

When Cleaning Furniture. When cleaning upholstered furniture it is often either impossible or inconvenient to move it outdoors. In such a case place a damp cloth over the piece of furniture and then heat it, changing the cloth several times during the process. The dust will adhere to the cloth and will not rise in the room.—Suburban Life.

Child's Costly Plaything. A six-year-old Edinburgh (Scotland) child has had a rare privilege for a day or two of banging about a $500 diamond-studded watch as a plaything. He found it in the street, and neither his father nor his mother dreamed of its value till they saw an advertisement for its recovery.

Delicacy Known to the Ancients. The raised meat pie, so dear to the heart of the Englishman, and the no less delicious deep pie, made in pastry-lined bowls, were well known to Apicius, and he even gives explicit instructions about leaving a hole in the upper crust through which the steam may escape.

Bad Both Ways. "A man should not seek an election to the senate with a view to making money." "No," replied Senator Borghum, "and; on the other hand, he'll be criticised just the same if he accumulates money with a view to getting into the senate."

Food After the Flood. Every moving thing that liveth shall be food for you; as the green herb have I given you all. But flesh with the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat.—Genesis ix; 3-4.

Combine Against the Genius. When a true genius appears in the world, you may know him by this sign, that the dunces are all in confederacy against him.—Swift.

Recipe for Happier World. If people thought less about their own digestions and more about the welfare of other people it would be a healthier and a happier world.

Epitaph Worth Striving For. His heart was as great as the world, but there was no room in it to hold the memory of a wrong.—Emerson.

Social Evening

The members of the Local Department of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church invited the members of the church and their friends to join Mr. and Mrs. Summers and themselves in a social reunion at the parsonage Thursday evening for which an entertaining program had been arranged.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather a large number of the invited guests were present to enjoy the pleasant evening and the many improvements in and the now attractive appearance of the renovated parsonage rooms.

Miss Mary Walker opened the evening's entertainment with a delightful instrumental solo perfectly rendered, which was followed by a duet by Mrs. J. K. Mettinger and Mrs. Claude Herndon "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," charmingly sung. Mrs. Mettinger also sang the two beautiful solos "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes" and "The Rosary." Several readings were expected to be given, but the ladies who were to contribute this part of the entertainment were forced to disappoint the committee. Miss Mary Walker played another instrumental selection, which was much enjoyed. Light refreshments were served by the committee who planned the pleasant social evening.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—Richard Lightnut, an American with an affected English accent, receives a present from a friend in China.

CHAPTER II.—The present proves to be a pair of pajamas. A letter hints of surprises to the wearer.

CHAPTER III.—Lightnut dons the pajamas and late at night gets up for a smoke. His servant Jenkins comes in and, failing to recognize Lightnut, attempts to put him out. Thinking the servant crazy, Lightnut changes his clothes intending to summon help. When he reappears, Jenkins falls on his neck with joy, confirming Lightnut's belief that he is crazy.

CHAPTER IV.—Jenkins tells Lightnut of the encounter he had with a hideous Chinaman dressed in pajamas.

CHAPTER V.—In a message from his friend, Jack Billings, Lightnut is asked to put up "the kid" for the night on his way home from college. Later Lightnut finds a beautiful girl in black pajamas in his room.

CHAPTER VI.—Lightnut is shocked by the girl's drinking, smoking and shabby talk.

CHAPTER VII.—She tells him her name is Frances and puzzles him with a story of her love for her sister's room-mate named Frances. Next morning the girl is missing and Lightnut hurries to the boat to see her off. He is accosted by a husky college boy, who calls him "Dicky," but he does not see the girl.

CHAPTER VIII.—Jack Billings calls to spend the night with Lightnut. They discover priceless rubies hidden in the buttons of the pajamas.

CHAPTER IX.—Billings dons the pajamas and retires.

CHAPTER X.—Lightnut later discovers in his apartment a beefy person in nut-ton-chop whalers and wearing pajamas. Jenkins calls 'he police, who declare the intruder to be a criminal, called "Foxy Grandpa."

CHAPTER XI.—The intruder declares he is Lightnut's guest and appeals to the latter in vain.

CHAPTER XII.—He is hustled off to jail.

CHAPTER XIII.—In the morning Lightnut is astonished to find Billings gone, and more astonished when he gets a message from the latter, demanding his clothes. Lightnut, bound for Tarrytown, Billings's home, discovers "Frances," the girl of the pajamas, on the train.

CHAPTER XIV.—Lightnut speaks to her and alludes to the night before. She declares indignantly that Lightnut never saw her in black pajamas. At Tarrytown Frances is met by a husky college youth, who calls Lightnut as "Dicky." The latter ignores the boy, who then threatens to thrash him for offending Frances. Lightnut takes the next train home.

CHAPTER XV.—Billings storms over the outrage of his arrest. He and Lightnut discover mysterious Chinese characters on the pajamas.

CHAPTER XVI.—Professor Doozenberry is called in to interpret the hieroglyphics.

CHAPTER XVII.—He raves over what he calls the lost silk of Si-Ling-Chi.

CHAPTER XVIII.—The writing declares that a person wearing the pajamas will take on the semblance of the previous wearer. The professor borrows the pajamas for experiment.

CHAPTER XIX.—"Billings" dressed in pajamas is found in the professor's room and is taken home in an automobile with Frances and a woman Lightnut calls "the frump."

CHAPTER XX.—Lightnut is angered by "the frump's" slanderous talk about "Frances."

CHAPTER XXI.—"Billings" is taken to his room. A servant tells Lightnut that a message has just been received stating that Billings was under arrest in New York for stealing a suit of black pajamas.

CHAPTER XXII.—Judge Billings astonishes Lightnut with a tale of Frances's escapades. Lightnut asks permission to speak to "Frances."

Probably what she had in her dear little mind was that he might be holding the library—and he would, if he continued to think he was busy; for he had heard him say "he expected to work all night. But then, there were dozens and dozens of other places we could go—well, I should just say!

I had just bent forward to suggest this to her when I saw she was going to speak. So I waited, smiling at her tenderly.

"And about Arthur—" she began, and I cut myself a painful stab with my nails—right in the palm—"now there is a case where I think you find"—she nodded toward the house again—"where you find one of his superb qualities, the one quality that, of all, I admire in a man the most."

"By Jove!" I said, leaning forward. I wondered what it was—and then, dash it, I asked her.

"Just trust!" she said simply, and her face grew luminous. "Faith, perhaps I should say. My father has it larger than any man I ever knew; it is something that goes out from him with his friendship, with his love, making a dual gift"—her voice dropped thoughtfully—"I have studied it in him all my life, and it has always seemed so beautiful to me—so wonderful—the unquestioning peace he has"—her blue eyes widened, shining—"has ever in return for the perfect, abiding trust that he gives to the thing he calls his own. I know, for he has made me feel it from the time I was a tiny little girl!" The last word was almost a whisper, so tense, so vibrant with feeling was it—she seemed to have forgotten my existence. "And if ever I find a man—" she breathed.

I coughed slightly and she started, stared at me—and then the dimple deepened in her cheek, lost in a bed of jolly roses. Her laughter pealed forth, birdlike—delicious!

"I beg your pardon!" she said. "But when I think of papa and of how he believes in his children, especially poor little me, I think I must get— Her roguish, puzzled smile searched my face. "How is it you say it?—oh, I know—I think I must be getting dippy!"

And it was the first slang I had heard from those sweet lips since the night she was in my room!

CHAPTER XXVI.

"Because You—Are You."

Poor, brave-hearted girl! How pitiful and heartrending to a keen-eyed man of the world, seemed her poor, little sham about her father's trust in her! For I knew the facts, you know!

And suddenly it came to me that I just couldn't and wouldn't let her go on this way, without the sympathy of the man she loved; without the precious consolation of knowing that she knew! She was being badgered and rough-shouldered and put upon and distrusted and maligned by every one she knew, and she had no one in all the world to turn to but me—and—

Oh, I wanted her to know what I thought, don't you know!

I slipped to the seat beside her. "Er, Miss Billings—" I began, thinking absent-mindedly of what I should say, and forgetting that we were quite alone.

"Miss Billings! Why do you call me that?" Her lovely brow puckered. "I remember, now, that's twice you—"

"Frances, then!" I corrected softly. She straightened, her bosom lifting with a quick intake. By Jove, that was what she wanted!

"Oh!" Then she leaned slowly back, looking at me thoughtfully through half-closed eyes, her lips parted in the oddest smile.

And I screwed my monocle tight and let her have smile for smile, determined to chirp her up and make her feel our oneness—that sort of thing, you know. And I succeeded! For of a sudden her head went back and the joyous peal of her canary laugh started off the jolly birds in the trees above us.

"Oh, you—" A stare, and then another burst as she bent forward, face buried in her hands. Then it lifted sharply, flame-dyed—her lips tremulous, her eyes shining like sapphire stars. "Oh!" she gasped, and how I envied the little hand she pressed against her waist; but the windows—dash the windows! "That's—that's it—Frances—just that much! But, do you know, I don't—don't believe you really know my full name. I remember now several th—" She bent toward me "wittingly, her wide blue eyes challenging my candor. "Honestly, now—do—you?"

So it was that thought that was tickling her! Well, by Jove, I had her there, for I had heard the judge mention her name in full.

"Oh, don't!" I exclaimed, winking as I polished my glass. "Well, how about Frances Leslie Billings?" I let her have it slowly, distinctly, and with yet a note of triumph I could not altogether hide. And then remorseful for her amazed expression, I explained frankly: "Got it from your father this morning, don't you know, during our long talk about you in the library."

"Wh—"

Then she swallowed and her face fell perfectly blank. By Jove, I could have kicked myself for a jolly ass for breaking it to her so raw! Of course, she would know that if her father talked of her, it would be nothing for me to hear that was true or kind—nothing she could wish might be said to the man she loved.

I hastened to reassure her: "But I don't believe a dashed word of anything he said about you"—I spoke hotly—"and I don't care a jolly hang for what the others said, either—so there you are!"

"Oh, you don't?" Could tell how I had touched her by her expression, don't you know; and she fell to looking at me the queerest way. "And would you mind telling me who the 'others' are?"

I eyed her gloomily, sympathetically. As if she didn't know already!

"Well—oh, dash it, my mind has been filled with—er—just anything!" I began cautiously.

"I know,"—she murmured it as if to herself—"one can see that!" And she bit her lip.

H. E. TOLAR, Cashier

don't you know I think of her as the frump—little idea—er—nickname of mine, you know, she's so awful!" And I screwed my glass with a chuckle.

For an instant I thought she wouldn't catch it, she stared at me so blankly. Then the joke of it—the jolly aptness, so to speak—got her full and square, and she just lifted a scream, bucking her knee and rocking back and forth, her face suffused, her laughter pealing like a chime of bells.

And I just rocked, too, keeping her company. Really, I don't think I ever laughed so much since some chap plunked down on the hard crown of my new tile last winter. At least I wanted to laugh—in church, you know, and it's so awful how you feel there when something—oh, you know! And if you could have seen that poor fellow's face!

By Jove, how glad I was for her jolly sense of humor that could see the point of things so quickly, and think them clever. Always had so dashed little patience with stupid people, don't you know. And just here another little thing came to me and I let her have it:

"Oh, I say!"—I leaned nearer, chuckling—"your father pretends to think her a most beautiful and winning girl—fancy!" And my face stretched itself in such a jolly grin that I could hardly hold my glass.

She bent toward me, smiling adorably. "You mean this—er—Miss Kirkland?"

I nodded chortlingly.

She peered at me through her long what-you-call-'ems—oh, such a way!

"But you don't think so, do you?" How sweetly, how fetchingly she said it.

"No!" I gasped. By Jove, in my horror, I lost my grip upon my jolly grammar. "Oh, I say now! I think the frump—this Miss Kirkland, you know—is a fright—regular freak, dash it! I find the judge so!"

"You—you—"

"Of course!" And I shrugged disgustedly, making the ugliest grimace I possibly could. "Why, dash it, if I were a woman and had a face like hers, I never would have left China, or England—or wherever her jolly home was—no, sir!"

She caught her breath with a little gasp—then she was off again! This time she rested her arms upon the rail behind and buried her head in them, her lovely shoulders jiggling up and down. Her sobbing laughter sending her off at last into a spell of coughing.

"Oh!" she breathed, blushing at last her gloriously blushing face and dabbling at it with her ridiculous little handkerchief, oh, you'll kill me—I know you will!"

I certainly had stirred her up and I was delighted. It was funny to think of any one calling the frump beautiful. It must seem funnier still to her of course. To Frances I mean. Why, dash it, she seemed to find a funny side to it that I didn't, don't you know?

"Tell me, now"—she clasped her knee, lifting her lovely face coaxingly—"tell me all that she said about me—everything!"

And I did every word, by Jove!

And no one could look into that sweet, ingenuous face as I proceeded, and doubt that the slanders were new to her. Never a jolly one touched her—only you could see their absurdity amused her. Several times I had to pause as she bent under a gale of laughter.

Only once was she brought up, shocked.

"Oh!" she uttered faintly, as I came to the intimation about her being half-fellow well-met with the footmen and her drinking and carousing with them and other men-servants until three in the morning. I realized that it wasn't the matter of the drinking that feared her and drew from her little gasps as I came to this—knew that didn't bother her, don't you know, for I knew she did drink—could drink, I mean to say, for I had not forgotten the two full whiskey glasses of high proof Scotch she had tossed off that night in my rooms. Why, no, dash it, she was able to drink—it went in the family! I could never forget with what pride she had told me of putting her brother Jack under the table two nights running. That was all right—it was the other part of the frump's scandal that brought her up, standing, so to speak.

For now she really looked embarrassed, despite another lapse to laughter. Her face and neck were dyed a lovely crimson.

"Oh, dear!" she said finally; and she wiped her eyes. "What you must think of me!"—and she looked away, a pretty frown contracting her face; then the jolly dimple deepened once again and she choked into her handkerchief. "Oh, dear!" she repeated, biting her lip to hold her quivering mouth corners. "Oh, it's a shame," I heard her mutter; "I mustn't let him—[it's too—] She wheeled upon me, her lips tightened. "Oh!" she ejaculated sharply, almost petulantly, and her foot struck smartly on the boards. "I wonder how much you think I think."

"Think lots," I said simply, watching her little toe as it tapped.

"Well, I should think as much!" And this time her laugh was short—oddly constrained. She looked away off down the slope to the river. "Oh!" This time it was a tiny gasp as of dismay. And the toe tapped like an electric what-a-its-name.

"Yes," I said, watching it musingly. "I suppose it's because you're the only girl, don't you know, that I ever did think of before—oh, ever at all, dash it!"

The toe stopped. I could feel her looking at me sidewise, but I did not glance up, that I remember, was looking down, trying to get hold of a dashed idea I wanted to express.

"Don't know, I continued, boring away at her toe, yet hardly seeing it, "but suppose that's the reason I knew all the time she was lying, but still, somehow that doesn't seem to be the real reason I knew. I think the real reason I knew it couldn't be and wasn't true was"—I sighed heavily—"oh, dash it, it's so hard to get hold of the jolly thing!"

And there was a pause.

"The real reason?" her voice coaxed gently.

"Was because—" Then she moved the toe and it put me out—"I think just because—oh, yes, I know now!" And I looked up eagerly. "Just because I knew that you—are you!" I finished beamingly.

"Oh, I see!" She said it musingly, her finger lightly pressing upon her lips, her beautiful eyes studying me with the oddest, keenest side-glance.

A pause, and then: "And how long have you known me, pray? Just a—"

"A thousand years!" I said promptly and earnestly. "A thousand years and all my life, don't you know! Never will know you any better."

"I wonder," she murmured, nodding slowly. And then for a moment she didn't say a word, just sat there looking me over curiously, her expression half shy, half quizzical, don't you know.

Then her smile flashed again—a radiant, dazzling brightness that brought her nearer, like the effect of the sun's light's sudden gleam there at times upon the blue line of the "West Shore" away across the broad, three-

Valentine & Co., New York

Gentlemen—I wish to say a good word in reference to Valspar. I have used this varnish in October, 1907, on extreme outside work where it was not protected from anything. This month we went back to same job and gave it one coat, finding this was all that was required as there was plenty of body still left, only dead here and there.

I have tried all kinds of outside varnish here before, but must say this is the best of all.

I know there cannot be too much said about such an article, and I also know there are plenty of men looking for such varnish, but don't know where to find it. I shall never buy another as long as it remains what it is and hope many more will find out the good results it gives. I remain yours very truly,

NEWS OF THE WORLD

Items of Interest Gleaned From Various Sources

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here the Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers

The life of Major Archibald W. Butt, as a soldier, newspaper man, aide to Presidents and lodge members, and his heroic death on the Titanic, were commemorated by his chief-in-charge, a president, a secretary of war, a senator of his native state, a contemporary in the newspaper field and the fraternity of Masonry, at an impressive memorial service at Washington last Sunday.

The Confederate army is marching on Macou. For the second time during the history of this typical southern city there is to be an invasion. During the sixties it was with cannons roaring, muskets crackling, drums beating and flags flying, tomorrow the invasion will be none the less determined but the roar of the cannon and the check of musketry will be missing. The soldiers are this time coming on a mission of peace, many of them to mingle with each other and recount their experiences of the terrible struggle in which the north was pitted against the south, the former fighting to preserve the Union and the latter for a cause that it believed to be right. Tonight the indications are that the crowd will be the largest that has ever attended a Confederate reunion. Railroad agents variously estimate the number from 100,000 to 150,000.

A strong effort is being made to save Rev. Richeson from the electric chair and change the sentence to life imprisonment for the poisoning of Avis Linnell, on the grounds that he was insane when he committed the crime.

Congressman Buckley, of Ohio, has introduced a bill providing for the coinage of a half-cent copper piece. Its usefulness, he declared, would be to purchasers who are allured, by merchants into buying articles by the tempting quotations of "12 1-2 cents." Mr. Buckley has also introduced a bill for a 3-cent piece to meet the conditions in his home city, Cleveland, where the street car fare is that amount.

Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, was made a mason by a lodge in Scotland. The grand lodge at Edinburg took up the matter and took away the charter of that lodge.

War is still going on between Italy and Turkey, and coats are piling up for the people so that kings and generals and admirals and capitalists may profit.

Mrs. Daisy Opie Grace was indicted today charged with shooting her husband, Eugene H. Grace, at their home here in March. Grace is still alive at his mother's home at Newman, Ga., although the doctors said he could not recover.

Senator Fletcher, of Florida, is taking a very keen interest in the investigation of the Titanic disaster by the sub committee of the committee on commerce. He having been named as one of the senators to conduct this investigation.

The cable ship which relieved the Mackay-Bennett in the search for bodies of the Titanic victims arrived today with fifteen bodies, among which was that of Chas. M. Hayes, president of the Grand Trunk railroad.

Four trainmen and three passengers were killed, and several passengers injured, when the first section of the Confederate Veterans' special, carrying the veterans from Texas to the reunion at Macou, was wrecked on the New Orleans and Northeastern railway.

With nearly one hundred witnesses yet to be heard, the trial of Floyd Allen, for the murder of Commonwealth Attorney Foster entered on its fourth day. It probably will be near the end of the week before the State rests, but eighteen of its sixty-five witnesses have been heard.

Good Plan.
Write down a list of things you intend to do in spare time and do not let a week slip away, nor a day, if you can help it, without doing one of them. Each month will bring new interests which will be worth trying to take up.

SANFORD STILL LUCKY

Potatoes Are Moving Steadily And Bringing Good Prices

Sanford, Fla., May 3. Potatoes are moving at a lively rate, and will continue so for the next two weeks. The quality has been remarkably good, attracting the best of the buying trade. No. 1 stock ruled $5.60 bbl., with the usual allowance of $1 less on No. 2. Shipments average 6 to 7 cars daily, all of which have been sold f. o. b.

The tomato acreage will run 350 to 400 acres and shipping should start by May 5. Beans, cukes, peppers and onions are moving daily at the rate of 3 to 6 cars. Prices have been profitable as a whole, and growers have had a good season in spite of the fact that a large percentage of the celery crop was practically lost, due to blight.

The M. O. Coggins Co. of Jacksonville and Pittsburg practically control the potato deal, acting as marketing agents for fully four-fifths of the acreage. This concern has made a fine record on prices. The Coggins people will also have the swing in the tomato deal, as they will run two packing houses, which will be in charge of expert and experienced East Coast tomato men. This will give a uniform pack, grade and quality which it is expected will bring an enviable reputation for the Sanford tomato.

The celery movement will practically end by May 10. Several cars of "Green Top" moved this week, the "Golden Self-Blanching," which moved early in the season. Chase & Co. will handle a good share of this late variety. The mixed car movement was active this week, averaging 4 to 5 cars daily.

The potato movement continues active and good prices prevailed. The marked improvement in grading of Sanford potatoes has brought splendid results up to Tuesday, the Coggins people had sold 30 cars and expected to move 10 more this week. Their banner sale was on a car of red Bliss grown by R. H. Pugh, which was packed in bushel hampers and sold to a Chicago house, netting the grower $1,105.80, f. o. b., or $6.70 bbl. for ones and twos. About 25 cars remain which will finish the Sanford potato movement. Produce News.

ORLANDO WILL PLAY BALL

Organization Effected and Strong Team Will Be Put in Field.

The following from the Orlando Reporter Star indicates that we will have a very active summer:

Orlando is to have a baseball team, the best ever, and within a week. This momentous decision was arrived at yesterday afternoon at a large and enthusiastic meeting of the fans at the San Juan Hotel.

Captain B. M. Robinson was elected president of the association, which will be known as the Orlando Baseball Association. Mr. Gray Rush was chosen secretary-treasurer; Mr. John M. Cheney, manager; with the following as directors: Messrs. H. L. Beeman, S. Y. Way, E. H. Ealker, and W. M. Brittain.

It was proposed to start practice game pre-season games, that is, with Sanford at a very early date; perhaps by the fifteenth of the month. The regular season will begin about the first of June, and will last three months.

An important decision was made yesterday, to the effect that $500 was to be raised to be posted as a guarantee fund to insure the carrying out of the schedule. Sanford will be required to post a similar guarantee fund. The necessary five hundred was raised among the fans at the San Juan yesterday, and representatives from Sanford were on hand this morning with that team's forfeit money. The joint fund will be deposited in some neutral bank.

A regular schedule of games will be drawn up between the two teams, and in the event either team fails to carry out the agreement, the money will be forfeited.

The work of selecting the players is now going on. Perhaps the announcement of the line-up will be made within a week, and the name of the umpire will be made public at the same time.

NO ELECTION REPORT

State Canvass of Returns Not Made Until Thursday

SEVERAL COUNTIES YET IN DOUBT

Contestants in Congressional Race Are Ready to Start—Gibbons and Trammell

Election returns for the state have not been heard from up to date, and the official canvass to be taken on Thursday next will determine the result. In the race for Governor, Gibbons and Milton are in doubt as to which one will run it off with Trammell.

In Congress-at-Large, O'Brien and Toomer are in doubt as to who will measure swords with Claude L'Engle.

The other contestants are satisfied with their standing but are anxious to find the official votes and thus gain a leg on the second primary.

Frank Clark has a big lead over Hilburn and this will gain him votes in the second primary. His friends will stand by him to a man and will also get new votes.

Gibbons is confident of making a strong race with Trammell and is champing the bit impatient to be off in the second race.

In county affairs the county executive committee met last Friday and decided that Robinson had won over Fox in the Legislative race, the result being as follows:

Lake 1,047, Robinson 961, Fox 846, Newton 749.

Hand led in the Sheriff's difficulty, with Kirkwood hanging on his flank and Karel third. Hand and Kirkwood must do it again.

Shine wins over DeBates for County Solicitor.

Landis wins over Jones for States Attorney.

Tucker wins over Simmons for Treasurer.

A tabulated report of county and state will be given in the next issue for future reference.

ASSOCIATION NEWS

Getting Ready For The Tomato Crop Soon To Be Handled

The Florida Vegetable Growers' Association have been busy as "Sailors" with potatoes and other spring crops and returning to their members very satisfactory prices. One car of 163 barrels of potatoes was sold by their representative in Philadelphia for $1,191.50. Not bad for a cheap crop, generally not thought good enough for our high priced land. How many cars of celery brought this much money this or any other season. It will be well for the growers to ponder on their staple crops before deciding they cannot afford to raise them.

The Association is now preparing for the tomato business and have arranged with H. H. Deane, who will conduct a packing house at his regular place of business, First street and the railroad.

He has employed a force of experienced packers from the East Coast and all goods will be put up in a uniform and proper manner, thus enabling the Association to secure for its members all the market will pay for a first-class pack. We cannot handle any tomatoes not put up at the packing house. It is all to your interests to have them put up there.

FLORIDA VEGETABLE GROWERS' ASS'N

Mr. W. Clay Enman to Sing in Sanford

Mr. Enman who will sing at the recital at the Auditorium of the High School, Monday evening, May 13th is a native of Lorain, Ohio, and has been with Rollins College the past winter.

Mr. Enman possesses a delightfully rich and big Baritone voice. His song numbers will include besides two higher groups, "The Road to Mandalay" (Oley Speaker) sung by request, and the two famous Schubert numbers: "Who is Sylvia?" (words from Shakespeare) and the "Erl King." The "Erl King" is a legend of the Black Forest of Baden, Germany, immortalized in the beautiful dramatic poem by Goethe. He tells the story of a father's frantic ride through the "Black Forest" in a tempest, hugging closely to his bosom his little child, for warmth and safety, "for the dreaded touch of the 'Erl King' is a certain death."

This song is one of Schubert's masterpieces in composition.

MOST SUCCESSFUL MEETING

Hon. J. N. Whitner Delivers Fine Address Sunday Night

A splendid audience greeted Hon. J. N. Whitner at the Star Theatre Sunday night in the monthly union meeting of the Men and Religion Forward Movement for Sanford. The meeting opened with the singing of several of the old familiar hymns of the church. Scripture was read by Rev. C. H. Summers and prayer was offered by Rev. J. W. Wildman.

Then Chairman Walker introduced Mr. Whitner as the speaker of the evening. This Men and Religion Forward Movement, he said, has been likened to the crusade of the eleventh and twelfth centuries when kings left their thrones and children their homes to win back the holy sepulchre. But a more fitting comparison is with the Reformation of the sixteenth century. Out of that movement came the dawn of civil, personal and religious liberty. Today the allegiance of men is being fixed upon the Word of God.

Congestion of population in our cities and enormous accumulations of material wealth have put our Christianity on trial. Unless some trial comes speedily the wreck of our civilization will follow. We must get back to the power of Jesus Christ.

The churches have always had preaching, but men have failed to take hold of it. There has been too much preaching back to the Ten Commandments and not enough forward to the Sermon on the Mount. It is not a question simply of "Thou shalt not." There must be a call to the practical everyday gospel of service to God and our fellow men.

Too much of the work of our churches has been left to our women. A recent count of congregations shows that for every 67 women attending church there are but 43 men. We have been leaving church work too long to the women.

We do not take the teaching of the Nazarene into our daily life. How many of you think from day to day what service you can render that day to your fellow man. I am a busy man but I seldom fail to pray this simple prayer: "God grant today that I may serve my neighbor, my town, my country." The man who gives a rich life, gets a richer life.

It has been said in reference to our day, "If a man loves anything more than a dollar, it is another dollar. But Jesus declared that a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things that he possesses. Too often the question is: How much money does he make? If our nation is not turned soon from that money-making spirit anarchy will come upon us. There is too much difference between the rich and the poor.

Mr. Whitner closed by reminding his audience of the two great principles of the Christian religion as laid down by its founder. Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul and with all thy strength, and the second, which is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

PROMINENT EDUCATOR DEAD

Information was received here Saturday of the death of Hon. A. M. C. Russell, which occurred at an early morning hour at his home in Brooksville. He had been ill two weeks or more, and death came as a result of complications superinduced by a car bunche, which caused him much suffering.

Mr. Russell was editor of The Southern Argus, and was regarded as one of the brainiest men and most fluent writers of the Florida press. For sixteen years he served Hernando county as superintendent of schools and was a candidate for the office of State superintendent in the primary of last Tuesday. His illness, however, prevented his making an extensive canvass. He was esteemed by all who knew him and his death removes from the commonwealth one of its most useful citizens.

Greatness of Gotham.

A reminder of what a large city New York has become is afforded by the statement that the Borough of the Bronx is exceeded in population by only eight cities in the United States, it numbering more than 430,000 inhabitants at the last census. It also appears that there are nine states in the Union, each of which possesses less population than that fast growing section of the metropolis, which is now agitating for home rule.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

The convention of the Florida Division, Daughters of the Confederacy, closed on Saturday, at Tampa, with the election of officers for the ensuing year and the choosing of a convenient city for the 1913 convention, Live Oak was chosen as next year's meeting place.

Contracts have been let in New Smyrna for a number of up-to-date modern houses, and the citizens there are looking forward to having electric lights by the beginning of the new year.

Beginning next week the new steamboat Kennedy will ply regular between Palatka and Jacksonville. The Kennedy is larger than the boat previously used on this run.

The Lawtey State Bank opened for business last Wednesday and it is understood that many deposits were made during the day.

There will be a canning school held at the College of Agriculture, University of Florida, May 9, 10 and 11 for the purpose of giving instructions in canning vegetables to the county agents.

Florida is honored in the selection of Miss Cora Mallory to be chief sponsor at the Confederate reunion to be held in Macou this week. She lives at Pensacola and is a granddaughter of Stephen P. Mallory, secretary of the navy in the Confederate cabinet. Lakeland Telegram.

Among the things planned for the Daughters of the Confederacy while in session in Tampa was an automobile trip, a big reception, a steamer trip on the bay by moonlight, luncheon every day, entertainment at the Polcanna Theatre with a moving picture show, and several other things.

It is understood that the city council of Key West has legislated against moving picture shows on Sunday nights.

The movement of Irish potatoes from Hastings last week was nine cars or 1,620 bushels. The movement this week will total fifteen cars.

Pensacola may soon add a paper mill to her list of manufacturing enterprises.

Saturday night the home of Mr. L. T. Kean, north of Winston, in Polk County, caught fire and Mrs. Keen was burned to death, only her bones being left to bear silent testimony to the agony she underwent. About 11 o'clock Saturday night while Mr. Keen was away from home, being at Bradley Junction, Mrs. Keen and the children were awakened by the fire, and they hurriedly left the house. After Mrs. Keen got all the smaller children out, she rushed back into the house to save some of the furniture. The flames became so fierce that the son begged his mother to jump from the second story porch. This she was afraid to do, and her son took the leap. He cried to her to follow, but the walls fell on her and she went down to her death.

Conditions in the various State races remain about the same. It will take the official count of the state executive committee to determine who will enter the race for governor against Park Trammell, and for Congress State at Large against Claude L'Engle. The State executive committee meets Thursday at noon, and it will probably be late that night or the next day before they complete their labors. In the meantime Milton, Gibbons, Toomer and O'Brien are in the anxious seat—neither being able to take to the field as they so much desire.

FANCY WORK CIRCLE

The members of the Fancy Work Circle were entertained at the residence of Mrs. W. T. Johns, Wednesday afternoon. A pleasant social meeting was enjoyed by the circle, while they did their fancy work.

Delicious ice cream with crushed strawberries, and cake were served by the hostess. Mrs. John's guests were Mrs. J. J. Purden, Mrs. H. W. Milner, Mrs. Hines, Mrs. T. S. Davis, Mrs. Esterby, Mrs. H. H. Hill.
