

SPEEDY ACTION IS SOUGHT ON REVENUE BILL

Two-Billion Dollar Measure Is Brought Before Senate With Plea For Passage

WASHINGTON, May 12.—(A.P.)—The billion dollar revenue raising bill was rolled into the Senate yesterday with a call by Majority Leader Watson for night sessions beginning next week to speed its passage.

The measure will be taken up today and an instant Senate floor vote was requested for speed on the budget balancing legislation. Watson asked the Senate to vote for an adjournment by June 1.

At the same time, blunt police of a letter fight to eliminate the four tariff items on oil, coal, copper and rubber was served by five Democratic members of the Finance Committee who had lined in the support of the tax bill other than the tariff report, submitted by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, said in part:

The long rolling methods which have resulted in the incorporation of these particular tariff items, of whose terms yield no income to the government worth considering, would be indefensible even if the Committee were considering a general revision of the tariff; but to insist on them, exchange of votes, and similar, self-gain performance that characterize the incorporation of these items in an emergency revenue measure is an exhibition that will raise serious questions in the public mind, especially the respect of revenue raising.

Members of the special economy Committee plunged ahead at its task through another long day and behind well locked doors. Outside what President Hoover has called the "locust swarm of lobbyists" was gathering to forestall if possible the elimination of expenditures. Well aware of this, the senators are keeping this decision closely to themselves until they have considered their thousands talk of chipping $500,000,000 from the government's cost.

Last night over the radio, Senator Donnelly, Democrat, Texas, considered for the non-partisan drive for passage but reminded the public that the deficit of the last two years incurred by the government was done by the Republican controlled Congress—not by the present one—and under a Republican administration.

Donnelly said the last Congress cut $161,684,101 below the budget estimates submitted by the administration. Aggregate appropriations submitted by the House for 1933, he said, are $400,000,000 below actual appropriations for the current year.

He advocated reductions in the government.

Dirigible Akron Continues Voyage To Mooring Mast Despite Big Helium Loss

CAMP KEARNEY, Calif., May 12.—(A.P.)—Hampered by the loss of helium gas, the Navy dirigible Akron sailed northward along the California coast last night on the last stage of an interrupted flight to her base at Sunnyvale, Calif., near San Francisco.

Thirty-three per cent of the precious non-inflammable gas, which provides the lifting power of the huge air cruiser, was reported to have been lost in the delayed crossing of the continent from Lakehurst, N. J., and the maneuvering to make an emergency mooring here Wednesday in which two blue jackets were killed.

The Akron cast off here at 11:00 A. M. (P. S. T.), with a personnel of 54 instead of 80. Two officers and 23 men were ordered off the ship by Lieutenant Commander T. E. Rosendahl to lighten the load for the northern trip. They proceeded to Sunnyvale by naval transport planes.

Rosendahl announced the shore line would be followed and all mountains would be avoided on the 500 to 600-mile flight. He hoped to reach San Francisco Bay at sunset.

HUEY LONG TOLD TO SIT DOWN AS HE SCORES SOLON

Mississippi Senator Ruled Out Of Order In Flaying Robinson

WASHINGTON, May 12.—(A.P.)—Huey Long, who does what he wishes in Louisiana, and is an expert on an ancient and sacred Senate rule yesterday and was sharply told to take his seat in the midst of a speech attacking Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas.

President Curtis sternly ordered the quick-tongued Louisiana senator to sit down while he was making a personal attack on the Democratic leader which had drawn crowds to the Senate galleries.

But a few minutes later the Senate voted to permit the self-styled "king fish of Louisiana" to proceed as long as he did not violate the Senate rule which forbids a senator to "impute to another senator's conduct or motives unworthy or becoming a senator."

The unusual incident developed out of an almost unprecedented attack by Long on Robinson which had senators in their chairs and created the tense atmosphere which usually precedes a storm in the Senate.

Robinson was not in the chamber. Long drew attention again to the list of clients who have retained Robinson's law firm in Arkansas.

HOOVER RELIEF BILL IS TAKEN UP FOR STUDY

Senate Inquiry Into "Rotten Practices" Of Stock Market Will Be Resumed

WASHINGTON, May 12.—(A.P.)—Senate Democrats today turned the Hoover compromise $1,500,000,000 dollar relief plan over to a special committee for study. A second conference of Democrats failed to develop an absolute compromise.

Announcing the Senate investigation of the New York Stock Market uncovered "plenty of evidence of rotten practices," Chairman Norbeck said the banking committee would resume the inquiry next week. Speedy enactment of the billion-dollar revenue raising bill on a non-partisan basis was asked of the Senate by Chairman Smead of the Finance Committee.

A titanic compromise federal relief program was agreed upon tentatively yesterday by President Hoover, congressional leaders of both parties and government financial experts. It involved doubling the borrowing power of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to a total of $3,000,000,000 with the additional $1,500,000,000 to be used for loans to states for unemployment relief and to promote public and private construction.

The two billion dollar bond issue advocated Wednesday before the Senate by Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, was used as the basis for the compromise on the greatest peace time emergency relief project in the nation's history. The agreement came out of a conference between President Hoover and Senator Robinson.

Developments were quiet and fast. Before calling in Robinson, the President consulted at breakfast with Senator Watson, of Indiana, the majority chief, on the relief problem which it was agreed must be met by the government in some manner before adjournment is taken.

After the Robinson parley, the President summoned officers of Reconstruction Finance Corporation headed by Charles G. Dawes; Secretary Mills of the Treasury, and Gov. Eugene Meyer, of the Federal reserve board.

Watson and Robinson returned to the capital to consult their staff.

MAYOR REPLIES TO LETTER SENT BY BONDHOLDERS

Expresses Regret Over Cold Reception To Any Proposition

Entire responsibility for the failure of Sanford to be the prosperous, successful city its back country neighbors, rests in the hands of the Bondholders' Protective Committee, according to a letter sent that group yesterday by Mayor T. L. Dumas and the City Commissioners.

Answering the Committee's recent letter, the Commissioners, through Mayor Dumas, expressed a reaction of disappointment that "the proposition submitted to your Committee was coldly rejected without a suggestion of a counter proposal or intimation of future line of procedure," and surprise "at what was freely termed a total lack of spirit of cooperation coupled with an attitude of supreme indifference as to the final outcome of prevailing unbearable conditions."

The letter in full is as follows: "Your letter of May 6th was read at regular meeting of City Commissioners, 7:30 P. M., Monday, May 9th.

"The reaction of the Commissioners was disappointment and surprise; they were disappointed that the proposition submitted to your Committee was coldly rejected without a suggestion of a counter proposal or intimation of future line of procedure, surprised at what was freely termed a total lack of spirit of cooperation, coupled with an attitude of supreme indifference as to final outcome of prevailing unbearable conditions.

"Deep concern was expressed over the recent decision of Supreme Court of Florida which, in effect, practically cancels and renders impossible the collection of approximately $1,000,000.

Solon Comes Out, Lindbergh Estate For U. S. Licensed Rum Dispensaries In Isolated Place

WASHINGTON, May 12.—(A.P.)—Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, long silent on prohibition, yesterday came out for licensed dispensaries and thereby started another round of speculation on whether the Republicans would adopt a wet or moist plank at Chicago.

Coupled with a statement in Cleveland by Joseph R. Nutt, treasurer of the party's national committee, that the wet victory in the Ohio primary would be given consideration by that state's delegation to the national convention the Reed declaration was regarded as strengthening greatly the forces advocating a referendum plank.

An administration spokesman in the Senate, Reed has been mentioned in some quarters as President Hoover's choice as chairman of the convention committee as committee. He said yesterday he was speaking for no one but himself, that he was not chairman yet, and that his statement had no connection with administration policy. He added he had not talked with the president for several days.

The senator announced his views in a public letter to several hundred constituents who had sought the views on prohibition. He said he had not received a single unfavorable reply.

He favored the Swedish or Quebec systems of liquor control, but said he would oppose any referendum plank.

Concerted Action To Bring Criminals To Justice Under Way Arrest May Be Near

HOPEWELL, May 12.—(A.P.)—Search for the kidnapped Lindbergh baby was an end today for the baby is dead, but the search for the slayers was intensified a thousand fold and by order of President Hoover himself, it will never be relaxed until the criminals are brought to justice.

The body was found by chance near the Lindbergh home yesterday afternoon and was little more than a skeleton, it was definitely identified. There was wound above the high forehead and the skull had been broken by the murderers who stole the child from his crib the night of Mar. 1.

The Colonel and wife, soon to become a mother for the second time, were secluded in their home today their unflinching hope brought to an end by the sad certainty of death.

Pending completion of funeral plans the body of the baby remained at an undertaker's premises in Trenton where an autopsy was performed.

As President Hoover in Washington was ordering an unrelenting pursuit of the slayers, state and county officials gathered in Trenton to plan concerted action against the criminals in the Lindbergh case. The Attorney General and prosecuting officials of the counties in which the Lindbergh estate lies and Colonel Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of state police who had general charge of the investigation since the baby was kidnaped.

District Attorney Erwin Marshall indicated an arrest might be expected. He thought it might be for several days. He said he was under suspicion now and that Dr. John Condon who paid the $50,000-dollar ransom for the baby, was not under suspicion.

Marshall favored the police as a motive for the crime, but it is known that the authorities had under consideration one fact which would indicate that Condon was not the kidnaper. It had been reported several times that both Condon and the Norfolk International airmen had turned over to the Lindberghs an article of clothing of a piece of cloth that contained blood that contact had been established with the actual kidnaper.

HELP IN PARALYSIS CASES

American Medical Association Is Told Of Extensive Tests

NEW ORLEANS, May 12.—As many children recover from infantile paralysis with the serum, so with it in the first test of this remedy, the American Medical Association was informed yesterday.

Instead of scrapping the possibilities of relief from serum, the report was given as opening a safe method of finding out more about the value of serum in this baffling disease.

The serum made from the blood of human infantile paralysis convalescents or immunized was widely used in last summer's epidemic. Yesterday was the first time the results of the test had been reported to the medical profession.

It was made in New York City through many months study of last summer's cases by the New York Academy of Medicine and the New York City health authorities. Details were reported by William H. Park, M. D., of New York University.

Children attacked by infantile paralysis were separated into two groups. One of 519 received serum. Another of 464 had none. Of the serum children 99 percent recovered without paralysis; of the non-serum youngsters 74 percent recovered similarly. The slightly higher percentage favors the non-serum in this instance, Dr. Park said, making the result a "draw."

"I personally believe," he said, "that serum given after the start of illness comes too late. But I believe there are possibilities of developing its use as a preventive. Hereafter, as a result of this test, it will be fair to divide paralytic patients into two groups. One will have serum, the other be without. We can feel sure that neither group is harmed but the opportunity for comparison will give us a more effective means of learning the uses of serum."

A smaller, but more intensive test, giving similar equality of results, was reported by the Harvard infantile paralysis commission. This test, which went into greater detail in studying the reaction of muscle by muscle, was more sympathetic in declaring that further experiment with serum is indicated.

In the opening assembly of the American Association last night the incoming president, Edward H. Gray, M. D., of Dallas, commended the enlightened secular press for its part in educating the public on medical questions, especially in its attitude toward quackery. "Radio," he charged, is "being directed and prostituted by designing and unscrupulous charlatans who enrich themselves at the expense of decency, truth and humanity."

Director And Von Sternberg Back At Old Jobs

HOLLYWOOD, May 12.—(A.P.)—Maxwell Dietrich and Josef von Sternberg have been back to their old jobs.

The movie director's walkout and subsequent suspension of the actress they were heralded to have headed for—that is, comedy and drama—has a movie written the way they wished, and not as determined upon by studio executives.

"We are all very happy to know that they are returning," said an announcement of Paramount studios. "I believe I was right," was Dietrich's comment.

Temporarily loss of pay, compensated for by publicity for several days was the net result of the "revolt."

It came about two weeks ago when the Paramount studio was disappointed with the script for the new starring vehicle chosen for Dietrich. A new script was prepared at the studio. This version was noted by Director von Sternberg.

Upon von Sternberg's refusal to direct the actress under the script, he was removed from the picture. Richard Wallace was named as director in his place, but Dietrich declined to perform for him. She, too, was suspended.

Today came the announcement that all was well again, that the director and actress were back on the payroll, and the play would go ahead as the studio executives planned.

Germany Has No Provision For Reparations

BERLIN, May 12.—(A.P.)—A budget which makes no provision for further reparations payments was presented Monday before the Reichstag, when it reconvened after a recess of 10 weeks.

In listing expenditures for the coming year, Finance Minister Dietrich said 700,000,000 marks ($165,900,000) would be used for interest and amortization on funded floating debts and reparations loans—which meant that while interest charges on the Dawes and Young loans would continue, no funds had been earmarked for further reparations.

ROB ATTACKS
ASKING FOR FUND

Blame For Budget
Increase Upon
Republican Control

BOSTON, May 13.—John J. Rascob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, speaking recently over the radio from a Democratic victory whistle party, combined a plea for funds for the Democratic victory drive with an attack on what he termed "racketeering" in the appropriation of money by the Republican party, and his advocacy of a home rule plan of prohibition to divert a yearly flow of at least $3,000,000,000 from present unlawful channels.

Placing the blame for a Federal budget increase of 60 per cent in five years on the Republican centralization of power and authority at Washington, he declared:

"I doubt if there is any racket in the United States, outside of the liquor racket with its bootleggers and innumerable other ills, but equals this Federal racket of appropriating money in such a wild and reckless manner. To meet such extravagant administration of our Federal affairs the Congress is hard pressed to find ways and means of levying taxes in amounts sufficient to balance the budget.

"It would be ludicrous, were it not so serious, to think that this great nation of ours should be struggling so hard to balance the budget at a time when our bootlegging racket is going merrily on and through corruption and law-breaking of every kind is collecting at least $3,000,000,000 a year from the public through illicit sale of intoxicating liquors.

"It is my hope that we shall devise ways and means in the coming election of definitely registering the desire of the people to have opportunity themselves of voting on the question of retaining, repealing or modifying the Eighteenth Amendment.

"Many people believe that the Eighteenth Amendment should be repealed outright. It is my belief that the same end can be more certainly secured, and on a much more solid basis, through the adoption of the home rule plan; that is, leave the Eighteenth Amendment in the Constitution exactly as it is, but put a new amendment in the Constitution which will provide that nothing in the Constitution of the United States shall prevent any state from taking over complete control of the manufacture, transportation, importation and sale of intoxicating beverages within its own territory and exportation thereof to such other states and countries and territories as do not prohibit same, provided, however, that the plan under which the state proposes to take over such liquor control is first approved by the people of that state in a state-wide referendum.

Mr. Rascob ended his address with a recommendation that the party adopt a national platform plank calling on every Democratic senator and representative in Congress which would give the people a chance to vote on the question of retaining the Eighteenth Amendment without change or of modifying it in line with the home rule plan.

He prefaced his remarks with the declaration that the 1924 defeat was due to the failure of the Democratic party to organize nationally, a fault which has since been rectified by the untiring efforts of the National Committee under the leadership of J. P. J. Shouse, and that the purpose of the present victory drive is to enable the party, not only to pay off all indebtedness before the convention, but also to raise funds enough to insure "a flying start in our 1932 campaign for victory."

His speech was made at the Boston Victory Whist, attended by Governor Ely, Frank J. Donahue, chairman of the Democratic State Committee; Robert Jackson, secretary of the National Committee; Leopold M. Goulet, chairman of

DISCARD LEAGUE

Action Might Menace
Power Which Union
Of Nations Boasts

PARIS, May 13.—At the present time two nations—one European and the other Asiatic—are threatening to leave the League of Nations. Or rather, newspaper statements emanating from these countries, and apparently "inspired," suggest the possibility of early withdrawal if certain conditions are not satisfied. These menaces, which are not official, may or may not be serious. They may be intended as mere reminders of a remote contingency, or they may, on the other hand, have an immediate practical purpose which might harshly be described as political "blackmail."

Both of these countries want the League to take a particular course, and to induce the League to take that course they wish it to be understood that they can, if they please, break away, and so seriously damage the League. Although this intimation is conveyed only in more or less responsible reports, it none the less is calculated to have an effect upon League action. It takes away, in a certain measure, the freedom of the judgment of the League. The League is compelled to choose between speaking and acting as it feels it ought to and thus weakening itself from the viewpoint of membership, on the one hand, and keeping itself numerically intact at the expense of outspokenness.

A third country is at the same time suggesting that it will have to reconsider its position in the League if satisfactory decisions are not taken in regard to the problem of disarmament. There are indeed nations in still another country who assert that if the League cannot provide security it is not worth while to belong to it.

It will be remembered that South American states some time ago fell out with the League because they were not pleased with its conduct, and a European state adopted a hostile attitude over the question of permanent seats on the Council.

Now all this reveals a misconception of the nature and functions of the League that is highly regrettable and that deserves to be recorded. The League should provide an indispensable organization of international cooperation. But in order to have international cooperation there must be an international agreement to abide by the results of the League deliberations, whether they happen to serve the diplomacy of this or that country, or whether they are deemed to be detrimental to the special interests of this or that country.

The Covenant, it is true gives to the members of the League the right to resign—though two years' notice is called for.

Yet, except in the gravest circumstances, which would denote the complete failure of the League, no nation should choose to avail itself of such a right. If it is indeed animated by the desire to promote international cooperation, it must not, at every moment, judge the League from its own national standpoint. If it does, it admits that its aims are purely national, and that it joined the League, and remained in the League, not in order to increase the sense of solidarity, but rather to reap advantages for itself.

Given In Testimony

OTTAWA, May 13.—National ownership of a dominion-wide system of high-powered radio-casting stations, with private ownership of low-powered stations operating on shared channels for local service, was unanimously recommended in the House of Commons recently.

Following the presentation of the report by Dr. Raymond Morand, Conservative, Mr. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister, announced that Canada and the United States have agreed to arrange a readjustment of channels so as to conform with the new scheme.

The outstanding recommendations of the report are: Chain of 50,000-watt national stations, operating on clear channels located at suitable intervals across Canada; appointment of a federal commission of three, with assistant commissioners for each province; advertising to be limited to not more than 5 per cent of each program period; the entire cost of radio to be met by transmitters and receivers' license fees and advertising income; a number of stations of 100-watt power and under, to remain under private ownership but to be regulated as to programs and advertising by the rules of the commission.

The small stations are for the purpose of serving areas not satisfactorily covered by the national stations—for providing secondary stations in those areas where there is a demand for several channels to be in operation.

NEW YORK, May 13.—(A.P.)—The incredible story of Ivar Kreuger's life and death—the story of a financial adventurer whose word was better than his bond—was recounted in part Wednesday.

The Swedish industrialist's formation of a capitalist empire which recognized neither government's nor laws nor bookkeeping; his ability to obtain millions on the mere strength of his name; his dramatic end as a suicide—all were told in a bankruptcy proceedings against the International Match Company.

Donald Durant, partner in Lee Higginson & Co., his American banking representative, testified before Referee Ehrhorn, that the news of Kreuger's death from at the same time for educational purposes and experimental work and for local broadcasting of community interest.

Before instituting changes in radio broadcasting the committee recommends that the federal commission "make a complete survey of the present system, with particular reference to adequate coverage."

Since the committee began its sittings on Mar. 8, it has heard evidence and received briefs from 53 sources, including the Aird report of the Royal Commission on Radio Broadcasting of 1929 and the report of the Canadian Radio League. The new scheme is closely patterned on the latter report.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—(A.P.)—Legislation to place a strict curb on the operations of Stock Exchanges was introduced yesterday as the Senate Banking Committee prepared to go ahead with its investigation of the New York market.

Senator King (D. Utah), submitted a bill to prevent the use of the mails for transactions on an exchange unless the rules of that exchange are satisfactory to the Postmaster General.

Norbeck said he was not informed how many of the brokers still refused to allow their books to be examined after the subpoenas were issued.

King, in introducing his bill, told the Senate it was to "prevent gambling in securities" which he said "has been a curse to this country and contributed materially to the economic depression."

POSSIBILITY OF RADIO DICTATOR TOLD BY WRITER

Position Similar To Czar Of Movies Offered For Industry

By VOLNEY D. HURD
Will American broadcasting decide to regulate itself from within before it is forced to undergo regulation from without? That is the current question in all radio circles. The baseball industry and the motion picture industry have both had to appoint "czars" in order to avoid excessive government regulation. Broadcasting, controlled only by its national association which has decided limited powers, has seemed to be miles away from the possibility of nominating any single person to head its activities.

Throw upon the defensive by the recent dictum of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers that all broadcast stations must pay 5 per cent of their gross income for the privilege of performing its musical works, however, the broadcasters have now brought a man to the fore. He is none other than Oswald Schuetz, brilliant newspaper man who, lone-handed, brought about the Government's investigation of the so-called radio monopoly of the N. C. A. and its associates.

Mr. Schuetz's campaign to carry on against these most powerful corporations of unmitigated resources, himself backed by only a few manufacturers who contribute but little, still stands as one of the most outstanding achievements in the history of big corporation discipline. It was but natural, therefore, that the broadcasters should turn to Mr. Schuetz to lead them in their fight against the society mentioned above, which for the sake of revenue shall refer to hereafter as A. S. C. A. P.

While this new appointment is extremely significant in itself, it is an indication of the trend of the times that its importance is best appreciated. If the broadcasters meet with any degree of success in their negotiations with the A. S. C. A. P. and the continued public protests against the way they are carrying on their business increase, it will be a most logical thing to do for them to ask Mr. Schuetz to assume the position of "czar of broadcasting" in order to keep them within bounds. There could be no better suited than Mr. Schuetz, who understands the public and who has invariably been associated with activities which emphasize the importance of the people as against wealthy organized businesses. It will be interesting to see how this new chapter in radio turns out.

In these days of limited business on the part of so many concerns, the continued incalculable prosperity of the broadcasting networks stands out in vivid relief. Noted in newspaper broadcasting this year it is expected that nearly $50,000,000 will be taken in by the two big chains that are engaged in network broadcasting. During the height of the prosperity era $50,000,000 worth of business would be something to talk about, but at the present time it stands out as something to be viewed with awe and wonder. Incidentally, the view of this large income, it is rather interesting to hear the many complaints on all sides from the broadcasters about the attempts of the Government to tax them extra for their activities. It is particularly interesting on the latter point.

The networks depend upon the great telephone lines to connect them together. These lines are the subject of possible tax legislation. At a time when the greatest effort should be made to balance the budget, protection at a tax which will help achieve this, coming from two groups with an expected $50,000,000 income this year, is rather hard to appreciate.

During the first quarter of 1932 the cumulative sales of the National Broadcasting Company, Society amounted to $12,176,145 as against $2,000,015 during the same three months of 1931, or an increase of revenue of 51.5 per cent. In view of these figures broadcasters should deem themselves extremely fortunate that they have not been the objects of far greater attempts on the part of federal legislators to help balance the national budget.

While awaiting the anticipated and unopposed passage by Congress of a law permitting licenses in reliance of chance on the radio, a very excellent step, for the intervening interval. This is not more than the postal law, a partial protector of public interest.

Mayor Replies To Letter Sent By Bondholders

Mayor Owen said a Half Million paying bond, necessitating that those who have paid their paying bonds and taxes a same pro rata share of this additional burden.

"The Commission does not agree with the conclusions expressed in second paragraph of your letter advising that it is not in the welfare of the community, but maintains that the financial condition is absolutely necessary to the protection of the city's credit, all of whom have a right to look to the Commission in exercising its judgment for the use of the tax payers and holders of Sanford's securities. It is fully conceded that your statement presents a serious situation, but it is not admitted that the Commission's judgment should be considered more fully than the judgment of your City Council.

"The Commission, the Commission maintains that it is in the best interest of a consequence has a more extensive knowledge of prevailing conditions than your Committee could be expected to have, hence the Commission can only feel that when your Committee is making a determination on this and on other matters, without conference, that such action in the nature of a referendum upon the bond issue and intelligent use of the Commission. The Commission notes that your Committee is not averse to discussing 'Debt' service program for the next fiscal year and possibly several years to follow. Each discussion would not result in a final payment, but it is not expected that any tax payers or bondholders will have any serious qualms, hence there will be no trouble in organizing the city to pay even a small part of the interest that is accumulating at such an alarming rate.

Haines Elected As President Of Growers' Union

The only by a cooperative effort can we hope to overcome the gradually accumulating legislation which will appear as one of the major problems of the new year.

Mr. Haines, one of the leading growers of the new year, was elected president of the growers' union. He was elected with the greatest margin for organization, particularly in Sanford. Asked from the floor what the aims of the organization were, Mr. Haines answered: "To dominate the public mind in the line of this state and to secure representation in the Legislature."

Sanford Lake Trust grows, organized the group this winter. It became organized at once and drew up a definite platform. "The industry will be wiped away," he declared. "The growers of this county ought to be proud to have a man like Mr. Haines to lead us out of the wilderness, and I say that we are backed if we can't get organized back to back."

He charged the Mediterranean fruit fly campaign as being "the rottenest piece of legislation that was ever placed on people to support of the world, declared that growers of this county had lost $10,000,000 annually because of high freight rates, particularly to the west, this being $100,000 of which went to railroad alone, and warned the group that "now the fruit flies are now at work to stop us shipping produce by train."

Harry M. Papworth, a voice to comment, Mr. Schuch for his praise of Mr. Haines, and declared that the organization needed him as its president. During his talk, he digressed to tell of his experience following the fruit fly campaign, and to conclude with "don't let's vote for people who want to do something for us."

He was referring to Ruth Bryan Owen, Florida's representative, who he charged with doing "absolutely nothing" toward the relief of growers who suffered damage as the result of the fruit fly scare. "I had charge of collecting damage claims in this county only," Mr. Papworth said, "and I had almost 5000, ranging from $50 to $10,000 damages. When Ruth Bryan Owen came to Sanford, I showed her these claims and asked her what she was going to do about them. She said that she would do all she could."

BILLION DOLLARS YEAR IS SPENT BY U.S. ON VETERANS

One-Fourth Of Country's Total Expenditures Thus Used

WASHINGTON, May 13. — The United States now spends annually about $1,000,000,000, or one-fourth of the country's total expenditures, for the benefit of veterans.

This is more than ever spent by any other country, for like purposes. Appropriation of this money is being made at a time of national financial emergency, and when the country's debt for the fiscal year will reach $2,500,000,000. Instead of being the amount, how Congress is proposing to increase it, despite President Hoover's protests.

It is pointed out that the money has been spent in Washington only recently. It is one of the most significant phases of the present administration's policy.

themselves led by veterans, are now demanding a curb on these expenditures and are calling on President Hoover to veto a bill for additional pension bills just passed by the House of Representatives, should they eventually reach him.

An aroused public has practically assured defeat of the $2,000,000,000 cash bonus for the time being, and now citizens are organizing, like that led by Capt. Arthur H. Roosevelt, son of the President, and himself a veteran, are calling for other reductions.

"In the one great item of the federal budget where hundreds of millions of dollars can be saved without hurting the and without impairing any essential function of the government,"

The particular objection, made by the Roosevelt organization, however, is not its benefits paid to soldiers and sailors, but the way it is paid to the hundreds of millions of dollars shown by the books to be paid out annually to men who are no longer disabled, but who are able to work.

"The amount of money being paid to veterans who suffered no disability in war service," Mr. Roosevelt told the House, "is $1,000,000,000. He declared $1,000,000,000 could be saved annually by proposed reforms.

Under one federal law pointed out, veterans' disability up to 1925 are 'presumed' to have arisen out of war service, which means that the war period beyond its legal termination is under another federal law, 'presumed' to be wholly unconnected with the war period, even as artificially extended by law.

REFINER'S SHOP HOBBERED

NEW YORK, May 13. — (A.P.) — The store of Moe Hammerstein, Inc., refiners, was robbed yesterday by four men who escaped with $20,000 in gold, platinum and silver, $1,000 in cash and a bag of loose diamonds valued at $500.

LUMBER PLANT HOBBERED

SPRINGFIELD, S. C., May 13. — (A.P.) — A $50,000 fire yesterday destroyed the lumber yard of the Paducah Lumber Company, after threatening to burn down the mill. The fire was caused by equipment left in the yard and the Blackville.

Candidate For Office Is Not Superstitious

Declaring that he is not the "least bit superstitious," D. D. Welborn, candidate for the office of Justice of the Peace, today qualified with the clerk of the circuit court at exactly 3:13 o'clock this afternoon and announced that "I am not afraid of Friday the 13th or any other would-be unlucky sign in the coming elections."

Mr. Welborn has been a resident of Sanford for the past eight years and has been in business on First Street since April 1931. Before becoming a business man he was connected with the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad as an employee for a number of years. Mr. Welborn saw service in the conflict with Mexico in 1916 and was included in the active firing line in the battle with Pancho Villa. He joined the army at the outbreak of the world war and was still in service when the Armistice was signed.

Solo Comes Out For U. S. Licensed Rum Dispensaries

Reed probably will repeat his views to the meeting in Philadelphia Saturday of the state committee and the delegation to the national convention. He said in his letter:

"In a nutshell my position is this: That the Eighteenth Amendment represents a positive benefit in that it put an end to the licensed saloon and this benefit ought not to be lost by any action that we take now."

"I have no illusions on the subject of speakeasies and bootleggers, nor on the subject of racketeering and encouragement of criminals, and I believe that a change in the law is urgently needed."

"I should support a system such as either the Swedish or Quebec systems, which would provide for the licensed sale of spirits in government-owned or government-controlled dispensaries."

"I refused to sign the Tydings petition (to legalize and tax beer) and will oppose any outright repeal that does not provide for the legislation before coming in members of the party steering committee for a study of the problem; last night. Pending further development of the gigantic scheme, all were wary of predicting or commenting, but there was a distinct under-tone of confidence in the Senate.

The program contemplates loans to states up to a total of $300,000,000, the money to be used exclusively for relief purposes. The remainder of the new emergency fund would be employed to make secured loans to assist private and public construction.

The Reconstruction Finance corporation, with a capital of $500,000,000, appropriated by Congress, has the power now to issue debentures up to $1,500,000. This borrowing capacity would be double.

There have been increasing signs of late that the President and his advisers were seriously considering the whole national relief situation.

Hoover has always stood firm against direct federal appropriations for the unemployed. His special employment committee has maintained that the states and cities can and should meet the situation.

But with Congress about to adjourn for the summer, it was expected that by some high in the administration that there should be an authorization for emergency help if it is found necessary.

Senator Watson without discussing the details of the relief program, told the Senate "ample opportunity" for consideration of the relief problem would be available before June 10, the date of adjournment which leaders of all parties have agreed upon as the goal for quitting. He made this assurance in reply to Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, who asked and had seen no politicians. The best farm situation, he said, he found in the Northwest, where sentiment is that if left alone by Washington farmers can improve their situation.

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., May 13.—(A.P.)—Henry Morgenthau, Jr., publisher of a farm paper and New York State conservation commissioner, after an airplane trip through the Midwest agriculture belt, advised Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt here yesterday that the economic depression had left the farmers "numb" and ready to desert the Republican party for a new leader.

"A prominent agriculturist of Iowa told me Roosevelt would win 60 per cent of the farm vote in that state," said Morgenthau. "The farmers are disgusted with the present administrations and efforts to relieve agriculture."

Morgenthau's trip carried him into 10 states and as far West as Oklahoma City and into St. Paul of the Northwest.

Roosevelt was not inclined to comment upon the relief program enunciated by Senator Robinson, Democratic leader in the Senate, carrying a bond issue of $2,000,000,000 for public works and $300,000,000 for personal relief.

The governor insisted he had been so busy he had not had time "even to look over the newspaper accounts" of the Robinson proposal which won the approval of former Gov. Alfred E. Smith and Gwen D. Young, possible rival at Chicago for the presidential nomination.

It was significant, however, that Roosevelt sponsored relief projects in New York similar to those urged by Senator Robinson. His unemployment relief last summer provided direct assistance to persons thrown out of work. He also endorsed the $30,000,000 bond issue for unemployment to be voted on by New Yorkers next November.

Morgenthau said he talked only with farm editors and agricultural teachers in his Western swing

Ritchie Formally Placed In Race For Party Nomination

BALTIMORE, May 13.—(A.P.)—Maryland formally placed Gov. Albert C. Ritchie before the nation yesterday as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, when his party in state convention pledged to him in the national convention.

The state delegates bound the nominating vote to its four time governor in unanimous acclamation, and then roared the Maryland theater with cheers as the executive pledged his full effort to "the assured Democratic victory in November."

Governor Ritchie's name was placed before the convention by Richard F. Cleveland, son of the late President Grover Cleveland, in a speech in which he called the executive the leader to guide the nation out of the morass into which the Republican maladministration has plunged it.

"It is nomination," Cleveland said, "will be followed by his election as president of the United States, and in him the country will have an administrator and leader equipped and ready to perform the

Nurse Identifies Body Of Child As Lindberghs' Baby

TRENTON, N. J., May 13.—(A.P.)—Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf last night issued the following emergency bulletin:

"A preliminary telephone report from the county physician indicates that a number of positive identifying characteristics have been discovered in the body found yesterday which would identify it as being the body of the Lindbergh baby."

"Betty Gow (the baby's nursemaid) has positively identified the garments found on the body discovered yesterday as being the garments in which the Lindbergh baby was clothed on the night of the kidnaping. The sleeping suit was not on the baby but the two shirts on the baby have been positively identified by Betty Gow."

"Colonel Linbergh was immediately communicated with and is on his way to Hopewell now."

"More than 20 additional troops were immediately ordered to duty upon the discovery of the facts which have come to life since yesterday. Additional men are being detailed also."

(In an earlier Bulletin Colonel Schwartzkopf said "we have had under suspicion a group of persons suspected of being the kidnapers.")

"Information concerning the gang referred to is now being checked and such parts of this as will not interfere with the apprehension of the gang will be revealed in a later bulletin."

Soion Comes Out For U. S. Licensed Rum Dispensaries

Reed probably will repeat his views to the meeting in Philadelphia Saturday of the state committee and the delegation to the national convention. He said in his letter:

"In a nutshell my position is this: That the Eighteenth Amendment represents a positive benefit in that it put an end to the licensed saloon and this benefit ought not to be lost by any action that we take now."

"I have no illusions on the subject of speakeasies and bootleggers, nor on the subject of racketeering and encouragement of criminals, and I believe that a change in the law is urgently needed."

"I should support a system such as either the Swedish or Quebec systems, which would provide for the licensed sale of spirits in government-owned or government-controlled dispensaries."

"I refused to sign the Tydings petition (to legalize and tax beer) and will oppose any outright repeal that does not provide for the
