SANFORD'S BUSY STREETS APPEAL TO OUR VISITORS— MANY BIG IMPROVEMENTS

NEW BUILDINGS, STREETS,
MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENTS
ALL LOOK GOOD

WORK ALL SUMMER

Will Be Carried on Here and Boat Basin and Municipal Pier Be Included

The new street paving has started and a force of men has been employed on Sanford and Palmetto avenues for several weeks digging out the dirt and putting down the curbing and getting all ready for the new asphalt streets that will soon be laid on practically all the streets and avenues that are not paved. This work will take the greater part of the summer and will employ a large force of men and keep the city busy during the greater part of the summer months. Along with this work is the boat basin and the municipal pier and after that the bulkheading of the entire lake front from Sanford to Monroe and all of this public work and all of the many new city buildings going up make the visitors to the city think that they have arrived in the busiest city in Florida.

The First National Bank building, the Puleston-Brumley building, the Milane theatre building, and the Phillips building, all being built at about the same time, makes these corners look busy and most prosperous to those who are in the city for a few days.

With the many other buildings in other parts of the city and the many that are contemplated and with any price for spring crops Sanford should be a busy city all summer and there should be no dull times here at any part of the season.

There are many big things in store for the city and while the information is not available for publication at present it is sufficient to say that the faith of the Sanford people in this being a city of ten thousand people in the next two years has not been misplaced.

Dade's Officials Before Governor For Investigation

(By The Associated Press)
TALLAHASSEE, March 22.—The advance guard of the defense of County Solicitor Fred W. Pine and Sheriff Louis A. Allen, of Dade county, charged by certain citizens with non-enforcement of prohibition and gambling laws, arrived here yesterday in the persons of former Judge E. T. Price and Ben C. Willard, a member of the legislature. The defendants themselves, accompanied by an array of legal and moral supporters and a mass of refuting evidence were said to be on the way last night and expected to arrive early this morning. Mr. Pine was said to be accompanied by his wife.

They are to have a hearing before the governor today on charges brought by the Christian Council of Miami. Mr. Price, who explained that he was legal counsel for the sheriff and a friend of the county solicitor conferred lengthily with the governor yesterday. Later he would not make known what transpired at the meeting, but said he was confident that sufficient testimony would be presented today to disprove the charges. He and Mr. Willard characterized the charges as Republican politics as reflected through the Christian council. All the substantial business men of Miami are supporting the two defendants, he said, and believed in their innocence. He said the defense had in its possession more than fifty affidavits to attack against those of the council. Charges against Mr. Pine that he accepted money to afford protection to illicit interests were described as absurd.

Included in the party enroute last night were said to be Major Wolfe and former Representative Watson, both of Miami.

A normal man is one who has the uneasy conviction that his wife's next husband won't be such a fine fellow.

EXPECT TO SOLVE MANY PROBLEMS IN RADIO FIELD

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 22.—Informed by two days of discussions of other conflicts and obstacles now hampering wireless use, radio experts and government officials attending the radio conference here went into executive session late yesterday to consider action which may lead to betterment of conditions. Commissioner Carson of the commerce department's bureau of navigation, acting chairman of the conference, said a day or more might be necessary before the conferees could solve all of its problems.

The primary object will be to parcel out among users new and less conflicting bands of wave lengths, and to prescribe operating conditions which will allow commercial services, broadcasters, marine navigators, the army and navy and amateurs to be less hampered in their operations.

MILITARY AND POLICE SEARCH FOR WHITE BOY IN CUBA— LOOKS LIKE VOODOO'S WORK

(By The Associated Press)

The entire district is aroused. Fears are expressed that what may be another horror been perpetrated by diabolical African cult known as Voodoo and Ju Ju and several other names with attendant human sacrifice.

Juan had been playing with his brother and leaving him had lost his way he said. Nobody tried to kidnap him, he said.

SOVIET RUSSIA MUST WORK OUT HER OWN SALVATION WITHOUT RECOGNITION OF U. S.

Secretary of State Hughes Does Not See Any Hope of Change in This Policy

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 22.—Secretary Hughes yesterday flatly rejected an appeal to recognize the Russian Soviet government made to him by representatives of the women's committee for recognition of Russia, and, in a formal statement, declared the "Salvation of Russia cannot be contrived outside and injected." The statement which was made to the delegation in reply to arguments it advanced touching the Russian government, trade, finance, economics and various policies inaugurated by them affecting international relations.

Mr. Hughes' discussion of the subject did not reveal any probability of action by the Washington government looking to recognition of the Soviet although the hope expressed that conditions in Russia would change in a way which would make America's helpfulness available to people of that country. It is his dominant thought, Mr. Hughes said, to find a ground for helpfulness, recuperation and restoration of peace in Russia.

Secretary Hughes' remarks to the delegation which contended that world peace and the stability of Europe depended on immediate recognition of Russia by the United States, follows in part:

"I know how deeply interested you are in promoting the cause of peace and I can assure you that I am profoundly in sympathy with your desires and aims. I have done the best that I could in the discharge of official responsibilities to serve that cause which is very close to my heart.

"In speaking to the representatives of your general organization last May, I voiced the concern which we felt for the welfare of the people of

REVOLUTION IN AMERICA IF ANARCHISTS SUCCEEDED IN PLANS OF FOSTER, THE CHIEF

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., March 22.—William Z. Foster, of Chicago, brought back from Moscow last year the program for a revolution in America, according to a speech he delivered at the communist party convention in the sand dunes near there last summer. It was testified yesterday at Foster's trial on charges of criminal syndicalism.

"K-07" a department of justice agent who attended the convention as a delegate, produced on the witness stand penciled notes which he said he made while Foster spoke and with them to refresh his memory, repeated the gist of Foster's alleged speech.

The defense has succeeded in blocking introduction of a document which the government agent, whose real name is Francis Morrow, had identified as the original copy of the speech brought to the convention by Foster. Barred by the court's ruling from reading the speech itself to the jury, C. L. Smith, assistant attorney general of Michigan, had Morrow repeat in his own language the high lights of the document.

Next to the testimony about the

KIWANIS WILL INVITE HARDING VISIT SANFORD

MILLER MOTION DELEGATES
MAYOR TO PERSONALLY DELIVER INVITATION

That it is highly probable that President Harding will include Sanford in his itinerary before returning to Washington was suggested at the Kiwanis club meeting at the Hotel Valdez yesterday, and Frank L. Miller put over a motion that authorized and delegated Mayor Lake to proceed to meet up with the president and personally deliver the invitation to him to come to Sanford and to have dinner with the Kiwanis club while in the city.

The Kiwanis club meeting yesterday was certainly a howling success—the boys had the old spirit and pep, bubbling over with good humor and good things for Sanford.

President Sharon brought the meeting to order and Fire Insurance Brownlee returned thanks. It was then discovered that the Wight Grocery Company of this city had placed a package of "strollers" at each plate and on each package was "Kiwanians, Compliments of Wight Grocery Co." The company was duly thanked for the thought—and the strollers.

Visitors welcomed at the meeting were: Seth Woodruff, Kiwanian of Orlando; Parson Wyatt, president of the Daytona Kiwanis, and Mr. Watkins, vice president of a Kiwanis club of Delaware, who is now visiting in Daytona for the winter. Parson Wyatt spoke for several minutes about Kiwanis and the good it could do in a town, and then divulged the secret that Mr. Watkins was a singer. Mr. Watkins also spoke and afterwards was forced to demonstrate his singing—which he did by singing a Welch national song in true Welch manner, and the club wanting more, he sang "Smiles."

Sherman Lloyd, the basso profundo of the outfit was the song and cheer leader and did his job to a Turk's taste—she's there—that boy, with Doc, McCaslin to hammer the ivory and the bunch to fill in the vacant lots with tunes, some noise can be heard.

Well, the worst was pulled off at this meeting, too. Dr. Marshall and Judge Mines, who say they were the whole show at the Old Curiosity Shop were induced, after a collection, to reinstitute their act of the show. Needless to remark, this was a screen, and in token of appreciation both have been presented with "rubber dollies." The collection went to the hospital.

Upon motion the movement of the Mothers' Club of Sanford to procure better pictures for children, and to have a special picture shown to children each Saturday morning, was endorsed by the club.

Mayor Lake was elected to represent the club as a district trustee in Atlanta next month, instead of Dad Dumas, the duly authorized and ordained district trustee, whose railroad pass will expire before that time because of which and business, he could not attend.

the communists internationale of Russia.

The stenographic report of Losovsky's speech as transcribed from Miss Sackarow's notes quotes Losovsky as saying:

"The bigger the party grows the more it is securing the support of the masses; the more government is interested in not taking up direct conflict with it, but rather in watching it function openly. It is a danger for the movement to imagine that because the capitalist government is not in such a panic as it was a few years ago, that they will tolerate a legal C. P. (Communist Party.)

"In the committee one comrade said that in the near future it may happen that Senator Borah may be president of the country and since he is a liberal, he may be in the C. P. Of course it may happen if Borah gets into power and really gives us an opportunity to function as a legal party, there is only one way to it, and that is to get the masses back of us and tell Borah or any other head of the capital government to act accordingly."

The state finished Morrow's direct examination yesterday afternoon.

Who is "Marshall" Important Query in Murder Probe

NEW YORK, March 22.—The question, "Who is Mr. John Marshall of Boston?" last night vied in public interest with that of "Who killed Dorothy Keenan?" when the police ended a week's investigation apparently as baffled by the crime as when they started.

At least five persons know the real name of the dead model's elderly admirer—who was with her a few hours before she died—but all refuse to break the web of secrecy.

Assistant District Attorney Pecora, in charge of the case, has been asked pointedly by several newspapers why he shields "Mr. Marshall." He said: "I can see no good that would come from revealing his name but only needless humiliation and suffering to his family."

Mr. Pecora, who yesterday received a number of anonymous letters one reading: "Marshall must have fed you well," said he was well satisfied with Marshall's statement that he left the girl's apartment some time before she was killed, and asserted he would not be "bludgeoned" into revealing Marshall's name.

What conclusions the police reached after their week's investigation remained beclouded. Suicide, murder, for robbery, murder for vengeance because the girl would not conspire to blackmail Marshall, and several other theories, have been advanced, revised and advanced again.

Florida Convict's Story is Told Pardon Board at Hearing

TALLAHASSEE, March 22.—Cruel fate trails Harold L. Nostrand, an inmate of a state road camp in Calhoun county, according to the story told in his behalf before the state pardon board at its session last week, and subsequent events.

Nostrand, according to the story presented to the board, was formerly a chauffeur for one of the Havemeyers, of sugar fame and fortune. His employer at the time of his death bequeathed Nostrand $400,000 with the stipulation that he should reach the age of 30 without committing a felony. Nostrand joined the navy during the war and in the course of events landed in Pensacola where following his departing he took up civilian pursuits. Just three months before he reached 30 years and wealth, he was convicted of the theft of two automobiles. The machines, with tampered number plates were found in his garage and although he claimed he was the victim of circumstances, he was sentenced to serve five years.

HAND-CHARLES

An interesting event that came as a pleasant surprise to the many friends of the young couple, was the marriage of William Carl Hand to Miss Janie Elizabeth Charles, at Columbia, S. C., Thursday, March 15th. The marriage was solemnized in the afternoon at the parsonage of the Washington Street Methodist church, Rev. Mark Carlyle officiating. Only relatives and close friends witnessing the ceremony.

The bride wore a very becoming suit of grey Poiret twill in a charming combination of brown silk braids. The stylish small hat and veil and other accessories were also in grey completing the pretty costume.

The bride, who spent some time in Sanford attending High School, will be remembered as the only daughter of T. O. Charles, who for several years, was identified with the business interests of Sanford. Mrs. Hand is a very lovely young woman, possessing the charm of a gracious personality, who will be an acquisition to the younger matrons set.

The groom, who is one of the younger business men of Sanford, is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hand, having lived here all of his life, where he and his attractive young wife have hosts of friends who will be interested in their marriage. He is associated in business with his father and is a young man of sterling character.

Mr. and Mrs. Hand left Columbia in their car immediately after the ceremony for the home trip, stopping over in Augusta and other Georgia towns while enroute. They will be at home with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hand at 317 West Second Street.

Prizes Awarded To High School Pupils on Maps

Contest For Best Free Hand Drawing Decided This Morning

The educational committee of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce of which Prof. T. W. Lawton is chairman has sponsored a number of competitions in the grammar and high school grades of the public schools. The winners are awarded cash prizes donated by the Chamber of Commerce.

This morning at the chapel exercises in the grammar school, prizes were given to the successful pupils in a contest for the best freehand drawn map of Seminole county. Details governing the contest were submitted to the pupils of the school shortly after the beginning of the term. There were a great many maps drawn and submitted. The committee appointed to make the final selection of the winners experienced a difficult problem in arriving at a decision. The winner of first prize was James Sands of the eighth grade, second prize, Virginia Jenkins, eighth grade and third prize, Nellie Williams of the fifth grade. The first prize was $15.00 and $5.00 was awarded for the second and third selections.

The maps were exceptionally well drawn for children of this age, and would do credit to pupils of higher grades. It was evident that considerable time was given to their preparation. The result also reflects a great deal of credit on the teachers of the schools, who have assisted in developing this latent talent in their pupils.

The maps will be framed and hung in Miss Miller's office during the remainder of the school term, after which they will be held in the office of the Chamber of Commerce. They will also be used in conjunction with Seminole county displays at subsequent fairs, as they are commendable testimonials to the ability of Sanford pupils and the efficiency of the Sanford schools.

CARL B. ROBINSON DIES IN ORLANDO, FUNERAL TODAY

This afternoon at 5 o'clock the funeral of Charles B. Robinson, 43, who died at his home in Gore avenue yesterday morning at 3:30 o'clock will be held from St. Luke's Cathedral. At the grave Olivet Commandery No. 4, Knights Templar, will conduct a brief service. The church service will begin at five o'clock.

For more than six weeks he had been ill of pneumonia and complications and his recovery was not expected. Although realizing the end must come soon, news of his death was a shock to his hosts of friends in Orlando and many other Florida cities, where he was well known.

Four years ago Mr. Robinson's health began to fail and he was advised to seek a change in climate for at least a part of the year. He went north and regained much of his lost strength although he never completely overcame the effects of that illness. Late in January he became ill of the grippe, which quickly developed into pneumonia. For days he lay in his home in a critical condition and was finally taken to the Orange General hospital where he underwent an operation.

After the operation he rallied and seemed to gain slightly for several days. Then there followed a long period in which daily reports from his bedside indicated no change for the better or worse. He was removed a few days before his death to his home there to get the full benefit of fresh air and sunshine from a sleeping porch which was built at his residence while he was at the hospital.

At the bedside when death came, and beside him through most of his sickness, were his wife and his daughter, Margaret, 9, his sisters, Miss Corinne Robinson, one of the best loved women in Florida and director of the associated charities here; Mrs. Louis C. Massey and Mrs. R. V. Ott of Ocala. Three brothers survive him, T. P. Robinson and Arthur L. Robinson of Orlando, both of whom were at the bedside, and E. S. Robinson of DeLand, who was notified of the death immediately.—Orlando Sentinel.

Piggly Wiggly stock has been barred from the stock exchange after a violent jump. It is laughable the way the exchange attempts to cover up some of the transactions by barring certain stocks. If they barred all the speculations there would be no exchange and no operators.

Rosa Pastor Stokes, the anarchist and communist and other names meaning that she is "agin the government," is being pictured in the newspapers in connection with the trial of the anarchists in Michigan. We look for a "fadeout" in the picture of all of them.

St. Johns county wants to vote bonds for building 43 miles of road and we hope they get the money. If it is to be spent on the Dixie Highway we hope they get it soon. All of the main highways through Florida should be put in fine shape before another winter season.

The committee from Washington investigating the forests of the United States and in Jacksonville and they state that some steps toward reforestation are taken soon the timber resources of Florida will soon be exhausted. The Herald said this ten years ago, we say it now and we are glad to have authority on the subject and people who know the situation say the same thing. The waste of good timber right here in the Sanford section is nothing less than criminal.

SANFORD NEEDS MONEY

Sanford needs money for investments in real estate and building of homes and putting over other big projects. All the building that has been done here in the last fifteen years has been done with home money and now that the limit has been reached Sanford needs outside capital and capital that will come in here and give the investors a chance to breathe by loaning out money at a low rate of interest. This city needs a big loan and trust company, or a big insurance company or a few private citizens with plenty of money to come here and take care of the many investment opportunities that are here. This city needs two hundred homes and a dozen apartment houses right now and these homes would be built this summer if the money was available. But Sanford wants money and Sanford will get it and the old dog in the manger ideas of keeping new money out of Sanford will not prevail any longer. The investments are here and the people are waiting them and they will have the money here to take care of these investments. There are only certain people here now that can make investments and can build and can develop and the man of ordinary means cannot obtain money to make investments. It should be arranged for money for everyone who wants to build a home and the poor man should have this advantage as well as the rich. Every man in Sanford is entitled to build a home if he desires and he should not be forced to sell his clothes to pay the interest at that. There is plenty of cheap money in other states looking for investments and Sanford people intend to get it and to build homes this summer.

WHO QUESTIONS IT?

Speaking the other day of farm credits, Arthur Brisbane opined there were too many middlemen. Might not the same answer hold good in the case of the farmer presented by the current Outlook which reproduces a photograph of a cheque received by a North Dakota farmer which tells the story of the potatoes that went to market and brought home $1.30.

Cheque No. 8150 on the Minnesota Potato Exchange to N. P. Nelson for $1.30, his share of the transaction, his compensation for buying the seed and sacks, doing the planting, digging, hauling and sorting, also states that the carload of potatoes sold for 80 cents per hundred pounds, or $336.00 of which the producer got $1.30.

San anyone question the answer: too many middlemen.

Florida's legislature could delve a bit into this problem if it is really keen for public service. To begin with, it could give serious study to the proposed commission license bill offered by Representative C. H. Kennerly of Palatka. This measure may have the nucleus for substantial good.—Jacksonville Journal.

BEAUTIFYING THE LAKE SHORE

For many years the Herald has advocated the establishment of a boulevard on the lake front up and down the shores and in time to make it all the way around on the Volusia side. It would be money well invested for in time it would mean beautiful homes all the way around this magnificent body of water—Lake Monroe—one of the prettiest in the state and one that has been most neglected in the past. Lake Monroe, at the head of navigation on the St. Johns river offers much to the investor and will offer more in the future when the boulevard is built along the shores of the lake from the Osteen ferry to the city of Lake Monroe. Representative Forrest Lake will pass a bill in the legislature making it possible for the owners of land on the shores of the lake to bulkhead the same and have a long term of years to pay for it—long enough that they will not feel the expense and long enough that they will have a chance to make rich returns from the investment. This is certainly a step in the right direction and this lake front will become one of the most beautiful pieces of land in the entire state. Let everyone get behind this great project and push it. The Herald advocated the bulkheading of the lake shores in the city ten years ago. It was done and there was some kicking against it at the time but those who objected to it then realize the vast amount of benefit to be derived from it now and they would not go back to the swampy shores with the malaria fever and the mosquitoes for any price. What this improvement did for Sanford the new project will do for many miles of lands on the lake shores and for many people and in time it will be one solid "suburb beautiful" from Sanford to Lake Monroe.

MR. DAWSON'S REPORT

The biennial report of Marion L. Dawson, state equalizer of taxes, is on the editorial desk of the Tribune. It contains so much of interest that it is difficult to condense a review of it in the space of one article. Mr. Dawson has positive views on the inequalities of state taxation and he backs up those views with figures.

Some of his statistics, showing the loss of revenue suffered because of inadequate assessments are startling. For example, 1922, 95,700 automobiles were registered in this state and only 78,004 assessed for personal taxes—leaving 17,726 which escaped taxation altogether, except for the purchase of tags, a loss to the tax rolls of $5,317,800, at $300 each. In one county, 5,165 automobiles were registered and only 843 assessed. How many of the automobile owners in Hillsboro county have paid more than their license tax? Similar conditions prevail with respect to cattle. A conservative estimate of the value of the cattle in Florida, made by the Commissioner of Agriculture, gives the total as more than $33,000,000 while the assessment rolls show a total cattle valuation of a little more than $7,000,000.

Mr. Dawson sums it up by the following remarkable statement:

"Fully 20 per cent of the people of Florida are paying no taxes at all, probably 60 per cent are paying on an average valuation of real estate of 20 per cent, and the balance on an average realty valuation of perhaps 30 per cent. The valuation placed on personal property everywhere is very much below these figures. Those who are paying on a 50 per cent valuation, a some of them are, are paying much more than their share, and this burden is fast becoming so heavy that it is paralyzing ambition, destroying hope and stifling industry."

As remedies for this state of affairs Mr. Dawson recommends legislation establishing a central tax equalizing department; the classification of property, so that different rates of taxation may be levied against different classes; a requirement that owners of taxable property be required to submit sworn statements of their holdings. Just how much relief these measures would give is problematical.

In the opinion of The Tribune the suggest method of correction is a more vigilant system of assessment. There is no good reason why the great majority of those 17,000 automobiles or that $26,000,000 worth of cattle now escaping taxation should not be put on the tax books.—Tampa Tribune.

HARDING'S FLORIDA VISIT

The excitement that attended the visit of President Harding when he came to Florida for the first time as president has died away to a great extent. Not that familiarity breeds contempt in this case. But that the people of the state are so accustomed to celebrities that no celebrity can continue a triumphal march through the state.

Sooner or later everyone comes to Florida. Many of the best known men in the country have been coming here for years, and some of them make their homes here for several months each year. Thus the people become "addicted" to celebrities and only someone whose presence would shake to life anything but a mummy can create a great stir in Florida.

When Harding came the first time after his election, there was a great hue and cry on account of it. Cities and towns howled themselves hoarse, bidding for a visit from the chief executive. All the benefits and attractions of the various towns were held forth and visiting delegations called on the president asking him for a share in "his patronage."

Politicians by the score from all parts of the state and nearby states bore down on him, asking for "his ear." It was somewhat ludicrous, we will admit. And to cap the climax, the president refused to see any and all, pushed off into the Halifax and Indian rivers where the mud banks and sandbars precluded swift following, and refused to hold any communication whatever with the shore. His itinerary was not mapped out, so none could know where to intercept him. He went ashore for golf when he "felt like it" and there was no way of telling when the feeling would strike him. It is reported on good authority that several automobiles filled with Floridians seeking an interview followed the craft; two thirds the distance down the state and never once succeeded in getting close to the president.

Some stunt. Doubtless the president knew that Florida was hopelessly Democratic so he need not waste time philandering. And doubtless he knew that the only isolated spot in the United States is a boat without wireless on some barely navigable river.

So the president has been coming every year and likes the cruise. Florida has ceased to loo kupon him as the eighth wonder.

Yet it must be said that his visits are worth much to this state in an advertising way. Florida date lines appear on every daily in the country every day the president stays here. People who never thought of Florida as the supremely desirable place it is have been convinced that there must be something attractive here.

The president is our best advertising bet. We hope that he keeps coming.—DeLand News.

BETTER CITY BUILDING

Sanford is building for the future and Sanford must build more wisely conforming to many requirements that not only mean a better and more beautiful city now but in the city of the future. If the early town builders could have looked one hundred years or even fifty years ahead and conformed to certain rules about a beautiful city with regular lines they would have avoided many mistakes in city planning and city building. Sanford is probably the first city in Florida to have a zoning bill framed for ratification by the state legislature. Sanford has good ideas on city planning and Sanford people will back the City Planning Committee in their ideas for they recognize the better planning of the Greater Sanford. Along this line the Jacksonville Journal says:

"When Chicago burned, its bankers and builders were in despair, until its leading real estate operator, who at the time was in California, was reached by wire with the question, 'What shall we do?' The one word answer came back, 'BUILD.' It was that faith in the future that re-made the Inter-ocean metropolis.

"Every city is as great as the faith of its staunchest citizens. No greater. The real asset of a city is not its past but its future.

hardly a gambler's chance of growth. The town that has discovered itself has opened future's door to greatness. The city that would find for itself a future must utilize the NEW and not the old. Each age demands improvement on the past.

"The merchant who so respects ancient methods that he ignores the newest ideas in merchandising must lose his lead to the merchant who is eager to employ the last in salesman efficiency.

"The town that holds fast to obsolete ideals surrenders supremacy. The community that expects to fall by accident into industrial greatness thru no effort of its own, has a child-like faith in modern miracles, and has as little chance of its hope's fulfillment as has the youth who, by wishing, would see the river change its honey.

"The wish is worthless without the will. Imagination precedes the architect's pencil in its course, but the mason must follow that tracing ere the castle in air is anchored to earth.

"Ethical laws are as essential to life and the growth of things as physical laws. The flower unfolds according to a well-ordered plan. Town problems are merely the common problems of individuals. The town that is without plan and purpose, without ideas and ideals, is as colorless and as hopeless as the individual who lacks these attributes, as the mason without blueprints before him.

"The town that permits selfish interests to outplay common interests, that allows personal wants to warp community ideals, and low aims to thwart high aims, handicaps its chances of being bigger and better.

"The satisfied mind wants nothing, does nothing, accomplishes nothing. But the mind that is obsessed with a wholesome unrent is likely to bless the world with benefits.

"So with the town. The community that is eager to be better is destined to be bigger, healthier, wealthier and wiser."

FROM OTHER SANCTUMS

THEN AND NOW

A year ago there were nearly 500,000 idle freight cars in the country. Now there is a shortage of nearly 100,000 cars, and a still larger number could be used if they were available.

Then the iron and steel interests were running at about 30 per cent capacity. Now they are running at from 80 to 85 per cent capacity, and limited only by the lack of transportation.

Then business was stagnant and pessimism ruled. Now business is active, and growing more and more active day by day, and optimism rules the land.

Then there was uncertainty in the minds of free traders and of many honest minded people who believed that a protective tariff would depress our export and import trade. Now our export and import trade are growing with remarkable rapidity, and the shipments of farm products and of manufactured goods, as well as imports from other lands, are setting at naught all the predictions of disaster of the free traders a year ago.

Then there was some uncertainty as to the extent of construction activity which would prevail throughout the land. Now construction is proceeding at an almost unprecedented rate in the building of dwellings, banks, churches and schools; and practically in every other line of construction work, activity is vigorously under way.

Then the railroads had ordered very few locomotives and cars. Now the car and locomotive shops are crowded with orders from railroads which will tax many of them to their capacity for months to come.

Then the railroad officials were in despair, not knowing how they would be able to meet their obligations and expand their facilities to take care of the traffic. Now the railroads are working on safe ground, with a margin of profit which will enable them to finance for great improvements and an increase in rolling stock beyond anything which they had been doing for six or seven years.

Then the iron and steel and kindred interests were at a very low depth. Dullness, depression and almost despair ruled in many an office of companies big and little. Now the demand for iron and steel products exceeds the output, and everybody is busy and happy.

Then cotton was low and every bale sold increased the poverty of the growers. Now cotton is higher and every bale sold yields a fair margin of profit to most producers.

Then the farmers of the West, like those of the South, were suffering in dire poverty. Now increased prices for wheat and corn and cattle and hogs have lifted many millions of dollars of indebtedness and encouraged the Western farmers, as well as Southern farmers, to go ahead with their work.

Then no man dared forecast what would happen unless he forecasted poverty by the continuation of the policy of deflation which might at any moment be enforced so long as the influences which then controlled the Reserve Board dominated the situation. Now that fear has been dispelled and there is confidence where there was uncertainty. Now there is an increasing realization that the day of secrecy in financial matters controlling the country's business interests is passing away, and openness and constructive work will take the place of secrecy and destructive efforts.

Then exports and imports alike were small. Now exports and imports are heavy and rapidly expanding.

These are but a few of the striking things which indicate the wonderful change that has taken place in nearly every line of business and in every section of the country.

But more than this is the realization of the fact that the tide has completely turned, that the wrecks strewn on the shores of the business ocean of this land are being cleared away by the rising flood of improvement in business conditions.—Manufacturers' Record.

Get Your Picric Acid For Blasting Stumps From Government

Farmers and Road Builders Can Get it Free for the Asking

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The Bureau of Public Roads finds that it has a sufficient quantity of blasting caps or detonators to enable it to supply one to each pound of the cartridge picric acid, left over war surplus explosives, which the government is distributing to the farmers and road builders of the country, under an act of congress.

These caps or detonators will be given free, plus transportation, to the farmers and road builders. Thus, by receiving these caps or detonators free from the government, the net cost of the cartridge picric acid will be reduced approximately two cents a pound. There is no charge for the picric acid beyond the cost of cart-ridging, drying and distribution, namely, seven cents a pound, plus freight, and this cost is now reduced approximately two cents a pound by the furnishing free of the detonators or caps. At many points of consumption, it is stated at the Bureau of

County agricultural agents of the department of agriculture, state agricultural colleges, state highway commissions, county road supervisors, county road boards, county commissioners, contractors building state or county roads, and others interested in obtaining supplies of the left over war explosive should make their wants known at once, so that the government at Washington may intelligently plan the distribution, as directed by congress, for the spring and early summer work of the farmer in stump blasting, drainage, etc., and of the road builder in highway construction, maintenance and repairs. The farmer, to obtain a supply of the cartridge picric acid, should get in touch with his county agricultural agent or state agricultural college. Urban Shocker Laid Up in Brown's Camp

Star Hurler Hit by Wild Pitch at Mobile

MOBILE, Ala., March 22.—Urban Shocker, one of the leading pitchers on the staff of the St. Louis Browns, in training here, is suffering from the effects of a blow in the groin received by a wild pitched ball. Shocker had to retire from the game, and may be out of training for several days. Rain called off the second exhibition of the Browns yesterday afternoon.

Pat Collins, regular catcher of the team, was given a leave of absence of a week to attend the funeral of his mother-in-law, at Kansas City, Kans., will rejoin the Browns at Shreveport, La., today.

Chief Chittenden has been selected to represent the Sanford Country Club in Jacksonville at the state meet next month. Chief is one of Sanford's best and should give a good account of himself.

Otis George and his assistant, will leave the club for the summer months some time in about a week. Those fellows that waited too long to get those lessons they needed so badly will have only themselves to blame.

But at that there should be some real golfers in Sanford this summer as Otis is busy twelve hours every day giving lessons.

CLARKE FROFEITS BOND

(By The Associated Press) ATLANTA, March 22.—Edward Young Clarke, former imperial wizard of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, failed to appear for trial in the United States court here yesterday on a charge of using the mails to defraud. His bond of $500 was ordered forfeited by Judge S. H. Sibley and it was stated a bench warrant for his arrest would be issued later in the day.

When Clarke's case was called his counsel requested a continuance on the ground that Mr. Clarke's leading counsel was engaged in another court. He disclaimed knowledge of Clarke's whereabouts, but stated he thought he could be produced if the case was continued until next week. On the request of District Attorney Clint Hagar, Clarke's bond was forfeited.

Charge against Clarke of using the mails to defraud grew out of actions in connection with the propagation department of the Ku Klux Klan in which Clarke is alleged to have sent letters to officials of the Klan advising them it would be necessary to make bond and calling for a premium of $5 each to be sent him. Several of these alleged premiums were sent to him, the government alleges, but no bonds were issued for them, it was said.

JACK DEMPSEY WILL REFEREE WILLARD-FLOYD JOHNSON FRAY

NEW YORK, March 22.—If the well laid plans of T. Rickard do not "gang agley" the present heavyweight champion, three former incumbents of that eminent position, and two prominent contenders for the title, will be in or near the ring on the afternoon of May 12 when Jess Willard and Floyd Johnson do battle for sweet chapty, $25,000 apiece and the right to make overt gestures at Jack Dempsey.

The list includes brother Dempsey himself, champion and illustrious author; Jim Jeffries and Jim Corbett, ex-champions whose names will live as long as fists are fists; Willard, another former champion, and Johnson and Luis Firpo, contenders of repute.

Dempsey, according to present plans is to referee the Willard-Johnson bout with Jeffries and Corbett setting at the ringside in the role of judges. This same trio will officiate when Firpo and his unknown adversary come together in the same ring on the same afternoon, the only exception being that Jeffries is scheduled to referee this one.

Corbett, it seems is to sit in comparative ease and refinement thru-out merely counting the points as he sees them.

The plan appears to have commendable possibilities, not the least of which is the remote prospect of any one taking violent and personal exception to the decisions rendered, as per custom.

The three champions, past and present, have been invited to officiate by Rickard, according to a semi-official statement and it is taken for granted that they will accept.

Expect 100,000 at Yank Park May 12

Willard, Johnson and Firpo Expected to Draw Big Crowd That Day

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, March 22.—Preliminary arrangements are underway it was announced yesterday, to handle a crowd of 100,000 at the Yankee stadium May 12 when three of the leading contenders for Jack Dempsey's heavyweight title—Jess Willard, Luis Firpo and Floyd Johnson—will box for the benefit of the milk fund.

Should the attendance reach this figure it would eclipse the previous record gate approximately of 93,000 which witnessed the Jack Dempsey-Carpenter bout at Boyles thirty acres, Jersey City in 1921.

The Yankee stadium's grand stand and bleachers, now rapidly nearing completion will seat 75,000 and it is planned to accommodate 25,000 more on the playing field. There will be 21,000 bleacher seats selling at $1.

Frank Chance Has Eyes on Florida

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 22.—Frank Chance, new manager of the Boston Red Sox, will never return to Hot Springs for a training season if he has his way. His men have spent most of the time since their arrival dodging rains, which is not conducive to getting in condition for the opening of the baseball season. Nemo Liebold, the outfielder, has reported and the squad is now complete.

Our own Bert Chapman is training with the Red Sox at Hot Springs, and should Chance have his way and train some where in Florida, we are hoping that Sanford will be ready for a big league team by that time and land them. Whether they train in Sanford or not, however, it is hoped that it will be some where close so that we can see Chap in action.

Brennan May Not Enter Ring Again

Heavyweight Who Lost to Firpo Recovers But Wants to Quit

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Mich. 22.—Bill Brennan, Chicago heavyweight, who suffered a slight concussion of the brain as a result of his knockout by Luis Angel Firpo, South American pugilist, in a bout here a week ago, has so far recovered as to be able to leave the hospital, it was announced yesterday. Brennan will remain out of the ring indefinitely. He may, however, for pugilistic career altogether, it was intimated, rather than risk further injury and also considering that he is past his prime and no longer a title contender.

POSTOFFICES IN BAD WAY FOR FINANCES

FAILURE OF CONGRESS EMERGENCY BILL KILLS THE SERVICE

The following from the Orlando Reporter-Star about the postoffice is in line with other offices under the present administration:

Congressman Joe Sears fresh from the capital city, was in Orlando shaking hands this morning with old friends. Mr. Sears shows the effects of the 16-hours a day labor which he has been called upon to give during

PLASTER WALL BOARD ROOFING BRICKS ETC.

If you are going to build, of course you want the very best materials to go into it, and you can afford to use only the best when you deal with us. We charge reasonable prices for quality materials. "Builders' Headquarters" Hill Lumber Co. Phone 130, Sanford the closing days of congress. "It was one of the most trying seasons I have ever attended," said Mr. Sears. "We Democrats did everything we could to put over the legislation which was needed. The country today, politically, appears to be in pretty good shape, and I am of the impression that political conditions have settled down for the time being."

See "Quincy Adams Sawyer" at the Princess Theatre, Friday and Saturday, March 23rd and 24th

Mr. Sears was very much surprised to learn that the Orlando postoffice would suffer because of the failure of congress to pass the emergency bill, which would provide for the continuance of uninterrupted postal service. He immediately took up by wire with Washington the advisability of securing relief. "I do not understand why the Republicans in congress failed to pass this emergency bill. They have the majority in both the house and senate, and they could have done anything they wished. The inconvenience of a congested postoffice of course, does not worry us southerners. We are used to such conditions, but for the life of me I do not see why they are punishing the tourists, for the most of these tourists, being from the north, are Republicans and they are punishing their own people. I believe, however, the tangle can be straightened out, and I will certainly lend every possible effort to this end," said Mr. Sears.

Just before Postmaster General Work was transferred to the interior department, he recommended that postoffices be taken out of politics. Mention is made that reconsecrator, Mr. New, is a politician of the old style, who believes in distributing favors to the faithful of the clan.

As a result of the political hotch potch that has been brewing at Washington to straighten administration sentiment in various communities where it is known to be below par, several vacation appointments, it is understood will be recommended by the new postmaster general. Among the offices that will be affected by vacation appointments, it is said, is the Orlando office. There is no official information available and this information only comes through one of the usual leaks that give a forecast of coming events.

One outstanding fact that admits of no dispute, is that congress adjourned without making the usual emergency appropriation for the postal service. Even though this office returns to the city of Washington very much more money than it gets vouchers for in the operative department, yet much of the service here is dependent on the emergency fund under the plan by which the postoffice department operates. Many offices in the United States do not make operating expenses, while others like Orlando, yield a surplus each quarter to the department. If the auxiliary service, the overtime and extra service is cut off it will materially cripple many offices, including the Orlando office, which would lose fully one-half its operating force.

Postmaster McLean is not doing any talking on the subject. He is hopeful that the department at Washington will have such powers as will enable it to cope with the situation created by congress failing to make the usual appropriations. As congress will not be in session for months, the situation might be very embarrassing and the mail service rendered uncertain and tardy.

Just what the idea of congress in this unusual departure, is, is not clear. Mr. McLean's mission does not expire until the day of July. It is hardly to be expected that any candidate is going to take into account a vacancy, however, that Postmaster McLean is showing no signs of resignation and will be governed by the action of the institution from there.
