Innocent Plea Is Entered By Yamashita

Aging Premier Shidehara Completes New Government For Restless Japanese

MANILA, Oct. 8, (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita pleaded innocent to war crimes today and his trial was set for Oct. 29. He is the first of a long line of Jap war criminal suspects to be hauled into court for arraignment. A U.S. Military Commission of five generals heard his not guilty plea. The trial is held in the war scarred former residence of the Philippine High Commissioner.

In Tokyo aging Premier Kijuro Shidehara completed a "safe and sane" government for hungry, restless Japan today and planned the first meeting of his 8 man group immediately. The Dome News Agency said he would outline his new government ahead for the new government, which most observers say cannot survive more than few months. Shidehara drew heavily upon parliamentarians and untried liberals to make up the new government.

Americans shouldn't impose their democracy on the Japanese, but should guide the people in (Continued on Page Eight)

Mr. Pope said, adding that it is hoped to get under way within the next 60 to 90 days but that much depends upon the availability of supplies.

Harold Hoag Freed From Jap Prison

Harold Hoag, 38, Second Steward of the U. S. Merchant Marine, son of Mrs. H. H. Lawson and brother of Hubert and Leon Lawson, is enroute to the United States after being held a Japanese prisoner of war for three years.

Second Steward Hoag was taken prisoner Sept. 10, 1942, when a German raider shelled and sank the S. S. American Leader in the Indian Ocean. The German raider that sank their ship picked up Hoag and 18 other survivors and took them to Java in the Dutch East Indies where the captives were turned over to the Japanese as prisoners.

According to word received by Leon Lawson from one of the 18 survivors who has recently seen Hoag in Calcutta, Hoag is in good physical condition considering the last few years of malnutrition and should arrive by plane from Calcutta soon.

Hoag, who was freed only three weeks ago, has been in the Merchant Marine since 1932 with the rank of Second Steward.

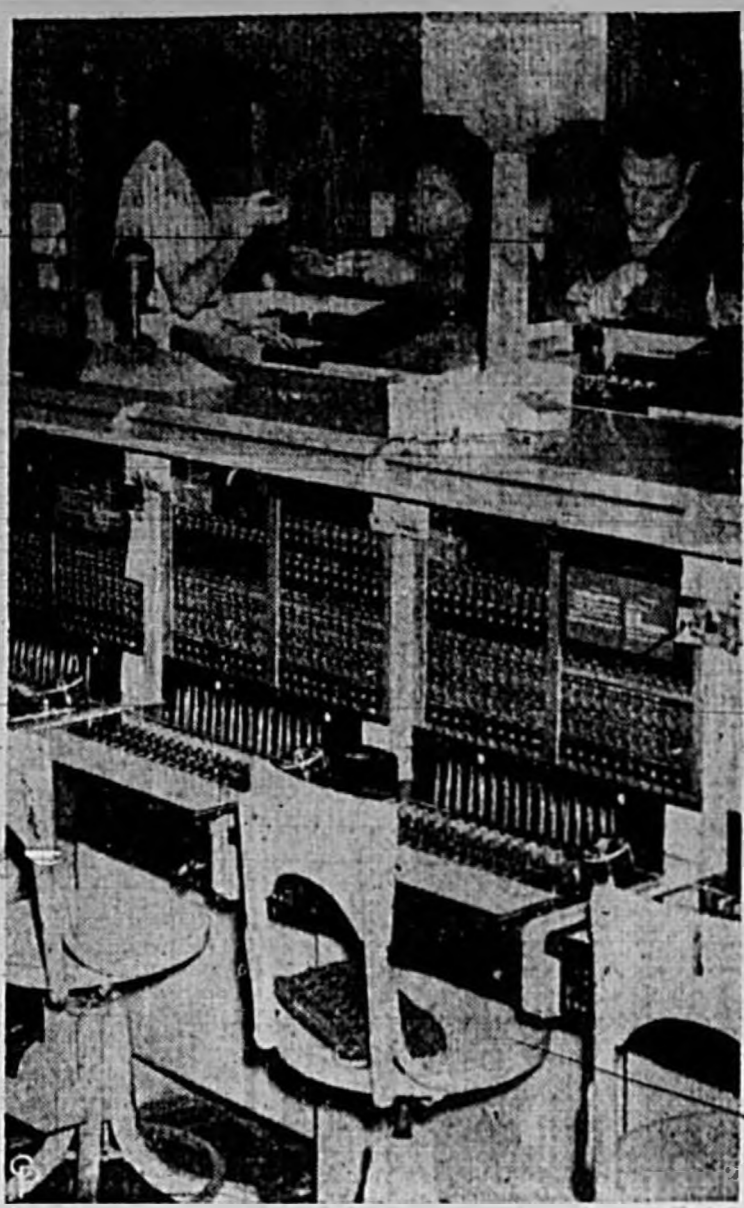

County Is Free Of Infantile Paralysis

There is not a single case of poliomyelitis in Seminole County at present. Dr. Leland Dame, County health officer, reported today when asked regarding the removal of the disease in this community.

He said only three cases have been reported so far this year, one colored child and two white people. The colored child recovered. One of the white people was removed to a hospital in another city and the other one died.

There has been an epidemic anywhere in Florida, he said, and is normal for one sporadic case to occur yearly out of each five or six thousand persons. There has never been an epidemic of infantile paralysis in Seminole County, although occasional cases have occurred all along through the years.

Long Distance Halt Hits Service Men

EMPTY CHAIRS and IDLE SWITCHBOARDS faced servicemen anxious to communicate with their families as the result of the tie-up of long distance lines by a walkout of operators. Here is a typical Manhattan scene at Times Square as a telephone girl seeks to explain to some returned vets that long distance lines had been shut down four hours while workers took a strike vote. CITY BRIEFS

Rainfall during the past week amounted to only 28 hundredths or little more than one quarter of an inch, according to H. F. Whittier, weatherman. Normal rain for the period is 1.05 inches. This has resulted in lowering of the level of Lake Monroe which is now below the seawall top.

The Seminole High School Band and Celeryettes made a fine showing as they marched on the field between halves at the football game Friday evening. Sophie McDougal, now a senior, led the band. The Celeryettes went through some intricate wheel and letter formations and drew a lot of applause.

Firemen were called to the Silver Fleet Filling Station at midnight last evening to put out an automobile fire. This was caused by a negro lighting a match to light a cigarette and, instead, lighting the gasoline with which his car was being filled, according to Fire Chief Mack Cleveland.

Unemployment compensation payments were made to one person in the total amount of $45 in Seminole County during the week ending Sept. 29. Carl B. Smith, Chairman of the Florida Industrial Commission, reported.

The increase for the last week reported was only from $73,350 to $75,075, but the number of claimants receiving compensation rose from 2,881 to 4,815, of whom 8,029 were male and 1,786 female.

Director Wilson Names Problems In Post-war Farming

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 8, (Special)—"Agriculture in the nation faces uncertain days as the general re-adjusts from a war economy, and it appears to me that nowhere in the country are there greater or more serious problems than loom before us right here in Florida," said William L. Wilson, Director of Florida State Farmers' Markets, in his week-end review of crop conditions and the general outlook for the State's varied products.

"For this reason," Director Wilson continued, "I feel that the meeting of our market managers scheduled in Jacksonville, October 23-24, may be one of the most important we have ever held. Certainly it should be virtually important for during the conference (Continued on Page Three)

Labor Crisis Eases As Big Strike Total Drops To Around 350,000

Truman Asks For Half Billion For European Relief

UNRR Needs Funds, He Says For Acute Need And Privation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8, (AP)—President Truman has asked Congress to appropriate $500,000,000 immediately for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

UNRRA requires the funds, the President said, to meet "acute need and privation" during the coming winter in Europe.

Additionally, Mr. Truman said he soon will ask for more money for the agency so it may "meet its new responsibilities and complete its programs."

His recommendations were contained in a letter to House Speaker Raymond (D. Texas).

Hearings Start Soon

Chairman Clarence Cannon (D. Mo.) of the appropriations committee told a reporter hearings on the proposal will begin within a few days.

A major fight over the recommendations particularly regarding any funds beyond the $500,000,000, seemed certain. Criticism of UNRRA has been voiced frequently in both Senate and House, particularly by several of the congressmen who toured Europe this summer.

Some of the legislators suggested that UNRRA be abolished and that the relief work be turned over to the Red Cross or some similar agency.

President Truman expressed the view in his message that Congress is obligated to provide the $500,000,000. He recalled that the United States had pledged a contribution of $1,350,000,000 when UNRRA was set up in 1943, but has only given $400,000,000 thus far.

To Ask For More

He gave no indication of how much more he would ask beyond the $500,000,000, but said "I shall shortly submit a recommendation for an additional contribution to enable UNRRA to meet its new responsibilities and to complete its programs."

UNRRA has been providing relief for about 40 million people in Europe, Asia and the Pacific.

The number of large carriers would be cut to less than a third of the present total of about 1,000, while the number of battalions would be reduced only about half.

This would mean a percentage carrier force of perhaps 10 carriers for the 45,000-ton Midway or CVB class and the 27,000-ton Essex or CV class, with probably a dozen battalions.

Aircraft Carriers In Second Place In Navy's Plan

Large Carriers To Be Cut To Less Than 3rd Present Number

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8, (AP)—The Navy has drawn plans for its post-war fleet including a reduction in the number of aircraft carriers, it was learned yesterday, despite the leading role played by naval aviation in both the Atlantic and Pacific theaters.

The number of large carriers would be cut to less than a third of the present total of about 1,000, while the number of battalions would be reduced only about half.

This would mean a percentage carrier force of perhaps 10 carriers for the 45,000-ton Midway or CVB class and the 27,000-ton Essex or CV class, with probably a dozen battalions.

The goal of the drive set for the County is $13,000. Workers, however, are continuing to make contact with donors, and every team captain has been urged by Chairman Coleman to complete contacts and to report as soon as possible.

Many of our boys are now being called for overseas replacements, Mr. Coleman said, and pointed out the necessity of continuing to support the fund from which USO activities are financed.

Thomas C. Allen Outlines Work Of FBI Agency In War

German Spies Prevented From Learning Atomic Bomb Secret

The work of the FBI in combating espionage and sabotage during the war was explained by Thomas C. Allen, Orlando agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Mr. Allen said that Germany sent five specially trained agents to this country to learn the secrets of the atomic bomb but that all of them were apprehended within four weeks of their arrival.

Tracing the origin of the FBI, Mr. Allen said that it was organized in 1924 with J. Edgar Hoover as its chief. At that time he said it had only 500 employees and a file as compared with 10,000,000 at present. The fingerprints of more than 600,000 individuals are on file, he said, and no two of them are alike. New Premarital And Prenatal Laws Effective Oct. 1

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 8. (Special)—Two strong and important laws in the venereal disease case-finding program which Florida has pushed so persistently the past four years, were added when the Premarital and Prenatal Laws became effective Monday, October 1.

Dr. R.F. Sondag, State Board of Health's Venereal Disease Control Director, said that the Acts should be one of the State's most dependable sources for locating new, as well as inadequately diagnosed of treated cases. With the two laws working as check mates, Florida has come a long way in finding and controlling one of her worst killers—syphilis.

Particularly is the Premarital Law to be praised for the protection it affords both persons when entering into the marriage contract. . . many innocent of an infection which may well ruin their lives. And the Prenatal Law's protection to unborn children against syphilis is of inestimable value, he declared.

Dr. Sondag said too, that the Laws which are a definite means of finding new cases of VD, also places Florida in a favorable position with other progressive and health-minded states by making blood tests mandatory for both premarital and prenatal cases. Thirty two states and the Territory of Hawaii now protect marriage from syphilis by requiring examinations of both bride and groom. However, during the legislative sessions last spring, only TWO states, FLORIDA and OKLAHOMA, out of 17 considering such bills, adopted them as Laws.

The Premarital Law says that all persons planning marriage must have had a blood test within 30 days of the time they apply for a license to marry. The test can be made anywhere in the State by any licensed physician or public health officer. Persons suffering from syphilis will be allowed to marry ONLY if the individual or individuals infected are not in a stage of syphilis, or which is or may become communicable to the marital partner. The physician from whom the marriage certificate is obtained must determine the status of the applicant with a positive blood test.

A small fee for the test will be charged by private physicians, but there will be no charge when the test is made by a local VD clinic or a county health department.

Lauding the Prenatal Law, Dr. Sondag said that there were 473 cases of congenital syphilis in Florida last year. And only because of the persistent plugging of the state-wide VD control program, the number last year was even less than in 1941 when there were 553 such cases.

The Law states that "all women who are pregnant, or suspected of being pregnant, who come under the care of a physician and surgeon or midwife" must have a blood test. If the individual is economically unable to afford an examination at the hands of a private physician, the city or county health officer of VD clinics of the jurisdiction in which the patient resides, shall take the blood specimen and have the test made.

unemployment and at the same time employers are closing their businesses for lack of labor. It is hard to find printable words to describe such perversion and quackery."

The situation described in the Delray Beach area is no different than it is at many other points. In Tampa last week one of the largest and oldest steam laundries, "The White Star", was forced to close its doors for lack of labor and at the same time the local United Employment Service was offering over a thousand jobs with no takers. Last week in lower Dade County, citrus growers lost thousands of trees overturned by the storm that might have been saved if labor could have been found to reset them before sun had damaged the roots.

Florida citrus and vegetable growers are having little success in finding labor and indications are that the crops will again rot in the field for lack of help at harvest time.

In 1940, Japan had a population density of about 600 per square mile—more than 11 times that of the United States.

Delray Beach News Hits Labor Shortage
DELRAY BEACH, Oct. 8, (FNS)—In a forceful editorial, the Delray Beach News says: "The great throngs of sympathy and tears of grief being exhibited in Washington by some of the politicians for the 'jobless' are not fooling many people around here. It is certain that the American taxpayer has intelligence to see the silliness of it all."
"In this area there is hardly a business or industry that is not seriously handicapped and curtailed for lack of labor. Strenuous efforts have been made and are being made in this community to secure painters, cooks, beauticians, printers and various types of other help without results. Community labor is just as difficult to find."

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY
GREAT FAITH AND COURAGE GIVE STABILITY. WE LOVE PEOPLE WITH CONVICTIONS: Be ye steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord.—1 Cor. 15:58.

Some of these new washing machines, cook stoves and other kitchen devices we've been reading about lately will do everything but plan the meals.

The boys are coming back from the far corners of the world these days so fast that we can't get them all in the paper. But we get all those we can.

Westbrook, Pegler says he doesn't use to have to type his stuff because he doesn't know the "touch system". But Elliott Roosevelt knows it.

We don't mind these afternoon showers so much as far as our tennis is concerned but we are getting tired of having to run out and mow the lawn every time we shave.

The Russians don't seem to be able to get along with the British Socialists any better than they did with the Tories. Apparently even Prime Minister Attlee is not willing to preside over the disintegration of the British Empire.

Discussing the seizure of the oil plants by the government following a strike, the Tampa Tribune says, "Unfortunately, the plant seizures do little if anything to eliminate the points of disagreement. It is obvious that we must overhaul the social machinery which permits or even invites such crippling action."

The colored people of Sanford express their appreciation for the efforts being made to provide them with some recreational facilities. "We are anxious to have at least one well equipped park, including a swimming pool, since the colored children are not permitted to use any of the nearby lakes," one of them writes. Pending further improvements, why wouldn't it be possible to set aside some lake, with adequate safeguards to health, where colored children could swim?

Commissioner Mayo, who is directly in charge of Florida's prison system, is quoted as saying that he frankly favors the retention of the sweat-box as a means of punishment and adds, "It is the most human kind of punishment." No doubt it does surpass the lash, but the sweat-box is a relic of a bygone age which has given Florida a lot of bad publicity. It should be abolished at once. And if Mayo won't get rid of it, the legislature should outlaw it at its next session.

Sanford has received from the National War Fund more than it has contributed since the war began. The maintenance here of the USO for three years has cost the War Fund considerably more than has been raised in the two drives which have been held. For that reason, if for no other, Sanford citizens should give generously to this campaign. And the USO building, something which cannot be taken away after the sailors leave here. It will be with us for many years to come as a greatly needed recreation center.

Sanford had its first contact with the strike wave last Friday afternoon and some of us realize now, perhaps more than ever, that it isn't any fun. Some day we will perhaps understand more fully how certain policies of the New Deal have encouraged strikes and how political pressure presents the government from dealing with them. Some day we may realize that as long as the government continues to give people financial support, it will continue to give us strikes.

Some of these new washing machines, cook stoves and other kitchen devices we've been reading about lately will do everything but plan the meals.

Science - - Then What?

What with our two great modern inventions, radar and television, by which we shall soon be able to see anywhere and talk to people anywhere, many of us seem to think we are lassing the future and getting a clinch on the ultimate realities, and will soon be able to know everything worth knowing and do everything worth doing.

But it would be a very foolish assumption. For the world and the stuff it is made of are so vast and varied that it seems unlikely we shall ever reach the end of knowledge and possible achievements. We may be destined to learn more and more facts and processes as long as this world lasts, and even then may leave an immense amount of facts still undiscovered.

People, however, may tire of elaborate processes and learning in general, and decide to turn back again to the simple life. And they may be disturbed and annoyed if they find that they can't—that they are caught in a chain of progress from which there is no turning. Then they may start wondering whether progress is worth while.

Eventually, they may turn again to religion, in a more real sense than this present generation exemplifies.

Good Job Done

Now that war stories are being told, one of the more surprising and interesting is that of the Danish merchant marines training ship Denmark, which was interned in Florida when the Nazis took over her country five and a half years ago.

Immediately after Pearl Harbor, which brought us into the battle against Denmark's enemies, Captain Knud L. Hansen, master of the ship, offered his services and those of his officers to the U.S. Government, which accepted with alacrity. Commissioned in the U.S. Coast Guard, the Denmark and her officers trained more than 4,500 Coast Guard officers in the next three years.

Now her war job is completed. And so, on Sept. 26 of this year, the seventy-fifth birthday of King Christian of Denmark, the Denmark was returned to his fleet with the grateful thanks of her temporary owners.

Loss Of Face

People who read that Emperor Hirohito has paid a visit to General MacArthur at the latter's headquarters are apt to wonder why the excitement about it. To them it seems a lot of fuss over an obvious courtesy. But it is not.

In the Orient, the quality called "face" is vitally important. "Face" is an outgrowth of the rigid centuries-old caste systems of Asia, where every individual has duties and social prestige according to the group into which he is born. Anyone in a higher caste or place who stoops to the behavior of a lower immediately has "lost face"—that is, lowered himself to that level—and is treated accordingly. Thus, in Japanese custom, the Emperor never calls upon one of less than imperial status, because to do so automatically indicates that his power is less than that of the person called upon.

For this reason, the mere fact that Hirohito has made that call will indicate to his people, more strongly than any other part of the occupation, that Japan is now completely dependent upon the authority and will of MacArthur and the governments which he represents. It is complete ceremonial proof to them and the world that their country has been, decisively defeated.

Who Was King Arthur?

Who was King Arthur? Readers of Tennyson know that he was king of England and had a Round Table at which famous knights and lovely ladies feasted. That among his knights were Lancelot and Gawain and that his wife was Queen Guinevere. But who was he really? Did he exist?

Historians are inclined to think that he did. The early chroniclers speak of him as a Briton chief who won battles against the Saxons, notably the battle of Badon, and that he was killed early in the sixth century.

Now come William and Georgina Buckler, writing in the Classical Journal, to say that Arthur was a Roman. One Lucius Artorius Castus in the second century led an expedition against Brittany. Out of this tradition, the Bucklers think, grew the forest of legend which makes up the Arthurian tales as we know them.

The Romans were a great people, but somehow King Arthur does not seem at home among them. Other historians have known about Lucius Artorius Castus and passed him by. Most people will prefer to think of Arthur as a mighty king whose knights rescued hapless ladies and fought monstrous giants and not as prosaic Roman army officer.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

Since the week of Oct. 1 to 3 is National Newspaper Week, I'd like to devote this column to the subject of newspapers and what they mean to the community.

Most folks today are inclined to take their newspapers for granted. They expect to find it waiting them when they arise in the morning or at the door when they return from work in the evening. If they are metropolitan dwellers, in smaller communities, the local weekly paper fills a need in providing folks with interesting items about local happenings, births, deaths, business changes, markets and personals.

It took the recent Newspaper strike in New York to really bring home to us what newspapers mean to the average American. In an interesting book entitled "City in the Dark," the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association tells the dramatic story of public reaction as disclosed by an unbiased survey.

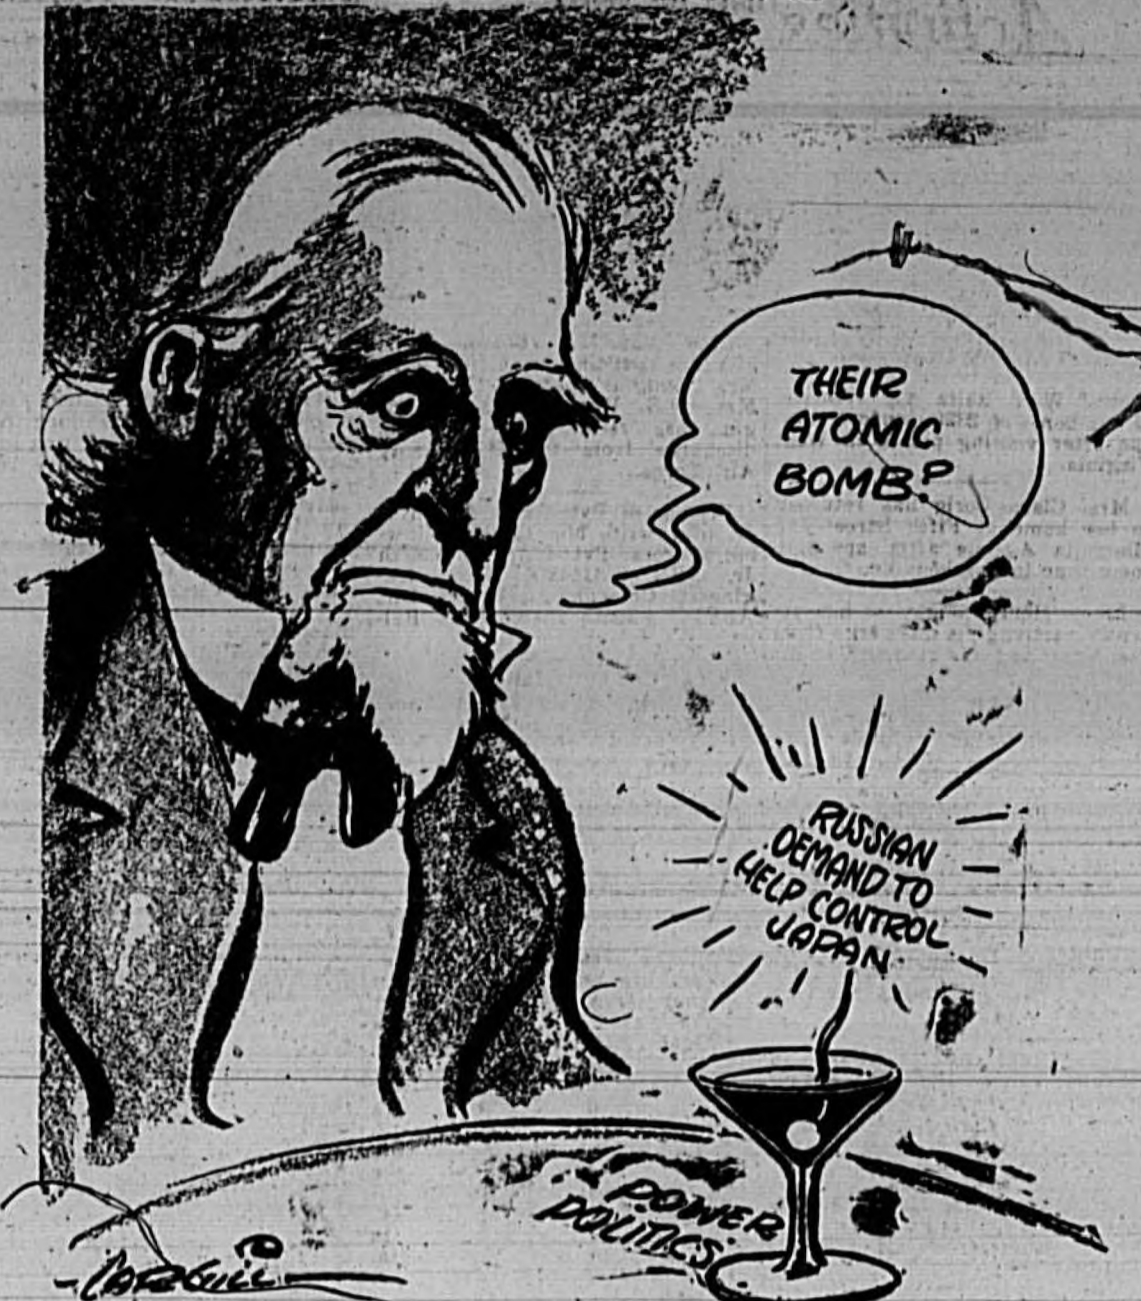

New York's newspaper blackout lasted from the morning of July 1 to noon July 17 and during that period 18,000,000 readers went without newspapers. The only way a paper could be obtained was by applying for it at one of the newspaper offices. Thousands of people stood in line for hours to buy a paper, one publisher reported a queue two or three blocks long. Some came as far as 200 miles, walked two hours or more to get their favorite newspaper. People fortunate enough to secure a paper shared it with their neighbors or sold it. In some instances papers sold for $1 a copy. Army and Navy hospitals sent trucks to get papers for their wounded inmates. Counter sales at newspaper offices jumped from 246,114 on July 2 to 1,256,624 on July 16. For the entire strike period a total of 9,288,127 papers were sold at the counter at a place of publication. The hundreds of thousands who warmed newspaper plants every day were still only a small fraction of the 15,000,000 readers of the affected papers. To find out just how these folks felt, Fact Finders Associates, Inc. was commissioned to interview a cross section of men and women on the streets of New York. 1017 persons were interviewed, 490 men and 527 women.

Sample expressions that came from those interviewed were as follows: "I feel lost"—"It cuts you off from the world"—"You can't get the news you want when you want it"—"I just can't get used to it"—"I'm losing money; I can't advertise"—"I'm all mixed up on my newspaper points because I can't get the paper"—"The whole family misses the comics"—"I feel as if I were living in a continuous blackout."

Everywhere in New York and its sprawling metropolitan area you saw—and almost felt—the differences. Commuters fidgeted morning and night, gazed blankly out of train windows at scenes already passed a thousand times. Shoppers, with no ads to guide them, dashed from store to store, hoping to find what they wanted. Some grumbled vainly at the complete absence of news reports. Newspapers, less movie fans kept telephones busy at hundreds of theaters jammed from morning to night. Youngsters by the countless millions whined to helpless parents about the famine in famine. Radio did its best to fill the gap. Several publishers purchased radio time to broadcast news both foreign and local, supplementing the regular news broadcasts of all networks and local stations. Folks found that while the radio gave splendid service, it just couldn't fill the bill. It wouldn't replace the newspaper. You just couldn't sit and listen to the radio and get the information you wanted when you wanted it.

Women testified to their need for advertisements. They were lost without them. Retail sales started taking a slump with the beginning of the strike and continued to fall through its duration. Stock market sales dropped off. An already overburdened telephone service proved totally inadequate to meet the situation. Folks missed their newspapers, more than they had missed anything else and found that nothing else could take its place. So it seems proper and fitting that we observe National Newspaper Week in tribute to a service rendered. — One of the best ways to evidence your appreciation of your local newspaper is to stop in and personally thank your editor and publisher and while you are there, you might make it a point to pay your subscription if you have neglected to do so.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., was named for a Choctaw Indian chief whose name Tusca-Luca meant "Black Warrior."

Porter R. Taylor Named Director Of Farm Group

ORLANDO, Oct. 8. (FNS)—The American Farm Bureau Federation will establish fruit and vegetable department on Oct. 16 with Porter R. Taylor as director, to serve producers of these crops in their distribution and economic problems, John Ford, executive secretary of the Florida Farm Bureau, announced today.

Simultaneously the Cooperative Fruit and Vegetable Association, which Mr. Taylor has served as general manager during the last three years, will be dissolved and its members urged to give their full support to the Farm Bureau in its new program, Marvin H. Walker, its president, announced at Lakeland.

"For Florida fruit and vegetable growers," Mr. Taylor said, "this program means a larger voice in national legislative matters, a chance to work with producers in other states for their common good, and the services of Mr. Taylor constantly on the job at Washington as trouble shooter for our industry."

The Farm Bureau's fruit and vegetable department will be supervised by a national committee of fruit and vegetable growers, on which C. Walton Rex, of Orlando, represents Florida producers. National committees will be formed for individual crops such as citrus and potatoes to handle their particular problems.

Before he went with the cooperative fruit and vegetable association, Mr. Taylor was a chief of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's fruit and vegetable branch, handling its regulatory and other programs in the pre-war period. He left government service to help growers do more of these things for themselves. "Mr. Taylor and Farm Bureau officials have worked together closely in recent years," said

Mr. Ford. "They collaborated in drafting and sponsoring the famous 'disaster clause' of the price control act, which has meant millions of dollars to Florida growers who suffered crop losses during the last two years."

Mr. Walker, who is also manager of the Florida Citrus Producers Trade Association, said the cooperative fruit and vegetable association will be dissolved on Oct. 15 and relates made on all unexpired memberships. Its members include growers and shippers handling a large percentage of Florida fruits and vegetables.

"We have discussed with Farm Bureau officials, for almost a year, the need for one strong national organization to represent and serve fruit and vegetable growers," Mr. Walker said. "We believe the Farm Bureau with its greater membership and resources, is best able to give these industries the services they need."

Jerry Lee Givens On U.S. Mail Ship

ABOARD THE LST 567, Oct. 8. (Special)—Jerry Lee Givens, 19, steward's mate, second class, USNR, 1309 West Thirteenth Street, Sanford, served aboard this official U. S. Mail ship which acted as post office for Navy men in the Tokyo area.

Commissioned in May, 1944, the LST 567 engaged in invasions at Leyte, Lingayen, and Okinawa, before being converted to her present use. She is manned almost entirely by members of her original crew.

12 Million People May Be Freed Of Income Taxes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—A $5,300,000,000 tax reduction for individuals and corporations in 1946, erasing 12,000,000 low-income persons from the tax rolls completely, was approved last week by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Heading to the House floor the first peacetime relief from record wartime pocketbook levies, the taxframing group cast aside many Administration recommendations on methods, but kept close to Treasury Secretary Fred M. Vinson's tax cut limit of $5,000,000,000.

This is what the committee proposes: Individuals—Relief of $2,600,000,000 next year, by reductions in the "normal tax and surtaxes. The committee decided to reduce the graduated surtaxes by four percentage points in each bracket, and to apply the surtax exemptions ($500 for the taxpayer and $500 for each of his dependents) to the normal tax (now collected on net income above $500 regardless of the number of a taxpayer's dependents). The committee amended this program today to stipulate that no individual taxpayer shall receive in 1946 less than a 10 per cent tax reduction. This increased individual relief from $2,500,000,000 to

$2,600,000,000. The change in the normal tax exemptions removes 12,000,000 low income persons from the tax rolls next year. Cut for Corporations.

Corporations—1946 tax easement of about $1,900,000,000. This would be done by cutting the excess profits tax next year from 95 per cent to 60 per cent, repealing this tax January 1, 1947; reducing the corporation combined normal and surtax from 40 per cent to 36 per cent (the cut being in the surtaxes); repealing next July 1 the capital stock tax, collected at 1.25 per cent in the excess profits levy would save 19,000 corporations about $1,270,000,000 next year, while the corporate surtax slash would ease the burden of all 450,000 corporations another $404,000,000. Elimination of the capital stocks levy would reduce corporate liabilities another $200,000,000.

Expises—the levies on such things as liquor, furs, luggage, jewelry and cosmetics would be cut back next July to their 1932 levels, meaning a 50 per cent reduction in many items. This would save consumers about $550,000,000 in the last half of 1946. Taxes on floor stocks under excises would be refunded to business to the extent of about $160,000,000.

Junior Red Cross Plans Member Drive

The Junior Red Cross of the Seminole County Chapter is reported to have been busy this summer and to have accomplished work that was highly praised by Frank Jenkins of Atlanta, director of the Junior Red Cross.

The Girl Scouts, under the leadership of Miss Irene Hinton, made a Christmas unit of 1000 pieces. The members in Oviedo, supervised by Mrs. Joseph Leinhardt, made 200 Christmas cards and 200 menu covers. A wool lap-robe was also completed.

All of this work," said Mr. Jenkins, "was beautiful, showing good workmanship and unusual originality. This unit has already been sent overseas.

Gift boxes have been distributed to the school. These boxes will be filled with articles dear to a child's heart and will be sent overseas at an early date.

Following Japan's defeat, the American Junior Red Cross began recruiting for an increased enrollment to continue its services to men still in uniform and broaden its services to the civilian community. Mrs. G. P. Crawford, Junior Red Cross chairman, said today:

Junior Red Cross in last year's membership in the schools, she pointed out, since its beginning under President Woodrow Wilson, in 1917, it has constantly increased its community responsibilities and with a national enrollment of twenty million, it has become the greatest youth movement in the world, she said.

Although the war is over the Junior Red Cross will still be needed by soldiers, by sailors and by marines. Mrs. Herndon said. Wounded men in hospitals still need the many useful articles made by Junior Red Cross workers. Children in war-ravaged countries still need the toys, health supplies, and school supplies of Junior Red Cross gift packages. American communities will always need its aid and its teaching for citizens of the future.

The enrollment campaign will start at the Legion Hut at 8:00 P. M. Mrs. Herndon stated, "Our membership has always been a hundred percent," said Mrs. Herndon, "and we are hoping that it will continue so for 1945 enrollment."

Legion Auxiliary Has Member Drive

An extensive membership drive was launched at the regular meeting of the Campbell-Lossing Unit No. 53 of the American Legion Auxiliary which was held Oct. 5 at 8:00 P. M. at the Hut with Mrs. E. J. Routh, president, presiding.

The Auxiliary hopes to increase its membership 200 percent prior to Oct. 27 when the state round-up will meet in Sanford.

The meeting opened with advance of colors, salute to the flag, prayer and preamble of the constitution of the American Legion Auxiliary. It was voted to give $25 to the National War Fund and plans were made for a covered dish supper Oct. 16 for Legionnaires, auxiliary members and friends.

Those present were: Mrs. Margaret Galt, Miss Edna Chittenden, Mrs. E. E. Smith, Mrs. Henry McLaurin Jr., Mrs. Sid Richard Sr., Mrs. Sid Richard Jr., Mrs. A. C. Kendall, Mrs. Joseph Miller, Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. Daisy Lewis, Mrs. Paul Fesold, Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, Mrs. W. E. Hartley, Miss Jeanette Laine, Mrs. C. E. Hunter, Mrs. E. J. Routh and Mrs. C. L. Irwin.

Albert Edward Hall was sworn in the regular Navy last week. Albert took oath in Jacksonville on Oct. 4 after filling papers with the Navy Recruiting Station in Orlando. He is now stationed at Mrs. Albert Hall of 313 East Eleventh Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hansen arrived Saturday from Rhode Island to spend some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Echols, on West First Street. Mr. Hansen has recently received his discharge from the Seabees after having served two and half years on Guam and Guadalcanal.

Mr. and Mrs. R.W. Turner have returned from a month's vacation in Gatlinburg, Tenn.; Asheville, N.C.; Little Switzerland, N.C. and Gastonia, N.C. where they were guests of their daughter, Mrs. H.J. Drake and family. They also visited relatives in York, S.C. and points in Georgia.

Southside School Plans Oct. 31 Carnival

At the first P.T.A. meeting of the Southside School which was held Thursday afternoon in the school auditorium, it was decided to have the annual Halloween Carnival Oct. 31. Concessions for booths were given to various mothers.

The president, Mrs. J. P. Cullen, called the meeting to order and Mrs. J. M. Leonard read a poem, "To Builders" which was followed by a prayer for parents. Mrs. Bernard Wilke led the singing of "God Bless America." The room count was taken and won by the second grade.

It was reported that the membership drive had been successful in that 280 members had been signed. Mrs. J. C. Mitchell, principal, gave a brief talk and introduced the teachers to the mothers.

Officers for the forthcoming year are: president, Mrs. J. P. Cullen; vice-president, Mrs. Harry Brown; secretary, Mrs. J. N. Avello; treasurer, Mrs. F. B. Smith; finance chairman, Mrs.

Gregory Kinlaw; stamps, Mrs. Bernard Wilke; membership, Mrs. Dick Ellsberry; playground, Mrs. Larry Payton; library, Mrs. Don Middleton; savings and welfare, Mrs. J. P. Cullen; lunch, Mrs. Harry Brown; and publicity, Mrs. F. B. Smith.

After the business meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. F. B. Bell and Mrs. J. P. Cullen, hostesses.

TERRACE TALK

According to Maxwell Nurnberg there are two kinds of slang - the good and the bad. The bad becomes feverishly popular for a while and then dies. "So's your Aunt Tilly" and "23 skidoo" had their brief run. They are now merely amusing museum pieces. The best slang lasts a long time because it has roots in the imagination and because it takes a vivid short cut to our thoughts. Even our streamers, when they are speaking off the record, find it hard to get along without "spun" the beans" "go egg on a hubb," "holding the bag." Such expressions will last as long as the picture they present remains true and the color they give remains vivid.

Mr. Nurnberg said, "Indeed, it can be proved that slang expressions have lasted thousands of years. The Greeks and Romans had words for them. Today we use words derived from those Latin and Greek words, without realizing that if we were to look into their literal meaning we should find imbedded the picturesque language of modern slang.

For instance, "to put something over on" as the literal meaning of to impose (poser, Latin for press). The word impostor shows this even more clearly. "To lay it on thick" is nothing more or less than to exaggerate (exagger, Latin for heap). "To tell the world" is to divulge (divulge, Latin for common people). If you are one of those people who are always "on the dot" you are punctual (punctus, Latin for point).

MAGGIE and PAUL MOORE and two children have moved to Jacksonville temporarily where LIEUT. MOORE will be discharged from the Naval Reserve. While in Sanford the family made many friends and it is with regret that we bid them adieu.

The heartless yell of the year was Sanford's Peacock Seabreeze - when the score was 16 to 6 in Sanford's favor. What a game! With approximately 2,000 spectators a trim band, the hot-steppin' Cellegyettes, the Navy yelling one minute for Sanford and the next for Daytona, and Sanford's ace team - what would you want?

MRS. W. B. WRAY (HILDA) on Valencia Drive has one of the best bric-a-brac collections in town. Some articles have been inherited, and some collected for the old store in North Carolina. HILDA and BILL owned and managed the Nu-Way Hotel in Burnsville, N. C. just out of Asheville before coming to Sanford to their home. C. E. T.

We are almost down to the bottom of the barrel. The nation's industrial fat supply is millions of pounds less than it was in 1944. It is a peacetime job now—a job that will help you. And to prove how important it is, your government has increased the point bonus. So help meet this nation's need by continuing to save used fats.

Labor Crisis Eases As Strike Total Drops To 350,000

Detroit troubles eased as two strike-bound auto and car parts producers resumed operations leaving the motor city without a major strike for the first time in over six weeks. The strike at the Briggs-Hayne Wheel Co. was declared ended and the Ford Motor Co. supplied by Robert Hayes called thousands of employees back to work. The Hudson motor car strike of 300 five men ended after five weeks and 100 workers are back at work.

In Washington, Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach chaired the second meeting of John L. Lewis and the soft coal operators. The operators told Lewis they won't talk with him until the miners return to work. The second big coal strike of 91,000 M.P. lumber workers on the Pacific northwest, but 10,000 C.I.O. workers remained at their jobs pending a meeting of operators and federal conciliators Thursday to discuss the lumber wage dispute.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—Federal labor machinery bogged down last night under a mounting load of wage-price disputes, the secretary of labor said. He said the machinery is still in a state of shock from the strike threat to speed reconstruction. The War Labor Board authorized to decide disputed wage increase demands, was refusing to take any cases unless the parties involved agreed to abide by its decision.

The National Labor Relations board, constituted with seven and short of funds, faced the prospect of having to postpone all its work under the Wagner act and concentrate entirely on conducting more than 100 strike votes in the next 30 days.

Only the National Mediation board, which handles disputes under the railway labor act, was out of the spotlight. It then, was a thicket of work straggling across within the routine of delay from a lack of personnel and the huge number of cases awaiting action.

The War Labor Board, Secretary of Labor Lewis E. Schwellenbach has been forced to assume the role of a virtual one-man federal mediation service. Last week he directed his principal efforts to ending the rubber strike. He is concentrating on the soft coal tie-up.

He meets again tomorrow morning with soft coal producers and President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers. He further explained of the issue which has cost 100,000 miners and forced steel plants to curtail shipments to steel handshaps. Lewis is demanding U.M.W. recognition for 25,000 to 30,000 supervisory employees.

The operators, like the oil companies, last week, have urged Schwellenbach to follow W.L.B. policy by insisting that strikers return to their jobs before discussing the merits of a dispute. The labor secretary ignored the oil companies' request. He said he would not take a position on the coal producers' appeal until after he hears both parties' theories.

Lewis was believed to be relying on a recommendation made by former Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins to win his fight with the coal operators. During 1945 wage negotiations, he accepted her compromise proposal that the issue of bargaining rights for mine supervisory employees be determined by NLRB. When the operators refused, Lewis dropped his demands. But four days after the contract was signed, he notified them the NLRB determination of the issue.

The extent to which criminals were in touch to prevent detection through fingerprints was illustrated by the case of John Dillinger who employed a doctor to use a very strong acid in obtaining the prints. Mr. Allen said that even though identical twins do not have identical fingerprints, he said.

Following the great lengths to which the FBI went in securing the Oak Ridge plant, Mr. Allen said that every person who was employed there was fingerprinted and that among all the applicants a large number were found to have identical prints. He quoted a high German authority as saying, "Whoever learns the secrets of the atomic bomb will win the war."

Allen was introduced by E. J. Sheppard who had charge of the program. President Roosevelt called attention to the fact that Oct. 27 will be Navy Day. Dr. E. W. Burton emphasized the value of the Bureau in the war and called attention to the fact that the Bureau is the only agency in the United States which is authorized to handle atomic energy.

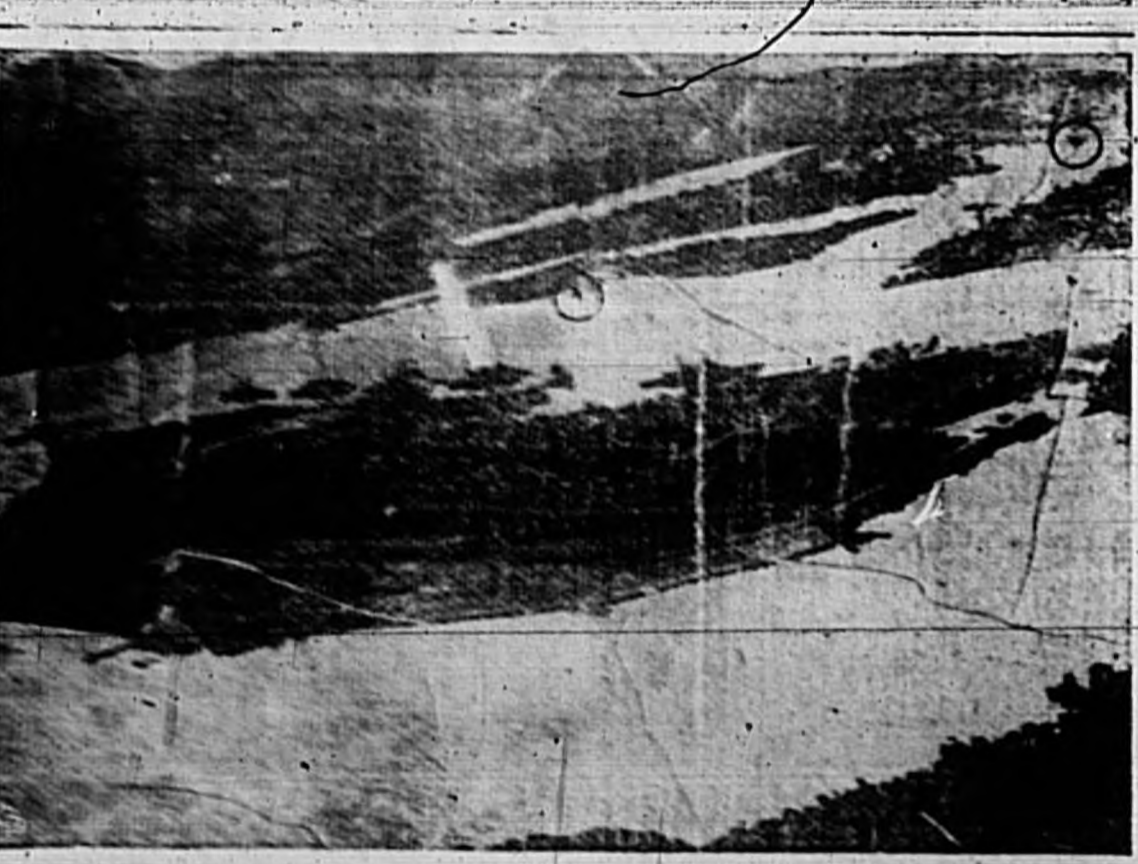

Allen said that the Bureau is the only agency in the United States which is authorized to handle atomic energy. He said that the Bureau is the only agency in the United States which is authorized to handle atomic energy.

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 8. (Special)—The University of Florida's plans for a packed one-day Homecoming celebration Oct. 13, centered around the first night Homecoming football game in its history and the first meeting of the Executive Council of the Alumni Association since the appointment of six new members.

New council members who will attend the meeting at 10 o'clock Saturday morning in Florida Union building are: Roy L. Purvis, Gainesville; Robert Bishop, Orlando; Jack Stevens, Marianna; Richard Simpson, Monticello; John H. Wahl, Miami, and Alfred Rogers, Clearwater.

Governor Millard Caldwell, along with J. Ed Larson, State Treasurer, Julius Parker, president of the State Bar Association and State Supreme Court Justice Chapman and Terrell will attend a Homecoming breakfast sponsored by the Florida chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, honorary legal fraternity, in Florida Union Annex at 8:30 with H. D. Constantine, head professor of speech, acting as toastmaster.

Dr. John J. Tigert, president of the University, telling of the plans of the first peacetime Homecoming in four years, said it will be as extensive as the times permit with "so many of the alumni still in the service of the country."

Plans for the day are under the supervision of a joint alumni-university committee headed by J. Ed Price, assistant dean of students. Spotlighting the football game between the University of Florida Gators and Vanderbilt's Commodores will be a between-the-halves tribute to the alumni who have served in World War I.

Prior to the game, plans are being made for a dinner in honor of Vanderbilt alumni in the vicinity of Gainesville. Dr. Tigert, who served as captain of the Vanderbilt football team in his under-graduate days, will see his alma mater play the University of Florida for the first time in the 17 years he has been Florida's president.

Other features of the one-day celebration include a barbecue honoring state legislators, out-of-campus University open-house and various luncheons and dances at the 19 social fraternity lounge.

Dean Hudson, nationally prominent orchestra leader and an alumnus of the University of Florida, will play for a campus-wide dance in the basketball court Friday night under the sponsorship of the Inter-Fraternity Conference, W. C. Nesbitt, Conference president, has announced Hudson organized his band while a student here in 1936.

The social fraternities have been given the go-ahead signal for the week-end and plans have been made for decoration of the various houses for the first time in four years.

commissioned. At that time there were also 21 battleships afloat and two building. Battleship-minded top officials have forbidden public discussion of these plans by the so-called "air admirals," but some proponents of a larger role for naval aviation are hopeful that Congress will insist on having from the men who directed the carriers against Japan, such as Vice Admiral Marc Mitscher of Task Force 58 fame.

In the Atlantic, baby flatties, known as CVE's and built on cargo ship hulls, were credited with beating the Nazi U-boat threat. Spearheads in the Pacific, the carriers became capital ships and all operations were built around them. They spearheaded every major move in the drive toward Japan.

When the war started there were but seven large carriers and 6,000 Navy pilots. The Japanese cut the number of carriers to three. By the end of the war there were 11 carriers—three large carriers, eight light or cruiser class carriers and 70 escort carriers, with 55,000 Navy and marine pilots.

Compared with seven carriers for 8,000 pilots, the present peacetime outline calls for around 18,000 naval aviators with but 10 carriers. Training time at sea presumably will be reduced sharply from the pre-war standard.

Four Steel Furnaces Shut By Coal Strike

Schwellenbach Hopeful Of Compromise Between John L. And Mine Owners

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 10, (AP)—Mass picketing at the Warner Bros. Studio, which had resulted since last Friday in injuries to more than 100 persons, suddenly collapsed today when 200 armed sheriff's deputies herded 350 to 400 unresisting pickets into the studio and arrested them on charges of unlawful assembly. Herbert Sorrell, head of the AFL Conference Studio Union, said "There will be ten to 20 thousand pickets tomorrow, because we are closing down Lockheed."

New Labor disputes put additional thousands of workers on national strike lines today as the number of idle mounted to some 400,000. But Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach in Washington is hopeful of ending the critical strikes in the soft coal fields, which would enable some 182,000 workers to go back to jobs in 749 closed mines.

The labor chief is ready to offer a new compromise to the soft coal operators and United Mine Workers officials and said he felt they "should be able to agree."

Meanwhile, the coal strike cut deeper into steel production today. The U. S. Steel Corporation announced it would close four blast furnaces tonight, bringing the total to 17 in the Pittsburgh-Youngstown area. Another will close next Tuesday. Fifty-eight open-hearth furnaces were put operation as of today on account of the coal shortage.

Heightened tension marked the film strike as AFL unions continued to mass picketing of downtown shops and the toll of injured mounted to more than 100.

Half a dozen more were assaulted yesterday in sporadic fights between pickets and non-strikers, many of the latter members of the rival AFL International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees.

Herbert Sorrell, president of the AFL conference of studio unions to Sanford with Mrs. Wells for other studios will close by the end of the week. Universal and Republic studios, he declared, will be forced to suspend operations, and pressure will be maintained against Warners.

Although about 200 non-strikers appeared for work they remained at a respectful distance from the picket line, which consisted of about 250 marchers. Some 200 other non-strikers spent the night inside the studio after officials arranged for food and beds.

He served overseas nine months in the Belgian, Luxembourg and German campaigns up to the time of his capture. His decorations include the ETO ribbon with two battle stars, the Good Conduct and Infantry badge on Dec. 19, 1944, during the battle of the Ardennes. He hopes to secure railroad work.

Sanford Now Has $30,000 Fund For Swimming Pool

Chicago, Engineering Firm To Be Hired For Specifications

As an active step toward the building of the long discussed swimming pool in Fort Mellon Park, City Clerk H. M. Nayer was instructed by the City Commission Monday evening to write a Chicago engineering firm to determine if an adequate pool can be constructed for the $30,000 which the city now has available for this purpose.

If this can be done within or near the amount, the engineer will be requested to prepare plans and specifications for the pool and to come to Sanford to take care of the awarding of bids for construction. Mayor Elwood Higley expressed his approval of the project.

The $30,000 available consists of a City appropriation of $10,000, a donation of $10,000 toward building of a pool made by Chase and Company, and $10,000 which the Parks and Recreation Committee on motion of W. A. Leffler and second of J. L. Ingley, recently voted to turn over to the City Commission for use. The latter fund was also a gift of Chase and Company.

Park Superintendent James Moughton reported that considerable work would have to be done to the grandstand in Municipal Ball Park to make it suitable for spectators to see the St. Paul club train and play games here. The Commission authorized Frank Ashdown, contractor, to prepare specifications so that bids may be taken on the job.

Anthony Mercante of Detroit, Mich. requested and was granted permission to purchase a section of the Dragoon addition north of the South End Inn, to erect a health club. The Commission took under advisement a request to renew white way lighting on First Street to Myrtle Avenue.

Three applications to sell beer and wine were approved: to Fred H. Smith, 1314 S. Street and Mangrove Avenue, to Allen Mitchell, 408 Sanford Avenue and to Euclidean Apply at the Palma and Pines Restaurant. A taxi operating permit was granted to Edward H. Smith, 1314 S. Street, and to George Smith of the Yowell Company for police and fire department uniforms, and to the Hockey Tire Company for four tires for the Fire Department.

Pinder's Heroism On Invasion Days Told In Magazine

Former Sanford Pitcher Died In Communications' Job

One of the great heroes of the Normandy invasion on June 6, 1944, was John J. Pinder, John J. Pinder, who back in Sanford's gala baseball days, pitched for the home team. His home town, Burgetstown, Pa. shares with Sanford the honor of having known him.

His great exploit of heroism was described as follows in the magazine, "Herald": "He was a radio man, an expert in battle communications. He job was not easy, for should he fail, the big naval guns offshore would fire without direction and there could be no way of calling in force bombers and fighters to last nests of Nazis threatening the Allied landings."

Those who were there say that it was almost as if the Nazis new Pinder was coming. As his landing craft approached the shore at Colleville sur Mer, France, mortar and machine gun fire raked the waters. Pinder and the fighting men on the ship walked right into the inferno. Pinder took upon himself the task of carrying the main pieces of radio equipment to the shore, the equipment which would establish a communications link with the beach.

Nearly $4,000 Is Raised For War Fund In 1 Week

Coleman Urges Teams To Go To Work To Raise County Quota

Nearly $4,000 was raised during the first week of the National War Fund drive in Seminole County. I. H. Coleman, chairman, reported this morning as he revealed that the campaign is still lagging, with present indications pointing toward a failure to raise this county's quota.

There are several teams in the rural areas which have not reported at all yet, he added, and there are hardly any which have completed their work. "If these teams will go to work now and contact all their prospects, there is still a chance that we may make a creditable showing," he said.

The total amount raised to date is $3,995.75. Pointing out that a dangerous period lies ahead and that an effective way of maintaining peace is to combat starvation and pestilence by the giving of money, Senator Charles O. Andrews, in a telegram to Walter L. Hays, president of the Florida Division of the National War Fund drive.

Senator Andrews' telegram stated: "Now more than ever is there need for vigorous work and generous contribution to the National War Fund, the campaign is continuing on page four."

Veterans' Agent Tells Kiwanians About GI Bill

Will Interview Veterans At Court House On Rights

The value of school training, refresher courses, and industrial training benefits provided for veterans under the G. I. Bill of rights was today explained to Kiwanians by Roscoe Hill, representative of the Veterans' Administration, whose office is in Orlando.

Mr. Hill stated that he would be in Sanford at the Sheriff's office in the Court House every Friday at from 10:00 A. M. until 4:00 P. M. to interview veterans in regard to training and benefits provided by the G. I. Bill.

W. A. Morrison of the Ford agency was revealed by Mr. Hill to be the first Sanford employment official to give occupational training to working veterans under provisions of the bill.

Termining the GI Bill and its training provisions the most wonderful thing given any Army men in the world, Mr. Hill added that although the government had formulated the plan, it was singularly free from red tape. He stated the benefits of the assistance allowance given by the government during the time men are serving apprenticeship on jobs. This, he said, amounts to $50 a month for single, and $75 a month for married men.

He stressed the need of Sanford keeping its young men here through proper training and cooperation of employers. He cited the benefits of veterans finishing school training, with government tuition fee of $500 a year and book and tools also included.

Sup. T. W. Lawton announced that the Sanford Vocational School on Commercial Avenue will provide special instruction for veterans.

Floyd Woodward, buy scout executive of Daytona Beach, spoke briefly on how to properly sponsor buy scout activities.

Visitors included: French Harvey, Randall Chase, Irvin Frank of E. L. Place and Walter M. Smith of the Key Club.

United States Warned Of War By Marshall

Chief Of Staff Describes Terrifying New Weapons Which Will Open Next War

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10, (AP)—General George C. Marshall last night lifted the lid on an arsenal of "terrifying" new weapons and warned an American entering the atomic age that is must "prepare or perish."

To come with the menace of scientific mass destruction and to enforce our will for peace with strength," the army chief of staff urged: "Intense scientific research and development."

"A permanent peacetime citizen-army, trained and ready to take us into but one large standing army subject to the behest of a group of schemers."

Gen. Marshall proposed a year's "unbroken" training—as opposed to brief periods spread over several years—for "all men who might someday have to fight for their nation."

Not alone "In a biennial report to Secretary of War, Marshall said that the atomic bomb is not alone among the scientific advances "that make the possibilities of the future so terrifying."

Because "it is so important that the people of the United States realize the possibilities of the future," Marshall said, he asked Gen. Arnold, army air forces chief, to estimate the capabilities of modern weapons. And here are some of the highlights to highly secret developments Arnold reported:

"We can direct rockets in targets by electronic devices and new instruments which guide them accurately to sources of heat, light, and magnetism. Drawn by their own fuses, such rockets will streak unerringly to the heart of his body."

Within the next few years there will be produced jet-propelled bombers with speeds of 500 and 600 miles per hour, flying to targets 1500 miles distant at altitudes of 40,000 feet. Development of even greater bombers to operate in the stratosphere at supersonic speeds and carrying bomb loads of more than 100,000 pounds already is certain.

"These aircraft will have sufficient range to attack any spot on the earth and return to a friendly base," Arnold reported. "At this very moment we are making a single bomb weighing 45,000 pounds to keep pace with construction, which will carry such a load. Air ordinance engineers have blueprinted a bomb weighing 100,000 pounds."

Improvement of jet fighters "may well produce within the next five years an aircraft capable of the speed of sound and of reaching targets 2000 miles away at altitudes above 50,000 feet."

Discovery of the secret of atomic power, said Marshall, "can be man's greatest benefit or it can destroy him." Then the general added: "It is against the latter terrible possibility that this nation must prepare or perish."

"Atomic power will affect the peaceful life of every individual on earth. And it will at the same time affect every instrument and technique of destruction."

How close was the race with the Nazis for this secret was indicated in a discussion by Marshall of the reasons for the Allied invasion of the European continent. One reason was to shorten the war by "facilitating the advance of Russian forces from the east, and the general. The other he described this way: "At the same time German technological advances such as in the development of atomic explosives made it imperative that we attack before these terrible weapons could be turned against us."

There was no mention in Marshall's report of a corresponding technological advance by Japan. Indeed, the general made a point of the fact that there was little real contact between the Germans and the Japanese, expressing himself this way: "The Axis, as a matter of fact, existed on paper only."

The Army's battle deaths in World War II surpassed those of any conflict in U. S. history even though advanced medical care brought a remarkable reduction in deaths among the wounded. Gen. George C.
