Favorites Number Five In Horseshoe Tournery Opening At St. Petersburg Leading Scorer

Here is Wilbur Cummins, high point-scorer of the Purdue University basketball team. He totaled 46 points in his first three games, 22 of them against Minnesota. He plays center.

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 11.—(INS) The "five horsemen" favorites contenders for the national horseshoe pitching championship for 1927, weighed in their shoes here this morning and started the round-robin tournament which in six days, will eliminate to 12 the entry list which exceeded 25. A crowd estimated at 2,500 persons had gathered at the sunshiny pleasure club pitching alleys for the first play this morning.

Frank Jackson, 25-year-old veteran and several times champion at intervals will defend his crown won in a play off last year here with "Putt" Mossman, Eldora, Ia., pitcher who won the title three years ago. Mossman is now 20 and due to great practice play here Saturday, when he pitched 85 ringers in 100 shoes, he is given a slight edge over the field.

Jackson started to default his title because of the severe illness of his wife in Killebrew, Ia., but insisted that he take the trip to St. Petersburg and defend his crown. During practice sessions the champion has pitched only two games daily, apparently being worn to a fine edge by the anxiety of his wife's health and the prospective strain of the coming 10 days of play.

Jimmy Risk, Indiana champion, but 186-4 of age is a third member of the favorites with Bert Durbin, third place winner in 1926 and Harold Falor, Akron, O., who won the title three years ago when only 12, comprise a quintet which is certain to produce a majority of the first five place takers.

WALSH IS UNABLE TO PICK WINNER IN FRIDAY'S BOUT

Little Choice To Be Seen In Either Maloney Or Delaney, Says Sports Writer; Boston Man Has Weight Advantage

By DAVIS J. WALSH International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—It looked like a "hung" jury today as that absorbing Delaney-Maloney case, five days before the battle of the great indoors was to be carried to a close. In fact, the situation simply defied the boys to reach a conclusion, since the "holes" in the records of both principals made it possible to argue for or against yourself with an equal chance of collecting from the ope pocket and paying off in the other.

Jack Delaney is the type of fighter who will start them riling at the turnstiles. Much of his reputation is built around his fights with Paul Benjamen. Yet the common impression is that for more than a year, Benjamen hasn't been the man he used to be, as a matter of fact, some suggest that he never was.

Before I became identified as a fishmonger among a lot of tennis rangers, permit me to say that I regard Jack Delaney as a great light heavyweight. But as a heavyweight contender, he hasn't proved anything yet. I suppose I am damning the man with faint praise but if it be treason, make the most of it. To me, Delaney is an untired heavyweight and will so remain until Friday.

His knockout of Bud Gorman was sensational in its effect; yet it was without particular significance, since Gorman has a chin that is as fragile as a wire glass. The Gorman fight has been Delaney's only major heavyweight engagement to date.

Therefore, throwing out all the glamor of an clamor about the man, it stands to reason that the burden of proof is yet to be furnished. You couldn't, for example, prove his ability as a heavyweight by his victories over Tiger Flowers and Mike McTigue. These were impressive only for light heavyweight purposes.

Now for Maloney. This rather shrewd young man has come along from nowhere to fame in three months. He fought around Boston for some years with reasonable success but thought so little of himself that he retired from circulation for a time. This was due partly to managerial troubles and partly to the fact that he seemed to be going nowhere with great rapidity. Once he was knocked out by one Leo Gates; on another occasion he lost to Smalley on a foul and not so long ago he won from King Solomon on what might be called a foul tip.

That's the picture of Maloney as he was. This is the young man as he is. He stopped Arthur DeRube, a national canvasback; he outstayed Franz Delner, a willing German; he won easily from Harry Peterson, a willing Swede. That is the build up on Maloney in its entirety.

If Delaney were bigger and stronger, one might be justified in giving him the cake right now. He has proved himself a master workman, a great one-punch hitter and a fast, clever, brainy boxer; he has proved everything, in fact, except the essential question of whether he really is a heavyweight in the first place. The jury is fatheaded who says that the 22-pound pull Maloney has in the weights will make little difference.

However, Delaney is a "money" to be. Also, he has added strength and health without sacrificing speed. He is a "killer" with a right cross in the jaw but, on the other hand, the punch is virtually a trick of carrying his left shoulder ultrahigh and Delaney the body, which may not be in such a good position to do business with any advantage because of the disparity in the weights.

Some of the boys have picked their winner already. I may pick mine Saturday morning.

'Boots' Antley And Ben Ray Scheduled For Bout This Week

"Boots" Antley, fighting under the wing of John Maurer, Jr., has been matched for 10 rounds against Ben Ray, of Tampa, for the main bout of the regular weekly boxing show at the Armory, according to an announcement made this morning. In view of the fact that both boys have made themselves acquainted before, in circumstances similar to those which will prevail Wednesday night, Sanford and Orlando fight customs should see some real action.

On two occasions, back in their adolescent days, Antley and Ray fought to a draw. On another occasion was rendered. On this, the fourth encounter, somebody should walk out of the ring assisted by his second. His opponent should walk out only with a grin.

Antley looks to be in condition. John says he is. Ray headquarters report with a similar ballyhoo. Fans sit tight wait. Wednesday night they will pay, even if through the nose. But they should get every dime's worth.

OIL PROMOTERS RECEIVE BLOW IN NEW REPORT

State Geological Survey Adverses That There Is No Record Of Any Oil Discovery

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 11.—(INS) Florida oil well promoters are given a blow in the seventeenth annual report of the Florida Geological Survey, which has just come off the press.

"The State geological survey has no record of any oil ever having been found in the state of Florida," the report on the petroleum possibilities, compiled by assistant state geologist Stuart Messom, declares.

Many times traces have been reported during drilling, but no collectable quantity ever found; at other times, newspapers have carried announcements of "gasbers" substantiated by any means, that a few quarts boiled from the well under conditions that can only be described as doubtful or unknown origin, for oil drilling in the state has even a cracked of the promoters' influence," the official state report says.

"The hope of Florida's producing oil in any commercial quantity is rather remote. In the first place it is a country of little structure and such structures as do exist are gentle and regional. To outline from surface exposures any possible structure that would be favorable for the accumulation of oil would be extremely difficult. This is particularly true for south Florida, for the high sandstone covered ridge section, and for the flatwoods and high sandy marsh country lying near the Gulf where unconformable materials mask the underlying formations."

"Detailed work in relatively small areas admits of many chances for error in dealing with a soft massive limestone as a key bed even when well samples are available.

"In the second place no formations have been penetrated which give any evidence of any quantity of bituminous matter from which the oil might be generated or any beds that show any oil accumulation.

"Formations underlying western Florida carry lignitic material but it is doubtful if this is present in quantities to generate oil and gas for commercial production," the report says.

He probably can have the endorsement of his state for the Democratic nomination in 1928 if he wants it.

But McLean is a supporter of W. G. McAdoo.

That is why McLean, who thinks McAdoo has a better chance for nomination than any governor below the Mason-Dixon line no matter what his capabilities, is unlikely to come to the next convention as North Carolina's favorite son.

The same thing holds true for Senator Furnifold M. Simmons, leader of the state Democratic organization, who has had North Carolina's endorsement and whose friends would be glad to give it to him again.

The purpose of this story is not to cast aspersions at the presidential boom said to have been started for the able McLean.

It concerns a deep, dark and diabolical plot which certain good Democrats find evolving from the bitter warfare of automatic attacks and poison gas which is raging between our old friend McAdoo and Al Smith.

It already is evident that the Smith legions, with the enthusiastic support of all political sets, are doing everything in their power to foster a widespread belief that McAdoo, as a candidate for nomination, is dead duck. Many people, either through hope-filled thought or otherwise, already believe this.

But it is much too early in the game for any man possessed of reasonable caution to assert anything of the sort.

It is only slight evidence that Smith's friends have been waging a vigorous campaign of education to sell Smith to the south and west. Time will have to demonstrate the effect of this effort.

But what the McAdoo Democrats feel is likely to be the most perilous Smith offensive is an attempt to prevent McAdoo from reaching the next convention with an imposing column of delegates instructed to vote for him and stick with him to the last. If Smith should ride in from the north with a large number of delegates, the psychological effect can readily be seen. And it is quite possible that he will.

The Smith Democrats are now

Act Regulating Marketing Organizations Is Upheld In Pinellas County Litigation

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 12.—(INS) The validity of the statute of 1923 regulating the organization of co-operative marketing organizations was upheld by the Florida Supreme Court when the high tribunal affirmed the decree of the circuit court of Pinellas county in the case of W. H. Lee and wife, and the Growers Sales Corporation, appellants, versus the Clearwater Growers Association and the Florida Citrus Exchange, respondents.

The opinion was written by Justice Glenn Tarver. Lee, it was alleged, owned an orange grove and entered into a contract with the Clearwater Growers Association for the packing, shipping and marketing of his fruit, but before the contract expired, disposed of the fruit to other parties. The Clearwater Association was granted an injunction by the circuit court of Pinellas county to stop Lee's practice.

Lee contended that the law under which the cooperative association was operating impaired the obligations of their contract in that the association was in no way bound on its part to pay damages to the applicant for breach of contract.

The supreme court upheld and sustained the validity of the statute and the decree of the circuit court.

Another allegation on the part of Lee declared that the contract was in restraint of trade and in violation of the United States constitution. The court held this not to be true and that the restraint or trade in the constitution referred only to those cases detrimental to the public and that the temporary restraining order of the circuit court was justified.

The statute which was questioned is 4314 of the revised general statutes of Florida, chapter 10,097, acts of 1923. It is considered of vital importance to the citrus industry of the state and the validity of all co-operative marketing associations handling a large amount of dollars worth of fruit from Florida each year.

Supreme Court Upholds Right Of Auto Dealers To Repossess Unpaid Machines

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 11.—(INS) The Florida State Supreme Court today upheld the right of automobile dealers and finance corporations to repossess automobiles that are unpaid for when sold under conditional sales contracts and the notes carry the provision that the dealer is authorized to provide they make an unlawful trespass or breach of peace.

A delegate instructed to vote for McLean, Pat Harrison, Joe Robinson, Carter Glass or any other state here need not declare himself as between McAdoo and Smith; he need only about that he's for McAdoo, Harrison, Robinson or whoever it may be.

versus I. O. Percifield, Lake Worth automobile dealer. Percifield was convicted of the larceny of an automobile and sentenced to pay a five hundred dollar fine and court costs or spend one year in the penitentiary.

Percifield had sold an automobile to L. O. Cowdry and received a note on the car agreeing to let the title remain in the dealer's possession until the note was paid at maturity and that if not paid he would have the right to take the car without resorting to the courts. This is said to be the usual procedure in all sales of cars on the installment plan.

Ford's Reward

There is a lesson for the ambitious coming out of the tax recovery suit against the former minority stock holders of the Ford Motor Co. For years, America has been known as the land of opportunity and thousands of individuals have made adequate testimony of this fact, but none of them tend more strongly to prove it than the phenomenal success of Henry Ford.

It was after the dawn of the twentieth century that Ford was still working as an almost unknown mechanic. That he had become so famous for the success of his later inventions, but at that time, even then, a man of middle age, he had done nothing to show the ability stored up within him. About 1905 he organized his little company capitalized at only twenty-eight thousand dollars.

Imagine the difficulty Ford had selling stock in such a concern. In the days when a horse and buggy was the sportiest thing a man could take his girl out in on a Sunday afternoon, in the days when "a horridness buggy" was looked upon by all with suspicion, imagine Ford trying to sell stock by telling investors that he could make one that would run, few years every body would be riding in one of these "new-fangled contraptions."

But he sold stock enough to get started and it seems that he was all he needed. The business was a success from the start and by 1916 it had grown to such proportions that New York bankers offered $500,000,000 for the entire organization and he was promptly turned down. That they made a mistake is not raising that fact at all since it is shown by the fact that in not raising that sum since 1925, the Ford's have turned down offers of one billion dollars for their business. Why shouldn't they? They are said to have as much as $200,000,000 in cash in the various banks of the country.

For Henry Ford this has truly been a land of opportunity. And so it is for anyone who has ability, industry and of everything offered them which has quality or value. The rewards of honest endeavor are great.

Grass Fires

According to the Sarasota Herald, the fire department of that city answered fifty-five calls last month, the vast majority of which were "grass fires." We have no information as to how many of these fires are proportional, as in all other Florida towns, to that of the Sarasota organization. At this time of year it is hardly possible to ride on any country road for any great distance without passing close to some grass or brush fire. Later in the year, when the summer sun dries things to the point of cracking, such fires are more frequent. They form a menace which must be fought constantly.

The unfortunate part about such fires always is that they are due almost entirely to negligence or carelessness in the care of some individual. It is not the fault of the state or the nation, but the fault of the individual who is careless. Cigarettes thoughtlessly thrown away, camp fires left burning, sparks from carbon chocked exhausts, unused matches dropped along a road or by hunters in the woods, and a damge.

It is not infrequent that persons start fires purposely to clear land or for some similar reason. They cannot be blamed for this, but they should be blamed if they do not take great care to see that the fire does not get beyond their control and burn something not intended to be burned. Such fires should be watched constantly until extinguished.

If a fire confined to grass and dead brush, it would not be so objectionable, but all too frequently it destroys beautiful orange groves, country homes, and other property of much value. To make any other man's land or home through absolute carelessness is not only inconsiderate, but it is criminal. People should be sure they are careful or the law may get after them.

HIGHLAND PARK

Artistic - Unique - Distinctive - Different

Those terms have sometimes become hackneyed and meaningless as applied to real estate which had nothing to justify their use, but as applied to Highland Park, they are of vital significance and indicate the many things which render this development really distinct and different from any other in Sanford, and set it apart in a class by itself.

The name, Highland Park, expresses two of the main features which make it different from all others, for it is indeed Sanford's highlands, water flowing from it in all directions, north, south, east and west, and instead of the conventional checker board street lay out of the ordinary town lot subdivision, its entire surface is landscaped as a park, and within its borders are three areas devoted exclusively to park purposes, all of them actually under development, and one of them

RAINBOW GARDEN AND POOL on Colonial Way, near French Avenue, has been nearly completed at a cost of several thousand dollars. All around this garden has been set a hedge of Hibiscus and Alamanda. Flame Vines have been planted at the feet of the trees growing inside and on the building lots surrounding. An Azelea garden has been planted. Cannas have been set in a five foot bed around one side of the circle. Sweet Peas and Nasturtiums are growing around the other half of the circle. Yellow Jasmine Vines are growing by the rustic summer house. A fountain springs from an imitation Calla Lilly in the center of the beautiful pool, and all over the water's surface are now blooming white and yellow flowers. Tropical Lillies, white, purple, red, pink, blue and yellow have been planted in the pool. A water sprinkler system is installed all over the area, and the plants alone which have been set in and around this garden cost nearly $500. They do not make much show now, but in two or three years this pool and the gardens around it will be surpassingly beautiful.

SWAN OVAL, another of the parks, just within the Main Entrance at Elm and Hughey, occupies the most commanding situation in the city for a public park. A fountain costing nearly $2,000 stands at its northern end. More than 6,000 flower plants, Phlox, Petunias and Cannas have just been set around its borders, a water sprinkler system has been installed, and in a few weeks, if we have no more freezing weather, it will be among the most beautiful features of this show place of Sanford.

REVONAH PARK covering a full block at the southeastern corner of the property, bounded by Oak and Franklin on the east and south, and Revonah Circle on the north and west, will be for the exclusive use of owners of property in Highland Park. Here will eventually be erected a club house, courts for tennis, roque and croquet, and a swimming pool, a part of the work already having been done on the latter.

MORE THAN A THOUSAND FLOWERING SHRUBS are growing in my nursery rows, and these, with palms and shade trees, will be set out along the drives all over Highland Park. This planting will not be hap-hazard, as must always be the case when the planting between the curb and side walk is left to the individual taste, or entire lack of taste or to the whim or caprice of the lot owners along the street, many of whom do not even plant at all; but will be under a single control and will follow a carefully matured design, harmonious, artistic, and as time goes by and Nature carries on her work, an environment will be created that will attract to the two hundred home sites of Highland Park a group of kindred spirits whose beautiful homes and the grounds surrounding them will reflect the ideals of beauty in which this superb development has been conceived and is being carried out.

ALL OF THESE THINGS make Highland Park distinctive, different and in a class by itself, but there are others.

IT IS CLOSE IN, being exactly midway between the northern and southern city limits, and with Sanford growing at its present rate, sure to be right in the center of the built up part of the city very soon.

IT IS FAR REMOVED FROM THE SMOKE and soot and noise and unsightliness of railroad trains. As the population of the state and county grow, the railroads running through the residential part of Sanford will become more and more objectionable. In what other city can one find fine homes built near the railroads?

IT IS AN ADVANTAGE TO HIGHLAND PARK that the new high school is only two blocks away, but it is much better that it is two blocks instead of one.

IT IS AN ADVANTAGE TO HIGHLAND PARK that its winding drives will tend to keep out heavy traffic, which will naturally follow the straight avenues surrounding it, thus tending to seclusion and to keep it apart in a class by itself.

YOU WILL NEVER FIND A BETTER TIME TO BUILD. MATERIAL IS CHEAPER THAN AT ANY TIME SINCE THE WAR.

Some of the main items of construction are actually selling for less than cost to manufacture, due to the necessity of unloading large accumulations of stock. Framing lumber, for instance, can be bought today for much less than half prices prevailing six or eight months ago.

THERE HAS BEEN A DECLINE IN LABOR COSTS OF NEARLY ONE-THIRD when both rate per day and efficiency are taken into account.

YOU CAN BUY A BUILDING SITE AT A PRICE THAT WOULD HAVE BEEN IMPOSSIBLE A YEAR AGO and can arrange for terms of payment that would not have been considered then, when everybody was looking for "good buys" and half the owners did not want to sell.

If you can pay all cash for your building site, I will make prices that will astonish you.

If you can go ahead with building now if you had your lot paid for, but can not finance at once the house and lot, I will take a second mortgage for a part or even all of the price of the lot, but these concessions both as to price and terms are only temporary and will be withdrawn as soon as I have eight or ten high class homes under way. Right now is your time "to get in on the ground floor."

If you have a lot or a house and lot already paid for, and want to build in Highland Park, I will consider an exchange.

And do not overlook the fact that with the opening up of spring many skilled mechanics are likely to return north, and thus send the price of skilled labor up again.

I have many books of building plans, containing hundreds of illustrations with floor plans and estimated costs. Come in and see me and let us talk it over, or telephone me and I will go to see you.

IT IS AN ADVANTAGE TO HIGHLAND PARK that it lies in the center of the broad white belt extending south and over which the city's greatest growth and development must of necessity proceed.

BUILDING RESTRICTIONS are absolutely essential to any high class residential development. The cost of the houses to be built is one of the restrictions that are designed for your protection but is by no means the most important. The outside appearance of a house and how it harmonizes with surrounding houses and its position on the site it occupies, concerns me more than what it costs to build. A house costing $5,000, or even, with the great reduction in building costs as compared with only a few months ago, if it costs somewhat less than that, might be much more attractive and desirable than another house costing twice that sum. A wide latitude is allowed in the styles of architecture, which may be Colonial or English or Mediterranean, including Spanish, Moorish, Italian, Venetian, etc., but to each style of architecture is assigned a definite part of the development so that the building along each driveway may be harmonious. When you build in Highland Park, you are protected by the restrictions against any one building on the lot adjoining yours or anywhere in the neighborhood an apartment house, or a two family house or an apartment garage, unless to be occupied only by the servant of the owner. You are also protected against your neighbor setting his house or garage on his building site in such a way as to detract from the value of your property. Your neighbor can not annoy you with chickens or cows or other live stock. In a word, the restrictions set forth in every deed to lots in Highland Park are for your protection.

The Prices set on lots in Highland Park a year ago were very conservative at the time. They are conservative still. Some day, and that day not very far away, they will sell for two or three times as much; and the prices fixed at first, I expect to maintain until they advance, but this applies to lots that may be bought to hold. If you want to build, that is something else again. The stage is all set for building to begin in Highland Park. All the city utilities are actually in. All the paving is complete or under way. The development is proceeding all along the line, and
