OH YEAH?

By PETER SCHAAL

Old-season pitching, fast and brilliant fielding, and timely hits from the bats of the veterans proved to be the outstanding features of big league games over the week-end. Pitching saw to it that the Senators jumped into first place after they whipped Philadelphia Saturday and the Sox yesterday. Hitting saw to it that the Cards and Braves, winners Saturday, went into a tie for first place with the Giants who beat Ben Cantwell and the Braves yesterday, while the Sox stopped the Cards.

Without a doubt, the most spectacular game from all angles was the Yankee-Athletic game played before the new baseball game since baseball was instituted. Nearly 80,463 people jammed the Yankee Stadium under the sunniest of skies to witness a beautiful pitching duel between Ruffing and Dickey; and a 6-2 to 1 victory for the A's. Jimmy Dykes' home run broke the tie in the seventh while Mule Hays' single, scoring Blabop who had previously doubled, proved to be the punch that sent the winning run over. Lou Gehrig could easily have tied the score again in the eighth, for his home run into the left field bleachers was a mighty drive. Unfortunately, none were on base. The Babe went hitless.

Walter Johnson's Senators romped over four Boston pitchers for 10 hits good for eight runs, enough to make it four straight wins and give them the league lead. The score was 8 to 0, the third shut-out game this year. Lloyd Brown gave up 10 hits to the Sox, but they were so well scattered that not a man reached third. The Senators scored six runs in the third, with Spencer, ace catcher, leading the attack with a triple with two on base.

Detroit won its second game of the year when it stopped the hard-hitting Indians by a 7 to 2 score. Earl Whitehill was stinging with hits, and aside from the fourth inning when the sensational Vosmik hit a home run with one on, he was never in trouble. The Indians used four pitchers to no effect. Detroit's Stone hit a home run.

Over in St. Louis, the White Sox beat Browns engaged in a batting contest, the Sox slugging three Brown pitchers for 15 hits including six doubles and two triples, to win by a 12 to 6 score. The Browns scored their runs on a dozen hits, but they couldn't match the Sox hitting.

In the National League, our Ben Cantwell had poor luck against the Giants, his first teammates. They drove him from the box in the third inning after scoring four runs on six hits. The final score was 9 to 2. Sheridan and Cunningham following on the mound. With all the hitting 4 to 0, the Giants got 14 hits, the Braves 6, not an extra base hit was recorded.

Charlie Root got credit for his second victory of the year when he pitched the Sox whip, the Cards, 4 to 1. Charlie had plenty of trouble in the first inning when one run had scored, but the bases remained crowded. Two beautiful plays by Root cut off two runs, and after that inning Root had no trouble whatever, hitting the Sox down with three hits during the last eight innings. Hartnett's double in the first inning, Cuyler and English, proving to be all the scoring that was needed, but the Sox made the game sure by driving Flint Rhombus into the box in the sixth. Kaufman finished the struggle. An overflow crowd of 45,000 people went to the Cub victory by 6 to 1, and continued applause, regarding the feeling they had shown upon Hornsby and his mates Saturday.

For the fifth straight time, the highly-touted Bobins tasted defeat when the lefty Philbin pitched them 6 to 4 in 10 long innings of ball-patched innings. Over 40,000 fans were ready to go to the eighth inning after the Sox, aided by homers by Brown and O'Neil, had scored two runs in the eighth. The Sox were in the lead, and the crowd was in a fever. As they saw their favorite team being run out, they began to cheer. The Sox were out in the ninth, but the crowd was still cheering. The Sox were out in the ninth, but the crowd was still cheering.

Quinn could stop the riot. Young Bobins' single drove in the tying home run in the ninth, and the game went into the tenth tied at four all. In the tenth, Arlett singled, Leo singled and the next thing, old Quinn was taken out and Hollis Thurston took up the burden. Hurst advanced the two men a base each when he filed out, and pinch-hitter McCurdy's long single brought them both across. The Bobins tried hard in their half, but J. Ellicott set them down in order.

Poor base running and a pulled batting punch caused the Reds to lose their fifth straight game. The Pirates, with Kremer in the box, beat them 5 to 1. El Johnson was driven from the hill in the seventh after giving up five runs and nine hits. Kremer was touched for but eight hits.

Here are the highlights of Saturday's games: National League; The Pirates won the opening game of the Cincinnati series by beating them 9 to 6. French went the distance for the Pirates, while Wysong, Benton, and Carroll toiled for the unlucky Reds. The Pirates got 15 hits, the Reds 11. Old Tom Zachary hurled the Braves to their seventh straight win over the Robins. Sheely and Wilson led the Braves sluggers, who got 13 hits. Brooklyn could get but nine scattered hits off Zachary. Phelps, Mattingly and Moore pitched for Brooklyn. Clint Walker and the Giants made it three out of four from the Phillies, winning 7 to 1. The Giants got 13 hits off Bengie, Scheeler, Bolen, and Watt, while Walker limited the Phillies to five hits. Two of them doubles. The Cards beat the Cubs 7 to 5 in the opening game of the series. It was a 10-inning game, Lon Warneke and Bud Teschout walking in two men in the tenth with the bases loaded. The Cub fans gave Hornsby the raspberry throughout the game. He struck out twice, once with the bases loaded, and in the sixth inning he made two errors. Wild Bill Hallahan lived up to his name by walking nine men in the nearly nine innings he pitched. Derringer and Lindsey finished for the Cards. Malone, May, Warneke and Teschout pitched for the Cubs.

American League: The Boston Red Sox won a beautiful 15-inning game when they beat the Yankees 10 to 4. Sheridan went the route for the Sox, allowing but 11 hits. Webby's single after Rothrock had loughed in the 15th, scored the winning run. Berry tied the score for the Sox with a home run in the ninth inning. Gaston was knocked out of the box in the sixth when the Yanks scored their only four runs. Old Wiley Moore then held them scoreless for the remaining nine innings, allowing but three singles. It was a jam-up game and the New York fans were well pleased. Lefty Groves held the Senators to five hits, but hits by Cronin and Blueje in the fourth drove in the two runs which finally won the game, 2 to 1. Bad Sam Jones pitched nearly seven innings, and got credit for the win. Marberry relieved him to stop a Mack rally. Three of the five Senator hits were triples. The Mackmen scored only eight hits. Wes Stewart won his second game of the season for the Browns, who beat the Tigers 7 to 3. They also won the series, three games to one. Levey hit a homer in the fourth with one on that gave the Browns a nice lead. Bridges, Sullivan, and Uhl pitched for the Tigers. The Tigers got but 8 hits off Stewart, scoring their three runs in the eighth inning. The slugging Cleveland Indians romped on Frazier and Moore of the White Sox for 14 hits and 11 runs to win, 11 to 2, and give them the series three games to one. Once more the spectacular Joe Vosmik was the big gun. He got three doubles, a triple and single in five trips to the plate, and when the game was over received an ovation which had not been equalled in the Ohio city. Harder allowed the Sox but nine hits.

The leaders to date: Home runs, Klein, Phillies, 3; triples, H. Rice, Senators, 2; doubles, Vosmik, Cleveland, 5; stolen bases, Myer, Senators, Levey, Browns, Cissell, White Sox, 2 each; runs batted in, Hartnett, Cubs, Spencer, Senators, Levey, Browns, 8 each; most strike outs one game, Johnson, Yankees, 12; most bases on balls one game, Hallahan, Cards, 9; shut-out victories, Brown, Senators, Grimes, Cards, Brown, Indians, one each.

Catch Leonard McLane and his team returned from Gainsville yesterday after having participated with not much luck in the 17th annual state track meet. The team scored 4 points in honors, while Stanley, the high hurdler, was the only local representative who made a showing in the finals. He came in third in the high hurdle event. McLane's one hope of a good showing, young Don Jackson, the top ball star, was kept out of competition because of a swollen neck gland which was un-

D. A. R. UNVEILS SEVIER STATUE IN NATION'S CAPITAL

Patriotic Organization Assembles For Its Annual Congress

WASHINGTON, Apr. 28—(AP)—A vanguard of 3000 Daughters of the American Revolution, assembling here for their annual Continental Congress, yesterday dedicated in Statuary Hall a statue of John Sevier, first governor of Tennessee.

The service at the national capital was a prelude to a full week's program stressing love of country, and national defense and opposing communism.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover has advised the group she would attend the opening session of the congress Monday morning.

Last year the organization heard President Hoover's appeal in behalf of the World Court, but failed to win a majority. Vice President Curtis will be the highest ranking official on the platform of the present congress with an address on Monday night.

Mrs. John Hayes Acklen, state regent of Tennessee, presided at yesterday's tribute to Sevier. In place of Mrs. Lowell Fletcher Hobart, president general of the D. A. R. Governor Henry H. Horton presented the statue in behalf of Tennessee.

Selection of seven new vice presidents general from 40 candidates comprising this year's election promised some politics to keep pace with patriotic programs and drafting of resolutions.

The vice presidential candidates are: Mrs. Walter Christopher John, of Tennessee; Mrs. James Elias Chankabow, of Indiana; Mrs. William H. Puch of New York; Mrs. James Rountree of Texas; Mrs. Charles F. Bathwick of Michigan; Mrs. Herbert Fay Gaffney, of Georgia; Mrs. Charles E. Herrick of Illinois; Mrs. William Henderson Vought, of West Virginia; Mrs. Watt Thomas Brown of Alabama; and Mrs. James Franklin Trotman of Wisconsin.

For a vacancy among honorary vice presidents general, elected for life, Pennsylvania chapter has suggested Mrs. Alex Ennis Patton as candidate.

U.S. Nicaragua Policy Criticized By Press

PANAMA CITY, Apr. 28—(AP)—Secretary of State Stimson's announcement that American forces would not be landed in Nicaragua to protect American property was the subject of editorial comment in Panama Press yesterday.

The Panama American says: "Secretary Stimson's warning seems to be an invitation to General Sandino to continue killing Americans and looting American property anywhere in Nicaragua."

"It appears to be the announcement of a new Hoover doctrine," the editorial continues, "which would hold that American property in Nicaragua is not necessarily entitled to military protection except under certain circumstances."

Resolution Regarding News Broadcasting Is Passed By Body

NEW YORK, Apr. 21.—(AP)—Members of The Associated Press met at their annual meeting yesterday to discuss the resolution regarding news broadcasting. The resolution was passed by a vote of 100 to 10. The resolution was drafted by the organization and instructed officers and directors of The Associated Press to "meet with every sympathy the attempt to correct with in the radio situation, about which representations probably will be made to it and other news organizations. At the annual luncheon Walter Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, forecast that the United States would find its way out of business depression by the democratic road—by the thoughts and efforts of thousands of able intelligent people.

The resolution regarding news broadcasting was offered by Charles H. Taylor of the Boston Globe and was passed unanimously after more than an hour of discussion of the relations between newspapers and radio.

Jerome D. Barnum of the Syracuse Post-Standard, objected to the use of Associated Press dispatches in commercial radio programs, and Talbot Patrick of the Philadelphia N. C. News-Argus, said radio stations felt the edge was taken off the news when it was broadcast, either under newspaper auspices or otherwise.

Adolph Ochs of the New York Times suggested that the remedy be in the hands of the newspapers, individually. Col. Robert E. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune believed that a small percentage of the stations, and said the Tribune did not publish radio programs. He suggested other newspapers might refrain from publishing except as paid advertising.

Walter H. Harrison of the Oklahoma City Times and the Oklahoma Express expressed the conviction that broadcasting news increases newspaper circulation. A number of publishers believed that broadcasting news involved factors outside the realm of The Associated Press and suggested that since the subject was to be taken up this week by the American Newspaper Publishers Association a group from that body might communicate its conclusions to The Associated Press and other press associations.

These suggestions crystallized in the offering and passing of the Taylor resolution.

The meeting adopted amendments to the bylaws of The Associated Press making them conform to business laws of New York State which now permit corporations, as well as individuals, to belong to membership organizations.

employment and reaped rich rewards in membership.

Vice President Curtis told the convention the sooner undesirable aliens are deported "the better it will be for our country."

Registration of aliens, the vice president said, would be helpful in the labor department, and to all seeking citizenship.

Now, he added, when they once reach this country, "they are free to travel from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the Gulf to the Great Lakes without molestation."

Curtis commended the patriotic goals of the organization and commended efforts to build up the national sentiment for adequate preparedness.

"In this country we do not believe in a large standing army, nor do we believe in maintaining a large navy, but we do want both army and navy to be fully adequate for the national defense," he said.

The vice president asked aid of the organization in solving the "incurable diseases of immigration, Americanization and naturalization."

Too often, he said, Americanization has followed instead of preceding naturalization. He also said unemployment and depression had heightened the activities of a "vast group of aliens."

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Apr. 21.—(AP)—One man was deported yesterday from a deportation train carrying 115 aliens to the Gulf of Mexico.

The deported man was a member of the Communist party and was deported from a train which was en route to Jersey City while a man named the man who was deported.

SENATE BACKS HOUSE ACTION UPON TAX BILL

additional amendment to permit the levy of an income tax was led by Senators A. H. Weger, Palm Beach county, and W. C. Hodges, Tallahassee.

The proposed creation of a seventh justice of the Supreme Court met scattered opposition on the floor. Senator J. Turner Butler, Jacksonville, joined proponents of the proposed seventh seat on the Supreme Court bench, explaining that the Supreme Court members advised that under a system with a seventh justice the court could operate in two divisions thus virtually doubling its working capacity.

Several general bills were considered by the senate prior to the prolonged debate over the two proposed constitutional amendments.

The bill by Senator Samuel W. Getzen, Bushnell, designed to prohibit anyone participating in a party primary election from running as a candidate on any independent ticket in the following general election, was approved by a vote of 35 to 2, after Senator Getzen explained that the measure did not apply to city elections held under charter provisions. Anyone registering for the primary elections specified in the bill would be considered as participating in the election, whether the voter cast a ballot or not.

Senator Getzen's bill to make it harmless error for one judge to sit instead of another who erroneously recuses himself or certifies his disqualification through error, was beaten by a vote of 20 to 17.

Another bill by Senator Getzen, defeated by a tie vote Friday and left on the calendar on a motion for reconsideration went down to final defeat yesterday when the Senate beat the motion for reconsideration by a rising vote. The bill proposed to reduce to zero, the present minimum of two years as the penalty for stealing horses or cattle.

The Senate went into legislative session shortly before 6 o'clock in the afternoon to receive from Gov. Doyle E. Carlton a list of officers appointed to various posts throughout the State. The Senate, according to announcement following the legislative session confirmed the appointment of 24 officials, as a member of the state road department from the state at large.

The biennial report of the state board of pardons, listing dispositions of cases before the board during the past two years, was submitted to the Senate yesterday in a message from Governor Carlton and was ordered spread upon the pages of the Journal of the Senate.

The joint resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to create a seventh justice of the Supreme Court introduced by Senator S. B. Clark, Monticello, in connection with the proposed amendment, Senator Butler declared that the creation of the seventh justice would mean a "serious financial loss" as it would enable the abolishment of the present three commissioners now sitting the Supreme Court, replacing Senator W. T. Gary, Ocala, was the author of the resolution seeking to permit the levy of an income tax in the state.

Five local bills, all by Senator Arthur Gomez, Key West, pertaining to the senator's home city, were passed by unanimous consent under waived rules.

MADRID, Apr. 21.—(AP)—Seeking to stop heavy withdrawals of Spanish cash and securities, the government yesterday decreed that depositors must restore their money to banks within 30 days or "strict measures will be taken against them."

Minister of Finance Indalecio Prieto said in an interview that many persons were withdrawing their funds for speculation abroad and thereby were lowering the value of Spanish securities.

"The exodus of monies from the banks of Spain was due to the fact that private banks were withdrawing money to satisfy the demands of their clients," he said. "The Morgan credit has been recinded but those who

"I took a lot of pictures, the most of which have been printed in the local papers, and am sending a few along. The natives were a pathetic sight, lying to save what they could of their belongings from the wreckage, and camping out in the open. It is fortunate the Marines were there, as they took charge and kept the affair from becoming one great picnic. And the doctors with them were working constantly, treating the wounded. We brought in the first assistance to reach the city.

"We stayed at the Marine aviation camp that night and the next morning started back. Had a nice trip back, good weather all the way. I beat the other plane in about an hour, as it landed at an emergency field almost out of gas, and had to wait for some. I arrived about 4:30 in the afternoon, almost over my head with each way. Was quite tired that night, so I am not used to so much flying over strange country. They give enough mountains and jagged to last me for quite a while, too."

Mayor Walker Hits Back At Criticisms Of His Private Life

NEW YORK, Apr. 21.—(AP)—Mayor James J. Walker offered to match his private life against all the physical comforts of the new charges against him, he said yesterday as he dispatched to the governor his answers to charges previously made against him by the city affairs committee.

The mayor's statement referred to the latest charges filed against him by the city affairs committee of the national Republican club. The two committees are separate organizations.

"During the past few weeks, owing to the condition of my health and necessity for rest, the manifold requirements of city business and the dignity of my office, I have ignored the unfounded and slanderous personal attacks that have been running in the gossip gazettes," he said. "No one was expected to believe them and no one did."

"But when a body that enjoyed the respect of us all, like the National Republican club, employs this means of creating internal discord in the Democratic party, it comes time to call out the disinfected squad.

"Every man and woman of sense and sensibility in New York this beautiful morning experienced a shock in their ordinarily clean newspapers, thanks to the Sunday work of the National Republican club. This committee with no constructive program, no civic pride, no regard for the fair name of the city, labored and brought forth a shower of misapprehended hydrogen gas, offensive alike to decent Republicans as well as Democrats.

"To my private life I will match it against all the physical comforts of that life. My conscience is clear and I would like nothing better than to meet them eye to eye and let them attempt to justify themselves in the sight of God and man."

The Republican committee has charged Walker's private life in connection with his mayoral duties.

The executive committee of the so-called "committee" includes others active in the socialist movement.

Mayor Walker's reply took up one by one the 10 "detailed items" in the charges against him. In each case he sought to show they were without foundation.

In one of them, dealing with the police, the mayor recited several actions taken by him for improvement of the department. He added:

"The record of the police department as here summarized completely refutes the charges that the mayor has been irresponsible indifferent and inactive in respect to that department."

The mayor spoke of the temperate language of Messrs. Wise and Holmes with relation to their charges against the mayor as the subject of the magistrate's case.

He submitted a summary of what has been done in the magistrate's courts since June 11, 1930 when he appointed Joseph E. Cartright chief city magistrate. Twenty results of the changes were noted, these being:

1. The institution of one magistrate under five, instead of two justices for training women, judgments against other court employees on various charges, reorganization of the women's court, and other changes to facilitate the work of the court.

2. The institution of a "detailed affidavit" Mayor Walker continued, "whether he be the president of the United States or the governor of the state of New York or the mayor of New York city—can be held to a measure of responsibility such as these politicians would have you set by in this instance.

A reasonable amount of regulation and supervision in all that is, but mainly possible under the supervision of a great machine of government which numbers more than 100,000 employees."
