Answer to Previous Puzzle

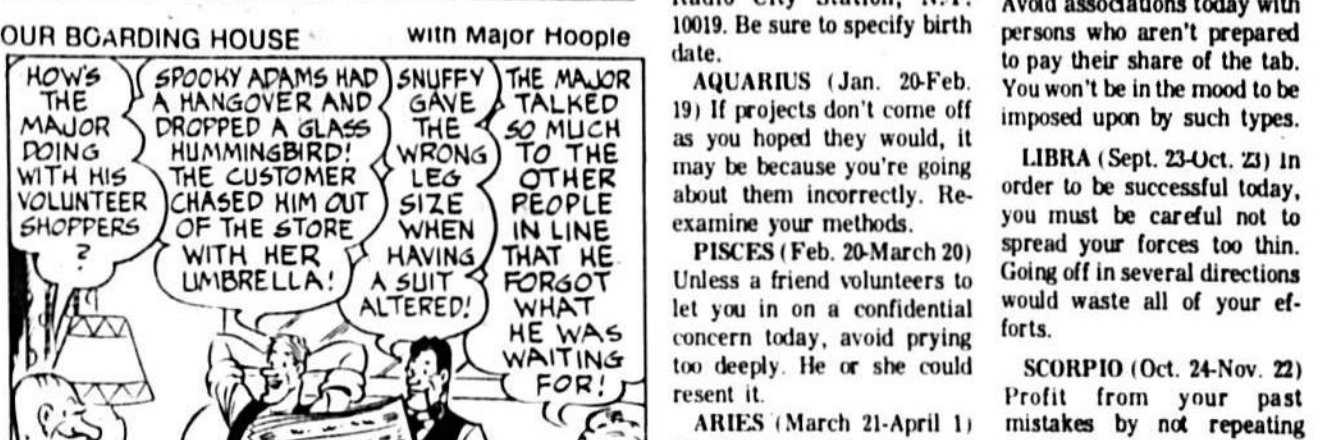

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag
You are playing duplicate. Your partner opens one notrump. Second hand bids two clubs. He is playing Landy so that his two-club call is artificial to show spades and hearts. The experts have all sorts of complicated ways to act against this. We are going to suggest a reasonably simple way to defend against this bid. Bear in mind that you aren't interested in playing a major suit any more and most of the time you don't want to be in game. Maybe you can penalize the Landy bidder. If you think you can, just double his two clubs. This bid says "I can double at least one major suit for penalty. If you can double the one that is bid, do so. Otherwise, pass it around to me."
With a good hand and no major suit stopper, bid two diamonds. You expect partner to bid a minor. If he can't stop both majors. With some game interest plus a high honor in one major, bid two notrump to ask partner to bid a minor. With one minor and some game interest, bid three of that minor.
If you just want to complete, pass first and bid something later.
Finally, make sure that your partner knows what you are doing. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

For Sunday, December 21, 1980

YOUR BIRTHDAY

December 21, 1980

You will develop a mutually beneficial relationship with a person who rubs you the wrong way at the first meeting. Disregard your early misgivings and the alliance will grow and become stronger.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) — In joint ventures today try not to involve yourself in something where another does not want to have to pay off later.

CANCER (June 21-July 21) — Important relationships must be handled with extreme tact today, even those involving persons with whom you always seem to get along comfortably.

LEO (July Aug. 22) — Projects swept under the rug are likely to make their presence felt today. Lift up the rug and take care of them properly now.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — You and your mate could find yourselves in opposition today in a matter of mutual concern. Compromise may be the only way to overcome the deadlock.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) — Your burden may be a bit heavier to shoulder today because one for whom you're responsible has failed to take care of something and has passed the buck to you.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — You're a welcome addition to any social gathering today, but don't be the last one to leave the party. Exit before the host or hostess yawns.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — Things could become a bit ruffled in your household today if there are too many chiefs and too few Indians. Set the other.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — Avoid being drawn into something where financial demands are made upon you today. Developments could get very complicated or costly.

CANCER (June 21-July 21) — In order to advance your self-interests today it may cost you a little more and you'll have to do a little extra to be successful. A free ride is unlikely.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22) — Harboring resentment or grudges is out of character for you, yet today you may do so. Old wounds cannot be healed by irritating them.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — Avoid associations today with persons who aren't prepared to pay their share of the tab. You won't be in the mood to be imposed upon by such types.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) — In order to be successful today, you must be careful not to spread your forces too thin. Going off in several directions would waste all of your efforts.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22) — Profit from your past mistakes by not repeating them today. A situation may arise again which is similar to one you didn't handle too well recently.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) — Even though you may be well-intentioned, it will be wise today not to poke your nose into the affairs of others. Watch from the sidelines.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) — If projects don't come off as you hoped they would, it may be because you're going about them incorrectly. Re-examine your methods.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — Unless a friend volunteers to let you in on a confidential concern today, avoid trying too deeply. He or she could resent it.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — Be sure you and your mate are pulling together today instead of pulling apart, if there is something important that has to be finished.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — Unless you have the complete cooperation of co-workers today, little will be accomplished. Neither should impose personal demands on SCA Agency To Survive U.S. Probe?

By DIANE PETRYK
Herald Staff Writer

Charges that the Seminole Community Action Agency discriminated against a white Head Start teacher have not been proved, a federal investigator said this morning. And federal funding for the agency is not in jeopardy at this time, he said.

"It's unfortunate that the statement was made that this could affect our funding," Seminole Community Action Executive Director Amos Jones said today. "It's premature, since a committee has just been named to look into the matter."

Clifton C. Acker, program inspector for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, said the department is interested only in how Seminole Community Action handled recent complaints.

The complaints included the charge made by a white teacher that she was treated differently from black teachers, paid less and harassed and intimidated after she filed the complaint with Acker's office in Atlanta.

This morning, however, the teacher informed Acker by phone she intends to drop the charges, he said.

"At this point there is no evidence to show that any of the charges are true," Jones said.

Acker said other complaints involved abuse of children at the Head Start center. In one incident the mother of a legally blind child claimed the child was slapped twice by a teacher's aide. Another federal investigator claims she heard the same aide tell one child "you have had one whipping today and it looks like you want another one," Acker said.

He said his office is involved with the complaints because both discrimination and corporal punishment are prohibited under federal funding regulations.

Seminole Community Action administers federal grants through a variety of programs such as Head Start. It receives about $350,000 a year from the federal government for Head Start. It also receives more than $150,000 per year to cover administrative costs. "At the present time no decision has been made whether to affect this funding," Acker said. "There are some alleged problems."

"If they turn out to be true and in turn aren't corrected, that could affect funding," Acker said.

Acker said Seminole Community Action officials said they would do whatever was necessary to bring the agency into compliance.

Acker spent several days in Seminole County in June investigating complaints at the county's five Head Start centers. He was accompanied by a federal investigator from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, said the department is interested only in how Seminole Community Action handled recent complaints.

"It will say what they have to do to come into compliance (with federal regulations)," he said.

Accompanying Acker during his on-site investigation was Robena McCluster, an equal opportunity officer from the federal Community Services Agency in Atlanta. That agency funds the administration of Seminole Community Action. McCluster's report had not yet been completed.

Latest Area Census Figures Produce Moans, Smiles

Sanford, Lake Mary Officials File New Appeals

By DAVID M. RAZLER
Herald Staff Writer

New census figures released officially increase the population of Seminole County and its cities.

But the increases are smaller than the ones some city leaders expected when they challenged the first sets of figures released in July.

The new figures, released this past week, are still not the final results, census officials say. The last set of numbers counting county residents is due in April, they say.

While the new figures may be adjusted based on new information received by the census bureau, there is no automatic appeal procedure as there was from the work figures released in July.

While Oviedo Mayor Tom Morgan and Longwood Deputy Mayor June Lermann say the new figures have brought their cities right up to the level where they should be, officials in Sanford, Lake Mary, and Casselberry say the new numbers are still too low. An Altamonte Springs official said his city was also staying with the new numbers.

In a letter dated Sept. 12, the local census bureau office told him the population of Sanford should go up another 2,200 persons, because a census tract had been listed as being outside the city when it was within Sanford's boundaries.

The addition of 2,200 persons would bring the official tally very close to Sanford's population claims.

While the new population figure for Altamonte Springs is still about 1,000 more than claims made by officials in July, City Planner Joe Nesbit said the city intends to stick with the new census numbers.

Nesbit said he is pleased with the figures, about 500 persons higher than the last University of Florida count Altamonte Springs had been using.

Winter Springs increased its population by 298 on the new accounting — 298 persons the city never asked for. City Manager Richard Rozansky said he was satisfied with the original city

Kelly Trial Recesses For Week

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Richard Kelly's Alabam trial was recessed for a week today because the trial judge is suffering from the flu.

U.S. District Judge William Bryant dismissed the jury at the trial of Kelly and two co-defendants until next Monday. The judge had planned to continue the trial with testimony by J.P. Maher, Kelly's former district aide.

But lawyers in the case said he decided to call a recess after convening court because he has the fever and was suffering an apparent case of the flu.

Maher was called to testify last week as a defense witness.

State May Gain 4 House Seats

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Depending upon the Census Bureau's headcount in New York, Florida may gain four new seats in the House instead of three and New York may lose six, two more than first estimated, a population trends magazine has forecast.

American Demographics magazine also said the South and West will gain a majority in the House with 277 seats in the 435-seat chamber.

The Census Bureau previously estimated a 14-seat change, with 10 states gaining seats and eight states losing seats. Although the agency has not changed its official position, Director Vincent Barabba said recently the finding of 4 million more people in the South and West than initially forecast probably would form a 17-seat change under a complex formula determining the distribution of seats.

The initial Census Bureau estimate forecast these gains: Florida, three; California and Texas, two each; Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Oregon, Tennessee, Utah and Washington, one each.

It forecast these losses: New York, four; Ohio, Pennsylvania and Illinois, two each; Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey and South Dakota, one each.

The magazine forecast an extra seat for Florida, Texas and Nevada, with a loss of six seats for New York and a one-seat loss for Missouri.

SCOOP! Make Ice Cream Grande Finale To The Holidays

Nothing is more welcome at the end of the holiday season than a casual get-together of friends on New Year's Day. Whether it's to cheer football bowl favorites, resolve to make changes, or just plain return to the sobering realities of the post-holidays, make it easy by making drinks and dessert with ice cream.

For arm-chair bowl fans still in a festive mood, serve bright scoops of raspberry sherbet garnished with green grapes and splashed with champagne. Let winners and losers add more champagne to their glasses as desired (or needed). Or, serve the recipe as it's named, An Easy Dessert with Splendid Sparkle, for a victorious ending to the day.

A quart of Coconut Ice Cream scooped into snowballs and decorated with holly sprigs and small red candles makes a pretty dessert for six. Or stir rum or bourbon into softened Egg Nog Ice Cream or brandy into Burgundy Cherry Ice Cream for a potable dessert.

Merry mincecake and ice cream offers a festive ending to a holiday dinner especially if you flame the rum-splashed sauce just before pouring it over the ice cream.

And with just a little more effort, Cranberry Cream Pie, featuring a snowy coconut ice cream crust filled with rosy cranberry mixture, makes a pretty party dessert. Serve it surrounded by pine boughs and candlelight.

If guests are resolved to start the New Year more reverently, mix up a rosy batch of Winter Wonderful Punch to be served hot or cold, or offer steaming mugs of creamy Mocha Egg Nog Punch. Then, for a dessert certain to start the New Year with style, serve individual Brownie Alaskas, easy to make with packaged brownie mix and chocolate almond ice cream.

Whatever the menu and mood of New Year's Day, both the hostess and her guests will be glad it included ice cream.

AN EASY DESSERT WITH SPLENDID SPARKLE
1 quart raspberry sherbet
3/4 fresh grapes, washed and chilled
1 four-fifths quart bottle of champagne, chilled
Spade or scoop the sherbet into wine glasses. Drop 6 grapes into each glass. Pour chilled champagne into each glass, filling half-full. Serve immediately with straws and spoons. Add more champagne as desired. Makes about 6 servings.
Use other flavors of sherbets or ices, and cover them with other sparkling wines. It's easy and elegant.

MOCHA EGG NOG PUNCH
1/2 cup strong coffee
1 quart egg nog ice cream
1/2 cup whipping cream, whipped
Beat coffee with half of the ice cream in punch bowl. Add remaining ice cream in scoops. Top with whipped cream. Fills 10 to 12 punch cups.

INDIVIDUAL BROWNIE ALASKAS
1 package fudge brownie mix
4 egg whites
1/2 cup sugar
1 pint chocolate almond ice cream
Bake brownies according to package directions. Cool, then cut into 9 (3-inch) squares. Chill. Top each square with small scoop of ice cream. Place on baking sheet. Freeze for at least 1 hour. Preheat oven to 450 degrees. Beat egg whites until foamy; beat in sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time. Continue beating until stiff and glossy. Cover brownies and ice cream with meringue, sealing it to edge of brownies. Bake about 4 minutes or until meringue is a delicate brown. Bake immediately. Makes 9 servings.

WINTER WONDERFUL PUNCH
2 packages (10 ounces) frozen raspberries slightly thawed
1 quart cranberry-apple juice
1/2 cup one lemon
1 quart burgundy cherry ice cream
Combine berries and fruit juices in a two-quart saucepan. Simmer for 10 minutes. Pour mixture through a fine sieve, pressing to obtain all possible berry pulp. Serve hot or cold, in mugs, each topped with a scoop of ice cream. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

DELICIOUS DO-AHEAD BUTTERED RUM
makes about 15 servings
1 pint French vanilla ice cream
1/2 pound butter
1/2 pound brown sugar
1/2 pound powdered sugar
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
Rum
Boiling water
Cinnamon sticks
Put the ice cream and butter into a bowl and allow to soften. Stir until smooth. Freeze until ready to serve. At serving time, place 3 tablespoons of the mix into a mug, add 3 tablespoons of rum and fill with boiling water. Garnish with a cinnamon stick and serve immediately.

For gift-giving, put the mix in little freezer containers; when it's time to present your friends with a little something, tie on bright ribbons and present the mix along with a bottle of rum.

MERRY MINCEMEAT CAKE

Raspberry sherbet is splashed with champagne and garnished with grapes for an easy dessert, or serve as a New Year's drink.

AND ICE CREAM
Place a slice of pound cake in a pretty bowl or goblet. Top with a scoop of eggnog ice cream or French vanilla ice cream. Pour over it a sauce made of mincecake flavored with rum and chopped walnuts.

CRANBERRY CREAM PIE
(makes 6 to 8 servings)
2 cups fresh or frozen cranberries
1 cup sugar
1 quart coconut or French vanilla ice cream
1 cup whipping cream
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 can (8 oz.) whole cranberry sauce
Chop the cranberries finely, put through a grinder or grind in blender until coarsely ground. Add the sugar and mix well. Refrigerate overnight.
Soften the ice cream slightly. Spoon it into a chilled 9" pie pan, pressing it into the pan to form a crust. Freeze.
Beat the cream until it holds its shape, then gently fold in the cranberries and nuts. Spoon it into the ice cream crust and freeze for at least 4 hours. If you wish, garnish with a wreath of whole cranberry sauce at the edge of the pie, where the filling meets the ice cream.

Frozen Cranberry Cream Pie is easy to make and delicious.

Try Easy Little Recipes For Busy Christmas Week

Wacky Fudge Cake is perfect to serve carolers.

Give a little "Joy to the World" this Christmas — muster Uncle Charlie's basso profundo, the church alto, a shower of Pavlov and shy warblers for a caroling party.

An impromptu choir will appreciate a warming beverage and a special dessert after trekking the neighborhood in performance. Chocolate cake is an all-time favorite made exotic when drizzled with coconut rum liqueur.

This Wacky Fudge Cake is wrapped over-night so that the tastes of Caribbean coconut and Virgin Islands rum fully permeate its dense richness. The exceptionally moist dessert that results is irresistible when topped with a dollop of liqueur-spiked whipped cream.

The sunny liqueur also blends well with such favorite hot drinks as coffee, tea, cocoa and apple cider. Add an ounce and a half per cup of the heated beverage for more Christmas spirit. You may find your carolers have just begun to sing!

WACKY FUDGE CAKE
2-1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour

1-1/4 cups sugar
4-1/2 tablespoons unsweetened cocoa
1-1/4 teaspoons baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup vegetable oil
1-1/2 tablespoons white vinegar
1-1/4 cups milk
1 cup coconut rum liqueur, sifted together flour, sugar, cocoa, baking soda and salt. Sift again into a large bowl. Add oil, vinegar and vanilla; stir just enough to dampen the dry ingredients. Add milk and 1/2 cup liqueur, mix well. Turn batter into a lightly greased and floured 8-inch pan. Bake in a 350 degree F oven 45 minutes or until cake tests done. Cool on a wire rack. Prick top of cake with a cake tester or a long toothpick. Spoon remaining 1/2 cup liqueur over cake. Cover lightly. Store overnight. If desired, serve with heavy cream with CocoRibe (1 cup cream and 1 tablespoon liqueur). Yield: 12 servings.

HOLIDAY ICE CREAM BOMBE
1 quart rum raisin ice cream
1 quart spumoni ice cream
1 recipe Holly Berry Sauce (optional)
Slightly soften the Rum Raisin Ice Cream. Spoon into a chilled 3-quart metal mold or metal mixing bowl. With back of spoon, smooth ice cream so it is equally distributed over bottom and sides of mold, leaving the center hollow. Freeze until firm, at least 2 hours. Soften the Spumoni Ice Cream and spoon into the hollowed center, packing it down. Freezer wrap; freeze. To unmold, place mold ice-cream side down on a chilled serving plate. Dip a cloth into hot water, wring out, and press around the mold until the ice cream mold loosens, repeat if necessary. Return to freezer until about 5 minutes before serving. 1 cup chopped walnuts
2 pounds frozen bread dough, thawed
In 2-quart saucepan, stir together cranberries, sugar, corn syrup and cinnamon. Stirring occasionally, bring to boil over medium heat. Reduce heat and simmer 10 minutes or until skins pop. Stir together corn starch and water until smooth. Stir into cranberry mixture. Stirring constantly, bring to boil over medium heat and boil 1 minute. Stir in nuts. Cover, refrigerate until cool.
Divide 1 pound dough in half. Divide each half in 3 portions. Roll out a portion to form 12-by-4-inch rectangle. Spread with 3 tablespoons cranberry mixture. Roll and seal edges. Place on greased baking sheet. Repeat with 2 more portions. Braid 3 strips together, seal ends. Following same procedure, make 3 more braids with remaining dough. Let braids rise in warm place 45 minutes or until double. Bake in 350-degree oven 25 to 30 minutes or until golden brown. Remove immediately from baking sheet. Cool on wire rack. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 braids.

Body Of Victim

SARASOTA, Fla. (UPI) — The body of Jean Marie Donovan, one of four missionaries killed in 20 years earlier this month, was returned today at the request of the U.S. State Department.

A spokesman for the funeral home said the body was returned at 7 p.m. after a military salute to Jacksonville where an autopsy will be performed to recover any bullets.

Raymond Donovan, the young woman's father, said he was killed, was contacted by state department officials Sunday.

"We just got a phone call from them," he said. "We said yes."

The state department officials hope to determine through ballistics tests if the bullets that killed Miss Donovan and three men Dec. 3 were American-made.

The Donovans believe the four missionaries were killed by military forces.

The U.S. government suspended $20 million in military aid to the Central American country after the slaying.

The bodies of the women were found in a shallow, cutaway grave two days after they were killed.

Funeral services and burial of Miss Donovan was Dec. 10.

Pope Calls For Release Of Hostages

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John Paul II, in a Christmas message, called today for the release of hostages throughout the world, describing them as victims of political reprisal or "an iniquitous, cruel and inconceivable monetary speculation."

Without specifically mentioning the U.S. hostages in Iran, the pope told 36 members of the Roman Catholic College of Cardinals that the "problem of political hostages was just one of the many menaces facing mankind."

"In this Christmas that will be so sad for them (the hostages), I am close to them and I am close to the pope," said "For all of them I ask the Lord, with tears in my eyes, calling on those responsible to help them — in the name of God, in the name of man."

The pope also said the "many menaces facing mankind was terrorism."

San Diego Turns Back Steelers

Chargers Clamp AFC West Crown 26-17

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The San Diego Chargers began their march toward the Super Bowl Monday night with a victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers...

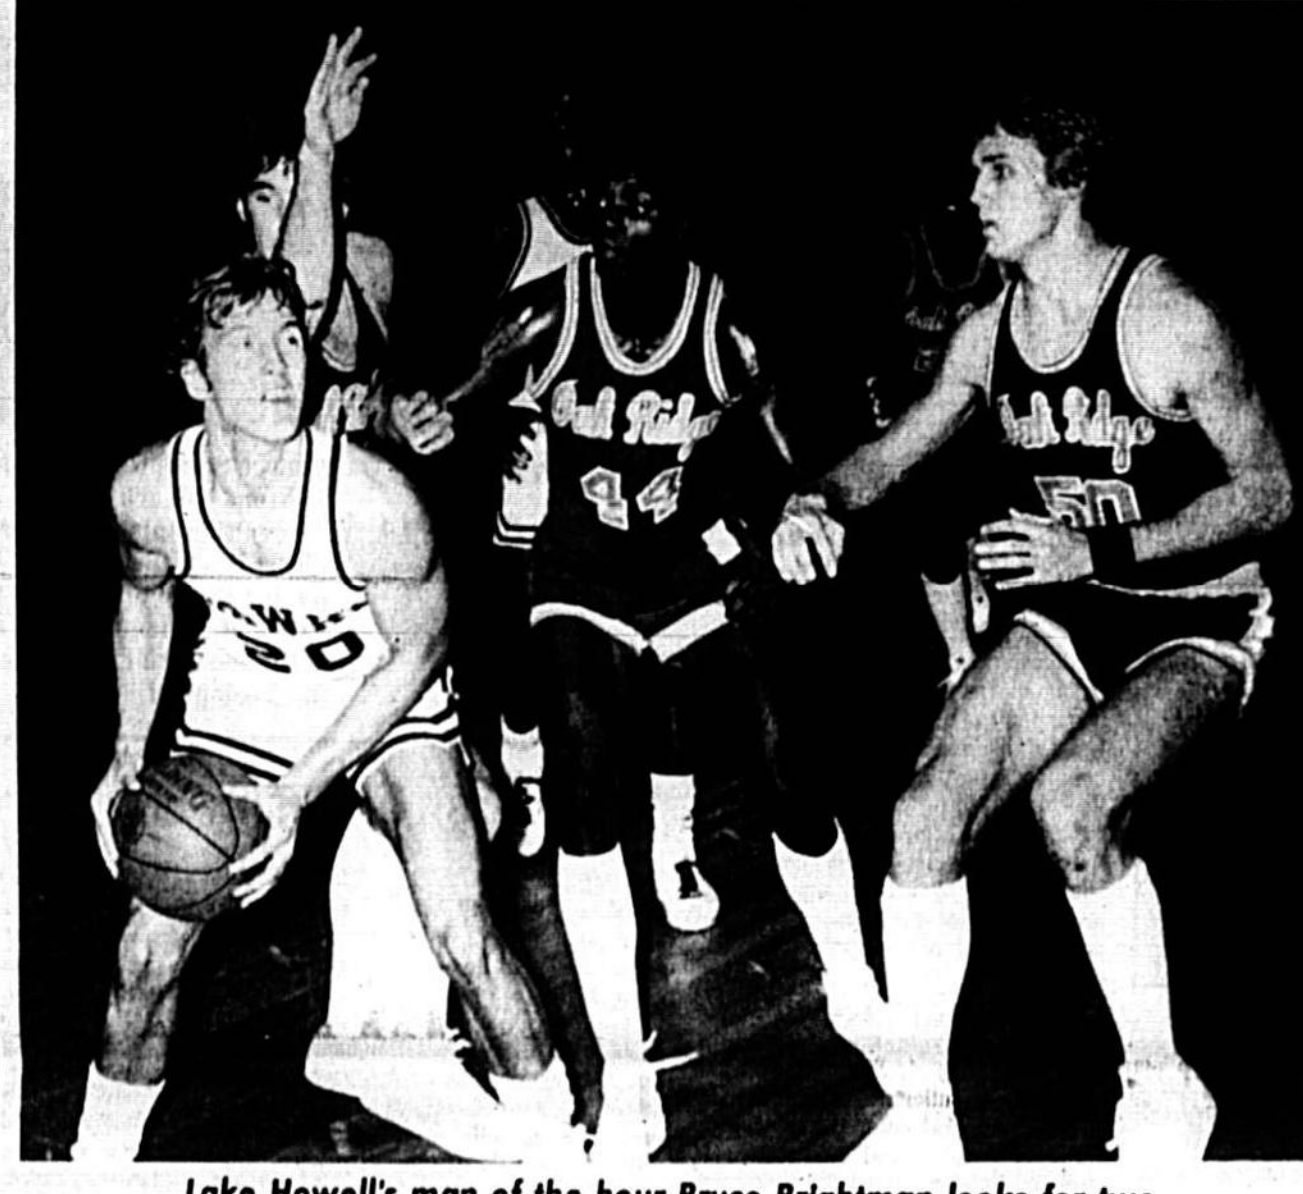

On 26 carries while Fouts ran for another score and Tom Benirschke kicked four field goals to tie his previous single-game record.

The Chargers never trailed in the game, taking a 3-0 lead on Benirschke's 33-yard kick in the first quarter.

"Words can't express how I feel," said Charger Coach Don Coryell. "Considering the caliber of competition ... a Super Bowl team, plus the fact that we had a lot at stake, we played well."

It's not quite time for spring training yet, but a pair of Seminole County prep basketball squads tossed out a few curve balls in Monday night's semi-finals of the Oviedo Outlook Invitational.

Lake Howell, up and down prior to the tournament, and Sanford, struggling with new faces in a graduation depleted lineup, secured victories Monday to make tonight's championship game an all-Seminole County final.

Terry Barrett Shines In Hound Tournery

By SAM COOK Herald Sports Writer If Clayton Moore ever decided to give up his mask, Lyman's Terry Barrett might be a prime contender for the role of The Lone Ranger after the Greyhounds' showing in their Christmas Wrestling Tournament this past weekend.

Barrett, grappling at 157 pounds, was the lone Hound to grab a championship, despite having four teammates in the finals. The losses cost the Greyhounds of Skip Pletzer an outside chance at the title.

"We couldn't do it with what we had," said Barrett Monday evening. "All of our guys went up against some real tough opposition."

In head to head confrontations, Jon Love edged David Henley at 128. Love is a defending 3A state champion. Barrett's decision over Clarkson was the other Horney-Hound matchup.

Oviedo's Doug Jordan was in control in the preliminaries.

Clarkson's loss, however, was the lone Horney setback in the finals, while just the opposite was true for the Greyhounds.

In head to head confrontations, Jon Love edged David Henley at 128. Love is a defending 3A state champion. Barrett's decision over Clarkson was the other Horney-Hound matchup.

Seniors Steve Schofield (222), Matt West (147) and Jeff Walker (189) joined Henley as second place finishers. The Greyhounds didn't receive any help from third and fourth place winners.

Jordan's triumph erased the pain of an earlier 6-5 loss to Horn in a dual meet. With the win, Jordan and Pabon were named most valuable lightweight wrestlers, while Jax Wolfson's Trent Mosley (189) capped the honor for heavyweights. Mosley flattened Burris 14-0.

Spoils System Brings Changes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Several thousand politically appointed bureaucrats are packing up to make way for the "spoils system" tradition, but this time around "spoils" potential career jobs have been harpessed.

The Democratic bag-packer knew all along, of course, that a Republican victory would cost them their jobs. That's the way the system works.

But a recent episode that demonstrated the harsh reality of political transitions involved 17 of President Carter's lame duck nominations for life-time jobs as federal judges. The Republicans rolled them out, too.

The fate of these presidential nominees was in the hands of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which will be chaired next year by Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., since Republicans also won control of the Senate next year.

Thurmond, as the committee's ranking Republican, has worked amicably with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., the Democratic chairman who now must step down, despite their poles-apart political positions.

Thus, when Kennedy wanted a personal protégé approved by the committee for Senate confirmation as a federal appellate judge in the waning days of the congressional session, Thurmond and his GOP colleagues went along.

Some senators — not committee members — objected to this apparent favoritism for Kennedy since their own nominees were losing out. They forced a delay that left Kennedy little time for action.

With few days apparently remaining in the session, Kennedy called a quickie meeting in a tiny Capitol room after the Senate adjourned in the early evening.

Republicans dutifully showed up so Kennedy would have a quorum, then joined Democrats in unanimously approving Stephen Breyer, a former Harvard law professor, for judge of the 1st U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

There were 17 other pending Carter judge-nominations of Kennedy's agenda. But when they came up, the Republican members suddenly were gone — all but Thurmond.

Sen. Dennis DeConcini urged Thurmond to consider approving the holdovers next year, saying the Democrats had gone along with some of Republican Gerald Ford's lame duck nominations.

"I object to taking up any more and I think we've lost our quorum," Thurmond said, turning to Kennedy. Thurmond then left.

Kennedy did not try to press DeConcini's point. There had long been speculation that Thurmond agreed to support Kennedy's fellow Bostonian if the Democrats would not press for action on the others.

But committee sources denied there was any deal. They claimed Breyer had won the Republicans over himself by displaying bipartisan fairness during his term as Kennedy's chief committee counsel.

In any event, President Carter had already filled more judicial positions than any other president, thanks to Congress' creation of 132 new federal judgeships to relieve overcrowded courts.

Counting nominations to fill vacancies in existing seats as well as the new seats, Carter has won Senate confirmation of 143 judicial nominations.

President-elect Ronald Reagan is not likely to come close to this record, but he may, as compensation, be able to NAME A Supreme Court Justice. Five of the nine incumbents are over 70.

All appear healthy but some have had past problems. Gerald Ford appointed one member to the high court and Richard Nixon appointed four, including Chief Justice Warren Burger.

Carter, on the other hand, appointed none. He is unique if you consider him as an elected president who served one full term, but only one. In that precise category, he is the only president who appointed no Supreme Court Justice.

No Carter 'Help' In '82 For Demos

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Conservatives looking to defeat Sen. Edward Kennedy and other liberal and not-so-liberal senators in 1982 should remember they won't have Jimmy Carter around to help them the way he did in 1980.

The 16 new Republican senators elected in 1980 — including one like who beat Democratic incumbents — often benefitted as much from the anti-Carter vote as they did from the money poured in by right wing groups pushing for their election.

In almost every one of these states the Democratic Senate candidate did better — frequently much better — than the Democratic presidential candidate at the top of the ticket.

And while ticket splitting is a frequent happening in contemporary politics, there is evidence that straight party voting starting with Ronald Reagan at the top of the ticket defeated more than one Democratic Senate contender.

The Carter backlash was much like that Republicans suffered in 1964 when their presidential candidate, Barry Goldwater, was buried by Lyndon Johnson and dragged down GOP Senate candidates in his wake. Democratic candidates won 20 of 35 Senate races that year, with only such entrenched Republicans as John Williams of Delaware and Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania surviving the Goldwater disaster.

The most blatant example of Carter's dragging Democrats down to defeat was in Idaho, where Sen. Frank Church lost to conservative Rep. Steve Symms by a single percentage point. Carter carried only 25 percent of the Idaho vote to Reagan's 67 percent.

In eight states where Republicans grabbed Democratic Senate seats, Carter failed to get 40 percent of the vote. Carter isn't entirely to blame in all these cases. In South Dakota, Carter got only 25 percent of the vote, but Sen. George McGovern's 30 percent wasn't very impressive either. He probably would have lost with a strong Democrat at the top of the ticket.

Carter's loss of the Southern base that gave him the White House in 1976 certainly contributed to the loss of Democratic seats in Florida, Alabama and North Carolina.

In Alaska, Carter got only 36 percent of the vote — running nearly 30 points behind the Democrat Clark Gruening, who lost to Republican Frank Murkowski.

The conservatives will be taking on an established group of Democratic veterans in 1982 — many of them, like Kennedy, coming from states with strong Democratic voting patterns.

Some of the Democrats defeated this year were in traditionally Republican states like Iowa, Idaho, New Hampshire, Alaska, and South Dakota.

Republican also defeated Democratic incumbents in Florida, Washington and Wisconsin this year. In two years, Sens. Lawton Chiles of Florida, Henry Jackson of Washington and William Proxmire of Wisconsin will be on the ballot and it will be difficult for Republicans to repeat victories in those two states without the Carter drag on the Democratic ticket.

But the battle will be intense with the Republican right wing armed with an even bigger war chest than it had in 1980 and scared Democrats no longer confident that their seniority and liberal voting record will be enough to keep them in office.

Dr. Andrew Greenberg, Sanford dentist, examines patient's teeth with assistance of Patricia Smith.

'Dial-A-Dentist' Gives Free Dental Information

You've heard of "Dial-A-Prayer," dialing for the time and temperature and now, for the first time in Sanford, there's Dial-A-Dentist. You can find out all you wanted to know and were afraid to ask about eight of the most common dental problems without any charge or obligation by calling 322-3152 and giving the number of the particular tape you are interested in hearing.

The 24-hour taped information library was recently made available to this area as a community service courtesy of Dr. Andrew W. Greenberg, a downtown Sanford dentist. It is similar to a medical information system, called Tel-Med that is used by Florida Hospital, Greenberg said.

Tapes subjects available include Malocclusion, Saving Teeth and Money, Toothache, Abscessed Teeth, Success with Dentures, Periodontal Diseases, Baby Teeth and Dental Anesthesia, Nitrous Oxide.

The dental information is transmitted over the phone via a small computerized tape center, located on a desk in Dr. Greenberg's office. A caller simply tells the receptionist what subject

Sensational Hearing Aid Costs Pennies Per Year To Operate
Space age technology has come to the hearing aid industry. A hearing aid that actually costs pennies per year to operate. This is a far cry from the $25.00 to $100.00 a year the average hearing aid costs to run. And, it automatically corrects speech interfering noises and can be custom adjusted for correct hearing on the spot.

First Class On The Titanic

College kids have new heroes these days — the college graduates who are making fat paychecks out in the business world.
That's according to a report from the Carnegie Council on Policy Studies in Higher Education, which adds that "FAT" in this case means "enough to ... go first class."
The report, entitled "When Dreams and Heroes Die", condenses studies of students on campuses coast to coast who are working to attain college degrees which carry the highest price tag in history — over $40,000 for some schools.
Arthur Levine, the report's author, said many students view their own futures as bright but the country's as poor, so that they see themselves "going first class on the Titanic."
Levine said 91 percent of those polled say they are optimistic about themselves but only 41 percent are optimistic about the country.
"All the rest are either pessimistic or mixed," Levine said.
"Freshmen surveys confirm this, too."
"For the past four years, the Institute for Social Research at the University of Michigan has studied the future outlook of college-bound high school seniors.
"With each succeeding year, students have grown slightly more pessimistic about the country until 1979. That year pessimism increased by a full fifth. In contrast, nine out of every 10 students were quite positive about their own futures," Levine said.
Levine said a typical "about the future" interview with a college student goes like this:
Interviewer: Will the United States be a better or worse place to live in the next 10 years?
Student: The U.S. will definitely be a worse place to live.
Interviewer: Then you must be pessimistic about the future?
Student: No, I'm optimistic.
Interviewer (with surprise): Why?
Student: Because I have a high grade point average and I'm going to get a good job, make a lot of money, and live in a nice house.
Levine said when students are asked what they worry about they put down everything under the sun "and that, too, if you include solar energy."
Among the worries cited:
— Fears over the economy, pollution, energy, crime, morals and nuclear war.
— Apprehension over nuclear power, corporations, greed, liberal aliens, and the right wing.
— Concern over Anita Bryant and her anti-homosexual campaign, Phyllis Schlafly and her anti-equal-rights amendment campaign.
Also: The poor, foreign policy, self-centeredness, divorce, money, authoritarianism and prices.
And: Drugs, increased regulation, permissiveness, reduced standards of living, the environment, and the justice system.
"There is a sense among today's undergraduates that they are passengers on a sinking ship, a Titanic if you will, called the United States or the world," Levine said.
"Perhaps this is part of the reason why suicide has become the second leading cause of death among students in the 1970s, exceeded only by accidents."
"Today's fatalism fuels a spirit of justified hedonism."
"There is a growing belief among college students that, if they are doomed to ride on the Titanic, they ought at least to make the trip as pleasant — make that lavish — as possible and go first class."
The report said going first class also means consumer goods aplenty during the student days. Between seven and eight out of every 10 college freshmen say that having the latest fashions, records, sporting goods, and books is very or pretty important.
And what about after graduation?
"They want their own home (not an apartment or a condominium) with a big yard, well-kept lawn, appliances, stereo, and the like," the University of Michigan Institute for Social Research found.
"About half think it is extremely important to have clothes in the latest style."
The focus is on the material joys of life.
Levine said:
"Glitter and gold are part of the driving force for this generation, more so than for their predecessors of the 1960s."
And a philosophy of life is much less important.
"Perhaps if one believes that he or she is, on a doomed ship, a 'philosophy of life becomes meaningless,'" Levine said.
"It is a world where freedom of individual action seems pathetically limited and a time when situational ethics appear to make more sense than a philosophy of life."

Sleep Commercials Often Misleading
Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB—I used to sleep like a baby. Now I'm lucky to get six hours a night. Often I only get four or five. I realize that at 61 I can't expect to sleep like I did when I was 18 but isn't it necessary to get eight hours of sleep a night? I just don't seem to be able to get to sleep but am still mulling things at midnight. Should I take a sleeping pill? I see these ads on TV that tell you how much better you feel if you use something.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Regarding bed fingerlings, I'm a lay hypochondriac. Of the dozens and dozens of ex-smokers I have to my credit, some had bad nails. Stopping smoking in some cases seems to have been linked to improved nail bed nourishment. Perhaps the blood circulation to the ends of the fingertips improved as a result of more oxygen in the blood and less nicotine constriction. I find that rather interesting.

DEAR READER—Thank you for sending along your observation and I agree it's interesting. One of the old studies for vascular disease was to evaluate the change in temperature in the surface of the skin after smoking. There is quite a bit of individual variation. Some people are more sensitive to cigarette smoke than others. In these people when the tiny arteries in the skin constrict, the skin temperature would fall. In any case, for those who worry about fingernail problems and also smoke cigarettes, it would be worth stopping smoking to see if it will help improve their fingernails.

It should be added that some people's arterial system is so sensitive to tobacco that smoking is a significant factor in causing them to develop gangrene of the tips of the fingers and feet. The classic example of this is Berger's disease. There are a number of peripheral vascular diseases that are significantly influenced by smoking.

bridge play.
His three-trump call was optimistic as was his spade cue bid and his overbid in a grand slam contract.

The first three tricks went to king of hearts, king and queen of diamonds. West showed out and this was an easy matter to finesse against East's jack and run the rest of the suit. Then Konstant cashed the ace of spades just to see if West would follow. Needless to say, he didn't and now the complete count of everyone's distribution was available. West had dealt eight hearts, one diamond and four clubs.

Konstant led a club toward dummy and went up with the ace to pick up West's singleton king and bring the grand slam home.

East was bitter and accused Konstant of having peeked in his hand.

The accusation had no merit. Konstant had learned that the clubs were going to split 4-1. Hence there was no way to make his contract unless East's singleton club was the king. A slim chance is better than no chance at all, so Konstant had availed himself of the slim chance.

Sanford Chamber Hosts Dinner

Foreign Students Adjust To Lifestyle Of America

By DIANE PETRYK
Herald Staff Writer

They couldn't go home for Christmas. The Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce's Tuesday night dinner guests were from homes more than 3,000 miles away.

As foreign students at American universities, the 52 visitors were touring Central Florida because their colleges all but shut down for the holidays.

But there isn't much to do around campus when most students have gone home, the U.S. Agency for International Development sponsors such tours.

This is the sixth year in a row the Sanford chamber of commerce and Dr. Luis Perez have sponsored a part of the tour. The students, representing 16 nations, found it a great opportunity to get to know local Floridians as well as each other, said Chamber of Commerce Executive Manager Jack Horner.

Most of the students are enrolled in graduate programs in fields from agriculture to zoology and have been in the United States from just a few months to about a year and a half.

Mahmoud Al-Zobi, 27, a civil engineering student from Syria, said he "loves it here." And the thing he likes best is the highway systems.

Al-Zobi said he bought a "very good" car for $800 and drove to Florida from Missouri, where he attends the University of Missouri.

"In America, you can just get in a car and drive," he said. "It's a good system."

He explained that in Syria a car costs about $2,000.

"In Syria there isn't enough space for cars, so the government takes a lot of tax for cars," Al-Zobi said.

Resham Thapa, 28, a student from Nepal studying entomology at Michigan State University, said he likes the friendliness of the American people.

He said he and another student from Nepal share an apartment in East Lansing with two Americans. He said they share the cooking chores and that way gets to sample food from the other culture.

Uma Gupta, 30, also from Nepal, agreed that the American system of roads are fascinating.

"The way they operate, it's so efficient," he said.

Gupta explained Nepal is primarily an agricultural nation.

"Ninety-three percent of the people are involved in agriculture," he said, "although there is some minor industry."

Not surprisingly, Gupta said he is studying agronomy. He said he will return to Nepal when he graduates to put his knowledge to work.

Economic development student Mourad Mansour, 42, of Egypt, said he, too, likes the American people because of their "smiles, laughs and jokes."

He said the economy here is good, but he was surprised to find there are poor people in America.

The greatest problem facing Americans today, he said, is the high divorce rate.

Sujatha Panditharatne, 28, of Sri Lanka, had a serious complaint about life at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University where she studies animal science.

"I don't like the cold weather," she said.

She said Sri Lanka is a tropical country and she is having a difficult time adjusting to the cold.

Central Florida didn't help much Tuesday. With temperatures in the low 50s, a planned boat trip along the St. Johns River for the students had to be cancelled.

The group has visited the Kennedy Space Center.

Mansour said he was very impressed with American space technology and said he hopes space exploration will continue.

"Instead of spending money on military equipment, why not spend it on this kind of endeavor, which can help all mankind?" he asked.

Gupta explained Nepal is primarily an agricultural nation.

"Ninety-three percent of the people are involved in agriculture," he said, "although there is some minor industry."

Not surprisingly, Gupta said he is studying agronomy. He said he will return to Nepal when he graduates to put his knowledge to work.

Economic development student Mourad Mansour, 42, of Egypt, said he, too, likes the American people because of their "smiles, laughs and jokes."

He said the economy here is good, but he was surprised to find there are poor people in America.

The greatest problem facing Americans today, he said, is the high divorce rate.

Sujatha Panditharatne, 28, of Sri Lanka, had a serious complaint about life at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University where she studies animal science.

"I don't like the cold weather," she said.

She said Sri Lanka is a tropical country and she is having a difficult time adjusting to the cold.

Central Florida didn't help much Tuesday. With temperatures in the low 50s, a planned boat trip along the St. Johns River for the students had to be cancelled.

The group has visited the Kennedy Space Center.

Mansour said he was very impressed with American space technology and said he hopes space exploration will continue.

"Instead of spending money on military equipment, why not spend it on this kind of endeavor, which can help all mankind?" he asked.
