

Coroner's Jury Says Estridge Should Be Held For Grand Jury

Decides Raulerson Died From Injuries Received When Hit By Accused's Auto

A coroner's jury late this afternoon decided that Irvin E. Estridge, Sanford fertilizer salesman, should be held for investigation by the December grand jury because of his part in an automobile accident which resulted in the death of W. R. Raulerson, Sanford farmer.

The verdict, rendered after a day's investigation, read as follows: "We believe that W. R. Raulerson came to his death in the following manner: As the result of being struck by an automobile being driven by one I. E. Estridge."

Friends of Mr. Estridge offered to arrange bond, which Coroner O. P. Harndon intimated would be accepted in the amount of $2500 just as soon as a warrant for his arrest, which he had issued, had been served.

State's Attorney Millard B. Smith, of Titusville, handled the investigation, questioning more than a dozen witnesses during the day. With the exception of Mrs. Mabel Estridge, wife of the accused, and D. C. Moran, with whom Mr. Estridge spent last Wednesday afternoon just before the accident occurred, all of the witnesses declared that Mr. Estridge was in an intoxicated condition.

The jury was composed of W. E. Watson, J. C. Ellsworth, C. W. Stinson, C. T. Kent, J. P. Hickson, and O. J. Pope.

The official investigation began when Sheriff J. F. McClelland contacted the jury and Mr. Smith to the scene of the accident, near the intersection of Geneva and Park avenues. There they saw spots of blood near the south curbing of Geneva avenue, and heard Sheriff McClelland say that Mr. Raulerson was found lying there with his feet toward the curbing, his head toward the center of the road, and lying on his back.

The party continued its investigation in the Estridge garage nearby where the Ford coupe Mr. Estridge is said to have been driving was found to have small blood spots on the right front bumper and fender, as well as on the right front wheel.

At the Court House, in the office of Coroner O. P. Harndon, the inquest was continued with the following witnesses being heard before a large crowd:

Allen H. Stewart, professional in the Sanford Country Club, who testified that he first saw Mr. Estridge, whom he did not know, coming behind the wheel of a Ford coupe which was blocking the road near the club house. He said he asked Mr. Estridge to leave; that Mr. Estridge said he would have wherever he got ready; that Mr. Estridge said that "here you are having a dance out here when poor old Parrot Lake is in the penitentiary; that he believed that Mr. Estridge was quarrelsome and "anything but rational"; and that after Mr. Estridge's companion had tried to make Mr. Estridge drive off, he finally did so, "narrowly missing a tree" before he entered the main road.

EDISON GIVEN WEEK OF LIFE BY PHYSICIANS

Unusual Stamina of Inventor Continues To Astound Family

WEST ORANGE, Oct. 12.—(A.P.)—Thomas A. Edison, roused with difficulty yesterday from a 17-hour sleep, was given only a week more of life by his physician Dr. Hubert S. Hows.

Although the 84-year-old inventor recognized his wife, who has been almost constantly at his bedside during his long illness, his condition was such that Dr. Hows said "we cannot reasonably expect him to live another seven days."

The physician added, however, that Edison's "unusual stamina makes it impossible for us to say how much longer Mr. Edison will continue his stubborn battle to live."

For the first time since August, when Edison was stricken by a complication of uremic poisoning, diabetes, ulcers of the stomach and Bright's disease, Dr. Hows spent the greater part of the day in the sick room.

It was only with difficulty that Dr. Hows was able to rouse the inventor from a sleep which started at 8:30 P. M. Saturday and extended "almost continuously until 8:30 A. M. yesterday."

When awakened, however, Edison was able to take a few sponges of stewed fruit, his first nourishment since Friday morning.

At first he was unable to recognize Mrs. Edison, but later she put her lips close to his forehead and said "do you feel today?"

"Mr. Edison was sitting in a chair for about two hours. He is again in bed and asleep. He is able to take a little nourishment, but is, of course, very weak."

"Mr. Edison will not die," he said today as he puffed meditatively on a blackened corncob pipe.

"He has work to finish—a great work. It will be spared us long enough."

Then he told of the four-year struggle to create a synthetic rubber.

"There isn't a species of plant life on this estate," he said, as he waved a pudgy hand toward the trees and flowers, "that wasn't submitted to the test tube and crucible in Mr. Edison's search."

Bullet Riddled Body Of Thug Found In Pond

ADOLF HITLER WANTS CROWN AS DICTATOR

Denounces Bruening In Fiery Tone Heard By Large Gathering Of National Socialists

HARBURG, Germany, Oct. 12.—(A.P.)—Adolf Hitler, leader of the National Socialists, declared war on Chancellor Heinrich Bruening yesterday, and let it be known he is willing to be Germany's Mussolini.

One of his lieutenants also declared that Alfred Hugenberg's Nationalists, Franz Seidler's "Steel Helms" and other Nationalist organizations were merely well-organized instruments for a strong power, but would be thrown into the discard after fulfilling their temporary functions.

Before the so-called United Nationalist opposition convened in joint session yesterday afternoon, Hitler stole a march by inviting newspaper men to a meeting of National Socialist ("Nazi") members of the Federal and State Parliaments.

Here he read a proclamation denouncing Chancellor Bruening, the Versailles Treaty and Marxism, and avowing that his "Nazis" alone was able to create those conditions which Germany could fulfill her non-political financial obligations. The Parliament members pledged assent by giving the fascist salute.

"We have been criticized for mixing with wishy-washies," he said. "Let me state emphatically that we are willing to establish a united front with every Nationalist movement only because we wish to exert political power. Mussolini, at first worked with coalitions."

"We claim to be the saviors of the Nationalist movement, and we must demand leadership."

The little city of Harburg in the Harz Mountains, seemed like a military camp as the Nationalist forces assembled for the conference yesterday.

In Brunswick, of which Harburg is a part, there is a "Nazi" government, hence Hitler and his followers were permitted to wear their brown-shirt uniforms. The Steel Helms, among whom was the Hohenzollern Prince Ernst Friedrich, wore uniforms closely resembling those of the Reich.

Search For Blimp Said In Crash Is Given Up

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va., Oct. 12.—(A.P.)—Search for a blimp reported to have crashed and burned in the hills south of this city was abandoned last night after a fruitless all-day quest by parties afoot and in the air.

Sheriff Burdette of Mason county, and State Trooper Penroy, said they would lead no more searching parties. Lieut. Eckford Hodgson, pilot at the Gallipolis, Ohio, airport, after three flights seeking the blimp, said he would not go aloft again.

A party headed by Sheriff Burdette went into the woods shortly after midnight Saturday, after receiving reports of a fallen blimp, and returned to Point Pleasant at dawn. Other parties continued the search during the day but no definite word of an air accident could be obtained.

Lieutenant Hodgson made an hour and a half airplane flight shortly after dawn over the wooded area. He went up again about noon, and again just before darkness and rain made flying impossible.

Some persons who said they witnessed the accident described the blimp as plunging to the ground in flames, men leaping from it in parachutes as it fell. No reports of a missing blimp were received from any source.

China Ready To Fight For "World Safety" If League's Efforts Fail To Succeed

An ominous warning of war was sounded today by Chang Kai-shek, president of China, who said that if the League of Nations fails to obtain a just settlement of the Sino-Japanese controversy, China will resort to war.

He said that the National government's patience has been tested to the last degree. China respects the League Covenant and the Kellogg pact, but if the League and the Kellogg signatories fail to fulfill their solemnly undertaken obligations, China will not hesitate to make the supreme sacrifice to save the country for half a century and go to war to uphold the sanctity of international agreements and safeguard the peace of the world, he said.

The League over the military occupation of Manchuria by the Japanese, stated with statements in half a century would capitals being in jeopardy toward its participation in the League of Nations.

CAPONE GUNMAN ORDERED UP FOR TRIAL TOMORROW

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—(A.P.)—Philip D'Andrea, Capone bodyguard, who carried a pistol in a federal court during the wrong trial of Scarface Al, was told in no uncertain terms today that he is in serious difficulties. He is to face trial tomorrow for the offense.

His trouble is overshadowed those of Al Capone last night on the gang chief's trial on income tax charges.

It has been indicated the judge may find him in contempt of court.

After D'Andrea has made his explanation and learned his fate, the government plans to start again the parade of witnesses telling of such things as Capone's $200 a week meat purchases, $3,000 banquet, $5 tips to bell boys, and $141 telephone bills.

Judge Wilkinson took pains to declare plainly that he recognizes the carrying of pistols in federal court is a serious matter. At a special session of court called yesterday to consider D'Andrea's case, he ordered court officials to take particular care that no others enter the room with weapons.

Legal authorities said the judge may use his own discretion in punishing D'Andrea, who will be defended by Capone's attorneys, Michael Ahern and Albert Fink.

So judge referred to D'Andrea's offense as "a flagrant violation of a federal court rule of long standing."

"Phil is just a friend of mine," Capone said in protesting the arrest. "I'll see that he doesn't get out of court, if the judge says so."

D'Andrea first claimed he was a security municipal court, and had a permit to carry weapons. Government officials investigated, however, and said the bailiff appointment had expired long ago and the permit had been withdrawn.

The government case against Capone so far has consisted of evidence that he received $200,000 in telegraphic money orders from Chicago while wintering in Florida, that he spent large amounts of money and lived like a feudal king, and that he seemed to be well acquainted around Chicago gambling houses, and may even have owned them.

Proof of the large expenditures the government contends, must necessarily constitute proof of a large income. A score of witnesses have testified that Capone spent freely, lived lavishly, and was ever generous.

So far, no attempts have been made to connect the scar-faced gangster with Chicago's liquor (Continued on Page Four)

Beauty Quits Former Motion Picture Head

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 12.—(A.P.)—Eugene V. Brewster, one time millionaire magazine publisher whose financial difficulties recently became so stringent that he was compelled to auction his home and art treasures here last night admitted he and his wife, Corliss Palmer, beauty contest winner and motion picture actress, have separated.

At the Hollywood apartment where Miss Palmer is living with her mother, the girl, for whom he divorced his first wife and married in 1926, said she "knows nothing about it."

"But," Brewster said, "you may say for me that we are separated and there is little prospect of a reconciliation."

FOREIGN BANKERS HEAR DETAILS OF HOOVER'S PLAN

Federal Reserve Head Lays Idea Before 9 Financial Leaders

BASEL, Switzerland, Oct. 12.—(A.P.)—A declaration of confidence in the American dollar and an assurance that President Hoover's latest financial plan is "definitely not a measure of inflation" were given in an informal conference of chiefs of nine European and Japanese banks last night by Randolph Burgess, representative of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Burgess talked to his banker colleagues about American financial institutions and then answered a number of their questions.

He explained in detail President Hoover's plan for a national currency and declared it will not create more credit but only make existing credit more available to the public.

He explained in detail the general feature of a four-hour reform of the government of 10 large central banks with James W. McFarrah, president of the World Bank for International Settlements.

Any rumors and suggestions, he said, that the United States monetary system is threatened with a gold shortage are unfounded. The announcement was regarded here as the answer of the federal reserve system in recent reports of instability in the American financial structure.

Dr. Hans Luther, president of the German Reichsbank, said a few words about the German situation, but this and the British press were reserved for a full discussion at the meeting of the board of directors of the world bank tomorrow.

Rumors of proposals for an international currency were said in authoritative circles to be "fantastic." It was said this possibility would not be discussed by the world bank directors.

The directors and Burgess have a long agenda for today's session, chiefly concerned with credits.

PARIS, Oct. 12.—(A.P.)—The French people who may lean toward withdrawing gold from the United States were assured by the financial expert of La Tribune that the gold is in seven times as strong as the pound sterling and twice as strong as the yen.

The causes of banking difficulties in the United States, La Tribune expert pointed out, differ widely from those which pulled England off the gold standard, and from the difficulties in Germany.

The creation of the new American credit institution after President Hoover's plan alarmed many French business men and small bankers who feared it meant inflation in the United States.

100,000 Civil Servants Parade London Streets

LONDON, Oct. 12.—(A.P.)—More than 100,000 civil servants, their wives, children and 970,000 others staged one of the greatest demonstrations of London's long history yesterday along the banks of the Thames, protesting cuts in their wages under the new economy.

They marched to the music of 20 bands and to the waving of hundreds of banners. The long parade formed near the Temple and, taking an hour to pass a nearby corner, proceeded to Hyde Park where a dozen orators made speeches.

Hundreds of mounted police and "lobbies" on foot kept the lines moving, but there was no disorder.

A smaller group of several thousand Communists which marched with the civil servants, however, faced the best efforts of two or three hundred policemen who sought to prevent disturbances. Members of this group several times broke out of the parade lines, dashed up to the windows of houses and hotels from which people were watching and shouted threats until they were pulled back into line by the police.

Motor Freight Ship Makes Record Speed

270 Tons From Jacksonville - Costs Over $75,000

A new era in freight transportation on the St. Johns River was begun early this morning with the arrival here of the fast new all-steel, electric-welded freighter "City of Sanford" pride of the St. Johns River Transportation Co., which docked early today with a cargo of 270 tons of freight, all consigned to Sanford merchants.

The new vessel, only to represent an investment of $75,000 and being the last word in barge or freight boat construction, made the trip from Jacksonville by slightly more than 14 hours, considered remarkable time for a boat of its size and carrying such heavy tonnage, and breaking all records between the two cities. It left shortly before noon with a smaller cargo, and its master, Captain Carlton expects to dock here in Jacksonville in less than 12 hours.

The craft is a motorship, powered with twin diesel oil-burning engines of 100 horse-power each. It is equipped throughout with electrically driven auxiliary engines, including a cargo pump capable of handling five or more loads of liquid freight as tonnage in her huge double bottom.

Camp Meeting Will Be Held Here Week Of November 19th

The Board of Trustees of the Evangelistic Holiness Association, Inc., of Orlando, has announced the date of their Camp meeting and Bible Conference for Nov. 19 to 25 inclusive. The first meeting will be held Thursday night, Nov. 19, at 7:30 o'clock in the Sanford Gospel Mission Building, 820 West First Street.

The speakers, said to be well known Evangelists, will bring to Sanford messages which are based on the teachings of the early pioneers. Special emphasis will be made in providing a national program which will bring here some of the leading gospel singers in the South.

At an early date the Executive Committee of the Association, according to E. C. Willis, its secretary and treasurer, will confer with Mayor T. L. Humes and Harry M. Papworth, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce as to the best means of caring for the large number of visitors who are expected to attend the Camp meeting. Mr. Willis also said that there was a possibility that the association may make this city the state headquarters.

Al Williams Slightly Hurt In Plane Crackup

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 12.—(A.P.)—Al Williams, former United States navy pilot, crashed on his plane against a high bank at the Charlotte airport yesterday, but was not injured seriously.

Williams had been entertaining the crowd at the southern air pageant here with an exhibition of stunt flying and was preparing to land when his controls locked.

"I picked out the only spot I could see where there was nobody standing near an automobile parked and let it hit there," he said.

The landing gear was ripped from the plane. Williams was bruised and slightly cut, but suffered no other injuries.

By PETER SCHAAL.

Tho' ugly out played, out smarted, and out classed by a team far their superior, Coach Jack Smith's terrible Ocala Wildcat eleven took advantage of two typical breaks of the game and yesterday afternoon nosed out a brilliant Seminole High eleven by a 12 to 6 score. The game was played before about 1000 persons at the Municipal Park, and was the third of the local events of the 1931 season.

The game was handled to the Ocala outfit on a silver platter, for, outside of their having scored twice, they at no time offered a threat to Coach McClucas' highly improved eleven. The widely touted Ocala speed merchants were to have ripped the local eleven to pieces at will were it not for the inspired play of a Sanford front line, led by Captain Murray Kanner, which knew no moments of uneasiness as it went about coolly and carefully devastating a hard fighting Ocala front wall.

The first Ocala score came near the close of the first quarter, after the local eleven had played safe and sane football. Play had been in mid field with Sanford having much the advantage when Ocala got a double break as Bullock forced back almost to his goal line because of losses sustained when the Ocala backs fumbled low passes from center, kicked to mid-field. Courier allowed the ball to hit the ground instead of catching it, and before it was recovered, the oval had rolled to the Sanford 20 yard line. Courier got it there to return it three yards.

It was a ticklish spot, and Courier, at quarter, decided to try a line back, a play which had been going to the Hester make two yards. Disaster came on the next play when Lyles, in his hurry to remain behind his interferences, what appeared to be a dash off left tackle, fumbled the ball, turning Ocala end, recovering on the Sanford 17 yard marker.

Three plays later, each directed over Sanford's tight guard, and the Ocala outfit was on the two yard line. Scarborough, their left tackle, the boy they claim is an All-Southern tackle, was the big gun in that drive to the goal line, living up to early predictions. But the Sanford line, Kanner, Ware, and Harrison, staved off three straight thrusts at center, heartening the fans. Bullock, who has proved to be the best Ocala half on defensive as well as offensive, a tall, powerfully built player, went through center on fourth down, scoring six points. Ocala completed a pass for the extra point, but the team was offside and a five-yard penalty given. The try for point by kick was blocked by Kanner.

After that score, Sanford came right back, and, after the kickoff, took the ball down the field for 27 yards in three downs, Entzinger's grand line bucking, and a 12 yard pass from Lyles to Hester doing most of the good. It appeared as though a score was to be made, for the Ocala line was folding up, only Scarborough, and McDonald being able to hold their own. Kanner and his linemen were tearing their way through everything else in a beautiful performance.

With the ball on the Ocala 31 yard line, and the offense clicking well, the local move-up came more when a short pass to Hester to Preston, who made the first of his three sterling catches of passes at that time, netted five yards. Entzinger got three more at center, Courier noticing that the Ocala center kept pulling out of the line, figured he could work the old quarterback sneak for the first down, but it failed as he skidded in the sand when Scarborough and McDonald pushed Shannon and Riser into a heap in front of him. With fourth down and two to go, Sanford got a penalty of five yards because the offensive took too much time on signals. A beautiful pass, Lyles to Hester, fell through the latter's hands and the ball went over to Ocala. Hester missed that pass because of that massive head-butt he was forced to wear because of an injured nose. There was a doubt of that. He had a clear shot of at least 10 yards too.

and again three first downs were racked up, 35 yards being gained, 27 of them by Entzinger, who was driving like a demon. The boy made a 10 yard gain at center that was a beauty, to follow it up with a pair of seven yard runs which had the stands in an uproar. The Sanford line was opening holes all over the field, and a touchdown was in sight. Captain Bullock was carried from the field at that point, having been knocked stiff by Kanner. Bullock was the first of four Ocala players who had to be carried from the field, mainly because of Kanner, Entzinger, and Ware's great defensive work.

With the ball on the Ocala 40 yard line, Ocala held for two downs. V. J. J. had replaced Curry and Percipha had replaced Bullock, giving Ocala a little added strength. Hester threw a pass to Preston, good for three yards, and it was fourth down and seven to go. Lyles punted out of bounds on the 20 yard line, and the scoring chance was gone. Ocala tried two line plays which failed, Bullock punting 45 yards, Lyles returning it 15 yards to the Ocala 33 yard line. Hester was another striking chance, but it too failed, because of a fumble.

Entzinger got three yards off left tackle, and a pass, Courier to Hester, failed because it was wide. But, Lyles threw a 10 yard pass to Courier over right end, putting the ball on the Ocala 20 yard line. Lyles stepped out at bounds for no gain, and Entzinger hit center for a yard. Coach McClucas decided to try some new talent, so he sent McClelland in at that point. More passes filled the air, the first, Lyles to Preston failing but not counting, because the next play when Lyles' pass to Courier, caught for a 13 yard gain, was fumbled, to be recovered by an Ocala tackle.

Temporarily disturbed because of the fumble, the Sanford eleven did not get together again until Potter had slipped around left end for 11 yards on a lateral pass. McClelland and Preston stopped the next thrust for a yard gain, and Kanner drove Potter into the earth for no gain as the half ended. Ocala 6, Sanford 0.

The two teams came back at the start of the second half, apparently rested, but with Ocala offering several new faces, most of them youthful and inexperienced looking. The gruelling first half had crippled two of the Ocala players, and they appeared tired out as the half ended.

For the first eight minutes, play was a matter of punting from one side to the other, with no important gains made by either side. The most spectacular play of the game came in the ninth minute of that quarter when Entzinger clinched an evening of great playing both offensively and defensively, by speeding through a big hole made by the line, for 31 yards, putting the ball on the Ocala 35 yard line. His hips weaved away from several would-be tackles, and his powerful legs appeared to be flying.

That run put the locals a long way toward their fourth scoring chance, although two line plays and a pass netted but four yards, causing Lyles to punt out of danger. Two Ocala line plays were then stopped, and along came the second big break for Ocala. Bullock punned 45 yards, Courier for some reason allowing the ball to drop in front of him instead of catching it for what would have been a gain. The ball rolled toward center, who touched it, but an Ocala back recovered for Ocala on the Sanford 19 yard line.

An end run, by Rogers, netted Ocala five yards; Quillian was stopped for no gain at center by the vicious Kanner; a lateral, Armour to Potter brought four yards off left guard, and Bullock sneaked through center for two yards, putting the ball on the Sanford eight yard line. Vortile, who is considered the ace of the Ocala backfield, came into the game with his ankle covered with bandages. His first run was a six yard jaunt through center, aided by Scarborough and Curry. Bullock drove through center for two yards and a score. His end run for the point failed.

POWER COMPANY TEAM DEFEATS NEWSBOYS, 9-4

Rayburn Pitches Well With Mates Getting 12 Hits Off 2 Men

By E. H. CULLUM
The Florida Power & Light boys team defeated the Sanford Herald boys team last night 9 to 4 in one of the prettiest exhibitions of diamond ball seen here for a long time.

Hett Rayburn on the mound for the Light boys, was master of the situation from the time the first batter faced him until the last out was made. He held the Herald boys scoreless and yielded only two hits for the first four innings. In the fifth inning, Earl Banks, first up for the Herald singled, Voss got a walk, Roth singled, scoring Eubanks; Odum got a pop fly to short left, which was gathered in by Williams who doubted Voss coming in home; Morrison popped out to end the inning. The Herald boys were unable to put another run across until the 9th inning, when they scored three more on a single, fielders choice, a walk and an error.

"Sonny" Shaw started in the box for the Herald boys, and for the first two innings it looked like it was going to be a regular pitcher's battle, the F. P. & L. boys not being able to score during this time. However, they got next to Shaw in the third and put over three runs. Herndon, first up in this inning, grounded out; Waters safe on amercor; Purdon on the Sanford 32 yard line.

Sanford resorted to an aerial attack in the last quarter, and scoring chances came up twice, one failing. Three Ocala players were carried from the field at the start of the quarter, and during that play was fast and furious with the locals doing their best to bring about a score. Ware again blocked a punt which Sanford recovered on the Ocala 44 yard line.

A pass, Hester to Lyles, gained 14 yards on the first play, and the goal again in sight. A line play lost a yard because of a mistake in signals, and a pass Hester to Preston failed. A pass, Hester to Lyles was completed, but Lyles fumbled, Ocala recovering only to lose the ball when Courier, Kanner cut down the referee. The decision so riled the Ocala captain that he grew talkative and Ocala got a 15 yard penalty, putting the ball on the Ocala 1 yard line. After a line play had gained a yard, Lyle skirted left end for a touchdown. Kanner's kick for point failed.

The most interesting and startling feature of the game came on the kickoff when Kanner tried, and successfully, completed an onside kick, Hester recovering on the Ocala 42 yard line. A pass, Hester to Lyles, was good for 11 yards and for the fifth time, the ball was on the Ocala 30 yard line.

Sanford took to the air in earnest, for passing in the game was working well, Ocala appearing to have no defense whatever. Hester lost seven yards when he was too well covered trying to pass. A pass, Lyles to Hester got four of the yards back. A long pass, Lyles to Stanley, was knocked down, but Sanford was given the ball on the Ocala 18 yard line because of Ocala's interfering with the pass receiver.

With a touchdown in sight, Lyles hit center for three yards; a desperate pass by Hester was very nearly caught by Preston for a three yard gain, and Courier sneaked through center for two more, making it fourth down, two to go. With the ball only 12 yards from the sidelines, Courier elected to try a pass, it falling as it fell over the goal line.

After that play, the ball moved back and forth, with Sanford having one more chance to score, only to have a pass intercepted on the Ocala 21 yard line. Passes and line plays had worked the ball to within the 20-yard line for the fifth time. The game ended with Ocala in possession of the ball on their own 24-yard line.

SPARKS CIRCUS COMING SOON

Among the many new and thrilling features with the Sparks Circus this year none exceed in point of interest the famous Bill Troupe.

These star-billed acts of the high wire, the third generation of circus family of international eminence, are making their initial bow to American audiences this season.

The Billies, who have started Europe with what is said to be the most brilliant high-wire exhibition ever witnessed, recently added new thrills to their act, which fairly takes one's breath away. At one time during their astounding performance some of the men balances upon a pole supported by two others who walk nonchalantly across a wire high aloft in the dome of the mammoth main tent.

STREET CLAIMS UMPIRE COST HIS OUTFIT SERIES

Nallin, Behind Plate In Crucial Tilt, Blamed For Early 'A' Scores

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 10.—(A.P.)—Blame for the defeat of the Cardinals was placed squarely on the shoulders of Richard Nallin, the American league umpire calling balls and strikes behind the plate yesterday, by Gabby Street, manager of the conquered National leaguers.

Street declared Nallin had "just as much" as admitted to Paul Derringer, the lanky Kentuckian pitching for St. Louis in the disastrous fifth inning, that he made a mistake in calling the pitch a ball instead of a strike. That decision, made with the bases loaded and with two strikes and three balls on Haas, forced in a run. After that, Derringer blew up.

Street declared the ball was a perfect strike and that if Nallin had called it properly the inning would have been over. "Nallin made a rotten ball game out of a good one," Street barked. "He pulled a boner."

The Cardinals, growling over their disaster, snapped at Street's heels, backing up his opinion of Nallin. "I don't mind losing, but I hate to get robbed," moaned Derringer, as he munched a hot dog sandwich and yelled for another bottle of soda pop.

"That was a perfect strike I threw to Haas," he explained, "and Empire Nallin missed it. He admitted it to me when I rushed up to the plate, after he had called it a ball. "He said to me: 'I missed it. I'm the goat.' " "If I had had a gun, I'd a shot him."

"He should have had enough courage to chase me away and say 'Here, you, I'm here to call 'em'."

"I'll back Paul up on that," Street broke in. "When I saw Wilson, who never would have kicked if the ball was bad, start to hold, I rushed out of the dug-out. Nallin tried to chase us away. "He said, 'I had to call it. I'm the goat.' That's practically admitting the mistake, isn't it?"

Sylvester Johnson, who relieved Derringer, in the disastrous fifth, consoling the Kentuckian. "Why, that Nallin even robbed that little kid, Williams. He ain't no star. He's just a kid, but that Nallin called a strike on him that was just six inches off the ground. "I know. I know it."

"Flowers I'll admit, gave them a start with that bad throw on Fox's grounder," Street added, "but that play didn't mean a thing. If Nallin had called that

STRIKE RIGHT, DERRINGER WOULD HAVE BEEN OUT OF A BAD HOLE, AND WE'D STILL HAD PLenty OF CHANCE TO WIN.

"We got bad breaks yesterday, but we are not licked," Street said. "We'll pitch Grimas today and we'll win."

Consoling Street came to Nallin's defense, however, in the controversy that centered around the plate. The Cardinal pitchers, he said, were inclined to blame their lack of control on Umpire Nallin.

"I do not think, however, they had any license to kick on Nallin's decisions on balls and strikes. If anything he helped them over their rough spot. Neither of those pitchers were up to their real mark and that is possibly why they tried to pass the buck on to the umpire."

"The Cardinals failed yesterday because Grove was Grove. They played heads up baseball, but were unfortuniate in making two errors that were costly. You have to expect errors. They are a part of the game. Grove succeeded in stopping 'Pepper' Martin by his marvelous pitching. Martin is a great ball player and is going to continue great, but when Grove is Grove, he stops the best of them."

Practical Unemployment Protection
 Declaring that unemployment problems are a joint responsibility of both workmen and employers, the Manufacturers Record calls attention to the progress which has been made during the past two years toward remedying a condition which sees periodic recurrence of intervals of depression. The lessons learned during hard times serve to show people what to do during prosperity in order to be prepared for the next slump in business.

Why Not Close Them?
 The effectiveness of prohibition enforcement is being brought repeatedly to the attention of the public by such editorials as appeared in the Tampa Tribune yesterday in which a prominent prohibition officer was quoted as saying that he had a list of sixty-two "known speakeasies" within the city limits of Tampa. The Tribune rightly reminds the officer that if these speakeasies are known they should be closed. Our idea of the situation is that the officer will maintain a dignified and discreet silence.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"ARE SIN, DISEASE, AND DEATH REAL?" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Oct. 11.

The Golden Text was from Psalm 67:1, "God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his way to shine upon us; that thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following: from the Bible: "And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight years. Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk. And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked" (John 5:1, 2, 8, 9).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mind's control over the universe, including man, is no longer an open question, but is demonstrated Science. Jesus is the way of immortal Mind by healing sickness and sin and destroying the foundations of death" (p. 171).

Military commands were snapped out. Heels clicked in Prussian fashion, military kits were carried and salutes were exchanged. Uniformed storm troops of the Hitler faction assumed police functions, ordering people off the streets or out of halls on commands from higher-ups.

United Nationalist leaders addressed 1000 picked men and a sprinkling of women in the over-crowded Kurhaus Hall yesterday afternoon. The speakers included Hitler, Dr. Hugenberg, chief of the German Nationalist Party; Franz Seldte and Theodor Haues, terberg, leaders of the Steel Helmet faction; Hajimar Schacht, former president of the Reichsbank; Dr. Class, chairman of the Pan-German Union, and Count Falkrueth, president of the National Farmers' Federation.

Members of the National Socialist and Steel Helmet organizations, as well as the black, white and red flag of the imperial regime, were displayed everywhere, but there was not a single Republican emblem.

Representatives of royalty, of the Imperial Army, and of various Nationalist organizations sat on the platform.

The keynote of the address was that Germany faces a choice between Nationalism and Communism, and the present regime must be discarded. The United Nationalist position, in a long resolution presented by Dr. Hugenberg, declared its willingness to assume control of the government, and demanded the immediate resignation of the Federal and Prussian governments.

Prolonged applause followed the reading of the resolution: "We demand the re-establishment of Germany's sovereignty in defense matters and an equalization of armaments."

Dr. Hugenberg devoted a portion of his address to an attempt to show that the United States, England and Germany should unite to break what he termed the hegemony of France.

"The French premier will leave soon for America," he said. "We would like to see the gold country of America and the gold country of France together and dissuade America from her disarmament demands."

"America will be too wise to do that. Every support of France by America heightens the danger that America's white people will be divided into two groups."

China Is Ready To Fight For World's Peace If Meet Falls

Great Britain, Italy, and France in Geneva to participate in an extraordinary session of the council tomorrow in the hopes of ending the affair without further bloodshed or destruction of property.

Military developments in Manchuria were shored into the background yesterday by a swift exchange of notes and answers between Nanking, Tokyo, Washington and Geneva as statements of many nations sought a solution of the problem that threatens Japanese and Chinese relations.

It was revealed yesterday that Secretary of State Stimson had dispatched a message to the secretary of the League of Nations, urging the league to "assert all pressure and authority within its competence" toward settling the Manchurian problem. The note was sent Friday after a cabinet meeting called by President Hoover.

The league council will meet Tuesday to consider the Sino-Japanese situation. Foreign ministers of the European powers were enroute to Geneva and President Hoover, United States consul general there, conferred with Sir Eric Drummond at length yesterday. It was understood they discussed Stimson's note.

A Japanese protest was delivered at Nanking formally stating that unless anti-Japanese agitation in China is halted the Chinese government "will be held responsible for the consequences."

Following an emergency meeting of Chinese leaders, an official told the Associated Press in an answer will be forwarded to Tokyo, probably tomorrow, calling attention to the fact that "dispatching of further warships by Japan to the situation and intensify the anti-Japanese movement" throughout China and Manchuria.

The Chinese answer will point out there have been no negotiations with Japan in territory controlled by Nanking, "which is at least proof of the Chinese government's ability and desire to protect the Japanese."

Meanwhile, China dispatched to Tokyo a protest against the bombing last Thursday by Japanese military airplanes of Chinese barracks at Chinchow.

Concerning Japanese occupation of Manchuria, a spokesman for the Tokyo foreign office declared it would be impossible for Japan to withdraw her troops until China makes arrangements to govern and police various districts where Japanese subjects reside. China has demanded immediate withdrawal of Japanese troops from Chinese territory.

"America owes less abroad than foreigners owe here," Le Temps said "she is a creditor even for circulation capital. Without doubt her short term credits placed abroad are frozen for the most part. Foreigners possessing assets in the United States have been withdrawing them, but America's large stock of gold makes it possible to meet the situation without the risk of compromising the stability of the dollar."
