Boils as Disclosure is Made of Another Unpaid Loan for $25,000 to Former Secretary of the Interior Fall by Harry Sinclair After First Loan for $100,000

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Simultaneously with the disclosure in the senate of another unpaid loan to former Interior Secretary Fall, the White House made known that President Coolidge is preparing to take every action to protect the public interest and to punish those guilty of any wrong doing.

Before the same committee which E. L. Doheny, California oil magnate, told yesterday he had loaned Mr. Fall $100,000 on his personal note while he was secretary of the interior, the president's personal counsel to Harry E. Sinclair testified that Mr. Sinclair had loaned Mr. Fall $25,000 in Liberty bonds on a personal note three months after he retired from the cabinet.

As the testimony now stands, the Doheny loan was made more than a year before the Doheny interests obtained the lease of the Elks Hills, Calif., natural reserve, while the Sinclair loan was made more than a year after the Sinclair interests received the lease of the Teapot Dome, Wyoming, reserve.

George Remus, "Bootleg King", Now Lives In The Atlanta Federal Pen

(By The Associated Press) ATLANTA, Jan. 26.—Marble walls of the Atlanta federal penitentiary last night housed George Remus, convicted bootleg king of the Middle West, and 11 of his associates.

Royalty was recognized by fellow prisoners for when Remus entered the prison Friday afternoon, coming direct here from Cincinnati on board a private car, he was given an ovation to the full extent of prison rules and regulations, the silent waving of arms through the grid windows.

Sharon Announces for Office County Judge

James G. Sharon, prominent lawyer of this city and at present serving as Municipal Judge, announces elsewhere in this paper his intention of running for the office of County Judge in the coming election primary in June.

Flashy diamonds, ultra-modern clothes, walking sticks and spoils of the bootlegging game gave way to the wool and cotton grey uniforms of the penitentiary. A smile was on the face of each as the change was made.

Ford May Discuss His Shoals Offer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Demands of various members of the house military committee that Henry Ford appear in person to discuss his offer for Muscle Shoals will be taken up Saturday at an executive session of the committee.

At an open hearing today Representative Hull, Republican, Iowa, said he thought Mr. Ford, who as yet has not testified before the committee, although several of his representatives have done so, should come to Washington to give details of his plan and to answer questions.

Today's sessions were devoted to consideration of the offers for fertilizer manufacture at Muscle Shoals, submitted by the Union Carbide Company of New York and a group of Southern power companies who also are seeking power development privileges.

Sanford Herald Job Department Is Sold Former Miami Man

A deal whereby J. L. Matthews becomes the owner of the job department formerly owned by The Sanford Herald, was consummated Friday and in the future will be operated under the name of the Matthews Press.

When The Herald recently changed ownership, the job department was removed from the newspaper office to the Welaka building at Commercial Street and Railroad Avenue. Mr. Matthews came from Miami to accept the management of the department and has shown himself adept in developing the business.

Because he is so well pleased with the prospects of this city and because he is impressed with the continued growth of Sanford on all sides, Mr. Matthews decided to purchase the plant outright and enter into the business for himself.

Mr. Matthews has been engaged in this line for a number of years having at several times owned his own shop and for several years was employed by S. E. Toof & Company of Memphis, Tenn., one of the largest job printing establishments in the entire south.

Mr. Matthews came from Miami where he has been connected with the Miami News-Metropolis in the capacity of foreman of the composing room. Prior to that he owned a job plant there.

Mr. Matthews stated Saturday that he is well prepared to take care of any kind of commercial printing and that color work will be a specialty.

Discover Two Well Ordered Mummies

LUXOR, Egypt, Jan. 26.—Three mummies, two excellently preserved, have been discovered by Dr. Robert Mond, the English Egyptologist, who during the past week, has been clearing the space behind the ramshum, of mortuary temple, of Rameses II, in region known as Sheikh Abd-El-Quarna, to remove the rubble for his intended excavation of the tomb of Rameses, vizier of the hectic king of Akhenaten. The third mummy found, possibly the body of a soldier killed in one of the wars of ancient Egypt, is in a bad state.

The well preserved mummies are those of a goldsmith and his wife, a priestess of Amone, of the twenty-fourth dynasty, 718 B. C. Under the outer wrappings of the priestess mummy, her clothing of fine linen, now browned by age, was found laid, neatly folded, upon the body. There was a long robe, piped with green, with a V-shaped opening in the front and holes for the arms, fringed around the hem; then an outer garment with a belt at the waist and several fringed veils. At various places the garments had been darned.

BOARD DESIRES ATHLETIC FIELD TO BE 50 ACRES

City Planning Commission Makes Important Recommendations on Selection of Site

At its regular meeting held Friday night, the City Planning Commission decided to submit to the City Commission a recommendation with the effect that that body should not consider any tract of land of less than 50 acres as a site for the athletic field and that in selecting the site, the nearness to town and the accessibility to a hard surfaced road, should be taken into consideration.

The board also recommended that Sanford Avenue from First Street to the Seminole Boulevard be paved with a pavement of the width of 40 feet.

J. D. Hood, president of the Lakeland Improvement Company, appeared before the Planning Commission, and asked that it recommend that Hood Avenue be paved as shown in his plan now on file. He asked that it be paved with a six-inch rock base with surface treatment similar to the pavement in Roswood Court.

It was announced that at the meeting next Tuesday night many matters of importance would be taken up among them being plans that are now being carried out by several other similar bodies in several cities in this state.

Cross Continent Road Is Nearing Completion

(By The Associated Press) SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—The Victory Highway, an unknown route between New York and San Francisco, will be completed some time this year, according to an announcement by the California State Automobile Association.

The principal barrier, a detour that balked many tourists, was in western Utah, and the Utah highway commission has just signed contracts for the removal of it by the construction of the last link in the Wendover cut-off, which will be ready by the opening of the 1924 tourist season.

Indiana Fire Causes Damage of $500,000

(By The Associated Press) CONNERSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 26.—Fire starting early Saturday in the store of the Green Drug Company spread to the First National Bank block and at 9 o'clock, six hours after it was discovered was still unchecked. Early estimates of damage were as high as $500,000. Aid of Cincinnati and Richmond, Ind., fire departments was requested.

FIRE PROTECTION WELLS FINISHED COST OF $4,171.50

Excellent Flow of Water is Obtained From Each Well — Fire District Adequately Protected

Eight emergency wells ordered drilled some time ago by the City Commissioners to afford more adequate fire protection to the fire district of Sanford, have been completed by Contractor F. Joseph Kaehn of Orlando, according to an announcement made Saturday by City Manager W. B. Williams.

What is considered an excellent flow of water was secured from every well, it was said, and this city now has excellent water protection against fire. The wells were drilled at an expense of $4,171.50. They were placed at intervals in the fire district so that the entire area is covered.

It is said that they were placed in order that each well would be able to supply a district of two to three blocks in four directions. Two streams can be maintained from each well with an average flow of over 500 gallons per minute.

The location of the eight wells together with the capacity and the cost of each is:

Well number one at Third Street and Sanford Avenue is 187 feet deep and has a flow of 700 gallons per minute. The cost was $465.

Well number two at Park Avenue and Commercial Street is 205 feet deep and has a flow of approximately 700 gallons. The cost was $563.33.

Well number three at Park Avenue and Second Street is 183 feet deep and has a flow of 800 gallons per minute. The cost was $476.50.

Well number four at Palmetto Avenue and First Street is 221 feet deep and has a flow of 600 gallons. The cost was $625.50.

Well number five at Elm Avenue and First Street is 188 feet deep and has a flow of 600 gallons. The cost was $448.17.

Well number six at Fourth Street and Magnolia Avenue is 250 feet deep and has a flow of 600 gallons. The cost was $733.50.

Well number seven at Third Street and Oak Avenue is 206 feet deep and has a flow of 600 gallons. The cost was $500.50.

Well number eight at Holly Avenue and Commercial Street is 150 feet deep and has a flow of 700 gallons. The cost was 400.

The Details of Lincoln's Ghastly Crime Are Revealed In His Confession Today

(By The Associated Press) AURORA, Ill., Jan. 26.—Scalded in a concrete block on the city dumping grounds, police Saturday found the heads of Mrs. Lena Lincoln and her brother, Byron Shoup, missing for nearly a year and for whose murder the woman's husband, Warren J. Lincoln, eccentric lawyer and horticulturist is in jail.

A new confession by Lincoln that he killed both, although he previously had said he killed his wife in self defense after she shot and killed her brother, led the way to clearing up much of the long mystery.

After days of contradictory statements only to end in Lincoln returning to his original confession that he killed his wife when he saw her kill her brother and expected her to attack him, the wrecked mind of the man tore out his story of the double murder and disclosed what he had done with the bodies.

Just as he told of dismembering the bodies and sealing the heads up in a concrete block, the police rushed to a dumping ground and found the block, a chunk of concrete about 24 inches long, 18 inches wide and 12 inches thick. When the police chipped off the hardened plaster, the heads of the two victims were bared. In finding of the heads the authorities at last have evidence of killings which they sought for months to find.

CHAIRMAN HIGGINS ANNOUNCES THAT RECOMMENDATION PROPOSED SITE WILL BE TO CITY COMMISSION MEETING ON MONDAY

Is Not Made Public But Should Be Made Public Before It Is Considerable Yet Officially Secured For Reasonable Period—Proximity to City Market

Announcement was made today by Edward Higgins, chairman of the city park commission, of this body, after considering a number of propositions over a long period covering the past few weeks, that the park commission has definitely decided upon a site of land for the proposed municipal athletic field.

In connection with the announcement, Mr. Higgins stated that a proposition would be submitted to the City Commission at its meeting on Monday afternoon and that all of the projects that had been submitted, as an option for the site, will be made out and signed once.

Just what site has been selected is not known, but Mr. Higgins stated that he believed that it would meet with favor from everyone. He said that he believed considering all of the projects that had been submitted, it is by far the most desirable. Everything in the way of proximity to the city and accessibility had been considered, and by a process of elimination, the site selected is found to be the best of all.

The price of the property is reasonable, said Mr. Higgins and there should be no complaint in that respect. Whether or not the City Commission will accept the recommendation, is of course not known. However, the duties of the members of the Park Commission were to carefully consider this matter and make a selection and inasmuch as it was requested to do this by the City Commissioners, it is believed that the recommendation will have a large influence upon the decision as to the site selected.

Those who are in a position to know, believe that the project will be accepted as recommended. They point out the fact that this proposition has long been hanging in the air and that the people of this city are getting anxious for some definite action to be taken in the case.

Just what effect the recommendation of the City Planning Commission will have on the City Commissioners and whether this recommendation conflicts with the Park Commission's recommendation, is not known. However, the meeting is scheduled to be disposed of finally at the Monday meeting and until the Status of the whole proposition will be up in the air, so to speak.

Serving on the Park Commission with Mr. Higgins were: George W. Knight, H. B. Lewis, W. C. Hill and Arthur Yowell.

Rebels Hold Salina Cruz. VERA CRUZ, Jan. 25.—(By radio via the Dallas News, by the Associated Press)—The Port of Salina Cruz remains in the power of the revolutionists, was attacked by General Enrique Brena, aided by the gunboat Progresso which besieged the port. The capture of Salina Cruz gave the rebels complete control of the Pacific coast from the state of Jalisco southward.

The forces which attacked Salina Cruz have commenced a movement against Santa Lucrécia and have been reinforced between this town and Sangeronimo by additional troops. The combined forces will attack Santa Lucrécia, an important railway trunk line station, yet in the hands of an Oregon garrison, under the command of General Gomez.

The situation along the Vera Cruz Oaxaca front continues unchanged.

Rebels Occupy Many Towns. DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 25.—An official communication broadcast from de la Huerta rebel headquarters at Vera Cruz and picked up by the radio station of the Dallas News last night asserted that a rebel envelopment movement had resulted in occupation of a number of towns straddling the main lines of communication from Mexico City to the north and had resulted in President Oregon ordering suspension of train service from Laredo and El Paso, Texas, to Mexico City.

Federalists Rout Rebels. TAMPIO, Jan. 25.—Federal forces engaged in driving rebel bands out of the oil district have taken the town of Ozuama in the Huasteca region.

Rebels yesterday took possession of Minareta between Monterey and Ciudad Victoria but a federal column sent from Monterey regained the town. More than 50 revolutionaries were killed in the engagement.

It is expected that rail service between Tampico and Monterey will be resumed in a few days.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE MILANE.

Somebody—a war in all probability out to get a laugh, cackle or guffaw—defined a thoroughbred horse as one whose ancestors never delivered milk, ice, coal, vegetables or bananas.

That is the same definition given to two-legged aristocrats—so it proves that the equine thoroughbred must be the aristocrat of horses.

The race horse and the jockey figure in the George M. Cohan play, "Little Johnny Jones," which has been adapted for the screen and will play at the Milane theatre today as the feature attraction, with Johnny Hines starring.

In this Warner Brothers classic of the screen, a romance of the turf Johnny Jones, the Yankee jockey, is scheduled to ride in the English Derby. Everybody bets on him, for he has a reputation for always winning. Suddenly, he is embroiled in a plot, and charged with having agreed to throw away the race. Papers are found on him to prove it. The perpetrator of the charge is an unscrupulous gambler with a horse of his own entered, and who starts at nothing to get Johnny Jones out of the way.

Weather and Crop Review

The weather during the week was mostly overcast with rain on three to five days in some localities, weekly totals exceeding two inches over a wide area, Jacksonville having a total of more than three inches and Pensacola in excess of four inches. The amount diminished in the central and southern counties, where, however, the lack of sunshine was general. Unseasonably warm weather during the forepart of the week was followed by a cold wave on the last day, resulting in freezing temperatures and below over the extreme northern portion of the Section, with minima in the 20's in the western division; the temperature was in the 30's over the upper central counties, but the sky was overcast.

The overcast, showery conditions and mostly moderate temperatures were beneficial to such crops as were damaged by the low temperature during the forepart of the month, namely, oats, rye, truck berries, and defoliated citrus trees over the west and in the extreme northern counties. Citrus trees in the north were not affected by the cold weather. The planting of potatoes, sowing tobacco seed, setting tomatoes in the central division, and shipping earlier planted truck continued from the central and southern division, although low lands are too wet over most of the Section, especially in the south, where some local damage was done to truck. Citrus trees are in good condition; complaints of fruit dropping is reported from some localities; citrus movement was comparatively light.

Central Division. The rainfall was not so heavy, except locally, in central counties, although cloudy, unsettled, showery conditions ruled during most of the week; some low lands were too wet. As a whole, however, the weather was favorable for truck, strawberries and citrus trees. The shipment of berries and truck generally continued with slight abatement. Groves are in good condition, but fruit is dropping to some extent; shipping continues moderate. Pastures show improvement.

Investigations Made on Rubber Production

MIAMI, Jan. 25.—Alfred Keyes, government expert, who has been at work for the last 30 days at Chapman Field, is expected to make a report of his investigations as to the possibilities of rubber production in South Florida. Mr. Keyes has had extensive experience in the growing of rubber in commercial quantities, it is said, and his findings in this section in that connection are looked forward to with a great deal of interest by the large number of persons who have for many years believed there are great possibilities for rubber production in Florida.

Moving Picture, Ford Age, Will Be Shown at the Milane Theatre

FORD AGE, the "World's Greatest Industrial Show," was presented Thursday night at the Milane theatre. Through the efforts of E. Higgins, the local Ford dealer, this marvelous motion picture exhibition has been obtained for another showing tonight and will be presented at the Milane. Romance, thrills and marvelous achievements, all are combined in the Ford Age. A production of the Ford Motion Picture Laboratory, which brings before your eyes the world's greatest industrial marvel, Henry Ford, idealist, dreamer of great things, comes on the screen kindly, of quiet appearance about him. You are given an intimate glimpse of him seated on the banks of a stream. The story moves on to a little one story building in which the first Ford car was built. You are treated to a scene of Mr. Ford driving it. Then unfolds the romantic story of their rolled out from that little building, the car that put the world on wheels and built up an industry that proved a magnitude that no one man can comprehend.

Manager Walker stated to the press representative that recent attendance has exceeded that entertainment everywhere it has been shown. The FORD AGE is run in connection with the regular program which will be "Little Johnny Jones" with Johnny Hines, a special attraction, also Round 7 Fighting Blood. This array of features will afford one of the greatest programmes ever offered the local amusement lover for some time. Manager Walker, who is in the city carries a complete lighting plant, motion picture machines for taking also showing and is exhibiting this picture in every town in Florida.

Veteran of Civil War Dies at Eustis Home

EUSTIS, Jan. 25.—Dr. Albert Fahnestock is dead here. He was born at Pittsburgh, Pa., 89 years ago, and came to Eustis during the early day of the town. He left here, however, after the freeze of 1895 and returned three years ago. During his absence he practiced dentistry in Chicago. Dr. Fahnestock, who is survived by his widow and two daughters, was a veteran of the civil war, having been promoted from a second lieutenant to the captaincy of Co. C., 103rd Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry.

TRAMMELL WANTS FEDERAL SURVEY FLORIDA OYSTERS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(Special)—Senator Park Trammell Thursday introduced in the Senate a bill providing for the government to make a survey of the natural oyster beds in the waters within the state of Florida, such survey to be made by the bureau of fisheries and a complete report made on the subject. Senator Trammell's bill provides for an appropriation of $28,000, and is worded substantially, as follows: The secretary of commerce is directed to have made a survey of the natural oyster beds and barren bottoms contiguous thereto, in waters within the state of Florida, and to make and publish a report of the results of such survey. That for such purpose the coast and geodetic survey and the bureau of fisheries, are directed to expend under the direction of the secretary of commerce, the sum of $25,000, which sum is appropriated for the purpose of the survey.

WOMAN'S CLUB COLUMN

The monthly business meeting of the Welfare Department was held Wednesday, Jan. 23, at 3 p. m. at the club house. The entire time was given over to reports of the various committees. The Educational committee has just ordered two new desks for the Domestic Science room at the school. The sum of $117.50 being spent for this equipment.

The Social Service committee of the Welfare Department is investigating the violation of the Sunday closing law; conditions of the jail, etc.

The Hospital committee reported plans for a big charity ball to be given for the benefit of the Fernald-Laughton Hospital.

This department expects to take the recent picture of the club house which will be copyrighted by the club and help sell the pictures for the benefit of the building fund.

Mrs. E. M. Galloway has recently been appointed as chairman of the House committee for the club and in order to raise money for the various articles still needed to complete the equipment of the new club house, she has made plans with her committee to give a dinner dance Feb. 7, 1924, at 8 p. m. Admission $1.25.

The dinner will be served at individual tables accommodating two couples each and reservations may be made with Mrs. Howard Overlin, phone 9082.

This will be one of the most attractive social features of the club year for not only will the committee provide excellent music but has arranged one hour of old-fashioned dances, such as the Virginia Reel, etc. Also during the evening there will be several feature dances with appropriate favors. Several of these feature dances will be entirely new and will give added zest to the singularly attractive program.

The State Board of the F. F. W. C. will hold its first regular meeting under the presidency of Mrs. V. F. Blackman in Jacksonville, Jan. 29 and 30, with the Springfield Improvement Club as hostess. This meeting will be of unusual interest as the policies of the new administration will be of unusual interest as the policies fully outlined. It is rumored that educational and the cultural side of club work will be given a very prominent place.

At a meeting of the House committee of the Woman's Club, Mrs. A. M. Phillips was made assistant house chairman and will have charge of all rentals in future. The duties of the committee have been divided and in this way the work will not become irksome, but a pleasure. The grounds will be beautified, and some necessary inside furnishings added at once to make more rentable.

The Woman's Club building is a most desirable place for those wishing to entertain either in small or large way. There is a large auditorium, as well as a small sun-parlor, which can be rented for reasonable prices, with all the furnishings necessary for giving a card party, luncheon, or reception. The new dishes have arrived, so with dainty card table covers, luncheon cloths and napkins, nice silver, card tables aplenty, the assistance of a maid, it is little trouble to now entertain in this lovely new home.

Call Mrs. A. M. Phillips, phone 308-W and she will be glad to quote rates, for either night or day parties, and the house committee will render any assistance needed.

Mrs. W. M. Scott, chairman of finance recently called the finance committee together and with the chairman of the departments made plans for the financing of the new club house.

It was decided to divide the club membership into 20 teams, with a captain for each team and nine members. Each team to have for an objective the raising of $100.00 for the building fund.

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs is urging the club women to familiarize themselves with the notable work of the American Peace Award committee; namely the offer of Mr. Edward Bok of a prize of $100,000 for the best and most practicable plan for securing world peace. The Herald has been printing the ballot for your vote. Won't you please cut it out and send your vote to the American Peace Award committee, 342 Madison Avenue, New York City.

Edwin Markham will live at Rollins College during the month of February and give a course of lectures on "The Great Poets and Poems of Modern Times." Mr. Markham is generally regarded as the leading American poet. He will give a series of lectures at the Woman's Club on the above stated subject and prices and tickets may be secured from the Dean of Rollins College at a very nominal sum.

The Literature Department enjoyed a very pleasant hour on Wednesday afternoon with Ibsen's "A Doll's House." Mrs. S. O. Shindolser was the leader for the afternoon and gave a short history of the play, and a resume of the first act which had been read at a previous meeting. The readers were:

Helmer Trovald, Mrs. Morton Thigren, Nora Trovald, Mrs. M. Martin, Dr. Rank, Miss Ida M. Gray, Mrs. Linde, Mrs. S. P. Arrington.

Nils Krogstad, Mrs. Alfred Lilja, Annie, Mrs. G. B. McKay. This play when first produced in 1879 raised a storm of protest all over the literary world; for this and other plays from his pen, Ibsen, was judged to be a champion of the woman question but in truth he was interested in the larger spiritual truth of the equality of the sexes. The intense interest shown in the reading proved that the age old question still stands. Among other important matters of business which came up at this meeting was the matter of raising money for the building fund. Mrs. Martin's suggestion that each member be responsible for $10 was adopted by the department.

Sunday will mark the two-month date of the burning and destruction of Holy Cross Church and other buildings.

A HOUSE THAT IS STRICTLY NEW ENGLAND COLONIAL
(House A-108)
In the little house herewith illustrated, the architects have carried out the true New England Colonial style in every feature. Note the delicate detail of the porches and Cornices, the broad, low second floor windows of the front and large central chimney. The walls are wide siding and the roof is shingle. From the entrance porch one passes into a small vestibule hall, with the living room on one side and the dining room opposite. The kitchen is in the rear and is laid out for convenience. A dining alcove is provided. On the second floor one finds three nice bedrooms and a bath, while a generous attic is also provided. The cellar extends under the entire house and here is the laundry, heater and coal spaces and such. Cost about $6,600. Complete working plans and specifications of this house may be obtained for a nominal sum from the Building Editor. Refer to House A-108.

Being merely human we have never been quite able to reach the very desirable degree of perfection outlined at the left.

However, our work is of such a uniformly high quality that we do not find it necessary to call attention to any particular job as a sample but merely invite you to inspect any or all of them.

You may find one or two of our customers somewhat dissatisfied, but we will guarantee this, that the work and material in every case is better than called for in the specifications and contract. As Mr. Post says "There's a reason."

Before you spend your hard earned money, do some thorough investigating as to the ability and reliability of your builder.

TAX FREE

We pay the Government tax of 6c. Merely hand to your dealer the coupon below with 9c and get a package of

20 Lucky Strike Cigarettes today and tomorrow only for 9c

[NOTE: The United States Government, through the Internal Revenue Department, collects 6c on every package of twenty cigarettes as evidenced by the Revenue Stamp.]

Why we want EVERY MAN IN SANFORD to try Lucky Strike

To men who have not yet tried Lucky Strike

This is not philanthropy, just business. You are introduced to a cigarette today which sooner or later you're bound to try. This merely hastens that happy time. Tear off the coupon now.

We have found that 88% of the men who try Lucky Strike immediately adopt them. So to introduce you to Lucky Strike we can well afford to make this special offer of paying the 6c Government tax today ourselves.

No words can do justice to the Toasted Process in Lucky Strike. It takes us an extra 45 minutes to toast the flavor in, but it takes you only a moment to try the flavor out—the test of the toasting is the tasting.

Smoke this package tax free—you'll get acquainted with a cigarette so balanced in the blend, so mild in the flavor, so smooth in the smoking and so fragrant with the sealed-in-virtues of the toasted process, that you'll change to this brand that never changes—and you'll never change again.

To men who already smoke Lucky Strike

We want you, too, to get this tax free package, maybe to pass it on to a friend who doesn't yet know the pleasure you know.

Let him enjoy Lucky Strike as you do. Tell him to try one package and then see if he agrees with you and millions of others that there's no cigarette with such characteristic superiority.

Tell him why you prefer Lucky Strike. Tell him that the extra 45 minutes of toasting insures a flavor that never varies. He'll find, as you have, that this is a cigarette which can be continuously enjoyed. The flavor never varies.

Some one introduced you to your first Lucky Strike and you recall it as a lucky discovery. So pass the good word along. Give some friend the same opportunity. Tear out the coupon now.

The Boy Scout movement offers an excellent opportunity for the boy to learn the secrets of the woods and the animal life found there. It also throws him with other fellows who will acquire a spirit of cooperation and a sense of organization which will ever be of great service to him. If your boy is old enough, is he a Boy Scout?

Does the Truth Hurt?

The cry is often heard that newspapers devote too much space to crime. Some maintain the columns are filled with stories of murder, rape and plunder. Such matter is held by them to be injurious to the reading public and to reflect a spirit of sensationalism on the part of the newspaper.

These people would make a Christian Science Monitor of every paper. They would print nothing which tends to reveal the character of a crook, disclose the secret manipulations of wire-tappers, or show-up the insidious practices of grafting politicians.

The real value of a newspaper lies in its power to bring about changes in morals, religion and politics and, in truth, everything which has to do with individual and governmental conduct, changes which will produce an enlightening effect upon humanity, and perhaps elevate it to a higher plane.

The existence of crime is a well known fact, because we see accounts of it every day in the papers. Such accounts spur public officials to greater efforts in the execution of their duty. The printed news of robberies causes talk on the streets which is soon to reach the ears of the police chief.

On the other hand suppose the news of robberies and the like were withheld. Few would know of the existence of crime. Only those affected, perhaps only the perpetrators and their victims. It would not be long before public officials would sit back in their swivel chairs in a self-satisfied complacency which would leave the gates open to corruption and disorder.

The publicity of facts, no matter how sordid, will always cause a house-cleaning, and it may be said for newspapers that publicity never hurt anyone who has kept his records straight. Because the story says that one druggist is bootlegging, it is no reflection on other druggists who are conducting their businesses in a lawful manner.

Good newspapers publish the news, while it is hot, and the hotter the better, and they publish it not only to their advantage but also to that of the community. Any newspaper that "blue-pencils" news because it is colored with some of life's unpleasantness or reflects the slips or unethical activities of a political "Big Gun," is falling in the first fundamental of journalism. It is withholding from the subscribers that for which they pay and it is sacrificing its power for doing good.

What's Wrong With Florida Distribution?

There is no place in the country growing more and finer citrus fruits than Florida. And there is no section growing better celery than Sanford. Yet California with poorer oranges and grapefruit has better success marketing its fruits while Kalamazoo, Michigan, seems able to ship its celery to points within a few hundred miles of Sanford.

There must be something wrong with the distribution system of Florida products. Certainly there is nothing wrong with the high grade of fruits and vegetables grown in this state.

Frank P. Forster, president of the First National Bank of Sanford is in receipt of a letter from Willis Johnson, Vice-President of the First National Bank of West Point, Georgia, in which Mr. Johnson says:

"While passing through your town some days ago returning from a trip through the state of Florida, I had dinner there and they served me some of that very fine celery grown near Sanford.

"Upon returning home, I made inquiry and found that the greater part of the celery sold here comes from Kalamazoo, Michigan, which to me is not near the quality of the celery grown around Sanford, Florida."

Are other sections of our great country more progressive and wide awake than Florida? Do they go after business in a more systematic way than Florida? Have they a better distribution system?

AN UNKNOWN LAND AT STAKE

NEW YORK TRIBUNE

The Navy Department's eagerness for the Arctic air expedition as soon as it can be made is explained by Secretary Denby's disclosure that another nation is to set out on the same quest within a year. Amundsen has made no secret of his plans to fly from Spitzbergen to Alaska, with an American naval officer on his staff.

There are 1,000,000 unexplored square miles due north of Alaska. These may contain vast stretches of land. If so discovery means permanent possession. What this territory may be worth in mineral riches, for example, is a fascinating speculation. The purchase of Alaska was called by the skeptics "Seward's Folly." Further north it is not entirely fanciful to picture a "Denby's Folly" which time will equally vindicate. It would be humiliating if America were to be anticipated by foreign discoverers in the field where her explorers have been prominent.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

For the better education of those Americans who labor under the misapprehension that Punch is not ed by a humorous publication attention is directed to a little incident which may or may not have had time, a basis of fact, and which was set forth not so very long ago in the columns of that lively weekly. It seems that in London police court a well-dressed person was arraigned on a charge of intoxication. Being impressed by the genteel appearance of the accused the magistrate was moved to put questions to the arresting officer.

As Brisbane Sees It

The Wise British, Franklin's Religion, Two Sides of the World, Gabriel's Bookkeeping. Copyright, 1923

THE BRITISH are masters of wise compromise. Since the days of Cromwell and Charles the First, they have refrained from cutting off anybody's head. They believe in government without ax or dynamite bomb.

MACDONALD ALSO displays the British give-and-take idea of government. He doesn't say, "Tremble, ye King, for we are in power. Your head shall roll beneath the guillotine blades."

CLERGYMEN SEEKING to improve the Christian religion are invited by Frederick Landis to consider Benjamin Franklin's reply to the President of Yale College, who asked his views on a religious discussion then raging:

MR. LANDIS says: "If Franklin, the wisest American that ever lived, could speak, he would tell both sides among the quarrelling clergymen to quit fighting each other and help humanity."

ON ONE newspaper's page you read in the first column this: "Pirates seize a ship and kill the captain. Nineteen passengers are kidnapped." That's in China, where there is one kind of civilization.

ON ONE side of the world piracy, boats seized, captives killed, violence ruling. On the other side of the world a Labor Cabinet takes control of the greatest empire that this world has known. Thought and intelligent dissatisfaction come out victorious ever conservatism.

JUDGE GRAY, of the big steel company, reports that reducing the hours of steel workers from twelve to eight hours a day has increased the cost of steel 10 per cent. That's encouraging. Steel consists of three things—ore and coal in the ground, intelligence that directs and human beings work.

IT IS announced that President Coolidge will veto any tax bill carrying a higher surtax than 25 per cent. In time of war any tax is just. When the government says to the poor man, "I will take your life for a dollar a day," and takes it, it may well say to the rich man, "I will take half or three-quarters of your income."

BUT THE war is over. Excessive taxation discourages new enterprises that employ new labor and develop new wealth. If this country knew as much about collecting taxes as they know in England, a twenty-five per cent surtax on the biggest incomes would produce an amount of money that even our excellent spenders could not spend.

THE "DISASTER" bird is back in Dantzic. It's the silk-tailed thrush. The superstitious say that it has not been seen in Dantzic since 1914, when the war began. They fear trouble.

THERE WOULDN'T be any trouble with only the silk-tailed thrush to fear. But there is the grasping mind that finds in victory only an opportunity for more war. There are hatreds that follow defeat. There are Emile Zola's "very man has within himself a hog asleep," and the old Eastern statement that a monkey and a tiger live in every man.

IT'S GOING TO BE HARD TRAVELING

A SATURDAY EVENING SERMON

BY CHARLES BROWN, D. D.

"We have in the Bible a book that refuses to be ignored. On the basis of its wide currency alone, if it had no other and worthier claim to distinction, it challenges the attention of every man who can read. For centuries it has been 'the best seller.' When a hundred thousand copies of a popular novel have been sold, the story is regarded as a success. If the sales reach four or five hundred thousand the fact is heralded abroad, even though in a few years the sales should cease altogether, and the book be forgotten. Here is a book which was completed eighteen hundred years ago, yet it is still selling at the rate of over six millions of copies a year. Two publishing houses alone, one in this country and one in Britain, have printed and added I am taking these figures from the Encyclopedia Britannica—more than seven hundred millions of copies of this book. It goes without saying that every thoughtful, well-educated man will desire to know something of the content of this book which has gained such a hold upon the attention of the race."

"Here is the vital question of the day—Do the teachings of the Bible, not as judged by some insignificant detail in statement or by some stray reference caught out of its setting, but as judged by the main conclusions to which they bring us, afford us those conceptions of God, of man, of duty, of destiny which reason and conscience may accept as valid beyond any other competing conceptions? Do the teachings of the Bible afford us helpful guidance when we would think upon the obligations and high privileges of human life at its best? Does the Bible prove itself a lamp unto our feet and a light unto our path when subjected to the pragmatic test by those who are seeking to walk in those ways of thought, feeling and purpose which tend upward? In a word, do the teachings of this book make men wise unto salvation and glorify them thoroughly for all good work? If the Bible does this in satisfying measure, then its teachings are true,—true to life, true to our deepest needs, true to our highest aspirations, true in the sense that they get us where we ought to go."

TOM SIMS SAYS

Girl drew a pistol and robbed a Spokane man. Since when did they have to use pistols? Great Britain is a commercial country. She should use her thick fogs for stuffing mattresses. London sculptors might try taking the thickest of the fog and carving statues on it. If London fog gets thicker they may address post cards in raised letters for the postmen. By adding flavoring to the thick London fogs they could put in tubes and sell for tooth paste. Perhaps, in London barber shops, they just spread a little thick fog on for shaving lather. It would be getting too foolish to say London fogs are so heavy they can't see the French plans. Everything is being made in Germany again. She is working on two new revolts now. Italy has mobilized 40,000 more men. Perhaps instead of red tape they use spaghetti in Italy. Claim the Garden of Eden has been found in Mongolia. If so, that is everybody's home town. Fourteen countries are asking America for loans. Think Uncle Sam is their rich uncle. Mexico is having bull fights again. American pedestrians know how a matador feels. Train robber fought a Wyoming prison fire five hours. Luckily, he was in when it started. Chicago girl tried to get a job as a detective, perhaps because she was a good looker.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Lane and wife of Farmansburg, N. Y., were among the tourists arriving in Sanford on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McCray of Knoxville arrived in Sanford Friday and will spend some time here at the Montezuma.

Miss Ruba Williams and guest, Gladys Binswanger of Atlanta, motored to Orlando on Sunday where they spent the day.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Coggshead and son of Groton, N. Y., are in the city for a brief sojourn and are pleasantly located at the Montezuma.

Miss Kitty Beaudeau and party friends are motoring through this state, arrived in Sanford on Friday en route to the other part of the state.

Dr. and Mrs. Coleman of Marietta, Ohio, are visiting at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. Miller on Magnolia Avenue. They will be here about a week.

Miss Kathleen Carlton, who has the attractive guest of Misses Lie and Ruth Gillon at their home on Palmtoe Avenue, left Saturday for her home in Brantford.

The many friends of Miss Marquet Zachary, who has been critically ill at Sullens College, Bristol, Va., will be glad to learn that her condition was a success and that she is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gibson, Dr. Mrs. E. D. Browline and their guests, Miss Lee Traylor and Mrs. Taylor, were a congenial party motoring to Daytona Beach on Saturday where they spent a very pleasant day.

Mr. and Mrs. Copley, who have recently purchased the Wimble home on Park Avenue, are now enjoying a trip to Cuba. Upon their return they will occupy the residence which is being remodelled and painted.

CIRCLE NO. 4.
Circle No. 4 held a very interesting meeting Friday afternoon with its G. E. Camp at the lovely home of her daughter, Mrs. W. L. Kelly on Celery Avenue.

After the regular opening with music, officers were installed and minutes for the year discussed and amended.

At the conclusion of the program, a social hour was enjoyed, and delicious refreshments were served consisting of congealed meat salad, salsines, pickles, individual cakes and coffee.

U. D. C. HOWARD CHAPTER.
Of exceptional interest was the meeting Friday afternoon of the U. D. C. Howard Chapter, U. D. C. at the Valdez Hotel.

The regular routine of business was in order at which time, the president, Mrs. R. J. Holly presided. It was decided to have a card in the Library, "The Veteran" and "The Southern Magazine" for the benefit of rummage sales for the benefit of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew building fund.

A very delightful program was rendered following the business session. Mrs. Kent Rossiter read paper on "The Life of General Washington," Mrs. G. D. Bishop's paper on "The Life of General Stonewall Jackson," "The Life of General Albert Sidney Johnson" was read by Mrs. W. Morton Whiggen. These papers were unusually good and were of much interest to the members of the chapter.

Mrs. W. Gwynn Fox and Miss Phyllis Smith were hostesses Friday afternoon when the Junior G. F. S. turned their regular weekly meeting into a surprise party honoring Miss Trisic Franklin, whose birthday it was.

Upon arrival at the home of Mrs. Fox, the Juniors went through their regular routine of service and instruction, and as Jan. 25 is St. Paul's day in the Calendar, a short sketch of his life was given.

At the time when the hand-work is usually taken up, the girls cheerfully washed Trisic Franklin many happy returns of the day and she was presented a beautiful bouquet of flowers. An hour of fun followed, during which songs with the specially written "Friendly" words were greatly enjoyed.

The beautiful birthday cake, with tiny candles in rows holders, which the honoree has brought with sweet refreshments to share with the other "Friendly" girls gave a final festive touch and was enjoyed with the refreshments of fruit bars, sugar cookies and hot chocolate served by the hostesses.

The Juniors are beginning a new year's work and expect to do a better year's work. At the close of last year they gave $25 to the Brotherhood building fund, $5 to Mrs. Keplers kindergarten, $2 to the Near East Relief. They lost "their home" when the fire destroyed the Brotherhood House and now meet each Friday after school at the home of their associate, Mrs. Fox on South French Avenue.

Those enjoying this happy occasion Friday were Misses Trisic Franklin, Phyllis Swards, Margaret and Henrietta Edwards, Nannie Stone, Gladys Keppler, Nancy White, Athlene Prevatt, Katherine Morrison, Walter and Earl Fox and Mrs. Fox.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.
Pink and white roses and ferns were lavishly used in decorating for the birthday party given Friday honoring Mrs. Clarence Barcliffe, whose birthday it was.

At noon a six course luncheon was served, the table being centered with the lovely birthday cake, iced in white and topped with pink rose-buds and lighted pink tapers. Covers were laid for ten.

Those present were Mrs. and Mrs. Clarence Barcliffe, Mrs. Laura Picke, Mrs. Carroll Doll and two children, Virginia and George, Jr., Mrs. Semms, Mrs. George Elliott and son, Edward.

DISTRICT MEETING.
On next Monday, Jan. 28, there will be held in Orlando, a joint district meeting of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs. Party officers of both orders from the following cities will be installed: St. Cloud, Kissimmee, Leesburg, and Orlando. District Deputy Grand Master H. J. Lehman of Sanford, will be the installing officer for the Odd Fellows and District President, Mrs. A. J. Lossing also of Sanford, will act in like capacity for the Rebekahs. A large crowd is expected as the Grand Master of the state and other officers will be present. Any one intending to go from Sanford will please be at the Lodge room not later than 5:30 p. m., Monday, Jan. 28.

BRIDGE PARTY.
Thursday evening Mrs. Andrew Mahoney and Mrs. W. W. Potter entertained at a bridge party at the home of Mrs. Mahoney on Tenth Street.

Red roses and poinsettias were used in charming profusion in the various rooms where the card tables were placed. Bridge and 500 were both played.

When scores were counted, the prize for high score among the 500 players, was held by Miss Madeline Mallen, who was awarded a cut glass basket. The men's prize, silk hose, went to Father Gravel; the cut prize, a hand-painted laid went to Mrs. John McNamara. Top score among the bridge players was held by Mrs. W. H. Hines, who was given a cut glass basket. The men's prize, silk hose, was won by John McManan. Mrs. S. A. Berner won the low score, a power in. The aluminum won by Miss Katherine Fox.

The hostesses, assisted by Mrs. F. E. Roumillat served ice cream topped with strawberries, gold and devil's food cake and coffee as refreshments.

Eight tables of players enjoyed this pleasant evening and the affair was a decided success both financially and socially.

BENEFIT BRIDGE PARTY AT CLUB HOUSE.
Friday afternoon, a benefit card party was given at the Woman's Club, for the card table fund, of which Mrs. Edward Lane is chairman. There were nineteen tables of players.

The lovely bigonia vines together with other cut flowers of the same hue, and potted ferns and plants were used in decorating the large lounge where the card tables were arranged.

After a number of rubbers of bridge, scores were counted and prizes awarded. Top score was held by Mrs. Joe Lee, who was given a handbag, donated by Spencer and Son. Low score prize, a pan-tray set, donated by Union Pharmacy, went to Miss Mary De Saumancy, with a host of friends.

The consolation prize, an olive spear, donated by Roumillat and Anderson, was won by Mrs. W. H. Hines.

Refreshments of pear salad, olives, salsines, cake and coffee were served at the conclusion of the game, by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. M. S. Wiggins, Mrs. R. J. Holly, Mrs. F. H. Langley, and Mrs. A. J. Richardson.

The affair was not only a success socially but also financially and a neat sum was realized.

STRAWBERRY FEST.
Mrs. Stevens' Circle of the Presbyterian Auxiliaries held a delightful party Friday evening, at the Stevens home on Park Avenue.

The spacious rooms were fragrant with numerous bowls and vases of pink and white roses. During the evening a pleasing program of vocal and instrumental music was rendered by Mrs. W. R. Leak, Mrs. Herbert Russell and Mrs. R. H. Walkouth. Several contests were enjoyed and Mrs. D. bullock won a prize of a box of strawberries, by guessing the nearest to the number of berries contained in the box. At a late hour refreshments of angel food cake, coffee, strawberries and whipped cream were served to about one hundred people.

Miss Martha Fox, who has been visiting Mrs. George Fox in Fort Myers, for the past two weeks, is expected to arrive home Saturday afternoon. She will be accompanied home by Mrs. Fox and little son, George, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Michalski of St. Paul, Minn., are spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Brumley at Chuluota Inn.

WHAT ISRAEL LEARNED AT SINAI

BY WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN
(Deuteronomy 4:12-40)

What Israel learned at Sinai, Text of Today's Bible Talk by Mr. Bryan.

For ask now of the days that are past, and from the beginning of the day that God created man upon earth, and ask from the one side or the other, whether there has been an idolater, which has done this great thing is, or hath been heard like this?

Did ever people hear the voice of God speaking out of the midst of the fire, as thou hast heard, and lived?

Or hath God assayed to go and touch another nation, by temptations, by wonders, and by war, and by a mighty hand, and by a stretched out arm, and by great terror, according to all that the Lord your God did for you in Egypt before your eyes?

Unto thee it was showed, that thou mightest know that the Lord is God; there is none else beside him.

But heaven he made thee to hear his voice, that he might instruct thee; and upon earth he showed thee his great first; and thou knowest his voice out of the midst of the fire, as thou hast heard, and lived.

And because he loved the fathers, therefore he chose their seed after them, and brought thee out in his sight with his mighty power out of Egypt.

To drive out nations from before thee, and to bring thee in, to give thee their land for an inheritance, as it is this day.

Know therefore this day, and consider it in thine heart, that the Lord he is God in heaven above, and upon the earth beneath; there is none else.

Thou shalt keep therefore his statutes, and his commandments, Askew, that thou mayest prosper, and that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, and thou mayest be long in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.

Sinai is inseparably connected with the Ten Commandments, given to the Children of Israel but in the foundation of law for the civilized world. Like the Lord's Prayer, the commandments give us a wonderful illustration of the power of condensation. A few words cover all of the important relations of life.

The first four commandments relate to man's duty to God. The first, "Thou shalt have no other gods before me," is the most fundamental; it deals with the supreme relationship of life, the relation between man and his Maker. It compels a singleness of purpose, a unity in the heart.

It may have been intended, primarily, to warn God's chosen people against the worship of the gods of the heathen nations round about them, but it is as much needed today as it was then, and as much in the United States as in any other land.

The world is full of idol worship at this time, in spite of the advance in general knowledge and the enlargement of man's power over the forces of nature. False gods and the offerings laid upon these altars are greater in number and value than the offerings laid upon the altar of the Christian's God.

Modern Idol Worshipers.
Space forbids an enumeration of all the idols worshipped in the United States, but conspicuous among them are the god of gold, the god of fashion, the god of fame, the god of ease, the god of intellect, the travel god, the god of chance, the god of passion, and the rum god.

As proof of the prevalence of debased worship, it is only necessary to suggest that the last of these gods, the rum god, was only a few years ago so widely worshiped that this nation wasted on intoxicating liquors three times as much as it spent for the education of all the children in the land, for kindergarten to state university, and five times as much as was spent on all religious activities.

Tolstoy defines religion as the relation that man fixes between himself and his Maker, and morality is the outward manifestation of this inward relation. As morality is the basis of society and civilization, and as religion is the basis of morality, nothing can surpass in practical importance a proper relationship between man and God.

The first commandment is intended to establish this relation. When applied to present conditions and translated into everyday language, it means: Thou shalt not put thyself before God, for self is the fashionable false god of this age and worship of self the greatest enemy of true religion.

Profitable Deceit.
The second, third and fourth commandments apply the principle of the first in detail; they forbid the things that most frequently give expression to the spirit of disobedience. The second forbids the making and worship of graven images, the third forbids the taking of the name of the Lord in vain, and the fourth enjoins an observance of the Sabbath—"Remember the Sabbath Day, to keep it holy."

Of these three, the fourth needs most emphasis today.

The desecration of the Sabbath is so pecuniarily profitable that a powerful moneyed class has risen up in resistance of any effort, persuasive or coercive, to protect the one day in seven reserved for spiritual things. While our government does not, and should not, attempt to force religion upon the individual conscience, it can and should make worship possible for those who desire to worship.

Our national and state governments set a wholesome example in this respect by so regulating the hours of employment that no one shall be denied the privilege of worship, except in cases of emergency. Surely one day in seven is not too much for the nourishing of the spiritual man, when it is remembered that the spiritual is, or should be, the dominant force in every human life.

The Universal Relationship in the matter of Sunday legislation, it has been found that the controversy is not so much between those who desire to have the day observed as a day of rest and those who do not themselves desire a rest day; it is between those on one side who are laboring disinterestedly for the public welfare and those, on the other side, who seek to convert the Sabbath day into a day for money making, just as the liquor question resolved itself into a fight between the defenders of the home and those who profited by the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors.

"Honor Thy Father and Thy Mother; that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee."

The fifth commandment deals with the universal relationship, namely, between parent and child, and inculcates that respect for authority which is not only essential to the home but necessary also as the basis of good citizenship.

The home is called the unit of society; it is not only the nursery for the affectionate and sacrificing personal virtue, but it is the training school for those broader relationships into which the adult enters with his fellow men and with the inhabitants of other nations.

Honor of father and mother is enjoined; it is vital to both parent and child and is the proper return for the affectionate and sacrificing service that the child receives.

Paul speaks of the fifth as "the first commandment with promise," the previous ones being explicit injunctions unaccompanied by the suggestion of reward. Obedience to parents is profitable; it secures length of days, as can be proven by those who obey as well as by those who observe the commandment. The latter avail themselves of the wisdom of an older generation, while the former suffer the punishment that folly brings upon them.

A Self Evident Truth.
The last five of the commandments relate to man's duty to his fellow man; they guard the indelible social rights of the individual.

"Thou shalt not kill." Here God put into four words a commandment that modern lawyers have extended into books and that, too, at the expense of both strength and clearness. It will be noticed that no arguments accompany this pronouncement; it is self-evident truth and needs only to be stated.

There never has been a day since this law was proclaimed that it was not needed; it is needed today with all our enlightenment. There is a shocking disregard for the value of human life that calls for a remedy.

Like that mysterious thing—intangible, invisible, and yet eternal—which man can take but cannot restore, it is laid in contempt, all over the world, even in our own beloved land.

The daily dispatches tell of the constant taking of human life, sometimes as the result of a quarrel over trifling matters, sometimes for hire, sometimes in an effort to commit a crime much less heinous, sometimes to cover up a crime already committed, sometimes as the result of disappointment in love or friendship, sometimes it is self destruction as a result of mortification or despair.

But whatever the cause, it is the gravest of crimes; it ushers a human being into eternity.

Individual killings, however, are few compared with the wholesale slaughters upon the battlefield, due largely to avarice and ambition.

All the commandments that come before the sixth, which obeyed—fortify man against the violation of this one which places an immeasurable value on the vital spark which is known as life.

Guarding the Home
"Thou shalt not commit adultery."

THE SEVENTH COMMANDMENT
guards the integrity of the home by putting a ban upon the one act that violates its sanctity.

If I mistake not the signs of the times, the inviolability of the home is the next great subject to receive the attention of those who seek to improve the condition of society.

We punish the thief who takes valuables from the home in the day time and the burglar who robs the home of money or merchandise at night, but there is not sufficient protection of the virtue that is the priceless jewel of the home.

The abolition of the saloon and the enfranchisement of woman, coming at the same time, make it possible to secure for the safeguarding of the home legislation that was impossible before. The time is ripe for the awakening of an increased respect for the seventh commandment.

"Thou shalt not steal." The eighth commandment is a recognition of the right of property—right next in importance to the sacred right of home, and only third in importance to the right to life.

No emphasis need be placed upon the criminality involved in stealing upon a small scale—this is universally condemned; but there is a tendency to decrease the severity of the condemnation as the amount stolen increases. The Scriptures define the small stealing that no one defends; grand larceny describes the larger robberies that are more difficult to punish, while the word "glorious" is the only term that seems to fittingly describe the pillage that nations sometimes engage in against other nations.

It would not draw any fine spun distinctions upon the amount taken or the number who join in the theft. "Thou shalt not steal" is no respecter of persons; the moral principle which it announces cannot be overwhelmed by a crowd or by the amount involved.

The Crime of Tals Bearing.
"Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." The ninth commandment guards the citadel of character.

Back in the days of the great law giver, the right to a good name was associated with the right to own property. It comes next to this right in its place among the ten and is associated with the commandments that protect life and the home.

Which it may be more difficult to calculate the injury done by slander or libel than the injury done by one who steals, the act is just as reprehensible and needs as much to be enjoined. Possibly the most offensive form which false witnessing takes today is tale-bearing—the more dishonorable because it is least subject to punishment.

One who assumes an open attack upon another, risking the penalties of the law, has at least the merit of courage which those cannot claim who circulate whispered calumnies that cannot be reached by the courts. Shakespeare says: "Who steals my purse steals trash; 'Tis he who steals my name, and he steals mine; tis he, and has been a slave to thine anger." But he that flees from me my good name.

Robs me of that which not enriches him, And makes me poor indeed."

This rests upon the words of Solomon: "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches. The assassin of reputation is thus even a greater criminal than the one who takes one's munny."

Christ's Two Commandments.
"Thou shalt not covet." The tenth commandment goes to the root of the matter and cuts out covetousness, the evil desire which, when developed, leads to the violation of the four preceding ones.

Covetousness is always the cause of the violation of the seventh and eighth commandments and is often the cause of the violation of the sixth and ninth, as illustrated in the sin of Ahab when he coveted the vineyard of Naboth; false swearing, murder and theft were added to his covetousness—four commandments violated to get a little piece of land.

It is a wonderful moral code in a few brief sentences; Christ condensed the ten commandments into two:

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself." On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

Our text for today takes up these commandments whether they are repeated in Deuteronomy and throws about them a halo of promise. The Children of Israel were reminded of the special care that had preserved them and were assured that the protecting arm of the Almighty would continue to sustain them as long as they remained faithful to the covenant into which they had entered. History shows that not only they but all people everywhere have found the guaranty of their own rights in the recognition of the rights of others and the advancement of their own welfare in the promotion of the welfare of others. (Copyright 1924, by The Republic Syndicate.)

London sculptors might try taking the thickest of the fog and carving statues on it.

If London fog gets thicker they may address post cards in raised letters for the postmen.

Perhaps, in London barber shops, they just spread a little thick fog on for shaving lather.

It would be getting too foolish to say London fogs are no heavy they can't see the French plans.

The Plan Proposed by the Florida Citrus Exchange for Orderly Marketing through Control of Distribution in which All Growers and Marketing Agencies may Join Hands Conditions in the citrus industry have brought home to every grower and to every shipper the need for increased consumption of Florida grapefruit and oranges and the necessity for the orderly marketing that can be assured only through control of distribution.

As by far the largest of the Eastern marketing agencies in the state, the Florida Citrus Exchange has been profoundly impressed by the obligation resting upon it to lead the way in providing ways and means for correction of the unfortunate situation that has prevailed this season.

Officers and members of the Florida Citrus Exchange have considered the subject of better arrangements for handling the state's citrus crop with due humility and a sincere desire to arrive at sane and sound conclusions. They have freely sought constructive counsel, both from inside and outside the organization.

Every suggestion offered has been carefully weighed and all ideas advanced have been painstakingly investigated. In the final analysis, it appears that the policies and practices of the Florida Citrus Exchange may properly be changed or modified in three important respects to harmonize the present situation. Consequently the members of the organization have been called to meet in special session to make such changes in the charter and by-laws as will provide for the following:

First, permitting privately owned marketing agencies, corporate or individual, to sell their output through the Florida Citrus Exchange, each such agency to function as a subexchange at large, without in any degree losing its identity, sacrificing its brands or otherwise changing the conduct of its internal affairs except as to selling.

Second, elimination from the operations of the Florida Citrus Exchange of every activity not specifically connected with selling the products of members, creating demand therefor and providing proper inspection, transportation, and accounting, all other forms of service to growers, local associations or sub-exchanges to be directly controlled by such of them as support these forms of service.

Third, placing representation upon a box basis.

COMMENTS EXPLANATORY OF THE PROPOSED CHANGES IN THE ORGANIC LAW AND PRACTICES OF THE FLORIDA CITRUS EXCHANGE TO EMPHASIZE THE MEANING OF THESE MODIFICATIONS

The purpose of the first modification is to make it practicable for private marketing agencies to sell through the Florida Citrus Exchange without change in ownership or in the direction of their affairs.

The Sub-Exchanges as at present constitutes separate cooperative corporations, controlling their own operations and using the Florida Citrus Exchange only to provide an orderly system for marketing the crops of members.

Under the new system, any privately owned marketing agency may become a sub-exchange at large, absolutely in control of its houses, house brands and all other factors having to do with the production and packing of fruit.

Second the changes provided for is that which will hereafter confine the operations of the Florida Citrus Exchange purely and simple processes in separately connected with marketing perishable products.

The Florida Citrus Exchange was formed to function primarily as a marketing agency. This particular modification of the charter or by-laws will be for the purpose of hereafter preventing any diversion of its energies into unrelated fields.

If there has grown up in the organization any paternalism or participation in matters foreign to the main issue of the Exchange's existence, amendments of the organic law under this head will both correct conditions that may now exist and prevent their recurrence.

Placing representation upon a box basis, as provided for in the third change, will give control of their own business to growers who produce and ship through the Florida Citrus Exchange.

Box basis representation will guarantee that a privately owned agency operating as a sub-exchange at large will have exactly the same voice in the management as a cooperative sub-exchange with the same volume.

In becoming affiliated with the Florida Citrus Exchange by making the latter its sales outlet, no privately owned marketing agency will need to change in any way whatever its plan of procedure except as relates to selling.

The machinery of the Florida Citrus Exchange is of sufficient elasticity to provide quick expansion for meeting any situation and the members of the board of directors of the Florida Citrus Exchange are unanimous in believing that the changes in its charter and by-laws, as described herein, open the way for a coordination of interests that will benefit all without injuring any — the highest type of cooperation. They feel that all serious objections to the Florida Citrus Exchange on the part of growers and shippers not previously affiliated will be entirely removed by the procedure provided. They are confident that with the control of distribution, demand can be developed to fully keep pace with increased production. They know that enlarged volume can be made to give increased efficiency of operation at a lower per box cost. They hope for a prompt and hearty response from growers and shippers who want to see the citrus industry of Florida permanently prosper.

Affirmative action on this proposition by prominent growers and shippers will lead to speedy improvement in present marketing. The whole situation can be readily changed for the better in a few days' time. Further information will be cheerfully supplied by the business manager of the Florida Citrus Exchange, Tampa, Florida.
