The United States will take part in the Asiatic conflict. Preparations for war will continue rapidly, it is doubtful if more than the standing army and resources of the navy will be called upon to participate in such a conflict.

This is one of several statiling predictions for 1938 made in the amount prediction booklet issued by the Rosicrucian Order, AMORC, a philosophical fraternity with Western hemisphere headquarters in San Jose, Cal. and recently received by L. A. Remaud of Sanford, local representative of the Rosicrucian Order.

The prophecies are based on charts and graphs of world-wide conditions outlined in cycles of periodicity, indicating the trend of human affairs, according to Ross.

Reynolds quotes President Trujillo as stating to him that "the whole affair has been overemphasized," and that while "it is a regrettable incident it is certainly no cause for international action."

"I might have believed him," Reynolds says, "if I hadn't looked into the tortured eyes of mothers who had seen their whole families wiped out. I might have lieved him if I hadn't seen a venerable Bishop clutch his golden cross and say calmly, 'Nothing in the Dominican Republic is done without the knowledge and consent of President Trujillo.' I might have believed him if I hadn't reached out and touched eight inch machete scars on the head of a brine-year-old boy. I might have believed him had I not listened to the stories told by hundreds of miserable people and read the stories told by thousands more."

In the Senate where debate on the anti-lynching bill continued, the Senators, learned that more than 100 farmers in Mississippi had met in a mass meeting last night and pledged themselves to renounce their party and join the Republicans if the anti-lynching bill is passed by Congress.

The farmers warned that passage of the anti-lynching measure would mean their secession from the party they have supported with unbroken loyalty."

It was believed to be the first warned during debate on the bill that it's passage would mean splitting of the party.

"Southern Democrata would rather be in the party of Senator Borat than that of Senator Wagner," Cowies Horton, an attorney, said is an eddress at the meeting.

The resolution adopted by the farmers condemned lynching and "pointed with pride" to the fact that it is decreasing each year. It criticized the measure as unconstitutional and in "direct rio" it ought to be condemned by eyery citizen regardless of his Javalley or political affiliaton," the resolution stated.

"We are disappointed and aggrisved that spch a measure harbeen initiated and is being fostered by measure of the Democratic Party. It shows I lack of appreciation of our imbroken loyalty. "If such a course is carried to a summaful conclusion, it must be evident that we who romain loyal to the tenets of the party cannot fellow our brothers. Divorcement and splitting of the party will be the result."
