Yanks Just About Wrap-Up AL Race

United Press International
Nice race — wasn't it?
For eight teams, the American League race has been over for some time.

And the New York Yankees took care of the ninth team Sunday by polishing off the disillu-sioned Detroit Tigers, 8-6, for a crushing three-game sweep that left Ralph Houk's crew 4½ games in front and little question as to which city the World Series will start in next month.

The only remaining question in the AL centers around Babe Ruth's home run record and whether Roger Maris or Mickey Mantle will break it.

Maris, with 33 homers already, failed to hit any Sunday, but still is eight games ahead of the Babe's record pace. Mantle, however, belted his 40th and 50th homers of the season to move three games ahead of the pace.

Never before in major league history have two players on the same team hit 50 or more homers in one season. And the total of 103 homers by Maris and Mantle are only four shy of the record 107 hit by Ruth and Lou Gehrig in 1927.

Mantle, playing with an ailing left arm that required ice applications between innings, hit his second homer of the game off loser Gerry Staley to lead off the ninth. The blow tied the score at 5-5.

Yogi Berra, who had homered in the first inning, followed Mantle's ninth inning blast with a single that finished Staley and brought Ronnie Kille on the scene. A sacrifice and an international walk to Bill Skowron followed. Elston Howard then ended the game with a three-run homer into the left field seats.

Southpaw Luis Arroyo, making his third appearance in as many days, was credited with his 13th victory. Arroyo won two of the three games with the Tigers and saved the other one for Ralph Terry.

Baltimore beat Cleveland, 1-0, in 11 innings, Boston downed Minnesota, 8-6, and Chicago swept a pair from Washington, 5-4 and 4-1. The Kansas City-Los Angeles game was postponed because of rain.

In the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers climbed to within 2½ games of first place with a 5-4 decision over the San Francisco Giants. The last-place Philadelphia Phillies, beaten 17 straight times by the Cincinnati Reds, finally defeated the league leaders, 3-2.

Birdie Tebbetts made his debut as manager of the Milwaukee Braves and led his team to a split against the Chicago Cubs. The Cubs won the opener, 6-5, and the Braves scored a 4-2 victory in the nightcap, called at the end of six innings because of darkness. The Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-1.

Tickets For Seminole High Grid Games Go On Sale

Season tickets for Seminole High School varsity and junior varsity football games went on sale last week, according to an announcement by Athletic Director Fred Ganas.

The high school varsity football team plays five home games and the junior varsity plays three home games this season.

Adult season football tickets for eight home games may be purchased for $7 by contacting Ganas at the athletic department at Seminole High School.

Prices at the gate are $1.25 for varsity games and 75 cents for junior varsity. Season tickets will be honored at the pass gate.

Home games for the varsity are: Sept. 15 — Titusville; Sept. 20 — Apopka; Oct. 20 — Winter Park; Nov. 3 — Wildwood; and Nov. 10 — Bishop Moore.

Junior varsity games are Sept. 20 — Seabreeze; Oct. 11 — DeLand and Oct. 25 — Lakewood.

Proceeds from the sale of football tickets go toward the purchase of athletic equipment for the teams.

Packers Still Going Strong

By United Press International
The Green Bay Packers haven't lost an exhibition game since 1959 and there are strong indications the Western Division champions will parlay another perfect pre-season slate into a second straight crack at the National Football League title.

Winning their first three exhibition tilts this year, the Packers hope to keep the victory habit alive today when they host the New York Giants, who have won two and tied a third game.

Both clubs met one common foe along the line, the Dallas Cowboys. The Packers defeated Dallas, 30-7, while the Giants clipped the Cowboys, 28-10.

One other game on tap today pits Denver (3-0) against Oakland (0-3) in an American Football League warup.

In Sunday's only pre exhibition, San Diego won its fourth straight AFL game by dropping Dallas, 31-10 for the Texans' first loss in five decisions.

The NFL had the exhibition field to itself Saturday as Philadelphia won its fourth straight, 17-10, over Washington, Cleveland whipped Pittsburgh, 38-6; Detroit downed St. Louis, 20-7, and Chicago trounced Minnesota, 30-7.

Stewart Holds Lead In Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Fiery, red-haired home pro Earl Stewart Jr., playing in only his third competitive golf journey of the year, nursed a one-stroke lead into the final round of the $30,000 Dallas Open golf tournament today.

The 39-year-old Texan, one-time national intercollegiate champ while at Louisiana State, bounced veteran Arnold Palmer out of the lead with a two-under-par 35-35 Sunday to Palmer's struggling 36-36-72.

He had a 54-hole total of 207 to Palmer's 208 and the next nearest challengers were defending champion Johnny Pott of Shreveport, La., and Negro star Charles Sifford of Los Angeles, at even par 210.

Navy Wives Loop Formed

Navy Wives Bowlers met recently at the Jet Lanes to form a league and elect officers.

The officers are Sue Moury, president; Dot Foley, vice-president; Francis Hilliard, secretary; Clara Barber, treasurer, and Susie Reno, sergeant at arms.

This league is a first in Sanford of its kind and all navy wives, officers and enlisted are welcome to join. Special instructions will be made available for new bowlers.

Holler Motors Co. has agreed to sponsor this league which will begin Friday at 9:30 a.m.

Openings are available for teams or individuals by calling Mrs. Ray Hilliard or one of the above officers.

Harris Appointed Orioles Manager

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI) — The Baltimore Orioles have named pitching coach Luman Harris to replace Paul Richards as manager of the team for the remainder of the 1961 season.

Richards, who has managed the Orioles since 1955, announced his resignation Tuesday and indicated he will accept a post as general manager of the new Houston club of the National League.

Harris, a former big league pitcher with the old Philadelphia A's and Washington Senators, has been a pitching coach under Richards since 1951.

County Commission Defers 1961 - 62 Budget Adoption

Action Expected Friday

The County Commission today deferred action until Friday on its 1961-62 budget after delegations appeared before the board protesting any cuts in the agricultural and home demonstration funds.

The commission was also hit with a protest from a south Seminole resident asking that appropriations for the Chamber of Commerce be curtailed.

The board agreed to continue its budget hearing at 9:30 a. m. Friday.

A delegation headed by Mrs. George Otis of Longwood appeared before the board asking whether the board was considering eliminating the home demonstration office.

"I know of no such move," said chairman J. C. Hutchison. (At an informal budget hearing in which a Herald reporter was present, the board discussed eliminating that office as well as an assistant to the county agent and juvenile counselor.)

M. L. Cullum, who said he represented the county farm bureau, also stressed the need for keeping the county agent's budget the same as last year and said that "in reality the county agent needs additional help."

S. Forbes Simpson appeared before the board and said he was objecting to any appropriations to the chamber and Jaycees.

And also heard from was Civil Defense Director A. B. Peterson Sr., who said he was not here for an appeal. "You all realize the need and are as familiar with the situation as I am," he explained.

Peterson has time and time again requested additional funds for CD and has cited the need for a warning system.

The board also received a letter from Tax Assessor Mary Earle Walker who urged the board to reconsider its action of cutting out $15,000 for reappraisal work in the temporary budget.

Commissioner John Fitzpatrick said that in view of all these "taxpayers," I move we defer action until later.

It was then the board agreed to reconvene on the budget Friday.

Commission Okays Redistricting Plan

The County Commission today adopted a resolution redistricting the five county commission districts and agreed to advertise the legal boundaries of the districts next week.

The redistricting move would equally distribute the population in all the five districts.

In other business heard Commissioner James P. Avery reported that a suitable building to conduct welfare surplus commodity operations has been found but negotiations with the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad for the project are necessary.

Avery said he would recommend using a portion of the ACL freight warehouse on First Street for the program.

Sanford Tot Hit, Injured By Auto

A four-year-old boy was hospitalized Monday after being hit by a car at 12:30 p.m. on Sipes Ave., the sheriff's office reported.

The boy, James Alexander, darted out into the path of a vehicle operated by Larry Ash, according to Deputy J. Q. Galloway.

There were no charges filed against Ash.

U. S. Troops Hurl Grenades At Reds

BERLIN (UPI) — U. S. soldiers on border patrol early today hurled tear gas grenades at East German Communist police who had turned a water hose on them.

A U. S. spokesman said the incident took place about 1:30 a.m. on the border between East and West Berlin at Sinsheimer and Heidelberg streets.

The spokesman said it was the first time Western troops on border duty in Berlin had used tear gas against Communist police.

The first report of the incident came from West German police. American spokesmen at first expressed surprise at the report but later confirmed it.

Police said the Communists sprayed the water across the border at an American officer and two enlisted men on border patrol.

The patrol threw five or six tear gas grenades back over the Communist-erected wall and the East German police scurried for cover in doorways, police said.

The incident was an indication of a toughening attitude by the American military in the face of repeated Communist provocations.

Sunday the Americans drew an orange chalk line at Friedrichstrasse — two yards within territory claimed by the East Germans—and stationed live heavily armed soldiers on it to show where the border was.

May Reach Hurricane Force By Wednesday

MIAMI (UPI) — Carla, the season's third tropical storm, built up today as a menace in the Caribbean Sea as Hurricane Betsy harmlessly far out in the Atlantic.

The Weather Bureau at Miami said Carla may reach hurricane force by Wednesday.

An 11 a. m. advisory located Carla's center about 100 miles southeast of tiny Swan Island, site of a radio station that broadcasts propaganda against Cuban Premier Fidel Castro. The location was near latitude 16.4 north, longitude 83.0 west.

Carla was moving at a slow nine miles an hour toward the west-northwest.

"The storm continues to increase slowly in intensity," the bureau said.

Highest winds this morning were clocked at 50 m.p.h. Gale-force winds fanned out 200 miles to the northeast and 100 miles to the southwest.

The Weather Bureau said the north coast of Honduras, which is south of British Honduras, would escape dangerous winds. But an advisory warned against heavy rains and some flooding along the northern mountain slopes of Honduras.

Hurricane Betsy, meanwhile, still packed 100 mile an hour winds. The weather bureau said at 11 a. m. that although Betsy has shown a more northerly course during the night it still offers no threat to the U. S. mainland.

The hurricane center was located near latitude 27.1 north, longitude 82.0 west or about 800 statute miles east-southeast of Bermuda.

The peace appeal called directed by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and President Kennedy to meet and negotiate before a nuclear war breaks out.

Heads of 23 "non-committed" nations met this afternoon in final secret session to dispatch the message to the big powers and to approve a "declaration of Belgrade."

The "declaration" which contains the principles of the non-aligned countries, comprises the bulk of the final communique and is for release at the end of the conference later tonight.

Bear Lake Road extension came up for discussion again today at the meeting of the County Commissioners after they heard the report of County Engineer Carlton Bliss, concerning the funds available for the project.

Commissioners decided to suspend the project of paving the road until a conference can be held with District State Road Engineer Richey Green, to discuss the possibility of some State help on the 2.8 miles between the Seminole County line and State Rd. 436.

In other business, the acquisition of rights of way on Vihlen Road was the deterrent to paving the road, which is used by school buses and is reported to be heavily traveled as an access road to Ravenna Park.

After hearing the pros and cons of the situation, where two property owners refused to give up rights-of-way, the commissioners decided to make an on the site investigation of the possibility of re-routing the road.

Commissioners refused to compromise with the new regulations requiring road rights of way in planned subdivisions to be a full 66 ft., in the presentation of a subdivision plat in the south end of the county by Zoning Director Robert Brown.

He said the United States meanwhile should resume nuclear testing because "the Soviets stand the chance of gaining aateful nuclear blackmail advantage over us."

Turning to Cape Canaveral, Smathers said the "multi-billion-dollar spending by the government and private industry in Florida's space programs will spread a new economic tide from Cape Canaveral to all parts of the state."

Seminole County got some encouraging news from Senator Spessard Holland today that things are looking bright for the county to get approval for its $9 million water control project.

Holland in a letter to County Attorney Mack Cleveland Jr., said that he was informed by regional administrators of the Housing and Home Finance Agency that they "see no problem which would preclude favorable action to the board's request for planning money to put the massive operation into effect."

The first application for planning funds for the project was turned down but in July the board made a second appeal for approximately $100,000 as a planning grant to carry on the four-phase project,

By LARRY VERSHEL. Don't be surprised if there is a new postmaster to go along with our new post office.

City election coming up in two months and still no decision on whether or not the city will use the county registration books.

On April 6, 1960, at a political rally in Lake Mary, one of the County Commissioners running for office, said he had a plan to eliminate flooding without cost to the taxpayers.

How about letting us know what it is now, buddy?

Another candidate said he had a new approach to government (Did he mean keeping department heads shaking in their boots?)

Things sure can change in a year!

It would be nice if the city removed that broken down trash can on First St. by the post office . . . There's no bottom to the can.

Radiological classes under the direction of Civil Defense will be held at city hall today starting at 7 p.m.

Holiday Deaths Drop Below 400

By United Press International. American motorists driving more cars over better highways than ever before, survived deadly Labor Day weekend traffic with fewer than 400 fatalities.

The grim toll was the lowest for the end-of-summer holiday since 1951.

With local authorities in several states still compiling final totals, a United Press International tally showed 390 motorist and pedestrian deaths during the 78-hour, three-day weekend.

Deaths from other accidental causes between 6 p.m. local time Friday and Midnight Monday claimed 148 lives for an overall toll of 538.

The breakdown: Traffic 390 Drowning 66 Boating 7 Planes 3 Miscellaneous 12.

New Emergency Rocks Brazil

BRASILIA (UPI)—A new emergency in the crazy-quilt pattern of Brazil's political crisis today prevented Vice President Joao Goulart's scheduled arrival here to take over the "watered-down" presidency.

Goulart remained in Porto Alegre, a militant right-wing city, after officers closed Brazil's ports and threatened to "down" Goulart's plane if he tried to make the trip.

Drivers Warned: Watch Children

"Children just don't look out for traffic, so it's up to motorists to look out for them," Highway Patrolman Jim Foster said today.

Sanford Civitans, who sponsored the safety drive, were busy putting safety stickers on autos at the corner of 25th and Park Ave. early today to call attention to

U. S. Must Test, Smathers Says

OCOOE (UPI) — The Berlin crisis will get worse before it gets better, Sen. George Smathers, (D-Fla.) said Monday.

Smathers, in a Labor Day address to about 2,000 persons here, also called for resumption of U. S. nuclear weapons testing.

He compared the planned expansion of Cape Canaveral to house the U. S. moonshot program to Henry Ford's decision a half century ago to locate his auto industry in Detroit.

Comms Move To Stop News

BERLIN (UPI)—The Communists moved today to stop the flow of Western news over the airwaves to East Germany's 17 million people. Banners proclaiming "an end to listeners of Western transmitters" were put up throughout East Berlin and East Germany.

Vocational School Enrollment Set For This Week

According to E. S. Douglass, Director of Adult and Vocational Education, students may enroll this week for classes at the Seminole County Vocational School. The call is out for skilled technicians. Industry is greatly in need of experienced craftsmen. But industry also needs clerks and office workers to service this growth. To take advantage of the new opportunities in industry you need to improve your office skills and also add new ones. The Business Education Department of the Seminole County Vocational School will help you learn or improve a skill or skills by admitting you to a new course or a refresher course in Bookkeeping, Machine Bookkeeping, Short-hand, Transcription, Office Machines, Commercial Law, the excellent new daytime course, Consumer Economics, and others. Just think! In as little time as two months you can acquire a new skill which can be worth dollars to you. So enroll this week without fail. The school is very proud of its new location, and excellent air conditioned facilities on Palmetto Avenue between Ninth and Tenth streets. Here, hours may be arranged for you between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. daily. For further information you may call the school office at FA 2-0663.

Beauty Pageant Opens Tonight

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI)—Fifty-five bright beauties put on their bathing suits today and didn't go near the water. The contestants in the 33rd Miss America pageant made their first group appearance as bathing beauties on a hotel sundeck for the benefit of photographers—and then got down to work, rehearsing their talent specialties for presentation later in the week in convention hall. The pageant, which will reach its climax with the selection of Miss America 1962 on Saturday night, opens officially tonight with a broadwalk parade of the contestants in evening gowns on floats.

Crab Fest Guests Win Many Prizes

Last Saturday's Crab Fest sponsored by the Holy Name Society of Allamonte Springs' St. Mary Magdalen Catholic Church at Camp San Pedro was attended by 300 persons. Winning prizes were Robert L. Watts of Oakland Shores, Maitland, first door prize; Mrs. Watts a transistor radio, second prize. Other prizes went to Mrs. C. E. Pineda of Orlando, a dinner for two and Edward Oaks, Mrs. Carl Scheben and Raymond Broom, all of Orlando, won glassware.

UPWARDS OF 3,000 persons attended a jazz festival at Academy Manor Homes Sunday. The program was under the direction of Rev. Harold Whitehurst. Academy Manor officials reported that of the 50 homes built, 46 have been sold and will be occupied within the next three weeks. The developers plan to put up about 300 additional homes. The two million members of the Communist youth organization (FDJ) were directed to go through every community starting this morning and report all television antennas aimed at Western transmitters. The campaign, running up for several days, was aimed immediately at television because this is the easiest to check. Since Western and Communist TV transmitters are located in different areas, the direction the receiver antennas are pointed shows what stations are tuned in.

The Communists, by putting a wall across Berlin the morning of Aug. 13, isolated most East Germans from Western newspapers and magazines. But they have been unable to jam Western radio and television stations without interfering with their own stations.

It is possible that the next step the Communists will take will be to make it a crime to listen to Western stations.

Evidence brought back by visitors to the Leipzig Fair which opened over the weekend indicated the Communists were meeting resistance to their campaign.

Nixon Gets 'Greatest' Thrill

WEST LOS ANGELES (UPI)—"It's the greatest thrill of my life," said former Vice President Richard Nixon with a grin. "Even better than being elected."

Nixon had just scored a hole-in-one at the Bel-Air Country Club using a five-iron on the 135-yard third hole.

He was playing with actor Randolph Scott, former California Rep. Donald Jackson and a friend, C. G. Rebozo of Miami, Fla.

"This must have been my lucky day," Nixon said. "I used one of my old 'Mr. Vice President' golf balls for luck."

Jack Dover of the pro shop at the course said that since it was National Hole-in-one Day, Nixon now a Los Angeles attorney would win a medal from the sponsoring Professional Golfers Association.

Boys Will Be Boys, Wives Told

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Wives of union members were told Monday night that their husbands were not engaged in "idle extravagance" when they attend union meetings—even if they have "a few beers with the boys" before coming home.

In a special Labor Day message addressed to wives and daughters of union members, William F. Schnitzler, secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO, said unions are essential to the well-being of women as wives and homemakers.

Schnitzler and George Meany, AFL-CIO president, gave a double-barreled rundown on the role of unions in government welfare programs in radio addresses.

Up-To-Date Curriculum Set For Seminole High

Following recent trends toward a more adequate educational program, the English department at Seminole High is making a concerted effort to outline an up-to-date curriculum that will meet the needs of the individual student.

The general objectives in English are to help each student to develop skills for effective communication in reading, writing and speaking, to appreciate his literary heritage and to think critically and analytically.

Ninth grade teachers, Mrs. Mary Joyce Bateman and Mrs. Joanne Bohannon are concentrating on the basic skills in reading, writing and speaking. Mrs. Bateman teaches a remedial reading course for those with serious reading difficulties.

Allen and Mrs. Lois Higginbotham, continue this emphasis on basic skills by practicing their use in basic writing and by directing the reading toward a deeper appreciation of the various types of literature.

Junior and senior teachers, Mrs. Aileen Schmidt, Ira Hindman and J. D. Stone are presenting a varied program adapted to the interests and future plans of the students.

In the junior classes, J. D.

Stone, a recent graduate of Florida State University, will stress appreciation of the American literary heritage which will correlate with the American History classes.

College preparatory courses are planned for students who are competing for test scores that will ensure registration at the college of their choice.

In the senior classes, Mrs. Schmidt has outlined a college preparatory course that will emphasize current reading, intensive vocabulary drill and critical writing as well as an analysis of English literature.

Taking advantage of special summer experiences, Ira Hindman has planned an accelerated college preparatory class that promises to provide a tremendous challenge for ambitious students.

He served as an instructor in the summer program at Stetson University for accelerated high school students where he had the opportunity to observe and evaluate the early admissions plan there.

The course at Seminole High School, which Hindman has based on findings in his summer work, is designed to give students insights into themselves and their world. It is to prepare them for college by giving them a college introductory course and to teach them to think clearly and transfer their clear thinking into clear, interesting writing.

A Business English course, taught by Jim Martin, is providing for those seniors who intend to go into commercial work.

The librarian, Mrs. Mary Rogers, is cooperating with all the teachers of the English department to provide opportunities for the students to use the extensive facilities of the ultra-modern library.

Schedules have been arranged for all classes to visit the library regularly. Current fiction, non-fiction and many new reference books have been added as well as a new paperback section of approved books.

These courses round out a thorough and comprehensive English program which should enable the students at Seminole High to develop communication skills and mental attitudes adequate for any walk of life.

Consumer Education Course Slated Here

The Seminole County Vocational School is proud to be able to offer to its daytime students a new and most contemporary subject, Consumer Economics.

Consumer economics deals primarily with the problem of how to get the most satisfaction out of the money, time and effort expended for food, clothing, shelter, personal services, etc. That is, it helps prepare the individual for the most successful and economical use of his dollar.

In addition, consumer economics will help the individual plan and operate a well-balanced financial program, taking into consideration needs and wants as opposed to income and expenditures; thereby helping the individual to work toward a higher level of living.

The student will be made aware of his responsibility to be alert to the economic problems confronting the consumer and will be guided toward an understanding of common business practices. The answers will be found to such pertinent questions as: How can you, the consumer, live better? How does modern marketing affect you, the consumer? The Government agencies that protect you, the consumer, will be discussed. You will learn how you can interpret advertising standards, grades, labels, etc., and the wisest ways to buy food, drugs, automobiles, etc.

Insurance protection, banking services, loans, investments and credit buying are all integral parts of this absorbing and informative course. Since credit has so permeated our society today it is essential that one keep abreast of this tool of consumer buying. It has become increasingly necessary to recognize the growth and application of credit to everyday living and its value.

Patrolmen already on duty shouted to the intruders "get back, get back on the sidewalk!" One man shoved a policeman, a mild scuffle ensued and within seconds mob violence broke out. Dozens of bottles, cans and other flying objects came crashing down on the pavement. The Calypso music was soon drowned out by the shrill blasts of police sirens and the screams of the mob.

Nearly 300 policemen joined forces in restoring order among the crowd of about 2,000 persons. No one was seriously injured. The nine policemen who suffered injury returned to duty within a short time.

The Rev. O. D. Dempsey, vice marshal of the parade and a Democratic candidate for City Council in this year's election, called the brawl a "most unfortunate incident."

Funeral services were scheduled to be held at 2 p.m. today for Janet Ruth Duda, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Luther Duda Jr. of Slavia, who died Sunday.

Harlem Parade Ends In Riot

NEW YORK (UPI)—A rhythmic calypso parade, weaving its way through the streets of Harlem in celebration of West Indian Day, suddenly flared into a riot Monday in which 17 persons were injured including nine policemen. The bottle-throwing melees was quelled in about 10 minutes after heavy reinforcements of patrolmen poured into the area and, wielding their nightsticks, waded into the angry mob.

At least 12 persons were arrested.

Police said the trouble broke out at the end of the 14th annual parade when a group of male bystanders attempted to join acrobatically clad female dancers in the calypso schuffle.

Patrolmen already on duty shouted to the intruders "get back, get back on the sidewalk!" One man shoved a policeman, a mild scuffle ensued and within seconds mob violence broke out.

Atlanta Klan Rally Ends Up With Minor Scuffle

ATLANTA (UPI)—About 250 persons attended an anti-integration rally sponsored by a local Ku Klux Klan group in a city park Monday night. One person was arrested in a brief scuffle with a policeman.

Calvin F. Craig of Atlanta, who said he is president of the United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, made a brief speech. Attorney James Venable was the main speaker at the rally.

Craig was detained briefly by police last Wednesday when four Atlanta high schools were desegregated. Craig was spotted in front of one of the schools but was released when he said he was making a routine delivery in his laundry truck.

Police Capt. R. E. Little said he arrested Roy E. Frankhouser of Reading, Pa., at the rally in Almond Park.

Little said he approached Frankhouser, who said he was a member of the National States Rights Party, to question him about a tear gas pistol he was carrying. Frankhouser kicked him in the shins, Little said.

Privacy Hole Didn't Pay Off

CARMEL, Calif. (UPI)—Gustav Smith Jr., an electronics technician, dug a hole "more than six feet deep" Monday in the sand along Carmel Beach so he could change into his bathing suit in privacy.

Smith, 34, of Mountain View, Calif., then started digging a side tunnel in the hole. His wife, Claire, 31, and their two children, David, 4, and Stephanie, 2, watched in amusement.

Suddenly the sandy sides of the hole collapsed. Mrs. Smith and other bathers dug frantically for 15 minutes to free Smith—but he was found suffocated at the bottom of the hole.

LEAVING SOON and leaving their footprints clearly marked in the sands of time here, are the Stutsmans, Dr. Bob and Helene and their five children, after a four year tour of duty here with the Navy.

Duty calls, as it eventually does to all service people and so the Stutsmans will journey on to New Iberia, Louisiana, before the beginning of school is too far past there, taking with them their friendly ways, their talents and myriad civic activities.

Well-known in medical circles and also in scouting (both boys and girls work) and in the Catholic Church, both of these fine people have added much to the community while they stayed here.

The Cancer Society has had the voluntary services of Helene Stutzman in many fields. As vice-president and as public relations chairman, chairman of the Mystery Crusader promotion and currently with the board of directors.

The Girl Scouts have had her voluntary services as chairman of the Girl Scout Fair, Scout leader, Coordinator, member of the board of directors on the Central Florida Citrus Council, not to speak of innumerable hours working with the girls, with mothers, with leaders and with committees.

She has also been active as a swimming teacher and in helping to organize the Lake Mary Catholic Church.

Dr. Stutzman is senior medical officer at the NAS dispensary, Seminole County Director of Boy Scouts, charter member of the Toastmasters Club and has lent his help and cooperation to the Cancer Society, scouts, church and in personal problems of the men of the station and also with dependents in his experimental weight-reducing classes.

Active, enthusiastic, lively people, the Stutsmans just can't help keeping busy and seemingly are constitutionally unable to ignore any appeal for their help, always given gladly and freely.

Helene already has plans for

MRS. STUTSMAN

New Iberia, or rather for herself, when she gets to New Iberia.

She is going to take up flying. "I've handled a plane a little and have passed my navigational work," says Helene, enthusiastically, "but never quite got around to getting my pilot's license."

"Now I'm going to do it. I've always wanted to fly." And she will.

Returning home this weekend from three weeks at their Highland, N. C., summer home were Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Jones and daughter, Mary, and Mr. Jones' mother, Mrs. Ruby U. Jones. Other local residents returning home over Labor Day from a vacation at Waynesville, N. C., were Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Wheeler Jr. and children, Miriam and Ben Jr., Mrs. B. F. Wheeler Sr. and Mrs. Annie L. Carter.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Clonts and family have returned from a vacation spent at Fort Myers Beach. Miss Nancy Myers of Pensacola spent the Labor Day holiday weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Myers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Martin and children, Anne and George, who have been spending some time in Colorado this summer, returned home this weekend.

Mrs. Bill Packard and boys, Timmy and Bruce, moved to Gainesville Friday to make their home. Mr. Packard has been in that city for several weeks where he has accepted employment.

Miss Anne Pickett, who presently is working with the Social Security office in Sarasota, drove to Oviedo this week in her brand new car and was joined by her father, Fred, to make a motor trip to Valdosta, Ga., where they will visit his mother, Mrs. A. R. Pierson and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Talbot.

Joe King, who is still recuperating from major surgery, cut his hand while working on some machinery. It was necessary to take several stitches but he is reported getting along fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Maggard, of Naples, spent the Labor Day weekend with Mrs. Maggard's sister, Mrs. H. R. Spencer and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Spencer have returned from a two week vacation. They spent some time in the Smoky Mountains of North Carolina, then went up the coast to New York for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. Dora Kelsey and daughter, Mrs. D. T. Ford have returned from a trip to Cooksville, Tenn. The Fords who have been living in Detroit, Mich., are now living in Oviedo.

Mrs. Charlie McCulley is reported doing well after being hospitalized in Orlando, due to a recent heart attack.

Grace Methodist WSCS Plans Meeting Thursday

Members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Grace Methodist Church decided to change the date of the monthly business and program meetings from the first Tuesday to the first Thursday of each month.

The new date will start with the September meeting and is scheduled for this Thursday at 11:30 a.m. at the church.

All members are urged to come and bring a covered dish for the luncheon which will be served at noon.

Altman's Home From Extensive Western Tour

By BETTIE SMITH Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Altman, of Tullis St., Longwood, were returned from a three month trip through the West and Northern part of the United States.

They visited Carlsbad Caverns, Old Faithful, Bruce Canyon, Zion Canyon, Grand Canyon, The Golden Gate Bridge and many more places of national interest.

The last three and one-half weeks of their enjoyable vacation was spent in Indiana.

They arrived home with many souvenirs, bringing items from most every place they visited.

They traveled more than 10,000 miles and on their way back to Longwood they drove through rain for the first time.

Gullickson, and their daughters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. D. Cox and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hatch, have been among those in the vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Bonn of Miami have been visiting Mrs. Bonn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schollert, at their home on South St. the past week.

TALE FOR TEENS

Sleep is essential to both body and mind, not only in your teens but all of your life. So don't decide that it's clever to stay up late. Such sessions can turn into a chronic habit.

Test yourself. Go to bed by 10 p. m. for several days. If, during the day, you're not sleepy, you've had your share of sleep.

It's smart to get plenty of sleep.

It invigorates your personality, makes you more alive and aware.

RECENT VISITORS of Mrs. Berthold D. Willenbrock Sr. at the home 237 Lucerne Drive, DeBary, were her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Berthold D. Willenbrock Jr. and children, Carol and Paul, of Farmingdale, Long Island, N. Y.

Speak Low, Speak Softly

A warm and melodious voice is as important to beauty as a trim figure and a clear complexion. How many times have you heard a woman described as beautiful "until she opens her mouth"?

The most common difficulty, according to speech authorities, is a high pitch. And one immediate remedy is to talk more slowly. You will articulate more clearly, too.

Here's an exercise that is a great help in developing an attractive voice: place a kitchen match between your teeth, front center.

Now, try to speak normally as though the match weren't there. Hold the match at the end lightly between the teeth and focus your tone toward the blue tip.

Harshness in your voice stems from tension in the throat and jaw. Try yawning to relieve the tension.

The tighter the vocal cords are when vibrated, the higher will be the tone pitch. When you raise your voice to be heard, the throat constricts and produces a shrill sound. The louder you speak, the more your voice will tend to a higher pitch.

To avoid shrillness, lower your pitch. Think lower and let your voice drop to lower notes. Don't force it or it will tax your throat and sound equally unpleasant.

A high-pitched voice is often nasal. You can find out whether or not you have this fault by pinching your nose and saying: nothing, marching, running. You should feel vibrations in your nose on the n, ng and n sounds only. If you feel further vibrations, your voice is nasal.

DON'T ACCENTUATE NEGATIVE

If your nose is longer than you'd prefer, be sure you never part your hair in the center. It will only accentuate the difficulty.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY ROBSON and daughters, Linda (left) and Jeanne, relax by the pool at the Pier 66 Motor Hotel in Fort Lauderdale after an exciting trip down the Intracoastal Waterway in their outboard boat. They also stopped at Jensen Beach and visited a brother, Jack Robson, at Jupiter. They completed their vacation at New Smyrna Beach and are expected home today.

Enterprise Personals

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Wilson and son Palmer plan to return to their home in Atlanta, Ga., this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss Long and children and Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Blackwood and children of Decatur, Ala., are visiting their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wilborn and family this week.

David and Glorinda Peacock of Piepan are visiting Mrs. Eva Colien this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Henderson and Howard were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Davis in Daytona Beach, Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. James McCullough and sons of Green Cove Springs accompanied Mrs. McCullough's sister, Miss Linda Tyler, home after she had spent some time with them. The McCulloughs remained overnight with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Tyler.

Outing Enjoyed By Youth Association

Members of the Christian Youth Association, a club recently organized by the young people of the Church of God, on French Ave., held a wiener roast at Rock Springs, Wednesday night.

The group met at the church then drove to the springs for the meeting.

Following the wiener roast, the young people gathered around a table, conducted devotions and sang hymns. Harry McDaniel accompanied the singers on an accordion and Mrs. Gerald Boatwright led the singing.

In addition to familiar songs the group also rehearsed some for future use at church services. A particular beautiful arrangement featured Larry McDaniel singing "Just A Closer Walk With Thee," with the choir singing softly in the background.

Diane Smith, president of the association, conducted a testimonial service, with each member relating their experiences in church work and Christian experiences.

As each one came forward, they were given 7-7-11 match and testified until the match went out. Outdoor games, including badminton and croquet were enjoyed during the evening.

Adult chaperones for the outing were Mrs. Bruce Green, Mrs. Haggi Cockman and Mrs. Boatwright.

Others present were Donnie Whitten, vice president; Sharon Whitten, secretary; K. W. Landress, treasurer, and Diane Brown, Pamela Hicks, Tommy Anderson, Arthur Blanton, James Anderson.

Darrel Bengt, George Anderson, Betty Hillitt, Benny Johns, Jo Ann Thomas, Rosa Dodson, Mary Lynn Thomas, Ann Dodson, Jeanette Herman, Sally Green and Karla Wellborn.

McCoy Family Vacations In Colorado

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. McCoy, children, David and Donna of Fern Park and Mrs. McCoy's father, A. S. Lee, of Bradenton, recently drove to Denver, Colo., for a vacation. After one week, Mr. McCoy came home by plane and left the others for a longer vacation.

This was the first time in 22 years that Mrs. McCoy had visited her home town and it was the first time the children had ever seen snow. They were very thrilled to see the snow fall at a temperature of 32 degrees, then see it melt when the temperature went up to 100.

They traveled over 600 miles while there visiting places of interest and on the return trip they stopped and looked at several farms in Nebraska, that belong to Mr. Lee.

Attack On Slums

In a move to force slum landlords to repair and clean up substandard buildings, Cook County (Chicago) Department of Public Aid is withholding money from relief recipients.

Families on relief—there are 104,000 in the county with 20,000 of them living in substandard dwellings—will have funds withheld equal to their monthly rents. They will be unable to pay their landlord. When he goes to court to get an eviction notice, which he must do under law, the county will seek an injunction prohibiting the eviction until the building is brought up to acceptable condition.

County Public Aid Director Raymond M. Hilliard calls his department "most unwillingly the largest subsidizer of slums in our community. . . . The only thing a slum landlord understands is a big financial setback." If it works, and there is no reason why it should not since all public officials concerned have pledged cooperation, the plan may be a spur to other cities to take similar steps to end profiteering in human misery.

As in everything else, of course, all the truth is not on one side. Landlords point to instances where ignorant people have made a shambles of what were once perfectly decent apartments. Some unscrupulous owners, after repairing again and again damages done by tenants, have given up the fight or sold out entirely.

It is a vicious circle. Today's slum children grow up to create tomorrow's slums unless something is done to break the circle. But often, attempts to help them are doomed in advance.

Yet this can in no way excuse public apathy toward the problem of slums. Nor can it excuse the all too numerous absentee owners who live comfortably in the suburbs, supported by the exploited tenant in a filthy tenement.

All in all, the burden of proof would seem to be on the side of the landlord. In this instance, it is the courts of Cook County which will have to decide each individual case on the basis of the facts presented by the landlord and by the department speaking for those who, as Jane Addams said, cannot, or dare not, speak for themselves.

Letters

To The Editor

Dear Editor:
In response to the increased need for bringing greater understanding of the United States to foreign countries, the Department of the Navy, at the request of the President, last year initiated a People-to-People program. Under this program, various projects have been conducted by the Navy to assist and familiarize people of other countries with the ships, men, and attitudes of these Americans in uniform. In time of civil and individual need, the Navy has given assistance and has become our best ambassador to these foreign peoples. Several months ago President Kennedy established the Peace Corps, a civil unit of well educated young Americans, dedicated to working with and to assisting the peoples of other nations. Last week the first group of Peace Corps members flew to Ghana, Africa where they will begin their two year assignments. Educated and trained in the problems and needs of respective foreign countries, these Peace Corpsmen have become a part of the American foreign policy, giving to needy countries what our dollars could never give; something of our Americans, willing to work with us—interested and trained to assist in the development of other countries while giving others an understanding of our selves. The bases of these two programs are the acceptance of and the association with others; accepting them as ourselves, people with individual problems, hopes, and beliefs, and associating with them as equal members in a Family Of Man. The success of our efforts will lie in our willingness to give of ourselves, to assist them as brothers, not as strangers, in their time of need. Accepting, associating, giving—this becomes the basis of all human relationships in a Family Of Man.

Congress Takes Final Breather

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress took a final breather today before digging into the stack of legislation remaining between it and adjournment.

Heavy schedules will face both houses when they reconvene Tuesday following the long Labor Day weekend. Top items on the agenda are appropriations for President Kennedy's foreign aid program and a whipping public works money bill.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Americans are at sea, lake and river in record numbers. Last year, 39 million spent leisure time on the water. They did it in 8 million boats ranging in size from dumpy imitations of the bathtub to classy yachts, the boating industry says.

Sincerely yours,
Byron H. Dudley

From Rome

Henry McLemore

SENIGALLIA, Italy—I am here on the Adriatic coast convalescing after a bout with the Italian Ministry of Transport, meaning the railroads.

I was badly mauled by the Ministry of Transport in a battle that lasted two full days and my doctor, accustomed to official bureaucracy, said sand, salt water, and rest might help me pull myself together.

I tangled with the Ministry of Transport when I learned that, as a member of the Foreign Press

Club of Rome, I was entitled to a 70 per cent reduction in train travel within Italy.

I set out to get the necessary card to show at the station when buying a ticket. I had been told all I had to do was to call at the Ministry to be fixed up in a jiffy.

Well, it took me 3,000 jiffies just to get inside the building. It is more carefully guarded than Cape Canaveral and entrance passes are extremely hard to come by. I finally got one, but then the port guard saw that I didn't include the name of my three-year-old daughter who was with me, so he sent me back and I had to start all over again. I had no idea she looked like a spy.

Once inside the vast building—it really should have a railroad to take visitors up and down its never-ending corridors—no one knew anything about a reduction for the foreign press, or what section handled it, if there were such a thing.

Before I found the right man—well, nearly the right man—I had talked with every employee of the Italian railroad system except two engineers, a fireman, and a switchman.

When I stumbled across the "nearly right" man, he wanted to know why I hadn't come directly to him. I told him he was a mystery man—that no one knew of him or his job.

He told me it was a happy thing that I had found him, and I settled back to watch him fill out the little card for me. But he sent me to the Foreign Ministry instead, and the Foreign Ministry is farther away from the Ministry of Transport than a Roman legionnaire could march in a day, even without his shield. It is clear across town, and beyond, past the Olympic swimming pool.

I made it, and promptly got lost in the big marble building. Eventually I found a lady who said I was in the wrong place, that I was looking for the Ministry of Transport if my business was about railroad travel.

After a good, long cry on the steps of the Foreign Ministry, I went home and took a sedative and slept all night. Refreshed, I tackled the Transport people again, and my "nearly right" man was off sick, so I had to find another "nearly right" sort. I did after a couple of hours, and he sent me back to the foreign Ministry, and I got lost again, and the same lady said I would have to go back to you know where.

So I did and a man I met in the hall said I would have to have two passport photos to attach to the card—and the mention of the card was the first time I had met a man who knew such a thing existed. I hugged him, and he told me to get the pictures and come back to him. I did, and when I got back his office was closed, and all the others were shutting down for the weekend.

So I went to the doctor for a check-up—I could hardly walk—and he sent me here. I paid my full fare and was glad to do it. To my disappointment, the train left on time, and arrived on time, just as if the Ministry of Transport were the most efficient body in all the world.

Without having realized it at the time, I had become a victim of a "stuttering wrist" in those few seconds at that first banquet.

For stuttering, whether of Demosthenes' throat muscles or my wrist or the tiny circular muscles around the blood vessels in the neck of a blusher, is alike. It is so specific that if you alter any segment of the original pattern, you can free yourself.

For example, I tried again to raise my cup to my mouth with my right hand, but violent trembling occurred just as I leveled off in front of my lips.

So I now shifted to my left hand. It didn't tremble at all as I brought the cup to my mouth, for it wasn't my left hand that was acting when I got buried.

Nuisance habits have a definite pattern, so break any part of the pattern and you can free yourself. For instance, I shifted back to my right hand but instead of using my index finger in the handle of the cup, I employed my middle finger.

Now I could raise the cup with my right hand, for that middle finger hadn't been in action when I burned myself with the original hot coffee.

Then I shifted back to the index finger of the right hand, but now my cup shook so much it again spilled some of its contents.

So I ignored the hand and cradled the cup in my entire hand. It didn't shake. But when I went back to the index finger, again my hand trembled as if I had the palsy.

To this day—20 years later—I may suffer another attack unless I alter the pattern, so you throat stutters should use that "Stutter Triangle" strategy mentioned yesterday.

Peter Edson's Political Notebook

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Neither the United Auto Workers nor the automobile manufacturers appealed for Kennedy administration help in the current new contract negotiations.

This is in the pattern of recent auto wage talks—argue right up to the old contract expiration date, then settle. Aside from the Chrysler strike over the pension system in 1948 there hasn't been an auto strike since 1946.

The general hope in Washington is that this year's contracts can be made without more than a token strike, and also without intervention by the administration.

There were rumors all over the place that Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg would step into the picture when he went to Detroit to make a speech. But he stayed only overnight, didn't go near the auto negotiations and came right back to Washington to become involved in, of all things, the Metropolitan Opera strike.

This has raised the question of just what Kennedy administration policy on strikes is going to be. Which situations will it stay out of and in which will it intervene?

In general, the Kennedy administration wants to be active in promoting better labor relations. With a secretary of labor who was formerly CIO and Steelworkers legal counsel, there was some early concern that the administration would be too pro-labor. But the record of the first seven months shows it has not plunged into every strike.

Fact-finding boards have been named to get transportation work-back on the job in strikes by AFL-CIO dockworkers, New York City and tug workers, flight engineers' tie-up of seven airlines and machinists' union tie-up of one airline.

In the strike of five maritime unions which idled all U. S. shipping, the administration had to fall back on a Taft-Hartley injunction which expires Sept. 20.

In no case has the administration named fact-finding boards where they were not wanted by both sides, as former President Truman did in the 1949 steel strike.

Goldberg's missile sites labor commission has cracked down on overemployment, make-work practices, excessive overtime, wildcat and jurisdictional strikes which affected defense production.

In numerous local strikes like that of the New York convention workers, the decision has been made for the federal government to stay out. State and local mediators have settled the matter. That's the way they want it.

The Metropolitan Opera strike was also local, but it had some national and international angles. The White House began to get protests from radio and TV fans. And from American tourists abroad, messages began to come in that if little countries like Poland could have opera in seven cities, the United States should have it in one. The President expressed concern and Goldberg agreed to arbitrate if he was acceptable to both sides.

One of Kennedy's early acts in this field was to name an advisory commission on labor-management relations. Goldberg is chairman this year, Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges will chair it in 1962.

The commission has met four times, which is considered a record for such groups, and it will meet again in September. It has a pretty sophisticated attitude. Nobody has proposed repeal of Taft-Hartley or putting all unions under the antitrust laws.

The group has been broken down into a number of subcommittees with outside technical experts to take up questions such as automation, full employment, industrial peace, economic growth, wage and price policies.

Reports will be sent to the President this fall. Later, all will be made public. The hope is that they will provide the basis for new labor relations policies and possibly legislative proposals to be submitted to Congress next year.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

I'm the patient in today's case. Or, rather I should say it was my right wrist, for it started to "stutter," just exactly like the throat muscles of Demosthenes or Donnie, in yesterday's case.

So scribble these newspaper aids to happen, better adjusted lives. This clinical column parallels the behavior of many of you readers every day, so keep a scrapbook.

CASE J-486: This case deals with my own stuttering right wrist. Twenty years ago I was the banquet speaker at the Brooklyn Dental Association.

The waiter filled my half empty cup with scalding hot coffee while I was turned to my left, chatting with the president of the society. When I lifted the cup to my mouth and took a good swallow, I was burned.

Involuntarily my hand jerked back and actually spilled some of the beverage upon my plate.

My tongue felt burned for a day or two, but otherwise I had no ill effects and forgot the incident.

But a few weeks later, at an other state dental association banquet, I lifted my coffee cup to my mouth.

Although the coffee was NOT unpleasantly hot, as soon as I leveled off the cup in front of my lips, my right hand suddenly started shaking as if it were being controlled by an outside demon.

In fact, coffee again spilled into my plate. I quickly set my cup back down in the saucer, puzzled.

Then I picked it up again and smoothly lifted it almost to my lips. But as soon as it leveled off, my right hand again went into a violent spell of shaking.

It was quite involuntary for I looked on, much as a spectator, with no control over it.

STUTTERING WRIST
Then I happened to recall the incident of a few weeks earlier when I had burned my tongue on the scalding coffee.

Without having realized it at the time, I had become a victim of a "stuttering wrist" in those few seconds at that first banquet.

For stuttering, whether of Demosthenes' throat muscles or my wrist or the tiny circular mus-

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: It happened again this noon. I prepared a lovely dinner, but no husband or hired hands showed up to eat it. This has been going on all summer for many summers. I plead for advance information, but they are too busy working to stop and inform me that they are going to the adjoining farm to work. Thinking they were in the fields here, I fixed dinner. A 12:30 phone call to mom-in-law tells me that she had to whip up a quickie lunch for them. Sometimes the situation is reversed, and she is left with a meal and no eaters. I have heard this complaint from other farm women. How can we get our husbands to be more considerate? Or are we wrong?

MRS. V. D. C.

DEAR MRS. V. D. C.: Plow into them and thrash it out. And don't set the table 'til you see the whites of their eyes.

DEAR ABBY: In your column you had a letter from a woman who said she couldn't stand to see a dog licking a baby on the face or mouth because it was unsanitary. And you agreed with her!

I don't think you understand that a dog's mouth is antiseptic, and a good deal cleaner than a human's mouth, so he couldn't do the baby any harm. We don't let our collie lick our baby's face or mouth because we are afraid the dog might catch something from the baby. DOG OWNER

DEAR OWNER: Now I have heard everything.

DEAR ABBY: How do parents go about breaking up a boy and girl who have been going steady for over two years? They are both 16. We have fought this thing until we are sick over it. Our son has always been an exceptionally fine boy and has listened to us in every other matter but this.

They think they are in love, and they are together constantly. When they were 14 and 15 we thought it was "cute," but now we are genuinely concerned. We have seen so many of our friends ignore this problem, and you know the results. Early marriage and babies are no foundation for life. We feel strongly about this, but get no cooperation from the girl's mother. Please tell us how to handle this.

WORRIED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You cannot control your son's feelings, but you can control his activities. Limit the amount of time he spends with his girl. You are actually doing them a favor by lessening temptations.

ACTRESS MICHELE Montau, a recent French import, says: "When love comes along the intellectual is not so necessary. I love for love." The precocious lass is shown here in a scene from her last film, "The Devil at Four O'Clock." Currently, she's working in "Hell is for Heroes," a loveless (for her) movie, she says.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

How does a wife turn her big-bean husband into a household helper?

By flattery, that's how. At least, that's the impression given by the comments made by husbands who answered a recent questionnaire, which sought answers to how much help around the house American husbands actually give their wives.

For instance, the men who routinely do the dishes think they are more efficient dishwasher than their wives.

The husbands who pitch in to help with bed-making claim they can make a bed faster than the little woman.

The man who does the marketing thinks he can spin a cart through a supermarket faster than his wife, who probably stops to chat with friends, to daydream about what to have for dinner, and to poke every piece of fruit she puts in her basket and to handle a bushel of potatoes in order to pick out six of equal size.

Now, if the housework-helping husbands think they are so good at the jobs they do around home, there's just one reason why: their wives have told them so.

No wife is going to brag about how much faster her husband can make a bed, or how much more efficient he is at the kitchen sink or what an expert he is in the supermarket unless she wants something. What she wants, of course, is her husband's help.

So, the men fall for the feminine flattery, and they're hooked as mama's "little helper."

The poor dears don't even know what has happened. They actually think they are better washers of dishes, makers of beds, shoppers of grocery. It hasn't dawned on them that they have just swallowed the "you can do it so much better" bait-hook, line and sinker.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

Sometimes it does not pay to be an expert. Particularly if you are defending against another expert.

West cashed two clubs and shifted to a trump. South saw that he had no legitimate play for his contract, but saw a chance for a swindle against expert West.

He won the trump in his own hand and led the ten of hearts. West was faced with an immediate decision. While an average player would simply rise with the king, West visualized the possibility that South held three hearts to the ace-ten so West played the deuce of hearts.

Highlights

TV Key Previews

Leonard Hoffman and his staff group psychotherapy. The versatile Janice Rule enacts the part of a schizophrenic. Other strong performances are given by Steve Hill, Mary Astor, Mike Hill and James Dunn.

10-11 p. m. (NBC) Color. (Repeat) Purex Special. "The Margaret Bourke-White Story." Miss Bourke-White, famous "Life" photographer had seen a great deal of the fighting during World War II. But her biggest personal battle was the fight against Parkinson's disease. This absorbing dramatization is the story of the operation and fight to regain her health. Teresa Wright gives a fine, perceptive performance as the famed photographer, and Eli Wallach is equally superb as Alfred Eisenstaedt, Miss Bourke-White's associate and devoted friend.

11:15 p. m.-1 a. m. (NBC) The Jack Paar Show. Orson Bean, host. Guests to include Comedian Henry Morgan and David Atkinson.

8:30 p. m. (CBS) "Father Knows Best." (Repeat) "Kathy Makes A Wish." Sensitive handled episode with a full quota of heart tug, involving Kathy's wish for a pony. When it doesn't come true, she is disenchanted until a photographer shows up with a pony he uses in taking snapshots. It's a difficult task for Jim Aderson to make her realize that the pony isn't for her.

9:30 p. m. (CBS) "Comedy Spotlight." (Repeat) "Miracle At The Opera." The story isn't touched with magic, but there's a special aura about the artistry of Ed Wynn; and when it's combined with his devotion to a dog, the team is well high invincible. The miracle has to do with a prima donna who loses her voice. The dog goes on—vocally—to finish the performance in a beautiful soprano. Forget about the far-fetched fantasy, and sit back and watch Ed Wynn's characterization. Sig Ruman and Barbara Morrison are featured.

9:30 p. m. (CBS) "Playhouse 90." (Repeat) "Journey To The Day." Thanks to a topnotch cast, this drama registers with considerable impact beyond the framework of the story, which revolves around six mental patients in

NL Race Tightens

United Press International — It's all over except for the shouting in the American League but that National League race may end in a photo finish after all.

Jackie Brandt were the big blows for the Orioles in the first game and errors by Rocky Colavito, Bill Bruton and Dick Brown treated Baltimore to three unearned runs in the second game.

and was on the mound again when the second game was halted at 11:30 p.m. Baltimore times. Ken Johnson pitched a four-hitter to win his sixth game for the Reds but the Phillies divided the doubtheaded when Art Mahaffey won his 10th game in the nightcap.

The New York Yankees all but wrapped up a pennant for Ralph Houk in his first year as manager when they beat the Washington Senators, 5-3 and 2-1, Monday to balloon their AL lead to six games. Thirteen victories in their last 25 games — a mere .520 pace — would give them 103 wins, a figure the second place Detroit Tigers could top only by winning 99 of their remaining 25 games for a .500 pace.

In the NL, however, the Los Angeles Dodgers moved to within two games of first-place Cincinnati when they downed the San Francisco Giants, 4-0, and the Reds split a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Phillies. The Reds won the first game, 5-0, but the Phillies bounced back to take the second game, 5-3.

The Yankees drive to all but mathematical certainty of the flag was facilitated when the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Tigers, 6-3, and had a 4-1 eight-inning lead when the second game was suspended because of the Baltimore curfew law. The game will be completed tonight before a regularly scheduled game and will drop the Tigers 6 1/2 games behind the Yankees unless they pull it out.

Johnny Blanchard's eighth-inning homer broke a 3-3 tie and powered the Yankees to their first-game victory, which was credited to relief pitcher Hal Reniff. Bob Cerv tripled in the seventh inning and scored the winning run of the nightcap on a sacrifice fly to Clete Boyer. Bud Daley went to the plate in the night cap for his 10th win.

Don Drysdale pitched a two-hitter and Duke Snider hit a 450-foot homer for the Dodgers, who dealt Juan Marichol his 10th loss. Tommy Davis rubbed salt in the Giants' wounds by scolding both second and home in the fourth inning as Drysdale won his 11th game. Snider's homer raised his career total to 390 homers and 1,224 runs batted in.

Homers by Charlie Lau and Stewart Wins Dallas Open Play

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Earl Stewart Jr., the first bona fide host pro ever to win a PGA tour stop, said today he wasn't sure whether he beat Arnold Palmer for the $4,300 Dallas Open crown or whether Palmer beat himself.

The scoreboard showed that the 153-pound red-haired Texan toured his own Oak Cliff Country Club's par 35-35-70 layout in a two-under-par 278 figures for the 72 holes, while Palmer wound up with a 279 and tie for second with fast-topping Gay Brewer of Crystal River, Fla., and Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif.

That runner-up deadlock was worth $2,233.34 to the trio and pared Palmer's deficit in his battle for top money winnings with Gary Player to $1,342.52. Player, who finished in a seven-way tie for 12th here to win $14,280, now has official money winnings of $61,115.45 to $57,132.93 for Palmer.

U. S. Boxer Loses

CARDIFF, Wales (UPI)—Howard Winstone of Wales, featherweight champion of the British Isles, easily outpointed Gene Furrine of Rockaway, N. J., Monday night in a 10-round bout. Winstone weighed 128 1/2 pounds to Furrine's 128 1/2.

Stacy Captures Darlington Classic

DARLINGTON, S. C. (UPI) — Newcomer Nelson Stacy's embryo fan club was convinced today he won the 12th Southern 500 mile stock car race because his Ford was the fastest car while Fireball Roberts' fans were just as sure a near empty fuel tank cost their man's car the victory.

Patterson Crackdown

HERSHEY, Pa. (UPI) — A crackdown on heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson for failure to defend his title in six months and a floor fight over the presidency may highlight the National Boxing Association meeting which opened here today.

Disciplinary action against Patterson, possibly the vacating of his title, would come during the meeting only if the champion completed a reported agreement to meet Tom McNeely Jr. of Brookline, Mass., on Nov. 13 at Boston under the auspices of Championship Sports, Inc.

The NBA's 14-member executive committee studied the Patterson case at length behind closed doors in a pre-convention meeting here Monday but postponed action until Sept. 13, the deadline for Patterson to defend against an NBA-approved contender.

The NBA by-laws state a champion must defend within six months against one of the top six contenders in the NBA rankings. McNeely didn't make the NBA's top ten. Patterson last defended by knocking out Ingemar Johansson at Miami Beach last March 12.

Takes Lead

DU QUOIN, Ill. (UPI)—A. J. Foyt, winner of this year's Indianapolis "500" took over the lead for the national big-car driving championship Monday by winning the 100-mile Du Quoin auto race.

Reports To Bucs

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Larry Hoss, a right handed pitcher who had a 10-3 record with Asheville, N. C., of the Sally League this year, will report to the Pittsburgh Pirates in Chicago Wednesday. He was recalled by the Pirates Monday after helping pitch Asheville to the Sally League pennant.

Wins Race

THOMPSON, Conn. (UPI) — Bob Hulbert of Warrington, Pa., flashed home five seconds ahead of George Constatine of Southbridge, Mass., Monday to win the feature race of the Sports Car Club of America national championships. Hulbert averaged 71.23 miles per hour in his Porsche over the 15-lap course at the Thompson Raceway.

Tough To Beat

By United Press International The Green Bay Packers are going to be tough to beat in the National Football League again this season — M Paul Hornung remains sound of limb. The former Notre Dame flanker, completely recovered from an early training camp injury, kicked a pair of field goals and scored a touchdown in helping the Packers to a 20-17 victory over the New York Giants Monday night in a tussle game. The Packers twice came from behind to pull out their 12th straight exhibition victory and fourth this year before 23,458 fans, the largest crowd ever to watch a game at Green Bay.

Reed Scores Stunning Upset In Tennis Play

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (UPI)—Whitney Reed, a non-productive tennis wanderer of the easy living school, was fourth round proof to the hotshots in the U. S. amateur tennis championship today when you can't ever ease up.

Harmony Is The Word In City Hall

Drape Hanger Ray Truman At Work

The City Commission chambers are now the envy of every young homemaker in Sanford.

Drapes in the chambers were hung Tuesday of chocolate brown, beige and gold and costing $300.

The colors were selected by City Manager W. E. Knowles who said they were picked on the advice of the interior decorators for a harmonizing color motif.

The drapes were hung by officials of the American Rug Company of Orlando and are 10 feet, four inches long and three and a half feet wide.

To go along with this motif, new auditorium chairs will be delivered in about two weeks, according to Knowles. The chairs will be a cocoa brown color.

The city manager said the colors of the drapes were selected for "eye pleasing appeal" and none of the commissioners' wives or Mrs. Knowles had anything to do with the color scheme.

Carla Threatens Western Cuba

MIAMI (UPI) — Tropical storm Carla threatens to bring hurricane winds to western Cuba tonight and squalls Thursday to the Florida keys, the Miami Weather Bureau said today.

The bureau said Carla "probably reached hurricane intensity during the night."

West 'Saboteurs' Derail East Red Freight Train

BERLIN (UPI) — Western-directed "saboteurs" derailed an empty 120-car freight train near the Baltic coast of East Germany and tied up local rail traffic for days, according to a Communist newspaper reaching West Berlin today.

The Sept. 1 issue of the newspaper Schweriner Volkszeitung said the derailment, at Sternberg, was caused by a steel bar fastened to tracks over a small bridge outside the station.

The newspaper did not say when the derailment took place, except that it happened since East German troops closed the Berlin frontier Aug. 13.

It said the "bandits" acted on orders from Washington and Bonn as part of a plot to unleash "terror" in retaliation for closing of the Berlin border.

"Elements who plotted to begin open terror because of their overpowering hatred of the defeat sustained by the cold war warriors on Aug. 13 will be punished by the full power of our state," the newspaper said.

The Communists called on the West again today to negotiate directly with East Germany on the use of Allied air routes to West Berlin.

The Communist party newspaper Neues Deutschland published remarks by East German boss Walter Ulbricht at the Leipzig Fair in which he said flatly that a peace treaty between the Soviet Union and East Germany "will be signed."

Testing Money Gels House Okay

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Appropriations Committee followed up President Kennedy's decision to resume nuclear testing today by voting him $30 million to finance the work.

In a last-minute change the sum was earmarked for "weapons testing" as the committee approved a $3,622,548,500 money bill carrying funds for the Atomic Energy Commission and the government's so-called "public works" functions.

Board Awards Bleacher Bids

The County School Board today met in special session and awarded the low bid of Imperial Supply Company of Winter Haven for bleachers at the gyms at Lyman and Crooms Schools.

The low bid was $5,119 for each school.

Nobody asked me, but how come a wrist watch was purchased by the county under Civil Defense's surplus property program? And... who's gonna wear the watch?

A Short Play — Scene: County Commission Chambers.

Time: 1:30 p. m., Tuesday.

Characters: Me, Board Chairman J. C. Hutchinson.

Me: Now that the commission has postponed adopting its budget until Friday will there be any informal meetings from now until Friday?

General Hutchinson: Yes.

Me: Will the press be invited?

General Hutchinson: I doubt it.

End Of Play

The county commission plans to wrap-up the board of equalization sessions Friday morning and will meet next Monday for its regular commission meeting instead of Tuesday.

Nobody asked me but at an informal county commission budget session, both Chairman J. C. Hutchinson and Vernon Dunn opposed giving $15,000 to Mary Earle Walker for reappraisal work. Monday, both of these gentlemen said they were urging the commission to reconsider cutting her budget. Bang... Bang!!!

Morris Moses, whose father, A. H. Moses, gave Sanford the clock which until a few months ago was a downtown landmark, died suddenly in New York Friday. Well-known to many Sanford people, Mr. and Mrs. Moses until a few years ago lived year-round at their Magnolia Ave. home and in recent years have spent the winters here. Survivors, other than Mrs. Moses, include sons, Raymond, Woody and Herbert; daughter, Mrs. Ben Hyman and among the several grandchildren, Miss Barbara Moses and Michael Moses are Sanford residents.

Taking advantage of the two day holiday weekend, McCrory's has painted their store inside and out, with fresh sparkling coats of white and ivory paint.

Also sprucing up their store front last week was the Sanford Gas Company, who put a new coat of paint on the outside of its building.

Jim Pigott, head football coach at Seminole High School will be the speaker at the Jaycees night meeting Thursday at the Civic Center at 7:30.

U.S. Back In Nuclear Arms Race

The United States moved today to get back into the nuclear arms race reopened by three Soviet nuclear test explosions.

Under orders from President Kennedy, American scientists and military men started preparing a series of underground tests that will allow development and perfection of new battle weapons without exposing the world to additional radioactive fallout.

The move had been expected despite the fact it dulled the propaganda advantage the United States had been given by the one-sided Russian resumption. The announcement did not affect the midnight Saturday deadline in an Anglo-American note calling on Russia to join in a moratorium on nuclear tests in the atmosphere that cause radioactive fallout, although it appeared certain Russia would reject the proposal.

But as Kennedy put it in his announcement late Tuesday after Russia had set off its third atmospheric test in five days: "... We must now take those steps which prudent men find essential."

Reaction from around the world fell about as anticipated.

The Russian press and radio had not reported it up to mid-day.

The government of Japan, an ally of the United States but the only country to suffer an atomic bombing, expressed "regrets" and said it hoped the United States would "reconsider."

Japan already had strongly denounced the Soviet tests.

A British government spokesman said Britain had not yet decided whether to resume its tests.

France set off four nuclear explosions in the Sahara Desert during the fruitless Anglo-American-Russian test ban negotiations in Geneva, but there was no immediate indication whether this program now would be stepped up.

Chuluota Drinking Water Probe Asked

The County Commission Tuesday ordered a full investigation by the county health department into drinking water for the Chuluota area after a letter was read to the board by the Greater Chuluota Community Club saying that the area was "sick and tired of being pushed aside on matters of health."

The letter, signed by C. R. Pentz, secretary of the organization, reported that the people of Chuluota are greatly concerned about the drinking water supplied "us through a central water system, by the Central Florida Utilities, Inc., of Orlando."

"This water has been questioned as to its purity and fitness for human consumption and household use. The water is foul tasting, foul smelling, contains black dirt."

"There have been several samples presented to the board of health but never a reply to some of these requests," the letter continued.

"We are finally determined to find out why our requests go unanswered. Is it our local government which is committed to a reaction, or is it a do nothing government when it concerns the working family and the majority?"

Pentz reported also that a similar letter went to the governor's office.

After the letter was read, Commissioner James P. Avery said, "This is the first I've heard of it."

The board authorized Manhattan Val Robbins to make a complete investigation and report back to the commission as soon as possible.

Bulletin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Appropriations Committee today refused to approve funds to start pre-construction planning on the long-waited cross-Florida barge canal.

The committee voted only to provide $50,000 for a comprehensive review to bring up to date the economic justification of the project. President Kennedy, in his revised budget, had requested $100,000 to start initial work on the canal.

Annual Kiwanis Fish Fry Saturday

"We have nearly completed our plans for this year's big annual Kiwanis Fish Fry and Auction, to be held at the State Farmer's Market on Hwy. 17-92 Saturday," Chairman Joel Field said today.

Sanford merchants have donated an unusual supply of new merchandise which will be sold to the highest bidder by Kiwanis members during the auction which begins at 7 p. m.

From 8 to 6 p. m. Kiwanians will be serving their "all you can eat" meal of fried fish, bush puppies and slaw, for the admission price of $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

All Kiwanians have tickets for sale and they will also be available at the market.

"Sanford residents are urged to support this event," Field said, "as proceeds are used for the benefit of underprivileged children, for provision of medical care or assistance with their education."

Nova Land Bill Passes Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A bill authorizing the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) to spend $60 million to buy land for the expansion of Cape Canaveral cleared the Senate unanimously Tuesday.

The bill, passed by voice vote with strong backing from the Senate Space Committee, authorizes NASA to buy an additional 80,000 acres of land around the present Cape facilities for the nation's first "moon port."

The space agency recently chose Cape Canaveral as the launching site for manned rockets which this country hopes to send to the moon and back by 1970.

The funds authorized in the Senate bill, which now goes to the House, are for land acquisition only and do not include funds for other facilities to be added later for the lunar probe program.

The bill authorizes spending the money. A separate appropriation bill later will provide the actual funds.

The money is in addition to the record $1,744,300,000 Congress has already budgeted this fiscal year.

The Senate Space Committee noted in pushing the Tuesday bill that "postponement of this authorization until the regular fiscal year 1963 might seriously delay the success of the manned lunar program within the desired target dates."

$37,780 Budget OK'd By Oviedo Commission

The City Commission - Oviedo adopted a budget of $37,780 for the fiscal year of 1961-62 Tuesday night at its monthly meeting in City Hall. This represents an increase of some $800 over the 1960-61 budget, but includes a cash carryover of $800 from the old budget. Estimated revenues were placed at $37,774.

The largest item in the budget is the $10,000 allotment for the Fire Department. This includes provision for the construction of a fire house to house three pieces of equipment. Also included is $500 for the purchase of new hose.

The next largest item was for paving and repaving the city's streets. This totals $350 and includes a provision for the paving of the street in front of the Negro elementary school. This job is estimated to cost $1000.

The Commission voted to give Police Chief George A. Kelsey an annual salary increase of $600 and budgeted $2500 for the operation of the Police Department and the purchase of a new patrol car.

Actual authorization to purchase the car was deferred until more information can be obtained about the car itself.

Funds for the city commissioner, $5 per meeting each, were increased to $30 from $200 last year to take care of possible called meetings other than the regular ones. The increase was voted because the Commission actually spent $350 last year as a result of extra meetings.

After adoption of the budget the Commission set the tax rate at two mills, a reduction from last year.

The estimated revenues included $6800 real and personal property taxes; $1600 city li-

Weather Plane Crashes At Sea

HAMILTON, Bermuda (UPI) — A U. S. Air Force weather plane crashed at sea east of here early today, but at least one of its crew survived, the Air Force reported.

Ships and planes raced to the scene of the crash, 250 miles east of here, after a Bermuda-based transport plane reported seeing two men parachute from the stricken plane.

Capt. Robert Dun, pilot of a rescue plane, said he saw one man climb onto a raft he dropped at the scene. There was no immediate word of the other man who baled out.

The weather plane, a twin-jet WB66, took off from the U. S. base here Tuesday night. It was piloted by Capt. Keith Garland.

After the letter was read, Commissioner James P. Avery said, "This is the first I've heard of it."
