

Major Ring Said To Be Broken

Police Nabbing 11 In Drug Bust

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

A multi-million-dollar drug ring operating out of Seminole County may have been cut into today with the expected arrests of 11 persons.

The arrest warrants, delivered today in Seminole County, West Palm Beach and Tennessee, were issued based on information filed with the Brevard-Seminole County state attorney's office following an eight-month drug investigation.

Among those scheduled to be arrested were recently suspended Seminole County sheriff's deputy Arthur Price, on charges of aiding and abetting and trafficking in cannabis; Robert Collier of Seminole County, for conspiracy trafficking in cannabis and methaqualone and conspiracy to traffic in cocaine; Johnny Jones of Oviedo, conspiracy to traffic in cannabis and methaqualone and conspiracy to traffic in cocaine; Aubrey Clark of Oviedo, conspiracy to traffic in cannabis and methaqualone and conspiracy to traffic in cocaine; Fred McConeghy, 58, of Oviedo, conspiracy to traffic in cannabis and methaqualone; Buford "Buddy" Higgs, 27, of West Palm Beach, conspiracy to traffic in cannabis and methaqualone and conspiracy to traffic in cocaine; Alex Lee Tindall, 43, of Oviedo, conspiracy to traffic in cannabis and methaqualone and conspiracy to traffic in cocaine; two West Palm Beach men known only as "Tom" and "Steve," conspiracy to traffic in cannabis and methaqualone; Gary Hamilton, Maryville, Tenn., conspiracy to traffic in cannabis and methaqualone; and a man known only as "Russell," conspiracy to traffic in cannabis and methaqualone and conspiracy to traffic in cocaine. McConeghy, Tindall and Higgs recently were released on bond from the Cass County jail in Fargo, N.D., following their arrests Dec. 20 in that city for illegal delivery of cocaine. All three men are back in Seminole County following their recent release, and were to be arrested today.

Price, suspended last week on suspicions he may have been trafficking in controlled substances, had been responsible for maintaining the Sheriff's Department aircraft.

The investigation involved joint participation by the Sheriff's Department, Longwood police, and the Seminole County Drug Task Force, which is made up of Sanford police, U.S. Customs agents and Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) agents.

Additional arrests are anticipated over the next few days by Sanford and Longwood police and sheriff's deputies.

"These are all big people we are swooping down on, picking up and taking into custody for drug trafficking," Sanford Police Sgt. William Bernosky said. "They were primarily operating out of Sanford Airport."

"One of the guys, Alex Tindall, has been under investigation by various departments for the last five years," said Tony Brooks, Sanford police officer and former Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) agent. "Most of his activity has been around Sanford Airport. Since my coming back here from the DEA, my department (Sanford) has been focusing a large amount of attention to the airport activity through intelligence people, monitoring his activity in and out of the country."

Brooks said that for the last 4½ months he and the FDLE, U.S. Customs, and Agent Danielle Dow of the Longwood police have spent "12 to 14 hours a day and weekends doing nothing but constant surveillance of these people."

An arrest of the 11 had been planned two weeks ago when an attempt was made to smuggle about $1.5 million in marijuana into the country, Brooks said.

"They mostly smuggle in from Nassau and the Barranquilla area of Colombia," he said. "This plane a couple of weeks ago was coming in, but they developed engine trouble and had to set down in the Bahamas."

Brooks said Bahamas officials seized the plane and marijuana and held two of the three people aboard as hostages until the other passenger could return to the U.S. and get "$60,000 ransom for the plane, dope and two people." "He got the people out but they were still negotiating for the plane and dope."

Brooks said agents continued surveillance of the group and decided "now was the best time to move in."

"We want to try and get bail set high, about $150,000 each so we can make it hard on them to get out of jail," he said. "We also plan to try to freeze their assets."

Brooks said his department, along with other law-enforcement agencies, plan to confiscate at least one airplane supposedly used in the suspected drug operation and other related properties and assets belonging to those arrested.

"We know that over the last quarter of a year alone, at least $10 million in drug trafficking has been going on here," Brooks said.

Recession Slowing Down, But...

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The recession may be slowing, but that won't keep unemployment from rising.

That was the assessment of economists both in and outside the government Tuesday as the Commerce Department reported its index of leading indicators declined 0.3 percent in November.

This was a much smaller drop than the previous two months — 2.1 percent in September and 1.6 percent in October — leading Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige to say "the business downturn may be slowing."

But Baldrige also stressed hard economic times lie ahead. Most elements of the index which reflect the industrial economy were down, he said, indicating production cutbacks, further selling down of inventories, and probably a further rise in unemployment.

The government has been saying recovery from the recession should begin around the middle of 1982.

Sandra Shabor, economist with Chase Econometrics near Philadelphia, said the report indicates, "We're still in a recession but it might not be too severe a one... We're looking for at least a slow recovery to begin by spring."

In terms of overall decline in economic output, she said, the recession will be much less severe than the big one in 1975. But Chase believes unemployment may hit 9.1 percent in the second quarter of 1982, just topping the peak unemployment rate of 1975.

Unemployment typically reaches its height just as, or shortly after, recovery begins. When a recession begins employers are reluctant to lay off workers right away. Similarly, when it is ending they don't rehire until they are sure business is improving.

But, why should unemployment be just as high in a milder recession? One reason is it started higher. Unemployment rose from under 5 percent to 9 percent in 1974-75. This time it started above 7 percent and had reached 8.4 percent by November.

In a separate report, the Commerce Department said the United States ran a foreign merchandise trade deficit of $4.41 billion in November. That pushed the cumulative U.S. trade deficit for the first 11 months of this year to $38.4 billion. This was more than last year's full-year total of $38.4 billion.

Since another trade deficit of several billion is expected in December, this year's final figure could be close to or above the record trade deficit of $42.4 billion set in 1978.

Sanford Appeals Effluent Decision

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The state Department of Environmental Regulation's (DER) refusal to allow the city of Sanford to continue dumping effluent from its Poplar Avenue sewer plant into Lake Monroe is being appealed by the city to Tallahassee. City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles said today that the basis of the city's appeal is that the discharge of effluent into the lake does not make the body of water any more polluted than it already is.

Secondly, Knowles noted that while the state agency has refused to continue a Sanford permit, it has granted the city of Orlando a permit to dump effluent from its new regional plant under construction at Iron Bridge near Oviedo into a waterway. And that effluent ultimately will end up in Lake Monroe, he said.

He said the purity of the effluent from the Iron Bridge plant and the Sanford plant will be about the same.

"The major difference," said Knowles, "is that Orlando and Orange County have more clout," adding that the effluent from the Iron Bridge plant will be far greater in volume than the effluent from the Sanford facility.

"What the DER did was take away Sanford's permit and gave it to Orlando," he said.

Sanford recently gave up its plan of many years to expand the Sanford sewer plant into a regional facility able to serve not only Sanford residents but also residents in Lake Mary and the unincorporated areas of north Seminole County.

The city decided to abandon the plan after DER officials indicated the state would require the city to acquire additional property to land-spread the effluent rather than discharging it into the lake.

With the new ruling, the City Commission voted to abandon the regional concept.

Meanwhile, the city has continued with its plans to expand the sewer plant to serve the city's growing population, and recently acquired by condemnation 5.1 acres of property along the lakefront for that purpose.

Knowles said the appeal documents will show that Lake Monroe's water quality without the Sanford sewer plant effluent is of "such degradation that the sewer-plant effluent doesn't make it any worse."

In a recent study the DER took tests of the water quality of the lake at its lowest point, saying the quality was poorest at the point where Sanford's effluent enters the body of water.

Knowles said the state agency failed to point out that major contributors to the lake pollution are natural and agricultural interests. "These are two-thirds of the problem," he said.

Meanwhile, Lee Miller, DER grants administrator for Central Florida, said today that while the existing discharge from the Sanford plant into the lake is illegal, there's nothing the state agency can use as leverage to force Sanford to continue with plans for a regional system.

Altamonte Pays $1,000 For Racial Slur

Basing its decision on economics rather than an admission of guilt, the Altamonte Springs City Commission voted unanimously Tuesday night to pay $1,000 in an out-of-court settlement to a former city employee who says he was called a "dumb nigger" by another city employee in 1979.

The commission expressed its unhappiness in settling the lawsuit, saying the settlement is not an admission of the city's guilt but is necessary because of the increasing legal fees that would have been incurred through continuing the proceedings.

The suit was brought against the city by the U.S. Department of Labor on behalf of former city employee Hughes Barnes Jr., of 109 Station St., Altamonte Springs. Barnes contended that while he was employed as a city laborer, another city laborer, Brian Ireland, uttered a racial slur at him in May 1979 while Barnes was working for the city through the now nearly defunct Comprehensive Employment and Training Act. CETA was a federally sponsored program.

As a result of the remark, Barnes resigned and filed suit against the city through the Labor Department "the last day before the statute of limitations which would affect this incident ran out. It was not an immediate action," said David Kornreich, labor attorney for the city and Seminole County.

Kornreich added that Barnes was fired from the city's employ in 1979 after he reportedly failed to show up for work on numerous occasions.

In 1980, about a year after the alleged incident, Barnes filed the complaint. "I think we all want what is best for the city," Commissioner Lee Constantine said. He added that the city should therefore pay Barnes $1,000 instead of having to continue to pay legal fees which could ultimately result in several thousands of dollars.

According to City Manager Jeff Etchberger, it was a choice of the city's paying $1,000 and Seminole County's paying $1,200 in legal fees, or spending about $6,000 in legal fees to continue fighting the allegations. In addition, if the city did not emerge the victor in the suit, it would have had to pay about $5,741, plus 12 percent interest, in retroactive pay to Barnes.

Seminole County became involved in the legal dispute because it was the CETA program sponsor. On Dec. 21 the County Commission voted 3-2 in favor of the $1,000 out-of-court settlement.

Kornreich said the settlement includes a non-admission and non-disclosure clause for bidding Barnes from telling people about the $1,000 settlement.

"However, it is unknown how enforceable those clauses are," he said. "It is there, though, to protect the city's interest in the settlement, because I think you feel like I do in that, personally, I don't want to give him even one dollar."

Etchberger said his staff has been counseled on several occasions as a matter of "good business" concerning the ramifications of racially derogatory remarks.

"I don't anticipate any future problems of this nature," he said. "There is always the possibility it could turn up again, but our people are conscious of the situation."

"This is an old skeleton in the closet from prior days that this administration and this commission have to clean up," he added.

Conserving Water

County To Start Requiring 'Stingy' Plumbing Fixtures

By LEE DANCY
Herald Staff Writer

By late next week, only water-stingy plumbing fixtures will be legally permitted for installation in Seminole County buildings.

Seminole County, like most parts of Florida, is facing a progressive water shortage. Sporadic rainfall and a continually growing population do not combine to make secure future water supply, said Benjamin "Woody" Price, county land-use planning director.

About 150,000 people currently live in Seminole County. Planners estimate nearly 100,000 people moved to Seminole County in the last 10 years and another 155,000 should relocate here by the year 2000.

This means approximately 315,000 people should be living in Seminole by the year 2000.

"If the county currently had 315,000," Price said in a memo to County Administrator Roger Neiswender, "the inconveniences could become a crisis (particularly for farming interests who would 'compete' with other residents for the use of water)."

To avert this unpleasant scenario, Price and his staff began studying assorted water conservation methods. They chose a proposal requiring mandatory installation of water-conserving plumbing fixtures because it is the "easiest" way to save water, he said.

"It isn't going to require people to make any lifestyle change, and it works with people on a central water supply and well-water users," he added.

About half of Seminole County's residents do not receive their water from a central source. All residents, however, would use 20 to 30 percent less water if their homes or other buildings were equipped with the miserly faucets, toilets, shower heads and other fixtures using water, Price said.

The County Commission adopted the ordinance unanimously at its Dec. 23 meeting. Price said the new county law is currently being reviewed by the Florida secretary of state and should become effective next week.

Estimates of the amount of water in gallons which will be flushed or drained away in Seminole by using the new fixtures have not been made, Price said.

In Pueblo, Colo., however, a similar ordinance requiring low-flow plumbing fixtures was estimated to have saved 30.46 million gallons in 1980 and 196.05 million gallons by 1985.

An average bathroom faucet under normal flow conditions delivers three gallons of water into the sink every minute. A similar controlled-flow faucet should use only 2.75 gallons a minute, according to data compiled by Pueblo planners.

Other comparisons for various fixtures show regular sink faucets spewing 4.5 gallons per minute, while low-flow faucets deliver only 2.75.

Price said the one plumbing fixture using more water than any other is a toilet. The basic toilet requires six gallons of water for each flush, while a conserving model requires only 3.5.

Before suggesting the low-flow water fixtures as the best means of saving water, Price and his staff surveyed area plumbing suppliers to make certain enough low-flow fixtures were available.

That survey revealed an ample supply, he said.

Other alternatives considered included promoting the use of septic tanks, encouraging or requiring the installation of "gray water" systems, and deep-well injection. All these systems would return a significant amount of water back into the ground, but would have detrimental effects on the environment or on builders' pocketbooks, Price said.

Man, 24, Charged In Incident

Sanford Cop Assaulted With Own Gun

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

A Sanford man was being held today under $2,000 bond at the Seminole County jail on charges of using a firearm in the commission of a felony which resulted in minor injuries to a Sanford police officer.

Ronald Eugene Gordon, 24, of 3301 S. Sanford Ave., was arrested at 10:56 a.m. Tuesday after Sanford police responded to a call concerning a family dispute at Gordon's residence. Upon his arrival, officer Paul Peterson became involved in a fight with Gordon, police reports said. While the two scuffled, Gordon reportedly removed Peterson's service revolver from its holster and began pointing the gun at Peterson who at that point was lying on the floor.

Police reinforcements arrived within minutes and disarmed the gunman, according to police Sgt. William Bernosky. Peterson was transported to Seminole Memorial Hospital where he was treated and released for bruises and scratches incurred in the fight.

BONAIRE SUED

The Bonaire Development Co. Inc., developers of the proposed 528-unit Carmel by the Lake condominium project in Casselberry, is being sued for allegedly failing to make payments on a $900,000 loan.

The suit, filed in circuit court, Sanford, on Tuesday by the Arizona-based Granada Construction Corp., asks the court to order the sale of three parcels of property used as collateral on the loan in order to satisfy the default.

According to court records, Bonaire officials signed the $900,000 note on Dec. 12, 1980 and have failed to make payments since Oct. 1. Granada is requesting the court order the Altamonte Springs-based Bonaire to repay the loan in full.

To do that, the company could be required to sell all or part of the three pieces of land used as security on the loan. Two of the three parcels are located on Lake Howell east of State Road 436 in Casselberry. The third is located west of S.R. 436.

Planned for some of the Lake Howell property is the Carmel by the Lake project, a development which is awaiting final approval by the Casselberry City Council.

DEPUTY'S FOOT RUN OVER

A Sanford man was being held in the Seminole County jail today on $8,000 after he was arrested at 1:05 p.m. Tuesday on charges of aggravated battery with a motor vehicle and resisting an officer with violence.

Willie L. Williams, 22, of 24 Castle Brewer Ct., was arrested at Joe Cremons Inc. car lot on U.S. Highway 17-92, south of Airport Boulevard, following an incident in the rear parking lot of Joe's Pool Hall, 13th Street and Olive Avenue.

Sheriff's deputies said they saw a man, described by them as Williams, getting into a vehicle and ordered him to stop. The man got into the vehicle and Deputy John Butler displayed his identification badge through the man's car window. The man then started the car and backed over Butler's right foot.

According to John Spolaki, Sheriff's Department spokesman, Butler is receiving medical attention for the injury because the foot has become swollen.

Reagan Considers New Steps Against Soviets

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — President Reagan, having ordered one set of economic sanctions against the Soviets, is contemplating tougher steps if the military repressions continue in Poland.

Laying the "heavy and direct responsibility" on the Soviets for the Polish crackdown, Reagan directed a cut in two-thirds of the United States trade with the U.S.S.R., blocking further sales of gas and oil pipe-laying equipment, computers and other high technology Russia covets.

In other moves, Reagan also suspended further negotiations on a long-term grain agreement that was to take effect next September 30.

In addition, he suspended flights by the Russian airline Aeroflot to the United States, suspended negotiations on a new U.S.-Soviet maritime agreement, closed the Soviet Purchasing Commission and decided not to renew exchange agreements between the two countries in the fields of energy, science and technology. All other U.S.-Soviet exchange agreements are being reviewed.

White House spokesman Larry Speakes said that Reagan was "perfectly satisfied that he's done the right thing."

The president and his wife Nancy planned to fly to Palm Springs today to spend the New Year's holiday at the posh estate of multi-millionaire publisher Walter Annenberg.

Speakes said Reagan hoped to relax and soak up the sun at the heavily guarded estate which also boasts an 18-hole golf course.

Also vacationing at the desert resort was Secretary of State Alexander Haig and Speakes said Reagan and Haig would confer later in the week.

In a statement outlining the sanctions against the Soviet Union Tuesday, Reagan warned "we will watch events in Poland closely in coming days and weeks. Further steps may be necessary and I will be prepared to take them. American decisions will be determined by Soviet actions."

In remarks to reporters, Reagan stressed that the steps he had taken were not meant to increase the hardships on the Polish people. "Quite the contrary," he said, "by our actions, we expect to put powerful doubts in the minds of the Soviet and Polish leaders about this continued repression."

The new round of restrictions against the Soviets was described by a senior administration official as "moderate and measured" but two diplomatic observers said they were stronger than expected and wiped out many of the accords reached in the detente era.

How Lawyers Get Rich

MIAMI (UPI) — Lawyer Ronald S. Guralnick will make $245,833 for representing the family of black insurance man Arthur McDuffie — more than any of the slain man's relatives will receive in settlements.

McDuffie was beaten to death by police in December 1980 after a high-speed motorcycle chase. The death triggered events which led to the 1980 Miami riots. The family was awarded a $1.1 million settlement, a copy of which was filed in federal court Monday.

Construction Workers' Deaths Blamed On Defective Crane

VERO BEACH (UPI) — City officials say a construction accident that killed three workmen Tuesday was caused by a malfunctioning crane and the structural design was not at fault.

Esther Rymer, city building and zoning director, said the accident at the Sea Cove condominium was "an equipment failure. It clearly had nothing to do with the structural part of the building."

Three cement workers were killed when a support cable on a crane snapped as it was lifting a 4,000-pound bucket of concrete to the fourth floor of an oceanfront condominium. The break dropped the crane's heavy steel beam onto the victims.

Police Chief Sam McCall identified the dead as William Huff, 18; Ronald Kennedy, 38; and Willie Judon, 52, all of Vero Beach. Three others were treated for minor injuries at a local hospital.

McCall said the crane was on the fourth floor of the condo when the accident occurred.

"It (the crane) was pulling up concrete from the bottom floor," he said. "The cable holding the boom on the crane snapped and that caused the boom and the crane to fall."

The boom toppled onto the fourth floor, where all the victims were at work. "We had to pull the boom off of a couple of the injured. The dead were under there too," said McCall. Witnesses said the boom had to be cut in half before more than two dozen workmen could lift the pieces free.

Luther Perkins, 49, was standing next to Judon when the boom fell.

"The bucket of concrete came down a little fast, and everybody was watching that," Perkins said. "No one was watching the boom, and suddenly it came down."

"I was standing right next to my buddy (Judon) when it happened," he said. "He was dead. There was nothing we could do. They were squished by the boom. Man, there was blood everywhere."

Bruce Schwebke, who suffered a bruised arm, said he was directing the boom crane.

"I was standing right underneath it, and where I was standing the boom just crushed the floor," he said. "I heard the cable snap, and I took two steps."

Tom Hershey, city safety manager, said construction would be halted on the project for at least a few days, and possibly longer. State compensation investigators and Occupational Safety and Health Administration officials must inspect the site before workers can continue the job, he said.

Officials said it was the first serious construction accident in the history of Vero Beach.

"This is the first catastrophe we have had in our building business," Hershey said. "In fact, the only thing in the whole city that could be compared to it was when Hurricane David swept through in 1979. It made a mess, but there was no loss of life."

The general contractor on the project is Proctor Construction Co., which leased the crane from All-Purpose Crane Co. of Palm Bay.

Construction firm President Donald Proctor said he wasn't responsible for its safety.

"They gave us an insurance certificate, and that's it," Proctor said.

Reagan's Income Tax Cut 'Robin Hood-In-Reverse'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Henry Reuss, chairman of the congressional Joint Economic Committee, says the tax cut enacted earlier this year is nothing but a "Robin Hood-in-reverse scheme."

In releasing a new committee study Tuesday, Reuss, D-Wis., said that over the next 10 years, only the top 10 percent of American taxpayers will benefit significantly from the personal tax cut approved this summer.

But the panel's Republican staff disagreed, criticizing the study for disregarding the fact most people will increase their incomes over the next 10 years.

The study released by Reuss found the wealthiest 5 percent of Americans with adjusted gross incomes of more than $55,850 would save more than $9,000 in federal taxes in 1990 compared to their 1980 income tax debt.

The next 5 percent — those with adjusted gross incomes of between $44,300 and $55,850 — would reduce their 1990 tax bill by $2,097 compared to what they owed Uncle Sam in 1980, the study said.

But the news was not so bright for the remaining 90 percent of American taxpayers.

The 40 percent of Americans with incomes between $22,610 and $44,300 would save an average of $58 in 1990 compared to their 1980 tax debt. Taxpayers in the bottom half of the scale — with incomes below $22,610 — would not receive any tax cut by 1990, paying $133 more in taxes by the end of the decade than they did in 1980.

"If this isn't a Robin Hood-in-reverse scheme, what is?" Reuss asked.

Search Pressed For Dozier

ROME (UPI) — Police assigned thousands of reinforcements today to hunt for kidnapped U.S. Brig. Gen. James Dozier, and the Italian prime minister ruled out any negotiations with the Red Brigades terrorists for his release.

"The American and Italian governments are in complete agreement in following a line of inflexibility and firmness," Prime Minister Giovanni Spadolini said Tuesday at a traditional year-end news conference.

U.S. Army Ace Is The World's Top Helicopter Pilot

George Chrest (left), a U.S. Army pilot from Nampa, Idaho, prepares to take Soviet flyer Vladimir Schmirnov for a spin at the world helicopter trials in Poland. Chrest dethroned Schmirnov as the world's top chopper pilot.

NEW YORK (NEA) — George Chrest, who is the world's best helicopter pilot, claims he still has a lot to learn about flying. After all, he's been doing it for less than three years. Chrest, a U.S. Army chief warrant officer who flies as a scout pilot in OH-58 Bell Kiowas, admits he knows the secret of how to become so good so fast. Explains CWO2 Chrest: "You work at it, sir."

And he really does have the right to be called the best. In a "sporting" event that gathered few U.S. headlines, Chrest, 30, earned the gold medal last August at the Fourth World Helicopter Championships in Poland. He dethroned Soviet ace Vladimir Schmirnov, the 1978 winner.

Flying helicopters is a far bigger sport in Europe than in the United States. In America, the Army — with 8,000 of the aircraft and 14,000 pilots — dominates the field of helicopters. By contrast, the Soviet Union has a "sports" flight team that trains year-round in helicopters. As many as 8,000 Russian pilots competed for the few places on the Soviet national squad.

Talking about the enthusiasm among Russians for helicopters, Capt. Stephen Kee, a U.S. Army air operations officer, says, "It's probably comparable to what stock car racing is here."

Kee flew with Chrest as co-pilot-navigator at the world helicopter trials. He says Chrest really has what it takes to fly a chopper.

"We're talking about his ability to manipulate those controls and to fly that aircraft as the best pilot I have ever seen," says Kee.

Chrest and Kee are both members of Delta Troop, 1-9 Cavalry, First Cavalry Division, which is based at Fort Hood, Texas.

Together they led the United States to a team victory at Piotrkow Trybunalski, about 75 miles southwest of Warsaw. The U.S. debut at the civilian-oriented trials was sponsored by the Helicopter Club of America. Next after America in order of finish were West Germany, Poland, Russia and Britain.

France was an unofficial participant.

An intense pilot who views himself as a pro rather than a hotshot, Chrest credits his world title to rigorous military training. He enlisted four years ago in order to learn to fly. Eventually, he joined a handpicked Army flight team that was assembled to practice for the 1981 world competition.

About that unit, Chrest says, "I became a more proficient pilot, there's no doubt about that."

He was training for the four key trial events: — Simulated rescue, a timed 30-minute flight that requires a helicopter to fly the last 5 kilometers without snaking, hovering, slowing up or visibly changing air speed. At the finish, a wine bottle on a short rope is lowered through a hole by the co-pilot to simulate the rescue.

— Precision hover, moving the helicopter on a constant heading forward and backward and from side to side above a 50-meter-square course of boxed lanes. Attached to the aircraft are ropes of 10 meters and 2 meters that determine the maximum and minimum heights.

— Navigation course, a timed 150-kilometer reconnaissance flight over a specified course — towns and farmland — marked by checkpoints and lettered panels. ("That is by far the most difficult event," says Kee.)

— Slalom course, a low-level flight over a course marked by gates. A bucket of water carried by the co-pilot at the end of a 5-meter rope must pass through the gates and be set precisely on a table.

Was Chrest nervous about trying to meet such tough standards?

He says, "The hardest part about it is the five minutes beforehand leading up to the event, going out there, starting the aircraft, hovering the aircraft over to your wait line.

"You look around and you see 2,000 people sitting there looking at you with a stopwatch in their hand. That's difficult."

Maj. Roy Mann, a flight training officer who led the U.S. Army team, says his flight crews were prepared in somewhat the same way that NASA trains astronauts. "It was a test of pilot skill as opposed to aircraft capabilities," he adds.

Kee believes this military-style routine pays off. "I personally think that your ability to operate under pressure is a function of your preparation," he says. "As pressure affects you, you don't have to say, 'Oh, now it's time for me to do this.' That becomes an automatic reflex."

Even though the trials were civilian-oriented, the U.S. victory — against a background of political turmoil in Poland — is thought to bother the Russians.

For military reasons? "There were no quote-unquote military pilots from Russia," says Mann. "Let's say that none of them wore uniforms."

Chrest, meanwhile, back to his regular Army flying, is reluctant to dwell on any of the glory that might be attached to feats of piloting.

Yet he must view himself as the Army's hottest chopper ace. Right?

"No, that's incorrect," says Chrest. "I can't sit here and tell you I'm the best pilot in the Army."

Maybe it's too heavy a reputation to carry into the Officer's Club.

Tripoli? It Resembles The South Bronx

TRIPOLI, Libya (UPI) — Anyone who has driven through New York's South Bronx has a fair idea of what Tripoli looks like.

Except in the busiest downtown area, junked cars seem to line the streets of this urban sprawl of 1 million people.

Scruffy piles of rubble on the cracked sidewalks mark any one of a thousand buildings under construction.

In fact, Tripoli resembles nothing more than a huge and untended construction site.

Little work seems to be going on. Half-finished houses stand untouched for days with their wooden scaffolding sagging. Heaps of sand lie forlorn and neglected around them.

Major work is in progress, though, on four big, ultramodern hotels on the seafloor.

"They will be the best," puffs a taxi driver with a generous sweep of his hand. "This one will have 36 floors."

One of the hotels is to be commissioned in the new year. All four should be ready for next July's summit conference of the Organization of African Unity, of which Libyan leader Muammar Khadafy has won next year's chairmanship.

In the meantime, the new hotels will alleviate a chronic shortage for the Western oil executives who trek to Tripoli like pilgrims to Mecca.

At the moment, they have to put up with cold water and broken shaver sockets, sometimes sharing three to a room, in the peeling plaster of the Beach Hotel or the Libya Palace.

Others find space on one of two large car ferries permanently moored in the windswept harbor and doubling as hotels.

They do it for their share of Libya's oil money, of which there were $23 billion last year.

Now, with oil revenues slashed to 40 percent of that level, everyone is wondering if there will be enough money to complete the projects in hand.

The American oil giant Exxon already has pulled out of Libya and Mobil may soon follow.

Tripoli certainly does not have the look or feel of the affluent capital of a small nation rich with oil money.

Even less so in early winter, when it rains every day and a biting wind sweeps in over the green, choppy waves of the Mediterranean.

Libya's 2.5 million people have an average annual per capita income of $10,000, the highest in Africa. And thanks to Khadafy's personal brand of Islamic socialism, they pay next to nothing for housing, food, education and medical care.

For the moment at least, Western and Japanese consumer goods are readily available in five big Italian-built supermarkets dotted around the city.

Still, looking at Tripoli, it is hard to believe the Libyans are wealthy.

"They are not used to their money," says a long-time Western resident who is prepared to go without the luxury of alcohol and polite neighbors for the big bucks to be made from Libyan oil.

"They have their big cars and TV sets, but they still tend to live the way they always did," he said.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Colts Trap Mice, 10-7,

For Altamonte Championship

Angelo's "Mice" finished the 1981 fall women's softball season with an overall 20-10 record and a tie for first place in the Altamonte League. They dropped a best two-of-three game playoff for the championship to the Seminole Colts, after both had posted 8-2 league marks.

Seminole won the first game on a bitter cold Wednesday night as they scored four times in the first inning. That proved to be more than enough as the Mice garnered a single tally on a base hit by Barbara Michalek and a double by Linda Lewis. Michalek and Connie Walburger paced Angelo's attack with two hits each as both teams had just eight safeties. Mary Johnson and Scooter Schutte led the Colts with two each, as Seminole won 6-1.

In the second game (all three playoff contests were held the same night), Seminole led 2-1 in the first but DeDe Hasley put the Mice up for the first time with a three-run home run blast in the third.

Angelo's added four more runs in the fifth on hits by Mary McDonough, Lewis, Hasley, a walk to Michalek and Sandy Leman's six belt which went for a triple. Sandy Owens had three hits for the Colts and Erin Duffy contributed a home run, Mary Ann Meadows a triple as Angelo's won, 8-6. Hasley went 3-for-3 and had 5 RBIs. Leman knocked in three.

Tied at one game each, the final looked like a blowout as the Colts held a 10-0 lead after four innings. Then the Mice started to nibble away — four runs in the fifth on hits by Anne McGaugh, Suzanne Smith, Ruth Tempsta, Michalek, McDonough, and Lewis and three more in the sixth as Walburger singled, Michalek doubled, McDonough singled and Lewis doubled.

Tempsta set down Seminole in the last three innings, nine in a row as the score stood, 10-7, Seminole going into the bottom of the seventh.

Leman and Sandy Denmark led off with base hits and then the trap sprung — end of the Mice and the final, 10-7 Colts and the title.

Hartman Stuns Bulldogs

Michael Hartman scored 14 points and Michael Taylor added five as the Hawks stunned the Bulldogs 23-14 Monday in the Sanford Biddy Basketball League for 8- and 9-year-olds.

The win boosted the Hawks into sole possession of first place with a 2-0 record, while the Bulldogs fell to 1-1.

The Bulldogs and the Celtics, 0-2, play at 5:30 p.m. today at the Westside Recreation Center on Perimmon Avenue.

The Hawks and the Bulldogs were tied 2-2 at the end of the first period and the Bulldogs led 10-9 at the end of the first half. But the Bulldogs had only five players and they ran into foul trouble late in the second half. The Bulldogs played the closing seconds of the first half and the entire second half with just four players on the court.

The Hawks moved in front by out-scoring the Bulldogs 4-2 in the third period. The Hawks out-scored their opponent 10-2 in the final period.

GIGANTIC KNIGHT

University of Central Florida heavyweight Brian Parker leads the Knights into the 13th Annual Sunshine Open Tournament today at UCF. Over 350 wrestlers from 13 schools will participate. Coach Mike Aspesi's Knights, paced by the 350-pound Parker's championship last year, finished third.

Mr. And Mrs. Ted Jones Reaffirm Vows

Pair Observe 50th Anniversary

By DORIS DIETRICH
OURSELVES Editor

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Jones, 616 W. First St., Sanford, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Dec. 20 by reaffirming their vows followed by a reception given by their children and families and the Church of God of Prophecy, Sanford.

Miss Jean Davis and Ted Jones were married at the same church on Dec. 20, 1931. Several of the original attendants were also in the bridal party of 1981. They include: Mrs. Ruby Davis Hall, Mrs. Ruth Davis Swaggerty, Mrs. Elizabeth Muse Griffith and Tommy Swaggerty. Other attendants at the 1981 celebration were Oliver Hall and Wendy Gall Witherow, flower girl.

Also standing up with Ted and Jean at the 50th anniversary fete were their children and grandchildren. All of the attendants carried gold silk flowers.

The Rev. Harold C. Pounders performed the ceremony. Taking part in the reaffirmation of the vows were Mrs. Cynthia Gailey, introduction; the Sanford Choir under the direction of John Ceresoli Sr., also organist; Kaylunn Witherow, piano; Susan Bagley, soloist; and Vernice Gailey, soloist.

A gold and white color scheme was carried out in the church and social hall for the reception. The couple's daughters sent the arrangement of gladiolas and mums decorating the church. Mrs. Robert Kinard provided the two-tiered anniversary cake.

For the reaffirmation of her vows, Mrs. Jones chose a rose colored gown complemented with a corsage of red and gold roses, a gift from her

Sunday school class. She carried the family Bible, covered with gold and topped with an orchid, a gift from her sister, Mrs. Thelma Sikes.

The couple are the parents of the following four children: Mrs. Evelyn Jones Evans, Glyn Jones (wife, Juna), Shirley Jones Bagley (husband, Bill), and Fred Jones (wife, Leona). They have nine grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Mr. Jones is retired from the Dandee Bread Company where he was employed for 43 years.

His family members attending the anniversary festivities were: Videll Jones, Claude Jones, Lenora Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Newton Evans.

Mrs. Jones' sisters attending were: Mr. and Mrs. O.W. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. C.T. Swaggerty and Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Sikes.

About 150 friends and relatives shared the happy occasion with the anniversary couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Jones married 50 years.

Silence Golden In Missing Silver Case

DEAR ABBY: Recently my wife and I invited a group of friends to our home for a formal dinner. One couple called and asked if they could bring a dear friend from out of town. We said, "Of course."

Our table was set with our finest china, crystal and sterling silver flatware. After dinner I cleared the table for my wife and carefully checked the silverware and found that two pieces of silver were missing! I checked the trash bag to make sure the missing silver had not been accidentally thrown away. I even checked the dining area, floor, chairs, table, etc. The two pieces were nowhere to be found! They were obviously stolen by one of our guests.

I took my wife aside, told her, and asked her what we should do. She said, "Nothing," Abby, what would you have done or said? Is there a diplomatic way of handling this?

LONG JOHN SILVER
DEAR JOHN: I'd have remained silent. The alternative would be to announce that two pieces of silver were missing — then wait for the "thief" to surrender the stolen goods. Such a scene would have created more humiliation than the silver was worth.

DEAR ABBY: Talk about a mess, this is the worst. Our 19-year-old son has just told his father and me that he wants to get married and the sooner the better!

The girl is his first cousin. She's 18. We knew they had been spending a lot of time together lately, but had no idea it was that serious.

Dear Abby

Anyway, the kids are "in love," she's expecting, and our problem is that first cousins aren't allowed to marry in Nevada. We were told that first cousins are allowed to marry in California, but if the kids go there to get married, would their marriage be legal in Nevada?

PREMATURE GRANDMA
DEAR GRANDMA: Yes. A marriage performed in a state that permits first cousins to marry is usually considered legal in all states. But you'd be wise to check with a lawyer.

DEAR ABBY: You recently defined a professional as someone who receives remuneration for a job, as opposed to an amateur who does what he does without pay.

I am sure that mine will not be the only letter of protest. As an unpaid volunteer fireman for seven years, I do not consider myself an amateur. I am well-trained and certified by the state of Florida, and I feel qualified to call myself a professional.

Abby, approximately 90 percent of the firefighters in

Squash Is A Paragon Of Virtue

Stocks may rise and plummet with electrifying speed; but there's one commodity you can count on today's food world: squash.

Frequently consumers overlook hard-shelled squash in the produce department because they don't know quite how to select or prepare it. But this versatile, intriguing vegetable can boost a menu in a variety of ways: it can be stuffed, mashed or combined with other vegetables or meats to produce main courses or accompaniments. The winter squash is also low-calorie, highly nutritious and economical — a paragon of virtue!

Two delicious reasons to take advantage of the seasonal, mature squash are Spicy Baked Hubbard Squash and Mediterranean-Style Butternut Squash. Tender chunks of the hubbard are coated with an aromatic, mellifluous sauce accented by cloves and allspice.

Another notable element in this melt-in-the-mouth dish is Tabasco pepper sauce, an ingredient that has a lively but quiet influence on foods.

A fascinating mix of flavors can also be found in Mediterranean-Style Butternut Squash. As its name suggests, it is an earthy blend of Italian herbs, juicy tomatoes and the incomparable Tabasco sauce, spun through bright cubes of butternut squash. Top it off with a dollop of sour cream and garnish with red onions and you'll hear cries of "delizioso!" all around the dinner table.

When selecting hard-shelled squash for these delectable accompaniments, be sure they are intact and show no evidence of decay. Seeds should be scooped out before or after cooking because they're inedible. A bonus for dieters and nutrition-conscious consumers, a 3-1/2 ounce hubbard has only 39 calories; a butternut squash, 54. Naturally low in sodium, both are high in vitamin A and potassium, with a fair amount of magnesium; they provide plenty of carbohydrates, which are the body's main supplier of energy. Most hard-shell varieties can be stored for long periods of time — three to six months or longer.

The next time you're taking stock of line foods to fit into a winter menu, don't overlook squash; it's too valuable — and too tasty — a commodity to be neglected.

SPICY BAKED HUBBARD SQUASH

3 pounds hubbard squash, pared, seeded and cut into 1/2-inch pieces (about 4 cups)

- Water
- Salt
- 4 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
- 1/2 cup sour cream
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper sauce
- Pinch of ground cloves
- Pinch of ground allspice
- 3 tablespoons soft, fresh bread crumbs
- Parley sprig (optional)

In a medium saucepan combine squash with enough water to measure 1-inch deep. Add 1/4 teaspoon salt. Cover. Simmer 10 to 15 minutes or until tender. Drain; put in a 9-inch pie plate or shallow baking dish. Wipe saucepan dry. Melt butter over moderately high heat; add flour, cook 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; gradually stir in milk. Return to heat, cook 4 to 5 minutes, stirring constantly until mixture thickens and boils. Stir in cheese, sour cream, Tabasco sauce, cloves, allspice and remaining 1/4 teaspoon salt. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until cheese melts. Do not boil. Pour over squash. Sprinkle with bread crumbs. Bake in a 375 degree F. 20 to 25 minutes or until hot and bubbly. Garnish with parley, if desired. Yield: 6 servings.

MEDITERRANEAN-STYLE BUTTERNUT SQUASH

1 butternut squash (about 2 pounds), peeled, seeded and cut in 1/2-inch cubes

- Water
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 large onion, coarsely chopped (about 1 cup)
- 1 large green pepper, seeded and coarsely chopped (about 1 cup)
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 3 large, ripe tomatoes, chopped (about 3 cups)
- 1 teaspoon dried basil leaves, crumbled
- 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
- 1 cup sliced, pitted, ripe, black olives (optional for garnish)

In a medium saucepan combine squash and enough water to measure 1/2-inch deep. Bring to a boil; reduce heat. Simmer 10 to 15 minutes or until tender. Drain. Meanwhile, in medium skillet heat oil and butter; saute onion, pepper and garlic until soft but not brown. Add tomatoes, basil and Tabasco sauce; simmer 5 to 6 minutes longer. Add olives and heat through. Arrange squash on a large heated, serving platter; top with tomato sauce. Yield: 6 servings.

One virtuous vegetable worthy of attention transforms into Spicy Baked Hubbard Squash, a dish with fine aroma and the tempting flavor of Tabasco pepper sauce.

Turkey leftovers? Serve them a new way in a Banana-Turkey Skillet Salad.

Leftovers

Zing Up Turkey The Second Time Around

Preparing meals with leftover foods can save the cook time and money, without sacrificing flavor or nutrition. Especially this year, when larger turkeys are a real bargain. But if you find that family and friends are not gobbling up your leftover turkey dishes, let bananas give you a hand.

Zing up turkey the second time around by blending tradition with tropical bananas in a Banana-Turkey Salad that you serve up warm straight from your skillet. This quickly prepared, meal-in-itself fits right into a hectic lifestyle.

A bed of wilted lettuce cradles an exotic melange of sauteed celery and scallions, slices of mellow banana, and of course, leftover turkey. The subtle flavor of the fruit enhances the dish without overwhelming the poultry and a delicate hot dressing provides a satisfying finishing touch.

Here's a cold turkey approach for lighter luncheon fare: Turkey and Banana Salad is a snap to make, but a heavenly lemon-dill seasoning provides just the right pizzazz to make this meal memorable.

Besides adding a luscious texture and characteristic taste to any dish, bananas can help you put the lid on rising food bills. Since bananas are a bargain all year-round, they make your food dollar stretch farther when you incorporate them into your meal making.

Bananas are packed with nutrition, too. They are a fine source of vitamins A, C and B6, plus thiamine, niacin, riboflavin, potassium, calcium, and 100 percent available iron. Bananas are also 99.8 percent fat free and contain absolutely no cholesterol.

So, the next time you plan to use leftovers, try living them up with the versatile banana.

BANANA-TURKEY SKILLET SALAD

- 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, divided
 - 1 cup diagonally sliced celery
 - 1/2 cup chopped scallions
 - 2 cups cubed cooked turkey
 - 1 1/2 cups sliced bananas (3 medium)
 - 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 - 2 cups shredded iceberg lettuce
 - 1 cup chicken broth
 - 1/2 teaspoon curry powder
 - 2 tablespoons flour
- Melt 2 tablespoons butter in large skillet over medium heat. Add celery and scallions; cook just until heated through. Remove to large bowl. Add turkey to skillet, cook until hot, and add to celery and onions. Melt remaining 2 tablespoons butter in skillet. Sprinkle sliced bananas with lemon juice, heat in skillet, and add to bowl. Add lettuce to skillet, cover and heat until greens are wilted, 1 to 2 minutes. Place on top of bananas in bowl. In same skillet combine chicken broth, curry powder and flour; cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and comes to a boil. Add salad to skillet, toss gently and serve, or pour dressing over ingredients in bowl and mix gently.

YIELD: 6 servings

TURKEY AND BANANA SALAD

- 2 cups sliced bananas (3 medium)
 - 2 cups chopped celery
 - 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
 - one-third cup chopped pecans
 - 1/2 cup mayonnaise
 - 2 teaspoons lemon juice
 - 3/4 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 - 1 teaspoon chopped fresh dill or 1/2 teaspoon dried dill weed
 - Lettuce leaves
 - Cranberry sauce
- Mix all ingredients except cranberry sauce and lettuce leaves in large bowl. Cover and chill. Serve on lettuce leaves and top with cranberry sauce. MAKES 4 servings.

MEXICAN TURKEY SALAD

- 1 head iceberg lettuce
 - 2 cups cooked turkey strips
 - 1 avocado, cut in crescents
 - 2 cups corn chips or miniature tacos
 - 1/2 cup pitted ripe olives, halved
 - Tomato dressing
- Core, rinse and thoroughly drain lettuce; refrigerate in plastic bag or plastic crisper. Shortly before serving, remove a few outer leaves and line chilled salad platter or bowl. Coarsely shred remaining lettuce to make about 1 1/2 quarts, and turn onto platter or bowl. Arrange turkey strips, avocado, corn chips and olives on lettuce. Serve with Tomato Dressing. Makes 6 servings.

Tomato Dressing: Combine 1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce with tomato bits, 1/4 cup each wine vinegar and salad oil, 1/2 cup minced onion, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon each salt, chili powder and brown sugar, 1/2 teaspoon finely minced garlic, 1/2 teaspoon pepper and 3 drops liquid red pepper seasoning in a jar. Cover and shake thoroughly to blend. Shake again just before using. Makes about 1 1/2-2 cups dressing.

Celebrate Chinese New Year

Jan. 25 is New Year's Day. It's true we've already celebrated one New Year, but Monday, Jan. 25 is Chinese New Year. Home economists make it easy with an entree developed for American kitchens.

Cook Of The Week

New System Offers Great Meals In '82

By LOU CHILDERS
Herald Correspondent

December has been a month full of surprises for Hilda Laubscher.

One of the first surprises happened early in December when she arrived home from work one evening to find that her husband, Buzz, had installed a new cooking system which included a microwave oven and a self-cleaning range with a built-in grill-griddle.

Hilda says, "I was surprised to say the least. But, with a large family and both my husband and me working, it is a big help to have a modern kitchen."

As Christmas drew near, Hilda's modernized kitchen didn't prevent her from getting together with Mrs. Oma Pilkington, her children's paternal grandmother, to bake an Orange Slice Cake — something the two women have been doing now for 15 years.

Hilda adds, "I was sure glad to have the large cake on hand Christmas Day, because over 20 people — most of them friends we know from our church, First Assembly of God in Sanford, just 'dropped in' late in the afternoon."

"They all seemed to enjoy the Orange Slice Cake," she continues, "and, it always fools everyone — they think it is a fruitcake!"

Hilda also got the punch bowl out and made Holiday Punch to serve her guests. She says, "Its base is red punch and orange juice — ingredients I usually have on hand for the children — and you just add a bottle of 7-Up and rainbow sherbet." The quality Hilda likes best about this punch recipe is its looks — the colors are "Christmasy."

The other recipes Hilda is sharing this week are microwave specialties she has found to accommodate her large family. She and Buzz have a combined family of six children — David Laubscher, 13, Tammy Pilkington, 13, Shane and Shawn Pilkington (twins), 10, Terry Laubscher, 9, and Almee Pilkington, 8.

She notes, "It is hard to find microwave recipes that will serve eight people. I usually have to double the recipes in the book, and that always means experimenting with the cooking time involved."

Like most everyone else, Hilda is looking forward to the New Year — and cooking lots of great meals for her family in 1982.

Tomato Cake May Take The Cake For Goodness

Toward the end of the 18th Century, some unknown Colonial baker discovered that a certain fine ash made his cakes lighter than usual.

This substance, actually potassium carbonate, produced carbon dioxide in a batter, causing it to rise. Until then, the only way to make baked goods light was to beat air into the batter or to add yeast or spirits.

Over the next hundred years came the invention of baking soda, baking powder and more accurate ovens. The result? A host of new cakes brightened the American scene. Layer cakes, devil's food cakes and upside-down cakes were the talk of the times.

New expressions, too, found their way into our vocabulary. "That takes the cake" means "that's the ultimate." It originally referred to a cake given as a prize.

Here's a cake that "takes the cake" for mouth-watering goodness. Tomato Spice Cake has captured the fancy of several generations of Americans since it appeared in a Campbell Soup recipe book in 1925. Its basic ingredients are still a trio of fragrant spices and its unexpected use of condensed tomato soup as an ingredient.

Full flavor and a rich golden brown color make this a festive addition to buffet tables as well as a welcome gift from your kitchen. Bake it in layers, in a single sheet or in a Bundt pan. Add your own touches from today's wide assortment of nuts, fruits and icings but it will be the same cake your grandmother made for Sunday dinner.

TOMATO SPICE CAKE

2½ cups cake flour or 2 cups all-purpose flour
1 and one-third cups sugar
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1½ teaspoons allspice
1 teaspoon cinnamon
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon ground cloves
1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed tomato soup
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup shortening
2 eggs
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup water
Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Generously grease and flour 2 round layer pans, 8 or 9 inches, or an oblong pan, 13 x 9 x 2 inches. Measure dry ingredients into large bowl. Add soup and shortening. Beat at low to medium speed for 2 minutes (300 strokes with a spoon) scraping sides and bottom of bowl constantly. Add eggs and water. Beat 2 minutes more, scraping bowl frequently. Pour into well-greased and lightly floured 2½-quart bundt pan. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 30 to 60 minutes or until done. Cool right side up in pan 15 minutes; remove from pan. Cool. If desired, sprinkle cake with confectioners' sugar.

Americans Rediscovering Gentle Joys Of Teatime

It's the backbone of the British Empire, and it has crossed the Atlantic to thrive amid the elegant lobbies and potted palms of this country's finest hotels. It brightens the afternoons of dock workers, office workers, and "the best families" alike. It's steeped in centuries of tradition yet recently has gained new popularity in our hectic world. It's afternoon tea, and in its finest form, it's accompanied by the most taste-tempting array of cakes the hostess or host can manage.

THE STORY OF TEA

Many Americans are finding that tea is an easy, affordable way to entertain and a nice change of pace from dinner, brunch, or cocktail parties. Because the essence of teatime is warmth, formality, and relaxing conversation, it has strong attraction for today's hostesses who may prefer not to offer a full meal requiring elaborate last-minute preparations and clean-up.

Although afternoon tea in the U.S. is not so formal as in Britain, it nevertheless requires that the hostess or host serve delectable sweet things with which to tempt guests' appetites. A hostess in Victorian England had a "downstairs" staff to prepare tea cakes, scones, and watercress and cucumber sandwiches, but today's hostess can take advantage of the ready-to-eat cakes. These baked treats are a delightful addition to any teatime with no embellishment yet versatile enough to serve as the base for some very fancy tea party fare with only a few minutes' preparation time.

TEA AND CAKES

The variety of tea flavors ranges from mild and herbal, even decaffeinated, to strong and stimulating. Tea lovers can argue endlessly over the merits of Darjeeling, Ceylon, Jasmine, Earl Grey, English Breakfast, Orange Pekoe, After Dinner Anisette, Spicy Lemon, Chamomile, and more. Suit your own taste!

Here are some tempting tea cakes. The Petits Fours are made from Pound Cake and a variety of frostings. From Vienna, chocolate lovers' paradise, enjoy a Sacher Torte made from Chocolate Cake and yet more chocolate. The New Orleans Cheese Cake starts with a Cream Cheese Cake and turns into a praline fantasy. Next the tea party goes exotic with an elegant Tropical Coffee Cake. And for a light touch, a Lemon Filled Coffee Cake incorporates lemon yogurt in an easy-does-it recipe.

After decades of cocktails, colas, and coffee, Americans are rediscovering their gentle joys of teatime. When the clock points to four in the afternoon, people are drawing close to hearth, family, and friends. Here we can gear down, relax, and enjoy a sip of tea and a taste of goodness.

POUND CAKE PETITS FOURS

- 1 frozen pound cake, thawed
- 1/2 cup apricot preserves
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 2 tablespoons water

Chocolate Icing

- 1 square (1 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 3/4 cup confectioners' sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon vanilla
- 2-2 1/2 tablespoons hot water

Orange Icing

- 3/4 cup confectioners' sugar
- 2-2 1/2 tablespoons orange juice concentrate

Cherry Icing

- 3/4 cup confectioners' sugar
 - 2 tablespoons maraschino cherry juice
 - 1/4 teaspoon almond extract
- Cut Pound Cake lengthwise into 2 layers. Cut each layer into 12 cubes; set aside. Place cake rack over cookie sheet. Stir together apricot preserves, sugar and water; bring to boil, then simmer for 2 minutes. Pour through sieve into bowl. Place cake cube on fork. Holding over icing, quickly spoon apricot glaze over cake to coat. Using small spatula, push petit four onto cake rack; let stand 30 minutes to dry.

Place another cake rack over another cookie sheet. Ice cake by placing glazed cake on a fork. Holding over icing, spoon desired icing on top and sides of cake, letting excess icing drip back into bowl. Use small spatula to push each petit four onto cake rack. Touch up fork prints. Dry 20-30 minutes. If icing begins to thicken add 1-1 teaspoon hot water. Makes 24 petits fours.

Chocolate Icing: Melt chocolate with butter. Beat in confectioners' sugar, vanilla and hot water. Use immediately to ice petits fours.
Orange Icing: Beat orange juice concentrate into confectioners' sugar. Use immediately.
Cherry Icing: Beat cherry juice and almond extract into confectioners' sugar. Use immediately.

I'm on my own and off to a great start, thanks to First Federal of Seminole's new IRA Plan.

"I've got a good job with a secure future, but my IRA is going to make it even better. If I keep saving a few dollars regularly every month through payroll deductions, as young as I am, when it comes time to get the money out, I'll be financially independent. The good news is that I can save what I can now, and as I make more money in later years I can increase the amount, up to a maximum of $2,000. Even if I get married, I can keep my IRA!"

How Do You Construct A Stegosaurus?

CLARKSVILLE, Texas (NEA) — Bert Holster may well be the only man in the state of Texas to have constructed full-size dinosaurs on his flabed trailer.

But there is no cause for alarm. The giant reptiles are fiberglass creations that Holster has been turning out at his Clarksville workshop for a planned dinosaur park in Moscow, Texas, near Houston.

That's how near the weight of the real thing," he added. The promoters of the South Texas dinosaur park came to Holster after they learned of his long experience at turning out large mascoas for high schools across Texas.

Was your business included in the annual PROGRESS HONOR ROLL of the Evening Herald's special Progress edition last year?

If not, prospective customers were unable to read about your firm...when it was founded, who runs it, what type of business and the products or services offered.

Don't miss this opportunity to tell of your firm's contribution to the growth of Sanford. If you have been in the Honor Roll before, you know the benefits and will certainly want to be included in this year's January special edition. DONT DELAY...DEADLINE IS DEC. 31, 1981

Call the Evening Herald's Classified Dept. for further information: 322-2611

Antoinette or Ann will be happy to assist you.
