Local Marines Stop Newsman Cold

Part of a good newspaper reporter's job is to create news... make it happen in order to obtain a story.

Sometimes his efforts backfire. Like this morning when local U. S. Marine officers threw the ball right back to The Herald reporter.

National publicity has been forthcoming these last several days about President Kennedy's physical fitness program, and having Marine officers hike 50 miles.

UPI today carried a story detailing Camp Lejeune, N. C., about 14 Marine officers trudging the 50-mile hike, one in less than 10 hours.

So, The Herald editor dreamed up a "local angle" this morning and instructed a reporter to contact Col. Ernel D. Bowen, commanding officer of the Marine Barracks at the Sanford Naval Air Station, with the question: Are local officers going to make a 50-mile hike? And the Colonel replied: Was just reading about it in the paper. I'll check and call you.

An hour later Capt. Richard E. Haislip, executive officer of the local Marine Barracks, telephoned: Understand you newsmen want to make a 50-mile hike.

Hah, talk about throwing the ball right back. The Captain hit the reporter between the eyes. Quick-like.

The reporter fumbled the question for a moment, and then told the Marine: Nothing doing; I had enough of that in the Army.

Captain Haislip, in a serious vein, said that

First Lt. Harry R. Gentry, guard officer, is driving to DeLand tonight on personal business, and will measure from the NAS front gate for a distance of 25 miles.

Then, co-operating with President Kennedy's physical fitness program and The Herald's question, Captain Haislip said that at 00800 hours (8 a.m.) Thursday he, Lieutenant Gentry, Sgt. Robert D. Ryan, first platoon sergeant, and maybe a few more Marine troopers will step out and hike to the 25-mile mark and return to NAS.

Colonel Bowen will not make the hike since he is recuperating from a recent operation.

The Herald reporter meekly informed Captain Haislip that he and a photographer will be on hand at the front gate to wish the hikers a "bon voyage" and will be there again when they return.

But the reporter said he would... and gladly skip the hike.

Wrecked Plane Shattered In Air

MIAMI (UPI)—The wreckage of a Northwest Orient Airlines jetliner indicated today that the plane shattered in air before it plummeted into a mushy field of sawgrass deep in the Florida Everglades with the loss of 43 lives.

UPI newsmen at the scene saw the wreckage scattered over an area of about two square miles.

There was no furrow to indicate that the pilot of the ill-fated Miami-to-Chicago airliner which disappeared for more than five hours, minutes after takeoff had attempted any sort of emergency landing.

Other witnesses to the scene also reported small broken pieces of wreckage scattered in a path for eight miles leading to the major portion of the fuselage that lay crumpled like a cigar ground under foot.

A score of government and airline officials at the wreck site declined to comment as they probed the charred wreckage.

The detailed investigation that began at dawn continued into midmorning. By 10 a.m., none of the bodies of 35 passengers—most of them midwesterners returning from a Florida vacation—and eight crewmembers had been removed by waiting helicopters.

"Apparently they're not going to move any bodies out this morning," said a State Highway Patrol officer at the scene.

The most vivid scene at the tragedy site was the body of a woman that was thrown clear, about 100 feet ahead of the main cabin.

It's Official: NAS Derby Out

The 10th Annual Heavy Attack Bombing Derby, which was previously postponed, has been officially canceled, Capt. Joseph M. Tully Jr., Commander Heavy Attack Wing One, announced today.

Tully expressed regret in issuing the canceling order for the event which was originally scheduled for the week of Dec. 3-8, 1962. At that time commitments in conjunction with the Cuban crisis prevented holding it. The Bombing Derby has long been an event of considerable military value as well as local interest.

Tully said a Bombing Derby would be planned for the fall of 1963, "other factors permitting."

Field Day Set For Growers

The annual Field Day for Central Florida vegetable growers will be held Thursday at the Central Florida Experiment station at 1:30 p.m. with a field trip scheduled to begin at 2:30 p.m.

Speakers for the day will be Dr. J. W. Wilson, Dr. P. J. Westgate, Dr. H. J. Rhoades, Dr. W. T. Scudder, Dr. B. B. Forbes, Dr. J. F. Darby and B. F. Whitner Jr., Cecil Tucker, County Agent, will serve as official host for the day.

Secrecy Surrounds GOP On Legislative Posts

"Secrecy" seems to be the word on Republican party plans to enter into the race for Seminole County seats in the State Senate and House in the March 26 special election.

Don Willson, GOP county chairman, informed The Herald Monday that the county committee would meet Tuesday when it was expected a slate of candidates would be endorsed for the party nominations for the two vacancies.

Since early Monday The Herald has been unable to contact Willson. His office reports either "he is out of the city" or "he is out of the office."

Mrs. Thelma Joyce, a committee member, said today she had not been informed of any committee meeting scheduled for Tuesday.

Tallahassee has reported that no Republicans have qualified to seek the new Senate seat and the House seat vacated by Mack Cleveland Jr.

Cleveland has qualified for the Democratic primary for the new Senate seat under the new reapportionment plan. Former Rep. Gordon Frederick has qualified for the party primary to seek the House seat vacated by Cleveland.

Former North Orlando Cop Is Arrested

Michael Cosby, former North Orlando police officer, will be arraigned on a charge of impersonating a police officer before Justice of the Peace Elmer E. Ashley Jr. on Feb. 20.

Cosby, it was learned today, was arrested Feb. 7, according to Judge Ashley, on a complaint signed by Miss Helen Hallett, Sanlando Springs. The warrant was served by sheriff's deputies and Cosby posted $200 bond when taken to county jail, according to Sheriff J. L. Holby.

Judge Ashley quoted Miss Hallett that she was proceeding toward her home when she noticed, in her rear vision mirror, a car behind her and the driver flashing what appeared to be a police badge. When she stopped, she reported, Cosby informed her she was speeding and would have to come to Sanford to post $100 bond.

The peace justice quoted Miss Hallett further that when she informed Cosby she would have to change clothes he said, "I will let you go this time but I'll be watching you."

Cosby, a member of the North Orlando police force for four months, was one of three officers who resigned Jan. 16 when Mayor Frank Fausla rejected a complaint signed by them against Police Chief Jack Sutton.

For Seminole County Bitter Cold, Winds Predicted

Heavy winds and a freezing cold is expected to hit Seminole County tonight and continue through Thursday, the weather bureau predicted today.

The peace justice quoted Miss Hallett further that when she informed Cosby she would have to change clothes he said, "I will let you go this time but I'll be watching you."

Cosby, a member of the North Orlando police force for four months, was one of three officers who resigned Jan. 16 when Mayor Frank Fausla rejected a complaint signed by them against Police Chief Jack Sutton.

Temperatures are expected to range from 25 to 32 degrees with frost warnings posted throughout the area.

County Agent Cecil Tucker said this morning that if the winds hold throughout the night, damage will be negligible. "If there is heavy frost, some damage can be expected from young tender growth on citrus," he added.

Meanwhile a broad arctic air mass propelled southward today, covering the entire East Coast, posing heavy snow warnings in the Northeast and threatening extensive damage to Texas' citrus and vegetable crops.

Scores of schools were closed in the Southeast.

The frigid air spawned torrential rains and high winds in Florida where a Northwest Orient Airline jet crashed and burned after takeoff from Miami. All 43 persons aboard perished.

Rain and snow choked off main highway arteries in Dixie, including parts of a 200-mile stretch between Knoxville and Nashville, Tenn., and

Tanker Search Continues

MIAMI (UPI)—The search for a tanker missing for 10 days with 29 men aboard shifted eastward today to the north coast of Cuba.

The Coast Guard planned to use two planes today in its search for the Marine Sulphur Queen, the 524-foot vessel which mysteriously dropped from sight on a routine run between Beaumont, Tex., and Norfolk, Va.

In its hold the ship carried a cargo of molten sulphur, which—if exposed to sea water—could have touched off an explosion that would have blown up the ship.

Authorities became convinced Tuesday that clues were not to be found in the Atlantic, and ordered searchers to concentrate on the Gulf from the Yucatan peninsula eastward along the north coast of Cuba.

Navy Pilot Describes Scene Of Air Crash

(Editor's Note: This is an eye-witness report from the pilot of a Coast Guard helicopter that found and inspected the wreckage of the Northwest Orient Airlines jet which crashed in the Everglades.)

By Lt. Cmdr. James Dillon MIAMI (UPI) — Most of the bodies apparently still are inside the fuselage of the wrecked Northwest Orient Airlines jet plane. There are no survivors.

I saw one body that appeared to be intact. Luggage was strewn everywhere.

The fuselage was consumed by fire. It is completely burned and gutted. We didn't see the wings. The tail section is about 100 yards away from the fuselage.

We were unable to find any indication of how the pilot came down. The tail is fairly intact.

Our three-man helicopter crew landed right in between the tail section and the fuselage. It was dark and all we had were flashlights, an emergency lamp and two landing lights aboard the 'copter to examine the wreckage. We found the wreckage on our last sweep around that section of the glades. We were running low on fuel and had decided to make one more swing before total darkness set in.

About 6:45 p. m. my copilot, Lt. Cmdr. William C. Wallace of Norfolk, Va., saw what looked like a bonfire. When we got closer, we could see that there were two fires going and a smoky haze covered the area. We made several passes and reported back what we had found by radio.

After waiting for another Coast Guard plane to come over and mark the area, we landed and Wallace and I, along with Aviation Machinists Mate First Class William W. Wiechel of Miami, inspected the wreckage.

It was lucky we went back for that last look.

Secretaries Out To Shame Press Boss

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A group of congressional secretaries set out today to prove on a dawn-to-dusk hike that they are in better shape than White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger.

Salinger, whose measurements top to bottom are 43-40-42, conceded defeat in advance Tuesday by admitting that "my shape is not good." He called off plans for a marathon hike of his own Friday. The Capitol Hill girls, more in the 30-27-37 class, gloated that Salinger had "capitulated." They went ahead with their planned trek along the towpath of the Chesapeake & Ohio Canal, the same route Salinger had chosen.

Long-legged Jacqueline (Jackie) MacDonald, 23, a leader of the congressional hikers, said, "We have felt all along that we were in better shape than Mr. Salinger. Besides, we can't see where it would be detrimental to our health."

Salinger, backed by a statement from the President's Councils on Youth Fitness which he denied having investigated, used potential danger to health as an excuse. He said persons not in good shape shouldn't overdo it.

The council's statement put a damper on the walking craze launched by President Kennedy's suggestion that Marine Corps officers should find out if they still could take 50-mile hikes as President Theodore Roosevelt ordered in 1908.

In advising a caution, the council said the long-distance marches might be very fine for Marines but they might be too strenuous for the ride-to-the-drug store set who are not used to such vigorous activity. Dr. Ralph E. Knutti, director of the National Heart Institute, quickly agreed. He advised: "Don't try to jump from zero activity to top performance in a single leap—or you may end up with not only sore muscles and aching feet, but also a severe strain on various vital organs."

The congressional secretaries were getting a helping hand. The Army gallantly agreed to provide a jeep and a medical corpsman to ride along the canal towpath with them. Newsmen and photographers also joined in the hike.

The girls, practically all in their 20s, were taking fried chicken and apples to eat along the way. They decided to fortify themselves with substantial breakfasts before hitting the trail.

The statement by the physical fitness council was issued only four hours before Salinger surrendered. Richard Snider, council administrator, first said that Salinger suggested the statement.

But Salinger heatedly denied it. He said Snider had asked him if it would be a good idea to issue the statement and that he had given his approval. Snider, his memory refreshed by higher authority, then said he had been in error.

At Rotary Boy's Ranch Life Told

A first hand account of life at Florida Sheriff's Boy's Ranch was shown Rotarians Monday when Harry Weaver, Boy's Ranch Manager, accompanied by Harvey Hughes, one of the ranch "parents," presented the program.

Weaver, who was introduced by Sheriff J. L. Hobby, described the history of the ranch which received the first boys in 1929 after it was conceived as an idea of the Florida sheriffs in 1927.

A 737 acre tract in North Florida, near Live Oak, is the location of the ranch which is a real ranch in every sense of the word, Weaver said. Residence buildings are situated in a wooded area near the historic Suwannee River where the boys fish, swim and boat. The live-in ranch-type cottages, each with a capacity of 20, under the supervision of trained "house parents," where they learn to accept responsibilities by performing assigned duties. However, boys are given ample opportunity for healthful activities in a well-rounded program, Weaver said.

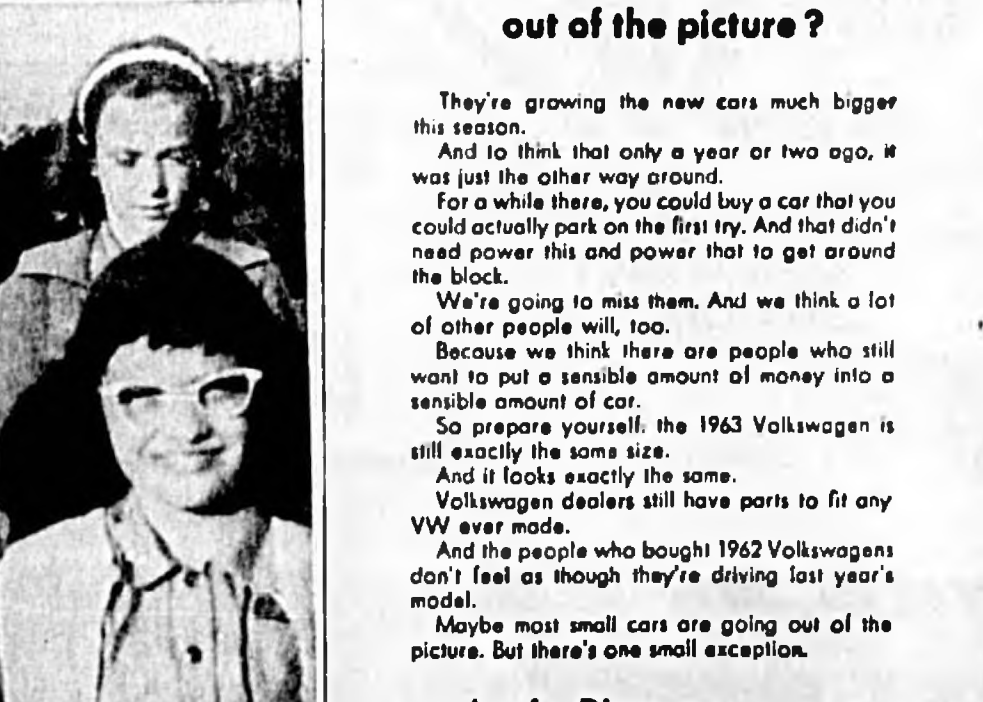

"Love, understanding, patience, discipline and affection are qualities possessed by all ranch personnel as they care for the homeless, neglected boys who thrive in the wholesome, home-like environment," Weaver told Rotarians. "Older boys are allowed to attend dances and parties and go to movies. They take part in school activities in county schools and in church activities at the church of their choice."

"The ranch is a non-profit venture supported by voluntary contributions of citizens and organizations interested in the welfare of youth," he said. Weaver invited Rotarians to visit the ranch and observe the environment of the haven for homeless boys at first hand.

He noted that Elvis Presley was one of their very good supporters and had donated the prop house used in the movie "Follow That Dream" which now serves as a canteen and barber shop on the ranch.

Members of the troop include Susan Baker, Deborah Brewer, Carol Ann Britton, Gail Demman, Linda Griffin, Anna Marie Hoff, Martha Joiner, Pamela Newton, Audrey Pyle, Sheryl Sanders, Alice Scruggs, Jackie Thompson, Paula Vaughn, Becky Webber, Karen Wilson, and Susy Smith.

Sobel qualified for the Group 10 seat.

Macmillan 'Moves' For Confidence Vote

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan moved quickly from a fresh parliamentary vote of confidence today into new efforts to spur Britain's lagging economy.

Backed by the best display of party unity since the Common Market crisis broke, Macmillan ordered full steam ahead on his plans for a new wage policy, world commodity pacts and increased trade with the United States, Europe, and the Commonwealth.

The first step was talks today with Walter Scheel, the West German minister for economic cooperation.

Macmillan's Conservative government weathered harsh attacks from the opposition Labor party Tuesday night to win another vote of confidence in the House of Commons. The vote on Macmillan's Common Market policy was 333-227.

The 106-vote majority was the biggest Conservative edge in 15 months and it indicated the ruling party, badly split over the Common Market issue, was lined up solidly behind its leader. It was the third Conservative victory in Commons in recent weeks. Macmillan's task was to find alternative ways to bolster Britain's economy now that France has vetoed British membership in the six-nation European Common Market.

Asian Flu Covers Nation

United Press International An outbreak of pneumonia and influenza felled thousands across the nation today, closing schools and cutting into the work force. Asian flu was detected in at least a dozen states.

The Baltimore, Md., Public Health Service said it did not foresee any immediate decline in a four-week epidemic. At its peak, 300 men in Baltimore's 3,740-man police force were stricken.

Kentucky State Health Commissioner Dr. Russell Teague said it appeared the state was in the "beginning of a good epidemic." He said he was fairly sure it was the Asian flu strain.

Trigg County schools in Kentucky were closed Tuesday when 18 per cent of 2,000 enrolled students failed to show up for classes. About 100 patients jammed the emergency rooms at the Louisville, Ky., General Hospital.

Is the small car going out of the picture?

They're growing the new cars much bigger this season.

And to think that only a year or two ago, it was just the other way around.

For a while there, you could buy a car that you could actually park on the first try. And that didn't need power this and power that to get around the block.

We're going to miss them. And we think a lot of other people will, too.

Because we think there are people who still want to put a sensible amount of money into a sensible amount of car.

So prepare yourself. The 1963 Volkswagen is still exactly the same size.

And it looks exactly the same.

Volkswagen dealers still have parts to fit any VW ever made.

And the people who bought 1962 Volkswagens don't feel as though they're driving last year's model.

Maybe most small cars are going out of the picture. But there's one small exception.

By Bill Vincent Jr. Sunday seemed to prove to be a fair day for fishing after all. In spite of the cloudy weather there was plenty of fishing activity in Seminole County.

Henry Russell, of Marina Isle, tells me that this weather is the main reason for the slack in shad fishing but it hasn't affected the speck fishing.

I went out to the Monroe boat ramp Sunday afternoon and counted 75 cars from around the state. At 4:30 Sunday I counted 47 fishing boats on Lake Monroe...

I talked with Jim Crowe and he said that the fishermen were slaughtering the specks all over the county.

Another catch brought in Monday evening at Crowe's camp just before the bottom fell out of the sky was 18 nice shad caught by Allen and Lorea Mills and Mary Alton of South Lyon, Mich.

Jim said three inches of rain fell at his place but by Tuesday morning things were looking good with 15 parties shad fishing by noon.

Well, that's about it for today. So will get back to the dark room and wait for that big fish story.

north side of his camp and he said, "Why, Bill, didn't you know that is 'Knee Deep to a Blackbird Slough'?" And those fishermen were slaughtering those speckled perch down there in "Knee Deep to a Blackbird Slough."

Jim explained that in low water season a blackbird can stand in the middle of the slough and just get his feet wet.

I went on down to Marina Isle and talked with Henry Russell, who said Mr. and Mrs. Will Carter of Winter Park landed 33 large shad with 27 roes in the catch.

They seemed to be the bravest and luckiest in the line of shad fishing and bucking the weather, which didn't look too good at all.

Bo, Tresh Not Afraid Of 'Jinx'

United Press International Sophomore jinx?

Tom Tresh and Bo Belinsky are about as far apart temperamentally as any two ball players in the world but they agree 100 per cent that there's really no such thing as a second-year jinx.

Both feel it's just a question of doing what comes naturally. In Tresh's case, that means signing a contract and beginning spring training without fuss or bother. In Belinsky's, it means getting his name in headlines without half trying.

Tresh, American League rookie of the year in 1962 when he helped the New York Yankees to a world championship, made news Tuesday by signing a contract for an estimated $15,000 while Belinsky, who numbered a no-hitter in 10 victories for the Los Angeles Angels last season, made news by oversleeping.

Tresh, a .288 hitter as shortstop and left-fielder in his rookie season, accepted a raise of about $5,000 and went diligently to work at the Yankees' Fort Lauderdale, Fla., training camp.

The Yanks also announced the signing of pitchers Stan Williams, Marshall Bridges, Jim Coates, Jim Bronstad, Hal Stowe and Bob Meyer plus first baseman Joe Pepitone. It all happened with a little noise as the scratch of a few pens.

At Palm Springs, Calif., however, the simple routine of the Angels' first workout was thrown into confusion by the failure of Belinsky to show up on time.

"I was in bed all day Monday with a cold," explained the fast-talking, fast-throwing lefty. "And I slept late with it this morning."

The San Francisco Giants also signed a key player when shortstop Jose Pagan agreed to terms in a telephone conversation from San Juan, P. R. Jose, who hit .259 during the National League season, topped all World Series hitters last autumn with a .308 average.

Stelmeyer's Roofers team made a clean sweep in the Thursday night mixed league taking all four points in league play this week. Eddie Monroe led the team with a 577 scratch.

Team standings are Powell's Office Supply in first place with 54 wins and 30 losses; Pryor's Insurance, 53 wins, 31 losses; Appleby's Restaurant, 51 wins, 33 losses; Heart Council, 35 wins, 40 losses; Stelmeyer's Roofers, 33 wins 51 losses and Cook's Corner, 28 wins and 58 losses.

In addition to Monroe of Stelmeyer's, the following had series of 500 plus: Dick Covell of Powell's Office Supply, 514; Ellen Betts of Powell's Office Supply, 501; Vergil Anderson of Pryor's, 506; Harold Appleby of Appleby's Restaurant, 518; Tom Armo of Heart Council, 516 and Eddie Simon of Heart Council with a 546.

The only splits reported this week were the 3-10 converted by Steck Bolly of Pryor's and Dick Covell of Powell's Office Supply.

Oviedo Topples Ocoee

Oviedo's well balanced scoring punch, with four Lions hitting for double figures, stopped Ocoee, 61-56 in overtime cage action Tuesday night.

The victory was Oviedo's eighth straight of the season and 12th in 15 games. Leading the Oviedo assault was Jim Courier with 18 points followed by Mickey Tesinsky, 13 and Ted Bellhorn and Jim DeShazo, 10 each.

Oviedo blew a 28-19 half-time lead as Ocoee came on strong in the second half of play.

Courier dunked in a floor shot in the overtime to give the Lions a two point deficit. After a brief freeze by the Lions, a number of fouls fed the game for Oviedo.

Spotts Stars In Kegler Play

Lorraine Spotts was high in the Shooting Stars Bowling League with a 187-472. She had a turkey with five strikes in a row. Betty Allen rolled a 178-496 series.

Other high games were Elaine Kostival 176, Mabel Dugan 164, Jo Cleveland and Suxy Reno 155.

Track Meet

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Half-mile Ray Van Arsen of Oregon's Emerald Empire AA and relay teams from Southern California and Oregon State have been added for the Golden Gate Invitational indoor track meet Friday night.

Roofers Make 'Clean' Sweep

Stelmeyer's Roofers team made a clean sweep in the Thursday night mixed league taking all four points in league play this week. Eddie Monroe led the team with a 577 scratch.

Team standings are Powell's Office Supply in first place with 54 wins and 30 losses; Pryor's Insurance, 53 wins, 31 losses; Appleby's Restaurant, 51 wins, 33 losses; Heart Council, 35 wins, 40 losses; Stelmeyer's Roofers, 33 wins 51 losses and Cook's Corner, 28 wins and 58 losses.

Semi-Final Event At SOKC King Stake

Semi-finals in the second running of the annual racing king stake send 16 of the track's fastest male speedsters to the post in the eighth and ninth races of a ten-race midweek program at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club tonight.

The first four greyhounds to finish in each race will comprise the field for the king stake final on Saturday night.

Male stars in the eighth race are Denny Mac, Coro Empire, Sock Tray, Marlow Brandy, Sarasota Egg King, O. B.'s Deacon, Foxworth and Cherokee Hulou.

Ninth race entries are Derby and Inaugural Champ, Mac Tys; Loyal Luke, Duke Drake, Good Timins, Speed Beams, Cherokee Sundial, Fathom and Jeff Mac.

Orville Moses' Fathom is the defending champion, having triumphed in the first running of this speed classic a year ago.

Denny Mac is the first greyhound to rack up five wins this season. He has had seven starts and belongs to T. J. Daniel, owner of the track's winningest kennel.

Palmer immediately called for a ruling. PGA tournament supervisor J. Black decided to telephone USGA headquarters in New York, explaining he had never encountered this type of incident before. After a long delay, the ruling was made—in Palmer's favor.

"I'm playing such good golf," said Palmer after the victory, "that it's too bad that my putting has gone to pot. I used 34 putts to make the round. Maybe a rest will help."

Arnold still is searching for the grand slam in golf—winning the United States National Open, the Masters, the PGA and the British Open. At one time or another he has captured them all except the PGA.

"But I'm still going for that grand slam," he said. "And I will as long as I can play." Palmer this year already has won the Los Angeles Open and the Phoenix. But it is doubtful that is as sensational as the performance of little Player, the South African health fadist.

10th round at Albert Hall. Referee Eugene Henderson halted the scheduled 15-rounder at 1:51 of the 10th with Smith, who had been down four times in the 8th and 10th unable to defend himself.

Curvis, who weighed 143 pounds to Smith's 144, has a tentative date to fight Griffith for the world title in Wales during May or June subject to Griffith successfully defending against Cuban Luis Rodriguez at Los Angeles March 3.

Griffith Next - Curvis

LONDON (UPI) — Brian Curvis, the battling Welsh southpaw, today was pleased with the way he "buried" gravedigger Tony Smith—and now he'd like that promised shot at world welterweight champion Emile Griffith.

Curvis successfully defended his British and Empire welter crown Tuesday night by flooring Smith six times before being awarded a technical knockout over the outclassed Englishman in the

Four Cop Top Golfing Honors

T. Wesley, A. Kelly, M. Neumann and D. Sklar took top honors in the point quota pro-am tournament at Mayfair Country Club Monday.

The team scored a plus 23 —23 points more than its quota. Wesley is the professional on the team; the others are amateurs.

Second scoring team was Bill Morgan (pro), D. Friedman, J. Finlay and J. Lichtenstein, with a plus 16.

Wesley and A. Ogilvie won the pro-pro division with a gross 65 and Morgan was low with a 70.

Orville Moses' Fathom is the defending champion, having triumphed in the first running of this speed classic a year ago.

RAMBLERS Keep Pace With Cincinnati

Loyola of Chicago has the right team, but perhaps it picked the wrong season.

The Ramblers, who have run away from most of their opponents this campaign, proved they could slug it out and fight with the best of them Tuesday night by holding on for a 92-90 overtime victory over a rugged Marquette team at Chicago.

It was the 21st triumph without defeat for Loyola, certainly good enough to deserve top national ranking in an average season. But since 1962-63 appears to be the year of the Bearcat, the Ramblers for the present must content themselves with playing second fiddle to top-ranked Cincinnati.

LA Next Olympic Site?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Los Angeles bolted to the forefront today in a behind-the-scenes struggle for the 1968 Olympic Games despite anguished protests by Detroit, which had been assured it was "in" but may wind up being eased out.

Los Angeles' chances were appreciably strengthened Tuesday and Detroit's proportionately weakened when the United States Olympic Committee was urged by its executive committee to reconsider the five cities bidding for the 1968 Olympics.

Theoretically, San Francisco, Philadelphia and Portland, Ore., also have been invited to present their cases before the committee on March 18 and 19 but officials from those three cities may not even show up because the competition actually has narrowed to Los Angeles and Detroit.

TURNER DAVIS

Sanford Negro Hits 100-Year Milestone

All the wonders of this modern age have come into existence during the life span of a Sanford Negro.

For he was born before the automobile, the electric light bulb, the radio, the airplane, television.

Turner Davis reached the century-mark last month. He was born when President Lincoln was in office . . . the man whose birthday we observed Tuesday. Turner Davis was 100 years old on Jan. 13. President Lincoln had been in office for two years when Turner Davis was born in "Georgia territory" on Jan. 13, 1863. And Turner says he was three years old when he and his family were freed from bondage. Turner was born into slavery.

When he was just a "boy child" Turner's family removed to "Florida territory," near Monticello. But long before the turn of the century Turner came to the Sanford area frequently to fish in Lake Monroe and the St. Johns River.

And then in 1901 he came to Sanford to stay. He has resided for many years at 1304 West 13th Street. A granddaughter now makes her home with him.

The accompanying photograph was taken by Herald cameraman Bill Vincent. Turner recalled that he worked as a fisherman for many years for Bill's grandfather and father. And he also recalled there was a severe storm the night Bill came into the world.

When he turned from fishing as a vocation to an avocation he often took young Bill out to teach him the rudiments. And now Bill writes a sports column for The Herald.

But Turner says he had to stop fishing about three years ago. "I caught more fish than they did . . . and they took my boats." "Who is 'they'?" "Those white fellows . . . they stole my boats, all three of them."

The centenarian said he used to do some farming as a sideline . . . and he is planning to put in a garden next to his home when the weather breaks.

Turner has a sense of humor. He recalled that a local judge years ago would overlook the matter of selling fish. But there was a change of court and Turner was brought before a strange judge. "They put me in jail," he laughed.

Quered as to his earliest recollection of any event of significance, Turner responded. "I remember the day President Garfield was shot . . . there was lots of excitement." (President Garfield was mortally wounded July 2, 1881, and died Sept. 19, 1881.)

During Turner's life span three presidents were assassinated and there have been five wars. President Lincoln was shot in 1865, President Garfield in 1881 and President McKinley in 1901. And the wars: The Civil War, Spanish-American War, World War I, World War II and the Korean conflict.

Turner's wife died in 1911 and he never remarried. He has a daughter, Nellie Trent, and three sons, Samuel Davis, in Sanford; Aaron, of Savannah, N. Y., and Joseph, of New Smyrna Beach. "But I had 11 head in all," Turner said. He also has six grandchildren. 16 great-grandchildren.

And two great-great-grandchildren.

For a man 100 years old, Turner is quite active. His hearing is slightly impaired and he wears glasses. He lost his teeth long ago.

Turner said his only serious illness was an attack of typhoid fever a number of years ago. He has never been hospitalized.

Since he was born in bondage, the reporter was curious as to how Turner could definitely establish his age. He explained that when he applied for an old age pension, officials looked into the family records, found his birth was recorded when he was one year old and that he should have been drawing a pension for the four years previous.

Turner is a religious man, being an active member of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, which observes the Sabbath on Saturday.

"Christ set the Sabbath," Turner avows. "He presented it to me and I accepted it. But it is His Holy Sabbath."

Vegetable Market

The New York City fruit and vegetable market was closed Tuesday, in observance of Lincoln's Birthday. In Philadelphia, crates of Florida cabbage sold for $3.00, with many fair quality and small at $2.00-$2.50. Celery, 2 to 3 dozen size, was $3.75-$4.00 and Chinese cabbage generally $2.50 for the best, with some fair $2.25. Endives ranged from $2.50-$3.00 per crate with some small sizes $2.00-$2.25. Escarole was generally only fair quality and ranged from $1.50-$2.25, mostly $1.75-$2.00. Most Florida Romaine lettuce sold for $2.25-$2.50 with a few better quality high as $3.00. Crates of 5 dozen bunches of curly parsley were $2.75-$3.00 and radishes were $1.00-$1.15 per basket of 30-6 oz. film bags.

In Central Florida yesterday offerings of most vegetables were light. Demand exceeded supply for celery, and prices rose to $2.75 per crate for 2 to 2½ dozen size, and $2.50 for 3 to 4 dozen. Cabbage brought $2.50 per crate and $2.00-$2.25 per 50 lb. sack. Crates of red cabbage were $2.00-$2.50 according to size. Carrots were $2.25 for mesh sacks containing 48-1 lb. film bags, and Chinese cabbage sold for $1.50 a crate and escarole sold for $1.25. Bunches of collards and turnips were $1.75 per dozen bunches, and bushel baskets of mustard and turnip greens were $1.50. Iceberg lettuce ranged from $2.00-$2.00 according to quality, and Romaine was $1.50-$2.00. Green onions were $1.00 a dozen bunches, parsley $2.00 for crates of 5 dozen bunches and radishes 65-75 cents per basket.

Shipments from Florida Monday included: Celery rail 25, truck 22; cabbage, rail 2, truck 41; escarole, rail 1, truck 9; lettuce, truck 4 and radishes truck 6, with no rail in either of the last two.

Local Girl To Appear In Twelfth Annual Jeanie Contest, Saturday

A replica of an 1854 ball gown will be worn by Miss Patty Glenn Johnson, when she appears in the Twelfth Annual Jeanie Contest to be held at Stephen Foster Memorial on Feb. 16.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. (Pat) Johnson, Patty has been frantically searching the fabric shops for just the right ribbons, lace and flowers as listed in the detailed description of the gown. The dress is to duplicate one believed to have been worn by the original Jeanie, Jane McDowell Foster.

Contestants were allowed to choose a pastel color most becoming to the individual, and Miss Johnson has chosen pink. The fabric is taffeta with an overskirt of point d'esprit. The bodice features an off-shoulder decollete, boned with featherbone. The yokes are cut on the bias, seamed in the center, using one and one-half yards of net for ruffle to be made double, with little fullness.

For that glamorous look of yesterday, the pattern calls for at least five widths of taffeta in the skirt, "six if possible." It is to be shaped at the top to avoid bulkiness at the waist and have a four-inch hem—"at least." The overskirt must be fuller than the taffeta and about one and a half yards longer than the underskirt to allow plenty of material when caught up with nosegays all around the voluminous skirt.

The nosebags are projects in themselves calling for white or tinted gardenias, camellias, or roses with a few lily of the valley. The ribbons must be hemstitched and cut with pleat edge, of two and a half to three inch width and at least sixteen to eighteen inches long. Each nosebag must have two streamers and "ends of ribbon shaped, not cut straight across."

Jeanies should wear their hair parted in the center, if it is becoming, according to information furnished by Mrs. Evelyn Foster Morneswick, closest living relative of Stephen Foster.

Queried recently as to how she feels about all the "fold-de-roi" connected with the Jeanie Contest, Patty flashed her famous smile and replied, "excited! I just know when I get there, it will be worth it all."

Patty will wear the 1854 ball gown for the afternoon audition session and also at the grand ball, when she will be escorted by Bedford Aiken, one of her childhood friends, who has also played piano accompaniment for her on numerous occasions.

The local soprano, who has just turned eighteen, is being sponsored in the contest by the federated music clubs of Winter Park and Orlando. She will be chaperoned by her mother, Mrs. C. W. Johnson and by her voice teacher, Mrs. Grace Sanford, of Winter Park.

The winner of the event will receive a $500 scholarship to be used to further her musical education only. Each maid will receive a $200 scholarship for the same purpose. Three out of state judges will decide the winners. Scoring sheets allow 55% for musical ability; 25% for appearance and photogenic qualities and 20% for stage presence.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: About four months ago a friend of ours came to us with a hard luck story. She wanted a divorce, so my husband paid for it. Then he invited her and her two small children to move in with us "for a while." We have a small house, three children and I am expecting again, so you know we are crowded. I go to work every day and this friend stays home and cares for all the children. I keep telling my husband we have to get this woman out of the house, but he says she's like a sister to him. People are talking. How do I get rid of her without hurting her feelings?
NERVOUS

DEAR NERVOUS: Since your husband invited her to live with you, he should tell her to make other arrangements. Remind him that he has enough family without adopting a "sister" and her two children. If you don't insist that this friend make her home elsewhere — and immediately — you'll wind up the working "sister" while she assumes the role of homemaker for your husband.

DEAR ABBY: Our 15-year-old boy is our problem. He won't do a thing unless he is paid for it. He worked last summer at a garage and we heard all over town what a good worker he was, but if we try to get him to mow the lawn or clean the basement or even his own room he will sneek out of the house before we can catch him. He is too big to spank and too young to throw out of the house bag and baggage (which is what his father thinks will cure him.)

Should we just put up with this kind of behavior until he is 18 and then let the Army train him?
CORNERED

DEAR CORNERED: Your son needs some affection and real understanding. Do you "order" him to do things, or do you ask him properly? I have yet to meet any normal 15-year-old boy who wouldn't respond to a little praise, a lot of love and a modest incentive.

DEAR ABBY: Since I don't care especially for diamonds, I do not want a diamond engagement ring. Is that the only official kind of ring to symbolize an engagement? Any suggestions?
SOON TO WED

DEAR SOON: It's the most traditional engagement stone, but ANY ring can symbolize an engagement. Since you don't like diamonds, how about an oyster's best friend — the pearl?

CONFIDENTIAL TO BRIDGE-PORT: I am STILL disgusted with pointed-toe shoes. As one woman put it, "The only thing you can say for them is they are wonderful for killing bugs in corners."

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

If you look around, you will often find a sure fire play for an apparently doubtful contract.

Playing at four hearts, South will ruff the third diamond lead and play his ace and king of trumps. When East shows out South will have a certain trump loser and at first thought will decide a successful spade finesse is necessary if he wants to make his contract.

A look at the East-West hands will show that the spade finesse is not going to work and if the South player relies on it, he'll be complaining about bad luck. It will be unnecessary bad luck because South can make his contract by an elimination play. After cashing the second heart South should run three rounds of clubs, then lead a heart.

West will win with the queen and will have to lead something. He won't have any hearts or diamonds so his choice will be between a club and a spade. The spade will be taking South's finesse for him and South will make his jack of spades. On a club South will ruff in dummy and discard his jack of spades. Either way, South makes his contract.

Ebenezer WSCS Plans Banquet For MYF Groups

The WSCS of Ebenezer Methodist Church is giving a Valentine banquet for the Junior and Senior MYF members, this Thursday at the church.

Serving will start at 6:30 p.m. and a turkey dinner with all the trimmings will be enjoyed by the young people. Each one is asked to invite a guest for the evening.

Decorations will carry out the Valentine theme and following the dinner Valentines will be exchanged by the group. Rev. John Hires, pastor of the Grace Methodist Church will also be a guest and speak to the young people.

The banquet is planned as a gesture of appreciation for the assistance given by the two groups with various church activities.

chief of the Population Reference Bureau, accounts for the bureau's prediction that though there are more potential mothers in the 50 states than ever before, the birth rate will probably continue to fall as it has been doing for the past four years.

If the large family is losing some of its charm for young married women, it's no wonder. With all of the demands, made on young homemakers today, it is hard for a mother to rear a large family unless she can afford household help.

Today's homemaker is expected to maintain such high standards in such matters as housekeeping, home decorating, entertaining, companionship with her husband, staying personally attractive, "doing" for her children, and in taking part in community affairs that she can't possibly do all that is expected of her, without help, if she has a large family.

On top of those requirements, many of today's young wives know that once their children reach school age they will have to work in order to assure their children of the "advantages" they want them to have. The more children, the more difficult it is for the wife to take on that outside job to help pay for a home, put something aside for college educations, and so on.

Another thing: today's young husbands often are more interested in secure jobs with a limited future than in taking a chance by aiming higher.

So the young wife knows from the start that the future isn't going to offer a great deal more than the present. She is inclined to think of family size in terms of how many children her husband is going to be able to provide for with his secure, little job.

If the large family doesn't have quite the appeal it once had, it's no wonder.

Peterson Stresses Long Range CD Program

Emphasis for the initiation of a long range or permanent program of Civil Defense to protect citizens of Seminole County in a national emergency—even to nuclear warfare—was stressed by A. B. Peterson Sr., director of the County's Civil Defense, in a lengthy letter to the County Commission Tuesday.

Peterson pointed to the need of a sheltered command post, communications quarters, training area and a headquarters office.

The Commission took the letter under advisement for study and for consideration at its next meeting. The full letter follows:

If Civil Defense in this county is to continue to approach every emergency on a crash basis and then forget about it until the next alarm, the element of time and lack of basic requirements will defeat its purpose if it is a real emergency.

For the past few years the Civil Defense organization in this county in turn has been buffeted about, ignored, barely tolerated and even ridiculed excepting, of course, during those periods of local or national stress and then Civil Defense has been expected and has endeavored to fulfill the objects of its existence — protecting the lives and the property of the citizens of Seminole County.

We have just passed through such a period of national tension and even though we have well-coordinated plans for defense these plans are only as good as the ability of the Civil Defense staff to properly activate them and to carry them out. Seminole County is lacking in the ability to utilize these plans to the fullest extent because the means have not been provided to put them into effect. We feel the people of this county are entitled to every possible means available to help them survive, and these means should be provided at once.

Civil Defense should be a long range program, not a momentary requirement, and it should be equipped now and maintained in a state of permanent operational readiness.

We are living in a world of reality—not a Jules Verne dream. Today we have 100 megaton weapons, the energy yield of 100 million tons of TNT; we have nuclear powered submarines capable of going under the polar ice cap; we have man-guided missiles capable of traveling 17,500 miles per hour; we have space vehicles communicating from a distance of 33 million miles. From now on, we must live with these things, together with such new discoveries that are on the scientific horizon. In addition, know-how of nuclear development is no longer confined to our country. Your President has advised that this knowledge will soon be in the hands of a dozen powers—some of them undoubtedly irresponsible. History reveals that every new method of destruction has been used and there is no reason to believe that history will not repeat itself. It is possible that the stage may be set for the use of these weapons. Seemingly the situation in Cuba is cloudy and insecure. Relationships with this country in the Western Hemisphere and Europe and Asia are worrisome, to say the least. Therefore, as long as we know that we have the potential means to destroy ourselves and that warfare continues to be a world-wide threat; then it behooves the people of this county to take such permanent measures as will give them the greatest chance of survival.

Survival in Seminole County, the same as most small communities, is a personal matter. It is absurd to put it on a basis of "We will survive if the Federal or State government will pay for it." If we survive, it will be because we are foresighted and conscious of the dangers that lie ahead and do those things now that will provide us with the means to protect ourselves if the threat becomes reality. Complacency, or a "let the government do it" attitude may save us a few dollars now, but it might be at the expense of our lives later, and we mean OUR lives and OUR survival. We are not talking about the survival of some unknown, underprivileged alien from Asia or Africa. It is YOU right here in Seminole County.

Too long we have permitted ourselves to drift with the ebb and flow of these national or local tensions. We need the material necessary to make our planned program properly. A cross on a map indicating the location of an emergency facility is only a mark on a map unless such facility is actually there and supplied and manned by the proper personnel. To select it and equip it after the emergency arrives means loss of lives not saving lives.

We need a proper and permanent headquarters—a headquarters with sufficient room for training personnel—room to install communication equipment, office equipment and a sheltered command post for use in case of actual emergency. We need a warning system. If such a system is obsolete then we need the substitute for it, whatever that may be. If NEAR (National Emergency Alarm Repeater) is meant as a substitute authorities advise that it may take years to perfect and install this system and then it will only be effective if you are near a power outlet. Except by a centrally controlled warning system, there seems to be no other way to warn our citizens to seek protective covering. With the advance of methods of destruction, the time of warning will become shorter and shorter. We need all the time we can get. Also we need additional local communication systems in order to better the inter-county liaison. To carry all this out, we need a full time paid staff of at least two persons. Civil Defense has become of age and now should become a regular responsible department of our county organization.

Emphasis again should be placed on the initiation of a long range or permanent program. The theme should be "Survival." Surely this Commission is conscious of this always present threat. We cannot take the position that a few of our dollars are more valuable than our lives. The citizens of this county will not subscribe to that philosophy, we are sure.

In closing your attention is called to the many key personnel in Seminole County who have devoted their time and energies over the years in organizing and perfecting their roles in the Seminole County Survival Plan and to the Navy command and personnel who have assisted us. It is because of their loyalty and their willingness to serve, their belief in the importance of this program, that throughout the county we have a team and a plan to safeguard us. They need the tools to work with.

We earnestly recommend the above program and ask that your Commission consider seriously the cause of survival for the citizens of Seminole County and the premises that Civil Defense should be a permanent and recognized arm of our county government.

If You're Bored, Try This Polar Bear Safari

United Press International Bored with bird-watching, boating, badminton? Sated with swimming, sailing, skiing? Tired of tennis, tea parties, the twist?

You can get away from it all—for two weeks anyway—in the Land of the Midnight Sun. You can explore the tundra and icy wastes of the Arctic or, if that sounds too tame, go hunting for the polar bears.

Seven polar bear safaris are planned for 1963, the Norwegian National Travel Office reports. Each hunter is licensed for two kills and is says "no hunter has failed to bag at least one" during the 14-day big game hunts around the islands of Spitzbergen in the Arctic Ocean.

If you are lucky and fill your bag of the huge, white bears early, you can try fishing for salmon or white away the time by going sight-seeing through the rugged land of rocky fjords, mountain peaks and glaciers.

Jumping-off point for the safaris is Tromso in northern Norway.

Hunting parties are transported to the islands about 400 miles north, aboard the MS Fortuna, a rugged diesel-powered vessel. The all-inclusive rate includes the services of seasoned guides. Hunters provide their own guns and ammunition.

Tromso also is the starting point for something new and different in cruises: "Arctic Discovery tours."

Only three such tours have been scheduled for 1963 and each expedition will be restricted to 16 explorers. In command of the exploration parties will be Capt. Finn Ronne, formerly of the U. S. Navy, a veteran explorer of the Arctic and the Antarctic.

The itinerary follows the routes of such polar pioneers as Byrd, Ellsworth and Amundsen from Tromso to Spitzbergen. There will be shore excursions to arctic settlements and glaciers, then north across the flat parallel into the drifting pack ice only a few hundred miles from the North Pole.

The return journey includes a call at the North Cape and Hammerfest, which claims to be the northernmost town in the world.

But unlike the polar pioneers, you make the trek not by sled or snowshoe but aboard the sturdy MS Norval, veteran of 10 south polar expeditions.

The rate for the 15-day expedition includes everything even cocktail parties aboard ship for the intrepid adventurers.

New Mark?
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Dan Gurney of Riverside, Calif., will drive an American Shelby AC Cobra Ford in the second running of the Daytona Continental at the International Speedway this Sunday. Gurney, who won this event last year in a British Lotus 19 with an average speed of 103.641 miles per hour, said he hoped to break this mark over the 3.81 mile course.

STAN FREEMAN

Sanford To Hear Freeman

Stan Freeman, brilliant pianist and actor who combines a biting sense of humor with prodigious talent at the keyboard, will appear on the second concert series program of the season, Monday at 8 p.m. at Seminole High School.

(Members of the Seminole DeBary Entertainment Assn. are reminded that their membership tickets are transferable, and are invited to let friends or relatives use them if they are not able to attend.)

The droll Mr. Freeman uses his piano as a springboard into the deep waters of a keen sense of humor, broad in scope, somewhat satiric in bent.

He has played with such leading orchestras as Percy Faith and Andre Kostelanetz, and appeared frequently on both NBC and CBS radio.

Many guest appearances on television shows such as the Steve Allen Show, the Garry Moore Show and the Today Show have brought Stan Freeman very much before the eyes of the music-loving public.

Numerous recordings on the Columbia, MGM and Epic labels have also been made. It was his nimble fingers on the harpsichord that was heard on the recording of "Come

One My House" with Rosemary Clooney.

Baptist Youths Honored At Party

A Sweetheart Banquet, using the theme of Valentine's and "Young Hearts For Christ" was held at the Pinecrest Baptist Church Saturday for the young people of the church.

A program which included a skit by the Intermediate group, a monologue by Mrs. Kay Buckner, singing by Charles Rabun and a piano solo by Sam Copeland were among the highlights of the evening. Eddie Kosky served as master of ceremonies and Mrs. Louis Kosky directed the music.

The main address was given by Jack Mabry, Baptist Student Union Director at Stetson University.

The entrance to the banquet hall was a trellis, which was covered with red and white flowers and greenery. A potted plant added to the garden scene and red hearts, cupids, flowers and candles decorated the tables where Mrs. C. O. Todd directed parents in the serving of a delicious banquet.

Law Behind Science—Warren

ATLANTA (UPI)—Chief Justice Earl Warren said Tuesday that law has not kept pace with science in the on-rushing space age and cautioned that man can destroy himself unless the two are made partners for useful outlets.

In a Lincoln's Birthday address in the huge coliseum at Georgia Tech, Warren did not mention the civil rights issue which has been a major topic of Supreme Court decisions since he went on the bench shortly before the 1954 school desegregation decision.

Drive Underway

Members of the Oviedo Women's Club are conducting their annual Oviedo Area Combined Drive for funds. The drive opened last Saturday and will be concluded Thursday.

Most of the weight of the head is in front of the occipital bone and the head is held erect by the neck muscles. If a person falls asleep when he is sitting, these muscles relax and the head falls forward in a nod.

Art Show Rules Listed

"There will be a few new rules to be observed when the local artists display their latest paintings at the annual art exhibit at the Civic Center on Feb. 21," Mrs. Mildred Babcock, Art Assn. president, said today.

All work must be original. Each artist is limited to five pictures which must be either framed or matted. There have been application blanks sent to each member. The exhibitor must fill in the blank and return it to Joseph Mathieux, Box 21, Geneva.

Pictures must be brought to the Civic Center Feb. 23 between the hours of 9 a.m. and 12 noon. Saturdays from the State Art Association, of which the Sanford Art Association is an associate member, will judge the pictures.

Bryant Paves Tax Hike Way

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant broke precedent and went before the people of Florida in a television appearance Monday night to pave the way for tax increases this year.

It was the first time in recent history that a governor of Florida chose such a way to soften up taxpayers for a tax-raising session of the Legislature.

Although he did not mention tax hikes specifically, Bryant's computer-aided talk had clear meaning as he went through the tremendous outlays of money during the past few years that kept the state government in business.

People Come First....

Amazement spills over all bounds! It erupts because of the reasons the Federal Court in Miami gave for accepting the reapportionment plan that came from the state's rural stacked Legislature, and which is under attack so severe the court must know that it will have to be heard in the U. S. Supreme Court.

The three Judges looked back, but they failed to look forward, in deciding that the plan the last special session concocted was fair to the people.

For instance, the court looked back with longing at the plan the majority of the people rejected last November and said:

"The rejected constitutional amendment would have provided for 46 Senators and 135 Representatives. In some respects it might have advantages over the statutory plan now before us.

"For example, in our former opinion we thought the suggestion to give a single county more than one Senator was unwise. We still have doubts as to the desirability of doing so. The statute gives two Senators to Dade County."

Here is the court saying that Dade County which has a million people and produces a great bulk of the state's operating money, is supposed to have no more voice in the Senate than rural Nassau and Baker counties, with a combined population of some 24,000.

Dade County produces 200 times more taxes than these little counties, and yet it is supposed to fight through only two voices in the Senate with Senators in each of 32 small county districts which would have less than 100,000 people in each district.

Much is made of Dade County and the unfairness of the apportionment now blessed by a High Court means to them. Let's look at one of the other big counties — Hillsborough. There, nearly 400,000 people paid $36.5 million in taxes in 1961 to help support state government.

In contrast, the 37 smallest counties of the state with slightly less than 300,000 total population, paid $30.3 million in taxes last year.

But here's the real point: Hillsborough got back $24.9 million in state aid, the other 32 counties got back a total of $57.4 million.

How, then, can these Judges be so concerned with county boundaries?

The judges, in their decision, put it this way also in looking back: "The historical basis of legislative representation as it has obtained in Florida since statehood should not be completely overturned except upon a strong showing of a deprivation of percent assessment law.

There is a law of economics too, and as far back as 1947 the Florida Citizens Tax Committee made a study of the state's tax structure and growth trends, and warned that the state must begin to think of the needs of the growing urban areas. It showed that most of the property taxes, special taxes, excise taxes and licenses and fees, even 16 years ago, were coming from the cities and it recommended drastic measures to give them more power over their distribution, including a new Constitution, local government commissions to study municipal needs and a 100 percent assessment law.

But the Legislature wasn't interested because the majority bloc was enjoying its dependence on geographical control through county lines.

The court should look back just a little way to another idea in state government — the U. S. Constitution intended. It was spoken by LeRoy Collins on his inauguration as Governor in 1957: "People come first..."

The judges also should have looked forward in considering their action on a plan which still discriminates against people.

It must be submitted to a vote of the people. They've thrown out such false plans before — even the "letter" one that was on the 1962 ballot. We believe they'll reject this one too.

If the Legislature tries to hold to the statutory provision under which it will operate in 1963 when it convenes in 1965, what then? There will be more lawsuits, more anger and possibly utter chaos.

So Florida's case on reapportionment remains one for more enlightened consideration by that higher court which is saying to the states: "Give representation to people, not pine trees, not rocks and rills, not fields of grain — but to people."

Cake Controversy Grows

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Like others who dine regularly at the Capitol, I have been following the Senate's crab cake controversy with mounting interest and rising gurgles.

The protagonist in the issue is Sen. J. Glenn Beall, a Maryland Republican and seafood connoisseur, who feels that his home state was libeled by the menu in the Senate restaurant.

Specifically, he objected to the christening of one of the dishes listed on the menu as "Maryland crab cakes."

Linking Maryland's fair name to the fried blobs that were being fobbed off under a crab cake alias was a slur on the free state and adjacent waters, Beall told, or tolled, the Senate.

He voices his protest in a ringing oration that undoubtedly will cause him to be remembered as the crustacean Patrick Henry. I thought it ranked in eloquence with Sen. Everett M. Dirksen's famous speech to spring flowers.

The Senate chef was offered an "authentic" recipe for Maryland crab cakes, but he pointed out that it could not be used without upping the price.

It calls for the cakes to be composed entirely of crab meat whereas in the dish as presently constituted the crab meat is mixed with cracker crumbs.

Crackers are, of course, cheaper than crabs, being more plentiful and easier to catch.

I certainly agree with Beall that the Senate crab cakes could stand an overhauling, but at the same time I have some reservations about the adoption of an "authentic" recipe.

In the House restaurant, the menu carries an item listed as "genuine chile con carne." One spoonful will make you wish that you had been served the imitation.

Be that as it may, Beall's concern for his state's gastronomic reputation started me to speculating what might happen if other statesmen took up the culinary cudgels on behalf of their native lands.

For instance, the Wednesday menu in the House restaurant featured "Swiss steak." The government of Switzerland might wish to lodge a protest about that through its legation here.

The same bill of fare listed "French-fried potatoes," which could easily arouse the animosity of Gen. De Gaulle. There likewise was a "Spanish omelette," which could incur the wrath of Gen. Franco. Young Sen. Ted Kennedy has said he is interested in doing something for Massachusetts. A golden opportunity is presented by the Senate restaurant's "Boston cream pie."

For that matter, a "billed New England dinner" served this week in the House restaurant would provide an issue for the entire Kennedy clan.

NEW ARRIVALS ON EASY STREET

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Dickie's parents are actually encouraging him in later juvenile delinquency. Unless children develop respect for their superiors they tend to have a flippant regard for authority of all sorts, including codified laws. Take a lesson from the military psychology regarding respect for superiors.

CASE 0-457: Dickie B. aged 7, is the only child of a doctoring parent.

"Dr. Crane," his grandfather began, "I think Dickie is not being trained properly."

"For example, his parents let him call them by their first name. Thus, instead of saying Mamma, Dickie calls his mother Betty. And he refers to his Daddy as Paul."

"Don't you think it is wise to teach a child to use a certain amount of deference in speaking to adults?"

Many parents (and grandparents, too) seem to think it is cute when toddlers address them by the latter's first name.

But that is a mistake in child rearing! For a good parent should not encourage a youngster to break down the normal social barriers that indicate respect for elders.

In the Army and other branches of military service, we always insist that privates salute their superior officers.

And officers even salute each other, with the lesser officer initiating the mutual salute.

You don't hear a Marine calling General Shoup by the intimate informal name, "Dave!"

There is a valid psychological reason for this emphasis on maintaining decorum and respect for superiors.

Parents are superiors to their children so the youngsters should instantly be taught to honor that superiority.

Part of the lawlessness and juvenile delinquency in America has been produced by the general breakdown in teaching children respect for their elders.

And it stems in part from such apparently innocent actions as encouraging toddlers to use the first names of dignified adults in their own home.

Furthermore, when grown cousins or even neighbors visit your home, don't permit youngsters to employ the first names of such distant relatives or adult friends.

Instead, teach your children to say "Uncle Dave" or "Aunt Betty" even though there is no blood kinship.

In the small town near which we have our summer home in Indiana, a bad village habit has been allowed to develop, for the parents often let their children address dignified adults by first names.

And the parishioners even permit their youngsters to call the local ministers by their first names, too!

In fact, some of the clergy have erroneously urged the use of first names, at least on the part of adults, but this quickly carries over to the children.

Such informality is unwise and ultimately will react to the detriment of the clergyman, as well as other dignified adults, such as teachers, doctors and even businessmen.

As an axiom of personnel psychology, we urge the salutary of superior officers, both in business as well as the military.

And the use of "Uncle" or "Aunt" fits into this same rule, even when applied to adult non-relatives.

No please send for the 200-point "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, and learn how to prepare your child for successful adulthood.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this news paper, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

'Jet Tummy' Hitting Airline Stewardesses

LONDON (UPI) — Stewardesses on high-altitude transatlantic flights are being plagued by what they call "jet tummy" that swells them up like balloons, it was reported here Sunday.

It is painful, the girls say, and sometimes it takes up to 24 hours before their waistlines get back to normal.

"It starts when we are in the air and the swelling often lasts for the whole day," an Irish stewardess who works on the transatlantic jets explained.

"Some girls can't bear the pain and I have known some to slip off their girdles in the galley in the back of the plane halfway between London and New York," she said.

According to a Dublin doctor, loosening clothes is just what the girls ought to do to ease the trouble.

"Everyone swells to a certain extent when they fly, but stewardesses seem to notice it more. If they are wearing a tight girdle, the chances are they will swell more," he said.

The doctor said the pain and swelling was caused by gases in the stomach expanding as much as 50 percent, depending on the pressure in the plane cabin.

"In some cases, inflammation is set off," he said. "There are no serious after-effects, though."

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — It may quiet down a little later on, but right now Uncle Sam is expected to become a No. 1 whipping boy in the Canadian political campaign leading up to the April 8 elections. This is one result of Conservative Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's ouster on a no-confidence vote, following his refusal to arm Canadian Bomarc missiles with U. S. nuclear warheads.

Many responsible Canadians, however, recognizing the bad aftereffects of an "anti-U. S." campaign at this time, are cautioning against this as international political nonsense.

While U. S. State Department and Pentagon officials still trying to manage the news instead of just giving it out — are reluctant to talk about this for fear of stirring up more charges of interfering in Canadian politics, Canadian officials in Washington are perfectly frank in saying that relations between all ranks of the two countries' armed forces couldn't be better.

As a matter of fact, the Permanent Joint Board on Defense, Canada - United States - PJBD — was a meeting in San Diego, of all places, and not on the unarmed, 4,000-mile border between the two countries, when the hot political exchange between Ottawa and Washington took place. The military couldn't have been caught further off base or more unprepared for a build-up of tensions.

PJBD was established more than 20 years ago by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and the late Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King. It functioned effectively all through World War II.

After the war, co-operation was carried further with the building of three radar defense lines against possible Russian surprise attack across the Arctic.

There has been the closest Army, Navy and Air Force cooperation between the two countries. Generals and admirals know each others' plans and there are exchanges of personnel running into the hundreds, of all ranks.

If Canada tried to make everything for its own military forces, it couldn't produce in quantity sufficient to cut costs, so Canada buys much of its military equipment from the United States.

In turn, Canadian manufacturers bid on many U. S. defense contracts to supply both countries or as subcontractors. This is made easier by the fact that many U. S. manufacturers have Canadian affiliates.

Canada spent about $360 million for U. S. defense supplies last year and the United States spent about $125 million in Canada. If U. S. uranium ore purchases in Canada are included in mutual defense operations, however, the exchange is roughly in balance.

U. S.-Canadian co-operation on nuclear development began during World War II with the first contracts for uranium ores. Those contracts began to phase out in 1963 as U. S. domestic and other free world supplies were discovered.

Canadian nuclear science developed right along with U. S. know-how. But Canada early decided against trying to make its own nuclear weapons as too costly.

Instead, the Canadian Defense Ministry adopted the U. S. Bomarc as its defense missile and built two bases, one north of Ottawa, the other near North Bay. It was understood all along that these missiles would have nuclear warheads (furnished by the United States) and there was no fuss about it.

But about this time the "ban-the-bomb" movement gathered strength in Canada. Foreign Minister Howard Green opposed nuclear armaments on the ground that it gave Canada greater international stature to be able to build its own bombs.

For over a year Diefenbaker has held up the decision to arm Canada with nuclear warheads although this did not make sense to his own military leaders. This is what really brought on the present crisis in the Canadian government.

Letters

Editor Sanford Herald

Dear Sir

On January 29, as we were returning from Orlando on Hwy. 17-92 my sister, Mrs. Helen Meisch, suffered a fatal heart attack.

Will you please print this letter so that the people who were so wonderfully kind and who did so much to help me may know how much I appreciate all they did?

There were three Navy men who gave her artificial respiration, a lieutenant who went for the ambulance, a young civilian who gave her mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and a boy on a bicycle who wanted to help and who called my family to have them meet me at the hospital.

Thank you.

Sincerely

Irene B. Ludwig

Commiss 'Hijack' Venezuela Ship

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI)—U. S. Navy units today sighted a Venezuelan freighter hijacked by Communists in the Caribbean. Venezuela alerted warships to close in on the freighter.

Informed sources here said American flying boats sighted the 3,126-ton Anzoategui, bound for Houston, Tex., at the time of its capture, at dawn.

The ship was reported to have been sighted on a line about halfway between the Venezuelan state of Falcon and Puerto Rico.

Venezuelan warships were believed steaming out to intercept it. However, there was the possibility that U. S. warships might do the job.

The Anzoategui was hijacked by members of the anti-government National Liberation Forces.

FALN who claimed in a radio message to be pursuing "peaceful political ends." The message bore nine signatures of men in the raiding party which seized the freighter and said all aboard were safe and unharmed, indicating the hijacking was accomplished by surprise and without violence.

SEMINOLE COUNTY and Florida are "doing very well in influenza-wise," Dr. Frank Leone, county health director, reported today.

"Let's keep our fingers crossed that it stays that way," the doctor said, when queried about recent national and state reports that residents should brace for an epidemic of Asiatic influenza.

Dr. Leone recalled that last October the U. S. surgeon general announced evidence pointed to a pending flu outbreak, and especially warned that precautions (flu shots) should be taken by pregnant women, oldsters and persons suffering with respiratory ailments.

"However," the health director said, "there is no apparent cause for alarm at this time that points to epidemic proportions in Seminole County."

He advised that the danger point is at the passing stage for this season and that flu shots are not necessarily needed now, since they do not become effective for two or three weeks.

A government statement said the men, as yet unidentified, were seized somewhere along Camaguey province's north coast. They were said to have claimed to be on a skin-diving expedition.

The statement said the men were being "subjected to investigation" to determine the reason for their presence on Cuban soil.

The government-controlled press expressed the suspicion they were "paying the way for infiltration of Central Intelligence Agency counter-revolutionaries."

ST. AUGUSTINE (UPI)—A vice president of the strike-bound Florida East Coast Railway has sworn out a peace warrant against another vice president, accusing him of making death threats.

County Judge Charles C. Mathis Jr. said today an affidavit was filed with him Wednesday night by C. D. Lane Jr., charging William A. Baker did "without cause or reason, threaten to take the life of the respondent or do him serious bodily harm."

Mathis said Baker was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Jack Hughes and brought before the judge, who set bond at $500 and scheduled a peace bond hearing Feb. 25.

No details of the dispute were available, and neither party would discuss the matter, but reports were it stemmed from a telephone call made by Baker to Lane Wednesday night.

Fink was taken to a Woodruff, Wis. hospital where doctors said he was in good condition after his ordeal.

After he was pulled from the well by a belt hooked around his chest he embraced his wife and said, "I'm okay, honey."

Fink sipped warm milk and smoked cigarettes while rescue workers struggled to free him.

His brother, Lawrence, stayed at his side and when a second and third cave-in buried Fink to the neck his brother clawed away the dirt with his bare hands.

Gunfire Erupts In Baghdad

BAGHDAD, Iraq (UPI)—The first serious outbreak of fighting since Sunday erupted today on both sides of the Tigris River which runs through the heart of this Iraqi capital.

Newsmen could not check details of the fighting because of a curfew which restricted their movements, but it was believed to be between the newly-installed revolutionary forces and diehard Communists who oppose them.

Bursts of automatic weapons fire and the crack of rifles could be heard distinctly on both sides of the Tigris in what appeared to be a renewal of the bloody conflict that started last Friday.

The outbreak came shortly after Col. Abiel Salam Aref, the revolutionary government's provisional president, held his first news conference—a session that ended in a near riot.

Board members set March 13 as date for a public hearing on Gazil's request.

Amendment to the zoning code was approved by the board, directing that adequate drainage will be required hereafter for new buildings, with paved areas, occupying 25,000 or more square feet.

The board approved three resolutions and sent them to the County Commission for final approval on these matters:
