City To Consult Engineers Service Bid Tabled

Sanford city commissioners Monday tabled consideration of extending water and sewer service to 48 acres on SR 427 southeast of the present city limits until serious discussions can be held with consulting engineers on the city's sewage treatment plant and collection system.

Progress, Change Are Noted

FOREST CITY — Progress and change are being reflected in almost every phase of modern living standards. What was acceptable five or 10 years ago is outdated today. This is true, especially in small urban areas and generally where most people enjoy the benefits there is also a minority who reject changes because of increased costs.

However, in Forest City the Fire Department has consistently fought to upgrade this service. Chief Joseph Walters said, "As of now the people of this fire district have two pumper trucks and a tractor. The tractor pulls either a tank (leased from the fireman's Association) or a wood truck from the division of Forestry Services. The only cost to the department for the leased vehicles is for gas, oil and repairs. This fire equipment is manned by a volunteer crew of 20-plus and four paid men. There is also an emergency truck staffed with medically trained men. These men are on call at any hour of day, night, holidays and weekends—but as they all have jobs to go to there are times when they are not available."

"However, there is always one paid man or more, who will provide service on a first come, first served basis. This is the service for which the people of this district are paying. Due to the community spirit of the volunteers we are providing much better service than the people are paying for. Our fire department is one of the best in South Seminole County," Walters stated.

The firemen do not confine their contributions to the community to only their fire-fighting duties. They sponsor Boy Scout troops and teach life-saving techniques to Girl Scouts as well.

Now the time for the department to submit their figures for the coming year is at hand. June 22 was the final date for submitting it to the County Commissioners. The total non-exempt property assessment was based on $84.5 million taxable value, which is higher than even Sanford's $84.5 million. The fire dept. is asking for an increase of 1.8 mills for their budget. With this hour service with 11 paid firemen and man another fire station which they hope to locate in the Lake Brainerd area.

Winter Springs Tackles Budget

Next in line amount of requests for city funds is the fire department with $60,000. This figure included paid personnel and additional equipment. However, Mayor Granville Brown said he is opposed to paid firemen until the other chief is salaried.

Also listed upon the brief agenda is recommendations for the city zoning board which met June 21. According to a city source, the recommendations are "secret", but one possible item might include re-commissioning upon developer Bill Goodman west of Tusculum Road.

Among these sources is $3,500 from the county's road and bridge revenue sharing program; $9,500 from a Florida Power Corp. franchise; $4,000 from a Seminole Cablevision franchise; $2,000 from North Orlando Water and Sewer Co. and $400 from Florida Public Utilities.

Stenstrom said he's for the crime lab but wants to try to get Seminole County to pick up the tab for $12,500 requested of law enforcement agencies in the county as its share of next year's crime lab operation. Stenstrom maintains city taxpayers are paying double since they also pay county taxes. The sheriff's department is also funding $5,000 for the crime lab operation from money in its budget from tax funds.

Commissioner A.A. McClanahan said extension of services to the tract would only benefit the developers. City Manager Warren Knowles told commissioners the city's sewage treatment plant, now undergoing $1.5 million expansion, is already "underized" considering the ultimate annexation area and possible 25,000 population within present city limits, excluding the tract.

Knowles predicted if rezoning continues the treatment plant capacity will have to be increased from 6 to 14 million gallons a day by 1990. Mayor Lee Moore, calling development "a numbers game," urged commissioners to try to solve problems being created by expansion of the city before it is too late.

Consulting engineer Cal Conkin, who has already told commissioners they should be applying for more federal funds for the next treatment plant expansion, is to meet with commissioners on the utility question at next Monday's work session.

In other action, commissioners put $5,000 in the 1973-74 budget for the Sanford Crime Laboratory. The funding, requested by Sheriff John Polk, is based on use of the facility by Sanford police. The vote to fund the crime lab was 4-1 with Stenstrom against.

Was Dean 'Gate Leak'?

By BROOKS JACKSON, Associated Press Writer. WASHINGTON (AP) — Ousted presidential counsel John W. Dean III today read documents to support his charge that the White House kept an "enemies list" of politicians, newsmen, union officials and businessmen.

Dean said whether he leaked secret testimony about Watergate as part of a strategy seeking immunity from prosecution for his own role in the case. That question was not put to Dean immediately. Dean gave the Senate's Watergate committee one memorandum, dated June 12, 1972, in which then presidential counsel Charles W. Colson said a tax audit should be ordered against Harold J. Gribbons, a vice president of the Teamsters Union whom Colson considered an all-out Nixon enemy.

Included marked by the White House as enemies, Dean said, included columnist Jack Anderson, former NBC newsman Chet Huntley, Democratic party chairman Robert Strauss, who was then party treasurer, and Columbus, Ind., businessman J. Edwin Miller, a liberal Republican campaign donor.

Dean said he had information from an informant, Sen. Edward J. Gurney, R-Fla., probed with a series of questions about the extent of Dean's own involvement in the planning of the Watergate wiretapping.

Kidnaped Baby's Life Endangered

BROMLEY, England (AP) — "I can't push an empty pram," the distraught mother sobbed today as she broke off a police reconstruction of the theft of her sickly baby.

Mrs. Shirley Bullen, 26, handed over the baby carriage to police matron Felicity Burchenall, 23, to push down the street to the public lavatory where her six-week-old daughter, Kristen, was abducted on Monday.

Raymond Bullen, her husband, had driven the carriage in the family car from their home. Then came the lonely walk down the main street while hundreds of sympathetic spectators watched. The police matron herself seemed close to tears.

The walk with the carriage ended at the public lavatory Mrs. Bullen had visited on Monday, leaving Kristen outside. She returned to find the baby gone.

Little Kristen had suffered from convulsions and was being treated with phenobarbitone. By dawn today, the baby had missed six doses and doctors feared the baby would suffer serious brain damage in the absence of the drug.

Police were seeking a middle-aged woman who had been seen near the lavatory about the time baby Kristen was stolen. She was leaning over the baby's carriage.

Late Tuesday, Mrs. Bullen appealed to the kidnaper in a public statement for the return of her child.

"If you are afraid to take my baby to the police, to a hospital or to a doctor—then just leave her in a church. Pin a note to her, saying who she is and asking the person who finds her to take her straight to a hospital," it pleaded.

Altamonte Suit To Stop Zoning

Three Altamonte Springs property owners filed suit in circuit court at Sanford Tuesday to prevent construction of office buildings on a recently annexed 12-acre tract in Altamonte Springs, challenging city council action zoning the land for such structures.

A hearing is scheduled July 1 before Circuit Judge Tom Waddell Jr.

Thomas S. Redcar, Norman C. Lewis and John Patmore, all Center Street residents filed the suit against Mayor Lawrence Swofford, councilmen Keith L. Nixon, Helen Keyser, Donald Meyer and Daniel Dorfman and 14 landowners who petitioned the city to annex the 12 acres and rezone it from residential status held in the county.

The suit seeks temporary and permanent injunctions against issuing building permits and constructing general office buildings on the tract bounded by Palm Springs Road on the east, Pressview Avenue on the south and Center Street on the north.

Swofford told the Herald Tuesday a building permit has been issued for a small grocery store at Palm Springs and Frutland but there had been no applications for building permits for office buildings on the tract.

"There was a fellow in here today talking about a future store," Swofford said. "One of the property owners named as a defendant in the suit told the Herald Tuesday there are no development plans yet for the tract. "But we plan to sell it in one block," he said. "And we're actively soliciting a buyer."

The lawsuit alleges owners petitioned the city of Altamonte Springs in February to annex the tract and zone it for neighborhood commercial and office buildings up to 12 stories and the council considered the request without a public hearing before referring the request to the city zoning board.

Without giving abutting property owners notice or newspaper advertising the zoning board recommended office buildings, according to the suit.

Policy on the admission requirements for the executive child program will be presented by Andrew Bracken, director of administration services. He also will present the changes in school bus fares affecting the Altamonte-Forest City area.

Rosie's Friends Take Her Home

By JEAN PATTESON, Herald Staff Writer. When Gov. Reubin Askew was a guest at a recent 100th birthday party at Sanford's Lakeview Nursing Center, his parting words to the administrative staff, were, "Take care of Rosie."

He was referring to Rose Mae Mudd, a 78-year-old patient whose sunny personality had captivated the governor—despite Miss Mudd's mistaking him for the governor of Missouri, her native state.

Last Saturday morning Rose Mae Mudd died at Lakeview, with no relative in the world to mourn her, and no money to pay for burial in a Catholic cemetery.

But her friends at Lakeview could not think of her lying forgotten in some lonely corner of "Potter's Field." They would take care of Rosie.

"On Saturday morning we came up with the idea of raising the money for a funeral, and people just fell into it," said Mrs. Jean Miller, activities director at Lakeview.

"We didn't think we could do it in that short time," added Lakeview's assistant ad-

Pellet Kills Sleeping Boy

PAHOKEE, Fla. (AP)—An 11-year-old boy was killed in his sleep today when a pellet from a shotgun blast fired at a stray dog penetrated a mobile home and lodged in his head, police said.

Palmetto Beach County sheriff's deputies said immediately.

"It is amazing his two brothers were sleeping in the same bed with him," a deputy said. "They lived because they were at the foot of the bed. If they had been sleeping alongside him they might have died too."

Deputies said they had no idea who fired the shot which killed Jeremy and the stray dog.

"You're asking for trouble when you fire a shotgun in a residential area," the deputy added.

Commission Approves Appaloosa Village

By CHRIS NELSON
Herald Staff Writer

The 301-acre Appaloosa Village planned unit development of Red Bug Road, which developers claim will add nearly $1 million in county taxes received zoning approval from county commissioners Tuesday night.

built around a horseback riding theme, was approved after commissioners hammered out a series of voluntary commitments from Douglas Talbot, whose Virginia firm is handling the project.

Talbot said developers will pay $300 per unit to the school board to offset impact of an estimated 475 students, once the project with an estimated 2.9 units per acre density, is fully occupied.

For fire protection, Talbot agreed to furnish each lot with a fire hydrant, and to install a fire alarm system. Talbot also agreed to furnish each lot with at least two six foot tall trees.

Seaboard Brass Offer Phone Aid

By CHRIS NELSON
Herald Staff Writer

Next time Seaboard Coast Line trains block a crossing for an unwarranted stretch, pick up the phone, dial 322-4781, and let the railroad know about it.

That was the message delivered Tuesday to Seminole County commissioners from railroad brass anxious to avoid conflict action against trains — and trainmen — causing holdups on major county roads.

Facing a tough county ordinance which, if passed, will limit the number of trains per hour and the total blocking time per hour on key crossings at SR 46 and Charlotte Street, Seaboard officials said voluntary limits have been instituted.

However, that rosy picture was quickly muted by Commissioner Greg Drummond, who claimed the Charlotte Street main line crossing in Longwood was blocked for 25 minutes by a train over the weekend.

"Call us if problems arise," urged the Seaboard officials, while Drummond warned failure to halt delays may mean jail terms for road engineers.

On the urging of county Pollution Control Officer Langley Adair, commissioners indicated they will approve lower fees of perhaps $25 for dredge and fill permits for private docks, piers, moorings and some weed clearing operations.

Permits currently cost $100 in all cases unless a special exception is granted, Adair said, noting "this does seem to be an inequity for certain small projects."

Drummond agreed, saying "there are some instances where dredge and fill can improve lake quality — and dredging, for example — and

Lori Wilson Recovers From Throat Surgery

By DONNA LESTER
Herald Staff Writer

Sen. Lori Wilson, who successfully ran an independent campaign to be elected to the higher house of the Florida Legislature last year, is recuperating from surgery at her parents' home in Tennessee.

According to her Brevard County office, Miss Wilson underwent surgery for the removal of a polyp from her vocal chords. A polyp is a mass of swollen membrane caused by chronic inflammation.

The polyp, a non-cancerous growth, was discovered in a routine physical and removed last Friday at Oschner Foundation Hospital, New Orleans, La. She is not allowed to use her voice for several weeks.

Miss Wilson served as member and chairman of the Brevard County commission, winning that office as a Republican. However, when she decided to seek a Senate seat, she dropped her Republican affiliation and gathered sufficient signatures on a petition to run as an Independent.

Golf Course Talks Halted Over Dispute

By DONNA LESTER
Herald Staff Writer

CASSELLBERRY — The size of the golf course led off and stopped discussion by representatives of Stanley I. Meadows and Son, developers of the Land O'Lake Country Club project Monday night and further reports were put off until a work session Friday night.

An attorney representing the developer said the revamped 18-hole golf course will be guaranteed retained for 20 years with an additional 50 years at the option of the city through deed restrictions.

When he reported the course would be 5,400 yards, Councilman Tom Embree made it clear he is "no way satisfied" and will insist on the full 5,800 feet yards provided under the original agreement.

David Meadows said the original plan was reduced in size at the recommendation of the golf course architect, but Council Chairman John Leighty insisted the architect should be present to explain his reasoning.

Another point that bothered Councilman Edith Duerr was a proposal that in the event the "course became economically unfeasible" to operate it would become green belt in its wild state with any sort of use including bicycle paths for riders.

Ag Zoning Infuriates Resident

A woman whose family has lived in the Seminole County area for the past 100 years has threatened to defy an amendment to the agricultural zoning ordinance adopted by the county commission eight days ago.

The amendment requires that a special exception be sought before mobile homes or trailers are located on agricultural land of 10 acres or more. The special exceptions are for two-year periods of time.

Also stipulated in the ordinance is a requirement that trailers located on the land continuously since May 31, 1960 are permitted to remain for four years unless a period of 180 days without use intervenes.

Mrs. June Cameron is highly critical of the ordinance. She said she purchased a mobile home last week only to be told by the county zoning board she cannot place the trailer on her private property.

"Mrs. Cameron insisted the property has been in her family for 100 years and that she has had a trailer parked upon the same property for at least one year. The zoning board told her it must be removed."

She said she was advised she could use the trailer if she erected a mobile home park or if the zoning board used by a farm employee to watch the property.

Her property is located in an agriculturally zoned area on Moore's Station Road between Beardall and Cameron Avenues. A mobile home park is currently planned south of Moore's Station Road and east of Beardall Avenue.

Mrs. Cameron told The Herald she will have the trailer which she purchased "put in anyway" and challenge the county's ordinance.

Space Age Report

NASA's Hurdle Is Communications

By FRANK MACOMBER Copley News Service

The nation's space program has had one great stumbling block, beginning with the first Mercury Astronaut John Glenn...

The seemingly insurmountable hurdle is the federal space agency's inability somehow to communicate with the American public...

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration simply hasn't found a way to persuade people outside the agency...

No other government-industry effort in history has achieved more triumphs than the U.S. space program.

Yet today, with the new NASA budget cut to the lowest figure since 1962 despite the notable achievements of Skylab, the space agency's slogan would seem to be: "Nothing fails like success."

While Congress still reluctantly is funding the $4.5 billion manned space shuttle program for the late 1970s, its enthusiasm is so low...

More money was spent on projects like the Air Force's Manned Orbiting Laboratory (MOL) than Congress has voted so far for the shuttle system...

What NASA apparently has been unable to sell the American people is the fact that technology developed for space projects has been translated into countless benefits for mankind.

Greatest Pleasure

"It is with the greatest of pleasure that the Queen and Duke of Edinburgh, announce the betrothal of their beloved daughter, the Princess Anne, to Lieutenant Mark Phillips, the Queen's Dragoon Guards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Phillips."

Those 38 words are but the first of the thousands and thousands that will be written on the engagement of Princess Anne and the forthcoming royal wedding. While kings may be out of political style, there is nothing quite like the combination of royalty and romance to excite interest round the world.

But I am thrown for a loss by a color choice like "autumn."

Obviously, "autumn" must be in the brown to gold range. Unless it's "scarlet" or "red."

Since what I had in mind was a nicely light orange curtain, I could gamble and hope that "autumn" will prove to be light orange.

Since another color selection, "sherbet," is more likely to be light orange, possibly "autumn" is really deep crimson. Unless, of course, "sherbet" is really strawberry or lime.

Then again, a third choice, "blissom," is apt to be strawberry—unless they were thinking of orange blossoms which would be white or maybe forsythia which would be yellow.

Still, the fourth selection, "happiness," is probably yellow—unless it's the bluish of happiness they had in mind, which seems distinctly possible.

It's not that I don't appreciate the poetic creativity of these anonymous color names. It's just that what I wanted were light orange curtains.

And while it might appeal to my sensibilities to order "autumn-colored" curtains, what if they turn out to be "sugar maple red" or "bright blue October sky."

If these people want my business, they are going to have to be a little less vague and include a glossary of color descriptions. Because, for all I know, the writer who composed this ad may envision "happiness" as vivid purple which happens to be a color I would christen "nightmare."

BRUCE BLOSSAT Nixon ills slow '76 maneuvering

WASHINGTON (NEA) The early strategies for nearly all the prospective 1976 Republican presidential candidates are in confusion...

Those affected are Vice President Spiro Agnew, presidential adviser John Connally, and California's Gov. Ronald Reagan, each in his own way linked to Mr. Nixon.

But how does he build momentum and catch useful public attention in the meantime, when he doesn't know what the stream of Watergate hearings and trials will do to Mr. Nixon's stature?

Reagan surely was not his old self at the Lake Tahoe national governors conference. In his outing with the press, he was abrasive, rough-edged, testy.

As I wrote from Tahoe, Connally is not today dimmed, and the cameras paid him less heed.

Weeks ago, I reported that the President had double-crossed Connally by making his own political adviser a handicapped, not a blessing.

Mr. Nixon's earlier praise of Connally's abilities was obviously designed to boost him as a 1976 prospect.

So little has been heard of Connally since he strikes some observers as a candidate for Where Are They Now? If he helped Mr. Nixon in his new economic moves, the secret was well kept.

As for Agnew, the first two years of the President's second term were to be a time of building party contacts, charting a policy course at least moderately independent of Mr. Nixon.

The President's continuing dilemmas over Watergate make any even tentative gestures of independence inappropriate right now. Loyalty has to be Agnew's key.

EDITORIAL Watergate bred in lawless '60s?

By DON OAKLEY

Watergate has been a cruel blow to those young people who have been resting the radical and 'counterculture' temper of their generation, thinks New York University professor Howard H. Baker.

In the past few years, he says, young people have needed considerable courage to affirm publicly not only their support of President Nixon but of certain traditional values, like patriotism, law, and honesty.

The charge is quite old, and it can be pointed out that a great many older Americans may share the feelings of humiliation and shame, young people, being young, no doubt feel them more acutely.

Yet on this question of disillusionment and defeat, some recent Watergate committee testimony is extremely pertinent.

The witness was Jeb Stuart Magruder, former deputy director of the Committee for the Re-election of the President and it was GREG, let it never be forgotten, not the GOP which engineered the Watergate break-in and other assorted deceptions against the democratic process.

Pressed by Sen. Howard H. Baker, R-Tenn., to explain why he, Magruder, and the others that Magruder had implicated had done what they had done, approving burglary and then composing it with perjury, when they knew all along that it was wrong, Magruder spoke of a kind of erosion of moral sense, if not common sense, in the men pledged to serve the President.

He spoke of witnessing "continuing violations of the law" by men like William Sloane Coffin, from whom he had once taken a course in ethics. At a rally on the grounds of the Washington Monument, Coffin, now a chaplain at Yale University, urged students to burn their draft cards and demonstrate against the government.

Magruder also spoke of a "certain atmosphere" that developed in the White House, the feeling that if the dissenters could break the law, there it was legitimate to fight fire with fire.

None of this, of course, is any defense whatsoever. It also ignores the vast difference between the activities of the anti-war dissenters, which for the most part were public and open, were not aimed at denying anyone's civil liberties and invited punishment, and those of the Watergate conspirators, which were secret, were a betrayal of public trust and were capped with elaborate attempts to cover up and evade responsibility and punishment.

Nevertheless, Magruder's testimony is the first real evidence we have had of the deeper effects of the years of dissent.

There never was any danger that the antiwar dissenters or even the more violent radicals could overthrow the government. Yet by practicing the breaking of the law in the name of a higher morality, by glorifying simple vandalism or hoopla that National Guardsmen could turn and shoot down their own contemporaries, the antiwar movement created a psychic environment in which the Watergate conspirators could breed.

The parade was due to follow a keynote address by Florida Gov. Reubin Askew.

At the closing session Saturday, Shirley Temple Black will receive an award in recognition of her work in environmental fields. Mrs. Black is a special assistant to the chairman of the President's Council on Environmental Quality.

Mrs. Roberto Clemente, widow of the baseball star killed in a plane crash during a flight to aid victims of the Managua earthquake, will be presented with an award to honor her late husband's humanitarian and sports achievements.

Also at the final session, Tris Coffin of Montreal, Quebec, will be installed as president of Lions International.

Johnny Balbo of Oak Brook, Ill., will succeed Coffin as first vice president while Harry Astor of Kingsburg, Calif., will become second vice president and Joao Fernando Sobral of Sao Paulo, Brazil, will be installed as third vice president.

Today, many of the 35,000 representatives of 35,000 Lions clubs were to participate in a parade of nations, complete with floats, marchers and musicians.

$920 Million To Fund State's '73-74 Schools

By JERE MOORE JR. Associated Press Writer TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida schools will have $920 million in state funds to spend and local school boards more control over how to spend it under two bills signed into law by Gov. Reubin Askew.

The $3.9 billion state budget and the new school funding formula, replacing the old minimum foundation program, were signed by Askew at a ceremony in his conference room Tuesday.

On hand to applaud the education measure were House Speaker Terrell Sessums, D-Tampa, who had made the bill his major 1973 goal; Education Commissioner Floyd Christian; former House Speaker Fred Schultz, chairman of Askew's Citizens Advisory Committee on Education, and Sen. J.H. Williams, D-Ocala, who chaired the conference committee on education.

Askew called the bill "one of the most important of modern times. It assures every child in Florida an equal opportunity for an education."

Schultz said it made Florida a "lighthouse state" that will influence school funding in other states.

The law simplifies funding, provides money on a per-pupil rather than a per-classroom basis and gives local school boards greater freedom from state control on how the money will be spent.

The $920 million allocation, including $830 million for day-to-day operations and $90 million for construction, is a boost of about $200 million over current state spending.

The new budget "provides one of the most significant increases ever approved for the financing of education and includes pay adjustments to help lower-paid state workers meet the rising cost of living," Askew said.

Employees making less than $10,000 a year will get increases of $10 to $50 a month — the most to the lowest paid — while law enforcement officers will receive $10 to $143 a month more.

The governor said the major accomplishment of the bill was that it followed his recommendation that the state's $286 million in expenditures will be for one-time expenses, such as buying environmentally endangered lands and constructing interstate highways and buildings so a tax increase will not be forced later.

Fuel Shortages May Hurt Roads

By JOHN MUELLER Associated Press Writer TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Road builders say a shortage of fuel could delay completion of $119 million worth of highway construction in Florida, including Interstate 10 and 95.

White said contractors did not have to give their names or specify which projects would be hurt by the shortage. "But it would primarily be your big projects" like Interstates 10 and 95 and turnpike extensions, Levinson, a past director of the roadbuilders association, said his firm was the primary contractor on four state projects in the Palm Beach area, one of them on Interstate 95.

"We've had to take a hard look at the type of equipment we're using and re-evaluate our situation from week to week," he said. "We're on pins and needles."

In the survey, eight contractors said they were unable to get any promise of fuel deliveries from suppliers, White said.

Eleven said they had extreme difficulty in getting fuel supplies and 15 reported moderate trouble. Two reported no problems.

Edmonds Paces Win Over Railroaders

Jack Prosser Wins Tourney Opener

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Writer

Although he had problems in the late innings, Jack Prosser Ford pitcher Jim Edmonds had amassed a considerable lead and was able to weather the storm and post a 14-3 win over the Railroaders in the first game of the double elimination Sanford Recreation Department Little League City Championships.

The Continental League champs breezed to the win over National League pennant winners, and earned a berth in tonight's 8 p.m. tilt against Florida State Bank, winners of the American League race. The loser tonight will meet the Railroaders Thursday night, that loser than being eliminated.

The second game of the Pee Wee League City Cham-ionships was rained out Tuesday night, and is rescheduled for 8 p.m. tonight. The Cubs dropped the Panthers 10-0 in the first game of the best two out of three series Monday night.

Edmonds was strong in the early innings, retiring the first 10 batters he faced in order. With one out in the top of the fourth, Edmonds walked Justin Hunt on a three-two pitch. He slipped a called strike three past Chris Riggins, but loaded the bases with walks to Ken Perry and Carl Presley. However, Jeff Jenkins looked at a called third strike to end the threat.

Edmonds, with his sharpness

wearing off with each pitch, finally lost his shutout in the top of the last frame. Perry and Presley led off with back-to-back walks and both scored on wild pitches. Mark Huason walked with one out and Eddie Faint drew a base on balls with two outs. Huason scored on a single to right by Barbour, the Railroaders' second hit, both by Barbour. The inning ended when Hunt watched a called third strike.

Prosser, on the other hand, jumped into the lead the first inning, scoring a pair in the bottom of the initial frame with a benefit of only one out of trials.

Edmonds walked, but was stranded on third when Randy Hanson took a called third strike. Bryant Townsend walked with one out in the second for Prosser, moved to second on a passed ball, took third on a wild pitch and scored on another passed ball. Danny Kinnard and Cowan also walked during the inning, but both were stranded when Mike Link came in to pitch.

Prosser scored nine men to the plate in the third, scoring three runs on just one hit. Bergman walked to lead off the inning, and Hanson walked with one out in the bottom of the fourth. Bergman moved around to third on a wild pitch and a ground out, and scored on a bad throw from the catcher back to the pitcher, Hanson, who walked during the inning, was stranded on third.

Edmonds walked, but was four hits. Tom Rowe, Kelley and Cowan drew consecutive walks to start the inning, filling the bases. Link slapped a two-run single, and Bergman followed with a two-run triple that sailed over the outstretched hands of left fielder Eddie J. Am. Bergman scored on a wild pitch, but Hanson, who singled to get on base, was driven in on a single by Cowan.

Bergman went three for three for the winners, with a double and triple, driving in two runs and scoring four times. Cowan, Link, Hanson and Clark each had singles for Prosser. Barbour was two for four with the only Railroaders hits, both singles.

Curve, Fastball And Prayer For Twins' Decker

By FRANK BROWN
Associated Press Sports Writer
The curveball and the fastball are a pitcher's most effective weapons. But then, it never hurts to look elsewhere for an extra edge.

Minnesota's Joe Decker looked up.
"Before the game," said Decker after his 15-strikeout effort defeated the Chicago White Sox 4-0 Tuesday night, "I prayed that I would have a decent performance. One that would get me started—get me going this season."

In other American League games, the New York Yankees pummeled the Cleveland Indians 10-2, the Baltimore Orioles blanked the Milwaukee Brewers 6-0, the Detroit Tigers topped the Boston Red Sox 4-1, the Oakland Athletics beat the Texas Rangers 6-2 and the California Angels edged the Kansas City Royals 6-5.

At Fenway Park in Boston, Mike Strahler pitched 2 2/3 innings of seven-hit ball to help defeat the Red Sox and break the Tigers' eight-game losing streak. Gates Brown topped the Pittsburgh Pirates 10-3, the Philadelphia Phillies took the St. Louis Cardinals 10-1 in the first game, and last 5-4 in 11 innings in the nightcap of a two-night doubleheader; Cincinnati blanked Houston 5-1; Los Angeles defeated San Diego 7-0 and Atlanta crushed San Francisco 9-2.

Five Hits Paces Phils Del Unser Proving His Worth

By FRED ROTHENBERG
Associated Press Sports Writer
A Washington paper is responsible, in recent weeks, for a lot of people in Washington losing their jobs.

Del Unser is not one of them. In fact, the Philadelphia outfielder, who had five hits, including two homers in Tuesday's (twi-night) doubleheader split with the St. Louis Cardinals, recognizes that a Washington paper may have helped his career.

Unser's three-run blast in the first game powered the Phils to a 10-3 victory and his two-out ninth-inning homer tied the second game before the Cards won it in the 11th.

Last winter, Unser opened a Washington paper only to find he'd be reading a different story said he'd be trading his fifth-place letters in Cleveland for Philadelphia's last-place letters.

But that didn't bother Unser. Reading on Unser found that his job in Philadelphia wasn't going to be fulltime. Now that irked Unser.

As See It! by Herky Cush Sports Editor

'Heavy Debut'
The Sheeah sponsored Seminole Big League team has made a super big splash in the Orlando Big League circuit this season and is but one win away from capturing league honors in its initial season.

Coach Otis Brown's forces have chalked up 11 straight wins at this writing and need but one more triumph to claim the title. They have a date with Conway tonight at Tinker Field, a game if won brings the title to Seminole County.

The two mainstays of the pitching staff are Denald Lyman, a Seminole High product and Eddie Nuss, the ace of Lyman's Metro Conference champions.

Between the two of them only two earned runs were scored, both against Brown who has worked 35 innings compared to 25 for Nuss. Brown is 5-0 and Nuss is 4-0. It's expected Nuss will equal Brown in wins after the game with Conway.

When the Cubs Pee Wee League team photo appeared in The Herald the other day it seems there were a few names left off in the identification.

Andy Griffith was pictured but not mentioned as were the two coaches of the Cubs, Robert Graham and Alan Stevenson. Sorry 'bout that fellas.

Football Fans 'Aware'
Believe it or not the football fans in Central Florida are "aware" of the efforts to bring professional football to the area.

A survey conducted by Florida Tech's Public Relations Club under the supervision of Ken G. Sheinkopf, assistant professor of communications, indicates people are not only aware of the effort but were interested in obtaining details for possible games.

Of the people interviewed 75 per cent stated they were aware of the efforts to bring pro football to the area while 50 per cent said they would purchase season tickets to help support the new team.

On another item 81 per cent of those polled felt the renovation plans for the Tangerine Bowl were worthwhile especially so if it would aid in bringing professional football to Central Florida.

An amazing aspect of the poll was that nearly 40 per cent of the 200 randomly sampled people, selected at shopping centers in Orlando, Winter Park, Titusville and Daytona Beach said they were willing to make direct contributions to help support the expansion plan.

Having come from an area (Pittsburgh, Pa.) where there is not one but two major football stadiums it seems hard to comprehend how there could be so many dissenters to the erecting of just one stadium in this area.

Florida Golfers Shine
When the University of Florida captured the NCAA University Division golf title it climaxed a tremendous season for golfers from the Sunshine State.

Miami made North Florida stunner Junior College honors back home for the second straight year while Chipola JC's Frank Zayatz was the Jucy individual champion.

In the College Division Tourney the University of South Florida finished second and Rollins third to champion California State at Northridge.

Mike Ford of Rollins was runnerup in the College Division individual battle with Paul Wise of Fullerton taking back top honors. And in the University Division it was Florida's Gary Koch finishing second to three-time consecutive champ Ben Crenshaw of Texas. Koch did have a little prior satisfaction over his Texas rival, having survived the mid-way cut in the U.S. Open championship played at Oakland two weeks ago.

In the Jucy tourney five of the top seven finalists represented Florida junior colleges. In addition to Zayatz there was Paul Krivy of Duane North taking fourth, Larry Zee of Duane North finishing fifth, Brentley James Frith was sixth and Dade's Larry Griffin was seventh.

Dade North has now won three of the last four Jucy golf crowns.

'Sudden Death' Chance For 13 At Schaefer 500

By BLOYIS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
MOUNT POCONO, Pa. (AP) — A "sudden death" playoff was scheduled at Pocono International Raceway today for six open berths in the line-up for Sunday's 400,000 Schaefer 500 Mike Championship Race.

Thirteen drivers were to get one shot at the timing clocks beginning at 9:45 a.m., EDT, in a special qualifying session that was arranged after rain broke up Sunday's final day of trials with only 27 of the 33 starters determined.

"You get only one shot at it," Dick King, competition director for the sanctioning U.S. Auto Club, told the non-qualified drivers Tuesday.

Under King's edict, drivers in today's qualifying line-up were to take their places in line, hold their positions there until called, and then drive the standard four-laps under the clock.

Under qualifying procedure last weekend, a driver was allowed three shots at the clock, his crew having only to wave him off the track before completion of four laps. He then could take his place in the line for another shot.

Among drivers expected to work their way into the line-up beginning with the vacant 28th position, were Dick Simon, Mel Kenyon, the Baltimore Oriole Martin and Jerry Karl, all of whom were starters in the recent Indianapolis race.

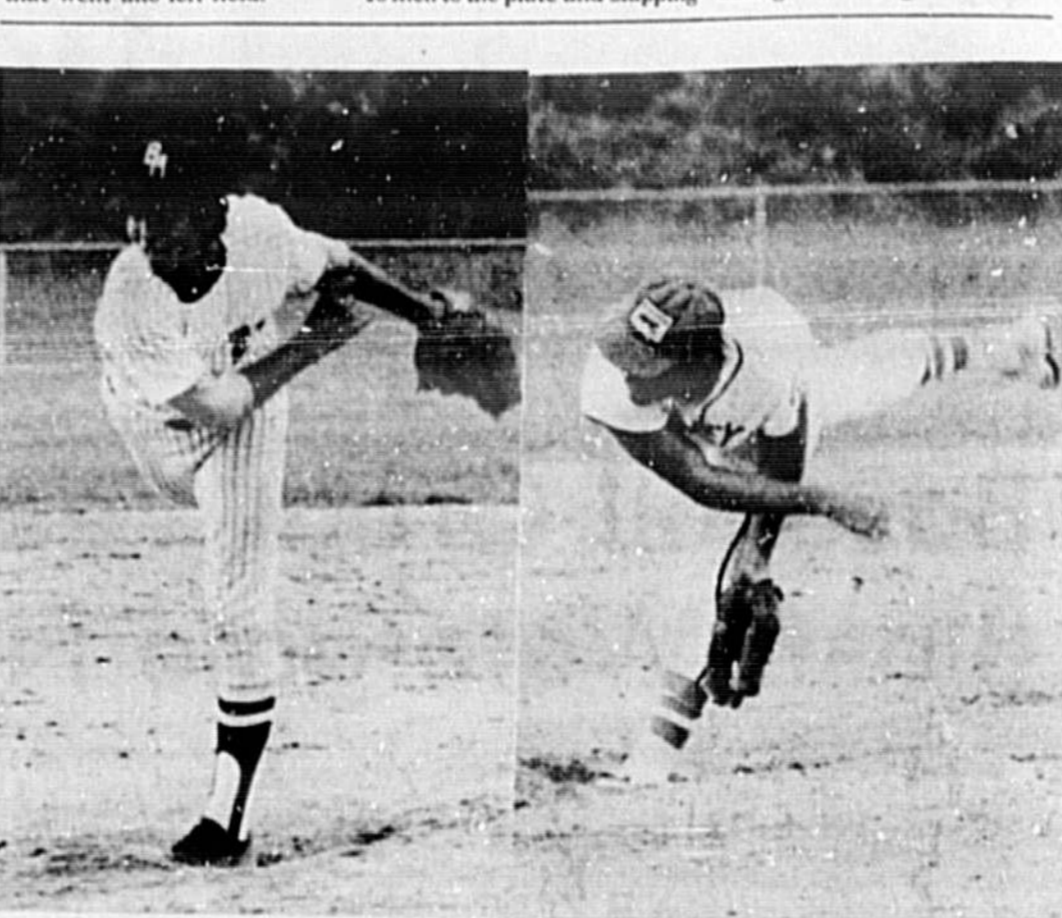

Two regular qualifying sessions saw 21 drivers make the field on Saturday and six more on Sunday. Their average speed was 147.780 miles per hour—nearly eight miles faster than the average for a similar number last year.

Peter Revson, who won the pole position in a Gulf Motel arena with a four-lap average of 190.648 m.p.h.; and Al Unser and Mario Andretti, both driving cars built by ex-Indy winner Parrelli Jones, captured the three front row positions.

Another $100,000 winner, Larry Watkins, was one of three men to withdraw. Watkins became ill on the flight to Chicago and left for North Carolina immediately. Gene Borek and Australian David Graham also withdrew.

The field for this old tournament — this is the 70th Western Open — is a strong one, however. Topping the list is Bruce Crampton of Australia, who scored his fourth victory of the season and took over the lead in the money race in the American Golf Classic.

Also on hand in the 147-man field are Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper. Other standouts include defending titleholder Jimmy Jamieson, veteran Doug Sanderson, Master King Tommy Aaron and 53-year-old Julius Borog. Portions of the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday will be televised nationally by Hughes Sports Network.

Young Golf Pros May Get Break With New Tour

By FRANK MACOMBER Copy News Service Every year the Professional Golfers' Association of America issues "players' cards" to 15 or 20 more hungry young men entitling them to compete in the PGA tour for fame and financial security.

So, as Bill Shakespeare would put it, this is the rub for several hundred young golfers who play well but not quite well enough. The PGA sponsors a series of satellite tournaments for some of those who fail to qualify for the main event of the week.

Unlike other attempted series events which failed because of financial pitfalls, Vallis emphasizes the 10-week tour will be bonded well ahead of time to assure the $500,000 in prize money.

Jake Werschall, Whispering Palms-El Camino head pro and named series director for Vallis, says the field for each tournament will be limited to 160 pros who have earned less than $14,000 on the PGA tour in the last year.

To Name Medical Consultant Rozelle Delays Drug Testing Idea

By BRUCE LOWITT Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — National Football League players who have been steaming over reports that Commissioner Pete Rozelle might force them to take urine tests as a means of deterring drug abuse may soon have a new target for their wrath.

Rozelle said Tuesday the league has put off any plans for such unprecedented testing of its athletes—but he stressed the idea is far from dead.

The appointment of an NFL medical consultant and the absence of urinalysis were highlights of a news conference in which Rozelle introduced some new procedures to supplement the league's drug abuse program.

LONDON (AP) — With her debut at the hands of Bobby Riggs behind her, Margaret Court begins her bid for a second Grand Slam today at Wimbledon.

In the men's circuit, torn by the boycott of the Association of Tennis Professionals, Roger Taylor, who was not among the 70 players who did not play, beat Harold Emswiler of West Germany in a second round match 6-2, 6-2.

Virginia Wade, Britain's No. 1 player, had a scare from 16-year-old Australian left-hander Dianne Fromholtz in the first set, but righted herself to win 6-2, 6-2.

Wrongful Drug Raids Are More Than Rarity

By MICHAEL J. SNIFFEN
Associated Press Writer

One night, two months ago, a group of armed men burst into homes in Middle America and brought terror to two families. The men were narcotics agents, and they had made a mistake. Their error put Coltonville, Ill., in the nation's headlines and touched off a storm of indignation.

An Associated Press survey has produced a small, but chilling, harvest of similar tales.

In January, William Pine was awakened by his daughters' screams as armed men broke through the front and back door of his Winthrop, Mass., home. He was pushed against a window with guns pointed at his head before state police realized they had the wrong house.

—Edward H. Dyer, 22, was shot and killed Oct. 2, 1968, in his Whittier, Calif., apartment when a narcotics agent who had broken into the wrong apartment on the floor above fired a shot through the floor.

—On May 18, an off-duty Texas Department of Public Safety officer was shot to death in a raid on a Houston apartment after an informer mistakenly identified him to narcotics agents as having sold amphetamine pills.

The Nixon administration has declared "all-out global war on the drug menace." State and local enforcement has been stepped up, partly through the efforts of the Office of Drug Abuse Law Enforcement (DALE) which was set up in the Justice Department in January 1971 to carry the federal attack on drugs, particularly heroin, down to the street level. This campaign has resulted in record numbers of search or arrest warrants and put record numbers of drug traffickers and record amounts of illegal drugs out of circulation.

But civil liberties groups and persons in the enforcement field charge that legal restrictions of operating safeguards have, in some cases, been ignored under pressure to produce results.

Herbert Gigliotto, 28, and his wife, Louise, 26, were asleep in their Collinsville home on April 23 when a crash and some screaming awakened them.

"I woke about three steps out of bed, and I saw these hippies with guns. I told my wife, 'We're dead,'" Gigliotto said. Gigliotto says he and his wife were knocked down because their bed was handcuffed. He was threatened with death at gunpoint as the men shouted obscenities at them. One agent flashed a gold badge, which Mrs. Gigliotto only glimpsed. When the men realized their mistake, they left without apology or explanation, Donald Askew, 46, and his wife, Virginia, 37, had just sat down to dinner that night in Collinsville when armed men began to kick their door in. Askew told his son to run for his life.

Again there were threats and no apologies before the men left, Askew said.

DALE officials in Washington say they can not comment while the case is under investigation by the U.S. attorney in Springfield, Ill., and the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division.

Car Heist Charges Hit Two

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer

Two Winter Park youths were charged with auto theft after two Casselberry motorists found the men on Shady Hollow in Casselberry preparing to tow away a car they had pushed from a driveway.

Charged with auto theft and lodged in the county jail under $5,000 bond each were John Roy Sunday Jr., 17, of 1816 Braemar Road and William Crosby, 18, of 5095 Lake Howell Road.

Sunday and Crosby, police say, pushed a 1967 Ford Shelby owned by Jim R. Hayes from his driveway at 206 Shady Hollow. A neighbor who witnessed the incident called the Casselberry Police who arrived to find Sunday and Crosby allegedly trying to hook Hayes' car on to their car to tow it away.

Van agents also arrested two Longwood residents for possessing marijuana in separate incidents. Randall Bruce Myers, 18, of 144 Tallgate Trail, was jailed under $500 bond after he was arrested in a wooded area off Myrtle Lake Hills Road late Monday night. Earlier in the evening, a 16-year-old youth was charged with possessing marijuana.

A Longwood man told authorities Monday night that he was hitchhiking on Interstate 4 when he was picked up by four men who robbed him of cash, a checkbook and a ring. Francis Crosby Jr. of Forsyth Road told Deputy R. S. Morton that the men left him out near SR 436 and drove away north on Interstate 4.

Brezhnev Ends Talks In France

By JOHN VINCOUR
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — Leonid I. Brezhnev and President Georges Pompidou of France today concluded two days of follow-up talks to the U.S.-Soviet summit.

The Soviet leader said his conversations with Pompidou "lightened very friendly and very close relations" with France.

Brezhnev, leader of the Soviet Communist party, conferred with Pompidou for about an hour this morning on bilateral issues, a French spokesman said, and then met with Cabinet ministers for another 45 minutes at the chateau in Rambouillet where Brezhnev stayed.

This followed about seven hours of talks on the world scene on Tuesday.

During those conversations, Brezhnev appeared to be suggesting to Pompidou that France's position as a go-it-alone nuclear nation is increasingly untenable in a world moving toward control of arms and atomic weapons.

That seemed to be a point made in a tense Tuesday night by Brezhnev, who is holding talks with Pompidou on route home from his summit meeting with President Nixon.

Fulltime Patrol Missing

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County is without a state trooper patrolling the county's roads from 12 midnight to 6 a.m. two nights a week.

Cpl. Herman Whaley of the Florida Highway Patrol claims his department, however, is never more than 20 minutes away from an accident.

There are three men working the midnight shift in the DeLand district, which covers Seminole, Volusia and Flagler Counties, with each man off two nights a week.

From 12 midnight Sunday to 6 a.m. Monday and 12 midnight Monday to 6 a.m. Tuesday, Seminole County's midnight trooper is off and a Volusia County trooper handles most Seminole County calls.

Whaley said in most cases a Seminole County trooper is called out from his home if the Volusia trooper is in the north end of the county and would have to come a long distance to the accident.

According to Whaley, when the Seminole County midnight man is working, he patrols almost exclusively in Seminole County, with the other man on duty covering both Volusia and Flagler Counties.

There are currently 10 troopers and a supervisor stationed in Seminole County, although a request has been made for additional manpower for the county.

According to Whaley, troopers in Seminole County carry a heavier workload than most fellow officers around the state.

Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., said Sunday that the academy is preparing to build a mock prison of war compound, which is designed to be a stark, isolated facility for cadet training.

Aspin said the compound would cost between $100,000 and $200,000. Jones said the cost would be about $244,000.

Whaley said he said at least three former American POWs will participate in the planning and training at the new compound.

"The last thing we need is some half-baked Hanoi Hilton in the Colorado mountains where cadets can play psychological tricks on each other," Aspin said.

The plans call for cadets to undergo the mock POW training in the summer between their first and second years.

A former cadet, Larry White, said the training in the POW compound was "very realistic."

He said about 100 cadets were ordered to take off their clothes and crawl through the compound gate making sounds like pigs. They had laundry bags over their heads much of the time, he said.

When they entered the camp, a number was written on their checks and hands with a crayon. They were then forced to sit on the ground with their legs crossed for hours of interrogation, White said.

Massive Manhunt Ends With Arrest

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer

A 15-year-old Longwood youth AWOL from the Army was captured after a massive manhunt in a wooded area north of Longwood, Tuesday after running from a police officer who had stopped him for questioning.

Eugene Bowling Jr., 180 E. Marvin Ave., faces charges from three agencies after his arrest on County Club Road. Police said he was running toward Lake Mary when apprehended.

Bowling, wanted by the Army on AWOL charges, was being hunted by local authorities for motorcycle theft.

Detective Robert Kinkler said Bowling was charged with the June 18 theft of a motorcycle worth $2,000 from the residence of Blen F. Gibson, 802 Cold Water Drive, Casselberry. The motorcycle was recovered two days later at a Longwood garage with $500 damage done, according to Kinkler.

Hennigan arrested Bowling on the motorcycle theft charge and lodged him in the county jail under $5,000. Authorities said Bowling is also charged with possessing a stolen auto and eluding a police officer by the Longwood Police and auto theft by Orange County authorities.

A second suspect in a Sunday break-in at the Hopper Elementary School on Bay Avenue in Sanford was arrested early this morning by Sgt. William Bernosky and Detective John Moore.

Eddie Dean Sanders, 20, of 1012 1/2 Holly Ave., Sanford, was charged with burglary and breaking and entering a building, and lodged in the county jail under $8,000.

Sanford Police Sgt. Gary Swain jailed Dan Jones, 24, of 1825 Knox Ave., Sanford, with assault with intent to commit murder and using a firearm while committing a felony.

Vice agents from the sheriff's department and Sanford Police Department arrested Marina Gonzalez Del Rio, 22, of 1601 W. Holden Ave., Orlando Tuesday, charging her with obtaining barbiturates by fraud and lodged her in the county jail under $5,000 bond.

Agents said she was wanted for passing forged prescriptions at Webb's Drug Store in Longwood in April, and was apprehended after Winter Park Police arrested her on shoplifting charges Tuesday.

Public Hearing For High Rise

By MARION BETHEA
Herald Staff Writer

Lake Road and west of SR 434, with commercial zoning, the developers are planning a three-story retail center.

Councilman Don Myers said he is opposed to the annexation based upon his own repeated statement that the city has expanded its boundaries more than it should have. "Myers went on to state the city has problems serving what we have now," and cited garbage collecting for many days at his home.

The city's present zoning requirements stipulate an eight-story maximum.

The developers are also requesting a set-back variance of 12 feet in lieu of the 24 feet required by the city's ordinance.

City Clerk Jane Richards was authorized to process an annexation petition for Deep South Inc., for eight and one-half acres located south of SR 436 and west of Forest City Road. The company is requesting light industrial zoning for its "jam and jelly plant."

The developers have pledged $38,000 for the sewer line to serve the plant.

Continued until July 3 is an annexation petition for property located north of Sand

Pollution Alert Set

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A pollution alert has been issued for Hillsborough County by a mass of stagnant air.

The Florida Department of Pollution Control said Tuesday the pollution levels in the area were unacceptable and urged residents to help by using car pools.

"It isn't a health hazard," a pollution control official said.

Commonwealth Of The Bahamas

Another new nation joins the world roster July 10 when the Bahamas become independent after more than 250 years of British rule. The more than 700 islands—only 30 inhabited—with a total land area of 4,404 square miles and population of 168,000 remain a member of the British Commonwealth.

Mock POW Camp Used Since '68

After 30 hours of this, my mind started boggling. White said in an interview with the Hoky Mountain News.

Jones said he has never been a serious injury at the POW camp and upperclassman and academy officers administering the harassment at the proposed new compound would be warned against physical punishment.

Prime Minister Lynden O. Pindling, who guided the Bahamas to independence in 1972, is expected to read the government after the island nation comes from British colony to sovereign commonwealth July 10.

House Restores Cut OEO

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has restored most of the money President Nixon cut from health and education programs. Among measures saved would be the Office of Economic Opportunity's antipollution program run by local community action agencies.

The bill, sent to the Senate Tuesday by a 347 to 34 vote, would boost Nixon's budget for the departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare by $1.2 billion.

"In its present form, just as sure as you're booted, this bill is going to be vetoed," said Rep. Robert H. Michel, R-Ill. He had tried to cut the increase in half last year.

As approved by the House, the bill would appropriate $1.3 billion for HEW, $273.3 million for the Labor Department and $487.7 million for related agencies.

Altamonte Ok's Zone Ordinance

Altamonte Springs—After 14 months of delays which hamstring development of the city's city commissioners Tuesday night approved a comprehensive zoning ordinance in less than five minutes.

The ordinance, patterned after present zoning regulations and similar laws throughout the state, will require appointment of a new zoning board before taking effect.

"Hallelujah!" exclaimed Mayor Lawrence Swift and colleagues Keith Nixon and Don Meyers after the final vote on the measure, which cost nearly $20,000 to produce.

Councilmen Helen Keyser and Dan Dartman were absent.

The ordinance sets forth zoning districts, boundaries, and categories, and sets up an appeals board.

The developer pledged to four-lane Byrdshire to Lake Howell Road and the park would be located on the south side of the property. The next 1/2 mile would be rezoned residential area to buffer the residential area there.

Sex, Abortions Taught Scouts

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Girl Scouts 12 to 14 years old are being told about sex, birth control and abortion in a pilot program here. Some protesting mothers feel the girls should stick to baking cookies.

The controversy centers around a new Girl Scout merit badge called "To Be a Woman." It threatens to split Philadelphia's Girl Scout troops.

Roman Catholics, especially, are up in arms over the badge which has not yet been approved nationally.

The merit badge has four parts: Know Our Bodies, Know Our Heritage, Know Your Opportunities and Know Our Situation.

Requirements include knowledge about menopause, hysterectomies, termination of a pregnancy, women in history, how women live and how to handle a rape emergency. Girls are urged to visit a VD clinic, to use a stethoscope and listen to their hearts and lungs and those of their friends and to prepare a skit on how to deal with a rape situation.

Parental permission is required to participate in the program. But this doesn't satisfy critics.

Jane Arnold of suburban Wynote says: "To me a Girl Scout means baking cookies for the ladies on Christmas."

Mrs. Lehman says, "The badge supports women in their struggle for parity. For too long women have been ill-informed, timid, inactive or denied the opportunity to be truly active citizens."

Mrs. Arnold sees the badge as representing "a radical element of the women's liberation movement," she adds.

"I would rather not have my children indoctrinated to sex education, abortion education, and contraceptive education, especially as so young an age," Ernesta Decker Ballard is chairman of the "To Be a Woman" badge committee. She disagrees with those who say it isn't "the Girl Scout organization's place to make children aware of womanhood and their bodies" and that sex education should be taught at home or in church.

Mrs. Ballard says, "Our office has received letters from scouts who cannot discuss these subjects with their parents and do not learn it in health class."

Attica Killings 'Needless'

By MIKE WATERS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Charges that police needlessly killed inmates and hostages while quelling the Attica Prison riot in New York State have been leveled by a congressional committee.

The committee report also charged that after the riot ended officers beat prisoners and that the wounded went without emergency services and that some gulf commentary, weapons for such a situation, they used to the wounding and killing of hostages and inmates who were not acting in a hostile manner," the report said.

"Shutouts loaded with double O" ammunition were used to intensify their fire-power for the assault after rebellious inmates paraded in front of authorities eight blindfolded hostages with knives at their throats.

But the report said: "In fact, only four hostages were wounded by inmates who inflicted knife wounds upon them when the assault began—none of these four hostages died from the knife wounds."

After police prepared over 2,000 rounds to the prison and quelled the four-day uprising, the report said, "emergency services were not available until some four hours after the shooting stopped ..."

The unnecessary agony of the wounded did not complete Attica's human suffering, however, for inmates were subjected to widespread beatings.

"Doctors who made an inventory of inmate injuries eight days after the assault reported that 43 per cent of 2,000 inmates had broken bones, cuts, abrasions or other injuries."

In fact, the report said, "inmates were in custody in Attica ... refuse to acknowledge that reprisals had taken place," the report said.

"It also said officials refused to discredit stories of atrocities by prisoners on hostages, despite the fact such allegations 'had been thoroughly investigated by physicians who had performed autopsies.'"

Elder J. Davis officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Sprig flowers of red, white and blue were used as decoration throughout the house setting.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in a formal-length gown of light pink trimmed with hot pink and pink flowers accented the empire waist. She wore a headpiece of light pink net trimmed in hot pink. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations with pink streamers.

Miss Cora Mae Hall served as maid of honor she wore a blue formal length gown trimmed in white flowers around the waist. Best man was Reginald Cooper. Flower girls were Tammy Hink and Sharon Donaldson. Ringbearers were Anthony Breadshaw and Anthony Donaldson.

Following the wedding, the class was held at the bride's home. The table was beautifully decorated with a two-tier cake with pink and blue flowers around it.

After a brief trip the newlyweds will make their home in Sanford.

Kiddie Credit Coming?

By ANN RUDY
Copy New Service

Montgomery Ward, second unit to Sears, Roebuck & Co. the Great White Father of retailing, has come up with a credit card for kids.

It's a sales promotion that's enough to strike terror in the hearts of mothers everywhere.

Kiddie credit is enough to make strong fathers weep and weak fathers strong. I mean, it's one thing for a man to liberate his wife so she can get a job that pays as much as his does, but when his 10-year-old starts spending with paychecks, that same man will dry his hands, snatch off his apron, and run to the bastions.

"Madam, your child is here in our credit department and has found thirty-seven items he's crazy about. What do you say—yes or no?"

To a phone call like that I'd say: "There must be some mistake. I have no child—what you have there is a bankrupt midwife. I'd advise you to get that merchandise away from him any way you can to protect your over-head."

And don't tell me to come in and pick him up so I'll buy a refrigerator and a new furniture. It's your ball game, Montgomery Ward, and I wish you luck.

You're going to be up to your eyeballs in bankrupt midwives, and it's all because you don't give their parents enough credit. And I don't mean Charge-All.

Picnic Dining At Hand

By SUSAN DELIGHT Copley News Service

Picnic and outdoor dining time is at hand.

For some weekend, you might like to team two picnic favorites, pickles and frankfurters.

Toppings are a popular way of dressing up the frankfurters. Any of these toppings given here will help star the hot dog for picnics, after-game, or swim-fest parties.

- DILLED SLAW TOPPING (Makes about 1 quart)
- 1 quart finely shredded cabbage
 - 1 medium tomato, chopped
 - 1 cup chopped dill pickle
 - 1/2 cup mayonnaise
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon celery seed
 - Dash pepper
- Combine and mix all ingredients. Serve as topping for frankfurters, as desired.
- PICKLE BEAN TOPPING (Makes about 2 cups)
- 1 can (16 ounces) pork and beans
 - One-third cup chopped sweet mixed pickles
 - 2 tablespoons catsup
 - 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
 - 1/2 teaspoon prepared horseradish
- Combine all ingredients in saucepan. Heat to serving temperature, stirring occasionally. Serve as topping for frankfurters, as desired.
- RELISH CHEESE TOPPING (Makes 1 1/2 cups)
- 1 package (1/2 pound) pasteurized process cheese spread, at room temperature
 - One-third cup undrained sweet pickle relish
 - 1/4 cup chili sauce
 - 2 tablespoons mayonnaise
- Beat cheese smooth. Blend in remaining ingredients. Serve as topping for frankfurters, as desired.

Tasty Budget Steak

By AILEEN CLAIRE NEA Food Editor

Americans are addicted to beef and everyone, except strict vegetarians, likes to have an occasional steak. This is possible without strapping the budget. Merely buy the less expensive, less tender cuts of beef and marinate them. Select cuts that have the least amount of fat to trim off and no bone. Such cuts means more edible beef per portion with little waste.

BUDGET STEAK 1 1/2 pounds (1-inch thick) boneless beef round or chuck steak

1 1/2 teaspoons unseasoned meat tenderizer

1/2 cup freshly squeezed orange juice

1/4 cup soy sauce

2 teaspoons instant minced onion

Freshly ground pepper, as desired

Sprinkle both sides of meat with tenderizer. Place steak in close fitting dish such as 1 1/2 quart (10x1 1/2-inch glass "baking" dish). Mix orange juice, soy sauce, minced onion and pepper; pour over steak. Cover dish and place in refrigerator to marinate at least 8 hours but not longer than 2 days. Remove from refrigerator in advance of cooking to allow steak to come to room temperature. Remove steak from marinade and place on rack in shallow roaster or broil pan. Place in preheated broiler about 4 inches from heat and broil 8 to 9 minutes on each side for rare, slightly longer for medium. Carve thin slices, cutting on the diagonal. Makes 4 servings.

Which Wines Do The Celebrities Choose To Drink?

By MARY LESTER
Copley News Service

When the wine world exploded through, around 1965, that Elizabeth Taylor was ordering cases of wine as her favorite drinking beverage, the public relations segment of the wine industry was ecstatic. I wasn't, because at that time I was laboring for a famous California winery and Liz was drinking a French Tavel Rose.

Still, that did start me thinking about the celebrities from the United States who were wine conscious.

Except for my girl friend, Nancy Malone, all of the people I will be talking about in the column are over 40 and also look years younger.

Jane Wyatt, who seems an eternal glorious 30, prefers Moeet et Chandon champagne. I don't know if that is what she sipped when making the classic movie of "Lost Horizons" with Ronald Coleman, but this woman, as far as I'm concerned, is the epitome of ageless femininity and class.

When Hugh O'Brien promised to appear at a charity benefit for a hospital in San Jose, I phoned his housekeeper to find out the beverage I should put in the hotel suite reserved for him. He likes wine.

His favorite colors are orange and red, and besides getting candies in those shades, I know to that he had a bottle of Mirassou 1968 Zinfandel "H" and a Beaulieu Pinot Noir. Hugh didn't drink the wines but, seductively, took them back to his Benedict Canyon home in Beverly Hills.

I watched Hugh drink. He has one good belt of hard liquor — about two ounces. Then a small one — maybe an ounce, no more. Then on to wine in moderation.

Gilbert Roland, that suave gentleman who has been patting female hearts for at least 40 years, gives his favorite wine as a French Beaujolais. The 1969 vintage Roland prefers is particularly outstanding; even this fine a wine should be drunk young and served cool. Few wines go so wonderfully well with good food — fruity, full-bodied with no trace of harshness. Many French gourmets prefer Beaujolais when its age can be counted in months! Gamin Nancy Malone used to sip a bit of white wine and soda while TV filming the "Long, Hot Summer" series with co-star Roy Thomas. A girl after my own heart — lovely, freckle-faced, strawberry blonde — Nancy almost always prefers wine over the hard stuff. And, I'll forgive that Irish patsie, Pat O'Brien, for drinking Campari. It might be an Italian bitters but — it does have a wine base!

Dr. David Call, professor of Food Economics at Cornell University, warns:

"People today are on a beef kick. Their demands for beef have gone way beyond the physical needs of their bodies. This won't necessarily harm them but it is definitely harming their budgets."

He adds: "On an average we eat 100 grams of meat a day. We need only around 50 grams. Some of our protein should come from whole grains or restored cereals, fruit and vegetables. But we eat so much beef there is hardly room for them. So that's what I mean when I refer to the beef kick."

The average American eats 200 pounds of meat a year. Of those 200 pounds, beef takes up 100, pork 50 and chicken 40 pounds.

"I do not suggest that anyone cut out meat (or stop eating it as regularly as he now does), but I do suggest that he eat smaller portions."

"Today we seem to be going right along on our beef kick despite steadily rising prices," our Cornell expert reminds us. "All this results in still higher prices. Prices will continue up despite all politically-inspired statements to the contrary. Actually, I say that the best cure for higher prices of beef is higher prices for beef. People will have to curtail some purchases and then they may switch to other good foods."

"One example is soy beans. They are beginning to be used more by the consumer who needs protein but cannot afford the full price of meat. Various derivatives of soy beans have been developed for use in processed foods. They are textured, colored and flavored to resemble meat. It is extremely difficult to distinguish the difference between soy bean derivatives and meat in chili con carne, meat stew, meat loaf, etc. Nutritionally mixed with meat, I would say the soy bean derivatives have the same value as the meat itself."

Dr. Call adds: "Today processed chopped steak with soy bean derivatives (TVP) makes good wholesome food for millions of schoolchildren on the school lunch program. It tastes like the real thing, is mixed with and costs 20 cents less a pound than 100 per cent beef."

Therain lies a pocketbook story. Let those on 'beef kick take a taste.

Strawberries Make A Rich, Low-Calorie Snack

By OPAL CRANDALL, Copley News Service

Strawberries, low-calorie and rich with valuable nutrients, are becoming more plentiful every day. Their bright red color can add interest to many foodtime events. They are a colorful addition to fruit salads, drinks, as well as a variety of desserts. And their low-calories attribute makes them a refreshing snack food.

Their versatility is demonstrated in recipes featured in this column.

GRAND PIE (Makes 9-inch pie)
 6 cups halved fresh California strawberries (about 3 pint)
 1/4 cup granulated sugar
 1/4 cup quick-cooking tapioca
 One and one-third cups sifted all-purpose flour
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 cup solid all-vegetable shortening
 2 to 3 tablespoons water
 1/4 cup firmly-packed light brown sugar
 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
 Sweetened whipped cream
 Mix strawberries with granulated sugar and tapioca. Let stand while making pastry. Combine flour and salt in bowl. Cut in shortening until uniform but coarse. Reserve about 1/2 cup mixture and set aside. Sprinkle water over remaining mixture in bowl; toss with fork and press into ball. On lightly floured surface, roll out pastry 1/2 inches larger than inverted 9-inch pie plate. Fit into plate and trim 1/2 inch beyond edge of pie plate. Fold under to make double thickness around edge and flute. Form a high-standing edge. Fill with strawberry mixture. Cut an 8-inch round of aluminum foil and lay over filling. Bake in 400 degrees oven 35 minutes. Blend reserved flour mixture, brown sugar and cinnamon. Remove aluminum foil and sprinkle flour mixture over pie. Continue baking 30 to 40 minutes, or until crust and crumbs topping are browned. If pie bubbles over during baking, place a cookie sheet beneath it. Cool. Serve with whipped cream.

Family Sweet Tooth

By AILEEN CLAIRE, NEA Food Editor

Many young men and women are discovering the fun of creating an attractive and flavorful food dish. Families with a sweet tooth and diet on restricted diets will enjoy homemade Chocolate Mints. Very small children definitely will need help at one stage of preparation but this can be a good family project. Chocolate mints make a good digestive after a heavy barbecue and for the weight-conscious, one or two mints can satisfy the urge to gobble up dessert.

CHOCOLATE MINTS
 1/2 cup margarine
 1/2 cup light corn syrup
 1 pound confectioners sugar, sifted
 1/4 cup margarine
 1 teaspoon spearmint extract
 3 drops green food coloring
 1/4 cup margarine
 3 squares (1 oz. each) semi-sweet chocolate
 Mix together one-third cup margarine, corn syrup and 2 cups sugar in 3 quart saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to full boil. Stir in remaining sugar. Remove from heat; stir in spearmint extract and green food coloring. Continue stirring until mixture has thick shape. Pour into greased baking pan. Cool just enough to handle. Now with lightly greased hands until smooth. (If candy hardens too much before kneading, work in spoon, then knead.) Shape into 1-inch balls, then flatten. Set aside. Melt one-fourth cup margarine and semi-sweet chocolate in top of double boiler over hot, not boiling water. Cool slightly. Using 2 spoons dip patties into chocolate and coat completely. Place on waxed paper. Set in cool place until firm. Store covered in refrigerator. Makes 45 mint patties.

Here's To Pleasant Low-Calorie Dieting

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

It is bikini time again. Even those women who flatter when they realistically think of covering a few inches with even less cloth pay lip service to a diet.

A tasty and less mentally painful way to lose a few pounds is with a low-calorie soup and salad regime. Here are eight recipes keyed to most ethnic tastes that are based upon a 1200-calorie-per-day diet. This diet allows a range of 350-500 calories per meal.

For a nutritional balance of foods select fish, poultry, protein, fruits, vegetables and dairy products in the low-calorie range for other meals or snacks to round out each day's diet. Do not skip meals. Nibble on celery or have a cup of beef bouillon rather than having a diet cola to soothe between-meal hunger pangs. Always consult your doctor before dieting.

MEXICAN MEATBALL SOUP
1 can (16 1/2 ounces) con-

- densed golden mushroom soup
- 1/2 pound ground beef
- 2 tablespoons fine dry bread crumbs
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup carrots cut in thin sticks
- 1/2 cup celery cut in thin sticks
- 1/4 cups water
- 1/2 teaspoon oregano leaves, crushed
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cumin

Mix 2 tablespoons soup with beef, crumbs, salt and pepper. Shape into 24 small meatballs (3/4 inch). Arrange on broiler pan. Broil 4 inches

Lost boy survives on acorn diet

A Spanish boy, aged 3, who had been missing four days was found hungry but well, sheltering in a cave near U. town of Badajoz. He had survived several heavy rainstorms and lived on a diet of acorns.

- from heat until brown; turn once. Meanwhile, in saucepan, combine carrots, celery, water and seasonings. Cover, simmer 5 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Stir in remaining soup; add meatballs. Heat, stir occasionally. Makes about 3 cups soup or 4 servings with 225 calories per serving.

- TOSTADA STACK-UPS
2 cups chopped fresh tomatoes
1 cup sliced green onion
2 teaspoons finely chopped

- hot cherry peppers
1 teaspoon garlic salt
4 tostadas (crisp fried tortillas)
4 cups shredded lettuce
1 cup shredded sharp cheddar cheese
Bottled low-calorie

- salad dressing
In bowl, combine tomatoes, onion, pepper, oil and garlic-chili. Top tostadas with lettuce, cheese and tomato mixture. Serve with dressing if desired. Makes about 2 cups sauce; 4 servings—207 calories per serving.

STEAK

Still want your steak and be able to pay for it, too? If you have adequate freezer space, buy in quantity. Club steaks costing $2.59 per pound can range downward from $2.06 to $1.11 per steak. How? An example is to buy a 4-to-6-pound club steak roast, boneless, and cut individual steaks from the roast at home. The more steaks you cut from the roast the less expensive each steak per serving. Wrap each steak in waxed paper, place in a plastic storage bag and freeze.

Souffled Chicken Roll Is Different

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Something different in souffles combines chicken spread, creamed spinach and cheese as a filling. This may be spooned out in serving portions or is very attractive when the Souffled Chicken Roll is sliced. This makes a different and appealing dish for the family or for entertaining getting or bridge club friends.

Salads Aid Family Budget, Health

Copy News Service

The high price of lettuce has prompted many requests for other ideas for salads that are lower in cost but high in nutrition. Our suggestions include watching the market ads for the week's specials in fresh produce. Use your imagination as well as cookbooks for different ingredients like spinach or watercress. Per-as you could use grated carrots when that popular vegetable is the best buy. All of today's salad recipes will help with your budget and your family's health.

One glance at the figures below tells you that vitamin C is an outstanding nutrient in Cole Slaw. One serving actually provides more than three-quarters of the daily requirement.

- CREAMY COLE SLAW
1 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup shredded onion
10 cups shredded cabbage (1 medium head)
2 carrots, shredded
1 green pepper, optional

pepper and onion. Just before serving, toss mayonnaise mixture with cabbage, carrot and green pepper. Mix coated. Makes 10 servings.

TANGY COLE SLAW
1 medium head, sliced
1/2 cup cabbage, chopped or shredded
2 medium carrots, shredded
1 medium green pepper
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup polyunsaturated oil
1/2 teaspoon celery seed
1/2 teaspoon onion salt
1/2 teaspoon onion salt

Mix together cabbage, carrot, and green pepper. Add together sugar, vinegar, oil, celery seed, garlic salt and onion salt. Pour over cabbage mixture and marinate overnight. Makes about 10 servings.

CUCUMBER SALAD
3 large cucumbers
One cup vinegar
One cup sugar
One-third cup polyunsaturated oil
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon freshly ground pepper
1 tablespoon minced dill, optional
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt

Slice cucumbers wafer thin. Combine vinegar, oil, sugar and spices in a 1-cup measure. Pour mixture over cucumbers. Refrigerate for at least one hour. At serving time, drain off liquid; sprinkle with dill. Makes six servings.

POTATO SALAD
How many people pass up potato salad thinking it is too starchy? A serving of this potato salad supplies only 70 calories of carbohydrates, which is equal to one slice of bread. Another nutrient that pops up most dramatically is vitamin C from the tomatoes and green pepper. Hard cooked eggs are a traditional ingredient in potato salad and add protein. The yolks were left out of this recipe because of their high cholesterol content, but egg white may be used.

1 cup mayonnaise
1/4 cup vinegar
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 tablespoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
2 potatoes (about 4 lbs.), diced
cooked potatoes
6 hard-cooked egg whites
1/4 cup coarsely shredded carrot
1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento

In large bowl, mix together mayonnaise, vinegar, mustard, salt and paprika. Add remaining ingredients and toss well. Chill until ready to serve. Makes 12 servings.

SEN. ED GURNEY, Nixon's man

Incrimination Feared

No Notes Of Nixon Talks: Dean

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ousted White House counsel John W. Dean III told the Senate Watergate committee today he took no notes of some meetings with President Nixon because "some of the things that were being said in these meetings... were very incriminating to the President."

Answering a series of White House questions posed through Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, Dean said he did not want documents regarding his presidential meetings because the White House had a problem with information becoming public.

Pressed for his recollection of a key meeting with Nixon on Sept. 15, 1972, Dean said he could not repeat the exact words used by Nixon, but said his mind "certainly perceives the message being given."

The questions followed up on a complex White House memo read by Inouye Wednesday which accused Dean of being a man ready to sacrifice the President to save himself from jail, and which also abandoned any White House support for former attorney general and Nixon campaign chief John N. Mitchell.

Dean has steadily refused since presenting his six-hour case Monday to recant his story that Nixon and his chief aides, particularly Ehrlichman and H. R. Haldeman, were fully aware of the lengthy and elaborate cover-up.

He insisted he was always the messenger and never the master of a conspiracy to conceal the truth.

Warrant Issued For Glenn Turner

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Attorneys for Glenn W. Turner have succeeded in getting a federal judge to issue a bench warrant for the arrest of his client in the hopes of persuading West German authorities to release the Orlando businessman.

Turner was jailed in Frankfurt nearly two weeks ago after British authorities issued a warrant for his arrest. He refused to return to Britain voluntarily and was ordered held pending an extradition hearing before a West German court.

U.S. District Judge George Young issued a warrant for Turner's arrest Wednesday at the request of Turner's lawyers.

Earlier Young had given Turner until Monday to hand in his passport under the terms of travel restrictions placed on the 35-year-old provider following his indictment on mail fraud charges.

As Turner was unable to obey Young's order his attorney requested that a bench warrant be issued.

Turner and nine others, including criminal lawyer F. Lee Bailey were indicted in May by a federal grand jury on 28 counts of mail fraud involving the operations of Glenn W. Turner Enterprises, Inc., Koscot Interplanetary, Inc., and Dare To Be Great, a motivational course.

$6 Million Shop Center Planned

LONGWOOD—A new $6 million-to-$8 million shopping center will be going up in early 1974 on the 25 acres located on the south side of SR 434, west of Range Line Road, according to Georges St. Laurent, principal in the St. Laurent Development Corp.

St. Laurent received preliminary approval Wednesday on his plans for a 12-building center, including five office buildings to serve as a buffer to the residential properties to the north and east of the proposed shopping center. He appeared before the city zoning board.

The remaining buildings are to be a chain supermarket outlet, a restaurant and fashion oriented shops for both goods and services. The center is to have 270,000 sq. ft. floor space and parking facilities for 1,075 cars. One entrance from SR 434 and two others from Range Line Road are planned. Two water retention areas are also on the site.

Tampa Orders Pollution Halt

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Pollution inspectors made floor to door rounds of oil terminals in Tampa today to assure compliance with mandatory shutdown orders and help ease an air pollution alert covering Hillsborough and Pinellas counties.

However, officials still predicted no relief before the weekend from the stagnant air mass that blanketed the bay area and triggered the state's first pollution alert.

The alert was first issued for Hillsborough County but Wednesday the polluted air spread to neighboring Pinellas County. Officials feared it could cause respiratory problems for elderly residents in St. Petersburg.

Officials monitored at least a dozen oil loading terminals, Tampa pollution technician Larry Hillson said and all indicated a cessation of operations during daylight hours.

Nixon May Get To Decide Paychecks Or Bomb Halt

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate appears headed toward giving President Nixon a choice between stopping the bombing and stopping federal paychecks.

The amendment also was included in a third bill, the continuing resolution to provide funding for federal agencies after Saturday night, when the current fiscal year ends. Congress has not approved regular appropriations for the fiscal year beginning July 1, and government agencies need the continuing resolution if they are to have funds to operate.

The appropriations bill probably will come before the Senate Appropriations Committee today, and seems certain to reach the President, with anti-bombing amendments, before the week ends.

The House vote was 241 in favor of overriding the veto, 173 against, 45 votes short of the needed two-thirds.

'Springs School Sold, Brings $1.25 Million

By JEAN PATTISON Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County school board approved the sale of Altamonte Elementary School to an Indianapolis, Ind., company for $1.25 million at a school board meeting Wednesday night.

The board decided to sell the school because of its dangerous location on SR 438.

The money for the sale of the school will be used to repay funds used to buy property on Palm Springs Road, to buy a second property on Markham Road, and $80,000 will be used to build a new Altamonte Elementary on the Palm Springs Road property.

W. A. Teague, assistant superintendent, presented the proposal which was made through Ackerman Realty. The contract allows the Altamonte school to operate in the old property for eight months without charge after the sale is completed.

The board also declared the school system's fuel oil and gasoline situation to be in a state of emergency. It made a declaration upon the recommendation of the state plans tomorrow," said Teague.

Mother Balks At Filling School Forms

Filling out school registration forms is a hassle, according to Mrs. Ann Crosswell, and School Sup. Bud Lauer promised he will review the policy of making parents complete the five forms per child paperwork at school.

Mrs. Crosswell rebelled at filling out the necessary paperwork at the school, contending that as a working woman the forms she had to complete at Casselberry Elementary School took just too long and she couldn't afford to take the time off from work. She wanted to be allowed to take the paperwork home and return it later.
