

U. N. World Very Much Like Old World

WASHINGTON (AP)—There was almost an exhilaration in those June days in 1945 at San Francisco when the United Nations was born. There was a sense of a new world born: a world of peace and brotherly cooperation.

The world of the U.N. is now 10 years old. It resembles very much the old world of hatreds, distrusts, wars and fears. Yet, while the U.N. has not worked perfectly, it has been useful.

This week its members' foreign ministers meet in San Francisco to celebrate the anniversary. The U.N. is a meeting ground for nations—a place where to some extent they can influence each other for good through the pressure of world opinion publicly expressed.

The U.N. has failed to produce, as was intended, an international armed force to prevent war. There have been more wars, some of which the U.N. helped settle, but no major war.

Some optimists believe a big war may be prevented as long as the nations can meet, if only to revile each other. But if a big war begins, there would be no more U.N.

The U.N. has spread some feelings of cooperation and brotherhood through the health, education and agricultural programs of its various agencies.

It seems certain the world would be different if the United States, unable to depend on the U. N.'s nonexistent international army, had not gone outside the U.N. to protect itself.

That was done through the alliances this country made with its non-Communist friends in Europe and Asia. Russia also went outside the U.N. to make its Communist alliances.

Reds Got False Germ Confession From U. S. Pilot

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Air Force spokesman says a false germ warfare confession was obtained by Chinese Communists from one of four returned American jet pilots, but no disciplinary action against the officer is planned.

He named the flier as Capt. Harold Fischer Jr., of Suez City, Iowa, a double jet ace of the Korean War who was released May 31 after more than two years in Chinese prison camps.

The spokesman said Fischer and three other fliers released with him also "confessed" to crossing the Yalu River into Chinese territory under Air Force orders. But he said no such orders had been given.

The spokesman said the actions of all four men are under study, but he indicated they probably "will be given a clean bill of health."

The Air Force has declined to discipline any of its men for actions while they were Chinese prisoners, on the ground they were acting under pressure of Communist mistreatment.

The Marine Corps likewise declined to bring court-martial proceedings against Col. Frank Schwabe, a flier who made a false germ warfare confession. The Army, on the other hand, has convicted four former prisoners of war on charges of collaborating with the enemy, and has filed charges against a number of others.

The officers released with Fischer are Lt. Col. Edwin Heller, Wynnewood, Pa.; Lt. Lyb Cameron, Lincoln, Neb.; and Lt. Ronald Parks, Omaha, Neb. The four were tried May 24 on Communist charges of "intruding into China for harassment and provocative attack," Heller told a news conference in Honolulu June 2 that all four pleaded guilty and were ordered "deported" to the United States.

The Air Force spokesman announced the "confessions" in commenting on a copyrighted story published today in the Minneapolis Tribune.

Fischer, now in San Francisco for an appearance at a United Nations anniversary ceremony, was not reached immediately for comment.

Total Eclipse Falls Over Asia

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—The moon totally eclipsed the sun over South Asia today.

Heavy unseasonal rain clouds blocked the view of the eclipse from observation posts set up by most foreign and Ceylonese scientists.

But only a light cloud was over the central Ceylon spot guarded by an American team from Harvard University. A spokesman said the phenomenon was fully visible for the four minutes that the eclipse was total, beginning about 8:10 a.m.

"We are quite happy," one of the Americans said. "Our experiments were very successful."

German technicians attached to a combined British-Ceylonese team kept copiously when a single black cloud obscured their view. The team was trying to check theories of the late Albert Einstein and had brought with them a telescope designed for Potsdam University, where Einstein once taught.

The Harvard team took pictures of the sun's infrared spectrum and another of the corona—the ring of incandescent hydrogen gas from the sun outlining the moon's shadow—in an effort to determine its precise shade.

In the Philippines, an American scientist was flown in a U.S. Air Force jet trainer to record the event on special cameras.

The eclipse began at sunrise in the Indian Ocean, along the eastern coast of Africa and southern Arabia. As the earth rotated, it streaked at 24 miles a minute—visible entirely or in part—across India, China, the Indochinese and Malay peninsulas, Indonesia, northern Australia and the Philippines.

The 180-mile-wide path of total darkness streaked 7,200 miles across Ceylon, south Siam, central Indochina and the Philippines.

The longest totality lasted 7 minutes 7.9 seconds, at one point in the South China Sea. New York's Hayden Planetarium said many scientists think it was the longest since 1717 A. D.

The American continents didn't see it. The last total eclipse was June 30, 1954. Its path crossed the upper United States and eastern Canada. The next visible in the United States will come Oct. 2, 1959, and will be seen only in some of New England.

Only Few Seats Exchanged In French Electoral Test

PARIS (AP)—Half of France's upper house was renewed yesterday in the nation's biggest electoral test before the 1953 national assembly elections. The results showed little change in the political climate, with the major French parties swapping only six seats so far.

The vote for members of the Council of the Republic (Senate) went almost unnoticed. It was an indirect election with the public having no part.

The campaign has been extremely quiet—confined mostly to luncheons and small get-togethers among professional politicians.

The Senate is the advisory upper house of the French Parliament. Its members are elected for six-year terms, with half the group named each three years. It can delay legislation, but cannot finally veto actions of the dominant assembly.

The election was done by deputies of the lower house, members of the municipal councils, members of regional councils and some supplementary electors representing larger towns.

Up for renewal yesterday were 153 seats—123 from metropolitan France, 3 from Algeria and 25 from overseas areas. The National Assembly will name six additional senators next month to represent Frenchmen living in Morocco, Tunisia and other foreign territories.

Stamps?

"I'll go tit," he chuckles. Probably his favorite coin, and no doubt the most valuable, is a commemorative half dollar minted in Hawaii 150th anniversary commemorative. It was given to him in 1953 by the late John H. Mackey, former Florida state labor inspector, with the following note:

"Friend Gail, please accept with my friendship this coin, the smallest number ever issued of a commemorative U. S. coin, only 10,000. The entire lot sold out in 1 hour at $2 each. In 2 weeks later after issue they sold at $5 and in 1930 sold up to $17. Value today $10 but this coin will be one of rarest and one of the most valuable. Yours, Mackey"

And Mr. Mackey's visions seem to have come true in grand style. According to the latest information which "Friday" has the coin is now worth $97.50.

"Friday" was born in State Center, Iowa, in 1878 and his parents named him Gail Borden after his father's employer, the founder of the Borden Co. "My father worked for Mr. Borden for 15 years when he was just starting out," he says. Friday gained his nickname in Jacksonville many years ago because he was "always everybody's man Friday."

"If I had it to do all over again, I'd never get started in this foolish stamp business," he says. "I've accumulated so much junk I can't even try to keep track of it anymore."

Italian Police Seek Group In $305,000 New York Robbery

.5 Holdup Suspects Hunted

ROME (AP)—An order was flashed to police throughout Italy today to keep a close watch for four men and a pretty girl, suspected of complicity in New York's $305,000 robbery of the Chase Manhattan Bank branch last April. There was no arrest order. But the word went out to find the suspects and trail them until further orders. Interpol, the little-publicized International Police organization which acts as a U. N. against crime, gave the word. Police said the leader of the group is believed to be Giuseppe Taro, also known as John Michael di Tacco, a 31-year-old New Yorker. They gave the names of those with him as John Timothy O'Connell, 35, Daniel William MacGurke, 28, Peter Jerome

Kirdam, 31, of Manchester, England, and Jeanette Forest, 27, of Montreal, Canada. Police speculated that if they are trying to get away through Italy, they probably hope to slip through to Africa or the Middle East in a small ship. No roadblocks or other extraordinary measures have been ordered. They are not necessary in Italy. No one—not even an Italian—can get public lodging without filling out a police form. Each of these is checked within hours. Foreigners must show passports. Wanted persons usually are turned up within 24 to 48 hours. A North Italian police officer reported the tipoff came when Di Tacco sent a cable to New York June 17 asking a man under surveillance there to help him reach an Italian contact. Last night Naples police were told to be on the lookout. Today the order was broadened. But police emphasized there were no charges against the group and that they had no arrest order. They simply want to locate them and keep them under surveillance as long as they stay in Italy. The hunt centered today in Naples. It has been a center for deported American hoodlums with Italian contacts. The Queens robbery was skillfully staged by four men on April 6. Their haul was mostly in $5, 10 and 20 dollar bills which the bank had on hand to meet a payroll that day.

Geneva Parley Plans Approved By West, Soviet

By MAX HARBELSON
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Russia and the Western Powers were reported to have reached a verbal agreement early today in arrangements for the top-level talks in Geneva next month. Informed quarters said Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov told the Western diplomats at the end of a four-hour meeting that at first sight he saw no reason to object to a series of proposals they had agreed on in New York last week. He was understood to have told them he would study the proposals more carefully and give his reply in a day or two. The Western foreign ministers apparently were so certain of his acceptance that no further meeting was arranged. Diplomats at the meeting said Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay had proposed that: 1. The purpose of the summit meeting should be to ease world tension and not to negotiate the settlement of specific problems. 2. The meetings should last from four to six days. 3. President Eisenhower should be the first presiding officer, to be followed by French Premier Edgar Faure, British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin. 4. The meetings should be held in the Palais des Nations, U. N. headquarters in Geneva, and that the U. N. should be requested to service the sessions. 5. No council of foreign ministers should be held before the chiefs of government meet. 6. The four foreign ministers will have a dinner together tonight with Pinay as host, but no serious discussions were planned. These developments came as the U. N.'s 10th anniversary meeting got down to its long program of speeches on the world outlook. Macmillan was scheduled to deliver a policy declaration for Britain—the first major foreign policy pronouncement since last month's British elections. President Eisenhower's opening address was praised by other delegates as excellent and inspirational. The President, speaking yesterday afternoon, pledged that he would uphold the principles of the U. N. Charter at the Geneva conference. He declared this a "season of high hope" for world peace. "The United States will leave no stone unturned to work for peace," he said. "We shall respect no method, however novel that holds out any hope however faint."

Trial Set For Convict In Killing Of Official

Budget Promises Air Superiority, Senators Assert

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators Byrd (D-Va) and Symington (D-Mo) said today a $31,882,000,000 defense money bill will help keep America ahead of Russia in long-range aerial striking power. The Senate passed the bill 80-0 yesterday and sent it back to the House, where a somewhat different version was approved some time ago. One of the major differences was a Senate amendment designed to block a proposed 22,000-man reduction in the Marine Corps. This amendment was adopted 40-39. It was President Eisenhower's first reversal on a major military recommendation since he entered the White House. The bill would provide funds to arm and support a military force scheduled to be trimmed from 2,061,300 men as of June 30 to 2,881,000 a year later. It carries 356 million dollars more than the House voted to step up production of long-range bombers. Left intact were House-approved provisions to reduce the Army by 27,000 men to a new level of 1,027,000, to cut the Navy by 8,000 men to 664,000 and to increase the Air Force from 910,000 to 975,000 men.

Democrats Edge Toward Attack On Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats took a step yesterday toward open attack on President Eisenhower with the 40-39 Senate vote aimed at canceling his cut in Marine Corps strength. It was the first successful major challenge in Congress of Eisenhower as a military man and demonstrated to some Democrats that on this score the President is not invulnerable. The result, engineered by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, could encourage other assaults on the Eisenhower program. It might signal a shift in strategy, supplanting what has become the general Democratic theme that the President is a man of stature but can't lead a divided Republican party. Sen. Symington (D-Mo) wrote the amendment to give the Marines 40 million dollars more than the President asked and thus nullify the cut of 22,000 men ordered by Eisenhower within the coming year. The Senate action is still subject to a conference with the House. Symington, who dropped plans aimed at canceling Army cutbacks as well, said in an interview: "I don't think the senators who voted to reduce the Marine Corps, which is composed of volunteers, are going to be able to explain that when they are questioned by the parents of men who are drafted for other services." Symington aimed directly at Eisenhower. He suggested the President wasn't infallible when, as a consultant, he approved a low military budget before the Korean War. Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) took Symington to task for what she called an attempt to "discredit the President's military judgment." Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said no one could have foreseen the attack in Korea.

Heroux Is Sane Judge Informed By Psychiatrists

LAKE BUTLER (AP)—George A. Heroux Jr. is scheduled to go on trial Monday for the fatal shooting of J. G. Godwin, assistant state prison superintendent, at Raiford April 4. Circuit Judge George L. Patten found the 25-year-old convict sane here yesterday after listening to a report by two Jacksonville psychiatrists who had been named to examine him. Dr. William Ingram Jr. and William H. McCullagh said Heroux was mentally competent to stand trial. The court deferred ruling on a motion by defense counsel John E. Santana Jr. of Jacksonville for a change of the trial site. The attorney said it would be difficult to obtain jurors who had no formed an opinion in this county where the state prison is located. Heroux, arraigned on a murder indictment after the court's ruling, listened impassively while the charge was read. He said nothing and his attorney entered a plea of innocent for the heavily guarded prisoner. Two guards were wounded in the escape attempt that took place in a corridor outside the office of Supt. L. P. Chapman. Heroux' former wife Ruth and her husband Raymond Staff of Miami, have pleaded guilty to smuggling the gun to him. Heroux, serving a 25-year term at the time for a Miami armed robbery, is also under 25 years sentence for robbery of two Kansas banks in 1931.

Suwannee Negro Is Flogged

TAMPA (AP)—A Suwannee County Negro was flogged and beaten by a band of men after luring him from his small farm, the Tampa Tribune reports. The newspaper said Richard Cooks, 35, father of nine children, had kept quiet about the beating until a Tribune reporter questioned him. Cooks said he had kept quiet because he had been ordered by the floggers not to talk. He said one of the leaders of the mob told him "Next time maybe you'll let your kids poison the tobacco."

It will also establish a Loan and Gift Closet in the near future."

Longest Day Of Year Spring Bows Out

What is so rare as a day in June? Or, might we say instead, what is so rare as today? Spring takes its final bow today and gives us the stage to summer. This is also the longest day of the year. Experts say we could have 15 hours of light counting twilight and sunset. Scattered showers were reported in many parts of the country. Warm weather continued over most of the East and South, but cooler air was moving southward over the plains and upper Mississippi Valley. Rainfall was reported from such widely separated points as El Dorado, Ark.; Lincoln, Neb.; Des Moines, Iowa; Elmira, Ohio; and Houston, Tex. In most cases the rainfall amounted to less than a quarter of an inch.

Mack Cites Need For Safe Driving

A straight-from-the-shoulder talk on safe driving and an album of pictures showing some of the 12 wrecks in Seminole County so far this year was presented to the Rotary Club at its weekly meeting at the Yacht Club yesterday noon by Trooper T. Mark Mack of the Florida Highway Patrol. According to Mr. Mack, there were ten fatal accidents in this section last year and in date, three people have lost their lives in Seminole County with 12 being seriously injured. With over six years service in the Highway Patrol, of which a year has been in this area, Trooper Mack left no doubt in the minds of his hearers as to the seriousness with which he regards his job. He read from a list of over 100 possible traffic violations, many of which were quite new to his listeners.

Decision Could Ruin Life Forever

DECISION INSIDE 30 day or Wednesday. Full fare can return any day.
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (U.S.)—Who's head of your house? The husband or the wife? Think it over. The answer may cost you money.
Bogatin wanted to come home on a Wednesday. His wife had to stay over until Saturday. Could he ride the half-fare ticket, leaving full fare for his wife?

Why, no, said the young lady at the American Airlines ticket office. The head of the house was the one who traveled full fare.
Since arriving back in town, Bogatin, a lawyer, has been gleefully citing this as an example that, even in this modern age, man's superiority and domestic authority is conceded. Turns out, it's not that simple.
"Way I understand the regulations," said Pres Oliver, district sales manager, "either the husband or the wife can travel on half fare—depending on who they agree is head of the family. If the yecome to us and represent that the wife is the head, she gets the full fare and can return when she pleases. That's government regulations. We aren't going to decide who's boss."
What would Bogatin have done today?
"I would not have yielded my status as head of the family even for the sake of convenience," he boomed fearlessly.
He can afford to talk big. Mrs. Bogatin, traveling on her half fare, won't get home until next Monday.

Epic Sea Story Brought To Life By Orson Welles

LONDON (U.S.)—Orson Welles brought the epic sea story of Moby Dick to the Duke of York's theater last night in a stage version written by Orson Welles, produced by Orson Welles and with the top roles acted by—that's right.
Its impact left the critics reeling, some in raptures but all at least impressed.
Welles produced the Herman Melville classic as if it were being rehearsed on a bare stage by a 19th century American theater company. He played both the company's manager and Captain Ahab Melville's one-legged whaler skipper.
With no props except a few packing cases and a tangle of fly ropes, Welles set out to create the drama of Ahab's ferocious search for Moby Dick, the fabulous white whale. The climax of the story—Ahab's fatal battle with the whale—was fought out standing on a table set down from the stage among the seats. The whale didn't show.
But Welles himself spewed and roared to such effect that he spluttered a direct hit in the eye of Daily Mirror critic Fergus Cashin sitting seven rows back. Cashin said he forgave the spit because the performance "was a magnificent effort, tremendously exciting and effective."
The News Chronicle critic called the whole thing "outrageous and impossible... But it comes off... It left me breathless with admiration."
The U. N. Food and Agriculture Organization says that the average diet of the world's human beings was inadequate before World War II and that it got worse during the war and still worse after the war.

Operation Money Voted Department

WASHINGTON (U.S.)—The Senate, adding 193 million dollars to the House-approved figure, has voted $1,317,000,000 to operate the Commerce Department during the year starting July 1.
Before passing the measure by voice vote yesterday, the Senate rejected efforts to cut airline and ship construction subsidies back to the amounts voted by the House, and approved other increases recommended by its own Appropriations Committee.
A Senate House conference committee will be named to work out the difficulties.

MRS. CHARLES H. TETENBAUM

Arlene Jacobson, C. Tetenbaum United In Afternoon Wedding

In a beautiful afternoon wedding on June 12 at 4 p. m. in the Temple Israel, Orlando, with Rabbi Schnairson officiating, Miss Arlene Myra Jacobson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Jacobson and Lt. Charles Herman Tetenbaum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Tetenbaum of Orlando were united in holy matrimony.

The Temple was artistically decorated in white gladioli, pom-poms, fern and potted palms. Ed Lord, Orlando, was organist for the event and played the traditional wedding marches and songs.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a traditional white wedding gown of chantilly lace. The neckline was accented with embroidered lace and the short sleeves were soft folds of nylon tulle. The long princess style bodice and skirt were imported chantilly lace over satin. Inset of bouffant nylon tulle with chantilly lace cascading into a cathedral train were placed at intervals on the voluminous skirt. Her tiered veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible topped with a corsage of pink roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Sherwood A. Jacobson, sister-in-law of the bride, and matron of honor, was gowned in a pink cotton tulle ballerina length dress, accented by white lace insets. Around her waist was a pink taffeta sash gathered at the back to form a bustle effect. She wore pink accessories and carried a nosegay interspersed with satin ribbons that cascaded from the stem.

Miss Gabrielle Wachner, Miss Sarah Jacobson, cousin of the bride, Miss Louise Jacobson, cousin of the bride from Winter Haven and Mrs. Nell Wedman, Orlando acted as bridesmaids, all wearing gowns of blue chiffon ballerina length featuring princess waists and pleated chiffon forming rows around the skirt. All wore blue hats and carried pink nosegays.

Oscar Tetenbaum, the groom's brother, acted as best man while groomsmen included Dr. Sherwood A. Jacobson, brother of the bride, Stanley Tetenbaum of the groom's brother, Arthur Greenburg, Orlando and Robert Roth, Orlando. Ushers were Samuel Jacobson, bride's cousin, Nell Wedman, Orlando, Arthur Berk and Tony Roth.

Meg Jessie Jacobson, niece of the bride, and Leslie Beth Tetenbaum, niece of the groom, were the flower girls. Their street-length dresses were of blue chiffon fashioned with tiered lace ruffles. They wore the usual "little girl fashion" of high neckline and a Peter Pan collar. Each carried a basket lined with pink satins and bearing pink rose petals.

Mrs. Jacobson chose for her daughter's wedding, a patio length dress of mauve pink chiffon over taffeta with matching accessories. On her left shoulder was pinned a corsage of bronze baby orchids. The groom's mother was gowned in a blue lace bodiced gown which showed to full effect the chiffon skirt over taffeta. Her accessories were also matching and she wore a white orchid.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremonies in the San Juan Ball Room.

Decorations included bride's flowers in silver vases placed in appropriate spots about the room. Mrs. Bob Roth attended the Bride's Book and Mrs. Herman Jacobson, Mrs. Oscar Tetenbaum and Mrs. Stanley Tetenbaum were floating hostesses.

A buffet dinner was served during the course of events.

For a wedding trip to Miami Mrs. Tetenbaum wore a Navy blue dotted silk dress with a matching navy blue duster. Her accessories were white accented by a blue and white hat. She wore the corsage of rosebuds from her bridal flowers.

Upon returning the young couple will reside at 707 Greenwood Ave., in Orlando.

Out-of-town guests included Dr. and Mrs. S. A. Jacobson, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Tetenbaum, Maryland; Mr. and Mrs. A. Swartz, New York; Mrs. Carl Malman, New Jersey; Mrs. Abe Bennett, New Jersey; Miss Gabrielle Wachner, New York; Charles Goldman, Kentucky; and Morris Bloomberg, Georgia.

The bride is a native of Sanford and graduated from Seminole High School with the class of 1931. She attended Duke University and graduated in June with an A. B. degree in history. She was a member of the Alpha Epsilon Phi, being president this year.

In high school she was active in the Theopians, president of the Latin Club, treasurer of the Florida Speech League, president of the Debate Club, and a member of the Bally Staff. She made her debut in Orlando in 1934 at the Goodwill Ball.

Mr. Tetenbaum received his education in Orlando schools and graduated with a Bachelor of Science in business administration from the University of Florida. He was a member of the Tau Epsilon Phi social fraternity, and the Beta Alpha Pi national honorary accounting society. At present he is a Lieutenant in the Air Force, stationed in Orlando.

Jerrie Cobb, Girl Pilot, Sees World

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Flying is the life for Jerrie Cobb. She's been doing it almost half of her 24 years.

One of the few women who ferry planes over the world for an aircraft delivery service, she has just completed her longest flight. It was an 8,500-mile trip from California to Asuncion, Paraguay, flying a single-engine, eight-passenger plane. This trip involved a hazardous stretch over the Andes Mountains, which required the use of oxygen at times.

Jerrie feels that she is more at home in the air than on the ground and her log book proves it. She has marked up over 4,200 air hours and has flown over a half-million miles. A slender, self-reliant blonde, she can service planes as well as fly them.

Jerrie has no home base. The company office is in Burbank, Calif., and she has clothes in Burbank, Miami and at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cobb in Ponca City.

Working for a Fleetway Aircraft Delivery Corp., she has flown all over the Americas and has made three trips to Europe.

Jerrie laughs at people who describe her as a woman of courage doing dangerous work. She insists she "just flies." But she admits she always tries to figure out in advance what she would do in an emergency. She says: "When something happens, it happens fast and you have to know exactly what to do right then."

At the end of her flight she always dutifully sends a telegram or cablegram to her parents. Her father, a car dealer and former Air Force Colonel, taught her to fly when she was 12. She received her pilot's license at 16.

Morris Swinson of Tampa will serve the prospective groom as best man, and groomsmen will include Robert Brisson and James Cochran of Ft. Myers.

A reception will be held at the home of the bride-elect's parents.

A Tumbling Biddle

Millionaires are not necessarily stuffy. Anthony Joseph Drexel Biddle, who died in 1918, was far from it, as is revealed by "My Philadelphia Father," a biography by his daughter, Mrs. Cordelia Robertson. He was a boxer, a teacher of jujitsu, an actor, an explorer, a Bible teacher with 200,000 pupils, an author and a clubman.

At sixty-seven he taught our Marines the art of rough and tumble fighting. As one of the men remarked who had at first regarded him as a kindly, grandfatherly type, "That old geezer knows more ways to kill you with his bare hands than any man alive."

Once he was dining with a friend in Philadelphia's most expensive hotel. The topic of jujitsu came up, and to illustrate a point, Biddle said, "Stab me with your dinner knife." "What, here?" asked his astonished friend. "Why not?" said Biddle. His friend made a motion with his knife, and the next moment, without knowing how it happened, he found himself flat on his back.

Biddle's money did not fence him from the rough and tumble aspects of life. To say he contributed much to both that rough and tumble would be the kind of description he would heartily approve.

HAL BOYLE

Deaf Stenographers Have Big Vocabularies

NEW YORK (AP)—What really does the most to lower efficiency in the average business office—girl watching or man watching?

Would you get more work done if every white collar man were forced to wear overalls and a halloosen mask on the job?

I raise these questions only because my earlier campaign to put the American working girl in bloomers has fallen flat.

Why the campaign? Well, a survey showed that on an average day American men were wasting 20 million hours of company time doing nothing but daydreaming over the charms of their pretty girl coworkers.

My theory was that if all working girls were compelled to wear the same drab uniform they would become so repulsive nobody would waste time looking at them. The suggested uniform: Black cotton slacks, a black, old-fashioned black bloomers, and a high-necked black dress.

But it looks as if I got off on the wrong blooming foot.

You'd think it would be the office girls who'd raise a howl against being compelled to wear bloomers. Not at all. Many of them were quite attracted to the thought. It was the men who yelled.

Typical complaint from a boss: "Why don't you shut your big mouth, Boyle? It has taken me 20 years to work up to a place where I can have an office of my own and a good-looking secretary. Quit talking like a wife, will you? Let well enough alone."

An office supervisor remarked: "You're putting the cart before the horse, son. There are more women than men in the average office today, and believe me most of them are man-crazy."
"If men are wasting 20 million hours a day just watching them

Historical Hand-Sight

If anyone sweeps over the entire field of history from its beginning to the present day, it is Arnold J. Toynbee, the Englishman who in his six-volume "Study of History" attempted to explain the rise and fall of all the world's great civilizations. Writing in the New York Times Magazine on "What World War II Did—and Didn't—Settle" he stated that the recent war accomplished one goal.

It settled once and for all that the Nazis were not going to conquer the world. Without this war, Toynbee believes they would certainly have done so, by piecemeal gobbling of lesser powers and by military might, coupled with spies and sabotage in the lands of their enemies. That, he says, would have been even worse than the triumph of Communism.

Certainly for the Jews, the Asians, the Africans and the Indians of the two Americas, the race theories of the Nazis would have meant extermination; whereas Communism, with all its horrors, at least has not demonstrated that racial difference is a reason for wholesale destruction. In this respect World War II may be considered as not a total disaster.

Summer Jobs

A syndicated columnist reports that eight out of every ten teen-agers will take summer jobs. Some of them will work a few hours a week in an effort to earn their own spending money. Others will work full-time at rather hard jobs to raise money to help their families or to save toward paying for future education.

This is encouraging. With so much emphasis being placed on the youths who stray, who earn the name "juvenile delinquents," it is reassuring to know that the majority of youngsters want to use their leisure time constructively.

For the teen-agers who are continuing their educations summer employment can be particularly valuable. They learn how necessary it is to carry out responsibilities, to start and finish a task even if it is sometimes difficult or distasteful.

By spending part of the year working in the world and part of the year studying about it youngsters have a chance to examine the advantages of practical as well as academic learning.

Kitchen Work To Become Easier

NEW YORK (AP)—The food industry plans to take still more of the drudgery out of kitchen work. It counts on using the atom to make better food and automation to provide cheaper food.

Americans will spend for food about 65 billion dollars this year—four times as much as before the war. Even allowing for dollar devaluation, that's still twice as much as 15 years ago.

Leaders of The Grocery Manufacturers of America, say these things are in store for us:

Lower prices can be achieved through greater production. They believe new machinery and new methods should boost production by cutting present high costs. The revolution in the kitchen is to continue and may be speeded up in the near future. What the industry calls convenience foods have brought about the revolution. Packaged foods that eliminate the kitchen drudgery by preparing vegetables and fruit and even meats ahead of time are to be increased in number and volume. Since World War II processed foods have increased 45 per cent while population climbed 15 per cent.

Research is going to be the watchword of the industry from now on, in the opinion of GMA's president, Paul S. Willis. He describes some of the projects under consideration now as "breath-taking."

Don't Go Abroad Without Passport

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department "can't let Americans travel abroad or force them to stay home by granting or withholding passports. Any citizen who goes abroad without a passport commits a crime."

This week the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) goes into federal court seeking to force the department to modify its reasons for refusing passports and to let persons denied them have a chance to appeal.

Last year over 400,000 passports were granted. How many applications were turned down? An official of the Passport Division said yesterday he does not know because the division keeps no record on the number of denials.

He said the department can refuse to grant a passport because:

1. An applicant is a Communist or has Communist ties, has a criminal record, is insane or can't pay his way; or
2. The department doesn't think letting a certain individual go abroad is in this country's best interests. This gives the department wide latitude.

The official said: In cases which fall under No. 2 the State Department uses its own discretion. For example: an individual who wants to go to Latin America may, in the department's opinion, have links with revolutionists there. He wouldn't get a passport.

David Carliner, ACLU attorney, says a person may be refused a passport on the grounds that he said something considered disparaging about the United States. He gave an example: One man's passport was held up because he was accused, among other things, of having said when last abroad that this country was full of capitalists who exploited labor. He finally got it.

What appeal does an individual have—and what chance to face his accusers and refute them—if he is refused a passport? The passport official said everyone is told why he can't get a passport. Carliner says only some are told.

The State Department has an appeals board before which an individual, refused a passport, can plead his case. But the passport official said only people with criminal records or those accused of Communist connections have a right to appeal to the board.

What of all the others who are not criminals and are not Communists? The official said they have no appeal but can, if they want, get a hearing before people in the Passport Division. They are not told who their accusers are. Carliner says this is not a hearing but only an interview.

Carliner will present two test cases in federal court. In one he will ask a federal judge to force the State Department to give any person refused a passport a full evidence in his own behalf, hear represented by counsel, and face all the evidence against him, or his accusers.

In the other case Carliner will challenge the right of the State Department to withhold a passport, with or without a hearing, because a man participated in politics abroad.

Eisenhower Asks Four-Star Rank For Gen. Ridgway

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower yesterday asked the Senate to approve permanent four-star rank for Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, effective when Ridgway retires June 30 as Army chief of staff.

Ridgway has had the temporary rank of full general during his term in the top Army post, but his permanent rank is major general.

He would thus be jumped two stars in retirement status.

The higher rank will have no effect on Ridgway's retirement pay. The retirement pay of a full general and a major general are the same—$9,687 a year in the case of an officer of Ridgway's length of service.

Gen. Maxwell Taylor has been named to succeed Ridgway as Army chief of staff.

Friendship Drive Started By Soviets Centers On Greece

ATHENS (AP)—Greece is the latest target of the Kremlin's new friendship campaign. The Russians say they would like to see an improvement in Athens' relations with both Moscow and Soviet satellite states.

This was disclosed recently by Foreign Minister Stephanos Stephanopoulos following a dinner he attended at the Soviet embassy. Stephanopoulos told newsmen he had exchanged views with Russian Ambassador Mikhail G. Sevrev and other envoys on the improvement of Greek-Soviet relations.

Dinner guests also discussed the normalization of Greece's relations with the satellite states, he added. Athens has accused her neighboring Communist states of aiding Red guerrillas who attempted to seize power in Greece following World War II. The rebellion was finally quelled in 1949.

Mother, Daughter Killed By Blast

FERNANDO BEACH (AP)—A cooking-gas explosion at a Yulee motor court Sunday night fatally injured a young mother and her 2-year-old daughter.

The dead are Mrs. Jannett Evans White, 26, and Eloise White, Cecil White, two months old, is in "fair" condition at Nassau General Hospital as a result of the blast. Authorities are trying to reach the woman's husband, Henry H. White, who sailed from Fernandina Beach last week as a crewman aboard a private yacht bound for Boston.

Nassau Deputy Sheriff George W. Courson said the Whites were permanent residents of the motor court. He said the small building was demolished.

SYNOPSIS

A quarrel with his girl, Christie, and the loss of his job at the Broken Spur ranch into a town of a spree that had lasted for days, and brought him back to the ranch minus funds and in debt. To face the music, he turned to his father, who denounces him roundly as a fool, pointing out to him that the party little water girl, Lita Dawson, with whom he, Kerry, had been romancing in "posh" style, is to be done with all this. Kerry decides to marry Christie, but she, who will be called on her to find her way to a new home, one Wave Cameron, an ex-convict who has been in the community a week-end dance.

CHAPTER FOUR

THE CONVERSATION among the three drifted into small talk. Cameron showed no intention of leaving. It seems increasingly clear to Kerry that he wasn't going to see Christie alone, and he was sure for any more of the Diamond man's company. No more well, had dropped in as he was going. I'd better be getting along. He said he would urge him to stay, they came to nothing. Cameron rose and held out his hand, and good manners dragged out of Kerry. "Glad to've made your acquaintance, Cameron. Hope we'll meet again sometime."

"I expect we will, before long. You'll be at the dance in Roundtown Saturday night, won't you? Christie promised to go with me and help me meet some more of my neighbors."

"Is that another case of making your own luck?"

As he rode away, Kerry was not with misery and resentment. Somehow, this hit him harder than anything. Never in the last three years had Christie attended a dance with anyone but him. He told himself she was trying to show him he wasn't the only fish in the ocean—but he knew that!

Well, if she thought he was going to go to the dance alone, and mother after her like a motherless calf, he had another guess coming! If she was out to show her independence—well, that was a game two could play! He touched impatient spurs to his horse's sides, and reined him in the direction of the Forks.

The Forks was a little cluster of plowed fields, each with its shack—the usual first timid encroachment of the farmer on the edge of the cattlemen's domain. Kerry was a cowboy enough to have no particular affection for nesters as such, though he didn't favor pushing them off their patches of land by force. There'd been none of that kind of violence in Mesacero county as yet. The smaller ranchers weren't apt to do anything drastic unless Broken Spur or Blash T took the lead, and the Tolands were all for law and order, while Lita wasn't concerned as long as the nesters stayed clear of his range.

The Dawson shack lay at the outskirts of the little settlement, huddling down into the cottonwoods as though it were ashamed of itself, as it had reason to be. Though it had been standing less than a year, the unpainted boards had already begun to warp, and looked as though one good shove would topple them into a heap like so many loosely piled matchsticks. And the ground around it, where it had been half-a-acre of dirt scratched with a plow, was cracking and powdering into dust that showed no signs of ever bearing a crop.

As Kerry rode up to the shack, he had an uneasy feeling of eyes watching him from behind the cottonwoods. He was sure he heard a stick crack as he set a foot on the bottom step, but he shrugged his uneasiness aside by telling himself that Lita had probably chased her father, Cory, out of the house when she heard him ride up. She wasn't keen on having the old coot underfoot when she had company.

His rap on the door brought a call of "Come in," in a warm, husky, lazy voice, and he stepped from brightness into shadow. The one window of Lita's combined bedroom and living room admitted hardly enough light to show the dirt on the floor and the few sticks of rickety furniture, or to reveal how long it had been since the place had last been swept. But no man would have been apt to notice that, with Lita Dawson right before his eyes.

"Hello, Kerry." She gave him her slow, welcoming smile. "You'll have to excuse the looks of the place. I haven't got round to fixing it up today."

Kerry laughed and put out an arm to pull her to him. She was a full-bodied girl, with curves in all the right places, and fresh though she was soft but firm, like a ripe peach.

"Glad to see me, sugar?" he smiled down at her.

"Course I am. Though I reckon I hadn't ought to tell you so, the way you been neglectin' me lately. I don't think you like me any more." She turned her eyes up to him, brown and liquid, with the special, shining way she had of looking at a man. Lita was all woman, Kerry thought; she took a man the way she found him, not always wanting to make him over, like some people. Then, as her lips parted wide in invitation, he abruptly stopped thinking about anyone else.

"Well," he raised his lips from hers, "still think I don't like you."

"I reckon you do, honey lamb. And I reckon I like you—I just can't help it. You sure are a sweet boy, Kerry."

"Sweet yourself," Kerry pressed his face against the loose softness of her brown hair.

"No wonder all the girls are after you. But you like me better'n any other girl?"

If a memory of steel-blue eyes and hair like a silver-gilt crown rose to trouble Kerry's contentment, he shut it out of his mind.

Post War Period Mellows Pappy

LOS ANGELES (AP)—He was a fighting hero as a Marine ace of aces before being shot down and imprisoned, but the post war period has mellowed Gregory Pappy Boyington.

It has been four years since Boyington's name made headlines. He has now joined the do-it-yourself home fixing brigade and says he'll leave flying to the younger generation.

In particular he hopes his strapping son will be in the first class at the new Air Force Academy. Young Gregory, 20, automatically gets an appointment to a service school since his father wears the Medal of Honor.

Boyington, now 42, says he hasn't done any flying to speak of in recent years. He's a salesman for a brewery and until recently a part-time wrestling referee.

As commanding officer of the Marines' Black Sheep Squadron, Boyington wrote a fiery chapter in aerial combat over the Solomon Islands. The barrel-chested flier had quit the Marines once to go with the Flying Tigers and then returned to the service after the Tigers disbanded.

His squadron was formed of replacements and extras from other units, hence the Black Sheep title. But Boyington, known as Pappy since at 21 he was an elder flier, molded the group into one of the war's most effective units.

Boyington loved a fight and a party. In three months he knocked 19 Japanese planes out of the skies. He'd curse the enemy, daring him into combat and taking on all comers. Then on Jan. 3, 1944, after shooting down his 24th Japanese plane, Boyington was hit. Severely wounded, he managed to parachute before his plane hit the water. A Jap submarine picked him up and his fighting was over.

Twenty months later he was freed from a prison camp and returned home to receive the Navy Cross and the nation's highest award, the Medal of Honor. He also was promoted from major to lieutenant colonel.

Retired because of battle wounds, Boyington had a tough time settling down. His marriage to the former actress Frances Baker after he filled another woman was widely publicized; two traffic accidents cost him heavily; and he was arrested a couple of times for over imbibing.

Boyington says he missed flying right after the war but "as time went on and interest in my job increased I didn't miss it so much."

He tried his hand at refereeing, since he'd been a college wrestler. "I could spend about three evenings a week at it, have a booby, get exercise, fun and pick up some dough. This arena began closing and they'd chase you from San Diego to Bakersfield for jobs and there wasn't much money so I quit."

He became a do-it-yourself enthusiast and says:

"I've owned two homes since the war and I've fixed them both up, even added rooms. I'm getting a kick out of that. Might even become a contractor after I get the kids through school."

In addition to his son, Boyington has two daughters. He and his first wife were divorced in 1941 and he gained custody of the children.

Palm Reader Is Sought By Police In $14,500 Fraud

FORT LAUDERDALE (AP)—Police were looking today for a palm reader who swindled an Indiana widow out of $14,450 on a promise to cure her mother of an illness.

Thomas P. Tompkins Jr., assistant county solicitor, said the name of the victim was being withheld because others might have been duped and if we can prevent embarrassment of the victims we might get additional evidence of these frauds.

The Indiana woman visited the palm reader, identified only as Madame Lena, and mentioned during the reading that her mother was ill.

Madame Lena told her to wrap the money in a package and her mother would be cured by throwing the package in the ocean because "money is evil and to throw the money in the ocean would cast out the evil sickness."

Before driving the victim to a bridge officer said Madame Lena switched packages, keeping the money and tossing a dummy bundle in the sea.

Her husband, George Johnson, 33, was arrested and $8,000 of the cash was recovered from him. He was charged with grand larceny. Madame Lena and the rest of the money are still missing.

Commission Can't Put Up Reward, Ervin Declares

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Atty. Gen. Richard W. Ervin ruled yesterday the Palm Beach County Commission couldn't legally post a $5,000 reward for information on the whereabouts of Circuit Judge C. E. Chillingworth and his wife.

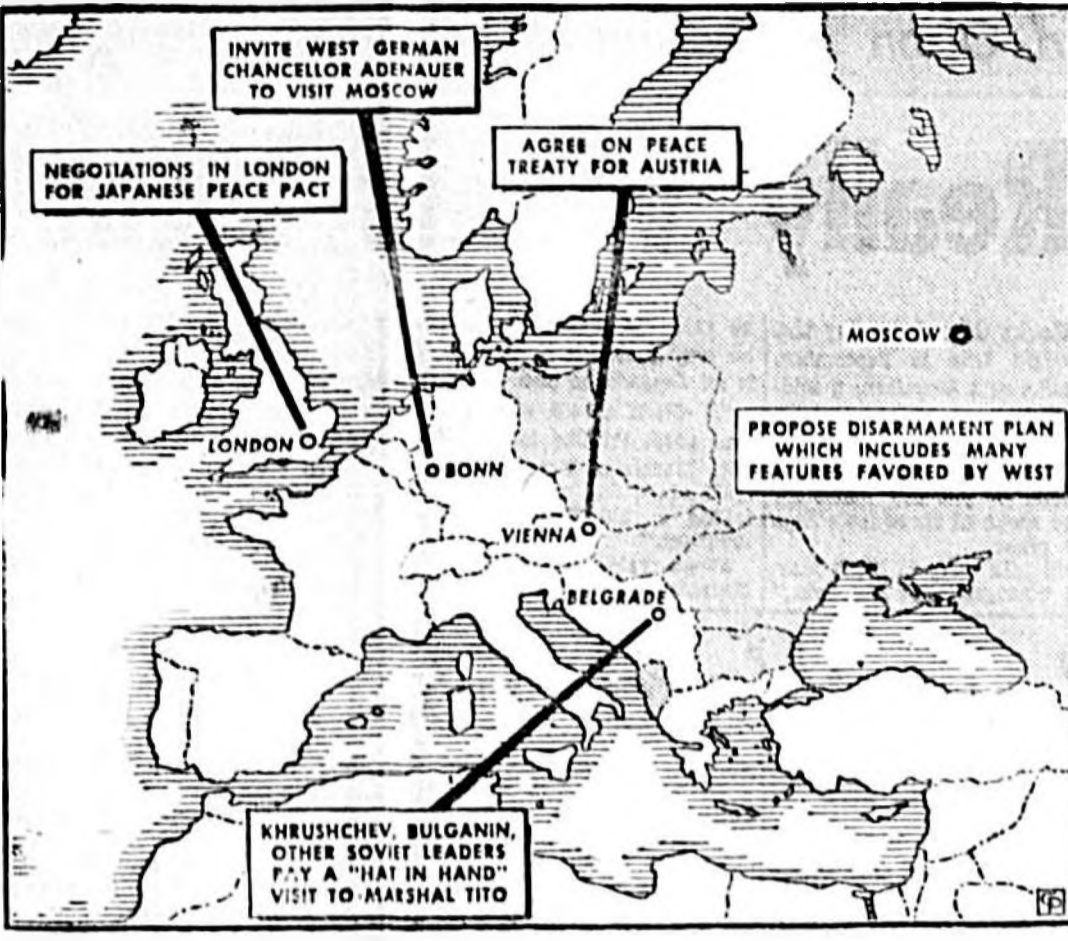

But Ervin suggested that the sheriff of Palm Beach County could post the reward and pay it out of the receipts of his office.

The ruling went to State Auditor Bryan Willis, who made the request for the Palm Beach County Commission.

The attorney general said he found nothing in the Florida laws expressly authorizing county commissioners to pay rewards for apprehension and conviction of persons charged with a crime.

A substantial amount of reward money has been put up for information on the missing jurist and his wife, who disappeared from their beach home at West Palm Beach a week ago. The Palm Beach Commission offered to put up $5,000 if such action would be legal.

In another opinion to Merion County Atty. Virgil L. Milbrath, Ervin held that the Merion County Commission could not legally pay the holder of an agricultural scholarship the full amount of the costs of a four-year scholarship if he graduated in three years. The scholarship amounts to $600 a year.

Communist China Makes New Bid For Seat In UN

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China made a new open bid yesterday for a seat in the United Nations. The bid came in a Peiping radio broadcast which quoted excerpts from an editorial in the Peiping People's Daily, organ of the Red Chinese government.

"The San Francisco meeting should be able to make contribution to carry forward the cause of the U. N. and achieve the objectives laid down in its charter," it said. "The U. N. should translate into reality international cooperation and peace among countries of different social and political systems. This should serve as a guide in its practice. "The People's Republic of China, which truly represents the 600 million Chinese people, has been deprived of its legitimate status and rights in the U. N."

There were 663,000 babies born in France in 1949 compared to 631,000 in 1936 and 612,000 in 1921. Depending on how and the amount of milk she is producing, a cow will drink from 10 to 20 gallons of water a day.

Daytona Defeats Orlando

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Making errors, and a lot of them, is a good way to lose a baseball game. That lesson was impressed last night upon leading Orlando, Lakeland and last-place St. Petersburg of the Florida State League.

The Daytona Beach Islanders took advantage of three mistakes, combined with 11 hits, to whip Orlando 8-5; Gainesville profited from seven Lakeland sins to win 11-3; and St. Petersburg had eight fumbles, three of them in the decisive ninth, as Cocoa won 9-8.

A meeting between Sanford and West Palm Beach was rained out.

The Islanders scored clusters of four runs in the fourth and fifth innings, only three of which were earned. Bob Tommy, who went in during a fifth inning Orlando rally, took credit for the victory. Howie Tresp, trying for his 10th triumph, took his 7th loss as 578 homefolk looked on.

Only two Gainesville runs were earned. The G-Men, however, pounded two Lakeland pitchers for 13 hits, Ronald Bloodworth, 18-year-old righthander, spaced out seven to Lakeland. The attendance at Gainesville was 748.

An estimated 350 at St. Petersburg saw the Saints get 10 hits and lead 6-3 going into the eighth, only to lose away the game. Cocoa's hitting star was Jim Miller who had a triple and two singles.

Open Golf Champ Likely To Come From Foursome

PORT LAUDERDALE (AP)—The 1955 Florida Open Golf Championship may come from the foursome of Don Bisplinghoff, Jim McCoy, Skip Alexander or W. A. (Dub) Pagan.

Observers figure one of these may be low man in the 72-hole tournament starting Thursday at the Plantation Golf Club where par is 72.

Bisplinghoff, the 20-year-old Orlando better, is a tournament-toughened amateur who has the confidence and experience to match many professionals. He won the Florida Amateur here two months ago and since then has played well in England and France.

McCoy of Lake Worth is defending champion. He turned back the best the state had to offer last year and has his game at its peak again.

Alexander, the St. Petersburg pro, is one of the longest hitters in the field of 200 and they say it will take a long knocker to win the title on this layout.

The other 196 pros and amateurs include 21 scratch players who make this one of the best the open ever had.

Moore Owns It And Olson Is Seeking It Tomorrow Night, But—

Nobody Really Wants Light Heavyweight Crown

BY JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP)— Anybody want a slightly used light heavyweight crown? Archie Moore owns it and middleweight champion Bobo Olson is challenging for it tomorrow night. But nobody really wants it. Ancient Archie, spry at 38, wants to fight Rocky Marciano for the heavyweight title in September. Olson talks of 1 Marciano, 2 middleweights.

Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, tossed a little wood on the fire yesterday when he spoke of Marciano's September plans.

"I will talk with Al Weill Marciano's manager after the fight," he said. "A Moore match would be very desirable if he wins. But it all depends on how he wins it."

"If Olson should win and look real good, I'd like to match him with Marciano. I never talked to Weill about that match but I have talked to Sid Flaherty Olson's manager."

Moore eats, drinks and sleeps Marciano as he goes through his final training for his 15-round defense against Olson at the Polo Grounds. He carried on a winter long campaign to convince fans and sports writers that he deserved the shot. When Don Cockell was given the chance, Archie picked up a little change beating Nino Valdes, the No. 1 heavy contender, and signed for Olson. But Rocky is what he wants.

Flaherty has told the press at the Asbury Park, N. J., training camp that Balding Bobo will risk his middleweight title against the winner of the July 15 San Francisco and Rocky Castellani. He ignores a match between Ray Robinson the possibility that his 160-pound title will be declared vacated if he beats Moore under New York and National Boxing Assn. rules. The odds favoring Moore lengthened to 2-1 yesterday when it was generally accepted that he was down to, weight at about 175 pounds.

'Confused' Is Word For National Race

BY ED WILKS
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Manager Leo Durocher may have diagnosed the whole National League pennant race when he explained why he benched Willie Mays, the darling of the New York Giants a year ago.

"Confused," is the way Leo pegged Willie's trouble. And if that doesn't describe the way the National League is behaving, it'll do until something better comes along.

This was supposed to be one of those "dream" races, with everybody getting into the act. Trouble is, the Brooklyn Dodgers rocketed away out front and have shown no signs of faltering while the other seven clubs grope around looking for a way out.

It is a pretty dandy race at that, if you exclude the Dodgers—who are 11 games out front with a 46-16 record. The second-place Cubs are just 2½ games up on Milwaukee. The Giants are another two games back and two games ahead of fifth place Cincinnati. Philadelphia and St. Louis are a virtual tie for sixth another game back. Only Pittsburgh, 25 games behind the Dodgers, is solidly in the cellar.

Milwaukee moved up on the Cubs as Gene Conley won his ninth decision last night, 2-1 over Pittsburgh. Cincinnati, meanwhile, made it five straight defeats for the Mays-less Giants 5-3, and St. Louis topped Philadelphia 4-1 with Rookie Luis Arroyo winning his eighth.

Singapore Is Trouble Spot

SINGAPORE (AP)—Malaya's Communists are driving hard to upset law and order in this rich British crown colony.

Strikes are spreading. Rioting is being fomented. Communist-inspired Chinese high school students are openly defying the police.

Businessmen in this great Far Eastern port city—one of the world's busiest—face the future with undisguised fear and skepticism.

The 17,000 whites on Singapore Island are beginning to fear for their lives.

A storm of protest is rising swiftly against the new Labor Front government headed by David Marshall, a Singapore attorney, Civil organizations and individuals are demanding that industrial unrest and lawbreaking be curbed lest this rubber and tin metropolis become "a lawless city."

Sparkling the threatened violence is the most intensive subversive campaign the Red Chinese underground has waged on the island colony since it unleashed guerrilla warfare in the jungles upcountry in the spring of 1948. The Communists apparently feel that Marshall's "go easy" policy leaves the door wide open to a determined effort against law and order.

On the Malayan mainland, the Communists have slackened direct armed attacks on villages, towns, highway convoys and communications. But in Singapore they appear set upon getting the upper hand by wide and subversive tactics. They are infiltration labor unions and student groups.

About 7,000 of the 80,000 students in private Chinese high schools form the hard core of resistance to the government. They lead the open defiance of police orders, march in picket lines, urge strikers to fight on until their demands are met. When the government threatened to expel ringleaders and close three of their schools, the students threatened "serious trouble" and the authorities backed down.

Police finally did arrest 137 pickets for obstructing traffic. But big gatherings of students and strikers still go on.

The students say they want no interference with the Red Chinese doctrines, they are being taught in many of their classes. They have forced teachers to quit when they tried to teach courses prescribed by the government. They have staged "sit-in" strikes or refused to attend classes.

The government, which pays for part of the instruction, feels English and principles of democracy must be taught. But Marshall and his ministers haven't found a way to see that it is.

U. S. Officials Watching Border For 3 Turncoats

TOKYO, (AP)—American consular officials at Hong Kong were reported today keeping a border watch for three former American soldiers who have grown weary of life in Communist China.

Peking radio said Saturday the three Americans — only two of whom want to come home — and two Belgians had been given permission to leave China. The broadcast gave no time or place for their departure. It said merely they would leave when "all necessary arrangements" have been completed.

Hong Kong is the usual point of exit for Westerners leaving Red China. The American consulate there kept a three-hour watch yesterday. Hong Kong dispatches said a similar watch would be kept for a "few more days, if necessary."

The three Americans are William A. Cowart, of Dalton, Ga.; Otto G. Bell, of Olympia, Wash.; and Lewis W. Griggs, of Jacksonville, Tex., both of whom want to go to the United States.

U. S. fire losses in 1954 were $370,084,000 compared to $203,400,000 in 1953 and $784,935,000 in 1952, says the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Maureen O'Hara Denies Charges

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Maureen O'Hara has flatly denied her former husband's accusation that she has been "openly living and consorting" with a wealthy Mexico City businessman.

And, through her attorney, she added a few charges of her own. The charges against the red-haired actress were made yesterday when William H. Price, New York City producer, filed a Superior Court affidavit in which he sought full custody of their 11-year-old daughter Bronwyn Bridget.

Price said he "was informed and believes" his former wife went to Mexico City in 1953 and 1954 to see one Enrico Parra, described as a married man with two grown daughters.

Price and Miss O'Hara were divorced in 1953. Price asked that the court hold the Irish-born beauty in contempt for violating the conditions under which she obtained custody of the girl and that the child be turned over to him. He said he had been denied visitation rights granted at the divorce.

Through her attorney, Miss O'Hara denied the charges of misconduct and said that Bronwyn had visited with Price within the past year and that Price "proceeded to get drunk and take the child on a wild automobile ride in which he had an accident."

Miss O'Hara's attorney William A. Duce said that Price was informed last week that he could visit the child at the private school she attends. But when he called there the child refused to see him, Duce said.

Duce said that his client is a "good friend" of Parra but that he is not living in her house and never has. Price had charged that Parra has been living with the actress in her home and that he has been "seen there at all hours of the day and night."

Ike Set To Sign Tariff Bill Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today arranged to sign into law the bill giving him the new tariff-cutting power he asked—one of the top measures of his 1955 legislative program.

The bill extends the 21-year old reciprocal trade agreements law for three years, to June 30, 1958, and permits the President to cut tariffs up to 5 per cent in each of those years in negotiating for similar concessions from other countries.

It is the first new grant of power to reduce import duties since 1943, and also is the longest extension of the law in a decade.

In its basic essentials, the bill contains the authority which Eisenhower originally asked last year. However, when his proposals ran into resistance in the Republican-controlled Congress, he sent word he would settle then for a simple one-year extension without new powers to cut tariffs. That is what Congress voted last year.

A lengthy fight preceded passage of the bill this year, with Democrats providing the President more support than did members of his own party on some key votes.

The provisions which the President asked were voted substantially intact, although the Senate House accepted the changes.

Eisenhower told Congress in asking for the bill that broadened world trade is essential to build up the economic strength of the free world. Opponents argued that some segments of American industry already have been seriously damaged by cheap imports.

The State Department is expected to begin at once to plan for an international conference at which 30-odd nations will negotiate new agreements leveling tariffs reductions or other concessions. The United States must use up the first 5 per cent reduction authority in the year starting July 1, or it will lapse. The same is true in each of the two succeeding years.

In addition, the measure permits the President to reduce to 50 per cent of value all tariffs now above that figure.

BEE CAUSE JAM
LONG BRANCH, N. J. (AP) — Thousands of bees swarmed over Mrs. George Richter's car, parked on Broadway yesterday. Nobody knew where they came from. Traffic jammed. Crowds gathered. Mrs. Richter, afraid to move the car, got a summons for overtime parking. Finally, her impatience conquering her fear, she drove away. What happened to the bees? "They just flew off," she said.

In 1954, the natural increase in population of the United States was 2,600,000 and the total increase, including immigration, was 2,850,000.

DeLand Or Miami May Get Franchise

DeLand or Miami may take the Florida State League franchise off the hands of the Sanford baseball organization, it appeared today.
A spokesman for the organization said DeLand "has about $23,000 or $24,000" in its baseball fund and "if it doesn't get a franchise now, it may not get one next year."
Miami has been bidding furiously for a franchise, but has not had any luck in getting one. The door may be open now.
Foreshadowing the fold-up of the local organization was the low attendance at last night's home game. Only 347 fans turned out and gate receipts totaled $168.55. The gloom was evident.

The situation will be discussed by members of the organization at a meeting which will probably follow tonight's game. Unless a miracle happens, June 30 will see the end of the Sanford Cardinals.
Just what help might be forthcoming from the St. Louis Cardinals was not known today, and the organization continued efforts to contact George Silvey, Cardinal farm director for Class D baseball.
"We've had a telephone call in for Silvey since Monday," the spokesman reported, "but we've had no luck in reaching him."
Silvey is in Johnson City, Tenn.
DeLand, which has played in the league up until this year, was viewed as the logical site to take over the franchise. "They can't lose much this year," the spokesman declared.

The spokesman attributed the dismal attendance this season to the poor standing of the Sanford club and charged that the St. Louis Cardinals didn't come through with a first division team as they promised they would.
"Instead of being in the first division, the club has been next to last place most of the time," he declared.
League president John Kryder told The Herald today that he hadn't been officially notified by the Sanford club that it planned to quit nor had he been invited to meet with club officials.

"The first I knew about it was when I read it in the Herald yesterday," Kryder said.
He said he didn't think Miami was interested in the club, and he also ruled out to a large extent the possibility of DeLand taking over the franchise.
"If DeLand was interested in it," he declared, "they wouldn't have let it go in the first place, would they?"
Before letting the club be taken out of town, Kryder said the league would explore the chance of another local organization seizing the reins. He seemed to think there was a good possibility of this happening.
If Sanford pulls out, the league will have to be reduced to six clubs, Kryder said. Just which other club would be taken out of play was not known.

City Council Minutes Provide Interesting Glimpse Of Past Sanford Had Troubles In Old Days, Too

By CLAUDE ROSE
Herald Feature Writer

Some interesting, and often amusing, incidents in Sanford history are contained in several old books of City Council minutes now in the possession of Police Chief Roy Williams.

The minutes, which cover the latter part of the 1800's are written in long hand and are very well preserved. Chief Williams has them on file in his office at Police Headquarters.

In contrast to the city's present-day financial status, it is recorded that as of January 1, 1889, the city had a bank balance of $3,063.28. In addition, the city was indebted to the First National Bank for $2,600.

City officials apparently considered their pay adequate even though an ordinance presented on November 14, 1881 called for a salary of $100 per annum for the mayor, and the city inspector drew the magnificent sum of forty dollars a month. Incidentally, the inspector had to act as sanitary inspector, street commissioner and a member of the police force.

The recent annexation problem is by no means the first time the question has come up locally. In 1889, the City Council received a petition from several citizens of the East Georgetown area which opposed the annexation of their section. It said in part: "We are wage earners and find our income barely sufficient to meet our daily expenses. No real advantages would come to us from such annexation, but additional expenses and harm would result. We therefore respectfully request that you discontinue the petition as largely unauthorized and against the positive wish of the citizens."

(Signatures of petitioners.)

During the fall of 1879 the council may have gotten the inkling that Florida was a future tourist attraction. At any rate, they began a series of improvements to make the city more attractive.

First of all, they drew up an ordinance prohibiting dogs from running at large within the town limits. This proved to be a wise move, no doubt, in the light of the rising price of pork.
It is possible that the mayor's wife was splattered with mud while shopping on First Street that fall, too, because the council decided to put sidewalks along both sides from Palmetto (to where the minutes do not elaborate.) The walks were to be "planked with 1 inch plank, six feet wide, laid crossways on 3 stringers of 3x4 scantling."

A few years later, in 1884, the city council decided to beautify Sanford even more. Only this time, they let the property owners do the work. — and pay for it, too! It was required that everyone who owned property within the city limits must plant shade trees in the front and on the sides of their lots.

Governor Studies Flogging

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Gov. Collins says he is determined to get the real facts and see that justice is done in the case of a Live Oak Negro tobacco farmer who reported he was flogged by a band of white men.
The governor said neither he nor Sheriff Hugh Lewis of Suwanee County were satisfied with the investigation so far and that further inquiry would be made.
Lewis conferred with Collins yesterday and left with him a written report of his findings. Later the governor said he had received assurance from State Atty. William Randolph Slaughter that he would aid.
Lewis said Richard Cooks, 35, father of nine children, reported he was flogged the night of June 1 by a group of white men who came to his house on the pretense of arguing to identify the voices of any of the men.
Collins said Lewis told him Cooks was of the opinion the men who beat him were "farmers who were dissatisfied with his work." There is a tight labor situation in that North Florida farming area at this time.
Cooks reported to the Sheriff that the men called at his house, put a sack over his head and drove him to a spot believed to be the back of the Suwanee River where they flogged him.
"I have asked Lewis to confer with the state attorney and he expects the two of them to make a more exhaustive investigation and a more complete report," Collins said.

EXPULSED by the Communist government in 1918, Simeon H. Bulgarin King-in-exile, reads a proclamation at a reception in Madrid on the occasion of his coming of age. The proclamation, addressed to the Bulgarian people, pointed out that Simeon never abdicated and that he still maintains rights to the throne. (International)

Court Battles Feature Strike

PLANT CITY (AP)—Legal battles over court injunctions began developing today in the phosphate strike which was beset with an air of uneasiness.
Three anonymous calls were made to the Lakeland Ledger yesterday and the caller threatened to blast the Seaboard Air Line Railroad if it moved any phosphate from strikebound plants.
Officials of the International Chemical Workers Union (AFL) said they believed the calls were made by a crank and offered their assistance in tracking them down.
A third court injunction went into effect yesterday, dissolving the picket lines at Coronet phosphate plant here. Walter L. Mitchell of Atlanta, international vice president of the union, called the pickets off the gates but said the union would go to court over the injunction.
Mitchell also said attorneys are preparing legal fights against an other injunction which restrains union members from interfering with movement of Seaboard trains into the Coronet plant.
Mitchell said the chemical workers and railroad brotherhoods would attack this injunction because it has the effect of ordering railroad workers to cross picket lines.
In another development, Solicitor Paul B. Johnson of Hillsborough County questioned seven strikers at Coronet who took part in the violence Tuesday when one striker was shot in the leg and a deputy beaten over the head.

Grand Jury Opens Two-Day Session

The Seminole Circuit Court grand jury opened a two-day session today. State's Attorney Murray Overstreet is assisting the jury.
The jury will consider such cases as that of William O. McKendree, Paola, charged with murder in the shooting of R. Keith Cochran, Jacksonville, at Annetta's Bar and Grill, June 4. W. Ernest Betts was named foreman of the jury and B. E. Aiken Jr. was appointed assistant foreman. Others members are: George Hannas, D. C. Howard, Allen T. Ball, Hugh Braddy, H. L. Duhart, C. G. Hart, A. B. Coplin, Richard H. Ivers, Taylor Rountree, Harry H. Blodsworth, Joe T. Baggerly, Anthony P. Marcenelle, Roger Crocker, Carl A. moses, Raymond Williams and Clarence Henderson.

Body Stuffed In Car Trunk

EAST ST. LOUIS, ILL.—Police found the body of J. Fred Koenig, convicted black marketeer and onetime St. Louis politician, stuffed in the trunk of his new Cadillac yesterday.
He apparently had been slain elsewhere and then jammed into the trunk.
Koenig's slaying followed by little more than a month the May 17 shooting here in which the cars of Birney T. (Chick) Haver, Jr. and Kenneth Mueller were riddled with bullets. Mueller was wounded in the shooting.
Haver and Mueller, friends of Koenig, 65, were former associates of Frank Buster Wortman, an ex-convict and reputed boss of the racket in the area.
Koenig was shot in the head and

Deputy Sentenced In Assault Case

DELAND (AP)—Former Deputy Sheriff Jack Safir was sentenced today to pay a fine of $100 or serve 30 days in jail for striking a woman prisoner in her jail cell.
County Judge Thomas N. Tawny also imposed a suspended three-month jail term contingent on "your future good behavior."
Safir was convicted of an assault on Mrs. Eva Gregors, 42, of Deland, when she was a prisoner in the county jail May 28. She testified he entered her cell and "slugged me four or five times." She was hospitalized briefly.
Safir resigned as a deputy after the Volusia County Commission began an inquiry into the beating. His findings were turned over to State Atty. Murray Sams.

League All-Stars To Be Selected

SANFORD (AP)—Sports writers and broadcasters will pick the Florida State League all-star team by July 1.
John Kryder, league president, yesterday asked the writers and broadcasters in league cities to cast their ballots by that date for four pitchers and two players at each other position.
The team will meet the leading Orlando Flyers at Orlando July 14.

Judge And Wife Still Believed Kidnap Victims

WEST PALM BEACH (AP)—News reports reached $118,500 today but authorities apparently were no nearer a solution of the Chillingworth mystery than they were when the prominent Circuit judge and his wife disappeared nine days ago.
The Vanguard Club, a Negro organization, added $500 to the reward money yesterday after the Broward County Bar Assn. put up $5,000. The State Cabinet previously put up $50,000; the family from organizations and individuals.
So far as could be determined, it was the largest sum ever offered for two missing persons.
When Joseph F. Crater, a Justice of the Supreme Court in New York vanished on Aug. 6, 1931, a reward of $10,000 was offered for his return.
Authorities still lean on the theory that the couple may have been kidnaped, basing the opinion on the finding of two partly used rolls of adhesive tape. They believe it may have been used to bind and gag Judge C. E. Chillingworth, 58, and his wife, Marjorie, 37.
Sheriff John Kirk said investigators are still working on a clue the nature of which he declined to divulge—which could lead to identification of possible kidnapers.
Kirk said last night that bloodstains found at the scene were of the same type "A" as Mrs. Chillingworth's. A record of her blood type was obtained from among those who had donated blood to the armed forces during the Korean War.

Specialists Vote For Continuance Of Polio Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—A panel of medical experts voted 8-2 today to continue the present program of inoculating youngsters with the Salk polio vaccine.

Judge And Wife Still Believed Kidnap Victims

WEST PALM BEACH (AP)—News reports reached $118,500 today but authorities apparently were no nearer a solution of the Chillingworth mystery than they were when the prominent Circuit judge and his wife disappeared nine days ago.
The Vanguard Club, a Negro organization, added $500 to the reward money yesterday after the Broward County Bar Assn. put up $5,000. The State Cabinet previously put up $50,000; the family from organizations and individuals.
So far as could be determined, it was the largest sum ever offered for two missing persons.
When Joseph F. Crater, a Justice of the Supreme Court in New York vanished on Aug. 6, 1931, a reward of $10,000 was offered for his return.
Authorities still lean on the theory that the couple may have been kidnaped, basing the opinion on the finding of two partly used rolls of adhesive tape. They believe it may have been used to bind and gag Judge C. E. Chillingworth, 58, and his wife, Marjorie, 37.
Sheriff John Kirk said investigators are still working on a clue the nature of which he declined to divulge—which could lead to identification of possible kidnapers.
Kirk said last night that bloodstains found at the scene were of the same type "A" as Mrs. Chillingworth's. A record of her blood type was obtained from among those who had donated blood to the armed forces during the Korean War.

Holiday Inn Lost In Morning Fire

A fire this morning completely destroyed the Holiday Inn located on Highway 17-92.
It apparently started in the kitchen and made headway through most of the building when it was discovered by a motorist going to Sanford. The motorist had to awaken three families before a phone could be reached to call the Longwood Fire Dept.
Longwood's Dept. responded and pumped from the nearby lake, but due to the headway the fire had made they were unable to save the building. Albemarle Springs and Casselberry Fire Depts. also assisted as did the Florida Forest Ranger.

Deputy Sentenced In Assault Case

DELAND (AP)—Former Deputy Sheriff Jack Safir was sentenced today to pay a fine of $100 or serve 30 days in jail for striking a woman prisoner in her jail cell.
County Judge Thomas N. Tawny also imposed a suspended three-month jail term contingent on "your future good behavior."
Safir was convicted of an assault on Mrs. Eva Gregors, 42, of Deland, when she was a prisoner in the county jail May 28. She testified he entered her cell and "slugged me four or five times." She was hospitalized briefly.
Safir resigned as a deputy after the Volusia County Commission began an inquiry into the beating. His findings were turned over to State Atty. Murray Sams.

Tennessee Governor Speaks Jaycees Request Full Senate Probe Of Sports Crime

ATLANTA (AP)—74 Delegates to the 25th annual convention of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce today called for a full Senate investigation of crime in sports.
With no voiced opposition, the Jaycees approved a resolution deploring the activities of professional fixers and gamblers.
The action was taken shortly after the delegates heard Tennessee Gov. Frank Clement urge increased participation in politics by young men.
Jaycees also approved resolutions which:
Endorsed an active military reserve of 2,500,000 as proposed by President Eisenhower, urged an end to moves toward public development of Niagara power; called for adoption of the world calendar; requested increased highway construction on all governmental levels with emphasis on express ways and toll roads; commended Dr. Jonas Salk for development of the polio vaccine; opposed pensions to veterans for non-service incurred disabilities; and moved for further dissemination of information about Hoover Commission reports.

Maryland Bows To Integration

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Maryland state teachers colleges have bowed to racial integration but utterances from the Deep South continued the theme of a fight to the finish over the U. S. Supreme Court's ruling on the touchy question.
And a leader in the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People called for complete school integration "by not later than . . . September 1956."
The Maryland State Board of Education and the Board of Trustees of the teachers colleges met at Baltimore yesterday and unanimously adopted a resolution declaring that racial segregation in the five teachers "is hereby abolished." Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., superintendent of Maryland schools proposed for resolution.
The resolution was Maryland's first statewide endorsement of the color bar in schools. Colleges affected are former white schools at Frostburg, Salisbury and Towson, and Negro schools at Bowie and Baltimore.
At a three-state rally of members of white Citizens Councils last night at Selma, Ala., the U. S. Supreme Court justices who handed down the school segregation ruling were called "fawning politicians" and a Mississippi circuit judge recommended their impeachment.
Former Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia said the nine justices "are not fit to empty the waste baskets" of past Supreme Court justices who upheld segregation.

President Continues His Tour

RUTLAND, Vt. (AP)— President Eisenhower travels into New Hampshire today after laughing off a jovial plea—with a serious undertone—that he seeks a second term.
It was in New Hampshire's 1952 presidential primary that he got an early boost toward the White House.
Eisenhower, on a tour of northern New England, arranged to fly to Concord, N. H., this afternoon for an address from the steps of the State Capitol.
He arrived in Rutland from Washington yesterday. At the farmhouse he told a crowd estimated by police at 25,000 that America always will extend "the olive branch" of peace "to all who will take it in honesty and integrity." But he stressed that the United States also intends to remain strong.
The plea that the President seek a second term was voiced by Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), who in introducing Eisenhower referred to him as "a part-time farmer." The allusion was to his farm at Gettysburg, Pa. With a broad smile, Aiken added:
"It is my earnest hope that he will remain a part-time farmer for some time to come—say around five or six years."
That brought a big round of applause. Aiken then went on to say that much progress toward lasting world peace has been made under Eisenhower.
Eisenhower laughed heartily but in his talk a moment later gave not the slightest hint of his 1956 plans.
Within an hour after he left the flag-docked plane he was casting happily for trout in fast-running Furnace Brook near his overnight headquarters at Mountain Top Inn, Chittenden. He caught three in about 75 minutes but decided they were too small to keep.
Last night, at a dinner at Chittenden, Vermont's Gov. Joseph B. Johnson named the President national commandant of the Green Mountain Boys Brigade.
Ethan Allen, Vermont hero of the Revolutionary War, headed the brigade in those days. Johnson told the guests—about 75 were present—the unit is being reactivated as an honorary brigade.
