other than DHIA. Cammack received an embossed plaque and a check as first place state winner in the large herd division of the efficient dairy production contest.

The program is directed by the Agricultural Extension Service, County winners are selected in counties with DHIA work and from these the state winners are selected by a committee comprised of agricultural extension agents, extension dairy specialists and college dairy science department representatives.

The 1963 selections were made in "large" and "small" herd divisions, all herds under 100 being considered in the small herd division. The herds are scored on feeding practices, herd replacement program, herd health, use of records in herd management and the results secured as evidenced by the DHIA record and business analysis data from farm accounts. The latter gives evidence of a successful business operation.

25,000 At GOP Dinners

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republican contributors inspected a showcase of presidential possibilities Wednesday night at a set of dinners which grossed about $2.5 million for the 1964 GOP campaign.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who is ineligible for the job, said he would be glad to run as the vice presidential nominee on a ticket with any of the men who spoke.

Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 presidential candidate who could be re-nominated, said he was sure the 1964 nominee was among those who spoke Wednesday night.

Eisenhower and Nixon, along with announced and prospective Republican presidential candidates, addressed 25,000 Republicans who paid $100 a plate to attend dinners in 21 cities tied together by closed circuit television.

Those who spoke in this order were: Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky from Houston, Nixon from New York, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York from Los Angeles, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania from Indianapolis, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona from Pittsburgh and Gov. George Romney of Michigan from Washington.

Eisenhower followed these speakers with a proposal for a "United Statesmanship" for writing the 1964 Republican platform. He urged that Republicans set up forums on a regional, state, county and precinct basis to talk issues to the voters.

The ex-President also recommended that GOP national headquarters set up a suggestion center to receive voter comments on issues facing the country.

From this effort, he said, the Republicans could write a platform which would be "an expression of mainstream thinking of an informed people."

Other speakers dealt more harshly with President Johnson, the presumed Democratic nominee for next November.

Nixon said the GOP could win this year by standing on principle on a great issue, "the need for America to regain the initiative in the fight against world Communism." In every major area of the world, he said, the cause of freedom "is worse off today than it was four years ago."

Movie Actor Alan Ladd Found Dead

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Alan Ladd, the tight-lipped, scrappy little hero of more than 40 movies, is dead at the age of 50 of an apparent heart attack.

The blond film star died in his sleep at his home here Wednesday.

An autopsy was scheduled for today by the Riverside County coroner's office, but Dr. Joseph Sage said death was probably due to heart seizure.

The actor's body was discovered at 3:30 p.m. by his butler, Wendell Tyler, who telephoned for help from the manager of a hardware store here owned by Ladd. His wife and children were at the family home in Holmby Hills, a fashionable Los Angeles suburb.

A family spokesman said funeral services will be held Saturday at the Church of the Resurrection in Forest Lawn.

In addition to his widow, the former Sue Carol, Ladd is survived by a son, Alan Jr., by a previous marriage; Carol Lee, Mrs. Ladd's daughter by a previous marriage; Alana, and son, David. A shy, mild-mannered man off-screen, Ladd portrayed strong, silent types in movies, the latest of which was "The Carpetbaggers," to be released later this year.

Board Approves Smoking Report: JACKSONVILLE — The Florida Chiropactic Association's board of directors Friday announced full support of the government's report branding heavy cigaret smoking as a health hazard and major cause of lung cancer.

Dr. Carl F. Rosseland, president of the 550-man statewide organization, pointed out that FCA members have recommended for years that their patients not smoke. The chiropactors apparently are setting an example for their patients. Dr. Rosseland reported that a recent survey showed that less than 30 per cent of Florida's chiropactors use tobacco, in any form.

Booth To Head Study Of State Laws On Fraud

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Duval County Solicitor Edward Booth will head up a statewide committee named by Atty. Gen. James Kynes to study Florida laws on fraudulent business schemes.

Kynes said fraudulent business practices are becoming an increasing problem in the state and laws needed to be strengthened. He called on all prosecuting attorneys Wednesday to take part in the study.

"We must give constant attention to keeping the business climate of Florida free from suspicion," the new attorney general said.

Other speakers dealt more harshly with President Johnson, the presumed Democratic nominee for next November.

Nixon said the GOP could win this year by standing on principle on a great issue, "the need for America to regain the initiative in the fight against world Communism." In every major area of the world, he said, the cause of freedom "is worse off today than it was four years ago."

Now that everybody's standing, let's all go to the Buick Sports Car Rally.

Really.

It would be a shame to waste this chance to drive one of Buick's lively sport models, wouldn't it? Especially considering your Buick dealer's so close, and the price is so nice. That's what the Sports Car Rally is all about. And they're all luxurious enough to make you wonder why anybody'd settle for a two-seater. A finely tuned production 340 hp Wildcat with a skilled driver scored the highest miles per gallon in the economy test of Class—high performance V-8's—at the Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona Beach, Florida. Cliff McKibbin, chairman of the metro phone system committee of the Chamber of Commerce, says that less than 3,000 "votes" are in from Sanford area subscribers. A favorable vote on the system will mean that all of Seminole County will be on a single, toll-free system. Let's dial Metro!

Ray Green, Florida's comptroller, has a complimented County Clerk Art Beckwith on his record-breaking amount of excess fees. In 1962 Beckwith returned over $20,000 in excess fees to the County Commission. During 1963 he returned more than $30,000 and his office ranked ninth in the state.

It was Perry Cameron and not John Cameron who passed along the information that fish won't bite when cattle along the St. Johns are laying down and not eating. As a matter of fact, Perry opined that Thursday afternoon the cattle ate between 3:30 and 4:30 and they'll eat again today from 4:40 until 5:30. Perry states the fish will be biting during that time. Cameron says that all animal life feeds according to the moon.

Burup and Sims, a heavy construction firm here in Sanford, is proud of its beautiful lawn and pansies. And, they claim they're the only business house or organization in Sanford that raises a "fresh" U. S. flag each morning. How about that! It's a fact that quite often many flags become frayed but for some reason they're not replaced. Glad this firm does.

Heard about the Heart Fund Hootenanny? One last reminder. It'll be at the Orlando-Seminole Fronton Sunday afternoon. Don't miss it! The talent will be outstanding.

Cami Bruce says the voter registration books will be open from 9 until 3 p.m. Monday through Friday, at the Registration office on the ground floor of the Court-house. Books will close on Apr. 4. Why not register now?

By the way, if perchance you're an alien and you haven't registered you'd better get to the nearest post office before it closes this afternoon. If you don't, serious penalties could be imposed upon you.

Here's one of Florida's new traffic laws to which most people are giving little attention. The law clearly states that you must use full headlights while driving during twilight, smoke, fog, rain or at night. During our last rainstorm less than half of the motorists complied with the law. Worse yet, most of them used parking lights. Traffic officers say that parking lights must not be used except when the vehicle is parked. That's why they call 'em parking lights!

And while we're on economics, Florida remained 10th in nation in income per person during 1963. There was a gain, however, of 4.4 per cent. U. S. citizens earn an average of $2,366 per person. Floridians earn an average of $2,046 per person. Orange County has the highest average income, Broward the lowest.

Bryant Delays Decision On University Site

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant does not want the State Cabinet to take final action on a proposed new university site until he hears what probably will be a plea from Brevard County officials for an alternate site. (Seminole County leaders for the proposed university have decided to adopt a "wait and see" attitude, according to Douglas Stenstrom, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce university site committee.)

The Governor told his news conference Thursday that in addition to the request for a conference from State Rep. James Pruitt, of Brevard, soil soundings at the Adamuel site near the Orange-Seminole County line must be completed. The Governor said he is waiting to hear from Pruitt again before setting a place and date for a meeting with a Brevard delegation on the university site matter. Brevard has been plugging for a location closer to Cape Kennedy.

J. Broward Culpepper, executive director of the State Board of Control which has recommended the Adamuel site for the new east-central Florida space institution, wants the Cabinet Board of Education to consider the recommendation at its Tuesday meeting.

Casselberry Horse Track Sale Pending

By Jane Casselberry Clyde Hart, director of Seminole Park Raceway, announced today that negotiations are under way to sell the racing plant to a group of Jacksonville businessmen headed by Dallas L. Thomas, Jacksonville city commissioner, whose hobby is raising and racing quarter horses.

The pari-mutuel track, which opened last year under adverse conditions, had been reported to be in financial difficulties this season. They are now in the process of getting together creditors, stockholders, the federal government and others involved so that the transaction can be completed without too much delay in opening the racing season.

The season was scheduled to open today and, unable to meet this date, the new owners have been striving to open during the first two weeks in February.

Thomas promised the group of horsemen that racing will start by Feb. 14. The date is subject to approval by the State Racing Commission. An effort also will be made to have the season extended until April 15.

Thomas said that the new management would continue the combination of harness horse and quarterhorse races.

CC President, County Chairman Ask Action

Immediate need for the appointment of a Sanford Port Authority to bring about the early establishment of the long planned port terminal for the City of Sanford was cited at a meeting of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce board of directors Thursday evening at the Civic Center.

Karlyle Housholder, in his first session as Chamber president, said he would promptly name a committee to review applicable laws already on the books and previous plans discussed by an earlier port committee.

"In view of the proposed St. Johns-Indian River Canal, now in the first stages of fruition," Housholder stated, "it is of prime importance that we get this Port Authority activated and into operation as soon as possible."

"As president of the Chamber," he added, "I pledge the fullest co-operation of our group with the Sanford City Commission and the Seminole County Commission."

"It has long been held by area leaders that, while primarily a "Sanford Port Authority," it should be a joint promotion by the City and County, since the entire area, even including Greater Orlando, will benefit from increased water traffic with the opening of the St. Johns River from Jacksonville through Lake Monroe to a point in the vicinity of Oak Hill on the Indian River."

The call for the establishment of a Port Authority was voiced at Thursday evening's Chamber session by James P. Avery Jr., chairman of the Seminole County Commission, "in response to a plea by Mr. Housholder for suggestions to all Chamber members to help Seminole County."

Avery quoted, "Ask and ye shall receive." He continued, "I cannot urge too strongly the appointment of a Sanford City Port Authority. The County Commission realizes fully a port authority is a governmental function that will operate under necessary legislative action."

"It is a highly complex and complicated project that will require many hours of study. It will become a reality only should a hard working, dedicated committee sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce bring forth a package plan that can be presented to our legislative delegation and bearing the approval of our county's leaders."

Justifying his remarks, Avery stated, "The chairman of your industrial committee, Scott Burns, and your manager, John Krider, are in a position to realize the urgent need to commence planning NOW. Consult with them and listen."

The President said one of every two dollars spent for groceries now goes to fewer than 100 corporate, voluntary, or cooperative chains. Not enough is known about the effects of this "greatly increased concentration of power" or about changes including contract farming and vertical integration of production and marketing, he added.

"I urge that the Congress establish a bipartisan commission to study and appraise these changes, so that farmers and business people may make appropriate adjustments and our government may properly discharge its responsibility to consumers," Johnson said.

A native of Michigan City, Ind., Mr. Gielow operated a resort-type restaurant at Vero Beach.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Beatrice Gielow; three children, Russell, Ronald and Janet Gielow; three sisters, Mrs. Florence Jensen, Sunland, Calif.; Miss Freida Gielow, South Bend, Ind.; and Mrs. Ruth Weiss, Fort Walton Beach, and two brothers, Harry, of South Bend, and Walter A. Gielow, of Sanford.

Vietnamese Push Halted By Coup

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — The lightning coup that deposed the military junta of Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh Thursday forced the cancellation of a major Vietnamese drive against the Communist guerrillas, military sources said today.

The sources said it was too early to assess how Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh's bloodless seizure of power will affect the bitter guerrilla war. But some U. S. observers serving with the Vietnamese army were said to have been disturbed because Thursday's political move interfered with an important military operation.

the state except here at home. Let us awaken and open our eyes!"

Avery, in an earlier session Thursday with Krider, Burns, the County Commission and the Chamber industrial committee, had discussed the economic advantages of moving freight by water by citing the example that a farm tractor manufactured in England could be shipped by water through the Panama Canal and unloaded in San Francisco at a much lower rate than shipping the same tractor by other transport from Detroit to San Francisco.

A Chamber of Commerce port committee did operate through 1962 and on Oct. 29, 1962, signed a contract for a port feasibility study with Reynolds, Smith and Hills, Jacksonville engineers. An application for a $10,000 loan for the engineering study was made with the U. S. Housing and Home Finance Agency on Jan. 8, 1963, and this hinges on the government's demand for repayment of a loan of $7,900 made to Sanford in 1949 for a sewage disposal plant engineering study.

New Arrivals Introduced At Coffee Club

A number of new additions to the business and professional ranks of Sanford and Seminole County were introduced to the activities of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Thursday at the Coffee Club meeting at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Host at the meeting was the hospital's administrator, Robert Besserer, in the newly completed employes dining room.

Among those introduced were Dr. William L. Womble, Dr. Kenneth Wing, Maj. B. T. Chen, new commandant of the Marine Barracks at Sanford Naval Air Station; Bill Motzenbaum, manager of Alks of Sanford; A. Lawrence Berberick, executive assistant manager of Mayfair Inn; Mrs. Mildred Stomper, who recently opened Millie's Fashions; Rev. John T. Adams, of First Methodist Church, and Bert Brown, of Church of Christ.

Guests of the Coffee Club were James Avery, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners; A. L. Wilson, Sanford mayor; State Rep. S. J. Davis; Karlyle Housholder, 1964 president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Clifford McKibbin, a Chamber member who explained the advantages of the proposed metropolitan telephone system.

The club announced that its February meeting would be on the 27th at the Agricultural Experiment Station farm.

Problems, But Promise

This seems to be the age of problems. Almost every where we turn there are very complicated decisions to make and much depends on them.

One man related his experience which could be that of many people of our time. He spoke of his insomnia and how he had the constant sense of fatigue, the ever present tendency to irritation, the problem of an unrefreshed mind, and many other tension producing factors in his life.

The troublesome times we experience seem to be universal today and this is a sad predicament in which people find themselves. It seems to me that it is particularly sad when we realize how unnecessary this is. We hear of our civilization perishing and yet the way to keep going to a higher and higher state of the good life was announced nearly 2,000 years ago, in most clear terms, by our Lord.

Sanford WSCS Sets Meeting

The WSCS of First Methodist Church of Sanford will hold its regular monthly business and program meeting at 9:45 a. m. next Tuesday at the church.

The program, the first in a series in the mission study, "The Christian Mission in Southern Asia," will be presented under direction of Mrs. E. U. Hutchison.

There will be a tea following the program. Invitation to attend is extended to all ladies of the church.

Meet Postponed

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the First Pentecostal Church of Longwood, which was scheduled for Monday evening, has been postponed until Feb. 10 in order not to conflict with the Revival presently being conducted at the church.

Christ taught us, along with His disciples, when He uttered the words that clearly outlined the way that works. How necessary it is that we know what He said and yet we find that there is an abysmal ignorance of the words of the Lord concerning the way of the Christian.

He gave us promise by telling the meaning of life which is always founded on God's purpose. As one reads The Sermon on the Mount he realizes afresh that the future of our civilization depends not on the materialism that we exhort so much but on the teachings of the One who should be not only called Lord, but also followed as such.

The example that He gave us is so important, too. When we look at Jesus we see not only God, but the Standard for the good life. We look at Christ and we see God's love, we see His truth, His purity, His compassion, His way of life with promise.

The most important thing one can ever do is to take the leap of faith in God. We take such a leap as we trust Him for all realms of life. When we enter an airplane we trust our lives to the pilot. Of course, we do not ask his picture, his health certificate, or his flying record before we trust ourselves to him. We simply recognize the fact that others have trusted themselves to him and therefore we respect the fact that he can fly the plane. To be sure there are some who say that they wouldn't trust him at all, or any other pilot as far as that is concerned, but we know that many have experienced his competence so we can, too.

Certainly we can take the leap of faith with God. We can know His power to bear us up and set us down. We can see clearly that in Him there is promise for this world and eternally.

There are many problems in our world today but there is so much promise if we recognize that God is still God and that He does reign. Our hearts will never be at rest and our lives secure until we find ourselves one with Him.

THE FILM, "The Tony Fontana Story," first Christian dramatic musical ever produced, will be shown at Sanford Christian Youth Rally Feb. 8 at 7 p. m. in Seminole High School auditorium. The 79-minute production, in full color, relates the story of the noted singer's conversion to Christianity.

Church Begins Construction

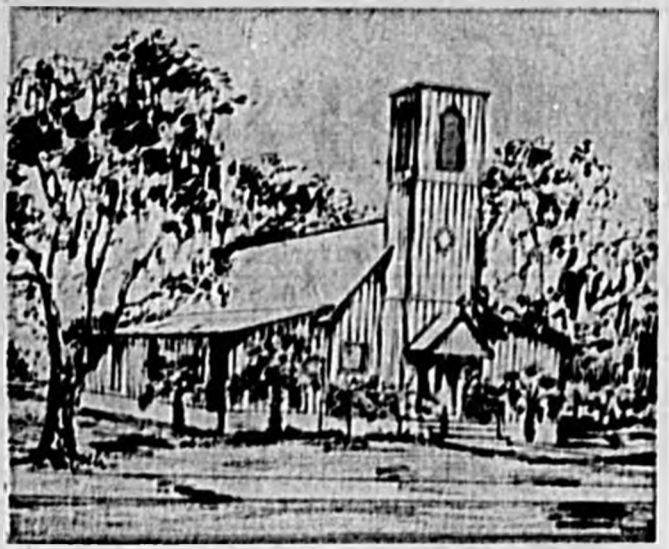

By Donna Estes
The first major construction on Longwood's Christ Episcopal Church since it was built in 1880 began this week with a total cost of improvements estimated at $13,000.

The project, which has been in the planning stages for some months, will include additions increasing the width of the church by 24 feet, with space set aside for a small room for a Sacristy and Choir Room, a new foundation and flooring and a heating and air conditioning plant. The church also will be completely insulated.

Seating capacity will be increased to 350 persons. Plans for the additions were drawn by Robert Hammond of Longwood, junior warden of the church and contractor is A. B. Williams of Winter Park.

If anyone thinks the Sanford-Seminole Junior Chamber of Commerce put a number of names in a hat and picked out one to receive the outstanding young sailor award, you are mistaken.

Saturday night at the annual JayCees awards banquet, five outstanding citizens were honored by the junior trade body. One of the persons singled out for notable accomplishment was James L. Duhon. He was named the outstanding young sailor.

Duhon, assigned to VAH-3 at the Sanford Naval Air Station, and son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Duhon, is a native of Kinder, La. He was graduated from Reeves High School in 1958, and accepted as a candidate for the priesthood at Immaculate Seminary, Lafayette, La., in the Fall of that year.

Duhon left the seminary after one year and returned to LaBlanc, La., where he taught moral guidance and served as Sacristan in his local parish until joining the Navy in September, 1961.

After recruit training and completion of a technical school, he was assigned to VAH-3 in the summer of 1962. Since coming to Sanford Duhon has done an outstanding job in the base operations office.

But his work at the base is just the beginning for this cheerful and dependable youngster who possesses such a pleasant attitude. Because of his deep concern for the well-being of the young people in this community, Duhon devotes much — if not all — of his off duty time, six days a week, working with civic and church groups. He is a member of the Holy Name Society, chairman of the adult education committee, and chairman of the parent educators of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine.

Almost since his arrival in Sanford Duhon has operated on a schedule which looks like this:

On Sunday nights he serves as moderator for the Adult Discussion Club. On Monday evenings he teaches moral guidance to high school dependants at the Base Chapel. On Tuesdays he teaches Catechism to grammar school students at Lake Mary. On Friday mornings he teaches moral guidance to high school students in Lake Mary. On Saturday mornings he supervises Catechism classes for grammar school-age students at the Base Chapel.

Now this would be considered an ambitious schedule for most people but not for Jim Duhon. In August of last year Duhon learned that Boy Scout Troop 244, sponsored by the Sanford Elks Lodge, was on the verge of folding. There were only eight youngsters active in the troop. He took over as Scoutmaster and has been devoting every Wednesday evening and Saturday afternoon since to scouting activities.

And it has paid big dividends. He now has 46 active boys in the troop who will receive from 30 to 35 achievement and promotion awards at the February Court of Honor. As soon as school recesses for the summer months Duhon is planning to take his troop on a week-long outing to the Great Smoky Mountains. It will be the first major adventure away from home for most of the youngsters.

On Oct. 18, Duhon took his troop, even with new members included, to the annual Southeastern U.S. Camporee at Silver Springs. Under Duhon's leadership and training, his troop brought home a blue ribbon because it was declared one of the top ten troops. The troop also won 20 individual certificates. This was considered a remarkable achievement since there were more than 6,500 scouts competing for the certificates.

At this time Duhon has one free evening a week — Thursdays. The Herald doesn't imagine that he will be free on that night much longer.

Last Saturday night, when Duhon attended the JayCee banquet to receive his award, he had to leave his Scout troop on a camp-out.

Not only do we congratulate this remarkable young man for his numerous achievements and his tremendous sense of duty to the young people of this community and to his country, The Herald also commends the Junior Chamber of Commerce upon selecting this outstanding service man to be honored by being named the outstanding young sailor of the year.

Thought For Today

How to Find Out Which Way the Wind's Blowing

Bruce Biossat — Ray Cromley

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The delegate cash register will start to ring up hard currency for Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater on Feb. 28 and 29 in Oklahoma and North Carolina.

These two states lead off the long parade of GOP state conventions in which a majority of delegates of the July 13 national convention will be chosen.

Goldwater's schedule calls for him to attend the Oklahoma convention Feb. 28 and the North Carolina affair the following day. The Oklahoma meeting is considered a formality. By earlier official party action, the state's 22 votes have been in Barry's pocket for some months.

The North Carolina situation is not quite so neat. Leaders there say two or three of the 20 delegates may hold themselves uncommitted. This prospect represents Goldwater's slippage in the state since President Lyndon B. Johnson took over.

Another measure of slippage is the fact that North Carolina Young Republicans invited Pennsylvania's Gov. William Scranton to their Jan. 30-31 convention at Durham. He turned them down.

But the invitation suggested more than casual curiosity.

Goldwater will pick up another easy 16 votes March 21 at the South Carolina convention.

Yet, despite these first easy collections, Goldwater is not particularly advantaged by the 1964 schedule layout of state convention and primaries. In presidential politics as in baseball, the schedule can hurt you.

For instance, more than a fourth of the total of 1,308 national convention delegates will be chosen by state convention or state committee meetings in June, most of them after results of the all-important June 2 California primary are known.

Discount part of this total, since it includes New York's 92, set for Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, and the 56 in Texas, a Goldwater bastion.

But if Goldwater lost the California primary and its 88 votes, sharp tremors would swiftly be felt in the conventions scheduled in the days immediately following in Colorado, New Mexico, Minnesota, Connecticut, Idaho, Washington, Utah, Montana and Virginia.

Since more than a half-dozen states still have not fixed their convention dates, the post-California June list may in the end be still greater.

Both the Goldwater and the Rockefeller camps now put California down as critical to the 1964 campaign fight. The present prospect in the New Hampshire primary — and the schedule — underscores this judgment.

With other entries forging up the Goldwater-Rockefeller confrontation, the New Hampshire verdict could prove decisive.

One Goldwater man, basically optimistic, thinks the senator might win no more than 10 of the state's 14 delegates — against opposition the Goldwaterites argue is "going nowhere."

After New Hampshire, Goldwater and Rockefeller may not meet head-on again until two months later — in the May 15 Oregon primary where a mere 18 votes are at stake. Here, too, other entries may muddy the waters.

Late decisions for face-to-face tests in District of Columbia, West Virginia and Maryland primaries in May would alter the picture somewhat. But even these would still leave California, far off in June, as the great watershed for 1964.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — In the west lobby of the White House, a newsman accosted Sarah McClelland, reporter for several Texas newspapers. He ribbed her with this line:

"Let's see now, Sarah. Lyndon Johnson is the first Texan to be president since, er, who? General Eisenhower, isn't it?"

Ike, of course, was born in Denison, Tex., though he claims Abilene, Kans., as his home town.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., is not about to concede the 1964 presidential race to the Democrats.

"In my many years of observing politics," Scott says, "I've always watched the Connecticut towns. Over and over again, in the year before a presidential election, they have given a pretty clear signal."

"This year, the Republicans came out a lot better in those Connecticut towns than anyone figured. The results weren't conclusive, but I think they indicate a close race next year."

Ils Pennsylvania colleague, Democratic Sen. Joe Clark, interrupted him:

"You remind me of a drowning man reaching for a straw, Hugh. You Republicans used to say, 'As goes Maine, so goes the nation.' Then you started to say, 'As goes Maine, so goes Vermont.' And now you're saying, 'As go the Connecticut towns.'"

"That's what I call real progress."

A Latin American representative who could speak no English walked into a Washington post office with a letter to be sent home. The clerk, who spoke no Spanish, tried for five minutes without luck to ascertain whether the man wanted an airmail or regular stamp.

In desperation he finally flapped his arms like a bird, and was rewarded with a "SI" and a grin.

The hubbub over the fact that House of Representatives Dining Room head waiter Ernest Pelinaud accompanied a U. S. delegation to a NATO meeting in Paris reminds Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, son of the late conservative Sen. Robert A. Taft, of his first day in Congress last January.

"I was pretty green," Taft says, "and too embarrassed to admit my ignorance by asking questions. I took my family to lunch in the House dining room, and when the check came, I didn't know whether or not to leave a tip."

"The bill was $7. I tried to look around to see what other Congressmen were doing. To kill time, I gave the waiter a $10 bill and said 'Thank you.'"

"He answered, 'Thank YOU, sir,' and next day the word was out that I was a 'big spender' in spite of my father."

For $3 you can get a 7 x 9-foot segment of "Goldwater wallpaper." Actually it's a bigger-than-life-size blown-up photograph of the senator. But probably nobody at Draft Goldwater headquarters in Washington imagined one use now planned for it by one of his young fans.

The enthusiast is Carole White, 12, daughter of F. Clifton White, executive director of the draft committee.

In her bedroom in the Whites' home in Rye, N. Y., Carole plans to paper the ceiling with the big Goldwater picture.

Commented her mother: "There may be just enough room left for a little border trim."

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., under an unusually heavy appointment schedule the other day, told his secretary, "Get the Senate dining room to send me over a low-calorie lunch just as fast as they can."

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE R-471: Mavis G., aged 27, has been married 3 years.

"But, Dr. Crane," her worried husband protested, "Mavis is suing me for a divorce. 'Yet she admits she doesn't dislike me. And she says I have been generous with money and have given her a car of her own."

"And she isn't in love with anybody else. So what's wrong with her? Is she crazy or something?"

No, Mavis is simply a classical case of why some marriages "die."

Without the will to live, many medical patients give up and so they die although we doctors think they should have lived.

But they just felt unnecessary. They apparently had no purpose ahead and no future needs that preempted their attention.

Many wives get into a similar state of mind regarding their marriage.

This was especially true of Mavis, who felt blue because she had no children.

So she was frustrated in her maternal desire.

One of the daily complaints that bolster the usual mother's ego is the helplessness of her baby.

It depends on her, so she knows that she is vitally needed. She is a matter of life or death to her infant.

As it reaches its little arms up to her, she feels important, needed, useful.

But a wife without children loses that daily tonic to the human ego.

Unless her husband meanwhile realizes this basic problem and inflates her ego in substitute ways, she may find that her will to keep on with their marriage dies.

Mavis had a husband who also cherished the antiquated notion of gallantry that a wife should be a "kept woman."

So he never asked her advice about his business worries or let her into his confidence about his daily problems.

He just furnished her a beautiful home and her own car, plus plenty of spending money.

But the average wife also wants to feel needed.

She wishes to accomplish something constructive on this earth.

She has an urge to follow Lincoln's motto, in which he stated he hoped he could plant roses where thistles grew before.

That is an inherent hunger of intelligent minds, so you husbands of smart wives like Mavis should take heed.

Make your wife a partner in your worries! Share your business problems with her! Lean on her more heavily!

For this not only will ease your own inner tension and help check peptic ulcer, plus high blood pressure in yourself.

But it will make her feel needed. Besides, her clever suggestions may also improve your batting average in the business world, too.

So quit trying to make your wife a "kept woman." Instead, impose on her for help of various sorts.

For a wife who thus feels needed and vitally essential to her husband, will stick to him in spite of ardent advances of matinee idols!

But also send for the booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a one-dollar, return envelope, plus 20c, for it is superb insurance against divorce.

Lyman, Oviedo Play Tonight, Tribe Saturday

Roaring Lions To Take On Eau Gallie

By Joe Warden
Herald Sports Writer

The hustling Oviedo Lions travel tonight to meet the Eau Gallie Commodores in a tilt that will feature the Lions' attempt for a big sixth consecutive win. Oviedo's high flying quintet will take a 10-3 record into the fray and the eager Oviedians hope to come out on top.

Not much is known about the Commodores, except that they have faced tough opposition, notably Melbourne, Cocoa, and Santa Fe. Oviedo's arch rival, Lyman, crushed Eau Gallie twice, and if this is any indication, the Lions ought to come out on top. Yet this will be a road tilt against a team no one here knows much about.

Oviedo has been trying to improve their defensive effort and at the same time get their noted fast attack limbered up. The last few games the Lions have played, particularly against Titusville, they have been slow ball-control games. Therefore, the Lions must work to keep their fast game in shape.

In the Melbourne Central game, the Lions ran through many of their speedier patterns, using the tilt primarily as a practice contest. Oviedo's reserves saw a good amount of action, thus preparing them for games in the future.

Oviedo's JV team will also see action tonight by challenging the Eau Gallie Junior varsity. The Baby Lions now 8-8, they will be gunning for another win to revenge the loss to Titusville's JV squad. The Baby Lions topped Melbourne Central last Tuesday by a 59-32 score.

Starting tonight for the Lions will be Billy Miller and Jim Courser, forwards; Rex Brooks and Tel Bellhorn at guards; and Seth Rook at center.

In the featured 10th event of the 11-race card, another Pat Reed greyhound will be watching. Notified is the biggest winner in the field with three triumphs. Other favorites include Deep Rock Kennel's Extra Rock and Circus City Ranch's Circus Wonder.

Hounds' Foe Lakeview At Winter Garden

Lyman High's Greyhounds, out to rebound from last Tuesday night's loss to the Ocoee Cardinals, re-enter Orange Bek Conference play tonight at Winter Garden when they are hosted by the Lakeview High Red Devils.

Lakeview, although unable to come through with any consistent brand of basketball this season, can be tough enough to rise up and knock off the 'Hounds who are in a race with the Apopka Blue Darters and the DeLand Bulldogs for top spot in the OBC standings.

Lyman's scoring punch has been hurt somewhat by the loss of Donnie Smith, at center but Bill Tolson, aided considerably by Charlie Asher and Jim Shuster, have been able to keep the 'Hounds a balanced club.

Head Coach Walt Dzurans will probably start Gene Winkelman and Richard Grant to work with Tolson, Shuster and Asher. Dave Matia, towering center from the Lyman Junior varsity, has also seen quite a bit of action since he was moved up to the varsity in place of the injured Smith.

Helen Altman, of OK Tires, led her team on to victory with a big 538 series and 100 game, while teammates, Dot Johnson and Mary Smith, gave their support with a 469-177 and 462-166.

McRoberts Tire Co., in their match with Piers Manufacturing Co. came out the winner with a four point rack up in their favor. Rick Woods and Pat Foster, both of McRoberts, had games of 173 and 171.

All or nothing seemed to set the pace this week, as Howe Tire Shop also posted a clean sweep over Factory Point Out. Dotty Waltz was high for Howe's with a 474-178.

Jet Inn had a good night with an all out win over Pryors Insurance Co., with L. Donat setting the pace and winning top honors for the week with her 564 series and 192 game. Mary Pinter, also of Jet Inn, had a 401-165.

St. Johns Realty Co. came out three to the better in their match with Stempers Realty, with Eleanor Anderson rolling high for St. John's, a 416-170, while Glynda Hannah did the honors for Stempers', turning in a good 472-174.

Next week will be position night, the final one of the season. The team line-ups will be as follows:
OK Tires-Howe Tire Shop, McRoberts Tire-Factory Point, Jet Inn-Stempers Real Estate, Pryors Insurance-Piers Manufacturing Co., St. Johns Realty-Mar Lou.

Main prize will be the Hjalmar Olsen Trophy, which must be won four times with at least three different dogs from the same owner to gain permanent possession. Permanent prizes will be awarded winners and runners-up, if named.

Indians Meet Terriers Here

Seminole High School's cagers will be idle tonight but Saturday night they will host the Titusville Terriers in a non-conference contest at Sanford's Fleming Gymnasium.

A preliminary contest between the schools' junior varsity quintets will precede the main event which is slated for 8 p. m. The JV game will get under way at 6:30 p. m.

Seminole, four and eleven so far this season, will be out to grab their fifth of the year. In an earlier contest this season the Terriers locked horns with the Tribe and came out on top. Coach Ralph Stumpf's five will be in the outcome of the initial game and attempt to break even in this year's two-game series.

Stumpf will probably go with Barry Barks, Mike Bowers, Barry Johnson, Ken Tyre and Mike McCleary as his starters.

Next Tuesday night the Seminoles go back into Metro Conference competition when they entertain the Grenadiers of Orlando Colonial at the Tribe's home boards.

These start with Cotton Nash, 6-5 going on 6-7, a two-time all-America basketball player having the greatest season of his career, averaging over 27 points per game and leading the Wildcats in most departments.

Problems continue with Ted Deeken, one of the top scorers in the conference and a boy who can break open any game in a short period just as he did in the Wildcats' 78-62 win over Georgia Tech last Saturday afternoon.

Coch Coach Rupp's dramatic switch to a 1-3-1 zone defense in the last two victories over Tennessee and Tech will prove to be another major problem.

"This is what you would have to call a very aggressive zone defense," says Florida head coach Norm Sloan. "They send two or three men after the man with the ball and really put the heat on him."

Point man, out front, in this defense is 6-6 sophomore guard Tommy Kron, a scrapper who moved the veteran 'Chill' Ismael, who scored 30 on the Gators last year, out of the starting lineup.

Kentucky's other starters will likely be 6-3 Terry Mobley, a junior, and 6-4 Larry Conley, a hustling, determined sophomore who has been a big factor in the present Wildcat surge.

He had moved into first place with a 32 plus mark when the virus hit him and he fell to eight points against Army and 13 against Rhode Island, plus 25 against Syracuse. If he had been well for those three games, his scoring average would probably be 35 points and his rebound mark above 17.

Already he has scored 457 points—two more than he made during his entire sophomore campaign. Already he holds the school scoring record for one game—50 points against Rollins college which ties him for the national leadership.

His field goal proficiency is far above the best ever had at Miami and he is a cinch to shatter the old one season scoring mark of 22.1 per game. He is well ahead of the top rebound average of 14.9.

He's been above 30 points in 10 of Miami's 15 games—and no previous Hurricane player has had more than three 30-point games in his entire US career.

He's reeled in as many as 17 of 17 free throws in one game. He crushed an Francisco with that one.

Eliminating his virus plagued Christmas stint, he hasn't been under 24 points. He had that total against Memphis State in a game in which he was concentrating on breaking up a strong Memphis State rebounding corps. Rick grabbed 23 rebounds in that one, his season high, and launched a Miami counter attack which floored the Tigers just two nights before they slaughtered Loyola of Chicago.

About Sports Thinking Out Loud

BY JULIAN STENSTROM

The more you read about basketball at the University of Miami the more you see the name of one Hurricane, Rick Barry. When Miami knocked off Rollins this week Miami ran up 127 points and Barry got 33 of them.

The following is a piece from the Hurricane's publicity office that acquaints us all with probably the state's finest collegiate cager this season.

Mark up another better-than-thirty-point-game for University of Miami's fabulous All-America basketball candidate, Rick Barry.

When the Hurricanes scored its smashing, stunning triumph over LaSalle recently by a score of 121 to 99, it was Barry's fantastic play which led the way, just as it was Rick's brilliance that brought Miami its win over Memphis State, a few nights before the latter upset Loyola of Chicago.

At the end of 15 games, Barry has a 30.5 scoring average. He has a .538 percentage in field goals and .821 from the free throw line.

His rebound average is a healthy 16.5 per game and he is the only player in the land who stays high up in both scoring and rebounding.

Try as they did, LaSalle's cagers were unable to halt the great Barry.

Barry is a marked man, generally has two men shepherding him around the court but his tremendously fast reactions enable him to shake loose for the tiny fraction of a second he needs to get the ball and toss it into the net.

Without a peer under the basket, he can also hit cleanly from the outside. His defense is equally effective and he leads the Miami team in blocking shots.

In a season and a half, he has fouled out but once—and films of the one game in which he was charged with his fifth personal foul show clearly that the official goofed on the call. However, he does not play patty cake. He has been charged with an average of three personals per game, and though on numerous occasions he has picked up four, he has stayed away from the fifth one without any apparent diminution of his value to the team.

In an early swing to the Pacific Coast, coaches there said, "We knew Barry was good but not THAT good." That came after he had hit successive 34 point games at Santa Clara and St. Mary's and 29 at Nevada."

Coch Bob Kendall of Jacksonville's comment after Barry's 35 points against his team in Jacksonville was that Rick was "the greatest player ever to appear in these parts"—and that included the nationally ranked teams which appear in the Gator Bowl.

Norm Sloan of Florida said in preparing for Barry's visit to Gainesville, "We made our plans conceding Barry 35 points." Rick settled for 37.

He was named the outstanding basketball player in Florida last year when he averaged 19 points and 14 rebounds for Miami. This year he is over 30 points per game in the scoring column and 16.5 in rebounds.

But for an attack of virus in the holiday period, he would probably be the leading point maker in the land today among major colleges.

He had moved into first place with a 32 plus mark when the virus hit him and he fell to eight points against Army and 13 against Rhode Island, plus 25 against Syracuse. If he had been well for those three games, his scoring average would probably be 35 points and his rebound mark above 17.

Wildcats Play Gators Saturday

GAINESVILLE — Kentucky, the nation's fourth-ranked basketball power, visits Gainesville Saturday night to confront the Florida Gators with all types of basketball problems.

These start with Cotton Nash, 6-5 going on 6-7, a two-time all-America basketball player having the greatest season of his career, averaging over 27 points per game and leading the Wildcats in most departments.

Problems continue with Ted Deeken, one of the top scorers in the conference and a boy who can break open any game in a short period just as he did in the Wildcats' 78-62 win over Georgia Tech last Saturday afternoon.

Coch Coach Rupp's dramatic switch to a 1-3-1 zone defense in the last two victories over Tennessee and Tech will prove to be another major problem.

"This is what you would have to call a very aggressive zone defense," says Florida head coach Norm Sloan. "They send two or three men after the man with the ball and really put the heat on him."

Point man, out front, in this defense is 6-6 sophomore guard Tommy Kron, a scrapper who moved the veteran 'Chill' Ismael, who scored 30 on the Gators last year, out of the starting lineup.

Kentucky's other starters will likely be 6-3 Terry Mobley, a junior, and 6-4 Larry Conley, a hustling, determined sophomore who has been a big factor in the present Wildcat surge.

He had moved into first place with a 32 plus mark when the virus hit him and he fell to eight points against Army and 13 against Rhode Island, plus 25 against Syracuse. If he had been well for those three games, his scoring average would probably be 35 points and his rebound mark above 17.

Already he has scored 457 points—two more than he made during his entire sophomore campaign. Already he holds the school scoring record for one game—50 points against Rollins college which ties him for the national leadership.

His field goal proficiency is far above the best ever had at Miami and he is a cinch to shatter the old one season scoring mark of 22.1 per game. He is well ahead of the top rebound average of 14.9.

He's been above 30 points in 10 of Miami's 15 games—and no previous Hurricane player has had more than three 30-point games in his entire US career.

He's reeled in as many as 17 of 17 free throws in one game. He crushed an Francisco with that one.

Eliminating his virus plagued Christmas stint, he hasn't been under 24 points. He had that total against Memphis State in a game in which he was concentrating on breaking up a strong Memphis State rebounding corps. Rick grabbed 23 rebounds in that one, his season high, and launched a Miami counter attack which floored the Tigers just two nights before they slaughtered Loyola of Chicago.

Looks Like KC, Says Finley

BOSTON (UPI)—An alternately joking and threatening Charles O. Finley insists he won't be chased out of the American League.

Finley invaded American League President Joe Cronin's backyard Thursday night to address the silver anniversary dinner of the Boston Baseball Writers. Cronin remained confined to his nearby home by illness.

Displaying three sets of uniforms he said the Athletics would wear next season, Finley acknowledged, "It sure looks like my club will be in Kansas City."

Pilots Welcome
Guests At Dinner Meeting

The February dinner meeting for the Pilot Club of Sanford was enjoyed by 18 members and their three guests Tuesday at the Civic Center.

Mrs. Ralph Ray and Miss Elsie Farley greeted members and guests at the door and Mrs. Esther Rive, Mrs. Phillip Westgate and Mrs. Joel Field were hostesses.

Red Valentines marked the places on the dinner tables, covered with white cloths. Dark red carnations were placed the length of the tables with red tapers in crystal holders. The speaker's table featured the dark red carnations down the length and banked into a center arrangement with shiny foliage.

Miss Doris Fleming, program chairman, introduced Joe Davis and R. F. Shelden, speakers for the evening. Davis explained the Metro phone service and Shelden, Manager of Southern Bell answered questions asked by the club members.

A short business meeting followed the program and Miss Janet Smith, president, announced Mrs. John Lamberson has been appointed chairman of the District Four nominating committee.

Guests present were: Mrs. J. O. Wolfe, Mrs. Virginia Harrison and Miss Janice Collins.

Roses Give House Lived-In Look

Rose plants can be a big help to owners of recently built houses. They offer quick and satisfying results since blooms generally appear the same season in which the rose bush is planted. Together with other shrubs, rose bushes can give the new house an immediate "lived-in look."

If other activities are likely to leave the new homeowner with little time to get his landscaping started in the first year, then he may find it worth while to try a few roses in tubs. These tubs can be put close to the house on either side of the front doorway, or spotted about the property as accent plants.

Improvising in this manner can serve to attract attention away from unsightly bare spots on the property. Once using them the homeowner may want to retain the tubs of roses permanently. They look exceptionally well on a bleak concrete stone or gravel patio.

But for quick beautification treat your new property to at least some rose plants. They also make excellent housewarming presents.

Household Hints

An empty egg carton is a good holder for paper clips, rubber bands, stamps and other small things kept in a desk drawer. The 12 sections will hold all these and the top may be used for pencils, pens and erasers.

To keep a desk free from ink stains, carve a hole large enough to hold an ink bottle in the middle of a fairly large sponge. Glue the sponge to a heavy cardboard base and insert the ink bottle in the hole. Put this ink "coaster" in your drawer or on the desk top. The bottle will not tip and the sponge absorbs excess drips.

Need an extra pair of bookends for a student's room? Use two ordinary house bricks padded and covered with material matching or contrasting the draperies and bedspread. Slip-stitch the material in place.

If you boil eggs by the dozen to keep in the refrigerator and have ready for salads, put a few drops of food coloring and a teaspoon of vinegar in the water when boiling. This does not dye them a deep color like Easter eggs but they do look different enough to be easily distinguished from raw eggs on the same tray.

Were "Hoboes"
For Evening

Mr. and Mrs. William Reck were hosts to Phi Gamma Eta Chapter members, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, and their guests at a "hobo" party.

The "hoboes" arrived at the Reck home, 1021 W. First Street, with canned foods to provide a savory supper, with the contents combined at random. This proved to be a highlight of the evening.

Games and conversation were enjoyed and the unusual party ended with the presentation of a typical "hobo" gift to the hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Collie Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gonzalez, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Alexander, Mrs. Dave Sharp, Mrs. Bobby Willis, Shirley Stump, Johnny White, Vicki Westlund and Bobby Kemp attended the party.

Beauty Briefs

For a fast leg shave, moisten the leg with hand cream and then shave. No lathering or rinsing and it leaves the skin softer. Fewer cuts, too.

Out of nail polish remover? In an emergency use spirits of camphor.

Simplicity is a good rule of thumb when buying pearls for teens. A single-strand debutant necklace of graduated pearls is the best selection. It's a style that's always in fashion and can be worn later with other necklaces.

Vows With Jerry Cooper

Pamela Suzanne Grinnell became the bride of Jerry R. Cooper Jan. 17 at 8 p. m. in the Lake Mary Presbyterian Church.

The double ring, candle-light ceremony was performed by Rev. John Pilley. Baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the church. Silver candelabra, with white tapers, and organ fern was placed on either side of the organ. Mrs. Frances Webster, organist, played the traditional wedding music.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Genevieve Grinnell and the late Mr. Russell W. Grinnell, was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Richard E. Wilber.

For her vows, to the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cooper Sr., Williston, the bride chose a street-length dress of Skinner satin and Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice featured a scooped neckline and bracelet-length sleeves. The bell-shaped skirt fell in soft pleats from the waistline and was accented in the back by an achi sash. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was attached to a headpiece of matching lace and crystals. She carried a cascade of red rose buds with ivy.

Mrs. Dolores Wilber, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a turquoise dress of chiffon, over taffeta, with matching shoes and a small veiled headpiece. Lewis Pogue, Williston, served as best man and usher were Gaylord Grinnell, brother of the bride, and Bobby Wilkinson.

Mrs. Grinnell wore a beige dress with green accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Cooper, the bridegroom's mother, wore a lavender wool suit with black accessories.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church annex. The brides bouquet was used on the table holding the wedding cake and punch bowl. Bea Cooper, Joyce Grinnell and Phyllis Rugenstein served at the reception and Barbara Bradley was in charge of the brides book. The couple left on a wedding trip to south Florida and will make their home in Sanford at the Hollywood Trailer Court.

Mrs. Sandusky was given her blue ribbon for a straw bag woven of pine needles.

Mrs. Gregory entered one of her oil paintings, Chrysanthemums — still life. The painting was placed on the stage but was not eligible for an award since the show did not include a category for

Jerry Lewis At Ritz

Jerry Lewis has red-haired, shapely Jill St. John as leading lady in his new comedy, "Who's Minding The Store?" which opens Sunday at the Ritz Theatre. With a cast that includes Ray Walston, John McGiver, and Agnes Moorehead, the Paramount release was filmed in Technicolor, produced by Paul Jones and directed by Frank Tashlin.

Jerry plays a willing but wild new hand in a bustling department store, and the unknown target of a plot to wreck his romance with Jill, an heiress whose true identity he does not suspect.

In this, her third successive co-starring role at Paramount opposite a top male personality, Miss St. John amply justifies the studio's conviction that she is one of the brightest, most promising new stars in the Hollywood firmament. Just prior to joining Jerry in "Who's Minding The Store?" Jill had played opposite Frank Sinatra in "Come Blow Your Horn," and with Dean Martin in "Who's Sleeping In My Bed?"

As the lovely heiress whose devotion to her rascally suitor defies her strong-willed mother, Agnes Moorehead, as well as all logic, Jill's flair for comedy fairly blooms. Equally adroit in portraying her ardor for Jerry, firmness with her dominating mother, fondness for John McGiver, her faithless father — the actress' most difficult sequence apparently, is that in which she tries to handle 26 leashed poodles of varied size and motive on a busy, tree-lined street.

IN THIS laugh-laden scene from the new Jerry Lewis Technicolor comedy, "Who's Minding The Store?", featured Sunday through Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre, Jerry tries to fit a dainty size 5 shoe on the not so dainty size 10 foot of a lady wrestler.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My heart feels like a ton of lead inside me. My daughter, who is a lovely girl of 19, asked permission to spend the night with her girl friend, whom we shall call Laurie. We know Laurie and her parents very well. Laurie has spent many nights with our daughter. I wanted our daughter to stop at the grocery store before coming home the next morning, so I telephoned her at Laurie's house. Laurie's mother said that our daughter had not slept there, and she was under the impression that Laurie had spent the night at OUR house. Abby, what am I to think? Why did these girls lie? And where were they?

ONE SAD MOTHER DEAR MOTHER: I don't know where the girls were, but I would certainly ask them. They lied for the same reason that most people lie—because they haven't the courage to tell the truth.

DEAR ABBY: What is a mother supposed to say when her son, age 13, brings a schoolmate home with him after school to "study," but they fool around in the yard a while, go into his bedroom and make a few phone calls, and then at about 5:45 when she is setting the table, he says to her, right out loud so his friend can hear, "Mom, can Bruce stay for supper? We'll study afterwards."

THE MOTHER DEAR MOTHER: She is supposed to say, "Yes, dear." (And she usually does.)

DEAR ABBY: Have you ever been kissed by someone who doesn't wear his dentures? It's nothing! My husband (I'll call him Pop-eye) had all his teeth extracted years ago, but he refuses to wear his plates. I say if he really wants to be kissed, he can keep trying until they fit, but it doesn't do any good. My husband reads your column and thinks you're great. Am I right to feel hurt?

POPEYE'S WIFE DEAR WIFE: ALL dentures can be fitted properly, if one will only give the dentist a chance. Tell "Pop-eye" the next time he wants to kiss you he'll have to catch you in the dentist's office.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "INDIANA SWINGER": In the immortal words of Henry L. Mencken: "Conscience is that still small voice which warns you that someone may be looking."

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3363, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Remember when—
—Parents didn't need each other's support to say "No" to their children or to set standards for their conduct?
—It was considered more important to find room in a home for aged parents or an old aunt or uncle than for each child to have the privacy of his own room, or for a house to have both a living room and play room?

—A young couple who married without their parents' blessing and consent didn't expect their parents to superintend them?
—Most marriages really were for better or for worse? The woman who put her family first was considered to be doing her duty, not shirking it?
—Accidents were regarded as accidents, not as an opportunity to sue someone for damages?
—A parental "No" didn't have to be justified or explained to a child?
—No one felt compelled to apologize for honest sentiment with a shamefaced "This may sound corny, but . . ."
—The important thing about a man was his character—not his public image?
—A devoted wife and good mother would never have thought of describing herself as "just a housewife," or felt duty-bound to go through life looking younger than her years?
—To be able to disagree loudly with the majority was considered an American right to be prized, rather than deplored?
You MUST remember. For K wasn't so very long ago.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

When you refer to someone as a "book" player you mean that he knows all the basic rules and follows them blindly.

A "book" player will do better in the long run than a man who plays catch-as-catch-can bridge, but he will never be a really great player unless he knows when to throw the book away and follow his own best judgment.

Now take a look at the West hand. Your opponents reach five clubs after your partner's opening spade bid and your raise. What do you lead?

The "book" player will open the three of spades because all the books tell you to open either the ace or touching honors such as king-queen, queen-jack or jack-ten.

The "book" player will also watch South chalk up game and rubber. His partner will win the first trick and will not take any more tricks unless he promptly cashes the ace of hearts.

The reasoning player will open the king of spades. He will hope to hold the trick with the king and then be able to tell which red suit to shift to.

He will also manage to set the hand because he will see that the proper shift is to hearts and that heart shift will produce two heart tricks for East.

Illegal Road Signs Coming Off 17-92

In conjunction with the Governor's Clean-up Program and Garden Clubs, the Florida State Road Department will begin removal of the illegal signs and advertisements from the State maintained rights of way in Seminole County on Highway 17-92 beginning Feb. 10.

When such signs, having a value of $100 or less, including entrance signs to private establishments, encroach upon the state owned rights of way, they will be picked up and taken to the State Road Department maintenance yard located at Orlando.

Signs that are not reclaimed within a period of 30 days will be destroyed.

Owners of signs valued at greater than $100 will be issued a 30-day written notice to correct the violation or the sign will be removed at the end of the 30-day period.

Road Board Chairman John R. Phillips, in ordering the Clean-up Program, stated that the removal of the signs

There are homes already ready for inspection ... and others nearing readiness ... for prospective home purchasers to look over as Spring approaches, homes in Greenbriar of Loch Arbor, Buena Vista Estates, Ravenna Park and Idyllwilde of Loch Arbor.

Preparing for the Spring season, Shoemaker Construction Company is co-ordinating plans for an "Open House" Feb. 8-16 for the new, third section of Ravenna Park.

Several new floor plans and designs will be shown, with six new homes to be completed and on display. This new section is on the north side of west Country Club Road. Three new homes are available for immediate occupancy.

Herb Stenstrom Realty, representing Shoemaker Construction, also reports two new homes are nearing completion at Idyllwilde of Loch Arbor. Models of ultra-modern architecture in design, one is a one-story and the other is a two-story residence.

Shoemaker is known not only for home construction in Ravenna Park and Idyllwilde but also for custom-built homes, from the planning stage through construction, all through Seminole County and Central Florida.

Kingswood Builders have three new homes ready for immediate occupancy at 100, 107 and 109 Highland Court in Greenbriar of Loch Arbor. They are of contemporary and Colonial design. They also have one new home ready in Grove Manor.

Kingswood is commencing construction of three less expensive homes in Buena Vista Estates, in the 1600 block of Summerlin Avenue.

One new home was sold during the last week in Greenbriar.

10 Die In Gainesville Plane Crash

9 Passengers Pilot Trapped In Flames

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — All 10 persons aboard were killed today when a shuttle airliner crashed and burned on take-off from the Gainesville municipal airport.

The Federal Aviation Agency said the pilot and nine passengers of the twin-engine Beechcraft were trapped in the flaming wreckage of South Central Airlines' Flight 510 when it crashed moments after taking off for Jacksonville.

Witnesses said the plane reached an altitude of about 200 feet, veered sharply to the left, and plunged back to the runway.

The dead were not immediately identified. Authorities roped off the area and kept newsmen away until federal officials could get to the scene.

"It just took a second for it to fall down," said Mrs. Joe Anne Howell, an airport employee.

"It looked like it stalled, like maybe the pilot tried to take too steep of an angle. As soon as it hit, the gasoline started spilling and the flames shot up."

Mrs. Howell and several others rushed to the plane in a limousine and tried to aid the trapped victims but it was too late.

"We tried to open the door but it was locked from the inside," she said. "We saw two men, one at the door, both bodies were burning."

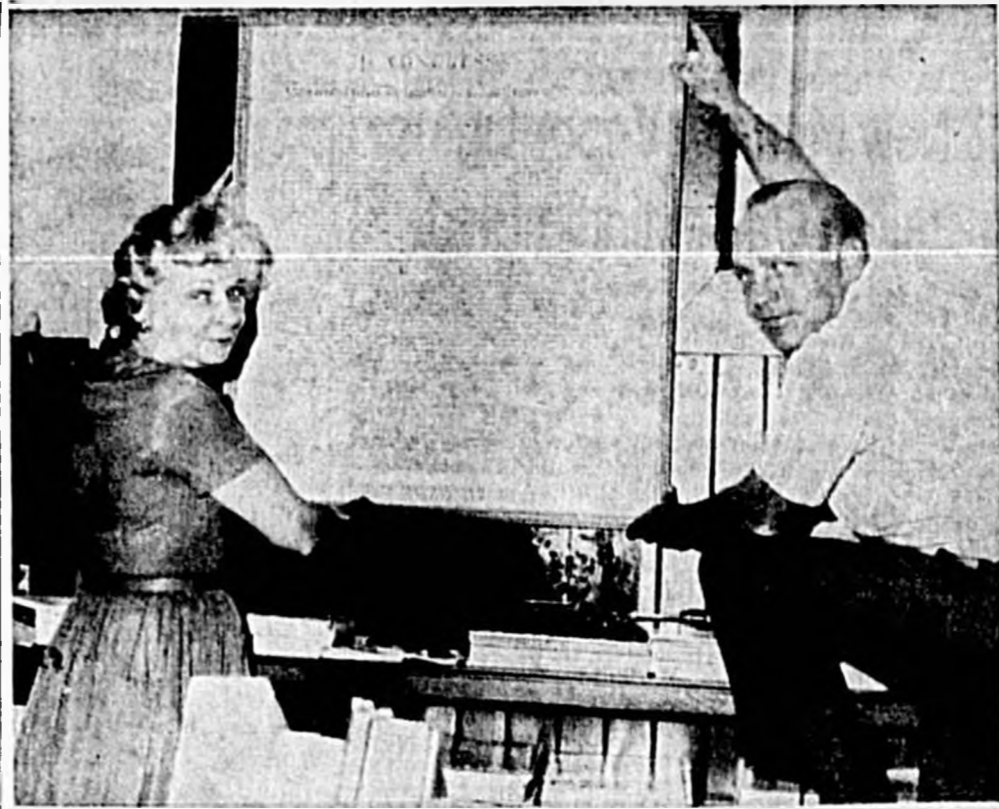

South Central, headquartered at Ocala, flies about 13 planes out of Gainesville daily.

Police Lt. Courtney Roberts said flames engulfed the entire plane before rescue units could get to it. Only one wingtip and the tail were left unscathed, he said.

Roberts said that radio operators in the tower heard a voice call out seconds before the crash:

"Don't do that or it will stall."

He said the voice apparently came from the doomed aircraft.

LT. JAMES TALMAGE, USN, assigned to Sanford Naval Air Station, has presented 11 large framed pictures dealing with historical subjects to Sanford Public Library. Here he and Mrs. Sara King, librarian, hang the "Declaration of Independence."

Cuban Boats In Tow To Key West

Guarded by three swift cutters, the Cuban boats began the six-hour voyage shortly after 6 a. m.

Agents from several federal branches waited at Key West to question the Cubans.

The Coast Guard here said it received no reports on whether the boats were armed, but added they submitted to boarding without trouble.

The Cuban boats, which had been under surveillance since Saturday, were boarded Sunday near the Dry Tortugas when they passed into U. S. territorial waters some 50 miles west of Key West.

The Coast Guard cutters Arlaine, Cape Starr and Cape Knox detained the craft through the night until they were ordered to proceed to Key West.

Longwood Man 64's 3rd Traffic Fatality

Services were conducted by Rev. William Brackman, Minister at the Niblack Funeral Home, Casselberry. Burial was in Longwood Cemetery.

Trooper Bill Stringfield said Lay was dead on arrival at Seminole Memorial Hospital at about 2 a. m. Saturday after his car overturned on Highway 17-92, near SR 434, and skidded across the highway.

His wife, Alma Jean Lay, 26, and James P. Williams, Lockhart, riding with Lay, suffered only minor injuries.

Coroner Hugh Duncan ruled Lay's death was due to his own negligence.

Trooper Stringfield also reported two drivers were arrested and three motorists injured in a series of weekend traffic accidents.

500,000 Skip School, Boycott Leaders Say

NEW YORK (UPI) — School boycott leaders claimed that more than 50 per cent of the city's 500,000 Negro and Puerto Rican public school students stayed home today in a massive protest against racial segregation in the nation's largest school system.

Bayard Rustin, one of the boycott organizers and chairman of the freedom march on Washington, said: "We said we could consider this demonstration a success if we got 50 per cent of the Negro and Puerto Rican students to participate, and we have exceeded that number."

The boycott appeared to be most effective in schools with heavy Negro and Puerto Rican enrollment, especially in Harlem and the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn. Many white children also stayed away from their school desks and some parents said they kept their children home because they feared trouble.

There are 500,000 white children in the school system but there was no immediate estimate of how many observed the boycott picket lines.

However, police reported few incidents at the 200 of the city's 810 public schools which were picketed by students, parents and some teachers. Approximately 1,100 persons were on the picket lines.

Crackdown On Drinking Drivers Set

A crackdown on drinking drivers in Seminole County is being launched by state troopers and sheriff's deputies.

"There have been many accidents of late in this county," said Trooper Bill Stringfield this morning, "and too many of these accidents were the result of drivers under the influence of alcohol."

"Sheriff J. L. Hobby and the Florida Highway Patrol have agreed that we must 'crack down' on these drinking drivers in an effort to curb accidents. In other words, we are going to concentrate more than we have in the past to halt driving drinkers."

Officers Named By Policemen

Patrolman Herman Harriett was named president of the Police Benevolent Association during the organization's annual meeting Saturday night. Patrolman James Hardy was named vice president.

Harriett will succeed Sgt. Richard Cosgrove and Hardy will succeed Capt. Arnold Williams. Estelle Jennings was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the group. Cosgrove, retiring president, was elected to a three-year term on the association's board of trustees.

District Road-E-O Pair Named

Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce will be represented at the district Jaycee Road-E-O March 6 at Orlando by John Mills, senior, and Charles Lewis, sophomore, of Seminole High School.

Mills and Lewis tied in the Seminole Road-E-O Saturday and the senior won the runoff. Berry Johnson, senior, and Jim Robbins, sophomore, placed third and fourth, respectively.

Twenty-eight teen-agers participated in the driving contests. Prizes were $25, $15, $10 and a radio.

Conducting Saturday's Road-E-O for the Jaycees were Sheriff's Deputies Charles Fox and Charles Fagan and Police Officers Donald Brumley, Ben Butler and Tom Deppen.

First prize in the National contest will be a $2,000 scholarship and a new car. Second prize will be a $1,500 scholarship and third a $1,000 scholarship.
