Husband Has Drinking Problem DEAR DR. LAMB— I am very worried about my husband. He is only 44 and seems to be in fairly good health but he drinks entirely too much. I've tried to tell him that it is damaging his body but he just won't pay any attention to me.

Dr. Lamb He often has a couple of cocktails for lunch. Then when he gets home he has a couple of drinks before dinner. After dinner he sits around and has a drink about every hour until he goes to bed around 11 p.m. He says if you don't drink more than one drink an hour that it won't hurt you. I don't believe that.

Will this cause him to have a bad liver? What are the signs of a damaged liver? What can he do to prevent liver damage? I know people get yellow jaundice when their liver is bad but I see some other sign before then that would warn him before it is too late.

Regarding signs of liver damage, they are hard to pick up unless you are trained to do so. I am sending you The Health Letter number 74, Living With Your Liver to give you the information you requested.

U2 Pilot Gary Powers

Killed In Helicopter Crash

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Francis Gary Powers, the U2 pilot whose capture while on a spy flight over the Soviet Union pushed the Cold War into an even deeper chill, has been killed in the crash of his television news helicopter.

Powers, 47, and cameraman George Spears 43, died Monday when their Bell Jet Ranger plunged into a vacant baseball field in the San Fernando Valley. Cause of the crash has not been determined.

The stocky, softspoken Powers created an international furor in 1960 when his high-altitude reconnaissance plane was brought down by a surface-to-air missile some 1,200 miles inside the Soviet Union.

Strict Gas Rules In Making

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate committee is proposing government sanctions against gas-guzzling cars that would go well beyond controls suggested by the Carter administration. But a spokesman for Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, who is calling for the strict mileage standards, said late Monday that the administration apparently will not oppose the plan, which would ban the sale of fuel-inefficient cars starting in 1980.

Leaky Roofs Suit: More Defendants

Attorneys for the Seminole County School Board are apparently amending law suits against a Sanford architect to include more than six school buildings to include more defendants.

The court files in the cases are listed by the Circuit Clerk's office as being checked out from attorney Ned Julian Jr., of the Sanford legal firm of Stensrud, Davis and McIntosh.

School board attorney Douglas Stensrud earlier told board members he may also sue prime contractors on the school construction projects.

So far the lawsuits allege that Kelley failed to provide expansion joints in his roof designs, failed to see that contractors complied with specifications on the roofs, and improperly supervised the contractors' work on the roofs.

The lawsuits have been assigned to several circuit judges for trial but could possibly be consolidated later for a single trial.

A report on the leaking roofs, made by a consulting engineer hired by the architect, placed blame on the architect and laid additional blame on contractors.

The school board has let contracts for over $200,000 for roof repairs at Teague Middle and Idylwild Elementary schools.

'He Just Walked Off' Police Find Stray Youth

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

A 17-year-old Sanford juvenile was being held in detention today following an episode Monday in which police say he walked out of a Division of Youth Services office before he could be booked following his arrest on a county court warrant on traffic offenses.

Police picked up the boy on the warrant and said while he was waiting to talk to a DYS intake counselor at an office adjacent to the Regional Juvenile Detention Center, the youth "just walked out of the building."

A three-hour search for the youth by Sanford and Lake County police and sheriff's deputies ended when Sanford officers took him into custody again at a Sanford residence.

Juvenile Detention Center superintendent Dick Hight said this morning that the youth was being detained for a court appearance. Hight said that the detention facility is locked-door operation and that the youth was next door at a DYS office when he walked away.

FOUR ARRESTED TODAY

Sheriff's deputies today reported the arrest of four juvenile boys — ages 15, 16 and 17 years — in connection with recent auto and residential burglaries in the Springs, west of Longwood.

Detective John Poole said the juveniles were charged with burglary and grand larceny and a $1,400 diamond ring allegedly taken in one of the burglaries has been recovered.

BURGLARIES FROBLED

Sheriff's deputies today reported a residential air conditioning system, carpeting and acetylene torch equipment were taken in a series of apparently unrelated burglaries.

Tim Glus of Glus Builders reported an air handler unit and condenser unit value of $1,400 were taken in a burglary of a house on Princess Gate Road, Howell Estates.

Richard Constantine told deputies $300 in green cash and a $50 light fixture and paucel was missing following a burglary at a residence at 3401 Curtis Drive, Forest City. Deputies said holes were apparently kicked in walls in the house causing an estimated $300 damage.

Deputy Bruce Bowden reported a $500 acetylene torch outfit with spare bottles of acetylene and oxygen was taken when someone broke into a truck at 7235 Blue Jacket Place West, Woodcrest subdivision.

Burglars made off with a set of gauges for acetylene tanks and a gasoline-powered saw, total value $400, after forcing open a door at an Allen Trovillian Inc. construction trailer on Sweetwater Club Boulevard, Bowden reported.

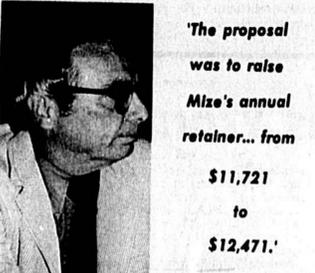

Sanford Commission Nixes City Atty's Retainer Hike

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford City Commissioners, in one of the few decisions made during its first session on the proposed budget for the 1978 fiscal year beginning Oct. 1, Monday night voted to deny City Attorney Vernon Mize a "cost of living" increase in his retainer.

Mayor Lee P. Moore cast the deciding vote with Commissioners John Morris and Julian Stensrud opposing the increase and Commissioners Eddie Keith and A.A. McClanahan in favor.

The proposal was to raise Mize's annual retainer for attending commission meetings, telephone calls from city officials and preparing ordinances and resolutions from $11,721 to $13,471. City Manager W.E. Knowles in the proposed budget included a 6.4 per cent cost of living pay raise for all city personnel with the exception of the city commission.

VERNON MIZE

The proposed budget for legal expenses for the year was $40,330 including $6,000 for the labor relations attorney, David Korreich, and $10,000 as the anticipated cost of the city's "double taxation" lawsuit against the county.

Although the budget for the legal department in the current year is $28,571 including $4,000 for labor relations attorney, actually spent during the first six months of the year was $29,571.

Knowles explained much of that expenditure occurred because those who need the county order to file a lawsuit also named the city as a party. The city has since been dismissed as a party to all the suits.

The commission did approve an increase in fees for city auditor, Harold Hartsock, from $5,000 annually to $6,000.

The commission recommended additional budget sessions for 8 p.m. today and 7 p.m. Wednesday.

First item on the agenda for tonight's session will be the police department. Morris urged the commission to reconsider "cost of living" pay raises for police personnel who have indicated their intent to organize for collective bargaining purposes.

The commission had been advised that granting pay raises to police could be considered an unfair labor practice.

GARBAGE FEES

Action to increase monthly garbage and trash collection fees to Sanford residents and business houses is being held up pending a decision on commercial fees from Knowles.

In addition, Commissioner Morris Monday night asked Knowles to "look for alternatives to take the sting out of the increase."

Morris had earlier favored the use of federal revenue sharing funds designated for the proposed purchase of a new sanitary landfill. A plan to purchase a landfill has since been discarded.

Knowles' recommendations are to be submitted to the commission in time for action at next week's regular meeting.

In other business, the commission approved the appointment by the Seminole County College Board of Trustees of City Engineer Mack LaZebny to the college's engineering related technology advisory committee for the 1977-78 school year.

The board also approved Knowles as a candidate for southeast regional vice president of the International City Managers' Association. (ICMA). The ICMA nominating committee has placed Knowles name in nomination for the office.

Knowles said his election to the office would mean he would have to travel about 20 days annually on ICMA business.

CITY SERVICES BOARD

The Sanford City Service Board will be asked by City Manager Knowles to waive its authority to screen some 246 applicants for the positions of assistant to the city manager, chief of police and other employment opportunities office (EEO).

The city commission Monday night instructed Knowles to appear before the board to determine if it would relinquish that responsibility in favor of the city manager in the case of the known more for their regularly.

NO PARKING HOURS

The city commission has ordered a change in the "no parking" hours on 25th Street following a complaint by a resident — Mrs. W.L. Willis — that she has no place to park or for her guests to park their cars.

Currently parking is prohibited from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m., but on the recommendation of City Engineer LaZebny the prohibited parking hours are to be changed from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m.

LaZebny in a memo to the city commission said in his conversation with Mrs. Willis it was agreed that the change in no parking times would satisfy her complaint.

The no parking was approved by the city commission originally to stop the night time parking of trucks.

Want To Catch A Falling Star? Then Watch The Sky Aug. 11-13

NEW YORK (AP) — The planet Earth, on its journey around the sun, is plowing through a swarm of gravel and other space junk left behind by a comet. The result is about to be seen by earthlings everywhere.

The phenomenon is called a meteor shower, but some will see UFOs.

Romantics will see "shooting stars" in one of the most beautiful light shows nature has to offer.

Astronomers and physicists will observe the ice, gravel and dust that burn before they return to the planet.

"It's just like Old Faithful," says Dr. Kenneth Franklin, astronomer of the Hayden Planetarium here.

The rain of fiery debris — known as the Perseid Meteor Shower — becomes more visible each year, from after midnight until just before dawn on August 11, 12 and 13.

It is called Perseid because the meteors, about 50 every hour, seem to be streaming from the constellation Perseus. The space debris rides along in the orbit of the Temple-Swift Comet, which last passed the Earth in 1867.

The comet headed around the sun and then back into the far reaches of our solar system.

It will return at all, Temple-Swift won't be back until 2072.

"It's a fairly distant comet," says Franklin. "It might never return."

But in previous trips around the sun, Temple-Swift left chunks of ice and gravel in its orbital path, which crosses the orbit of the Earth. Other comets have done the same thing, creating several meteor showers each year. Some are remembered for their irregular but spectacular shows of light. Others, like the Perseid, are known more for their regularly.

Franklin says observatories and planetariums frequently receive calls about UFOs directly after meteor showers.

"To the person who doesn't expect the meteor shower, it might seem scary," says Sten Odenwald, a graduate student worker at the Harvard College Observatory in Massachusetts. "... you'll see some lights falling up and then dying, like stars exploding."

But Odenwald also observes, "It will be great for romantics, just lovingly. I plan to watch the shower from Yosemite National Park." It says the best place to watch the shower is outside any city limits.

This year's Perseid promises to be a good show. There will be no moon, which means that light from the meteors will have little competition.

Boston Whites, Blacks Battle

BOSTON (AP) — Daily fights have broken out between blacks and whites over the right to swim at a public beach whose three-quarter mile stretch of sand separates all-white South Boston and the largely black Columbia Point housing project. For the past 12 days, riot-helmeted police have had to break up confrontations at Carson Beach.

'Til Death...

COCOA (AP) — A 31-year-old man, apparently upset by a court order barring him from seeing his estranged wife, abducted her from a parking lot and held her captive for two hours until he shot himself to death, police say.

Brevard County sheriff's deputies said Monday that Clyde J. Bridges forced his wife, Hilda, into his car near the McDonald-Douglas Aerospace Corp. plant in Titusville where she worked and sped off waving a pistol at employees that tried to stop him.

Officials said it took one hour to locate Bridges' car at a Cocoa apartment building where the unemployed air duct worker was holding his wife at gunpoint.

...Do Us Part

WEST PALM BEACH (AP) — A man who held several hostages and said he wanted to kill his estranged wife was wounded in a shootout with police in a suburban West Palm Beach bar.

Off-duty sheriff's Det. Robert Wilson was taken to Good Samaritan Hospital Monday with an elbow wound. He was listed in good condition.

John W. Hawkins Jr., 42, of Juno Beach was arrested by police and charged with two counts of assault with intent to murder and five counts of aggravated assault.

Hawkins was listed in fair condition in the same hospital with a bullet wound in the chest.

More than 50 officers surrounded the bar after receiving a complaint that a man was inside with a gun, police said. They fired five blocks around the bar.

Hawkins began firing at police after the building was surrounded, police said.

Skeleton Found Near Beach

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — Police are checking families of missing teenage girls in an effort to identify a skeleton found near the Atlantic shore on Fort George Island.

Dr. Peter Lipkovic, Jacksonville medical examiner, said Monday the skeleton is that of a girl in her early teens who had been dead at least six months and possibly several years.

Officials plan to reconstruct the girl's general appearance based on the contour of the bones.

Lipkovic said cause of death is unknown. There were no broken bones, but he said she could have been stabbed or strangled.

Tanzler Files Disclosure

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — Jacksonville Mayor Hans Tanzler, a possible candidate for governor next year, has filed a financial disclosure statement listing his net worth at $21,458.

Tanzler said his assets include $104,813 in securities and a partnership in a California fruit grove which he said is bankrupt.

Among his liabilities, he listed a $68,000 mortgage on his home and a $67,000 bank loan.

Kidnap Trial Delayed

SARASOTA (AP) — A 30-day delay in the kidnaping and sexual battery trial of Wilfred "Rusty" Bannister, accused of abducting a teen-age girl from a restaurant in Langston, Bannister is charged in the June 27 kidnaping of 14-year-old Charlotte Grosse from a state park. He was arrested three days later after the girl managed to escape from Bannister's home on nearby Siesta Key and call for help.

Bannister has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity. He did not appear in court Monday.

Attorney Bernard Dempsey had asked for a four-month continuance, but Judge Langston allowed just one month. He said he wanted to avoid complications from new rules that take effect Oct. 1 covering cases where insanity is a plea.

Saunders Case To Jury

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — State Atty. Harry Morrison says he'll ask a grand jury whether unsuccessful congressional candidate JoAnn Saunders committed perjury when she failed to file a financial disclosure statement.

Morrison said Monday that he hopes to present the issue to the grand jury next week but may not get to it until September.

Earlier this year, the Ethics Commission found that Mrs. Saunders violated an election law in failing to file a financial disclosure statement by the July 20, 1976 deadline for 1976 candidates.

Strike Leaders Transferred

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Twenty-three demonstrators in a sitdown strike last week at DeSoto Correctional Institution have been transferred to other prisons in an effort to prevent further disturbances, authorities report.

Prison officials said Monday 19 inmates were transferred to Union Correctional Institution near Raiford and four others were sent to Lake Butler reception center.

"It was felt that their presence was removed which could get back to a normal routine at the prison," said Dee Farrell, a spokesman for the Department of Offender Rehabilitation.

She said the transfers had taken place Thursday.

SCOPA To Get 3 New Warehouses

The Seminole County Port Authority (SCOPA) board of directors Monday night awarded a construction contract to three "mini-mall" warehouses to Clifton Construction of Cocoa, the firm which built the port's first mini-mall.

Under Monday night's agreement, SCOPA and Clifton will share equally any profits resulting from tenant rentals of a 14,000-square-foot warehouse, which will be divided into seven 2,000-square-foot facilities.

When that building is 88 per cent leased, Clifton will begin work on a 18,000-square-foot warehouse. Monday's agreement also calls for Clifton to build two more 14,000-square-foot warehouses in the future, which would bring total warehouse space at the port to 68,000 square feet.

This is approximately one-half of the projected 130,250 square feet of warehouse space planned for eventual construction by port officials.

The SCOPA board of directors selected Clifton rather than Buckland-Korman Construction of Seminole County, who had also offered a 50-50 profit split, and improvement of the port's first mini-mall.

Clifton was selected because of their "proven record of performance" and because it would be more administratively convenient not to have two contractors working at the port, said Dennis Dolinger, administrative assistant to port administrator Jim Ryan.

Construction of the new facility will begin immediately, Dolinger said, and will be completed within 90 days.

30 Officials Fail To Disclose Finances

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Eighteen senators and representatives all over the state wanting to know if it's all right to mail them today. Without financial disclosure forms on file in the state Elections Division.

Among them are five prominent senators who openly defied the newly enacted law by getting them in without being vulnerable to a penalty.

However, some forms may be in the mail or lost in the half dozen disorganized piles of documents in a basement office at the Capitol.

"We're getting calls from senators and representatives all over the state wanting to know if it's all right to mail them today," William Ferraro, chief of Elections records, said Monday. "They're not filed if they're in the mail."

"This is worse than the qualifying deadline because we don't know exactly how this is supposed to work."

Among those who waited until the last minute were Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner, who said his net worth was $68,853; House Speaker Donald Tucker, who listed a net worth of $430,350; and Comtroller Gerald Lewis, whose net worth was listed as $28,511.

The reports were filed under the right Sunshine Amendment requirements approved by voters last November after years at such tough proposals. More than 1.7 million voters ordered elected state and county officials to publicly report their finances.

The senators, like other lawmakers, may be removed only by a vote of their chamber. They are present-designate Philip D. Lewis, D-West Palm Beach; former President Demsey Barron, D-Panama City; Finance and Tax Chairman Jack Gordon, D-Miami Beach; Republican Leader Kenneth Plante, R-Winter Park; and Sen. William Gorman, R-Ocala.

Conner reported assets of $93,347 and liabilities of $28,514. His largest reported holding was $37,510 in the Bar C Ranch at Lloyd, followed by $57,685 for a farm at Starke and stock in Gulf County Farms Inc. worth $67,213. Group Recommends Duties Be Clarified

By GEORGE SHRIVER
Herald Correspondent

The City of Oviedo's Advisory Charter Committee has presented its final report to the city council recommending that the present form of government be retained and that the charter be amended to clarify duties of the mayor and council.

It also was recommended that the present charter be amended to insure voter participation by referendum if the city manager form of government is to be instituted.

"It is the opinion of the supervision of a given department between the mayor and council committee, it would be preferable that the mayor serve as chief administrator and the council retain investigative and policy-making functions.

"With this end in view, the committee recommends that Sections 9 and 10 of the charter, those pertaining to the duties of the mayor and to council committees, be revised entirely, that a clause prohibiting interference be added to Section 17 (Duties of Council), and that Section 59 be amended to transfer supervision of the city clerk's office from the council to the mayor."

Besides these changes, the committee recommends that "in order to insure that the voters of the city take part in any decision as to whether to change to a city manager form of government, Section 57 (City Manager) be amended so as to provide for a public referendum on the initial employment of a city manager."

County Okays Truck Bids

Seminole County public works officials this morning received approval from county commissioners to solicit bids for four dump trucks to replace worn out equipment needed to cover portions of the county's Ocoola landfill in compliance with state environmental requirements.

Commissioners voted unanimously to authorize Public Works Director Jack Schuder to develop specifications and begin advertising for bids for the dump trucks.

A recent state Department of Environmental Regulation (DER) consent decree, yet to be signed by county officials, requires that by September two feet of dirt be placed on top of 80 acres at the landfill on which garbage has been deposited.

This is 300,000 cubic yards of fill material, and Schuder said, "We are barely able to keep up with the daily cover in our current operations."

Games Star Officials, Newsmen

The government officials (and members of the press) will not struggle for supremacy in the usual areas of annexation, double taxation, provision of services and comprehensive planning. Such events as the water hazard, the wild weave, ratch as catch can, volleyball, tug of war and hoppla hoops will take their place — for one day, at least.

Proper attire for the day's activities, suggests the parks and recreation department, includes sport shirt, pants or Bermuda shorts, athletic socks and tennis shoes. Legal bribes, budget memoranda, policy statements and budget analyses are strictly prohibited.

Mayor Lee P. Moore said a major attraction to industry of cities floating revenue bonds for them is a savings in interest rate, which could amount to as much as four per cent over the rate on a conventional bond.

Moore said industrial revenue bonds, backed by city, is a legitimate function of government, adding that his remarks were being made for information purposes and not to secure the either favors or disfavor the project.

Knowles said 40 per cent of the aluminum used in the plant would be "clean" scrap and that little traffic would be generated by the proposed factory. He said at the maximum two trucks would be leaving the facility daily and three would be arriving.

Moore noted that approval by the city of the industrial bonding would set a precedent as far as Sanford is concerned since it has not undertaken similar approach in the past.

Knowles was told to set up meetings with principals of the firm so that commissioners could be kept advised.

McClanahan said even though he has reservations, "I will discuss anything with anyone."

Volunteer Army: Still Proving Itself

Sen. Wendell Anderson, Democrat of Minnesota, is the latest person to object to the All-Volunteer Army as "too expensive."

Sen. Anderson believes that "we are trying to bribe young men to get them to serve in the military" and that "it is more costly to do that than to have a draft."

The Volunteer Army also is said to be "too black" and "too poor." "Too black" and "too poor" are terms like "too expensive."

Significantly, critics of the Volunteer Army often fail to see where their views might lead them. In place of the Volunteer Army, some want a draft, in which case they may have to worry again about creating uncertainties and inequities in young people's lives.

'Miss Zoo' Wins Crown

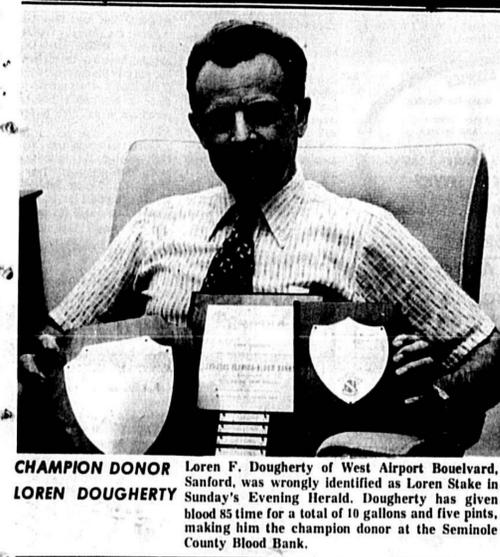

Sally Rose, 17, of Pine Hills and Billie Jo Hudson, 15, of Orlando were crowned Miss Central Florida Zoo in the Miss and Teen divisions of the beauty pageant held Saturday in the Sanford Civic Center. A total of 60 girls participated in the pageant, which netted $1,200 for the zoo.

Julianne Rajchel (picture on left) was photographed as modeling mistress and master of ceremonies Vicki Nittinger and Jamie Jameson during the contest. Another contestant, Carol Sahberg (below) is encouraged by a near-capacity crowd.

Runners-up in the Miss pageant were Angie Lewis, Caselberry; Maryann Voorhees, Winter Park; Sandi Robertson, Winter Park; Judy Gore, Winter Park. Runners-up in the Teen pageant were Monica Shields, Orlando; Janice Kerr, Winter Springs; Leigh Ann Beine, Sanford and Susan Jones, Oviedo.

Miss Beine also won the trophy for the most tickets sold—a grand total of 250. The pageant was directed by Ms. Nittinger and Shirley Cooper who hope it will become an annual event.

The Gay Life
Fleeing From Closet To Typewriter

By CAROL FELSETHAL
Herald Service

Arnie Kantrowitz was so ashamed of his homosexuality that when he decided to kill himself, before writing his suicide note, he collected incriminating gay magazines from various hiding places in his apartment and stashed them in a neighbor's garbage can.

Kantrowitz sliced up both wrists, but miraculously missed the artery. And so he lived to write "Under the Rainbow," a candid and touching account of "growing up gay"—one of the many new books by homosexuals who seem to be flocking to the typewriter as fast as they can flee the closet.

From the time he was a small child, Arnie knew he was a homosexual—a fact he didn't dare reveal to his family until almost two decades later. In between came hormone shots, boxing lessons, psychoanalysis, two suicide attempts, agonizing attempts to love a woman, and degrading trips to the Port Authority's men's room where queeries were conducted in the stalls.

Even in the most loving of homes, growing up in Newark, interest. When Kantrowitz shifts the focus from his past to his present he loses perspective and humor. His descriptions of in-fighting in the Gay Activists Alliance are tedious. His descriptions of dreams and silent meetings in seedy hotels with businessmen, often family members, are even more tedious. And his descriptions of masochistic relationships with various unworthy men are not only tedious, but also depressing.

If growing up gay in New Jersey was tough, growing up gay in Texas was even tougher. Mary Jo Fisher, whose sad story Gifford Gibson tells in "By Her Own Admission," learned early to keep her sexual preferences to herself. She even married and had two children. When the marriage broke up in 1971, Mary Jo got custody of her two sons. In 1973 she set up housekeeping in a Dallas suburb with her lover Anne Foreman and Anne's eight-year-old daughter. Shortly thereafter, Mary Jo's husband Doug sued for custody of the younger boy, charging that nine-year-old Richard Fisher was being raised in an immoral (i.e. homosexual) atmosphere. In 1975, a jury of 10 men and two women agreed with Doug, awarding him custody of his son. Mary Jo is now appealing that decision, and, with the financial and moral support of masochistic relationships with various unworthy men are not only tedious, but also depressing.

This case raises important issues, but, unfortunately, these issues are buried beneath boring descriptions of Thanksgiving dinners and gay picnics, beneath the author's clogged, turgid style and his penchant for spouting dime store philosophies.

These cases raise important issues, but, unfortunately, these issues are buried beneath boring descriptions of Thanksgiving dinners and gay picnics, beneath the author's clogged, turgid style and his penchant for spouting dime store philosophies.

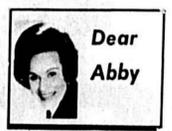

Unfortunately, so also ends much of the book's value and conviction. Years later, Arnie

DEAR KNOW: Wait until after she tells you what she thinks you ought to know. You may not know EVERYTHING.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for setting the record straight with regard to the Equal Rights Amendment and the draft. I hope this letter can provide similar enlightenment regarding ERA and community property.

Wives are considered joint owners of property with their husbands in community-property states, namely, California, Texas, Washington, Arizona, Louisiana, Idaho, Nevada and New Mexico. (Women in all other states do not have such protection.)

Another justification for the ERA, even in some community-property states, concerns the control and management of the joint property. In some community-property states such as Louisiana, even though the wife may have joint legal ownership of the "community" property, the management of the property remains solely in the hands of the husband. This means that a husband could liquidate the joint property without his wife's consent or her knowledge.

Birch Bayh United States Senator
DEAR SEN. BAYH: Thank you for a very illuminating letter.

Wanda recently made the decision to share her knowledge in these areas with Connie and Dawn, her two stylists. The make-over is accomplished by changing the shape of the eyebrows, shading and highlighting the face.

Wanda does not believe that one make-up is the best, therefore she does not sell products. She says that the customer can generally find the desired or similar shade in all about brands on the market.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDEOSOL

YOUR BIRTHDAY August 3, 1977

Don't overlook any chances to acquire additional knowledge in your chosen field this coming year. Anything you learn will be to your financial and personal advantage.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Financial maneuverings bring out the best in you today. You're extremely resourceful even if working with methods heretofore unfamiliar to you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) The key to your attainment is a natural one for you today. Subdue your self-interest and advance the cause of others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Set aside your anxieties today. Accentuate the positive. You can accomplish whatever you want to by heeding this axiom.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You function exceptionally well with a limited number of people today. You may lose your effectiveness if you take on too many assistants.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Set your sights on what you know is attainable today, not on what others think you can do. What you achieve could still be rather remarkable.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Refrain from being critical of others today. Try to say what you feel will inspire them and lift their sagging spirits.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Be willing to extend yourself if looking for reward for your labors. Forget about leaning on others. You don't need them.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be a leader and manager of events today. Don't let them dictate to you. So long as you are up front, things will go your way.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Keep a low profile today while looking out for those under your wing. Let them think they're the masters of their own fate.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You're exceptionally good today at heading up committees. There may be some slackers, but you'll know how to handle them.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Pull out all the stops today if you're working to advance your career or make money. That's the only way you'll overcome the obstacles.

that by passing he would not encroach on East and West to bid game.

That reasoning is fallacious at best. If East and West have a lead in the bidding, they should stop there and make a part score while it is still bid.

If East and West do not have a lead, they should bid spades they will stop there and make a part score while it is still bid.

North's pass to West's two spades is an example of this type bid at its worst. As explained earlier, North had chucked up 300 points by setting the five-diamond contract two tricks. He had hoped

Slow Pulse Rate Not Always Bad

DEAR DR. LAMB—I would appreciate it if you would send me a write-up on pulse rate. A friend of mine asked me to tell them they both had a slow pulse rate—60 beats.

Can anything be done with a slow rate or is nothing really necessary? Are there any drugs for slow pulse rates?

DEAR READER—It depends entirely on what causes it. A slow heart rate is often a sign of a healthy heart. A vigorous well-trained athlete may have a resting heart rate below 40 per minute. In fact most well-conditioned men have rates below 60 beats per minute at rest. Since there are so few individuals who are really in a state of optimal fitness and who do not smoke or drink coffee we have become accustomed to thinking of higher rates—which are the norm for our not-so-fit society.

Roger Bannister had a resting heart rate in the 70s when he began training for the four minute mile. When he was properly conditioned and ready to break the world's record his resting heart rate was in the 30s. That gave him the reserve he needed to make that enormous physical effort.

Some medicines slow heart rates too—as a side effect. And then there are people who have heart block who have very slow heart rates. Those with this medical problem who have rates that fall too low will have inadequate blood flow to the brain. This can lead to mental confusion or loss of consciousness or even convulsions. This can be dangerous. These individuals require a pacemaker to prevent the heart from beating too slowly.

If you have it, on one hand our healthiest people among us have a slow heart rate as a sign of health and at the other extreme it can be a sign of heart disease. A rate of 60 by itself, though, is not likely to be of clinical significance. To give you more information on heart rates I am sending you The Health Letter number 9-8, Your Heart Rate: What It Means. Others who want this issue can send 50 cents with a letter, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 326, San Antonio, TX, 78282.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Can one lose weight in the face by exercising and dieting? What is the nose made up of (the outside)? Is it fat or muscle?

DEAR READER—As most people who have lost weight will tell you the first place it shows is in the face. The last place it shows is around the waist and the places most people would like to reduce.

The bridge of the nose is bone and the tip of the nose is cartilage. That is why the tip is soft. There are a few tiny muscles attached to the cartilage. They help when you want to give someone the dilated nostril or they can be used to pull in the opening of the tip. These muscles are very small.

The nose doesn't have any significant fat so weight loss in the face will not do much to your nose. The nose may become fat in a medical condition resulting in a large bulbous red vascular nose. In these instances the deformity that results is not due to surgery if it is to be corrected. If you are thinking you can affect the character of your nose with diet and weight loss, am afraid that won't work.

REP. FECHTEL EXAMINES POSTED NOTICE (Herald Photos by Donna Estes)

Sanford Mayor: Police Vote Will Be 'Done Right'

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

An election will be held by Sanford police to unionize, Mayor Lee P. Moore predicted Tuesday night, but he added "not until every job is jotted and every title is utilized."

The effort may take two years, "but it will be done right," he said. The police officers "are going to have their rights and the city will have its."

Moore made the comments in response to a statement by Commissioner John Morris Monday night that the city reconsider its position of refusing to grant a 6.4 per cent of living increase to police personnel.

The commission made it official Tuesday night in the second of its current sessions on the 1978 budget, by following Moore's lead and the advice of special labor attorney David Kornreich by refusing the pay raises. Kornreich had warned the commissioners that granting the increases could put the city in the position of being charged "with unfair labor practices."

Moore said the necessary stance now appears to put the city in the position of "denying police what we are giving to other employees."

Moore also put an end to a recommendation by City Manager W.E. Knowles that $5,000 be included within the budget to compensate police officers for time spent beyond normal working hours for court appearances.

Commissioner A.A. McClanahan urged that sufficient money be included in the contingency fund to cover police raises and compensation for court overtime in the event the funds are needed in the future. He said funds within the contingency account should not be earmarked.

The commission in a line by line review of the proposed $1,011,843 police department budget considered, but took no actual vote.

Turning over to the Seminole Sheriff's Department the city's new police airplane, bought with federal funding for $31,133.

Eliminating the four booking officers positions and turning over that function to the sheriff's department.

PHOTO FINISH

The Evening Herald made a clean sweep Tuesday night in the news media exhibitions at the Seminole Harness Raceway. OURSELVES Editor Jean Patteson and Sports Editor Jim Haynes qualified for next week's newspaper finals. Ms. Patteson finished second while Haynes (in cart at left) was in a deadheat for first with Thea DePinto of Orlando and magazine. The finals were originally set for Aug. 27, but those plans were changed when Seminole's application for a 15-day extension to the season was turned down Tuesday. For details, see story on Page 6A.

Wekiva Squatters Get Ultimatum

The days of the squatters cabins on the state-owned property along the Wekiva River are numbered.

Ken Zaiser, of the state's Department of the Natural Resources (DNR), spent much of Tuesday completing the posting of notices on some eighty cabins, occupied by squatters on and off for many years.

The notice informs the squatters that the DNR intends to recommend to the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund that leases be granted to the owners of qualified structures. Those leases would expire on Dec. 31, 1986.

The owners of those structures desiring to apply for leases must do so before Sept. 30. Those structures found not to qualify must be removed from the state-owned land immediately or face prosecution for trespassing. Those persons who do not move their structures will have them moved for them by the state at the squatter's expense, the posted notices say.

State Rep. Vince Fechtel (R-Leesburg) accompanied Zaiser on his tour of the river Tuesday, noting that the effort which he has been part for the past five years, which includes the removal of squatters' cabins, is to have the waterway declared "a scenic, wild river."

"The Wekiva Campowners Association (composed of individuals who own property along the river) has been a great help," Fechtel said, noting that the owners have cleaned up debris in the river and assisted in the effort. "The scenic, wild river should be preserved for future generations for its ecological, aesthetic and economic benefit," Fechtel said.

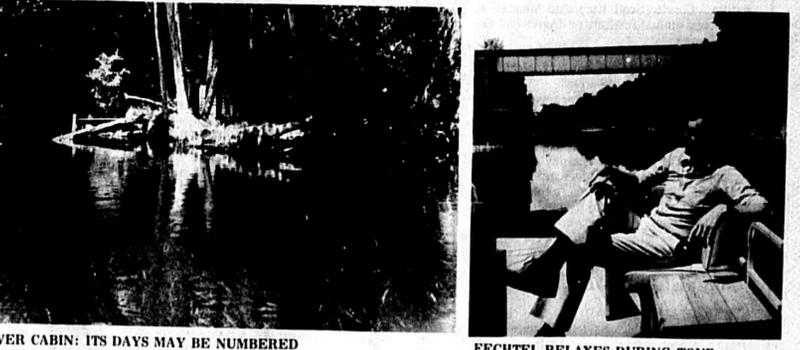

"It will mean more jobs for the area 30 years from now and make the area a more pleasing place to live," he added.

The movement to save the river, spearheaded by Fechtel since his election in 1972 included: — Sponsoring the state law creating the aquatic preserve act of 1975 giving the DNR the power to regulate human activity on the land the state owns and prohibiting a variety of activity including mining.

The Wekiva was only one of three freshwater preserves named.

— Acquired an attorney general opinion declaring legal the use of some $30,000 in Internal Improvement Trust Fund money to determine by survey where the state ownership existed along the river. He also appealed to the Cabinet and the DNR to release the funds for the survey.

Fechtel said prior to the survey it was not even known by some private landowners where their property ended and

RIVER CABIN: ITS DAYS MAY BE NUMBERED FECHTEL RELAXES DURING TOUR

Sanford Pulls Plug On 'White Way'

The "White Way" lighting around Lake Monroe from Mangoustine Avenue west to county territory is to be turned off as soon as possible.

And the Seminole County Commission doesn't appear interested in picking up the annual $1,500-$2,000 tab to light the three-mile stretch.

The Sanford City Commission, which has been maintaining the street lights and paying the power bills on them for the past 10 years, voted 3-2 Tuesday night to turn them off in the interests of economy.

And, Commissioner Julian Stenstrom with concurrence of his colleagues, requested City Manager W. E. Knowles to let the county commission know of the board's action.

"I won't recommend funding of the lighting," said Commission Chairman Dick Williams. "When the lighting project was done, the city thought lighting the road from Interstate 4 into the city would help the city. They came to the county and asked the commissioners to do it. The county said no since it was for the benefit of the city. The county didn't think it was for a general public purpose. It's a unilateral decision by the city. If they want the lighting, they'll have to pay for it."

The move should save the city $1,500 to $2,000 annually, Commissioner A. A. McClanahan said. The vote on the matter was McClanahan and Commissioner John Morris in favor and Stenstrom and Commissioner Eddie Keith opposed. Mayor Lee P. Moore cast the deciding vote.

McClanahan during budget sessions a year ago tried to get support for turning off the lights, but after county commissioners refused to take over the maintenance and energy costs, the city commission decided to continue the service.

Noting that no residents live around most of the lighted area, McClanahan said, "We are only lighting it for the fish and for the county."

The lights along the city portion of the lakefront will remain on, council decided. More than 10 years ago the "White Way" lighting began as a cooperative venture of the city and the county. The county, through use of state secondary road funds, acquired the poles and lights and the City of Sanford installed the lights. Knowles said today.

But, the city over the years has paid for all maintenance and energy costs, the manager said. Knowles told commissioners the action will involve 59 street lights.

"Let's notify the county we are going to cut the lights. If they would like to continue the service in the county area, they can pay for it," Stenstrom said.

Poor To Get Aid On Utility Bills

Seminole County, is seeking applications in order to meet the Aug. 30 deadline for obligating the money, she said.

The funds, to be held in Tallahassee, will be used to pay bills for electricity and fuel — gas or oil — not only for this month, but may be held for future credits. Payments will be made directly to the fuel company.

Ms. Cox said if families have paid bills from Oct. 1, 1976 to date of application causing financial dire straits they might be eligible for future credits.

"To be considered, families should contact their area outreach worker for an application. They should present their present bill, or if they have past ones dating back to Oct. 1."

Outreach workers in various areas include Ruthia Hester, Westside, 322-1596; Anniemae Jackson, Midway, 323-7130; Narva Alexander, Bookertown, 322-0865; Betty Phillips, Altamonte, 834-5858; and Jane Rouse, Oviedo, 363-3125. Ruby Combs, Georgetown, 322-0060 is supervisor.

Ms. Cox, in charge of planning and policy for the program, emphasized that none of the funds were allotted for administrative costs but all will be given to the people.

Here are income eligibility guidelines:

For a non-farm family of one with income up to $3,713 (with justification such as paid fuel bill one could not pay doctor, rent or buy food); family of two, up to $4,913; three, up to $6,113; four, up to $7,313; five, up to $8,513; and six, up to $9,713. For farm family of one, up to $3,182; two, up to $4,200; three, up to $5,213; four up to $6,225; five, up to $7,238; and six, up to $8,250. Sets 3 1/2 % Payments For Utilities

County Okays Franchise Fee Law

Because the 1974 ordinance called the fee a tax, there was "some ambiguity and confusion as to whether the utilities had to pay," said Commission Chairman Dick Williams.

Mould told the commissioners there was no statutory authority for imposing a tax. "The Florida Constitution limits taxing powers to those granted by general law, but there appears to be no general law on this subject," he said. "What the Board of County Commissioners really did was impose a franchise fee for the use of county easements and rights of way—not a tax. I think that's a sustainable position in court."

County officials first attempted to collect the fee in January by sending a letter to the private utilities, Ms. Hansen said. Three utilities — Sanlando Utilities, Southern States Utility and Environmental and Natural Treatment Utility — began paying the fee, and the county has received $16,666 from the three utilities as a result of the letter.

The three utilities account for 85 per cent of the customers (1,345) using private utilities in unincorporated Seminole, Ms. Hansen said.
