THOMPSON HAS NO TROUBLE IN ROLLING VOTES

Sweeps To Victory By Majority Of 70,000; Chicago Quiet After Hectic Campaigns

CHICAGO, Feb. 25—(AP)—"Big Bill" Thompson, 47, visible as ever, won his fourth mayoralty nomination in the Republican primary election yesterday, defeating by a plurality estimated at more than 70,000 the crime-battling Mayor John P. Lyle. With less than 800 precincts remaining, Thompson, who had received 255,343 votes, while Mayor Lyle harvested 184,000 and Alderman Arthur F. Albert, leader of anti-administration forces in the city council and a partisan of Senator Charles S. Deneen, trailed with 70,816.

Against Mayor Thompson in the April election will be pitted Anton J. Cermak, commander in chief of Cook county democracy, who won his party's nomination last night. Cermak had more than 60 votes to every one cast for his single opponent, John R. Devenney.

Thompson lumbered into the lead from the start and less than two hours after the polls closed, the Daily News, supporting Albert, conceded the nomination to the incumbent and predicted he would win by 60,000. Thompson said he expected to beat Lyle by 60,000.

To "Big Bill" Thompson, the picture, blustering bombastic by nearly 62 years, it was another sweet victory.

Thompson was easily re-elected. He had a reform platform, three years, with an interval of four years when he retired voluntarily as a schism severed his own following, he emerges now from perhaps the severest test of his career with the opportunity to win the mayoralty for the coveted World's Fair term and with it eight more years in the executive chair of America's second city than any other man.

Judge J. C. B. Koonce Talks On Rotarian Ideals At Meeting

Observance of the twenty-third anniversary of the founding of the Rotary Club International was fittingly carried out yesterday by members of the Sanford Club meeting at the Montauque Hotel, with a program which was entirely devoted to the aims, ideals, and traditions of the service club.

Rotarian G. W. Spencer had charge of the program, and introduced as the speaker of the day, Judge J. C. B. Koonce, Tarzwell Rotarian and Judge of the Sixteenth Judicial Circuit. Judge Koonce delivered what was termed by several members, a talk which was highly inspirational and conducive to a re-establishment of faith and confidence in the aims of the club. He stressed the importance of the application of Rotarian principles in every phase of daily life and noted that each member present take a severer and more important in the affairs of the club.

Following Judge Koonce's talk, a musical program, with a number of songs, including "The Rotarian's Song" which was sung by the members with the aid of the orchestra.

Movie Director Must Face Serious Charge

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25—(AP)—David Ware Griffith, 51, veteran film director was charged with criminal assault in a civil suit filed here today by Fern Settl, an actress. She asks $500,000. She said she met Griffith when she was touring the studios looking for work and charged she visited Griffith in his apartment June 25 last, on his promise to employ her for a picture, and that he attacked her. Mr. Griffith termed the charges as "absurd and without foundation".

INVESTMENT FIRM FAILURE LAD TO 'LOOSE' METHODS

NASHVILLE, Feb. 25—(AP)—With full warning, Rogers Caldwell and E. J. Heitzberg, president and vice president of Caldwell and Company and the affiliated Bank of Tennessee let those institutions crack up through "irregular" and "loose" business practices. State affairs legislative investigators discovered today.

J. D. Carter, former vice-president of the two concerns took the stand as the first of five immunity-clothed witnesses, and read to the committee a series of letters from him and E. A. Goodloe, cashier of the Bank of Tennessee addressed to Caldwell and Heitzberg, in which they frankly cried for a change of policy to keep the sinking institutions afloat.

In one of the letters, he urged Rogers Caldwell to break his association with Colonel Luke Lea whose newspaper enterprises in Memphis and Knoxville were allied with Caldwell and company.

State Treasurer John F. Hales, former Tennessee governor, was charged yesterday by Highway Commissioner Robert H. Baker with attempting to make him keep information from the state affairs legislative investigators for fear of involving Col. Luke Lea, politician and social figure.

The charge was made in a statement read from the stand by the commissioner. It said that on Feb. 6 Baker and his chief accountant, G. H. Briley, went to the capitol and were called by Nolan into the treasurer's office.

The treasurer, he said, told him Attorney Joe V. Williams, committee counsel, had asked him if he had refused to accept some $5,000,000 of highway withdrawal checks, which Baker said he had written after a conference at Col. Lea's home with Nolan to redistribute the funds to avoid Heitzberg's public criticism during the last governor's race.

Baker's statement said Nolan told him he had known nothing of the transaction and he didn't think there was any law telling all they knew Baker said he told the committee already had questioned him and he had told them he had sent the checks to the treasurer and that he had refused to accept them.

ASSASSINS TRY TO TAKE LIFE OF CUBAN HEAD

Bursting Bomb Fails To Cause Death Of President Machado; Soldier Confesses

HAVANA, Feb. 25—(AP)—Two assassins were arrested yesterday.

The Associated Press learned that a bomb exploded within the presidential palace Monday and that it was only by a narrow margin that President Machado was not killed or seriously wounded.

Yesterday, as President Machado's car left the palace, a bomb exploded in the capitol building a youth was empowered as he attempted to pull a pistol from his pocket.

Police instantly seized the youth but the incident caused a stir in front of the capitol. The scrambling and small riots which followed caused the president to halt his speech for a few minutes.

Soldiers and police quickly restored order. The marine band began to play the national anthem. Artillery guns boomed salute to the president. Quiet was restored and Machado finished his address.

Police admitted Monday a bomb had been placed in the palace but, because the investigation had not been completed, it did not appear that the explosive had been discovered before it exploded.

It was learned yesterday the bomb had wrecked part of the top floor of the palace and a soldier who had been on patrol duty on the roof of the home had confessed to placing it there.

Through a slight error on the part of the would be assassin, the bomb, consisting of a heavy piece of dynamite, exploded, exploded the president's office, endangering the lives of children in the room adjoining.

One of the secret police said the bomb had been lowered through a four-inch vent running through the president's bath on the third floor to the roof and that a long fuse had been attached to the bomb and connected to detonate the bomb 10 minutes after having been lighted.

The bomb was intended to explode at 4:30 o'clock in the morning, just at the time the president, who is an early riser, was taking his bath.

But the soldier, who is alleged to have confessed to engineering the plot, was not aware that recent remodeling in the upper floor bath had left a protruding pipe in the air vent, narrowing its diameter by half.

Coming on guard 15 minutes before his midnight watch began, the soldier slipped to the vest under by two other guards, pacing the other side of the roof, lowered the dynamite bomb and fixed the fuse to be lighted later.

'EASIER DIVORCE' IS ANSWER RENO GIVES TO WORLD

Bill Is Introduced To Give Marriage Severance In 6 Weeks

RENO, Nev., Feb. 25—(AP)—Reno met the bid of Arkansas, Idaho and other states for its divorce business with a bill introduced in the Nevada Legislature yesterday to permit the marriage bonds to be severed in six weeks—and without the necessity of stating other than general grounds for action.

The amendment to the present Nevada divorce laws, which require residence in the state of three months was offered as a direct answer to a 90-day divorce bill enacted by the Legislature of Arkansas and similar bills pending in Idaho and a verbal offer states. The Arkansas measure allows its executive approval.

Assemblyman Guy Wails of Reno introduced the amendment in the house of representatives at Carson City.

Drawn up by several Reno lawyers, it would permit suit to be filed after one week's residence in the state and a trial to be had either by the plaintiff or defendant had resided continuously in the state for six weeks.

The present divorce laws would be changed to make it possible to state the grounds of the action in the words of the statute without setting forth any particulars in the complaint unless demanded by the defendant.

Sponsors of the measure said it was introduced at this time in order to have it ready for passage if some other state finally enacts a short term divorce law.

ANNUAL REPORT IS RENDERED BY SALVATION ARMY

Much Good Is Seen As Result Of Its Activities In This Area

That Salvation Army activities in Sanford are wide-spread and are bringing much good to many needy residents is revealed in the annual report which was read by Captain Ethel M. Bartlett, local corps officer, at the annual meeting of the Advisory Board which was held at the Sanford-Atlantic Bank last Friday. The meeting was attended by Linton Allen, W. A. Leffler, S. O. Chase, Fred E. Wilson, members of the board, and Brigadier Donald McMillan and Adjutant Anderson, state officers, of Jacksonville, and Captain Bartlett.

During the past year 51 families, or 213 individuals, were furnished with groceries and meats; 570 garments and 54 pairs of shoes were issued; 192 transients were given a meal and a night's lodging, and four persons were furnished transportation to distant parts. These items were the features of the temporal side of Salvation Army life locally.

Spiritual activities resulted in the conversion during the year of 100 children and 73 adults. Street meetings held totaled 136 during the year, while 174 meetings were held at the Hall at 216 East Second Street. It was estimated that 9,282 persons heard songs, sermons and testimonies at those meetings. Local officers also spent 1,838 hours in visiting people in their homes, while eight services were held in the city and county jails. Sunday School was held each Sunday, with a total attendance of 8,075 adults and children.

Under the direction of Lieutenant Margaret Partens, a former first class Girl Scout, character building work among the youthful was especially stressed. That branch of the work is called "Life-Saving Guards", and is composed of girls from 11 to 18 years of age whose chief purpose is the guarding of body, mind, soul and others, as well as a study of first aid, child nursing, cooking, sewing, and other household duties.

Any girl in the city, regardless of creed, is eligible for membership in that branch, and Lieutenant Partens is available at all times to persons who are interested in joining.

Brigadier McMillan made a few remarks on the work of the Army to the State. He pointed out that the Sanford maternity cases had been handled at the Emergency Home in Jacksonville during the year, and that plans were being made to establish a home for unmarried mothers near Tampa in the near future.

It was tentatively agreed that the annual drive for funds would be held during the early part of 1931. A goal of $4,000 has been set for work to be done locally during 1931, and teams will be organized soon which will comb the city in an effort to raise the funds.

Farmers To See Free Films At High School

As an extra attraction tomorrow night at the weekly meeting of the 40 or more celery farmers who have been discussing fertilizer and farm problems for the past few weeks, motion pictures of various phases of fertilizer manufacturing will be shown in the vocational department rooms at the Seminole High School, starting at 8:00 o'clock.

Alx R. Johnson will have charge of the round-table discussion, and will introduce the various subjects for discussion, the subject, "Fertilizer and the determination of the analysis," to be used locally. A series of stereoscopic pictures, depicting various plant diseases will also be shown.

Mr. Johnson, at the request of the farmers who have been attending the meetings, urges a larger attendance during the remainder of the Spring sessions. Various speakers will be brought to Sanford during the next few weeks, and all of them bear messages which are particularly applicable to local farming conditions, he said.

POCKET VETO SEEN AS FINISH OF SHOALS ACT

Dam Resolution Must Make Weary Round Of Bureaus Before It Gets Final Okey

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—(AP)—The Muscle Shoals resolution must make a weary round of governmental departments and bureaus. Some doubt has been expressed that its travels can be completed in time for return to the White House before Mar. 4.

The latter will be vetoed today or Thursday, and returned to the Capitol, where it faces almost certain enactment over Mr. Hoover's disapproval.

The Muscle Shoals resolution must make a weary round of governmental departments and bureaus. Some doubt has been expressed that its travels can be completed in time for return to the White House before Mar. 4.

If Mr. Hoover has not signed it by noon on that date, the time Congress adjourns, it will have been given a "pocket veto." Muscle Shoals bill passed by Congress three years ago, was killed in this way by President Coolidge.

To this two measures a third was added yesterday, which also faced a doubtful future.

The Senate approved House amendments and sent to the White House the Wagner bill to create a system of federally supervised employment agencies financed jointly by state and federal appropriations.

The administration had sponsored a substitute making no provision for governmental financial aid.

An inquiry into the expected results of the veterans' loan bill continued at Mr. Hoover's direction. Government agencies are ascertaining how many veterans would apply for loans, and what proportion of these were in economic distress.

The measure increases the loan value of veterans adjusted service compensation certificates from 22 1/2 per cent to 50 per cent.

The Muscle Shoals compromise would provide government operation of the power plant, private operation of the nitrate plant for fertilizer production, government construction of power transmission lines and of a feeder dam on the Clinch River in Tennessee.

The Chief Executive yesterday received a telegram from Governor Miller of Alabama, urging him to approve the bill as an unemployment and farm relief measure.

Shortly after the measure was received at the White House it was announced it would be sent to the War Department, the Power Commission, the Budget Bureau and possibly the Justice Department for investigation before Mr. Hoover acts.

OHIO BANK HELD UP

DAYTON, Ohio, Feb. 25—(AP)—Six bandits held up Norman Burgmeyer's manager, and eight employees of the Central Branch of the Union Trust Company in the heart of the business district today and escaped with between $18,000 and $20,000.

LIBRARY HOURS CHANGED

Mrs. Elva Knight, city librarian, this morning announced a change in library hours, effective today. During week days, the library will be open from 10:00 o'clock until noon, and from 2:00 o'clock until 5:00 o'clock. On Saturdays, from 9:00 o'clock until noon, from 2:00 o'clock until 5:00 o'clock and from 7:00 o'clock until 9:00 o'clock.

Two Seminole High School Students Leave To Join Mrs. Owens' Party

Miss Virginia Earle and Mr. Edwin Shinholzer, Seminole County's two high school students who will be the guests of Ruth Bryan Owen, Florida's Congresswoman, on a week-end tour to Washington and return, left this morning for Mrs. Owens' home, where they boarded the special Pullman which left Miami early this morning (en route to the Capital City).

They will be members of a party of "best young citizens" of 36 high school students, representing 18 counties in Mrs. Owens' district, who were the fortunate winners of essay contests early this month. The entire group, accompanied by chaperones, will leave Jacksonville tonight at 7:00 o'clock, and arrive in Washington is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Owen and a group of Florida officials and residents will meet the party at the Union Station, and conduct them to their hotel before beginning the first stage of their three days of strenuous sight-seeing and study of the federal government at close range. Every part of national in-

Jobless Start Riots In European Cities

(By Associated Press)
Riots occurred in a dozen European cities today as the jobless observed International Unemployment Day, but police were prepared in advance and nowhere did the demonstrations get out of hand. There were eye ches in France, workers in Moscow, a roundup of communist suspect in Paris, and riots of a minor proportion in Berlin. Reports indicated that less than two score were injured in street fights with police in all of the cities.

LUNDQUIST HAS ONE-UP LEAD AT END OF 18 HOLES

Youthful Golfer In Better Of LeRoy In Race For City Title

Shortly after lunch today, Lawrence Lundquist, a former caddy at the Sanford Country Club, playing over that course against Leon LeRoy, 1930 City Golf Champion, in the first 18 holes of the final match play for the 1931 title, was one up on the defending champion after a match which saw both the golfers turning in scores which were comparatively poor, partly attributable to a high wind which swept the course continually. Mr. Lundquist had a 45, and Mr. LeRoy had a 47.

It was a nip-and-tuck struggle from the start, however, and several fancy shots were recorded by both the men. Mr. Lundquist had the edge in putting and was sinking them with ease. Both golfers failed to take opportunity of stymies which were recorded on the second and fifth holes, while on the fifteenth hole Mr. LeRoy, after being stymied, knocked Mr. Lundquist's ball into the cup.

They halved the first two holes with fives, although Mr. LeRoy might have won the second had he taken advantage of the stymie he had laid down. Mr. Lundquist took the third with a par four, but Mr. LeRoy tied the match by taking the fourth hole. Young Lundquist took the fifth, Mr. LeRoy took the sixth.

Two Robberies Are Reported To Local Police Department

Two robberies yesterday drew the attention of the Sanford Police Department, but at a late hour today, no arrests had yet been made. The first was reported at about 10:30 yesterday morning from the home of H. A. Moreland, 610 Magnolia Avenue, where someone had entered a bedroom and stolen a 17 jewel Illinois watch. No other articles were missing. The watch bears several initials on the back of the case.

The other was, an attempted entry at the Hargett Soda Fountain in the Arcade Building. Someone had cut through a side door lock, but had not succeeded. Officer George Gray made a careful investigation, but was unable to locate the guilty person.

Chief Roy G. Williams this morning urges that any suspicious actions on the part of strangers be immediately reported to the police station in order that an investigation may be conducted as soon as possible. Local police are making every effort to rid the city of undesirable who are in Florida in large numbers at this time of the year, and they ask the assistance of every resident.

Local Candy Dealer Drives His Car Into Parked Automobile

Ira B. Davis, local candy wholesaler, was booked at the police station last night at about 7:15 o'clock on a charge of drunkenness and driving an automobile while drunk, after he had driven his Buick sedan into the rear of a Buick sedan, owned by Mrs. J. C. Benson, causing slight damages to both the automobiles.

The accident occurred at Park Avenue and Tenth Street at about 7:00 o'clock. Mrs. Benson's car was parked, facing north, in front of the Mahoney Apartments, and was unoccupied. Mr. Davis, driving north on Park Avenue, rammed the car with such force as to cause it to roll at least 100 feet before stopping. Deputy sheriff W. T. Wheelless, who lives a short distance from the scene, reached the wreck a few moments after it occurred, and later turned Mr. Davis over to City motorcycle officer Shaffer, who took Mr. Davis to the police station.

He was released on a $210 bond, and his case will be heard at the Monday session of Municipal Court.

The process of unloading was discovered by a neighbor, Dr. Johnson, who lives on the corner.

SPEEDY TRAIN PLUNGES INTO MOBILE RIVER

4 Die As Engine Goes Through Open Draw; Passengers Escape By Narrow Margin

MOBILE, Feb. 25—(AP)—A passenger train plunged into the Mobile River today when the locomotive and the combination baggage and club car of the north-bound Pan American Limited plunged through an open drawbridge over the Mobile River, 18 miles north of here. No passenger was killed, but four died as the engine went through the open draw. Arthur Ingram, the engineer, Nick Vaughn, baggage master, Ezekiel Crompton, negro fireman, and L. White, negro porter, all of Montgomery were killed.

H. P. Hagarson, assistant superintendent of the Mobile-New Orleans division of the Louisville and Nashville railroad said that he was unable to account for the accident as the track is equipped with an automatic block signal which should have given warning of the open draw fully a mile away. He expressed the belief that Engineer Ingram suffered an attack of illness which resulted in the crash.

SPORT MADE TO AND GATORS TO BOXING TOURNEY

Follows Student Resentment Of Board Decision

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, GAINESVILLE, Feb. 24.—Students of the University of Florida today took up arms here Monday night in the announcement of Athletic Director Edgar Jones, that the 1930 championship boxing tournament would not be sent to the University of Florida this week. The students were particularly incensed over the fact that the football team, which has had a very poor season, was being sent to the tournament while the boxing team was being excluded.

Athletic Director Jones today maintained a long line of delegates from various sports organizations. This afternoon Blue Key, national honor society composed of student leaders, dispatched a committee to the athletic headquarters with a request that the athletic department change its mind on the matter and "find the money somewhere" to send the team. Both Coach Phil O'Connell and Coach John J. Miller, Blue Key members.

Blue Key secured the promise of Director Jones that the athletic department would find the money and pay the expenses of the team at least one way, provided that conference officials would allow Florida to enter later in the tournament closing last week. Members of the boxing team, including plans to leave for the tourney Wednesday, were dazed to learn this morning they had not even been entered by the faculty athletic committee in charge of such matters.

Connie Mack Sees Athletics' Success In Pitchers' Hands

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Connie Mack, monarch of the dugouts in the baseball world, was in Florida last Saturday and some of his players in Philadelphia. Today three players in Florida and Mack is in Philadelphia. They are not playing hide and seek, however, for the leader of the Athletics came back to look after personal business and to attend the meeting Monday night at which the Philadelphia award was made. A year ago the award was made to Mack as having contributed a service calculated to advance the best interests of Philadelphia.

Mack, who has been in Florida a month playing golf, will return south today. The fall tiler said he saw no reason why his team should not come through again this year. It depends on the way the major pitchers perform, he said. Listed among the Athletics' pitchers to be given a tryout at Fort Myers are Cain from Portland; Lahti from Portland; Miller from Huntsville; McDonough from Portland; DeShong from Newburg; Perkins, a free agent; McGrew from Omaha; Reid from Portland; Mahoe from Alton; the Liebbardt from Birmingham.

TAX FACTS

Ed. Note—This is one of a series of short articles to be carried daily for the convenience of our readers who may be concerned with preparation of their income tax reports.

March 1, 1913, is an important date in income-tax history, the existing income-tax law, adopted in accordance with the sixteenth amendment to the Constitution, having become effective on that date. To determine taxable gain or deductible loss in the sale or other disposition of property acquired before March 1, 1913, and sold or otherwise disposed of after that date a comparison of the cost of the property with its fair market value as of March 1, 1913, is necessary. Whichever amount is greater is the figure to be compared with the proceeds of the sale in determining taxable gain or deductible loss.

"Fair market value" is defined by income-tax regulators as the amount "which would induce a willing seller to sell and a willing buyer to purchase." The regulations further state: "What the fair market value of property was on March 1, 1913, is a question of fact to be established by competent evidence. . . . In the case of property traded in on public exchanges, actual sales at about the basic date afford evidence of value; but in each case the nature and extent of the sales and the circumstances under which they were made must be considered. Thus, prices received at a forced sale or prices received for small lots of property may be no real indication of the value of the property."

The basis for determining gain or loss from the sale or other disposition of property acquired after February 28, 1913, is, in general, the cost of the property.

MIAMI, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Under the same old palms, but with the breeze somewhat less balmy and the customers considerably less agitated the 1931 outdoor heavyweight fight episode will be played Tuesday night to the accompaniment of a sockfest between Mickey Walker, the theoretical middleweight champion with big ambitions, and Johnny Rako the Cleveland Baker boy. Walker, sporting Rako about 25 pounds, will enter the ring for the 10 round feature match a favorite to repeat the victory he scored over Johnny in Detroit. The odds, however, were no more than six to five in Mickey's favor, due to the determination Rako has manifest in his training, as well as his habit of springing upsets. As a warning of more serious affairs to come, W. L. (Young) Stripling, the son of George and Max Stripling, the young German holder of the world's heavyweight title, are scheduled for three rounds each of exhibition stuff for the benefit of the customers and a ballyhoo for their championship fight somewhere in the North this June. These are the main attractions of the show promoted by "Pa" Stripling, energetic parent of the American heavyweight title challenger. Unless the condition of rain is fulfilled and a heavy calculation, promoter Stripling expects the Madison Square Garden arena, on the outskirts of Miami, to be occupied by about 30,000 customers and the "gate" to reach $50,000 at prices of $2 to $5. The advance sale yesterday, Stripling said, passed $20,000. If the weather interferes, the Danger! Men At Work!

Only a few persons remain who do not realize yet that Sanford's period of depression is a thing of the past. Last summer when better times were predicted for Sanford, there were hundreds of unbelievers. But today these hundreds were dwindled to a paltry score or more. With the City's financial troubles settled, temporarily, at least, and with celery bringing a magnificent price, what more could be expected?

And a friend of ours brings in a clipping from "Public Opinion" to show that with all the troubles through which the nation has passed during the last twelve months, the year of 1930 saw many things accomplished, much money saved, much merchandise sold. Depressions, the same as booms, often receive over-emphasis, and this one has been no exception. Things are not always as bad as they seem. Consider what "Public Opinion" has to say:

"For example, consider 1930, lately interred. Now lies he there and none so poor to do him reverence. Yet that much-maligned year loaded and unloaded 45,800,000 freight cars, and with three million trucks on the job, too. It made and sold a new automobile for each ten families at a cost of $2,159,600,000, and saw registrations highest of any year, with a gasoline consumption of 399 million barrels, an all-time record. It saw electrical production hit its highest mark.

"Nineteen hundred and thirty manufactured four and a half billion yards of textiles, and 315 million pairs of shoes, the usual two and a half pairs to the person.

"It provided work for 40,000,000 and earnings through dividends to the amount of $3,600,000,000.

"Nineteen hundred and thirty saw to it that expenses of living did not exceed income, as evidenced by hundreds of millions of dollars increase in savings banks and eighteen and a half billions of new life insurance.

"Nineteen hundred and thirty added one million in population to our consuming public.

"With all its faults, 1930 furnished a national marketplace where goods, services and labor were exchanged to the extent of 100 billion dollars, and the returns are not all in yet.

"One would think, from the wailing, that we had all been wiped out by a terrible catastrophe of Nature—a Noah's flood, a shifting of the Gulf Stream, or by dreadful holocaust.

"Yet we are all here. The stores are still open. The trains are running. You can get that number on the telephone. The traffic problem is still lively. Movie houses are no nearer seating all their customers. Children are what they always were. Young folks are getting married. Lawyers' briefs are just as long. Hardy commuters make the 8:15 in less than nothing flat. Under Nature's white coverlet, buds await the coming of spring.

"If these commonplace signs of 'life as usual' betoken national instability, then there is a public menace in the familiar warning: Danger! Men at Work!"

In Quest Of What?

"Why young men leave home" is a story often told and well known to all, but why young girls leave home is not always so obvious. From thousands of good homes throughout the country, each year goes an innumerable caravan of decent girls marching toward the more metropolitan centers of population. Parental advice of the big city's wickedness deters none of them, for all of them think they are immune. But the lonesomeness of the city, do they ever think of that? And if they do, what is their answer? Do they realize that the lonesomest place in the world can be the heart of a big city?

"Two twelve-year-old girls set out the other day from a New Jersey town to find a colorful life and fortune in New York," says the New York Herald Tribune. "They did not get here. They lost courage and went home; but if they had been five or ten years older they would almost certainly have reached the city, as thousands, moved by similar ambitions, do every year. They would have found work in normal times, have unencountered themselves in rooms or small apartments and have stayed to swell the vast army of unattached women in this city who are neat and attractive, feverishly hard working, efficient but conscious, as the years pass, of leading wretchedly lonely lives. Color and adventure are all around them, sweeping past them in street and subway crowds, but serving only to make their own lives seem drab and eventually purposeless.

"The presence here of a great host of nice but lonely and disillusioned young women is, according to thoughtful welfare workers, a more poignantly tragic feature of metropolitan life than the spectacle of those who come to have a good time and find it. And there is almost nothing to do about it. It is impossible to breed into the grandsons of pioneers a desirable spirit of adventure, initiative and courage without passing some of these qualities along to the granddaughters. Decent instincts are not only compatible with these qualities, but accompany them in nine cases out of ten. So it is the girl of fine instincts, but a restless, ambitious, courageous spirit, who comes to New York to live more fully and becomes the miserably lonely wail who sits in her room at night, checks over the runs in her stockings, writes a letter or reads a little and then folds her hands in her lap and wonders what she is living and working for, and what the reward of virtue is, anyway.

"Some meet the knights of their dreams and are reasonably happy. Some leap into the stream of life to join company that is not sans reproche and escape the horror of an endless procession of empty hours only to meet other miseries; but thousands and thousands do neither. They just drag on, more and more conscious of the emptiness of their lives, cultivating a greater loathing of the ghastly specter of loneliness as they fade and the chances of escaping it dwindle."

TELLING THE WORLD

By NEAL O'BARA

QUICK WATSON, THE SMELLING SALTS

Anything can happen now. Daria Rappaport, noted Austrian painter, on arriving in New York was asked by ship news reporters what country has the most beautiful woman. And Mr. Rappaport replied—get ready, now hang on to that taffail—Mr. Rappaport replied, "Chile!" Nice ship news boys and fair camera men arranged.

Mr. Rappaport's ongoing education has been neglected. He should know that the right answer to any question dealing with beauty is "Chile!"

ambush and denching them with golden gas.

Right now, ship news circles are demoralized. The boys are scuttling around in a daze and not even trying to consolidate their position. They are, in fact, contemplating a series of other surprises analogous like this:

REPORTERS—Ah, good morning, Senator Elms. Did you enjoy your tour of Europe?

SENATOR—Sure, I did not. I'm trying to remember the name of the hotel I stayed at.

REPORTERS—What time will you be in the city tomorrow?

SENATOR—I don't know. I'm trying to remember the name of the hotel I stayed at.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

Five times the Senate has debated and adopted the Norris resolution to eliminate "junk bonds" sponsors of Congress and the incongruous port of Washington new is changing in the race against time.

Reactionary Republicans in the House have permitted but one test of strength in the lower branch of Congress. The cards were stacked against it. It lost.

Now the pressure of public opinion has forced the House to again consider the proposition on its merits. The administration "sheep herders" in the House will permit a vote.

But it is to be the Gifford resolution on which the House will vote in this impending test. That is almost identical with the Norris resolution. There has been an inconsequential alteration of wording, just enough to throw the thing back to the Senate, and in a legislative jam as March 4 approaches to imperil the whole thing.

Senator Elms of Massachusetts in the House, has been a relatively undistinguished member. His chief claim of fame has been the development of real estate projects and summer resort hotels.

If the Norris resolution is to be applied to the states, the Hoover administration is determined that it shall be known as the Gifford resolution.

For sheer pettiness, in politics Washington has not observed a more transparent undertaking in a long time.

As matters stand there is no longer any particular issue as to the propriety of the Norris resolution for an amendment to the constitution to change the date for the assembling of Congress.

Its adoption is held to have passed beyond reasonable controversy. The American people have grown weary of the spectacle of "jams" Senators and representatives clinging tenaciously to the payroll and for months doing White House bidding to night, running in Joe Zelli's place in Paris. They parked me to each morning at exactly 6 A. M.

I was ossified during my week in Berlin. In fact, it wasn't until after leaving the city I knew I'd been there at all. And all I saw of London was the Savoy bar. Have any of you guys got an aspirin tablet?

Or it could even be worse than that: REPORTERS—Monsieur, this is your first visit to America. What do you think of New York's skyline?

FROMAGE—It resembles a picket fence at sunset.

REPORTERS—But the height of the buildings—don't they impress you?

FROMAGE—Gentlemen, I spent my youth sking down from the top of the Matterhorn. But I will say some of your taller buildings would make very good bungalows.

REPORTERS—Well, then, how do you like the Statue of Liberty?

FROMAGE—I have not seen it yet.

REPORTERS—There it is, right there—we're going past it now.

FROMAGE—Why, I thought that was one of your papier mache roadside advertisements—you know, boosting some soda fountain drink or a new brand of gasoline.

AND Mr. Rappaport's faux pas has got the ship newsboys even ready for an incident like this:

REPORTERS—Ah, here's Mr. Morgan's cabin now. Good morning, Mr. Morgan, we're the ship news reporters.

J. P. Well, where have you guys been? I've been waiting here forty minutes to give out a statement.

REPORTERS—Sorry, Mr. Morgan.

J. P.—Call me Jack.

REPORTERS—Well, then, let's have a copy of your statement.

J. P.—Oh, I haven't written one out. I just want you boys to take rough notes on what I say regarding international finance, the Federal Reserve System and Wall Street in general. You can close as you can—but you don't, of course, I realize you all make mistakes.

(Mr. Morgan then gives the little story of a school teacher who, finding a boy who had been in a car accident, asked him if he was hurt. The boy replied: "No, I'm not hurt, but I'm trying to remember the name of the hotel I stayed at.") and soft Federal jobs following graduation at the polls.

The various subterfuges to which resort has been had to defeat the existing system have not fooled Washington. The stuff and nonsense about a "cooling off" period after the heat of a campaign is accepted generally as indicative of venality of purpose or a monumental ignorance of the history incident to the framing of the constitution.

The truth of the matter is just this: Those worthy Republican reactionaries who are in control of the present House of Representatives will not permit this legislative reform to redound to the credit of the man who has brought it to you in and year out for ever a decade.

They are actuated by the identical motives which prompted the inspired and inequitable project of training a Broken Bow Nephew for the United States Senate merely because the groom's name happened to be identical—George W. Norris—and the primary but would not have permitted the sufficient differentiation to inform the loyal followers of the Senator.

There is the further fact that, while one of the most ardent prohibition advocates, personally and politically, to which Washington may point a finger, there is a deep-rooted determination by Hoover Republicans to punish Norris for having bolted the Hoover ticket in 1928. He declared publicly for Alfred E. Smith as one who esteemed human rights above property rights.

This latest move assumes a certain sordidness which some of the best Old Guardmen cannot swallow without nauseating recollection of the Robert H. Lucas effort to read Norris out of the Republican Party.

Through it all Senator Norris stalks smilingly superior to the political pygmies who assail him.

What is his answer to the project to give the title of "Gifford resolution" to the Norris resolution?

"The principle involved is too big for us to quibble over whose name is attached to it," he says.

TAX HITS

In determining the profit to be taken from the sale of property owned by gift, the donor's basis is the basis for the recipient's basis. If the property was acquired by gift after December 31, 1925, the basis in the hands of the recipient is the basis of the donor at the last preceding ownership. If it was not acquired by gift, for example, a man in 1928 bought stock at $100 a share and sold it until January, 1930. He then gave the stock to his son, who in 1932 when it was worth $150 a share gave it to his wife. If in 1933 the wife sold the stock for a profit, the difference between the cost of $100 and the selling price of $150, or $50, would be taxable income to the wife. Had she sold the stock in 1930 at $30 a share, the deductible loss would have been $30 a share.

acquired by gift on or before December 31, 1925, the basis for determining the profit or loss from the sale would be the fair market value of the property at the time of its acquisition. For example, during 1919 a daughter received from her father certain securities which he had purchased in 1916 for $12.00 a share. In 1933 she sold a fair market value of $18,000. She sold it in 1933 for $18,000, the taxable gain was $2,000. Had she sold the stock at $12,000, the deductible loss would have been $3,000.

The fair market value of property is defined as "that amount which would induce a willing seller to sell and a willing buyer to purchase."

in perfect good humor. "What difference does it make? The principle involved is the important thing, irrespective of whose name it bears."

His chief concern is that action by the House at this late date with the changes in tax laws sufficient to give the Gifford resolution any real individuality might cause the whole project to be lost in the legislative mist. Thus it would be postponed for another year.

Mesdames Bach And Laney Are Hostesses

The sun room at the Woman's Club was decorated with quantities of red, white and blue sweet peas and violets, arranged in vases and bowls with fern, when Mrs. Walter H. Bach and Mrs. E. H. Laney entertained the members of the Social Department with a George Washington bridge party yesterday afternoon. Besides the red, white and blue flowers, the George Washington idea was accentuated by the tables which were miniature fans bearing pictures of George and Martha Washington.

Throughout the afternoon bridge progressions were enjoyed. Mrs. A. C. Chamberlain collected the scores. High score prize, a large bouquet of red, white and blue sweet peas, tied with a red tulle bow, went to Mrs. E. Compton.

At the tea hour, a salad course, further emphasizing the chosen color note, was served with coffee by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. E. A. Landon.

Those present were: Mrs. W. Theodore Langley, Mrs. J. E. Baker, Mrs. Victor Green, Mrs. A. T. White, Mrs. E. O. White, of Knoxville, Tenn., Mrs. E. A. Landon, Mrs. G. P. Paxton, Mrs. Dayton Stoner, Mrs. Roland S. Read, Mrs. H. Wayne Rucker, Mrs. John Meisch, Mrs. S. D. Higleyman, Mrs. E. Compton, Mrs. George Zurleide, Mrs. William Ludwig, Miss Marion Zurleide, Mrs. Francis Meriwether, Mrs. John Zerrenner, Mrs. A. J. Peterson, Mrs. E. C. Harper, Mrs. B. E. Takach, Miss Ida Kvmmer, of Tetsakey, Mich., Mrs. A. C. Chamberlain and Mrs. James L. Murphy.

Mrs. Bolly Is Hostess At Party Last Night

The George Washington idea was carried out in decorations and party appointments at the bazaar party given last Friday evening by Mrs. Mary Bolly at her home on Myrtle Avenue, in honor of a number of her friends. Quantities of red sweet peas and red gladioli were arranged in vases and bowls about the rooms where the guests were entertained.

At the conclusion of the bazaar games high score prize went to Mrs. L. Mack, of Staten Island, N. J., while second high score prize was awarded John Smith, of Chicago. Mr. John Smith, of Chicago, who had third high score, was given a prize, while Mrs. J. VanderZahn was the recipient of low score prize.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. E. Bolly. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. George Herbst, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Meisch, Mr. and Mrs. L. Mack, of Staten Island, N. J., Mrs. John Smith and son, John Smith, of Chicago, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. J. Mich., Mr. and Mrs. George Habe, and the Misses Helen Stoothoff, Clara Meisch and Ruth Meisch.

FORD COMFORT

Every new Ford is equipped with four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers

ONE of the fine things about driving the new Ford is the way it takes you over the miles without strain or fatigue. No matter how long the trip, you know it will bring you safely, quickly, comfortably to the journey's end.

The seats are generously wide, deeply cushioned and carefully designed to conform to the curves of the body. Every new Ford has specially designed springs and four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers. These work both ways — up and down. They absorb the force of road shocks and also provide a cushion against the rebound of the springs.

Other features that make the new Ford a value far above the price are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, airtight, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, more than twenty ball and roller bearings, extensive use of fine steel forgings, aluminum pistons, chrome alloy valves, torque-tube drive, Rustless Steel and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

In addition, you save many dollars because of the low first cost of the new Ford, low cost of operation and up-keep, and low yearly depreciation.

YOU'LL LAUGH TILL YOUR SIDES HURT, TOO

When you hear the good news about our 10th ANNIVERSARY SALE. In order to get ready for this event our store will remain CLOSED ALL DAY THURSDAY but we will open on the dot at nine Friday morning. Watch for our announcement in tomorrow's Herald.

"A TRIP THROUGH THE FORD PLANT"
THOUSANDS of people from all over the world visit the Ford plant every year. See what they see! Hear what they hear! You'll say this is an unusually entertaining and instructive picture.

SEE ACTUAL FORD CAR SAWS IN TWO

- First complete showing of all the new Ford cars in this vicinity. Includes the smart new Six Lane Model — Ford trucks and delivery vans.
- The "Ford" shield-shaped glass windshield that will not fly when broken.
- New Roadster Road wheels with 30 inch tires. The most perfect in the ever-changing world of wheels.
- and many other features which make the Ford show a most interesting and instructive one.

and sturdy — how the wheel is worked in one piece.

— How the "Ford" shock-absorbing system checks shocks against hard bumps and why they are called shock-absorbers.

— How the "Ford" wheel and axle work together — how the wheel and axle work together.

"You are . . . Helping Awaken the Public to the Ever Existent Danger"

Says
DR. EARL MUSSELMAN
Health Commissioner, Department of Public Health, Alliance, Ohio

... one of 55 health officials from 55 different points approving...
Every smoker, every wife whose husband smokes cigars, should read Dr. Musselman's letter.
"Who are the friends of 'Spi'?"
YOU MAY WELL ASK THIS QUESTION WHEN SO IMPORTANT HEALTH OFFICIALS HAVE WRITTEN SO STRONGLY AGAINST THE EVILS OF SPI-TIPPING.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH
ALLIANCE, OHIO
July 1, 1930

Gentlemen:
I am very glad to endorse your advertising campaign which so effectively cooperates with many non-commercial organizations in the "anti-tipping" method of cigar manufacture and the effort to decrease in such a way. You are thus helping awaken the public to the ever existent danger of spitting wherever this nuisance may be seen.

Public health organizations have long been interested in the "anti-tipping" method of cigar manufacture and the effort to decrease in such a way. You are thus helping awaken the public to the ever existent danger of spitting wherever this nuisance may be seen.

Very truly yours,
Earl Musselman

Firm Laid To Loose Methods

... Mr. Nolan said, 'I left Mr. Nolan's office through the side door.'

Lundquist Has One Up Lead At Fifteenth Holes

... They played the last nine in better form, and Mr. Lundquist missed an opportunity on the eighteenth hole which would have given him a two up score for the morning round when he missed a 30-foot putt by inches.

CAN EPILEPSY BE CURED?

Remarkable Booklet Reveals Opinions of Leading Physicians

New York, N. Y. The recent announcement of the publication of a booklet containing the medical opinions of famous doctors on the subject "CAN EPILEPSY BE CURED?" has met with great interest throughout the country. Buffers everywhere have welcomed the booklet with enthusiasm. It is reported to be the last word on the subject.
