SCC Auction 'Success'

By Kathy Tyrity
Herald Staff Writer

Final figures aren't in yet, but officials at Seminole Community College believe the Dream Auction Thursday night did as well as last year when almost $100,000 was raised toward a scholarship program.

More than 430 bidders bought $75 dinner tickets for a meal of filet mignon and stuffed shrimp at the Hilton in Altamonte Springs. The tickets also got them into the "Silent Auction" at 6 p.m. and the live auction at about 8:30 p.m. with Rep. Art Grindle as auctioneer. About 400 items were sold.

Craig Orseno, community relations director for the college, said the auction ended with the last items being bought about 11:30 p.m.

The "hottest" item, according to Orseno, was a "Night At The Races" which was donated by race horse owner Ron Warswick, of Certified Slings in Casselberry. The winning bidder, Shirley Schilke, paid $6,000 to own a race horse for one evening and afterward sold $1,000 worth of shares.

The "Wheel of Fortune" game autographed by Vanna White sold for $150.

Trips and week stays in coastal condos were big sellers, Orseno said. One of the most successful trip biddings was on a ski trip to Crestedbutte, Colo. Also donated were airfare to New

25 Years After Historic Orbit

Glenn Ready, Willing, To Go Into Space Again

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John Glenn, who rocketed into space 25 years ago today to become the first American to orbit the Earth, is volunteering to go back again if NASA asks him.

Glenn's memories of the historic three-orbit flight are vivid, and during a visit to his Friendship 7 capsule at the National Air and Space Museum, he recounted vision experiments on board and his only injury — a split knuckle on his hand, smacked by the recoil of the plunger that opened the hatch at the end of the five-hour flight.

"Would I volunteer again? Yes, I've told NASA when they get around to their geriatric studies, I'm ready," Glenn, now a Democratic senator from Ohio, said Thursday. "Yes, I'm serious."

The Feb. 20, 1962, flight turned Glenn, a Marine Corps combat pilot and later a test pilot, into an American hero and signaled a U.S. comeback in the space race.

Soviet cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin made history's first manned space flight April 12, 1961. Gherman Titov became the second man in orbit Aug. 6, 1961, when he circled the globe once in the Soviets' Vostok-2.

After leaving the space program in 1965, Glenn became a millionaire businessman. He is serving his second term in the Senate and unsuccessfully sought his party's presidential nomination in 1984.

Plans for the 25th anniversary include a party in his Senate office and a reunion with the other Mercury astronauts at a dinner-dance tonight.

Trim at age 65, Glenn said he still could fit in the cramped cockpit of the 2,987-pound capsule, which is 6 feet in diameter and 9 1/2 feet tall. But he quipped, "There might be some bulges sticking out."

During a news conference next to the capsule, Glenn read a statement supporting a strong space program — with National Aeronautics and Space Administration projects such as a space station — and said America's space program has provided many rewards despite its risks and setbacks, such as the space shuttle Challenger disaster 13 months ago.

"The fact is that our efforts in space are on the cutting edge of science, research and technological advancement — and the exploration of the unknown is nothing less than an expression of America's spirit," he said. "I don't want to see us ever having to go to the Soviet Union to buy technology."

Glenn animatedly described parts of his flight, including unfounded worries the heat shield had come loose and the remarkable sight of seeing entire countries while orbiting at 5 miles per second.

Judge Frees Men Jailed In Iran Arms Sale Attempt

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

What was good for a president was apparently good for two private citizens as a federal judge Thursday ordered freed from prison two men convicted of conspiracy to sell arms to Iran in 1985.

U.S. District Judge G. Kendall Sharp said Thursday President Reagan's admission that his administration was selling arms to Iran that year amounts to new evidence in the case against two California men he sent to federal prison for apparently the same thing. The evidence being that the government's role in weapons deals with Iran lifted the ban on arms sales to that country. Therefore, Sharpe said, new trials are warranted for the two men.

Sharp said he would grant them new trials if the 11th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Atlanta remands the cases to his jurisdiction.

Paul Cutter, 49, of San Jose, Calif., was sentenced in Sharp's court to five years in prison. He was held Thursday in Los Angeles as court clerks attempted to notify corrections officials he could be released.

Charles St. Clair, 54, of Granada Hills, Calif., was sentenced to 18 months in prison and was held in Safford, Ariz.

Both men were ordered released on their own recognizance. They were arrested in late July, 1985, along with five other people and charged with scheming to buy 1,140 TOW missile at a cost of $9,120,000 and to get a 747 aircraft to fly the missiles to Iran. The FBI set up the sting operation and directed it from Orlando. Four other defendants in what became known as the Irancon case were found not guilty in December 1985 of conspiracy and wire fraud. Charges were dropped against an Army Lt. Colonel who was connected with the Pentagon.

The appeals of Cutter and St. Clair have been with the Atlanta federal court since last year.

Cutter's lawyer filed a motion with the Orlando court in December, asking for dismissal of the conviction claiming prosecutors had failed to disclose certain evidence about deals with Iran.

St. Clair had not challenged his conviction, but also had been seeking a lawyer for a new trial.

Defies Board Of Adjustment, Protests

'Erotic Emporium' Opens, Anyway

Erotic Emporium has opened in Longwood, in spite of a county Board of Adjustment land use permit denial, according to the major stockholder Jim Kyler of the company, Nomen Deferre Limited of Orlando.

Kyler told the Herald today that the Erotic Emporium "opened a few days ago" at 1520 U.S. Highway 17-92 near Longwood.

"Legally, we were entitled to open," he said. "There's nothing against it in the code."

County Zoning Coordinator Ginny Markley said Wednesday that attorney Neal McShane, representing the proposed adult store, left a message saying the store would open as planned. The message reportedly said the store will open without nude dancers or adult magazines, but will have adult video tapes, lingerie and "novelty items" will also be offered, Kyler said.

The message came two days after the Board of Adjustment denied a special exception to allow the emporium to open with all the requested wares and dancers.

Ms. Markley said the county had an ordinance which regulated adult bookstores but did not cover video tapes. Then on Feb. 10, the county adopted a new ordinance that included the video tape wares under regulated commodities. However, she said that ordinance has apparently not gotten put on the statutes in Tallahassee as of yet, and the emporium was using that basis of fact to open at this time.

"The message I received is that they are ready to open," she said. "They would have needed a special exception for the magazines and (dancing) girls. As I see it, he's intending to open." The applicant is Nomen Deferre Limited Inc., owner of two Orange Blossom Trail adult video stores in Orlando.

The staff had made no recommendation as to whether the store should be permitted or not. But representing the staff, Ms. Markley told the board if the store were allowed it must have a legally written joint access and parking agreement with Bob's Glass, the next door business. That permission was reportedly obtained from the property owner, but there may be a restriction with the present lease, Bob's Glass.

McShane did not return phone calls made this week, when the Herald asked for his comment.

However, Kyler said a lawsuit is pending if the Board of County Commissioners does not overturn the Board of Adjustment's decision. An appeal has been filed to the county commission and the lawsuit papers drawn up, Kyler said.

He said the store did away with the nude dancers partially because three other nude bars are available in the area. But if he gets his land use permit, he may later decide to add a dancer or two, he said.

Other bars in the area are House of Babes, Circus Circus, and Club Juana.

Kyler said the lawsuit could be based on "bad faith" demonstrated by the Board of Adjustment. He said all other county codes that allow a committee to "arbitrarily" grant or deny permits for constitutionally supported adult video stores have been held unconstitutional.

"Seminole County's code gives 100 percent discretion to this board," Kyler said. "We have found a location in the proper zoning district that does not harm the surrounding area and upon that information we filed our application. We have conformed 100 percent to all of the things required by the Development Review Committee including standards for new construction.

New Post Office Too Far, Longwood Complains

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

The new 19,000-square-foot Longwood post office is scheduled to open about April 1, but city officials are not happy because it's 2.5 miles outside the city limits and not easily accessible to Longwood residents.

It is located in the Sabal Point area of Seminole County, too far off the track for most Longwood residents, said Mayor Ed Myers.

In addition, there are no plans for at least three years to improve or replace the present 3,400-square-foot post office located at Church Avenue and County Road 427, he said.

The reason for that, according to Longwood Postmaster Jean Wells, is that she plans to go before the city commission at the March 2 meeting to update them on "where we are at and where we are going."

She said nothing will be done as far as the old post office is concerned until it is known how the opening of the new postal facility in Sabal Point will affect the operation in Longwood. "Some of the traffic should be relieved when the new post office is opened," she said.

She said the present post office, dedicated Jan. 1, 1969, will be downgraded to a postal station when the new post office, 5.2 miles away at 920 Wekiva Springs Road, is completed. The old building is leased for 30 years and Mrs. Wells said "we don't intend to let it go".

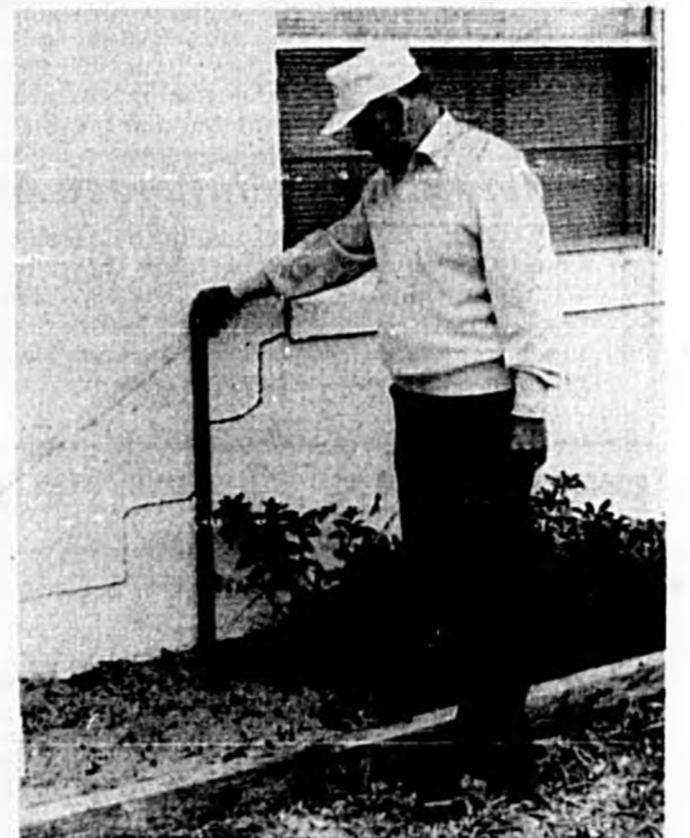

When the post office first opened the city's population was at 3,000 and the post office serves 13,000 city residents and 5,000 rural customers residing outside the city limits.

In a letter to the postmaster concerning the old facility, Myers cited lack of customer parking (there 10 parking spaces, one of them for handicapped customers), the time in line once inside and safety hazards of getting in and out of the parking lot. He asked her for a briefing on the present and future plans of the Postal Service relative to service for Longwood in order to alleviate some of the "anxiety and frustration being experienced by customers".

"It is our opinion that the present plant in Longwood was overburdened some years ago when the population of the city reached 4,000," Myers said. "With modern postal plants within months of completion at Sabal Point and Montgomery Road, it seems that Longwood is being given no priority at all."

13-Year-Old Accuses Mother

Body Marks Spur Abuse Probe

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

Marks in various stages of healing on the body of a 13-year-old Altamonte Springs boy held on a shoplifting charge have spurred a child abuse investigation.

The boy accused his mother of beating him repeatedly over the past three or four years. The boy is being held at the Seminole County Juvenile Detention Center after being nabbed Thursday for alleged shoplifting.

Health and Rehabilitative Services counselor Terry Buckemeir reported to Seminole County sheriff's deputies he was interviewing the boy at about 9:30 p.m. at the detention center when he noticed marks on the boy's body.

Both Buckemeir and sheriff's deputy David Hadley, who had arrested the boy, questioned him and the boy reportedly accused his mother of the beatings.

The boy said the beatings began when he was about eight years old. At that time, he said, his mother would beat him all over his body with a belt.

POLICE

IN BRIEF

Two Men Arrested, Charged In Sale Of Cocaine To Police

Sanford police reported the arrest of two men who were allegedly involved in the sale of crack cocaine to police agents.

Steve Smith, 27, of 1005 W. Eighth St., Sanford, allegedly made the sale on Seventh Street at Pine Avenue in Sanford at about 5 p.m. Wednesday. Police said Smith handed over the cash to John Daniel Fryar, 27, of 1133 E. Seventh St., Sanford, and both men were arrested before 6:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Police reported recovering from Fryar the $20 bill used in the cocaine buy. He has been charged with two counts of sale and delivery of cocaine and two counts of possession of cocaine. Fryar has been released on $1,000 bond to appear in court March 9.

Smith has been charged with sale and delivery and possession of cocaine and was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Speeding Leads To Pot Arrest

Altamonte Springs police who stopped a car clocked traveling 61 mph in a 40 mph zone on State Road 436, Altamonte Springs, at about 11 p.m. Wednesday reported arresting the driver after a bag of marijuana and a pot smoking device was found in the car.

James Matthew O'Neill, 24, of 164 Maitland Ave., Altamonte Springs, has been charged with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and released on $500 bond to appear in court March 5.

Driving Under Influence Arrests

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Jorge Charles Councils, 28, of Route 2, Box 21, Brisson Ave., Sanford, was arrested at 11:09 p.m. Wednesday after he was seen driving erratically from 13th Street onto U.S. Highway 17-92 in Sanford. He was also charged with having no license tag and driving with a revoked license.

—John Holton Ditzel, 27, of 275 Cranes Roost Blvd. #1327, Altamonte Springs, at 12:29 a.m. Thursday, after he was seen driving erratically in the parking area at Lakeside North Apartments at the above address.

Burglaries And Thefts Reported

Ronald Lee Spencer, 33, of Eatonville, reported to sheriff's deputies that the boat trailer he borrowed from Reginald C. Lewis of Orlando, was stolen Wednesday from Lindsay's Fish Camp, C.S. Lee Park, 4660 B. State Road 46, Geneva. The trailer had been parked attached to Spencer's truck when it was stolen.

Don Ray Schmidt, 30, of Casselberry, reported to sheriff's deputies that $150 was stolen from a cash drawer at Advanced Brake and Alignment, 555 N. U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood, around 5:30 p.m. Wednesday.

A sheriff's report said 64 plants with a combined value of $225 were stolen from Russell's Tree Farm, 1525 Beardall Ave., east of Sanford, between Feb. 13 and 17.

A Sanford Herald representative, Ronald Renaud, 52, of 113 Crystal View Drive, Sanford, told police that between 2 and 2:45 p.m. on Tuesday someone, with the apparent use of cutters, cut through the lock on a Herald newspaper machine located at 221 N. Palmetto Ave. and removed $5.25 in coins. The police report said the Sanford Herald would prosecute.

Thomas J. Froid, 25, of Orlando reported to police that on Tuesday at 11:45 a.m. a man he did not know, with the use of a firearm, robbed him of $30 in the parking lot of Wendy's restaurant, 3717 S. Orlando Drive, Sanford.

Ronnie Daniels, 19, of 1705 W. 14th St., Sanford, told police his brother, Rodger Daniels shot at him three times on Tuesday in the area of 11th St. and Pomegranate. Robert Daniels, 13, of 1705 W. 14th St. was a witness and told police that Rodger did in fact shoot three times at his uncle Ronnie Daniels over money owed to another brother of the two men named Jimmie Daniels.

Chau McAfee, 30, owner of Asian Cleaners, 3846 Orlando Drive, Sanford, reported to police that on Tuesday, she was at the front counter area of her business when she heard a noise from the rear of the store. She said that when she saw a man standing next to the steam table, she yelled and he ran out the back door, which is left open for ventilation during business hours. After he left, she said she checked the store and found that a money bag with $280 in it was missing.

Harassing Calls Reported

A Humane Society investigator reported she has been receiving harassing phone calls since January.

Joan Thomas reported to the Seminole County Sheriff's department that the "annoying and harassing calls" have been left on her answering machine, as many as 16 a day. The calls appear to be from the same person, she said.

Driving Under Influence Arrest

The following person has been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Craig Cushmore Terhune, 31, of 138 W. Floyd Ave., Lake Mary, was arrested at 11:54 p.m. Tuesday after his car was in an accident on County Road 15, Lake Mary. He was also charged with careless driving.

Man Pleads Guilty In Child Sex Case

A 22-year-old Sanford man has pleaded guilty to having sex with a 14-year-old girl and to battery. It was one of three cases heard.

Fred Nolft of 341 Live Oak Blvd. entered the plea before Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. who set April 9 for sentencing. Nolft was arrested on charges of sexual battery and lewd and lascivious act upon a child. After Nolft entered the plea the state dropped eight other charges against him.

The girl involved told police that Nolft on one occasion fondled her and two times at his home forced her to have sex.

Nolft was arrested Oct. 16 at his home. The recommended sentence is up to a year in the county jail but he could receive up to five years.

In a second case, a Sanford man who pleaded guilty to possession of more than 20 grams of marijuana has been sentenced to 5 years probation.

William Milton Knoll, 27, 5636 Deer Path Lane, was sentenced by Circuit Judge S. Joseph

Davis Jr. According to an arrest report, Knowls was taken into custody with two other men April 30 behind 12 Oaks Campground in the Seminole Woods area off State Road 46. The other men await final disposition of their cases.

Seminole City-County agents, Lake County deputies and the Florida Drug Enforcement Agency took the men into custody after agents spotted a greenhouse from an airplane, according to an arrest report.

After the men were arrested, a search of the greenhouse produced about 222 marijuana plants, three- to seven-foot tall. Total weight of the crop was more an 100 pounds.

In a third case, a Sanford man who was arrested on charges of grand theft and making a false police report has pleaded guilty to burglary to a dwelling.

Circuit Judge O.H. Eaton Jr. set sentencing for March 26 for Alexis Bradley, 26, of 2154 Center St.

According to a sheriff's report, investigator John Butler arrested Bradley after he reported a shotgun and a rented television-stereo stolen from his home Jan. 10, 1986.

Butler reported recovering Rent America's television from a Titusville couple who said they paid $150 for it. Butler also found a shotgun in the hands of a new owner in Titusville, the report said.

Bradley could receive up to a year in jail.

Tire Iron Assault On Car Leads To Arrest

Two motorists got into a dispute when they stopped their cars on State Road 436 in Altamonte Springs because of one of the driver's erratic driving.

The trouble began after David McWhorter, 22, of 312 S. Wymore Road, Altamonte Springs, got out of his car and approached the car behind him, which had been weaving in and out of traffic and once cut in front of McWhorter's car causing him to have to brake to avoid a collision, a police report said.

McWhorter told Altamonte Springs police he asked the man what his problem was and the man cursed him. As McWhorter walked back to his own car he said he spat and the spit "accidental" hit the other man's car. That man got out of his car with a tire iron in hand; McWhorter fled to his car and the suspect allegedly tried to pry open a window of McWhorter's car and then kicked a side panel of the vehicle causing about $500 in damage.

A policeman who saw the confrontation stopped and questioned the men and arrested the man who had the tire iron.

Anthony Bruno Schifflini, 18, of 1407 Elcajon Court, Winter Springs, was arrested at 2:28 p.m. Wednesday. He has been charged with aggravated assault and criminal mischief and released on $1,000 bond to appear in court March 9.

Youth Arrested At Church

An 18-year-old Chesterfield, Va., man was arrested along with a 17-year-old Altamonte Springs boy on charges of trespass at a posted construction site after Altamonte Springs police found them in an addition to the First Street Baptist Church on Holly Street at about 10 p.m. Wednesday.

Altamonte Springs police were called to the scene to investigate a car that was pulled up to the church building. They searched the building and found the two suspects.

A police check showed the car had been reported stolen in Virginia, and police arrested the youths on the trespass charge while awaiting confirmation of ownership of the car, a police report said.

Allan Shane Lumpkin, of Virginia, was arrested along with the boy. He was being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $3,500 bond. —Susan Loden

Dog Killed With Pellet

Someone killed the pet dog of Edith Davis, 54, of 2405 Jefferson Ct., Sanford, on Wednesday at approximately 3:30 p.m. a police report said. Davis told police she took her dog to the Sanford Veterinary Hospital where it was X-rayed. The X-ray revealed a pellet and a small hole was visible on the left-side of the dog. The police report said that animal control was contacted.

Heavy Snow In West, Midwest

By United Press International
A slow-moving storm that snarled traffic and endangered cattle with up to 2 feet of snow in the southern Rockies crept into the nation's midsection today, spewing snow that made travel hazardous from Arizona and Colorado to Missouri. Snow and icy roads Thursday were blamed for a traffic death in Texas and for a series of accidents involving 35 cars that closed the southbound lanes of Interstate 25 near Albuquerque, N.M.

"The roads are snow packed and slippery," said Kathy Rush, a police dispatcher in Los Alamos, N.M., where 20 inches of snow fell. "People were warned to stay home."

Snowfall totals in New Mexico included more than 2 feet in the mountains and 24 inches at Gascon, and high winds reduced the visibility to near zero in some mountain passes, the National Weather Service said.

Snow fell today from the central and southern Rockies to Missouri. Bill Barlow of the NWS said the storm was "producing mainly heavy snow" in the southern Rockies and was "moving really slowly into the southern Plains."

Winter storm warnings were posted today in central and northeast New Mexico, southern Colorado and north Texas, and a heavy snow warning for up to 10 inches of new snow covered northern Colorado.

Other watches and advisories for snow and slick roads reached from the White Mountains of Arizona to Oklahoma, southeast Kansas and southwest Missouri.

On Thursday, snow in the mountains of New Mexico prompted the National Guard to advise ranchers to move their livestock as a safety precaution.

"It's kind of mean here," said Joe Healey of the New Mexico Highway Department. "It's snowing clear down as far as Carlsbad (in the extreme southeast part of the state) and they're not used to that."

Three to 5 inches of snow fell in west Texas and the Texas panhandle, where up to 9 inches was expected.

"There's about three inches on the ground," said a police dispatcher in the panhandle town of Dalhart. "Roads are clear, but the overpasses are getting slick."

Ramon Mendez Ramos, 38, of Cuauhtemoc, Mexico, was killed Thursday when the pickup in which he was a passenger went out of control on snow-covered U.S. 385 about 6 miles north of Brownfield in north Texas, police said.

In Colorado, snow fell at the rate of an inch an hour in Fort Collins and 2 feet blanketed Wondervu, in the foothills west of Boulder. Schools were closed Thursday in Aguilar because of snow.

Winds of up to 50 mph Thursday howled across portions of California, where high wind warnings were posted today in the Sierra Nevada and travelers advisories for high winds covered much of Southern California.

Winds briefly knocked out power for more than 7,000 Southern California customers Wednesday and pushed flames through 200 acres of brush in Riverside County Thursday, slightly injuring two firefighters.

In Breckenridge, Colo., a search was scheduled to resume today for a skier believed buried under an avalanche that killed three others Wednesday. The body of one skier was dug out from about 4 feet of snow Wednesday night.

Local Report

Thursday's high temperature in Sanford was 65 degrees and the 8 a.m. temperature today was 51 as reported by the University of Florida Agricultural Research and Education Center on Celery Avenue. Rainfall recorded was only a trace. Partly cloudy today with high near 75. Partly cloudy and a chance of light showers.

Take Expressway Over Lake Jesup, Advisor Says

By Kathy Tyrity
Herald Staff Writer

The consultant making plans for an expressway to run through Sanford and Seminole County has recommended unofficially that the expressway cross Lake Jesup rather than go around it.

Tim Jackson, project manager with Glatting Lopez Kercher Anglin, told the Seminole County Expressway Authority and a group of homeowners Wednesday that the several proposed alignments from I-4 southeast to State Route 426 are more cost effective than the two proposed alignments that avoid the lake area because of the populated areas the lake route would cover.

Public information sessions on the plans are set for 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. March 3 at the Winter Springs Municipal Building, March 4 at Sanford City Hall and March 5 at the Sanford Civic Center.

"It's more cost effective to cross the lake and stay further north than it is to come around the lake, based on 1985 statistics," Jackson said.

Not only that, but he said the northern alignments that cross the lake come closer to the Sanford Airport that may one day become a regional airport. One of the alignments comes within a mile and a half of the airport.

Jackson's comments came in answer to questions from authority member Paul Tremel, commissioner from Lake Mary, who wanted to know why there were only two southern alignments that avoided the lake and what would happen if environmental reasons prohibited bridging the lake.

It was at that point that Jackson said he really couldn't recommend going around the lake. He said there are other such large lakes bridged in Orange and other counties.

There are 68 potential routes. Homeowners whose property lies along the routes asked many questions of Jackson and expressway project Executive Director Gerald Brinton.

In July, Jackson and his staff will recommend a specific route for the new expressway, which goes through Oviedo, misses most of Winter Springs, and either crosses or goes around Lake Jesup to the area of Sanford and Lake Mary.

The route will definitely travel along Mission Road area in the southern part of the county, according to the maps, and will hit I-4 either one mile south of State Road 46 or about a half mile south of State Road 46-A.

Anyone with questions is asked to call Sandra at the Expressway Department of the county, 321-1130.

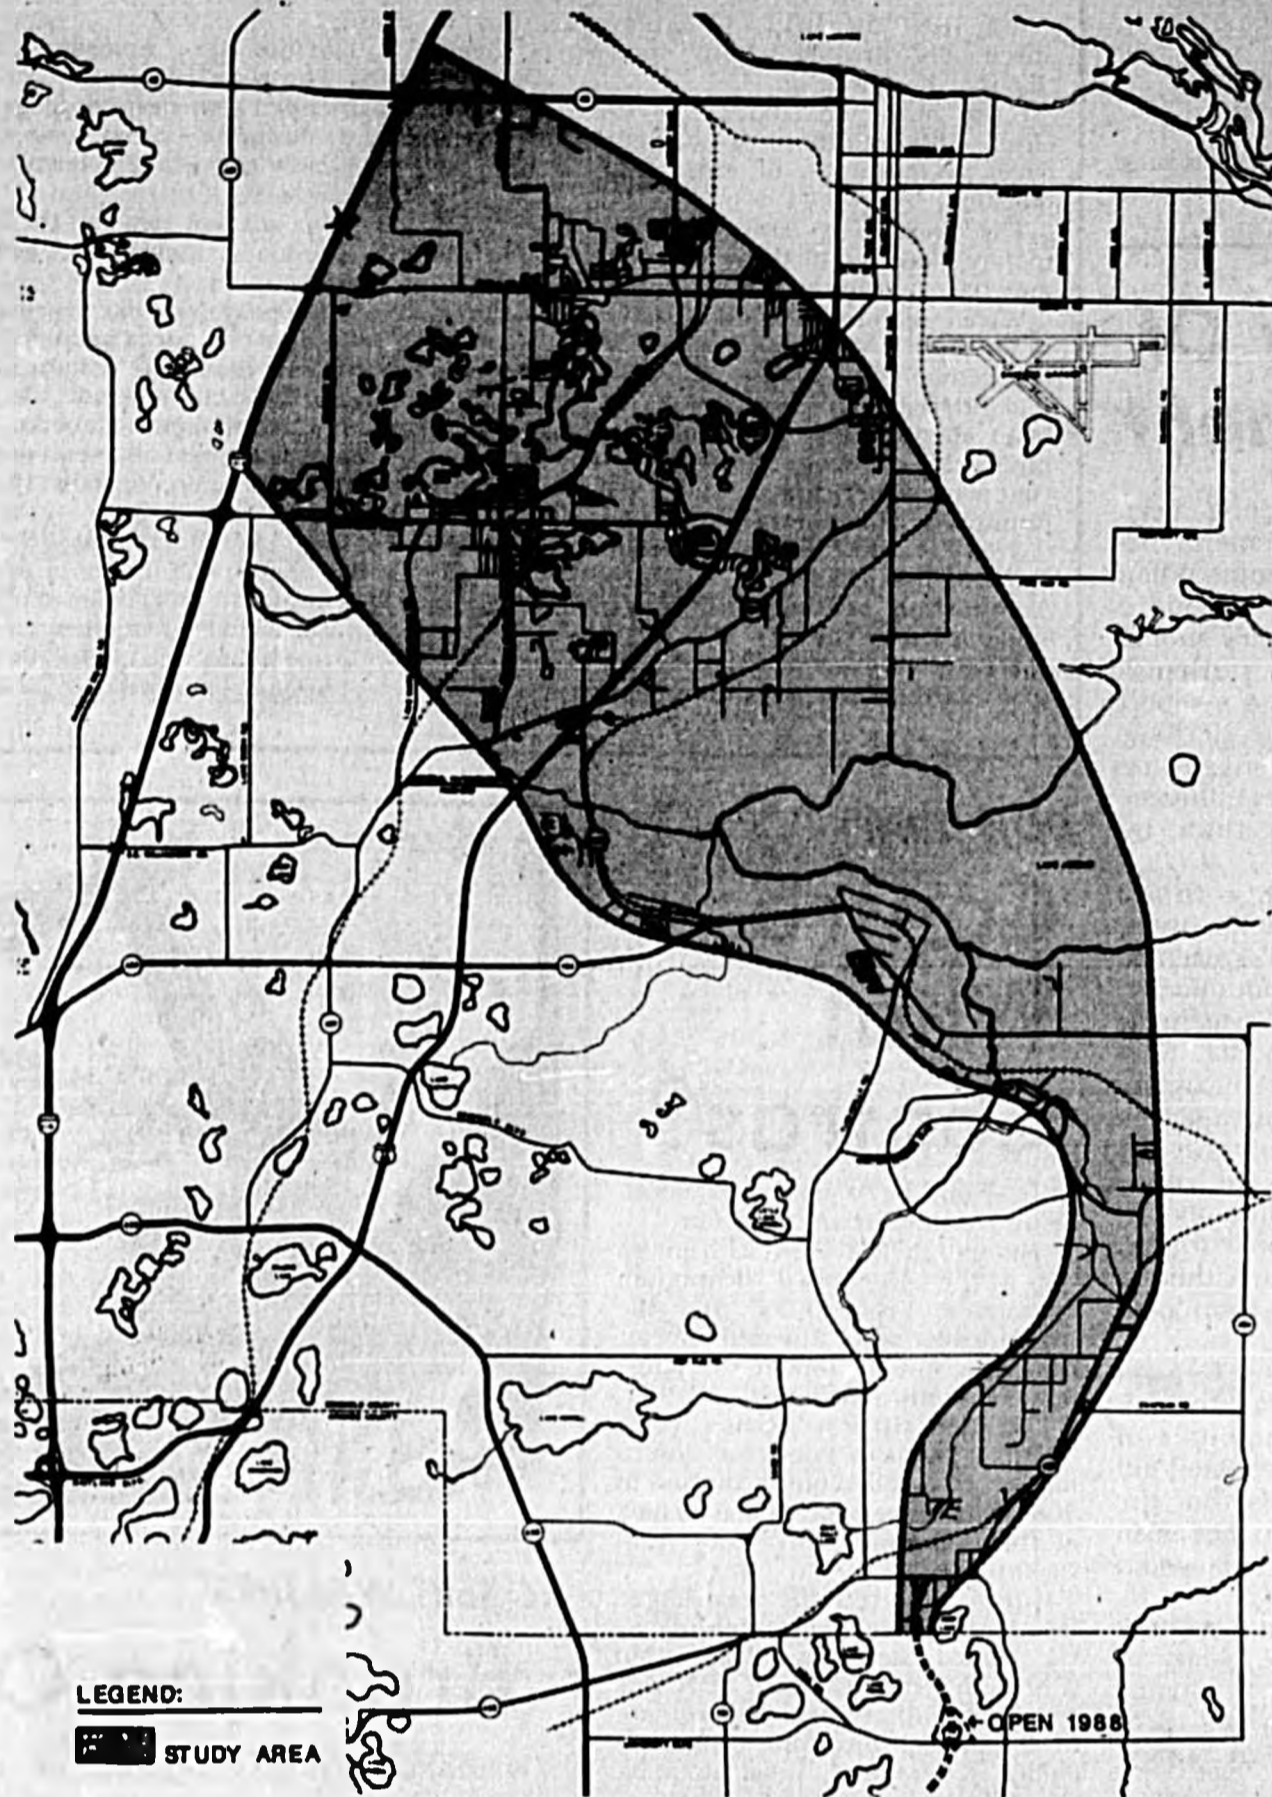

There are about five or six interchanges proposed for the road which will connect into Orange County along a route that will eventually go to the Bee-Line Expressway and the Orlando International Airport.

There are 55 subdivisions or neighborhoods along the blue taped areas that may be affected by the chosen route, and Brinton said Realtors are already cooperating by letting buyers know if a property lies in one of the proposed routes. He said there will be no building permits or zoning changes given along the route once it is chosen.

The large map which shows the proposed alignments is on display in Room 208 of the County Services Building for the public to view. The full color map was made by aerial photography Jan. 13 of this year and is precise in the placement of the proposed routes, Brinton said.

The expressway will definitely be a toll road, although the amount will be recommended in August. It will be a 30-year toll.

Statistics used by the consultants showed that Sanford will double in population within 15 years.

The planned expressway is expected to be built within shaded area on map.

Volusia Not For Zoo, Rozon Says

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

Contrary to reports, the Central Florida Zoological Society is not investigating the possibility of moving its operation to Volusia County, its administrator said today.

Al Rozon, administrator of the zoo west of Sanford, said the society did appoint a committee to meet with some Volusia businessmen who are thinking about creating a $30 million, 100-acre zoo in that county but not to explore moving to that county.

His comment, however, is in contrast with John E. Evans, a member of the society and vice president of WESH-Channel 2, who said there is strong support to move the zoo to Volusia County and to say the issue is being explored would be an understatement. He said three separate groups in that county are getting together and coordinating their efforts to move the zoo. He said zoo officials, however, have not been contacted and it may be some time before a formal proposal is presented to them.

Rozon speculated today that the Volusia interests wanted to talk with people who had experience in the zoo business.

"I don't think anyone has said move the zoo, maybe some reporter has," he said.

While the zoo has started a five-year $500,000 renovation plan, Rozon said there has been some major problems in operations and support at the zoo.

"It is very limited. You will see standing water in just about every direction," he said. He said the zoo is built on water-saturated soil and because of the dampness, the inventory of animals has been limited to those not affected by humidity.

The zoo and its 500 animals are on 21 acres with no room for expansion because of swamp land. A tri-county tax referendum to support a new zoo in Orlando was voted down in the November election.

"There seems to be a lot of interest in building a new zoo in two directions," Rozon said.

Some opposed to idea of the zoo moving to either Orange or Volusia County. "I think you'll find the average guy on the street can't even spell zoological," he said.

Rozon also doubted if a new zoo in Volusia County would adopt a name designating it a zoo of central Florida. He did say, however, that the society does have the option of changing its name.

Rozon said it would be speculation on his part to comment whether there are members on the zoo's board that want the attraction to grow and move.

A University of Central Florida study predicts a 100-acre zoo in central Florida would attract about 500,000 visitors a year. The Sanford zoo attracts about 200,000.

Possible sites in Volusia County include acreage between Deland and Daytona Beach or a spot on Interstate 95.

Officials Investigate Car Fire
Sanford police and the state fire marshal's office are investigating a fire at Castle Brewer Court that destroyed a car and sent a Lake Mary man to the hospital early Thursday morning.
Charles Guy was treated and released from Central Florida Regional Hospital for burns suffered when a car he had been using burst into flames just after he walked over to it.
Guy, of 305 Dorchester Square, said he had planned to purchase the 1984 Toyota Corolla from its owner, who lives in Pensacola, Sanford Fire Department officials said.
Guy told firemen he "saw a glow" inside the car as he walked toward it, then "heard an explosion and saw flames."

The Dilemma Of Rapprochement

American conservatives have long been staunch opponents of rapprochement between the United States and Vietnam. When they begin to rethink their opposition to dealing directly with Vietnam, others should listen. So Americans of all political persuasions should pay attention to a report by the Asian Studies Center at the Heritage Foundation. It offers a compelling suggestion that the United States can now influence Vietnam more by engagement than by distance.

Where Heritage errs, we believe, is in the kind of engagement to undertake. For more than a decade, American policy has been to isolate Vietnam politically and economically. A main case for the continuing estrangement is Vietnam's occupation of Cambodia. Now Heritage Foundation analyst Kenneth Conboy says the United States should engage the Vietnamese diplomatically and militarily by stepping up military aid to the non-Communist resistance groups in Cambodia.

Military aid to the rebels, Conboy argues, keeps up pressure on Vietnam to withdraw and offers "the only hope of a free Cambodia in event of a Cambodian settlement."

But it's not that simple, as the Reagan administration recognizes. Whereas the administration has provided large amounts of aid for Afghanistan rebels, it has resisted aid for the Cambodians. The reason is that the complexity of the Southeast Asian equation raises doubts whether military aid would advance U.S. interests.

Bernard Gordon argues that point forcefully in Foreign Affairs magazine. U.S. goals in Southeast Asia, Gordon says, are to "enhance the region's stability and growing prosperity." For those goals, "the region as now constituted will suffice."

Continued emphasis on removing Vietnam from Cambodia not only would be futile, Gordon argues, but could bring increasing Chinese and Soviet intervention and cause discord among members of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations. Gordon believes the United States should accept Vietnamese domination (but not occupation) of Cambodia as an unfortunate fact of life, redouble U.S. commitments to Thailand and Singapore to end their support for Cambodian resistance.

Though they disagree on approaches to the Cambodian issue, Conboy and Gordon both find advantages in improved relations between the United States and Vietnam. Its economy a shambles, frightened of its dependence on the Soviet Union, Vietnam badly wants an opening to the West, particularly the United States.

By cautiously exploring such an opening, Conboy and Gordon argue, the United States perhaps can stop the growth of Soviet influence in the region while stimulating political stability and economic growth. Neither sees any prospect or benefit for quick resumption of diplomatic relations, but both stress that the current hands-off U.S. policy is counterproductive.

It is difficult to accept Vietnam's annexation of Cambodia and destruction of the Khmer culture. But Gordon argues persuasively that while eventual withdrawal of Vietnam's troops may be possible, acceptance of a Vietnamese-dominated Indochina is less destructive of U.S. aims for the region than continued resistance.

Flowers With Moola Instead Of Nectar

WASHINGTON (UPI) — This question is specifically directed to any spouses or lovers that may be among us.

I can hear you asking: "Is there anything else?" Although those two categories do indeed cover a multitude of sins, that is not the question.

The question is: Are you sure you got your money's worth out of any Valentine flowers you may have purchased over last weekend?

Wives, secretaries and girlfriends, alas, sometimes regard Valentine flowers as if they grew on stems. The flowers, not wives, secretaries and girlfriends.

We all know what husbands, male bosses and boyfriends grow on. But women tend to forget that some Americans make their living growing or importing blossoms.

These two interests — domestic growers and importers — clashed at an International Trade Commission hearing this month. If you can imagine such a thing.

To give you an idea, the clash was somewhat like wearing a purple boutonniere with a brown suit. The importers, represented by such groups as the Florists' Transworld Delivery Association, contended that despite allegations of subsidies and dumping, there was no evidence that domestic growers had been unduly harmed by imports.

A spokesman told me the FDA only opposes protectionist measures when "no injury" is demonstrated.

This spokesman likewise denied the FDA is on the side of illicit drug peddlers.

He said the fact that some posies are imported from Colombia is beside the point. He pointed out that Holland, Canada, Mexico and the "exotic Far East" also send us cut flowers.

He spokesman conceded that some "beautiful blooms" like certain types of cocaine, are sniffed. But there the parallel ends, he said.

So clear your minds of any such suspicion. According to this spokesman, the FDA is solely interested in keeping the price down.

Any rise in price might "decrease the net sum of happiness in America," he said.

Agreed. But it also might be noted that cost can be a many-edged sword.

As Treasury Secretary James Baker told a House subcommittee recently, there is no "single trade problem" for Congress to consider.

Imported blossoms include carnations, mums, gypsophila, alstroemeria and gerbera. Gypsophila also is known as "baby's breath" and gerberas are daisies. I have no idea what alstroemeria is.

My main concern is that the killer bee scare of a few years ago will be replaced by a nationwide fear of killer butterflies coming down from Alaska.

Most naturalists probably would agree that Alaskanized butterflies are more aggressive. Fortunately, neither naturalists nor butterflies have bee-like stingers. As yet.

But when a swarm of butterflies attacked me a few years ago, I would swear they were bent on perpetrating a mugging.

At the time, I was driving an American-built car, rather than an import. Otherwise, the situation might have been more touch than go.

DON GRAFF

Contras? What Contras?

"Basically he is not a democrat. He's an authoritarian, a dictator."

"He" is Adolfo Calero, El Numero Uno in the CIA-created Nicaraguan Democratic Front (FDN) and the contra leader who, it would appear, has come out on top in the latest upheaval within the ranks.

The description comes from Edgar Chamorro, once a contra himself who bailed out in disgust in 1984 after he had gotten a good look at the opposition movement from the inside.

It was most recently repackaged less than a year ago, emerging as the United Nicaraguan Opposition (UNO), in which Calero's FDN was to be the military arm subordinate to a political directorate that included Calero and, most notably, Arturo Cruz.

Cruz is by leagues the most respected figure in the Nicaraguan opposition, the only one, according to Chamorro, who many Nicaraguans in Nicaragua believe is an acceptable alternative to the Sandinistas.

But he says he's packing it in now because what was supposed to be a joint resistance effort has continued to be Calero's one-man show. FDN runs UNO, not vice versa. Rather than allies, Cruz supporters charge, they are treated like enemies by Calero's people.

Ironically, Calero was a relatively late recruit to the cause. Once Coca-Cola's man in Nicaragua, he was no friend of the Somoza dictatorship. But after going into exile in 1979, he waited until 1983 to join the front against Somoza's Sandinista successors. Even then, he may have been forced into it. According to Chamorro, someone started a rumor that Calero was about to join the opposition. The Sandinista response was predictable.

"They confiscated his home. He couldn't go back. The CIA tricked him," says Chamorro. "He has said that."

Hail the new leader. But, it must be noted, Arturo Cruz was also not a contra founding father. A prominent banker, he worked for the Sandinista revolution and played a key role in gaining foreign support. He was its ambassador to the United States, until he resigned to protest the Sandinista drift toward the authoritarian left.

But Cruz has never disowned the revolution itself. He has remained open to a political settlement. And he was almost the opposition candidate in Sandinista Nicaragua's 1984 presidential election.

U.S. Trade Suffers From 'Cash Only' Policy

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — For most Americans, the word "barter" conjures up a vision of explorers swapping colored beads and other trinkets with innocent natives for ivory, furs or precious gems. For tax dodgers, barter is the foundation of an underground economy that trades one service for another — dental work for plumbing repairs, perhaps — with no cash changing hands and attracting the attention of the Internal Revenue Service.

On the international scene, barter has a fancy name — countertrade — and it involves a lot more than colored beads or a new swimming pool. Barter is big business. Unfortunately, the U.S. government has been slow to pick up on this growing trend in international trade, and as a consequence is being left out in the cold, stubbornly insisting on cash deals.

If countertrade were as small a

ROBERT WALTERS

Breaking Our Word

WASHINGTON (NEA) — No action taken by President Reagan since he entered the White House is more outrageous than his tentative decision to violate the 1972 Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty with the Soviet Union.

Reagan administration officials talk euphemistically about "reinterpreting" the ABM treaty, but the most cursory examination of their intentions leaves no doubt that they are preparing to unilaterally abrogate the agreement.

As someone who clearly prefers taunting the Soviets to negotiating with them, Reagan very occasionally pays lip service to arms control but never is willing to evince a firm commitment.

In early February, he approved an underground nuclear weapons test, even though the Soviets had unilaterally suspended testing for 18 months and said they were willing to extend that moratorium if joined by the United States.

Last autumn, he authorized the first of many unilateral violations of the SALT II Treaty with the Soviets when he approved the deployment of cruise missiles on a B-52 bomber without dismantling any weapons to offset the new one.

Although SALT II has never been ratified, neither signatory had previously violated its numerical ceilings on weapons and delivery systems.

In recent weeks, he has backed away from an earlier agreement with congressional leaders calling for prompt ratification of two pending arms control agreements — the 1974 Threshold Test Ban Treaty and the 1976 Peaceful Nuclear Explosions Treaty.

Now, he wants to "reinterpret" the ABM Treaty, a landmark agreement that has endured for 15 years without any previous enhanced interpretations.

That document flatly and firmly states: "Each party undertakes not to develop, test or deploy anti-ballistic missile systems or components which are sea-based, air-based, space-based or mobile land-based."

The president's Star Wars scheme, formally known as the Strategic Defense Initiative, always has been characterized by the Reagan administration as a peace-based defense against ballistic missiles. Thus, development, testing and deployment are unequivocally prohibited by the treaty.

But promoters of a "broad" interpretation cite an appendix to the treaty that partially exempts future technologies that rely upon "physical principles" not known about when the agreement was negotiated.

They argue that particle beam, laser and other exotic weapons incorporated into the SDI system use technologies that were not contemplated when the treaty was drafted — and thus their development and testing are neither prohibited nor restricted.

One recent study of the president's intentions, conducted by arms control experts who have served Republican and Democratic presidents, sharply criticizes the Reagan administration for embracing a double standard.

The president seeks "to hold the Soviets strictly accountable for their own compliance" while simultaneously attempting "to drain the ABM Treaty of meaning ... to gain maximum advantage for SDI," the study says.

Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, warns that "a unilateral executive branch decision" to serve the SDI program "would provoke a constitutional crisis of profound dimensions."

But Reagan appears to be undeterred in his determination to gut another arms control treaty.

Bush Seeks Distance

By Helen Thomas
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President George Bush is ever so slightly trying to put some distance between himself and the White House as he moves into the position of a presidential candidate. It won't be easy.

Bush has been the loyal, dedicated team player. He has not made any mistakes as far as President Reagan is concerned.

So the White House is showing a lot of understanding of Bush as his "political" posture emerges, along with an attempt to display some independence from the administration, particularly in terms of the Iran arms-Contra aid scandal.

Some of the other possible candidates, such as Senate GOP leader Robert Dole of Kansas, have said that Bush could be hurt by the Iran affair. He was the first to test the waters, going so far as to acknowledge "mistakes were made."

But Bush has gone a step further now, no longer denying that a trade of weapons to Iran for the American hostages in Lebanon may have been a prime motivation for the secret dealings that have unglued the administration.

Bush's dilemma is not new and Hubert Humphrey was the classic case of a man with a similar problem. As vice president to the all-powerful, all-demanding President Lyndon Johnson, Humphrey was kept on a tight leash even after he began to seek the Democratic nomination for president in 1968.

The Vietnam War was the premier issue leading Johnson not to seek re-election, but he was not about to let Humphrey off the hook. When Humphrey made a major campaign speech in Salt Lake City indicating a policy switch on the war, Johnson flew to New Orleans the next day and shot down Humphrey's premise, saying "no one can predict" when the war would end.

It is going to be very difficult for Bush to separate himself from the major decisions of the administration as they unfold, good and bad. He was a member of the National Security Council and in fact he presided at most of the crisis meetings with the advisers.

Reagan threw everything but the kitchen sink at him in terms of his range of jurisdiction. Any time a problem came up it was handed over to Bush, who would head yet another task force on the subject — involvement in the Central American problem, regulation, fraud and waste, and international terrorism.

Central Europe. The customer governments provided equipment, labor and financing for construction of the pipeline. In return for a guaranteed amount of gas once it became operational.

Although officially neutral on the subject, the U.S. government actively tries to discourage barter agreements. U.S. representatives on international economic bodies argue against the booming countertrade trend. And the IRS understandably makes life difficult for U.S. merchants involved in international barter deals.

Our sources believe it's time for the government to rethink its position. Shunning barter agreements means turning our backs on a rapidly growing portion of world trade. And there's the American heritage of bartering expertise to consider, too: Manhattan Island was acquired by canny Dutch settlers for $24 of junk jewelry.

Bulls Boost Trading

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened higher today in active trading of New York Stock Exchange issues.

The Dow Jones Industrial average, which rose 6.46 to a record high Thursday, was up 2.54 to 2246.63 shortly after the market opened.

Gainers led losers 506-356 among the 1,324 issues, crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape.

Early turnover amounted to about 9,402,900 shares.

Stock prices climbed Thursday in active trading, propelling the Dow Jones Industrial average to its third record high this week after late buying of blue chip issues overwhelmed profit takers.

"Individuals and institutions have cash that they want to put to work," said Lucinda S. Mezey, vice president and director of equity research at Provident National Bank in Philadelphia. "And there seems to be so much liquidity out there that people don't have to sell one thing in order to buy another."

Mezey said profit taking has been limited because investors are cautiously bullish and have not felt the need to protect what they already have made by cashing in their profits. Between the supply of available cash and the contained nature of profit taking, "we find ourselves with a market that could drive higher," she said.

Dollar Declines As Gold Rises

By United Press International

The U.S. dollar opened slightly lower in light trading on major world money markets today as the currency markets went on hold prior to this weekend's Group of Seven finance ministers meeting in Paris. The price of gold moved higher.

In earlier trading in the Far East, the dollar eased slightly against the Japanese yen in slow trading, closing out the week at 153.77, down 0.96 from Thursday's close of 154.73.

Dealers in Japan said the dollar's weakness was attributable to testimony by Federal Reserve Board Chairman Paul Volcker that the Japanese yen and the German mark could further appreciate against the dollar.

Traders refrained from taking large positions pending the outcome of the weekend sessions of major Western nations in Paris.

The one-half percentage cut in the Japanese discount rate to 2.5 percent had little impact on trading, traders said.

In European trading, the dollar slipped in Zurich, opening at 1.548 Swiss francs, against Thursday's close of 1.5625, in Paris at 6.0975 French francs, against 6.1625 and in Milan at 1,300.50 lire, against 1,313.50 on Thursday.

The dollar also lost strength in Frankfurt, opening at 1.8275 German marks, against Thursday's close of 1.8483, and in Brussels at 38.29 Belgian francs, against 38.77.

The dollar gained slightly in Amsterdam, opening at 2.0685

Dutch guilders, against Thursday's close of 2.0643.

In London, the pound sterling opened unchanged at $1.5265.

In early New York trading the dollar was slightly lower against major foreign currencies in light trading.

Dealers in New York indicated they expected the G-7 meeting to support the dollar in the near term, but for the longer term they are bearish.

Traders said they thought the meeting would result in some form of currency accord or the finance ministers would not have agreed to meet.

Gold prices opened higher following a $7.50 rise in New York on Thursday.

In Zurich, gold opened $6.50 an ounce higher at $399 per troy ounce and in London, gold opened $3 higher at $398 an ounce.

The morning fixing in London was $397.50, up $2.50 from Thursday's close.

Silver also improved, opening 5 cents higher in Zurich at $5.45 and edged up fractionally in London to $5.445 an ounce.

In earlier trading in the Far East, gold closed out the week at $398.50 an ounce on the Hong Kong Bullion Exchange, up $6.50 from Thursday's close.

In early trading on New York's Comex, a 100-troy-ounce gold futures contract for current delivery in February opened at $399 an ounce, off $1.20 from Thursday's close. A 5,000-troy-ounce silver futures contract for delivery in February opened at $5.465, unchanged from Thursday.

Mrs. Wells said she hopes the city will remove some of the no parking signs on Church Avenue to provide more parking spaces and she pointed out that 15-minute parking is available on Jessup Avenue, behind the post office.

The new post office is designed to serve patrons west of Interstate 4, she said, and the postal service will provide full service at both locations.

Even if letter carriers are moved to the larger building, window service will still be offered at the older site, Mrs. Wells said.

The zip code for the area east of I-4 is 32750 and the area west of I-4 is designated 32779.

Myers has written U.S. Senators Lawton Chiles and Bob Graham, U.S. Rep. Bill McCollum and Seminole County Commission Chairman Fred Streetman asking for their assistance in solving the problem. However, he said he has learned that since the Postal Service has been removed from political influence the officials say there isn't much they can do.

Mrs. Wells said the Postal Service is opening a new post office in Winter Springs and building another in Lake Mary. "We can't do everything at once," she said.

Spending Takes Tumble

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Spending by Americans dropped 2 percent last month, the biggest fall on record, even though tax changes added an extra 0.8 percent to workers' disposable income, the Commerce Department said today.

Department analysts said consumption plummeted in January because Americans paid $62.9 billion less at an annual rate for cars, trucks and recreational vehicles than they did in December. Excluded that category and spending actually would have risen 0.2 percent for the month, they said.

The drop in vehicle sales reflects the rush in December to buy autos and trucks while people still could take the entire sales tax on purchases as a deduction from their income taxes.

That provision ended with the new tax law Jan. 1.

The resulting 2 percent fall in personal consumption is the biggest decrease since the Commerce Department began tracking personal income and outlays in 1959. The old record was a 1.9 percent fall in May 1960.

All told, Americans spent at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $2,908 trillion in January, down $56.2 billion from the month before. The total decrease is slightly less than the fall in motor vehicle sales because purchases of other goods and services rose.

Seasonally adjusted annual rates indicate what a year's performance would be like if every month did the same as January and seasonal factors were removed.

Personal income grew a negligible $1.2 billion in January, totaling a seasonally adjusted $290.4 billion. The Commerce Department said — the weakest showing since June, when personal income also was unchanged.

Despite the lack of growth overall, Americans' after-tax income went up 0.8 percent — about $22.9 billion at a seasonally adjusted annual rate — because of the new tax laws, the department said.

Much of the increase occurred because the new tax system is withholding fewer dollars from workers' paychecks, the department said. This will be corrected when people file new W-4 forms telling how much money should be withheld. But those forms do not have to be filed until Oct. 1, and in the meantime many people are reaping extra cash, the department said.

Wharton Econometrics, an economic forecasting firm in Philadelphia, estimates the underwithholding could pour an extra $30 billion into the economy during the first half of 1987.

Personal income also rose because people paid less state and local income tax in January after making unusually large payments the month before, the department said.

That decrease and the underwithholding of federal income tax caused total tax payments to fall at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $21.8 billion, the department said.

The personal savings rate in January grew to 3.9 percent of disposable personal income after falling to 1.3 percent the month before. That December rate also is a monthly record going back to the start of such data-keeping in 1959, the Commerce Department said.

The savings rate measures what people took in after taxes during a month subtracted by what they spent. The money shelled out for motor vehicles in December no doubt caused the record low savings, analysts said.

Bank Of Japan To Cut Discount Rate

TOKYO (UPI) — The Bank of Japan announced today it will cut its discount rate to a postwar low of 2.5 percent in a move aimed at stabilizing the yen's exchange rate and stimulating Japan's sluggish economy.

The United States, which has been willing to let the dollar fall as a means of easing its trade deficit, had demanded the central bank reduce the key interest rate to spur domestic demand as an alternative to exports.

Bank of Japan Gov. Satoshi Sumita said the new rate would be effective Monday and would be the last cut in the discount rate.

The discount rate had stood at 3.0 percent — up to now a post-World War II low — after a series of four reductions carried out last year.

Sumita's announcement comes on the eve of a meeting in Paris of finance ministers and central bankers from five industrialized nations, known as the Group of Five or G-5, aimed at stabilizing fluctuating exchange rates.

Japan had used the discount rate cut as a bargaining chip in exchange for Saturday's G-5 meeting, which it sought in hopes of gaining a coordinated effort to halt the rapidly rising yen.

Since then, the yen has risen nearly 60 percent.

Gooden Arrest Report, Death Of Black Said Triggered Riot

TAMPA (UPI) — About 200 youths threw rocks and bottles at passing cars, set fires and broke into a business in a predominantly black area of the city before authorities dispersed the crowd, police said today.

The disturbance Thursday night came less than 24 hours after a black man died following his arrest by police officers. Another possible source of unrest was the release earlier Thursday of a city attorney's report on the arrest of New York Mets pitcher Dwight Gooden and four friends in December.

Police Lt. B.K. Linton, shift commander of District Two, said the youths began the rampage about 7:30 p.m. near the Ponce de Leon housing area in the city's east-central section.

Linton said one officer was injured when he was struck in the groin area and a fireman was struck in the head. He said neither victim was admitted to a hospital.

Court Reduces Killer's Sentence

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Robert Earl DuBoise will serve a life sentence rather than face death in the electric chair for the 1983 murder of a Hillsborough County waitress.

The Supreme Court ordered Thursday DuBoise's death sentence be reduced to life in prison without parole for 25 years. But the high court also ordered a lower court to sentence DuBoise for a related sexual battery charge that was previously dropped.

Court records show DuBoise took part in the murder of a woman whose battered body was found behind a Tampa dentist's office. A dental examination matched DuBoise's teeth to a bite mark found on the victim's face.

Ambush Killer Of Lawyer Hunted

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — Detectives say a motive is probably the clue they will need to lead them to the ambush killer of a $200-an-hour divorce lawyer.

Eric Golden, 39, stepped from the elevator on the sixth floor of the Cumberland office building shortly after 9 a.m. Thursday, turned to the left toward his office and was shot several times in the back. Fort Lauderdale police spokesman Ott Cefkin said.

Police suspect the assailant may have been a client or a client's spouse.

About one year ago the mother allegedly started using an electrical extension cord to beat the boy. He said he was beaten about two or three times a month for 30 minutes each time.

Once, the boy said, his mother beat him on the back and on the legs with a stick. A couple of times, he said, she used a belt, but stopped using that when the metal buckle broke off the belt. She went back to using an electrical cord for the beatings, the boy said.

Castor Takes The Road For Her Spending Plan

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Commissioner of Education Betty Castor has already begun lobbying for higher public school spending than was proposed by Gov. Bob Martinez in his $17.9 billion state spending plan.

Martinez left Tallahassee Wednesday morning, shortly after releasing his budget, to promote the plan with newspaper editorial boards.

Castor began a similar tour in Tampa and continued to Tallahassee, promoting higher teacher pay and her program for the state lottery.

Castor's bottom line: Martinez proposed 7 percent teacher pay increase would cripple attempts to lure the out-of-state teachers Florida needs to keep up with growth.

"We're trying to build a

But Orseno said most of the bidding went for week stays in condos on the west and east coasts of Florida, and some air fare for trips to New York and Colorado.

"We did about the same as last year in the number of items, and we cut back a little on the number of guests because of the hotel space, but the ticket price increased, so we should come out about the same," Orseno said.

"Everybody had a good time. I think it was a huge success. The meal was good and it was a lot of fun."

Hadley reported that the boy has marks in various stages of healing on his arms, legs, back and shoulders. The boy told Hadley that the last time he was beaten was about two weeks ago.

Hadley said the marks are long thin lines and some are loop shaped.

A sheriff's department investigator has been assigned to investigate the alleged child abuse.

The boy will remain at the juvenile detention center until a home is found for him before his initial hearing on the shoplifting charge, Hadley reported.

strong, positive case for continuing the momentum for public education," Castor said. "We do not think that momentum can be continued under the budget proposed this morning."

The budget would cover fiscal year 1987-88, which begins July 1.

The Department of Education would receive $5.76 billion, Castor said the percentage of new tax dollars Martinez would commit for education was 20 percent lower than the average over the past five years.

Martinez proposed a two-year, $456 million pay package to give teachers annual 7 percent raises. He said he would abandon Democratic leaders' long-held goal to rank among the top 25 percent of the states in teacher salaries.

Raiders Reach 'State' Of Art

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

After four near misses in previous years, Seminole Community College's Raiders finally reached the "state" of the art in junior college basketball Thursday night.

The Raiders qualified for the Junior College State Basketball Tournament with a 93-75 victory over Valencia Community College in the finals of the Mid-Florida Conference post-season tournament before 353 fans at the SCC Health Center.

Coach Bill Payne's Raiders, 29-4, will meet Indian River Community College next Thursday in the first round of the state tournament at the University of Central Florida.

With Claude Jackson, Vance Hall, Darris Gallagher and Malcolm Houston scoring in double figures and reserve Holly Keller supplying a key tip-in which turned back Valencia's last charge, the Raiders were just too powerful for the upstart Matadors who finished 13-15.

"It sure feels good," Payne said about earning his first trip to state. "I knew we had it for sure the last couple minutes when Darris was dribbling around and I knew we'd make our free throws."

Payne cited Jackson's stellar first-half performance as setting the trend for the evening. "The first half was all Claude," he said about his 6-7 power forward. "He was just great. They couldn't stop him."

Jackson, who finished with 19 points and 14 rebounds, poured in 15 points and snatched eight boards as the Raiders took a commanding 45-32 first-half advantage.

"This was my last opportunity to go to state and I was giving it my all," Jackson said. "I wanted to win for myself but most of all I wanted to win for the guys and especially coach Payne because he and coach (Dean) Smith worked so hard to get us here."

Basketball

Jackson worked over Valencia on both ends of the court in the first 20 minutes as he scored on three offensive rebounds and pulled down six defensive boards prevent any second efforts from the aggressive Matadors.

SCC hit its first five shots while sprinting to a 10-7 lead. Valencia forged its only tie when game-high (29 points) scorer Maurice Cowan drilled a 3-pointer for a 12-12 deadlock.

Houston, who finished with a team-high 22 points, broke loose for seven successive points on a tip-in, an offensive rebound and a long 3-pointer as the Raiders jumped to a 19-12 lead and forced coach David Jones into a timeout.

"There was no choke this time," Houston said about the outcome. "There is no noose around our neck. We deserved this game and we went out and took it. There was no way Valencia was going to beat us."

SCC turned on its press after the time out as Jackson dunked and 6-7 forward Barry Dunning scored after turnovers forced by Gallagher and 6-8 center Vance Hall.

Gallagher, a flashy 5-7 point guard, finished with 18 points and handed out 13 assists. Hall, who was ejected after throwing a punch with 6:05 to play, totaled 16 points and six boards.

After building the 45-32 halftime bulge, Valencia cut the lead to 48-41 as Cowan dropped in three free throws inbetween jumpers from Mark "Rambo" Richmond and Walter Aikens.

Dunning, though, interrupted the run with a free throw and when Gallagher went coast-to-coast following a steal, SCC had pushed it bulge back to 52-41 with 16:10 left to play.

Jackson again asserted himself over the next two minutes as he blocked two shots and grabbed a big rebound as the Matadors blew three easy opportunities to get back in the game.

"Their defense hurt us a lot," Jones said. "They put a lot of pressure on Cowan and we didn't have anybody else to turn to. And they beat us to death (40-24) on the boards."

Valencia, which handed SCC a three-point setback two weeks ago, had its final opportunity to turn the flow when Hall reacted to an elbow in the face by punching Steve Davis in the back. Official Mitch Kinney immediately ejected him from the game and gave VCC two free throws.

"The guy (Davis) bowed me twice," Hall said. "I couldn't let him get away with that so I punched him."

Cowan made one of the free throws and came back with a 20-footer to trim Seminole's edge to 74-69 with 5:30 to play.

Keller, who was inserted for Hall, then made the play of his brief career. After Dunning fired short on a jumper, the ball bounced high into the air in the middle of the lane. Timing his leap perfectly, the 6-4 Keller flicked the ball left-handed into the hoop to restore the Raiders' eight-point lead with 5:21 to play.

"That was a big, big play,"

SCC's Claude Jackson, right, takes a defender to the baseline. Jackson keyed the Raiders' state berth with 19 points and 14 rebounds.

Payne said about Keller's clutch effort.

"I just saw Barry pull out and I thought it might be short," Keller, an Orlando Colonial product, said. "I just tipped it up left-handed."

And down went Valencia's hopes.

Two minutes later, Keller struck again. This time, operating from SCC's spread offense, the middle opened up and he took it to the hole on the drive, rolling the ball deftly over the top for an 84-72 advantage with 3:33 left.

Tampa Swaps Ferrell

TAMPA (UPI) — The Tampa Bay Buccaneers traded the rights to disgruntled free-agent guard Sean Ferrell to the New England Patriots Thursday for three 1987 draft choices, including a second-round pick.

The Buccaneers, whose 2-14 record will give them the No. 1 selection in the draft for the second straight year, obtained New England's picks in the second, seventh and ninth rounds. The Patriots' selection in the second round is the 51st overall, giving Tampa Bay four of the first 57 picks.

Ferrell, 26, signed a one-year contract with the Buccaneers last summer and openly questioned moves by former coach Leeman Bennett and other members of club management as Tampa Bay plodded through a second consecutive 2-14 season. Ferrell expressed a desire to be traded Dec. 1 when he addressed a meeting of team boosters and said, "I know what I want for Christmas — I want to get out of Tampa Bay. I don't care where I'm going; I just want out."

Farrell, a first-round choice in 1982 out of Penn State, has started since his rookie season and was a Pro Bowl alternate in 1984. He played in all 16 games last season, missing one start and parts of several other games due to a chronic knee injury.

Earlier in the day, tight end Willie Smith and offensive lineman George Huddleston, a pair of free agents who were drafted and cut by NFL teams in 1986, joined the Buccaneers.

Huddleston, 6-foot-4 and 280 pounds, was a sixth-round draft choice of the Washington Redskins after playing both guard and center at Virginia.

LAKE MARY — Lake Mary's Lady Rams exploded out of the blocks for the District 4A-9 Tournament and dominated every aspect of the game Thursday night in a 74-41 rout of Seminole High before 301 fans at Lake Mary High.

Lake Mary, two-time defending district champion, advances to tonight's semifinals against Lake Brantley while Lake Howell and DeLand meet in the first semifinal game. Lake Mary now stands at 5-24 while Seminole finished the season at 14-10.

"We changed our tactics and went to a zone and didn't press," Lake Mary coach Bill Moore said. "We wanted to concentrate on (Adrian) Hillsman and dominate the boards and I think we did a good job of it. We'll have to change our tactics again for Lake Brantley because they're a much better shooting team than Seminole."

Lake Mary roared to a 20-2 lead over the sluggish Lady Seminoles in the first six minutes of play and never looked back. The Lady Rams had a 34-17 halftime lead and took a commanding 54-25 lead into the fourth period.

"We couldn't get anything to fall in the first quarter," Seminole coach Charles Steele said. "And we weren't getting back on defense at all. I don't know why, but the girls just didn't come to play."

Senior forward Cynthia Patterson led a well-balanced Lake Mary attack with a game-high 19 points and added five rebounds. Senior point guard Tonya Lawson pumped in 15 points, grabbed five boards and dished out five assists. Junior center Teri Whyte led Lake Mary's inside dominance with 13 points, six rebounds and seven blocked shots while senior guard Ashley Thomas added 10 points.

Junior forward Sharon Bonaventure contributed six points and six rebounds while senior center Dina Mulholland added a game-high seven rebounds and four points, senior forward Patti Roldan chipped in four points and junior forward Gina Dawson grabbed five rebounds. Lake Mary outrebounded the Lady Seminoles, 37-20.

Basketball

"Tonya (Lawson) and Ashley (Thomas) did a good job running the point tonight," Moore said. "And our subs came in and helped us pull away."

Hillsman, a sophomore point guard, led Seminole with 18 points, sophomore forward Liz Long added 10 and junior guard LaShon Cash contributed six. Seminole got only one point combined from its key inside people, Sheri Reddick and Chineta Gilchrist.

"A lot of these girls haven't played in a district tournament before and I think they may have been scared a little by the pressure," Steele said. "This is a very young team and our time will come in the future."

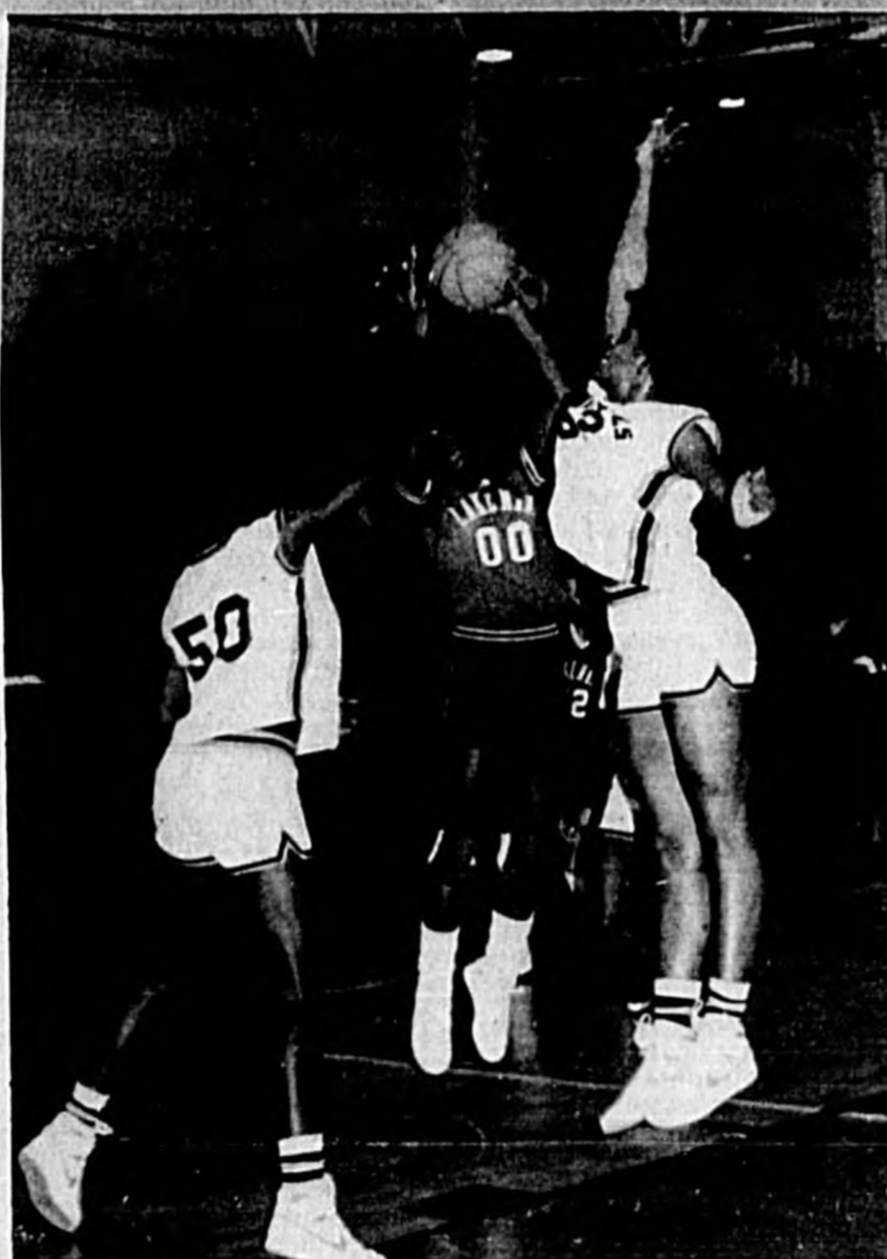

HOWELL UPENDS LYMAN

In a game that one onlooker described as "The horror show," Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks were able to locate the basket before Lyman's Greyhounds as the top-seeded Lady Hawks came away with a 51-35 victory in Thursday night's third game.

Lake Howell improved to 22-3 overall while Lyman concluded the season at 2-18.

Lyman did not score a field goal in the first quarter but still stayed within two points, 5-3. The Lady Hawks, led by Denise Arriola's six points and four by Kelley Grider, showed somewhat of a pulse in the second quarter as the outscored the ice cold Lady Greyhounds, 14-4, for a 19-7 halftime lead. Lake Howell then went on a 17-6 run in the third quarter to pull away, 36-13.

Arriola led the Lady Hawks with 11 points and 13 rebounds while Erin Hankins and Tammy Lewis added eight points each. Grider tossed in six and Carey Manuel contributed six points and six rebounds. Kim Boyle led Lyman with a game-high 12 points and 10 rebounds.

BRANTLEY BLASTS CREEK

Tracy Brandenburg poured in 14 points and handed out seven assists as Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots blasted Spruce Creek's Lady Hawks, 60-33, in Thursday's second game.

Lake Brantley, 16-8, has played its best basketball of the season the last two weeks and takes a five-game winning streak into tonight's semifinal against Lake Mary.

"We were not as intense as I would have liked but we just wanted to get the win and start thinking about tomorrow," Lake Brantley coach Cindy Frank said. "I subbed freely and didn't press so we should be pretty fresh for Lake Mary."

Julle Billmyer also had a good game for the Lady Patriots Thursday with 13 points and six rebounds while Laurie Rivers added 10 points and a game-high 13 rebounds. Janice Abaray contributed eight points and Gretchen Mull tossed in five. Kate Peuschel had a game-high 15 points for Spruce Creek which had only six players suited up.

DELAND OUSTS MAINLAND

C.C. Hayden scored 10 of her game-high 21 points in the decisive fourth quarter as DeLand's Lady Bulldogs downed Daytona Beach Mainland's Lady Bucs, 51-42, in Thursday's first game.

DeLand and Mainland were tied at 34-34 going into the fourth quarter when Hayden scored four points in a row and DeLand never lost the lead again.

Behind Hayden for the Lady Bulldogs, Shawn Lane added nine points, Shawna Streetman contributed eight and former Seminole High player Debbie Lovette chipped in with seven.

Kristy Austell had 22 points to keep Mainland close while Missy McGurran added eight.

Lake Mary Desires Offense In Section

Soccer

Lake Mary's Rams are looking to play the same tough defense that has been their trademark this season and shift their offense into high gear tonight at 7 as they host Melbourne's Bulldogs in the Class 4A-3 Section playoff. The winner gets a berth in next week's 4A State Tournament.

The Rams, 20-3-4, take an eight-game winning streak into tonight's action. Lake Mary has given up just one goal in four post season games, that coming in a 2-1 overtime victory over Winter Park in Tuesday's region playoff.

"If the defense continues to play well we'll be in the game," Lake Mary coach Larry McCorkle said. "We need to start attacking more on offense and taking advantage of our chances."

Lake Mary's defense, which has given up one goal or less in 24 of the 27 games, is led by seniors Chris Riske, Pete Kinsley, Rick Morales and Ralph Padilla. Junior sweeperback Scott Schmitt and junior goalkeeper Pete McNally.

"We can't get uptight and need to prove ourselves by playing up to our standards," Schmitt said. "I don't think we've really played as well as we can yet. If we're intense and play our game, we have a good chance of going a long way."

Offensively, Lake Mary is led by the brother combination of Rick and Ernie Broennele. Rick, a senior, has scored two goals in the Rams' last two games including the tying goal with 13 minutes left in regulation against Winter Park. Ernie, a junior, led Lake Mary with 23 goals during the regular season. The Rams will also look for offensive production from Jon Brooks, Steve Sapp, Lee Alexander, Frank Baranowski and Manuel Roldan.

Lake Mary and Melbourne have not played this season but do have three common opponents. The Bulldogs have fared pretty well in Seminole County with a win over Lake Brantley and ties against Lake Howell and Lyman.

Lake Brantley Open Draws Quality Field

Track & Field

The Lake Brantley Patriot Open, one of the most prestigious early-season track meets in the state, will be held Saturday morning and afternoon at Lake Brantley High.

Field events and running preliminaries get under way at 8 a.m. with the running finals scheduled to start at noon.

Seminole High, defending Class 4A boys and girls champions, will be on hand along with Orange County power Orlando Oak Ridge. Oak Ridge is probably the favorite at this point since the Pioneers have most of their top athletes while Seminole's boys and girls are still waiting for some of their top people to finish basketball.

Among the leaders for Seminole's boys are sprinters Eric Martin, Dwayne Willis and Steve Warren, hurdler Arthur Hersey, middle distance runner Alan Seward and jumper Lewis

Butler. The Seminole girls team is led by multitallented juniors Shownda Martin and Dorchelle Webster and sophomore sprinter Tasha Wynn.

Other top Seminole County athletes who will compete Saturday include Lake Mary sprinters Erwin Edwards and Jeff Pommer, Lyman distance runners Robin Rogers and Teddy Mitchell, Lake Brantley weightman Bucky Chambers and Lake Howell distance ace Chuck Buster and Jeff Van Buskirk.

On the girls side, Lyman High has an outstanding shot and discus thrower in Eileen Costello. Lake Howell has some of the top distance runners in the state.

Troy Jackson: Different Kind Of Giant

Turners, Mays Lead Seminoles

While Lake Mary banks on its six district champions to carry the load in this weekend's regional meet at Jacksonville Forrest High School, Seminole coach Glenn Maiolini turns to three veterans to lead his team's chances.

The Turner brothers — senior 171-pounder Troy and junior 159-pounder Tracy — along with senior 116-pounder Sheraton Mays will be the key ingredients to Seminole's region hopes. The Turners each won district titles while Mays, who dropped from 130, placed second.

"All three have state tournament experience, so I expect them to do well in the regional," Maiolini said. Troy and Mays were state runners-up last year while Tracy finished fifth as Maiolini guided Seminole to its best grappling success ever.

Along with the Turners, first-year senior Keith Denton picked up at district title at 189. Seminole also qualified promising Don Sellers (third, 130), Larry Nathan (second, 123), Troy Rollins (third, 149) and Randy Bryant (second, 224).

Troy has been second at state the past two seasons at 159. The sturdy senior carries a 107-7 career record along with a 21-0 mark this year. A broken hand suffered in the semifinals of state last year kept him out of the title match and was his only loss. He is defending region champion at 159.

"This is my last time around and I'm going to get the state title this year," Troy said after Saturday's district victory. "I feel as good as I've ever felt. The experience was being there before will definitely help."

Tracy, who won the region at 149 last year, carries a 20-2 record into the region while Mays, also a defending region champion, is 19-5. Mays lost a lopsided 10-0 decision to Lake Mary's Wayne Clayton in the district, but he did the same thing last year before coming on strong at region and state.

Troy Jackson, Lake Mary's friendly giant, draws the cheers and instead of jeers from wrestling fans. Undefeated at unlimited, Jackson goes after a regional title Saturday.

Lake Mary's Easy-Going 400-Pounder Draws Fans' Cheers Instead Of Jeers

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor
Troy Jackson is the biggest of 38 Seminole County qualifiers competing in the Class 4A-2 Region Wrestling Tournament today at Jacksonville Forrest High School. The top four finishers in Friday and Saturday's region advance to next weekend's state tournament at Lyman High School.

Although Jackson carries 400 pounds, he is light on his feet, surprising many opponents 100 pounds smaller with his quickness.

Personality-wise, Jackson, a senior from Sanford, has another redeeming quality about him.

As far as giants go, he is loved and liked instead of despised. He draws the fans' cheers instead of jeers.

So many times in sports, the oversized competitor draws the ire of fans. He is pelted with taunts and worse. Biblical giant Goliath, basketball player Wilt Chamberlain and pro wrestler Andre the Giant were all jeered instead of cheered in their battles with the undersized underdog.

Jackson, however, is different. Despite overshadowing and outweighing his foe in every meeting, big Troy is not only liked but loved. He always draws the biggest cheers at home and away wrestling matches. His introduction is electric. The anticipation of his pin is like a crescendo on the rise. When he finally flattens his opponent, fans and foes alike break into spontaneous applause.

After the match, he always draws the largest ring of well-wishers and admirers.

Jackson, a modest sort, said there is a reason for his popularity. "It is just my wrestling style and personality," the affable senior said after winning his second district title last Saturday at Lyman. "Most heavyweights try to act the big-and-bad role. I don't do that."

"I always talk to people and live a normal life." As normal as it can get for someone weighing 400 pounds.

Jackson's district victim, Daytona Beach Mainland's Shannon Wiggins, said he has the utmost respect for Jackson. "Troy is an all-right guy," Wiggins said after Jackson beat him for the fourth time. "He is a good athlete and he is in pretty good shape. He knows what he is doing."

"He has never put all of his weight on me when he pinned me. He just stretches out my arms."

Likewise, Lake Mary coach Doug Peters gives two reasons why his friendly giant is loved instead of loathed.

"First, Troy has maintained his humbleness through all the publicity," Peters said. "He hasn't changed from the first day. Second, he backs it up with what he does on the mat. When some wrestlers have had the attention Troy receives, they let it affect their performance on the mat. That has not happened to Troy."

Contrary to popular belief Jackson did not appear in the Lake Mary wrestling room one day and predict a state championship. He was found "walking the halls" by Peters and former coach Frank Schwartz, who together built the Rams into a state contender in five short years.

"Frank actually saw him first," Peters said. "We couldn't believe him. Some of his pals were picking on him because of his size. He just took it in good fun. He realizes his size and doesn't want to hurt anyone."

Jackson was a caddy to 320-pounder Robert Rawls during his freshman and sophomore seasons. Rawls won a state title as a senior.

Jackson's early years were a learning process. He lost every match as a freshman and won about half of the them as a sophomore. "But he never missed a day of practice," Peters said. "Over the summer after his freshman year, we took him to 13 freestyle tournaments and he got beat every one. But in the last one, he looked good. I remember thinking, I think he is starting to get it."

With someone Jackson's size, weight distribution, of course, is the major stumbling block. Jackson, though, began to distribute his weight accordingly and picked up several moves. He won 16 of 18 matches last year while finishing fifth in the state. This year, he is 21-0. He will defend his regional title this weekend.

win." There is not much difference among Mainland, Spruce Creek and Seminole. Mainland holds two victories over Seminole and one over the Creek. The Creek and Seminole have split. Seminole beat Mainland once. The team which does not have to play the other two has the best chance of winning the district.

Seminole had that advantage until tonight's unlikely circumstance came about.

If Mainland loses it would be the No. 4 seed, Seminole, the No. 1 seed, and No. 4 Mainland are in the same bracket and would play in the semifinal if both win in the quarterfinal. Lyman would be the No. 3 and Spruce Creek would be No. 2. They would play in the other bracket's semifinal, providing both win in the quarterfinals.

Seminole's master plan, of course, was to grab the No. 1 seed so it would not have to play Mainland AND Spruce Creek. Most observers figured with Seminole going No. 1, the Bucs and the Hawks would fall in line as No. 2 and No.3 or vice-versa.

The observers, though, forgot about Lyman. The 'Hounds do not play either the Creek or Mainland. Their 4A games were against lightweights DeLand (2), Apopka (2), Orlando Colonial and Orlando Boone. Toss in the four other 4A SAC schools twice apiece and you have 14 games. Lyman lost to Seminole twice, Boone and DeLand. Scheduling mediocre clubs has made a

There was no racial motivation in Dwight Gooden's arrest in Tampa, city officials said Thursday.

Nothing Racial About Gooden's Arrest In Tampa

TAMPA (UPI) — New York Mets pitcher Dwight Gooden battled with at least six police officers before he was subdued Dec. 13 after being stopped for a traffic violation, city officials said in a 163-page report on their investigation into the incident.

The 1985 National League Cy Young Award winner and four companions were arrested as a result of the melee and each was charged with resisting arrest with violence. Gooden also was charged with battery of a police officer.

But City Attorney Michael Fogarty said Thursday his investigation failed to discover any evidence of racial motivation.

A'S BLUE RETIRES

The rites of spring formally began Thursday in the middle of February with nearly a dozen teams welcoming pitchers and catchers and the Oakland A's saying goodbye to Vida Blue.

Blue, who signed with the A's last month after the Giants failed to offer him a contract, announced his retirement.

In other matters, the Phillies and Lance Parrish ended negotiations after failing to resolve a snag that has prevented the free-agent catcher from accepting the team's $1 million offer for one year.

Oviedo's Seniors Rout Eustis; Rams, Pats Fall

By Tim Horn
Special to the Herald

OVIEDO — In a night dedicated to the senior members of the Oviedo High basketball team, the Lions responded with an easy 61-47 victory over the Eustis Panthers at Oviedo High Gym Thursday before 250 fans.

Guard Terry Campbell, one of five seniors whom Oviedo head coach Dale Phillips placed in his starting lineup for the evening, led the Lions charge with a game-high 23 points and also dished out eight assists as Oviedo improved its record to 15-9. Forward Robb Hughes and center Dana Hill, two more seniors, chipped in with 12 points each.

Oviedo, 15-9, closes the regular season tonight at Lyman in a Seminole Athletic Conference game.

"We had been playing kind of tight in our last few games but tonight we just seemed to be loose," Phillips said. "We started and finished with the five seniors and they showed a lot of leadership out there."

Oviedo trailed after one period, 13-11, as Eustis guard John Lancaster scored nine of his team high 15 points while Hughes had six for the Lions. But in the second period, with the Panthers leading 18-15, the Lions went on a 13-1 run to go up 28-19 at the half. Campbell scored six points in the period and Hill had four.

The Rams fell to 11-13 and will finish regular-season play tonight against arch-rival Lake Brantley in a Seminole Athletic Conference battle.

In the district, Mainland has to beat Spruce Creek and Seminole to advance to the regional. Toth said he feels it would be easier to beat Seminole in the semifinal than the final when everything is on the line and the place will be jam-packed with hoisterous Seminole fans.

Does that mean Mainland would be better off losing tonight? Klein said he hopes that does not happen. Seminole, ranked 18th in the state, has won seven consecutive and 17 of its last 18. Spruce Creek, 21-4 and ranked 11th, has won six in a row and 11 of its last 13. Mainland, 19-5 and ranked 20th, has lost two of its last four at Lakeland Kathleen and Jacksonville Jackson.

Gardening

Preparing Soil For Spring Flower Beds Will Pay Off Handsomely

Soon, it will be time to plant your spring flower bed, and a little extra effort in preparing the soil will pay off handsomely. Till your soil a couple of weeks ahead of time. If your soil is very sandy, mix in a generous quantity of some type of organic material, such as peat moss, compost, manure, or forest humus.

Because our soils are generally low in nutrients, a 6-6-6 complete fertilizer should be mixed in at the same time. Usually about two pounds per 100 square feet of garden area is sufficient. Continue fertilizing at the same rate on a monthly basis throughout the season.

Annual flowers purchased in compartmentalized plastic flats usually have pot-bound root systems. If planted intact, the root system will be slow to get started in the planting bed. The plants will suffer moisture stress, too. The best way is to loosen and untangle the root system without breaking the soil ball. Plants handled this way will recover rapidly. Tall, spindly plants should be "pinched" or pruned to half of their original size to produce lush foliage and more flowers.

Weeds should be controlled either by hand weeding or mulching. Black plastic mulches should never be used unless you add a layer of organic mulch, such as wood chips, pine bark or

Alfred Bossesen
Urban Horticulturist
323-2500
Ext. 181

compost, on top of the plastic. Temperatures of 117-119 degrees have been recorded 1 to 3 inches above unmulched black plastic mulches. When you add organic mulch on top of the black plastic, you'll be reducing the heat absorption factor and will mask the unsightly appearance of the plastic.

Mulching materials should not come in direct contact with the plant stems. High moisture conditions created by the mulch increases the chance of stem rot and subsequent plant demise. Some annuals, such as petunias, will develop yellow leaves when mulched with cypress or pine bark mulches. This is not due to nitrogen deficiency and cannot be corrected by the addition of more plant food.

Remember, annual flowers require more care than most other landscape plants. However, their brilliant colors and warmth and life to a landscape and more than justifies the additional work.

It's the time of the year to do some spring cleaning in your landscape, too. And, that means taking care of routine pruning of your ornamental plants. Usually, you prune to get rid of unwanted growth and to improve the appearance of the plant. Pruning isn't the most complicated thing in the world. But, it's important to do it right.

The most obvious time to prune is when a plant has dead, weak or damaged wood, or wood that's infested with insects or a disease. When transplanting, pruning is necessary to balance the top with the remaining root system. Older plants may be rejuvenated by pruning away some of the old stems and branches. This will stimulate new, more vigorous growth. Prune to make a plant look like you want it to. If you want a certain shape or size, you will definitely have to prune. Pruning also makes a plant produce more flowers or fruit.

Deciding when to prune can be confusing. In Florida, we can grow so many different plants that it's impossible to pick one best time to prune everything. You can do light pruning anytime. But, the best time for major pruning depends on the kinds of plants you have.

Most flowering plants should be pruned right after they bloom. Deciduous plants, sweet gum, crape myrtle, and red maple, which go dormant during cold weather, need to be pruned in the winter. Most evergreens, like podocarpus, ligustrum, hollies, and wax myrtle, can be pruned anytime. But, best to prune these just before growth starts in the spring.

Shrubs that bloom in the summer and fall, such as hibiscus, roses, and oleander, should be pruned before the first flush of growth in the spring. The exception is pruning to remove cold-damage limbs and branches.

For this, wait until after new growth starts. If you do heavy pruning now, you may lose more of the plant than you have to. By waiting, you can tell how much of the plant will recover.

Use hand shears and loppers, not hedge clippers, for pruning smaller branches. For larger branches, use a pruning saw. Undercut large branches so they won't tear away the bark when they fall. Make sure all are smooth and flush with the remaining branch or trunk. Jagged edges invite insect and disease problems. Be sure to use pruning paint on all cuts more than 1-inch across.

Happy gardening!

'Have A Heart' Supporters Did Just That

Central Florida Chapter of the American Heart Association was the benefactor of proceeds from "Have A Heart and Swing Into Spring," a fashion show and luncheon at the Sanford Civic Center sponsored by Central Florida Regional Hospital. Sanford City Commissioner John Mercer, from left, Sanford AHA campaign chairman, and James D. Tesar, CFRH administrator, present the proceeds, $4,000 to Kelly Hamrick, development director of the chapter. Funds directed to AHA are used for continued research and community education and programs. Feb. 22 is designated as Heart Sunday when AHA volunteers will campaign door-to-door.

Friend Who Mourns Beloved Pet Will Welcome Simple Sympathy

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend whose dog is sick and growing feeble, and will soon have to be put to sleep. He has had the dog for 13 years and is very attached to her. When his pet dies, what expression of my sympathy would be appropriate?

This truly concerns me. I want to show my friend how much I care about his loss, but I don't want to come across as foolish or overreacting.

HIS FRIEND OF MANY YEARS

DEAR FRIEND: One who must put a beloved pet to sleep after 13 years of togetherness will grieve for that pet much as a parent would mourn the loss of a child. Not to diminish the depth of human relationships, but that's the feeling many pet owners have experienced. So do send flowers or a warm letter of condolence. It will be deeply appreciated. I assure you.

DEAR ABBY: My husband of 41 years died last summer, so in order to avoid receiving Christmas cards addressed to Edith Johnson, which I detest, I sent my Christmas cards out early and clearly wrote my return address as "Mrs. Horace A. Johnson."

Well, some insisted on addressing their Christmas cards to Edith Johnson. I was so angry that I drew a line through the "Edith" and above it wrote "Mrs. Horace A." and returned it to the senders, explaining that although I had lost my husband, his name was given — not loaned — to me.

A neighbor insists that a new etiquette has taken over, and a widow's mail should be addressed to her by her given name.

MRS. HORACE A. JOHNSON
DEAR MRS. JOHNSON: Your neighbor is in error. It's the woman's choice. She may use her first name, the initial of her maiden name and her husband's last name — or, as you prefer, she can be addressed as Mrs. Horace A. Johnson. That name is yours until you change it by remarriage. And if you never remarry, you retain your husband's name forever.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: The pastor of our church (Olivet Baptist) said that you had been married three times. I see nothing wrong with divorce. I like your column, and his remarks will not stop me from reading it.

I don't believe you've been married three times and would appreciate knowing the truth.

A FAN IN LAWTON, OKLA.

DEAR FAN: The truth is your pastor is mistaken. I am still married to my first husband.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing in response to the letter signed "Grieving in Gulfport, Miss." She spoke of her younger sister dying of cancer due to cigarettes.

I, too, have lost a loved one to cigarettes. My husband died of cancer two months ago. Over the years, each of our kids asked their father to quit smoking many times. I recall one saying, after seeing a film at school, "Dad, if you saw what we saw today, you'd never smoke again."

He didn't see his youngest daughter graduate from college. He will never have the privilege of walking her down the aisle on her wedding day. He will never see his grandchildren. He will never fish with his friends again, or go to church with his family, or hold me close and say, "I love you."

This family will never be the same again. We had a rich, full life together. But it ended too soon. And if writing this letter will make a few people throw away their cigarettes, it will be worth it.

Treatment Should Clear Rash In A Few Of Weeks

DEAR DR. GOTT — I've been prescribed Monistat-Derm (2 percent) for a genital rash. Is the rash a fungus? How can a fungus be contracted?

DEAR DR. GOTT — If you have genital candida, a type of fungus, the Monistat should do the trick. However, genital rashes can have other causes, including other yeasts. If the rash doesn't clear up in a couple of weeks, you will require further tests, such as a skin culture and scraping, to identify the cause of the eruption. Fungus infections can be spread from one person's warm moist area to another's — as any athlete's-foot sufferer can testify.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am 80 and my left hand shakes. The doctors say I have Parkinson's disease. I've been to two doctors and have taken many pills, but haven't had any results. What is your advice?

DEAR DR. GOTT — I had Class II and Class III Pap smears and a biopsy indicating dysplasia on the cervix. The dysplasia was frozen off. How is this done and what does the biopsy mean?

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am 45 and have been bulimic for 21 years, with no apparent ill effects. What are the medical facts on why throwing up would be harmful?

DEAR DR. GOTT — Bulimia (binge eating followed by vomiting) is a serious psychological disorder for which you should start treatment. The physical consequences include malnutrition, inflammation and bleeding of the esophagus, halitosis and loss of dental enamel from exposure to gastric juice. Many problems or illnesses can have ill effects that aren't apparent, or that develop over time. You probably will develop physical complications of bulimia if you don't acknowledge you have a problem and get help.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
This week we are showing dramatic deals from George Rosenkranz's new book, "Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Trump Leads" (Devyn Press, 151 Thierman Lane, Louisville, KY 40207). Today's deal features Argentinian internationalist Luis Attagulle, who was sitting West.

The opponents' bidding was natural. Since the five-club response to Blackwood showed either no aces or all four of them, it was easy for Attagulle to figure out where the ace of spades was located. It was also apparent that a South player who would bid seven without the king of trumps was not likely to have any other losers. So the only chance seemed to be to persuade the aggressive declarer that there was no point in taking the spade finesse. Since Attagulle had worked all this out earlier in the bidding, the two of spades hit the table in the normal tempo of a "safe" trump lead against a grand slam.

Since declarer had a combined holding of 11 cards in the trump suit, he would probably have played for the drop anyway (the odds slightly favor that play), but the opening lead convinced him that the trump king was with East. He confidently played the spade ace. When East showed out, the slam perished.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY
FEBRUARY 21, 1987
 Advancement in your chosen field of endeavor is a strong likelihood in the year ahead. However, you'll have to earn the rewards you receive.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Be doubly careful of what you say today in the presence of people who have an influence over your career. Ill-chosen comments could work against you. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A gossipy acquaintance who might not necessarily have your best interests at heart may skillfully question you today regarding things you want to keep secret.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Tips given you today by a well-meaning friend should not be taken at face value. His or her intentions are good, but the information could be faulty.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Companions shouldn't be permitted to make decisions for you today. What is advantageous for them might not serve your best interests.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be logical instead of wishful when sizing up testy developments today. Resolutions aren't likely if your assessments are unrealistic.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Even if you secretly feel a trifle superior to people with whom you'll be involved today, keep your thoughts to yourself. Arrogance breeds resentment.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You'll be asking for trouble if you find more to criticize than to praise in your mate's behavior today. Concentrate on his or her good qualities.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If someone goes out of his or her way to assist you today, be sure to show the proper gratitude. No thanks will get no help the next time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Manage your money prudently when shopping today. Small extravagances could add up to a whopping total when finally computed.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your awareness for details will be sharper than usual today. Try to use this as an asset, not an obsession. No one appreciates a flaw finder.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You have to deal with someone today with whom you've recently had a disturbing experience. Don't pick up where you left off.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Being around pals who are penny pinchers will make you feel uncomfortable today. Seek out companions who are as generous as yourself.

Avalanche's Third Victim Found, Fourth Sought; No Prosecutions

BRECKENRIDGE, Colo. (UPI) — Search teams equipped with dogs, poles and a radar device recovered the body of a third skier buried by an avalanche, and officials said they would not prosecute two skiers who may have triggered the slide.

The search for a fourth man believed to be trapped in the 30-foot-high wall of snow on National Forest Service land outside the Breckenridge Ski Area was to resume early today, said Summit County Undersheriff Gary Lindstrom.

A wave of snow half a mile wide thundered down on the victims Wednesday after they skied past an avalanche warning sign onto Peak 7, an unauthorized area near the resort. Witnesses said the slide was triggered by two skiers crossing the ridge above the victims.

Cuomo Bows Out Of Race

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Gov. Mario Cuomo, whose fiery keynote speech at the 1984 Democratic National Convention propelled him toward the front of the 1988 presidential race, has opened up the field by suddenly dropping out.

The New York governor caught many of his political supporters and opponents off guard — and gave some Democratic rivals new hope for their own campaigns — when he announced on a radio talk show broadcast statewide Thursday night that he would not make a run for the White House.

Union Plans Membership Drive

BAL HARBOUR (UPI) — The AFL-CIO, seeking to expand union membership, has added a prepaid legal plan to its low-cost MasterCard and now will move to get health benefits for strikers to make walkouts more successful.

The federation of 92 labor unions, faced with declining membership, has been aggressive during the past year in developing a program of services and benefits for union members. The program includes low-cost credit cards and a new prepaid legal plan.

IRS, FBI Accused Of Harassing American Visitors To Nicaragua

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dozens of American citizens and groups critical of President Reagan's policy on Central America say they have been harassed by the FBI, Internal Revenue Service or Customs Service after visiting Nicaragua.

Twenty people who had traveled to Nicaragua as tourists, on cultural visits or for temporary work in the last few years said in recent interviews that after returning to the United States, they were subjected to tax audits or intrusive searches by Customs Service officials.

Two travelers told United Press International they were "strip-searched," while others said they had materials seized or became subjects of FBI files.

"There's a disturbing, prima facie pattern of harassment of political activists by the IRS, FBI and Customs Service," said Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., who plans to examine allegations of federal harassment of dissidents in hearings before his House Judiciary subcommittee scheduled to begin today.

Spokesmen for the FBI, IRS and the Customs Service denied the agencies have harassed visitors to Nicaragua.

One former Nicaraguan rebel official, Edgar Chamorro, alleged that the IRS has harassed him in retaliation for his 1984 decision to break with the rebel movement and publicly criticize administration actions in Nicaragua.

Chamorro, a Florida resident, said that soon after he quit the movement, federal agents told him they were auditing his income taxes after he reported receiving a $15,000 salary from the CIA. He said he received the same payment the previous year but was not audited. The audit is still pending, he said.

An IRS spokesman said the agency

'There's a disturbing, prima facie pattern of harassment of political activists by the IRS, FBI and Customs Service.'

—Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif.

determines who it audits on the basis of an objective mathematical formula. A CIA spokesman declined comment.

Four organizations critical of the administration's policy in Nicaragua said they also have been audited by the IRS, which decides whether they qualify for non-profit tax status, group officials said.

While the administration has denounced Nicaragua's Sandinista government, the United States has full diplomatic relations with Managua and Americans can travel freely to the Central American nation.

Edwards said his subcommittee has obtained evidence that the FBI may be engaging in some intelligence-gathering on domestic groups, "possibly ... instigated by the National Security Council" in the White House.

Lt. Col. Oliver North, the NSC aide fired Nov. 25 for his role in the Iran arms-Contratid scandal, headed an interagency counterterrorism group on which the FBI serves.

It was reported last week the FBI is conducting an internal investigation of an informant's allegations that bureau agents broke into the Dallas office of a dissident group, wiretapped the phones of group members and kept "terrorist" files on almost 700 people.

The group, the Dallas chapter of the Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador, has provided donations for medical aid to leftist guerillas fighting the U.S.-backed government in El Salvador.

The FBI has told Congress that its foreign counterintelligence function gives it authority to wiretap and obtain telephone and bank records on certain American citizens, a congressional source said.

Edwards said his House subcommittee has evidence that the bureau has expanded its foreign counterintelligence guidelines to cover some domestic groups, including the Salvadoran rebel support group.

In the face of a lawsuit, the Customs Service revised its procedures last summer to limit the ability of inspectors to read, photocopy or seize written materials from travelers. The suit was filed on behalf of a visitor to Nicaragua by the Center for Constitutional Rights in New York.

Despite the revision, two New York men, film maker Victor Sanchez and artist Darrell Williams, said that upon their Jan. 24 return from a three-week trip to harvest coffee in Nicaragua, they were strip-searched by Customs Service officials at the Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport.

Williams said officials went through his personal phone book, opened his tape recorder, examined the seams and pockets of his clothing and asked him if he was "a freedom fighter."

A Customs Service spokesman declined immediate comment on the episode.

Amy Goode, a Detroit woman who was part of a group that met with Nicaraguan government and church officials in 1984, said Wednesday she was questioned by an FBI agent and told the bureau checked routinely with all visitors to Nicaragua as "positive intelligence gathering."

Goode, a social worker, said she obtained under the Freedom of Information Act an 84-page file that the FBI was keeping on her.

Soviet Official Says Jewish Dissident Will Be Released

MOSCOW (UPI) — A Soviet official said dissident Hebrew teacher Yosif Begun would be freed today from his four years in prison — one week after a police attack ended five days of demonstrations for his release.

Foreign Ministry spokesman Gennadi Gerasimov said the release of Begun would follow the freeing of Nobel Peace Prize nominee Anatoly Koryagin, a psychiatrist who was reunited with his wife, Galina, and family in the Ukraine Thursday.

"Yosif Begun has been pardoned by a decree of the Supreme Soviet on Tuesday. After that the decree has been conveyed to the Interior Ministry and conveyed to Chistopov prison. Begun will be freed tomorrow," Gerasimov told a Moscow news conference Thursday.

Syrian Cease-Fire Force Fights

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Leftist and Shiite Moslem Amal militiamen clashed with rockets and machine guns today despite the deployment of a Syrian-backed force to end a five-day war for west Beirut that has killed more than 180 people.

Scattered fighting was reported in several areas of Beirut in violation of a cease-fire order by Brig. Ghazi Kenaan, chief of Syrian military intelligence in Lebanon, authorities said.

Police said the cease-fire force of 200 Syrian soldiers, 200 Lebanese soldiers and police and 100 militiamen from the warring factions set up checkpoints but were unable to disperse because of the continued fighting.

Alleged Death Threats Dismissed

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — Armed forces chief Fidel Ramos today dismissed death threats against him by supporters of former President Ferdinand Marcos and said the chances of a coup have "greatly diminished."

President Corazon Aquino today announced her 24 candidates for elections for the senate, which must vote on a treaty governing U.S. military bases.

Ramos told a breakfast news conference, "I would not be here if I took the assassination plots seriously" and dismissed newspaper reports saying he was high on a death squad "hit list."

McFarlane Cites Iran Cover-Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Accounts today of Robert McFarlane's hospital interview with the Tower Commission have him standing firm on testimony that contradicts President Reagan and outlining details of an attempt to cover up the president's early involvement in the clandestine sales of U.S. arms to Iran.

Testimony by McFarlane, the president's ex-national security adviser, is at the heart of reported conflicts in Reagan's own statements, and he answered questions from the Tower Commission Thursday about that testimony at the hospital where he is recovering from his suicide attempt last week.

The commission, the three-man panel Reagan named to review operations of his National Security Council staff, heard McFarlane stand by his testimony that Reagan gave advance approval to the first sale of U.S. arms to Iran in August 1985.

In addition, at least two newspapers reported today that McFarlane outlined for the Tower board his previously acknowledged participation in a November 1986 effort by White House aides to conceal Reagan's role in the initiation of the arms deals.

That effort included a memo written by McFarlane the night before Reagan's televised news conference Nov. 19 at the request of his successor as national security adviser, Vice Adm. John Poindexter. The memo, the reports said, was designed to help Reagan plausibly deny his approval of the first arms deal.

In another report today, The Washington Post said Lt. Col. Oliver North, the Poindexter aide on the NSC fired for his role in the scandal, gave Iran top-secret intelligence information not intended to be seen by foreigners.

The Post said it was unclear exactly what type of intelligence North provided in his meetings with Iranian middlemen, but the newspaper quoted sources as saying it was discovered in messages retrieved from the NSC computer system.

The actions of the NSC and specifically McFarlane, Poindexter and North have been a major focus of investigations into the Iran arms sales and the scheme to divert profits to Nicaraguan Contra rebels. Also looming is the question of whether Reagan approved the first shipment of U.S. arms to Iran from Israel.

McFarlane, who resigned as national security adviser in December 1985, has testified to Congress that Reagan gave his OK in August 1985, but White House chief of staff Donald Regan has disputed that in his testimony to lawmakers.

Moreover, Reagan himself switched his version of the story in two interviews with the Tower Commission, according to news reports — telling the panel Jan. 26 he approved the sale beforehand, then retracting that account last week after consulting with Regan.

Mills: Martinez Budget Ignores Zwick Panel

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Martinez failed to address Florida's $5.9 billion shortfall of roads, schools, bridges and other infrastructure needs in his 1987-88 budget proposal, House Speaker Jon Mills says.

Mills said Martinez did not consider the recommendations of a blue-ribbon panel known as the Zwick Commission for chairman Charles Zwick — charged with presenting ways of implementing the ambitious state plan.

"I'm not sure I see a comprehensive approach to funding state infrastructure," Mills said. "In the budget itself, there doesn't seem to be much response to the Zwick Commission."

"I don't think we have the governor's position on infrastructure funding."

Mills reserved comment on the other environmental aspects of Martinez' budget, which was presented Wednesday, but other critics charged Martinez had underfunded management of the state's rapid growth.

"In the area of growth management, there is a severe weakening," said Audubon Society lobbyist Charles Lee. He charged that Martinez was trying to block the implementation of the Growth Management Act of 1985 through the budget process.

Included in that landmark act — written largely by Mills — is a provision requiring every city and county in Florida to write a local growth management plan and submit that plan to the Department of Community Affairs for approval. Lee and the chiefs of both the House and Senate questioned whether Martinez' budget provides adequate funds for that job.

DCA's Division of Resource Planning and Management, which reviews the plans, has a current budget of $31.4 million. This year, it requested $45.7 million, while Martinez budgeted it for $30.2 million. In 1988, when the majority of the plans will be submitted for approval, the division requested $34.9 million, but Martinez recommended $17.7 million.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

CITY OF LAKE MARY, FLORIDA
TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:
 NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City Commission of the City of Lake Mary, Florida, will hold a Public Hearing at 7:30 P.M. on March 5, 1987, or as soon thereafter as possible to consider an Ordinance of the City of Lake Mary, Florida, title of which is as follows:
AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF LAKE MARY, FLORIDA, REPEALING ORDINANCE NO. 38 OF THE CITY OF LAKE MARY, FLORIDA, DATED FEBRUARY 19, 1976, TO BE KNOWN AS THE CITY'S "SIGN ORDINANCE"; PROVIDING FOR PURPOSE, DEFINITIONS AND APPLICATION; EXCLUSIONS FROM APPLICATION; LIMITATIONS; GENERAL RESTRICTIONS; GENERAL REGULATIONS; SPECIAL EXCEPTIONS; DESIGN STANDARDS BOARD; NON-CONFORMING SIGNS; CODE ENFORCEMENT BOARD; AND SAVING CLAUSES.
 A copy of said Ordinance shall be available at the office of the City Clerk, 158 N. Country Club Road, Lake Mary, Florida, Monday through Friday, 8:00 A.M. until 4:30 P.M. for all persons desiring to examine same. All interested parties are invited to attend the Public Hearing. The Public Hearing may be continued from time to time until a final decision is made by the City Commission. The Lake Mary City Commission will discuss the proposed Ordinance during a workshop to be held on March 2, 1987, at 7:30 P.M.
PERSONS ARE ADVISED THAT IF THEY DECIDE TO APPEAL ANY DECISION MADE AT THIS MEETING THEY WILL NEED A RECORD OF THE PROCEEDINGS AND FOR SUCH PURPOSE THEY WILL NEED TO ENSURE THAT A VERBATIM RECORD OF THE PROCEEDINGS IS MADE WHICH INCLUDES THE TESTIMONY AND EVIDENCE UPON WHICH THE APPEAL IS TO BE BASED. PER SECTION 286.0105 FLORIDA STATUTES.

To Some, More Precious Than Gold

Baubles, Bangles Bring Big Bucks

When can a form of plastic be more precious to gold? When Art Deco era artists transformed the first plastic, Bakelite, in to gaudy, flashy carved baubles and bangles, which draw top dollar from those who know what's in vogue today.

When this patented material, circa 1909, hit the scene, craftsmen were quick to take and transform this solidified mix of phamaldahide, acid and dyes into jewelry.

And the legacy lives on, with Bakelite, which is no longer made, attracting the attention and the bucks of the fashion or investment conscious.

"The jewelry was really in its heyday in the '20s, '30s, and '40s. Some of it was made up until the early 1950s," said Al Briggs, who travels the country buying and selling Bakelite baubles, bangles and beads.

"Interest in the deco Bakelite jewelry has been real heavy in the last two or three years. There's always been an interest in it, but it's really hot in the bigger cities — New York, Miami, Washington, Atlanta and in California. In the bigger cities where they're more up on deco," he said.

Part of the appeal, Briggs said, is "They can't make these colors any more." And these colors are hot reds, pinks yellows, and oranges, along with bright blues and greens.

"It's all handmade and handcarved," Briggs said. And even though modern jewelry makers try to imitate Bakelite jewelry in more conventional plastic, it just doesn't turn out to suit the tastes of true connoisseurs.

Tina after he realized that she really is pregnant. Kate left for Buenos Aires to look for Jamie. After Cassie vowed to prove to Dorian that Diane is a con artist, Diane asked Murray to arrange a murder. Maria told Clint that she loves him.

RYAN'S HOPE

Joe came to Stobhan's rescue as she struggled with Max, who fell over a terrace railing and into a raging river. Joe was unable to find Max's body, but it was presumed that Max drowned. Jack recuperated after Max shot him in the leg. Melinda had fainting spells while Pat and Evan tried to find out what illness she suffers from.

SANTA BARBARA

Alice refuses to talk things out with Caroline, who tried to tell Lionel that she was a very different person at the time she left Alice in the mental hospital. Mason agreed that Tori can have a fancy wedding. Jake is disappointed that Hayley and Ted are getting along so well. Eden and Cruz agreed to marry after Kelly is home and cleared of murder charges. Kelly and Jeffrey, who are now hiding out on a college campus, shared a passionate kiss. Julia kept mum that she's pregnant after she learned that Mason is marrying Tori. Keith's assistant erased the computer record of the funds Gina has embezzled from C.C.'s bank account. Julia won a law-office job that Mason had also applied for. Cruz quit the police force just as Keith told him he was suspended. Lionel told Caroline he can't forgive her for what she's done to Alice. Gus defended Caroline's past treatment of Alice.

Bengal Tiger
An Indian (or Bengal) tiger, measuring 11 feet 1 inch and weighing 857 pounds, was shot in November 1967. Believed to be the largest ever taken in India, it is on exhibit in the National Museum of Natural History, Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D.C.

U.N. Headquarters
The United Nations headquarters occupies over 16 acres of Manhattan between First Avenue and Franklin D. Roosevelt Drive, East 42nd and East 48th Streets. There are two buildings, the Secretariat and the General Assembly. The area is officially international territory, thereby excluded from the jurisdiction of the United States.

Rare Name Is Coincidence, But Not Unique

Dear Dick: On the CBS show, "Designing Women" with Dixie Carter, where did they come up with the name of Sugarbaker? It is a very unusual name, and it happens to be ours. — H.S., Muskegon, Mich.

Dear H.S.: Linda Bloodworth-Thomason, who created the show and is a co-executive producer with her husband, Harry, says she simply made up the name. At least, she has no recollection of ever meeting or hearing about anyone with that name. Since she wrote the first script, however, she says she has been contacted by several Sugarbaker families. So the name may be unusual, but you are not the only one with it.

Dear Dick: Please tell me where the house is located that is on "Designing Women." It looks so familiar. — G.P., Kalamazoo, Mich.

Dear G.P.: It is only familiar to people who live in Pasadena. That is where it is located, although it is supposed to be Atlanta.

Dear Dick: I speak for a lot of my friends and co-workers when I say the writers of "Dallas"

Ask Dick Kleiner

really screwed up this season. I need to know where I can write to express my opinion. I have decided never to watch "Dallas" again. — Mrs. J.P., Rosenberg, Texas.

Dear Mrs. J.P.: All the Ewings will miss you. After all these years, the "Dallas" writers — as any TV writers — had problems thinking up new plot twists. There can only be so much adultery, you know. They tried their best. Pour out your anger and frustration in a letter to your local CBS station.

Dear Dick: I would like some information for my friend Philip, because we have been arguing about Cathy Lee Crosby and Bing Crosby. He says that Cathy and Bing were married. I say they weren't related at all. — P., Houston.

Dear P: Tell Philip to argue on the other side of the street, because he's wrong. Cathy and Bing are unrelated by marriage or any other type of kinship.

Dear Dick: Sometime in the 1960s (I think) there was a daytime game show called "Video Village" (I think) hosted by Monty Hall (I think). Can you please give me the correct information on the above and tell me how many seasons it lasted and on what network? — G.W.R., Wyomissing, Pa.

Dear G.W.R.: You have done some pretty good thinking. You have the title correct, and it ran for a few months on CBS in 1960. The original MC was Jack Narz, but he was replaced after a while by Hall.

Dear Dick: I would like to know who played Kris Kringle in "Miracle on 34th Street." — R.S., Richburg, S.C.

Dear R.R.: If you're talking about the original 1947 movie, it was that fine actor, Edmund Gwenn. There was a pale copy on TV in 1973 with Sebastian Cabot as the Santa Claus who was the real thing.
