LOVE DEFRAUDS NOT: Owe
no man any thing, but to love one another. Thou shalt not steal. Thou shalt not covet. Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.—Romans 13:8, 9.

The reason there has been no
"war in the Spring" is because Uncle Sam is getting so tight fisted with those foreigners he won't finance it for them.

After we have nationalized our silver stocks and are using them as a basis for money, we hope nobody conceives the idea of "doing something" for iron.

We don't know anybody on this side of the Atlantic who wants to see the war debts cancelled, but we don't know anybody either who is willing to go across and try to collect them.

One of the blessings of the depression is that people don't write poetry as much as they used to. They are too busy writing learned treatises on the subject of supply and demand and the purchasing power of money.

"The President is not as fami-lar as he should be with Aesop's fables," writes a newspaper correspondent. "He tells the business men of the country not to cry 'Wolf!' The wolf did come and did eat the sheep. The real tragedy was not that the boy cried
'Wolf,' but that the people wouldn't believe him."

Florida cattlemen are not enthusiastic over the processing tax on beef. They claim it would not result in a sufficient rise in prices to warrant its imposition. And perhaps they fear, too, that if a sufficient rise in prices should result, they would not be able to sell their beef, that people would buy lamb instead, or veal, or chicken.

Charles Mitchell, candidate for the Senate, would pay off all outstanding government bonds with flat money. That would give us five times as much currency in circulation as there is today, and, theoretically, prices five times as high as they are now. If you want to pay fifty cents for a loaf
of bread, you will vote for Mr.
Mitchell.

Vincent Wyman, mayor of Coral Gables, says that the proposed homestead exemption is unconstitutional. It is "clearly a violation of the federal constitution (Article I, Section 10) forbidding legislation by a state impairing the obligation of contracts," he says. But what's a little thing like the Constitution
in an emergency?

Unable to raise prices much by paying wheat farmers to take a acreage out of production, the Department of Agriculture is now threatened with the prospect of seeing Nature accomplish what the Department could not. A drought, and an unusually warm sun are endangering thousands of acres of wheat fields, and the prospect looms that more bushels will be destroyed than could be sown under. In that case it may be necessary for the government to pay the farmers to plant more.

Merry-Go-Round says that congressmen are having a fit over whether to vote for new tariff bill or not. It seems all the congressmen are tired to tariff reduction, but they have in mind what they would do if somebody else's congressmen had any such intention. You can see the result in all

The section devoted to wild flowers will be of particular interest to Sanford as it is written by a neighbor in Winter Park, Mary Frances Baker, a recognized authority

Income Tax Returns

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Helvering today issued a bulletin showing the number of individual income tax returns for 1932, filed to December 31, 1933, by states, counties, cities, and townships having a population of 1,000 and over in the 1930 census. The number of returns includes all individual returns for 1932 filed in accordance with the provisions of the Revenue Act requiring the filing of income tax returns.

The fiscal and other economic data relating to these returns are to a limited extent summarized in the Preliminary Report "Statistics of Income for 1932" which was issued in January 1934. More comprehensive segregations by states and territories are now being prepared and will appear in the Complete Report "Statistics of Income for 1932 filed during 1933" was 4,078,640 compared with 3,405,337 wards the end of the current calendar year.

The total number of individual income tax returns for 1932 filed during 1933 was 4,078,640 compared with 3,405,337 individual returns for 1931 filed during 1932. Highlands Hammock

There is something about the time of year when "spring is at the门" that calls for garden and a greenwood trove whether one lives in the North where the crocus breaks dramatically through a white crust of snow or in Florida where the change is more subtle and comes in the heady scent of orange blossoms and the new green of the sweet gum on the roadside. What with the Garden Club going "a-maying" at Mrs. S. M. Schwartz's place at Golden Lake and the High School seniors in Mrs. Henry Wright's garden, Sanford seems hardly to need Robert Herrick's Sixteenth Century lyric to remind it to "go bring in May," if not actually in hand the way young England does the white-thorn, in the mind, which is after all a more permanent way. It seems there is a Florida Sherwood Forest at Highlands Hammock near Sebring for those who have a nostalgic longing for an enchanted wood "far from the madding crowd."

There's a little book called "The Plant Life of Highlands Hammock" that paints a thrilling picture of this great natural forest where palms and oaks grow one hundred feet tall and orchids bloom all the year round. In the introduction, Rex Beach tells of how the late Mrs. John A. Roebling rescued this hammock of a thousand acres from being sold piecemeal, and of how her son John A. Roebling has contributed generously toward the building of roads and trails to make the wood accessible to nature lovers and botanists. The book falls naturally into three sections: the first on the trees and shrubs of the Hammock by Charles Snyder Donaldson, the second on wild flowers by Mary Frances Baker, and the third on ferns by Charles Torrey.

Mr. Donaldson comments particularly upon the mingling of the trees, shrubs, and vines of the temperate zone with those of the tropics. Scientists say that the elms, maples, hickories and oaks in Florida are the progeny of a "refuge vegetation" that came to this state during the Glacial Period. The author makes the very happy statement that Florida has always acted as a saving and restoring host for both plant and animal life, including humans. The list of trees found in the hammock, which is bewildering in its variety, includes pine, cypress, palm, hickory, yucca, oak, bayberry, mulberry, elm, buckwheat, custard apple, magnolia, sweet gum, plum, mimosa, orange, mahogany, holly, sumac, laurel, sapodilla, and many others.

The section devoted to wild flowers will be of particular interest to Sanford as it is written by a neighbor in Winter Park, Mary Frances Baker, a recognized authority and the author of the book, "Florida Wild Flowers." In spite of Mrs. Baker's reputation, her book is not scientific back-ground. She makes one see the starry marsh pinks booming on the ground, smell the violets of purple and white, and taste the pungent leaves of mint. Mr. Simpson, Florida's naturalist and the author of "Out Doors in Florida" and "Lower Florida Wilds," gives an interesting review of the ferns of the hammock and there seems to be every kind from the feathery maidenhair to the hardy sword.

From Chaucer's day to the present, when the spring comes, "then longen folke to go on pilgrimages," and we suggest Highlands Hammock as a place where much beauty can be found at the journey's end.

THE SILVER "DEAL"
NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE

Senator Thomas, of Oklahoma, cleverly disguised as an aid to agriculture. As for the purchase of silver abroad for the purpose of "diluting" the monetary stocks and thus raising world prices, that is intellectually on a par with the so-called Warren bullion theory. It recalls to us the rather pointed comment offered by the late William Peter Hamilton when a green financial reporter, discussing the market crash of 1929, spoke of the "sustaining influence" on the market as "stop-loss orders." "The influence of stop-loss orders," wrote the acid Hamilton, "is precisely as 'sustaining' as a swift kick delivered to a man standing at a steep flight of stairs."

Car Grapefruit Sold
For $6.20 Box In N.Y.

ORLANDO, May 11.—Florida grapefruit are selling higher. Yesterday a car of American Fruit Growers Marsh seedless Florida grapefruit, sold in New York at $6.20 per box, it was learned last night.

Some "Blue Goose" russet fruit brought $5.95 a box, while second grade stock sold at $4.05. American Fruit Growers officials reported.

Silver stocks that will be "nationalized" (what a pity stock market speculators never thought of that happy euphemism) in fact in the fall of 1934, probably amount to somewhere between thousands, which means a government expenditure of $10 cents an ounce that is reported to be present in the agreement, of $100,000,000.

The proposed "statement of policy" that the country's metallic reserve should be 25 percent silver in coinage, unless we are prepared to go on a definitely bimetallic basis, which would be virtually impossible without world cooperation. The country's stocks of silver today, including silver coins, amount to about $80,000,000, but it is in no sense proper to refer to this as metallic reserve. Silver certificates in recent years have circulated not on the strength of the silver dollar and silver dollars held in the Treasury, but because they have been interchangeable for other forms of currency which were in turn redeemable in gold at the option of the holder. The silver in the Treasury has no monetary use. It remains there because it has been, as we saw in the case of the Pittman Act in 1908, politically impossible to sell.

Carrying out of the Dues bill is a definite strategic victory for the fact that as is the avoidance of a commitment to buy world silver. The Dues Bill sees a vicious piece of silver robbery legislation.

You can still get reasonable prices here. Have your car ready for service.

Silverites Are Still Confident Of Success

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(P)—Although a scheduled conference with Secretary Morgenthau was postponed, the majority of the persistent silver Senate group yesterday insisted that "satisfactory legislation" would be worked out in a short time.

The silverites, headed by Senator King, Democrat, Utah, are to confer with Morgenthau and his aides tomorrow and King predicted agreement "if we can get two or three hours."

By contrast, Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, said he felt that "even if a silver bill is passed, I don't think it will amount to anything."

And Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, who withdrew from the silver parley Wednesday after Secretary Morgenthau's proposals did not please him, said:

"I think there is a fundamental difference of opinion between members of our group and the President."

Burns and Allen Play

At Milane On Sunday

George Burns and Gracie Allen, the "mirths of the networks," make their fifth screen appearance in Paramount's adventure-filmusical, "We're Not Dressing," which comes on Sunday to the Milane Theater. They are featured with Bing Crosby, Carole Lombard, Ethel Merman and Leon Errol.

Burns and Allen made their screen debut a few years ago in Paramount's immensely successful "The Big Broadcast." They proved to be so popular that they were cast in rapid succession, in "College Humor," "International House" and in the recent "Six of a Kind."

Wheat Prices Soar As News Spreads Of Heat Damage

(Continued From Page One) buried plants in others worked together to shorten the wheat crop. Reports said oats suffered severely and that the hay crop and grazing lands have been as much affected by the drought that a serious feed shortage was threatened.

Literally thousands of earth top-soil, pulverized by the intense heat, were carried on a high wind blowing from the Dakotas and Minnesota southeast as far as the Lower Lake region.

Experts were agreed generally that wheat and oats already damaged by the drought would be ruined, and that those fields holding their own would be seriously damaged, if substantial rain did not fall within a week.

So serious was the water shortage that in some of the most affected regions municipal embargoes were established on drinking water, with penalties hurriedly attached for wastefulness.

Farmers forced through the collapse of pasture lands under the sun to feed from the mows were confronted with a feed shortage that could be relieved only partly through substitute crops, the experts said. Soy beans, which can be effectively planted in the middle of June in some sections, were looked upon as the principal substitute.

The Dakotas, Minnesota, Illinois, Nebraska, Indiana and Ohio appeared, from experts' reports, the most seriously affected.

A 47-mile an hour wind took over the most of Minnesota's top soil, causing farmers to abandon work in fields, making driving hazardous, and exposing the dry subsoil to increased damage from the wind.

Crop prospects there have been reduced 20 percent, in the opinion of experts, and a slight rain last night gave but fleeting relief. The dust storms, agronomists said, would intensify the drought.

Farmers in the southern part of the state reported severe damage to oats, rye and wheat which were above ground. Ohio State University observers reported millions of dollars worth of crops would be endangered unless rain fell this week, and J. H. Armstrong, Indiana meteorologist, said that oats and grass were already burned so seriously and wheat would be badly damaged without moisture soon.

Rainfall in Missouri has been put 69 percent of normal since April 1, and although light, spotty rains last night brought temporary relief, experts agreed that more rain must fall to save crops. In central sections wheat suffered from the chin hook.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—Aware of drought ravages to Western crops and intent upon its plan for an adjustment of wheat production, the Farm Administration decided today to extend its reduction of acreage campaign until May 16 to let the farmers of the dust ridden states join up.

It was explained, however, that insuring incomes of farmers under conditions such as this drought was a secondary function.

The foremost purpose in seeking contracts to cut acreage was given anew as crop reduction.

Of special interest also was a report of a virtual agreement between Senate silver advocates and Secretary Morgenthau on the phrasing of a measure to help metal. President Roosevelt will see it before final drafting.

At Chicago, apprehension over middle America's crop prospects grew hourly today.

Parched prairies and plains, long baked by the hot sun and swept by choking "Black Blizzards" of dust, swelled the alarm of the agrarian and the city dweller alike.

The only note of hope was a forecast for local showers tonight in Nebraska and the Dakotas, and in Iowa tomorrow. Elsewhere no relief is in sight.

Experts said "Black Blizzards" were without precedent in intensity and the area involved within the past 20 years.

One estimate was that some

23 WHALES!

LITTLE AMERICA, ANTARCTICA, April 30—(via Mackay Radios). Life goes along with us, smoothly but busily. Outdoors it is night-time and we don't stray into it any more than we have to. I am beginning to get accustomed to this night-life—24 hours a day.

Practically all the men are keeping diaries, some of which will later be turned into books, I suppose. So far there has been very little literary effort. We've all been too busy. In fact, we haven't had time to listen to more than a few radio programs, most of which reach us by way of New Zealand or Australia. We are still digging tunnels. This is simple out-back-breaking. We dig a trench seven feet deep in the snow, line each side with boxes of food or supplies and roof the whole thing over with big blocks of hard Dr. Thomas C. snow. In a few hours, our Com-mours or day's mander Pro Tem, entire tunnel is covered many feet deep with snowdrift. This house of George Noe's where I live is now completely buried. This snow, especially on the surface, is so fine and dry that it can sneak through the tiniest opening. If a hole two inches in diameter is made in a tunnel, the entire tunnel will be blocked up in twelve hours.

We are all alone here on the ice. All the penguins, seals and gulls have left us, for heaven only knows where. Even the whales have gone from the Bay of Whales, where there were hundreds of them a month ago. George Noville says he is going to catch one next October and is laying deep plans for this personal conquest of his.

They tell me whale meat is very fine eating, black but tender and amazingly nourishing. I'll probably grow all about this, when we capture a few next time the sun visits us. Unfortunately, however, the best whales to eat are the blue whales for which I have a great feeling of sympathy on account of the meanness with which they are treated by the killer whales. Killer whales! There's a beauty for you! In my opinion this is the cruellest animal in the world. They are smaller than the other whales by many tons, running only up to around 40 feet from pointed nose to flapping tail. But they are so ferocious that the big whales, on which they prey, haven't a chance. Their pet habit is to attack the big blue whale, eat out his tongue and set him adrift to die miserably. Coming through the Ross Sea on the Jacob Ruppert, I saw an enormous members to be at the crossroads will next week begin a struggle in which its life and form will be a major issue.

"It must change or disappear—it is at the crossroads," said a resolution of the deputies who pushed through the appointment of a commission to revise the constitution, overhaul the government, and strengthen the president's powers.

Moats that sought to sack the chamber Feb. 6 convinced members they must alter their ways "or something will happen."

INCREASE IN AD LINEAGE HELD AS PROSPERITY SIGN

State Leads Nation In Display Advertising Gains Since 1933

Miami, May 11.—(AP)—Floridians are pointing with pride to increased advertising lineage as an indication of returning prosperity.

A million and a half winter visitors, who, in the estimation of Hotel Commissioner J. B. Sullivan, spent $300,000,000 during the past season, stimulated the march along recovery road.

A general average advertising increase in six cities of 26.8 percent for the first three months of last year was revealed in figures compiled by a committee of publishers and business leaders. This increase is five percent higher than the average gain for newspapers over the country.

In Miami, Jacksonville, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Orlando, and Pensacola, newspaper advertising lineage for the first three months of this year totaled 16,865,566, as compared with 13,350,592 for the first three months of 1933.

Michigan's total showed a gain of 2,473,886 lines, with one paper leading the entire 14 Southern states. One paper increased 41 percent from 2,398,702 lines to 3,265,523 lines, and the other gained 46 percent from 1,721,542 to 2,424,074 lines.

Jacksonville reported a gain of 17.8 percent with 8,013,404 lines as compared to 6,557,216 for the first quarter of 1933.

Tampa's lineage jumped from 2,045,469 a year ago to 2,463,818, a gain of 20.4 percent.

Pensacola showed a 24.6 percent increase with 1,114,802 lines against 864,180 in 1933.

St. Petersburg's increase was 19 percent from 8,447,914 lines to 10,001,077 lines.

A gain of 16.5 percent was reported in Orlando, where the total jumped to 1,544,974 from 1,325,448 in the first quarter of 1933.

This company handled last season alone more than a million boxes of citrus fruit to New York at a saving of 39 cents a box.

"The Central Florida Transportation Co. purchased the Ocean's from the Clyde Steamship Co., has built its own docks and warehouse at Sanford during the year and is moving great carloads of fertilizing materials, incoming and fruit, vegetables, and general cargoes northbound.

"The Suwannee Steamship Co. has recently added the "Colonel," a 250 ton capacity boat to its fleet, and has established its own dock and warehouse facilities at Sanford and is doing a general freight business though the bulk of its space is used in hauling the grocery supplies of the Winn Lovett Co., who operates 30 Piggy-Wiggle and similar chain stores which are served through Sanford. A fleet of five trucks is used to supply stores from Leesburg to St. Petersburg to Stuart on the East Coast.

"V. H. Coppedge and Son of Jacksonville and Sanford operate oil tank barges on the river and carry fuel oil to power plants and other large users, including the Florida Power and Light Co. and Florida Public Service Co.

"The Orange State Oil Co. (Dowdy interests) has purchased its site and has built their docks and storage tanks and will operate its own river tankers, connecting with the ocean tankers from Galveston, at Jacksonville.

They will supply the Cities Service Co. stations between Daytona Beach and Haines City.

The American Oil Company has leased the adjoining property for its facilities, including storage tanks, tank trucks, docks, etc.

The Standard Oil Co. has purchased the site between the Orange State Oil Co. docks and those of the Central Florida Transportation Co., and has its permits from the War Department for the building of their new docks and tanks.

"Two other large oil companies are negotiating for lake front property at Sanford and by the late summer five important oil companies will be operating out of Sanford.

"Another indication of this new commercial and industrial development taking place at the Port of Central Florida in Sanford is the removal here from Quitman of the Georgia-Florida Grocery Co. which has established its warehouses and truck lines and plans to open 100 Suwannee stores in Florida, 12 of which it has established in the past three weeks.

Mme. Henriot, whose strange death parallels that of Judge Albert Prince, the Paris magistrate who "knew too much" about the Stavisky scandal, was a cousin of Deputy Philippe-Henriot, whose attacks in the chamber of deputies uncovered the most shocking national bank scandal of modern France.

She was a sister-in-law of the prosecuting attorney for the Lorient district, where the master swindler, Serge Alexandre Stavisky, had ridden high on the profits of his underworld business. Two

SENATE PASSES STOCK MARKET CONTROL BILL

Act Sent To House For Adjustment Of Few Minor Differences; Silver Law Certain

WASHINGTON, May 12. —(A.P.)—The Fletcher-Rayburn stock market control bill was passed by the Senate today and sent to conference with the House for an adjustment of differences.

The Senate's action was the culmination of years of agitation for a regulation of exchanges, and it assured final approval of the bill, satisfactory to those demanding it.

Shortly before the bill passed the Senate, adopted an Administration amendment to modify the Securities Act of 1933, and it rejected a series of more liberal proposals.

Amendments to modify the stock bill all had been shouted down as fast as they were offered, and the bill went through as recommended by the Senate Banking Committee.

President Roosevelt and Congressional silverites were so near together today on a bill for the rehabilitation of silver, that legislation at this session appeared certain.

Both Senate silverites and the White House were in apparent agreement for a declaration of policy by Congress, definitely fixing silver as a part of the national monetary basis at a ratio of not less than 25 percent against 75 percent gold.

The remaining trouble, if any, lay in whether there should be straight out direction or whether more discretion would be left to the President to carry out this mandatory proposal.

Course Of Training In Home Hygiene Begins On Monday

It was announced this morning by Mrs. A. W. Knox that a course of training in home hygiene and care of the sick, covering a 10 weeks' period of instruction, has been instituted by the Seminole County Chapter of the Red Cross and will be held on Mondays and Thursdays from 9:00 A. M. to 11:00 A. M. at the Municipal Court Room, behind the City Hall, beginning on Monday, May 14.

The course has been designed to give women a training equivalent to the recent course in first aid held for men, and it will be under the direction of the FERA. Students will be given a Red Cross certificate at the successful completion of the course.

Mrs. Todd, registered nurse, has been appointed by the national office to act as instructor. Registration may be made at once with Mrs. Helen T. Morse at the Court House.

FEWA naming office in the Mrs. Todd said that classes will be organized in Oviedo, Forest City, and Lake Mary as well as in Sanford so it will not be necessary for residents of those towns to enroll in Sanford.

Included in the subjects to be covered will be the care of the sick, personal hygiene, the healthful home, the baby in the home, preparation for and care of the baby, the pre-school child, school child, cause and prevention of care of convalescent and aged, and emergencies.

Mrs. Todd announced that the course is available to any resident of Seminole County without cost except for the purchase of a manual. Negro women may take advantage of this opportunity and will be taught in separate classes.

CANAL SURVEY HELD UP FOR LACK OF FUNDS

Fletcher Advised That Further Study Of St. John's Project May Come In 1935

WASHINGTON, May 12. — Major General E. M. MacKown, chief of engineers in the War Department, advised Senator Duncan U. Fletcher yesterday as follows, concerning the immediate survey for the canal to connect the St. Johns with the Indian River, as requested by the Committee on Rivers and Harbors of the House:

"It is regretted that the Department was forced to discontinue this survey, due to the necessity of applying the funds available during the fiscal year 1934 to immediate urgent maintenance requirements. Additional funds will become available July 1, 1935, and at that time the investigation of this canal will be started once more and pushed to completion as rapidly as possible."

Karl Lehmann, secretary of the St. Johns River Improvement Association, had communicated with Senator Fletcher respecting the project.

Mid-West Farmers Turn Hopeful Eyes To Mountain Area

CHICAGO, May 12. —(A.P.)—Farmers who have stood helpless as the blazing sun seared away their crops, turned hopefully to the parched prairies of the Rocky Mountains for relief to day.

A low pressure area over the Far Western region was reported working its way slowly toward the East bringing life-giving showers to the parched prairies of the grain states.

"Indications are fairly good for at least local showers in the central and western parts of the North Central States Saturday or Saturday night, and in the eastern part Saturday night or Sunday," the Weather Bureau reported.
