Dizzy Mote Allows Visitors Only Seven Hits Which Were Well Scattered; Lookouts Play DeLand Tonight

Owen Wright's Sanford Lookouts, behind seven hit hurling by Dassy "Marine" Mote, gathered a 3 to 2 victory over Shaw Buck's new deal Azaleas at the local Municipal Athletic Field yesterday afternoon before a congregation of 500 third inning water soaked fans.

Going the entire route for the Lookouts, Mote gave up but seven on well scattered hits during the afternoon's performance. Three of the hits were two-base blows but nevertheless, Mote was in no hot water until the final chapter when the visitors put two men on the bases with no outs but Mote retired them to put an end to a beautiful day's performance.

Mote was very effective during the afternoon, allowing no free passes to the initial sick while fanning four of the Azaleas. On the mound for the visitors was George Phillips, former backstop for Don McShane's Gainesville G-Men. Phillips hurled eight-hits ball but could not keep them scattered well enough to prevent the Lookouts from showing over the three runs that won the ball game. Phillips walked three of the Lookouts, struck out two and hit one batter. Two of the eight hits collected by the locals were extra base blows. Swede Martin was given credit for a double while Langston made himself a stronger center tender for the league's triple hitting king by collecting one more to add to a total of 16 previous three-base wallops.

The hitting power of the Lookout left-fielder, Swede Martin, rang out again yesterday afternoon when he collected a double and two singles in three official trips to the platter. Martin further honored himself by driving in two of the Lookout counters and stealing home himself in the initial stanza for the third run. The Lookouts began the scoring in the first inning when with one man out Mayo Langston blasted a triple into right field. Kasoo went down swinging but Martin came through with a neat single into right field to send Langston in with the local's first tally. Martin advanced to third a few moments later on a somewhat freak play. Phillips made a throw to first from the mound to catch Martin but failed. Warren Buck, brother of Shaw Buck, playing on the initial sack threw back to the Phillips on the mound but the pitcher let the ball go through his fingers and Martin raced to second base. Phillips ran to recover the ball and did so and cut the apple loose to second in an attempt to nab Martin. The ball went wild into center field and Martin raced to third where he was about a third of a second safe. Tex Holcomb, seeing action behind the

Swede Martin Leads Local Boys With An Average Of 3.19

ORLANDO, July 15.—Called up by the New York Yankees because of his unusual stick work in the Florida State League, Little Claude Corbett, Palatka Azalea shortstop who had led the league sluggers for over a month, Friday night left the race wide open and in temporary charge of Pepper Martin, of Daytona Beach.

Official averages released here today by League Secretary Peter Schaal show Martin with a .314 as the leader among the regulars who have seen more than three quarters of a season of service. Chuck Aleno, DeLand third-sacker, was close on his heels, with Adair DeLand, Sanders of Daytona, Martin of Sanford, Commodore St. Augustine and Morton of Daytona close behind.

The week's best individual performance—13 hits in 34 trips—boosted the Livingston of Gainesville nearly 30 points to a .289. Patterson of DeLand, Frick of Daytona, and Trammell of Palatka also boosted their marks stably.

The DeLand Reds still top the team batting list with a .278, and Daytona remains second with a .272. However, Gainesville's best week of the year—five victories in six starts—was accompanied by plenty of stickwork, zoomed the G-Men into a third place tie with Leesburg.

Seven men have reached the 100-hit mark, with Gary of Sanford only 20 away from the runs scored department. Official averages for the week ending July 15 and including all night games:

TODAY'S SPORTING WORLD

By JULIAN STENSTROM
Herald Sports Editor

ALMOST EVERYONE THAT YOU talk to about who will win the World Series for this year and be crowned the World Champions will usually say the New York Yankees. Yes, the Yanks have some great power in that line-up that is taking them places this season as it did last season to a world-championship.

Although not all the sports writers in these United States chose the Yankees as the winners, most of them did. In fact, although the Yanks are setting the pace in the American League, we think that they will end in second place, being fronted by Jimmy Dykes' Chicago White Sox.

The reason is this: The Yanks have been great so far this season. They have set the pace and although that is true, as we said in our column the other evening, every outfit must have a downfall some time during the season and when the Yanks do have their slump, you can bet that the White Sox will be right behind them and do everything they can to overcome one of the greatest ball clubs since Connie Mack's Athletics of the days of '29, '30 and '31.

Now discussing the National League here we hope to find the Chicago Cubs right there on top. The St. Louis Cardinals have faltered this season because of poor pitching and hitting by their regulars. About the only man Frick can depend on at the plate is Joe Medwick who is nonchalantly tapping the apple at a cool .400.

Sanford's Ben Cantwell, formerly of the Sanford Celery Feds, Jacksonville Tars, New York Giants, Boston Red Sox and now of the Jersey City Giants of the International League with his 140 hit tally of the season when he was the Newark Bears, the league-leader, by a shut-out score of 7 to 0.

SHORT SPORT SHOTS... According to the Sporting News of St. Louis, Don McShane has put prices on the heads of both Andy Sierra and Elbert Faggett. . . . $5,000 for each of them would not make such a bad profit for the present league-leaders. . . . Too bad the local club can't put prices on some of our hurlers. We can put prices on some of our hurlers. We can put prices of five or six and get just as much. For Don McShane told us the other night, Sanford has the greatest pitching staff in Class D Baseball. . . . Chattanooga has got the local club sewed up good and tight. . . . We are sure if we had nothing to do with the Southern Association club or the farm system we could put a price of $10,000 on Wright's noodle and still think he is worth more. . . .

Big Dan Brainard Placed On Sanford Herald's All-Star State League Roster

Local Hurler Is Largest Player In The Florida State League And Has 13 Wins And 7 Defeats On Record

By JULIAN STENSTROM
As one of the pitchers picked by The Sanford Herald on its annual Florida State League all-star team, we bring you the baseball history as well as the baseball career of none other than Big Dan Brainard, one of the Lookout's ace slab workers.

As many of you may know, Brainard was a member of Joe Engel's baseball school which was held here in Sanford this spring. He was the first player of 25 to be signed by Joe Engel to a professional contract for the first time in his career and he graduated from the school as somewhat an honor student along with several others.

A little story goes along on his record during the baseball school concerning the big boy who stands six five and three-quarter inches tall, hits the scales at no less than 210 pounds and signed his contract at an age one year less than being a voter, providing he paid his poll tax.

When the opening day of the school arrived, Joe Engel and I were taking the registrations of the ball players entering the school. Coming in the line in which I was taking the registrations, a walking up to me and gave his name as Dan Brainard of Eustis, Florida. I noticed the youngster's huge appearance and the other clothes which he called baseball togs.

He had hair that could be curled easily, needed a shave badly, wore a half torn polo shirt and tennis shoes with no socks. I had my opinion about him which was not so good at that time I will freely admit. I called Joe and told him to take the youngster's registration. He did and after Joe watched him burn a few pitches to one of the catchers in the school he did more than that.

He sent Brainard to town that evening with a Chattanooga uniform and also with orders and money to get a pair of baseball shoes, a sweat shirt, a haircut and when he came out to remain here on the Lookout roster of the State League. So far this let him through the gate. If we published pictures of him the first morning and the second morning it would be like placing a 1913 model of an automobile along side of the new 1937 models.

Getting back with our story, Brainard was born in Hendersonville, December 11, 1916. When he was at the age of two, his family moved to Eustis where he attended the grade schools. When at the age of 13, again his family moved, this time to Ashland, Ky.

They lived there two years before moving to Johnson City, Tenn. He attended the high school there for two years and graduated as an honor student.

After graduating from high school, Big Dan entered the State Teachers College also located in Johnson City and attended classes for three years. Dan began his baseball career at the age of 17 when during the summer he played amateur baseball with a Johnson City club.

After attending college for three years, he moved to Williamson, N. C. played there in 1935 as a pitcher for the Williamson club of the Coastal Plain League. That season his first full year as a pitcher, he won 13 games while tasting defeat seven times.

In 1936, his family again moved back to Eustis and Brainard was signed by the Apopka club of the Lake-Orange League, a semi-pro outfit. He came through with 15 wins against 3 defeats.

Brainard has played four years of high school baseball, football and basketball. As you can possibly guess he pitched in baseball, played end in football and was a center on the basketball squads.

Big Dan also has three years of college baseball, football and basketball.

In 1937, Brainard decided to attend the local baseball school after his father had forbidden him to sign a contract with the Cleveland Indians of the American League to be farmed out to a minor league club. As you know he was signed by Joe Engel and ordered to remain here on the Lookout roster of the State League. So far this

Huge Appropriations Of Congress Shown

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP) Congress has appropriated more than $7,500,000 this year for federal expenditures, committee records showed.

This includes an estimated $122,599,999 for the interior department which the House may cut some before giving final approval next week.

The budget bureau recommended general expenditures of $7,524,656,159 while comparable appropriations for last year were $7,768,251,196.

Although the economy campaign resulted in holding funds some $200,000,000 under budget recommendations, this year's appropriations would be more than $1,000,000,000 ahead of 1936 had not Congress voted $2,237,000,000 to pay the soldiers' bonus.

Marconi Dies Suddenly At Home In Rome

Inventor Of Wireless Telegraphy When 21 Is Victim Of Death From Heart Disease

Dies On Birthday Of His Daughter

Pope Sends Blessings And Mussolini Goes To Wizard's Home

ROME, July 20.—(AP)—Marquis Guglielmo Marconi, who invented wireless telegraphy when he was only 21 years old, died today in his ancient palace in downtown Rome where he lived and worked.

The 63-year-old conqueror of ether died quietly of heart paralysis. His widow and daughter survive him. Today was his daughter's eighth birthday.

Both Pope Pius and Premier Mussolini, close friends of inventor, were notified of his death immediately. The Pope sent a special blessing and Mussolini went to his home and kissed the dead Marconi.

The inventor had not been feeling well but had continued work on television and radio developments on which he had been engaged for some time. Death was unexpected. A state funeral will be held.

Marconi was only 21 when in the spring of 1895 he first tapped out the letter "S" in Morse Code on a wireless transmitter in the laboratory, in his father's barn.

Italy was skeptical of the invention and paid Marconi little attention. His Irish born mother told him to "forget where he obtained a patent on his invention."

Honors were heaped on the inventor in later years, especially after Mussolini came into power in Italy.

'Star In The West' Is New Play Which Byrd Will Produce

Sam Byrd, former Sanford boy who became an actor and producer of note, made "Star in the West" the title for a new play which he acquired several months ago.

The theme of his new play deals with life at the present time in North Carolina and was written by Paul Green, a native of that state. Mr. Byrd will not only produce the play, but will also stage the leading role.

He made the announcement of his new plans on his return from Showegan, Maine, where he had been playing at the Lakewood Theater. Later this week, he expects to join Mr. Green at Chapel Hill, N. C., for the purpose of discussing final plans for the play.

Mr. Byrd has been prominent for his work on the legitimate stage, having appeared in "Tobacco Road," which enjoyed a long run in New York, and the more recent "White Man," which he produced himself.

Rebels, Loyalists Japanese Armies Fighting In Death Struggle In Spain

Outcome Of Battle Is Believed Turning Point Of Civil War

By The Associated Press
An estimated 200,000 men, about equally divided between insurgent and government armies, were locked in the sixth day of battle for Madrid.

Government aircraft dumped heavy cargoes of explosives on Navagamella to shatter the lines of supply for thousands of seasoned reinforcements called to the front by insurgent General Franco.

Both sides fought furiously, both believing the outcome of the battle may be the outcome of the civil war. Repeated air battles are said to rival those of World War days.

General Franco hurled his greatest strength against the salient in the government lines at Brunate, 12 miles west of the capital. The insurgent drive evidently was designed to wipe out the government's recent gains, which, in two weeks' offensive, had been driven far enough to constitute a grave peril to the insurgent forces besieging Madrid.

The battle raged over a 30-mile front. Hundreds of airplanes were aloft. The roar of artillery, hundreds of guns of from three to 10 inches, could be heard plainly in Madrid.

Over the 100-square-mile Brunate salient captured by the government 10 days ago hung a heavy curtain of smoke broken by flashes of cannon and bursting air bombs.

Already the conflict was called "the battle for Madrid." Realizing the great danger to their Madrid front unless the government's wedge is wiped out, the insurgents had drawn men from their Bay of Biscay front as far away as Coruna in the northwest.

Government officers estimated the insurgents had not less than 150,000 men concentrated in the Madrid-Sierra front. They said at least 42,000 men had been sent to Sevilla La Nueva, Corbeon, Navagamella and Boquilla del Monte, towns behind the insurgent lines facing Madrid.

Nelson Hurt Seriously By Blow On Head

Prominent Longwood Resident In Critical Condition Following Altercation

Chandler Nelson, prominent resident of Longwood, was reported in a very critical condition at the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital today as the result of a blow received on the head, which came as the climax of an argument over a minor auto accident, according to statements of eye witnesses as related by police to a Herald reporter.

Chief of Police Roy G. Williams stated that witnesses told him the Nelson car and an unidentified car sideswiped on Geneva Avenue shortly after 11:00 o'clock last night, and that neither of the drivers of the cars stopped at the time but that the unidentified car followed Mr. Nelson, who was on his way to his home in Longwood, stopped him and began arguing.

The arguing abruptly stopped when Mr. Nelson was struck over the head. Witnesses called Police who carried Mr. Nelson to the hospital where an examination showed him to be suffering from a fractured skull.

Since the accident, both City and County officers have been investigating every possible clue but as yet no arrests have been made.

Several witnesses reported that the unidentified car contained a young man, a girl and an old man.

Mr. Nelson, is one of five brothers who are roadbuilding contractors. They live part of the time at their Longwood home and in Louisiana.

Tax Certificates Sold Without Any Competitive Bids

A large number of persons gathered in front of the Court House yesterday morning to witness the sale of tax certificates in Seminole County under the terms of House Bill 356, passed in the recent legislative session.

Seventy-eight certificates involving $41,216.28 in delinquent State and county taxes were sold to bidders at the public auction conducted by Clerk of the Circuit Court O. P. Herndon, for $2,225.

Mr. Herndon stated that the lowest bid received yesterday was $9 and the highest was $25, and that bidders bought in their property without competitive bidding.

Mr. Herndon added that the sale of the certificates would be received until after the ruling of the Supreme Court on the contested bill.

Tax certificates and receipts, it was indicated, will also be withheld pending the court's decision.

Bird Traps Urged By Mason To Aid Audubon Society

An appeal to the people of Sanford to allow a chimney swift trap to be placed on the chimneys of their homes was made today by C. E. Mason, president of the Florida Audubon Society.

Mr. Mason stated that at night, the little creatures dart into many chimneys by the hundreds and cling to the sides with their sharp claws and pointed tail feathers. Traps are then placed over the top opening of the chimney and at daybreak the swifts are caught.

After having been banded with small aluminum bands, the birds are then set free none the worse for their experience.

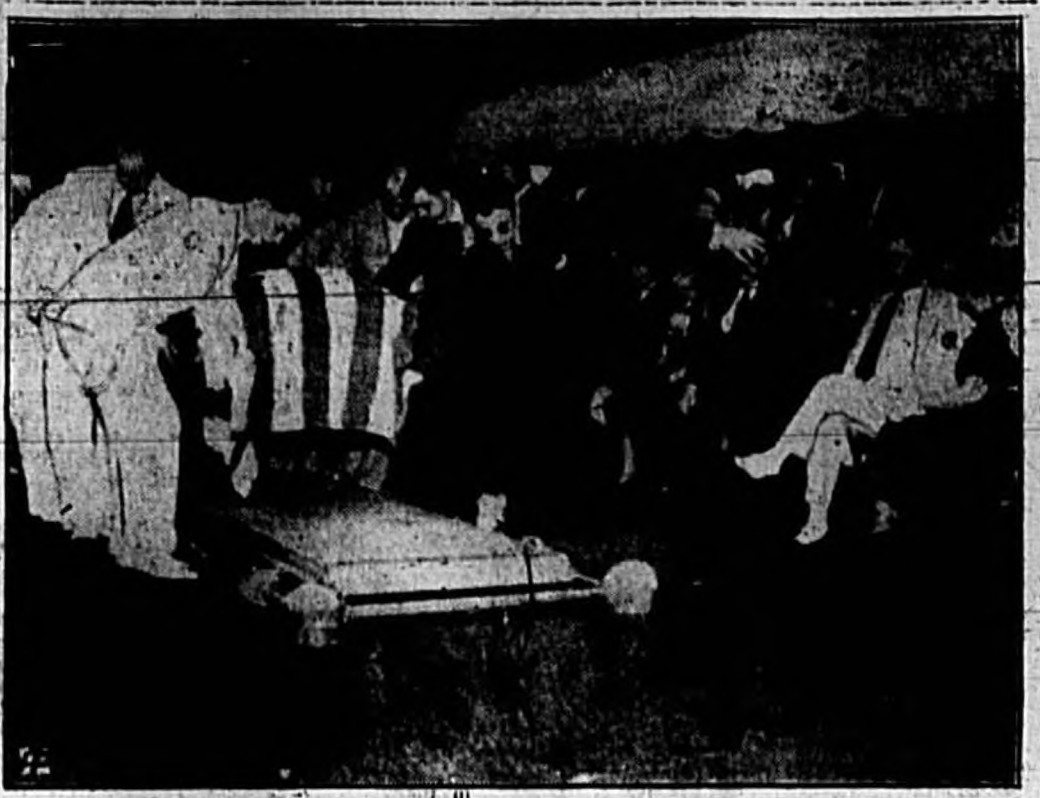

Mr. Mason emphasized the fact that the trap is no way harmful to the birds, and that the bands which are placed around their feet are so light that they are absolutely no hindrance to them.

All home owners who would not object to the use of such a trap on their chimneys are requested to communicate with Mr. Mason in order that work may be carried on.

The purpose of the banding is for the keeping of an important record on the swift's migration. Mr. Mason said.

Motor Company To Face Trial On Assault Warrant

Charges Are Based On Riot At Ford Gates With CIO Workers

DETROIT, July 20.—(AP)—Common Pleas Judge Ralph W. Liddy today ordered eight individuals and the Ford Motor Company as a corporation held for trial in the Wayne County circuit court on an assault warrant based on a riot at the Ford plant gates May 26.

The formal charge was assault with intent to do bodily harm; less than the crime of murder, in connection with the beating of united automobile workers members at attempting to distribute union literature near the Ford River Rouge plant in suburban Dearborn.

Judge Liddy acted after hearing evidence that William Merriweather on whose injuries the warrants were based suffered two broken vertebrae.

Young Pair Of Blacks Had Been Accused Of Stabbing Capital Policeman Sunday

Lynching Occurs Early In Morning

Jailer Is Forced To Release Prisoners Others Are Warned

TALLAHASSEE, July 20.—(AP)—Two young negroes accused of stabbing a Tallahassee policeman Sunday, were taken from the county jail here early this morning and riddled with shots by a small band of masked men.

Persons living near the scene of the lynching, about three miles from the state capital and within sight of the heavily traveled Tallahassee to Jacksonville highway, said shots were fired about four o'clock this morning.

Police said masked men entered the headquarters and freed Officer Harry Fairbanks to accompany them to the county jail and deliver the prisoners to them.

Police said Fairbanks then was bound and left in jail where he remained until morning.

Authorities yesterday formally charged the two negroes, listed as Richard Gaskins and Ernest Fender, with stabbing Officer V. F. Kelly of Tallahassee Sunday when he attempted to arrest them on suspicion of entering a restaurant to rob it.

Kelly is in a serious condition in a hospital here, police said the negroes confessed they stabbed Kelly but each accused the other of the actual stabbing.

Fellow officers quoted Fairbanks as saying the men in the band wore masks and he did not recognize any of them. Five placards of warning were found with the bodies. The placards read "his last crime." "This is your warning." "Negroes remember you may be next." "Warning this is what will happen to all negroes that harm white people."

Traffic Light To Be Installed By Police

A traffic light similar to the one now in operation at the intersection of French Avenue and First Street was delivered to the local Police Station yesterday prior to its installation at the intersection of Thirteenth Street and Park Avenue, Chief of Police Roy G. Williams reported today.

The light is the second of three lights which the City Commissioners voted to install at hazardous intersections in the City in an effort to reduce traffic accidents.

Preparations for the installation of the light are being made and it is believed that the light will be in operation within the next few days.

Treasure Hunt Held By Boy Scout Group

A treasure hunt, which led Boy Scouts on a 2 1/2 mile chase, was featured at the regularly weekly meeting of Troop 5 last night at the Junior High School.

The boys left the troop headquarters soon after the meeting began, and followed a trail of hidden notes. Henry Tamm, Manuel Brown, and Walter Turner were the first to return and receive their reward.

Plans were made for "stunt night" to be held at the next meeting when several groups of boys will present short skits for amusement of guests.

Once Called Traitor, Sung Defends Peiping Area From Invaders

By The Associated Press
China's success in halting the Japanese in the Peiping area depends to a great extent upon which way one of its most famous leaders finally will jump.

The general chiefly responsible for Chinese policy up near the Great Wall is Sung Chieh-yuan, head of the council governing semi-independent Hopei and Chahar provinces. Sometimes he has seemed on the Chinese side of the fence; sometimes the Japanese.

After the Peiping incident, however, China counted upon him to defend the city, principal one in Hopei. One of China's mightiest generals, he commands the famous 21st route army, which gallantly, but vainly, defended the Great Wall against Japan in 1933.

The political council of his Hopei-Chahar state, inaugurated in December, 1935, was regarded as pro-Japanese. The territory it rules is as large as Texas and has 30,000,000 residents. Sung proposed to promote friendly relations with Japan and Manchukuo, and Japanese militarists applauded.

Thousands of Peiping students branded his activities as traitorous, but Nankin officially blessed the new regime—perhaps as the best way to keep even a tenuous grip upon Sung.

Last year his officers called upon him to back Japan's expansion. At the same time, Japan increased forces near Peiping to an estimated 10,000 as against Sung's army of 50,000 to 70,000.

Reichsfuehrer Wins Equality With Italy In Insurgent Trade

BERLIN, July 26.—(AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler won trade equality with Premier Mussolini yesterday in insurgent Spain through a treaty signed with Spanish Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

Through a most-favored-nation clause effective August 1, 1937, every trade advantage Franco accords Italy, in recompense for assistance given the insurgents or otherwise, will be shared by Germany.

By the treaty, iron ore from Basque mines captured by the insurgents will again flow toward Germany. The Basques had cut off Germany's much-needed supply of ore when the Nazis sided with Franco in the Spanish civil war.

Treaty negotiations were expedited as soon as Franco conquered the Basque provinces.

Three Southern Men Are Out For Robinson's Job

ner have won him good will of conservatives and liberals as well as "hardcore" members of party. He and the "unreconstructed" rebel, Carter Glass, are intimate friends. His relationship to White House so close during President's first term that he was known as "administration's spokesman" in Senate.

Has a flair for sounding out views backstage, getting the low-down on prospects for contemplated legislation, is only a second-term senator. Served in House from 1911 to 1925, took five-year recess at law in Spartanburg.

Has supported virtually every Administration program, was among first to sponsor for Supreme Court change, 1936, defeated New Deal expenditure bill necessary to prevent suffering, promote recovery. But this spring he launched Senate drive for economy because "emergency is over." Urged 10 percent cut in departmental appropriations to balance the budget. Wants better deal for labor, condemns sit-down strikes.

Three S. C. was born in Charleston, S. C. Admitted to bar in 1901, was an editor and court reporter before entering politics.

Allen W. Barkley of Kentucky who's crowding so, has the pep of 20. He speaks a flow of logic, sugar-coats it with homely stories. Doesn't need notes, has a penetrating, non-resisting, ruddy face seems to smile, even when he's serious.

Eldest of a farmer's five sons, he graduated through college, became a lawyer in Paducah, became prosecuting attorney, then judge. To the House in 1913, shifted to Senate in '26. Bewildered the Roosevelt machine about it, and took credit about it.

Though Senate leadership has been steered toward veterans' heroes, Barkley was put in line at the start of his second term. Months ago Robinson made him responsible for the heavy steering of the Supreme Court bill. Barkley dashed it and bubbled all over the steaming Senate trying to push it through.

He's one of the North Carolina Barkleys to trace descent from a follower of William the Conqueror. The big Barkley family has intermarried with those of Adlai Stevenson, vice president under Cleveland, and of Mrs. George Kiehl, wife of Pennsylvania's governor.

Pat Harrison of Mississippi is the spreader of oil on troubled waters. Favored the President's court plan, but let others do most of the fighting. Result: both sides liked to confer with him. Can spread poison, but does it so graciously victims usually grin.

Seems to have only one outstanding enemy: the other senators from Mississippi. "That man Bibb," they tell out over appointment of a judge back home, when Harrison came up for re-election last year. Bibb stamped the State against him. Harrison won, two to one.

Fifty-six years old, Harrison was now, back-dry ex-school teacher, small town lawyer before entering Congress, in 1910. Senate's No. 1 heckler during Harding-Coolidge-Hoover administrations. For Roosevelt "Before Chicago," fought successfully to keep Mississippi delegates in F. D. R. column. When Democrats won in '32, had to quit the heckling, get down to law-making. Shouldered much of the heavy work of finance, foreign relations, and rules committees. Steered social security, railway pensioning and bonus bills.

Has given an almost complete okay to Administration program, once this summer, though on a relief bill amendment.

Japanese Armies Begin Battling As Deadline Passes

der the "punitive shelling"

The Japanese news agency Domei said Japanese troops charged near Nanking Bridge and the "engagement" became general at the scene of the first clash in the North China dispute.

The final warning of the Japanese military high command demanding evacuation of Chinese troops from the area of hostilities, was delivered to the Nanking government by a Japanese military attaché yesterday.

While terrified inhabitants of the Chinese city watched the hours ally by toward the deadline, United States marines clustered through the streets warning Americans to concentrate in protected areas, in the event of general hostilities.

The first crash of artillery fire could be heard clearly at the office of the United Press bureau shortly before midnight.

Meanwhile General Chiang Kai-Shek detached two divisions of his crack first army corps and placed them under command of Gen. Sung Chieh-Yuan, commander of the 20th route army defending Peiping.

The two divisions were already in Honai province, reportedly marching northward to join the 29th army. General Sung was empowered to order the central government troops to advance, but could not order them to retire from Hopei.

The Japanese military command, angered by what it termed the insincerity of China's rebuff to Tokyo's first ultimatum, delivered Sunday, began moving troops up from their base at Fengtai early yesterday.

Bottle Is Shot From Hand While Drinking

MIAMI, July 26.—(AP)—B. C. Ebbetts, 45, thought for a moment a character from the old Wild West had come to life when a bottle was shot from his hand at a refreshment stand where he had stopped for a drink on his return from a hunting trip.

The bullet came from a .22 rifle accidentally discharged by a 14-year-old boy in an adjoining room of the establishment.

Reds Rally To Eke Out Over Lookouts, 10-9

Patterson's Outfit Blasts 3 Pitchers For 13 Hits To Take Needed Victory From Locals

Lookouts Hold 9 To 7 Lead When Contest Goes Into Last Half Of The Ninth Frame; Lookouts Play Tonight

DELAND, July 26.—The Sanford Lookouts, piloted by Owen Wright, tasted bitter defeat last night at Conrad Park in DeLand when a ninth inning rally by the forward marching Reds netted three runs and gave the Reds another victory by a score of 10 to 9.

On the mound for the Lookouts was Al Crisfield, who gave up a total of 11 hits while he saw action on the mound for eight innings. Crisfield walked five of the Reds while fanning four. Relieving Crisfield in the last half of the ninth was Big Dan Brainerd. Brainerd pitched to only two batters before Owen Wright went in to replace the lanky hurler.

The Lookouts knocked Alex Swales, Florida State League strike-out king from the mound in the fifth inning when the locals put over four runs. He was relieved by Harold Toomes who gave up four hits during the four innings he hurled on the hill. During Swales' duty on the mound he gave six hits.

The Reds began the scoring in the initial frame when they put over two runs. Dick Adair singled to left field and scored on Shimer's double to left-center. Shimer crossed the plate when Kasso muffed Hughes hit into center field.

The locals came right back in their half of the second to take a two run lead when they shoved four runs across the plate.

The Lookouts gathered one hit, four walks, a wild pitch and a passed ball to send the four runners across the plate.

In the Red's half of the third frame they put another run across the platter when Shimer doubled to left field and scored on Jones' long triple to center field.

The Lookouts added two more to their total in the fifth when a single by Kasso and doubles by Holcomb and Rodgers netted the two tallies and a 6 to 3 lead.

The Reds came back in their half of the fifth round and sent four runs in giving them a seven to six lead over the Lookouts. A double by McMullen, pinch hitting for Swales, and singles by Hughes and Jones blended in when two free passes accounted for the four runs.

In the eighth frame the Lookouts again took the lead when two runs were shoved across the plate to give them a one run lead when singles by Crisfield and Kasso and Clary's long triple to right field gave the locals the two markers.

In the ninth inning the locals added one more to their previous total of eight to take a two run lead over the DeLand outfit. Frichard was hit by a pitched ball

WITH BILL RODGERS on his way back to the celery city, it looks as if the youngsters, who regard the great "Raw Meat" as their father of baseball, are playing a much better brand of baseball already.

RODGER'S IS EXPECTED to arrive some time today and will be here in time to take over the managing reins of the Sanford Municipal Athletic Club when his outfit returns against a tough foe, the forward marching DeLand Reds.

WHETHER BILL IS bringing any players with him is not known at the present time. Taking over Bill's place at Chattanooga is none other than young Cal Griffith. According to the Associated Press this morning Cal is figuring that his club is 17 games out of first division and if he has anything to say about it, they will be more than that before the season is over.

CAL ALSO SAID to interviewers that if his outfit can have a little hustle and some lack they might club out of the basement and be among the higher clubs in the league. We are not trying to be hasty about making any predictions, about any ball players or ball club, but you fans here in Sanford that have a little interest in the Chattanooga Lookouts might as well give up hopes of them even getting out of the cellar.

THE MEN COMPOSING the Lookouts are a group of old and young ball players, most of them past their 30's. Many of them have seen four or five seasons of action there and have not yet advanced to higher ball. All this is costing Clark Griffith money to run the club, especially when an average attendance is approximately 300. You can't blame the old fox for raising Cain about it and we have good reasons to believe that next season when the Lookouts come here for their spring training activities, you will see a new crop of players that will attempt to give Chattanooga at least a first division club.

Probe Is Being Conducted In Lynching Of 2

Pistols And Bullets Of Tallahassee Police To Be Examined By State Attorney

TALLAHASSEE, July 21.—(AP)—State Attorney Orion C. Parker, Jr., said he is examining the pistols and bullets of all members of the Tallahassee police department and Leon county sheriff's force as part of an investigation into the lynching of two negro youths here yesterday.

The negroes held in the county jail on a charge of stabbing Policeman V. F. Kelly when he tried to arrest them, were taken from the jail by four masked men early yesterday and their bodies were riddled with bullets.

The sheriff's office reported some bullets were found at the scene. The bodies were buried yesterday but later exhumed and three bullets taken from each body.

Night Desk Sergeant Harry Fairbanks of the police department said the four masked men forced him to accompany them to the county jail, get the keys to the cell block and release the negroes to them. He said the men then locked him in a cell.

County Jailor Robert Maize said he was not awakened by the men during the time they were taking the negroes from the jail.

Governor Cone called the case "not lynching but murder" and ordered Parker to make the investigation.

Two New Diseases Of Vegetable Crops Are Discovered In State

GAINESVILLE, July 21.—Two diseases of considerable importance in vegetable production elsewhere in the United States but not previously known to be in Florida were discovered in this state during the last growing season. It is revealed in the annual report of the Agricultural Experiment Station, Cabbage yellows and a Verticillium wilt of tomatoes are the two troubles.

The cabbage yellows was found in bulk county scattered in various fields aggregating over 100 acres. The disease caused more than usual loss to the winter crop.

Fortunately, a number of resistant varieties of cabbage are on the market and Dr. G. V. Weber, station pathologist, recommends that these be grown in infested areas. Last winter Dr. F. B. Hatcher, truck horticulturist, grew the resistant Detroit strain in field tests and found that it yielded as well as Copenhagen Market in this state.

Verticillium wilt causes extensive losses on a number of cultivated vegetable crops in certain parts of the United States. It was discovered for the first time in Florida attacking tomatoes in Manatee county. Dr. Weber says it is found more often in northern states, and is not considered normally adapted to Florida environmental conditions.

Florida Exhibits At Fairs Seen As Huge State Asset

Earl Brown Praises Work Of Stevens In Building Dioramas

A story of the progress of Florida exhibits for the past five years was presented to the local Kiwanis Club at their meeting today in the Valdez Hotel by Earl W. Brown, manager of the Florida National Exhibits, Inc.

Charts and photographs illustrated the work that has been accomplished at the Worlds Fair in Chicago for two years, Rockefeller Center for one year, and the Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland for two years.

Mr. Brown stated that the twenty-nine millionth person visited the Florida exhibit Friday. An actual count by a clocking device determined accurately the number.

Mr. Brown lauded the work of Byron Stevens, former Sanford man, who was responsible for many murals and dioramas. He told of the commendable work of "Whistler" Willie, who entranced the spectators with his imitations and lively ditties.

Karl Lehman, of Tavares, formerly of Sanford, commended Mr. Brown for his work and also complimented the Kiwanis Club for sending Byrl Higgs, Boy Scout of Troop 5, to the National Jamboree in Washington, D. C.

After reading a letter of appreciation from the boy to the club, he stated that Byrl was an outstanding scout who deserved any honors bestowed upon him.

Mr. Lehman warned Sanfordites against a movement being circulated by unknown parties in an effort to reroute the proposed St. Johns-Indian River canal. He advised Sanford to investigate the situation.

Guests at the meeting today were: H. J. Johnson, Randall Chase, and Fred Hyatt of Sanford; Mr. Lehman, of Tavares; Earl Brown, of Deland, the Rev. T. I. Dean, of Clearwater, and L. A. Paine, of West Palm Beach.

Police Puzzled By Death Mystery In N. Y. Apartment

NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—Detectives of the homicide squad were confronted with a weird mystery today when a young couple found dead in their Queens apartment may have been killed by carbon monoxide poisoning.

The victims, George Chinery, 28, and his wife, Ella, 25, had not been seen since last Thursday. Their partly clad bodies were found when police, relatives and neighbors broke into their second-floor apartment last night.

The body of the woman, a bride of five months, lay in bed. Her husband, an employe of a Brooklyn warehouse, was sprawled on the bathroom floor.

Police said all the windows of the apartment were open, a circumstance that puzzled investigators when the carbon monoxide theory was voiced by Assistant Medical Examiner Howard W. Neale.

He added that there was no evidence of external violence, or strangulation.

Carbon monoxide gas is a colorless, odorless gas found in the exhaust from automobiles and in the gases caused by the detonation of explosives.

Vital organs of the victims were sent to Dr. Alexander O. Gettler, chief city toxicologist, for further study.

Vanquished Takes Count With Smile

States He Will Join Winner In Working For Good Of Party

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(AP)—Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky won the democratic leadership of the Senate in a close contest.

The vote at the secret caucus of Democratic senators was Barkley 38 and Senator Pat. Harrison of Mississippi 37.

Barkley succeeds the late Senator Joseph T. Robinson as party leader in the Senate.

Barkley was supported by friends of the Roosevelt court bill while Harrison had the backing of senators opposed to the measure.

The entire caucus took less than an hour. Barkley moved to make the vote unanimous and took defeat with a smile and promised he would join Barkley in working for the good of the nation and party.

Both senators predicted more party harmony from now on. Senators at the caucus said the court bill fight was not mentioned. The only absent Democrat senator was Hankshaw of Alabama who was called home because of his wife's illness. President Roosevelt took no side in campaign for Robinson's successor.
