Longwood Rules Skateboarding 'Passing Fad'

By Jane Casalberry
Herald Staff Writer

The controversial issue of skateboard ramps which has occupied much of the Longwood City Commission's time in recent meetings and worksessions has been settled — or has it?

Even as commissioners agreed at Tuesday night's workshop to accept the unanimous recommendation of the Parks and Recreation Advisory Board that skateboard ramps not be built in city parks, Commissioner Larry Goldberg was asking that quotes be obtained on liability insurance to cover the proposed ramps.

"Why?" demanded Commissioner June Lormann. "The Parks and Recreation Board voted unanimously not to have it and we have no money for it now. Why don't you let it drop?"

The parks board also agreed that skateboard ramps do not belong in residential neighborhoods. It was the consensus of the commission that it is now up to the City Enforcement Board

Motorcyclist Killed

An Orlando woman was killed today when she was thrown into a powerpole after her motorcycle hit the pole.

According to a Florida Highway Patrol report, Brenda Gail Shrode, 25, died at the scene after her 1980 Honda motorcycle slammed into a pole on west Lake Brantley Road at 12:50 a.m.

The fatality was alcohol related, reports show.

Troopers said Ms. Shrode was westbound on the road when she lost control of the motorcycle on a curve and hit the pole. After the bike crashed into the pole she struck it then hit other objects nearby, the report said.

There were no passengers with Ms. Shrode and no other vehicles involved.

Her death brings the total number of traffic fatalities this year in Seminole County to 13.

11 Pursuing Sanford Police Chief Position

By Rick Brunson
Herald Staff Writer

Mel Colman, former Orange County sheriff and past chief of the Winter Park police department, said today he will apply for the Sanford police chief's job.

His statement followed a letter he sent to the city's Civil Service Board last Thursday inquiring about the job.

Chief Ben Butler retires today after 34 years with the department. 17 of them as chief. Assistant City Manager Steve Harriott will be acting chief until the city commission picks a permanent chief, which is expected to be sometime in June. Harriott has also applied for the chief's job.

Colman's bid would bring the number of applicants to 11 since the Civil Service Board started advertising the vacancy locally, statewide and nationally two weeks ago.

Colman, 47, wrote in his letter, "Should the decision be made to consider outside applicants, I would be happy to forward a resume and be available for a follow up and interview."

Today he said, "I'm definitely going to throw my hat in the ring."

Colman was Orange County sheriff for nine years before quitting the post in 1981. Before that, he was chief of the Winter Park police department for two years. Previous to that position he was a lieutenant with the St. Petersburg police department.

After leaving the sheriff's office, he started a security guard business and then sold it. He now runs his own private investigation and polygraph firm in Orlando.

"I wanted to explore the outside civilian world and I've enjoyed it," Colman said. "But police work is my first love, and it sounds like they could use a little professional help up there."

He lives in Maitland and said he is familiar with Sanford and Seminole County.

"I like it (in Sanford). This place down here is getting a little too hairy for me," he said.

Qualifications for the police chief's job are a bachelor's degree in criminology or administration with five years of "progressively responsible" experience that includes supervisory and administrative work. The position pays $27,872 to $39,991.

Application deadline is May 24.

In addition to his experience, Colman said he has a bachelor's degree in criminal justice.

But, he said, "I think (running) a 1,000 man department with a $25 million budget should be enough experience."

Drug Bust Scuffle Leads To Murder-Try Charge

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

Attempted murder charges have been filed against an Orlando man who alleged took a Seminole County drug task force agent's gun during a cocaine bust Tuesday in which three suspects were arrested. The agent's gun fired during a struggle over the weapon, but there were no injuries reported.

The 25-year-old man allegedly wrested a gun from the agent and pointed the weapon at the undercover officer as they struggled following the drug bust at about 10:50 p.m. in southeast Seminole County, a sheriff's report said.

The alleged gunman, Neal Rolan, was being held in the Seminole County jail today without bond. In addition to attempted murder he has also been charged with conspiracy to sell cocaine.

To Settle Lawsuit

1st Iron Bridge Share Promised

A Casalberry developer was first on the Seminole County's list this week to get the promise of connection to Orlando's Iron Bridge sewer plant near Oviedo.

The county expects Orlando and the state Department of Environmental Regulation to release to Seminole County 500,000 gallons daily capacity at the plant near Oviedo within the next couple of weeks.

The Casalberry developer, Complete Interiors, represented by contractor David Meadows, was ordered to the top of the list by the county commission to settle a lawsuit the firm had filed against the county.

The Meadows group needs the sewer service to complete the development of a shopping center on state Road 436 and Wilshire Boulevard. In Casalberry. Developers in southeast Seminole County have had 81 housing developments on hold awaiting the capacity.

The developments on the waiting list will be allocated 52,500 gallons per day until the 500,000 gallon daily allocation runs out.

In exchange for the 52,500 gallon daily capacity, each of the developers must get permits from the state Department of Environmental Regulation and pay the county $2,100 per unit in advance.

Of the 81 developments on the waiting list for sewer service, nine developments were offered service.

Cindy Wright, administrative assistant in the county's environmental services department, said two of those nine developers opted for less than the 54,500 gallons per day capacity — the amount needed for 150 homes — while two others decided they do not want capacity at this time.

A majority of the county commission — Commissioners Bob Sturm, Barbara Christensen and Sandra Glenn — ordered Complete Interiors, in 12th place on the waiting list, be moved to first with a reserved 15,000 gallons per day.

The commissioners voted 3-2 last week to give Meadows this right, rather than fight the issue in court. Voting against settlement were Commissioners Bill Kirchhoff and Fred Streetman.

County Staff Opposes 7 Of 9 Rezoning Requests

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Requests for nine zoning changes, seven of which are opposed for a variety of reasons by county staff, will be considered in public hearings by the Seminole County Planning and Zoning Commission at its 7 p.m. meeting today.

The meeting will be held in Room W-120 of the County Services Building, 1101 E. First St., at Mellonville Avenue, Sanford.

The reasons for staff opposition to changing zoning on various parcels range from a lack of urban services and roads to conflict with planning policies and development trends and incompatibility with adjacent residential uses.

The two requests recommended favorably by staff involve two lots at the southeast corner of Second Street and Belle Avenue, near the Sanford City limits and Airport Boulevard and a 1.3 acre tract on the east side of County Line Road, near the Orange County border in southwest Seminole.

Siegler Realty, representing Belle Powell, is asking for a change in zoning from agriculture to commercial and wholesale district on two lots at Second Street and Belle Avenue. Staff said two lots west of this site were rezoned to commercial early in April.

Reagan Halts U.S. Trade With Nicaragua

BONN, West Germany (UPI) — President Reagan declared a complete embargo on trade with Nicaragua today, saying the Sandinista government's military buildup represents a threat to the security of Central America and the United States.

White House spokesman Larry Speakes, with Reagan in Germany, said the sanctions also include a ban on direct commercial flights between Nicaragua and the United States and a halt to shipping. The sanctions become effective Sunday.

U.S. sales now provide only about 17 percent of Nicaragua's export income and The Washington Post quoted Secretary of State George Shultz as saying the sanctions will not be "an overpowering event" but will make a point with the Managua government.

"The recent Nicaraguan rejection of the president's peace initiative viewed in the light of constantly rising pressure that Nicaragua's military buildup places on the democratic nations of the region makes it clear the urgent threat Nicaragua's activities represent to the security of the region and therefore to the security and foreign policy of the United States," Speakes said.

The action followed Congress's rejection last week of $14 million in aid to the Nicaraguan rebels. Sources said that as a result, the administration decided on the sanctions to keep pressure on the Managua government to change its policies.

The administration says Nicaragua's army is larger than necessary and claims the government is aiding leftist rebels fighting the U.S.-backed government in El Salvador.

Reagan's executive order, which does not require congressional approval, mentioned "the unusual and extraordinary threat to the national security and foreign policy of the United States."

Speakes said Reagan took the action "because the Nicaraguan economy is not very stable." He said that "there are a number of options remaining.... This is not the only thing we want." He did not elaborate.

The order prohibits all imports into the United States of goods and services from Nicaragua, and all exports from the United States to Nicaragua, "except those destined for the organized democratic resistance," the administration's term for rebels fighting the government.

No Place To Snooze

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (UPI) — Maybe this time Douglas Hicks has learned to stop sleeping in dumpsters.

A month ago Hicks, 30, of Ashland, Ky., required hospital treatment in Charleston for a leg wound when the lid of a garbage truck closed on him after dumping out the trash bin he was sleeping in.

History repeated itself for Hicks Tuesday. Police said Hicks found himself being dumped into a garbage truck from a container behind a building in Charleston. Hospital security guard David Raines hopped in his car after hearing Hicks screaming and caught up with the truck.

An ambulance and fire rescue truck were called to pull Hicks from the vehicle.

Shuttle Crew Presses On After 'One Of Those Days'

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Challenger's scientists and zoo keepers pressed on today with their intricate shuttle experiments, despite earlier problems that included a "flood" of free-floating monkey feces and rat food.

The trouble with the cages for Challenger's space menagerie — a pair of squirrel monkeys and 24 white rats — came during a busy day Tuesday when the shuttle scientists fell behind schedule troubleshooting a variety of problems with sophisticated experiments on board the truck-sized Spacelab module.

Said shuttle Commander Robert Overmyer, "It was one of those days."

Two experiments have been discontinued because of technical problems and a third was on hold because of a short circuit, but ground crews hoped to devise a repair procedure to correct that problem. In addition, the second of two small research satellites failed to deploy Monday.

The crew made up some lost time by overcoming problems with a crystal growth experiment and correcting a computer glitch that was giving faulty instrument readings to the cockpit.

The shuttle crew also reported considerable success with other experiments, including one devised to study Earth's energetic aurora.

Dotson Ordered Freed On Bond

CHICAGO (UPI) — The mother of Gary Dotson, the convicted rapist whose alleged victim now says he did not attack her, says she is happy he will be released from prison pending appeal and hopes "this is going to be the end" of her son's ordeal.

Prison officials said it was likely Dotson would be released today on $100,000 bond set by the Illinois Supreme Court Tuesday. Dotson's mother, Barbara, said she had raised the $10,000 in cash necessary to release her son.

Mrs. Dotson said she couldn't be more pleased with the latest turn of events. Her son was freed briefly on bond after his accuser's recantation, then returned to prison.

Dotson, 28, of suburban Country Club Hills, has served six years of a 25- to 50-year prison term for his conviction for raping and kidnapping a 16-year-old girl.

The alleged victim, Cathleen Crowell Webb, now a 23-year-old New Hampshire mother of two children, recanted her testimony earlier this month, claiming she had lied because she feared she was pregnant after having sex with her boyfriend.

Police Attempt To Crush Anti-Government Protests

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Riot police backed by water cannons moved to break up an anti-government May Day protest today by thousands of people carrying outlawed Solidarity union banners and chanting "Solidarity lives."

The demonstration by some 3,000 people began at the church of a slain pro-Solidarity priest in Warsaw after police prevented Solidarity founder Lech Walesa from taking part in anti-government protests in the northern port of Gdansk.

Crowds formed a column outside St. Stanislaw Kostka church where Rev. Jerzy Popieluszko who was kidnapped and murdered by secret police last October is buried. They began marching toward the city's Huta Warszawa steel works in a column headed by militant Solidarity activist Sweryn Jaworski.

Hundreds of police in full riot gear and backed by water cannon trucks blocked off the road and ordered demonstrators chanting "Solidarity lives" and "Free political prisoners" to disperse.

Van Bomb Kills Firefighter

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI) — A bomb in a parked van killed a firefighter and wounded 12 people today, blasting victims into the air in the first fatal attack by a communist group behind a spiralling eight-month wave of terror.

A group called the Communist Combatant Cells, which claimed responsibility for the bombing, made its first attack in October. The most spectacular of its series of attacks against NATO and big business targets was Dec. 11 when the group blew up six valves of a strategic NATO pipeline system.

Correction

In an article in Tuesday's Herald about a Sanford man sentenced to 7 years for DUI manslaughter, the blood alcohol level was inadvertently attributed to the victim instead of the car driver.

Ernest Pitts, 47, of 1752

Midway Ave., Midway, had a blood alcohol level of .40 when he was arrested shortly after running down and killing Tommy Mills, 19, of Academy Avenue, Sanford. Mills had not been drinking. A blood alcohol level of .10 is considered under the influence.

Skeleton Found By Boys Still Unidentified

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

A Gainesville anthropologist's examination of a human skeleton found in Seminole County in February has yielded no significant clues to the identity of the remains.

Seminole County sheriff's Lt. George Hagood said the report of Dr. William Maples, curator of physical anthropology at the Florida State Museum, brought no breaks in the bones case. Maples had taken to bones to Gainesville from Sanford for extensive study in February and concluded his research in March.

The bones, which were found by two 10-year-old boys playing behind a neighbor's house at 380 Ringwood Circle, Winter Springs, had been scorched in a brushfire a couple of days before they were discovered, a sheriff's report said.

A handgun was found beside the skeleton and investigators reported there was a hole in the skull, which might have been made by a bullet. Maples concluded that a bullet had probably been fired into the left side of the skull.

The bones were badly damaged by animals, fire and general decay. Hagood said because of their deteriorated state, Maples, in trying to establish if the male shooting victim might have committed suicide, could not determine if the man was right or left handed, his report said.

He reported the victim was about 5-foot-7, most likely white and was about 24 years old, the report said.

Hagood said he is investigating the case as a possible suicide, but has no record of anyone fitting the description of the victim having been reported missing in Seminole County or the surrounding counties about five years or more ago, which is when Maples concluded the victim most likely died.

Reagan's European Trip A Try At Reconciliation

Economic Summit, Bitburg On Agenda

BOSSN, West Germany (UPI) — President Reagan arrived in West Germany today, hoping to dramatize the "spirit of reconciliation among old adversaries" and calm the outrage over his planned visit to a military cemetery containing Nazi graves.

The president and Mrs. Reagan arrived aboard Air Force One at Cologne-Bonn airport at 5:20 a.m.

In a farewell statement at the White House Tuesday, Reagan said, "We visit Europe, determined to carry forward the spirit of peace and reconciliation among old adversaries and the power of our democratic ideals. The friendship between the American and German people — a great blessing that has grown rich and strong — is dramatic proof of how former enemies can be brought together," he said.

Reagan's 10 day stay in Europe will include the 10th annual Economic Summit and state visits to West Germany, Spain and Portugal.

With the heads of the major industrial democracies converging on Bonn for the summit, Reagan's aides emphasized the symbolic importance of events scheduled to mark the 40th anniversary of the end of World War II during his visit.

But the president's refusal to bow to calls from Congress and Jewish and veterans' groups that he cancel a visit Sunday to the German military cemetery at Bitburg — where members of Adolf Hitler's dreaded Waffen SS are buried — has overshadowed the trip.

In a balancing act, Reagan also plans to stop at the Bergen-Belsen death camp also on Sunday, where aides said he will speak on the "horrors" of the Holocaust.

Reagan and Secretary of State George Shultz both said Tuesday the controversy was blown out of proportion by the media.

Shultz told a news conference the political price would be heavier if Reagan canceled the visit, reflecting administration concern that to back out now would harm West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl.

"With respect to the cemetery visit, it could be said that the more difficult the act of reconciliation, the deeper the meaning may be," Shultz said.

Jury Snafu Delays Child Sex Assault Trial

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

There are too many reasonable doubts to convict a Longwood man of sexual battery to a child, a jury was told today during closing arguments in the case against 34-year-old John Sessums Worling.

However, the jury disagreed and after 30 minutes deliberation returned a verdict of guilty as charged at 12:15 p.m. Worling was sentenced on the spot to life in prison.

Worling, of 318 Heather Ave., is on trial charged with a sexual battery and two lewd assaults on an 8-year-old girl. The incidents reportedly occurred last year. The girl, now almost 10, was the state's lead witness against Worling, who was arrested Sept. 24.

The case was expected to go to the jury this afternoon.

Defense attorney Warren Turner said today that the state failed to remove several doubts about the girl's accusation that Worling fondled and assaulted her.

Turner said the alleged victim changed her story over a period of several months and that she was not sure about her testimony during the trial. He said if the jurors did not believe the girl or Working that constituted enough doubt not to convict him.

"This is not a lightweight case (like) you read in the paper. This is John Worling's day in court," he said.

Assistant State Attorney Steve Brady reminded the jury that it was the victim's day in court also.

You are to find guilt at the highest level we've proved," Brady said, advising the jury not to return a verdict on lesser included crimes such as attempted sexual battery or attempted lewd and lascivious assault.

Worling has admitted to "touching" the girl, but denied committing an unlawful act.

Between this morning's defense and prosecution closing arguments there was an unexpected recess called by Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. to discuss a potential problem with one of the six jurors.

Outside the jury's presence, Davis told Brady and Turner that a juror or the alternate juror may be Orange County residents and therefore cannot sit on the jury. Davis said a representative of the Seminole County Supervisor of Elections Office was enroute to the courtroom and the problem would be sorted out after closing arguments.

The attorneys agreed that if one of the jurors is in fact ineligible to sit on the jury because he or she lives in Orange County, the alternate will take that juror's place.

During the first day of trial Tuesday, Worling took the stand in his own defense and admitted fondling the child while she was dressed but not to committing battery on her. He cried briefly while on the stand.

The girl, however, said Worling fondled her several times under her clothing and asked her to fondle him and exposed himself.

The girl testified that she was frightened to tell anyone about the incidents.

The girl said the assaults occurred during the period of a year when she was at Worling's house playing with computer games and a tree swing. She said the assaults happened so many times that she forgot most of the specific incidents.

In another case, Worling was convicted of committing lewd and lascivious assault on a child. The jury in that case took just one hour to convict him. He has not been sentenced in that case but faces up to 30 years in prison.

Woman 'Bleached,' Boyfriend Jailed

A 47-year-old Altamonte Springs man who allegedly threw bleach in a woman's face following a fight at an Altamonte Springs club was being held in the Seminole County jail today in lieu of $8,000 bond on charges of aggravated battery and carrying a concealed knife.

The man and woman, whom a sheriff's deputy reported were boyfriend and girlfriend, reportedly had a fist fight at Club 436, Lake Howell Road, before the man went to a friend's house, got a cup of bleach and returned and threw it in the woman's face about 9 p.m. Tuesday.

The woman, who was not identified by deputies, was treated at Florida Hospital, Altamonte Springs, for bleach burns to her eyes and face, a sheriff's report said.

A sheriff's deputy who arrived at the club to investigate the fight nabbed the suspect, who had fled the scene, about 500 feet from the club at about 9:20 p.m. In a search during the arrest, the deputy reportedly found a 6-inch knife hidden in the suspect's boot.

Charged was David Livingston Sutherland, 80, Lake Howell Road.

'WHAT HIT ME?'

Two Ohio motorists were injured Saturday when the motorcycle they were riding collided with a motor home after it pulled out in front of them.

Charles Lively, 24, the driver, and John Boylen, 15, both of Akron, Ohio, were treated and released from Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford. Lively received multiple cuts on his legs and Boylen had minor internal injuries.

They were riding their motorcycle south on U.S. Highway 17-92 near Airport Boulevard when a man driving north in his motor home tried to turn left, according to a Seminole County sheriff's report.

Lively and Boylen struck the side of the 1974 Winnebago which then turned south on U.S. 17-92 and fled the scene, the report said.

A sheriff's deputy patrolling the area caught up with a vehicle matching the description. According to the report, when stopped, the man said, "I hope that guy is not hurt too bad. What hit me?"

A roadside test suggested the man was under the influence of alcohol.

PURSE SNATCH PUNCHING
A 24-year-old Maitland woman reported to Seminole County sheriff's deputies that two boys who grabbed her purse and passed it to a waiting girl also punched her in the face and harassed her before fleeing.

Johnna Michell Turner, of 169 Birchwood Drive, told deputies she was walking on the sidewalk at 1716 N. Orlando Ave., Fern Park, when she was robbed. Her purse contained about $15, a sheriff's report said.

The suspects fled north on foot on U.S. Highway 17-92, the report said.

ROBBED AT HOME
Coley Lumpkin, 74, of 3001 Right Way, Sanford, reported to deputies that five persons entered his house and demanded cash at about midnight Sunday.

Lumpkin said the robbers tied his hands with a telephone cord and covered his mouth with a T-shirt. They said they would kill him if he tried anything, the report said.

The robbers got away with about $120, the report said.

MOTEL POT
A guest at a Fern Park motel was charged with possession of more than 20 grams of marijuana after the motel manager called sheriff's deputies to the scene to ask the man to check out after the manager reportedly saw him looking into the cars of other guests.

After the deputy arrived at the Fern Park Motel, U.S. Highway 17-92, the suspect at first ignored his knocks at the door and then eventually let the deputy into his room, a sheriff's report said.

The deputy reported seeing marijuana on a table in the room and additional pot was found on the bathroom floor and in the man's pockets, the report said.

Rowland Kenneth Smith, 24, of 28 E. 8th St., Apopka, was arrested at about 10:30 p.m. Monday. He was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

WIFE PUNCHED
Police charged a 45-year-old Sanford man with battery on his spouse after they responded to a disturbance call and noted Killian Jeffries had bruises on her face, a swollen eye and a patch of hair missing from the top of her head.

Mrs. Jeffries and a witness told police she was attacked and had threatened her husband with a kitchen knife to protect herself, then fled, a police report said.

John Henry Jeffries, of 508 E. 5th St., was arrested at his home at 6:49 p.m. Monday. He was later released on $500 bond.

BAD CHECK CHARGE
A 20-year-old Altamonte Springs man has been charged with deposit with intent to defraud and grand theft after allegedly cashing a $2,000 check drawn on a closed account.

Seminole County sheriff's deputies arrested the man Monday after an investigation indicated he had made the illegal transaction at First Fidelity Bank, Red Bug Lake Road, Winter Springs. The Barnett Bank account the check was drawn on had been closed on Jan. 18, a sheriff's report said.

Jose Cestero, of 120 Jewel Drive, has been released on $5,000 bond and is scheduled to appear in court May 20.

PURSE PISTOL
A 22-year-old Sanford woman has been charged with carrying a concealed .38-caliber handgun after a store security guard reportedly found the weapon in her purse.

The guard at Kmart, U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, told police he picked up the abandoned purse from a counter in the store and in searching it for identification found the gun at about 3:20 p.m. Tuesday, a police report said.

The guard called police and the woman whose identification was found in the purse was located in the store and arrested on the weapon charge.

Clara Mae Graves, of P.O. Box 454, was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS
Someone stole $700 from the dresser drawer of Thomas Hicks bedroom at 609 W. Eighth St., Sanford, during last Wednesday and Thursday, according to a Sanford police report.

Arnie Holloman, 65, reported to Sanford police that someone stole a stereo worth $395 from his apartment at Lake Monroe Terrace Monday night.

Alevantos S. Tsirambitis, 19, of 143 Sunset Drive, Longwood, reported to deputies that while he was stopped at a red light at Lake Howell Road and state Road 436, Altamonte Springs, a gunman approached his car, threatened him with a small pistol and took his $375 gold necklace and a $300 watch.

Six bandits reportedly attacked Freddie Lee Griffin, 58, of Beardall Avenue, Sanford, as he walked on Sipes Avenue, Sanford, at about 6 p.m. Saturday, hit him in the head and took $5 from him, a sheriff's report said.

Swimming pool gear worth about $1,200 was stolen from 106 Haviland Point, Longwood, between Saturday and Monday, according to a report owner Wallace Wayne Jones, 43, of Orlando, filed with deputies.

John Underwood, 31, of Ryland Homes, 1015 state Road 436, Casselberry, reported to deputies that two ranges and a refrigerator with a combined value of $1,525 were stolen from building sites at lots 83 and 92 in the Ironwood subdivision, Casselberry, between April 26 and Monday.

A gold and diamond ring worth $1,150 disappeared from a table outside a washroom at 464-A Plumosa Drive, Casselberry, around 6 p.m. Sunday, according to a sheriff's report filed by owner Harley R. Larson, 26, of 4138 Sheoah Blvd., Winter Springs.

Study: Possible Conflicts Of Interest In 'Star Wars'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The same defense contractors who are doing research for a "Star Wars" anti-missile defense system might end up building the system, turning it into that great pork barrel in the sky, a study group says.

To circumvent such a possibility, the group recommended that Congress conduct the feasibility study.

The report by the Council on Economic Priorities also suggested the companies that will have a financial stake in the system will not be overly concerned about violating the 1972 Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty, which bans space-based weapons.

It would be unrealistic to assume that defense corporations and communities depending on these firms for jobs and incomes will remain neutral as the debate over the maintenance of the ABM treaty continues, it said.

The report by the private New York group is the third in its series on the administration's Strategic Defense Initiative, as "Star Wars" is formally known.

What we see happening today is the rapid conversion of the president's "Star Wars" proposal from stardust and moonbeams to that great pork barrel in the sky, said Paul Wanke, a Carter administration arms control negotiator.

Estimates by the administration put the cost of "Star Wars" research at $26 billion during the first five years. The Pentagon is seeking $3.7 billion for the work next year after having received $1.4 billion for 1985.

Ten contractors were selected in December to study the feasibility of the system, intended to create a shield against nuclear attack over the United States and its NATO allies.

Those military contractors which have the most to gain from the deployment of a strategic defense system — Lockheed, McDonnell Douglas, Rockwell International and TRW — are the same as those responsible for assessing the technical feasibility and strategic advisability of proceeding beyond the research stage, the study said.

Even at this early stage, the administration's "Star Wars" program is rife with potential for conflict of interest, it said. The danger lies in the program being launched on the basis of economic benefits to key contractors and constituencies whether or not it is proven worthwhile on national security grounds.

Previous administrations have relied on scientists from universities and the president's scientific advisers for recommendations. The administration has turned to industrialists to fill the ranks of such crucial advisory panels, the study said.

To Avoid Reliance On Federal Student Aid

Bennett: Plan Your Families Better

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Education Secretary William Bennett says big families with annual incomes of more than $60,000 should do "family planning a little better or find other means" than federal help to send their children to college.

In defending the administration's proposal to prohibit federal loans to any student whose annual family income tops $60,000, Bennett told the U.S. Chamber of Commerce:

"I guess we are saying to that 8 percent of the population (families with more than six children). If you're smart enough to make $60,000, do your family planning a little better."

Bennett said, "Not have fewer children, just maybe do your family planning a little better or find other means."

The proposed $60,000 ceiling on family income for federal college aid recipients is a centerpiece of the administration's embattled proposal to cut student assistance by 25 percent.

Critics say it would spell hardships, particularly for families with several children in college.

The package has been denounced by education groups and several members of Congress. It is part of a compromise Reagan reached earlier this month with Senate Republican leaders.

The president's initial proposal to cut student aid would have imposed a $32,500 ceiling on family income and limit annual federal assistance to any student at $4,000.

Bennett drew the ire of many students, parents and educators in defending that proposal when he told a news conference in February that the measure "may require, for some students, divestitures of certain sorts — stereo divestitures, automobile divestitures, three-weeks-at-the-beach divestitures."

Reagan's effort to cut student aid is part of his proposed fiscal 1986 education budget of $15.4 billion, down $2.5 billion from current spending.

Bennett told the U.S. Chamber of Commerce this does not represent a reduction in the government's commitment to education "unless we want to accept the premise that a nation's commitment to education... is to be measured by the amount of federal money that goes into the system."

The administration, which has sought to cut the Education Department's budget four of the past five years, maintains that states and localities, not Washington, have the primary responsibility for America's schools.

Public Works Loses Another Veteran Employee

Seminole County Public Works Director Larry Sellers has lost another valued employee from his department.

Jim Mathews, 56, has announced his retirement as road superintendent effective July 5. Mathews, employed by the county for nearly 11 years, is retiring because of health problems, Sellers said.

This adds one more to the list of new personnel Sellers must find.

The department, with over 160 employees, is looking for an assistant county engineer, a traffic engineer and now a road superintendent, Sellers said. The application period has closed for the traffic engineering post.

Positions filled in the past few weeks include a water management engineer and development review engineer.

Sellers said he expects to announce by the end of the week the name of a new county engineer to replace Bill Bush who has served in the office for more than 20 years. Bush is to retire June 1.

The assistant county engineer's job is the one Sellers held prior to his appointment as public works director on Dec. 19, 1984. —Donna Estes

Banality Of Terror

The 16-year-old in the photograph in The New York Times looks so childishly ordinary — or maybe more wholesome than ordinary — with his mop of curly hair, his still-pudgy face, his forthright expression. He could be the winner of some suburban high school honor. But what he is, or was, is a Lebanese suicide bomber.

Mohammed Mahmoud Burro was captured by the Israelis just hours, he says, before he was supposed to crash a car loaded with 400 kilograms of TNT into Israeli military headquarters outside the town of Nebatiye in southern Lebanon. He was told, he says, that the suicide bombing "would destroy all the homes and people within a radius of two square miles," but he "should not be frightened by this prospect." The Times reporter who interviewed him, with no Israeli authorities present, said he appeared to be speaking freely and honestly.

What is most shocking about the story this child has told is that one's first impression of him was correct after all. He is an ordinary teenager. He was not at any time, he says, interested in martyrdom. He isn't religious, a Shiite Moslem by birth rather than practice. The Shiite military organization that recruited him even sent him for special religious instruction to improve his attitude. It apparently didn't take.

How he nonetheless came so close to killing himself and countless others had nothing to do with his own convictions. He was told, he says, that if he didn't drive that car bomb, his family would be destroyed. He and his father would lose their jobs, his father would be denied needed medical treatment, and his family would be forced to turn over everything it had to the victims of two traffic accidents in which he and his father had been involved.

All that is well within the power of the Shiite military faction that controls the section of Beirut in which Burro lived and worked. Indeed, there are probably few in Lebanon who are not, out of some similar combination of homely circumstances, equally vulnerable to whatever militia controls their community.

Amal, the Shiite organization that recruited Burro, is not supposed to be one of the fanatic groups among Lebanon's armed political factions. Yet it must have organized for such suicide missions as a matter of routine, if Burro's story is accurate. And the evidence the Times has gathered suggests that other "moderate" Lebanese organizations, as well as Syrian and other government intelligence operations, have also come to accept this kind of terrorism as just another tool of warfare — and to accept their lawless control over daily life in Lebanon as just another means of "military" recruitment.

In Lebanon, Mohammed Burro is ordinary; so is Amal; so, increasingly, are suicide bombings. And that is finally more horrifying than the picture the Lebanese factions have tried to paint of uncontrollable young religious fanatics killing themselves and everyone around them to win their place in paradise. What there is instead in Lebanon is unexceptional terror — murder as usual, of children ... by children.

Defending Great Lakes From Castro Invasion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — While Congress was wasting time on such minor issues as the budget and military aid to the Nicaraguan Contras, some of us sunshine patriots were saluting James Boren, president of the International Association of Professional Bureaucrats.

Boren is the designer of a new $6.98 billion tank that he describes as "amphibious, flying," it being neither.

"But it is trimmed in platinum, and it possesses a coffee pot, a toilet seat, several wrenches and sets of pliers" along with "other items needed by the Pentagon's freedom fighters," he boasts in a news release.

Designed primarily to defend the Great Lakes from invasion by Fidel Castro, the tank also "can be sent into space as part of President Reagan's Star Wars placetide program," Boren assures us.

It likewise "can be used to inspire a sense of pride in our country, to demonstrate the true state of our battleworthy weaponry and to show what is happening to the taxpayers' dollars," he avers.

While I've no doubt the latter functions can provide a useful psychological uplift, it is the former that makes the tank so valuable.

It long has been apparent that Castro has designs on the Great Lakes, but Boren's is the first weapon system specifically designed to defend that area against Cuban invasion.

One wonders why Congress spends some much time on Central American controversies when the threat is so much closer.

Boren did not mention whether his tank is equipped with sugar detectors. So there is no indication of how it might respond if Castro were to attack the Great Lakes with missiles armed with sugar cane warheads.

However, the possibility that some foreign country might try something funny has been enhanced by import quotas the U.S. government imposed on certain food last month.

That step was taken to prevent foreign manufacturers from exporting foodstuffs loaded with sugar and then removing and selling the sweet stuff inside our borders.

Sugar prices in America are about seven times higher than the world market. So there is plenty of incentive for such skullduggery.

Cuba, as we know, is capable for growing huge crops of sugar cane. Ergo, the temptation for Castro to build sugar-tipped missiles might well become overwhelming.

Nearly $7 billion will be a small price to pay for a tank if Boren can give it a sucrose-seeking capability.

IRS Is Watching For Stiffs

WASHINGTON — Cheapskates beware: If a guy in a Groucho disguise seems to be taking an inordinate interest in the tip you leave at a bar or restaurant, don't be alarmed. He's probably just an IRS man engaged in the agency's survey of American tipping habits.

In its latest effort to keep restaurant help from understating their tips at tax time, the IRS has begun a detailed study of tipping. A major target of the revenue agents' scrutiny will be the abominable practice of "stiffing" — leaving no gratuity at all. The IRS wants to determine if there are as many cheapskates out there as the waiters and bartenders imply on their 1040s. Eventually, the IRS hopes to compile a table, categorizing restaurants by average tip size (including stiff).

FLAT TAX SURVEY: A reader was suspicious about a survey he got in the mail from a group he had never heard of, called Citizens for a Sound Economy. The questionnaire asked his views on proposals for a flat tax of 10 percent on all income above $10,000 — and requested a contribution of $15, $25 "or as much as you can afford."

We checked on the group, and it's legit. Its chairman is former Rep. Ron Paul, R-Texas. According to a spokesman, the survey brought 250,000 responses so far. The respondents overwhelmingly supported the flat tax, which is hardly surprising, since the way it was presented it would save most taxpayers money.

PROMISED LAND? The skid in world oil prices has hurt the Saudi Arabian economy, but the desert kingdom is still a land of opportunity for hundreds of thousands of foreign workers.

According to a secret State Department study, the Saudis are trying to cut back on immigration and encourage some of the foreigners to go home, but with little success.

Despite new laws tightening entry procedures for foreigners and severely limiting the ... foreign dependents, it is estimated that the number of foreigners will increase in excess of 100,000 annually over the next five years," the report states. For all the difficulties encountered, the foreigners live better than they would in their own countries, the report notes, and the oil-spilled Saudis' distaste for doing their own mental chores tends to discourage any official pressure to limit the influx of aliens.

Journalists Lucky Memories Are Short

I suppose it is a good thing for all journalists that memory is short and newspaper is subject to rapid deterioration. I myself would not like to see everything I have said as a journalist recalled and held up to the light of hindsight, but, still, it is worthwhile to recall what some of our oracles were telling us back in the 1970s — perhaps with a view of assessing the reliability of their visions at the present time.

By now everyone knows that Pol Pot and his Khmer Rouge killed up to three million people in Cambodia. There has even been a major movie on the subject, "The Killing Fields."

Well, how well were we informed, as the Killing Fields appeared on the horizon?

Before the Khmer Rouge went to work, columnist Anthony Lewis advised us that the war going on there was worse than anything in prospect. "Some will find the whole bloodbath debate unreal. What future possibility could be more terrible than the reality of what is happening to Cambodia now?"

Well, Mr. Lewis, the advent of the Khmer Rouge and Pol Pot was infinitely worse than anything that has happened when you wrote those words, and would it not be decent to recall them and say so?

And here are the reflections of a

Lawsuit Rules

NEW YORK (NEA) — Tangled even worse by lawsuits over the Bhopal tragedy, the U.S. legal system could ultimately need help from Congress to ward off gridlock. It may result from a morass of civil damage suits.

Increasingly being criticized is the way in which the law in America handles massive tort actions (non-contract damage suits) that arise from single occurrences, such as the Bhopal disaster, or from widely marketed goods, such as asbestos or the Dalkon Shield.

The Bhopal situation is becoming a textbook example of the legal excesses that can result from a massive tragedy.

Union Carbide became entangled in lawsuits after a gas leak at a Bhopal, India facility killed 2,000 people and injured thousands more.

More than 100 negligence lawyers are engaged in an increasingly bitter squabble over who should represent the victims, how the actions should be handled and how much the lawyers should earn.

This roster includes some of the biggest names in the personal-injury bar — Melvin Bell, F. Lee Bailey, Aaron J. Broder, Stanley Rosenblatt, Jerry S. Cohen, John Coale, Stanley Chesley, David S. Schragar, Gene Locks and Michael Ciresal. No wonder the Bhopal victims' interests seem to have taken a back seat as the lawyers trade charges of unethical conduct, conflicts of interest and unprofessional behavior.

Now the Bhopal litigation is affecting a much bigger debate. For years, corporations have tried to have Congress pass new laws dictating how the courts should handle mass tort actions.

Business lobbyists argue that in such cases, all suits should be combined and liability should be limited. This way, they say, just claims would be paid, but no company would be driven out of business by having to re-try the same basic case many times while facing massive punitive damage awards — money that ends up going not to victims, but to lawyers, who get contingency fees.

The legal profession has always managed to defeat any new legislation.

But the business groups say that Bhopal has given new support to their views. The case may become so bogged down, they say, Congress will step in, and business will finally have its way.

Just after the disaster, for example, dozens of American lawyers flew to India and — with the help of local Indian attorneys — collected thousands of retainer agreements signed by Bhopal victims. Almost all of the retainers contained standard U.S. contingency-fee arrangements, allowing the lawyers to collect anywhere from 25 percent to 33 percent of the damages finally awarded.

The U.S. lawyers have split into three groups. One group, headed by Bell, Cohen and Chesley, claims to represent about 30 lawyers and wants to turn Bhopal into a class-action suit. This would consolidate all of the claims into one suit, one trial and verdict, and one mass award, which would be shared by all victims.

The second group, headed by Bailey and Broder, wants to avoid a trial. This group wants a quick settlement with Carbide and its insurers; and they want to be named as chief bargainers for that settlement.

The third group, headed by Schragar and Locks, takes the traditional view of personal-injury lawyers: Since each victim suffered differently, each case should be considered separately.

It will be many months, perhaps years, before the trial begins.

SCIENCE WORLD

Sculpting The Universe

By Gino Del Guercio

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — Sometime within the next year or two Joe Davis expects to create a painting that will be seen by more people than any art work in the history of the world.

His paint brush will be the space shuttle, his canvas, the ionosphere.

Davis, a wild-eyed Harley Davidson motorcycle enthusiast with a peg-leg, is a professor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's Center for Advanced Visual Studies.

He has given the National Aeronautics and Space Administration a $1,500 down payment to hold a spot on an upcoming shuttle flight. The space agency has said that if he can be ready by June his project could fly in early 1986.

The project, called Ruby Falls, will use a battery-powered electron gun, much like the one found in television sets. When the shuttle's doors open in outer space the gun will fire electrons, which will drift down onto the outer layers of the atmosphere. The electrons will cause the thin gases in the upper atmosphere to give off a whitish green glow just as the gases do in fluorescent lights.

People on Earth's surface will see the artwork as long streaks that flash for less than a second. As the shuttle orbits Earth once every 90 minutes almost anyone who cares to look and is not on a part of Earth where there is bright sunlight will be able to see the lines.

Eric Begleiter, who is working on the project with Davis, predicts the lines will be brighter than a shooting star and dimmer than a fireworks display.

"Projecting into the future you can start thinking about space buses that could dock on this piece of sculpture that is orbiting and all of a sudden it's no longer just sculpture when it's out there because it's like architecture that works from all angles and all sides," said Wunderlich. "So there are all sorts of possibilities, all the definitions change once you orient it to outer space."

When asked if he saw his art as similar to that of Cristo, the artist who constructed a white fence miles long in California and encircled a group of islands in pink plastic in Miami's Biscayne Bay, Davis said, "No, it's more like Evel Knievel."

iman wrote in the May 3, 1975 New Republic that "Hanoi is one of the several among the poorest nations in the world that have tried or will try to create a collectivist society, based on principles that are repugnant to us, yet likely to produce greater welfare and security for its people than any local alternative ever offered, at a cost in freedom that affects a small elite."

Huzzah. Hanoi has imposed an order that has greatly reduced per capita income and GNP, eliminated all opposition, put tens of thousands in concentration camps, started a war on the borders of Thailand, and moved toward the likelihood of losing a war against Thailand and China. Harvard's foreign policy expert, thought to have been a candidate for secretary of state in a Mondale administration, was an entrepreneur of illusion.

Now, fair is fair, and no one possesses a cloudless crystal ball.

Still, as you go over this material you begin to get the idea. "Events in Vienna after the Nazi takeover have been widely regarded as an embarrassment to the moderate elements within the Hitler government. Reports that various elements of the population have been herded onto bus cars remain unconfirmed..."

Staff also said a 35-foot right-of-way will be required on Belle and Brown Avenues and central water will have to be brought to the site for commercial fire flow.

Of the 1.3 acre property owned by H.S. Musselwhite and for which a change in zoning is requested from agriculture to residential professional to convert an existing structure for general office use, the staff said a request for commercial zoning on the same tract was denied by planning and zoning in early March.

While the staff does not oppose this rezoning request, they recommended that the developer be required to construct a six-foot masonry wall along the north, east and south boundaries of the tract to separate it from residential areas. Also urged was the installation of parking, driveway and landscaping.

The type of business recommended at the office is accounting or real estate, both types expected to be low-traffic generators in the residential area. And the printshop, pottery shop, wood sculpture and frame shops now operating at a northern building on the property must be removed, staff said.

Meanwhile, staff is opposing the following requests:

- For a change in zoning from agriculture to high density residential of an 86 acre tract on the east side of Oregon Avenue and south of Bookertown. The developer is asking for the change in zoning to permit construction of 712 apartment units, a density of 12.95 units per acre. Staff noted an attempt in March 1980 to get similar zoning for 23 acres of the parcel was denied. Staff also said this rezoning is not recommended because of the lack of urban services (water and sewer), roads and because the planned development conflicts with planning policies and development trends. Requesting the change is Gene Cherozy of RAG Joint Ventures.

- Eoghan Kelley's request for a change from agriculture to light industrial of 10 acres at the southwest corner of Jewett Lane and Kennel Road near the Sanford city limits. Staff said comprehensive plan policies for this area call for discouraging industrial uses from intruding into established residential areas and for encouraging general rural development in the central portion of the planning area. "Rezoning is not recommended due to conflict with comprehensive plan policies," staff said.

- Robert Siegler's request for a change from agriculture to residential of four acres on the south side of Lake Geneva Road, east of First Street in Geneva to permit construction of two single family homes.

Opposing the request, staff says additional urban zoning is premature in Geneva until urban services become available.

- Matthew T. Brown's request to rezone five acres on the east side of Timocuan Way, near Longwood's Sky Lark subdivision, from agriculture to industrial to provide a site for a warehouse.

Staff says comprehensive plan policies call for limiting industrial development in this area bounded by single family residential and rural residential properties.

- William Wharton's request on behalf of owner, Dennis Bass, to rezone five acres on the east side of C-15A, near Sanford, from agriculture to general commercial and wholesale district to permit construction of a contractors' storage yard.

On this request, staff said additional industrial zoning in this area is premature due to adjacent residential land uses and substandard roads.

- Trustee Bryan Siegler's request for a change from single family residential to industrial for 12 acres, west of Airport Boulevard and north of Jewett Lane.

Staff said rezoning to industrial would conflict with plan policies and would not be compatible with adjacent residential uses.

- A request from Ed Vegara and Jose Gonzalez to rezone 78 acres on the south side of Chapman Road, west of state Road 434 from agriculture to residential in southeast Seminole County. The rezoning would permit construction of 1,600 square foot homes on one-half acre lots.

Staff did not recommend the rezoning because of "the anticipated use of septic tanks on one-half acre lots" and because "the request appears premature until flood information and soil data is submitted."

possession of a firearm in commission of a felony, possession of cocaine, resisting arrest with violence and battery to a law enforcement officer.

The gunplay occurred in a wooded area beside a 7-Eleven store on Eagle Circle, south of Casselberry, the report said.

Agents, according to the report, had met with Rolan and two other suspects at the Shop & Go, state Road 434 at Devon Avenue, Winter Springs, and agreed to follow the suspects to the 7-Eleven where they were to buy cocaine from the suspects.

After arriving at the 7-Eleven, Rolan and another suspect left for several minutes and then returned and approached the agents, who asked if they had the coke, the report said.

Rolan allegedly took a small plastic packet of cocaine from his jacket pocket and told agents the price would be $120, the report said.

Agents identified themselves as lawmen and Rolan ran into the woods, where an agent caught him. The struggle over the agent's gun ensued, the shot was fired and Rolan was subdued and taken back in front of the store where he was handcuffed, the report said.

Also arrested was Evan David Greenblatt, 23, of Red Wing Way, Casselberry. He was charged with conspiracy to sell cocaine and was being held in lieu of $8,000 bond.

A Casselberry boy, age 16 or younger, was also charged with conspiracy to sell cocaine in connection with the case. His bond was set at $8,000 and he was turned over to juvenile authorities, sheriff's Capt. Jay Leman said.

A fourth suspect, Phillip Steven Whitford, 18, of 1609 Sandpiper Trail, Casselberry, was also arrested at the scene, charged with resisting arrest without violence and trespassing after a warning. Agents reported he interfered in the arrests of the others and refused their orders at the scene. He was being held in lieu of $500 bond.

firm with its sewer capacity waiting list, denying other developers the right to more than a first-time allocation of 52,500 gallons of capacity, regardless how big their planned subdivisions are, County Administrator Ken Hooper said he doesn't expect any of them to file suit against the county because of the Meadows' settlement.

Hooper estimated the requests from developers of property in southeast Seminole totals more than 4 million gallons daily, more than the 1.4 million gallons daily capacity expected at the Iron Bridge combined with the 1.3 million gallons daily capacity expected from the hyacinth program. —Donna Estes to enforce the ordinance that does not include skateboard ramps as an allowed auxiliary structure in residential zoning.

At last week's meeting the commission had asked parks board to consider the feasibility of erecting and operating at least one skateboard ramp in a city park and the board voted Monday 5-0 against the idea.

The reason, according to Parks and Recreation Director Bill Goebel, were that none of the skateboard ramp proponents who had said they would serve on a citizens committee to help get the ramp built and in operation were there to give input to the board on availability and cost of insurance, construction cost, or fees to be charged for its use.

The board also felt, Mayor Harvey Smeritson said, that construction of a skateboard ramp in the city park would be catering to a small special interest group and was not worth the time and money for the number of people it would serve. They said it was a "passing fad."

"In my opinion, based on the recommendation of the Parks and Recreation Board, we should not proceed with the skateboard ramp plans," Smeritson said, but should let the judicial system take its course.

Four of those who have large skateboard ramps in their yards have been cited by the code enforcement officer on numerous occasions and are still in violation, Smeritson said. The code enforcement board will now have probable cause hearings and if they rule that there is the cases will come up for a regular hearing. If found in violation ramp owners could be fined $250 a day until the ramps are removed. They also have the right to appeal the ruling to the courts.

Laura Raathaub of 804 Eastgate Trail, Longwood, said "Code Enforcement Officer Edward Rossi does not think the ordinance is strong enough and would not stand up before the code enforcement board so he is not doing anything about enforcing it."

Smeritson said the situation has been taken care of and "it's a good ruling, a good ordinance and will stand up. It's the commission's job to make the laws and his job to enforce them not to decide on their legality."

In other Parks and Recreation matters, Goebel was given the go ahead to purchase a 1974 Ford bus and a 1971 International bus for a total of $4,500 from Y & C Bus and Truck Sales, of Callahan, to be used in the summer recreation program. He said it would take $500-$700 to repair the present 1966 bus if newer buses were not obtained.

Goebel reported that Varsity Courts, Inc. has obtained a certificate of insurance for liability coverage and has started construction on the racquet ball and tennis courts at Reiter Park.

The Parks and Recreation Advisory Board is proposing a survey at local shopping centers to determine the types of recreational facilities the public wants.

Health Director Wants More Money For Needy

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Helping residents who have hit a streak of bad luck and need temporary help in the form of food or medical aid is a considerable part of Seminole County government.

In the 1984-85 year, the county's taxpayers chipped in $1.77 million (out of a total budget of about $95 million) for services to the disadvantaged and those whose hard times are expected to last for only a short time. And in the 1985-86 fiscal year which begins Oct. 1, Dr. Jorge Deju, the county's director of Health and Human Services, is asking for more — $1.91 million.

The additional money will be used to fund X-ray programs, heart monitoring for the medically needy, and additional staff.

The funds this year are being used for a variety of assistance ranging from $18 emergency food vouchers to prenatal care and actual deliveries, immunizations, well baby clinics, investigations of food poisoning, dental clinics and hospital care for the indigent.

The major requirement for most of the services is that the receiving family be considered low-income and bona-fide residents — that is they must have Seminole County addresses. Transients are out of luck.

The value of the assistance provided is more than double what the county puts into the program because county money is matched by both state and federal funds for certain services.

It is estimated the health and human services department receives state and federal funds totaling about $2 million a year for some 64 different services. That doesn't include food stamps and other services provided by the state and federal governments.

Deju said the county provides health and welfare services to more than 3,500 residents annually at a cost of $737,527. In addition, $271,803 is channeled through private community agencies for child care, counseling, mental health and alcohol-drug abuse services to the needy.

These agencies include Community Coordinated Child Care, The Grove Counseling Center for drug abusers, The Lighthouse Youth Ranch for dependent children, and even the Legal Aid Society which helps the legally indigent through money collected from a special $5 filing fee in all civil legal actions. And the Seminole Community Mental Health Center receives $150,000 from the county for helping various types of mental health patients, including those with alcohol problems.

Another $450,000 is spent on nutritious foods provided to low-income, medically needy pregnant women and children under 5 years old under the WIC (women, infants and children) program) funded in large part by the federal government for women and children with special nutrition problems.

Then there's the emergency welfare program for those who need food immediately.

Irene Quintana, county welfare officer, who operates out of the county health department building at 240 Airport Blvd., said food vouchers for $18 per week are offered to a family of four to help them through their emergency until they can sign up for food stamps or receive government surplus food. The families are also given medicines on an emergency basis. The department provides such assistance to more than 360 families a year, she said.

YMCA Day Camp Registration Open

Registration is now open for summer day camp at the Seminole YMCA.

As a service to working parents, an early drop off/late pick up service is offered at 7:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. with no fee for members and $1 per day for non-members. The cost for a two-week session of day camp is $67 for YMCA members, $80 for non-members.

Third World In A Stew Over Eating Frogs Legs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The frog population in Asian rice fields has dropped dramatically because gourmet diners are eating the legs from about 200 million frogs a year, a wildlife expert says.

Just Found and Released For Public Sale

GENUINE UNITED STATES GOV'T. SILVER DOLLARS

ALL COINS UP TO 100 YEARS OLD

26.4% Annual Interest Guaranteed Last 10 Years

UNITED STATES COIN RESERVE

U.S. Coin Reserve, a distributor of Government Currency is officially announcing the release of its famous collection of 3000 high grade U.S. Government Silver Dollars. Due to the market surge and tremendous demand from the American Public the Officers of the U.S. Coin Reserve have been forced to authorize the release of their last current stockpiles of silver dollars. Most of these 50 to 100 year old coins are Brilliant Uncirculated and include many from the Carson City Mint. Since this collection must be sold out completely in only one week we are offering these coins for $50.10 less than a major national advertiser! Only $38.90 each! Orders received later may not be honored due to volatile fluctuations in the precious metals market, and checks may be returned uncashed.

NO LOSE INVESTMENT

American citizens from all walks of life including Bankers, Lawyers, Doctors, Stockbrokers, Collectors and Investors are searching frantically for what is considered by experts the world over to be a No Lose Investment. Once thought to be plentiful 50 years ago investors are now scrambling to get their hands on the nearly impossible to find Gem United States Government Silver Dollars. Well known brokers such as Salomon Brothers have published reports stating that for the last 10 years, rare coins have outperformed all other investments, tangible as well as financial. Silver dollars alone have had an annual appreciation rate of 26.4% despite fluctuations in the price of silver! It is a proven fact that smart investors, for the last 10 years, have been secretly hoarding these coins. They are sitting on a silver mine which they will not sell and already have at least 1000% overall appreciation! This is just the "Tip of the Iceberg" in terms of what is to come, for example the 1891 O is now worth $45 and is projected by experts in only 10 years to be worth approximately $1000! Even more startling is the fact that only 10 years ago this coin could be bought for $7-$10! This is a proven fact and documented in records of American History.

CONGRESS MELTDOWNS CREATE SHORTAGE

These beautiful pieces of American History were created by the millions at the United States Mint over a century ago. Although when one studies U.S. History it becomes obvious why these treasured relics are so rare today. In 1918 during WWI, Congress authorized the melting down of (350,000,000 $350 million) silver dollars, after this regrettable event the value and scarcity of these coins increased dramatically. Also in 1980 when silver exploded to $50.00 per ounce, the private sector melted down millions more U.S. silver dollars leaving a decimated and widely scattered supply. Our staff of experts at the U.S. Coin Reserve has estimated that only 1% of the original mintage of unrecirculated coins still exist. Most of these are not for sale but are being held by large investors until they are worth at least $1000 each. Remember that this treasured, historical silver represents some of this great nation's most illustrious periods in history, the frontier of The Wild West including the silver mines of Carson City, Nevada, Jesse James and rough stage coach travel, Henry Ford and the newfangled Model T and lastly the Roaring 20's and the beginning of American Jazz Music. This is a once in a lifetime opportunity to invest in a piece of this country's most valuable resource, the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT HISTORICAL SILVER DOLLARS.

LAST KNOWN GOVT SILVER RELEASED

Through our national coin networks the U.S. Coin Reserve, a division of Verret Enterprises, a private corporation, has taken a major audit of the silver dollar supply of the entire United States. The results indicate that this famous hoard of 3000 Gems is the last known public collection of its size and quality available. NO other comparable collection is for sale anywhere in the United States. Also consider the fact that investments such as oil, diamonds, gold or silver bullion, represent commodities of unlimited supply. Through modern mining techniques the supply of these commodities never really runs out, but the highly collectible Government Silver Dollars have a LIMITED, FINITE and ever DECREASING supply.

Blake Nurtures Girls Toward State Title

By Rob Laria
Special to the Herald
There's no wonder why Seminole girls track is on the brink of joining the state's elite. It has been built from the ground up, nurtured delicately and given the right ingredients.

It has weathered stormy times, mishaps and lopsided defeats, but that is in the past. Guided by preacher/father/coach Emory Blake, Seminole swept to the Class 4A-9 District Championships last Friday night and has emerged as a top contender for the state crown.

What a difference time and patience make. After helping out as an assistant for the boys' team, Blake took over a floundering girls' program in 1977. Talented athletes were difficult to come by in those days, not to mention victories. Blake, however, planted roots. He had a plan and didn't let the first-year setbacks deter him.

Then along came Alice Bennett, a marvelous athlete, a winner Blake remembers her impact.

"Basically it's setting up a program that would draw young kids," he says. "We all love winners. Once you get one or two kids who win, it gets the program going. Alice Bennett did that for us."

Track/Field

Bennett moved on to Florida State, becoming the first athlete under Blake to receive a scholarship. Others followed. Estelle Hayes, Tony Hardy, Jackie Johnson, Sharon Jenkins, Crystal Caldwell. "Nothing comes easy. We had to go to a lot of meets and take our lumps," Blake recalls.

The girls won their first district title for Blake in 1979 and have enjoyed measurable success since but never as much as they are presently. Last year, for example, they won the district, flushed third in the regional but only tied for 11th in the state.

Expectations are higher this year. Depth and versatility are the chief reasons. "The girls that we had in the past, they had to basically carry a whole lot of weight," Blake suggests. "Now we have sprinters, middle-distance personnel, and field performers. We've just developed the program all around."

With only two seniors, Trina Walker and Glenda Bass, the team also has plenty of youth. Heading the list is almost certainly the state's finest freshman Shownda Martin, who Blake dubs a million-dollar kid. Martin, 14, already owns the state record for the 880-yard run (2:12.7), plus school marks in the 440, mile and two mile. "Shownda's one of those decade athletes," he says. "We hear about them, the Tim Raines, the Evelyn Ashfords, the great Evelyn Ashfords, the great Evelyn Ashfords." See BLAKE, Page 9A

'Cats Upend Lyman

By Sam Cook

For a team that had pulled together all year in order to win, it is probably understandable that when it loses everybody would pull apart. That's what happened to the Lyman Greyhounds Tuesday night against Winter Park.

Coach Bob McCullough's Greyhounds committed three costly baserunning errors, one unfortunate fielding lapse and for one of the few times all year couldn't come up with the clutch hit while dropping an exciting 6-5 Region 4A-5 Baseball Tournament championship game to Winter Park Tuesday before 600 fans at Lyman High School.

Winter Park, 25-10, is one game from the state tournament. The Wildcats of coach Bob King, frustrated by Apopka in the region last year, will host Lake Worth Friday at Colonial High School for the sectional championship. Friday's winner will join three other teams at the state tournament.

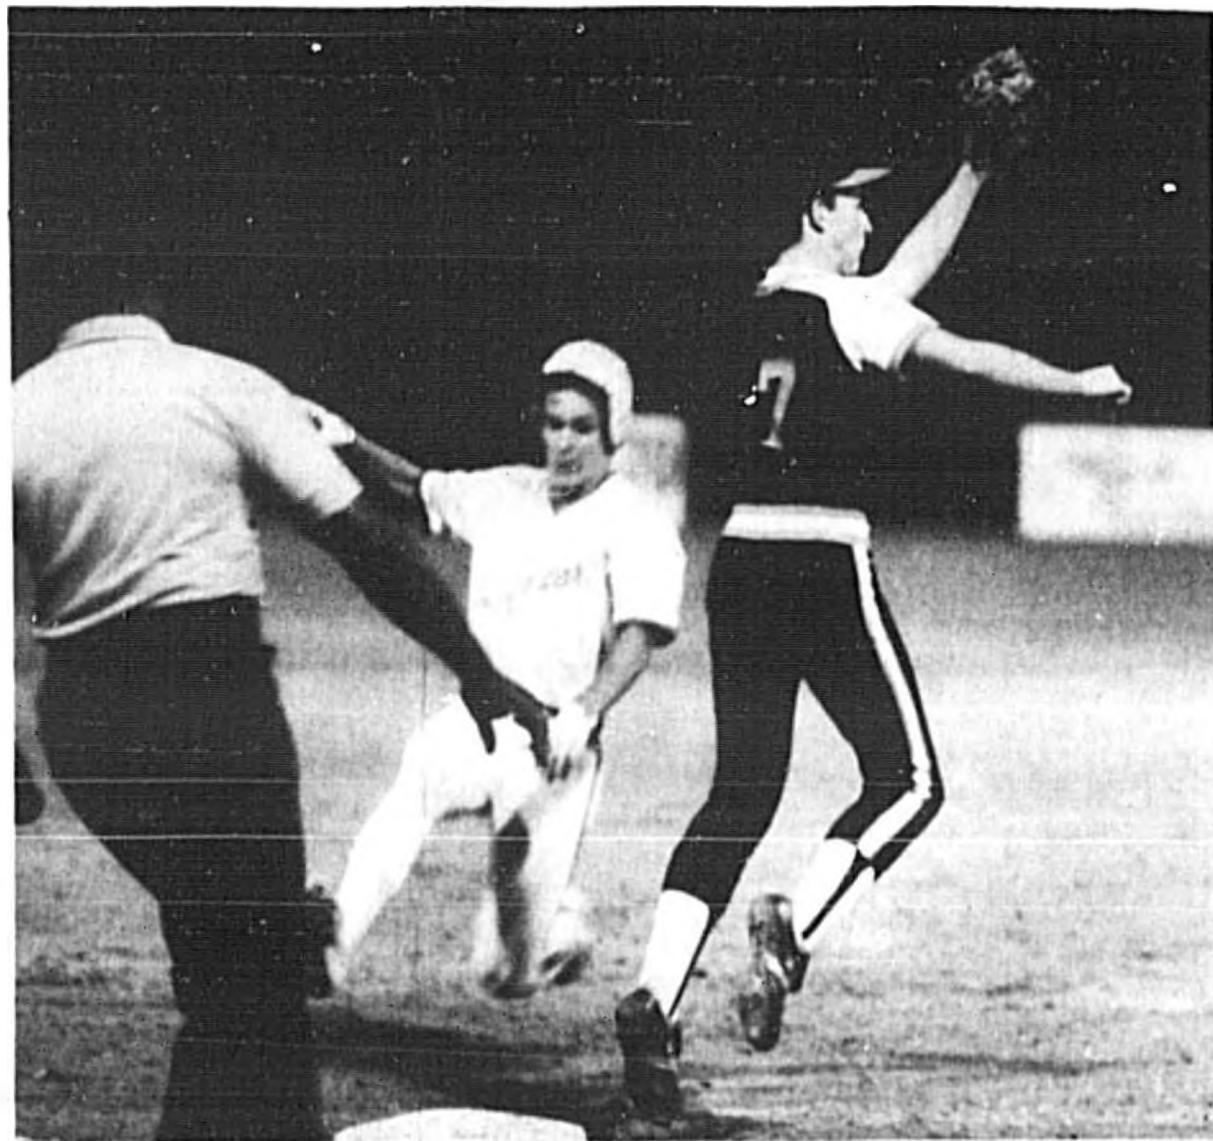

Lyman, which finished 26-6, will have the rest of the year to ponder its missed opportunities. "We certainly had our chances," lamented McCullough. "But we can't be too disappointed. We had an excellent year."

Lyman took a 1-0 lead in the second when Paul Alegre, who was playing heavily bandaged because of a hip pointer, socked a double over the center fielder's head. Clint Baker's groundout to the right side moved him to third from where he scored on a single to right field by Chris Brock.

Winter Park got to Lyman starter Derek Livernois in the third. Livernois, who had been nearly untouchable in the district title win over Lake Mary, had trouble harnessing his curveball Tuesday and Winter Park took advantage in the third.

Chris Crane, the No. 8 hitter, started the frame with a inside-out double down the left field line. Jeff Scarlett fanned when he fouled a third strike on a bunt attempt but Rich Esposito moved him to third with a groundout.

the game. Livernois, who struck out six and walked five, walked Mark Wagenhauser. Duane Madill followed with a bloop single to right field to give Winter Park a lead it never lost.

Lyman, which had the leadoff hitter aboard every inning but the seventh, bated an opportunity in the fourth. Livernois walked, moved to second on a wild pitch when Alegre struck out and third on a passed ball. Baker followed with a hard one-hopper which third baseman Brant Fleming speared and threw out Livernois at the plate.

In the fifth, Jim Odom walked and two outs later moved to second on a ground out. Kyle Brubaker then slapped a ball down the third base line. Fleming knocked the ball down near the line but didn't have a play on the speedy Brubaker. Odom, though, tried to advance to third and was an easy out.

Winter Park had taken a 4-1 lead in the top of the fifth when Esposito socked a one-out homer which bounced off the track beyond the left center field fence.

"It was a curveball," said Esposito about his sixth homer. "That's all I've been seeing this year. I just reached out and got it."

Aiello followed with his second hit and when Livernois walked Wagenhauser, the Wildcats were ready to strike again. Madill lined out to center but when Livernois fell behind Bill Lee, 2-0, he came with a fastball and Lee slapped it up the middle for the RBI and a 4-1 edge.

Winter Park added two more in the sixth for a 6-1 lead. With one out, Crane singled to left and Scarlett walked. Esposito hit a ground ball to third baseman Brock who tagged Crane for the second out. Livernois then walked Aiello to load the bases.

The Lyman senior then jammed Wagenhauser and the Wildcat first baseman hit a squibber toward second baseman Mickey Helms. Helms, who turned a nifty double play in the first inning, watched as the ball hopped over his glove for an error allowing two runs to score.

"I don't know what happened," said Helms, a freshman. "Brubaker said it hit the runner's foot but I couldn't really tell because the runner went into front of me."

Down, 6-1, however, Lyman finally got it together. Two walks to Mike Henley and Livernois caused the departure of starter and winner Randy Snodgrass. He allowed just two hits, fanned two and walked five before leaving with no out in the sixth.

When reliever Kevin Merk walked Alegre, Baker, who swung a hot bat in the district tournament, came up with the bats loaded. The switch-hitting senior smashed a double over the right fielder's head which chased home two runs to cut the lead to 6-3.

With runners at second and third, Brock followed with a base hit to left. Alegre scored but Baker had to hold at third. Brock, however, tried to slip into second and Brant gunned him down for the first out and erased the tying run from the basepaths.

"I think I could have made it if I hadn't hesitated," said Brock, a freshman. "I didn't expect them to cut it off."

Odom then grounded weakly to the mound for the second. With pinch-hitter Craig Meyer at bat, Merk uncorked a wild pitch which scored Baker to trim the deficit to one run, 6-5. Meyer then struck out.

The Greyhounds had one more shot in the seventh. After

Lady Lions Win Region

By Chris Fister

BROOKSVILLE — As far as Seminole County teams in the past were concerned, the best thing to come out of the city of Brooksville was Highway 50.

A determined young group of Lady Lions from Oviedo High changed all that Tuesday as they invaded the sleepy little town and gunned down the defending 3A state champions.

Behind the ferocious hitting of Mikki Eby and a number of stellar defensive plays, the Lady Lions dominated Brooksville Hernando High's Lady Leopards, 6-1, and claimed the 3A-4 Region Championship before 400 fans at Tom Varn Park.

Oviedo now advances to the 3A-2 Section Championship Friday afternoon at Crystal River. Game time is 5 p.m. Crystal River advanced by defeating Live Oak Suwannee in the Region 3 playoff.

"This is so exciting," Oviedo coach Jackie Miller said after winning her first region title. "The girls were really hitting tonight and came through with some great defensive plays."

Going into Tuesday's game, the top-ranked Lady Leopards were the favorites as they carried in a 22-1 record after winning the 1984 state title with a 28-2 mark. But Oviedo came to play Tuesday and outplayed Hernando in every aspect of the game from start to finish.

"We were very scared — but confident," senior outfielder Fran Foster said. "We played tough, we were really hot. It was probably our best game of the year."

The victory improved the Lady Lions to 18-7. Oviedo has won 11 straight games since the Lady Hawk Tournament and is just one more win away from the state playoffs.

Neither team threatened in the first inning Tuesday as Foster's two-out single was the only hit in the frame for either squad.

The scoreless tie didn't last long though as Eby stunned the Lady Leopards when she led off the top of the second with a home run. Eby smashed a hard liner that fooled the right centerfielder, Michelle Roberts, who had taken a step in and got burned by the sophomore slugger.

With two outs in the inning, Barbara Malone beat out an infield single and Debbie Cole followed with a single to left. When Cole's hit eluded the left fielder, Malone went to third. Malone then scored when Teri Coe reached on an error for a 2-0 Oviedo lead.

Hernando had its biggest threat in the bottom of the second, but a fine defensive play by pitcher Jodie Switzer turned the Lady Leopards away. With one out, Michelle Talent reached on a two-base error and Linda Harrison followed with a single. Harrison moved up to second on the play so Adrian Platt was intentionally walked to load the bases with one out.

Roberts then stepped up for Hernando and rilled a shot back at Switzer who gloved it and threw to shortstop Caroline Chavis to double Harrison off second, ending the inning.

Oviedo took complete control with three runs in the top of the third. Consecutive singles by Jessica Bradley, Foster (who was 3 for 4 for the game) and Chavis loaded the bases with no outs. Eby followed by hitting a shot to deep right field that was just foul.

The possible grand slam may have just missed but Eby's turn at bat was far from over. On the next pitch, she slapped a sinking liner to left that Marcy Lee tried to make a do-or-die catch on.

The ball hit the ground before Lee could get to it and all three runners scored. Eby was caught at third on a close call ("I was so safe," she said later) but her three-run double gave the Lady Lions a 5-0 lead.

The Leopards got a runner on with two out in the bottom of the third but an excellent lunging catch by Bradley, Oviedo's sophomore second baseman, on a hard liner off the bat of Colene Nelson put an end to the uprising.

A pair of two-out singles by Coe and Cathy Bergman gave Oviedo runners on first and second in the fourth but Bradley lined out to end the inning.

The best defensive play of the game came in the bottom of the fourth with two outs when Talent slammed one down the right field line. Malone came out of nowhere and made a nice running catch to end the inning.

Oviedo added one more run in the fifth for a 6-0 lead. With two outs, Eby reached on an error as did Switzer. Dee Dee Beasley then socked a single to right to drive in Eby.

Tennis-Playing Eskimo Turns Cold Shoulder To U.S. Riches

You are not going to believe this story. I did not believe it and I saw it with my very own eyes. I even was privileged enough to be able to participate in its unfolding.

It's awesome and unprecedented. I've been involved in athletics for 35 and I have never come across anything like this. It all happened in March of 1982. I have only recently been given permission to write about it. Indeed, even talk about it.

No one knew about it except most of the wives of these coaches. They only knew about it because most men tell their wives everything... don't they?

Anyway one March morning about three years ago I received a call from the resident of the world tennis federation. He asked me if I would be willing to serve on a committee of coaches from around the world to evaluate new rules and procedures that would govern tennis and tennis play in years to come.

The committee would be made up of college and university coaches from the U.S., and Davis Cup coaches from other countries. They would pay all expenses and make all the arrangements. Well, of course, I was honored and said that I would be more than happy to serve on the committee.

Well, I flew to New York in late March and was met at the airport by officials from the world tennis federation. I felt some strange vibes as I met and talked with these men. They seemed so tense and everything they did and said was shrouded in mystery.

I fetched my bags and we got into a limo and off we went toward the hotel where we would be staying. I really did not know what to expect because even though I was asking lots of questions, these men did not seem to have any answers or simply would not share any information with me.

We got to the hotel and before I even had time to register I was taken to a large meeting room. Everything was still very secretive, very hushed. When I was walking down the long hallway toward this room, I felt as if I might be walking my last mile. I guessed that the IRS was on to me, or maybe some Mafia family was going to force me to "fix" tennis matches.

When we entered the room I felt a lot better. Already there were coaches I knew from the U.S. and many tennis greats that I had idolized all my tennis life. Rod Laver was there. Ken Rosewall, and even Arthur Ashe.

No one knew exactly what was going on. We all sort of chatted had eyes as sharp as could be.

He had played chasing and fleeing games all his life with the animals in his land, and developed uncanny reflexes when it came to catching and throwing. When he was 14 years old his father taught him a game they could play using hard packed snowballs and snowshoes.

It seems they would fashion a sort of tennis court on one of their frozen lakes and hurl the ball back and forth, catching it on the snowshoe until one missed, thus earning a point for the other.

They both were very good at this, especially Knute. He hardly ever missed and, in fact, learned to do all sorts of tricks with the

Chief's Crown Is Derby Favorite, Everybody Has Legitimate Shot

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — "If the speed rolls," trainer Mike Whittingham says of Saturday's Kentucky Derby, "everybody has a chance."

And by "everybody," Whittingham means everybody — as in every horse in the field.

Exaggeration? Not really.

Though 1984 juvenile champion Chief's Crown no doubt will be the solid favorite, a half dozen or so probable starters have legitimate credentials to win the 111th Run for the Roses.

All but a couple of the anticipated field of 13 to 15 could still be alive at the quarter pole if the speedsters of the race — Garden State winner Spend A Buck and Wood Memorial champion Eternal Prince — run the first half mile briskly; under 48 seconds.

History has shown a fast start usually slows enough over the final three-quarters of a mile to allow the stretch runners of the race — Florida Derby winner Proud Truth, Lexington Stakes winner Stephan's Odyssey, Derby Trial champion Creme Fraiche and longshots Irish Fighter and Ave's Brother — to challenge.

If Spend A Buck and Eternal Prince lock up early in a speed duel and run one of the blistering first halves they've clocked in earlier races, they'll likely run themselves out of the race. Eternal Prince once timed in at 44.3-5.

"If they go out together like that, no way," says Charlie Rose, assistant trainer of Proud Truth. "They won't hold on like that. Not those two. Not any two."

Poll: Evert Lloyd Is The Best

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Tennis star Chris Evert Lloyd is "The Greatest American Woman Athlete of the Last 25 Years," according to a national poll conducted by the Women's Sports Foundation.

Lloyd, 30, received the honor Monday night after being named on 32 percent of the nearly 325,000 ballots.

Finishing second and third were two other tennis stars — Martina Navratilova, who got 17 percent, and Billie Jean King, who Lloyd said would have received her vote.

Track stars Wilma Rudolph and Mary Decker Slaney finished fourth and fifth.

Lloyd, who has won a record 135 tournaments, has won the U.S. Open six times and taken three Wimbledon titles.

Lloyd, who was joined by her husband, British tennis pro John Lloyd, and parents at the awards ceremony, accepted a silver trophy and joined in a champagne toast, which she admitted was "not part of the training regimen."

"I feel very, very fortunate to have won this award," she said, "especially when I look at the other four athletes who are finalists and I see what they have accomplished and what they have contributed to sports."

Drivers See Record Qualifying

TALLADEGA, Ala. (UPI) — NASCAR drivers aren't sure exactly what effect a new rule change will have on Sunday's Winston 500, but they don't believe it will stop the Ford Thunderbirds from setting a new qualifying speed record.

The new NASCAR directive has ordered the Fords raised one-half inch to try to tighten competition, but drivers gang at the Alabama International Motor Speedway Tuesday said it probably wouldn't slow the pace of the two prominent Thunderbird drivers — Bill Elliott and Cale Yarborough.

Elliott set a new NASCAR speed record with a 205.114 mph at the Daytona 500 in February. Several drivers predicted that mark would be broken when qualifying gets underway at the 2.66-mile Talladega superspeedway Thursday.

Shuler's Homers Pace Optimists

Katrina Shuler unloaded two home runs and a triple as Optimist opened the 1985 Sanford Recreation League softball season with a 12-4 rout of Kiwanis Tuesday at Fort Mellon Field.

Shuler was 3 for 3 in the game, scored four runs and drove in four to pace the 13-hit Optimist attack. Tonja Mitchell added two hits.

Kiwanis had five hits in the game off winning pitcher Shuler, one each by Tera Pringle, Patricia Powell, Michelle Knudt, Kiki Riggins and Debra White.

Taylor Hurls 2nd 1-Hitter

Derrick Taylor fired his second one-hitter of the season Tuesday to lead Sun Bank to a 9-1 victory over Adeock Roofing in a battle between the two top teams in the Sanford Little American League at Fort Mellon Park.

Sun Bank ran its record to 7-0 with the win while Adeock Roofing fell one and a half games back with a 6-2 mark.

Sun Bank scored twice in the top of the first then put the win in the vault with six more in the second. Both of the runs in the first came on bases-loaded walks while Lorenzo Polk's RBI double and singles by Tomi Duncan and Taylor led the way in the second.

Sun Bank scored twice in the top of the first then put the win in the vault with six more in the second. Both of the runs in the first came on bases-loaded walks while Lorenzo Polk's RBI double and singles by Tomi Duncan and Taylor led the way in the second.

Tony Chavers' RBI triple in the bottom of the third was the lone hit for Adeock Roofing. Taylor struck out 14 and hit one batter. He struck out the side four times.

Chavers went the distance on the mound for Adeock, allowing just four hits, striking and eight. But Chavers wasn't as sharp as he usually is as he walked 11.

In Little National League action Monday at Westside Field, Larry Bradley's single in the bottom of the sixth inning capped a tremendous comeback that gave Seminole Ford its first win of the season, 18-17, over Atlantic Bank.

Going into the bottom of the sixth, Atlantic Bank had a 17-9 lead but Seminole Ford refused to die and came back with nine runs in the bottom of the inning.

Derrick Taylor pitched Sun Bank past Adeock Roofing Tuesday night with a one-hitter.

Chris Shade and Derrick Innman smacked back-to-back home runs to start off the inning, immediately cutting the lead to 17-11. Bradley then singled but Atlantic Bank retired the next two hitters and looked like it would salvage the victory.

But Tim Jones kept the rally going as he swatted a two-run homer that cut Atlantic Bank's lead to 17-13. Thad Lawson then singled, Ruben Lopez walked and David Bolt followed with a single to drive in Lawson. Shade then hit a hard grounder toward first, but the ball went through the first baseman allowing Lopez, Bolt and Shade to ramble home, tying the score at 17-17.

Innman then coaxed a walk, moved up on a pair of wild pitches and scored when Bradley singled.

Black Hawks Advance, 6-5

United Press International

When Chicago captain Darryl Sutter saw the play develop, he knew what teammate Tom Lysiak would do. More importantly, he knew what he himself had to do.

Sutter scored at 15:41 of overtime Tuesday night to lift the Black Hawks into the Stanley Cup semifinals with a 6-5 victory over the Minnesota North Stars.

"When I saw Lysiak head into the zone I knew what he would do," said Sutter. "So I just waited for the pass and used (Minnesota defenseman Harold Snepets as a screen."

Sutter's goal settled the best-of-seven Norris Division final in six games and sent the Black Hawks against the Stanley Cup champion Edmonton Oilers for the Campbell Conference title and a berth in the finals.

It was the third consecutive overtime game of the series, which ended as the highest-scoring playoff series in Stanley Cup history.

"Out of the six games, we outplayed them in five," Minnesota general manager Lou Nanne lamented.

In the other game, Montreal beat Quebec 5-2.

At Inglewood, Calif., Byron Scott led an overpowering running game, scoring 31 points, to lift Los Angeles. The Lakers have a 2-0 lead in the Western Conference semifinal series. The best-of-seven series shifts to Portland for the next two games. Game 3 is Friday night at Portland.

Nuggets 130, Jazz 113

At Denver, Lalayette Lever struck for 19 points, 18 assists and 16 rebounds to lead Denver in the first game of their quarterfinal playoff series. Game 2 is Thursday night at Denver.

ball. He could go behind his back or between his legs — he could put so much spin on it that it would take crazy bounces. His footwork was astonishing, even on the ice he never slipped.

He was discovered on day playing his game by an American trapper who had once played a lot of tennis. The trapper asked him if he had ever heard of tennis. Of course, he had not. So the game and his potential to play the game was explained to him.

The rest is history...Knute was persuaded to come to New York for a demonstration, to see how good he really was. You won't believe what we saw.

We were taken to Rockefeller Center where a portable tennis court was laid over the ice (Knute would not play without the cold, frigid atmosphere). The world tennis federation had given Connors, Lendl and McEnroe $100,000 each to come and play one set each against Knute. They, of course, thought it was funny but gladly accepted the money.

Out came Knute. He wore his fur jacket, fur-lined boots and leather and fur pants. He had his pet seal by his side to act as a sort of ball boy. In his hand he had a snow shoe (it was about the size of a Prince pro).

In the first set he beat Connors, 6-0, in about eight minutes. In fact, Connors could not get even one of his serves back. In the second set he beat Lendl, 6-0, in 14 minutes, twice hitting balls between his legs for winners and in the third set he beat McEnroe, 6-0, in 21 minutes, hitting several balls with so much spin that the ball actually bounced back over the net. Everyone was awestruck. We were asked to evaluate and vote on what we thought of this situation and what would be Knute's future. We voted to let him play on the tour as long as he used a conventional racket and did not bring his pet seal on the court.

Knute, however, would not agree to these conditions so he went back to the cold north country where he said he is happiest anyway.

This story has been kept a secret until just recently when we all were sent written permission to divulge it. You readers are some of the first to know about Knute Skabo.

Now if any of you out there believe this story please give me a call. I have some beach front property in Kansas I'd like to sell you.

Exposito nipped Billy Henley by a step at first for out number one. Brubaker fought off several 3-2 pitches for a walk.

McCullough then ordered a bunt and Mike Henley pushed the ball back to the pitcher who wheeled and forced Brubaker at second base for the second out.

"We were worried about tying the game before winning it," said McCullough. "I wanted to get that runner in scoring position for my No. 3 (Livermois) and No. 4 (Alegre) hitters."

Livermois, nevertheless, kept the Greyhounds alive when he singled up the middle to move Henley to second. This brought up Alegre, a .415 hitter who thrives on clutch situations.

"We were just praying at that point," said King about the left-handed hitting senior. "We know that kid is a great hitter."

Alegre worked the count to 3-2 and then fouled off the payoff pitch. Merk fired again and Alegre sent a deep drive to right center. But it wasn't deep enough. Atello ran the ball, made the grab and punctuated the catch by thrusting his fist in the air.

"We got the breaks," said King. "Our defense played a great game. Snodgrass did a great job on the mound and Merk came on to save it. I didn't know whether to go with him or not against Alegre."

"But he said he was all right. You usually don't listen to a kid when he tells you that, but I did this time and Merk got out of it. This is a tremendous feeling."

Hernando loaded the bases with two out in the bottom of the fifth but couldn't push across a run as Wanda Griffin flew out to Eby in left for the third out.

Another bright spot for the Lady Lions came in the top of the sixth when senior Candy Williams stroked a pinch-hit single. Williams had missed most of the season with a broken hand.

The Lady Leopards finally got on the board in the bottom of the sixth but a defensive gem by Eby held them to just one run. Nelson led off the frame with a single to get the rally started. Lee then hit a long fly ball in foul territory but Eby caught up to it and made a sliding catch near the fence for the first out.

Tomika Donaldson then roped a double down the left field line to drive in Nelson but the rally ended there as Talent flew out to right and Harrison flew out to Foster in left center.

Hernando got a lead off single in the bottom of the seventh but that was all the Lady Leopards got as Roberts lined out to Chavis. Dawn Edwards skied to Foster and Sarah Huckaby flew out to Cole for the final out.

Oviedo ended up with 13 hits for the game compared to seven for the Lady Leopards. The Lady Lions made just two errors while Hernando committed four. Switzer, a freshman, also turned in an outstanding performance on the mound. The one walk she gave up was intentional and she also struck out one.

"She pitched a good ballgame," Hernando coach Tom Varn Sr. said of Switzer. "We're not used to that high arch."

Andujar, Koosman Settle Old Scores

United Press International

Joaquin Andujar and Jerry Koosman finally settled some old scores.

Andujar beat the Los Angeles Dodgers for the first time in eight seasons by tossing a seven-hitter and leading the St. Louis Cardinals to a 6-1 triumph Tuesday night, while Koosman defeated the Montreal Expos for the first time in seven years by pitching the Philadelphia Phillies to an 11-0 triumph.

Andujar, 40, last defeated the Dodgers on July 14, 1977, when he earned a 4-3 victory as a member of the Houston Astros. He had lost his last nine decisions to the Dodgers, four as a Cardinal.

Koosman, the oldest pitcher in baseball at 42, survived a rocky first inning then settled down to pitch his 33rd career shutout. Koosman, who had not beaten the Expos since April 7, 1978, scattered 11 singles and walked only one while raising his record to 1-1.

"My last two outings had caused me to lose some confidence," said Koosman, who was shelled in the first inning of his last two starts. "You can expect a bad game every two or three years, but when the second game in a row came, it hurt my confidence."

Braves 8, Reds 4

At Cincinnati, Dale Murphy's two-run double sparked a five-run seventh that carried the Braves to victory. Murphy's two runs batted in boosted his April total to 29 in 49 games and tied the major-league record set by Ron Cey, then with the Los Angeles Dodgers in April 1977. Reds player-manager Pete Rose went 2 for 4 and needs 80 hits to break Ty Cobb's all-time record of 4,191.

Cubs 3, Giants 1

At Chicago, Ryne Sandberg hit a run-scoring double in the third inning, then scored on an error by pitcher Bill Laskay to spark the Cubs. Steve Trout, 4-1, scattered nine hits and walked two over 6 2/3 innings for the victory, with Lee Smith tossing the last 2 1/3 innings for his fifth save.

Pirates 6, Padres 2

At Pittsburgh, Jason Thompson smashed a two-run homer and Rick Rhoden notched his first victory of the season to lead the Pirates. Rhoden, 1-3, pitched five innings and allowed eight hits. Al Holland got his second save. LaMarr Hoyt, 2-2, took the loss.

Mets 4, Astros 1

At New York, Dwight Gooden pitched a four-hitter in leading the Mets. Gooden, 3-1, struck out eight and walked two in pitching his second complete game of the season. The only run he allowed was a first-inning two-out homer to Denny Walling. Joe Niekro, 1-3, took the loss.

LAMP, ACKER BOOST BLUE JAYS

After spending the off-season acquiring bullpen help, the Toronto Blue Jays are receiving a boost from people they had all along.

Dennis Lamp, a failure as a short man in 1984, ran his record to 2-0, while Jim Aker recorded his third save to give the Blue Jays a 4-3 victory Tuesday night over the Oakland A's.

Rangers 8, Yankees 4

At Arlington, Texas, a two-run double by Cliff Johnson highlighted a five-run first that carried Texas and extended New York's losing streak to five games. It was the biggest inning of the year for Texas with all the runs scoring after two were out. It came off Phil Niekro, 3-2.

Twins 11, Tigers 2

At Detroit, Gary Gaetti drove in four runs in a 10-run fourth inning with a single and a double, and Tim Lincecum hit a three-run homer in the same frame to spark the Twins to their ninth straight triumph. The 10-run fourth was the biggest inning against Detroit since Sept. 2, 1959.

Orioles 9, White Sox 7

At Baltimore, Gary Roenicke belted a two-run homer and Rich Dauer drove in three runs to pace a 12-hit attack that sparked the Orioles. Roenicke ignited a five-run fourth off Floyd Baumister, 0-3, with his third homer. Mike Boddicker raised his record to 3-1. Sammy Stewart recorded his fourth save.

Royals 5, Indians 1

At Kansas City, Steve Balboni belted his second career grand slam to cap a five-run third that lifted Bret Saberhagen and the Royals. Balboni's fifth homer of the season was the only hit of the inning as Cleveland starter Jose Roman walked four Royals before the 400-foot blast.

Mariners 4, Brewers 2

At Seattle, left-hander Mark Langston, 3-2, worked seven innings and Alvin Davis smashed his first homer of the season, hitting the Mariners. The loss was Milwaukee's fifth straight while Seattle won its second in a row after ending an eight-game losing streak Monday night.

In a late game on the West Coast, Boston and California were in extra innings. In one late game, California outlasted Boston, 3-2, in 15 innings.

Bucs Project Holmes To Start Immediately

TAMPA (UPI) — The Tampa Bay Buccaneers opened the 1985 season Tuesday by signing up the top-rated athlete remaining on their evaluation chart and drafting Washington defensive end Don Holmes with the eighth pick in the first round.

The 6-foot-4, 275-pound Holmes is projected as an immediate starter at left defensive end for a mid-level unit which ranked 29th in the 28-team NFL. The Buccaneers registered just 12 sacks in 1984 while yielding a club record 471 yards.

It came down to a choice between Ohio and University of Miami wide receiver Eddie Brown and wide receiver Eddie Brown and wide receiver Eddie Brown and wide receiver Eddie Brown. Holmes is projected as an immediate starter at left defensive end for a mid-level unit which ranked 29th in the 28-team NFL. The Buccaneers registered just 12 sacks in 1984 while yielding a club record 471 yards.

Pro Football

Berrett said Buccaneers' tail end scouts had Brown rated slightly higher than Holmes, who had 117 tackles, four forced fumbles and eight pass deflections as a senior.

"I've always preferred the philosophy of taking the best available athlete... if there's a big dropoff with the next guy, Berrett said. In this case, it was just a matter of a fraction so we went with Don Holmes' best attribute as an immediate quickness. We had Virginia Tech's Bruce Smith rated as the best player in the country and we feel Holmes has the same quickness.

Holmes, 21, finished with 49 sacks and 270 tackles in his four-year career with the Huskers. Finishing second as a senior to Southern Cal linebacker Duane Bickett as the Pac-10's Defensive Player of the Year.

Trenches Outdraw Spotlight

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tuesday's NFL draft was one where you couldn't tell the players without a scorecard. Or at least a scouting service's computerized printout.

The men in the trenches far outnumbered the men in the spotlight Tuesday. Cases in point:

The draft set a record by opening with nine straight linemen and linebackers.

No quarterback was selected until the 37th pick.

Specialists outnumbered quarterbacks through the first five rounds.

The biggest name in the draft lasted until the fifth round, running back Herschel Walker, drafted on the 114th selection by the Dallas Cowboys, although he is under contract to the NFL's New Jersey Generals through 1989.

Led by the top two picks, defensive end Bruce Smith and offensive tackle Bill Fralic, there were six offensive and six defensive linemen taken in the first round. Five more linebackers were first-round selections, as linemen and linebackers made up the first nine picks.

The first wide receiver selected was Al Toon of Wisconsin, taken 10th by the New York Jets. Ethan Horton of North Carolina was the first running back chosen and he lasted until Kansas City drafted him 15th.

There were no quarterbacks picked until Philadelphia took Randall Cunningham of Nevada Las Vegas in the ninth spot of the second round.

Perhaps the biggest trade of the day came in the middle of the ninth round when the Buffalo Bills sent veteran quarterback Joe Ferguson to the Detroit Lions for a 1986 draft choice. The draft was reminiscent of 1968 when the first eight picks were linemen and linebackers until Miami selected running back Larry Csonka of Syracuse.

Other defensive linemen selected in the first round were Ray Childress of Texas A&M (third by Houston), Ron Holmes of Washington (eighth by Tampa Bay), Kevin Brooks of Michigan (17th by Dallas), Darryl Sims of Wisconsin (20th by Pittsburgh) and William Perry of Clemson (22nd by Chicago).

Offensive linemen following Fralic in the first round were tackle Tomasz Brown of Florida (sixth by Detroit), tackle Ken Ruchters of Southern Cal (seventh by Green Bay), tackle Kevin Allen of Indiana (ninth by Philadelphia), guard Jim Lachey of Ohio State (12th by San Diego) and center Trevor Matich of Brigham Young (28th by New England).

First-round linebackers were Chris Doleman of Pitt (fourth by Minnesota), Duane Bickett of Southern Cal (fifth by Indianapolis), Freddie Joe Nunn of Mississippi (18th by St. Louis), Alvin Toles of Tennessee (24th by New Orleans) and Emanuel King of Alabama (25th by Cincinnati).

Along with Toon, wide receivers Eddie Brown of Miami (13th by Cincinnati) and Jerry Rice of Mississippi Valley (16th by San Francisco) went in the first round.

Cornerbacks Richard Johnson (11th by Houston) and Derrick Brathoughs of Memphis State (14th by Buffalo) and safety Jerry Gray of Texas (21st by Los Angeles Rams) were the defensive backs taken.

Cook Of The Week

'Hillbilly' Turned City Girl Cooks For A Crowd

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

It works for us," says Debbie Towns, our Cook of the Week, referring to her life as wife, mother, homemaker and mortgage servicing representative in the Loan Department of First Federal of Seminole in Sanford.

Debbie is married to David Towns, who is a firefighter with the Seminole County Fire Rescue Division and whose schedule of 24 hours on duty, then 48 hours off works out just fine, says Debbie. That way he gets to spend a great deal of time with our 3-year-old son, Christopher.

"I'm just a hillbilly turned city girl," says Debbie, who is originally from Knoxville, Tenn. One of a family of five daughters, Debbie says her mother always cooked in large amounts. "I still do that," Debbie says. "I love to have company and cook gobs and gobs of food, especially at Thanksgiving time when the whole family can get together."

Mom really influenced my cooking. She's a great cook and always made big pots of stew, chili or chicken and potatoes. When she cooked, she cooked for an army because usually there were all the daughters, all the boyfriends and Dad and Mom, so when I learned to cook, it was always in large quantities.

Looking back, Debbie remembers a typical childhood in Tennessee. When we visited my Grandmother, we had a go-cart there and we'd ride it all around the yard. She had grape vines in her yard and I can remember eating those grapes till we all got sick. Debbie says laughingly. They weren't ripe, but we ate them anyway.

Moving to the Central Florida area when she was quite young

Debbie is a 1973 graduate of Seminole High School and is looking forward to her first 10-year class reunion this year. Her memories of Seminole High include activities in the Hero Club and Civettes, and of course. "I always went to the games and supported the football team and worked at the concession stand during the games," says Debbie.

Her courses at school revolved around child development, cooking, sewing and homemaking, which resulted in a gold cup award presented to Debbie at graduation for excellence in home economics. Debbie's background and training have prepared her for her busy but orderly lifestyle.

Married in the Bicentennial year of 1976, Debbie, David and young Christopher make their home in Sanford's Hidden Lake. Beautifully landscaped and tastefully decorated, the Towns home exudes a welcoming atmosphere. Debbie's favorite pastime is swimming and sunbathing in their lovely backyard pool.

Traveling is next on the list and Debbie and her family have visited Jamaica, the Bahama Islands, Washington, D.C., Niagara Falls, Canada, and have just returned from a week's vacation in Cancun, Mexico. Despite all the mishaps, the trip was just wonderful and Debbie loves to go back again, says Debbie. First we forgot to bring our camera and had to buy one on the way. Then we were in a thunderstorm on the flight from Miami to Mexico and that was unnerving. When we got to Cancun, we rented a jeep to drive into the jungle, realized we were driving on empty and no one could tell us where to get petrol. Then we lost our tickets for the flight home and had to buy new ones. Aside from that, Debbie says Cancun was so beautiful, peaceful and lush, we'll be going back again.

A prankster at heart, Debbie says, "I love to play jokes on people, no holds barred. If you want a joke played on someone, just come to me." Just this past April Fool's Day, Debbie unplugged everybody's typewriter at the office, then I told my boss that a famous actress had called in reference to a guest appearance at his Rotary Club and really had him going for awhile. They all know me for things like that at the office," Debbie says with a hearty laugh. David is the only one whom I have a hard time fooling, but I'm working on it.

On a more serious note, Debbie is devoted to raising her son in the best way possible. Any spare time we have is mainly spent with Christopher," says Debbie. "We try to screen what he watches on TV and restrict his viewing to non-violent educational programs. He's also learning the alphabet and numbers and does very well. When David is off to bring Christopher down to the lakefront and we'll have a little picnic in the park on my lunch hour, which we all enjoy."

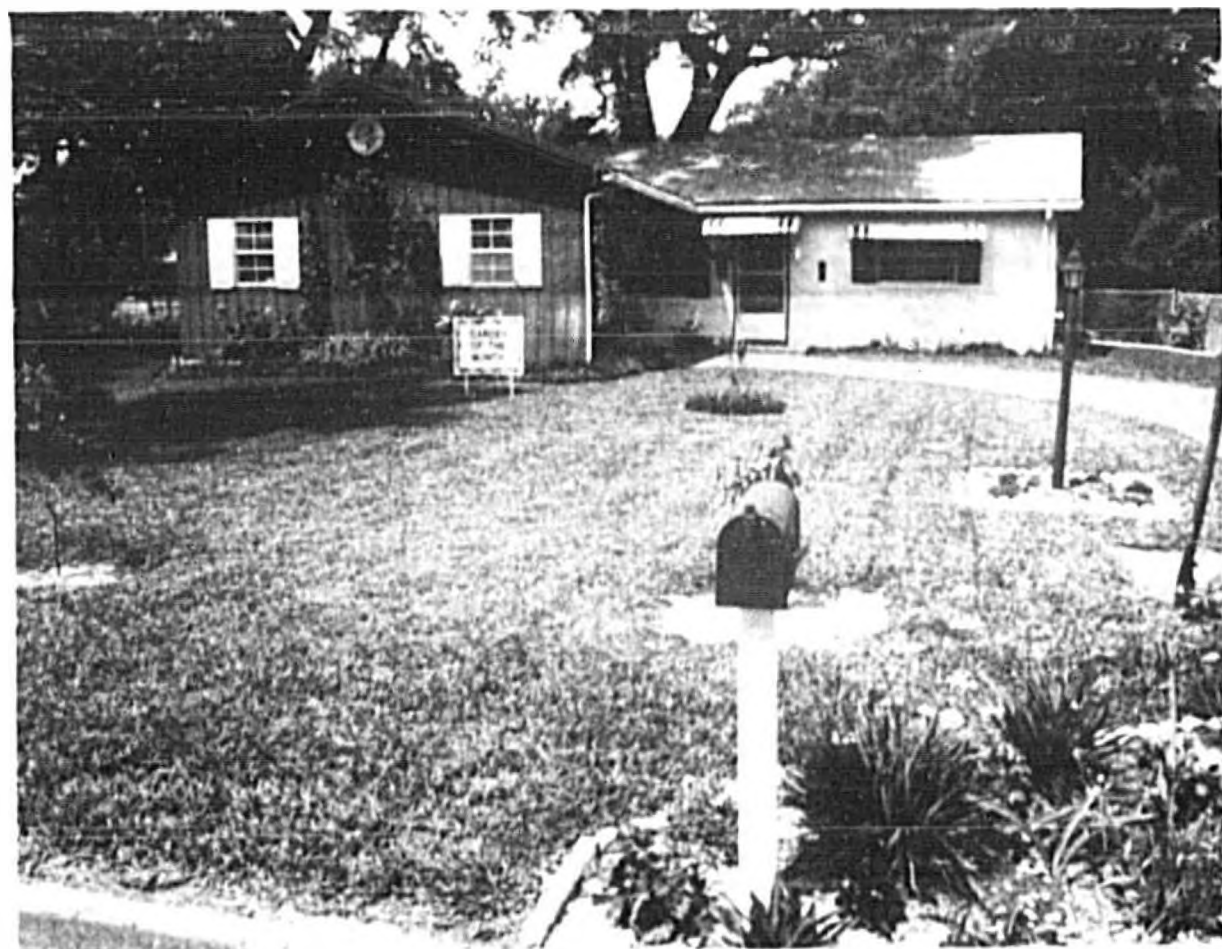

Debbie is now experiencing all the joys and heartaches of young motherhood. Christopher is a good swimmer and was playing

Church Ceremony Unites Brenda Smith, F.B. Allen

Brenda Smith and Frederick B. Allen, both of Tallahassee, were married Feb. 16 in Tallahassee by the Rev. M.B. Mikes at the Philadelphia Primitive Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Smith, Corona, N.Y. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Sharon E. Riggins, Sanford, and W. George Allen, Fort Lauderdale.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a vertical gold threaded blouson-style dress, complemented with off-white and gold accessories. Her headpiece was a white lace Juliet cap with a half veil. She wore a nosegay corsage of silk daisies, roses and baby's breath.

Cassie Hammock attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a white suit with red accessories and a spray of baby's breath in her hair. She carried a bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath.

Rick Jefferson served the bridegroom as best man.

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds entertained at a reception at their home.

They are making their home in Tallahassee where the bridegroom is a claim adjuster in the Florida State Department of Inurance. He is a 1975 graduate of Seminole High School and graduated from Florida A&M and attended University of Florida

Kidney Problem Can Be Serious; Exam Worth It

DEAR DR. GOTT — Several months ago I was diagnosed as having a kidney infection. The nurse who explained the problem to me said it probably would occur again, and that, if it does, I'd have to return to my doctor and get another diagnosis before I could be given a prescription. I understand why I can't call my doctor and ask him to write out another prescription simply because I have the same symptoms. However, by the time I can schedule a doctor's appointment, I'll have had the infection for several days. Then, once I do see the doctor, he'll tell me what I already know and I'll be paying $35 for an office visit in addition to the cost of the prescription. Is there any alternative?

medicine, such as baboon-heart implants and artificial hearts. Is there anything similar to a Living Will that I could write in order to prevent such things happening to me?

DEAR READER — This is a valid question, and I don't have an easy answer. Let's walk through it together. If you have had one urinary infection, you are in the majority of all women. At one point or another in their lives, most females experience one or two simple bladder infections. Once you have been treated, it is important — despite the added cost — to have a urine culture to make sure the bacteria have been eradicated. That should be the end of it.

DEAR READER — Although the Living Will is not legally binding in most states, it does represent an unequivocal statement of preference by the person who signs it. In addition to signing such a document, you must make sure that your doctor

Repeated infections are more troublesome and, in my opinion, require more extensive investigation. In particular, some women suffer from chronic urinary infections that can spread to the kidney and produce more serious damage. You and your doctor can decide together what would be an appropriate course of action for you to take. While it's true that bladder infections can increase your medical bills, you don't want to risk developing complications that, in the long run, could cause more danger and expense.

You may be able to avoid infection by drinking cranberry juice, urinating right after sexual intercourse and adopting fastidious methods of cleaning yourself after bowel movements.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I'm not as enthusiastic as the scientific community is about the recent technological advancements in and relatives understand and accept your philosophy. For further information about this important topic, write Donald McKinney, Concern For Dying Council, 250 West 57th St., New York, NY 10107.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, Ohio 44101.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

In 1933 Easley Blackwood invented the convention in which a four no-trump bid asks your partner how many aces he holds. The responses are 5 clubs — no aces, or all four aces; 5 diamonds — one ace; 5 hearts — two aces; 5 spades — three aces. If the four no-trump bidder continues by bidding five no-trump, he is asking for kings in a similar fashion. As this must be an attempt to reach a grand slam, the five no-trump bid guarantees that the partnership holds all four aces.

In today's deal, South made an artificial jump-shift rebid after North had made a one-spade response. The bidding proceeded as shown, with North raising diamonds, and then using the Blackwood convention to inquire about aces. Unfortunately North did not carry on correctly after South had shown two aces. North should have asked for kings as well. Doing so would have told South that their side had all the aces, and armed with the further knowledge that North was interested in a grand slam, South would simply have bid seven hearts. After all, to try for seven, North surely has the spade queen or diamond king or both. When North bid only six diamonds, South corrected to the better six-heart contract. Since South could not know about the club ace, he was unable to bid seven on his own.

Bidding five no-trump to guarantee all the aces would have made it easy for South to go all the way.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY MAY 2, 1985

In the year ahead you will have a greater number of career opportunities than you have experienced in the past. Each will have excellent chances of working out to your satisfaction.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) The results will be favorable today in situations where you use your own judgment. However, you could go astray listening to the suggestions of others.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you participate in a friendly competitive sport today, don't make the score more important than the game itself. Play for the fun of it.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Lady Luck will support your efforts today in endeavors where you try to develop something for the benefit of others as well as yourself.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Strive to overlook the little things that others do or say today that you find annoying. In return, they'll overlook your shortcomings.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Today, if you're attempting to put a deal together, don't get hung up over insignificant small points. It's the big picture that counts.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Steer clear of associates who tend to think in petty terms. You need allies who'll be able to see things on the same grand scale as you do.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) There's a good chance today that you may benefit from something worthwhile originated by a close friend. Be sure to say "thanks."

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Lady Luck will support your efforts today in endeavors where that life seldom offers sure things. However, today it looks like your hopes will be based upon viable factors.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Fortunately, you are a better doer than thinker today. If you have any self-doubts, they'll promptly be swept away the moment you take action.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) It's important today that size has priority. Don't settle for minuscule returns if you have an opportunity to go for something bigger.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Joint ventures should work out quite well for you today, especially if you are affiliated with someone you deem to be lucky. Choose wisely.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You'll be inclined to treat friends generously today. Much to your credit, you may even be willing to share things with them that they haven't earned.

Wedding Cake Smearing Not A Laughing Matter

DEAR ABBY: "November Bride" wrote: "My fiance insists that when we feed each other the first two pieces of wedding cake, we should grind it into each other's faces. We've seen this done at other weddings, and I think it's stupid and disgusting, but he is adamant. Am I wrong or is he being inconsiderate and immature?"

You replied "You're not wrong. And if your fiance is 'adamant' knowing how you feel, perhaps you'd better take a second look at him. Marriage to such a man would be no piece of cake."

Abby, do you realize that you advised this bride to consider not going through with the wedding over a trivial difference of opinion?

Smearing each other's faces with wedding cake at a bridal dinner is all in fun. We did it at our wedding, and the picture we have of it in our wedding album is hilarious!

What's that matter with you, Abby? Have you lost your sense of humor?

JANUARY BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: My sense of humor is still intact, but unless both parties agree to the cake-smearing bit, it should not be done.

There is more involved here than a "trivial difference of opinion" — it's essential that this bride realize that she is about to make a lifelong commitment to a man who insists that she submit to something she considers stupid, disgusting, inconsiderate and immature. Read on.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "November Bride," whose fiance insists that they follow the "tradition" of grinding the first pieces of wedding cake into each other's faces.

First of all, it is not "tradition." The tradition is for the bride and groom to feed each other a bite of wedding cake to symbolize the beginning of sharing their food, their love and their lives with one another.

The crude and ugly business of grinding cake into each other's faces has recently become popular among young couples. Now for my story.

At our wedding, my husband offered me a bite from a large piece of wedding cake, and before I knew it, he had shoved the entire piece into my mouth! I was unable to swallow it, and I couldn't talk. I very nearly choked before I could chew enough cake to breathe and drink something to wash it down.

I felt betrayed and humiliated, and there were tears in my eyes when the photographer took pictures of the event. The day that I had wanted to be perfect was marred with anger and resentment.

Please print this. You will be doing other brides a favor and helping me, because I never told this to the man I married, although I've always wanted him to know how deeply hurt I was by that cruel and insensitive act.

DIVORCED A YEAR LATER

DEAR ABBY: Recently I found a letter my 10-year-old daughter had written to a boy at school. Giving in to sudden impulse, I read the letter, and was shocked to find that it was a love letter! When I told her that I had read it and thought we should have a talk, she was angry at me for "steeking my nose in her business." I apologized for violating her privacy, and explained that I felt that she was my business. I also told her that she was much too young for a sexual relationship but apparently she is already sexually active.

I am worried sick! My daughter — my "baby" — may be only 10, but she could easily pass for 14.

How can I prevent her from becoming promiscuous? Her letter to that boy was unbelievable. Abby, I was an unwed mother at 16, and I don't want history to repeat itself with my daughter.

Please tell me what to do.
CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: Now is the time to build a solid bridge instead of a fence between you and your daughter. She's angry now — and has a right to be — but she needs to know that you are prepared to answer every question (including birth control) that she asks. Share with her your own experiences — the mistakes that came from innocence, ignorance and human weakness. Don't judge her, love her enough to be there for her — no matter what.

GARDEN GATE

Magnolia Circle of the Garden Club of Sanford reports on the Angel-Wing Begonia for the April Garden Gate.

Spectral features of the plant are shiny silver dotted foliage and clusters of pink flowers. According to Jane West, staking is needed to support the heavy growths and pruning is needed to keep the plants bushy.

The begonia should be protected from sunlight and a house plant fertilizer should be used monthly.

The plant is easily propagated from seed or from cuttings in sand or vermiculite. Water the plant thoroughly until water runs from drainage holes. Soil can dry slightly between waterings.

 'ghost' near the pool with a towel over his head, when he fell in and the weight of the wet towel pulled him under," says Debbie. Unhesitatingly, she jumped in after him and pulled him out. When she asked if he was all right, Christopher just looked at her and said, "Mom, I'm just freezing cold." Taking things in stride, Christopher is a bright little boy who didn't let the incident bother him at all.

Although Debbie's parents live in Jacksonville, and her sisters and their families are scattered throughout Florida and North Carolina, she gets to see her folks about three or four times a year. "It's not enough," says Debbie, "but between my two sisters down here and David's parents and three sisters and their families, a Sunday afternoon can turn into a really big thing around here. We love to cook out, and we love a variety of food, so anything goes."

Together, Debbie and David have a sharing relationship, each pitching in to make their busy schedules blend to fit their young lifestyle.

Below, Debbie shares some favorite recipes that can be enjoyed by a large number, or the leftovers reheated and served again.

ESO Reviews 'Personality Plus'

What is it that makes each of us so special? Clemma Husted, guest book reviewer at the April meeting of the Epsilon Sigma Omicron Chapter of the Sanford Woman's Club, answered that question when she reviewed the book "Personality Plus" by Florence Littauer, a personality expert.

Mrs. Husted told members that Littauer described the four temperaments which originated with Hippocrates 400 years before Christ was born and which make up a person's personality. They are the sanguine, the melancholy, the choleric and the phlegmatic. Each person is a unique blend of these four basic temperaments and there is only one YOU.

The author believes the world badly needs all four types and recommends that we have fun with the sanguine, get organized with the melancholy, get moving with the choleric and relax with the phlegmatic.

Of these four temperaments the author says,

"God made each one of us different, so we could function in our own role. He made some of us to be feet — to move, to administer, to accomplish, like the choleric. He made some of us to be minds — to think deeply, to feel, to write like the melancholy. He made some of us to be hands — to serve to smooth, to soothe, like the phlegmatic. He made some of us to be mouths — to talk, to teach, to encourage, like the sanguine."

The meeting was held at the home of Melba Cooper with co-hostesses Lourine Messenger and Bill Gielow. The regular business meeting was conducted by Pat Foster, chairman.

Members present were: Doris Harriman, Kate Nash, Lucille Stone, Esther Penn, Tempa Parks, Beulah Wells, Pat Foster, Margie Chandler, Mabel Piety, Charlotte Smith, Hazel Cash, Louise Hayes, Estelle Davis, Derry Harris, Vida Smith, Bill Gielow, Bunny Logan, Lourine Messenger, Hazel Nill, Melba Cooper and guest Clemma Husted. — Kate Nash

Microwave Magic

Try Variety Meatballs To Please Family

Meatballs can be prepared in several different ways. They also can be big or small, but for cooking them with the microwave oven they must be of uniform size, so that they will cook evenly.

The microwave oven has taken the mess out of cooking meatballs and because of that we are more apt to prepare them. Rules to follow for perfect meatballs, be they big or little:

1. Uniformity of size and shape.
 2. Microwave in a single layer.
 3. Stir, or rearrange, the balls once during the cooking time.
 4. Cover with wax paper — to make the clean up easy.
- Try your favorite meatball recipe or any of these to please your family. One pound of lean ground beef and you have a meal for 4-6 persons.

Midge Mycoff

This is a basic meatball mixture, which can be used for Swedish meatballs.

- 1 pound lean ground beef
 - 1 egg
 - 1/4 cup finely chopped onion
 - 1/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1 teaspoon basil or dill weed
 - 1/2 teaspoon garlic
 - 1/2 teaspoon garlic
- Mix ingredients well. Shape mixture into 20 small balls. Arrange the meatballs in a ring in a 10-inch dish or pie plate.

Microwave on 100% power 4-5 minutes. Rearrange the balls. Microwave on 100% power 4-5 minutes longer. Set aside and prepare gravy.

- Gravy:
- 1/2 cup beef broth
 - 1/2 cup cream (or Half & Half)
 - 1 teaspoon beef or chicken instant bouillon
 - 1/2 cup flour
 - 1/2 cup drippings (from the meatballs)
 - Salt and pepper to taste
 - 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- Measure liquids into a 4-cup measure. Stir in flour with a whisk. Blend in meat drippings. Microwave on 100% power 4-6 minutes, or until thick. Stir several times. Season to taste before serving.

These meatballs are usually a favorite with children.

PORCUPINE MEATBALLS

- 1 pound ground beef
 - 1 cup instant rice
 - 1 can (16 ounce) tomato sauce
 - 1 egg
 - 1 teaspoon onion powder
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 - 1/2 teaspoon parsley flakes
 - 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
- Mix ground beef, rice, 1/2 cup tomato sauce, egg, onion powder, salt and pepper together. Shape into 12 meatballs. Place in a 12x8-inch dish. Combine remaining tomato sauce, parsley flakes, and mustard. Pour over the meatballs. Cover with wax paper. Microwave on 100% power 4-6 minutes, or until meat is firm.
- Some people say "it isn't real spaghetti" without the meatballs — so try this quick version.

MICROWAVE ITALIAN MEATBALLS AND SAUCE

- Meatballs
- 1 pound ground beef
 - 1 egg
 - 1/4 cup chopped onion
 - 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- Sauce:
- 1 can (16 ounce) tomato sauce
 - 1 teaspoon parsley flakes
 - 1/2 teaspoon basil
 - 1/2 teaspoon oregano
 - 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
- Mix meatball ingredients together. Shape into 20 meatballs. Place in 1 2-quart casserole. Microwave on 100% power 5-7 minutes, or until meatballs are set. Rearrange meatballs once or twice during cooking.
- Combine sauce ingredients, pour over meatballs. Microwave on 100% power 6-9 minutes, or until heated through. Stir once during cooking.
- Serve over spaghetti.

This meatball recipe is good for a busy-day supper. Prepare meatballs in the morning, refrigerate and complete the preparation near the dinner hour.

 - Cook eggs in the shell
 - Home can foods
- The Banquet Foods Test Kitchens have created Macaroni and Cheese Primavera to add to your collection of "sure success" microwave recipes.

'Dallas' TV Series A Mixed Blessing For Neighbors Of Southfork Ranch

PARKER, Texas (UPI) — The 1,300 folks fled the noise and bustle of Dallas for the tiny town of Parker, but now Southfork Ranch — setting for the "Dallas" television show — has brought Parker a fair amount of noise and bustle itself.

Every day some 2,100 tourists, outnumbering the locals 2-to-1, trek to the town by car, bus and even horseback seeking the home of the mythical Ewing family of the "Dallas" television show, according to the Dallas Times Herald.

"There's been a little bit of notoriety about the town, which we want to keep quiet," said Don Seale, who moved to Parker three years before Lorimar Productions began filming "Dallas" and the antics of the wheeling and dealing J.R. Ewing.

"Some of the people who cry the loudest probably moved to the community because of Southfork," said Tom Parkman, an oilman who has lived in the town five years.

The ranch's new owner, Terry Trippet of Dallas, has plans to capitalize on Southfork's appeal. He has built a 2,000-seat convention hall and spent about $500,000 refurbishing the house for black-tie parties. In a strange example of life imitating art, some 2,000 people are expected to descend on the ranch June 15 to dine on beef and listen to the Oak Ridge Boys at the Cattle Barons' Ball, an annual party depicted in the television show.

Part of the mansion has been remodeled to accommodate up to 10 guests willing to pay up to $3,000 a night to stay there.

In the words of ranch spokeswoman Vicki Hinson-Smith, "They just want to come and sleep where J.R. slept. Some of them don't realize J.R. didn't live here."

Although many of the 250,000 people from 86 countries who visit Southfork annually travel through Parker to reach the ranch, only 300 square feet of the ranch's 160 acres, which have a tax appraisal value of $571,441 are in the town.

As a result only $7.89 of the $5,302.87 in property taxes paid on Southfork went to Parker coffers.

2 Women Receive $12,000 Each For Square-Meal Fare

Recent consumer surveys show that Americans prefer well-prepared American fare to gourmet meals. A national panel of food editors confirmed that trend recently in awarding first prizes in the Kraft CheeseFest Lifestyle Recipe Contest to two creative variations of traditional American foods.

Jean Butler, a Chicago art teacher, was awarded first-prize for her variation of the revered meat loaf. June Dunn, a working mother from Rockville, Maryland, won for her wholesome rendition for turkey cutlets.

Both women received $12,000 in cash for their culinary creations. Their recipes were selected from among thousands submitted from across the country.

Ms. Butler's recipe for Joe's Meat Loaf is a one-dish meal that is a combination of the meat, vegetable and potato meal that has long been America's favorite. The idea for the recipe came from the meals she had prepared on her family's farm in rural Illinois.

"We raised our own beef, and made a lot of meat loaf variations," she said. "I wanted something that would be a complete and visually-attractive meal."

Her winning recipe does just that: vegetables add color to the meat loaf, and a frosting of mashed potatoes topped with cheese makes the meal a beautiful presentation.

Ms. Butler is pursuing graduate studies to prepare for a new career in food product development. She plans to use her prize money to take cooking classes in Italy and Paris after she completes her Masters in Business Administration from the University of Chicago.

June Dunn's recipe for Swiss Turkey is her family's favorite. "My son-in-law told me that he could eat it three days in a row, and people are always asking me for the recipe," she said.

She developed it over time as an update to a basic turkey parmesan concept.

"I love to cook," she said, "but I just don't have the time. I like this recipe because it can be made a day in advance and then baked just before serving." The recipe combines the cutlets with a tomato soup-based sauce topped with onions and Swiss cheese to make a hearty meal.

Mrs. Dunn had entered only one other contest in her life before becoming a prize winner in the Kraft CheeseFest Lifestyle Recipe Contest. Her prize money will be put to appropriate use — she and her husband are working on plans to remodel their kitchen.

Both recipes were selected by a national panel of food editors who served as contest judges.

Diet-Watchers Can Have Salad And Dressing, Too

If you are watching calories, salads are a must-eat item on your daily menu.

High-calorie dressings are self-defeating. But eating salads and other foods sprinkled with lemon juice or vinegar can get boring.

Make your own tasty low-calorie dressing with fresh spinach and low-fat yogurt. It goes well with your lean meat, skinless chicken or broiled fish.

SPINACH DRESSING

(low calorie)
 1 cup low-fat plain yogurt
 2 cups chopped fresh spinach (4 ounces)
 2 tablespoons sliced scallions
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 Place yogurt, spinach, scallions, salt and Worcestershire sauce in blender container. Blend at high speed until smooth, about 10 seconds.
 Serve over salads, sliced tomatoes or cold sliced meat or chicken. Thawed frozen spinach may be used. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 1 1/4 cups, about 3 calories per teaspoon.

BROCCOLI-CHEEDAR POTATOES

4 medium baking potatoes (1 1/2 to 2 pounds)
 Margarine or Butter
 Dairy sour cream
 1 cup small broccoli flowerets, cooked until crisp-tender and drained
 4-5 medium mushrooms, sliced
 1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

Prick potato with fork to allow steam to escape. Bake potatoes in 400° oven until tender, 45-60 minutes. Cut 1 potato lengthwise into halves, place halves, cut sides up and touching each other, on ungreased cookie sheet. Repeat with remaining potatoes. Make several slits in surfaces of potatoes with knife. Spread with margarine; top with sour cream. Treating two halves as one, top each potato with broccoli, mushrooms, cheese and imitation bacon. Bake until cheese is melted and vegetables are hot, 8-10 minutes. 4 servings.

Microwave Directions:
 Choose potatoes that are oval in shape (rather than long) and of similar size. Prick potatoes, arrange about 2 inches apart in circle in microwave oven. Microwave uncovered on high (100%) until tender, 11-13 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes. Continue as directed except — place halves on 12-inch round microwavable plate. Microwave until cheese is melted, 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 minutes.

CHEESY-VEGGIE POTATOES

4 medium baking potatoes (1 1/2 to 2 pounds)
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 2 cloves garlic, crushed
 1 tablespoon margarine or butter
 1/2 cup creamed cottage cheese (small curd)
 1/2 cup shredded Swiss cheese
 1/2 cup shredded carrots
 1/2 cup imitation bacon bits
 3 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
 2 teaspoons lemon juice
 1 teaspoon seasoned salt
 Dash of pepper
 Grated Parmesan cheese

Prick potatoes with fork to allow steam to escape. Bake potatoes in 400° oven until tender, 45-60 minutes. Cut potatoes lengthwise into halves, scoop out insides, leaving thin shells. Place shells on ungreased cookie sheet. Mash potatoes in large bowl until no lumps remain. Cook and stir onion and garlic in margarine in 8-inch skillet over medium-low heat until tender. Mix potatoes, onion mixture and the remaining ingredients except Parmesan cheese; fill shells with potato mixture. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese; top with additional imitation bacon if desired. Bake until golden, about 20 minutes. 4 servings.

* Potatoes can be microwaved if desired. Choose potatoes that are oval in shape (rather than long) and of similar size. Prick potatoes; arrange about 2 inches apart in circle in microwave oven. Microwave uncovered on high (100%) until tender, 11-13 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes. Potato skins will be tender; scoop carefully.

THREE CHEESE GRITS CASSEROLE

2 cups water
 1/2 cup enriched white hominy quick grits
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup (2 oz.) shredded Swiss cheese

 1/2 cup (2 oz.) shredded cheddar cheese
 1/4 cup grated parmesan cheese
 1 egg, beaten
 2 tablespoons margarine
 1 small clove garlic, minced
 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 Heat oven to 350° F. Grease 1-qt. casserole. Bring water to a boil, stir in grits and salt. Return to a boil; reduce heat. Cook, uncovered, 2-3 minutes or until thickened, stirring occasionally. Stir in remaining ingredients; continue cooking over low heat until cheese is melted. Pour into prepared casserole. Bake 30-35 minutes or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. 4 SERVINGS. Approximate cost per serving 34¢

NOTE: Substitute 1/2 cup enriched white hominy regular grits if desired. Increase water to Spinach and low-fat yogurt team in a very low-calorie dressing.

2 1/2 cups. Cook, covered, 15-20 minutes or until thickened, stirring occasionally. Proceed as recipe directs.

Southern Foods Have A Down-Home Taste To Food Editor

By Alleen Claire
NEA Food Editor

A trip to Dothan, Ala., to visit with farmers turned into a pleasant eating venture. Lunch was down-home fried catfish, hush puppies and cole slaw, washed down with lots of iced tea. So good that I recall eating three servings of the sweet-tasting fish! The success of fish farming, especially of catfish, in the South has put this tasty fish into markets throughout the country.

Here are some updated versions of these delicacies stressing low sodium possibilities when special seasonings and no salt are used

PAN-FRIED CATFISH WITH CORNMEAL

- 1 1/2 pounds skinned catfish fillets
 - 1 tablespoon herb and spice blend
 - 1 large egg
 - 2 tablespoons cold water
 - 1 envelope salt-free crispy coating mix
 - 1/2 cup yellow cornmeal
 - Oil for frying
 - Lemon wedges
- Rinse fillets under cold water and then pat dry with paper towels. Sprinkle with herb and spice blend. Beat egg with water in a pie plate. Place coating mix and cornmeal in a second pie plate.

Dip one fillet at a time in beaten egg, allowing excess to drip off, and then roll fillet in crispy coating mixture. Heat 1/2 inch vegetable oil in a large skillet over medium heat until hot.

Fry fish, in several batches, for 3 minutes on each side, until golden and cooked through. Drain on paper towels. Serve with lemon wedges. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings at 338 calories per serving, 126 milligrams sodium per serving.

PAN-FRIED HUSH PUPPIES

- 1 cup all-purpose flour
 - 1 envelope salt-free crispy coating mix
 - 1/2 cup yellow cornmeal
 - 1 tablespoon salt-free herb and spice blend
 - 1 teaspoon baking powder
 - Pinch ground red pepper
 - 1 cup milk
 - 1 large egg, beaten lightly
 - 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
 - Oil for frying
- Mix flour, crispy coating mix, cornmeal, herb and spice blend, baking powder and ground red pepper in a medium-sized bowl. Combine milk and egg in a small dish. Stir milk mixture into flour mixture, stirring until blended. Stir in onion.

Heat 1/2 inch oil in a large skillet over medium heat until hot. Drop batter by slightly rounded tablespoonfuls into oil. Fry 6 hush puppies at a time, 2 1/2 minutes on each side, until deep golden brown. Transfer with a slotted spoon to drain on paper towels. Fry remaining hush puppies in same manner. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 24 hush puppies at 62 calories each, 27 milligrams sodium each.

Baked Hush Puppy Drop Biscuits: Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Prepare batter as directed above, but add 2 tablespoons oil along with milk and egg to batter. Drop batter by slightly rounded tablespoonfuls onto a heavy ungreased non-stick baking sheet, 1 inch apart.

Bake in lower third of oven for about 20 minutes, until underside is well browned and biscuits are cooked through.

Serve hot and spread with lots of butter or margarine. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 24 hush puppies at 62 calories each, 27 milligrams sodium each.

Hearty Grilled Nibbles

For many, Memorial Day weekend is the beginning of the outdoor cooking season.

Impatient eaters will enjoy pre-meal nibbles such as mini-Reubens made with sliced frankfurters. Do this in the broiler or on a small barbecue grill or hibachi while the main course is being grilled.

FRANK-REUBEN HORS D'OEUVRES

- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3 tablespoons all purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
- Dash pepper
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 1 cup shredded Swiss cheese
- 24 slices party rye bread
- 1/2 cup Thousand Island dressing
- 6 fully cooked frankfurters, cut diagonally into 1/4 inch slices
- 1 1/2 cups well drained sauerkraut

In medium saucepan, melt butter over low heat. Stir or whisk in flour, dry mustard and pepper. Cook stirring constantly, until smooth and thickened. Gradually stir in milk until blended. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil and is thickened. Add cheese and stir until melted, keep warm.

Spread one side of all bread slices with some of the dressing. Arrange three frankfurter slices on each. Mix kraut with remaining dressing. Divide among slices. Place on rack of broiler pan. Broil 2 to 3 inches from heat source about 3 minutes or until heated through. Serve with cheese sauce. Serve with dill pickles, if desired.

TO GRILL: Spread one side of bread with softened butter or margarine. Then spread with dressing, frankfurters and kraut on other side. Place buttered side down in large skillet. Grill over medium heat until browned underneath and heated through.

This kitchen-tested recipe makes 24 hors d'oeuvres.

ROUND KRAUT SANDWICH LOAF

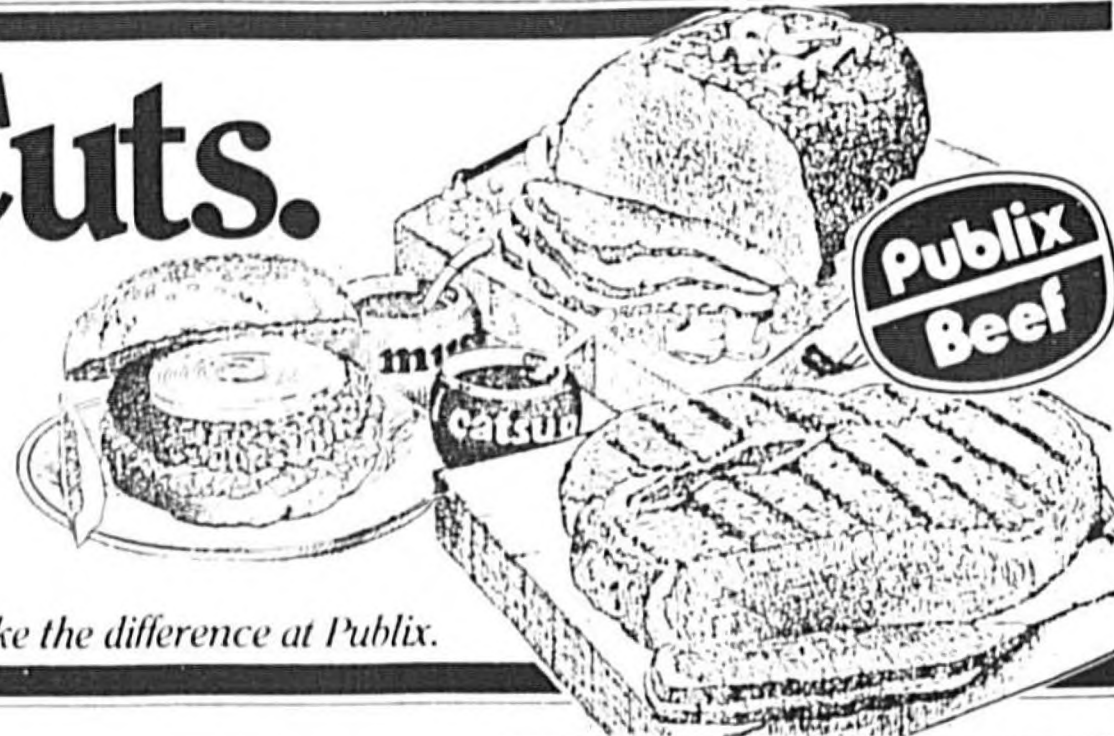

- 4 cups well drained sauerkraut
 - 1 bottle (8 ounces) creamy Russian dressing
 - 1/2 cup chopped parsley
 - 1 medium cucumber, peeled and thinly sliced (1 cup)
 - Salt and pepper
 - 1 round loaf unsliced pumpernickel bread, 7 to 8 inches in diameter
 - Butter or margarine, softened
 - Lettuce leaves
 - 3/4 pound sliced bologna, ham or other cold cut
 - 4 slices Swiss cheese, halved
 - 1/2 pound sliced chicken loaf
 - 1 jar (4 ounces) pimiento, drained and sliced
- Toss together kraut, dressing and parsley. Season cucumber with salt and pepper.

Cut bread horizontally into 6 slices. Lightly butter all cut surfaces. For each loaf, use 3 slices bread. Begin with bread slice and layer lettuce, kraut mixture, bologna, cheese, chicken loaf, cucumber and pimiento. Repeat. Top with third slice of bread. Repeat making another loaf. Wrap and chill 2 to 3 hours before serving. Cut each into 6 wedges.

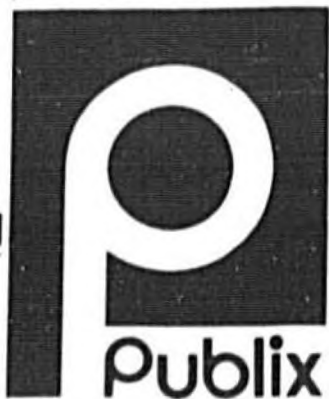

This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 12 servings.

Orange Sliced Beef dresses up a rump roast for a party

Entertaining

What Every Buffet Needs Is Just 1 Smashing Dish

The pleasure of entertaining at home far outweighs the problems of providing good food for a number of people. Whether it's a business dinner or a gathering of friends, the home atmosphere is conducive to good conversation and more mingling between guests. Buffets are by far the most popular way to serve dinner, convenient for host and guests alike. They're fun, too, because there's a variety of foods to please both the delicate eater and the gourmand.

With so much on the table, what every buffet needs is one smashing dish — a conversation piece. An ordinary rump roast can be the star of your buffet when it's turned into spicy tender slices of meat with the magic of fresh oranges from Florida. The quality of Florida citrus is never a chancy thing. Even in this year of the bad freeze and the damage suffered by the citrus industry, the fruit you find in the market is in prime condition. The Florida Citrus Commission, made up of citrus growers, processors and handlers, imposes the most rigid standards on shippers — higher than those required by the Federal government. Quality control plays a major role in the Florida citrus industry. The fresh citrus lends a perfume to the broth which slowly simmers the beef and to the coriander-flavored marinade that makes Orange Sliced Beef an outstanding dish. Thin slices of the beef are placed alternately on the plate with equally thin slices of orange.

Because the meat can be sliced, arranged, marinated and refrigerated 24 hours ahead and served cold, it's an award winner with wise hosts and hostesses.

ORANGE SLICED BEEF

- 3-4 pounds boneless rump roast tied
 - 1 tablespoon salt
 - 3 Florida oranges, sliced divided
 - 2 cloves garlic, minced finely
 - 1 large onion, sliced
 - 1 bay leaf
 - 1 teaspoon crushed coriander seeds
 - 1/2 cup Florida orange juice
 - 1/2 cup olive oil
 - Red onion rings
 - Salad greens, optional
- Place meat in large pot, cover with cold water. Add salt. Bring to boiling over low heat. Skim surface with a spoon. Add 1 sliced orange, garlic, onion, bay leaf and coriander. Cover. Simmer 2-3 hours until meat is tender. Cool meat in stock. Remove meat from stock, slice thinly and arrange on serving platter. Arrange remaining oranges on platter. In small bowl combine orange juice and olive oil, pour over meat. Cover. Refrigerate 24 hours before serving, spooning marinade over meat often. Serve garnished with onion rings and salad greens, if desired.

YIELD: 8 to 10 servings.

Quiche Stars At Spring Fling

What better way to welcome the bustle of Spring and its many activities than with the quick and easy brunch like this? Start with Spring Fling Quiche, an easy egg, cream, crabmeat and Swiss cheese mixture seasoned perfectly with onion-mushroom soup mix and a hint of dill and sherry.

Frosta Cooler, a creamy blend of lemon flavored iced tea mix, milk, frozen orange juice concentrate, vanilla extract and ice cubes is the perfect brunch accompaniment. The lemon flavored iced tea mix lends a sweet citrus note as well as a delightful tea flavor.

 - 4 eggs
 - 1/2 cups light cream
 - 1 envelope onion-mushroom recipe soup mix
 - 1/4 teaspoon dill weed
 - 1 cup flaked crabmeat (about 6 oz.)
 - 1 to 2 tablespoons dry sherry (optional)
 - 2 cups shredded Swiss cheese
- Preheat oven to 400°. Bake pastry shell 10 minutes; reduce oven to 375°.
- In large bowl, beat eggs, blend in cream, onion-mushroom soup mix, dill, crabmeat and sherry.
- Sprinkle cheese in pastry shell, pour in egg mixture. Bake 30 minutes or until quiche tests done. Garnish, if desired, with tomato slices. Serve hot or cold. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

FROSTEA COOLER

- 1/2 cup lemon flavored iced tea mix
 - 1/2 cups milk
 - 1/2 cup water
 - 1 can (6 oz.) frozen orange juice concentrate
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 - 1 1/2 cups ice cubes (about 8 to 11)
- In blender, combine all ingredients except ice cubes; process at high speed until blended. Add ice cubes, one at a time; process at high speed until blended. Makes about 4 servings.
