Congress Goes Home For Campaign Stack Of Bills Facing 'Lame Duck' Congress

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — While most members of Congress are preparing to go home for the election, a stack of bills is piling up in the Senate and House. The lame-duck Congress is expected to pass a few bills before adjourning on Oct. 31. The House passed the family assistance plan in April. But it long was stalled in the Senate. Finance Committee before the general election to reflect it. Supporters of the plan say that the bill will be cleared by attaching it to a Social Security bill considered certain to pass. However, the Social Security bill has not yet been cleared by Finance. It is entangled in a fight over restrictions on trade legislation which the committee has added as a rider. A band of free-trade senators has announced it will do everything possible to block this rider. Other Nixon proposals remaining to be considered are a job safety bill, a constitutional amendment on electoral reform, a manpower training measure and legislation to provide emergency aid to schools faced with desegregation problems.

Roads 'Violated' As Borrow Pits

County Commissioner Greg Drummond has reported that several contractors who are new to Seminole County have been utilizing the county rights-of-way as borrow pits in obtaining fill. Drummond told the County Commission that he had received several complaints from various individuals concerning the practice, and suggested that the county zoning and road officials review the matter. Commission Chairman John Alexander maintained that it is necessary for a permit to be granted for use of the county rights-of-way to contractors, which must be obtained from the county engineer or road superintendent. Either of these departments, he said, has legal redress in the event of violations. Another inquiry was reported by Drummond as to the quarantine of dogs under the county's rabies control program. Drummond said that he had received complaints that dogs which had been under quarantine were observed at large. County Sanitarian Val Robbins advised the board that the county's policy is to quarantine all dogs who had bitten humans. Should the canine escape the owner's quarantine, the dog is subsequently picked up under the rabies control program, Robbins said.

Newsman Threatened By Armed Guards 'Bully Boys' Mar Veep's Visit

By BILL SCOTT
U. S. Vice President Spiro Agnew's visit to Central Florida yesterday was marred by the bully-boy tactics of some of his security force, presumably Secret Service agents, who prevented the Vice President by three weeks to Orange County and McCoy's Jetport. Several newsmen were subjected to indignities, both before and after Agnew's jet plane arrived from Jacksonville and Florida dignitaries bound for a night of fund raising on behalf of Congressman William Cramer's bid for the U. S. Senate.

While approximately 30 newsmen were held in a rectangular cove, a number of men walked around keeping guard over them despite the security clearance given earlier after a check of the reporters by government agents. Security men were everywhere, but refused to give names or disclose whether they were employed by the United States, state, county or local authorities when questioned by The Herald, even though news media were credentialed in plain sight on laps. A slim "Steve McQueen" looking agent bothered a photographer (Continued on Page 1B, Col. 3)

Property 'Landlocked' By Railroad

By MARION BETHA
Lake Orlena residents have had problems emanating from landlocked lands but two individuals in County Commissioner Robert Parker's district have a difficulty with landlocked property. Parker has told the County Commission that the two individuals own property between Red Bug Road and SR 428, and that SR 428, the only exit for their property, is across the Seaboard Coast Line railroad tracks. Parker said that in November, 1968, the railroad advised the individuals that access to their property in the matter is invested in the County Commission. Chairman John Alexander told the board that the FPSC should be "advised how to read the statutes... that the county has authority on public roads, not private drives." Parker contended that he would appreciate a letter being written to the railroad which would allow the people to cross the track and could not force it to grant permission of ingress and egress on a crossing to the individuals. The letter was dated Oct. 5, 1970, and continued that jurisdiction in the matter is invested in the County Commission. He continued that, in a letter, the Florida Public Service Commission advised that it had no jurisdiction over the railroad.

Not supposed to open my mouth yet on this one, but... understand that they've found the real reason for the floating docks sinking. Somebody just hasn't been giving us the full story of this fiasco, neighbors. And if you were able to interview tourists on the one most lasting impression on Sanford, betcha they'd reply, "Oh you mean that place where the floating docks stay on top of the water about as long as lead balloons fly?"

Mickey Mouse was on hand to present a bouquet of roses to Debra, who was chosen over two other finalists for the title of international ambassador on the basis of poise, personality, and intelligence. She can look forward to a busy year in which she will make many tours and public appearances in behalf of Disney World as well as acting as official business greeting international celebrities and dignitaries who visit the Disney World site. This is not the first time Debra's charm and beauty have brought her special honors. Imperfect Vessels

By REV. WILLIAM K. BARRON
First Presbyterian Church

The purpose of the church is two fold: (1) To lead people to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ, and (2) to strengthen and deepen the faith of believers. Thus, by definition of purpose, no person is without need for who and what the church represents. However, the vast majority of people really do not feel or understand what this means. This misunderstanding is reflected in many statements that I hear. For instance, many people believe that members of the church are hypocrites (and some are), but the church is not and was not meant to be a fellowship of perfect people. The church is for sinners. It is for people who acknowledge their inability to live creatively on their own strength and the need for divine power, wisdom and love. This is the very place for people whose lives are not what they could or should be in the Church of Jesus Christ.

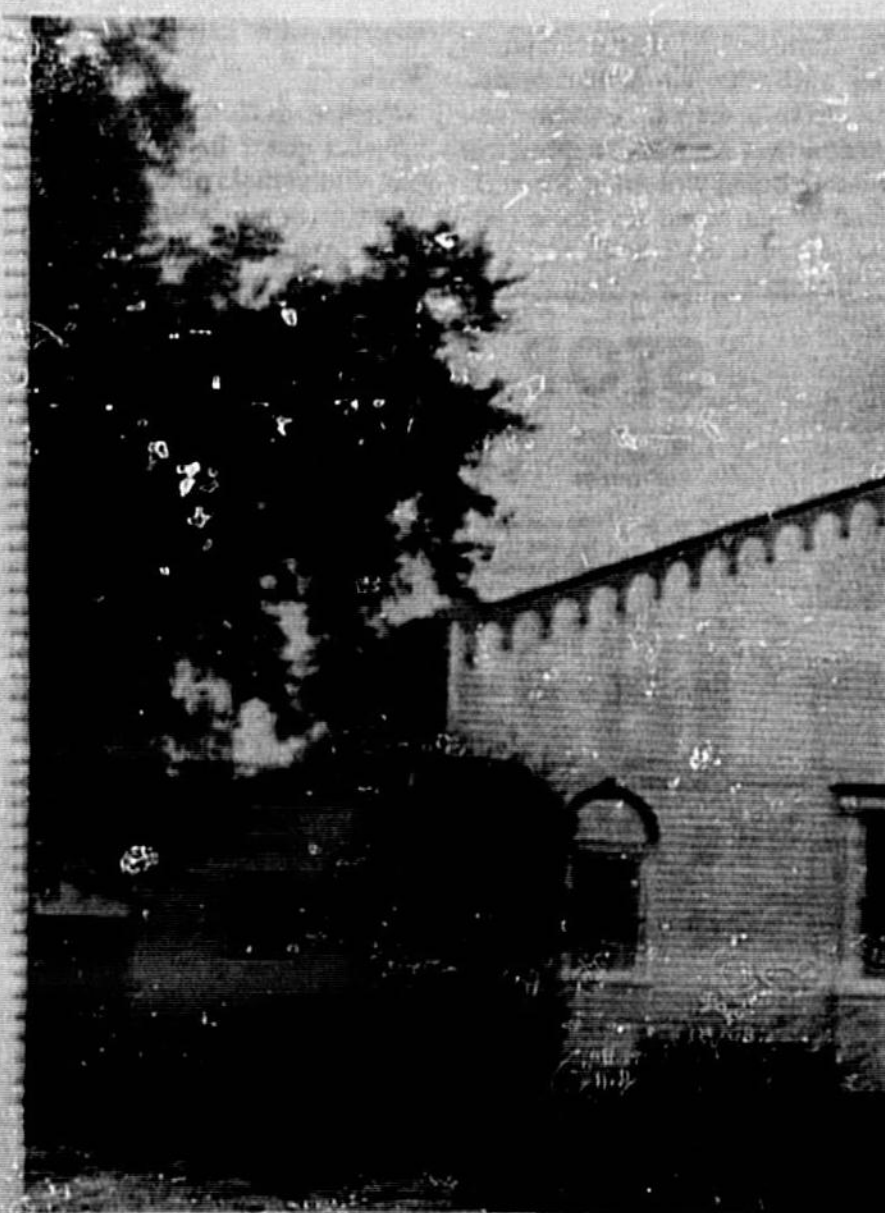

Secondly, there are people who contend that they can lead Christian life apart from the church. This is simply not true. Christian life is to love God and his neighbor and this is impossible in isolation from his church.

The Church has been accurately criticized for failing to accomplish its purpose. The Church has used poor techniques and often no techniques to accomplish the task. It has often hidden from responsibility and need or acted in ignorance or without commitment. This we must change.

Change will come only as the result of a prayerful search for God's Will and continued commitment to God's saving love and power. For God has chosen to accomplish His purpose through imperfect vessels — people such as you and me. People who are not perfect but first realize our need for Him had a constant hunger to know more of His love. This is the condition of sinful people seeking to serve our Lord and our fellowman, and God would have you to be an active part in accomplishing the purpose of strengthening and changing the world. For no man being will be justified in His right to work in the law since through the law comes knowledge of sin. But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from law, although the law and the prophets bear witness to it, the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction; since all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, they are justified by His grace as a gift, through the redemption which is in Christ Jesus.

Pastors Quitting For $$$

By GEORGE W. CORDELL
AP Staff Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The spreading exodus from the ministry often is blamed on complex modern ecclesiastical and sociological factors, but a main cause may be a simple, common gripe among working men — poor pay.

At least that is indicated by two recent Protestant studies on morale among American pastors and on why many are quitting their profession.

Such departures have stepped up sharply lately among both Protestants and Roman Catholics, and while "austerity" has cited various causes for the trend, it has become most pronounced in a time of inflationary INDIGNANT REACTION UPTON-ON-SEVERN, England (AP) — Parishioners of St. Peter and St. Paul, a local Anglican church, are indignant at suggestions that their Victorian neo-gothic building might be sold to the Episcopal Church in the USA.

The proposal was raised by Commander N.R. Corbett-Kilward, a parochial council member, who wrote in the Worcester Diocesan Messenger that it was selfish for Upton to hang on to a church that was largely used. "It should make a noble gesture and offer it to the Episcopal Church in the United States, where they really use their churches," he suggested. The Rev. Charles Hand, rector, said people were so indignant about the Commander's idea that he thought more might turn up for the services.

SOUP—After lengthy research back in the '20s, the Campbell Soup Company finally came up with 10 pretty little cars. Of a solid color. Without the light core. And almost identical in size. United Fund And Mutual Concert Association

O.K. Sure these are critical times. Agreed the great issues of war and peace, prosperity or poverty, crime and law, demand the serious attention of every concerned American citizen.

Confronted with the Sanford-Seminole area under the all-out invasion by such national Republican propaganda as the sensational Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and the redoubtable Senator Strom Thurmond.

All of us know that the mid-term Congressional election and the very important state and county voting is but a little more than two weeks distant.

Yet all of this should not obscure or baffle the local challenges which confront every resident on the charity and cultural fronts.

First of all it is essential that the fine momentum which was apparent as the United Fund of Seminole County took off for its one-year appeal for dollars to keep 70 local agencies servicing those who need such help, be maintained.

The goal of $60,000 is minimal. Yet the amount reported at its last luncheon on Wednesday was only $27,000. There is every need that the hard work already exerted by the volunteers now produce its fruitage.

We do not believe that there is any necessity to state again the purposes of the UF operation, how it prevents a spread of fund appeals from individuals and service organizations which is self-defeating.

Nor can we agree that such organizations as those which care for the disabled and disadvantaged or keep the fire flags of the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts flying at high mast or most disasters as does the Red Cross or brings its help to those for whom the Salvation Army has pledged its considerable services can be short-changed.

This appeal is an all-county affair. It has as much or more importance for those who have come into Seminole along its southern borders as those who live along the northern.

We are confident that the end of the month-long UF campaign will show that Seminole accepts the responsibility and with the fine leadership of the campaign chairman and the experienced assistance of Jack Horner, UF president, the $60,000 goal will not only be reached but exceeded.

The other opportunity which is knocking on the doors of those who have chosen the delightful Greater-Sanford region for their homesites, is cultural in the extreme.

We refer to the Seminole Mutual Concert Association which conducts an increasingly high grade program of entertainments and which is on the verge of filling its membership to the 1,500 goal.

The many friends of the association, and those who have watched it grow during the past several years are friends who support is based on action as well as promises, are nurturing their strength for a push to reach the full membership number before October 24th — about 250 are needed.

There is a good reason for this as that is the day when Peter Nere pianist, the noted artist whose mastery of classical, jazz and popular compositions has won him the name of "inventor" when harmony and improvisation are concerned will perform.

One of the reasons for the growth of the association's membership is easily stated. More and more retired persons are coming to the shores of Lake Monroe for their years of fruitage. Many of them have sought the blessings of good music as a major contributor to the good life which they have enjoyed elsewhere.

In the concert association, there is offered this blessing in abundance. Of course the variety is such that not only are the senior citizens finding the association a cultural home, but the program is of such a variety that every age group, sex, musical taste can be satisfied.

So there they are: 1. Support of the United Fund of Seminole County; 2. Support of the Seminole Mutual Concert Association. Two immediate, intimate and personal objectives which everyone can attain.

Come South Now

The winters lately have been getting colder, coming sooner and lasting longer. Didn't need anybody to tell us that. Fuel bills prove it.

But now comes some Danish scientists with a prediction that we're in for some of the mildest winters in the next 40 years! For those of us in middle age, the old-time summers and pleasant winters are a thing of the past, never to return.

The Danish prediction is based on a detailed and unbroken record of past climate going back probably 100,000 years. Past climate is determined by analyzing a 4,700-foot rod of ice dug up from the entire thickness of the North Greenland is cap by U.S. Army engineers.

According to the forecast, the average temperatures will continue to drop until they reach a low point in 1985. From then on the climate will slowly thaw out until 2010, when temperatures will return to about the level of the 1960s.

If the Danes are right, the South is going to become even more attractive to industry and people for the next few decades. — Lynchburg (Va.) News

Pavement Plato Philosophy

NEW YORK (AP) — Curious comments of a Pavement Plato:

Some social scientists worry over whether man may destroy himself by the hydrogen bomb but by too much leisure.

They estimate that the productive needs of civilization may be met by the end of this century by a work week of 20 hours or less. What will man then do with more spare time on his hands than he has had in any previous period of his history?

For some reason many intellectuals believe that they know how to use leisure time wisely. They feel that the average man, if he is allowed to lift his nose from the grindstone that work is, will spend that extra time dabbling in a science, fighting his neighbor, or beating his wife.

"This viewpoint, of course, is the largest collection of stolen home" says in his neighborhood. Given more leisure, it is the intellectual not the common man, who is more likely to use it to create chaos and stir revolutionary violence.

Your ordinary fellow is more likely to add to his education, moonlight on another job in order to buy a better house or place in the country where he can grow a bigger tomato or a finer rose.

For example, now that financial credit for any purpose is so easily obtainable, if he works made shorter or vacations longer, a man might decide to raise penguins in his basement.

Nixon's Ax Hacks At Goodell

By BRUCE BOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

NEW YORK — (NEA) — President Nixon's backhanded effort to purge Republican Sen. Charles Goodell from his party's ranks is one of the most bizarre episodes in modern political annals.

Backhanded is the word, for no seasoned observer here doubts that the President's mind is the guiding one, even though only Vice President Spiro Agnew is openly assailing Goodell as a radical liberal and an obstructionist standing in the way of Nixon policies.

Moreover, as the President has just demonstrated in a brief interview with the NEA, he is not a man who is going to make a frank endorsement of the fellow who was to be when James L. Buckley, who runs under the Conservative party label yet says he would vote as a Republican in the Senate.

Fullhearted purge attempts of one's intra-party enemies are usually very risky. Franklin D. Roosevelt tried a celebrated one in his own house in 1938 and failed almost totally.

But at least he took on some strong boys, like the potent Sen. Charles McNary.

Goodell, named to the ticket by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller after the assassination of Robert F. Kennedy, is nothing of the sort.

Goodell, named to the ticket by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller after the assassination of Robert F. Kennedy, is nothing of the sort.

There may be some truth in that. But a simpler consideration is that the President while surely not unhappy at the thought Goodell may go down the drain, wants to save his seat for the Republican party as part of his broad effort to capture the Senate for the GOP.

Buckley's viable third-party candidacy gives Nixon that hope. Polls suggest that Buckley currently is running second to Ottinger and, under certain carefully tailored circumstances, might win.

The irony, however, is that Buckley will get it just as he is about to triumph over

Anti-Pollution Spurs Invention

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Although no precise inventory has been taken, it is my impression that about 25 new anti-pollution products have been introduced thus far this year.

Whatever the figure, there is no doubt that pollution control has become a major industry in America. Which means that it probably won't be long before the amount of pollution created by the production of anti-pollution devices will exceed the amount of pollution the devices were designed to control.

Which, in turn, will generate a demand for more anti-pollution devices. So it may be that the pollution control business is the best of all possible worlds.

Some of the products, I've noticed, aren't really new. It just took a while for someone to recognize their anti-pollution potential. As in the television commercial for LSD, the extra ingredient used in gasoline.

Until about a year ago we were told that with LSD we could go 10 m.p.h. faster on the same amount of gasoline without our increasing our speed.

One of Republicanism's "big guns" will be moving into Sanford Monday to bolster the campaigns of GOP candidates for office, from U.S. Senator down to county level. U.S. Sen. Strom Thurmond (S.C.) is coming to town.

The one-time Dixiecrat presidential candidate will arrive at 3:30 p.m. at Sanford Airport. The public is welcome to be present. A press conference will follow at 6 p.m. at Holiday Inn, Sanford. Women's Republican Club will sponsor a rally at 7:30 p.m. at the Civic Center, highlighted by a speech by Thurmond, the "Voice of the South," Mayor Lee Moore will be honorary chairman of the meeting.

Mayor Moore will greet Senator Thurmond and U.S. Rep. William Cramer at the airport. Cramer is the Republican nominee to succeed U.S. Sen. Spessard Holland.

Also on hand to greet the pair will be Leonard Wood, nominee for U.S. House of Representatives; Paula Hawkins, Republican national committeewoman for Florida; Geraldine Keeth, GOP state committeewoman for Seminole County; Demetrius Saff, chairman of the Seminole County Republican executive committee; members of the Sanford Women's Republican Club, and Janet Bonder and Robert Brunner, co-chairmen for Cramer's campaign in Seminole County.

Agnew stomped Florida at Cramer's request and Cramer controlled the show. He arranged the appearance, distributed the tickets, erected the Cramer signs, and got what ever proceeds were noted from fund raising efforts in connection with the vice president's visit.

But Kirk, in his inimitable way, made hay while the sun shone.

Heading the audience of Agnew admirers like Joe Narath, Cramer launched into his most florid verbiage — an old but sturdy attack on the national news media, which, of course, happened to be in tow with Agnew.

"The ultra-liberal media has urged the vice president to cool his rhetoric," Kirk said at Jacksonville. "Horror of horrors! I say to the visiting liberators: I am in the heart and minds of the people. The liberal press will not be able to alienate the vice president's vote."

The folks joined their approval. Cramer, a St. Petersburg

Decorations Come After 25 Years

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. — Joseph Kunsman was wounded in the Battle of the Bulge 25 years ago but didn't get his medals until this month. . . and he had to ask for them.

Now 46, Kunsman is an invalid confined to a wheelchair 20 part four years. He receives 100 per cent disability and wants $100 per cent.

Earlier this month, Kunsman got a package from the Army Support Center in Philadelphia, Pa. It contained a Bronze Star, the Purple Heart with oak leaf cluster, the infantryman's badge, good conduct medal and three campaign ribbons.

"I cried when they came," said Kunsman at his Fort Lauderdale home.

Kunsman said he got his medals after reading a notice in a veteran's association publication reminding former soldiers they could still get any awards due them. He said he wrote, requested his medals and received them after the Army verified his request.

Until 1964 Kunsman worked parttime as a postal carrier but an automobile accident that year left him confined to the wheel chair. Now his health is failing and he has had two brain operations within a year, he says.

Oust 'Radicals-Liberals,' Agnew Urges

By RICH OPPEL

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Vice President Spiro Agnew urged Florida Republican leaders to urge Agnew's constituents with little reserve.

"Mr. Vice President, if I had my vote, do we love you?" quipped Kirk, who admits to an uphill battle for re-election against State Sen. Robin Askew, D-Denver.

"You are our glad star, going into the nation to do battle with plutocrats — those wild radicals!"

The normally un-phased Agnew began fidgeting and seem to blush beneath a wide grin when Kirk addressed him as "Mr. Wonderful."

There was a certain urgency in the vice president's appeal and it was apparent that at the root of his visit was the White House's desire to see the Senate come under Republican control as a result of the 1970 elections.

Cramer reinforced the president's message with more pointed praise at both stops, comparing in importance to the president his removal of Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., and the defeat of former vice president Hubert Humphrey, a Senate candidate in Minnesota.

Rollback On Insurance Given First Law Test

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The insurance rate rollback law that companies say will force them to lose up to 24 cents on each premium dollar stands its first test today before U.S. District Judge David L. Magidson.

Allstate Insurance Co. has moved for a temporary restraining order to prevent Insurance Commissioner Broward Williams from requiring the company to rollback its 23.5 per cent increase in liability auto insurance to July 1 rates.

Gov. Claude Kirk filed a motion late Thursday to intervene in behalf of the 15-day moratorium and rollback law, which was passed at a one-day special session he called a week ago.

It is Kirk's contention that Allstate modified its own case against the law when it refused earlier this week to write new auto insurance policies in Florida.

Motorists 'Trapped' For Insurance

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Tallahassee Florida motorists, trapped by refusal of some companies to write new policies, have been forced to buy assigned risk auto insurance at higher prices, State Insurance Department officials said Thursday.

"The tragedy of the whole thing is that all this week placed in the assigned risk plan that normally would have been written in the normal market," said Deputy Insurance Commissioner Harry Landrum.

Mark Traflet, chief of the department's rating bureau, said the difference would be at least $25 for one typical company, United States Fidelity and Guarantee Co.

Traflet said an adult male with no accidents who purchased minimum liability insurance from USF&G in Tallahassee would pay $120 straight policy and 15¢ as an assigned risk.

Figures for companies such as Allstate Insurance Co., which have refused to write new policies because of the law setting a 120-day moratorium on rate increases were not available, he said.

There might be some cases where the spread would be greater and other cases where the spread would be less," Traflet said.

Assigned risk insurance costs more because claims and administrative costs are higher. But even good drivers, who would otherwise be eligible for lower cost policies, must pay more if forced into the assigned risk pool by refusal of companies to accept them.

"Even the increased rates that have been put into effect — in many instances would be

Death Penalty Changes Disliked

By BARRY SCHWEID
 Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has urged the Supreme Court not to alter the states' death penalty procedures.

The Justice Department said in a brief late Thursday the Constitution requires neither standards to guide jurors nor separation of the sentencing process from the bulk of the trial. These two changes are being urged upon the court in two test cases that could upset more than 50 death sentences.

The standards argument is that jurors now have unconstitutional, arbitrary authority to choose between a death sen-

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Portfolio managers in today's market seem to be over-emphasizing arithmetic and under-emphasizing quality and other non-arithmetic factors, says W. H. Hutton & Co. "Some of the response to small variations in quarterly earnings are almost absurd," the firm says.

The 12-1/2% stock market experience is visible proof that speculative enthusiasm does not depend on a booming economy, says Hutton, Watson & Co. The best form of serious investment activity now seems difficult to define, but correctly identifying it could bring unusually large rewards. "The urge to speculate has by no means been blunted; it has merely been restricted to a smaller terrain," it says.

A cautious attitude for the shorter term with emphasis on investment-quality stocks is recommended by Goodbody & Co. "The firm feels that more volatility pressure in the immediate future than the better quality issues.

As for adopting two-stage trials, six states have done so, meaning pure chance often determines whether a convicted man is to live or die.

The separation argument is that defendants should be able to decline to take the witness stand during trial but should be able, if convicted, to offer evidence against a possible death penalty.

Both procedures, if adopted, could actually increase the chances of a death sentence, said Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold and Philip A. Lacey, a special assistant to Attorney Gen. John N. Mitchell. In the brief requested by the court last June.

They said the nation is committed to trial by jury and to the assumption that juries act fairly, rationally and intelligently and reflect the conscience of the community.

"Neither this court nor any other has heretofore expressed anything but approval for the wisdom and fairness of entrusting flexible sentencing discretion to the trial juries in capital cases," they said.

Drive Set To Help 'Helping Hand'

The Seminole County sheriff's department is sponsoring a program in all area schools that provides help for children who may be accosted or threatened while on their way to and from school.

According to this program, which is called "Helping Hand," a child is trained to recognize a home where help may be obtained when he or she spots the paper replica of an open hand pasted in the window of that home.

Area residents volunteer to be "Helping Hands," and are investigated by the sheriff's department before they are issued a membership card and are allowed to display the sign of the hand.

Consumer Agency Is Rejected

By DON KENDALL
 AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has turned down a task force recommendation that a new consumer agency be set up in the Agriculture Department to handle meat and poultry inspection.

The inspection programs now are built into what the task force calls the "complex organization" of the department's Consumer and Marketing Service. The report says inspection is too big a job for the agency.

"There is an inherent difference in the nature of marketing and regulatory programs which creates an internal administrative conflict," the report said.

"Further, consumer protection is so large and has such complex problems that it needs a full time administration."

Therefore, the task force concluded, a new agency called the Food Inspection Service should be established "at the earliest practicable date."

Assistant Secretary Richard E. Lutz, however, rejected the proposal. In a letter to Dr. Clayton Yeutter, administrator of CIMS, Long said USDA had considered a new agency but "it is our intention to continue meat and poultry inspection within CIMS."

The report also recommended that meat and poultry inspection services be continued as a function, Long said the department concurred.

Nixon Given Campaign 'Ammo'

By HILL NEIKIRK
 Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the off-year election less than three weeks away, the Nixon administration has received new economic data that could be handy in countering campaign charges that the nation is headed for a recession.

But Democrats, too, got what could be political ammunition from other major economic indicators announced Thursday.

While the Gross National Product, which measures the market value of the nation's total output in goods and services, climbed at a 6 per cent annual rate during the July-September period, industrial production fell sharply by 1.7 per cent during September.

The GNP rise represented moderately good political news for the administration. It indicated perhaps the first stages of recovery from the economic stagnation that began a year ago.

Paul W. McCracken, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, said "It is quite clear that the economy is on the threshold of substantial and vigorous expansion."

In talking with newsmen, McCracken said, "I think the evidence is clear that the rate of inflation has decelerated significantly."

Egyptian Envoy's Speech Watched Closely Today

Middle East Peace Issue To Be Aired Further By U. S., USSR

By LEWIS GULLICK
 Associated Press Writer
 UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers pursues the Middle East peace issue with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko tonight following talks with Egypt's foreign minister, Mahmoud Riad, reported Thursday night after a session in Rogers' hotel suite lasting nearly two hours.

The two did agree to meet again during the current round-robin of conferences among foreign leaders attending the U.N. General Assembly's 23rd anniversary session.

Riad addresses the General Assembly today, a speech which diplomats are watching closely for clues on Cairo's position on foreign policy.

On Thursday, he successfully sought General Assembly debate on the Arab-Israeli controversy starting Oct. 26, eight days before the anniversary observance ends. U.S. strategists have been cool to such a debate now, believing that quiet backstage diplomacy rather than public speaking is more likely to bring Arab-Israeli negotiations back.

And Rogers is seeking enough "rectification" of the alleged violations to get the Middle East opponents into conference.

U.S. officials said Rogers took up the alleged violations with Riad. They gave no indication that he made any headway on this point though they said the discussion was friendly.

Riad, speaking to newsmen that "this time we didn't come to any specific agreement."

The remaining two brigades of the 4th Infantry Division and the 5th Marine Regiment also will be withdrawn under President Nixon's new order reducing American forces in Vietnam by 46,000 troops before the end of the year. This will cut the total authorized American strength to 344,000 men.

As in previous troop withdrawals, soldiers who have not served most of a one-year tour in Vietnam will be transferred to units to complete their term. The brigades leaving are expected to be the 1st and 2nd, which already have been moved into the Saigon region.

 The Seminole County League of Women Voters is sponsoring a "parks safari" Saturday. The League has been working on the passage of a parkland purchase researching appropriate lands for over three years.

They have recommended, and the County Commission has approved for placement on the ballot, seven areas of the county to be set aside for development as county parks.

 rather to the extent the majority to call Orlando Mayor Carl Langford and Orange County Sheriff Dave Starr to prevent interference with him taking a picture of Agnew.

Langford, in sympathy with the bewildered man, walked over to the Vice President and Leonard Wood, candidate for Congress from the Fourth District, and GOP Attorney General candidate Judge Thom Rumberger.

A youth with a tape recorder was told by another man, with some apparent authority, that he could be "taken behind a langur and the hell beat out of him."

What provoked this statement was not certain. A man, identifying himself as Lynn Stewart, an advance man for the Vice President, said the Cramer Republican committee had chosen the five newsmen and all complaints should be directed to that committee.

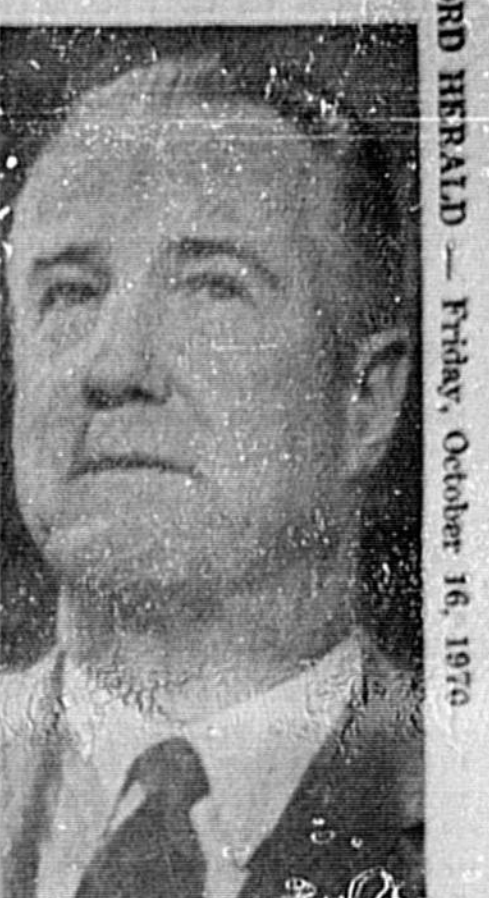

Still another man remarked that the remainder of the news media was needed for a "crowd effect" but he refused to elaborate.

Agnew and Kirk made a few passing remarks upon their arrival with the Vice President getting a laugh when he jokingly told a reporter that if New York Sen. Goodell was on "board" his plane, he must be in the baggage compartment.

Agnew and Sen. Charles Goodell, a Republican liberal, have been verbal pot shots at each other in the past two weeks.

After the Vice President and his party had left in the official automobile, the imprisoned reporters were "liberated" from their hump and wool coats and one, trying to grin it off, stated, "The Republicans have no one to blame but themselves if they get bad press coverage after what happened here today."

Orlando Mayor Langford may have best described the situation, when, in commenting to the "12-1," the value of antique Agnew-Kirk radios. He looked at his spiro Agnew wrist watch and wondered, "Will this watch be worth more than $2 in 50 years?"

A CRITIC — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew startled the nation in November by his criticism of some of the coverage by television and the press of events in the country.

25th Infantry Div. Ordered Out Of South Vietnam By Christmas

By GEORGE ESPER
SAIGON (AP) — The 25th Infantry Division is being pulled out of Vietnam and two of its three brigades will be gone by Christmas, informed sources reported today.

The remaining two brigades of the 4th Infantry Division and the 5th Marine Regiment also will be withdrawn under President Nixon's new order reducing American forces in Vietnam by 46,000 troops before the end of the year. This will cut the total authorized American strength to 344,000 men.

The brigades leaving are expected to be the 1st and 2nd, which already have been moved into the Saigon region.

The division's 3rd Brigade has been transferred to the opera-ional control of the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment operating about 40 miles north of Phnom Penh. It probably will be deactivated in Vietnam next year, and meanwhile the 25th Division will be filled out by its 4th Brigade, which already is in Hawaii.

He said a North Vietnamese force moved into the area a little over a week ago and settled down on the outskirts of the town, a key point in the Cambodian capital's ring of defense.

Turks Nix Soviet Hijack Bid

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — The Turkish government will reject the Soviet government's demand for extradition of the father and son who hijacked a Soviet airliner Thursday if the pair can establish a valid political reason for seeking asylum, government security officials said today.

The Soviet government demanded the return of Brazzaville Koroyero, 46, and his son Algeadas, 18, who commandeered a two-engine AN24 with 48 other persons aboard and forced it to land at the Black Sea port of Trabzon. A stewardess was wounded and three crew members were killed in the hijacking.

A spokesman for the Turkish Foreign Ministry confirmed that the pair had asked for asylum. He said that if a true political motive could not be established, the hijackers would be treated as common criminals and possibly handed over to the Soviet authorities, even though Turkey and the Soviet Union do not have an extradition treaty.

The security official said the hijackers would probably be tried in Turkey on charges of murder and other felonies if given asylum.

Legal authorities pointed out that in a similar case of hijacking in 1948, when two Bulgarians seized a Bulgarian plane, forced it to land in Istanbul and wounded the two pilots, Turkish authorities refused to extradite the hijackers.

A spokesman for the Turkish Foreign Ministry said four Soviet Embassy officials had gone to Trabzon to look after the interests of the 43 passengers and four surviving crewmen. He said the return of the plane and its passengers to the Soviet Union is internationally Turkey's duty but that the extradition request is a different and more complicated matter.

The plane, operated by the Soviet government airline, Aeroflot, was seized 10 minutes after it took off from the Georgian town of Batumi, on the eastern edge of the Black Sea, for Sukhumi, 100 miles to the north.

The elder Koroyero told the Turks he and his son opened fire when the pilots refused to change course.

The stewardess, Natasha Kurchenko, 18, was killed as she tried to block the door to the pilot's compartment. The chief pilot, a copilot and the radio operator were wounded. The copilot landed the plane, and the pilot was taken to a hospital in critical condition with a gunshot wound in the chest. The hospital said today the three were improving.

Quorum Lacking At Meet

NORTH ORLANDO — The meeting of Village Council last night, continued from Oct. 5, set for Oct. 12, and postponed until last night, failed to get off the ground. While Mayor Clifford Jordan, Councilman Charles Rowell and Richard Allen and the press waited for a quorum, the two other councilmen Charles Kelly and Pat DeVillaggio failed to show. A fifth councilman to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Wayne Miller has not, as yet, been appointed.

The meeting was for the purpose of considering appointments of a building inspector for the municipality, as well as the enactment of a political sign ordinance which had been suggested by Kelly. Also to be considered was a request for a building permit and solution of a drainage problem on Lombardy Avenue.

Prior to the scheduled meeting Mayor Jordan, Rowell and Allen interviewed five applicants for building inspector from among the many who submitted applications. These five were felt to have the best qualifications as far as the criteria needed for the village.

Tax Values Up 15% In Seminole

By CHARNER LEONE
 The largest increase in "taxable value" on the Seminole County tax roll for real property in a decade is announced by D. Guy Allen, tax assessor. His office records a 15.01 per cent increase over the taxable value in 1969.

In 1969 Seminole County was subjected to complete reappraisal.

Although many properties were reviewed by Allen's office for the 1970 roll, the 15 per cent increase in taxable value resulted almost exclusively from new construction which took place throughout the county, Allen reports.

The per cent increases in real property in the county for the past 11 years are: 1960—5.57 per cent; 1961—6.87 per cent; 1962—5.54 per cent; 1963—1.93 per cent; 1964—3.47 per cent; 1965—3.54 per cent; 1966—5.76 per cent; 1967—5.63 per cent; 1968—4.24 per cent; 1969—11.11 per cent, and 1970—15.01 per cent.

Allen approved 18,212 applications for homestead exemption in 1970 as opposed to 16,569 in 1969. That indicated that there are 1,645 more families claiming Seminole County as their permanent residence than were in 1969. And compared to this increase in taxable value, noted Allen, the figures would indicate that these new residents of the county are living in new homes.

Bulletin

At this morning's meeting between representatives of Page Airways, Inc., Sanford Airport's Fixed Base Operator, and the Sanford Industrial and City Commissioners, a decision was delayed until Oct. 29 on whether the industrial commission will lease facilities to Page Airways, Inc., to become a second fixed base operator.

The delay is to give Douglas W. Justice, Vice President, time to consult with company officials in Rochester, N. Y., on what course the firm will take in providing essential fixed base operations at the local airport.

Booie Night For Seminoles

Tribe Hosts Evans Trojans Tonight

By GREG ROWLES
Herald Sports Staff
Tonight is the big night as far as the Seminoles are concerned when they go up against the Evans Trojans of the Metro Conference.

McMerrick, the Trojans have just not let it all together yet and the Seminoles don't plan to let them start tonight.
Richard Settle, John Pease, Cecil Nelson and Pete Kelley are all hampered with minor injuries, but will probably play in the game as they want this win very much. Mentally the Seminoles appear ready for the game but they must cut down on mistakes if they are to be 4-0 Saturday morning.

Boone Visits Greyhounds; Metro Monster Mashers

Lyman will try to make it five wins in five games, when they meet defensive-minded Boone, tonight in Longwood. Lyman will field an excellent defensive team and an offensive team that contains the leading scorer in the Metro Conference, Kenny Harmon. Boone will field what may well be the best defensive team in the Metro Conference. The tenacious Braves have only allowed 26 points to the opposing teams in their first four ball games. That averages about one touchdown per game. The Lyman offense is averaging around four touchdowns per game. The Greyhounds offense is led by Lyman and Bruce Rose. Harmon, a 147 pound scabback, has scored seven TDs for 42 points and leads the Metro Conference in scoring. Rose

LYMAN'S BRIAN HELMS (11) tries to shake a tackler while Seminole workhorse Bobby Reynolds (20) comes running up to assist in a 14-14 tie. Both teams were 0-3 going into the game and the score ended in a 14-14 tie. Both teams will meet again at Longwood later this season. (Gary Taylor Photo)

Two Winless JV Teams Battle To A Tie Score

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Editor
When two winless teams meet, someone has to come out on top, except in football that is. The Baby Seminoles and the Lyman JV's squared off last night in a battle to see which of the winless teams was the best (or the worst). They'll have to wait until the two teams meet again at the Lyman field to find that out. The final score read 14-14.

Birds Take The Top Money; Big Red Machine Falls Apart

By DICK COUCH
BALTIMORE (AP) - The Orioles' bats were hot in a series of three games in Tampa, Saturday, and they had to come out to pick up their check.
The Orioles, backing in a snow of champagne after they turned a rainy day into a World Series bonanza, were the best ball club in the American League, and the left arm of Mike Cuellar, who led the Orioles to their initial series conquest five years ago, pitched three games and started their final chavez Thursday with a two-run homer.
This makes up for everything, said Brock, 29-20, who checked the Reds on two home runs in the first inning.
That victory kept Cincinnati alive, but the Orioles applied the death blow Thursday as Cuellar shackled the Reds on six hits.

SJC Raiders Victorious In Three Way Contest

LAKE CITY - The Seminole Junior College Raiders crossed Tampa Saturday to participate in the University of South Florida Invitational Cross Country Meet. SJC will be competing with several of the top cross country teams in the state. Terry Long, the first year cross country coach for SJC, said that he considers Saturday's invitational the roughest meet of the year.
Next Tuesday will wind up the regular season for the Raiders as they trek to Central Florida Junior College in Ocala. On Saturday, October 24, they will compete in the district cross country clash with the state contest the following Saturday.

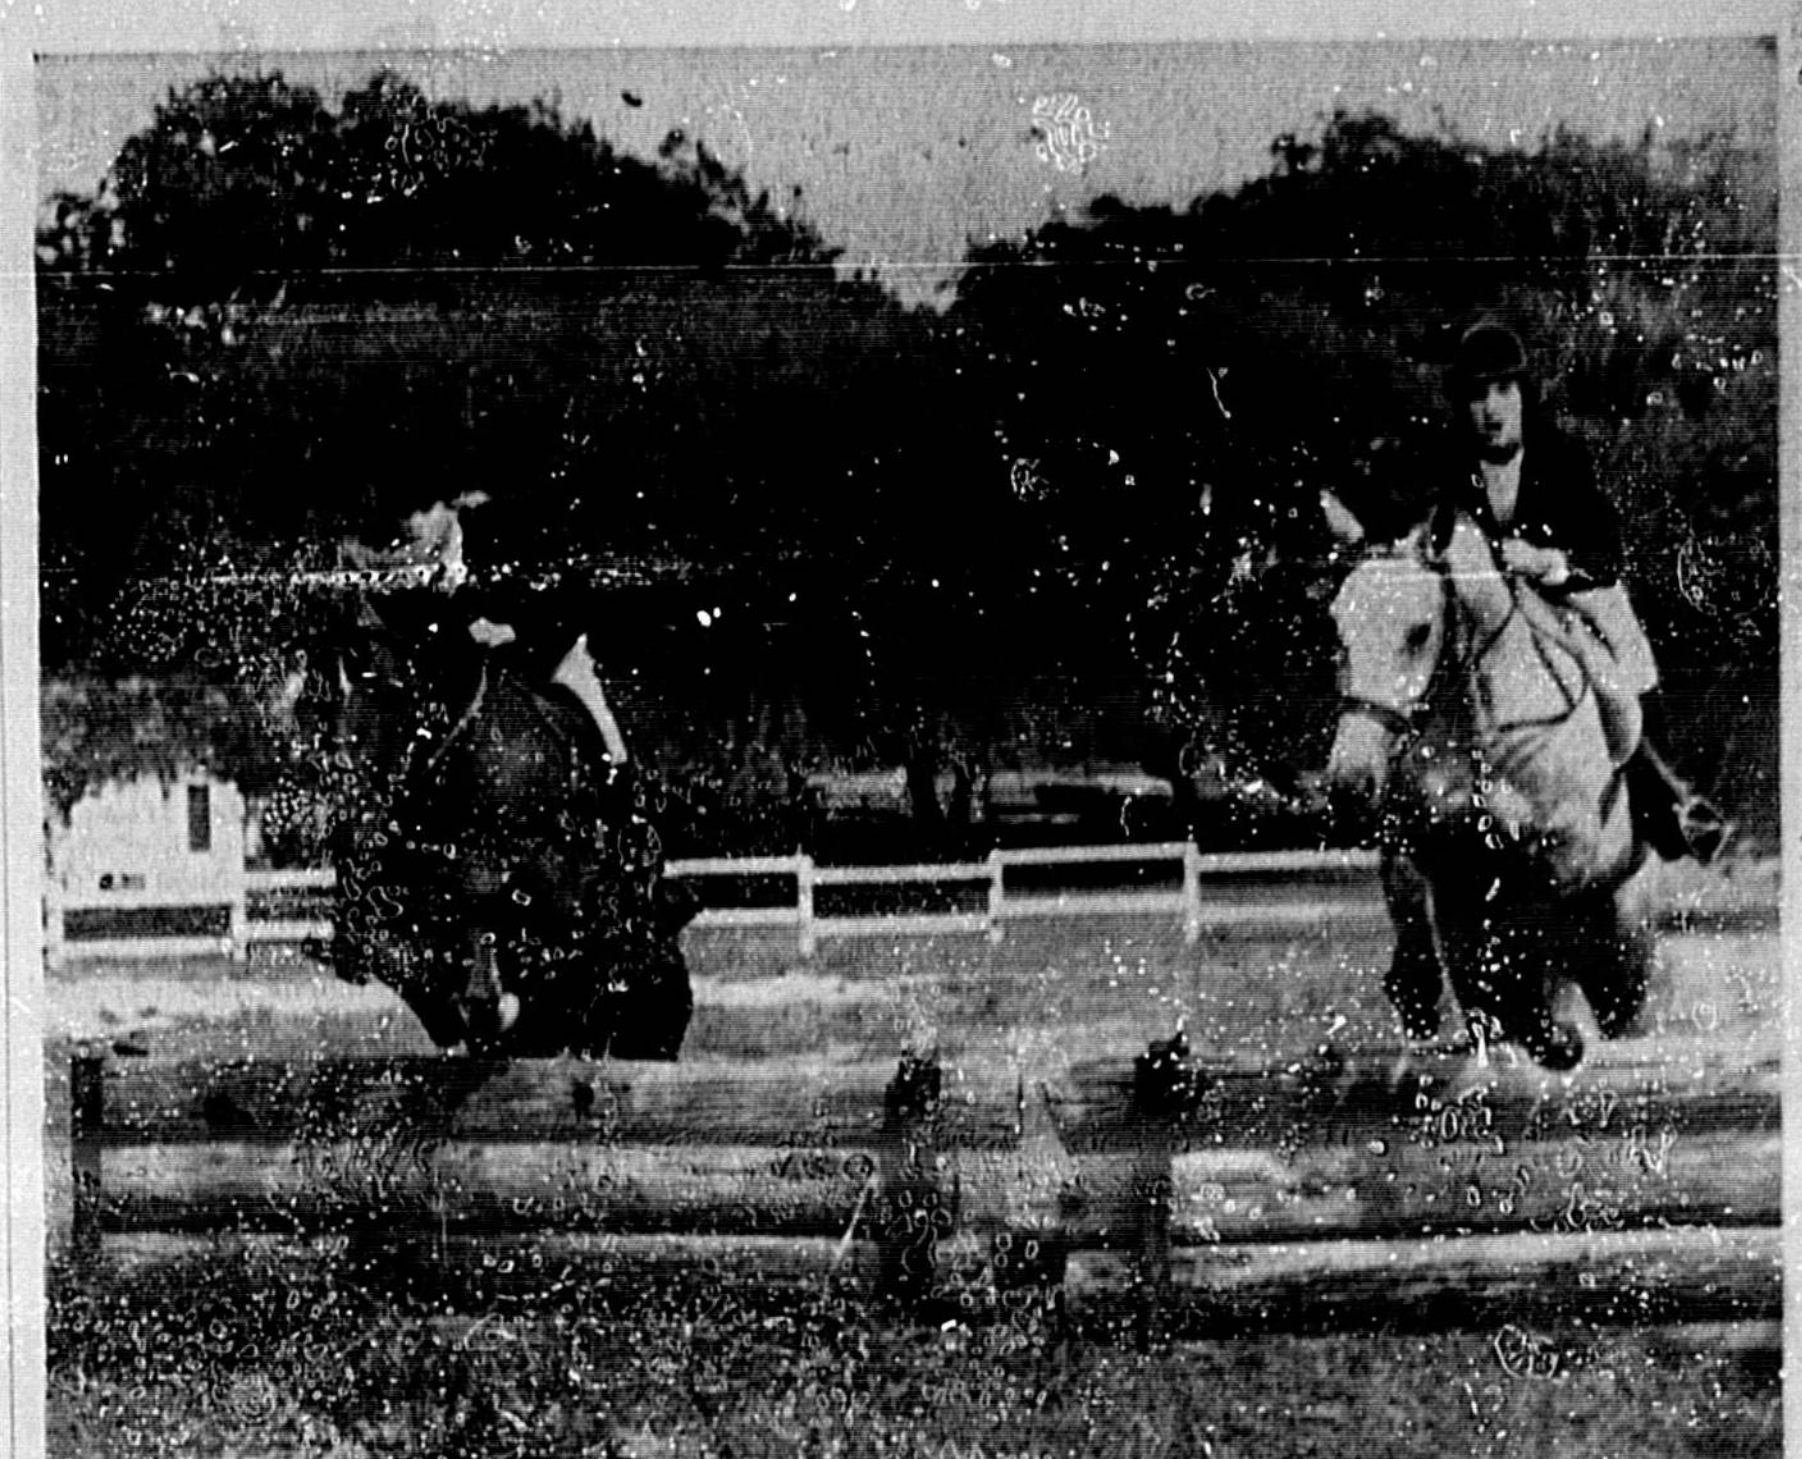

REX FREDERICK and Bob Schou run side-by-side during cross country action. The Raiders took a big three-way win in Lake City yesterday and are set for the toughest competition of the season coming up this week and next.

Seminole
The Seminole Men's Golf Association club championship came to an end last week; that is, all except for the championship fight. Don Smith and Gordon Allen both had net scores of 268. An eighteen hole playoff round will be held on Sunday. This will decide the winner of the club championship. It will also have a bearing on low gross places, so we will have to keep you in suspense until next week.

Land O' Lakes
Land-O-Lakes held their bi-weekly catfish last Sunday. First place money with eleven under par went to the team of Dee Ackerman, Ron Findell, Mike Hattie and Art Becker. Second place team was comprised of Nancy Dupp, Hank Hardy, Bill Scott and Lee Robinson. They carried a seven under. Several teams tied for third place at six under. Emile Skura and Appalo Kobayak were the winners in a blind catch tournament last Saturday.

Scores Four TDs Brundage Can Do No Wrong

Carlton Brundage scrambled for 156 yards and four touchdowns to lead the Oviedo JV's to a 26-12 triumph over the Clermont Highlanders last night in Oviedo. The Baby Lions offensive unit amassed the Clermont defense for 224 yards, besting the Highlanders by some 75 yards but fell behind in total offense due to ten penalties amounting to 130 yards. It was the second win for the Oviedo JV's whose record now stands at 2-1-1.

Rolling Hills
A blind bogey tournament was the feature event among the men last weekend. Carding 75 were Bill Hermann and Lou Minger. In second place with 77 were Roy Gilbreath, John White, Jim Bailey, and John Franklin. The only Eagle turned in at Rolling Hills last week was by Jack Galois. Number 10 is perhaps one of the most difficult holes at Rolling Hills and Jack used a driver, a three wood and then sank a 10 foot putt. A couple of best-ound-over scores were recorded. Bob Carlson (10-handicapper), and Andy Laboyta (12-handicapper) both fired 72.

Mayfair
Mayfair Country Club was the scene for a mixed, blind-draw full handicap tournament last Sunday. The first and only score for low net was captured by Vern Smith and Bob Sims. The pair scored a 63. Gene Savies and "Doc" King coupled to win low gross honors, but had to share them with Helen Carraway and Wilk Bowman. Both teams carded 63. Second low gross was taken by the team of Betty Runnells and Doc Park. They had 65. There seems to be a third place club 66. They were Margaret Botta and John Pierre, Mary Anderson and Bill Baker, Helen Wolfe and "Old Frosty" (my partner did all the work).
