Double Taxation Feud Solution May Be Near

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

The persistent feud between city and county officials over double taxation may be on the road to solution again.

County Administrator T. Duncan Rose at a special meeting with representatives of all seven cities in Seminole County Wednesday declared he will urge the Board of County Commissioners to approve funding for expanded sheriff's department services to the municipalities and to fund the cost of new road patrols from sales tax revenues earmarked for services in the unincorporated area of the county.

Rose said he will take this action prior to a budget session between county commissioners and Sheriff John Polk Monday from 10 a.m. to noon when a decision will be made.

And Sanford City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles, chairman of the special double taxation committee of the Council of Local Governments in Seminole County, urged the city representatives to support the recommendations of Rose and his staff by being at that budget session.

Knowles said he will represent Sanford and the committee at Monday's session and will keep other city representatives who cannot be present advised.

"If I, representing one city, had heard this (Rose's pledge) May 1, I would have been satisfied," said Lake Mary Mayor Walter Sorenson. Under an agreement the cities thought they had with the county, the county was to notify the cities by May 1 of its solution to inequities in finding the sheriff's department where the cities felt double taxation is a factor. It was inquiries concerning the county's failure to forward this report that revealed the county did not accept the double taxation committee recommendation last year.

Rose said County Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff, liaison commissioner on double taxation, supports the proposal. He added that the cities should not get upset if statements are made at the time the program is approved "that anything done is in the spirit of cooperation and equity and is no admission of double taxation." He said he will make the statement because of his own cautiousness. If a lawsuit were filed by the cities against the county, any admission that double taxation exists apparently could be used against the county.

At the same time, Longwood City Administrator David Chacey urged

Rose to consider whether the county could reduce to some extent the property taxes paid by city residents, if only by 2 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation, while leaving those paid by unincorporated residents the same.

"That would make the city residents happy," Chacey said. "It is something the city people could touch and feel," Sorenson said.

"That's a good suggestion," Rose responded.

And Oviedo Mayor Bob Whittier told Rose the county has a "definite moral responsibility" to avoid double taxation, urging that the county provide a "little leadership and make a bold effort" in this regard.

"We have a hard core of citizens who believe the county has become a giant, an expensive giant," Whittier said.

Knowles in a meeting with Rose, county Management and Budget Director Eleanor Anderson, County Attorney Nikki Clayton and Sheriff John Polk recommended the county consider Polk's department expanding services to the cities and funding additional road patrols out of money designated for the unincorporated areas.

Schools May Face New Year Without State Funds

By Michael Beha
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County School Board faces the prospect of heading into the 1983-84 school year without state funds, according to Assistant Superintendent Roger Harris.

Harris, who oversees the district's finances, said state officials have asked all the districts in the state whether they could operate schools for two months this summer without state funding while the Legislature determines a funding formula for the coming year.

Legislators are wrapping up one special session in Tallahassee and Gov. Bob Graham has threatened to call a second special session to come up with funding sources for new educational programs the state wants to mandate.

Under normal circumstances, Harris said, the district's tentative budget would be presented to School Board members on July 6. But because of the special sessions there is very little information to offer the board.

"With what we know, we couldn't give you much of a budget by July 6," he told School Board members Wednesday night. "We might not be adopting a final budget until mid-October."

Final adoption of the budget normally takes place by the end of September.

Harris said the district could operate for two months without the state funds because of a $2 per $1,000 valuation special tax for capital improvements.

"It's legal to borrow from that. We could take a million or so but would lose accrued interest," he said. Harris said by borrowing from the tax revenues the district would lose nearly $100,000.

"We can go through July and August. We can move our money in such a way. But you can't do that in September. In September you've got a $5 million payroll."

Board member Pat Telson expects the Legislature to continue current funding levels for state programs and reconvene in August to make final decisions.

Superintendent Robert Hughes said the special sessions may force the Legislature to come to grips with the problems it has caused school districts. Seminole County's funding has been cut during each of the past two years because of faulty state planning, he said.

"I don't care if Gov. Graham holds their feet to the fire until August," he said. "The problem has been that they mandated things but didn't come through with the money to fund them."

If the Legislature is seriously concerned with raising educational standards in Florida it must also be concerned with ways to raise school funding, he said.

Indictment Against Stano In Altamonte Murder Sought

Despite his two recent death sentences, mass murderer Gerald Eugene Stano "is not in solid enough to get the death penalty," said Brevard-Seminole Assistant State Attorney Dean Moxley. That's why, Moxley said today, he will seek a murder indictment against Stano for the 1974 stabbing death in Altamonte Springs of an as yet unidentified woman.

Stano was given two death sentences last week for the murder of two Volusia County women.

But Moxley said Stano, who has admitted killing 39 women, is sure to appeal those sentences.

"I'm not sure the Volusia cases will hold up," Moxley said. "He's going to claim his attorney was incompetent in letting him plead guilty. That's probably not true, but he'll claim it."

Moxley said he and Seminole Assistant State Attorney Alan Robinson started preparing for the Altamonte case after Stano confessed and led police to the exact location

Schools Shuffle 14 Administrators

Several Seminole County school administrators will be playing musical chairs in the coming days.

The School Board approved 14 appointments or transfers Wednesday night with the intent of providing "new challenges" for some administrators.

Three new principals were appointed by the board. Michael Mizwicki, assistant principal at Idyllwild Elementary School in Sanford, will become principal at Lawton Elementary School in Oviedo, Elizabeth Paul, assistant principal at Lake Orienta Elementary School in Altamonte Springs will become principal at Lake Mary Elementary. David Scott will become principal at Longwood Elementary. He is currently assistant principal at Sabal Point Elementary.

Also appointed Wednesday night was Timothy Seibert as assistant principal at Keeth Elementary near Winter Springs.

But their appointments were only the beginning of a wholesale reshuffling of administrators which takes effect July 1.

The changes were possible because of the retirement of Christy Harp, principal at Casselberry Elementary, and the transfer of David Sawyer from principal at Winter Springs Elementary to Keeth, which is scheduled to open this fall.

Norma Ragadale was transferred from Idyllwild to Casselberry to replace Harp. Replacing Mrs. Ragadale at Idyllwild is Arletta Coberly who moves from Longwood Elementary. Scott replaces Mrs. Coberly at Longwood and Glenda Smith moves from Pine Crest Elementary in Sanford to assistant principal at Sabal Point, replacing Scott. Replacing Mrs. Smith as assistant principal at Pine Crest is Kathleen Procon, assistant principal at Sanford Grammar and Hopper Elementary Schools in Sanford.

Mrs. Procon's switch represents a change in administrative policy at Sanford Grammar

Which Tree Will Symbolize Lake Mary?

Lake Mary residents have two weeks left to vote for a mascot tree for the city.

The Lake Mary City Commission at its 7:30 p.m. meeting July 7 will announce the people's choice.

Voting will close at 4:30 p.m. at city hall prior to the meeting, said Barbara Gorman, utility administrator.

As of today, the crepe myrtle is holding its own with nearly half, 84, of the votes cast. The dogwood tree continues to be second with 41 votes and the bottlebrush is a distant third with 22 votes.

The loblolly bay with 15 votes is fourth and the Palatka Holly has 11 votes. The split of five write-in votes is dawn redwood, 2; jacaranda, 1; and cardinal oak, 2.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Gorman notes that a number of those voting for the crepe myrtle say that they are not familiar with the other trees on the ballot. And Contemporary Gardens, a plant nursery on West Lake Mary Boulevard, is touting its favorite, the loblolly bay, on a permanent sign in front of the establishment and inviting those who are not familiar with that tree to stop in and see one.

The crepe myrtle is winter hardy and has flowers ranging in color from white to pink to red to violet. The dogwood has an abundance of greenish yellow flowers in clusters surrounded by four blunt-tipped white petal bracts, but the bloom in winter is limited. In the fall the tree has clusters of small scarlet egg-shaped seed pods, each with a solitary seed embedded in coarse yellow pulp.

The loblolly bay flowers are large white, showy and fragrant and produced singly at the junctions of younger leaves.

The bottlebrush is a shrub or small tree with showy spikes of blooms consisting mainly of colorful stamens. The foliage of the Palatka holly, a variety of the American holly, is small, thick, flat and glossy green and its fruit is bright red.

After the tree is selected residents throughout the city will be urged to plant it to help make the community colorful. It is expected that a civic organization will sell the trees as a fund raising project. — By Donna Estes

IN BRIEF

Murderer Banks Still Maintains His Innocence

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (UPI) — George Banks comforted a sobbing juror, saying "It's not your fault," even as she and 11 others condemned him to death on his 41st birthday for a shooting rampage that killed 13 people, including his five children.

Banks betrayed no emotion Wednesday as the jury that convicted him a day earlier said he must die in the electric chair for the murders of 12 of his victims, including his five children and their four mothers.

On Tuesday, the jury found Banks guilty of first-degree murder for 12 of the deaths and of third-degree murder for a 13th person slain in a pre-dawn shooting rampage Sept. 25 in Wilkes-Barre and suburban Jenkins Township.

Banks admitted shooting all 13 people but said police inflicted some of the fatal wounds as part of a conspiracy. A request by Banks before the trial for an exhumation to prove the alleged plot was denied.

Defense psychiatrists said Banks, the son of a black father and white mother, was obsessed with racism and killed his children, who also had white mothers, to spare them the persecution he experienced.

House Votes On Tax Cap

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Escalating their latest battle, President Reagan says House Speaker Thomas O'Neill's plan to limit the July 1 tax cut to $720 per family would "drown" the middle class, but O'Neill says the main target will be the rich.

O'Neill said Wednesday he is confident the tax cut cap, which he called "a long overdue step toward fairness," would pass the Democratic-controlled House by a safe margin today. He added that "90 percent of the money raised by the cap will come from those making $50,000 and above."

But the president warned the limit "would raise taxes on millions of two-earner couples earning less than $50,000" and pointedly added it would force 2.4 million small businesses, who pay individual rather than corporate taxes, to pay more than they would under his program.

WEATHER

NATIONAL WEATHER: Manmade floods on the Colorado River caused "total disaster" in resort towns in Arizona and California today, closing businesses and swamping 60 buildings. More water was crashing downstream as officials opened floodgates on giant dams strained by record snowmelt. Water being released from Hoover Dam near Las Vegas, Nev. poured over sandbag dikes in the resort city of Parker, Ariz., closing two resorts, flooding up to 60 structures along the city's tourist "strip," and forcing the removal of 18 trailer homes. Temperatures Wednesday hit the 90s from Los Angeles to New England, and more of the same was forecast today. Managing editor Cal Killeen of the Newport Daily News in Newburyport, Mass., looked out his window and saw a tire on his car blow out in 90-plus heat. Operators of Glen Canyon Dam, which holds back Colorado River waters in 186-mile long Lake Powell in Arizona and Utah, said the structure was endangered by record snowmelt that is double that of normal years. Cliff Barrett, Bureau director for the Upper Colorado River Basin, said water releases had to be stepped up 12 percent to prevent damage to the 710-foot-high dam. The reservoir already is 4 feet above its normal full stage, and spillway gates were being raised to hold still more water.

Will Pass Over Sanford

Shuttle Gets 'Go' For Friday Landing

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Challenger's five astronauts will attempt a Florida landing Friday morning because of improving weather conditions, the head of the space shuttle program said today, reversing an earlier "no go" decision.

Lt. Gen. James Abrahamson, a NASA associate administrator, said if the weather prevents a Florida landing Friday, the astronauts will be directed to land three hours later at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

On its way to the first shuttle landing in Florida, the Challenger will spend a grand total of five minutes above the Sunshine State.

In Seminole County, however, "people won't be able to see it unless it's a clear day and they have very strong binoculars," according to NASA public information officer Barbara Selby. "But you'll be able to hear it."

This decision to land Friday was made because of trouble with a turbine that drives pumps to pressurize the ship's hydraulic system. The problem was later corrected.

"We think it is proper to go ahead with planning and preparations for a landing at Kennedy tomorrow," Abrahamson said. "That doesn't mean we will have a landing at Kennedy tomorrow."

Astronauts Robert Crippen, Frederick Hauck, Sally Ride, John Fabian and Norman Thagard were scheduled to touch down at 6:53 EDT on the new 3-mile-long runway at the Cape. It will be the first landing of a spacechip at the launch site.

Abrahamson said earlier today that a landing Friday was ruled out, and he apologized at a 10:30 a.m. news conference in Houston for creating some confusion.

He said he made that premature "no land" decision on the basis of an early morning weather forecast that called for continued cloud cover and showers at the Florida space center. The forecast improved dramatically later in the day.

The sky was mostly clear at dawn today. He said the forecast for Friday only called for scattered clouds.

The astronauts first reported the problem with the auxiliary power unit at 3:30 a.m. The unit was turned on during a routine flight control system test and Crippen reported that it did not work properly.

"We got an immediate underspeed and it just shut itself down," he said.

Only one of the auxiliary power units is required for landing, but mission rules generally require a mission to be terminated if one of the three units fails.

When the orbiter enters Florida airspace it will be approximately 150 miles from the Kennedy Space Center runway and descending at a velocity of about 3,500 miles per hour - nearly five times the speed of sound - from an altitude of about 21 miles.

If NASA officials decide the orbiter should approach the KSC runway from the north, it will soar directly over Sanford and above a stretch of State Road 46 across the St. Johns River marshlands. It will cross Indian River just north of Mims at an altitude of 50,000 feet at 30 miles outside of touchdown.

At this point, the Challenger's velocity will have dropped below supersonic speed and the spacecraft will have begun a sweeping bank to the north that will curve out over the Atlantic shoreline of Canaveral National Seashore. The orbiter will soar across the brackish marsh and pine woods of Merritt Island, skirt the southern tip of Mosquito lagoon and fly out over the ocean as it circles around to a precise alignment for a touchdown on runway 15.

If, however, officials opt for an approach from the south, the shuttle will follow a path that takes it south of Sanford and directly over Titusville. It will cross Kennedy Space Center above the facilities where it was prepared for flight. It will then circle out over the Atlantic along the Cape Canaveral Air Force Station and then cut back across the Cape for a final approach to touchdown on runway 33.

Weather conditions play a key role in determining if the approach will be from the north or south.

The supersonic speeds at which the shuttle is to fly across Florida will result in a sonic boom expected to be audible the entire width of the state. At its peak intensity, the boom will sound about as loud as an automobile backfire on the next block or a clap of thunder from a lightning strike about a half mile away.

NASA officials say some residents within the sonic boom "footprint" of the shuttle can expect a resulting pressure wave may rattle windows, but will not be uncomfortably loud. Experience from the shuttle landings in California has shown the shuttle boom has little or no effect on humans, wildlife or property.

The boom is distinguished by two distinct claps that occur a fraction of a second apart. Each can be heard by the human ear.

Stano May Face Murder Charges Here

of the crime.

"If we have a proveable case — which we do — there's no point in letting a murderer walk," said Moxley.

In addition to the two death sentences, Stano has received six life sentences for Florida murders.

"This man killed an enormous number of women," he said. "And for all practical purposes he's only been appropriately sentenced twice. If other jurisdictions that have cases against him — among them Polk, Hillsborough, Pinellas and Pasco counties — decide not to prosecute, and the Volusia death sentences don't hold up..."

"At some point the federal courts have to stop granting stays [of execution]," Moxley said. "If we keep prosecuting Stano...if they see he's got three or four or more death sentences...then he may get the death penalty."

"This man needs to be sent to death. He's done more than enough to earn the death penalty."

Moxley said he is also prosecuting Stano in the case of 17-year-old Port Orange woman Cathy Scharf, who was killed Stano-style in 1973. Her remains were discovered on the northern tip of the Merritt Island Wildlife Refuge.

In the Altamonte Springs murder, Moxley said if the woman cannot be identified it will not hurt the case against Stano.

He said he plans to take the case before a grand jury in about a month.

"It's only a matter of time," he said. Stano, 31, is being held without bond at the Seminole County jail.

The Altamonte murder was discovered when a woman's body was found in November 1974. She had been dead about a month, left with her purse and shoes missing, her pants pulled down and turtleneck sweater pulled up around her neck—all Stano trademarks, police said.

A second Brevard murder, that of 35-year-old Cocoa resident Sandra DuBose, has been attributed to Stano but Moxley said he does not have enough evidence to prosecute that case. — Diane Petryk

German Celebration Set For Saturday

In observance of the Tricentennial of the first German immigrants to the United States of America, the German-American Society of Casselberry is celebrating Saturday beginning at 3 p.m. at 381 Orange Lane.

The program will include speakers, the Frohmann Singers, the Alpen Rosen Schupplattler Dancers, and two dance bands — The Touch of Class and The Polka Dots — providing German music until 1 a.m. A variety of German foods and refreshments will be available throughout the afternoon and evening at reasonable prices.

The public is invited to participate. There will be a nominal admission charge of $3.

School Funding Unclear

While the Legislature wrestles with funding questions, the district will continue on a "status quo" budget. Nothing new has been added to the $114 million 1982-83 budget, Harris said.

The board was given a list of requests for new programs. At the top of the priority list is $207,588 for an upgrading of the district's data processing equipment and personnel.

Assistant Superintendent for Administrative Services Owen McCarron said the district needs the new computer equipment to provide needed services. "Very frankly, if we are going to implement any of our long range plans, this request is necessary."

He said the district is in a high technology era and must keep up with available technology to provide the most efficient service.

Harris said "We have a desperate need for this system. It works all the way from the business end into the classroom."

Board members promised to look at the requests prior to final adoption of a district budget.

Principals Are Assigned

Clay Carroll had been principal of the two schools and was based at Sanford Grammar with Mrs. Procon based at Hopper. In the new structure, Carroll will be principal at Hopper with no assistant. Ted Echols moves from Lawton Elementary to Sanford Grammar. He will not have an assistant principal either.

School Superintendent Robert Hughes said the two veteran administrators will handle the closing of the two Sanford schools at the end of the 1983-84 school year. The schools are being replaced by a new elementary school in the fall of 1984.

Mizwicki replaces Echols at Lawton and Gloria Orneck transfers from South Side to Idylwild to replace Mizwicki.

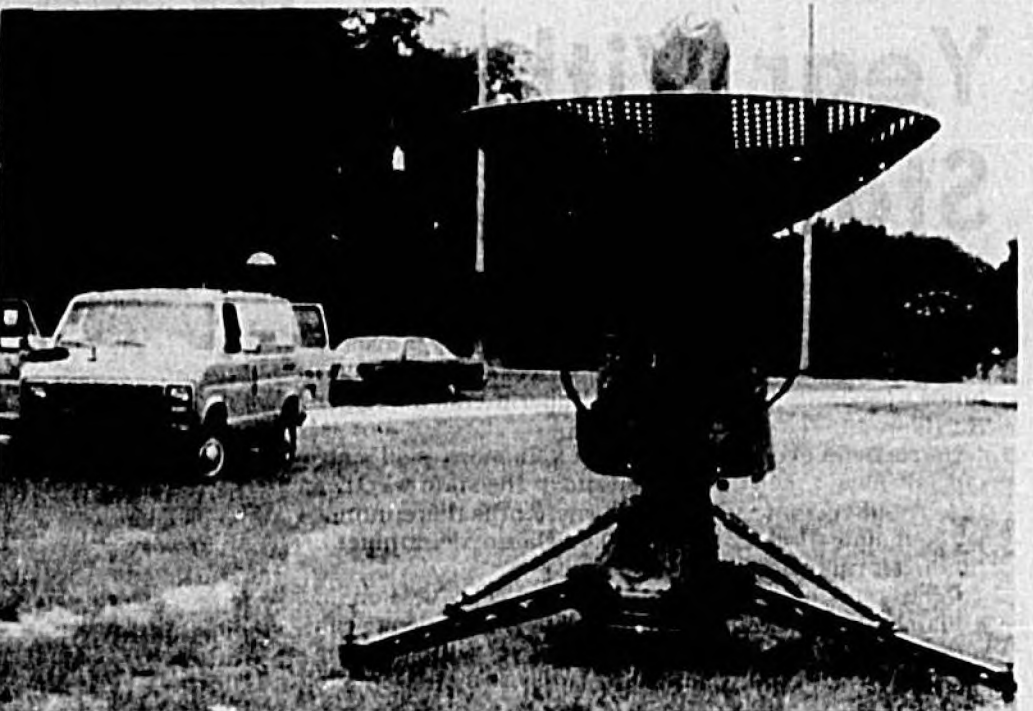

Ernest Prater will move from Spring Lake Elementary near Longwood to Winter Springs Elementary, replacing Sawyer. James Neville moves from Red Bug Elementary to Spring Lake, replacing Prater. Jack Frost moves from Lake Mary Elementary to Red Bug, replacing Neville and Mrs. Paul takes Frost's place at Lake Mary.

Hughes said the administrators "have been cooperative in accepting new assignments. They realize they have strengths and experiences that can be used in new posts."

NASA personnel have set up seven portable vans with sophisticated electronic equipment within the "sonic boom footprint" in Central Florida to monitor the Challenger spacecraft when it breaks the sound barrier during its landing approach to the Kennedy Space Center. Two of the vans are located in Seminole County, one at the Southward property in Lake Mary and the other at the Jerry Fulco property in Geneva. In the photo above, Lauren Wilkins, Air Force safety engineer, works with the sonic boom measurement system in the back of the van in Lake Mary. ## Race-Blood Law Repealed

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Louisiana senators anxious to throw out "that last discriminatory law" allowing the state to classify as black anyone with 1-32nd "Negro" blood voted unanimously to repeal the nation's only racial classification law.

The state House of Representatives already has approved the repeal, and the measure now will be sent to Gov. Dave Treen for his signature. Treen has not indicated a position on the issue.

The repeal effort followed an unsuccessful attempt by a fair-skinned southwest Louisiana woman to have the racial designation on her birth certificate changed from black to white.

The woman has appealed a state judge's ruling that she did not prove beyond doubt that she was not at least 1-32nd black.

"This bill will remove from the record that last discriminatory law," said Sen. William Jefferson, D-New Orleans.

Senators voted unanimously and without discussion to throw out the law.

The controversial law was approved in 1970.

Grocery Pricing Order Has 'National Significance'

LAKE WORTH (UPI) — Attorneys say a federal judge's order that supermarkets must stamp prices on individual items when they use optical scanners — in accordance with a Lake Worth law — will have "national significance."

City officials passed the law in 1981 when consumers complained about not being able to check the accuracy of store scanners. Broward County has a similar law on the books.

Optical scanners at store check-out lines work by electronically picking up the price code printed on most products in a store.

The Publix supermarket chain challenged the law in 1981, arguing that optical scanners are "highly accurate" and individual pricing is expensive.

"This case has national significance because political entities across the country can pass laws based on this petition," Frank Kreidler, a former Lake Worth city attorney who handled the case said Wednesday.

Court documents filed by Publix attorney Barry Richard estimated that individual prices adds about 2 cents to a $20 bag of groceries. Most of the money goes to paying someone to stamp the items.

UF Tests Out First

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The University of Florida ranked first, Florida State fourth and Florida A&M last among the state's nine universities on a sophomore-level standardized test administered this spring, Education Department officials say.

The College Level Academic Skills Test, which is currently being used only for individual counseling and to establish a passing score, will become a requirement after Aug. 1, 1984, for students seeking community college degrees or entry into upper division university work.

Gunman Robs Sanford Convenience Store

Police today were looking for a lone gunman who entered the Cargo gas station at 2823 U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, Wednesday night, demanded money, got it, and escaped on foot.

Police said attendant Thomas Lee Durham was approached at 10:45 p.m. by a male who pulled a small caliber handgun and demanded all the money in the cash drawer. Durham handed the gunman an unknown amount of cash and he left the station running eastbound on 27th Street, police said.

WIFE SCARED, MAN ATTACKED

A 20-year-old Altamonte Springs man was attacked at a gas station off Interstate 4 at State Road 434 in Longwood Wednesday by a man who said only "you scared my wife."

Police said Curtis Lincoln, 838B Creekwood North, was inside the Mobil station buying cigarettes when the unidentified man approached him from the rear and struck him in the face twice and kicked him in the back twice. Lincoln was left with a bleeding left cheek.

PURSE, BIKE SWIPED

A red 10-speed AMF bicycle and a purse containing $75 cash were taken in a break-in at the Marilyn M. Freeman residence, 715 1/2 Cypress Ave., Sanford, at approximately 2:30 a.m. Wednesday.

The items taken were valued at $155. Police said the burglars entered the residence by breaking an east rear window and reaching in to unlatch the door.

SHED BREAK-IN

A storage shed in the rear of the yard at 1018 W. 1st St., Sanford, was broken into and $500 worth of items taken, according to owner Oho McDaniels.

Police said McDaniels saw three males walking away from the shed carrying aluminum frames at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

PROWLING ARREST

A Casselberry man who could not give his home address was arrested at the Handy Way store at Tusawilla Road and State Road 419 in Winter Springs just before 3 a.m. Thursday. He was charged with prowling.

Police said Edward Timothy Culver, 34, had no money, no identification and was unclear about his home address and they determined the security of the convenience store was jeopardized by his continued presence at a telephone there. He was being held at the Seminole County jail Thursday in lieu of $100 bond.

CLASS RING TAKEN

Kevin M. Roth, 17, of 33 Apple Hill Hollow, Casselberry, said he left his pants on a chair while bowling Tuesday and forgot to pick them up when he left. When he returned on Wednesday the trousers were on the chair where he left them but the class ring was missing from the pocket.

TIRES PUNCTURED

Seven tires on two vehicles were punctured with a sharp instrument between 9 p.m. Tuesday and 6 a.m. Wednesday, police report.

The vehicles are a 1978 brown Ford van and a 1982 red 4-door Buick that were parked at 437 East Citrus St., Altamonte Springs. Owner Loyal William Carlson said this is the third time his tires have been punctured. Repair of the seven tires will cost an estimated $140.

MOWER TAKEN

A self-propelled rotary lawn mower of unknown value was taken from an unlocked tool shed at 3000 W. 22nd St. in Sanford between 6 and 7:30 p.m. Monday, police report.

SPOUSE ABUSE ARREST

Robert William Waldorf, 37, of 1217 Deer Run, Winter Springs, was arrested at 12:07 a.m. Thursday at Cheetah Trail and Jaguar Court in Winter Springs and charged with spouse abuse. He was later released from the Seminole County jail on $500 bond.

SCABB, GUNS TAKEN

Three guns and $250 in cash were taken when someone pried open a foot locker belonging to James Mitchell, 1803 W. 11th St., Sanford, between 3 p.m. Sunday and 6 p.m. Monday, police report.

BREAK-IN FRUITLESS

Burglars of the Grovewood Village Information Center, 102 Grovewood Ave., Sanford, apparently took nothing in their escape, which took place between 7 and 11:30 a.m. Wednesday, police report. They did, however, cause $40 damage by breaking a kitchen window. They left behind empty beer cans.

E.T., Phone Your Attorney

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Steven Spielberg did not kidnap the spirit of E.T. from a Hollywood theater, a federal judge ruled.

The ruling came in a $750 million lawsuit filed by writer Lisa Litchfield claiming Spielberg stole the idea for the movie "E.T. The Extra-Terrestrial" from her stage play "Loki From Malmemar."

U.S. District Court Judge Cynthia Hall ruled this week that the plot, characters and dialogue in Miss Litchfield's play are

"disimilar" from "E.T." and that, as a matter of law, no jury would conclude the two works are substantially similar. It was disclosed Wednesday.

Miss Litchfield had filed a $750 million lawsuit against Universal Pictures, Spielberg and others claiming the 1982 film, the top money maker in film history, was based on her play.

"Loki" was produced in a Hollywood theater in 1978 and directed by actor Billy Barty.

...Double Taxation Solution May Be Near

The expanded services he recommended includes: central communications for all police departments in the county; use of specially trained technicians for crime scene investigations; setting up a specialized technical equipment library for use of all the cities and providing a countywide SWAT (special weapons and tactics) team service in the cities as well as the county.

The funding from unincorporated money for new road patrols would have a definite impact on the cities, Knowles said, as would the other services mentioned.

Chacey estimated Longwood's use of countywide communications saves that city about $60,000 a year.

Of the specialized equipment, Knowles said it is very expensive, far too expensive for most city police departments which would use it three to four times annually to afford.

Knowles opened the meeting by reiterating the work of the double taxation committee last year and the agreement reached which was not unlike the one supported by Rose Wednesday.

Knowles said the cities had believed that the county promised to keep the city informed of its budgeting to solve the specter of double taxation, only to find that while it accepted resolutions from the cities on the committee's report, it had not agreed.

"Somewhere in there, we missed communicating. The county did not agree," Knowles said. He noted the purpose of the Wednesday afternoon meeting was to "see if we can get something going without going to court. It's better to solve problems around a table than in front of a court bench," he said.

Rose said Seminole County had acted "in good faith" and was working toward providing equity in services to the cities and the unincorporated areas. "Far and equal if what government's all about," the county administrator said.

Meanwhile, Casselberry City Attorney Kenneth McIntosh, instructed to represent Casselberry at the meeting, said the key word last year was cooperation and that Casselberry is willing to travel that path.

"The path is no longer a one-way street," he said. "It must be a two way street."

Calling a June 17 report of Rose's denying the existence of double taxation while discussing cooperation a "no hope" document, the attorney asked Rose for some communication so Casselberry and the other cities will know where "we are on double taxation."

McIntosh said it had been hoped in

Casselberry that the county would report by May 1 of its plans for budgeting this year and hoped that eventually "everything would be coming up roses."

All the city representatives insisted they want to try and talk with and negotiate with the county, adding they have no real wish to go to court over double taxation.

Altamonte Springs City Manager Phil Penland, former city manager of DeLand, said the issue was discussed in Volusia County for years. "I believe double taxation is real and does exist and I will continue to believe that regardless of what happens in Seminole County," he said.

All said the expanded service from the sheriff's department and funding of new patrols from unincorporated money "is a good start."

The committee authorized Knowles to call additional meetings when he feels it necessary.

Also attending the meeting held in Knowles' conference room at city hall were: Mrs. Anderson, Casselberry Council Chairman Carl Robertson Jr., Oviedo City Councilman Gary Gotwalt, Casselberry Councilman Frank Stone and Sanford Assistant City Manager Steve Harriett.

Jobless Should Do Public Service Jobs

Some union leaders representing government employees oppose workfare. They claim requiring welfare recipients to work for their benefits could take jobs away from their members.

Jackie Presser, the new Teamster union chief, has another point of view. He has urged Congress to enact legislation that would encourage people receiving unemployment compensation to earn their benefits by doing public-service jobs.

That's a refreshing point of view at a time when some people are content to get getting something for nothing.

Billions of dollars, primarily from employers and supplemented by taxpayers, provide the funds needed for the weekly unemployment checks. Why shouldn't the country receive some benefits from the huge funds that are expended?

Presser, who suggests projects such as repairing bridges and public buildings, says: "It seems reasonable to me to provide public service jobs for the unemployed and gain something in return rather than keep pouring out billions of dollars in unemployment insurance benefits and getting nothing in return."

Indeed, why not? Efforts are being made to increase U.S. productivity. The workfare concept would make a contribution in improving productivity. Current concern for the needy and the unemployed cannot be sidetracked. However, why shouldn't able-bodied recipients reciprocate with an expression of gratitude for the assistance?

Thus far, the Teamster leader has simply thrown out the idea for examination. It's not a proposal suggesting the usual make-work or run-of-the-mill jobs bill. There is much that could be done to improve the nation's deteriorating traffic arteries and dilapidated bridges. Furthermore, the presser need not cost a dollar more than what is currently being expended on unemployment compensation benefits. Money will continue to be spent for jobless benefits whether or not the plan is adopted.

The suggestion comes from one of the few labor organizations that supported Ronald Reagan in the 1980 election. Presser says he continues to look upon President Reagan's economic policies as being on the right course. He credits those policies for reducing the soaring inflation and 20 percent interest rates Mr. Reagan inherited.

Presser is hoping Mr. Reagan will adopt all or some of the proposal. The bill is in President Reagan's court now. He should give it close attention. The presser plan deserves an opportunity to show what it can do.

Tories Help Reagan

The Tories' recent big win in the British elections strengthens President Reagan's foreign policy by firming the resolve of the nations in the Western Alliance to place new intermediate-range U.S. missiles in their countries.

British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, whose majority in the House of Commons grew from 33 to 144 over the combined opposition, is a strong supporter of the NATO decision to place such missiles in Britain.

The election in West Germany in March brought Helmut Kohl to the chancellorship. Kohl, like Thatcher, is a supporter of missile deployment.

The Reagan hope is that, when the Soviet Union sees that the peace movement in these countries is not going to stop the deployment of the new missiles, an agreement can be reached on reducing the number of such missiles on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

"After 1,000 years of historic experience," he said at Czestochowa. "This nation has its own life, its culture, social traditions and spiritual identity."

The pope is not arguing for a re-alignment for Poland's frontiers.

In any case, the Vatican was a party to the 1975 Helsinki Final Act in which 34 nations agreed on the immutability of Europe's frontiers.

But the thrust of his arguments still strike at the division of Europe associated with the February 1945 conference at Yalta that brought together President Franklin Roosevelt, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Soviet leader Josef Stalin.

For what the pope is preaching is the spiritual unity of Europe, irrespective of frontiers.

VIEWPOINT
Papal Plea Strikes At Yalta Pact

By Barry James
KRAKOW, Poland (UPI) — Pope John Paul II is using his international spotlight to argue for Poland's right to cast itself as an independent nation, striking the heart of the 1945 Yalta agreement that divided Europe between East and West.

In one of his most explicit pronouncements on the subject, the pope spoke at the Jasna Gora monastery at Czestochowa of "the dimension of freedom of the nation, the freedom of the homeland, restored to the dignity of a sovereign state."

John Paul is not the first pontiff to say this. He reminded the Polish military leader, Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski, that Pope Paul VI had stated "Poland has a right to sovereign existence."

But as the first Slav pope, speaking to Slavs in their own language on their own soil, his words have had a heavy nationalistic impact in a nation that has a history of fighting for independence against its big neighbor to the east.

At his final mass in Krakow, the pope beatified two Polish priest heroes who fought in insurrections against Czarist Russia.

The pope stated his position explicitly in January 1982 when he told the Vatican diplomatic corps that "people must be able to choose freely the social organization to which they aspire for their own country."

In Czestochowa, John Paul went further. "Polish society has a strict right to whatever ensures its own unique identity, that is, to all the rights which flow from the very nature of the human person and of the national community," he said.

Of the delight of his audiences, he has insisted on Poland's right to maintain cultural and spiritual links with the United States and other Western nations at a time when the military regime has virtually closed the frontiers.

And as a result of Poland's sacrifices in World War II, he added during a mass in Warsaw, Western nations cannot now remain indifferent to the fate of the Poles.

"After 1,000 years of historic experience," he said at Czestochowa. "This nation has its own life, its culture, social traditions and spiritual identity."

FBI: Mrs. King Must Pay To See Files

WASHINGTON — Adding insult to injury, the FBI is insisting that Coretta Scott King pay to see the files the government compiled on her during more than two years of secret surveillance. The widow of slain civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr. refuses to knuckle under to the bureau's petty demand.

The amount is trivial: $237. But Mrs. King stands on principle: The Freedom of Information Act allows government files to be released free of charge in cases "primarily benefitting the public." By paying the $237, Mrs. King would be put in the position of acknowledging that she is just as curious about the FBI's files on her.

In fact, Mrs. King intends to place her surveillance files with her late husband's papers in the Martin Luther King Center for Nonviolent Social Change in Atlanta. They would be historically valuable evidence of the almost paranoid suspicion with which the Kings were regarded

For almost 40 years Sanford's Dusty Boots Riding Association has been an institution among members of the horse set (I can remember when we first moved to Casselberry attending a meeting at its old headquarters at Airport Boulevard and U.S. Highway 17-92.)

But now the club has been dissolved and the club and several officers, Richard and Delores Wilbur and Ruth Delloras and William and Dot Braceland, have donated their shares of remaining funds totaling $451 to the Humane Society of Seminole County.

Appropriately, the donation will be applied to the stable area of the new shelter for abused and injured animals being built at U.S. Highway 17-92 and County Home Road.

The Humane Society has issued some sad warnings to pet owners. They ask that you not leave your pets in a closed car where on a hot summer day the interior heats up quickly. To leave an animal in such a car or any other closed quarters is cruel and punishable by Florida state law.

Fourth of July fireworks, firecrackers, and other activities may frighten and harm pets left unconfined and unprotected. Please be aware of the dangers of exposing animals to the noise, confusion, and fireworks of this yearly celebration. Be sure your pet wears accurate identification and provide extra protection during this time. If you should lose or find any pet, report it to the Humane Society, which has a 24-hour answering service, at 323-8685.

Volunteers at the Casselberry Senior Citizen Multipurpose Center have contributed more than 500 hours under the RSVP (Retired Senior Volunteer Program). These men and women answer telephones, greet people, help with the programs and the office work and have become invaluable to the operation of the project, according to Valerie Barber, center manager.

Additional volunteers, Donna Conley, yoga teacher, Marie McLellan, progressive bridge on Thursdays; Winnie McNamee and Florence Kelley, line dancing on Wednesdays; and Katherine Case, who conducts the Kitchen Band on Mondays, are all helping make the center a place where older people can find friendship, fun, and understanding.

The Federation of Senior Citizen Clubs of Seminole County, conducts a nutrition diet at the center where nearly 100 meals a day are served at the tables and nearly 50 meals-on-wheels are delivered in the community by other dedicated volunteers. For information about this program call 851-1831.

The Federation also conducts an employment service for those over 55. Helen Bujnowski is available at the center on Thursday mornings and at the Federation office other mornings for those interested in this free service.

WASHINGTON WORLD
Volcker's Federal Reserved

By Denis G. Quiloe
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The first public meeting of the Federal Reserve Board since its chairman, Paul Volcker, was nominated to a new four-year term passed Wednesday without a hint the powerful central banker was no longer a lame duck.

Television network camera crews and other photographers were ushered through a metal detector with reporters and then, shortly before 10 a.m., led to the ornate conference room adjoining Volcker's offices.

"No light camera," a public affairs coordinator admonished. "The board barely tolerates these photographers as it is," he told a reporter as the group climbed the central staircase in one of Washington's showcase granite palaces, the Federal Reserve headquarters.

The seven governors of the Fed board accomplish all their important business in private while giving regulations which require some occasional public attendance at meetings the most narrow interpretation possible.

The reporters and photographers found that the board of directors for the day were not only the board's discussion of BankAmerica's $400 million plan to acquire the ailing Seafair Corp., the nation's largest bank, but also any acknowledgement of Volcker's reappointment.

Volcker's nomination to be reappointed was announced by President Reagan Saturday in a 77-word preamble to his weekly radio address with no cameras or questions allowed.

The governors of the Fed arrived one by one with Volcker last to appear. The seating of a plainclothes security officer preceded Volcker's own arrival shortly after 10 a.m.

With an audible groan of resignation that prompted a few chuckles among Fed staff members along the sidelines of the room, Volcker eased his six-foot-seven inch frame into his customary seat and immediately called forth the single public agenda item.

It was a staff progress report on proposed fees to be charged banks for processing or storing anything other than cash, like virtually all items the board considered in public, devoid of controversy.

Exactly five minutes later all cameramen were told to leave, having photographed Volcker first sitting ramrod straight, then slumped over paperwork he was examining and then apparently strinking more than a foot as he sank back in his chair, extended his feet under the table and puffed cigar.

Perhaps in deference to their unseen audience, the Fed staff participates in the public meetings with reverent formality, addressing board members either as "Mr. Chairman" or with the title "Governor" and seldom initiating an exchange.

After listening to various questions posed to the staff by other board members, Volcker demonstrated his often remarked talent for articulating the consensus, calling the proposed pricing schedule "elaborate and somewhat peculiar."

Migrant Clinic Chief Quits

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer
William W. Schomberg, director of the Central Florida Migrant and Community Health Center Inc. in Sanford for the past 2 1/2 years, has resigned, Pat Southward, vice chairman of the center's board of directors, verified Wednesday.

Schomberg could not be reached for comment. James T. Cesar, treasurer of the organization, said the board is looking for the best possible replacement for Schomberg. Cesar is also administrator of Central Florida Regional Hospital at Sanford.

In the interim, the medical director of the center and senior staff member, Dr. Milton Alvarez-Pagano, is interim director.

Robinson Indicted In Shooting

Clarence Eugene Robinson — "the most wanted criminal in the state of Florida" — has been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges he shot and seriously wounded two FBI agents in an Orange City shootout.

Robinson, a 6-foot, 200-pound ex-boxer with a 7th-grade education, eluded federal agents during a statewide manhunt after he allegedly gunned down FBI agents Thomas Sobolewski, 40, and Wicklen, 42, in Orange City when they tried to question him on June 3.

Robinson managed to slip through the dragnet and secretly made his way south to Miami with his girlfriend Darlene Boyd, 34, of Melbourne.

Robinson was indicted Wednesday on two counts of assaulting federal officers. He faces 10 years in prison and $10,000 fine on each count.

No arraignment date will be set until Robinson can be examined by a psychiatrist.

The grand jury also indicted Ray Edward Fischer, 38, of St. Cloud on charges of aiding and abetting and harboring a fugitive.

Fischer, who faces 8 years in prison and a $5,500 fine on each count, is accused of helping Robinson escape from Orange City to the Brevard County town of Palm Bay following the shooting. Fischer also is accused of concealing Robinson's truck loaded with weapons at his ranch near St. Cloud.

Fischer also appeared before the federal magistrate, but made no comment. Fischer was released on $10,000 bond but Robinson was ordered held without bond in the Orange County Jail.

Robinson was being sought by Florida authorities for the Dec. 29, 1977, murder of a reserve Seminole County deputy sheriff during the robbery of a drugstore at Longwood.

Authorities have said Robinson did not actually shoot the deputy but was the mastermind behind the crime. A family of four with one wage earner making $24,100 yearly in 1983 is $1,333 spendable dollars poorer than it was in 1973, the Tax Foundation, a non-profit research group based in Washington, reported.

Report: U.S. Soldiers Inept

FORT IRWIN, Calif. (UPI) — War games against mock Russian troops in the California desert reportedly showed U.S. soldiers were so inept they would have killed their own men if their weapons had been loaded.

The San Bernardino Star, which obtained a copy of the Army's 45-page report on exercises conducted over nearly two years at the National Training Center, reported that soldiers wasted ammunition, gave away secrets and, in some cases, were unable to read maps.

But the Army general who approved the report's release to the Sun under the Freedom of Information Act said it purposely highlights training shortcomings and deficiencies with little regard for things done right.

"Our focus is on what commanders need to improve," wrote Brig. Gen. John Kirk, director of Army training at the Pentagon. He said there have been improvements since the report was written, and problems will be studied further so corrections can be made.

The report was based on mock battles and live-fire exercises conducted from January 1982 to last November in high desert country 120 miles northwest of Los Angeles involving infantry, armor, artillery and combat support and service soldiers from across the United States.

They were pitted against two mock battalions, about 1,000 troops each, who drove Soviet-style equipment and trained with Warsaw Pact manuals.

Unit commanders were faulted for failing to sufficiently delegate authority and overall battle security was unsatisfactory, with opposing reconnaissance teams habitually penetrating through the training units' defense lines.

"Units undergoing training at the NTC have displayed a complete lack of knowledge and understanding of the threat posed by Soviet radio electronic combat," the report said.

Average Family Poorer Than In '73

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The average family's income has edged up in the past two years, but federal taxes and inflation are still keeping real income below the level of 10 years ago, a watchdog group said Wednesday.

A family of four with one wage earner making $24,100 yearly in 1983 is $1,333 spendable dollars poorer than it was in 1973, the Tax Foundation, a non-profit research group based in Washington, reported.

The family that was used as an example in the study was from $532 to $1,615.

The net result was a 13 percent reduction in the family's spendable income — $1,333 in 1973 dollars, the foundation said.

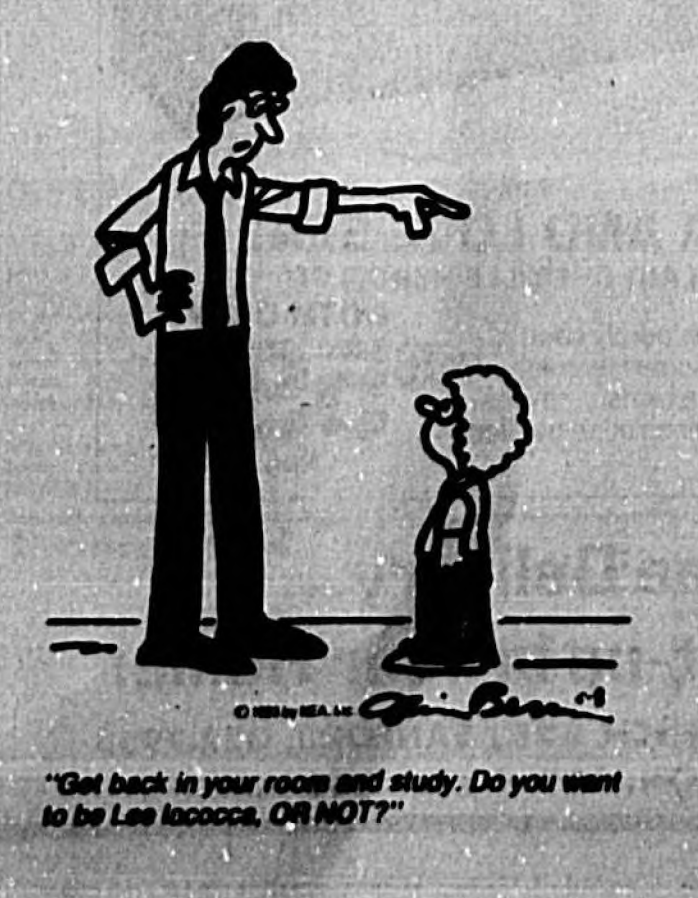

The low point for the family's purchasing power was in 1981, the study said. It edged up a little in 1982 and 1983 because of federal income tax cuts. Direct federal taxes as a percentage of family income were 17.2 percent in 1981 and 16.4 percent in 1983.

One fast phone call before you replace your air conditioner and we'll pay you up to $600 cash.

FPL will pay you up to $600 cash if you replace your money-wasting old air conditioning system with an energy-efficient central air conditioner or heat pump. You get cash back on your installation now and your new system will also pay you by lowering your cooling costs now and for years to come. In addition, FPL will pay you $177 more if you have a contractor add a heat recovery unit to your new central air conditioner or heat pump. A heat recovery unit from your air conditioning system, this unit can almost eliminate water heating costs during the air conditioning season. For qualifying details, contact any air conditioning dealer displaying the Watt-Wise™ Products Program symbol, or call FPL's Watt-Wise Line for a list of dealers participating in this program. And an FPL representative will personally check to see that the completed job meets our rigid standards. This program benefits you and all our customers. ## Mexico In 1983 May Become Big Buyer Of U.S. Ag Products

By Linda Werfelman

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Problems with the weather and the economy could lead to a sharp increase this year in Mexico's purchases of American farm products, an Agriculture Department report says.

The report in the current issue of the department's "Foreign Agriculture" magazine says many of those purchases will be made under special credit programs arranged by the U.S. government.

The heavy purchases that result could make Mexico the third largest market for U.S. agricultural exports in 1983, writes John Montel, the U.S. agricultural counselor in Mexico City.

Montel predicts U.S. grain and oilseed exports to Mexico this year will be about two and one-half times larger than last year's sales, or 9 million metric tons worth $1.5 billion.

When other U.S. agricultural products are included in the tally,

Mexico's total purchases are expected to come to $2 billion worth of farm goods, he says.

In 1982, the United States sold 3.7 million tons of agricultural products to Mexico for $1.6 billion.

The expected increase this year is largely a result of a severe drought during the 1982 growing season, the report says, noting that dry weather resulted in a harvest of grains and oilseeds that was 25 percent smaller than the 1981 crop.

Nutritionist: Dieting Important

By Charles S. Taylor

ATLANTA (UPI) — Dieting is an important part of everyday life for most women and it should be for men over 35, says nutrition consultant Sandra Schlicker.

Ms. Schlicker, who holds a Ph.D. in nutrition education, says when men reach their mid-30s "it's time for them to go on a diet."

She says many men over 35 have settled into their jobs and have become busier in their work and consequently give less attention to what and how much they eat and how much they exercise. "They are eating more higher calorie food and not exercising as much, and they gain weight," she said.

Ms. Schlicker, who taught food and nutrition under a USDA-sponsored program at Purdue University, has written numerous consumer pamphlets and articles for specialized journals.

"Don't follow any of the fad diets that are not nutritionally sound," she advises. These include diets that call for the consumption of nothing but fruit or protein, which she said are just nutritional supplements.

Ms. Schlicker, of Washington, D.C., was in Atlanta recently to promote The University Diet, a new product which she says is nutritionally sound and safe. It is being sold in the 1,000 or more General Nutrition Center stores across the country.

She said at least half of the American people have been on diets at one time or another in their lives but that most don't continue dieting because they haven't learned to modify their behavior.

Others get discouraged, she said, when the rapid weight loss of the first week does not continue into the second.

According to Ms. Schlicker, men are more likely to stick to a diet than women, although women talk about dieting more than men.

"I'm not sure why this is so," she said. "But 'thin is in' for women. Women look at it as an appearance factor. Men look at it as a health factor."

Rotary Finds Magic To Trim Knights, 4-3

By Chris Pieter
Herald Sports Writer

Knights of Columbus manager Al Whitted must feel like a farmer after Wednesday night. But, the only animals in his barnyard are goats.

KOC gave up four unearned runs and took itself out of three possible offensive rallies with numerous baserunning blunders as Rotary claimed a 4-3 victory in the first game of the Sanford Junior League City Championship series at Chase Park.

"We took ourselves out of the game on the bases," Whitted said. "Now we just have to shake it off and get them (Rotary) back next time."

On the other hand, Rotary manager Ed Korgan is pleased to see his team find the magic of the first half (9-1) after losing six of its last eight games.

"It's nice to come back after a long drought and prove that you can still win," Korgan said.

Although it got only three hits off KOC's Leonard Lucas, Rotary made the key defensive plays and terrorized the basepaths the way it did en route to a 9-1 record in the first half of the season.

Rotary opened up a 1-0 lead in the top of the first inning, capitalizing on the first of five KOC errors. Mike Edwards reached on an error to lead off the game, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch, and scored on an RBI single off the bat of Eddie Korgan, the league's third best hitter this season.

Knights of Columbus leadoff hitter, Alonzo Gainey, drew a walk to start the bottom of the first, stole second and reached third on a passed ball. Rotary starter Craig Dixon then found the strike zone and struck out the next three hitters to end the inning with Rotary still on top, 1-0.

A two-out error by Knights of Columbus gave Rotary a 2-0 lead in the top of the second. With one out, Jason Heffington drew a walk, stole second and went to third on a wild pitch. With two outs, Bobby Bew hit a warmburner that stopped a third of the way down the first baseline. Lucas had plenty of time to make the play, but he forgot to pick up the ball and all runners were safe.

After turning a double play in the top of the third, the Knights got a run back in the bottom of the frame, but the first of four baserunning mistakes cost KOC a chance to tie the game or take the lead. Gainey led off with a single up the middle and he stole second with Curtis Rudolph at the plate. Rudolph bounced a grounder to third and Gainey got too far off second and was tagged out in a rundown. Rudolph took second on the run down and scored on a two-out single by David Rape.

Rotary tacked on a run in the top of the fourth to take a 3-1 lead. Ron Blake reached on an error to lead off, stole second, went to third on a passed ball and scored when Lucas threw wild on a pickoff attempt.

Two more baserunning errors took the Knights out of what could have been a big inning in the bottom of the Rotary shortstop Mike Edwards strains to make the tag on a sliding Alonzo Gainey Wednesday night in the Junior League City Series. Edwards missed the tag, but his club nipped Knights of Columbus, 4-3. Second baseman Bobby Bew backs up the play. The two teams go at it again tonight at 7.

Merchant's Hit Lifts Oviedo Past Phillies

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

DELAND — Oviedo's littlest Giant swung the biggest bat here Thursday night.

Mark Merchant's bloop single to right-center field chased home Craig Duncan with the winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning as the Oviedo Giants nipped the Altamonte Phillies, 9-8, in Top Team Senior Tournament play at Howe Field.

Merchant, a gutsy little catcher, solved Altamonte ace Mike Schmit for three hits on the night. The last one capped an impressive Oviedo comeback, which saw the Giants rally from 4-0, 6-0 and 8-5 deficits.

"The guys that haven't been hitting got the hits tonight," said Oviedo manager Tommy Ferguson. "I baited Mark down in the order because he hadn't been hitting, but he came out of it."

The Giants now have the tough task of beating Eustis twice to win the team title. Ferguson will send either Dave Wood or Terry Gammons against Eustis tonight at 7:30 at Eustis. Altamonte was eliminated.

Altamonte broke out of the gate like it was going to run the Giants back to Seminole County, Shane Letterio and Schmit opened the game with walks to precede a Mike Pinckes single to left which scored Letterio. Schmit also scored when he kicked the ball out of Merchant's glove. Dan Beatty dropped a sacrifice bunt to move Pinckes to second and Pat Lusk walked. Sean Casterline followed with a ground ball to second which plated Pinckes and a batter later, Todd Fuggi drew a bases-loaded walk to force in another for a 4-0 lead.

Altamonte stole two more in the second. Schmit singled and Pinckes followed with a hit to center on which Schmit just beat Terry Gammons' strong throw to second.

After Beatty fanned, Billy Henley also struck out, but the catcher dropped the pitch. Since there was just one out and first and second occupied, the batter was automatically out. After much confusion, however, Merchant tossed the ball wildly to first which allowed Schmit to score. With Pinckes on third, Pat Lusk walked, then broke for second as Oviedo starter Craig Duncan was in his stretch, Duncan promptly balked which sent Pinckes home with a 6-0 lead.

Merchant made up for his throw in the bottom of the inning. Terry Gammons drew a walk and stole second. Ellis Bell drew another pass and Merchant followed with a single to chase home Gammons. Schmit then whiffed the next two hitters and had two strikes on the ninth place hitter when Bell tried to steal third. Catcher Pinckes

Duncan, who like Lake Mary's Schmit pitched varsity ball this past spring, regrouped over the next three innings, facing the minimum and striking out four.

Oviedo, meanwhile, continued to peck away at Schmit. In the fifth, Reggie Williams and Aaron Gammons both walked. Williams scored on a double steal and Gammons tallied on a wild pitch when Schmit was slow in covering the plate. Leadoff hitter Dave Wood reached on a dropped third strike and eventually scored on another wild pitch to pull the Giants within 8-5.

Altamonte, however, responded with two more in the top of the sixth. Schmit walked and Pinckes slapped his third hit of the night to right center. Beatty dropped another nice bunt, and Duncan's throw to first was mishandled by Williams which allowed Schmit to score. When Williams recovered the ball, he overthrew third trying to get Pinckes who scored for an 8-5 lead.

The Giants bounced right back with two cheap ones in the third. With two out, Merchant rapped his second hit to center. Williams followed with a routine groundball to Lusk at shortstop, but his throw to first was wild. Aaron Gammons then drilled a single to score Merchant and Williams kicked the ball out of new catcher Letterio's glove for the second run.

In the bottom of the seventh inning, Wood singled and leftfielder Casterline misplayed Duncan's long drive into a double which scored Wood to tie the game. Schmit fanned Randy Ferguson for the fourth time and then intentionally walked Gammons to set up a force play. Schmit, though, walked Bell which set the stage for Merchant who lifted his game-winner over the draw-in infield.

"This was the worst defensive game we've played all year," said Letterio about his team's five errors. "Mike (Schmit) didn't have it tonight. He couldn't get his curve over. We did some nice things in the first and second innings, but that was it."

Schmit struck out 12, but walked six. Duncan fanned six and passed eight.

Pine Hills Ousts Altamonte, 9-6

The Altamonte Astros were eliminated from the Junior League District 14 Top Team Tournament Wednesday, dropping a 9-6 decision to Pine Hills at West Oak Ridge.

The Astros lost their first game, 15-13, at the hands of West Oak Ridge.

Starting pitcher Randy Green ran into control problems early in the game and Pine Hills ran up a 8-1 lead before manager Terry Hagen could find a pitcher who could find the strike zone.

"There are no excuses," Hagen said. "They (Pine Hills) were the better ballclub. Monday night (against W. Oak Ridge) we were the better team, but we still came out on the short end."

Green gave up four runs in the fourth inning on a pair of hits and four walks. With the four runs, Pine Hills took a 8-2 lead and it was all they needed to ice the victory.

The Astros scored once in the fourth and came back with three in the fifth, but it was too little, too late for Hagen's squad.

Sanford Kiwanis To Participate In AAU Tourney

Basketball

The Sanford East-West Kiwanis will compete in the AAU Jr. Olympics 15 and Under State Basketball Championships beginning Friday at Santa Fe Community College in Gainesville. Sanford will take on Miami at 5 p.m. Friday in the single-elimination (consolation bracket) tourney.

The team includes Darryl Williams, Dexter Franklin, Alvin Jones, Mike Wright and Dennis Lawrence off of this past year's Crooms team; Albert Armstrong, David Daniels and Jerry Parker out of Sanford Middle School and Sam Hill out of Lakeview Middle School. Rod Henderson, also of Lakeview, is also a member of the team but won't play over the weekend. The team is coached by Crooms' John McNamara and Seminole High's Chris Mariette.

A Sanford victory Friday would send the East-West Kiwanis into a matchup with Tampa on Saturday at 12 noon. Tampa drew a bye in the first round. Other teams in the tourney include Miami YMCA, Orlando, Ft. Petersburg, Barlow, Live Oaks, Jacksonville, Jacksonville PAL, Ocala, Tallahassee, Gainesville, Panama City and Lake Region.

The championship is set for Sunday at 2 p.m.

Indians Bombard Southwest Volusia, 16-4; Astros, Weger Whitewash Winter Garden

Altamonte's two Major League baseball teams stayed alive in the District 14 Top Team Tournament Wednesday night — but they did it with contrasting styles.

Manager Don Birie's Indians went on the warpath again, bombarding Southwest Volusia Orange City with 10 hits en route to an easy 16-4 triumph in Division 2 action at Eustis. Tonight, the Indians battle unbeaten Maitland which they must beat twice to secure the title. First pitch is 7:30 p.m. at DeLand.

Manager Wayne Weger's Astros, meanwhile, received a stellar three-hit pitching performance from Wes Weger to shut out the Winter Garden Giants, 3-0, in Division 1 play at Apopka. The Astros will play Ocoee tonight at 7:30 at Rolling Hills. The survivor must beat undefeated Apopka twice for the crown.

Weger, who tossed a no-hitter at Windermere in his other tournament outing, was in top form. The 12-year-old righthander struck out 12 batters and walked just one. His teammates backed him with almost perfect (one error) defense.

The Astros broke the scoreless tie in the fourth when Weger drew a one-out walk. Jerry Thurston popped out, but Trevor Moore reached first when the third baseman missed up his ground ball. Jeff Burton followed with a single to give Altamonte a 1-0 lead.

In the fifth, Altamonte scored twice, but when Ronnie Dudley missed the plate after Weger's two-run single, he and Jeff Conklin who had doubled, were both erased and the Astros went into the sixth nursing a one-run lead.

They got the two runs back in the sixth. Thurston, an 11-year-old who will be tonight's starting hurler, walked,

Moore struck out, but Burton reached when the third baseman overthrew first allowing Thurston to go to third.

Todd Heiser then rolled a picture perfect bunt past the pitcher to score Thurston and send Burton to third base. And, when Heiser stole second base, Burton scampered home to complete a double steal for a 3-0 lead.

Weger led the Altamonte attack with two singles while Jeff Conklin added a double.

Alex Birie had something to prove against the Southwest Volusia Orioles. It was this same Oriole club which hung a 6-2 opening-round defeat on Birie and the Altamonte Indians. Since then, Altamonte has reeled off three wins. Number four came much easier than expected.

Birie fired a three-hitter and clobbered a two-run homer in the fourth inning as the Indians scored in every inning and played spotless defense to shoot down the Orioles.

"The first two innings Alex was shaky," said coach Kelly Wainwright about the eight-strikeout and five-walk effort. "But it was all over after that."

Southwest Volusia jumped on Birie for three runs in the first to erase a 2-0 Indian lead which was built on a single by Kevin Wainwright, walks to Kent Brubaker and Todd Christensen and a throwing error on Joseph DiFrancesco's groundball to third.

Altamonte took the lead for good in the second when Kevin Lovett and Wainwright walked and Brubaker followed with a single for a run. Birie walked and Wainwright scored when Christensen hit into a fielder's choice.

In the third, DiFrancesco singled and scored on a double by hard-hitting Tony Ganci. Lovett then singled home Ganci for a 6-3 lead.

Four more in the fourth put the game away. Brubaker reached on an error and Birie slugged his first homer of the year, a liner which hit the top of the center-field fence and bounced over. DiFrancesco singled, Ganci walked and Sean Lanagan reached on an error to load the bases. Walks to William Thompson and Lovett produced two runs and a 10-3 lead.

In the fifth, Birie walked, moved up on a passed ball and scored on DiFrancesco's single. In the sixth, Lovett reached on an error, Wainwright walked and Brubaker singled to load the bases. Birie walked to force in one run and DiFrancesco got on with an error to score two runs. Ganci then singled to chase home the final two rallies for a 16-4 rout.

The Indians will probably go with either Brubaker or DiFrancesco tonight on the mound.

Hogan Hurls Fabricating To 3rd-Place Finish

When it comes to throwing strikes, it's tough to top Sanford's Dee Hogan.

Hogan, a four-year starter for Seminole High during her prep days, walked just one batter in six games (179 batters) as S & H Fabricating, the top team in the Sanford Women's Softball League, finished third with a record of 3-2 in the Florida Recreation Softball Association State Tournament this past weekend in New Smyrna Beach.

S & H Fabricating's only two losses came at the hands of the second-place Daytona Beach Thrillers. The Elkettes, also out of Sanford, competed in the tourney but lost its first two games.

Here is a look at how S&H Fabricating did in the state tourney:

Game 1 — S & H 8, Daytona Beach Rat's Hole 1

S & H scored three runs in the first inning, all the runs it needed as pitcher Hogan shut down the Rat's Hole offense which managed only four hits in the game.

State Women's Softball

Hogan helped her own cause as she went 2 for 3 with a home run and two RBI. Cathy Griffith also added a pair of hits for S&H while Jole Boyles added a two-run double.

Game 2 — Thrillers 9, S & H 6

The Thrillers erupted for seven runs in the first inning, capitalizing on four S & H errors. S & H Fabricating got back in the game with five runs in the fifth, but the Thrillers held on for the win. Hogan had two hits for S&H while Teresa Behrens added a double.

Game 3 — S & H 8, Boynton Beach Tigarettes 3

Jole Boyles had a perfect game, going 4 for 4 at the plate as S & H Fabricating rolled over the Boynton Beach Tigarettes. Cindy Pendarvis added a double to the 12-hit S&H offensive attack.

Game 4 — S & H 20, Lakeland Drum Megs 3

S & H rallied for eight runs in both the second and fifth innings in a rout of the Lakeland Drum Megs. Mary Sue Gilmore led the way as she went 4 for 5. Boyles and Gina Bukur added three hits apiece to the 19-hit offensive outburst while Hogan, Griffith, Pendarvis, Jamie Hart and Cindy Bungo had two hits each.

Game 5 — Thrillers 9, S & H 8

After trailing by four runs early, S & H Fabricating pulled to within one run only to fall short in the end. Gilmore was 3 for 3 with a homer while Boyles and Bukur had two hits each. S&H wound up third in the tournament while the Thrillers came in second.

Boyles led S & H at the plate as she went 13 for 21 in the tourney for a .619 average. Gilmore was 12 for 21 for a .571 average while Beth VanNess went 5 for 10 for a .500 average. Hogan hit at a .391 clip along with her exceptional tournament on the mound as she won all three games. Bungo hit .375 four the tourney while both Hart and Bukur hit at .316 and Griffith hit at .304.

Knights of Columbus hitter J. D. Paul walks disgustedly away from the plate after striking out on three pitches against Rotary Wednesday night. The Knights committed numerous baserunning blunders while dropping a 4-3 decision in the Junior League City Series at Chase Park. The two teams meet again tonight at 7 and a victory will give Rotary the championship. Righthander David Rape will be on the mound for the Knights while Jason Heffington will throw for Rotary.

fourth. Todd Revels led off with a booming double to left center and J.D. Paul drew a walk. Edward Gordon then lashed a single to right, chasing Revels around to third. Paul, however, kept on going to third and was eventually tagged out in a rundown. The next hitter, Shelton Slater, hit a soft liner to shortstop Edwards who caught Gordon napping off second for an inning-ending double play.

Both teams went down quietly in the fifth and Rotary came back in the sixth to take a 4-1 lead. With one out, Blake cracked a double to left, went to third on a wild pitch, and scored on a passed ball. Rotary had runners on second and third with two outs, but failed to push across any more runs.

The song remained the same for KOC in the bottom of the sixth as the baserunning antics continued. Rape led off the inning with a walk and stole both second and third. One out later, Revels walked and stole second to put runners on second and third. Paul then came up with a home run swing, but his hit wouldn't have been a homer in a phone booth, and while Revels was looking for the ball, Edwards caught the popup and flipped to Bew for an inning-ending double play.

Rotary came away empty in the top of the seventh to set up a heartstopping bottom of the frame. Dixon walked the first two batters and, obviously tired, was pulled out in favor of Edwards in relief. Edwards walked Gainey to load the bases with no outs and, one out later, he walked Lucas to force in a run as KOC closed to within two, 4-2. Rape popped to short for the second out, but Stewart Gordon coaxed a walk on a 3-2 pitch to force in another run as Rotary's lead was shaved to one, 4-3. Edwards got two quick strikes on Revels, then threw two balls to even the count. The next pitch was right down the pipe and Revels went down swinging as Rotary salvaged the victory.

Revels didn't stop swinging after the last pitch, however, as he threw both his bat and helmet and was ejected from tonight's second game for his actions. Now, KOC is without both a power hitter and its only other pitcher besides Lucas and Rape.

Dixon got the pitching victory for Rotary while Edwards picked up the save. Dixon allowed five hits, struck out nine and walked six. Lucas suffered the loss for KOC after giving up only three hits, striking out 12 and walking six.

"Craig (Dixon) did a great job tonight," Korgan said. "Since he was disciplined (for skipping practice) his attitude has been super."

In tonight's second game, which begins at 7 at Chase Park, Rape will be on the mound for the Knights while Rotary will go with Heffington. Rape had a 5-0 pitching record during the regular season while Heffington was 3-1.

Waltke Overmatched...And Overdressed

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — Trey Waltke of the U.S. seemed overmatched in today's match against third-seeded Ivan Lendl of Czechoslovakia, but his appearance at the $1.4 million Wimbledon Tennis Championships is noteworthy for one significant item — his appearance.

Waltke is the first player in 37 years to wear pants at Wimbledon, shunning the shorts that have been acceptable attire since World War II. The 28-year-old from St. Louis wore white flannel pants and a pullover against Lendl, but the traditional garb wasn't expect to improve his chances of success against the Czech's game.

Another Czech-born player, defending champion Martina Navratilova, was expected to have an equally easy time with fellow American Sherry Acker in the opening match on the No. 1 court.

Wimbledon

Spectators doubtless expected an exhibition of tennis or temper (or both) from John McEnroe. The native of Douglaston, N.Y., takes on Romanian Florin Segarceanu. The two have never played each other and Segarceanu was not expected to give the fiery McEnroe serious opposition.

Wednesday was not a day for the upset-minded among tennis fans. All 12 seeds in both the men's and women's singles competition survived their matches, and those with a penchant for seeing the underdog triumph had little satisfaction.

Defending men's champion and top-seeded Jimmy Connors didn't exhibit his true colors until the final set of his 6-4, 7-6, 6-0 victory over Australian Wally Masur, and he was not the only seeded player that struggled in winning.

Billie Jean King, playing her 254th Wimbledon match, had a surprisingly difficult time subduing her second round opponent, fellow American Beth Herr. King's 19-year-old adversary took the first set 7-6, but appeared in trouble when she dropped the second set 6-2 and slipped behind in the third. But Herr rediscovered her determination and confidence just when the match seemed ready to fall to King's superior and veteran nerves.

Herr came back from 5-2 to lead 6-5, but King rallied to win the next three games and the match.

Chris Evert Lloyd, the second seed who is looking to win the Grand Slam, disposed of Marcella Mesker of Holland, 6-4, 6-2, and third seeded American Andrea Jaeger was a comfortable 6-3, 6-2 winner over compatriot Pam Casale.

Guidry's Lightnin' Too Much For Birds

BALTIMORE (UPI) — It took another overpowering performance from Louisiana Lightnin' to break a long Yankees drought in Baltimore.

Ron Guidry, who claims he doesn't throw as hard as he used to, still struck out five and checked the Orioles on eight hits Wednesday night as New York won 5-2 for the team's first triumph in 11 games at Memorial Stadium. It was also the Yankees' sixth victory in their last seven games.

"When you're pitching well, you pitch the same way against every team," Guidry said. "It doesn't matter who it is. I don't throw as hard as I used to, but with my location on strikes and my experience I compensate and can still get them out."

The left-hander, who became one of the league's three 10-game winners, pointed to the eighth inning as a key. The Orioles' first two men up reached base, with the middle of the batting order to follow. But Guidry fanned Eddie Murray — after Murray had barely missed a three-run homer on a long foul — and got Gary Roenicke and Ken Singleton on popups.

"That eighth inning may have been the best inning all year for me and the team," he said. "It really gave us a lift to get those guys out, especially Murray. He is such a great hitter and such a clutch hitter. I was going to make him hit a slider because it was good tonight, and I got him on a great slider. I was so much on top of it, it went straight down. I can't throw it like that every time."

"Murray being such a great hitter, sometimes it takes a perfect pitch to get him."

New York Manager Billy Martin came out to talk to Guidry before Murray's at-bat, and he said he stayed with the veteran because "he's just a great pitcher, a great little competitor. I just wanted to slow him down and tell him how to pitch to Murray."

In support of Guidry, Jerry Mumphy and Roy Smalley drilled back-to-back home runs in the third inning off Scott McGregor, 8-4. McGregor, who now has given up 12 home runs this season, had a five-game winning streak halted.

Baltimore ended Guidry's bid for a fourth shutout when Cal Ripken led off the sixth with a double, advanced to third on a fly and scored on Roenicke's sacrifice fly.

Rangers 9, Angels 1
At Arlington, Texas, Rick Honeycutt, 10-3, pitched a five-hitter for his fifth straight victory and Bill Stein hit his first home run of the year, helping the Rangers win a game delayed by a brawl and a 19-minute power failure. The first-inning brawl, spurred by an errant pickoff throw, resulted in the ejection of the Angels' Bobby Grich and minor bruises to the Rangers' Wayne Tolson.

Twins 4, Blue Jays 3
At Toronto, John Castino cracked a two-run single in the seventh inning to support Ken Schrom's solid pitching against his former teammates. Ron Davis pitched the last two innings to record his 10th save, yielding a two-out solo homer in the ninth by Jorge Orta. The Twins beat Dave Stieb, 10-5.

Indians 9, Red Sox 4
At Boston, Pat Tabler, Julio Franco and Alan Bannister knocked in two runs each and Len Barker halted a personal six-game losing streak in leading Cleveland. The Indians staked Barker to a five-run lead in the first inning. Tony Armas homered twice for Boston, his 14th and 15th of the year.

Tigers 6, Brewers 2
At Detroit, Jack Morris, 8-5, pitched a one-hitter over eight innings and Glenn Wilson and Larry Herndon clubbed two-run homers for the Tigers. Robin Yount hit his 10th home run for Milwaukee, which fell into last place in the Eastern Division.

White Sox 6, Mariners 3
At Chicago, Greg Walker's two-run single capped a three-run fifth inning as the Sox completed a sweep of the three-game series. The loss was the Mariners' sixth straight. Jerry Koozman, 6-1, notched his 196th victory and rookie Ron Kittle hit his 15th homer for Chicago. Gaylord Perry, 3-10, was the loser.

Royals 7, A's 6
At Kansas City, Mo., Pat Sheridan's bases-loaded single in the 12th lifted the Royals. Oakland tied the score against Kansas City relief ace Dan Quisenberry with two runs in the eighth. The A's took a 3-0 lead on a two-run homer by Mike Davis in the first and a solo shot by Carney Lansford in the second.

Tim Raines had a lot to look at Wednesday night. Raines slugged his first career grand-slam homer in the bottom of the ninth inning to lift Montreal past Philadelphia, 4-0.

Raines Pulls Out Spinach — 'Cans' Phils With Slam

N.L. Baseball

MONTREAL (UPI) — Philadelphia tried to sink Tim Raines making him hit right-handed. It was like giving a can of spinach to Popeye.

"They realized I'm a better left-handed hitter. So they brought in a left-handed pitcher and forced me to bat from the right side," Raines said Wednesday night after hitting a grand-slam with two out in the bottom of the ninth inning to give the Montreal Expos a 4-0 victory over the Phillies.

The Montreal left-fielder, who hit reliever Al Holland's first pitch over the left-field fence for his first career grand slam and fourth homer of the year, said he wasn't thinking about a home run. "I'm not a home-run hitter," he said. "I was just trying to get a base hit. But he got a fastball up high and I hit it out of the park."

The Expos outfielder wasn't even sure that the ball had cleared the fence. "My first intention was to touch first base," he said. "Then when I got there I could see from the reaction of their leftfielder (Gary Matthews) that the ball was out of here."

Just before Raines' dramatic homer, losing pitcher Marty Bystrom, 2-4, hit pinch hitter Andre Dawson on the elbow to load the bases. Dawson, who had won a marathon game the night before with a 12th-inning homer, angrily charged the mound as both benches emptied. No punches were thrown and order was quickly restored by the umpires.

Raines said Bystrom was attempting to walk Dawson because he felt more comfortable pitching to Raines.

"No, he didn't mean to throw at Andre," the switch-hitting Raines said. "But they realize Andre is a dangerous hitter. They wanted to pitch him inside and the ball just got away from him."

"They know I'm a little weaker as a right-handed batter so by walking Andre and loading the bases they were able to bring in a left-hander to face me."

Southpaw Al Holland entered the game to throw only one pitch, which Raines smashed over the left field wall. Raines also added a single to run his hitting streak to six games. He also stole his 27th base, tops in the league.

Charlie Lea, who limited the Phillies to five hits, improved his record to 5-3 with his second shutout and third complete game of the season. The right-hander struck out five and walked two in outdueling Marty Bystrom. "It's a strange way to get the win, especially when I was sitting on the bench," said Lea. "I got tired in the sixth inning but that helped me because I slowed down my pitches."

With two out in the ninth, Phillies second baseman Joe Morgan was charged with an error when he failed to grab Jerry White's soft grounder.

Reds 4, Giants 2
At San Francisco, Mario Soto pitched a six-hitter and Gary Redus and Eddie Milner homered for the Reds. Soto, 9-5, struck out 11 and walked four en route to his league-leading eighth complete game. Rookie Mark Davis, making his first start this season, took the loss.

Pirates 5, Cubs 2
At Pittsburgh, Bill Madlock drove in two runs with a homer and a single and rookie Marvell Wynne went 3-for-4 in the Pirates' fourth straight victory. John Candelaria, 6-6, allowed five hits, including a two-run homer by Keith Moreland, before leaving after five innings with a twinie in his left elbow.

Mets 6-2, Cardinals 4-1
At New York, Mike Torrez scattered five hits over seven innings and Hubsie Brooks and Brian Giles drove in runs to help the Mets complete a sweep. In the opener, Darryl Strawberry drove in four runs, three with a first-inning homer, and Tom Seaver pitched a seven-hitter to lead New York.

Astros 4, Braves 3
At Houston, Terry Puhl singled in the tying run and Phil Garner singled in the game-winner over a drawn-in outfield in the bottom of the ninth, lifting the Astros to a comeback victory. Bill Dawley, 5-1, who had allowed a two-run single by Bob Watson in the top of the ninth, was the winner.

Padres 5, Dodgers 2
At Los Angeles, Eric Show, 8-4, allowed three hits over seven innings and San Diego scored three unearned runs for its fifth straight victory while handing the Dodgers their third straight loss. Gary Lucas pitched two innings for his sixth save. Bob Welch, 5-7, lasted seven innings and took the loss.

The Magic Is 'Bat' For Rusty Staub

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Mets have this slogan they use — The Magic is Back.

What magic? For a long time, nobody could figure it out. Now everybody knows what they mean or rather whom they mean.

It's Rusty Staub. He's the magic the Mets must be talking about, the spectacular sleight of hand wizard doing things with the bat like no other performer seen around here since Don "Mandrake the Magician" Mueller.

Mueller spent most of his career with the Giants playing the outfield for them and he singled everybody to death. Every ball he hit had eyes. There was no defending him. Same thing with Staub.

"I just think the man is gonna get a hit every time up," says Mets' third baseman Hubie Brooks.

Frank Howard has been around much longer than Brooks. He has seen a lot of good hitters in his time.

"I've never seen a guy who can use the shillelagh like he can," the Mets' manager says about the pudgy, 39-year-old Staub. "The man is amazing, simply amazing. You always hear stories about a guy they can push out there in a wheelchair and he'll be able to hit when he's 65. They have to be talking about Rusty."

Right now, Staub is a bigger man in this town than Dave Winfield. He has been little short of phenomenal lately with the bat although Howard, like George Bamberger before him, is scratching his head over where to play him, especially now that the Mets have Keith Hernandez at first base.

Staub has been used primarily as a pinch hitter in the 43 games he has appeared so far. He has started in nine of those games, five at first base, two in right field and two in left field, and is hitting .361 overall with 22-for-61. That's not bad. But as a pinch hitter he has been even better. He leads the National

Sports Parade

By MILTON RICHMAN

League with 12 pinch hits presently and his 12-for-29 give him a batting average of .414. He has pinch hit successfully nine of his last 10 times at bat, including his last seven times up, and if he makes it eight in a row in his next pinch hit appearance, he will equal the major league record set by Dave Philley with the Phillies in 1958.

Look in most dugouts late in the game, especially when the contest isn't close, and you'll see players trying not to fall asleep. Staub gets everybody up, though. Shea Stadium suddenly comes alive when he moves out of the dugout with a bat in his hands and so does the entire Mets' bench. Everybody wants to see Staub hit because he's such an artist with the bat.

"R...U...S...T...Y...I...
"R...U...S...T...Y..." the fans begin to shout in anticipation of seeing the left-handed hitting 20-year veteran connect safely once more.

More often than not, Staub is replaced by a pinch runner after he does get on because he's anything but a greyhound on the bases and frequently when he returns to the dugout, he's forced to come out again and take a bow because the fans won't stop cheering or calling for him.

"I appreciate they realize I'm swinging the bat that well, but it's something I've worked at a long time," he explains. "You have to be disciplined and the only way you can be is to work at it. I feel good when the fans cheer me like that because I think it makes everybody realize I'm not dead yet. But I've had periods like this before when I was playing regularly."

Were Staub in the American League now, as he was with Detroit from 1976 until 1979 and with Texas in 1980, he could be employed more expeditiously as a designated hitter. As it is, his slowness works against him being used more than he has been.

"At one time I could run a little bit," he says. "I don't have the speed other people have, but I think my instincts in the outfield are good and I'm gonna get to a lotta balls, anyway. I understand the first base situation on our club. Keith is going play there and he should. He's one of the finest players in the game. Still, I think what's happening with me now is great. After almost a year and a half of being practically forgotten, I'm glad I got their attention a little bit."

By "their" attention, Staub means the Mets' front office. His contract expires this year. That could mean he might wind up a free agent or possibly be offered a coaching job with the club.

Staub credits Philley, the man whose pinch hitting record he's trying to break, with getting him to choke up on the bat 20 years ago when he was with Houston and that has helped him a lot.

"He told me if I choked up on the bat an inch or two, it wouldn't take my power away," Staub says. "I'm choking more than that right now. When I was with Montreal in 1979 I didn't choke the bat at all. I struck out more, but I also hit more home runs."

Staub pushes himself hard trying to keep his weight down, doing work on the Nautilus, running a couple of miles every day and taking 20 minutes of ground balls before each game. Everything is breaking right for him now. He has two restaurants that are going well, one bachelor pad here in New York and another in Houston and plenty of girls chasing after him. Now if he could only cook.

IN BRIEF

Palestinians Attempt To Mediate PLO Mutiny

United Press International
 Palestinian guerrilla leaders met with Syrian officials to mediate the rebellion against PLO leader Yasser Arafat as Saudia Arabia and other moderate Arab states rushed to his defense. In Damascus, the meeting between Syrian Foreign Minister Abdel Halim Khaddam and high-ranking Palestinian leaders failed to immediately resolve the crisis threatening Arafat's leadership of the Palestine Liberation Organization. PLO officials said Saudi King Fahd, a major financier of Syria and the PLO, expressed support for Arafat in a telephone call. Arafat, who left Damascus Tuesday after charging Syrian tanks and troops had helped PLO dissidents overrun his troops along a key supply route in eastern Lebanon, was in northern Lebanon meeting with loyal guerrillas. Arafat's opponents in the PLO charged he was plotting a counter-attack on positions in the Bekaa Valley lost to rebel forces Tuesday. Arafat's new base in the northern Lebanese port of Tripoli is virtually free of rebel guerrillas. Syria has denied any involvement in the PLO rift.

Who Shot Journalists?

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (UPI) — Honduras and Nicaragua accused each other of provoking war by killing two American journalists in a savage grenade and machine-gun attack near the nations' common border. U.S. Embassy spokesman Robert Callahan said Wednesday, Los Angeles Times correspondent Dial Torgerson, 55, free-lance photographer Richard Cross, 33, and their Honduran driver, Jose Herrera, were killed when Nicaraguan troops fired a rocket-propelled grenade at their rented car. Callahan said two witnesses of the attack Tuesday in eastern Honduras reported, "The impact of the shell drove the car about 3 to 4 feet in the air, as soon as it came down they opened fire with machine guns." The journalists were returning from Las Trojes, 48 miles east of Tegucigalpa, where they had traveled to observe fighting between U.S.-backed Nicaraguan rebels based in Honduras and soldiers of the leftist Sandinista government. Nicaragua and Honduras Wednesday accused each other of killing the Americans to escalate the fighting between the rebels and Nicaraguan troops into full-scale war.

Hijackers Surrender

LARNACA, Cyprus (UPI) — Two Lebanese teenagers who hijacked a Libyan Boeing 707 over the Mediterranean surrendered peacefully today, freeing their 32 hostages unharmed but leaving a time bomb ticking in their luggage. Airport security found the bomb rigged inside a Polaroid-type camera when they searched the hijackers' luggage hours after their surrender at the Larnaca airport. Bomb experts successfully dismantled it. The hijacking of the Libyan Arab Airways jet, which began Wednesday morning shortly after the flight left Athens for Tripoli, ended some 20 hours later as the 21 passengers and 11 crewmen stepped off the Boeing 707 under a burning morning sun. The two hijackers, who had demanded to be flown to Tehran, stepped off the plane minutes later flashing the "V" for victory sign. They were arrested and whisked away in a police van. They were believed to be undergoing questioning at Nicosia prison.

Woman Serious Following Crash

A 25-year-old bar waitress at the Lake Monroe Holiday Inn in Sanford was reported in serious condition today in the intensive care unit at Florida Hospital-Orlando following an automobile accident Tuesday evening. Rosemary Mack, of Orange Wood Park, DeLand, was a passenger in a Volkswagen driven by William Roche, 20, of 4220 S. Orlando Drive, Sanford, when his car was hit by an out-of-control van driven by Richard Jennings, 19, of Deltona. According to the Florida Highway Patrol, the 1968 Chevrolet van was northbound on U.S. Highway 17-92 south of DeBary when it skidded into a 1971 Dodge, glanced off the Dodge and hit the Volkswagen. The Dodge was driven by Randy Wingate, 24, of DeBary. Jennings and Roche were taken to the emergency room at Central Florida Regional Hospital, treated for minor injuries and released. Jennings' passenger, Terry Smith, 23, of Deltona, was admitted to the hospital and was reported in satisfactory condition today. Ms. Mack, first taken to Central Florida Regional Hospital, was reported to have a fracture to two bones in her left leg. She was then transferred to Florida Hospital-Orlando.

House Panel OKs Aid For Caribbean Nations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House panel has approved a package of tax and trade incentives aimed at helping the distressed economies of Caribbean nations, which President Reagan says is the key to political stability there. The Ways and Means Committee passed the legislation on a voice vote Tuesday. The 28 eligible nations include revolutionary hotbeds like Cuba, Nicaragua and Grenada, as well as 25 other island nations. The bill establishes guidelines for the president to designate beneficiary countries among the 28 eligible nations and requires him to notify Congress before taking any action. The bill also establishes duty-free imports into the United States for $1 billion worth of Caribbean-made goods and encourages island tourism by extending a hefty tax break to American business conventions held there. Products exempt from the duty-free status include textiles and apparel, footwear, handbags, luggage, work gloves, leather wearing apparel, canned tuna and petroleum and petroleum products. Sugar imports are granted duty-free treatment subject to strict limits that vary from country to country. The Senate approved a slightly different version earlier this month and attached it as a rider to a bill that repeals a controversial rule requiring tax withholding on interest and dividends. Ways and Means Chairman Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., said he hopes the House will approve the Caribbean Basin Economic Recovery Act soon so he can consider it and the withholding repealer together in a conference with the Senate after the July 4th congressional recess. The bill includes several measures for the benefit of Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands designed to offset any potential adverse effect from the new duty-free treatment of the CBI nations. For example, all excise taxes collected on imported rum, whether or not from a Caribbean basin country, would be paid to the treasuries of Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. Currently, the excise tax on distilled spirits is $10.50 per proof gallon. To encourage tourism in the Caribbean basin, the bill allows American businessmen attending conventions in the eligible countries to deduct their expenses for transportation, lodging and meals. Currently, only conventions held in the U.S., Canada, Mexico, certain Pacific Islands and Jamaica qualify for the deduction and up to $2,000 of allocable expenses can be claimed for conventions held aboard U.S. flag cruise ships.

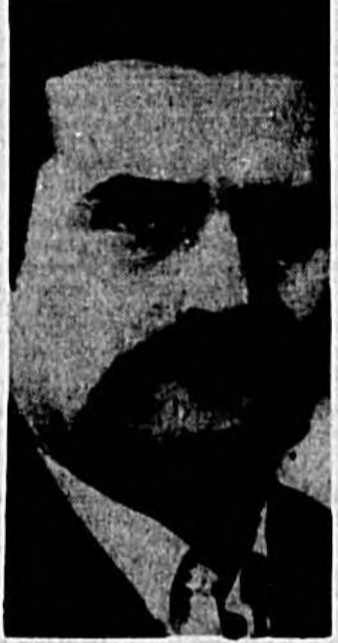

Country	Per Capita Income	Country	Per Capita Income
(United States)	($8,612)	Guyana	$437
Antigua & Barbuda	$540	Haiti	$260
Barbados	$1,450	Honduras	$528
Belize	$730	Jamaica	$1,143
Costa Rica	$1,512	Nicaragua	$825
Dominica	$460	Panama	$1,116
Dominican Republic	$841	Saint Vincent & the Grenadines	$250
El Salvador	$639	Saint Lucia	$698
Grenada	$500	Suriname	$1,240
Guatemala	$749	Trinidad & Tobago	$2,090

The small nations of the Caribbean and Central America targeted for the Reagan administration's aid program include some of the world's poorest. The plan provides for increased duty-free imports into the U.S. and encourages tourism to the islands through hefty tax breaks for American travelers.

Pope Meets Jaruzelski, Walesa

KRAKOW, Poland (UPI) — Pope John Paul II today boarded a helicopter and flew to an undisclosed destination before his private audience with former Solidarity leader Lech Walesa and his family. Rev. Romeo Pancirolli, chief Vatican spokesman, said no meeting with Walesa had been held before the pope left aboard the helicopter. The official part of the pope's tense and punishing 2,700-mile second tour of his native land was over. John Paul reserved today for "private matters." Including his officially sanctioned meeting with Walesa and probably a visit to the pope's boyhood hometown of Wadowice. Roman Catholic church officials said the pope's helicopter was heading for "the mountains," his beloved Tatras mountain range on the Czechoslovak border. The pope's meeting with Walesa heralded a dramatic finale to the pontiff's tense and emotional tour of his native land. The pope, still battling to bridge the chasms that split the government from Poles and the church — symbolized by the differences between Walesa and Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski — took the initiative in arranging meetings with both.

Lech Walesa
 ...finally meets with Pope John Paul II today after government grudgingly gave its permission. The pope met Wednesday with Polish military ruler Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski.

Jaruzelski, the Polish military ruler, flew to the southern city of Krakow at the pope's request Wednesday for private talks that came as police broke up the largest pro-Solidarity march since martial law was imposed Dec. 13, 1981. There was no official statement on the time and place for John Paul's historic private audience with Walesa, whose political impact Jaruzelski sought to diminish. Walesa, former leader of the outlawed Solidarity trade union, has met with the pope twice before — in January and October 1981 in Italy — but never on Polish soil. John Paul reserved the entire day for "private matters," possibly to include a visit to his boyhood hometown of Wadowice, 30 miles southwest of Krakow.

He was scheduled to return to Rome at 5:15 p.m. (11:15 a.m. EDT) after the eight-day trip, his second to Poland as pope. Jaruzelski unexpectedly flew to Krakow, 180 miles south of Warsaw, at the request of "the church" after the pope urged 2 million people to resist "the arrogant use of power" during an emotional homecoming to the parish he served as priest and archbishop for two decades. Just before the meeting, club-wielding riot police broke up a march less than 2 miles away by some 200,000 people holding the biggest demonstration in support of Solidarity since Jaruzelski's regime declared martial law. Arrests were reported but no injuries.

'Old School' Mom Raids Private X-Rated Books

DEAR ABBY: I am a 50-year-old woman who has been married and on my own for 30 years.

After my mother visited me recently, I noticed that several of my books on sex were missing from my bookcase. No one else could have taken them, and since she is from the "old school" (sex is dirty), I'm sure she took them to throw in the trash.

I feel violated, and I am furious. All my life I've held my tongue to keep the peace and avoid arguments with her.

Should I confront her, or let it go?

DEAR GEMINI: That you should ask, "Should I confront her, or let it go," tells me that you are either unwilling or unable to handle the confrontation and are looking to me for permission to let it go.

You are appropriately outraged that your mother would confiscate your property and treat you as a child, but until you are willing to confront her and demand your rights to be treated as an adult, nothing will change. You, and only you, can make that decision.

DEAR ABBY: For the last six months I have worked in a movie theater in San Francisco, and I feel that I do a very good job.

Last week I changed my hair color from brown to red. It looks very natural - not punk or new wave. Just red.

Anyway, here's the problem. My manager thinks it is awful and I should change it back immediately. I think he is overstepping his bounds as manager to even suggest such a thing.

Do you think I should bow to his wishes, or do what I want with my hair? I'm a male, if that makes a difference.

DEAR RED: Male or female, it's your right to change the color of your hair. And if, as you say, it looks "natural" and not "punk or new wave," your manager is indeed overstepping his bounds in suggesting that you change it back immediately.

DEAR ABBY: I love my husband, but his snoring is driving me out of my mind. Separate beds won't help. We need separate bedrooms! We've been married for 43 years and he's always snored, but lately his snoring has become intolerable.

I was told there is a new operation that actually cures snoring. Will you please look into it and let me know what it is called, where it is performed and how much it costs? Hurry your answer before I have a nervous breakdown.

AGNES, IN ROANOKE, VA.

DEAR AGNES: The operation is called a "palatopharyngoplasty," and among other places it has been successfully performed at Stanford University Medical Center by Dr. F. Blair Simmons.

A few days in the hospital are required, and it's cheaper than a nervous breakdown.

More information can be obtained from sleep disorder centers, usually located at major university medical centers.

CONFIDENTIAL TO F.K. IN GREELEY, COLO.: The best way to get rid of an enemy is to make a friend out of him.

You're never too old (or too young) to learn how to make friends and be popular. For Abby's booklet on popularity, send $1, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped (37 cents) envelope to Abby, Popularity, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

Teens In Courthouse

Theresa Coker, secretary to County Commissioner Barbara Christensen, explains commission operation to 19 4-H Teen Exchange Club members from Calvert County, Md., who visited central Florida this week as guests of the Seminole County

Teen Exchange Club which visited Maryland last summer. The courthouse tour was part of the County Day activities held Tuesday. One of the highlights of the visit was seeing the shuffle launch Saturday.

Thanks To Altamonte Business

Exceptional Kids To See Twins

Thirty special education students from Rosenwald Exceptional Student Center, Altamonte Springs, will get a chance to cheer on the Orlando Twins baseball team tonight thanks to a local business.

The field trip for the students, complete with tickets, transportation, hot dogs, and soft drinks, is being sponsored by Mules Punch Solar Inc. of Altamonte Springs, which rents solar hot water and energy management equipment.

Jack Ramsey, executive vice president, said that since the company is relatively new here, having moved from Orlando last March, they wanted to do something special for their new community. "We realize that most of these students rarely get an evening out like this," said Ramsey. "We wanted to take advantage of Merchants Night at Tinker Field to give them a real treat."

Suzanne Story, spokeswoman for the Rosenwald Center, said the students are extremely excited about the outing.

"This is one of the nicest things anyone has done for our students," said Ms. Story. "Because of the close supervision our students require, it is often difficult to put together something like this. They have taken care of everything and we are all looking forward to a great evening." — Jane Casselberry

Red Cross Needs Volunteers

The American Red Cross Disaster Services of Seminole County is in urgent need of volunteers to support direct assistance to individuals and families in meeting crises and emergencies, a spokesperson said this week.

Volunteers with or without experience in the following Red Cross Disaster Services are needed: first aid, CPR, shelter management, mass feeding, casework, nursing and health, damage assessment, communications and disaster welfare inquiry.

Training will be provided. The 13 prescribed formal training classes must be completed in a 24-month period to receive the Red Cross Hard Hat award.

The Teen Corps assists the Disaster Service, and will contribute greatly to support functions in any declared emergency. Teen volunteers interested in becoming active in Disaster Action Team work, should contact Kurt Hilton, Teen Corps Chairman at 331-0046 for application and further information.

All others interested in joining the ARC Disaster Action Team may contact Al Landgraf, disaster volunteer co-ordinator, Seminole County ARC, at 831-3000.

High Court Gives Leeway In Setting Of Postal Rates

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court, in a case that will affect the future cost of mailing a letter, ruled 8-0 Wednesday it is not mandatory that each class of mail pay its own way down to the last penny.

The ruling settles a long-running dispute over how to distribute postage rate increases among the different classes of mail, such as first-class letters, second-class magazines, bulk-rate "junk" mail and inexpensive parcel post.

The justices sided with a lower court that ruled the actual costs of delivering a letter, magazine or package should form the base for postal rates, but then gave the Postal Rate Commission flexibility to decide how to distribute other costs.

It is hard to attribute some shared costs, such as transportation and overhead, to a particular category, he noted.

Instead, the commission must take note of "any cost for which the source can be identified" and use that to set the basic charge for delivering a certain class of mail.

The commission also "must seek to improve the data" for identifying which costs are generated by a particular class of mail, Blackmun said, but meanwhile it does not have to use unreliable estimates to divide up the costs.

Any postal service costs that cannot be divided among the different classes of mail based on cost of service, can be divided according to more subjective factors by the Postal Rate Commission, Blackmun said.

Both the courts and the business community have been split over whether postal rates must reflect as closely as possible the cost of handling and delivering each class of mail.

Groups that rely heavily on first-class mail — such as the National Association of Greeting Card Publishers — argued that high first-class rates for too long have subsidized other kinds of mail. They argued the law requires each class of mail to pay its own way.

But other business interests, such as magazine and newspaper publishers and mail order companies, claimed the Postal Rate Commission is not obligated to set rates on a strict cost-of-service basis.

The conflict in essence goes back to 1970, when Congress turned over its control over postal rates to a Postal Rate Commission and the Postal Service's board of governors.

The case before the Supreme Court challenged the fifth postage increase since 1970 — the March 1981 jump that raised the price of a first-class stamp 20 percent, from 15 cents to 18 cents. The rate has since been hiked to 20 cents.

In reviewing the rate hike to 18 cents, the 2nd U.S. Court of Appeals in New York, in a ruling upheld Wednesday, concluded postage increases are legal even if only half of postal costs are distributed among classes of mail on a cost-of-service basis.

It put less emphasis on actual cost and gave more discretion to the postal rate-setting board.

In earlier rulings on the same subject, the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Washington had held firmly for a strict cost-of-service approach.

Budget For Seniors To Be Topic Monday

The 1984 budget for services to senior citizens in Seminole County will be discussed at a public hearing on Monday at 12:30 p.m. in the Casselberry Senior Center Multipurpose Center at 200 N. Triplet Drive, Casselberry.

More than 15 percent of Seminole County residents are over 60 years of age and could be eligible for the services that allocation of funds will make available. These services are meals-on-wheels, home health aids, homemakers, information and referral, and counsel and guardianships.

Seminole County public officials have been invited to have representatives from all agencies dealing with senior citizens, according to Leo Ware, chairman for the event conducted by the Area Agency on Aging.

The hearing is open to the public.

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY JUNE 24, 1983
You could be extremely lucky this coming year in making helpful connections where your career is concerned. These contacts will make your climb to the top much easier.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Working conditions will be more congenial today if you don't point the finger of blame at anyone in particular for things which have been neglected. Cancer predictions for the year ahead are now ready. Romance, career, luck, earnings, travel and much more are discussed. Send $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to state your zodiac sign. Send an additional $2 for the NEW Astro-Graph Matchmaker wheel and booklet. Reveals romantic compatibilities for all signs.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) A disagreement with a friend can be easily rectified today if you don't let your poise desert you when he or she behaves in ways you find annoying.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You have the potential to fulfill your personal ambitions today, but you must be careful not to be too self-serving. Strive to help others as well.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You can sway others to your way of thinking today if you play up to them, rather than down. Don't come on as being superior.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It's important that you are disciplined today in all of your financial dealings.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Others will be willing to share with you today, provided you show indications you'd share with them as well. If you're selfish, they'll follow suit.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) An important relationship might not run as smoothly as usual today. If friction enters the picture, be the one to douse it with forgiveness.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Important objectives are reachable today, but it may require a second effort to achieve them. Be prepared to go all-out if there is something you want.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Subdue a tendency today to contradict others if they are not in total agreement with you. Try to see values in their suggestions and ideas.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Once you decide upon a course of action today, pursue it with persistence. Indecision or self-imposed delays could lead to your undoing.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Persons who are loyal to you will help you all they can today careerwise, but you mustn't make unreasonable requests of them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A friend might want to discuss something today which he or she feels has hurt your relationship. Bringing it into the open will help.

Exercising Good For Back Sprain

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — A year-and-a-half ago I injured my back. My doctor stated that I had acute lumbosacral strain I had physical therapy and my condition improved. Then just three months ago I re-injured my back. Again I went for physical therapy. My doctor tells me that as long as I do my back exercises my condition will improve and I won't need a support.

Will my condition improve? What do I have to look forward to in the future? I am 41 years old.

DEAR READER — The term lumbosacral strain is used when a blow, fall or other force causes the joints of the lumbar (small of your back) and sacral (bottom of the spine) area to be forced into positions beyond their normal range of motion. In many ways it is analogous to a sprained ankle.

The joints in this area are more likely to be held in proper position if the muscles of the spine are strong and if the spine is properly supported by strong abdominal muscles. Think of your trunk as a solid cylinder. With taut abdominal muscles that compress the abdominal contents you actually brace your back and relieve the strain on it.

Sometimes a lumbosacral strain is a one-time acute affair. In other cases it becomes chronic. Having had two episodes it sounds like you must make an effort to maintain strong trunk muscles to protect your back. That is why your back exercises are so important.

As that issue points out, you must do the exercises regularly, meaning every day. If you stop doing your exercises you will again be susceptible to back problems.

This is quite different from the problems associated with acute back pain from a slipped or ruptured disc. In that case you should not exercise in the acute phase and only start when your doctor tells you that your condition has improved enough to permit you to begin an exercise program. Then it becomes important to do your exercises regularly too.

DEAR DR. LAMB — For the past year my fingernails don't seem to grow and are quite fragile. I questioned my doctor about this and he recommended taking gelatin. This did not help.

I am 77 and very active. I do have signs of osteoporosis, thinning of the bones in my upper back. Should I be taking calcium or vitamins to correct these two problems?

DEAR READER — Gelatin is not a complete protein and will not help fingernails at all if you are getting enough good quality protein in your regular diet, as from dairy products and meat. It's a waste of time.

You should have calcium to help prevent progression of your osteoporosis. You need 1.5 grams a day, the amount that is in a quart of fortified skim milk. Calcium deficiency can affect fingernails, too. If you are not on a good balanced diet, an all purpose daily vitamin pill such as One-A-Day would be advisable.

WIN AT BRIDGE

WIN AT BRIDGE

In succession. In the diagrammed hand Edgar Kaplan of the Root team was South. The three-club overcall was pre-emptive. When North doubled, confirming a sound opening bid, Kaplan was unwilling to simply settle for a penalty since his side was vulnerable. He bid three no-trump. West, mentally congratulating himself on his conservative second-seat pass, could not wait to double.

The ace of clubs was led and a club was continued, declarer discarding a heart from dummy. Since East had no entry after establishing his club winners, he led back a heart. Kaplan was now able to get to his hand with a diamond to finesse successfully against the king of spades and then run the diamonds for two overtricks.

The score of 1150 would be excellent under any circumstances. In fact, at the other table Bill Root opened the bidding with one diamond with the West hand and was quickly allowed to play one spade, two down, for minus 100. Of such good fortune and good judgment are championships made.

The team captained by Bill Root claimed an unusual achievement last March when they won the Vanderbilt Cup Team-of-Four National Championship. Their victory was noteworthy not only because they are only a four-man team but also because the Vanderbilt win was their second major national team victory
