TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Some of us do not know whether to be ice or steam. To excel one must keep to one main objective in spiritual or material things. Unstable as water thou shalt not excel.—Gen. 49:4.

"Your refusal to testify," says the Tampa Tribune to Governor Warren, "naturally will be construed by most Floridians to mean that you have something to conceal." A very logical conclusion.

Harold Laker, who used to be known when Secretary of the Interior as "The Old Curmudgeon," blames Congress, of all people, for all the ills of the world. Wouldn't he like to get rid of it and just have a dictatorship?

Senator Byrd reveals that various government departments, boards, bureaus, and commissions have more than 4,190 public men working for them. Their work costs the government $103,000,000 a year; $13,000,000 in pay $50,000,000 to print the stuff they turn out (most of which never gets into the newspapers or is seen by the public), and $40,000,000 to mail it, mostly to the newspapers.

Even the Communists when confronted with the hard facts of life sometimes have to "reconsider" cut expenses. And so the publishers of the New York Daily Worker, Communist Party organ, announces an increase in price from 5 to 10 cents a copy, a reduction in the number of pages published daily from 12 to 8. If we were to do something like that, we'd be accused of profiteering.

That newspapers sometimes receive large sums of money from gamblers and racketeers was put in evidence at the Senate Crime Investigating Committee hearing in Miami the other day when the wife of a big time gambler admitted that her former husband once "lent" $100,000 to the Miami Mail. It is also interesting to note, however, that the Mail was not an established newspaper, and remained in operation only a little over one month.

Hedy Lamarr is doing her annual spring house cleaning, a little late perhaps, but better late than never. On the auction block will go some $700,000 worth of jewelry, a collection of French paintings and antique furniture, about 500 dresses and 75 pairs of shoes and other odds and ends to a value of about one million dollars. She is moving into a new residence, she explains, and didn't want to go to the trouble of taking all that stuff with her.

We hear a lot about what the federal government has done for Florida, about how much money it is continually pouring into this state. Sometimes it is good to remember how much the federal government takes out. And so the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reveals that during the last ten years individual income taxes in Florida have relieved the public of some $1,762,000,000, while income taxes on corporations have taken $563,000,000. What could Floridians have done with this money if they had been allowed to keep it, or even part of it!

Defense Mobilization Director Wilson warns against a letdown in preparedness in case all this peace talk over Korea proves fruitless. As everyone knows, the minute the shooting stops everyone will be wanting to bring the boys home, cut defense appropriations, forget universal military training, do away with the Army, Navy and Air Force. In that case, just as sure as it has happened to us a dozen times already, we will be napping again whenever the aggressor nation decides the peace has come to expand its wings. The only way we can keep the peace for this country and for the world is to be ready at all times to strike back with our fists.

Hurricane Hunters

Since Pacific typhoons in 1944 and '45 capsized three destroyers, sank another and blew in the bow of a heavy cruiser, the Navy has joined with the Army Air Forces in an effort to find such storms as soon as they are born, give warning of their approach and trail them until they blow out. Young airmen from both services, who fly into every hurricane hatched in the Caribbean, call themselves the Hurricane Hunters. A companion group follows the same dangerous calling in tracking down Pacific typhoons.

Their work to date, says Robert Strother in a July Reader's Digest article condensed from Air Facts, "has prevented millions of dollars of ship and property damage and saved hundreds of lives."

In 1928 long before the advent of the Hurricane Hunters, a hurricane killed 1836 people in Florida. Twenty years later another storm followed the same course, with winds of the same 150-miles-an-hour speed. But this time the Hurricane Hunters had spotted it. Thanks largely to their warnings, 24 to 30 hours before the storm's arrival, only two persons lost their lives.

In property damage, the record is significant. The Miami storm of 1926 destroyed property valued at $75,000,000. The 1950 hurricane struck a city which had grown tremendously in the meantime, but on this occasion Miami had 30 hours to get ready. Damage was cut to $14,000,000.

Once they find a storm, Hurricane Hunters radio its velocity, direction of surface winds, cloud types and heights, rainfall, humidity, barometric pressure and temperature. When they get into the storm itself they give more data at 15-minute intervals. Their work is usually unballooned, and most flights are described as "routine." But it's no job for the timid.

Control Troubles

There are differences within Congress and between that body and the administration over questions of general strengthening or relaxing of price and wage controls and many issues of price level for specific kinds of goods. These differences are symptoms of the major trouble of trying to make the economy conform to rules and regulations. The economy has rules and laws of its own.

The national economy is extremely complicated, and is not completely understood by even the best experts. The fixing of the price of one item of consumer goods has infinite variations of effect on the growers, makers and handlers of things which go into that item, and on all who use the item, and on all who use the item and therefore on other items which they use. The effects of a government price or wage order spread and double back and crisscross like waves in a little fishpond, started by the fall of a pebble and reflected back by the sides of the pond and the stones and lily-pads.

Control officials and members of Congress have discovered that the effects of an economic regulation cannot be fully predicted, and that the resulting public pressures are many, varied and strong. A basic question is whether economic regulation should go ahead regardless of those pressures, or should be altered in response to them. Naturally if the attempt is made to adjust the program to its criticisms, the adjustment process will be endless.

People in public life soon learn that it is not possible to please everybody. Experience with price and wage controls must lead them to wonder at times if it is possible to please anyone.

Determined Golfer

The story of Ben Hogan is one which can bring hope to those who meet with misfortune. The incredible little Texan won this year's National Open Golf championship at Oakland Hills near Detroit, a course said to be the toughest in the game. Less than two years ago, after a serious automobile accident, doctors doubted whether he would ever play golf again.

Hogan takes tough breaks in his stride on or off a golf course. In the recent tournament he got off to a start that might have discouraged another man. But the same will to win that proved the doctors wrong stood him in good stead. He finished by breaking par for the course, and 17,500 fans were at the last hole to see him do it. Fans respect courage and determination. That is why Hogan is a popular champion.

Hungarian Trial

His request for "severest" punishment is customary in such cases in Hungary and means he demands the full penalty allowed by law. The defendants are charged with spying, attempting to overthrow the state and murder, charges which can bring the death penalty.

Alapi had an easy task of it. All he had to do was summarize the 100 per cent self-incriminatory confessions of the defendants. He did so with much enthusiasm.

Iranian Dispute

(Continued From Page One) said. The company issued its order "with the full agreement of his Majesty's government," Morrison announced. He described the situation as very serious.

Departure of all tankers presumably would mean the shut down of the Abadan refinery, the world's largest. It is filling storage tanks because of the shipping tie-up. There is enough storage capacity to keep the refinery going about a week.

Morrison said Iran persists in her present tactics. AIOC will be forced to halt operations "with-in a matter of days."

He warned that Britain will hold Iran "responsible under international law for insuring the protection of any British subjects in Persia." Morrison added:

"Should they prove incapable of discharging that task, the British government would be compelled to assume it themselves, using such means as are necessary for that purpose."

"The House may rest assured that preparations have been made to take action at short notice," The Mauritius, a 8,000-ton cruiser with a normal crew of 730 men, has been at Bahrain Island in the Persian Gulf since early June.

Morrison said the British government would "take all possible action" for the protection of any British who might be arrested by Iranian authorities under a proposed anti-sabotage law which carries death penalty.

Laborite J. B. Hynd had asked Morrison if Britain would intervene with armed forces in the event of such arrests.

Morrison said if the anti-sabotage law is passed the 3,000 British employees of AIOC would be in an "intolerable position."

Iranian authorities, he said, "might seek to lay the blame for any accident in the field" resulting from interference or incompetence on a member of the company's staff."

He pointed out that Eric Drake the company's manager at Abadan, already has been accused in a letter by Iranian officials of sabotage because he refused to allow tanker captains to sign receipts for oil in the form demand-

During the past year the Bittings moved from their former home at 2472 Sanford Avenue to their new residence at 1203 East Seminole Boulevard, facing Lake Monroe.

Peace Proposal

(Continued From Page One) he thought of the chances of peace, he said "That's what I'm going to find out." He conferred with British and Canadian officials in London. Lie is due in New York tomorrow.

Britain announced it was beginning talks in Washington with 15 other governments which have forces in Korea. The idea is to map some sort of joint approach to the Communist nations, to establish exactly what they have in mind in the way of a cease-fire plan. Britain has diplomatic representation in Peking and may seek Red China's views directly on behalf of the Allies.

Nasrollah Entezam of Iran, president of the U. N. General Assembly, gave no indication whether it would be called into session on the Korean issue. He presided today at a routine session honoring President Gaio Plaza Lasso of Ecuador. Before the session, Entezam said he had not had a chance to confer with Malik, who was reported ill.

In Moscow, Pravda printed an editorial saying the Soviet people are convinced that "there exist all possibilities for a peaceful settlement of the Korean question." It pictured President Truman as supporting the Malik plan. Actually President Truman said there must be a "real settlement" that ends the aggression and brings an assurance of security to the Korean people.

The South Koreans, whose republic was founded under U. N. sponsorship, officially want no cease-fire that does not reunite the entire Korean peninsula. General Ridgway visited President Syngman Rhee of South Korea today. Ridgway carried out instructions, supposedly from the U. S. government, but the nature of these was not made public.

In addressing the U. N. assembly at Flushing Meadows today, the European president urged that the Malik proposal be explored thoroughly "to create a tranquil atmosphere that permits apprecia-

Only some new, unsighted war scare could send buyers into the stores this summer in any comparable numbers. And most consumers are now shame-facedly aware that their scare buying was senseless—no shortages have yet appeared—and that it only resulted in sending prices sky-high. All consumers are now paying buying—by consumers, merchants and manufacturers—that helped in spiraling inflation on its way.

Latest Federal Reserve figures on sales show the national average for the week ending June 16 was up one per cent from a year before. But that was only because New York's price-war hoopla carried its sales up 11 per cent above the same week last year. San Francisco was 5 per cent ahead of a year ago, but eight other districts showed minus signs and the remaining two were just even.

If your neighbor, the merchant, is worried just now, tell him that almost everyone seems to think things will change this fall. It may be whistling in the dark, but most of the forecasters look for a pick up in sales this winter, for a marked drop in inventories, for a gain in the total of money in shoppers' pockets, and for stiffening of prices.

Where Have You Been all its Life?

This ad is addressed to the fellow known as "the man on the street."

From that vantage point, you must have noticed that a lot of folks are driving 1951 Buicks.

You must have noted that you can spot one of these beauties—by its sparkling forefront—its gleaming fender ports—(three for the SPECIAL and SUPER, four for the ROADMASTER)—and by its fluent grace of lines and contours.

You've probably noticed, also, that these Buicks give a good account of themselves in traffic—ease to a gentle stop—get away to a nimble start when the light says, "Go."

You may even have noticed that these cars have a level-gaited stride that traces, as we've said before, to the fact that each wheel rides beneath its own coil spring

But what we'd like to know is—when are you going to try one?

It's about time you climbed in the driver's seat.

It's about time that you sensed for yourself the thrill that comes from feeling your shoulders sink back in the cushions, when your toe gives the gas treader a gentle nudge.

It's about time for you to be on the receiving end of those admiring glances which are the due of folks smart enough to pick the smart buy of the year.

What's holding you back? It can't be price—for as you can see for yourself, you can own a SPECIAL for less than the price of some sixes—and SUPERS or ROADMASTERS are just as smart a buy in their fields.

So why not end the suspense? The welcome mat is out at our showrooms. We hope to greet you soon.

Miss Shirley Ervin Weds Jack Howell

Miss Shirley Ervin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ervin, and Jack R. Howell, U.S.N. son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Howell, both of Lake Mary, were united in marriage June 5 at the Lake Mary Community Church with the Rev. C. C. White officiating.
The ceremony was performed against a background of candelabras and arrangements of white gladioluses and fern. Stanley Brunley, soloist, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because" with the traditional wedding march played by Harry Wester.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white organza with a full skirt and fitted bodice. She wore a white hat and carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with an orchid.
Miss Peggy Howell, sister of the bridegroom, served the bride as maid of honor. She wore a pink organza gown with white accessories.
Joseph Ervin, brother of the bride, served as best man and ushers were Dean Taylor and Roy Howell, Jr.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents which was attractively decorated with arrangements of spring flowers. The bride's table, overlaid with a lace cloth, was centered with an arrangement of white gladioluses and fern with a crystal candelabra holding burning white tapers. The three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was placed at one end of the table while a crystal punch bowl was at the other end.
Assisting at the reception were Mrs. J. L. Hobbs, Miss Christine Thomas, Miss Patricia Hargrave and Miss Helen Brewer.

HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, June 26—(AP)—The Hollywood canteen, which entertained 3,000,000 servicemen in World War II, is gearing for the new war.
The ward came today from film producer Casey Wilson, one of the three guiding forces of the canteen. (The others: Bette Davis, talent tycoon Jules Stein). Wilson has signalled his volunteer workers to be ready to start operations on Labor Day or thereafter.
"At first I told them to be ready July 4 or thereafter," he declared. "But after a survey of the entire situation, I discovered that there were not enough servicemen visiting this area. The big camps which existed in neighboring areas during the last war have not been re-activated."
"This is a big operation. During the last war our expenses ran $3,000 a week, even with getting the talent and workers free and the food wholesale. You can imagine what prices would be now. When we re-open, we want to be at the maximum just as we wouldn't want to close again, that would be bad psychologically."
"Furthermore, the new canteen will be able to handle twice as many servicemen. Our capacity in the old place was 500 at one time. Now we will be able to have 1,000."
The new Hollywood canteen will be more glamorous than the last one, which was a barn-like structure off the beaten path. The canteen organization has bought control of the Florence Gardens, a restaurant night club on Hollywood Boulevard. Even after the purchase, the canteen still has a half-million dollars for operation.
"The money came from percentages of two partners, Stage Door Canteen and Hollywood Davenport Beach where his daughter, Mrs. Flora Deberick and son, Frankie will join him. Together, they will tour Tennessee, the southwest, visiting relatives in Louisiana and Texas."

Canteen

When the Hollywood Canteen closed, the funds were turned over to a foundation designed to help veterans in this area. Money was given for such things as a swimming pool for paraplegics at Birmingham hospital and a group to find employment for blind veterans.
"When the Korean war and the present emergency came along, we started making plans to re-open the canteen. We decided to buy the Florence Gardens rather than try to refurbish the old place. Now all we are waiting for is enough servicemen to enter."

The opening will revive one of Hollywood's most memorable institutions. Casey recalled the canteen's most hilarious moment one night Red Skelton was entertaining and he told a joke about an Army colonel. He stepped himself and said, "Hey—I better stop telling jokes like that!" His audience roared, knowing that Red was going into the Army the next day.
Every name in Hollywood contributed services to the canteen, from Harry James to Leopold Stokowski, who led a symphony of volunteer musicians. Arthur Rubinstein once played an all-ternoon concert of Beethoven to a rapt audience.
But Wilson's favorite memory was the Christmas Eve celebration when Ring Crosby always came on that night to sing "White Christmas." But he hadn't arrived yet and Wilson was worried. Finally, just before midnight, Ring drove up. His four sons were with him and they sang all the Christmas carols they knew.

The audience wouldn't let Ring go. Wilson had to plead with them to be satisfied with one more song. So, without any accompaniment, Ring sang "I'll Be Home for Christmas." They say there wasn't a dry eye in the canteen that night.

Giants Nosed Out In Tight Contest With DeLand, 5-4

Therina And Klaus Spark Giant Attack; Big Swede Swiderski Gives But Six Hits

Tonight will see Sanford's Bob Callahan taking the mound against the Orlando Senators.

The Sanford Giants went down to defeat at the hands of the DeLand Red Hats last night 5-4 in a tight, well played contest.

Frank Therina and Richie Klaus spearheaded the Giant attack, Therina going two for four and Klaus nailing two doubles in three trips to the plate accounting for one of Sanford's RBIs.

All Georgia Teams Defeated In South Atlantic League

In the South Atlantic League's past 12 seasons Georgia teams have won 19 championships.

CHICAGO June 26 (AP)—Gil Hodges of the Brooklyn Dodgers has regained the lead in the voting race to determine the National League's starting first base job for the 18th all-star baseball game in Detroit July 10.

Hodges seized first place from Ralph Kiner of the Pittsburgh Pirates with 556,934 votes in the national poll.

Harry Harris, a veteran steeplechase jockey, was killed yesterday in a freak accident at Aqueduct race track.

Harris was schooling a French Import, Montard, when the mishap occurred.

Palatka's seven-game winning streak came to a halt here last night as Don Urquhart pitched his 15th victory of the season for Gainesville.

Urquhart aided his own cause with a double and a triple for two runs batted in.

Hal Long, rookie third sacker, scored four of the G-Man runs.

The G-Men, who elected nine safeties, pulled ahead but failed to maintain their margin.

ORLANDO, June 26 (AP)—Orlando's tall-spinning Senators suffered their fifth straight setback—longest losing streak of the season for them—as Jim Coppock hurled Daytona Beach to a five-hit, 6-2 win last night at Tinker Field in a game witnessed by only 415 faithful.

And the less-dropped Orlando six and a half games behind DeLand, but preserved the Senators' second place standing as Gainesville broke a six-game winning streak for Palatka.

Richards Insists White Sox Aren't The Team To Quit

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN CHICAGO, June 26 (AP)—Manager Paul Richards assured Chicago's pennant-slaved White Sox fans today that his American League leaders will never quit—and by that he means there is no bubble that's going to break.

With the midway mark in the season approaching, Richards would like to see the Sox in the lead July 4, that traditional date on which the top club theoretically becomes the one to beat for the pennant.

Returning home with an even break in 16 road games, the White Sox have not fully been accepted in that category—opposing managers just can't believe they're that good.

They have held the lead since May 28, but now are only one game in front whereas they were 2½ before starting east two weeks ago.

The Sox open a nine-game home stand against western clubs here tonight.

The first victors are the Detroit Tigers whose manager, Red Rolfe, picked the Comiskey to finish last and has never yet conceded they have the slightest pennant possibilities.

"If there is one thing of which I am certain," says Richards, "the White Sox don't know the meaning of the word 'quit.' They have become tough enough to throw off pressure."

Richards analyzed that bases on balls hurt most during the eastern swing when they lost five one-run games. Three of these were in the 11th inning.

Sox hurlers issued 63 walks on the 16-game trip.

"Of course, our pitchers have been tired," says Richards. "They've had to work on short rest. But you can't walk a couple of guys to open an inning and expect to win."

Richards isn't so sure the Red Sox pitching will take it—"you

Headland Defeats Enterprise 18-2 In Dying League

By ASSOCIATED PRESS The Alabama-Florida League, with just a week longer to live, went quietly about its baseball business last night.

The three first division teams won to stretch the standings. First place Headland defeated Enterprise 18-2. Second place Ozark won from Panama City 13-5 and Tallahassee defeated Dothan 7-5.

Charles C. Smith, owner of the Dothan team, notified league directors yesterday that his team would play through July 2. Two possibilities as replacement for Dothan have been contacted and of the two, Bainbridge, Ga., looks more interested.

Unless a team can be found to take Dothan's place in the six-team league, the short, unhappy life of the Alabama-Florida may end when Dothan retires.

Smith announced Sunday he was pulling out of the league after Jack Clifton of Headland was scheduled to pitch against Dothan.

Clifton threw the fatal pitch which fractured the skull of Otis Johnson, Dothan outfielder, in early June. Johnson died a week later.

Dothan forfeited Sunday's game to Headland and shortly thereafter Smith announced he was quitting.

League President G. D. Halstead said all evidence showed that Clifton's pitch was accidental.

Last night Clifton pitched against Enterprise and gave only two hits. Headland scored 16 times in the first three innings.

Al Rivenbark tripled for three runs in the third.

Ben Shaw of Ozark, homered for two runs and got two other hits for three runs batted in against Panama City.

Manager Chase Riddle of Tallahassee, homered against Dothan to break a 5-5 tie in the eighth inning.

Sports Roundup By RUGH FULLERTON Jr.

PITTSBURGH, June 26 (AP)—No foreign golfer ever has won the United States PGA championship . . . Since the days when Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen and Leo Diegel proved that it wasn't necessary to be born in Scotland to play good golf, the PGA has been sort of a private party for the home-bred pros—with the single exception of Australian-born Jim Ferrier . . . A lot of them can't even qualify under the strict rules of the regulations of the organization . . .

When Bobby Locke first visited this country, he was invited to take a shot at the prize. After he became a regular circuit rider, Bobby wasn't asked again and the PGA wasn't moved by heated criticism . . .

Argentina's Roberto de Vicenzo may be the one to set a precedent in Ulicka Locke, the golfing Gaucho from Argentina joined the PGA when he started to compete with its members . . .

And, attesting to his popularity as well as his ability, he was given a special invitation to play in the 33rd championship, which begins tomorrow at the famous Oakmont Club.

Just Puttering Around De Vicenzo, you remember, learned about North American golf when he finished exactly nowhere in the masters last spring . . .

He went home to Argentina and devoted a solid month to changing his putting style . . .

Since then he has won the Palm Beach round robin and teamed with Henry Ransom last week to take the Invenexa best-ball tournament . . .

It was no surprise that he finished out of the money in the U. S. Open. A lot of good golfers did that . . .

Obviously, Roberto is a hot player right now . . .

The consensus is that the 1951 PGA will go to a golfer who is long off the tees and accurate on the putting green . . .

De Vicenzo can belt them a mile, and if that putting practice did he good, watch out!

IMMORTAL DIES BROOKLINE, Mass., June 26 (AP)—Donald C. Watson, Harvard football immortal, once listed by Coach Percy Haughton as one of the game's seven greatest players, is dead at 56. His death Sunday at Phillips House of Massachusetts General Hospital was reported today. Watson starred as quarterback on the 1914 and 1915 teams. The Harvard Book of Athletics called his direction of the team in the Yale game of 1914 the greatest exhibition of generalship and masterful strategy ever seen on a football field.

He was credited with leading the 1915 Harvard team to a 41-0 win over Yale, a record that never has been matched.

Warren Debate

In June, the formal challenge was issued, however, and today was the first time he set a time and a place for the debate. Governor Warren spotted generally from an article in the May, 1951, issue of American Mercury magazine by Lee Mortimer attacking the Kefauver committee. He also quoted critical comments from a book "Washington Confidential" by Mortimer and Jack Lait to back up his charges against O'Connor.

Warren said during O'Connor's two terms as Governor "Maryland revelled with gambling corruption." "As an occasional visitor in Maryland while O'Connor was Governor, I had an opportunity to learn that gambling and other vice openly operated in almost every block in downtown Baltimore.

Dope Peddling

(Continued From Page One) narcotics traffic in the nation's spotlight. Victims of the drug habit were to appear later. Saying drug addiction saps morality, Dr. Vogel said eight out of 10 of the young patients he has treated had "turned to many types of crime" to raise the $10 to $20 a day required to pay for their drugs.

Korean War

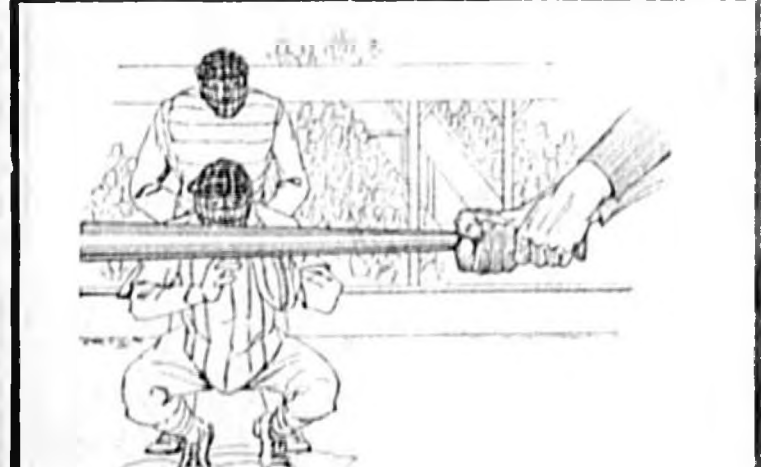

(Continued from Page One) trips "had no connection with anything regarding a cease-fire." Before he returned, a memorandum came out of his Tokyo headquarters raising official doubts about the latest Communist cease-fire proposal. It questioned the suggestion as a Russian "political move" that might give the enemy a military advantage.

He said, having answered Senator O'Connor's "tough questions" he would "not" answer further questions to "him" to be answered in their Miami debate. He listed those the terms of the deal by which the Kefauver committee was to hold no hearings in Maryland.

Why has O'Connor taken no action against the open and widespread gambling in Maryland? "Who has O'Connor tolerated the 300,000-year gambling racket in Washington, D. C.?" "Why have you been so readily criticized by the Kefauver committee from testimony?"

How much has O'Connor collected from newspapers for articles and what amounts to O'Connor's 1952 Senate campaign funds? "Were any such campaign contributions made by persons excluded from testifying before the Kefauver committee?"

What has O'Connor's income increased since he became a member of the Kefauver committee? "What has made contributions and in what amounts to O'Connor's 1952 Senate campaign funds?" "Were any such campaign contributions made by persons excluded from testifying before the Kefauver committee?"

Which of my political enemies in Maryland get him to "secure a witness subpoena for me?" "What promises were made in exchange for his agreement to issue the witness subpoena?"

When Gen. Hymus R. Grant went to West Point, he disliked the idea intensely.

Dr. Vogel said 22 teenagers were admitted to the two hospitals for treatment in 1947 and that the figure had been in his range since the institutions were opened. Lexington in 1935 and Fort Worth in 1934.

But in 1948, admissions of youths climbed to 52, in 1949 to 210 and in 1950 to 440, he told the senators. For 1951 there will be a dip to 208 if the experience of the first five months carries through the full year.

Dr. Vogel said the impact of these admissions had lowered the average age of all patients at the hospitals from 37 to 26. Taking June 7, 1951, as an average day, Dr. Vogel said 160 teenagers were being treated at that time. Of these, 87 were from New York, more than half recent arrivals from Chicago, 16 from Washington and the remaining 57 from other cities.

By ages, the 160 broke down this way: 47 each were 29 and 18, while 40 were 19, nineteen were 17 and five were 16. There were 139 boys and 19 girls. Thirty-eight patients were white and 120 were Negroes.

Richard Moser, the committee's chief counsel, asked Dr. Vogel about habituates or sleeping pills. Dr. Vogel said habitual users of these were not eligible for admission to the federal hospitals.

"If they were, it would take institutions several times the present size to treat them," he said. "The habituates are a very great public health problem. It probably exceeds that of the 'other drugs.'"

In addition to addicts, O'Connor said the crime probe also may take testimony from parents of some of the youthful drug users to "point up the terrible disruption of family life resulting from addiction among the younger element."

O'Connor said the challenge presented by increased use of drugs is underscored further by "advice from authorities to the effect that addiction is contagious."

"By this is meant," he added, "that every confirmed narcotic user induces five or more additional users, sometimes members of his own family."

Senator Wiley (R-Wis.), another committee member, said the crime probe is trying with their narcotics probe "to preserve human life."

"This diabolical thing called the drug habit is disintegrating the youth of this country," he said.

Wiley said he trusted the Senate hearings would spur enforcement officials at all levels of government into cutting "the tap root of this terrific evil."

"We know the drugs come from abroad," he said adding that he hoped federal officials would insist that other nations cooperate.

Senator Taft (Continued from Page One) declared. "Senator Vandenberg pointed out that the Republicans were never consulted on the disastrous foreign policy in China, which he opposed." His reference was to the late Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich.).

Taft didn't reply directly to Mr. Truman's charges that some Republicans were "spreading fear and slandering lives" in attacking such persons as Secretary of Defense Marshall, General Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Secretary of State Acheson.

Attacking Chinese captured a key hill position in an early morning fight near Kumhwa, but were driven off by noon in a U. N. counterattack.

Reds launched a series of prolog attacks and raked Allied lines with artillery at scattered points. Some Allied patrols were turned back by bitter resistance and others rumbled for miles without firing Reds. The front was a mixture of blazing fights and quiet.

U. N. patrols bumped into Communist barbed wire entanglements on the east-central front. "The Reds definitely are building a heavy defense, probably parallel to our lines," an officer said.

The Communist air force showed new aggressive tendencies in its strikes on the east-central front. Allied air forces reported no B-29s were damaged in one attack.

Reds' Plan For Peace Terms Expected Soon

U.S. Ambassador Visits Gromyko In Moscow As Acheson Demands More Light

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today the best guarantee for U. S. acceptance of a Korean cease-fire would be withdrawal of Chinese Communist troops beyond the Yalu River. Acheson proposed a "phased withdrawal" of all foreign troops in Korea after an armistice. In the event of such a settlement, he declared, there would have to be a full realization that its violation "would be a very dangerous step and would endanger world peace."

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., June 27—(AP)—The West pressed Moscow today to spell out what Jacob A. Malik meant by the Russian proposal for a Korean cease-fire. Acting on Washington's instruction, U. S. Ambassador Alan G. Kirk called on Andrei Gromyko, deputy Soviet foreign minister in Moscow. They talked for 20 minutes, and Moscow dispatches said clarification of Malik's suggestions was expected by the end of this week.

Secretary of State Acheson said the United States had not learned the intentions behind the Malik proposal, "but we hope today will bring further light." At the time he made this comment in Washington, Acheson evidently had not received Kirk's report on his meeting with Gromyko. Malik, Soviet delegate to the United Nations, proposed Saturday that the belligerents in Korea should agree to a

3 Persons Killed, 40 Are Injured In Tornado In Kansas

WAKEFORD, Kan., June 27—(AP)—A tornado slashed through this western Kansas town today killing three persons and injuring approximately 40.

The vicious winds turned a five-block residential area into a mass of splintered wood and brick. Trees were uprooted, water mains broken, and power and communication lines damaged. The dead were Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hark, both about 60, and Dan Rohrbacher, 60. Mr. and Mrs. Hark died in the wreckage of their home. Rohrbacher was blown from his house and his body found in the debris on the street. Marie Engleman, a Hill City, Kas., newspaper woman, who toured the area gave this description:

"Devastation was everywhere on the five blocks. Automobiles were overturned and crushed under the street, and Robert Shon of Great Bend, Kas., was injured when the tornado caught their car on a road outside Wakefney and twisted it around.

Towns within a 60 mile radius of Wakefney sent aid. A few of the injured were being taken to nearby Hays for hospitalization.

ANTI-SEGREGATION ATLANTA, June 27—(AP)—Militant Negroes in the United States plan a broad, sweeping series of legal attacks to outlaw racial segregation.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will lead the court attack to wipe out the social pattern that separates races in education, local transportation, health, housing, recreation facilities and public places of assembly.

MOCK RAID ROME, June 27—(AP)—The French air force, within the next 24 hours will attempt a mock bombing of Rome, Naples and other Italian cities in a three-day military maneuver planned by General Dwight D. Eisenhower's North Atlantic Treaty organization headquarters.

This was reported today by military sources, who said one of the chief aims of the combined Italian-French operation was to follow through on General Eisenhower's demand that the forces of his European command carry out their operations in a single language—English. All communications in the operation are to be transmitted in English.

Reds Pour Fresh Troops Into Line For New Attack

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, June 27—(AP)—The U. S. Chief of Naval Operations said today he considered the naval forces in the Pacific "reasonably adequate for any situation that might probably develop."

But Admiral Forrest P. Sherman added cautiously: "Certain things could arise for which we would need a larger force. Some things would cause us to increase our forces."

By OLEN CLEMENTS TOKYO, June 27—(AP)—Reds began pulling out of one buildup area in Korea today but poured fresh men and supplies into another center for a new try at cracking Allied lines. United Nations officers were not worried they can hit us anywhere, at any time, in any strength," a U. N. briefing officer said.

Other officers predicted Chinese Reds would strike in the second week of July—probably along the Uijongju-Seoul invasion corridor.

Strong Communist screening forces Wednesday blocked Allied patrols probing toward four Communist buildup areas.

Chinese dug in even on the flat lands south of Pyongyang to protect Communist buildup areas.

GERMAN AID WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—Western Germany will decide to contribute military units to the proposed North Atlantic Treaty Army, John J. McCloy said last night, despite Russia's "enormous efforts" to prevent it.

McCloy, U. S. high commissioner to Germany, said in a radio address that "the idea of neutralism seems to be less appealing as it becomes apparent that such a policy would play patently into the hands of the Russians."

Associated Press Writer Probes Conditions At U. S. Army Camps (EDITOR'S NOTE: Associated Press special correspondent Helman Merin is on a tour of Army camps to find out how the United States trains its 1951-style army. Starting at the beginning, this first article tells what happens when the draftee arrives at the induction center.)

CAMP KILMER, N. J., June 27—(AP)—A bus rolled up to the main gate, bringing 60 men, draftees. The driver paused, got a signal from the MP, and went on through. And suddenly, for the men inside, the world beyond the gate became immeasurably distant, as remote as the stars.

Nobody spoke. Nobody sang. "You're in the Army now." Each man picked up his own burden of gnawing anxiety and loneliness and shouldered it in his own way. One yawned, denoting boredom. One plucked at his sky blue tee-shirt. Most of them looked blank, or tired.

"You're in the Army now." For some of these men, this was the first time they had ever been away from home. For all of them,

Britain Aided By Empire In Oil Dispute

Iraqi Ports May Be Used As Pumping Comes To A Halt; U. S. Not Involved

LONDON, June 27—(AP)—Prime Minister Attlee met with Winston Churchill and other opposition leaders today to discuss the Iranian oil crisis. Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison and other cabinet members were present at the inter-party meeting. Churchill had asked for the private meeting during a discussion of the situation in the House of Commons earlier and Attlee agreed.

ABADAN, Iran, June 27—(AP)—The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company today started sending its British staff from the oil fields in readiness to fly out of Iran. The last plane loads of women and children left for their British homes this morning. Unless a last minute compromise is reached, an emergency evacuation of British employees themselves will mark the beginning of the end of the billion dollar oil empire Britain built over the last 50 years in this southern desert land.

LONDON, June 27—(AP)—Non-Asian members of the British Commonwealth of nations have agreed that the Middle East "must be defended in the event of aggression" and will study what contributions they might make to help Britain defend the oil-rich and troubled area.

The pledge was made by Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and the Crown Colony of Southern Rhodesia, in a communique issued last night in connection with a meeting here of Commonwealth defense ministers. Ceylon, India and Pakistan, which have refused to accept defense commitments outside their own frontiers, did not attend. Canada was represented by an observer.

The Foreign Office is asking Britain for permission to use her ports and other facilities in case of an emergency.

Ill Sailor Rushed From Carrier To Hospital By Blimp

ABOARD U.S.S. PALAU OFF CAROLINA CAPES, June 27—(Delayed)—A navy blimp made a dramatic race with death this afternoon carrying a critically ill sailor from this escort carrier to the naval hospital in Norfolk.

The seaman, Rayner E. Stormes, 21, of Norfolk, Va., was struck down by a heart attack early in the afternoon.

It took just 47 minutes for the silver, cigar-shaped blimp to drop down on this ship, take the sick man aboard and clear the Palau's deck on its mission of mercy.

The blimp, with two others, had been engaged in landing exercises on this ship, and the sick man aboard and clear the Palau's deck on its mission of mercy.

Stormes, an electrician's mate third class, was near death as an elevator used for planes took him from the Palau's sick bay up to the flight deck.

There, crew members held the blimp landing firmly as Stormes, the biggest man aboard this ship, was delicately eased into the swaying blimp's cockpit.

The Palau's skipper, Capt. T. H. Nettlet, of Forrest City, Ark., made the decision with Third Squadron Commander C. E. Lyson to hasten Stormes to Norfolk by lighter-than-air, rather than by an airplane. They said the blimp could do the quickest, safest job.

PAYROLL UP WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—The Civil Service Commission said today the executive branch of the federal government had 2,498,869 paid employees at the end of April. This was an increase of 46,946 during the month.

HE ASKED FOR IT INDIANAPOLIS, June 27—(AP)—A man who told his wife, "I'm going to shoot me a couple of policemen so they'll kill me," carried out his threat and got what he asked for last night.

He dropped two officers with shotgun blasts at short range at then fell dead as three other policemen riddled him with shotgun slugs and rifle bullets. One of his victims died a half hour later.

"Lucky" Luciano Is King Pin Of Dope Traffic In America, Crime Committee Is Told

1,500,000 New Yorkers Try To Cool Off At Beach

July 5 is the deadline in which to file notice of appeal to the State Supreme Court regarding the terminal bond validation order signed here on June 15 by Circuit Judge M. H. Smith. Edwin Shindler, city attorney, announced this morning.

The validation was based on a resolution passed by the City Council on June 15 and was a final order that the city should have the power to issue the $100,000 worth of terminal bonds for the Sanford River Port Terminal.

The decree indicated, said Mr. Shindler, that the proceedings which had been followed by the city preparatory to the issuance were all legal and valid.

According to State law, any party interested in an appeal has 20 days after the entry of a final decree in which to file notice of appeal to the Supreme Court.

At present the tax collector is reported to be preparing a proposition on the bond to submit to the court.

On April 18, Judge Smith presided at a hearing at which the city presented a motion through its attorneys, Mr. Shindler and W. S. Spencer, to strike the answer of a group of taxpayers, who several weeks prior had protested the validation of the bonds.

Frederic H. Wilson, former city attorney, and D. C. Hall of DeLand represented the protesting taxpayers, who included Randall Chase, W. A. Leffer, W. C. Hill, Lee Samuel, E. B. Ashdown, R. F. Humphrey, J. H. Estrader, Malcolm MacNeill, W. C. Smith, Vivian Speer, Frank I. Woodruff, R. A. Newman, Ira E. Sorenson, J. H. Hagan, Sydney O. Chase and E. J. Smith, Jr.

On June 1 Judge Smith wrote Mr. Shindler and the other attorneys involved that he had concluded that the City's motion to strike the objections of the taxpayers was in order, and suggested that the City's attorney prepare an appropriate order to strike the objections.

EDITOR'S NOTE: To get the grass-roots story of the beef price control dispute and the possible effects of controls on cattle production—the Associated Press sent a special correspondent out into the southwest and mid-west cattle country to talk to cattlemen, buyers, feeders and slaughterers on the spot. Here is one of a series.

BY DON WHITEHEAD FORT WORTH, Tex., June 27—(AP)—The bitter argument between cattlemen and the administration over beef price controls revolves around the issue: How much does it cost to raise a calf in Texas?

Oddly enough, it's a complex question. Every grower has his own answer to what it costs him. And there seems to be as many answers as there are cattle in this state which produces one-tenth of all the cattle grown in the United States.

But it's the key question in all the fuss. The right answer may decide whether cattlemen increase production—or whether beef production falls off in the future and steaks become even a rarer commodity.

U. S. Agent Testifies Ex-New York Racketeet Still Rules U. S. Narcotic Ring

By JOHN W. CHADWICK WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted a "big name" racketeer, James J. Brannan, as the king pin of the drug traffic in the United States and Italy.

The agent Charles Strangis, swore he has evidence that Luciano, operating from Italy, has gunmen in the United States who enforce his orders and that Luciano's profits are delivered to the United States and Italy.

Strangis, former gang leader in New York, said he reported to Italy in 1948 that Luciano, who had been deported from the United States, was still active in the United States and Italy.

Strangis said he would re-examine the laws and customs systems in the United States and Italy to see if there are any loopholes in the citizenship of nationalized citizens who, he charged, are getting big shares in the traffic.

His testimony drew from Senator Wiley of West an outburst that "the time of being so naive in our foreign relations is past." He said this government, sending huge sums in foreign aid to Italy, should insist that the Italian government act more drastically to cut off the flow of contraband from the United States.

Strangis, a lieutenant of St. Vincent, gave the report to a grand jury in New York City under review of the United States and Italy. He said he had the approval of the United States and Italy.

More than 10,000 persons were registered at the recent Kiwanis international convention in St. Louis, and of these 3,000 were delegates. I Mann Stinson told Kiwanians today that his return as a delegate from the convention had been a "great experience."

Mr. Stinson, president of the convention, said he was pleased to see the delegates and children of the convention. He said he had the honor of representing the city of St. Louis at the convention.

They were greeted Monday morning in the lines of Kiwanis members, by Dan H. Murdoch, president of Kiwanis International.

Among the outstanding speakers at the convention were: J. H. Hagan, Sydney O. Chase and E. J. Smith, Jr.

EDITOR'S NOTE: To get the grass-roots story of the beef price control dispute and the possible effects of controls on cattle production—the Associated Press sent a special correspondent out into the southwest and mid-west cattle country to talk to cattlemen, buyers, feeders and slaughterers on the spot. Here is one of a series.

BY DON WHITEHEAD FORT WORTH, Tex., June 27—(AP)—The bitter argument between cattlemen and the administration over beef price controls revolves around the issue: How much does it cost to raise a calf in Texas?

Oddly enough, it's a complex question. Every grower has his own answer to what it costs him. And there seems to be as many answers as there are cattle in this state which produces one-tenth of all the cattle grown in the United States.

But it's the key question in all the fuss. The right answer may decide whether cattlemen increase production—or whether beef production falls off in the future and steaks become even a rarer commodity.
