LAGRUDER HAS MORE REBUKES FOR U.S. NAVY

Former Commandant
Enlarges On Other Charges Before Investigating Group says Naval Men
Lack Initiative

Every Detail Worked Out For Them As If They Were Clerks

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—(INS)—Enlarging his charge of "waste and inefficiency" of the Navy, Rear Admiral Thomas P. MaGruder, who was deposed as Commandant of the Philadelphia Navy yard, told the House Naval Affairs Committee today that the high ranking naval officers at sea and ashore were made rubber stamps by bureau chiefs in Washington.

"A fair example was a recent experiment in delivering mail to the steamer Leviathan at sea," said MaGruder. "The Washington bureau issued orders to me as commander of the naval aircraft factory to furnish a plane and a commander of the fleet to furnish ships for protection of the factory."

"Every single detail was contained in the order. It might as well have been transmitted to a clerk. Absolutely no discretion was left the admiral directed to carry out an experiment, and I think we would have done a better job," MaGruder also charged. "Two hundred destroyers, built after 17-18, are rotting in the navy yards, when they could be put in service at a saving to the navy. It costs $3.75 for every one dollar's worth of work done in a Navy yard, because of inefficiency. The new York yard is expending $400,000 for repairing a ship, and a private yard did the same job on another ship for $250,000."

Many yards were established here ago by "logrolling" in Congress. Many Navy hospitals, not needed since the war, should be transferred to the veterans bureau. The Navy Department recommended the construction of an unnecessary Naval Base at Alameda, Calif.

When MaGruder charged that a yard was built at Port Royal, S. C. thru "logrolling," Rep. Butler (R) of Pa., chairman, remarked "and they couldn't get a ship to because they didn't own the yard in front of it."

Col. Turk was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Eleanor Turk, both of them were delighted with Sanford and praised the waterfront as one of the most attractive to be found on the St. Johns River. Col. Turk is commander of the Jacksonville yacht club and an enthusiastic yachtsman.

English Church Head Asks People To Be Patient In Rejection Of Prayerbook

LONDON, Dec. 16.—The Archbishop of Canterbury, head of the Church of England, today appealed to all members to "exercise patience and charity and avoid any precipitate words or actions in protest against the rejection of the new prayer book by the House of Commons. The vote on the prayer book was 247 to 205.

Rejection of the prayer book by Commons followed its acceptance by the House of Lords. The new prayer book was the result of 20 years of labor by prelates and it was supported by nearly all the bishops of the church.

BOND SALE FAILS TO DRAW BID FOR THE ENTIRE ISSUE

Eldridge and Company Likely To Buy Bonds At Private Sale Because Time Will Not Permit Readvertising Issue

The City of Sanford's proposed sale of $150,000 worth of refunding bonds failed to attract a single bid for the whole issue and the City Commission yesterday afternoon was compelled to adjourn without disposing of the securities. One bid was opened but that was for only a part of the issue $10,000, and the Commissioners rejected it without any further ado.

The lone offer came from Farnson & Son & Company of New York which made its bid through the First National Bank of this city. An offer of 95,565 for $100,000 was made with the interest at five and a half per cent. The bid was accompanied by a request for a short option on the remainder of the issue to be bought at the same figure.

Despite the fact that no other offers were made, there were several bond buyers present at the meeting, none of whom publicly made known their desire to buy the issue and none of whom had any remarks to address to the Commissioners.

With the failure to dispose of the securities, the City is now faced with the prospect of selling them at private sale within and their willingness is said to be based upon a desire to protect their own interests.

Although nothing definite has been done as yet toward holding the private sale, the arrangements are expected to be consummated within the next few days.

The Commission received a wire during the meeting from Eldridge and Company asking for information on the situation and the City Attorney was instructed to answer it. It is possible that city officials may have to go to New York to complete the negotiations although Mayor Housholder said nothing definite on this matter had been decided.

Funeral Rites Are Held On Thursday For L. H. Connelly Jr.

Funeral services for Lee Hawkins Connelly Jr., aged three years, were held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Connelly on Park Avenue. Those in charge of the final rites were the Rev. Mortimer Glover, rector of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, and Rev. Frank Marler, pastor of the Christian Church. Burial followed in Lakewood Cemetery.

Handsome floral offerings were sent by friends of the family and the tiny casket was covered with a blanket of pink rose buds and narcissus edged with pink gladioli.

A quartet composed of Mrs. Claud Herndon, Miss Helen Vernay, Joe Gosham and S. R. Dighton sang "Safe In The Arms Of Jesus" during the services at the home. At the cemetery the quartet rendered "Shall We Gather At The River," "In The Garden," and "Asleep In Jesus." Mrs. Herndon sang "A Little Pink Rose."

Pallbearers were: Ernest Wimblish, Henry Blair Wimblish, Maurice Wimblish and Albert Connelly, all of them uncles of the deceased.

The baby is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Connelly and grand-parents Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Connelly of Sanford and Mr. and Mrs. John Wimblish of Orlando.

TAX CUT PLAN TO BE PASSED ON BY SENATE

Badly Battered Bill Passes
House By Virtual Dictation
Of Democratic Leaders
And Goes To Senate

Many Changes Are Made In Reduction

Further Alterations Expected
By Senate Fighting To Repeal Inheritance Levy

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—(INS)—A badly battered tax reduction bill was sent to the Senate today, following passage by the House under the virtual dictation of Democratic leaders.

Carrying an estimated total reduction of $289,735,000, the bill far exceeds the limit of reduction set by President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon that the Treasury could not stand a cut greater than $225,000,000.

Further changes are expected to be made in the Senate where a hard drive will be waged for repeal of the Federal Inheritance Tax. This would cut about $30,000,000 more from the nation's revenues.

Although Republican leaders of the House were disheartened with the bill, they refused to support a movement to send it back to a committee and hope to retrieve their losses in the Senate and in conference committees.

President Coolidge, it was declared by Congressmen who have talked with him, has threatened to veto the measure as a menace to sound finances of the country.

As passed by the House the bill provides: Corporation and life insurance income tax rate cut from 13-1/2 to 11-1/2 per cent, with sliding scale for corporations with incomes under $15,000 annually and exemption of $3,000 for corporations with annual income of $25,000 or under. The sliding scale is: 5 per cent on incomes up to $7,000; 7 per cent, $7,000 to $12,000; 9 per cent, $12,000 to $14,000.

CHINESE TROOPS ARREST RUSSIAN SOVIET'S CONSUL

Fourteen Soviet Military
Advisers Are Arrested And Executed; Condemned Made To Parade Before Execution

SHANGHAI, Dec. 16.—(INS)—Government troops at Canton have arrested the Soviet Russian Consul from Hong Kong this afternoon. The arrests were made when the Soviet consular authorities disregarded a demand for the surrender of Gen. Yeh Ting, communist commander, to take refuge in the Soviet Consulate when the Communists were driven from Canton.

Gen. Yeh Ting, who recently seized Swatow, and Gen. Tang Yen-ta, a former member of the Hankow Government, commanded the Communists at Canton in the three days' fighting with government forces.

Fourteen Soviet military advisers were arrested and four were executed. Before the executions ten of the prisoners were paraded thru the streets of Canton.

Sensational reports are coming from Canton as to reprisals taken by government troops and civilians after the defeat of the Reds. According to one report, a score of women were seized stripped of their clothing and burned alive in the presence of a huge crowd. Oil soaked cotton cloth was wrapped about the victims' bodies before the torch was applied.

The Soviet Consulate in Shanghai was closed to all visitors today. Consul General Koslovsky told International News Service he had no comment to make upon the Chinese nationalists' ultimatum that all members of the Soviet consular organization must leave Shanghai within one week. "The reply to the ultimatum will come from Moscow," said Koslovsky.

Negro Slaying Case Runs Into Second Day In Court Here

The case of Annie Bellamy,
Annie Irene Bellamy, Davis Bellamy and Sadie Jackson, negroes charged jointly with the slaying of Albert Gardner on June 26 of this year at Midway, was still before the circuit court today after occupying all of Thursday's session.

The state had not completed its case by noon today and the defense is said to have a number of witnesses to testify before it rests its case. There are indications that the case may run over into tomorrow's session but court attaches were hopeful that it might go to the jury late today.

Millard B. Smith was prosecuting the quartet and the firm of DeCottes and Spencer was counsel for the defense.

The case, one of the three murder cases on the court's docket, attracted a large number of negroes to the court room. The incident against the quartet charges all of them with aiding and abetting the others.

Members of the jury hearing the case are: L. B. Mann, T. B. Kinard, E. L. Zimmerman, A. H. Middleton, D. P. Drummond, C. F. Chapman, K. W. Robbins, J. B. Brice, Howard Branning, S. F. Johnson, E. M. Mitchell and J. L. Brown.

Judge Wallace Wright has set Monday morning for the trial of C. M. Hogg, former Altamonte Springs marshal, charged with slaying of Joseph Cone on August 14 of this year. The case is expected to consume several days.

Mrs. Felton was stricken as she was about to leave for her home in Charleston, after attending a Christmas party at the Soldiers Confederate Home here.

Defense Of Burns-Sinclair Contempt Trial Tries To Puncture Federal Charge

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—(INS)—The defense in the Burns-Sinclair contempt trial tried today to break down the government's charge that the Burns Detectives shadowing the Fall-Sinclair jurors had established contact with Juror Kidwell through his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kidwell.

The government alleged certain of the jurors were conscious of being followed and watched by operatives hired by Harry F. Sinclair, Sinclair, William J. Burns and four associates are on trial for contempt for alleged jury spying.

Under examination by James J. O'Leary, Assistant District Attorney, Frank O'Reilly, a Burns agent, admitted he talked to Mr. and Mrs. Kidwell. The government refused to let O'Reilly relate his conversation with them, at which the defense objected. Justice Siddons today upheld the government, and O'Reilly was turned over to Charles A. Douglass, Burns lawyer, for cross-examination.

O'Reilly said when he talked to Mrs. Kidwell he did not enter her house, or did mention Juror Kidwell in the conversation. The government objected to this line of questioning and the court was tied up for a long time in a tangled legal knot.

SOUTHERN FLING AT McNARY BILL THREATENS BLOC

Democrats Are Reported Rallying New Caraway Plan To Virtually Repeat Tariff So Far As It Concerns Farmer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (INS)—A Southern attack on the equalization fee "backbone" of the McNary-Haugen Bill, today threatened to split the ranks of the Farm Bloc in the Senate.

With western Republicans supporting the equalization fee, which President Coolidge vetoed a year ago, Southern Democrats were reported rallying to the new Caraway plan, which would virtually repeal the tariff so far as American agriculture is concerned.

The Caraway plan was certain to induce a tariff war into the agricultural relief fight with the outcome hazed with doubt.

The new relief program, sponsored by Senator Caraway (D) of Ark., would establish the same federal agricultural relief corporation proposed in the McNary-Haugen bill. His program, in fact, includes every feature of the McNary-Haugen plan except the equalization fee. In its stead, Caraway would take care of the surplus crop by allowing farm organizations to bring into the United States duty free a quantity of foreign products equal in value to quantity of surplus crops exported. He declared his plan would enhance the value of surplus crop exports while giving the farmer freedom from the tariff on articles which he must purchase.

Rep. Haugen (R) of Iowa, co-author of the McNary-Haugen Bill, announced today he was putting finishing touches on a revised measure and expected to present it to the House by tomorrow. In substance it is the old McNary-Haugen Bill, with the equalization fee and a provision that the federal farm board could deal in any agricultural products, rather than being limited to certain basic commodities.

"I am trying to put teeth into the bill," said Haugen. "The equalization fee is indispensable but by some changes I think I will meet all the objections raised by President Coolidge in his veto message." The board would be compelled to take surpluses off the market.

Hayes Is Freed Of Poisoning His Three Children

BLAKELY Ga., Dec. 16.—(INS)—Harris Hayes, 60, and his wife, Gussie, were back on their farm some six miles from Blakely today, free after three months in jail, and under the shadow of indictments charging diabolical crimes.

The indictments, six in all, accused them of three murders, of poisoning their two sons, James and Amos, and the latter's wife, Gladys, 17-year-old Detroit girl.

The elderly father was tried first on the bill alleging the murder of Gladys. He was acquitted yesterday. And last night Solicitor General B. T. Castellone went into early county superior court with a motion to nolle prosequere the other indictments against the couple. Judge Yeomans signed the order, and they stood exonerated of all charges.

The jail doors were opened, and the old couple walked out, a little bewildered at the suddenness with which their troubles had dissipated.

"No go to way to get home," remarked Hayes. "It's a long walk to the farm." Sheriff S. W. Howell got his car, and took the couple home. And they began putting around his farm house, where they live alone, seeing if this or that had chanced during the three momentous months.

Bombing Airplanes Will Attack Bridge

NORFOLK, Dec. 16.—(INS)—Eight bombing and one transport planes were planning to hop off from Langley Field today for Fort Bragg, N. C., preliminary to attacking concrete bridge spanning the Pee Dee River at Albemarle. A company or artillery from Fort Bragg will take part in the attack.

The bridge is to be destroyed to make room for a dam that will be constructed across the river. The bombardment of the bridge is to be watched by ordinance experts who expect to obtain valuable information on the value of aerial bombs in destroying bridges from the war like attack on the concrete structure.

World Flyers Again Postpone Record Hop

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Dec. 16.—(INS)—Edward Schlee and William S. Brock, round the world fliers who will attempt to break the world's flight endurance record, today again postponed their take-off due to strong southwest winds and unfavorable weather forecasts from Washington and Florida stations.

For a few minutes before seven o'clock, the wind was from the south and the two fliers thought their take-off would be possible and prepared their plane, but it veered again to the west and the attempt was abandoned for today.

Death Toll Mounts In Disastrous Of Orphan Asylum

QUEBEC, Dec. 16.—(INS)—Searchers for the bodies of children in the ruins of the Home for Charles Convent, which was destroyed by fire here early today, announced early today that seven bodies had been recovered. Thirty six of these were identified and one adult. Another 17, bodies of the children who made three trips to the burning building, were found, but not identified.

Less than ten inmates of the building are now unaccounted for. The death toll police believe will stand at forty-two or forty-three when all details of the search have been cleared. This figure is then estimated given one body recovered during the day and a conclusion due to the tension which prevailed on the fact that many rescued children have been given names and placed in their homes in all parts of the city.

LINDBERGH INVITATION SEE BULLFIGHT

American Humane Society Cables U.S.
Embassy Implores
Charley Not Attend

Colonel To Visit
Other Countries

"Lone Eagle" Will
President Thanks
For His Message

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 16.—America's best known "ambassador" was face to face today with a problem demanding all his diplomacy. He has been invited to attend a gala bull fight on Sunday, especially arranged in his honor. However, the American Humane Society, already ready has cabled to the United States Embassy requesting Lindbergh not to attend.

Lindbergh has accepted invitations from Guatemala, Honduras, Salvador, and Panama to visit those countries by air before returning to the United States from Mexico. Ambassador Morrow informed the State Department today.

The Ambassador's message gave no details. President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg were thanked by Col. Lindbergh for their congratulations they sent him upon the success of his Washington-Mexico City non-stop flight. The message to the president said: "I appreciate sincerely your telegram of congratulations and desire to express to you my deep appreciation of your interest in my flight and of your cordial support and good wishes."

To Kellogg he telegraphed: "Thank you sincerely for your telegram of congratulations for the interest and assistance shown by you which has been largely to make my flight successful."

Another telegram of the same sentiment was dispatched to Speaker Longworth and the House of Representatives.

Excursions thruout the city and its environs and further honors by officials and the populace were in store for Lindbergh today.

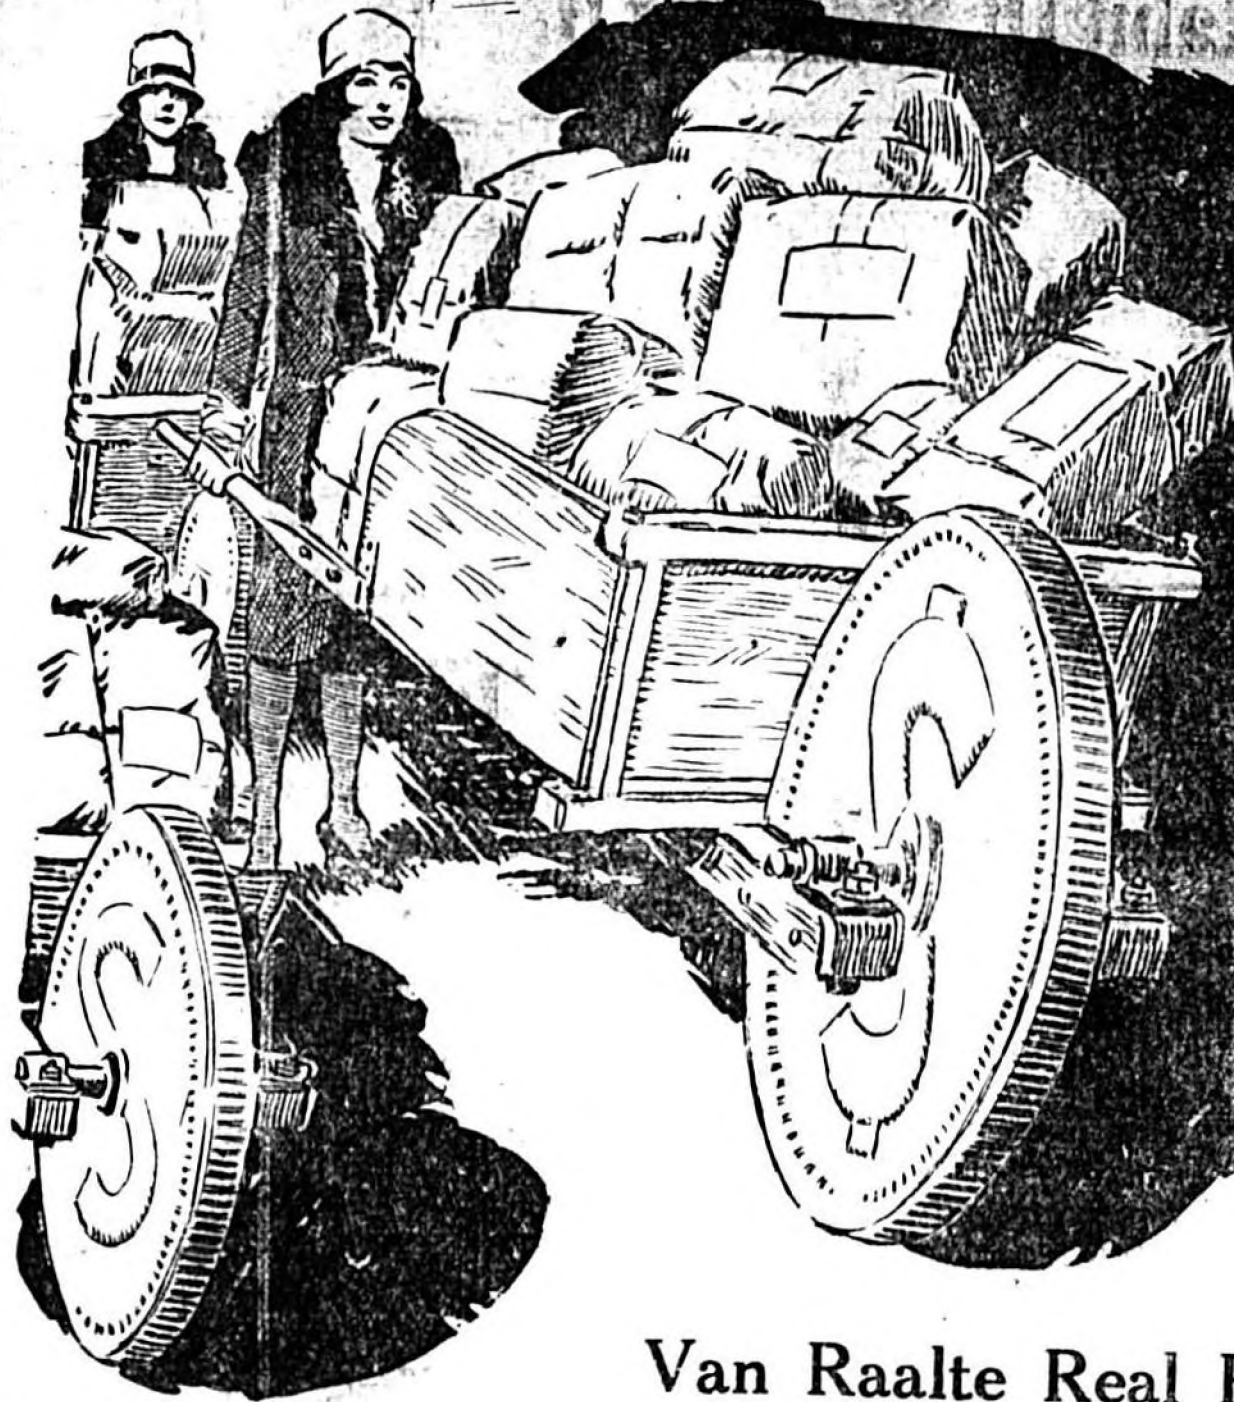

It was also highly probable that the Flying Colonel would attempt a temporary escape from his Mexican admirers, who apparently have no intention of ceasing their enthusiastic receptions, and visit Valubansa field to give the other half of "a thorough inspection."

While Lindbergh's plans as to the length of time he will remain here are still indefinite, it is understood that his next destination would be Guatemala and that thereafter he would continue on a tour of Central America, touching Havana during the sessions of the Pan American Congress before turning home.

At any rate, according to the flyer himself, wherever he goes from here "it will be by air."

Lindbergh closed another day of furiously enthusiastic welcomes last night by attending a theatrical performance especially arranged for him by the Foreign Office. President Calles and Lindbergh shared a box alone.

Throughout the performance a large crowd which packed the theatre continued to applaud and cheer the young American. Lindbergh was forced to rise to acknowledge the cheers four times. Beristain, the present pilot, (continued on page three)

Financial Editor Predicts Mild Depression Will Be Followed By Gradual Rise

By W. S. Cousins
International News Service
Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Considerable importance has been attached to the decline in railroad earnings in the fourth quarter of the year as an evidence of, and an important factor in, the mild depression in American business in 1927.

A careful survey of transportation conditions, made for International News Service by R. H. Aishton, president of the American Railway Association, shows that revenue car-loadings and ton-miles for the year will be only about 1 per cent less than the totals for the year 1926. Considering that the comparison is made with an unusually active and prosperous year, the record for American transportation is not nearly as bad as it appears in various presentations.

"Railway freight traffic during the first half of 1927 ran at a higher rate than ever before," said Aishton today. His records show, however, that the "turn" came in June, and from that time on the freight traffic was not only consistently below that for 1926, but the tendency was for the rate of decrease to grow in amount as the year went on.

Passenger traffic was consistently below the previous year, the number of passenger-miles for the year 1927 being from four to five per cent below those for 1926," he declared.

The head of the American Railway Association estimated a decline of 2 to 3 per cent in railroad revenues this year as compared with 1926. This means that the transportation companies had about $100,000,000 less than in the previous year, and, when the effect of the lower gross earnings reached through to net earnings, they account for a decline of about ten per cent.

"What are the outstanding features in the railroad outlook for 1928?" Aishton was asked and in reply he said: "Without attempting to project any forecasts of railway business into the year 1928, it may be pointed out that the factors governing railway operations and railway profits are all encouraging. Among them may be mentioned the ample supply of available capital; the upward trend of wholesale commodity prices; the absence of accumulated stocks of merchandise and manufactured goods; the improvement in the agricultural situation; the growing tendency toward co-operation in industry; a continuation of sound economic improvement abroad; and, finally, the continuation of an adequate and efficient transportation service.

"All these are economic factors of greatest importance. Running through them is the vitally significant fact that the railways of the United States during the past few years have supplied to the commerce and industry of the country a freight and passenger service that has been adequate, prompt and dependable.

This improvement, since the close of the war, in railway service, has been so important a contribution to the economic welfare of the United States that it has been termed an economic revolution—a silent but bloodless revolution it is true, but none the less a fundamental change in conditions that has played a mighty part in maintaining stable economic conditions throughout the whole nation.

"The railways look forward with courage and with hope to the future. They believe they have contributed no small measure to the prosperity and progress of the country.

"They offer a continuation of the adequate transportation service to which they have pledged their properties and their effort. They look forward with confidence to the continued economic progress of the United States, and to a continuation of their part in that progress."

Forest Regrows Enough Timber In Twelve Years To Build 7 Large Cities

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 14—(INS)—The Cherokee National Forest has regrown enough timber in twelve years to build seven cities as big as Knoxville or Chattanooga, was announced here today.

Great mountain ranges which take up the whole 400,000 acre tract strewn with the debris of lumberjacks and skidders, are now curving with young timber almost ready for the market of the world.

Of the hundred or more species of the forest, which cover corners of East Tennessee, Western North Carolina and North Georgia, poplar has been the first to start re-foresting the cutover and burned-over area. So quick has it been to take advantage of its ancient enemy the white oak, relentless master of the forest for ages, that it has almost covered the area over which the powerful oaks once reigned. Its natural tendency to mushroom growth has given it quick "pickups," and it has won.

Botanists assert, however, that left alone, the oak will overtake and overpower the poplar within a century, so dogged as it is in its competition. Tardiness of the poplar is attributed somewhat to the fact that wild forest animals feed heavily on acorns, thus destroying the seeds of the oak to a great extent. Poplar did not suffer from such a setback.

Originally, Georgia was a forest of hardwoods, just as it may be again. But at present government officials estimate that oaks make up only 35 per cent of the whole; chestnut 20 per cent, hickory 2 per cent, hemlock 2 per cent, and white pine, ash, etc., make up the remainder.

Not all of the area was slashed over by the loggers, whose operations caused the government to buy land. R. H. Charlton, district supervisor, with headquarters in Knoxville estimates that 300,000 acres were cut over, which includes such of the best timber growing in the state. In spite of this, however, and the fact that the timber in the cut-over section is still very young, officials assert that the average early production is 150 board feet per acre.

Creation Of Rural Colonies In South Urged By Official

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14—(INS)—Creation of rural colonies in South and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee was urged here today by Dr. Elwood Mead of the Interior Department, speaking to the Southern Reclamation Conference.

The object of such colonization, Mead said, would be to "wipe out tenancy, help men of small means to become farm-owners, and create social conditions equal to the best in any part of the country." Communities of this kind, he said, would relieve agricultural and rural depression of the South. Credit for homes, supplies and land would be supplied the settlers in the colonization scheme from private capital, to be called the "Southern Reclamation Fund." The Interior Department should have congressional legislation empowering it to plan and perfect the scheme, Mead asserted.

Local business men should emulate the example of Henry L. Stimson when called upon to perform a civic duty. According to statistics from the department of commerce, automobile fatalities are on the increase. In 1926 the rate was 17.9 in 1926 it was 17. In 1924 it was 15.7. In 1923 it was 14.9 and in 1922 only 12.5. Enormous Production

In our zeal for Florida boosting, we are sometimes a little prone to underestimate, to minimize so far as possible, the assets and potentialities of our nearest rival, California. Competing with us, as it does, in celery growing, the citrus industry, and tourist business, we may feel a bit of jealousy toward it, or antipathy for it. But we cannot deny that it is a marvelous state.

According to figures furnished by E. S. Kaufmann, state and federal statistician at Sacramento, the total farm, mineral and timber wealth produced in California in 1927 will amount to $1,171,000,000. The field crops alone grown in California this year will approximate $450,000,000. Live-stock added $210,000,000, to the total, while minerals, including oil, reached the aggregate of $450,000,000—equal to the farm products.

"California" says an exchange from that state, "leads all others in the Santa Fe territory, embracing twelve of the principal agricultural states, in the production of lumber, the output this year being estimated at $61,000,000. This only accounts for timber actually cut and not the value of the forests standing.

"The nearest approach to California in lumber production this year, is Texas, with an output of $35,000,000 while Louisiana comes third with $25,000,000.

"In the livestock estimates only the value of the product actually marketed is listed. To this has been added the dairy output, poultry, butter, eggs, cheese, etc.

"Texas ranking first in crop yield, produced $740,000,000 this year, and its livestock aggregated $380,000,000; minerals are given at $225,000,000, including oil.

"For the twelve states traversed by the Santa Fe the amazing total of $8,696,250,000 in combined, farm, mineral and timber wealth shows the substantial increase of $426,250,000 over 1926. The combined totals, exclusive of California and Texas, are as follows:

"Illinois, $1,027,000,000; Iowa, $1,016,000,000; Oklahoma, $990,000,000; Missouri, $765,000,000; Kansas, $755,500,000; Nebraska, $615,250,000; Colorado, $335,500,000; Louisiana, $300,000,000; Arizona, $195,000,000; New Mexico, $146,000,000.

"The report also indicates that California marketed a volume of citrus fruit greater by almost 7000 carloads than the previous record citrus crop—that of 1925-26.

"A good season for winter vegetables in California and Arizona is reported. In the Stockton district celery is moving with a favorable market. The Salt River Valley of Arizona has started the marketing of its lettuce crop from 10,000 acres, with an estimated output of 7,000 carloads for the season."

Looking Forward

Americans are always doing the unusual. They are bound neither by custom nor practice or by the wishes of society or the demands of the law. But it remained for the pupils of a small Oregon school to follow a course hitherto unheard of in the United States. It appears that in the little town of Salem a new principal arrived to assume charge of the schools and then says a news dispatch:

"Because the new principal wore skirts that reached her ankles and had unbobbed hair, fifty-eight pupils of the high school went on a strike. Only seven of the whole student body remained to show the school head their loyalty. The strikers claimed her teaching methods also were not modern."

We have heard a great deal in the past several years of instances where teachers have been disciplined or removed from their jobs because of dress and manners that were described as "too modernistic" and we have noted several instances where the pupils themselves have been condemned for similar practices but action of the Oregon pupils is unparalleled so far as we have been able to determine.

There is no mistaking the wishes of the pupils and there is no doubt that their action reflects the trend of young America which impulsively rebels at any attempt to return to the customs and styles of yesteryear. While we would not condone the pupils in the matter of striking, our sympathies are with them in their efforts to free themselves from the old order of things. We hold no brief for those who desire to wear unshorn locks and dresses that drag the ground, but if the American youth wants to learn something new, why not let him study under surroundings and circumstances that best express the modern tendencies?

ENJOYING A PERFECT SUNDAY
FLORIDA TIMES-UNION

Thousands of motor cars were ranging about Sunday afternoon. It was a perfect day from the weather man's point of view. Cool in the morning and bright sunshine later to make driving a pleasure without heavy coats or even gloves unless the people wanted to be stylish. And away they went. Families and friends and neighbors out of every direction and for drives of varying distances. Many cars went over the St. Johns river and formed a well-spaced procession along the famous Atlantic Boulevard to the ocean. There it was found hundreds had stopped for dinner, or perhaps a dip in the surf—it was not too cool for that, and bathing suits were comfortable enough apparently. The tide and the sunshine and the cool-natured, quiet and happy crowd suggested contentment and prosperity in this section at least.

The new fishing pier, built out beyond the dancing pavilion over the water, was well-patronized. Seems as though this was something the people had wanted and didn't know it. Anyway, it is popular at this time. The putting green at Jacksonville Beach, with its palmetto log club house, is something that late summer visitors did not see. It was being enjoyed Sunday afternoon. And the tide going out all the afternoon and the drive on the beach, from miles south to the jetties near Mayport, was on a golden speedway. Later when the full moon took charge it was as attractive, with the silvery light.

Jacksonville Beach, which was for many years called Pablo, used to be very much like a deserted village in winter; but there is plenty of life and activity nowadays about the place. It appears to be a popular idea to motor down for a fish dinner or the like at one or another of the dozen excellent hotels, restaurants and road houses that are open the year around. The trip home, after a few hours at the ocean side is quickly made. The wide, well-light-

As Brisbane Sees It

Another Lindbergh Day. Rockefeller's Idea. Don't Be a Dim Bulb. Thin Prosperity. By Arthur Brisbane. Copyright 1927 by Star Co.

HODGE, CALIF., Dec. 14.—Lindbergh, world's champion flier, landed in Mexico City this afternoon, notifies the world that young men in this country know how to fly, in spite of the fact that their government does not yet realize the importance of flying. The news of his latest triumph delights the scattered population of his Mojave desert, as it does great crowds in cities.

OTHER governments, knowing that Lindbergh is typical of American youth, and that there are 10,000 Lindberghs ready to run American machines, will want none of our nonstop flights aimed in their direction, with hostile intent, and will avoid provoking such flights.

LINDBERGH'S flying example is making converts in California rapidly. J. L. Stack, who used to play polo and follow the hounds at Chicago's Oxnorton club, but he was 50, has bought a duplicate of Lindbergh's plane arranged to carry five, and uses it commuting from Los Angeles to his shooting lodge near Sacramento with his 11-year-old son, two friends and a pilot. He makes the 500-mile trip in about five hours.

Other men, giving up polo, should "retire" to a flying machine, not to an easy chair, and encourage aviation. Every bulker of a fast plane renders a service to his country.

THE UNITED States Gypsum Company, with offices in 20 cities and 22 mines and mills in 15 states, has this good idea. All headquarters managers devote two hours, from 9 to 11 a. m., to concentration. They allow no interruption except in emergencies. From 11 to 5 they "subordinate" and business visitors generally. Each manager has at least two hours a day for real thinking.

JOHN D. Rockefeller had that idea many years ago. One of his local managers, pointing proudly to a desk loaded down with papers, said to him "a lot of detail, but I shall get through it all by night." Mr. Rockefeller, quoting that, said to his directors "I want all important managers in our organization to sit with their feet upon clear desks, thinking how they can make more money for Standard Oil." They made it, with Rockefeller's direction, and now he spends it usefully, fighting disease and ignorance. To get ahead remember that thinking comes first. The rest is secondary.

LEARNED professors in the University of Southern California say that slang, within reason, is good. It makes students select their expressions instead of using them automatically, to call your friend a "dim bulb" is better than saying to your brother, "thou fool" and it means the same. Use of slang "makes a dent in the brain" and causes thought, says one professor. It also takes the place of thought, but that is too long an argument.

LANGUAGE that is now "high-brow" was once slang. Slang says that a man with an easy job, "has it soft." The ancient that invented "sinecure," meaning "without care," talked about the same language.

BUT YOUNG people should remember that today's raw slang will not be good English while they live. Youth is the time for acquiring a good vocabulary. A "fine line of chin goods" will not take its place in real life. Words, well chosen, are the tools with which the salesman seals goods. The gifted slang user of college days may find himself humiliated, when he needs real English in real life.

GEORGE M. Reynolds, head of Chicago's biggest bank, now absorbing sunshine at Pasadena, says prosperity is here, and will stay. The federal reserve system is perfect insurance against old time panics, and does away with the bugaboo of bad times in a presidential year.

THAT IS comforting, but it would be more comforting if prosperity could be spread a little thicker on the lives of say 100,000,000 Americans. About that number worry more or less all the time, many actually lack work, or work part time only.

High finance, for its own sake, should worry a little about that big crowd, and before rejecting this suggestion it might remember with what unanimity high finance, big bankers especially, denounced and tried to escape that federal reserve system, now their financial rock of ages.

SEVEN destroyers, wrecked on the Pacific, might break up, and drifting fragments endanger navigation so the government destroys them with dynamite. Why not use them to prove the power of TNT bombs, dropped from airplanes.

Mrs. James Pittman Gives Pretty Party

Reflecting the artistic taste of the hostess in every detail was the bridge luncheon given Wednesday by Mrs. James Allen Pittman at her lovely home on High Street, when she entertained the members of the Young Matrons Bridge Luncheon Club. Suggestions of the approaching holidays were the decorations and other details of this affair. Baskets and bowls filled with deep red poinsettias were placed with pleasing effect about the rooms where the tables had been arranged.

Luncheon was served at small tables which were deftly appointed and spread with exquisite linen cloths and centered with attractive arrangements of tall red tapers and miniature holly wreaths. The place cards and nut cups were also done in Christmas suggestions. At one o'clock a delicious luncheon was served.

The afternoon hours were quickly spent with games of progressive bridge and after the stated number of rounds had been played, the club prize, a green glazed leather bridge pad was awarded Mrs. Clyde Byrd. For having scores the most points among the guests Mrs. Donald P. Drummond received a manicure set in red leather case.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Clyde Byrd, Mrs. James L. Wells, Mrs. Charles Powell Jr., Mrs. Grant Wilson, Mrs. Braxton B. Baggett, Mrs. Donald P. Drummond, Mrs. C. E. Myers, Mrs. Samuel Dighton, Mrs. Ralph Wight and Mrs. Pittman.

Mrs. Minarik Gives Party For Teachers

Of the many social affairs of the week, one of exceptional pleasure was that of Friday afternoon when Mrs. M. Minarik entertained at her home on Laurel Avenue, honoring Miss Mildred Huston and Miss Iris Britt, teachers of the young sons of the hostess. The guests included the members of the Lottaphon bridge club.

Adorning the rooms where the games were played were an abundance of poinsettias and ferns, accentuating the Christmas colors of red and green. Scores for the games were kept in miniature Santa Clauses and after the fifth progression, scores were added and the one having made the highest score was presented a pair of embroidered tea towels. The two guests of honor were given daintily embroidered guest towels.

At the tea hour the bridge necessities were removed and the tables laid with hand made covers and refreshments consisting of gypsy stew in timbals, moulded salad, saltines, potato chips, olives and coffee.

Mrs. Minarik's guests were Miss Iris Britt, Miss Mildred Huston, Mrs. Chris Matthews, Mrs. J. E. Courier, Mrs. Ellsworth Larper, Mrs. Clifford Walker, Mrs. Hayward Walker and Mrs. Beecher Kent of Winter Park.

Mrs. Driver's Friends Enjoy Bridge Party

Quantities of red Christmas bells, Santa Clauses, wreaths and other suggestions of the approaching holidays were used in decorating the rooms of the cozy home of Mrs. C. H. Driver, Wednesday afternoon when she entertained the members of her bridge club. Bowls of red poinsettias red sweet peas and ferns together with potted palms were also used with pleasing effect. The colors of red and green were emphasized in every detail both in the bridge accessories and later in the refreshments.

The afternoon was pleasantly spent with games of bridge and after the usual number of rounds had been played, scores were collected and the prize for top score, a luncheon set, was awarded Mrs. Walter Berry. For having scored the least, Mrs. L. M. Stephenson was given a card table cover. Following the awarding of the prizes, the hostess brought in a large red sack from which the guests drew daintily Christmas gifts from the hostess.

Late in the afternoon Mrs. Driver served refreshments consisting of congealed salad, sandwiches, fruit-cake and hot tea.

Playing bridge were Mrs. Joe Graham, Mrs. Robert Masska, Mrs. Walter Berry, Mrs. L. M. Stephenson, Mrs. Stewart Dutton, Mrs. C. W. Stoudenmire, Mrs. J. E. Ritchie and Mrs. Driver. Joining the players for tea was Mrs. Marshall of Orlando, grandmother of the hostess.

MERRY MATRONS

Mrs. D. C. Barefield entertained the members of the Merry Matrons Club, Thursday afternoon at her home on West First Street. At one o'clock the hostess served a delicious five course luncheon after which the afternoon was delightfully spent with games and other pleasant forms of diversion. Much merriment was caused by the request that each member recite a Christmas recitation. Later cake and coffee were served. At the conclusion of the refreshment hour a silver offering was taken up for the Children's home at Jacksonville.

Settings In Spain Lend Much Beauty To Milane Picture

A Spanish setting, rich in color, forms the background for Earl Derr Biggers' best selling novel, "The Chinese Parrot," the screen version of which will be shown at the Milane Theatre as the feature attraction commencing today. The picture is a Universal-Jewel and features Edmund Burns and Marian Nixon with a prominent supporting cast.

The main theme of the story takes place in Mexico where Biggers lived as a newspaper correspondent during the Diaz revolution. Every foot of the ground as well as the dress and customs of the natives is well known to the author and used to great advantage in his story.

The photoplay of this remarkable novel was directed by Paul Leni, famous Continental director, who came to this country a year ago under contract to Universal. Leni is considered a past master in the art of obtaining photographic values and has done his best work in bringing the natural beauty of the country to the screen in this picture.

The adaptation was made by J. Grubb Alexander, who is himself an author of note and a member of Universal's staff of scenarists. His dramatization follows the original version with only the few necessary changes to achieve full picture value.

For this year's presentation and Mr. Albert Miller is engaged in painting the scenery which will portray the inside of the Bethlehem stable. The pageant will be given Christmas, Sunday, night. Those taking parts are as follows:

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified croceote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.
Of all known drugs, croceote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to croceote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the croceote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.
Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu.
Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
