

Longwood Mayor, Councilman Seeking Re-Election Dec. 1

By Donna Estes
Incumbents Mayor A. R. Lormann and Council Chairman R. C. Carlson of Longwood are seeking re-election to their respective posts in Dec. 1 municipal elections. Campaign platforms have been released to The Herald by both candidates.

The six planks in Lormann's platform are (1) to continue to work for the orderly economic growth of Longwood; (2) to continue to dispense justice, tempered with leniency in all municipal court proceedings; (3) to continue to counsel teenagers and parents with problems for the purpose of creating better citizens; (4) to continue to insist on well equipped, efficient, highly trained police and fire departments; (5) as in the past, represent the citizens of Longwood with dignity and (6) to continue to work harmoniously and cooperatively with city council as well as with those of the county and surrounding communities.

He states he is seeking re-election because "he wants to see the city continue to progress in an orderly manner, to become a better, safer place in which to live and own a business and to continue to be a city with low taxes."

Lormann, a realtor with offices in Casselberry and Fort Myers, is married and has one son and two daughters attending Lyman High School. He is president of the Seminole County Board of Realtors, president of the Lyman High PTA and a director of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Carlson, a resident of the city for 20 years, has many years experience in municipal and school board administration in his home town in Illinois as well as in the Longwood city government.

He states he is available at all times to assist in the affairs of the city and, if re-elected, it shall be his sincere purpose to continue serving citizens of the community to the best of his ability as he has tried to do in the past.

He advises "he believes in orderly progress that will not place a heavy burden upon taxpayers of the community. He is married, has one son and four grandchildren, all living in the area.

Churchill At 90

'Man Of World' To Be Honored

By Tom A. Cullen
LONDON (NEA) — Britons will honor a legend on Nov. 30, when Sir Winston Churchill celebrates his 90th birthday. For Churchill is no longer regarded here as a mere man. He has become something larger than life and monumental.

How does one pay homage to a living monument? Lay wreaths at its feet? This year, for the first time, the nation feels keenly the inadequacy of the public tributes planned for its hero and the world's greatest living statesman.

This year, too, has seen great changes in Britain. On Nov. 30 there will be no members of Parliament to jump to their feet and to wave their order papers as usually happens when Churchill enters the House of Commons on his birthday. He will not be there. The Grand Old Man of British politics retired as a member of Parliament earlier this year.

Churchill's seat on the Conservative front bench in the Commons is now empty. No longer do the eyes of spectators stray to the gnomelike figure cupping his ear to catch repartee of "question time" in the Commons, the sharp thrust and parry of debate. Even his opponents admit that the House of Commons is a lesser place for Churchill's absence.

One wonders what he would have made of the present Labor government with its razor-edge majority of five votes. With his memories of Ramsey MacDonald and Clement Attlee, former Labor premiers, would he dismiss the present crew as "puttering craters from extinct volcanoes?"

One reason why Churchill is now regarded as a legend, and as such is held in awe, is that his life covers such a tremendous span. When Winston Churchill was born in 1874, Queen Victoria had been on the throne for 37 years, and the exotic Disraeli with his black curls was her prime minister.

Winston was still a schoolboy at Harrow when Queen Victoria celebrated her Golden Jubilee. When he entered the army at the age of 21, Gladstone had just retired from politics, and Gladstone had heard the guns saluting the Duke of Wellington's victory over Napoleon at Waterloo.

How will Britain honor the man on whom the world has already heaped its highest honors? Perhaps the most fitting tribute to Churchill on his 90th birthday would be a and Kings depart: Still that written by one of his fellow countrymen, Rudyard Kipling: "The tumult and

County Pushes For College

Consideration Requested Of State Board

By Julian Stenstrom
The Seminole County Board of Commissioners Tuesday adopted a resolution calling for the State Junior College Board to give favorable consideration to a request for a community college facility for Seminole County.

Seminole County Judge Vernon Mize and County Supt. of Public Instruction R. T. Milwee appeared before the commission and requested the county board's assistance. They represented the long range planning committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce which is co-operating with the Board of Public Instruction in trying to obtain the school for this area.

Milwee told the commission that such a school could be financed by the State of Florida with Seminole County's share amounting to five per cent of its Minimum Foundation funds—or about $25,000 annually. Mize explained that the county school board would also be required to provide at least an 80-acre site for the facility. "They will not accept a site of less than 80 acres," Mize continued, "and they prefer a 100-acre site. However, 80 acres is about the average."

County Offices Add Services

All Seminole County residents now may communicate toll free with the offices of the Seminole County Engineer and the County Road Department.

The two county departments have installed telephones at the Winter Park Telephone Company exchange so that residents in the southern section of the county may have toll free phone service. The same number, 511-2125, will permit callers to contact either office which is located in the same building adjacent to the former county home on U. S. 17-92.

Telephone calls to the Sanford exchange of Southern Bell remain the same—322-1962 for the engineers' office and 322-3052 for the road superintendent's office.

Americans Ready To Give Thanks

By United Press
In the hallowed tradition of the forefathers, Americans prepared today to give thanks and enjoy a long Thanksgiving weekend.

There was last minute shopping for turkeys, cranberries and pumpkins. For many, there was preparation for a trip home from college or for a drive to visit relatives or friends.

The National Safety Council does not keep records of the number of persons killed in traffic during a Thanksgiving day weekend. But the council said that during an equal 102-hour non-holiday period in November, 1963, from 6 p. m. Wednesday until midnight Sunday, 682 persons died in traffic accidents.

Heavy rain fell in the Southeast today, Thanksgiving eve. Cold and snow pushed into Montana and North Dakota.

Between one and two inches of rain fell at Pensacola, Fla., Anniston, Ala., Chattanooga, Tenn., and Huntsville and Montgomery, Ala. One inch of snow fell at Great Falls and Lewiston in central Montana. Cold wave warnings were posted.

Nearly one inch of rain fell at Walla Walla, Wash. Snow was predicted from northern Minnesota to Arizona, with heavy snow in Idaho's mountains.

War On Poverty To Be Launched In December

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI)—Sergeant Shriver, head man in the war on poverty, conferred with President Johnson Tuesday and then announced a $35 million "first major assault on ignorance, want, and deprivation."

He said the domestic Peace Corps will start training before the end of next month. Shriver unveiled a list of 79 projects after a two-hour conference with the President at the LBJ Ranch.

Another 41 projects—youth job training camps—will use $15 million in federal grants and bring the number of individual programs to 120.

Shriver said the government would bear the major cost of the programs, $32 million of the $35 million total, but the plans will be administered by state and local officials.

The largest single grant was $2.8 million, which went to Detroit for a community action program by the total action against poverty organization.

Shriver said the grants were made on the basis of applications from individual communities.

Jack Conway, head of the Community Action Program, said he sought variety for this first major list of projects.

Drive Under Way To Save 350

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Government troops swarmed into Congo jungles today in a desperate drive to save more than 350 hostages at the mercy of kill-crazed rebels. Fifteen Americans were reported in rebel hands.

At least 17 hostages, including two Americans, were slaughtered Tuesday before help could reach them. They were cut down in the streets of Stanleyville just as Belgian paratroopers dropped in to the city from U. S. Air Force planes in the first phase of a massive rescue operation.

Other reports said the death toll was as high as 35. The slain Americans were Paul Carlson, 38-year-old missionary doctor from Culver City, Calif., and Miss Phyllis Rine, 25, Mount Vernon, Ohio, a school teacher. The 21 other Americans included 11 U. S. citizens and four citizens of Belgium.

More than 1,200 hostages were found alive in Stanleyville and the rebel-controlled area immediately surrounding it. Most were airlifted to safety in Leopoldville; the others awaited return today.

Government troops penetrating the jungle today had a double mission: To find and rescue the hostages and to track down the rebel leaders responsible for Tuesday's atrocities.

In Washington, Undersecretary of State George Ball said the rebel leaders would be tracked down and accountable for the massacre.

"They will be run down," Ball said, adding that this job had been undertaken by the Congolese army. Stanleyville, the last major rebel stronghold, was firmly in government hands today. A Congolese army column, led by white mercenaries, pushed into the city almost simultaneously with the Belgian air-

Cynthia Kendrick, president of the Tri-Hi-Y, delivered a wonderful message in her discussion of the topic of "Faith" and what it can do. Following are excerpts from her message: "Each of us needs someone to have faith in us—our parents, our teachers, and our fellow men. As we grow older, we tend to think that we are too old for God, for church, for Sunday School, for Junior Club, for Usher Board, and for BTU. If this is the faith that you give some one who has placed faith in you, I thank God for giving me the power of 'Faith' which has enabled me to come this far. Young people today need a shot in the arm, they need to reassess their values of things in the world and in the church."

It was a beautiful message, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie L. Kendrick are the parents of Cynthia.

A representative group of "Y" girls and Junior "Y" girls were present. Mrs. D. A. Thomas, sponsor of the Tri-Hi-Y, was in attendance also.

An appreciation program will be given for Rev. Harold B. Whitehurst Sunday at St. John Metropolitan Baptist Church. The program will begin at 4 p. m. Rev. Nathaniel A. Watson will deliver the message for the affair. You are cordially invited to come out and pay tribute to one who has contributed his talents for the betterment of our community.

"The material entrusted to me is more plastic than the potter's clay, more valuable than the miser's gold, and more powerful than the scientist's atomic bomb. That is the mind, body, soul and heart of a child. Since my task is such a sacred one, it behooves me to do most everything in my power to prove myself worthy. I am a member of the most challenging, most responsible, most stimulating, and most satisfying professions in the world. For I am a teacher."

The writer does not remember by whom this was written. However, teaching to that person must be fun. Those words were spoken for all dedicated teachers, I am sure. For they are concerned with the whole child and not parts of him. The mind is one-fourth of a child; the body is one-fourth of a child; the soul is one-fourth of a child; and the heart is one-fourth of a child. When added, they equal one child. Therefore, those of us who are concerned only with the subject matter is guiding only one-fourth of same. (This is only my opinion.) I believe in it too.

Policeman's Daily Devotion To Duty Lauded

EDGAR SMART

By Margaret Conby
Edgar Smart, newest North Orlando volunteer policeman, has been commended for his daily devotion to duty.

Eddie's volunteer police work and main interest is essentially tending the school crossing and school bus stops. His interest in youngsters stems from the importance Eddie and his wife, Elsie, place on their own two boys Edgar Jr., 15, and Steven, 12. The Smarts enjoy children and, consequently, children enjoy and respect them.

Edgar and Elsie belong to the North Orlando Little League Auxiliary (and Edgar Jr., played on the Seniors team and received an official Little League baseball at the fall awards presentation ceremony). Another father-son interest is go-kart racing. They each have their own go-kart and have brought home well over 200 trophies. They're members of the International Karting Federation. Eddie, himself, used to race stock cars and midget autos up in New Hampshire. He feels that organized racing is a hobby of considerable value to both the participants and the community. Youngsters learn early the dangers of high speed travel; they can get speed out of their sager systems on the supervised race track rather than on the highways; and, if it is speed they want, they know where to go to get it instead of racing through towns and villages endangering innocent lives.

The Smart family came to Longwood six years ago from Raymond, N. H., near Manchester, where Eddie was in the trucking business. One year, Edgar and his dad came to Casselberry for a visit and returned to New Hampshire with such enthusiasm for Florida that the entire family was anxious to move down. The Smarts have been living in North Orlando five years and Eddie has been with International Harvester in Orlando since 1958 where he is night service manager.

One of his current volunteer police duties is a City Council project of making a survey to register all the bicycles and pets and to record the number of children in each household. Eddie has just about completed the Coronado section of North Orlando. His previous police experience was limited to riding with local police and also the New Hampshire State Motor Vehicle Department. He shaked up quite a military record while with the U. S. Army during World War II and holds a sharpshooter badge, is rated "expert" on the sub-Thompson machine gun, and received a special shooting citation. In addition he holds two Purple Hearts for injuries received in Germany while he was a sergeant with General Patton's 10th Armored Division, three battle stars, and the Combat Infantry Badge.

Eddie is a member of the American Legion and a postmaster of a New Hampshire VFW Barracks.

Corkhill Home 'Garden Of Month'

By Margaret Cosby

Mary Hyatt, chairman of the North Orlando Garden of the Month award committee, and assistants Vera Anderson and Mae Duquette made their inspection tour of the community recently and named the Donald W. Corkhill home at 120 Lombardy Road as "Garden of the Month" for November. Landscaping is cropped, clean and correct. Dwarfed and doctored camphor trees (and by doctored we really mean adhesive taped and almost metholated) mark the front yard extremities. There is a small brown river rock garden of Spanish bayonets at the edge of the curved drive leading through healthy Bermuda lawn to a front door entry garden of holly, aluminum plants and pink crown of thorns nestled in neat river rock. The drive is edged in ligustrum and across the front wall of the house is a combination of greenery, color and the scent of gardenias scattered among small banana trees, azaleas and a beautifully-spattered pyracantha.

Use Of Road Funds For Ditches Studied

A question of whether the County Commission can authorize the use of secondary road funds for solving a drainage problem posed a perplexing situation Tuesday for members of the board.

Several years ago when the State Road Department improved South Sanford Avenue, according to J. H. Hanna, of the SRD, the county agreed to pipe some 900 feet of an open drainage ditch in the vicinity of SR 46 (25th Street, or Geneva Ave. as it is frequently called) and Grandview Avenue.

The cost of doing that now is estimated to be some $30,000 to $35,000 and the pipe either would be mounded over or left exposed because it would run through an extremely low muckland area.

The problem arose when the SRD, now getting ready to four-lane SR 46 from French Avenue east to Mellonville Avenue, must consider drainage.

Sanford City Manager W. E. Knowles appeared before the County Commission and said the City had agreed to permit the drainage into the city's storm system provided such drainage would not overload the system.

Hanna said he did not think there would be any more water involved than before but he did say that it would be concentrated more quickly.

Commissioner John Fitzpatrick asked Hanna if it was the policy of the SRD to use a county's secondary road funds for providing drainage of primary roads. Hanna said it was and when it was observed that this type of pipe was too expensive to come out of Seminole's secondary road funds the matter was tabled.

Achievement Tests Explained To CTP

By Jane Casselberry

Achievement tests of school students was explained by William Wharton, county school coordinator of testing, before a study group at South Seminole Elementary School.

The session, first in a series sponsored by the Council of Teachers and Parents, was attended by 18 mothers, who addressed many questions on pupil assignment and grade groupings as well as testing to the speaker.

Wharton explained that data received from the ability and achievement tests given pupils helps implement the local school administrative policy in assigning pupils, but is only one factor along with their previous scholastic achievements, and teacher observation. A better program can be offered if children are grouped by ability, he added.

On the average of 100 children, he said, 68 per cent are average students; 14 per cent above average; 14 per cent gifted or superior; 2 per cent low average, and 2 per cent retarded.

He passed around samples of the tests given school children in the county.

Mrs. Robert May, chairman, announced that she hopes to hold the next session on Dec. 3 with a school psychologist from Orange County to be guest speaker. Mrs. William Eggers served as secretary, making notes for the group.

County Unable Financially To Provide Float

The County Commissioners ran into a problem yesterday when they were requested to expend $2,000 for a float in the inaugural parade in Tallahassee for incoming Gov. Haydon Burns.

"The law," said County Commission Chairman James Avery, "says we must sit elected commissioners on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January."

Normally, the County Commission meets on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month which means that Jan. 12 would be the new Commission's initial 1965 meeting.

"Therefore," said Avery, "we're going to have to meet on Jan. 5 to seat commissioners-elect Lawrence Swofford and Ed Yarborough in order to comply with the law."

About the $2,000 for a county float in the parade, the commission elected to refer this matter to the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. County Attorney Harold Johnson explained that the law now prohibits the county from spending more than $25,000 annually on advertising and County Clerk Arthur H. Beckwith pointed out that more than $24,000 already has been spent.

Thanksgiving Didn't Begin With Pilgrims

By Louis Czech
United Press International

Ask any red-blooded American boy how Thanksgiving originated, and he'll tell you right off that it was invented by the Pilgrims of the Massachusetts Bay colony back in 1620 A. D.

There is just one thing wrong with this cherished bit of American folklore. It isn't true.

The pilgrims borrowed both the idea and the name of Thanksgiving Day from the Church of England. Its canon provided for annual celebration of a day of thanksgiving to Almighty God for all of his bounty and especially for a safely-gathered harvest.

The English holiday was celebrated on Sept. 29, and was commonly known as "Michaelmas" because it was designated on the church calendar as "the feast of St. Michael and all angels."

It was a major religious holiday, second only to Easter, in the 17th Century England from which the Pilgrims migrated to America.

Tradition decreed that Michaelmas dinners be built around roast goose. The Pilgrims had roast goose, along with a few wild turkeys they shot while goose-hunting.

Although Michaelmas was clearly the immediate inspiration of the Pilgrim Thanksgiving, the ultimate origin of the holiday can be traced much further back into history.

In the Middle Ages, the feast of St. Martin of Tours was a major holiday in Western Europe. It was celebrated on Nov. 11. People went to Mass, participated in parades and games, and wound up with a festive dinner of . . . you guessed it, roast goose. Because St. Martin's Day came after harvest were in, it was regarded as a day of thanksgiving.

But the real "first Thanksgiving" was celebrated long before Western Europe was civilized. . . in fact, long before the Christian church came into being.

In the Old Testament Book of Deuteronomy there is a detailed description of instructions which Moses gave to the children of Israel for a holiday to be celebrated exactly seven weeks after they began harvesting their first crop in the Promised Land. That was approximately 3,300 years ago.

The purpose of the holiday, Moses said, was to "rejoice in all the good which the Lord your God has given you and your household."

Theoretically, at least, that's still the idea behind Thanksgiving Day.

Thanksgiving Service Today At Pinecrest

Pinecrest Baptist Church will conduct a special Thanksgiving Service at 8 p.m., today.

The children's choir of the church, under direction of Mrs. Florence Paulk, will be featured. The service will include congregational singing, a pageant and responsive reading. Rev. William J. Guess, pastor, will bring the Thanksgiving Message.

Following the service a turkey dinner will be served in the dining room. Visitors will be welcome.

Report was made by Mrs. Melanie Stewart that $23 was made last month from the sale of tissue toppers and that this month, with the addition of slippers, sales netted $32. This month's gift project, creme sachet donated by Mrs. Maryann Miles, brought in $5.75 and was won by Mrs. Rena Blanchard.

Members were given their Welcome Wagon pins and advised that membership cards also will be distributed.

Mrs. Juanita Moore, Welfare chairman, reported that a good selection of canned goods has been received for the three families to be assisted at Thanksgiving and advised that the club now has received names of three other families to help at Christmas. An especial appeal was made for toys since there are a number of children in these families.

The doorprize, a Christmas candle, was won by Mrs. Vera Gifford. Other prizes awarded were, first bridge, Mrs. Ina Mae Tully and first canasta, Mrs. Clare Paulsen, a pair of candles in artificial poinsettia holder; second bridge, Mrs. Miles and second canasta, Mrs. Waneeta Holmes, Christmas corsages.

Guests attending the meeting were Mrs. Sidney Hoodman, Mrs. J. Jamison, Mrs. Rosemary Erouh and Mrs. June Small. Two new members, Mrs. Anne Winder and Mrs. Frances Kinsey, were welcomed.

The next meeting will be held at 11:30 a. m. Dec. 17, at the House of Beef in Maitland. Members are to bring a $1 item for the gift exchange.

County Orders Aide To Press Charges

Robert Brown, county zoning director, said today that he will swear out a warrant for the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Richards for alleged violations of the county zoning ordinance.

Brown was instructed to take whatever action considered necessary by the Board of County Commissioners Tuesday when it was advised that Mrs. Richards allegedly told the County Commission and zoning director that she had not occupied a building on property in Mobile Manor. The zoning director stated that Mrs. Richards had obtained a building permit to construct a home and a shed on the property and that, according to his investigations, Mrs. Richards is residing in the shed on the property which is not equipped with sanitation facilities.

When the matter came before the County Commission, it was alleged by Brown that Mrs. Richards had applied earlier this year for home-stead exemption with the county tax assessor.

Chairman James Avery pointed out that Mrs. Richards apparently is guilty of violating the county's zoning ordinance or guilty of perjury in connection with the home-stead exemption application.

Brown did not say when he will obtain the warrant.

County Attorney Will Defend Canvass Board

County commissioners Tuesday authorized its county attorney, Harold F. Johnson, to defend the vote canvassing board in its litigation brought by E. Pope Bassett, unsuccessful candidate for a commission post.

Bassett claims irregularities at some precincts during the Nov. 3 election in which he, a Republican, lost to W. Lawrence Swofford, Altamonte Springs mayor, by 127 votes.

Atty. Johnson said yesterday he expects to file motions in the case this week with the Circuit Court as the defense starts its action.

Named in the suit filed by Bassett are Swofford and the following members of the canvassing board: County Judge C. Vernon Mize, Mrs. Camilla Bruce who is also voting registrar, and County Commissioner John H. Fitzpatrick.

Circuit Court Clerk Arthur Beckwith told commissioners that Swofford's victory has been certified by the secretary of state and he will be seated next January as District 3 representative.

He added that should the judge rule in favor of the plaintiff in the election suit the governor could order Swofford removed from the commission and Bassett named to replace him.

It is not expected that the voting charges will be completely aired prior to the seating of the new commission, the board was told. However, should the judge favor the motion for dismissal as planned by the defense the issue will be ended.

MOTION PICTURE producer John Hugh, in Longwood last week for filming of "The Cry of Laughing Owls," receives complimentary copies of The Herald with on-the-scene reports of the movie making from Herald reporter Donna Estes, who practically camped out on location to bring readers a first hand account of the city's reaction to its first visit from Hollywood.

Marines 'Playing For Keeps'

By Harry I. Johnson

Those Marines stationed at Sanford Naval Air Station are playing for real in the prisoner-of-war maneuvers being staged in a remote area of the compound.

The problem started Tuesday and ends later today and is not an eight-hour-a-day operation. The men stay on the project continually.

Some of the Marines are "prisoners of war." Others are their communist guards. And both sides play for keeps. The prisoners are subjected to virtually the same treatment they would receive from the hands of the Reds. They are stuffed head down in a steel drum. They have water thrown on them. The guards beat on the drum constantly and, as one prisoner said, "That begins to hurt after awhile."

All the while abuse, curt words are heaped on them. Their meal consists of rice. For dessert yesterday the guards gave them 10 raisins apiece. That's it.

But they have an out: If they want a cigarette, good food, kind treatment, all they have to do is explain the operation of the Vigilante, the twin-jet Mach 2 reconnaissance bomber located at the base.

None have. They take the punishment.

At least one prisoner has escaped and it took him more than two hours to get from the compound to his barracks. It was worth it, his commanding officer, Major B. T. Chen, told him he could take a shower, head for the mess hall and "sack in" if he wanted to. Another didn't fare so well. He was tossed over the barbed wire fence of the compound by his fellow prisoners but was "shot." He also cut his hand and had to have medical attention.

Prisoners try to get some rest — understandably — during the night. That doesn't work either. Every hour they're pulled on their feet and given more abuse.

Cruel? Major Chen says not. "It could mean the difference between living and dying in the real thing," he declares.

The prisoners and guards are under constant supervision to see their physical and mental conditions are okay. But, and you can believe it, they'll know a lot more about the enemy and his tricks when the exercise is finished.

'Thumbs Down,' Says County On Parking Ban

A request from the State Highway Patrol, through a letter from Seminole County Commissioners, to ban all parking on Hwy 17-92 from Lake Monroe to the Orange County line was turned down by City Commissioners, at their meeting Monday.

The request was made in the form of a letter from the County Commission Chairman Jim Avery, which stated that the crowded condition of the highway poses a severe safety problem.

City Commissioners denied the request as it pertains to French Ave. in Sanford, on the grounds that the portion of the highway which passes through the city is six-laned, while the open highway outside the city is four-laned.

Commissioners maintained that French Ave. is wide enough to permit parking in front of business places without creating a traffic hazard. A delegation of French Ave. merchants were present in City Hall to protest the request, but departed satisfied when commissioners moved to deny it.

However, one commissioner noted, "The State Road Department will do what they like about it, regardless of how we vote — they control the road. They've just allowed us the courtesy of expressing our opinion."

County Cancels Taxes Levied On City Parcels

The Board of County Commissioners Tuesday cancelled taxes levied on three Sanford owned parcels of land and withheld action on at least 11 more until further opinions are rendered by County Attorney Harold Johnson.

Recently Tax Assessor Mary Earle Walker billed the City for taxes on land owned by Sanford under a provision in the Florida statutes requiring her to do so on lands owned by municipalities for speculation, such as those held for industrial sites which would subsequently sold for commercial use.

However, Johnson told the County Commission Tuesday that three parcels, two of which are used for parking, were owned for public purposes and should be exempted. On the other parcels involved in the tax bill submitted to the City, Johnson declared: "I'm not ready to advise the Board on them. I'll do it as soon as I've completed my research."

The Florida Council for the Blind, a state agency, urges motorists to be constantly on the alert for blind pedestrians as they travel on busy thoroughfares or approach intersections.

'Lincoln Street' In Grove Manor Changed To 'Grove Manor Drive'

The name of Lincoln Street in the Grove Manor area of Sanford has been changed to Grove Manor Drive, following official action by City Commissioners.

The change was requested by residents of the area. It was pointed out that there are three "Lincoln Streets," and one "Lincoln Avenue" in the county. Residents agreed to pay for change in street name signs.

6 Men Charged In Hotel Theft

Six men have been charged in the theft of alcoholic beverages from the Longwood Hotel over the weekend.

The Seminole Sheriff's Office identified the men as Jerry M. Stearns, charged with petit larceny; Leon L. Mann, petit larceny and vagrancy; Brian Allen Sweet, petit larceny and vagrancy; Willie Northrup Smith, vagrancy; Ronald Edward Satter, vagrancy, and Roy Rice, breaking and entering investigation.

Police allege the men entered the Longwood Hotel and made off with a quantity of beer, liquor and wine. Entry was gained by cutting a glass on a side door and then forcing another door to get into the storage room.

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: My husband chases everything in skirts. Two months ago he asked me for a divorce and I wouldn't give it to him. We have 11 children from 18 years old down to 18 months old. If he goes to a lawyer, he has nothing on me. But I could divorce him on any grounds in the book because he has broken all the Ten Commandments and every City Ordinance and statute there is. Two weeks ago he just packed up and left. The kids miss him. He was a lousy husband but a good father. How long does a man usually stay away? I'm afraid he's broke and hungry. Should I try to locate him? I've got the money; besides, I guess I still love him.

A GLUTTON FOR PUNISHMENT
DEAR GLUTTON: Just go outside and blow the dog whistle. If he's broke and hungry, he'll hear it and come home.

DEAR ABBY: I don't know what the shoe companies have against people with big feet, but I am getting very discouraged. I am a 15-year-old girl who wears a size 10 D shoe, and I can't find a decent-looking pair of shoes in my size anywhere in this town. I have to order my shoes from a catalogue, and the only styles they make in my size are for old ladies. Can you, or any of your readers, help me, Abby?

TEN D
DEAR TEN: I'm probably putting my foot in it, but if I were in YOUR shoes, I'd hound the local shoe stores until they special-ordered the kind of shoes I wanted.

DEAR ABBY: I've been happily married for three months and this is the first time my husband has shown signs of having a violent temper. For a wedding gift, we got a "starter" set (service for four) of some expensive English dishes. I don't care for the pattern as it is much too fussy, so I use them for every day, hoping in time I'll break them so I won't have to look at any more. My mother-in-law gave us a set of cheap dishes she got with coupons, which are very plain. I use them for company because it's service for 12.

I want to buy a good set of dishes but my husband can't understand why. He just paid $10 for a new gun (he has four guns) and I didn't say anything. We both work and pool our money. I'd rather have a happy husband than a new set of dishes, but I'd like to have both. How?

GLENNDA
DEAR GLENNDA: If I won't put a strain on your budget, treat yourself to a new set of dishes. But do it cautiously. I don't recommend buying a husband who has both a violent temper and five guns.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, getting on in years, and I am not physically able to get around in the crowds any more. I am also on a limited budget, and all this Christmas shopping is too much trouble and expense to me. I wrote to several of my friends and relatives and asked them please to discontinue giving me Christmas gifts for the above reasons. I am now receiving unpleasant answers to my letters such as, "I don't give to get." Abby, I don't want to accept and not give in return. Was what I did so terrible?

KITTY
DEAR KITTY: I think you were more considerate than most people to announce beforehand that you did not intend to give gifts. Ignore the replies. They were unctuous and uncalled for.

Troubled? Write to AB-BY, Box 6976, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

It was rare indeed to find a swing due to superior card play in the World Bridge Olympiad, but in the match between England and France, Maurice Harrison-Gray made a three no-trump contract while his opposite number went down.

The bidding and opening lead was the same at both tables and in each instance dummy's Jack of spades won the trick.

Harrison-Gray promptly led ace and another club. East was in with the queen and led back a spade to his partner. This gave declarer four diamonds, three clubs and two spades for a total of nine tricks.

upon the defense was able to take five tricks.

Harrison-Gray's line of play was eminently correct. He could count eight tricks to start with and the best place to go after a ninth was in clubs.

The French declarer's play would have worked if East held the ace of hearts, but that was a 50 per cent chance only. The chance of being able to develop a third club trick was far better. This time the percentage play was the winner.

Incidentally, it should be noted that both South players rebid to two no-trump over the two clubs response with a no-trump pattern, but only 13 high card points.

Memo to mothers: Your child is outsmarting you whenever you make any of the following remarks:

"Junior's teacher just seems to have it in for him."
"I hope you won't think Sally's rude. She's just going through a phase."
"I finally got Suzy a telephone for her own because she monopolized the family phone."
"I know Bobby spends too much time watching television, but what can you do about it?"
"I'm exhausted every night by the time I get lily to bed."
"I think sixth graders are too young for boy-girl evening parties, but I'm letting Sue have one because it seems so important to her."
"Junior made me promise not to tell his dad he flunked his math test for fear he would be grounded."
"I can't leave town because I can't find a baby sister the children will mind."
"I should have a talk with Billy's teacher, but he doesn't want me to go near the school."
"It's more trouble to try to get the children to do something than to do it myself. You give Jimmy, he is always coming to me for extra money for this or that."

"If you talk like that, your children are outsmarting you all along the line."

Last Christmas I sent flowers to my charming "Italian family"—in fact, to two families. And they were so thrilled at the idea that I have found my solution of "what to send for Christmas" to people a world away: people whom you love but who you do not see often enough to know what would fit or "go with" their wardrobes. Flowers speak a universal language and I am thrilled at the reception my gifts received.

This year there is a small book illustrated with flower arrangements suitable for different countries. For instance, for Spain the colors tend towards the reds and yellows, and for France, pink and yellow and special fashion touches. For Italy there are many colorful flowers, including a basket arrangement of leaves and red and yellow flowers. You can see what you are sending and select from the pictures in the little booklet.

This flower sending is all so well arranged that I had exactly the message I wished to send delivered with the flowers. My Italian "families" gave parties and had their friends come to see my gift of flowers wired from America, and THAT is real appreciation.

The Florists Telegraph Delivery service is nationwide. Just visit your florist member, select your gift, give the address for your overseas friend or family and it is done. Send now and you save the charges of cabling; it can be done by air mail. The Florists Association has branches everywhere and the money exchange problem has been solved by the use of special unimprinted currency, the "Florin." The florin is equivalent to 25 cents in American money or one Swiss franc and all interflora orders are transmitted in Florins. No matter how far or how near you send your flowers, and love, they can be delivered a world away within a few hours.

By the way, I have some of these charming little illustrated booklets and, if you would like one, send now but be sure to enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

And a "flowery" Christmas to you!

Tomorrow — "Dear Edyth Thornton McLeod."

Horoscope Forecast

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are really stirred up to get lots done, but it's one of those peculiar days when it's essential that you carefully channel your efforts in the directions that are wise and intelligent, since the aspects can be just as explosive for you in reverse directions.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) It's all right to get at all that work ahead, but you must use more modern methods if you want to make real progress. Avoid others' criticism. Co-workers are acting peculiarly.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Take care you do not believe a hasty effort in endeavoring to modernize your mode of dress. See that color and material properly. Later, make sure the recreation you seek is worthwhile.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Be sure you impress others with your fine family life and do not take chances with basic security. Be charming with others. However, don't give way to over-emotionalism.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Instead of going at too fast a speed, taking other chances, be sure to get focus working constructively. Take time for study, keep appointments, etc. Follow associates who desire to use more up-to-date methods.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) Any interesting money matters should be studied well today, but don't take any action until a later time. Don't invest too much at this time. Regrets could come later if you do.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) If you are objective in your attitude, you can handle these interesting duties well and accept charming invitations. The planets are with you. But wise judgment is also necessary.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 23) Investigating somewhat into whatever is puzzling will show how to get along with those about you better. It pays to play the Good Samaritan. Many unexpected benefits become yours.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 21) Don't be annoyed at meticulous friends who have meticulous friends heart and are bending their efforts in such direction. Be cooperative instead. Then you make real progress.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Any efforts you make to gain favor with higher-ups is wise at this time. Safeguard your good name by being conservative. Impress them with your ability to follow the law to the letter.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) If you cooperate fully with associates and new contacts you have made, you get excellent results. Being a lone operator gets you nowhere. Dive into the new aspects that bring greater success.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) It will pay you handsomely to get in touch with experts in whatever interests you most now. Take particular pains with small detail. Then the big issues turn out much better.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) Partners are very provoking today, but it is up to you to keep poised, smallness out of the picture. Then they get back on the beam quickly. Pull ahead faster together.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be one of those delightful young ones who is interested in New Age ideas almost exclusively, and will have the ability to whittle down to practical size whatever undertaking seems impossible to get into operation early, as well as have true understanding of the spiritual. Some discipline necessary, too. A wonderful potential here!

"The Stars Impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!
