Largest Star Discovered By Wisconsin Scientists?

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Three astronomers have discovered a star many times bigger than the sun — perhaps the most massive and luminous star known to mankind — in a companion galaxy of the Milky Way. The professors at the University of Wisconsin — Madison Monday announced the discovery of the "super massive" star in the Tarantula Nebula. They named it R136a and said it may release 150 million times as much energy as the sun.

Joseph P. Casinelli, John S. Mathis and Blair D. Savage announced the discovery at a winter meeting of the American Astronomical Society in Albuquerque, N.M. Casinelli said R136a has a mass 3,500 times that of the sun and a radius 120 times that of the sun. Its surface temperature is about 60,000 degrees Centigrade, 10 times that of the sun, he said.

He said it is losing atoms at the rate of one sun every 1,500 years — an estimated 100,000 times the rate of the sun, compared to the sun's lifetime of 10 billion years.

U.S. Resumes Salvador Aid

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (UPI) — Leftist guerrillas over-ran a Salvadoran provincial capital, trapping 800 government troops in the city's army garrison, and battled for control of two other provincial capitals in a drive to oust El Salvador's ruling junta, military sources said today.

In Washington, government officials said Tuesday the United States would resume $5 million in military aid to El Salvador and American military advisers would train Salvadoran troops.

Pope Gives Warning On Lust

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John Paul II said today people become "slaves of carnal lust" if they misuse human freedom "as an opportunity for the flesh."

The pope made the statement at his regular weekly audience, attended by 6,000 pilgrims and tourists in the Vatican's Paul VI auditorium. For the past 14 months he has been using these audiences to explain biblical teachings on sex and sin.

Kelly Lawyer Hopes To Discredit Witness

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A defense lawyer in former Rep. Richard Kelly's Abscam trial says he intends to show a key government witness conducted his own "scam" alongside the FBI undercover operation.

Defense lawyer Michael Dennis began efforts Tuesday to discredit the witness, Melvin Weinberg, by questioning an FBI agent who worked with Weinberg during the early stages of the now-famous FBI operation.

Stanley Weiss of Smithtown, N.Y., is on trial with Kelly and Eugene Cluso of Longwood, Fla., on charges of conspiring to take $250,000 in exchange for Kelly's promise to introduce private immigration legislation for fictitious Arab sheiks.

Kelly was videotaped on Jan. 8, 1980, pocketing $25,000 from Weinberg recovered $600 million in phony securities and received a bonus for his work, McCarthy said.

Dennis maintains Weinberg directed William Rosenberg — an unindicted co-conspirator who pleaded guilty to charges arising from the Kelly case — to manufacture the bogus documents, promising him a large commission in return.

"He (Weinberg) had an indentured servant, a slave, who would do anything for his $8 million," Dennis said outside the courtroom in reference to Rosenberg.

Dennis said will show Weinberg was pulling a "double scam" — participating in Abscam and directing others in the phony security scheme.

He is expected to question Weinberg later this week as well as other FBI agents involved in the Abscam operation.

Wanderer Makes Deputy's Job Easy

Rarely is collaring a suspected criminal as easy as it was early Wednesday morning for Seminole County Sheriff's Deputy Charles Sorenson.

Sorenson was patrolling Raymond Street near Longwood about 12:30 a.m. when he spotted a man walking aimlessly along the road. When he pulled over to ask the fellow for some identification, Robert F. Caldwell, 19, of Altosna, Pa., asked to be arrested.

A little later taken, Sorenson asked why and Caldwell told him he was wanted in Maryland for suspected gun. He was arrested on a prowling charge and lodged in the county jail pending action by Maryland authorities.

Why did Caldwell so willingly turn himself in? Because he was hungry and broke, Sorenson said. "Besides, it was too cold to sleep outside."

STORE ROBBED

Lake Mary police are investigating an armed robbery Friday evening of the Handy Way convenience store at 129 Country Club Road, across from the Lake Mary Elementary School.

Police Lt. David Higginbotham said that at about 8:20 p.m. Friday a man entered the store, carrying a rifle under his army jacket.

He ordered the clerk to place all the bills and the quarters from the cash register in a canvas bag.

The robber ordered the clerk to lay on the floor, warning her not to get up for 10 minutes or he would shoot her. He escaped with $61.97.

Police described the robber as black, 6 foot 1 inch tall, and about 160 pounds.

Higginbotham said a man matching the robber's description and a partner earlier had been casing the convenience store.

Shop and Go — only two blocks away, but that store was crowded with people. The clerk at Shop and Go remembered the man from the description.

"We have a couple good pieces of physical evidence we are working on," Higginbotham said, adding the robbery was the first in Lake Mary in five years and only the second in Lake Mary history. "We are sleeping up our security of these two stores," Higginbotham said.

DOMESTIC SHOOTING

A 32-year-old Sanford woman was in the county jail Tuesday charged with attempted murder in connection with a Friday night shooting at her home.

Frances Elizabeth Major was accused of shooting Major Lister, with whom she had been living for about three months, during a domestic argument. The incident occurred at about 10:45 p.m. at the pair's home at 127 Bethune Circle, Sanford.

Lawson was shot once in the lower back with a .22 caliber pistol and was listed in satisfactory condition Tuesday at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

MAN ALMOST HIT BY CAR

A 19-year-old man almost didn't reach his destination after unknown persons in a vehicle tried to run him over.

Vernon Swain, 2083 Ashland Blvd., Orlando, told Altamonte Springs police that while he was walking across the parking lot of the Little Dixie store, 997 E. State Road 438 Thursday, someone in a car turned into the lot and almost struck him.

Swain said he then walked across Longwood Avenue to the Hattaway Building and the vehicle followed him and attempted to hit him again.

Swain said he went into the Little Dixie store to call police. He said a passenger in the car yelled, "Go ahead and try to walk home."

The vehicle, described as a dark blue 1972 Pontiac Lemans,

ROBBERY

A thief robbed a 66-year-old Altamonte Springs man Wednesday, police say.

Charles Hooper, 602 Lake Orienta, was sitting in his car parked at Jefferson Ward, 104 E. Altamonte Drive, Altamonte Springs.

Hooper was getting change from his ash try when a man approached him and said "Give me your wallet," police say.

Hooper said he did not have a wallet. The man then showed him a blue steel revolver and said "I'll blow your ...head off."

The man also told Hooper to move over and get into his car. Hooper gave the man $40, officers say.

Hundreds Denied UCF Admission

By DIANE PETRYK Herald Staff Writer

In a "real bind" because of lack of funding, the University of Central Florida Tuesday froze admissions, closing the door on several hundred people who had been seeking admission for spring term.

UCF News Bureau Chief Bill Daum said only 19 students were admitted before the school officials acted to keep the university in compliance with an enrollment cap established by the Board of Regents.

The action didn't come sooner, he explained, because the officials expected the usual winter enrollment drop. The university typically experiences a drop of about 500 students in the winter term.

"This time that didn't happen," he said.

As a result, UCF President Trevor Colburn said there was not time to expect to attend.

"To them we can only say we are truly, truly sorry," he said.

Daum said a revision in minimum requirements for admission will not affect those already attending the university unless they flunk out.

The university has a current enrollment of 12,600, but that may have to be cut back to 11,750 if the Legislature approves the Board of Regents' "Priority 1" budget for the school. Daum said. The board's "Priority 2" budget would allow for about 350 more students, but that number will be insignificant compared to the numbers seeking admission, he said.

Daum said the state will begin working on the university budgets soon.

"Hopefully the university will find this thing out if they can get more funding from the legislature."

Equipment Training Service Leases Airport Space

The Sanford Airport Authority has the Superior Training Service as tenants again for the next three months.

Director of Aviation J.S. "Red" Cleveland said the firm will again be training persons in the operation of heavy equipment at the airport. The national firm is leasing office space and land area at the airport for the training session. The firm periodically leases space to the firm.

In other business, the authority has approved a lease of 468 square feet of additional office space for the Seminole Employment Economic Development Corp.

The purchase of a new car for the airport police at a cost of $925.52 through state contract was also approved.

The man then picked up the money and grabbed the car keys from out of Hooper's hand and fled.

Police say they found a hat and blue plaid shirt on the ground at the rear of the parking lot which Hooper said belonged to the man.

MAN CHARGED ON FOUR COUNTS

Ever have one of those days when nothing goes right? That was the situation for an Apopka man who was arrested and charged with trespassing and other charges as the night wore on.

John Young, 27, of 218 Rock Springs Road was given a trespass warning by Casselberry police officers Monday night after the manager of ABC Lounge, U.S. Highway 17-92, told officers Young was not allowed on the property.

After Young returned to the lounge, police arrested him and charged him with trespassing. After a routine search of Young, police say they found two bags of marijuana in Young's left boot.

After being taken to the police station, Young became upset and swung at officer Barry Braddy and struck him in the hand. He then struck officer J. J. Mulson in the mouth.

Young was finally charged with trespassing, possession of marijuana, battery on a law enforcement officer and resisting with violence.

Young was taken to the Seminole County Jail.

Longwood Loses Handy Way Store Lawsuit

By JANE CASSELLBERRY Herald Staff Writer

Circuit Court Judge Robert McGregor signed a court order Monday implementing his Dec. 22 ruling that the city of Longwood must approve the site plan for a controversial Handy Way store and issue an appropriate building permit.

The city now has 10 days in which to ask for a new hearing before the judge or 30 days to appeal the case, City Attorney Marvin Rooks told the commission Monday night.

In his order the judge stated that the city's site-plan review ordinance gives the commission "the opportunity to exercise arbitrary discrimination between citizens insofar as the approval of site plans and the granting of building permits concerned. Such an ordinance, without intelligible principles and exactness laid down for guidance of local officials in the performance of their duties, is invalid and unenforceable."

Legal papers were served on the city July 22 after a suit was filed by Samuel Bowman IV, Allen Keen and Miller Enterprises, Inc. to seek a court order to force the city to issue a permit for the store which they hoped to build on E.E. Williamson Road.

The commissioners had voted 4-1 to reject the site plan for the Handy Way on June 9 after a petition containing 460 names was submitted in objection to the store at the commercially zoned site. Residents from the area objected on the grounds that the store would increase traffic and cause a hazard to their children.

The residents demanded the commission administratively rezone the commercial property to residential and fight the suit filed to force the city to issue a building permit.

Rooks advised the commission that rezoning the property during litigation would probably be seen by the court as a capricious attempt to defeat the litigation and repeatedly gave the opinion that the city would probably lose if it decided to fight the case.

Because of this the commission hired an outside attorney, Harvey Alper, to defend the city in the case, after voting on Sept. 15 to fight it out in court.

In a Jan. 6 letter to the commission, Alper stated: "Notwithstanding our court loss, we continue to believe that it is the better view of the law that a city commission may validly be vested with a measure of discretion in the issuance of building permits. Judge McGregor is of the view that your ordinance vests 'unbridled' discretion in the commission. While we do not agree with this conclusion, we are of course bound by it."

"We do note, however, that the judge has not said you may not properly enjoy some measure of discretion in building permit issuance, provided such discretion is vested under an ordinance which established clear standards pursuant to which the commission acts."

Alper also advised the commission that the city's chances would probably be better on appeal than a rehearing.

Dolly Parton, Burt Reynolds Have Love Scenes In Movie

United Press International

DOLLY'S DOLLY: Dolly Parton might be playing the madam in the movie version of "The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas," but let me tell you darlin', she's not selling sex. The 35-year-old singer-actress admits she'll be doing some love scenes with Burt Reynolds in the flick, but it's just going to be a little huggin' and handholdin'.

"I feel I have more to show than my looks," Miss Parton told People Magazine. "I'll gain 20 pounds or lose them, so what? The important thing is that I'm happy within myself." She probably doesn't have to worry about gaining 20 pounds for awhile anyway. She says she always prays and fasts before making a major decision...it took her more than a year to decide to do Whorehouse.

Fonda Returns To Omaha

A HOMEcoming: Henry Fonda, 75, returned last weekend to the Omaha Community Playhouse — the stage he started his career on in 1926. Some 50 theater people, politicians, prominent citizens and just plain fans listened to him reminisce. Overall, said Fonda, "I really feel that I was a lucky boy to have grown up in Omaha." There were some bad times — at Central High School he was painfully self-conscious, partly because he was so short. But between high school and college he shot up to his present 6-foot-plus height.

Fonda's fifth wife Shariette and son Peter attended the affair along with Dorothy McGuire, another Omaha playhouse graduate. Jane Fonda was unable to attend but paid tribute to her father in two film clips.

Winter Springs To Study Paramedics

By BRITT SMITH Herald Staff Writer

It appears Winter Springs will get the paramedic program it has been talking about for several months, but it may be fall before a paramedic answers his first call.

At Tuesday night's city council meeting, councilmen, for the first time, formally acknowledged the public's desire for such a program as expressed Nov. 4 in a non-binding referendum.

"There was some question, however, as to just what to do next. Councilman Willie Arnold wanted the council to appoint a local man, Tom Flynn, as a volunteer project manager to study the issue and draw up specific recommendations as to how many paramedics, vehicles, and what type of equipment are needed, where they should be housed, how much it would all cost and who would pay for it.

Councilman Martin Treacher wanted an 11-man committee appointed to do that, and council member John Torcaso didn't want to do anything until he could get some input from two retired fire marshals living in the city.

What was finally agreed upon, at the urging of Mayor Troy Piland, was that City Manager Richard Rozansky and his staff undertake the paramedic study and be ready to make a detailed presentation to the council by the time the budget process begins in June.

The creation of any paramedic unit will probably not come about until fiscal year 1981-82, which begins Sept. 1.

Rozansky said some preliminary studies have already been made "and it appears we'll need seven, maybe eight, paramedics, two vehicles and some equipment, and we'll house them in the fire stations."

Price tag for the project is estimated at about $100,000 for the first year. Rozansky said much of that could probably be paid with state or federal grant money with the remainder possibly necessitating some sort of tax increase.

Also Tuesday, the council extended for four months the moratorium on strip joints, adult book stores, and X-rated theatres locating in the city that it had imposed in August.

The city is drafting a permanent ordinance to regulate such businesses, but because similar laws have been overturned in court or circumvented by those they are designed to regulate, "we are going very carefully, working with the county and other municipalities to come up with a good ordinance," Rozansky said.

It's not that the city is being overrun with strippers, dirty book stores and adult films, "but we don't want to have any. We don't want Orange County's problems to spill over onto us," he said.

Altamonte To Appeal Insurance Ruling

The Altamonte Springs City Commission decided Tuesday to appeal a trial judge's ruling against the city which favored the city's insurance company.

The ruling judge held that Northeastern Fire Insurance of Pennsylvania, the city's insurance company, does not have to pay the cost of defending a suit filed by Fredray, Inc., owner of Hotline bottle club, Altamonte Springs.

Fredray Inc. sued the city in 1979, saying it could not sell the establishment because of a city police detective who threatened to investigate the club.

In December, Seminole County Circuit Court Judge Robert McGregor ruled that the cost of defending a suit filed by Fredray, Inc. owner of Hotline bottle club, Altamonte Springs, will reverse his order.

The commission voted unanimously to appeal the case but stipulated the city attorney should not spend in any additional time on the appeal until the commission meets with him during a work session.

Fowler said the cost of the appeal is $75. If the city wins the appeal, all attorney fees would be paid by the insurance company.

For The Sake Of The Children

Most of the chatter about the 1980 census so far has dealt with the political implications of the shift of population from the Northeast to the Sun Belt and the West.

The number of one-parent families in our population has increased tenfold during the last decade. Ten years ago, one out of 10 families had only a single parent as a result of divorce, death or births outside of marriage.

The study covered 18,000 students in 26 elementary and high schools in 14 states, a cross-section ranging from inner-cities to small towns and rural areas.

Thirty percent of children from two-parent families were ranked as high achievers, compared to 17 percent of those from one-parent families.

Further, children from one-parent families were absent more often than those from two-parent families and were more likely to be late to school, truant or in disciplinary trouble.

These findings are a challenge to educators, whose approach to teaching may be based on false assumptions about the degree of support and encouragement children are receiving at home.

Psychologists will argue that the one-parent family should not be viewed with blanket disapproval — that failing marriages held together for the sake of the children "can do more harm than good."

True, but there is no denying that the sexual revolution, more liberal attitudes toward divorce, and other changes in moral and social attitudes affecting the family can handicap a child in school and on into adult life.

BERRY'S WORLD

"I got through the holiday stress OK. Now I'm back to regular, everyday stress."

Around The Clock My Kind Of Town, Beijing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Try as I might, I find it nearly impossible to follow the Chinese power struggle between Hua Guofeng and Deng Xiaoping.

Maybe it's because I knew them both when. At any rate, I can remember when Deng Xiaoping used to be Teng Hsiao-ping.

That's when the Peking hierarchy gets all muddled in my mind and I lose track of who's winning.

The identity crisis started a couple of years ago when the United States adopted a new system for spelling Chinese names.

Somebody said the new system is more phonetically accurate. Not to me it isn't. To me, the switchover merely involved taking one unpronounceable grouping of letters and replacing it with another unpronounceable grouping of letters.

While it may be true that "Deng" sounds more like "Dung" than "Teng" does, I am at a loss to see how "Xiao" is any sort of improvement over "Hsiao."

It is nearly impossible for an American to optically traverse either Xiao or Hsiao without one eye turning inward.

Hsiao-ping at least had the advantage of pronunciation. I, for one, stand ready to demand that in the English translation of any Chinese name ending in "ping," the "ping" must be preceded by a hyphen.

Thus Deng's other name would be spelled Xio-ping. Which would help a little. But not much.

Even with a hyphen, it is difficult to imagine how a syllable that starts with "X" is supposed to sound.

The upshot is that Deng Xiaoping is one person to me when I see his name in print and another person when I hear his name mentioned in the television news.

If someone named Teng Hsiao-ping had been overthrown in a power struggle with someone named Deng Xiaoping, I could have shrugged it off as just one of the breaks of the game.

But having to tackle that conglomeration of vowels with the knowledge that it actually is the same guy is demoralizing, to say the least.

The Chinese capital, formerly known as Peking, and before that as Yenching, is, thank God, still commonly spelled as Peking, rather than Beijing, the authorized revised spelling.

In a way it's a pity the city isn't still called Chi, its original Anglicized name.

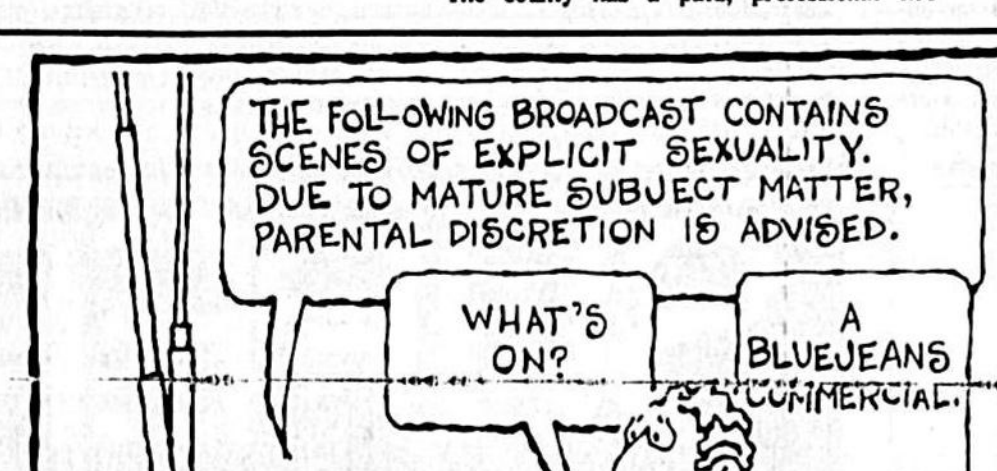

Chi also serves as an abbreviation for Chicago, but the Chinese got their first Chi was a Chinese city name some 2,000 years ago, when antedates even Mayor Daley's first term.

If Peking were spelled Chi, some counter-revolutionary lyricist could have written a song hailing it as "the town that the Gang of Four could not close down."

It might not make the Top 40 but at least it would be trying to adjust to Beijing.

It also serves as an abbreviation for Chicago, but the Chinese got their first Chi was a Chinese city name some 2,000 years ago, when antedates even Mayor Daley's first term.

Lake Mary is trying to convince residents of The Crossings that they should get their area annexed to the city. But at least one Crossing resident isn't buying their arguments.

Gen. Haig Will Find The Same

The times were troubled. Morale in the armed forces was at a dangerous low. The enemy was not merely at the gates but inside. It was that pivotal year in American history, 1781.

It was also the year the Continental Congress established, on Jan. 10, a Department of Foreign Affairs, forerunner of today's Department of State which this year is marking its 200th anniversary.

Actually, the infant United States had been diplomatically active even before that, with the Committee of Secret Correspondence headed by Benjamin Franklin.

But with the establishment of the department, the United States was officially in the diplomatic business to start, although that business was a bit slow at first.

There's nothing new: Haig at State, with Nixon and Kissinger at his elbow. Caspar Weinberger at the Pentagon is a tough cookie. They will be joined by a revived C.I.A. under William Casey.

Much of the press has been reassuring itself and its readers that the Cabinet is "not ideological," that it is "pragmatic," that, in short, it won't rock the boat.

These reactions strike me as superficial. I predict that this administration will surprise us, both at home and abroad, and that we will see in very short order a sharp break with the main themes of the Carter administration.

In any such group, one or more individuals assert themselves and seize the policy initiative. Though Cabinet members are theoretically equals, some turn out to be more equal than others.

The nomination of Alexander Haig is especially encouraging, and he will be one of the leaders in this administration.

Haig signaled a non-nonsense approach to administration by abruptly dismissing the leaky transition team. Haig is no Cyrus Vance, but a man of power and decision. And one of the most interesting features of his tenure will be the unofficial roles to be played by Henry Kissinger and Richard Nixon.

Haig is very close to both men; he has worked with both in the past. Nixon lobbied strongly for Haig's nomination; and Haig has been in close touch with both.

Those who have not followed Kissinger and Nixon closely may not realize that both men have changed a great deal since they took office in 1969. Both are much less establishmentarian than they were then.

In his national security advisor post, Richard Allen says that he plans to return that job to its former coordinating function and not attempt to make it a rival of the Secretary of State. But Allen is an informed hard-liner, and ought to add his weight to the policies of Haig. I foresee little disharmony there.

Other Cabinet members may surprise us with their ability and force; this remains to be seen. But what we do have before us is a bright, self-confident, and tough-minded team that intends to turn things around.

For me, there were two serious disappointments. I would have liked to see two Texans, Ann Armstrong and John Connally, in this administration.

Intelligence agency seems doubtful. What appears more likely is that Nasry is the victim not so much of circumstances as of his own delusions of grandeur.

Glib and gregarious, Nasry has been described variously as a hustler, braggart, loving husband and father. In addition to his self-proclaimed ties to the Afghan rebels and his suspected connection with the CIA, Nasry is rumored to be mixed up with the Soviet secret police and the Muslim Brotherhood.

Nasry's opportunism got him some dubious publicity over the past few years when he promoted a New York necktie salesman, Hassan Durrani, as the pretender to the vacant throne of Afghanistan. After I exposed the scheme, Nasry disavowed the pumped-up pretender.

Whatever Nasry is — con man, spy or hero — this much is certain: He is a prisoner of the Iranian, Iranian kept bound hand and foot and blindfolded, held incommunicado despite requests from the Swiss Embassy in Tehran to visit him. One more thing: he is also an American citizen.

Federal Judge Schedules 2 Hearings In Busing Case

ALEXANDRIA, La. (UPI) — A federal judge bailing a state judge in a desegregation case today reconsidered an order prohibiting state troopers from escorting three girls to school — but the real showdown will be at a contempt hearing Thursday.

Federal Judge Nauman Scott scheduled a hearing today on whether to make permanent his temporary restraining order barring state police and other law enforcement officers from any role in the dispute.

Troopers last week escorted the three white girls to all-white Buckeye High School on the orders of state judge Richard Lee in defiance of Scott's desegregation plan. When Scott enjoined the troopers from further action, Lee himself took the girls to their classes.

The state judge was ordered to appear for a contempt-of-court hearing Thursday before Scott, who has threatened him with fines up to $1,000 a day.

The girls' parents and legal counsel, Buckeye Principal Charles Waites, Rapides Parish public school Superintendent Allen Nichols and Constable Newton Paul Jr. face the threat of $500-a-day fines in Thursday's hearing.

CHICAGO (UPI) — A criminal court judge says he decided to drop charges against Bernard Dohm, a low-profile helper in the Oval Office, but such a prosecution would be a first for Dohm.

One week before being sworn in as vice president, Bush said in an interview with United Press International he is comfortable in his relationship with his new boss — and doesn't think he will sit on the shelf as some of his predecessors have.

While specifics are yet uncertain, Bush said Reagan has talked to him about assignments in the areas of foreign policy, intelligence and congressional liaison in addition to his constitutional job of presiding over the Senate.

Bush also said he hopes to help Reagan draft a comprehensive economic program he is confident the new administration will bring forth in its first 100 days in response to "the mandate the people clearly expressed on election day."

"I want to get to work," Bush said. "I want to be a useful, informed, active, substantive vice president."

The former U.N. ambassador and liaison to China described his new role as that of a low-key presidential helper who will stay out of the limelight.

"I want to be helpful to the president," he said. "And that's the best and really only thing to do."

What that means, he said, is not blowing your own horn. In an office around the corner from Blair House, where Reagan has stayed when in Washington, Bush said he will be surrounded by "yes people."

"There is no real problem ... we've been on the same wave length," he said. "That's a tribute to Gov. Reagan, in the way he reached out to me."

Have there been differences? "Sure, just as there will be in the future. The reason I think I have the confidence of the president is that he's not reading about them (the differences) in the UPI. I think it's the kind of thing where a good confidential relationship is one in which you speak up and make differences, but the two people there don't think one or the other is going to run out and make it public."

"He's very easy to do that with," Bush said. "He's invited that. He's said, 'I want differences of opinion.' There is public misconception of Ronald Reagan. He's got strong convictions. But he is not afraid of ideas, nor does he want to be surrounded by 'yes people.'"

Bush said he can learn a lot from the way his predecessor handled the job. "Vice President Mondale set a standard that none other has achieved," he said. "I'd like to see certain ingredients of his vice presidency be part of what I try to do."

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — A new study showing a sharp decrease in cigarette smoking among young Americans offers encouraging signs for the future of the nation's health.

University of Michigan researchers say. Based on evidence gathered in exhaustive studies of American high-school students, scientists at the university's Institute for Social Research said Tuesday it appears cigarette use by young people has peaked.

The conclusions, in a study released today, come from an annual nationwide survey of 17,000 high-school seniors conducted by the institute since 1975.

The studies show the number of seniors who report they smoke daily declined by more than a fourth in the past three years — from 29 percent in 1977 to 21 percent in 1980.

The decline is seen among students in both sexes, and the study, conducted by Dr. Lloyd Johnston, Jerald Bachman and Patrick O'Malley.

Although there's nothing like a hot bath to bath away the troubles (as well as the dirt) of the day, hot baths may be harmful for some. A recent report, for example, indicates that women in the first three months of pregnancy should not soak in water hotter than 102-degrees F. That much heat, at that stage of pregnancy, is believed to cause some types of birth defects. Interestingly, sauna baths, during pregnancy, have not shown any negative effects and may not be harmful. Persons with heart conditions and those who are taking medications which can produce drowsiness (tranquilizers, anti-anxiety drugs, etc.) should also avoid prolonged soaking in hot water, saunas, baths, hot tubs or whirlpools, to avoid the possibility of fainting or falling asleep.

Reagan Says Goodbye LA, Hello World

10-Year-Old Ready To Go To Work

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Goodbye palm trees. Hello roses and ice and world problems.

President-elect Ronald Reagan and his wife Nancy are ready for a change in life style and an Air Force plane to fly them in presidential style today to Washington.

Their last day in Los Angeles was filled with nostalgia and a bipartisan send-off from officials who declared Tuesday Ronald Reagan Day.

Reagan vowing his "love affair" with California will ensure his return.

"Knowing the problems of California, I can foresee it's going to be necessary for Air Force One to come West frequently," he told 400 state and local officials at the City Council chamber leaders.

"Sometimes I won't even pretend it's business," he said. "The Illinois native came to California almost 45 years ago seeking stardom in the nation's movie capital."

"I found California is an excellent place to live," he said. "I found California is an excellent place to live," he said. "I found California is an excellent place to live," he said.

Reagan promised to never make policy on the basis of politics and reiterated his pledge to shift more authority from the federal level to state and local governments.

Finally, he emotionally stated his optimism for the United States and its people.

"There isn't anything the people of this country can't do if they're unleashed and given the opportunity to do it," he said.

"If we realize what it is this society has built, we realize we have a rendezvous with destiny."

Transportation Department Smells Scandal Brewing

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Information put together from the Department of Transportation's computer system showed a difference in cost of repairing road shoulders ranging from $28.79 an acre in South Miami to $10,995 an acre in Orlando.

Transportation Secretary Bill Rose, describing the information as "shocking," ordered a wide-scale investigation Tuesday to pinpoint responsibility and transferred the $85 million a year road repair program from the Road Operations Division headed by veteran Jay Brown to the office of state Transportation Engineer Bill Ekey.

Rose hopes to get a fix on the situation within six weeks. He has no evidence of criminal misconduct, he said, but he "surfaces hell in law enforcement investigations."

At the very best, he says, there has been gross mismanagement; at the worst, road equipment, materials and labor have been diverted to private use.

Lawmakers Hear 'Enforcer'

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — A Jacksonville lawmaker says he and two other legislators heard inmate Johnny Pert describe how he was an enforcer for prison officials but did not inform the local state attorney out of fear nothing would be done.

Instead, Rep. Andy Johnson said Tuesday, he and the two other legislators decided to let the federal government handle the investigation.

Johnson said he, Rep. Arnet Girardeau and another House member he would not identify interviewed Pert, then a Union Correctional Institution inmate, last summer about his claim that he had committed violence on demand in return for favors from prison officials.

"Each of us felt personally convinced he was telling the truth," Johnson said in an interview.

Johnson said the three lawmakers decided against relaying the charges to State Attorney Eugene Whit-worth in fear that Pert's life would be jeopardized if prison officials learned of a probe while he was still in their custody.

Ships Too Far To Right

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — A Marine Board of Investigation has ruled the Coast Guard buoy tender Blackhorn and the tanker Capricorn were not far enough to the right on their respective side of the shipping channel when they collided last Jan. 28, killing 23 Guardsmen.

The Coast Guard report also said, however, that their investigation raised the question of where the center line is when a channel widens into a turn.

The report was based on the board's 12-weeks of hearings into the collision and was concurred with by Adm. J.B. Hayes and released Tuesday.

Rear Adm. Norman Venke, chairman of the investigative board, scheduled a news conference in Tampa today to discuss the results of the investigation into the Coast Guard's worst peacetime disaster.

Epilepsy Computer Designed

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Scientists at the University of Florida have designed a portable mini-computer that would allow physicians to monitor the effects of seizures on epileptic patients.

Smith said continuous, 24-hour-a-day surveillance of the patient will be possible with the new computer.

The unit would be about the size of a small cassette recorder, run on a low-power battery and be worn belt-like around the patient's waist.

Asians Ready To Tar Cigarette Companies

HONG KONG (UPI)—Are American and British tobacco companies peddling stronger cigarettes to unsuspecting Asians than to consumers at home?

Or did well-meaning Hong Kong consumer agency test cigarettes using questionable techniques?

The controversy between the Consumer Council of Hong Kong and the tobacco industry broke out in December with the release of the test findings.

The study indicated that of 20 cigarette types checked, nearly all were higher in tar and nicotine than the same brands sold in the United States and Britain, the council said.

The Hong Kong samples had 73 percent tar and 56 percent higher nicotine content than the average of all U.S. cigarettes, according to a council report.

The results were based on testing by the government sponsored National Cancer Institute based in Washington, D.C. About 100 samples of each brand were purchased at random early in 1980 in Hong Kong and analyzed using methods employed by the U.S. Federal Trade Commission, the council said.

Among the cigarettes tested were Marlboro, Kent, Viceroy, Winston, Benson and Hedges and Rothmans, said Kenneth So, council spokesman.

"We feel they (tobacco companies) are practicing a double standard, which is to the detriment of the people of Hong Kong," So said.

The council said the Consumers' Association of Singapore noted in an October report that cigarette manufacturers were making lower tar and nicotine products for developed countries than for developing nations.

The cigarette industry disputed the council findings. Philip Morris, manufacturer of Marlboro and several other leading brands, called the results "incorrect and misleading."

"There's something wrong with the testing techniques," a company spokesman said.

"Marlboro is the same product (in Hong Kong) that it is in the U.S."

The spokesman said discrepancies in tar readings might be explained by the testing technique.

"You can measure tar wet or dry," he said. "The FTC measures dry tar. We think that's what the difference is, but we can't prove it. Marlboro's wet tar is approximately equal to the figures they (the council) used."

The council rejected that argument, saying the testing was strictly in accord with FTC standards.

"We stand by our results," So said.

The council has urged the Hong Kong government to buy cigarette testing apparatus and begin regular checks of cigarettes sold in the colony.

Because of extensive promotion by tobacco companies, which includes television advertising, consumers in Hong Kong "have still not been sufficiently educated to be aware of the dangers of cigarette smoking," So said.

Consumer demand for stronger cigarettes is one possible reason for the higher tar and nicotine levels in Hong Kong, So said.

But the Philip Morris spokesman said that was not true of Hong Kong. He did say his company produces higher tar and nicotine cigarettes for Pakistan and India under brand names like Red and White, Ke, Cavendar, and Four Square.

"There have been attempts at lower tar brands in these markets, but as yet these have been less than successful," he said.

The cigarette industry is a growth market in Asia due partly to the increasing population. Another factor is that Asians have been switching from home-rolled to manufactured cigarettes.

By contrast, in the United States the rate of growth of cigarette smoking is on the decline, an industry source said, and for years tobacco companies have been diversifying.

Sanford Schedules Special Workshop On Salary Study

The Sanford City Commission will hold a workshop session at 9 a.m. Thursday to thrash out differences over a state Department of Community Affairs-conducted salary study for city employees.

More than $100,000 in federal revenue sharing funds has been set aside to implement the study and give pay raises to city employees to bring their salaries in line with those paid by other governmental units.

Mayor Lee P. Moore was the first to question the study. He asked City Manager Warren Knowles to prepare in writing additional information showing the salaries of individual positions prior to a 9 percent cost of living pay adjustment granted Oct. 1.

Moore also asked for the salaries by position after Oct. 1 and the salaries as recommended in the new study. When the salary increases are approved they will be retroactive to Jan. 1.

The 10-pages of information prepared by Knowles was submitted to the commission Monday night. The report shows that the Community Affairs plan would give no salary increases to 104 of the city's 269 employees.

Those positions which would not receive increases include: clerical assistants; the assistant finance director and computer manager; licensing official; building inspector; housing and zoning inspector; chief building inspector; the city engineer; the police chief and all members of the police department and the fire chief and all members of that department.

At the same time the public works director's salary range would be increased by $3,500 and the utility plant supervisor's salary would be increased by $3,200, from $14,813 to $18,043. The city manager's salary is not included in the study.

Moore said for the past several years city commissioners as a body have increased salaries of some employees while not increasing others. The affect has been that salaries "have become bunched together."

Knowles explained that there has not been enough divergence between the salaries of laborers and supervisors to the point that employees no longer wish to be promoted.

Knowles said field supervisors are "hurting" because they are receiving about 30 percent less than in wages than they could receive elsewhere for the same jobs.

He added that he had no input into the study and has not made any recommendations about the study.

First Of 4 Fire Aides Takes Post In Sanford

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

It will be a year before a new assistant fire chief is named in Sanford to replace William C. Gailey, who was promoted to fire chief.

In the meantime, four of the fire department's lieutenants will serve as acting assistant chief on a three-month rotating basis.

The first of the four to assume the acting post for a three-month period is Tom Hickson. The others who will serve in the acting position are Red Evans, Billy Lee and Jim Poovey.

Hickson said Chief Gailey will pick a permanent assistant at the end of the year.

Hickson was certified by the city's civil service board as eligible for the post. The other three lieutenants have been conditionally certified by the civil service board. The condition is that they obtain their associate degree.

In other business Monday night, the city commission: — Named Mayor Lee P. Moore as liaison commissioner to the police department.

— Agreed to recommend to the county commission that Commissioner Edna Keith be appointed to the Seminole Community Action Board of Directors. Under Community Action's new bylaws the county commission must appoint members to that board.

— Appointed Commissioner Milton Smith to the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council project review committee.

— Heard a report from City Manager Warren Knowles that the city has received $86,266 in federal revenue sharing funds for the first quarter of the fiscal year. The city expects to receive $34,223 from that source in the 1981 fiscal year.

— Gave 90-day extension to the owners of nine condemned properties. The time extensions are to give the owners time to bring their properties into compliance with the city's minimum housing code.

— Named four city banks — Flagship Bank of Seminole, State Bank of Forest City, Sanford branch; Atlantic Bank of Seminole and Tropical Bank of Seminole — as eligible to submit proposals on interest rates for the city's disposition of funds during the year. All four banks asked to be considered.

— Passed on first reading ordinances rezoning part of Hidden Lake planned unit development to apartment zoning and general commercial as requested by Don Bales.

— Passed on first reading an ordinance rezoning part of Hidden Lake planned unit development for single-family home district, apartment district and general commercial as requested by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Goodman.

— Adopted on final reading an ordinance annexing the Lena property, east of and abutting South Sanford Avenue—between E. 29th Street and Airport boulevard.

— Adopted on final reading the ordinance rezoning part of Americana — Carriage Cove from planned unit development to apartment zoning and general commercial district.

— Denied a request from Gary and Deborah L. Cole for city water on their 2251 Celery Ave. property because the property is outside the city limits.

— Denied a petition for annexation of lot 3 on the south side of North Street east of Sumnerline Avenue because of the cost of providing water and sewer service. Cost has been estimated at $18,000.

— Awarded a prize of $25 to Marilyn Kempnich for her suggestion that a concrete sidewalk be installed to the city hall entrance on the north side to protect the lawn.

— Approved an agreement prepared by Knowles for the placing of advertising benches in the city. The commission authorized Knowles to seek bids for the benches based on the agreement. The agreement requires interested bench companies to place 173 benches at various spots in the city within a six month period.

Grace Sets Pace With 22 Points

Tribe Tramples Apopka

APOPKA — When informed his team shot a horrendous 7-of-31 from the floor in the first half, Apopka Coach Butch Helms reasoned he could throw cards at the basket and make more than that.

Helms turned out to be correct as the Blue Darters collapsed like a house of cards in the third quarter for an easy 53-32 Seminole victory.

Coach Tom Payne's Seminole JV's held off a determined Apopka stretch drive to nip the young Darters 58-61. The victory improved the Tribe's record to 4-4.

Torie Hendricks, who tallied 17 points for Seminole, converted a free throw with 39 seconds left to give Sanford a 63-61 edge. Then Calvin "Ki Ki" Bryant garnered a baseline jumper with 4 ticks left to ensure the win.

Bryant led all scorers with 23 points. "I thought our press looked pretty good in the third quarter when they fell apart," Coach Bill Payne commented. "I was really impressed with Richard Grey tonight."

"Quick Richard" was the catalyst on the Tribe press, scurrying everywhere, gathering loose balls or forcing back passes which teammate Lenny Sutton picked off for five steals.

The victory — Seminole's sixth in succession — leveled the yearly log in two areas: The Tribe is 8-4 on the season and 3-1 in the Five Star conference. Apopka fell to 4-9 and 0-5.

Apopka came out firing (4-20) and pressing man to man all over the court. The Tribe countered by going down low to 67 Steve Grace for several easy buckets. Grace paced Sanford with 22 points and 10 rebounds.

"That's our special offense," informed forward Clarence Sippo, who made life a hand of aces for Grace with three free assists. "My man was switching on the pick, so I just gave him the ball."

Apopka drew as close as they would get on a basket by James Butler to make it 13-0 early in period two. Grace, however, hit two free throws, sharpshooter Mike Gaudreau popped one from long range and when Grace crammed home one of Gaudreau's air

Sanford's "Quick Richard" Grey skies for two points in Seminole thrashing of Apopka 53-32.

Fast Acting Apopka Principal Handles Embarrassing Problem

In this day of indecision and apathy it's nice to meet someone like Apopka Principal Larry Payne.

Payne, who replaced the legendary Roger Williams at Apopka, was confronted by an ugly incident concerning his school Monday evening.

During a heated basketball game between Seminole and Apopka, two Orlando youth entered the game at halftime. The youths were visiting cousins who attended Apopka according to Payne.

"I had an uneasy feeling when they entered the gym," Payne said in an interview with this reporter Tuesday afternoon. "I just had a feeling there would be trouble."

And trouble there was. Plenty of it.

After Seminole lost a controversial 45-43 decision, Cheryl Klein's squad filed into the dressing room, where their progress was impeded by some youths.

After a delay, they entered. "I wasn't aware of any trouble after the game in the gym, but a police officer told me he ran two youths off," said Payne.

As it turns out, the officer was Ron Payne, an Orange County Deputy and brother to Seminole Coach Bill Payne. Now there's an ironic twist to this scenario.

Sam Cook Sports Editor

"We had the officer escort them out to their van and there were no problems," said Payne.

The problem surfaced later at a McDonald's restaurant where Klein and her team stopped to eat. While waiting, chasing their food they again ran into the two youths and some members of the Blue Darter team.

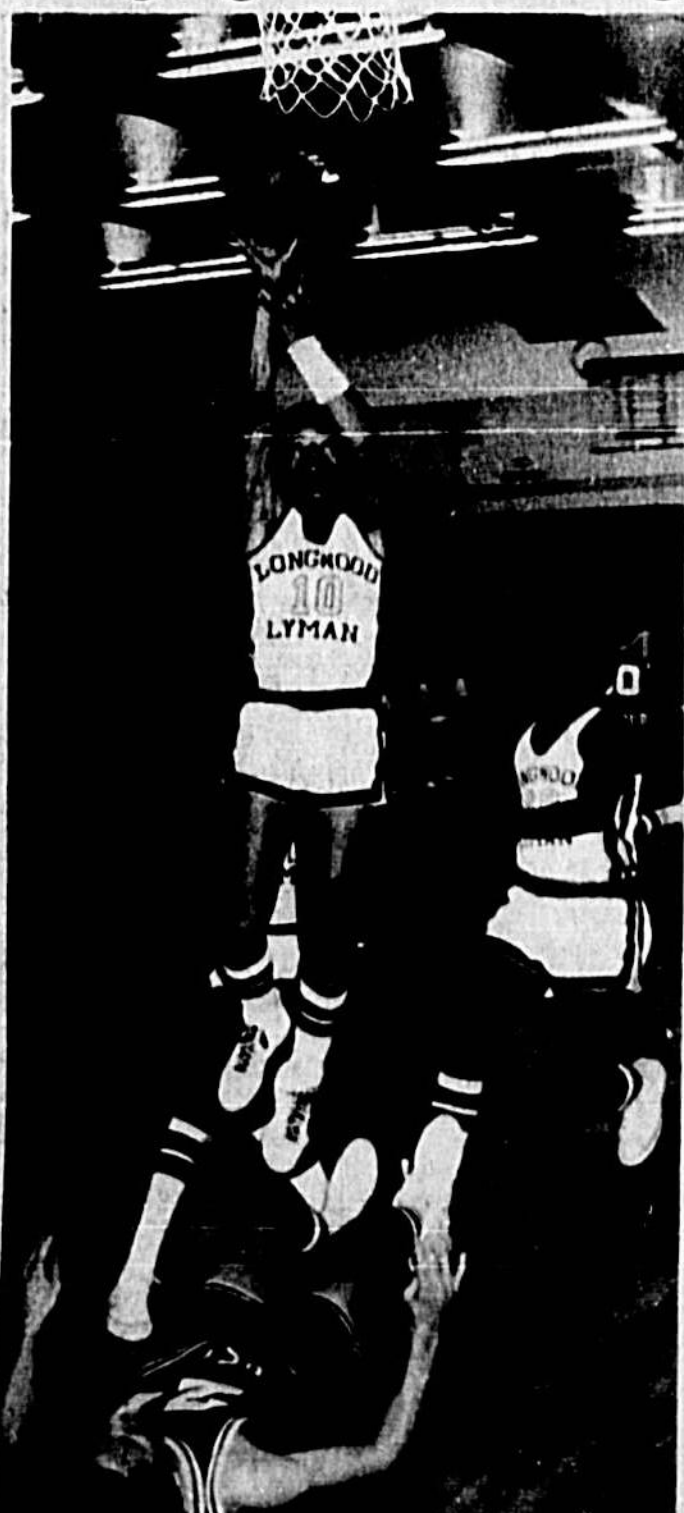

"We have a McDonald's and a Burger King in Apopka," pointed out Payne. "I stopped at the Burger King to see if they were there."

"I didn't see anyone, but I might not have recognized the van even if I was at the right place," he replied candidly.

Whether Payne could by chance have found the right restaurant or not was a chance happening. The important thing was he realized the possible danger and took steps to prevent it.

Meanwhile, at the McDonald's, Klein, sensing the danger, had her girls attempt to board the van. Enroute, one of the

Dogfight: Bulldogs Tame 'Hounds

By BENTON WOOD Herald Sports Writer

LONGWOOD — Tom Lawrence's Lyman roundball squad faced a dilemma at home Tuesday evening. Problem number one was a pesky DeLand defense. The second problem was Fred Hinson.

The Bulldogs used a man-to-man and half court trap defense in forcing 30 Greyhound turnovers, while the pesky 6'3" Hinson tossed in 20 points as DeLand handed Lyman its second consecutive conference loss in a 74-57 rout.

"Until we changed defenses, it was a heck of a ballgame," said winning coach Art Parisi. The Bulldogs are 8-3 and 5-2 in the Five-Star conference. "But I don't think they were ready for our man defense and I think it threw them off balance a little bit."

Despite 13 first half turnovers, Lyman trailed by just 33-32 at intermission.

The Greyhounds ran out of the starting blocks in the second and got three layups in the first 50 seconds for a 38-33 lead. But then Parisi called a timeout and switched into a man defense.

The strategy worked as DeLand finally caught Lyman at the 4:00 mark of the third quarter on a basket by Hinson. The Bulldogs never trailed again.

"I don't know what happened," Lawrence moaned. "We just weren't aggressive."

Hinson raced for two baskets within a 30 second span as DeLand went up 50-41 with 3:10 in the third period.

Lyman allied the Bulldog edge to five points with eight minutes left, but Hinson took charge of a DeLand delay offense scoring six of the Bulldogs' first seven points in the fourth period for a 59-49 advantage with 5:48 on the clock.

After a pair of charity losses by Hound guard Antoine Lemon, DeLand ran off five straight points for a 64-51 lead. Lyman was never closer than 11 points the rest of the way slipping to 11-4 on the year and 5-2 in the Five-Star conference.

Parisi praised Hinson's effort. "He's the best guard in the state. I haven't seen anybody better. I'll put him up man to man against any guard in the state."

Lawrence countered, "We tried a box and one (on Hinson) in the second half and then we got out rebounded in it. I don't know how we did that."

For the evening DeLand controlled the boards 39-29 with center John Ramsey grabbing 10 with his 13 points while Hinson yanked down nine rebounds.

Forward Neal Gillis led the Hounds with 17 points while Hinson had 14 and center Eric French with 11. But DeLand's defense forced Lyman to hit just 24 of 58 shots from the floor or 41 percent.

"We're just not playing real well right now," Lawrence complained. "We haven't played well the last week. We're gonna have to play a lot better than that if we're going to win anymore."

In the first game DeLand's Lady Bulldogs whipped Lyman 58-41.

Scott, Borrowed Jersey, Brightman Head Hawk Win

DAYTONA BEACH — Reserve David Dunn didn't score a point here Tuesday night, but by donating his uniform to stellar guard Bruce Brightman, Dunn may have saved the day.

Senior center Chuck Scott teamed with Brightman, Mark Layton and Tim O'Shaughnessy as the Silver Hawks placed four players in double figures to tip Mainland 69-63 in Five Star conference basketball action. Howells' record is improving at 6-4.

Scott, a fine football player eyed by Tennessee and Memphis State, turned in a sterling all around performance.

The 6-2 senior scored 17 points, collected 11 rebounds and kicked off four steals. "I guess playing football helped him," laughed Robinson. "He looked like a free safety picking off all those passes."

The key, however, may have been Dunn's Salvation Army present to Brightman, who brought his home uniform to this road game. "David Dunn told me, 'he would rather win than play,'" Robinson said about the charitable effort.

The inserted layup through the first period, Brightman turned in his usual good floor game as the Silver Hawks bolted to a 28-14 advantage.

Whereas, Brightman's ballhandling was vintage Bruce, the blond haired senior shot like a reserve. He converted only 5-of-16 field goals and missed seven layups while scoring 14 points.

"I think the kids relaxed a little bit after we got the big lead," said Robinson.

O'Shaughnessy, who finished with 15 points and the 6-2 Layton who was high man with 18, carried the Hawks through the rough going for the six-point win.

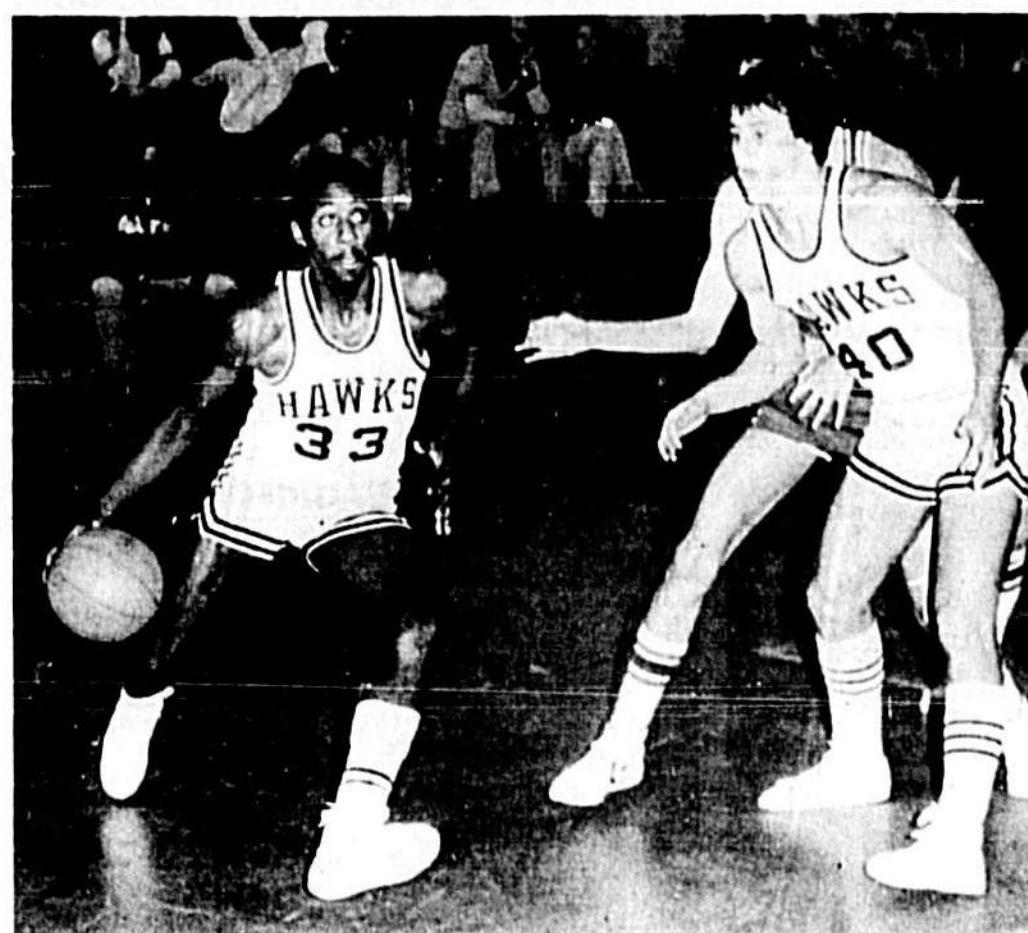

Mainland closed within 55-52 with three minutes left in the game, but Scott and Layton hit free throws and baskets, while Brightman turned a steal into a layup to salt away the victory.

"We played a superb first quarter and we got some layups at the end against their press to hold on," Robinson, a former SCC standout said in summary.

Brantley's Tom Moths, a 6-4 center, threw in 22 points, but was the only Patriot in double figures. Brantley dropped to 4-1 over all and 2-4 in the Five Star.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Sanford Soccer Club Needs Two Coaches For Spring '81

Sanford's Soccer Club is in need. The popular Sanford organization needs two coaches for the 1981 spring season.

The openings are for the age eight and under league and the age 12 and under league. "The eight and under deals with players of one year's experience or none," said club president Clark Adams.

The 12 and under consists predominantly of 10 and 11 year olds. "We can teach anybody how to coach soccer," continued Adams. "We just need the people to do it."

Games are played on Saturdays. The team usually practices for an hour or an hour and one-half two times a week. Interested parties may contact Adams at 323-8999 or Coaches/Development Committee chairperson Rachael Potts at 322-4470.

The season will open March 7 and run for 13 weeks.

Twins Tab SCC's Kutsukos

Pete Kutsukos, a righthanded pitcher from Port Orange-Spruce Creek, was tabbed in the first round of baseball's annual winter draft.

Kutsukos, who is currently training with the Seminole Community College Raiders, was the 12th player selected.

The flame throwing righthander indicated that if the money was sufficient he would sign with the Minnesota organization.

Five Points Signups Thursday

Seminole baseball and softball will have its registration for the 1981 season Thursday, Jan. 15, at 8 p.m. and Saturday, Jan. 17 at 10 a.m. at the Five Points Complex on Route 419.

Any boy from age 7-16 is eligible to compete in baseball. A softball program for girls aged 7-18 is also offered.

Each boy and girl must bring a birth certificate and a registration fee. The fee for girls is $25. The boys ages 7-10 fee is $25, while ages 11-16 is $30.

The maximum family fee for two or more participants is $55.

Crooms Looks For 10th Win

The Crooms Panthers, winners of three in a row, play Osceola-Kissimmee at home tonight at 8:30 p.m. Crooms sports an impressive 9-2 record with both losses coming to powerful Ocala Volquards.

The Panthers starting lineup consists of forwards William Wynn and Daryl Collins, guards Steve Grey and Steve Alexander along with 6-2 Willie Mitchell at the pivot.

Alexander leads in scoring, while Grey heads the assist list and Mitchell paces the rebounders. Bruce Franklin and Tom Sully are the key reserves.

DePaul's Aguirre Hits 36

Mark Aguirre passed a famous DePaul alumna on the Blue Demons' all-time scoring list Tuesday night, but it didn't mean very much to him.

"I don't know anything about stats," said Aguirre, who shot 15-of-21 from the field to score 36 points and lead third-ranked DePaul to a 84-67 victory over St. Louis University. The performance boosted his DePaul career total to 1,876 points, ahead of the 1,870 scored by George Milkan, who went on to a prolific career with the Minneapolis Lakers of the NBA.

Dave Corzine, who scored 1,896, is No. 1 on the all-time DePaul list.

Aguirre, who had seven assists, also wasn't concerned about whether his teammates should be looking for him to score more points, saying, "I'm not sure about whether they'll start going to me more, but I'll do whatever the coach wants me to do to win."

Cribbs AFC's Best Rookie

NEW YORK (UPI) — Joe Cribbs, Buffalo's surprising running back who helped spark the Bills to their first playoff berth in six years, today was named UPI's AFC Rookie of the Year by an overwhelming margin.

Cribbs, selected in the second round of the 1980 college player draft, rushed for 1,185 yards, caught 82 passes for 415 yards and scored 11 touchdowns as the Bills won the AFC East with an 11-5 record.

Cook Of The Week

Fireman Can Stand Heat; He Stays In The Kitchen

There is an ad currently seen on television that shows a fireman frying a batch of chicken when the alarm goes off and they have to leave it sitting in the pan while they rush out to fight a fire.

James Benton has been a fireman for 25 years but he has been cooking longer than that. He became interested in cooking as a youngster.

James Benton is a firefighter's friend. He prepares delicious, hearty meals that stick to the ribs. And Benton looks to the future. He makes large batches of foods and freezes them for later use.

There's a lot of truth to that Crisco fried chicken ad, said a veteran firefighter and cook. "I've had to turn my pan off a time or two."

James Benton was a fireman for 25 years but he has been cooking longer than that. He became interested in cooking as a youngster.

She does most of the cooking at home, she said, but her husband handles the chores on holidays. When fixing child, dressing or spaghetti sauce at home, the Bentons like to prepare seven gallons at a time and freeze what they do not use right away.

Since rice is a favorite item for Benton he uses it often at the fire department, at home, and when he is in the National Guard.

There is an ad currently seen on television that shows a fireman frying a batch of chicken when the alarm goes off and they have to leave it sitting in the pan while they rush out to fight a fire.

James Benton has been a fireman for 25 years but he has been cooking longer than that. He became interested in cooking as a youngster.

Apple Pie Takes A Short Cut From Swedish Granny

If you think there's nothing more American than apple pie, then help yourself to a wedge of Swedish Apple Pie.

Why this delicious apple dessert is named Swedish Apple Pie is an untraceable mystery. Though its international authenticity remains unproven, its goodness is unquestioned.

Perhaps the name comes from an ingenious Swedish grandmother who was simply too busy to roll out pastry crust, so she substituted a cake-like topping to apple slices baked in a pie dish.

The result defies easy classification into the usual categories of apple desserts. It's easier to prepare than a pie with pastry crust; it's less "biscuity" than a cobbler; it's not crumbly like a crisp; it's more elegant than apple pan dowdy.

Whatever the origin, this updated version using canned apple pie filling is a delectable treat. Prepared apple pie filling is always packed with "good pie apples" at their flavor peak. For wholesome goodness and nutty flavor, the topping can be made with whole wheat flour.

SWEDISH APPLE PIE

1 can (30 oz.) apple pie filling
1 cup flour (all purpose OR whole wheat OR half of each)
2-3rd cup sugar
1 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 cup (1 stick) butter or margarine
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/2 cup chopped walnuts

This can make 2 8-inch "pies"; 1 deep-dish 10-inch pie; or 1 9x9x2-inch dessert.

Spread pie filling smoothly into oiled pan(s). In mixing bowl, stir together flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt. Blend in softened butter and egg, stirring to make a thick batter. Drop batter from spoon to cover pie filling. Sprinkle with nuts. Bake at 350 degree F. for 45 minutes or until apples are bubbly and topping is nicely browned.

Serve warm with dollop of whipped topping or ice cream. Other canned pie filling (cherry, blueberry) can be substituted for apple.

Canned filling goes into this delectable updated version of Swedish Apple Pie. The yummy dessert can be whipped up in just minutes.

'Year Of Rooster' Dish Is Worth Crowing About

East meets West on Feb. 5 to celebrate Chinese New Year, the oldest and most important holiday in China.

If you've already broken your New Year resolutions, here's your chance to start over. In the Chinese moon calendar, Feb 5 marks the first day of the year 4670 and the beginning of the Year of the Rooster.

In old China, say Oriental lore experts, Chinese New Year was marked by a month of festivities following New Year's Day, from new moon to full moon. The celebration is shorter today but still includes feasting and merriment.

Children born in the Year of the Rooster, it's said, will be resourceful, determined and ambitious. They enjoy work, are capable of having loyal friends but often distrust others.

Regardless of what the new year is expected to bring, the Chinese celebrate it with a feast. The house is decorated with orange trees, which symbolize abundance, and narcissus, for luck, and the finest dishes affordable are brought to the table.

Like the rooster for which this year is named, Chinese food has become something to crow about. It has traveled all over the world, and now Chinese foods are a delicious part of the American cuisine.

If you'd like to welcome the Year of the Rooster with a celebration of your own, center it around a Chinese-influenced feast. Start with a traditional New Year delicacy, egg rolls. Available frozen, they're ready to heat and serve. Accompany with a sauce made by combining Chinese Hot Mustard and Sweet & Sour Sauce, blending to suit your own taste.

In honor of the holiday, home economists have created a flavorful entree featuring chicken prepared Oriental-style that you can easily duplicate in your kitchen.

Potpourri

CHOCOLATE PINEAPPLE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

1 (20 oz.) can pineapple slices
1/2 cup melted butter
1/2 cup brown sugar (packed)
5 maraschino cherries, halved
1 tablespoon sliced almonds
1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
2 1/2 tablespoons unweakened cocoa
1/4 teaspoon salt
4 large eggs
2-3rd cup sugar

Chocolate Whipped Cream
Drain pineapple well. Melt 1/2 cup butter in 9-inch up-side-down cake pan, and mix with brown sugar. Place 1 pineapple slice in center of pan, and overlap remaining slices around it. Place a cherry half in center of each slice. Sprinkle almonds around the edge of pan. Resift flour with cocoa and salt twice, and set aside. Combine unweakened cocoa and sugar in top of double boiler. Set over hot but not boiling water (water should be just simmering, and not touch bottom of upper pan). Warm mixture gently, stirring constantly with a wire whisk, until mixture reaches lukewarm, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat, and beat at high speed until very thick and light, about 5 to 7 minutes. Mixture will have consistency of a soft meringue. Gradually fold in flour-cocoa mixture until no streaks of flour remain. Detach remaining 1/2 cup melted butter over batter, and fold in quickly but lightly. Pour batter into prepared pan. Bake in center of moderate oven (350 degrees F) 80 to 85 minutes, until cake has risen in center and springs back when touched lightly. Remove from oven and let stand 3 minutes (cake will settle slightly in center). Loosen edges with small spatula, and invert over serving plate. Serve warm with Chocolate Whipped Cream. Makes 8 servings.

Chocolate Whipped Cream: Beat 1 cup whipping cream to soft peaks with 2 tablespoons sugar and 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla extract.

POT ROAST NEAPOLITAN

2 cups pitted California ripe olives, halved
2 cups prepared spaghetti sauce
1 teaspoon garlic salt

1/2 cup cold water

Brown roast in oil, using a heavy oven proof roasting pan. Add onion, celery and water. Roast, covered, in a 325 degree F. oven for 3 hours. Add olives, spaghetti sauce and garlic salt. Continue roasting, covered, for an additional 2 hours or until tender. If desired, thicken sauce with flour blended with cold water. Makes 8 generous servings.

Suggestion: Serve with spaghetti and Italian green beans.

HOT KRAUT-FRANKFURTER POTATO SALAD

5 medium potatoes
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
6 frankfurters, cut into thirds

1/4 cup beef bouillon or stock
1/4 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Cook scrubbed potatoes in boiling water to cover until just tender. Peel and slice into a large bowl while still hot. In large skillet, heat oil. Cook frankfurters, turning frequently, about 5 minutes. Add onion and sauerkraut. Cook about 5 minutes. To the kraut mixture, add vinegar, bouillon, sugar, salt and pepper. Heat through. Add potatoes. Toss gently. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings.

BAKED APPLES DELUXE

6 large baking apples
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup each raisins and chopped pecans
1 cup cranberry liqueur
2 whole cloves
1/4 stick cinnamon

Core apples and peel 1 inch skin around top of apples. Place in two quart casserole. Set aside. Mix sugar, raisins and pecans. Fill center of apples with mixture. Mix liqueur, cloves, cinnamon and mace. Pour over apples. Place in 375 F. oven for 45 minutes and serve with topping made by mixing 3 oz. softened cream cheese, 3 tablespoons heavy cream and 1 tablespoon sugar.

PEAR HONEY

3 1/2 pounds ripe pears (about 9 cups, chopped)
6 cups sugar
Juice of 1 lemon
1 cup crushed canned pineapple, drained

Prepare home canning jars and lids according to manufacturer's instructions.

Peel and core pears and finely chop in a food processor or blender. Put the chopped pears, sugar and lemon juice in a large (6 to 8 quart) saucepot. Place over medium heat and cook until mixture thickens, stirring occasionally. Add the pineapple and cook an additional 15 minutes. Remove from heat and carefully ladle hot pear honey into hot jars, one jar at a time, leaving 1/4-inch head space. Wipe jar rim clean, place lid on and screw band down evenly and firmly. Place closed jar in canner. Process 30 minutes in a boiling water bath canner. This kitchen-tested recipe makes six 15-ounce jars.

Her Husband Risks Serious Condition

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB— My husband is asking for trouble. He is 52 and overweight, smokes and has high blood pressure. I've told him he is a time bomb for a heart attack or a stroke or both and he just laughs at me. He drinks beer and that helps prevent heart attacks. He does drink four or five beers a day and I think that is part of the reason he is so heavy. Is there a way to determine his chances of having a heart attack? That might help convince him. DEAR READER— I hope you can get him to see a doctor. Unfortunately, the first symptom of fatty-cholesterol deposits in the arteries is often a heart attack (which can be fatal) or a stroke. It's hard to convince some people that this really can happen to them.

The three big risk factors that you can do something about are cigarette smoking, high blood pressure and high cholesterol levels. Your risk also goes up with age and men are more at risk than women.

If your husband would quit smoking cigarettes, he could decrease his risk as much as 50 percent. If his cholesterol is up and his blood pressure is taking refuge in showed that people who had one or two drinks a day had decreased risk but those who drank more had an increased risk. So his drinking is making matters worse, not better.

improvements in life style is to alter the risk factors. If they are high, you do need to do something. DEAR DR. LAMB— My doctor has been treating me with pills for low thyroid. I can see a difference now. I'm improving. Before, when I talked it sounded like a man and I couldn't sing. When I asked to talk to someone on the phone, I could hear them say, "A man wants to talk to you." So it was not my imagination.

Could it be that I don't have enough iodine? Salt is out because I have high blood pressure. Shellfish is out because my cholesterol is high and it caused a stroke a few years ago. I'm also anemic. What should I do for my thyroid and iodine problems? DEAR READER— You must have had very low thyroid function if it affected your voice, but it can cause hoarseness. Iodine deficiencies can cause thyroid goiters. More often severely decreased thyroid function is associated with other thyroid disease.

There are some shellfish that do not contain lots of cholesterol. Studies in recent years have shown that oysters, clams and crabs are all moderately low in cholesterol. Talk to your doctor and see if he thinks you need to see a dietitian. He could prescribe some iodine drops if you really need them.

Both anemia and high cholesterol levels are common in low thyroid states. Both may improve as your treatment progresses.

Legende D'Amour: St. Valentine's Day Says It All

Romance. That's what Valentine's Day is all about. And in today's non-nonsense world of unisex fashions, haircuts and much-touted equality, a certain nostalgia still lingers in the hearts of the most modern of lovers for the sentimental delights of yesteryear...

...the handcrafted Valentine, complete with hearts, lace and flowers.
...the original verse or song written specially for the loved one.
...the bouquet of red sweetheart roses, eloquent in their beauty.
...the quiet candlelight dinner for two.
Of course, there's still no better way to say you're sweet on that certain someone than by doing something special that shows your care.

Lover's Lore
Legend has it that Valentine's Day first began on Feb. 14, 209 A.D., when an imprisoned priest named Valentine cured the jailer's daughter of blindness. Another story has him falling in love with the daughter, sending her a note and signing it, "From Your Valentine." Still older lore traces the day's start to the Roman feast of Lupercalia, honoring the gods of marriage, nature and women.

Valentine's Day is celebrated in many parts of the world today, but everywhere it centers around doing something nice for somebody loved. In Britain, suitors leave baskets of gifts on the loved one's doorstep. In Denmark, young men send original rhymes — called gækkebreve — to their Valentines, without signing a name. If the girl guesses and tells him, he rewards her with an Easter egg on the following year. In Italy, people in some areas hold a special feast.

In North America, Valentine's Day customs run the gamut from school children exchanging handmade Valentines with classmates, to teenagers hosting parties or dances, to adults giving gifts of candy, flowers and other sentimental tokens of affection.

CORNISH HENS WITH MAPLE ORANGE GLAZE
2 (18 to 26-ounce) Rock Cornish game hens with giblets
Seasoned salt
Butter or margarine, at room temperature
2 cups water
1/2 cup pure maple syrup
1-3rd cup orange juice
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger

Remove giblets from cavity of each hen. Rinse hens and pat dry. Sprinkle cavities with seasoned salt. Use paper towel to coat each hen with butter. Place on rack in baking pan. Roast at 350 degrees F. for 30 minutes. Meanwhile, cook giblets in the water for 30 minutes.

In separate pan boil maple syrup with orange juice and ginger for 2 minutes. Drizzle maple syrup mixture over hens, using about 3 tablespoons for each. Bake 10 to 20 minutes longer, until hens are tender and juices run clear when hen is pricked with a fork.
Make sauce by boiling strained broth from giblets to reduce it to 1/2 cup. Stir in remaining maple syrup mixture and 2 tablespoons pan drippings. Simmer for 3 minutes. Serve sauce over hens.

MAPLE NUT CAKE
1/2 cup shortening or margarine
1 cup granulated sugar
2 eggs
2 1/2 cups flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup pure maple syrup
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup chopped pecans or walnuts

Plan a Valentine love feast featuring Cornish hens and Maple Nut Cake.

1 recipe Maple Butter Frosting
Cream shortening with sugar until fluffy. Beat in eggs, 1 at a time. Combine flour with baking powder and salt. Combine maple syrup and milk. Alternately add 1/3 of the flour mixture and then 1/3 of the milk mixture, beating well after each addition (begin and end with flour mixture). Stir in pecans.

Divide batter in half. Spread evenly in 2 well-greased and floured 8-1/2-inch round or heart-shaped layer pans. Bake at 350 degree F. for about 25 minutes, or until top of cake springs back when lightly touched.

Cool cakes in pans or rack for 5 minutes. Remove cake layers from pans and cool completely on racks. (Cool for 2 to 4 hours before frosting.) Prepare frosting as directed. Place 1 cake layer, bottom side up, on cake plate. Spread with frosting. Place second layer, bottom down, on frosted layer. Frost sides, then top, of cake. Decorate with the colored frosting.

MAPLE BUTTER FROSTING

3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1-3rd cup butter or margarine, at room temperature
1/2 teaspoon salt
1-3rd cup pure maple syrup (about)
Red food coloring

Combine sugar, butter and salt. Beat in maple syrup; continue beating until fluffy. Remove about 1-3rd cup frosting. Beat in food coloring, a few drops at a time, until desired color is reached. Place colored frosting in decorating tube with star tip.

Move Over Cupid For St. Agnes

The eve of the Feast of St. Agnes, January 20, has long been regarded as the most opportune time for young women to employ charms reputedly effective in revealing the names and faces of their future husbands. According to tradition, girls of marriageable age were advised to take rosemary and thyme, sprinkle them three with water, and put a sprig in both shoes. The shoes were then to be placed on each side of the bed while chanting:

St. Agnes, that's to lovers kind,
Come, ease the trouble of my mind.
During the night, they were certain to dream of their future husbands!
Deanna McDonald, Nevada's Junior Miss and the 1980 Kraft Hostess Awards winner, offers her own recipe for greeting this magical night. Place two "Perfect Match" Sticks in your shoes ### and serve the rest to your favorite beau. Pleasant dreams! "PERFECT MATCH" STICKS

1 cup flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon rosemary
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1/4 cup margarine
1-3rd cup milk
Combine dry ingredients; cut in margarine until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk, mixing just until moistened. On lightly floured surface, knead about 15 times. Roll out dough to 6 x 12-inch rectangle; cut into 6 x 1/2-inch strips. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 450 degrees, 10 to 12 minutes or until lightly browned. Yield: 2 dozen

Old favorites never die and the Spanish Onion Strata, left, is proof that the tasty casserole is still popular. This high protein dish can be assembled a day ahead and refrigerated until time to bake and serve. Baked ham and cheese sandwich, right, hits the spot on cold days when a light, hot meal fits the occasion.

Meal-In-One Ideas Using 'Planovers'

The casualness of emptying out the refrigerator after a party by dumping leftover "expendables" such as extra rice or mashed potatoes is a luxury nobody can afford these days. It's more sensible to have a plan in mind, even before your party, as to what you'll do with any leftovers.

You may not be able to ingest much more than a bowl of soup the day after the "big feed," but the following night everyone is going to be hungry again, and here's where the extra mashed potatoes, ham and half pound of cheese are a boon.

You can do many dishes with the potatoes — from fried potato croquettes and pommes broiches to Irish colcannon mixed with cabbage, or a potato souffle.

A hearty ham and vegetable casserole with a mashed potato topping becomes an easy "meal-in-one" way to clean out the fridge virtuously. Delicious too.

If there's not too much leftover ham and cheese, whatever bits you have can provide a variation of the French favorite sandwich, Croque-Monsieur, or cut the ham up into pea soup and serve the dishes with apples for dessert.

FIRESIDE CASSEROLE
3 cups cooked, mashed potatoes
1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese, divided
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1/4 teaspoon dried leaf thyme
2 cups cubed cooked ham
1 medium zucchini, sliced (2 cups)
1 can (8 1/2 ounces) tomatoes, drained and chopped
Combine mashed potatoes, 1/2 cup shredded cheese, onion and thyme; mix well. Set aside. In a greased 1 1/2-quart casserole layer cooked ham, zucchini, tomatoes and remaining 1/2 cup cheese. Cover with mashed potatoes. Bake in 375 degree F. oven 20 to 25 minutes or until potatoes are lightly browned.
Yield: 4 servings.

BAKED HAM SALAD SANDWICH
1 1/2 cups cooked ground ham
one-third cup finely chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped chutney
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 1/2 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups milk
3/4 cup grated Muenster cheese
1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
Dash pepper
8 slices toasted whole wheat bread
In a medium bowl combine ham, celery and chutney; set aside. In a medium saucepan, melt butter. Stir in flour and cook 2 minutes. Remove from heat and gradually stir in milk. Return to heat, stir constantly until sauce boils and thickens. Stir in cheese and nutmeg; continue stirring until cheese melts. Add 1/4 cup sauce to ham mixture; mix well. Spread ham mixture evenly on 4 toasted bread slices. Top with remaining 4 slices toast. Cut each sandwich in half diagonally. Arrange sandwiches in a buttered, shallow casserole. Pour sauce over sandwiches. Cover loosely with aluminum foil. Bake in a 350 degree F. oven 20 minutes or until heated through.
Yield: 4 servings.

SPANISH ONION STRATA
1 to 2 Idaho-Oregon Sweet Spanish onions
8 slices white bread, cut in cubes
2 cups grated Cheddar cheese
2 eggs
2 cups milk
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper Paprika
Peel and thinly slice Sweet Spanish onions to measure 4 cups. Place half of bread cubes in bottom of buttered casserole. Sprinkle 1 cup grated cheese over bread and top with 2 cups onion slices. Repeat a layer of bread, cheese and onions. Beat eggs with milk, mustard, salt and pepper. Pour over onions. Sprinkle with paprika and bake at 325-degree for 1 hour. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings.
(Note: Onion Strata may be assembled a day ahead and refrigerated until time to bake and serve. Bake 15 minutes longer if casserole is chilled.)

IDAHO CASSEROLE TREAT
5 tablespoons butter or margarine, divided
1 package (14 ounces) Idaho frozen cottage fry potatoes
1/4 cup chopped onions
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese (5 ounces)
1 tablespoon spicy prepared mustard
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1 can (1 pound 4 ounces) chunk pineapple, in pineapple juice, drained
3/4 pound cooked ham, cut into cubes
In large skillet, melt 2 tablespoons butter, add frozen potatoes and onion. Sauté until potatoes are soft and lightly browned. In medium saucepan, melt remaining 3 tablespoons butter, blend in flour. Add milk gradually, blending well. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Add cheese, mustard, salt, pepper and paprika; stir until sauce is smooth. Add pineapple, ham, sautéed potatoes and onions; mix well. Turn into a buttered 2-quart casserole. Bake in 400-degree oven 15 minutes, until potatoes are lightly browned. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 to 6 servings.

BLUE CHEESE SPREAD
Combine 4 pound sharp Cheddar cheese, grated, one 4-ounce jar of pimientos, finely chopped, 1/4 teaspoon sugar and enough mayonnaise to moisten. Store in covered container until ready to use.

ONION SPREAD
Combine 8 ounces cream cheese, 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) cream of onion soup, 1 jar (4-ounces) chopped pimiento and 2 1/2 ounces dried beef, cut very fine.

BACON SPREAD
Combine 1 jar (3-ounces) chopped pimiento, 1/4 cup sour cream, 8-ounce package cream cheese, 1 teaspoon garlic salt and 1/2 teaspoon paprika.

Bird May Battle Blind Mosquitoes

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The Beautification and Civic Improvement Committee of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce has chosen a new project — encouraging purple martins to settle in the city.

The project was not selected because committee members are bird lovers, but because purple martins eat winged insects. The committee hopes the bird, if it lives here only part of the year, will develop a taste for blind mosquitoes.

The bird, a member of the swallow family, is about 8 inches long. The male of the species is a beautiful dark purplish blue color.

Purple martins, which nest in colonies, usually build their nests in birdhouses made especially for them. The pairs require very little room to build a nest in the birdhouses, which are usually divided into many apartments. And they return to the same birdhouse year after year.

Armed with this information, Vic Arnett, chairman of the chamber committee, encouraged the group to promote the erection of the special purple martin houses in the lakefront area.

The bird came to his attention in September when he read a story in the Evening Herald about a special project conducted in Griggsville, Ill., by a civic organization.

The Griggsville civic organization was concerned about the mosquitoes and flies at the community's fairgrounds. Up to 8000 was being spent annually on pesticides to rid that area of the insects, but without permanent results.

Twelve purple martin apartment houses were built at the fairgrounds and the insect problem was solved.

After reading the story, Arnett thought a similar project could be tried here to get rid of the blind mosquito and wrote Griggsville for additional information.

Arnett presented the information to the local committee Wednesday and the project was approved.

"We showed a film about the purple martin. It is an attractive, friendly and clean bird and apparently likes to be around people and where there is a lot of activity.

Arnett said the committee will speak to other civic organizations and to classes at schools to promote the building and erection of purple martin houses in Sanford. "We will have regular purple martin times," he said.

"Sanford had quite a few purple martins in December," Arnett said, adding that with a little encouragement they will come back again.

ASSESSING THE DAMAGE

How did the fruit fare? Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bates check crop damaged by the recent freeze. Mrs. Bates said most of the specialty fruit from her groves at Paola, west of Sanford, was ruined. That includes Navel oranges, Temple oranges, Tangerines and Tangelos. But she said their largest crop, Hamlin oranges, escaped damage. Hamlin oranges are early fruit and most of the Bates crop was picked before the freeze. Their grapefruit crops being picked now to be sent to the juice plant and the Bates' said their remaining concern is the trees. A little rain would help, they said. Meanwhile, Florida Sen. Paul Hawkins has announced she will be seeking federal disaster relief for Florida growers. Officials estimate $100 million damage was done to state crops. Stories on Page 2A.

4-Hour Meeting

Khomeini, Officials Weigh Their Options

By United Press International

In Algiers, Deputy Secretary of State Warren Christopher waited today for the last link in a hostage release deal — Iran's formal response on letting the captives go.

In a major step Wednesday toward a last-hour deal with the Carter administration, Iran's parliament empowered the government to conclude negotiations to free the captives in exchange for about $6.6 billion in undisputed frozen Iranian assets.

The legislature, or Majlis, also removed a major obstacle in the negotiations by approving a bill allowing international arbitration of an additional $2.2 billion in assets encumbered by claims.

Prime Minister Mohammad Ali Rajavi and Iranian chief negotiator Behzad Nabavi conferred with Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini today in what Iranian sources said was a discussion of Iran's final terms for release of the 52 American hostages.

The broadcast did not say what the talks among Rajavi, Nabavi and Khomeini involved, but Iranian sources contacted in Tehran said the meeting centered on Iran's final conditions for the release of the Americans, who spent their 439th day in captivity.

But still absent in the negotiation chain is Iran's formal response to the last U.S. proposal of Dec. 19 and its reformulation on Jan. 2, which included the provision for allowing Iran to submit its claims to third-party arbitration.

In West Germany, Capt. Chris Weber, public affairs officer at the Lindsey Air Force Base near the U.S. Air Force Hospital at Wiesbaden, said he had not been told of any special preparations in anticipation of the hostage release.

Thirteen hostages who were released early in the crisis and Richard Cheney, the captive freed first year, first went to U.S. Rhein Main Air Force base near Frankfurt and were taken from there to the hospital at Wiesbaden.

Chiles Urges Social Security Changes In Sanford Visit

U.S. Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., listens to a question from Bob Daehn, chairman of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce's Senior Citizens Committee.

U.S. Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Laekland, will be introducing in the spring legislation designed to cure many of the problems plaguing the social security system.

During a question and answer session this morning before a crowd composed mostly of senior citizens in the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce this morning, Chiles promised the legislation will provide not only short range, but also long range solutions.

Formerly chairman of the Senate committee on the Aging and now a minority member of that committee, Chiles said there are two major sets of problems confronting the system.

He said the problems have been defined by three separate commissions which studied the system and in hearings held by his committee.

Chiles said the short-term, serious but not critical problem, is caused by the high cost of living increases in social security benefits, brought about by inflation.

One of the major social security trust funds is almost depleted while two other trust funds have ample money. Borrowing between those trust funds could correct the money deficiency situation by 1984, he said.

The critical problem will occur about the year 2005 because of the population trend change. He pointed out that since 1936, when the system began, there have been more persons entering the labor market than retiring. For a period of time, however, that trend will change until there will be more persons retiring other appeals pending in their cases. The court's unsigned 12-page opinion was unanimous.

It said it made no difference what kind of information the justices had access to in reviewing capital cases.

In deciding whether to uphold or reverse a death sentence, the court said, its role is not to weigh or reevaluate the evidence of aggravating and mitigating circumstances.

"This court's role, after a death sentence has been imposed, is review, the opinion said. After determining if the jury and judge acted correctly in applying the law, the court must ensure a relative proportionality among death sentences which have been approved statewide, it said.

Any confidential information the justices may have seen, it added, played no role in their review of the death sentence.

from then entering the labor market. In addition those who are retiring are living longer.

There are three possible solutions to this problem, he said. Benefits could be cut, "but this is unacceptable since 65 percent of those retiring have social security as their only income," Chiles said. Only 35 percent of those retiring have other pensions. Persons should be encouraged to acquire additional means of income for their retirement years, he said.

Secondly, social security taxes could be increased. "This is also unacceptable," Chiles said, adding further increases in social security taxes would be inflationary. Employers would pass the additional cost on to their products or services, he said.

Chiles suggested if a tax cut is to be given this year that it be in the field of Social Security.

He said a viable solution is eliminating the mandatory retirement age, noting that business executives, testifying before his committee, said that contrary to popular belief, persons over 65 are more loyal. They have less turnover and fewer accidents.

"I want to deal also with the earnings limitations are causing the seniors to cheat and lie to be able to earn additional money.

He added that retirement age for social security needs to be gradually increased to 68 years old by 2005. By then, with the change the social security system will be sound again, Chiles said.

"It costs less than 1 percent to administer the social security program. The program is one of the success stories of our time," he said.

Another big problem with the system is the credibility gap, with many young people believing they are paying into the system and nothing will be there for them when they need it.

Although Chiles' Sanford meeting was originally intended to formulate an election campaign committee, it ballooned into a public meeting as word spread that he would be here.

Chiles said that some single interest groups won elections in November and "feel they are going to purge the rest of us."

He said those groups can find a senator or congressman who'll get 99 percent right on the issues. The single interest group separates those law-makers who vote wrong one percent of the time out for defeat.

"If the voters of Florida decide they want someone else, that's all right, but I want them to have the facts and to look at all the record," Chiles said.

"There are single-interest groups to the right and the left and the middle is getting narrower and narrower," he said. Before long the people will not have a representative who can look at all issues, Chiles said.

"If I can spend 10 days in Florida, I can feel more comfortable in voting. It's easy to be in Washington and feel you are doing good work. But you need to come home and find out what the people are thinking," he said.—DONNA ESTES

Court Rejects Death-Row Claims

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — The state Supreme Court today rejected a claim that 123 men on Death Row, including two whose executions had been scheduled, should have their sentences vacated because the justice looked at psychiatric reports and other documents not available to defense attorneys.

The court dissolved stays of execution previously granted Carl Ray Songer, who killed a state trooper at Crystal River in 1977, and Lenson Hargrave, who murdered a convenience store clerk in Miami during a 1974 robbery.

The action does not mean Songer and Hargrave are in danger of being electrocuted any time soon. New warrants would have to be signed and there are other appeals pending in their cases.

The court's unsigned 12-page opinion was unanimous.

It said it made no difference what kind of information the justices had access to in reviewing capital cases.

In deciding whether to uphold or reverse a death sentence, the court said, its role is not to weigh or reevaluate the evidence of aggravating and mitigating circumstances.

"This court's role, after a death sentence has been imposed, is review, the opinion said. After determining if the jury and judge acted correctly in applying the law, the court must ensure a relative proportionality among death sentences which have been approved statewide, it said.

Any confidential information the justices may have seen, it added, played no role in their review of the death sentence.

Investigators Suspect 2 Boys In Big Brush Fire

By BRITT SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

Investigators still aren't sure what caused all of Tuesday's record 27 brush fires, but two small boys are the prime suspects in the largest blaze which burned 150 acres of parched brushland four miles west of Sanford.

Gil Artman, district supervisor for the Florida Forestry Service this morning said "we're still studying the case. Right now, we don't know what we're going to do."

No charges had been filed Thursday morning.

Artman said the youths, ages 8 and 10, may have been involved in setting past fires in the Lake Markham Road area where they live and where Tuesday's largest blaze occurred. "We're still looking into that," he said.

Based on preliminary reports, Artman said the boys may have been playing with a cigarette lighter when the fire broke out. The resulting blaze which was spread by steady winds and fueled by dry vegetation, blackened 150 acres and threatened several homes. One firefighter was hurt when gasoline splashed in his eyes while refueling a portable water pump. The firefighter was treated and released at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

As a result of the extremely dry weather and the recent killing frosts which have left much vegetation dead and dried out, the state Forestry Service is heavily restricting all open burning.

Bell's fire was borne out by the fact that Seminole County firemen had to battle a dozen more brush fires Wednesday, one of them located in a five-acre tract of the marshy Sabal Point Wilderness Area.
