-AN UNUSUAL BUNGALOW----

What bride would not be delighted with this quaint little bungalow. The onefloor house eliminates lots of extra steps for the busy housewife who will find it no more trouble than a compact city apartment. At the same time one has the advantage of one's own house and very charming and unusual one at that.

One enters the house through a small vestibule. The front door has, a curved head and is built up of solid sticks. The interior of the livingroom is shown herewith. The aurved ceiling and unusual fire-place making attractive features. There is a very attractive dining alcove, a well equipped kitchen, rear porch and entry with space for the ice hox and two generous bedrooms with tiled bath. Plenty of closets are provided, thus making a place for everything and helping to lighten the housewife's work.

There are many attractive details about this house, each worthy of note.

The iron cat that sits so placidly over the window in the brick gable, the unusual iron lantern, the thatch-roof effect of the shingles over the front door, the flower pot cut-outs on the shutters. All are the notes of individuality that result in a harmonious and attractive mhole Cost about $6,100.

Care, the A, B, C of Safety

As a city becomes large its traffic problems become serious. When Sanford was a little one-horse town it didn't have to worry much about automobile accidents. It didn't have to enact many ordinances for the regulation of traffic. It didn't have to bother its municipal head about carelessness. But now it is different. The city has outgrown its childhood days and has rapidly become full grown. A little more care must be exercised and motorists must be governed by rules and
