SOMER TIME

The Somerliner wants to pay tribute today to Judge Doug Stetson, who has been chosen as one of Florida's five outstanding young men. The award voted on here at the annual dinner of the Junior Chamber of Commerce is a high honor. It is a recognition of a young man's character, ability, and service to his community. This City is fortunate in having several young men active in civic and governmental affairs. Incidentally, as the bicycle safety idea sponsored by the Junior Chamber is a great thing for the youngsters of the City. Just a reminder that each Tuesday at 2:00 p. m. a law enforcement officer will be on hand at the Elks Playground and during the Municipal court session to give pertinent advice. There was a good attendance at Tuesday's meeting of the parents of the youngsters who are participating in the youth while program.

A former president of the Sanford Rotary Club will return to this City Monday to be a guest speaker at the regular luncheon meeting of the club. The speaker is Mr. J. J. Lando, who is also a past president of the club. He will be speaking at the luncheon at 12:30 p. m. at the Elks Club. Lando is a member of the club and has served as president for several years.

Softball League For Girls Is Being Organized In City
A girls softball league consisting of four clubs is being organized according to Tom Stringer, recreation director. A meeting was held at the softball diamond in the city park on Monday night and another meeting is set for Tuesday night. The league will play in all four parks.

Sanford continues to report a hot and humid day. The temperature is in the 90s and the humidity is oppressive. The city is preparing for the annual picnic at the city park on Saturday. The picnic will be held from 10:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. and will feature a variety of activities, including sports, games, and a parade. The city is also planning a fireworks display on Saturday night.

And speaking of Brock, he'd have been mighty pleased to see the bustle and activity at the office yesterday. Cammy, Bruce and Georgia had assistants in charge while he was attending a week-long training course in South Carolina. The week's work in one day. He'll be back in the office on Monday. The Florida Federation of Women's Clubs committee, which will select the site for a headquarters building, meets Monday in Orlando. Instead of in October as originally planned, the two whopped out a very pleasing prospectus on Sanford to each member of the committee. Letters enclosed from C. C. President John Brunley, City Manager Tom Brunley, and Sanford Women's Club President Mrs. Roy Willis. There are several pictures of the proposed location between Hood and Palmolive Avenues. As readers may recall, the City Commission during April voted to make the waterfront location available even though it meant shifting the softball field to another area.

Regular Tuesday night musical sessions are being held in the band room at Seminole High School according to Ronnie Anderson, one of the participants. He told the Somerliner that two meetings have been held to far with good attendance, but other participants are needed. Services and all others who play instruments will be invited to be present at the sessions which will last throughout the summer. The drills are under Marvin Gombels, captain of the band, and most of the numbers played consist of marches and waltzes. The band of trumpets and beat of drums commence at 7:30 o'clock with the last notes sounding at 9:00 o'clock. Although the drills are primarily designed to keep the high school musicians practicing during the summer months, others are cordially invited to attend.

Stores Will Close On Saturday, July 4
The Sanford Merchants Association yesterday afternoon decided that local stores would observe "holidays" on the Fourth of July and remain closed all day. After a discussion of the matter, the merchants decided to continue with the program of closing at 12:00 noon on Wednesday during the summer months.

Demo Leaders Throw Weight In Tax Fight

Use Influence Against Eisenhower Tactics

WASHINGTON — The House Democratic leadership today threw its influence against the Eisenhower administration's tactics of bypassing the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee in its battle to get extension of the excess profits tax.
Acting Democratic leader McCarrack (Mo.) said he would make a fight of it on the basis of objections to the procedure when the issue comes to the House floor, probably Monday.
Speaker House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) predicted overwhelming Democratic support and certain victory for President Eisenhower in an expected bruising floor battle.
"Only a very small number of Republicans will fail to support the President," he predicted. If Democrats vote against the rule, the proposal will take the tax bill up by extraordinary procedure; they will be in the position of denying a House vote on the issue and defeating the financial program of the administration.
From the parliamentary and tactical standpoint, this is the situation.
The administration, putting on strong pressure, got the House Rules Committee vote last night to disregard the Ways and Means Committee, which has kept an extension bill bottled up, and to send the issue to the floor.
The Rules Committee can do this by proposing that the House adopt a "temporary rule" to take up the extension bill.
Newark told reporters he would oppose adoption of the rule if the House rejected the rule. The tax bill would not come under formal consideration on the floor.
Most of the Democrats are in favor of the extension of the tax itself, but they gave no support in the Rules Committee to last night's maneuver.

A girls softball league consisting of four clubs is being organized according to Tom Stringer, recreation director. A meeting was held at the softball diamond in the city park on Monday night and another meeting is set for Tuesday night. The league will play in all four parks.

Another attraction announced is a book-binding course to be presented every Tuesday morning in the library at Seminole High School at 9:00 o'clock. Miss Edna Chittenden, who is in charge, said there would be seven weeks of instruction, and in order for students to complete the course they will be required to attend five of the seven periods.
About 150 children are enrolled in a summer reading course that Miss Chittenden is conducting. Boys and girls from the fifth through the twelfth grade are attending with the majority of the youngsters from the eighth and ninth grade levels.

President Urged To Deal Bluntly With Saboteurs

Wiley Cites 'Slavish' Policy

NEW YORK — Sen. Wiley (R-Wy.) today urged President Eisenhower to deal bluntly with Republican "saboteurs" of his foreign policies.
The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in a speech prepared for the United States Trade Mark Association, said he wants the GOP administration to encourage teamwork on foreign policy "rather than to rely on a few saboteurs who are in the position of sabotaging the administration's foreign policy."
Wiley said he wasn't suggesting that members of Congress follow the administration "slavishly" but was calling for "a greater sense of teamwork."
"It will do no good if the Republican party is simply listed in its policy statements and resolutions on behalf of the administration's foreign policy if a sizeable group in that party is effectively trying to sabotage those policies," he declared.
Wiley mentioned no names in this connection, but he said Eisenhower "knows saboteurs and malcontents and goldbricks when he sees them."
He said he thinks Eisenhower is making "a superb, superhuman effort to try to bring differing viewpoints together and to create a greater sense of teamwork."
"He does not want existing frictions to grow still worse and existing divisions to expand into wide open gulfs," Wiley said. "He is seeking sound compromises when ever necessary and without jeopardizing principles."
But he said the administration ought to ignore splits over foreign policy and ought not to "regard their provokers complacently."
Wiley cited Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) as a saboteur.

There are shown the oldest and youngest members of the Seminole County Sportsman's Association which held a fish fry Wednesday night at Muller Lake Park. Arlie Smith, 87, is holding Bill Campbell, two months, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Campbell.

President Gives Librarians Note As To Freedom

LOS ANGELES — President Eisenhower in a letter today to the American Library Association said there were some "goldbricks" who could deny freedom's benefits the opportunity of freedom's benefits.

"As if it is an ancient truth that freedom cannot be bestowed on anyone, as if it is no less obvious that freedom cannot be consigned into extinction," the President wrote. "And any who act as if freedom's benefits are to be found in suppression and suspicion and fear confess a doctrine that is alien to America."
The President's message was read to the 40th Librarians' annual conference of the American Library Association by its president, Robert B. Davis. Davis, director of libraries at the University of Illinois, said Eisenhower's letter was in reply to a letter Davis sent him in May.

FRIDAY JUNE 26, 1953

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE
This faith has made old age a glorious time of life. For we know that if the earthly house of this tabernacle be dissolved, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.—11 Cor.
5:1.

Conditions have gotten to the point where if a thing isn't jet propelled, radio controlled, or atomic power it is obsolete.

Congressman Javits of New York has announced "my hat is in the ring to head a coalition ticket" in the mayoralty campaign in New York City. It's easy to throw your hat in the ring, but try getting it back without a lot of mud spots.

There have been some eyebrows raised over what might appear to be extravagance on the part of the Army which pays an average of $200 for the dogs it uses for patrol duty with sentries and guards. If you would compare the efficiency of the dog with that of many humans, then you would realize what a bargain the government got.

Declaring "marriage is for women only," Juan Marron of California says he lived to be 100 because he avoided matrimony, a deduction quite in contrast to figures of insurance companies which show that the average married man lives longer than the single ones despite all the burdens attached to the job of being the bread winner.

The captain of the Polish liner Botany, the one that carried Gerhardt-Eiler to asylum in Russia, jumps the ship and seeks political haven in England. If the captain of a great vessel with all the privileges his position embraces cannot find life pleasant working for the Soviet Union, think what must be the lot of the humblest workers in the mines and factories.

Florida doctors meeting in Jacksonville have been told that if modern treatment methods continue tuberculosis will become a disease of comparatively minor importance.
This state is to be congratulated for its splendid hospital system for the treatment of the "white plague," which at one time was the great killer among the ailments which afflicted the world.

Trolley bells will be silenced in Altoona, Pa., during a mass two-week vacation of Pennsylvania Railroad employees in order that they may enjoy their fun without distracting noises. We don't have trolleys in Sanford but we do have blaring radios, barking dogs, and the ubiquitous horn blowers.
Wouldn't it be nice if everyone, all of a sudden, realized that quietude is one of the great blessings.

A heat wave throughout the Mid West, sending the thermometer above the range of respectability, makes us here in Central Florida appreciate more and more our favored position in nature's scheme of things. Temperatures here seldom go much higher than 90, but out where the tall corn grows and the wheat flourishes the hundred-plus figure has become standard equipment during the last week or so. And in the winter time . . .
that's no place to be either.

Science is winning the fight against polio, declares Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, who points out that despite the fact it is now possible to grow the polio virus in sufficient amounts for vaccine purposes, polio cases are running about 30 per cent ahead of last year. This may sound like contradictory testimony but we may assume that if all the efforts which have been expended in the fight on polio had never been made we would now be in one of the most serious epidemics in history. The fact is the disease is painful and often fatal. It must go on until the virus is eliminated completely from the list of things that have troubled mankind.

Rainbow On The Horizon

The announcement of A. B. Peterson that he would, in effect, support the majority decision of the Seminole County Hospital Board of Trustees in selecting Mr. Moughton and Mr. Rogers as architects for the hospital project is welcome news to the ardent supporters of this long-delayed undertaking who were beginning to fear that petty and extraneous issues might once again thwart the dream and efforts of so many citizens.

Mr. Peterson took a very wise and forthright stand declining to become embroiled in any diverting controversy which might confuse the public and possibly delay the start of construction if not altogether block it. He made himself clear in stating "I will have no authority, nor do I think it proper for me, to attempt to reverse any majority action taken by this board before my tenure of office."

In mentioning the "majority action," it seems to us that Mr. Peterson hit upon the very crux of the argument over who should be employed as architects. The majority of the hospital trustees favored Mr. Moughton and Mr. Rogers and they were hired to do the job.

Certainly in a democracy it is impossible to think that the minority opinion on the matter should have prevailed. All great public issues facing this country are settled by majority opinion whether in the legislative or the judicial field. Almost always, the Supreme Court divides in its opinions on cases before it, often by the margin of five to four, but never has there been any question about the legality of a decision after the high tribunal has ruled.

There is no need for people to feel hurt or become bitter when they find themselves overruled by majority vote, for they are in good company, often the company of great minds and ardent pleaders; but, when they lose, it is good sportsmanship to accept the decision with good grace.

We think the choice of the architects was a good one. We have great confidence in the men responsible for the choice and we believe that their decisions with regard to the hospital will lead to its earliest completion and that the finished product will be a worthy monument to their efforts.

Bi-Lingual Learning

For over twenty years a public school in Brooklyn, New York, has offered to youngsters who have the ability the chance to begin studying a foreign language in the first grade. Parents who want their children to study either French or Spanish, along with their regular instructions in English, pay an extra five dollars each semester. At first the foreign language is taught in games which have a special appeal for the young students.

The idea of the program is to introduce qualified children to cultures other than their own early in life. Their special training will give them a better background in language than most youngsters get. Similar programs have been set up in other states.

The world grows smaller every day and the man or woman who is acquainted with more than one language has an advantage in adjusting to it. Not all children adjust easily to the learning of a foreign language at an early age. But most children can and those who can and who have the opportunity to do so are getting a better start in preparing for life. The program in Brooklyn and in the other parts of the country where it has been tried should be of interest to parents and educators everywhere.

No Pay No Results

If New Hampshire legislators want to better themselves financially, they can go to jail. In that state lawmakers get the munificent sum of $200 a year, not much more than 50 cents a day. Prisoners, on the other hand, have recently been raised from fifty cents to one dollar a day.

New Hampshire is but one of many states where legislators are underpaid. One state recently voted down a measure which would have raised the salary of its legislators from $600 to $1,200 — a sum far from exorbitant. This penny-wise pound-foolish policy seems to be widespread. In this world people get only what they are willing to pay for. If voters are satisfied to have the important business of government handled by representatives willing to work for a few cents a day and minor glory, our lawmakers will not always attract the intelligent, ambitious and able people they need.

Preserving A Treasure

The Knights of Columbus are paying part of the cost of duplicating all the volumes in the Vatican Library in Rome on microfilm. The project will be completed in three to four years and two copies of each volume will be made. Both copies will be kept in the United States at St. Louis University in Missouri. One set of the duplicates will be kept available for the use of scholars; the other will be stored in an atom-bomb-proof vault.

Some of the volumes in the Vatican Library are priceless and could never be replaced if they were lost. The Knights of Columbus project accomplishes two good ends. It makes certain that whatever happens the wisdom and knowledge contained in these volumes will be preserved. It also makes these sources of learning available to American scholars of all faiths who cannot travel to Rome.

Hal Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

HAMILTON, Bermuda — An open letter to President Eisenhower:

Dear Sir:
When you come to Bermuda next month for the Big Three conference, you are going to run into one big problem that isn't on the program.

The problem will be how to keep your mind on international news in a coral wonderland where nobody was meant to worry, and few people feel like arguing. Coming to this island paradise with a problem is like bringing your mother-in-law along on a honeymoon.

World politics could hardly find a pleasanter beachhead, and if I were one of the statesmen I would tell the others:

"Follows, who not be sensible about this? Let's talk it out, but don't settle the issues before us. If we do settle them, we'll have to leave this climate and go back home."

This may explain why I am not a statesman. The home folks here are highly flattered that the conference will make Bermuda a world political center. They regard it as perhaps the most important single event here since a British admiral accidentally ran into the islands in 1659 and had the forethought to claim them for his queen. The Spanish actually had been here earlier, but made no objection, not realizing how profitable the tourist trade would become a few centuries later.

hope you can take time off to see the sights.
The Mid-Ocean Club, where you will be staying, is beautifully situated. Better bring along a pair of binoculars. For it will be hard to concentrate on Germany, Korea, or the faraway Iron Curtain if you glance out the window. The mind begins to wander, the heart to dream, at the riotous glory of flowers, the soft sky, the calm wide sea, blue as a child's eyes.

You look out at all this loveliness, and you think: "Why can't life be as clean and quiet and peaceful as this for everyone everywhere?"
They have erected a wire fence around the clubhouses to keep out sightseers. Your security guard of 25 hand-picked Royal Welsh Fusiliers is drilling daily.

Naturally you will want to bring along your golf clubs, for the Mid-Ocean Course is ranked among the half dozen finest anywhere.

The Bermudians hold you in warm personal esteem. It would give them great pleasure if you wore their summer costume—jog socks, shorts, and sport shirt. If you are bashful about baring your knees, you might wait and see what Sir Winston does.

One final tip: Bring along plenty of suntan lotion—and Marmite. A fellow who visits as fair a place as Bermuda without his wife is bound to get an earful when he gets back home—even if he lives in the White House.
Sincerely,
Hal Boyle.

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's request to Congress to continue the excess profits tax another six months is now high deep in a question of Democratic processes and congressional practice.

Some congressional tempers are red hot in the struggle between the President and Rep. Daniel A. Reed, New York Republican and oldest Republican in continuous service in the House.

Eisenhower may get his way on the excess profits tax or he may not, but this is the story as of now. The tax automatically expires next Tuesday unless Congress votes to continue it, although it can do so retroactively. Eisenhower says the government needs the money from this tax on corporations. Weeks ago he asked Congress to continue it until Dec. 31. He ran head on into the fiery and stubborn Reed who is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee. This Committee, which handles tax matters, is one of the most powerful in Congress.

Since the house, not the Senate, initiates tax legislation, the question of giving or refusing Eisenhower what he wanted had to start in the House. Specifically it had to start with Reed's committee.

It's the job of a committee to consider a piece of legislation from all sides before deciding, by a vote of the members, whether to recommend it to the full House—or Senate—for action.

Reed had long opposed continuing the profits tax beyond June 30. But, out of deference to Eisenhower's request, he permitted his committee to hold hearings.

Usually after hearings a committee votes. But Reed refused to call his committee together to vote on the tax extension.

Since the tax was to expire June 30, all Reed had to do was to keep his committee from voting before that date. The tax would then—under usual procedure—die on schedule, as Reed wanted it to.

This raises an obvious question: Is it Democratic that one man, like Reed, can bottle up a piece of

Sale Of War-Time Buildings At Drew Field Being Probed

TAMPA — The sale of 58 war-time wooden buildings on the grounds of the Southwest Florida Tuberculosis Hospital here is being probed by the Hillsborough County grand jury.

The buildings, used by Drew Field in World War II, were sold to the Day State Wrecking Company, Daytona Beach, in November, 1952, for $32,300.

Three state officials went before the grand jury Thursday. They were Miss Mary Schulman, assistant attorney general who conducted a probe into conditions at the hospital; James B. Toney, an other assistant attorney general, and Bob Abovitz, special investigator for Gov. Dan McCarty.

In her investigative report, Miss Schulman said the sale of the war surplus buildings was "contrary to the public interest" and that "pressure" had been brought in the transaction.

The check covering purchase of the buildings was not deposited until four months after it was received.

State Attorney J. M. McEwen said the grand jurors also would look into the "disappearance of some $5,000 worth of water piping from the old buildings."

McEwen entered the probe after the State Tuberculosis Board suspended L. J. (Lex) Lanier, general manager for the board and fired three employees of the hospital here. Lanier later resigned.

Word that the probe was going on came after the disappearance of C. F. Wathen, business manager of the hospital, on March 20. That was on the eve of a scheduled appearance before Miss Schulman. He showed up two weeks later.

By RUSSELL KAY

Every indication points to another record-breaking summer tourist business for Florida. Transportation companies have discovered that Florida can be sold as a summer playground as well as a winter, and are beaming their promotion efforts in this direction. Each summer more and more people visit the state. They have returned home and told neighbors and friends that Florida has plenty to offer the summer vacationist including an air-conditioned climate, cool nights, reasonable accommodations and entertainment to meet every taste.

Folks who used to scoff at the idea of visiting Florida in the summer time under the assumption that because it is warm in the winter it must be twice as hot in the summer, are now scheduling their Florida visit for this season of the year.

Long before most Florida communities awoke to the fact that summer promotion would pay off, alert Daytona Beach began selling itself as a summer resort. Each year it has increased its summer business. Hundreds of new hotels, motor courts have popped up like mushrooms and still the area is hard pressed to provide accommodations for all who want to come.

Florida's summer convention business has boomed. The chance to combine convention business with a wide variety of sport and entertainment, deep sea fishing, golf, swimming, boating and night clubbing while enjoying the comfort and luxurious living afforded by swank hotel and deluxe motor courts, made the convention bureau manager's job an easy one.

These conventioners, Shriners, Greyhound Lines and the "conducted tour" people hopped on the bandwagon and found the butcher, baker and candlestick maker were all prospects. Hotels and resorts that for years had made a practice of closing each summer began staying open. They found it paid off. Rates were reduced both for transportation and hotel accommodations but the steadily increasing volume of business made it worthwhile.

Railroads finally woke up and are now carrying their share of summer travelers and are advertising for more.

American Legion, Elks and countless others who came here in summer expecting to "reat to death" found it so delightful they came back again and again and brought their friends with them.

Taking cognizance of the potential possibilities of developing more and more summer travel to Florida, the Florida State Advertising Commission has been budgeting more and more for this type of tourist promotion and has found it money well spent. It will be able to do an even better job now that the appropriation has been increased.

Florida attractions people, Silver Springs — Cypress Gardens—and others, have never discounted summer possibilities and have conducted selling campaigns the year round, and their attendance records reflect the wisdom of this action.

Florida's greatest tourist revenue comes from motor tourists who drive their own cars to the state. That is why it is so important that the state's roadside highway facilities, if turnpikes and toll highways are the answer, the sooner we provide them the better.

Floridians should keep ever in mind that were it not for our tourist business we would all be paying a lot more taxes. Treat our visitors kindly, be courteous and helpful when you can. Respect the visitor for he is paying well over a billion dollars a year into our state's treasury.

It will soon be an attainable offense to drive slowly on our lanes, and highways, and broad thoroughfares. That highway casual driver who pretends to be under along, standing in the beam of the oncoming headlights is outlawed as a safety menace in a high speed era.

I suppose people are driving without a license for a long time in a world where we are every day. I can't see how it can be any other than a safety menace. I can't see how it can be any other than a safety menace. I can't see how it can be any other than a safety menace.

TEEN TALK

It may be the good old summer time again. The young people think they have a lot of time to spend at a resort or get away from it all. A change of scenery is good for most.

But what about young people whose parents are prone to jobs that keep them tied to the old homestead? They must stay at home pretty much, except for day-long junkies at neighborhood play-aways until Dad decides to park the family in the boggy for that two-week-with-pay vacation.

Younger kids get to camp. Dad and Mother have confidence in camp officials. But when teenage daughters get to the restless age, parents are reluctant to let them vacation away from their watchful eyes.

One thing that you parents might enjoy for you is a vacation where your special talents are encouraged. There are exciting vacations to be had in summer stock or at music workshops. These are usually chaperoned to the satisfaction of most parents, who are happy that you are learning something while summer fun is in progress.

This Sunday is Communion Sunday for the families.
The Gospel for the 15th Sunday after Pentecost is from Matthew, Chapter 5, Verses 20-24.
"Therefore if thou art offering the gift at the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother has anything against thee, leave thy gift before the altar and go first to be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift. Reconciliation with one's neighbor is of greater importance than sacrifices; therefore no one should approach God unless he is on charitable terms with his neighbor. Love is the greatest sacrifice."

This advertisement is the third in a special series which began over a year ago, and which is designed to give you, as a prospective buyer, detailed and helpful information. We'd be happy to have your comments about this type of advertising.

This is the 1933 Chevrolet Hot Air 4 door Sedan. It's one of 16 Chevrolet models in 3 series, which add up to the widest choice in the low-price field.

Some Chevrolet advantages worth considering when you're ready to choose a car...

Next to a new house, a car is probably your most important purchase. Here are some facts to help you make up your mind about which make to buy.
Don't you agree that it's well worthwhile to weigh all the factors carefully before you buy any new car? Let's consider the major reasons why people choose one make over another and see how the 1933 Chevrolet stands in those respects.
body manufacturer with a world-wide reputation for styling, craftsmanship and quality.
The Many Benefits of High-Compression Power
When you drive a new Chevrolet (and we hope you'll do that soon), you'll notice these things: faster acceleration from a standing start; greater passing ability in traffic and on the highway; the new ease with which you climb steep hills.
These are just some of the benefits of Chevrolet's new high-compression power. In gearshift models, there is an advanced 108-h.p. "Thrifty-King" engine with a 7.1 to 1 compression ratio. Teamed with the new Powerglide automatic transmission* is an entirely new 118-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine with 7.5 to 1 compression ratio. It is the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field.
A Great Gain in Gasoline Economy
Along with remarkable new performance, Chevrolet's advanced engines give you far greater gasoline mileage. In fact, this year marks the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. And that includes substantial savings on over-all upkeep, as well as on gasoline.
Chevrolet is the Lowest-Priced Line
Certainly, price is one of the most important factors of all. We're glad to be able to tell you that Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field.
Now, you might well ask, "How can Chevrolet offer me more and still cost less?" There is a simple, logical answer to that.
Remember that Chevrolet builds more cars than any other manufacturer. Chevrolet, along with General Motors, has greater facilities for research, for engineering and production. So, isn't it reasonable that these greater facilities bring manufacturing advantages and economies which Chevrolet can pass on to you in terms of higher quality at lower price?
An Endorsement Given No Other Car
Again this year, more people are buying Chevrolets than any other car. Obviously that wouldn't be true unless people liked Chevrolet better. Unless Chevrolet offered more things people want—more value.
So, when you're ready to choose your new car, wouldn't you agree that Chevrolet merits your careful consideration? We welcome your visit at any time, so that you can look the car over yourself and try it out on the road.
*Combinator of 118-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine and Powerglide automatic transmission optional on "Two-Ten" and "Hot Air" models at extra cost.

SANFORD, FLORIDA MONDAY, JUNE 29, 1953

No. 220

By CHARLIE SOMERBY

From all outward appearances, the Fourth of July will be celebrated locally in a safe and sane fashion. About the only event on that date planned that will be held about a block from the school folks will have on Eighth street just east of Sanford Avenue A

Some local residents are very much concerned over various safety items around the city which are permitted by their owners to become overgrown with weeds and long grass. The women pointed out that rattlesnakes have been found on one lot and it is afraid to let small children play out of doors. Whether or not people have to resort to court action depends on the cooperation of the owners of the lots.

Some local residents are very much concerned over various safety items around the city which are permitted by their owners to become overgrown with weeds and long grass. The women pointed out that rattlesnakes have been found on one lot and it is afraid to let small children play out of doors. Whether or not people have to resort to court action depends on the cooperation of the owners of the lots.

From Miss Hazel C. Moore, secretary, representing the Sanford Women's Club, comes the following: "At a recent meeting of the club, the girls of the Women's Club, a motion was passed that an expression of thanks be sent to Miss Irene Hinton, after 17 years of faithful and valuable service through the Girl Scouts to the youth of our community has resigned as leader. It is well known that many of the young women of today owe their usefulness to the community to Miss Hinton's teachings and examples. May we take this space in the Herald to say 'Thank you, Miss Hinton.' In our short time here, we have heard of the fine accomplishments in the Scouting movement by Miss Hinton. It has always been our thought that there is no finer way for adults to serve their community than in helping out our youth."

When Georgia Hall, secretarial assistant at the Chamber of Commerce, gave us an item for publication telling of some of the curious requests received by that office, we read it over and told her we thought it was one of the best written articles we had seen in a long time. Yesterday the former received a telegram from Mrs. Elizabeth Sharp stating: "Congratulations on that delightful article you published in Thursday night's Herald written by Mrs. Georgia Hall. Wish we could have more comments by her." Well, Mrs. Sharp, Georgia has assured us that from time to time she'll write stories for the Herald. We're looking forward to reading them just as much as anyone else.

Some weeks ago, City Manager Tom Lemon brought up the matter of uncollected bills by the City at a City Commission meeting. Attorney Ed Shindler was instructed to write letters to those in arrears and since that time half a dozen accounts have been squared away with Sanford taking in $115.92. In several instances bills had been paid, but had not been cashed off in the accounts books. Jacksonville has had trouble along the same line, but in a much more serious fashion. Nearly $30,000 worth of old bills had been permitted to accumulate, of which less than $5,000 had been collected as of last week. In Jacksonville, some 808 bills, some of them as much as 18 years old, were in arrears.

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today a new investigation of suspected U. S. atomic spies may bring former President Harry S. McCarthy announced he is asking the Justice Department for a report on whether it is necessary from Truman a list of American members of an alleged atomic spy ring which he said Truman received in 1945 from the Canadian spy chief.

Great Jap Flood Leaves Thousands Dead Or Homeless

By The Associated Press TOKYO (AP)— A great flood that left more than 2,500 persons dead, maimed or hurt and a million homeless raged today on the southern Japan island of Kyushu but dark rain clouds posed an ominous new threat.

Seven days of torrential rains turned much of the northern part of Kyushu—an area about the size of New Jersey—in a vast lake. The hapless Japanese residents fled to any high ground they could find.

By late afternoon today, the known death toll stood at 400. It was expected to rise when those missing—now numbered at 1,178—were accounted for.
