

Celery Feds Meet Orlando In Final Cage Game Tonight

Locals To Seek Another Victory Over Strong Orange County Loopsters

By GLENN GOVOCER
The Seminole High School Celery Feds hope to conclude their 1939 cage campaign with a second triumph over their Orlando rivals when the two teams clash a second time in an Orlando gym tonight.

The final game for both teams, the Tigers will be set to average the thorough 44 to 27 licking given them at the hands of the Feds earlier in the season, while the local loopsters showing decidedly better form since a mid-season slump, will seek to finish the season in triumph after trouncing the highly touted Eustis Panthers by a score of 36 to 23.

In their previous encounter, the Celery Feds' tight zone defense kept Billy Isbell and Mundy Arnold, stellar court performers for the Tigers, from near the goal and the Feds led by the shooting of Red Williams and Darrell Ferguson, passed the ball to victory through the Hovatermen.

From Orlando come the announcement that Fred Caldwell and Hal Powers, ace Tiger guards, have been pitted against these two leading Fed scorers for tonight's game in an effort to hold them in leash.

The much improved Orlandoans are fresh from a victory over the highly touted Andrew Jackson quintet of the Big Ten Conference and will seek to continue their success against their most ancient and strongest rivals in the Robinson Street gym tonight.

The Feds are also looking forward to a triumphant beginning in the Class A Regional Tournament which opens in Daytona Beach Thursday night with a game between the Ocala Wildcats and the locals. The Feds lost to Ocala 25 to 25 in their first game but the local dribblers eked out a 28 to 26 victory over the Marion county quintet in their second meeting.

The Feds, however, are now showing better form than for either of these previous games and should be ready to give the Ocala a harder fight. If the Ocala team of Coach Leonard McClucas take the opening encounter, they play the Robert E. Lee team of Jacksonville, Friday afternoon at 8:00 o'clock.

The probable starting lineups for tonight's game are:

Scoring Rules For Collegiate Bouts Outlined

Southeastern Tourney Is Scheduled For Tampa March 2-3

TAMPA, Feb. 27.—How are points scored in collegiate boxing? The question is of timely public interest with the coming of the Southeastern Conference boxing tournament here Thursday and Friday.

Ten points shall be allotted to the winner of each round, the rules say, with the loser in each round allotted any number of points below 10.

Points shall be given for attack and defense, for generalship, and for aggressiveness. Points shall be deducted for hitting in a clinch, for failing to step back and break clean after a clinch, and for hitting while holding opponent. Points may be deducted for "covering up with hands so that the opponent is not in a position to hit," and shall be deducted for all infraction of the rules relating to fouls.

In scoring points for attack and defense, the rules say that "attack shall cover clean and effective hits, aggressive action, well delivered partial hits. Defense shall cover blocking and parrying, making opponent miss and counter-attacking, balance and counter-attack."

The rules assert that "when the points are otherwise equal, the decision should be in favor of the boxer who displays the best generalship and style. The term 'generalship' shall indicate the development of natural advantages of an opening given by an opponent."

Regarding aggressiveness, the rules say points shall be given when there is "an indicated willingness by the contestant to consistently press aggressively forward with due regard for his own protection."

Under the rule dealing with fouls there is an extended list under which the referee "may" disqualify a contestant, but section one says "the referee shall immediately disqualify a contestant and award the decision to the opponent for deliberately or willfully committing the following fouls—deliberately hitting below the belt, use of abusive or insulting language, hitting an opponent who is down or who is rising after being down, failure to obey the referee."

The bouts are limited to three rounds, each round of two minutes duration, with an intermission of one minute between rounds for rest.

TAMPA, Feb. 27.—The two-day Southeastern Conference boxing tournament here Thursday and Friday, March 2-3, offers bouts in eight weight divisions. There was a readjustment of weights in the two lightest di-

Outboard Regatta Will Be Held In New Smyrna Beach

Many Speedsters Are Scheduled To Enter Events Next Year

NEW SMYRNA BEACH, Feb. 27.—Plans for New Smyrna Beach's Tenth Annual Outboard Speedboat Regatta, to be staged here Sunday, March 5th, under the auspices of the Smyrna Yacht Club, are taking concrete form as various committees daily work out further details for the water classic.

Invitations and entry blanks have been mailed to leading speedboat owners and drivers throughout the country and sanction for the races has been received from the American Power Boat Association. Details for seating thousands of visitors and dockage for the racing craft have been completed.

The 1939 Regatta promises to be one of the best ever staged in New Smyrna Beach waters. The races, as in the past, will be run on the Indian River course. The event is expected to draw the cream of the country's race drivers, lured here by attractive trophies and cash prizes.

Reception and entertainment committees and various civic fraternal organizations of the city are making extensive plans to entertain out-of-town visitors. Smyrna Yacht Club will entertain drivers of the boats, visiting yachtsmen and State dignitaries who will be invited.

Efforts are being made to have a leading sportsman here on the day of the Regatta to present the Sir Thomas Lipton and Dave Sholtz trophies.

visions last year. The eight weight classes now are 120, 127, 135, 145, 155, 165, 175 and 176.

Contestants must weigh in four hours before the bouts. No overweight is allowed in any class except unlimited which does not have a top limit. No contestant may compete in any class unless his weight is within the limits specified for that class, and furthermore, no tournament boxer can enter a weight class unless he has participated in at least 50 percent of his bouts during the dual meet season in that class.

Valentine's Heart Will Seek Another Win Tonight

Valentine's Heart will be out for his 10th victory in 12 starts this season when he goes to the post in the feature eighth event at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club tonight.

Heart finished second in the only race he lost this year. It will be a tough field that the Maler's dog bucks tonight, however. Big Ick, who equalled the track record of :29 flat for the feature course about 10 days ago and who beat Gay Hop and My Valentine Jr. the other night, is in the field. Heart has the three box, while Ick is in the five hole.

Gay Hop is also running and the C. H. Reid-trained, greyhound has shown plenty of get-up and go in her last two outings. Also running will be Northern Spy, Wild Rex, Agricola Sam and Sunstar.

Following are entries and post positions for tonight.

Eckerson Ten, St. Johns To Clash Tonight

McCroly Girls, Celery Hearts Will Play Preliminary Game

The Eckerson Fruit Cannery ten will meet the St. Johns Rivermen on the lakefront softball park tonight after a preliminary five-inning girls' game between the McCroly team and the Celery Hearts.

The girls' game will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock and will be called after an hour if five innings have not been played, according to an announcement by Recreational Director Gerald L. Ash.

The St. Johns team has won one of its three previous games while Eckerson lost to Scotts 4 to 2 and won from the Florida Power and Light team 14 to 4. At a recent joint meeting of the Softball Council with members of the Recreational Commission of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce it was decided that beginning this week, all teams must limit their rosters to 15 players.

Old Hudson, who has been umpiring at the games, has left for a short visit in Chastanooga before the opening of the Spring baseball training season. Joe Huggerie will call the offerings of the pitchers in Hudson's place tonight.

Citrus Probe Is Requested By Attorney

Bentley Declares Congressional Investigation Of Entire Industry Is Needed

Plant Closed By Mayo Is Opened

Elder Granted Temporary Injunction By Circuit Judge

LAKELAND, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Ed R. Bentley, president of the State Bar Association, today told the Florida Citrus Commission he believed there should be a congressional investigation of the "entire Florida citrus industry."

Bentley, a Lakeland attorney and fruit grower who represented the Florida citrus growers, Inc., during its drive for the 32-cent box minimum price for grapefruit, made the statement during a general debate on the price fixing regulation.

He said Congress should find out why federal agencies such as the Surplus Commodities Corporation and the Florida Citrus Commission had failed to carry out their promises.

The corporation has refused to pay the 22-cent minimum for surplus grapefruit purchases in Florida.

BRADENTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—W. H. Elder, president of the Florida Citrus Commission, today signed an order restraining Nathan Mayo, commissioner of agriculture, from suspending or revoking the company's license or from taking any steps leading toward any suspension or revocation.

The order was presented to the judge and signed a few minutes after Elder's attorney had filed an injunction suit in circuit court against Mayo. It will remain in effect until further orders.

The $1000 bond required of the plaintiff was immediately posted. This is for the protection of the commissioner should the order be wrongfully entered.

The Elder plant has been idle since Mayo's revocation of its license several weeks ago. The suit was taken after the growers had been offered an acreage contract that provided for the payment of 20 cents on delivery of fruit and the remaining 12 cents of the peeped price "if and when" the law was held to be constitutional.

Mayo held the plan was an evasion or abridgment of the price-fixing law.

Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt Resigns From D. A. R.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has resigned from the Daughters of the American Revolution in protest against the organization's refusal to permit Marian Anderson, noted negro contralto, to present a concert at Constitution hall, it was indicated last night.

The first lady would neither decline nor deny the report, but referred questions at her press conference to the D. A. R. Absent of national officers from headquarters here made it impossible to obtain immediate confirmation.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who has had a "misunderstanding" with the D. A. R., returned the reports in her daily newspaper column "My Day" when she announced that she had returned from an organization which had taken "an action" against a policy which she disapproved.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Major General Julian I. Schley, chief of army engineers, declined today to join either friends or foes of the Administration plan to complete the $200,000,000 Florida ship canal.

He told the House Rivers and Harbors Committee he had "never attempted to arrive at an independent opinion on that subject."

Schley made the assertion as the committee opened a public hearing on bills to authorize the canal's completion.

He told the committee a ship captain would prefer to be in the open sea rather than in the canal across Florida in event of a hurricane.

Trailer Camp Faces Action By City Soon

Commission Decides To Hold Controversial Issue Under Advisement 30 Days

The City Commission will take action on the controversial trailer camp issue 30 days hence, it decided at its regular meeting in the City Hall last night following the filing of a petition by S. D. Highleyman, agent for Walter L. Cooper in the matter of leasing City-owned property on the lake front for the establishment of a trailer camp.

The petition, signed by 118 business men in Sanford, requested the Commissioners "to reconsider your action" in rescinding a lease which was drawn for Mr. Cooper just before the installation of the new board. Five reasons for reconsideration of the proposal were also given in the petition.

In taking the matter under advisement for a 30-day period, the Commissioners approved the suggestion of City Commissioner H. James Gut who said he desired to file a written opinion in the matter. Commissioner G. E. Rollins also expressed himself as favorable toward this suggestion and added that there is no need for immediate action since the camp could not be opened now until next Fall, anyway.

In presenting the petition to the Commission, Mr. Highleyman also read replies to a questionnaire regarding trailer camps which he had sent to Florida cities now having such tourist accommodations. He pointed out that the replies were 100 percent favorable toward trailer camps and were a "decided asset."

"We have read the lease relating to renting a plot of ground facing the Boulevard, owned by the City, to W. L. Cooper for establishing a Trailer Park, passed unanimously by the City Commissioners and later rescinded by you.

"We now petition you to reconsider your action in rescinding this lease for three reasons:—

"This tract has never brought in one cent of revenue to the City.

"By granting this lease, it will mean an income to the City, not only in rent ($1,750 during 10 years) but also city license.

"It will mean turning a disreputable cyrene on our lake front into a place of beauty.

"It will bring in hundreds of tourists who will spend money with us; some of them becoming permanent residents."

"It will mean the expenditure of at least $4,000 with our merchants for building materials and employment of both skilled and common labor to get the Park ready for next year's tourists and each year more improvements will be added. The total cost to the City will be $100 to get the tract ready for occupancy, the major part of this being done by City prisoners.

"We beg of you to accept this lease for the benefit of all of us while we have men ready to invest his money instead of letting this unprofitable strip lay idle for years to come.

City Heads Call Meet To Discuss Tax Foreclosures Monday Tentatively Set To Begin Plans For Drastic Action

Plans for launching foreclosure proceedings against property owners in Sanford who failed to settle their delinquent taxes and liens during the adjustment period will be discussed at a meeting of the City Commission tentatively set for next Monday night.

Pointing out that ample time and terms for settlement had been granted owners who were delinquent in their tax payments, the Commission agreed unanimously at a prior meeting to begin such proceedings, beginning first with business property, second with other improved property, and finally with vacant lots.

Under the adjustment which was granted by the Commission under authority of a special act, delinquent tax payers were allowed to adjust their past due taxes for 1933 and prior years and delinquent paving liens for a small percentage of the total amount. As a further inducement to settle old taxes these property owners were granted a deferred payment plan whereby they might pay the adjusted claims over a period of seven years. The city's adjustment authority expired on Jan. 31.

The Commission authorized work to begin on the paving of Fifth Street between Myrtle and Elm Avenues under a WPA project which has already been approved.

Although it was the original plan to pave this road with macadam, the Commission decided to use brick after City Engineer F. T. Williams told the board that sufficient brick was available from the relaying of a block on Palmolive Avenue between First and Second Streets and another block on Oak Avenue. City Clerk H. N. Sayer was authorized to purchase a car of sand and five tons of asphalt to use in connection with the paving.

George Anderson Is Honored At Louisiana School

George Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Anderson of this city, was honored at the Louisiana State University when the Beta Tau Mu, pre-medical society, resolved to adopt the honor system in all its classes.

According to the campus paper at the university where Mr. Anderson is taking a pre-medical course, the resolution came following discussions of the honor society which first applied to Dr. W. H. Gates, head of the department of zoology and then to Maj. Fred C. Fry, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

"The members of the Pre-Medical Club appreciate the need for being placed upon their own responsibility and the powerful intellectual and emotional importance of being trusted by fellow students and professors," said George Anderson, president of the group.

Self reliance and applied honesty were two traits most important in life by the pre-med group and are considered benefited by an honor system, Anderson said.

"Any student who permits another student to consistently cheat is endangering his own opportunity of being elected for advanced study. Merit and reliability is the basis which should be used in the selection," Anderson continued, discussing the similarities between the ordinary school and graduate work.

Making no attempt to force its own resolution upon students in other schools, the group earnestly asked other students to consider the possibilities of such a move.

Anderson attributed its initiative to the fact that it is considered the only organized student group in the department.

Azana Tenders Resignation As Spain's Head

Republican Regime Is Left Without Chief When Successor Declines To Serve

Acknowledgement Of Franco Is Studied By Britain, France

By Associated Press. The president of the Spanish republic, Manuel Azana, resigned in exile today while France and Britain, anxious over German-Italian influence in Spain, watched the results of their recognition of Generalissimo Franco as ruler of Spain.

Azana sent his resignation to his constitutional successor, Diego Martinez Barrio, president of the Spanish Cortes (parliament), but it was understood Barrio had declined to serve, leaving the republican regime without a chief of state.

Premier Juan Negrin of the republican government called a meeting of his advisers on the question of whether resignation was to be continued.

France and Britain studied apprehensively Franco's acknowledgment of their recognition of his regime. Franco said "we give our friendship and remembrance to those who believed in us from the first day," mentioning Germany, Italy and Portugal.

Newspapers here reported from the Holy Land that British troops killed 15 men in a battle with an armed band in Palestine. Two Jews were killed by an Arab band.

Germany accepted Poland's apology yesterday for an attack on the German embassy Saturday but a new attack occurred in the North. Free city of Danzig and further strain was put upon Polish-German relations.

Germany accused the Polish government of the apology for the smearing of windows in the German embassy by angry Polish students who were regarded as being the instigator.

The situation remained troubled as the Danzig committee made a second petition for a revision for incorporation of Danzig into Poland.

The situation continued in fresh attacks by Polish students and members of the Danzig Committee in Danzig, where the Poles have protested against their treatment by the Nazi German majority.

Six Polish students were injured in the demonstration and four arrested.

The countess possessing small fines, told the students that repetition of the disturbances would bring stronger penalties and that members of the Polish student organization would be held responsible for the disorders.

Hitler, German before the World War, was made a free city by the treaty of Versailles. It has slipped to the head of the Polish parade. It is now dominated by the Nazis.

Members of Poland continued to entertain Court of Honor, former minister of Italy, Germany's axis partner. Polish political circles became restless. His five-day visit was far surpassing in importance the usual visits of foreign statesmen.

It was noted that despite a known aversion to hunting, Col. Joseph Beck, Polish foreign minister, and his wife have gone on a hunting party with Count and Countess Chant de Baulouville.

Ghost Comedy To Come To The Ritz

Hal Roach's hilarious screen comedy, "Topper Takes A Trip," sequel to "Topper," one of last year's biggest laugh hits, opens on Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre, with Constance Bennett of the latter production again cast in a light comedy role which permits her to go through a series of "dematerializations."

The new film, based on a screenplay by Eddie Moran and Jack Jevane, was directed by Norman Z. McLeod, who also staged "Topper" and other notable film productions. The supporting cast, reading like a Who's Who of Hollywood celebrities, includes Roland Young, Billie Burke, Alan Mowbray, Alexander D'Arcy, Avree Teasdale, Franklin Pangborn and Paul Hurst.

The story of "Topper Takes A Trip" concerns the mad, merry antics of Constance Bennett, as Marion Kerby, and Roland Young, as Cosmo Topper, on the zany sands of the French Riviera, whether Miss Bennett has come to "do a good deed" and share, instead, she almost upsets the Topper's lives. The production is a United Artists release.

Perkins To Call Labor Peace Parley

Labor Secretary To Confer With President Before Meet In Less Than Week

Congress Speeds Defense Measure

Early House Action Planned As Senate Studies Air Corps

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—(AP)—Secretary Perkins said today she would call a meeting of the CIO-AFL peace negotiating committee "in less than a week."

Miss Perkins said there were still some details of the conference to be arranged, and that she would discuss these with President Roosevelt on his return Saturday from his cruise.

Congress, speeding along the big national defense program, received today a half billion dollar Army supply bill providing the first money for President Roosevelt's $300,000,000 air corps expansion program.

The House Appropriations Committee gave the measure its approval and placed it on the House schedule for early consideration, while the Senate moved toward a showdown vote on the maximum strength of the Army air corps.

The Senate Naval Committee ordered hearings on the Senate bill which includes a $5,000,000 authorization for a naval base expansion program.

Acting Secretary of the Navy Edson yesterday asked Congress to enact drastic anti-propaganda laws to curb activities of subversive agents, particularly Communists, who, he said, were interfering with the national defense program by seeking to disrupt Army and Navy morale and promote disaffection.

In a letter to House Speaker Rankin, Edson submitted a bill drafted by the Navy department, and giving the first indication that military officials had become disturbed by subversive agents "boring from within" the nation's defense forces.

The measure, which would provide a $1000 fine and two years' imprisonment for agents inciting disaffection of military orders or regulations, would crush the alien activities without "abridging the right of free speech or free press," Edson said.

ORLANDO, Mar. 1.—Miss Mary Margaret McBride, New York radio commentator, accompanied by Russell Hanson, president of the Entertainment for Society, and Miss Oliver Dean, spent a busy day yesterday gathering material for a series of nationwide radio broadcasts on Florida.

At Silver Springs Miss McBride was presented with a "yearling" deer by Ross Allen as well as a basket of Citra's famed pineapple oranges.

After receiving the young deer, the party visited Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings' home, "The Yearling," at Hawthorn. For luncheon they were the guests of the University of Florida with Dr. Speed Rogers, head of the Biology Department, Miss Edna Pitt, assistant to the President, and Jack Russell, senior student, acting as hosts.

After they visited the Silver Springs (The University near Ocala, Fla.) and Graham's near Ocala, where they saw many interesting species of Florida birds and other natural pictures.

Hydrographic Survey Of River Is Being Made

Geodetic Survey Crew Is Charting Upper St. Johns Channels

A hydrographic survey of the navigable portions of the Upper St. Johns, including the upper portion of Lake Monroe and Lake Jessup, is being made by Lieut. F. D. Gallen and a corps of three officers and ten enlisted men.

With their 65-foot yacht "Mikaw" moored at the Municipal Pier, the members of this party in the Coast and Geodetic Survey of the Department of Commerce are making Sanford the base of their operations which includes sounding for depths and the charting of navigable courses in the Upper St. Johns.

Pointing out that everything that would float a boat will be surveyed and charted, Lieut. Gallen stated that a photographic survey of the area was made by Army fliers about 10 days ago. He said that a similar survey of the St. Johns River to Sanford was completed several years ago and that the charting of the St. Johns and its navigable tributaries would be finished with the completion of this survey which he estimated would require a month to six weeks, depending on prevailing weather conditions.

Lieut. Gallen stated that Lake Monroe at present is only a few inches above sea level.

Friday Is Set For Hearing In Eckerson Case

Commission Decides To Enforce Price Law Until Stopped

Friday has been tentatively set for the hearing on the temporary injunction granted to C. H. Eckerson, president of Eckerson Fruit Canners, restraining Nathan Mayo, commissioner of agriculture, from revoking or suspending the hearing about, according to an announcement by the canning company president this morning.

In Friday's hearing, it was understood that George A. DeCotte, attorney for the canner, will defend the company's contracts for canning fruit on growers' accounts on the grounds that such contracts are not in violation of the growers' most guaranteed law invoked by the Florida Citrus Commission on Jan. 16.

Gen. Markham Press Praised Upholds Ship By Lehmann In Canal Project Kiwanian Talk

Retired Engineer Approves Completion; Spurr Re-Affirms Opposing Statement

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—(AP)—Major General E. M. Markham, retired chief of the Army engineers, upheld vigorously today his two-year-old report recommending the completion of the Florida ship canal.

Markham told the House Rivers and Harbor committee his findings in 1917 placed him in the position of "disagreeing with everybody."

"I say that if that canal is dug," he declared, "all the traffic potential to it will be going through it in six months."

"Some canal opponents have contended many shipping concerns would not use the canal to assertions, by canal opponents that it would damage the water supply, Markham replied that this idea "is ridiculous."

Declaring that the proposed cross-state canal is essentially a drainage ditch, Josiah Edward Spurr, retired geologist of Winter Park, in a recent letter to local opponents of the project re-affirmed his written statement made in December, 1926, in which he asserted that it is evident that the ground water level in Florida and the artesian head which controls this level, is in a state of "delicate equilibrium."

Mr. Spurr indicated that it is still his belief that "in view of our limited knowledge of the underground channels of water, no one can map the exact consequences of a drastic readjustment of the groundwater level and pressure, such as digging a deep ditch across the peninsula would bring about. That they would be far-reaching and would entail a great deal of discomfiture is to be apprehended."

Mr. Spurr is the author of numerous books, monographs and reports. He was formerly geologist for the United States Geological Survey and editor of the Engineering News-Record.

His complete report filed two years ago with the Board of Engineers for the Rivers and Harbors is as follows:

"I am a retired geologist. I have been urged to write you concerning the Florida canal, a problem in which I have no financial interest.

"The question as to the advisability of such a canal as a transportation route is a geological and not a regional one; it concerns interstate and international shipping questions, with which Florida has little to do; and testimony and arguments concerning them should and will come mainly from other and broader sources. This also applies to the cost of the canal, which is a national and not a Florida question.

"Floridians, however, have taken a lively interest in the canal project. As an interested outsider, I have contemplated the arguments on both sides. The advocates of the canal point to the vast amount of Federal money which will be spent in Florida, much of which will be diverted to Florida pocketbooks; second, such Floridians as have real estate or other business interests along the proposed canal, especially at the two termini or ports, expect an increase in value of these, through the building and operation of the canal. These arguments are based on local and regional grounds.

"Those Floridians who oppose the canal also do so on local and regional grounds. They are mainly those who depend, in one way or another, on the underground water supply of Florida, and fear the consequences of having this cut into and deranged by a great ditch. Prominent among these opponents are the agricultural interests, who depend on artesian water for irrigation. Others fear the lowering or drainage of some of the thousands of lakes, large and small, which constitute one of the chief assets of inland Florida. Both these groups represent great wealth which are already very great, which are growing.

Newspapers Eulogized For Services Given Free Of Charge To Various Activities

"The sanriest newspaper in the United States does more for the support of its community than the finest newspaper in the United States does for the support of its newspaper," said Karl Lehmann, secretary of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce, gave his opinion of the value to a community of the local newspaper, in his speech today at the weekly Kiwanis Club luncheon in the Valley Hotel.

In the introduction of his address which he called "You Turn and Mine," Mr. Lehmann enumerated the various phases of community life: religious, educational and civic, to which every citizen is indebted in a very material way to the local newspaper.

Mr. Lehmann went on to point out that every civic, religious and educational organization in a city is in the habit of coming to the newspaper publisher, asking him to give away free the one commodity he has for sale, space.

"This," the speaker stated, "is something we would ask of no other form of business, or business man in any community. It would not go into a bakery and ask the baker to give us a loaf of his bread. Yet we will go to the newspaper owner and ask him to give away the space he has to sell; perhaps not realizing that that commodity, like any other merchandise, costs money to produce."

Mr. Lehmann proceeded to enumerate the various sources of income which a newspaper has: first, the advertising space that is sold; second, the money derived from the sale of the paper to the public; third, if the plant is equipped for such work, job printing.

To illustrate his point, Mr. Lehmann told the story of a man in a nearby Florida city, whose (Continued on Page Three)

U. S. Grapefruit Exports Show Big Increase In 1938

TAMPA, Mar. 1.—(AP)—Exports of canned grapefruit from the United States totaled 25,500,000 pounds in 1938, an increase of about a fifth over the 1937 total, C. Parker Persons, manager of the Jacksonville district office of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, reported yesterday to the Tampa Chamber of Commerce, but warned that wide promotion is necessary to continue the gain during the coming year.

Most of last year's exports went to the United Kingdom, Persons said, where stocks at the end of 1938 were about sufficient to last through February of this year.

"The demand in England for grapefruit juice is growing slowly but steadily," the report said, "but reports from commerce representatives in London indicate that further broad promotion is necessary. Increased sales of grapefruit juice in England are forecast for 1939."

The bureau recently published a bulletin analyzing export trade in canned fruits during 1938, entitled "Canned and Dried Fruits—United States Export Trade in 1938," and containing detailed figures on shipments abroad of various fruits by principal countries. Interested concerns may obtain copies free from Persons' office.

Seminole Gets Heaviest Rain For February

Prevailing Weather Will Hasten Maturity Of Celery

Strangely enough last night's rain, the first precipitation of any consequence to fall in Seminole County this month was accepted dimly as an act of inevitable fate by celery growers whose to the other vegetable products in this section the show crops were looked upon as timely and a blessing.

To the celery growers the rain fall and the accompanying warm weather meant the rapid maturing of their crops which would necessitate early shipment into (Continued on Page Two)

Seminole Farmers Will Get $50,000 From AAA Program

Larger Number Sign For '39 Compliance As Deadline Passes

Seminole County farmers will receive approximately $50,000 in compliance with the regulations of the 1939 Soil Conservation program, County Agent C. R. Dawson said today, adding that yesterday was the deadline for filing of applications for participation in the 1939 program.

Pointing out that there has been increased participation in the farm program since its inauguration under the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, Mr. Dawson stated that the payments for 1937 only amounted to an approximate $25,000, nearly $15,000 less than the payment for last year.

With the passing of the deadline yesterday for filing applications for participation in the 1939 program, which included the 100,000 acre diversion program, Mr. Dawson said that the number of work-hours continued to increase. There have been more than two new work-hours filed for compliance with the 1939 program, Mr. Dawson said. He also said that a number of celery growers, within the past few days, have filed application for compliance with the regulations of the special celery program.

The County Agent's office has received 125 applications for participation under the 1939 program, Mr. Dawson said, adding that because of the comparatively (Continued on Page Two)

British Army Expenses Hit New High Mark

Defense Forces' Estimate For Fiscal Year Is Increased By $300,000,000

Hitler, Mussolini May Hold Parley

Goering Says Nazis Determined To Keep Superior Air Force

By Associated Press Britain boosted her army budget estimates to a new peacetime high today while the Spanish civil war remained in a stalemate which anxious Europe hoped was a prelude to permanent peace.

Prime Minister Chamberlain awaited the end of the Spanish war as another step in his appeasement program after winning the house of commons approval, 344 to 137, last night for his recognition of the Spanish insurgent regime.

The new army estimates for the 1939-40 fiscal year were $805,000,000 compared with $532,500,000 in the previous year.

The Spanish republican government, still clinging to a fourth of Spain, met in a secret session far into the night but made no announcement of whether it had decided to surrender or continue the war.

In Berlin Field Marshal Goering testified his confidence in Germany's air force which he said was "the terror of our enemies and we are determined to keep it that way."

Fascist circles in Rome said Hitler and Mussolini might meet soon to discuss the future operation of their Rome-Berlin axis.
