200,000 Bow Hunters In U. S.

By ION HENDERSON
The ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big game bow hunting may not always have the kind of success it aimed at, but generally manages to fall very pleasantly.

And the discovery that the convert can have just as much fun with less to carry than the expert is a big reason why there are some 200,000 bow hunters in the United States this year. There were half that many last year.

After all, what other sport could ensnare among his ages the recent feat of Harry Meyer of Milwaukee. Unarmed and out for a stroll in the woods, Meyer spotted a big buck deer asleep. Meyer crept back out of the thicket to his car, sped eight miles to town and purchased a bow and arrow. Then back the eight miles to the woods, a long stalk again to the thicket where sure enough the buck still slept. Meyer woke the deer for a sporting shot, drew his bow and fired.

And missed completely.

With the emphasis in many hunting fields increasing to impossible demands for meat-on-the-table game supplies, bow hunting has an appeal all its own. Not only is it popular with its practitioners but with wives and children who can go along on combined hunting and camping trips in pleasant autumn woods. And it's popular with game managers who find that instead of having to provide a deer for nearly every rifleman, one good buck will last a hundred bow hunters all season and be scarcely the worse for wear while an active bear's usefulness may be limited only by the infirmities of advancing age.

At any rate, after a period of meditating whether the bow was only a toy—which it is not—or a tremendous sporting weapon which it is—game departments of most states which have any big game hunting at all are rolling out the red carpet for archers.

Special seasons, pioneered in Wisconsin and Michigan 20 years ago and the growing rule, while the two pioneer states open their bow seasons on deer and bear for nearly two months in the fall with 60,000 hunters taking part.

Florida has a special bow and arrow hunting season of 10 days in each of three hunting areas—Eglin Air Force Base Reservation, Ocala National Forest and J. W. Corbett Wildlife Reserve area in Palm Beach County.

The special season is in the early fall before the opening of the regular season and bow and arrow hunting is also permitted during the regular season. Deer and wild hogs are the principal game.

California not only offers special deer seasons but other seasons on everything from gophers to mountain lions. West Virginia provides for bow fishing as well as bow hunting and the state's warden gave special archery lessons to 2,700 youngsters this past summer. Minnesota adds to deer and bear the privilege of taking moose in certain areas—a rare opportunity for any kind of hunter these days.

And when it comes to rare game, the bow was used to down at least one of the three buffalo Montana allocated for hunting harvest last year.

Kentucky's Fish and Game Commission crows that the largest whitetail deer taken by the bow last year was taken from the state woodlands refuge, opened to archers. That, by the way, is a common thing now too—use of bow hunting to control surplus wildlife crops on protected areas without killing everything in sight.

Ohio is taking the big step this year with a 22-day bow season for deer before the regular gun season. Pennsylvania is liberalizing more of its rules for the expected 18,000 archers out for deer this year. Last season, 11,000 killed 55 deer. North Dakota officials reported that bow hunters last season had a success ratio of nearly 10 per cent. One of the best such in the nation. And they killed more than 13 animals for each one wounded and lost, compared to one lost for fewer than five claimed by gun hunters.

Utah is opening the entire state for bow hunters as does Wisconsin. Illinois may join soon. Missouri has opened 61 counties, instead of the open last year.

Massachusetts has up for public consideration a proposal to add bow hunting for deer to the normal hunting program.

Wilson Stamp To Go On Sale Next Year

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield today announced that the 7-cent Woodrow Wilson stamp of the new ordinary series will be first placed on sale at Staunton, Virginia, on January 10, 1956. This stamp is the thirteenth of the new regular series to be released.

The stamp will be 0.75 by 0.87 of an inch in dimension, arranged vertically and enclosed in a simple picture frame effect, printed by the rotary process, electric-eye perforated and issued in sheets of 100. The color of the stamp will be announced later.

The central subject, a likeness of Woodrow Wilson, was reproduced from a drawing by F. Graham Coates. The name "Wilson," in white face Gothic, is located on the left side just below the center of the portrait. The denomination "7c" and "U. S. Postage," arranged in two lines, also in white face Gothic, are placed in the lower right corner. Stamp collectors desiring first day cancellations of the 7-cent Woodrow Wilson stamp may send a reasonable number of addressed envelopes to the Postmaster at Staunton, Virginia, with money order remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed. An enclosure of medium weight should be placed in each envelope and the flap either sealed or turned in. The outside envelope to the Postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers."

The Social Security Administration has found that the number of aged persons 65 and over increases about 1,000 every day.

Register To Vote-Know Your Candidate-It's Important!

The time has come when we must stop a moment and take stock. An important event in the history of the City of Sanford is about to take place.

We're speaking now of the city election that is slated for Tuesday, Nov. 8.

When we were informed recently that only about 3,500 citizens are registered to vote in the coming election, there was a sort of shock. A city that boasts of nearly 18,000 population with a registered voter list of just 3,500.

On top of that, since the books were opened for registrations recently, only 37 new voters have been added to the rolls.

Let's find out why we're not taking part in our own city government.

To properly select the man most suitable for the high office of Sanford City Commissioner, there must be the maximum number of citizens take part in the election.

And those who do take part in the election must take the time to find out all they can about the candidates who have declared themselves eligible for the post. Delve into the beliefs, the policies, the outlooks, and the future programs they have slated for themselves should they be elected by the majority of the people.

It is highly important, in every election, that every single point be checked when platforms are announced, when policies are voiced, and when the firmness of those who are supporting the candidate is tested.

Don't stand back and with an apathetic air of "I don't care" say, "I reckon I'll choose that one this time." Serious questions will face the Board of City Commissioners in the immediate future, as a matter of fact, the questions face the group now.

It is time that our city fathers stand up and be counted on every question confronting them. Are they for or against? Most times it is better to allow the citizens to decide the question of importance.

People Are Hurricane Conscious

NEW YORK (AP)—Storms that have lambasted large sections of the nation with marked fury this year are making home owners, industrial management and the building industry increasingly hurricane and flood conscious.

Hurricane-resistant windows, leakproof walls, wind and water defiant foundations, bridges and highways are prime topics today in architectural and construction circles. New paints and other surface coatings, as well as new construction materials and methods are being tested in laboratories.

In addition to spectacular damage and destruction of many buildings and bridges, heavy rains and floods have ruined countless driveways, cellar walls and floors and house roofs this year. So, many a home owner is more storm conscious than ever.

Sturdy house building is very much more in the minds of would-be home owners now. Contractors say that one housing development lost roofs in wholesale quantities in one of the big blows because builders had skimped on roof nails.

A lot of ideas on making big buildings hurricane resistant are being pushed.

A New York skyscraper, the Socony Mobil Building, a 45-story stainless steel clad office structure, will boast 3,300 "hurricane resistant" windows. One of the secrets is a double gasket seal of polyvinyl chloride.

The Trucon Steel division of the Republic Steel Corp. which designed and made them says it had them tested by the University of Miami. Wind and water were hurled against sample windows at velocities equal to a 145-mile-an-hour storm. Air pressure against the quarter-inch plate glass was around two thirds of a ton.

The steel industry is touting the use of more steel reinforcement in concrete in highways, driveways and foundations. This summer's storm left miles of roadbeds' piles of rubble. Undermining by floods is another problem, but the steelmen say many road surfaces could have been saved with greater use of welded wire fabric in the cement.

Like To Grow New Front Tooth?

NEW YORK (AP)—How would you like to grow a new front tooth? This is one of my biggest ambitions. It makes no sense offhand, I know.

My friends ask me, "Now, why should a grown man ever want to grow a new front tooth? What would you do with it?"

I know what I'd do with it. I'd put a 10-carat diamond in the center of it. And when strangers came up and asked me, "What where did you get a diamond like that?" I'd reply:

"Never mind the diamond. You can get diamonds bigger than that wholesale. Let me tell you about the tooth."

And don't think they wouldn't be interested in hearing about it. Many people go through their whole lives without ever getting a chance to have a heart-to-heart talk with a man who grew a new tooth after 40.

Maybe you yourself are one of those who haven't had this privilege.

Well, supposing I grew this tooth, and you attended some snappy social soiree, and you saw me standing there, smiling my happy 10-carat grin.

And supposing you whispered to someone, "Who's the doll over there who looks like he swallowed a headlight?", and supposing you heard in whispered reply: "You mean you haven't heard of him! Why he's the fellow who grew a front tooth after 40!"

Your social spioms would vanish, your ecst would be shattered in an instant. Don't tell me you

Leonard Hall Faces Tough Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—The roof fell in on Leonard W. Hall when President Eisenhower suffered a heart attack. Before that, there was a rosy glow in the sky. Now he can't see what lies ahead.

As chairman of the Republican National Committee, it's Hall's job to lay the foundations for a Republican victory in 1956.

His counterpart Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, has the same kind of job for the opposition. It's a backbreaking job for both men any time. But Hall's looked easier than Butler's—before the President fell ill Sept. 24.

The Democrats have no sure-shot candidate for their party's nomination in their convention next summer, even though at the moment Adlai Stevenson may seem to hold an edge.

And before the convention is over the scramble among Democrats may bust the party wide open.

But Hall, a lifelong politician who at 31 is genial and almost bald, saw nothing like that in store for his party. On the contrary, in early September, he was in a spot Butler and any other professional politician must have envied.

To hear him talk, there were no storms ahead on his political lake. He was confident Eisenhower would run again. If Eisenhower did, with his immense popularity he seemed a year ahead of time to have much better than a 50-50 chance of winning.

And if Eisenhower won, he might, again, as in 1952, pull the whole party with him and give the Republicans control of Congress once more. The whole Republican party felt the way Hall did.

Then on Sept. 24 the President was stricken. Now Hall merely, and not too confidently, speaks about the possibility that Eisenhower may run.

If he had to bet privately, I'd guess he'd bet Eisenhower won't run. So Hall, an ex-judge and seven times a congressman, faces a tough year, just as tough as Butler's.

This month, as if accepting the idea Eisenhower wouldn't run, Hall was saying the party would win by taking "the philosophy, personality and the record of his administration."

But trying to win on Eisenhower's record may not be enough, since the voters will have to make their own judgment on the Republican candidate, whoever he is. And who he may be is something Hall doesn't know now.

Civic, Fine Arts Departments Have Combined Meeting; Two Ladies Speak

The Civic and Fine Arts departments of the Sanford Woman's Club held meetings Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. in the club starting with the folding of Christmas seals. Mrs. J. D. Cordell was guest speaker.

The front of the curved stage was outlined with beautifully decorated Christmas boxes used for the Christmas seals to the full advantage.

Luncheon followed the folding process with Mrs. B. B. Crumley giving the invocation. A delicious meal was served with hostesses for the Civic department being Mrs. C. L. Redding, Mrs. E. A. Monforton, Mrs. E. C. Harper and Mrs. S. C. Graham and for the Fine Arts Mrs. J. D. Callahan and Mrs. D. C. Howard.

The main hall was tastefully decorated with holly and greenery. Flowers were also placed above the mantel and on the small tables.

Mrs. C. M. Flowers, in the absence of the Civic Department's chairman, Mrs. Basil C. Moore, presided over the business session. Mrs. Miriam Russell presented the speaker, Mrs. Cordell, who spoke on Christmas Seals and how the money was used from the seals. Stating there was no other way of raising money for the purpose, Mrs. Cordell talked on the Florida T. B. Sanitarium located west of Orlando, she also related about the patients from Seminole County there of the facilities of there etc.

Mrs. Cordell brought the facts of the work being carried on in this county and of the results obtained from having regular chest x-rays. Following her talk a question and answer period was held. She concluded by saying, "The greatest problem faced by the organization is educating the public to the advantages of having chest x-rays regularly". She also remarked to what the organization has to offer.

Following the speaker the Fine Arts Department presented Mrs. A. W. Russell, "who", as a member stated "is full of personality". Mrs. Russell is a professional portrait artist and magazine illustrator who is originally from Texas. Her husband a Navy photographer has been stationed here for several years. Service clubs and their groups have been "delighted" with her illustrations talks and such on various subjects. Wednesday she spoke and drew on "Snobism" bringing out the fact that there were several types.

Mrs. Raip Austin Smith then announced about the meeting of the Mutual Concert Association tonight at 8 p. m.

The meeting will be held at the Seminole County School Administration Building on Commercial Ave.

Plans will be formulated for the membership drive. Under consideration for the concert series are nationally known figures as Cornelia Otis Skinner and the famous Don Cossack Chorus.

There will be a limited membership for the Mutual Concert Association since the seating capacity of the building where the programs are to be presented is also limited.

Officials of the group are urging that all interested persons attend this meeting where complete plans will be discussed and presented for consideration.

Local Woman's Groups Have Day Of Prayer

Monday the women of the First Presbyterian Church met for a day of prayer and self-denial with church extension work as the theme.

The morning service was devoted to prayer under the direction of Mrs. E. S. Metcalf, chairman of church extension work.

The following Bible teachers acted as prayer leaders: Mrs. Roy Mann, Mrs. E. Nichols, Mrs. A. G. McInnis, Mrs. J. N. Gillon, Mrs. Frank Liske, and Miss Katherine Brown.

The morning service was concluded by a prayer from the president, Mrs. I. G. Hunter.

A luncheon was served at noon and immediately following the lunch the regular business and inspirational meeting was held. Mrs. Hunter presided over the session. The inspirational part was a continuation on the theme of church extension. The program was presented with Mrs. Metcalf as leader.

Members from Circle No. 2 took part in the program also. Mrs. W. L. Roche gave the devotional, Mrs. R. S. Cobb spoke to the group and presented facts on home missions, evangelism, negro work, radio and television and christian relations.

Mrs. Nichols highlighted the afternoon as she told of her visit to the Indian schools in Arizona. She played two hymn recordings "The Uppin' Window" and "Lights of Home" sung by the choir of the Cook Indian Training School. This is an outstanding choir having won four losing cups in "No suits".

"Of course not. In Sweden, the summer season lasts only about two weeks. It doesn't pay to invest in a swimming suit."

"Did he join them?"

"No. I was hungry for lunch. Besides, the water's too cold. When it gets up to 45 degrees, the Swedes think it's like a warm bath. They'd even swim in a martini." So saying, he ordered another cold one for himself. The waiter brought it and the intermission continued.

Was he shocked? Now there's a silly question—Mitchum shocked by anything?

"No," he confirmed. "It seemed perfectly natural and wholesome. I was a guest of the country; I had to accept their customs."

"As a matter of fact, when we were in Stockholm the mothers were campaigning for mixed nude bathing in the schools. The adults do it, so they argued it was traumatic for the children to be subjected to false prudery."

Spotlight On Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Robert Mitchum is back from his making abroad with his usual supply of amusing tales.

Like watching members of a film company in Sweden—male and female—strip down for a noon time swim.

Mitchum is a magnet for odd happenings, as anyone who reads the daily press can tell you. The way he tells them, they sound normal enough. For instance, he told of flying locations for his European-made movie "Foreign Intrigue."

"We were at a summer resort, down the archipelago," he remarked. "It was during the summer, and pretty warm for Sweden. So when lunch time came, some of the people including the wardrobe girl took off their clothes and went swimming."

"No suits?"

"Of course not. In Sweden, the summer season lasts only about two weeks. It doesn't pay to invest in a swimming suit."

"Did he join them?"

"No. I was hungry for lunch. Besides, the water's too cold. When it gets up to 45 degrees, the Swedes think it's like a warm bath. They'd even swim in a martini." So saying, he ordered another cold one for himself. The waiter brought it and the intermission continued.

Was he shocked? Now there's a silly question—Mitchum shocked by anything?

"No," he confirmed. "It seemed perfectly natural and wholesome. I was a guest of the country; I had to accept their customs."

"As a matter of fact, when we were in Stockholm the mothers were campaigning for mixed nude bathing in the schools. The adults do it, so they argued it was traumatic for the children to be subjected to false prudery."

Lutheran Ladies Plan Bake Sale For Saturday

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Aid of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer was held recently at the home of Mrs. W. Southward. Plans for a Bake Sale to be held on Sat. 27 at 4:30 a. m. in front of Sears were discussed and voted upon.

The session was opened by the president, Mrs. Morris Hodges after which the Rev. Schlessmann had the devotional. He also talked on the "Devils Hypnotism" and how one can use their talents and time building for Christ and His church.

The ladies voted to join the Women's Missionary League and planned a piano recital after the first of the year by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sanford of Winter Park.

Mrs. Southward served homemade pumpkin pie and coffee to the following members and guests: Mrs. M. Hodges, Mrs. Jimmy Ekers, Mrs. John Senkari, Mrs. Henry Thurston, Mrs. W. H. Knauer, Mrs. Ebbel Lee, Mrs. Trued, Mrs. Dean Taylor, Mrs. Joe Ervin, Mrs. Forrest Engestrom, Mr. Jerry Senkari, Mrs. Marion Harmon, Mrs. A. A. McClanahan, Mrs. Atkinson, Mrs. B. R. Rickey To Retire After 50 Years

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Branch Rickey will retire as general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates Nov. 1 after more than 50 years in baseball—but he's not through with the game yet.

"I am retiring," but you can put quotes around that word," he declared yesterday. "I no longer want to punch a clock and intend to see the Pittsburgh club play more games the coming season than I have for the last two or three."

The front-office wizard, who managed St. Louis and Brooklyn in National League championships, couldn't turn the trick here. In his five years as general manager and executive vice president, the Bucs finished out of last place only once, in 1931. Rickey's first year with the club.

There was no mention of his successor, but speculation centered on Branch Jr., now vice president in charge of the Pirate farm system, and another Pirate executive, Joe L. Brown, son of a movie comedian Joe E. Brown.

Rickey himself said, however: "I think Branch is best suited in the job he handles right now." Rickey's five-year contract with the club reportedly paid him $100,000 a year. He had the option of renewing it for five more.

"I am no severing my affiliation with the Pirates, unless John Galbreath and Tom Johnson want me. But I don't believe they do," Rickey said.

Galbreath, millionaire Columbus, Ohio, real estate man, is president of the club. Johnson, a Pittsburgh attorney is vice president and treasurer.

Rickey, who will be 74 in December, said:

"From now on, my interest will be in players. The radio, television and other baseball problems will be handled by someone else. I will do some scouting, maybe a lot of it, in the interest of the Pirates."

Bud Smith Halls Jimmy Carter's Try For Fourth Title

CINCINNATI (AP) — In as merry a mixup as you'll find in boxing annals, Wallace (Bud) Smith held on to his lightweight championship last night.

Smith, the 26-year-old Cincinnati, halted three-time champion Jimmy Carter's bid for a fourth title. But no one is certain today whether the decision was split or unanimous.

Smith weathered a bruising 13th round, in which he was in rubber-legged trouble all the way, and finished the 15-rounder in good shape. Then the 4,600 paying customers and a nationwide television audience sat back to await the verdict.

Judges' scorecards were collected from Willie Purcell, Joe Blink and Gene Nickschre. The collector handed the cards to Paul D. Cain, chairman of the Cincinnati Boxing Commission, who looked 'em over.

The collector went back to Blink's side of the ring, card in hand, for a hurried consultation. The ring announcer then said:

"Judge Purcell, 113 for Smith, 103 for Carter, Judge Bin, 110 for Smith, 110 for Carter, Judge Nickschre, 113 for Smith, 113 for Carter."

That made Smith the winner on a split decision.

Ten minutes later Commissioner Cain told newsmen he had rechecked the cards and found that Blink's added up to 113 for Smith, 103 for Carter, and that the decision was unanimous.

But Blink, who at 70-odd is the retired city circulation manager of the Cincinnati Times-Star, tossed everything into confusion again by stating:

"I don't care how they add it. I voted for Carter, 141 to 110."

That made it a split decision again, but by that time the television audience was watching some other program.

Commissioner Cain observed:

"We must go by the figures on the card. It was unanimous for Smith."

But Blink still judging two bouts after the main event, was adamant in his declaration that "I still split as far as I'm concerned. The Associated Press card gave the fight to Carter by 141 to 141. No explanation of how the 140-140 draw figure for Blink's card was arrived at, and no announcements of any kind relative to the verdict were made from the ring after the first round of how the judges voted.

The judges awarded the winner of a round 10 points, the loser a lesser amount, and 15 round totals decided the fight. The referee, Tony Wardorf, had no hand in the balloting.

There were no knockdowns in the scrap, which attracted a gross gate of $36,441 and a net of $23,782.33, of which the principals received $9,000 each in addition to a cut of the television receipts.

Carter, who suffered cuts requiring 20 stitches when he lost the title to Smith last June 20, was cut in the right eye in the third round and fought from the eighth on with the eye closed.

Smith was unmarked, although he took a terrific battering in the 13th when Carter belted him into the ropes with a series of rights and lefts to the head and body, and had him hanging on like a leech.

U OF M In Best Condition Of Year
MIAMI (AP) — The University of Miami football team will be in its best physical condition of the season to date when it entertains Texas Christian University in the Orange Bowl tomorrow night.

Trainer Dave Wike has certified every member of the two top units for action, giving Miami full strength for the first time this fall.

Coach Andy Gustafson gave his boys a light workout yesterday and said he was satisfied with the workout and thought the squad was responding well.

Miami will take the practice field only briefly today, to loosen up muscles, while Texas Christian, flying in from Fort Worth at 2:30 p.m. (EST), probably will have a longer workout to limber up.

Both teams are expected to pass frequently. Gustafson has announced he will start Sam Scarnechia, a junior from Niles, Ohio, at quarterback on the strength of his showing in practice. Scarnechia completed six consecutive passes against Notre Dame.

A crowd of about 45,000 is expected for the 8:15 p.m. (EST) kickoff.

Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers was the only major leaguer to make 200 hits during 1955.

Olympic Fund Drive Tonight

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP) — A whole arena, full of America's greatest international champions will start the 1954 Olympic Fund drive tonight in a gigantic carnival at Madison Square Garden.

National Olympic Day, by the proclamation of President Eisenhower, will be held Saturday. This meet, featuring the best the United States has to offer in a half dozen sports, is being held in focus attention on Olympic Day.

Track, weight-lifting, figure skating, gymnastics, wrestling and fencing, will comprise the program. All the proceeds, of course, will go to the Olympic Fund. The winter Olympics in Cortina, Italy, are only three months away.

Wes Santee, currently serving a hitch as a lieutenant in the Marine Corps, is the big come-on. His 4:03 clocking is the closest an American ever has come to the magic 4-minute mile.

He admits he won't be seeking the mark in this, his indoor debut for the season. He learned last season to run against competition rather than the clock.

"But you never can tell in these races," he said.

The two fastest quarter-milers in the world—Pvt. Lou Jones and Lt. James Hood—will be the mark with a 43.4 effort.

The weight lifters will be headed by world champions—they beat the best Russia had to offer last week—Paul Anderson and Tommy Kono.

Until yesterday, it had been thought that the Russians won the team title in Munich, but American Coach Bob Hoffman revealed that officials forgot to include the bonus in the Mr. Universe contest, now an official part of the championships. Kono won it to champion the United States 30 points to 29 for the Russians.

Illini, Spartans Meet First Time Saturday Nite

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The University of Illinois will get its first chance Saturday to play the football team that kept it out of the Rose Bowl two seasons ago.

Illinois and Michigan State never have met on the gridiron. But they had a whole of a battle at the ball box back in November, 1933. That was Michigan State's first season as a full-fledged member of the Big 10 and the upstart Spartans had come up with a 5-1 record, identical with Illinois.

The conference directors went to the ball box to decide on a Rose Bowl candidate and it took six ballots before Michigan State got the nod. The Spartans went on to uphold Big 10 prestige with a 28-20 triumph over UCLA.

Big 10 teams don't play every other conference team in any one season and Michigan State never before has met the Illini. The two schools didn't happen to schedule each other in the pre-conference era.

They've come up to their first meeting now and once again they have identical records, three victories and a single defeat. Illinois bowed to Ohio State; Michigan State to Michigan.

The caliber of the opposition, however, would indicate the Spartans have an edge. They lost by a single touchdown to top-ranking Michigan and walloped Stanford, conqueror of Ohio State, before opening previously unscathed upon Notre Dame last Saturday. Illinois' victims have been California, Iowa State and Minnesota.

Psychological factors could be very important. The Illini, naturally, will be out to avenge their ball box defeat and Michigan State may experience a letdown after the tremendous Notre Dame triumph of last week. Balancing these could be the home-site—Michigan State—and the fact that it will be the Spartans' homecoming game.

Galors Wrap Up Week-Long Drills

GAINESVILLE (AP) — Only the finishing touches were to be added today to Florida's preparation for a Saturday night football contest in Lexington with Kentucky.

The Galors were to wrap up week-long drills this afternoon and board a plane for the Blue Grass country tomorrow morning. They will arrive in Lexington before noon.

Forty-four players will make up the squad that tackles Florida's fifth Southeastern Conference opponent in the past six weeks.

Coach Bob Woodruff apparently is figuring on a few new wrinkles to throw at the Wildcats, and it would come from both the air and ground.

The Galors in games thus far have showed an ability to shake loose their speeding halfbacks Jackie Simpson and Jim Rountree but have lacked ability to punch through the line with regularity.

The Galors' pass defense will also get its biggest test of the season against the throwing of Kentucky quarterback Bob Hardy and end Howard Schnellenberger.

This duo is the tenth best in passing receiving in the nation. Florida has allowed only an average of 48 yards a game to be gained against them through the air.

Sanford Faces Ketterlinus Tomorrow In St. Augustine

By HUGH ANSLEY

The Seminole Fighting Feds will face the toughest team of the season Friday night as they travel to St. Augustine to take on the power house of the East Florida Conference, mighty Ketterlinus. Ketterlinus is undefeated in twelve straight ball games. They have racked up four victories so far for the season, and have yet to be scored on. They are as strong if not stronger than the Palatka team that left footprints on the Feds last Friday night to the tune of 18-0. Of course comparative scores are highly unreliable, but they are interesting. Palatka suffered its lone defeat at the hands of DeLand by a close 6-0, then Ketterlinus outplayed DeLand in an equally close 6-0 game. If comparative scores mean anything, that throws the Feds about five touchdowns in the hole.

Ketterlinus runs from the Tennessee Sing Wing with great adeptness. They ran over Fernandina 19-0, they outplayed DeLand in a 6-0 victory, they edged by Patton of Jacksonville 6-0, then defeated Bishop Kenny of Jacksonville 6-0. They are a power team with rare exception, although they have displayed a potent passing attack on occasion. But primarily they are a ground team, and that's where the Feds are hurt. The Fed defense has a big hole in it vacated by injuries to guard Howard Alfred and center Brantley Schirard. Schirard sustained injuries in the opening minutes of the game against Palatka, and will be only limited action in St. Augustine. Alfred hasn't dressed out as yet, and it is thought that it will be at least two more weeks before he will be able to see action. This spot was the weak link in the Fed defensive chain, and Palatka ran it consistently.

This defensive weakness will be the least point this week. There will be some changes in lineup on defense to try to correct the situation. The defense is the backbone of the success of the Fed team. Because the personnel is so limited, the backfield does not have the reserve strength to make the Feds an offensive club. They must, therefore, depend on the line to hold down the score.

Ketterlinus is a power ball club. They are reputed as having the best line in the conference, and this must be so, as witness the lack of scoring against them. "We must depend primarily on trying to stop their running attack and hope they will not be able to pass too effectively against us," Coach Fleming said today. "However," he added, "the boys know that Ketterlinus is always rough, but I think they didn't like being beat last Friday night."

As far as the threat of passing is concerned, the St. Augustine club is primarily a running team and hasn't done much this season. "We think they are due," said the head mentor, "and we intend to be ready for a passing attack."

The Feds now have a 3-1 record, the one loss being their lone conference game. About getting into the win column again? Coach Fleming said with some degree of wit, "If we score more touchdowns than they do, we'll win." But then he added seriously, "If the kids are up, and we think they will be, we may surprise our disappointed fans, but if they aren't, it will be a repetition of last week's showing."

The Feds have not let up on the practice games. Yesterday was devoted to defensive scrimmages by the starting team with the reserves simulating the formation to be used with Ketterlinus. In all the games played thus far this season the T has been employed. The team will spend a lot of time today with discussion of the Ketterlinus personnel, and last minute strategy will be emphasized just before the conclusion of practice.

Kickoff time is 8 o'clock Friday night in St. Augustine.

Fifth District

Speakers for the occasion were Senator Douglas Stenstrom, Representative Mack N. Cleveland Jr., Mayor Denver Coriell, and Sheriff Luther Hobby.

Senator Stenstrom said, "In law enforcement work you get into situations when you look to God for strength in the performance of your duties. Your work is a public service and you sometimes think it is a thankless job. You have a tremendous responsibility. No matter what kind of laws we have on the books, the important part is the manner in which these laws are enforced. Therefore, it is important that you come together to discuss your responsibilities."

Representative Mack N. Cleveland Jr. told the group, "I take my hat off to you for the wonderful job you've done. I was surprised to learn that you had an organization of 4,000 members. I think it is significant that we haven't been plagued with mobsters, syndicates and hoodlums."

Mayor Denver Coriell welcomed the group of peace officers to Sanford. He told them, "I am sure your country is proud of all of you," he said, "we welcome you to Sanford and certainly hope that you come back again in the near future."

Sheriff Luther Hobby extended a welcome to the Fifth District Peace Officers. He said, "I believe we owe a round of applause to those who have made this affair so successful."

Dwight H. Brett, Mayor-Commissioner of St. Augustine, attending the meeting of the group yesterday said, "I am very happy to be in Sanford at the meeting of the Fifth District Peace Officers Association. It is a wonderful organization that serves not only the county but the state as a whole. I try to attend every meeting of the organization."

Competitions Are Open To Enter Air Force Academy

WASHINGTON — Competitions are now open for entrance to the United States Air Force Academy, according to an announcement made today by Congressman A. S. (Syd) Herlong Jr., Representative from Florida's Fifth District. These competitions are for the class which will be admitted in July, 1956.

Herlong explained that as a Member of the House of Representatives he is allowed to nominate ten young men, all residents of the Fifth District, to take these examinations. Those named will compete with all of the others named from Florida for the allotted vacancies for the State.

"I certainly want to nominate the best qualified young men in the District for this wonderful opportunity. All applications will be carefully studied and screened by me," he said.

In order to qualify, a young man must be between 17 and 22 years old, possess good moral character, never have been married, and be physically qualified for flying.

Applications should be made directly to the office of Congressman Herlong, House Office Building, Washington, D. C., and contain the following information: candidate's full name and address; his parents' name and address; high school and the date he graduated or will graduate; the college he has attended, if any; his height and weight; his approximate standing in his class; and his extracurricular activities, such as participation in student government, public speaking, and athletic activities.

TWO TO STAND TRIAL
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two more former Korean War prisoners, who returned home after denouncing the United States and casting their lot with Red China, must face court martial, the Army says.

William A. Cowart, 23, of Dalton, Ga., and Leslie W. Griggs, 23, of Jacksonville, Tex., were notified yesterday they must stand military trial on charges of aiding and collaborating with the enemy while prisoners of the Reds. No date was set.

The Army earlier ordered a court-martial on similar charges for a third turncoat, Otho G. Bell of Hillsboro, Miss.

Koppelman Invents 'Air-O-Meter'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If you're the tipsy type that usually has one drink too many at the tavern, now you can literally breathe easier.

Hy Koppelman, president of a soft-drink firm here, has invented what he calls an "air-o-meter." You drop a quarter in the machine, put an attached mask over your nose and mouth, and inhale pure oxygen for five minutes.

That, said Koppelman, should bring you out of pink elephant land.

"Of course," he adds, "sometimes it'll take two quarters to do it."

Koppelman said his machine also can be used to "bring relief from asthma, hay fever, migraine headaches and especially the tiredness that drivers get after much riding."

The device is on display at the 36th annual convention of the Ohio State Restaurant Assn.

Chief Roy Williams today asked that "all motorists pay special attention to the notices left on their cars for violations." "Much embarrassment will be solved," the Chief said, "if special attention is paid to the type notice left on the car."

Also, attention is called to the fact that envelopes containing money mailed to the Sanford Police Department now require a three-cent stamp. Hereafter the Sanford Police Department has used stamped envelopes or postage guaranteed envelopes.

Convenient yellow boxes or receptacles for the violation envelopes are attached to parking meters at regular intervals in the downtown section.

Army Recruiter To Visit Here

The United States Army recruiter for the Sanford area, Sgt. Jacobson announced today that he will visit Sanford each Monday & Wednesday from 9:30 to 3:30.

A veteran of over 10 years service, Sergeant Jacobson has been associated with the Recruiting Service for the past four years. He is qualified by his training and service to offer complete information and advice to parents, young men and women about the many Regular Army training programs.

At present there are over 175 diversified school courses available that high school graduates may apply for and receive assignments to before they enlist. "This program, called 'Reserved For You' actually allows the young man or woman to choose any training he wishes and have a written guarantee for his choice before leaving Sanford," Sergeant Jacobson explained.

In addition to this program, other options which do not necessarily require a high school education are listed by the recruiter as: direct assignment to the Artillery, Armor, Airborne, Medical, Military Police, Ordnance, Quartermaster, Signal and Transportation Corps. Special options such as assignment to an Army Band, The Army Language School, Special Forces (Commando type training), CIC and assignment to the U. S. Disciplinary Barracks at Camp Gordon, Georgia are also available.

"All Regular Army enlistments are for a period of three years and each choice is guaranteed and made a part of the enlistment contract before the man is sworn in," the recruiter pointed out.
