Hopes Of France Are Revealed In Smuggled Papers

AP Features
NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The voice of "Occupied Europe" rings out in fighting tones every other Tuesday from an old stone mansion near the Hudson River. There is a band of literary rebels publishing La Voix de France.

The small French-language newspaper gets its news from secret underground sources on the continent and relays it to 20,000 subscribers throughout the world.

Many of its readers are American high school and college students.

In it they find such "necops" as a letter smuggled out of prison by ex-prisoner Jean Blum and the secret diary of Hitler's chief adviser, Victor Hugo might have written. The parallel is close, for Thomas Mann, Jules Romains, Pétain and other topflight foreign writers constantly contribute original work, while internationally famous cartoonists use La Voix as a vehicle for their sharp satire.

We are with the France which made great Frenchmen of foreigners, and not with the one that made foreigners of great French men," wrote Adolphe Demilly, the 32-year-old publisher, in his first editorial a year and a half ago.

At the staff he is an ardent DeGaulleite.

In those days the paper had just three subscribers, he recalls.

Now, though its success has been sensational, it still is far from a moneymaking proposition. "But," he adds severely, "our purpose is not to make money."

The paper is run by a dozen young men and women who have set up a busy editorial office in the kitchen of Demilly's house; are unpaid, only a Negin boy who mends the copies in what was the pantry draws a salary. Like all the rest he speaks French fluently—an accomplishment not shared by the printer. Demilly remarks with regret:

The brain trust of the organization have spacious offices upstairs. A few rooms are used as a home for dark-eyed Mme. Demilly and the couple's 18-month-old daughter, but it's hard to tell where housekeeping ends and long range bombardment of the Axis begins.

In his office on the second floor, the young publisher works ten hours a day, either at the massive, semicircular desk which he built himself or in the radio alcove which he also shares, where he records weekly French language broadcasts.

Throughout the apartment, music sounds from the most eminent patriots of pre-war France. Portly Henry Torrey, Editor-in-Chief, was a member of the Chamber of Deputies before last week's State of War. He, too, has joined the resistance, appointed liaison officer of bombardiers and gunners in the coastal fortifications. He pointed out that Hill brought 100 tons along. It took him half a day to lay them down, then he could be apprised of them again by planes.

Much is printed and read. English is spoken, too, and many Americans come because a number of them have friends in the paper.

Red Armies Drive To Point 25 Miles North Of Taganrog

In North, Russians Storm Onward At Rapid Clip Toward Nazi Base Of Orel

UPI ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Russian armies today dashed more than half the army through the 70-mile Nazi "escape corridor" from Rostov, driving to a point only 25 miles north of Taganrog on the Sea of Rostov. Dispatches said Taganrog's lifeline was severed with the capture of Matveevkurgan on the rail line.

In the north, the Russians stormed within 30 miles of the major German base of Orel and drove at a rapid clip beyond Khar'kov.

Advancing with a speed in during little effective opposition, the Red Army in pursuit of beaten Nazi troops in the north had driven 150 miles since the victoryous Russians came, it was entirely possible that large forces of Germans were captured by the stroke.

The Russians have been sieving both north and east of Matveevkurgan, and the town could have been taken from either direction. If the Soviet forces came down from the north the trapped Germans might be counted in great numbers, probably less than the Russians advanced on the rail line.

Even in the latter case, however, observers believed sizable Nazi groups might well be caught in Taganrog, where the communists dealt with Red advances in the areas north and northwest of Rostov, indicating the Soviet armies were quickly cutting into the Germans retreating from this great area.

Elsewhere the Russians were moving in still closer to the Nazi stronghold of Orel, at the north end of the now active front. The communists reported the capture of the railway town and district center of Zalegushch, only 30 miles west of Orel, between Salsk, 40 miles southeast of Orel, and Pekovskoye, 10 miles south of the strongpoint.

John W. Meisch Is Commissioned First Lieutenant In E.D.F.

A commission as first lieutenant was presented to John W. Meisch by Capt. J. L. Galloway last evening at the regular drill of Company C, Fourth Battalion, of the Florida Defense Force, held at the Armory. Lieut. Meisch succeeded Clarence Brown, who has resigned.

Three privates, Walter H. Bach, R. E. Kipp and Stephen O. Shisholoski, were promoted to rank of corporal, Capt. Galloway stated.

The drill, which was well attended, including formations under a make-believe air attack, which were led by First Sgt. Porter Lansing. A close order drill was led by Lieut. Melach. Forty members of the company were present, Capt. Galloway revealed.

Dr. Dame Addresses Social Workers' Group

Dr. Leeland Dame, director of the Seminole County Health Unit, spoke on prenatal care and the importance of the program followed by the health unit, at a meeting of the Seminole-West Volusia Chapter of the National Association of State Social Workers held last evening at Stetson University. Commens. Mrs. Troy Ray addressed the group.

Mrs. Ray disclosed that a particularly important meeting will be held of the group on Feb. 18 when Judge Peacock of Deland will speak on juvenile delinquency. Miss Joy Elliot presided over last night's meeting.

George Wood, Salvation Army captain, was in charge of the program.

BOMB DIFFERENCES

BOSTON, Feb. 19. (AP)—Impose $50 fine on beater Samuel Madsen for failing to mark his horses' property, Municipal Judge Charles LeCarr commented.

"My only sorrow is that the maximum penalty is only $20 fine. It could well be $500."

A pair of modishly slashed breeches for the 16th century gentleman might require 100 yards of material.

Red Armies Drive To Point 25 Miles North Of Taganrog

In North, Russians Storm Onward At Rapid Clip Toward Nazi Base Of Orel

(By Associated Press) The Russian armies today slashed more than half the army through the 70-mile Nazi "escape corridor" from Rostov, driving to a point only 25 miles north of Taganrog on the Sea of Azov. Dispatches said Taganrog's lifeline was severed with the capture of Matveevkurgan on the rail line.

In the north, the Russians stormed within 30 miles of the major German base of Orel and drove on at a rapid clip beyond Khar'kov.

Advancing with a speed indicating little effective opposition, the Red Army in pursuit of beaten Nazi troops in the area west of Rostov has cut the only escape railway on this front, the Russians advanced in the midday communiqué recorded.

Here is the Soviet monitor: The rail line was cut with the capture of the district center of Matveevkurgan, 25 miles north of the Azov port of Taganrog, and although it was not immediately clear from which direction the victorious Russians came, it was entirely possible that large forces of Germans were trapped by the stroke.

The Russians have been operating both north and east of Matveevkurgan, and the front could have been taken from either direction. If the Soviet forces came down from the north the trapped Germans might be counted in great numbers—probably less than the Russians advanced from the south.

Elsewhere the Russians believed sizeable Nazi groups might well be caught in the Taganrog area.

The bulk of the midnight communiqué dealt with Red successes in the areas north and northwest of Rostov. The Soviet armies were quickly cutting into the Germans retreating from this great area.

Elsewhere the Russians were moving still closer to the Nazi stronghold of Orel at the mouth of the Donets River. This communiqué reported the capture of the railway town and district center of Zalegoshch, only 30 miles east of Orel, Verkhneaya Borna, 40 miles southeast of Orel, and Pekovskoye, 40 miles southeast of the strongpoint.

Winchell Placed On Inactive Duty List

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Secretary of the Navy Knox informed the house naval committee Thursday that he had ordered Walter Winchell, newspaper columnist and radio commentator and a lieutenant commander in the naval reserve, placed on inactive duty.

"I think the secretary did the proper thing," said Rep. Vicente G. (Vic) McGinnis, committee chairman. Disclosing the action, he reported the order was effective yesterday.

Beyond the bare announcement there was no explanation. Rep. representative Hoffman (H. H. Hoffman) of Illinois charged Winchell on the House floor with making anti-military and derogatory remarks about members of congress in his radio broadcasts.

Knox previously informed the committee that Winchell was on active duty as a lieutenant commander when he made several statements about which Hoffman complained.

MEN—is the subject of the lesson on which we have been studying for a month. We will have a meeting of the club throughout the world on Sunday, Dec. 21.

The lesson Text is: "The Lord of hosts hath sworn, saying, Sure ly, I have thought, as shall I come up against them, and have overcome, so shall it stand" (Isaiah 43:12).

During the stations which comprise the lesson sermon is the following from the Bible: "O Lord

our God, other lords beside that have had dominion over us; but by thee only will we make mention of thy name" (Isaiah 28:13).

The lesson—sermon also includes the following lesson from the Christian Science textbook, "Healing and Healing with Key to the Scriptures": "He that believeth there can be but one Mind, because there is but one God; and if mortal claimed to be other Mind, and as good as other, sin would be unknown. We know that the divine Mind is good, and therefore, because he is omnipotent, when after admitting that God, or good,
is omnipotent and has all-power,
we still believe there is another power, named "evil" (p. 462-17-19, 25-28).

Prudence is a conformity to the rules of reason, truth, and decency at all times and in all circumstances.—John Mason

Those who, in the confidence of superior capacities or attainments and of their own importance, life, should be reminded that nothing will supply the want of prudence.—Samuel Johnson

Solon Makes Plea For Local As Well As National Unity

Claude Pepper Visits Sanford And Says He Will Introduce Bill On St. Johns

A plea for unity in local as well as international affairs was sounded by Senator Pepper who discussed the inland waterways of Florida, the problems of the farmers and little business men, and the progress of the war, at the regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club at the Marlin Hotel today.

Stating that he expects to introduce a bill providing for a 100 foot channel 12 feet deep in the St. Johns River when he returns to Washington, Senator Pepper said that Florida has an opportunity to develop the inland system of inland waterways of any state in the union if sectionalism can be eliminated and all agree on a broad plan for the development of the rivers and canals of the state.

Senator Pepper said for the benefit of the farmer he has already introduced in Congress a bill providing for the creation of mobile labor camps which could be rapidly shifted from one area to another as labor shortages develop and for the payment of wages to this corps by the central government at sufficient levels to compete with industry and offered to the farmers at prevailing scales in the particular community.

With respect to the war, Senator Pepper warned against excessive optimism as a result of the German advances and suggested that the Germans may be temporarily shortening their lines within the well fortified fortresses where they have been able to dig without greater sacrifice and more blood letting than has been seen. And he said that "We are fighting the same battle, any place we go in the world."

Senator Pepper who was introduced by Mayor Ed Higgins to Sanford from Winter Park yesterday where he spoke on the program of Rollins College Anti-Nazi Magazine. He spent the night on inspection trip of St. Johns River, accompanied with Mayor Higgins, George Ware of Leesburg, Martin Andersen of the Orlando Sentinel-Star, and Gene Rounilat. This afternoon he was taken on an inspection trip of the Sanford Naval Air Station by Condr. F. Massey Hughes.

Senator Pepper said that the anti-seaboard development of Florida envisioned the construction of canals 125 feet wide and 12 feet deep down the east coast from Jacksonville to Key West along the Gulf coast from Key West to Corpus Christi, Tex., two cross state canals, one from Yantown to the St. Johns River and the other embracing the St. Johns River and then the connecting of the St. Johns River and its connection by canal with the Kissimmee River, thence to Lake Okeechobee.

He said that the opportunity is now ripe to bring all this about if all can agree on the plan and go forward with another section's project while beginning the one he added that nothing of this nature could be accomplished until after the war is over unless it can be shown to be essential to the war effort; he estimated that federal authorities might look with favor upon Florida's inland waterway development as soon as the petroleum transportation problem is solved.

He said that petroleum is now moving over the St. Johns River, but in larger less than full because of the shallow depth of the river and he said that he believed it to be an economy measure both in materials and money to increase the depth to 12 feet. But he said that a divided navigation on Congressmen and the divided navigation on the St. Johns River throughout the state made it extremely difficult to accomplish anything.

I further emphasizing his plea for unity, he said there is grave danger in fighting among ourselves over what is to come after the war and he stressed that such a program must be carried to fruition before the Atlantic, the British and American forces can move in trying to divide America from Britain.

He said that Eddie News was sent to England to tell Britain the story of withdrawal from the war while the Germans were still in North Africa.

News emphasized that the British and Americans must work together throughout the state made it extremely difficult to accomplish anything.

Allies Continue Hitting Japs In Solomons, Burma

Chinese Repulse Nips In Several Attempts To Cross Salween

By Associated Press

In the Pacific, Allied bombers continued attacks on the Japanese in the Solomons and Burma.

The Chinese repulsed the Japs for the third time in three days in an enemy effort to cross the Salween River in southwest China as the Japanese advanced French concession of Kunming, a French concession in the southern Chinese provinces of Kunming.

Japanese forces trying to extend their grip along the Burma road in western Junan province attempted to cross the Salween yesterday for the third straight night and again were driven back by the Chinese high command reported Sunday.

A Japanese attempt to smash the Chinese in northern Kunming also was foiled, the communiqué said. It added that the Chinese withdrew before converging columns, carried out a "counter-attack" and won, and at present are sandwiching the enemy with considerable success.

In that area, north of Shanghai, the Japanese are trying to complete a 45-mile semi-circular line through the lake country from Paoing to Fowning, near the sea.

The communiqué reported no change in the situation on the Chinese front.

Yesterday the fighting in Yunan, the communiqué said, "the Japanese on the west bank of the Salween in areas southward from Mamenkwan advanced to Mengyungshu Feb. 2, but further progress was halted by the Chinese, who inflicted many casualties."
