McCarthy Says Has 'Alarming' Information On Red Activities

Claims Situation Is More Serious Than Charges About Fort

Strolling In Sanford

Mrs. Edna Pinkerton, Sanford has been awarded a "Jumper" certificate by Marine Studios, Florida's renowned oceanarium. Specially selected visitors from all parts of the country earn this title at Marineland by feeding the famous jumping porpoises by hand. Mrs. Pinkerton received the award after successfully making three of the large aquatic mammals leap completely out of the water to take fish from her fingers. Following the porpoise feeding, Mrs. Pinkerton stayed to witness the entire program, during which a diver enters the two oceanarium tanks to feed the thousands of living marine specimens.

HAROLD E. STASSEN, Foreign Operations Administration Director, tells a news conference in Washington that Sen. Joseph P. McCarthy (R-Wis.) made a "region of false statements" in a recent Senate address.

The 50th program and the Annual Meeting and election of the Florida Association of Southern Florida will be held Tuesday, June 8 at 4 p.m. in the Coral Gables Elementary School Auditorium, 2200 Ponce de Leon Blvd., Coral Gables, according to Justin P. Haver, program chairman. Many of us are not familiar with the fine work of the Florida State Museum, a public supported institution in Gainesville, Fla. A field trip to the museum will be held on this museum, will come from Gainesville especially in light of "A Contemporary Approach to Florida History," he said.

U. S. Withdrawing Air Technicians From Indochina

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has started to withdraw some 200 Air Force technicians to Indochina to help maintain French warplanes nearly three months ago.

A representative of the Orlando Social Security Administration will be at the Seminole County Court House in Sanford on Friday, June 4, and Friday, June 18, between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and noon. He will take claims of retired persons, their dependents, and survivors of deceased workers, and distribute informational literature explaining phases of the Social Security Act.

Sanford today received a letter of thanks from P. A. Jacobs, city manager of Savannah, Ga., in appreciation of local city officials explaining how Sanford began and is now operating the city's sanitary landfill. Savannah has a problem similar to that of Sanford in regard to garbage disposal.

A Royal Viking is in bloom at 2205 W. First St.

The regular meeting of the EIK Club, tomorrow at 6:30 p.m., will feature a barbecue and initiation.

The City will install extra light at the Fort Mellon soft ball diamond within the next few days, according to Warren Knowles, city manager. The diamond is located behind the former bus station.

A cavalcade of automobiles with New Smyrna Beach Chamber of Commerce officials and a band of bathing beauties diverting passengers, has been scheduled to pass through Sanford next Saturday at 9:45 p.m., according to Frank Beckridge, local C of C manager.

A. K. Shoemaker Is Appointed To City Position

The city today appointed A. K. "Kay" Shoemaker Jr. to the position of administrative assistant to the city manager, according to Warren Knowles, city manager. Shoemaker, who was discharged from the Army as a first lieutenant last Monday, has a construction engineering degree from the University of Florida.

He graduated from the university in June 1952 and was commissioned immediately. He served approximately 18 months in service with a year in Korea.

His primary assignment with the city will be to obtain zoning permits and easements for the city's water and sewer program," said the city manager.

Firemen Answer Woman's Call Concerning 'Smiling' Squirrel

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Capt. Gus Mangione, an expert in handling fires, explosions and disasters the past 20 years, was almost tumbled by the "Smiling Squirrel."

A woman telephoned the city fire dispatcher and wailed: "I don't want to alarm you. There isn't a fire or anything but there is a squirrel in my house and he keeps smiling at me. I'm afraid of him."

"Madam, there's a what smiling at you?" asked Mangione.

"A squirrel," she replied, "every time I raise a broom to it, it smiles."

With the idea thus firmly established, Mangione dispatched three firemen to the scene. They found the apartment house manager, Mrs. J. W. Burbridge, had the grinning nutcracker cornered. A safe distance away, several other women watched proceedings.

The fireman, after one look, couldn't agree the genial rodent was smiling.

"He was definitely growling when we saw him," they reported. After a telephone conversation with Mangione, who gave orders to capture the "broad" alive, the firemen donned gloves and placed the squirrel with a broom and sent him on his way.

He scampered off, apparently just as happy to be outdoors again as the ladies were to be rid of him.

High Court Throws Out Track Tax

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The Florida Supreme Court says the 1953 dog track tax is arbitrary, capricious and unconstitutional.

The law increasing the state's take from dog track bets—one of the key legislative goals of the late Gov. Dan McCarthy—was overturned by a 4-3 decision.

Atty. Gen. Richard W. Ervin said he will ask for a rehearing. He said he will try in his petition to point out some obvious things the court early overlooked.

State Revenue Commission Chairman Raymond E. Dill had no comment on whether the commission will join in the petition until the group can get together to discuss the matter.

The law increased the state's take from a track's betting pool in proportion to the size of the pool.

The additional tax imposed based upon the new classifications determined solely by the size of the daily gross receipts is a gross receipts tax," Justice John E. Mathews, wrote in the court's majority opinion.

"The classifications are for tax or revenue purposes and such classifications are not based upon any substantial difference between the various classes established but appear to be wholly arbitrary and capricious."

"The effect of the attempted imposition of the tax is a denial of the equal protection of the laws guaranteed by the 14th amendment of the constitution of the State of Florida."

Chief Justice H. K. Roberts, Justice H. L. Sebring and Circuit Judge E. Clay Lewis concurred in Justice Ervin's dissent. Justice Frank Hobson also dissented, but because of his ownership of a few shares of stock in a Sarasota dog track.

The dissenters—Justices Glenn Terrell, Elwyn Thomas and E. Harris Drew—wrote no opinion.

Unless a rehearing is granted and the court reverses itself, the ruling means the state will have to return $2,500,000 it collected from the dog tracks during the past year. The money has been impounded pending outcome of the suit.

Sixty per cent of the money would have been divided equally between the counties. The rest would have gone to the State Welfare Board to be used in benefits for the needy permanently disabled.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today his administration has an impressive list of accomplishments in fighting communism and subversion.

The President made the statement at his news conference after virtually barring questions on the sharp controversy between members of his administration and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Sen. McCarthy, nevertheless, asked the President whether he would get into the question of McCarthy's administration record.

A list of accomplishments was given by the President and after a pause he asked McCarthy if that was all he had to say on the subject.

In dealing with questions about the McCarthy administration, "I control," the President said, "that from now on he has no more objectives to get into my legislative program."

As he declared that the administration through the Justice Department and the Federal Bureau of Investigation, "is doing a good job in fighting communism and subversion," Eisenhower made public a report from the department listing what he called the accomplishments of the administration during its first 6 months in office.

In a proposed statement, Eisenhower said the general surveillance of all movements in the country is at their own risk a week from now. It is carried out by the appropriate federal agencies in cooperation with the progress of law. It is being done quietly and relentlessly and those who know its effectiveness are the ones who are silent.

At the end of the conference, the President said that he would make more statements than any other President in his history.

He said he would continue to be in the Department and his statement on it, but he did not announce any substantive list of accomplishments.

Then Eisenhower alluded to a statement which Atty. Gen. Brownell had made today and the President said it was put out at the request of a reporter.

The President said a reaffirmation of his administration position on McCarthy was given by Eisenhower today.

The Department said — The President will make a statement on a subject which is a subject of public interest.

Study Underway For Means To Continue Sewing School

Recommendations of the Chamber of Commerce industrial committee last night were accepted by the Sanford industrial board for the continued operation of the vocational school for training needle workers.

A meeting of the CEC committee was held yesterday in the offices of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, with George Toney, chairman, presiding.

A. L. Wilson made a report concerning the status of the school, arrived at by a committee composed of Herman Jacobson, Forrest Brackley, and Tom Hamada.

Recommendations for presentation to the city board were made as follows:

The sewing school be reactivated and its operation be reorganized following the general provisions recommended by Mr. Wilson.

A committee be appointed by the sponsoring body to be responsible for the operation of the school.

All manufacturers concerned be represented as an advisory group to the acting committee.

At the joint meeting of the Sanford industrial board and Sanford Industries, Inc., last night, with Cowan, head of both, presiding, it was announced that the vocational school for training needle workers will be discontinued temporarily.

A committee, consisting of Mr. Wilson, chairman, Fred Murray, County head of vocational and adult training for the County Board, and the City Board.

Charles Bashlor, Convicted Slaycr, Caught In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Charles Bashlor, 19-year-old convicted murderer of a Jacksonville, Fla., banker, was captured here yesterday talking on the telephone with his former landlady.

He will be returned to Florida to continue serving a life sentence for the slaying of John E. Shenon, 51, in St. Joseph, Mo., in 1952.

Shenon was shot by Bashlor while the banker was talking on the telephone in his home and was shot as he attempted to step into the phone booth.

Bashlor was paroled after the death penalty upon recommendation of the jury.

Library Roof Is Being Replaced

Work began yesterday on replacing the Sanford Public Library's roof with a built-up roof, according to City Manager Warren Knowles.

The work is under the direction of P. M. English, local contractor, who submitted low bid for the project. The work will cost the city $150, said the city manager.

Originally scheduled for several weeks ago, the work failed to start until today because of bad weather. Knowles expects the roofing to be complete in the next several days.

Eisenhower Says He Still Favors Lower Voting Age

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, declaring himself still in favor of giving 18-year-olds the vote, today said he believed the states rights issue was mistakenly raised against the plan.

Despite the decision of Congress rejecting the proposal, Eisenhower said he still believes that young voters old enough to fight are old enough to vote.

The President noted that women gained the vote by constitutional amendment, and said he believes the same route should be followed with respect to the 18-year-olds.

Congressional opponents of the 18-year-old vote amendment, including Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) in whose state the teenagers have the highest, contended it is a matter for decision at home and not by the federal government.

World Trip Told At Kiwanis Meet

Highlight of today's regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Sanford Kiwanis Club were colored slides and commentary by Mr. and Mrs. Libby Allen.

The program was entitled "30 Minutes Around the World" and depicted the Allens' trip around the world last year. The subject was divided into three parts, the Far East, Near East and Europe.

The Sanford organization has scheduled a last ride and picnic in lieu of next week's regular meeting. Two boats will be used on the trip which would be to Blue Springs. Club members will remain at the place through the afternoon and return by the light of a full moon.

Holiday's Name Is Changed

WASHINGTON (AP) — From now on, Nov. 11 will be celebrated as Veterans Day, instead of Armistice Day.

President Eisenhower signed a bill yesterday changing the name of the holiday to honor American service veterans of all wars.

The change was announced by the State Department.

The bill will take effect on November 11, 1954.

Code For Hearings

Senator Estes Kefauver and 17 colleagues have introduced a measure calling for "a code of fair procedures in Senate hearings." The code is given little chance for adoption since the Congress is traditionally reluctant to place any curbs on its committees and chairmen.

Congress has the right and the duty to conduct investigations and these investigations have paid dividends in exposing graft, corruption and subversion on some occasions. Yet some system which would guarantee the rights of individuals called to testify to fair hearings should be adopted.

The code sponsored by Senator Kefauver and his colleagues calls for a witness to have the right to face and cross examine his accuser and to subpoena documents and witnesses in his defense. This seems like one of the most elementary principles of justice, particularly since a man who is accused of something before a Congressional committee faces serious damage to his reputation if the charges are proved or not entirely disproved.

There are other points in the code proposed for hearings which would be useful in making congressional hearings fairer and more efficient. Not all of the measures proposed in the code may be advisable—but those which are necessary should be adopted speedily.

The right of Congress to conduct hearings, and the importance of hearings, cannot be denied. Yet it is the American way to want all hearings to be fair and any safeguards which can be set up to assure this

HAL BOYLE

Combat Photographer Talented

NEW YORK (AP)—"I am a gambler," once wrote Robert Capa, whose gambling is now over. Bob, whom many regarded as the best combat photographer of his generation, explained the Doughboy pictorial as a job as his friend, Ernie Pyle, did in words.

This week Capa met Ernie's fate. He stretched a gambler's luck too far, went to one too many wars, a hand miss caught him in some obscure town in Indochina, and turned a fine man into a great memory.

War up front, as Bob himself has said, is "dearly and unmerciful." There is little to catch the camera's eye, but Capa had the high art of being at the right spot at the right moment to catch the unforgettable picture.

Bob was an exponent of "the big chance." He had seen so much of war that the routine of it bored him. But on the big stories—the patrol drops in Sicily and Germany, the invasion landings at Anzio and Normandy, the relief of besieged Bastogne—Capa liked to be in the first wave, although he was an afraid of death as most men are.

In his autobiography, "Slightly Out of Focus," he tells of brooding over what chances to take in the Normandy landing—whether to go ashore with the first troops or wait until the beaches were safer.

This is a decision every correspondent makes for himself, and Capa, mulling over the difference between the war correspondent and any other man in uniform, wrote:

"I would say that the war correspondent gets more drinks, more girls, better pay, and greater freedom than the soldier, but that at this stage of the game, having the freedom to choose his spot and being allowed to be a coward and not be executed for it is his torture. The war correspondent has his stable—his life—in his own hands, and he can put it on this horse or that horse, or he can put it back in his pocket at the very last minute.

"I am a gambler. I decided to go in with Co. E in the first wave." He did go in—on deadly Omaha beach. He survived, came back with 108 action pictures taken on that death-strewn stretch of tide and sand. But a darkness assistant burned up all but eight negatives while drying them. If life in his hand he could sweat out a philosopher, this experience would have soured him. It didn't.

Bob was the most romantic-looking guy in the press corps. A lock of black hair hung over his forehead, a cigarette dangled eternally from his lips. He loved champagne and girls with champagne eyes. His weakness was poker, and with a losing hand he could swear an intelligible oath in five tongues—English, French, Spanish, German and his native Hungarian.

"Capa can make himself misunderstood in more languages including his own, than any other man living," a press officer once said.

Bob would accept no discipline except the courage that sent him after the big pictures of the big stories. He was fired as often as a baller, dwelt in amiable poverty over what chances to take in the Normandy landing—whether to go ashore with the first troops or wait until the beaches were safer.

This is a decision every correspondent makes for himself, and Capa, mulling over the difference between the war correspondent and any other man in uniform, wrote:

Poison By Accident

A group of doctors and hospitals in Illinois is engaged in a cooperative effort to reduce the death rate caused by accidental poisonings.

The National Safety Council has estimated that 187,500 American adults and children were the victims of accidental poisonings last year, and that 1,250 of them died. Insisting that this rate is too high, the Council is campaigning to make sure that poisons are properly labeled and placed beyond the reach of children.

But the doctors and hospitals have carried this campaign a step further. They have established in each of the cooperating hospitals a detailed analysis of the hundreds of poisonous substances commonly found around homes. The nature of the poison, its effects and the best antidotes are kept on file so such information is at hand.

This allows doctors to reduce the time it ordinarily takes to decide on treatment. Moreover, the classification system enables the doctors to solve the riddle of which poison has been taken when no one out the victim, who is often unconscious or unable to talk, knows. By improving the diagnosis, improper treatments, which are often fatal, can be avoided.

In less than six months, this system has already proved itself a success. Not one of the 156 juvenile poisoning victims treated at the cooperating hospitals in that period has died, and all but 63 were cured so quickly that no long stay was needed.

This is an example of medical science utilizing all available information to attack a problem. Its success is the result of cooperation. More such cooperation is needed.

Exit Armistice Day

Armistice Day is no more. Congress has changed the name of the Nov. 11 holiday to Veterans Day. This changes the significance of the anniversary from a temporary one, applying to only one occasion, to a permanent one. Henceforth it will commemorate not the fighting in World War I, but also the work of the veterans who have helped to preserve the nation in this and other wars.

The old term still has a meaning. If not the one intended when the holiday was first established. We now see that Nov. 11, 1918, was not merely the end of a particular struggle, but also marks one stage in a more or less continuous period of hostilities that began for us in 1917, and has lapsed, with occasional interruptions, from World War I till now. Nov. 11, 1918, was correctly designated by its name, not the beginning of peace, but a lull in the fighting.

Too Late To Classify

Miami Beach may be all right for folks who like gay white ways, glamour, blaring jazz lands, packed dance floors, fancy swimming pools and beach cabanas, plush furnishings and cocktail hours, but a day or two of it all I can stand. Smoke gets in my eyes, I get butterflies in my stomach, my feet hurt and I am thoroughly unhappy.

Returning to Tampa from the Florida Public Relations convention, I read an item in the paper about the way the tarpon were carrying on at Boca Grande and I recalled that a good many years ago I caught my first silver king in Boca Grande Pass.

I also remembered that my good friend Bob Gehring, who formerly managed the Naples Beach Hotel, is now manager of the Boca Grande Hotel and so I phoned him and asked if he had a cubby-hole for me for a few days in Boca Grande and if it would be possible to engage a guide for a tarpon fishing trip.

Bob assured me "he could do" so we whiplashed the old Ford and headed for Boca Grande. You take the ferry to the island. We were too late for the last boat but Bert Cole operates a boat taxi in securing Linnie Patch as our guide. Linnie has been a guide at Boca Grande for years and knows more about tarpon than the guys who write the books and have never been there. There are plenty of books written on the subject.

The Boca Grande Hotel has been completely refurbished and air-conditioned. The Gehring, Bob and his lovely wife, know how to make guests feel at home and they have provided special service for fishermen so they can have an early breakfast or late supper if necessary, and delicious box lunches are provided for those who expect to be out all day.

It is the kind of a place a fisherman dreams about and ideal for those who like to get away from it all and enjoy quiet vacation sport where every comfort and convenience is provided and where the fishing is superb.

The village of Boca Grande is small, only about 500 year 'round residents. It offers nothing in the way of night clubs or whopser but much in restfulness and natural beauty. There is a well appointed lounge for the convenience of hotel guests who like a cocktail, a spacious lobby and sun-room where you can loaf around in comfort, read, relax, snooze, watch television, and you don't have to dress. The big idea at Boca Grande is to enjoy yourself, be comfortable and forget your worries. It is an atmosphere that particularly appeals to me.

If you like good food you won't find better anywhere. Bob Gehring sets the best table of any hotel man I know and meals at the Boca Grande Hotel are out of this world. I enjoyed my visit so much that I'm going back soon. It is a perfect vacation spot and right now is the time to land your tarpon. The Pass is full of them and they are in a biting, fighting mood. Linnie Patch or one of his buddies will take you out and see to it you contact a silver king, a thrill you'll never forget.

ST. PETERSBURG IS Dropping Lease
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—This city is getting out of the selling business. City Council decided to do this after a long study of a petition from Negroes for use of the course.

Council action yesterday terminated the lease on Pasadena golf course and turn the 18-hole course back to its private owners was unanimous.

In April a group of Negroes sought permission to play on the course. A special committee was named to study the petition.

Last week the committee heard predictions from its members and city officials that white players would stop using the course if it were opened to Negroes.

The committee meeting was called by the U. S. Supreme Court ordered the city of Houston, Tex., to open its municipal golf courses to Negroes on a segregated basis.

LIGHTNING WITH BOMB
KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Lightning struck Ray Jenkins' home yesterday during a storm, causing slight damage in the breakfast room.

Jenkins, special counsel in the McCarthy Army hearings, and Mrs. Jenkins are in Washington. Firemen said the bolt ignited a small electric appliance, which in turn set the curtains on fire.

JAMES MARLOW

New Investigation Is Hot Potato

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House investigation of tax-exempt foundations isn't likely to take the television play away from the Senate hearings on the McCarthy-Army row but it's a hot potato all by itself.

Prime mover in this investigation is Rep. B. Carroll Reece (R-Tenn.), who was Southern manager for the late Sen. Robert A. Taft's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination in 1952. One of the Democrats on Reece's committee, Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Ohio, was against this investigation before it started and has been critical ever since.

Although Reece said in a couple of speeches in 1953 that the majority of foundations—the biggest are Ford and Rockefeller—are honestly run, he said he is suspicious of some of them.

Among the suspects, he said, "are the story of how Communism and socialism are financed in the United States." He made no distinction between them. He said communism is socialism's brand name.

He complained too many foundation grants in education were for the "propagation of the so-called liberal viewpoint" or openly Communist viewpoints while the conservative view was being overlooked.

Therein lay the "nubbin" of Reece's desire for the investigation, said Rep. Jacob Javits (R-Lab.N.Y.). Last July 27 Reece pleaded with the House to set up a special committee to look into foundations. It did so.

Reece was made chairman. His committee has three Republicans and two Democrats. Between last July and mid-May, when public hearings started, Reece's staff gathered material for the inquiry.

In his July speech Reece cooked a critical eye on the Ford Foundation, set up by the heirs of Henry Ford. He was especially incensed.

Johnson Will Try To Bring Harmony Between Countries

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eric Johnson, President Eisenhower's special emissary, will try again this month to bring the Arabs and Jews into harmony on a plan to develop the Jordan River Valley.

State Department officials said last night Johnson has arranged a new series of conferences in the Middle East with representatives of Syria, Lebanon, Jordan, Egypt and Iraq.

He will leave Washington about June 10 and arrive in Cairo June 12, where conferences will be held with the Arab nations. He plans to confer with Israeli representatives later in Tel Aviv.

Little Boy Loses Welcome Of Police

BRAINTREE, Mass. (AP)—A 5-year-old lost boy was held at BRAINTREE police station for two hours yesterday.

During that time he dumped a couple of police files by pulling the drawers out of cabinets. He also cut the telephone out of order. Then he dismantled the telephone system by punching the buttons that switch calls.

When he heaped 14 Francis Maguire with a flashlight, the officer ordered patrolmen in place the lot in a police cruiser and go look for his parents.

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—A domestic wife beater and he nearly lost an eye, Robert G. Forbes, 69, told a divorce court yesterday.

He testified he played drunk in fool Mrs. Mildred Forbes, 35, his bride of six weeks.

He quoted his bride as saying: "I'll teach you to come home drunk."

Then, Forbes said, she hit him on the eye with a whisky bottle.

HUNT FOR PYTHON
BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP)—Concerned for his safety, Miss Fannie Lee has help today in finding her pet snake, a five-foot Python.

"It's the snake that's in danger, not people," she declared.

The snake escaped from her apartment. A net since birth three years ago, "Python Pie" is non-poisonous and absolutely harmless, she said.

Using Old Lipsticks Can Cause an Allergy

DESPITE the wide-spread long-time use of lipstick throughout the world, reactions to it are quite rare. However, many mothers worry when their daughters begin to use this cosmetic. Their concern is over whether this lipstick may have any harmful medical effects.

It was once believed that the type contained in lipstick could, if used over a long period of time, be a cause of cancer. However, no case of cancer has ever been traced to the use of lipstick.

Allergy Sometimes Present
Even if reactions do occur, they are usually due to an allergy or over-sensitivity to one of the substances contained in the lipstick.

One substance in lipstick that can be the cause of an allergy is known as castor. Some one of the acids of this substance may also be at fault just as butter will spoil, these acids can turn rancid if allowed to stand for a prolonged period of time. This rancidity increases the tendency for lipstick to cause reactions.

Beware of Old Lipstick
Therefore, lipstick that has not been used for a great period of time may cause irritation. Cases of this type are fairly common.

Sometimes the coloring matter is also at fault. For those who are allergic to this substance special types of lipstick can be bought which are less likely to produce these reactions.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
Mr. G. K.: Is there any disease that can cause baldness?

Answer: Baldness sometimes appears as a symptom of certain infections or diseases. Usually these cases of baldness will remedy themselves. Sudden loss of hair can follow typhoid fever or scarlet fever. Severe cases of pneumonia or influenza can also be followed by a pro-

MRS. HAROLD WALKER

Miss F. McGill, H. L. Walker Are Wed Sunday Afternoon

Sunday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in All Souls Catholic Church the Rev. Father Richard L. Lyons in a double-ring, candlelight ceremony united in marriage Miss Florence McGill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McGill of Geneva, and Harold L. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Walker of Sayreville, Ky.

The vows were repeated against a background of white floor baskets containing white gladioli and green foliage with smaller vases of the same. Mrs. E. E. Humillat, organist and soloist rendered the nuptial music and sang "Ave Maria."

Mr. McGill gave his daughter in marriage. She was lovely in a gown of white nylon tulle and a charming lace fascinator with Queen Anne collar and self-covered buttons extending down the back with the long sleeves terminating in points over her wrists. The four tiered veil was attached to a bandeau of lace and orange tulle. She carried a white satin prayer-bouquet with white purple-tinged orchid blossoms and greenery.

Miss June McGill, serving as her sister's maid of honor, wore a floor-length pale yellow strapless dress with a white covering the shoulders. Her ballerinas were of satin tulle in match the dress and the cascade bouquet was composed of yellow carnations with yellow daisies shading to a darker yellow and tied with contrasting ribbon and streamers.

Bridesmaid, Miss Barbara Flynn, wore a pale green dress fashioned like that of the maid of honor and carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations tied with contrasting ribbon. In a pale lavender tulle designed like those of the other attendants, Miss Mary Jane Flynn, junior bridesmaid, also had a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations featuring contrasting streamers. All the attendants wore a row of flowers in their hair.

The bride's brother, Robert McGill, was best man and serving as ushers were Jack McGill, brother of the bride, and Frank Thomas.

A two piece dress of gray print shantung was the ensemble Mrs. McGill chose for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Walker was dressed in a sheer navy blue frock with a lavender orchid at her shoulder, a corsage identical to Mrs. McGill's.

A reception was held in the church annex after the ceremony with Mrs. John Thomas of Geneva assisting. The bride's book was kept by Miss Mary Jane Flynn and Miss Margaret Flynn, and the bridesmaid's book by Miss Margaret Flynn.

For a wedding trip to Dayton, Ohio where the couple will reside, Mrs. Walker changed into a light blue two piece dress featuring a slim skirt and a small pearl jacket offset with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Walker of Geneva, Ky. and Mrs. Walter McGill of New York.

Mr. Walker attended schools in Kentucky and was a student at the University of Kentucky for two years and served four years with the United States Navy. He is presently employed as a policeman in Dayton.

Here's how to dress up a salad for that cold-cuts supper when you are having company. Use a medium-size head of cabbage and carefully spread out the outer leaves; cut out the center and mix it with grated carrot and salad dressing for your slaw. Pile the slaw back into the cabbage "bowl" and sprinkle with minced parsley.

Serve antipasto as a first course when you are having spaghetti and meat balls and you can omit salad. Include celery, anchovies, canned mince, green pepper and sardines in your antipasto and arrange the vegetables and fish on individual plates. Another good addition is Italian salami, sliced very thin.

Top vanilla pudding with drained canned apricot halves for a delectable dessert. Use the syrup left from the apricots in a cold drink or for basting baked ham.

Buffet Luncheon Given By Ladies For Bride-Elect

A lovely buffet luncheon was given by Mrs. Roy S. Mann and Mrs. George Touhy Saturday at the Mann residence honoring Miss Margaret Dingfelder, June bride-elect.

Calla lilies and gardenias in profusion decorated the entertaining rooms carrying out a bridal motif.

The honoree was later presented with a beautiful gift from the hostesses.

Guests were: Miss Dingfelder, her mother, Mrs. Roy S. Mann, Mrs. F. D. Scott, Mrs. Robert Frisch, Mrs. Donald Jones, Mrs. George Andrew Spear, Mrs. Velle Williams Jr., Miss Martha Wright, Miss Joyce Hesel and the hostesses.

Mrs. A. Pinkerton Surprised At Party By Group Of Pupils

Mrs. A. R. Pinkerton was honored guest Monday evening at a surprise party given by members of her sixth grade class and held at the home of Miss Dian Aiken, 411 Elliott Ave.

Arrangements of red and white gladioli were placed about the party room. Refreshments of punch, cookies and candy were served from the dining table which held a center arrangement of the same flowers, flanked with burning tapers in black wrought iron holders.

The party was planned and put on entirely by the students under the chairmanship of Miss Aiken, Eddie Kirchhoff and Don McCoy. Mrs. Pinkerton was presented a gift of jewelry.

Others present with the honoree were: The Misses Connie Hall, Katherine Carlos, Claudia Wasmack, Flora Mae Richardson, Evelyn Richardson, Ethel Long, Louise Nielson, June Hill, Lina Rossmann, Leale Stephens, Janet Glenn, Barbara Harwick, Dixie Collier, Daisy Morton, Alan Johnson, Scott, Ray Lundquist, Earl Sunmerhill, Jimmy Halligan, Vil Barka, Charles Benham Bonnie Whitten, Henry Morgan, Al King, Arthur LeYoung, Curtis Lee, Clyde Sommer and Robert Meeks.

Also Mrs. E. D. Kirchhoff, Mrs. Sacy King, Mrs. W. P. Hall, Mrs. Billy Glenn, Mrs. James A. Wright, Mrs. R. H. Wright, Mrs. Ava Wright Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Aiken, A. R. Pinkerton and H. R. Heckenbach.

Methodist Class Has Regular Meet At McKinley Hall

The Daughters of Wesley Sunday School Class met last night in McKinley Hall with Mrs. Zeb Liff, chairman, Mrs. T. Bradford Byrd, Mrs. S. O. Shinholzer, Mrs. A. B. Stevens and Mrs. J. C. Davis as hostesses.

The hall was decorated with beautiful arrangements of pinks, hellebores, daisies, and trumpet plants placed throughout.

Mrs. Albert Hickson, class president, presided over the business session and Mrs. O. E. White gave the devotional by reading verses from John and James followed by the Lord's Prayer in Unison. Mrs. Claude Herndon, courtesy chairman announced that she had sent three bouquets of flowers to all members during the month. Notes of appreciation were read from Mrs. Roy Ray, for courtesies extended to her mother, Mrs. W. D. Hunter, Mrs. Leslie McKean and Mrs. Dorothy Gentry for extending to her family, Mrs. Ben Monroe and Mrs. A. D. Zachary verbally expressed appreciation for flowers.

Mrs. Albert Hickson and Mrs. J. Boyett donated to the birthday bank. The class voted to send $5 to the Rainbow Ranch for Boys at Palatka and decided to buy a finger tip veil for the pulpit of the church. A plaque was ordered for the piano that was recently presented to the class by the Misses Flynn.

The business session was closed with the class song and benediction. During the social hour punch and cookies were served.

Those present were Mrs. Harry Binwin, Mrs. Roy Tillis, Mrs. J. R. Hawthorne, Mrs. Lida Stall, Mrs. Brodie Williams, Mrs. J. M. Hayes, Mrs. O. E. White, Mrs. Ben Monroe, Mrs. A. D. Zachary, Mrs. J. R. Miss Betty Patterson Becomes Bride Of George D. Roland

The marriage of Miss Betty Patterson and George D. Roland, both of this city, was solemnized Sunday at 5:00 p. m. in the First Christian Church with the Rev. Hecker J. Bass performing the candlelight, double ring ceremony.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Patterson and the son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Roland spoke their vows before an altar banked with palms, fern and white gladioli.

Organist for the wedding was Mrs. N. V. Farmer and Charles Morrison soloist, sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a ballerina length gown of imported white lace over taffeta with a fitted lace jacket with long sleeves which tapered to the wrists. Her finger tip veil was fastened to a tulle of orange blossoms and she carried a satin prayer book topped with white orchids, and streamers and alphanatics.

Acting as best man for the groom was Arthur H. Hatcher, Jr. Ushers were Paul Bennett and Charles Patterson.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. J. L. Anderson. Bridesmaids were Mrs. A. H. Hatcher Jr. and Miss Helen Bennett.

The matron of honor wore a ballerina length dress of imported organza over blue taffeta. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink sweetheart roses and pale blue hydrangeas.

The bridesmaids wore identical gowns of imported organza over yellow taffeta and carried identical bouquets of Easter lilies, daisies and blue hydrangeas.

Cardinals Meet Pinecastle Tonight

Lakemen Meet Top Team In Central Florida League

JOE KUBN
Sanford Cardinals will face the mighty Pinecastle Airmen tonight in Memorial Stadium. The game which will begin at 8:00 p. m. should be one of the best contests yet seen in the Central Florida League.

The Cardinals will be throwing all of their strength against the Airmen hoping to upset them. Pinecastle has not yet tasted defeat in league competition. They have compiled an 8-0 record, while Sanford has won five and lost three.

It will be the first time that the two teams have met in league play. They have met twice before in practice games and Pinecastle won them both.

The first game was not even close. Pinecastle romped to a 11-1 victory. In the second contest, Sanford made the score a little closer, but still lost by a 9-5 margin. In that game the Cardinals came from six runs behind to tie the score at 5-5, but they then folded and suffered another defeat.

Buddy Lake has his team in fine condition for the game and will make things pretty hot for Pinecastle tonight. The game is expected to draw a large crowd of Sanfordites.

One thing that Pinecastle has against their credit is a 16-4 loss to the Groveland Mascoets in a practice game. Groveland has lost every one of their league games this year.

Pinecastle will be using one of the most improved ball clubs in the C.F.L. tonight. They will have to hustle to the best of their ability if they hope to defeat the up-and-coming Sanford Cardinals.

Lefty Lloyd Swain is slated to start on the mound for the Cardinals. He will be seeking his third win in the league. Swain is a natural pitcher and he should worry the Airmen with his tricky style.

Red Hires and Fulton Harley will be in there swinging the big bats. Red will be looking for his first home run of the year and Harley will be hoping for his home. Gene Pennington and Bill Crabtree will also be looking for their second four base blows of the season. Crabtree led off the team in extra base hits with five.

Hugh Carlton and John Keeling will be looking for hits and also will have to hold down the infield. Carlton will be third and Keeling at second.

Manager Buddy Lake may replace Swain on the mound if necessary. Buddy has been hitting that ball quite regularly and should help the team considerably if he plays.

Probable Sanford Line-up
Keeling—second base
Pennington—shortstop
Crabtree—center field
Bazley—right field
Hires—first base
Carlton—third base
Schirard—catcher
Swain—pitcher

Pro And Duffer

Associate Pro, Miamasha Lake Golf Club, New York
Average golfers in my experience have the most trouble with the short irons. This applies particularly to full shots with the 8 or 9 irons.

I would describe these deep faced irons as "accuracy clubs." The purpose of these clubs naturally is to get the ball close to the hole. An average golfer has trouble with the short irons for possibly various reasons. The main reason however, is that he or she doesn't let the club do the work.

The tendency is to try to help the club instead of using the club's indicated distance. For the average golfer the 8 and 9 irons are constructed to hit the ball just so far. The distance each club will produce will vary by a number of yards in the minimum-maximum range and this is something that is learned from experience.

Some average golfers hit short iron shots longer than others. Practice and nothing else will reduce the difficulties in making these shots. Skill and confidence will arrive at the same time and their arrival will be induced by constant practice. This I know from my own experience.

In my professional career, a high No. 8 iron shot across a sand trap and into a protected green has bothered me the most. There are times when I must try to overcome this difficulty by using a cut 4-wood shot or forcing a 3-iron shot. One of these two usually work.

HIS GIG TEST WHEN WE TAKE ON FORMER CHAMP JOEY MAXIM IN NEW YORK ON JUNE 7—SINCE ENTERING THE PRO RANKS FLOYD HAS WON 13 STRAIGHT.

STILL BEATERS in his high speed racer, Bill Vukobich, begrimed and worked from his record breaking 100-mile drive, collects a double victory from his wife (left) and beautiful actress Marie Wilson at the Indianapolis Speedway's Victor's Lane. Averaging a record making 130.510-miles-an-hour, the victorious Vukobich collected $1,500 in top money. His total winnings were not announced but are expected to come close to the $50,000 he grossed last year. In the background and gleaming on the head of his racer are the trophies, symbolic of his racing triumph. (International Soundphoto)

Billy Vihlen Shoots 70 In Hogan Tourney

Billy Vihlen stands an excellent chance of winning a "I beat Ben Hogan" award. Other Sanford golfers who have entered the tourney so far at the Seminole Country Club are T. F. McDaniel and L. H. W. Flippen. Vihlen shot a 70 at the course, while the two others shot 71.

The entrance fee for the tourney is one dollar. This dollar must be paid by the fifth. Ben Hogan will shoot his game Saturday at a New Jersey course. All golfers that shoot under the score Hogan has set the award. All proceeds of this tourney go to charity.

Carter Favored Over Riley Tonight
ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ex-lightweight champion Jimmy Carter of New York rules a 2-1 favorite to take the measure of Chillin' Charley Riley at their scheduled 10-round bout at the St. Louis Arena tonight.

Carter is expected to weigh 125 pounds and Riley, 131. The former champion is primed for the fight. He came here after five weeks of training in San Francisco for what he thought was a return shot at the lightweight crown with Paddy Delaney. Delaney's illness forced a postponement and Carter agreed to meet Riley here instead.

The CBS telecast is scheduled for 9 p. m., EST. The 31-year-old Riley, who turned professional as a featherweight in 1944, has fought four world champions during his career but has been finding the competition tough lately.

In his last outing, the veteran St. Louis slugger lost a decision to Davey Moore of Chicago. Carter, during his reign as lightweight champion, lost his title to Louis Salas but won it back and defended it successfully six times before DeMarco beat him on a decision last winter.

Safety Group Gives Instructions On How To Make Boxes Safe

CHICAGO—How to let air in or keep children out of discarded iceboxes is the subject of a recent publication by the National Safety Council.

The publication is being distributed to schools before the summer vacation period, and a step-by-step information campaign is underway to warn parents of the greater danger during the summer months.

Citing an unofficial count of 79 child deaths in the last five years, the Council details several methods for preventing suffocation in iceboxes, refrigerators, freezers and other airtight cabinets.

A worn-out refrigerator should be disposed of to a junk dealer, but if that can't be done immediately, then—
1. Remove the door. This is the safest way, since a chest especially may have a door too heavy that a child could not open it even if unlatched.
2. Remove the latch stop. This usually can be done easily by removing the screws from the plate.

3. Drill rows of holes in the cabinet sides and pry off the rubber gasket around the door. These methods, used together, will reduce the danger of suffocation in a refrigerator kept in use as a storage cabinet.
If refrigerators are temporarily out of use while the owners wait to move them to another location, sell them, or pass them on to relatives, then—
1. Remove the latch stop, which can be easily replaced.
2. Turn the box with the door against the wall. Most boxes are too heavy for children to move.
3. Bind the door shut with wire or stout rope.
4. Padlock the door when the handle is so constructed.
The Council points out that the hazard apparently is increasing as more and more outmoded refrigerators are being replaced. Twice as many deaths occurred in 1963 as in 1962. The average age of victims is five years, with the range from two to 12.
While urging legislation to impose penalties for careless disposal of airtight cabinets, the Council believes that only informed adults can give positive protection to youngsters.

Civilians Carry Guns In City

(Editors Note: Last month William L. Ryan, Associated Press foreign news analyst, during a study tour of the Far East and Southeast Asia surveyed France's fight in Indochina. Now investigating current affairs in North Africa, Ryan reports today on the troubled situation in another "hot" French overseas territory.)

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP)—French civilians are carrying guns in this worried city today as nationalist terror rises.

Casablanca, Morocco's big metropolitan area, falls silent by night. Streets are virtually deserted. Movie houses and restaurants are bare of customers. French and those Moroccans who are terrified by extreme nationalists are staying in their homes at night.

Outside the central prison dozens of veiled Muslim women cling to the bars of the iron gates and will for their men. Around police stations attended by native police in red fettes and blue uniforms, crowds are herded daily to have identifications verified as a strict security measure. Unless their papers are strictly in order, they are subject to arrest.

Heavily armed Moroccan government troops roam the streets on bicycles watching for trouble in the medinas, the native towns in the medinas and bidonvilles—the fantastic slums of Moroccan cities—there is an air of tension. It is there that extreme nationalists carry out terror against Moroccans who are suspected of being French.

Auxiliary troops brought in from country tribes are encamped on hills overlooking the medinas and bidonvilles in a state of constant alert.

But despite the extraordinary military measures, terrorism continues. Almost every night there are killings or other violent inidents in Casablanca, scene of the most persistent attacks.

Business people are extremely worried. They say that if the terror continues unchecked another year, their backs will be against the wall. The terror is frightening away both French and foreign capital. Some French are already beginning to pull out of Casablanca.

Officials worry over the worsening business situation, which promises rising unemployment.

One French official acknowledged it is not impossible that hit and run guerrilla warfare will become current here.

Anger has been rising steadily during the nine months since the French ousted Sultan Sidi Mohammed V.

med Ben Youssef and placed 65-year-old Sultan Moulay Mohammed Ben Arafa on the throne of the Sherifian Empire.

"There is nobody on the throne," a group of Moroccans told me during an interview in a Moroccan home. "The new sultan is nobody."

Some French here have been criticizing openly the present French policy of police repression of nationalism, which has jailed or exiled all nationalist leaders who matters stand now, with leaders gone and legitimate political activity suppressed, there is no safety valve. Nationalism, becoming more impatient and extreme all the time, finds its only expression violence.

Eisenhower

President said he didn't know just what he was talking about when he spoke of a compromise.

Politics—Eisenhower said that if anyone in Congress wants to support his general legislative program for the welfare of America, then it's all right with him if they want to ride his coat tails.

That remark came after a reporter recalled that the President's special counsel, Bernard M. Shanley, said in a speech last week that Democrats in Congress are trying to ride his coat tails to victory in the November elections and at the same time are blocking the Eisenhower legislative program.

Southeast Asia—Eisenhower said that not by any manner of means has he reached any decision to ask Congress to authorize American military action in Southeast Asia.

The President was told that two senators whom the questioner did not name had predicted that the administration will ask for such authorization.

Eisenhower replied that every possible course of action which would serve the United States and the free world is being explored daily.

Atomic Pool—The President said the tenor of Russia's reply to his proposal for creation of an international atomic pool for peaceful purposes has been such as to close the door to its immediate accomplishments.

Awards Are Given To 14 Cub Scouts

Scouting awards were given to 14 members of Sanford Cub Pack 34 at the organization's family picnic which was held at Seminole Camp at the Wekiva River recently.

W. E. Dodson made the presentations to Huelan Grier, bear badge; and silver arrow; Bradford Aiken, bear badge, gold arrow; Norman Fox, bear badge, gold and silver arrow and dinner stripe; Billy Clancy, bear badge, gold and silver arrow and assistant dinner stripe, and Jimmy Terwilliger, bear badge.

Johnny Clark, Billy Smith, Chip Crawford, and Michael Ables got wolf badges; Wayne Epps got two silver arrows and dusty Crawford and Clark Murray got two silver arrows.

Frank Scott got a two-year service star and Gregory Niblack his bobcat induction pin.

Lions Pick Girl To Attend Course

The Sanford Lions Club today selected a Seminole County girl which it will sponsor to the state F-H short course to be held at the University of Florida June 7 through 12.

Betsy Westfall, winner of second place in the county dress review, held last week under the direction of Miss Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration agent, was selected by the civic organization's boys' and girls' committee.

The six-day course uses the theme, "How To Live Better At Home", for its course, which is an annual affair.

a jury. He escaped two weeks ago from Apalachee Correctional Institution in Chattahoochee, Fla.

Police had kept a constant trace on the phone of Mrs. Leona Rathmun, the former landlady, since Monday night when she reported Bashlor phoned her and talked for about 20 minutes.

The police said they believed Bashlor hitchhiked to Detroit in an effort to carry out threats of revenge upon his father and a taxi dancer whose lip led to his arrest on the murder charge.

DENVER (AP)—You could find everything from 30-degree summer heat to snowstorms in the Rocky Mountain area yesterday.

A Pacific cold front moved across Montana, leaving up to 6 inches of snow at points along the Continental Divide. The Weather Bureau reported that snow fell in at least four Montana cities—Lewisville, Belgrade, Butte and Great Falls.

Blast On Submarine Kills Two Civilians

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP)—A flash explosion early today killed two civilian workmen aboard the Navy submarine Sirago as she lay in drydock at the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard.

A sailor on fire watch duty nearby was burned by the blast, but his condition was described as "not critical."

Six other civilians working on the submarine were not injured.

Capt. Robert E. Cronin, commander of the shipyard, said the blast was in the submarine's main ballast tank, where the two victims were spraying a plastic substance.

He said the submarine did not appear heavily damaged. An investigation was ordered.

The Navy withheld the names of the victims.

The blast was the second to strike a naval vessel in one week. Last Wednesday an explosion aboard the carrier Bennington off Quonset Point, R.I., killed 100 men.

One of the workmen killed on the Sirago was inside the ballast tank and the other was working on the tank from the outside.

Step Up Military Aid To Honduras

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—The United States stepped up military aid today to Honduras, southern neighbor of Communist-influenced Guatemala and a potential ally in blocking any Red move toward the Panama Canal.

U.S. Army Col. M. C. Shattuck, chief of the U.S. military mission in Honduras, planned to start today a training program for officers of a new 800-man combat battalion to be shipped into shape.

The Honduran war minister, Gen. Leonidas Pineda, announced the United States is sending more arms and tanks for the outfit.

The weapons shipment from the United States was made last week after it was learned Guatemala was getting arms from behind the Iron Curtain.

FIREMAN KILLED
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A young volunteer fireman, racing by auto to the firehouse in answer to an alarm, was killed last night when his car collided head-on with the fire engine. One fireman was injured and four suffered bruises.

The victim was Everett Russell, 28, of Marshallton, four miles west of West Chester.

Boys Suffocate In Refrigerator

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)—Julian Drew, a part-time junkman, picked up an old refrigerator in a dump yesterday and put it in his back yard, where he planned to break it up.

But before he got to the task, he and his wife were called away.

When they returned home six hours later, Mrs. Drew opened the refrigerator door. Inside she found the bodies of Larry Murphy, 3, and Paul Murphy, 4.

A medical examiner said the two boys, cousins, climbed into the refrigerator at play while the Dreads were gone. They suffocated.

India Reported Against Request

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India was reported today opposed to Thailand's request that the U.N. Security Council send special observers to check on the war in Southeast Asia.

An authoritative source said Prime Minister Nehru's government feels such a move might up set or interfere with the Geneva conference on the Far Eastern conflict.

The Security Council meets in New York tomorrow to consider the Thai proposal.

City Officials Study Problem In Parking

City Comrs Denver Cordell and John Kader, together with City Manager Warren Knowles and Chief of Police Roy Williams are today studying the possibility of creating a new loading zone or extending unloading time at Second St. and Oak Ave.

The problem is, that once a week feed is unloaded from large trailer trucks at the Stall Farm Supply Store. It was stated at Monday night's commission meeting that it usually took from four to six hours to complete the unloading. Because of the location of the establishment, traffic is blocked on one of Sanford's busiest alleys.

The complaint was brought to the commissioners by Robert Miller, owner and manager of Miller Radio and Appliance Store, which fronts it faces on Park Ave., uses the alley for deliveries.
