Brantley Opening Is Today

The Seminole County School Board is meeting this afternoon to open bids for the contract to construct Brantley High School and to decide on expansion of three students from Sanford area schools.

The new high school will house 1,200 to 1,300 students in a 122,000-square-foot facility to be constructed in the same area as Walter Teague Middle School and Forest City Elementary School.

Contract for Red Bug Elementary School (formerly known as Tusawilla Elementary) was awarded to Williams Development Company of Orlando, who submitted the low bid of $4,000,000 for the grade 1-5 facility to be located on Red Bug Road.

A. F. Keith, board chairman, said today the awarding of contracts will allow the city to start construction of the new elementary school will house 700 students.

Brantley High School is due for completion in November but, according to news sources, it is believed that classes will not be occupying the school until January, 1972.

Among other business matters to be taken up by the board today is the expelling for the rest of the year of three Sanford students one each from Sanford, Lake Wales and Middle and Seminole High Schools.

Three students previously expelled from Sanford were suspended as many as three times by their school principals and, according to school policy, their cases must be brought before the board for the final expulsion for the rest of the term.

The board can decide that, due to circumstances, expulsion is not in the best interest of the school or the student and allow them to remain.

THREE FRENCH HENS await their turn to perform in the Christmas program at Forest City Elementary School. They are Lisa Gibson, Ellen Hogle, and Meredith Warren. All are from the third level pod. (Ann Riley Photo)

Sunday In Casselberry Beer, Wine Sales OKd

CASSELBERRY — The City Council has night voted to allow the sale of beer and wine with meals on Sunday despite protests from a local church group.

Although last night's action was only to authorize the operation and posting of an ordinance calling for the Sunday sales from adoption of the ordinance is almost assured.

The ordinance will allow the sale of beer and wine at restaurants seating 30 or more customers and having a Florida Hotel and Restaurant license and a state beer and wine certificate from the state.

Leonard Rose, owner of "Grimm" restaurant, said "It's not the question of the sale of beer and wine. It's a question of when the hours on Sunday." Robert Mayor Curtis Rose reported last night he and the city engineer has inspected the club and found the Association to be in good standing.

He stated the items had been brought to the attention of Greater Construction Corporation, owners of the club, and that repairs are in the process of being completed. He recommended the Council accept the deed for the club pending completion of these repairs and acceptance by the State Board of Health. He went on to say that the repairs should be completed "within a week."

Rose also reported he had talked with Greater about a patio to be built according to city specifications.

Police Radio System Purchase Approved

CASSELBERRY — Monday night was the night for bids, as City Council considered bids for next year's garbage service and for new police radio equipment.

Mayor Curtis Rose read four bids on the garbage service that included an extra charge of 25 cents per ton for extra trash and for new police radio equipment.

Solon Slaps Senate Absentees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, D-Maine, slapping absentees in the Senate today.

Smith said there were also 100 other members of Congress who were absent today.

The Maine Republican who holds the record for consecutive roll-call votes—241—said absentees "in the greatest disgrace of the Senate."

"Why then doesn't the Senate do something about this phony absenteeism instead of phony wringing hands?" she asked.

"Because the Senate is a club of prima donna members who are too busy making speeches in being offered high-paid lecture fees simple because they are absentees."

Senators are paid $42,500 a year. According to reports filed for 1970, Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., topped the speech-making money list at $44,221. He was followed by Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., at $41,960. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, at $40,823, and Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., at $37,800.

Gold All But Dethroned As Pledge 'Centerpiece' Sought For Money System

By BILL MEHRK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The monetary settlement wrapped up last weekend by the world's leading finance ministers all but dethroned gold as the centerpiece of the international monetary system.

Nobody, except maybe the French, who hoard it, and the South Africans, who mine a lot of it, are particularly unhappy about that fact.

But the finance ministers from the 10 richest non-Communist nations, who gathered in London last week, affirmed what President Nixon decided on Aug. 15: The United States would no longer honor its pledge to pay out gold for foreign dollar claims.

With gold out of the question, what will the United States now shell out if a foreign government should decide to present huge dollar claims?

Dollars, of course. And foreign governments aren't exactly over that.

As Paul Volcker, undersecretary of the Treasury for monetary affairs, said Saturday night: "The U. S. stands ready willing and able" to pay out dollars for dollars at any time.

There is a good chance, officials say, that gold eventually will be supplanted by Special Drawing Rights, or "paper gold," the artificial international reserve asset that is nothing more than a bookkeeping entry based on the faith and trust of governments.

SDRs, as they are called, now exist, but only at a supplementary reserve asset.

It may take a year, or two years, before international monetary officials can make the conversion from gold to SDRs as the chief reserve asset and the basis for the international monetary system.

An SDR is worth $1. It is now defined in terms of gold. But they could be used by countries without resorting to the buying and selling of gold.

But, between now and the time that a new monetary system is worked out, many European nations are sure to wear

Merry Christmas and Season's Greetings to All!
FROM ALL OF US AT A&P
something for "Harry the Hacker"
Lots of us are known as, "Harry the Hacker," because of what we do to a Christmas Turkey.
The secret to classic carving is a very sharp, thin-bladed knife.
Allow bird to sit in roasting pan 15 to 30 minutes.
It will slice cleaner and the juices will be absorbed, too.
Follow these simple directions:
1. Cut off leg by drawing knife deeply between leg and body through hip joint. Press leg away from body and remove.
2. Before slicing breast, make a deep horizontal cut to bone in breast, just above the wing.
3. Beginning about halfway up breast, slice downward with straight even strokes until slices fall free at cut.
4. Cut off wing through shoulder joint. Cut off wing tip. When one side is clean, turn platter and carve other side.
One final thing you can do for "Harry" . . . buy your turkey at A&P.
Our Super-Right Turkeys are all Grade "A" birds. Harry will carve such beautiful slices you'll want to rechristen him, "Sam the Surgeon."

Miss Toni Burnell, Richard Fordham Exchange Vows

Miss Toni Elaine Burnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon R. Burnell, 612 Beth Drive, Sanford and Richard Dean Fordham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren J. Fordham, Route 1, Palm Drive, Sanford, were united in Holy Matrimony, Thursday, Dec. 19, at 7:30 p.m., at the home of the groom. Officiating clergyman at the double ring ceremony was Rev. Fred Neal.

The couple exchanged vows before an altar covered with white satin interspersed with sprigs of greenery and flanked by arrangements of mums in Chinese vases. Other arrangements of mums and greenery were placed at vantage points.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white velveteen featuring an empire waistline, neckline trimmed with white lace and white ribbon at the waistline. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a headpiece of seed pearls and appliques of velvet petals. She carried a bouquet of white carnation with removable corsage in the center.

Her only attendant was Mrs. Steven Williams. She wore a formal length gown of mint green satin with long full sleeves and carried a nosegay of mint green carnations.

You, see, one day while opening that little can of soup I began to dream of dear old mother's chicken soup. Never did I see a can of soup. The dream got too vivid. I had to make plans for the real thing, so I am off.

In exchange for the overtime they would not be getting, I promised to bring Florida sunshine.

I went to dinner at the Tiffney Inn with Eustice, Signa and a corsage of blue carnation corsage. Mrs. W. A. Fordham, grandmother of the groom wore a white carnation corsage to complement her attire.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. The refreshment table was covered with a white lace cloth, over mint green. The three tiered wedding cake decorated with mint green icing and a touch of red was encircled with greenery interspersed with flowers. The cake was flanked by burning tapers and in the background

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a clergyman, and the letter from "Old Lovers" fascinated me. It concerns a widow of 63 and a widower of 66 who have known each other for many years, love each other, and want to marry.

The problem: The gentleman's only income is a small Social Security check. Here is Social Security and a VA pension from her deceased husband which will lose if she remarries. Living on the gentleman's income is practically impossible, so they have been living together.

So I would congratulate "Old Lovers" and tell them to be creative, and try to find a way to tell the world of their marriage.

As a clergyman, I would be happy to perform such a nuptial marriage ceremony. I have two somewhat similar (but somewhat different) situations.

One was a woman who could not marry the father of her yet unborn child because the man's divorce would be final until after the baby was due.

Look at the North-South cards only. There is a potential side slam. Is it a good slam? The answer is that it isn't.

There is a sure club loser and declarer has to pick up the king of spades. Then isn't it a 50 per cent slam? Not quite! There might well be two club losers.

This isn't the sort of slam that people get around to bidding. South has a nice, comfortable spade opening. The most North players would take the simple route to game of just bidding it.

Suppose you are declarer. West opens the suit after receiving an encouraging 10-spot from East. Do you try the trump finesse?

Now I find that he has run up some more bills without having informed me about his purchases.

As Fritz and his wife sat in my office, they were both puffing on cigars.

The tobacco habit also complicates happy marriages by rendering the husband prematurely impotent.

Look at the North-South cards only. There is a potential side slam. Is it a good slam? The answer is that it isn't.

There is a sure club loser and declarer has to pick up the king of spades. Then isn't it a 50 per cent slam? Not quite! There might well be two club losers.

This isn't the sort of slam that people get around to bidding. South has a nice, comfortable spade opening. The most North players would take the simple route to game of just bidding it.

Suppose you are declarer. West opens the suit after receiving an encouraging 10-spot from East. Do you try the trump finesse?

Now I find that he has run up some more bills without having informed me about his purchases.

Nixon Will Seek Victory In South

By GREGG BEBBINGTON
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's Southern strategy — officially nonexistent — has been successful, and he will run to win the region next year, says the chief of White House political liaison, Harry Dent.

"We didn't make a major effort in all Southern states in 1968," said Dent in an interview. "But, in 1972, he said, 'you're going to see an effort to go all out everywhere, including the states George Wallace carried in 1968.'"

Those states "are considered takable in 1972" by Nixon, Dent said.

George Wallace, now Alabama governor, ran on the American Independent Party ticket in 1968 and won five states: Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Georgia.

"In a two-way race" between Nixon and a regular Democrat "there is no question but what Richard Nixon would win every Southern state," Dent said.

"Even in a three-way race his position has improved with Wallace's position deteriorating. There is a realization the President's strong in the South, while Wallace has deteriorated and the Democrats have gained a little bit."

The so-called Southern strategy has been interpreted by many as a specific effort by the Nixon administration to woo Southerners into the Republican fold by being overly solicitous of the region. Nixon's Supreme Court nominees and other appointments and programs often pointed in that direction.

Dent's pledge that Nixon, in his expected re-election campaign, would work hard to win the South corresponds with what Southern Republican workers have been saying for months.

Dent said Georgia was the only one of the five states Wallace carried in 1968 in which Nixon made a strong effort.

"And that was thanks to Lester Maddox," Dent said. "He was a governor then. Now he's a lieutenant governor and the state has a more moderate government. What does the press call him? 'New breed!'"

Democrat Jimmy Carter, who the Democratic party presidential nominee was elected in the Georgia governorship in 1970.

Nixon Forced To Release $$

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A little-revealed provision of the Senate foreign aid authorization bill is designed to force President Nixon to release more than $2 billion for development projects in the United States.

The section bars Nixon from spending any money on the foreign aid program after April 30 unless he releases certain funds previously approved by Congress for domestic programs but frozen by the President.

Although there have been increasing congressional protests against presidential impoundment of appropriated funds, the provision marks the first legislative attempt to force the President's hand.

Some members, led by John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., oppose including the provision in the foreign aid bill on grounds it has nothing to do with foreign aid. It is "a type of threat," Cooper has charged.

But Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, called the provision "a very important precedent" as he steered the compromise $2.75 billion foreign aid authorization bill through the Senate. The House will take up the bill after Congress reconvenes Jan. 18.

The money in question is part of a total of $12 billion voted for domestic programs but not yet spent by Nixon.

The Senate's original foreign aid authorization called for the release of all impounded funds, but the compromise worked out with the House applies only to appropriations for three departments — Agriculture, Health, Education and Welfare, and Housing and Urban Development. Fulbright estimated the amount involved at $2,250 billion.

Cooper said presidents impound funds to halt inflation or to down on deficits. He added that some funds often are withheld because specific projects have not been approved or because payments have not come due.

Irish Bride-To-Be Killed By Guerrillas

BELFAST (AP) — Guerrillas killed a bride-to-be Monday night, critically wounded a young British soldier and injured 12 persons in a rash of bombings across Northern Ireland.

One group of gunmen forced their way into a Belfast home and lay in wait for an army truck. When it passed, they opened fire. They missed the town but hit a 20-year-old passenger, Margaret McCorry, a Catholic, who was on her way home with a food parcel.

The girl was the 20th person killed in the 23 months of religious warfare in Northern Ireland and the 17th fatality this year.

The 18-year-old soldier, Pte. Francis Gillan, was shot in the abdomen and thigh while on patrol in Belfast.

Gunmen also shot a woman in the chest as she tried to stop them robbing a liquor store. They got away, and the woman's condition was reported not serious.

Bombs exploded through the day and night, wrecking a hotel, bar, shops and a clothing factory. Authorities said the Irish Republican Army was trying to get the center of Belfast by Christmas.

Violet Hamilton, a 51-year-old grandmother, picked up one bomb planted in a Belfast shop where she works and threw it back at the guerrillas.

"I hit their car but didn't go off."

Congress repeals automobile excise tax.

Tax savings up to $278 on a new Chevrolet.

We can't take credit for the savings listed here. Thank Uncle Sam for that. But we're elated that a new Chevrolet is now priced lower. It makes our better way to see the U.S.A. even better.

All extra cost equipment is priced lower, too. For example, if you equip a new Impala with Four-Season Air Conditioning, a popular vinyl roof cover and power windows, the price will be reduced an additional $33.80. What it adds up to is an even better value when you buy a new Chevrolet, making it easier for you to get what we both want: your Chevrolet to be the best car you ever owned.

The tax savings listed below are for the models shown with all standard equipment based on Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Prices in effect December 1, 1971. Many dealers still have a good selection of 1972 cars at the lower 1971 prices on which the Excise Tax savings are slightly less.

Heath, Nixon Parley In Bermuda Mutual Problems Aired

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer
HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — President Nixon and British Prime Minister Edward Heath, whose countries worked together in hot wars and cold, are moving in their summit talks toward tacit agreement to disagree on some elements of future foreign policies.

The two leaders met for five hours Monday, 90 minutes longer than scheduled, in a drawing room of the hilltop Governor's House overlooking the Atlantic.

The initial session carried philosophical and ideological overtones, officials indicated, while the concluding two meetings today were to focus on such specifics as how to complete the rebuilding of the international monetary system.

He referred to "some tactical differences," but said there are common ties and principles which cement "that special relationship between Britain and the United States which has existed for so long and... still is health, maturing and also necessary."

Nixon didn't specify the "tactical differences," but sources said they center on the Indian Pakistan crisis and on ways to reshape international monetary and trade relationships.

British officials disagree with the American suggestion that India had planned to invade West Pakistan. But both sides agreed Monday to work together on moves to rush aid, preferably through the United Nations, to ease the suffering of the Bengalis.

Monetary matters had been expected to dominate the talks, as they did when Nixon met last week in the Azores with French President Georges Pompidou. But the Group of Ten agreement on Saturday to re-align currencies "made it a whole new ballgame," one U.S. official said. Nonetheless, the two leaders were examining the next phases in the long haul to ward a smoothly working

The White House selected the Bermuda talks as the occasion for two announcements—the removal of the 10 per cent import surcharge and the decision to ask Congress next year to grant generalized trade preferences to developing nations.

The substance of both announcements pleased the British. Health in private had called the surcharge "obnoxious."

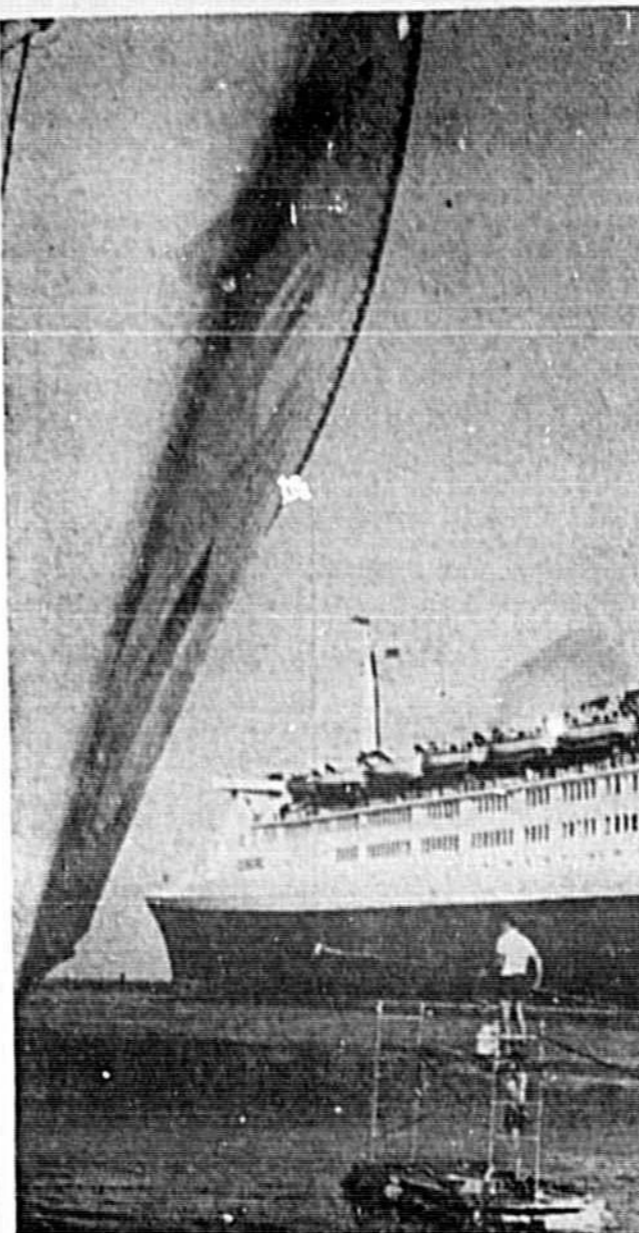

However, there was suspicion among British officials that the Americans used the occasion to gain minimum publicity for actions that could have been disclosed at another time and place.

Nixon personally announced outside Governor's House that he had signed a bill to Bermuda a proclamation lifting the import surcharge. The U.S. action was promised as part of the monetary realignment agreement reached by the Group of Ten ministers.

Later, Treasury Secretary John B. Connally said the proclamation "for all practical purposes" also wipes out the broad "buy American" restrictions on foreign purchases which Nixon imposed Aug. 15 as part of his new economic policy.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers said the move to reduce tariffs and ease quotas on imports from poorer countries "represents a pledge by the United States several years ago when Britain and European Common Market countries made similar moves."

Steam Power May Be Closer Than Ever

By JOHN BUNKER
Copley News Service
WALTHAM, Mass.—A multi-million-dollar project financed by the federal government, the Ford Motor Company and Thermo Electron Corp. aims at replacing the gasoline-fueled internal combustion engine with a steam engine that is pollution free.

Advanced work on the engine, developed by Thermo Electron here, will be speeded by a $1 million contract which the company has just received from the federal government's Environmental Protection Agency. The new funding is the third.

The engine will then be installed in a 1972 model Ford Galaxie sedan, will be extensively tested by Thermo Electron, and will be road tested for at least a year by Ford, starting in 1973.

Dr. George N. Hatsopoulos, president of Thermo Electron, predicts that the steam engine may be the only automobile power plant able to meet standards of the federal Clean Air Act, which sets stringent requirements for auto exhaust emissions after 1976. There will be stiff penalties on all car makers whose engines fail to meet these standards after a certain length of operation.

The new government regulations are designed to reduce emissions of exhaust hydrocarbons by 80 per cent and carbon monoxide by 60 per cent as compared with emissions from pre-1968 autos.

Hatsopoulos maintains that no internal combustion auto engine on the market today will come near meeting the new federal standards after lengthy use and predicts that the steam engine will prove to be pollution free after 50,000 miles of operation.

Thomas F. Widmer, the company's vice president for engineering, says the engine will burn kerosene, gasoline, diesel fuel, jet fuel or any other hydrocarbon fuel.

Slapping Bandit Hits Anew

By BILL SCOTT
Casselberry police is the latest enforcement agency to be confronted with the robbery antics of the county's so-called "slapping bandit."

The bandit struck again this morning at the Quick-Stop Store, on U. S. 1, 1:52 in Casselberry, and took an unblinking amount of money from Frederick W. Justice, the store manager.

According to Casselberry police, the blond-haired bandit wearing a gold jacket committed his latest robbery just after midnight today and escaped in a blue 1963 Chevrolet.

A man resembling the same description Thursday night robbed three Stores. City area conference stores in quick succession, all in the space of 20 minutes, following the same routine in each incident.

Standing 5 feet 9 inches and weighing 150 pounds, the bandit walks into a store with his hand in his coat pocket as if he has a gun. He demands the clerk place all money in a paper bag. After receiving the cash, the man then slaps his victims and escapes.

In other police reports, Sanford Det. Eddie Hughes and Ralph Russell charged a 25-year-old Sanford waitress with possession of opium after her arrest on a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Robert E. Carroll.

According to Russell, Nancy Kay Raymond, 1033 West First Street, was charged after several drug stores reported the woman made purchases of narcotics.

Russell explained the medicine can be distilled and the opium pressed into a tablet for use as a user for an effect. The woman is being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Four U.S. Jets Are Lost Reds Take Plain Of Jars

SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces recaptured the Plain of Jars in northern Laos on Monday night despite the intervention of U.S. air power that cost four American planes.

The last two government positions on the plain 300 miles northeast of Vientiane fell to North Vietnamese troops on Saturday and Sunday, and the plain had changed hands.

Thailand and Laotian defenders were reported retreating to the south and west, leaving most of their dead and wounded behind. Heavy North Vietnamese anti-aircraft fire drove back military evacuation aircraft.

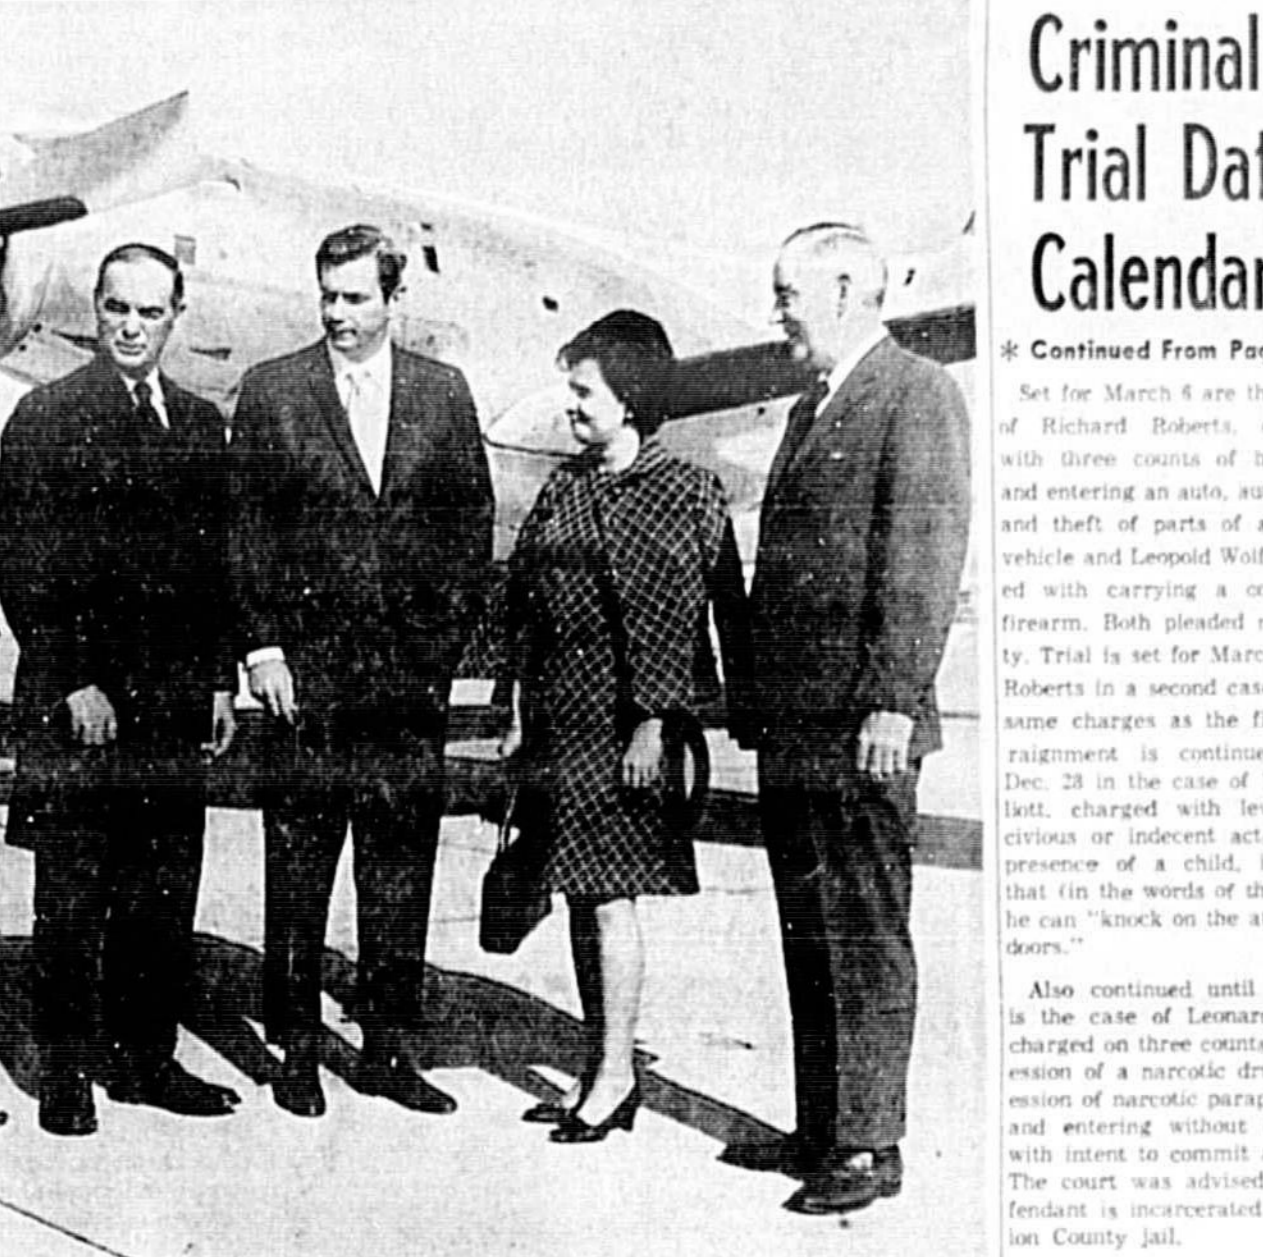

The Laotian government's Thai allies held on to two positions close to the Plain of Jars to the west and to the south, but both were reported under heavy attack.

North Vietnamese trucks coming south across the eastern part of the plain, which is 30 miles wide and 20 miles long, heavily anti-aircraft fire drove off the slow, propeller-driven Laotian T28 bombers, but super-sonic U.S. F4 Phantoms were launching strikes against the enemy forces.

The plain, ringed by mountains that rise to 5,000 feet, is called the Plain of Jars because of the thousands of stone burial jars found there. It is strategic because the major east-west highway across Laos crosses it and another major highway shoots off to the south.

The U.S. Command admitted that three Phantom jets were shot down Saturday and a fourth Sunday while supporting the Thai and Laotian government forces. At least one of the planes was downed by a North Vietnamese MIG interceptor. The U.S. command declined comment.

Elsewhere in the war, new captures of four. The other two fighting erupted in eastern and southern Cambodia, where southern Vietnamese troops backed by U.S. air strikes, are conducting parallel operations aimed at keeping the North Vietnamese away from their border.

TALLAHASSEE dignitaries flew into Sanford yesterday afternoon for the funeral of Randall Chase. From the left: J. D. Wright, formerly of Chase and now a member of the governor's executive staff; Doyle Conner, commissioner of agriculture; Fred D. Dickinson, Jr., state comptroller; Gov. and Mrs. Reubin Askew, who were greeted by City Commissioner W. Vincent Roberts.

Four Pilots Captured By Reds

HONG KONG (AP) — One of four American pilots shot down over North Vietnam on Saturday was wounded and all four "faces" after they were captured. Radio Hanoi reported to day.

The broadcast referred to "punitive blows struck by our people and people against the American aggressors," but this did not necessarily mean that the pilots had been beaten up by their captors. The Vietnamese Communists frequently use the term "punitive blows" to refer to military victories.

Radio Hanoi said Lt. Lt. Sam Richard Vaughan, 35, sustained leg wounds when he was shot down and captured in the Tan Lac area of Hoa Binh Province.

Describing the appearance of Vaughan and the other three captured American pilots at a Hanoi press conference Monday, Radio Hanoi said "all four were very miserable and showed great fear on their faces because of the punitive blows struck by our fighters and people."

Visit Sanford Record Shop Music Business Is Big

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI
"Ah one, ah two ah three ah four and the music goes on and 'round and it comes out loud and clear right in downtown Sanford at the Sanford Record Shop.
Irma Johnston, affable manager of the Sanford Record Shop, which is owned by E. C. Lanier, says that the music business is big, big, big. And the sound today is better, smoother and sweeter.
"She should know, she has over 500 titles available, in 45 which constitute her biggest sales of records, also.
"Possibly the most priced possession of the young man today is his record collection and the new crate, the tape decks and the top 10 records are all ways in stock.
If your equipment goes 'tun' take it down to Irma. She is a grocer, a well qualified retailer of this kind of equipment. And you don't have to wait for her to get it done.
Man the atmosphere in the Sanford Record Shop is really groovy. The air is permeated with the sounds of today—the powers of today's children are in good supply and some of the stuffed patches are on hand, too.
And Irma is really with it, man. She said that she has real interest in like this music—she had better learn to like it, 'cause, besides working in the record shop where the records are spinning all day, she has five children at home who are just plain fans of 'good music and it goes constantly at the old home town, too."

Foreign Imports Will Cost More

By JAMES CARY
CARY News Service
WASHINGTON—President Nixon's plan to devalue the dollar by raising the price of gold is aimed at stimulating the economy and halting record $23 billion and $19 billion trade deficits run up through Sept. 1 of this year.
Only one factor has the value of gold been altered in this fashion.
Congress set the first official U.S. price for gold at $35 an ounce in the Gold Standard Act of 1900. President Franklin D. Roosevelt increased it to $35.70 in 1934.
Then, as now, the president acted in the midst of another period of economic difficulties.
At this time the situation is far more complex with more immediate rice-hitting impact on the major currencies of the world.
Nixon in introducing the up coming move did not say in what manner or by how much the dollar would be devalued. However, it is widely accepted here that the change will be carried out by unpegging gold. The administration official has already suggested an 8 per cent raise in the gold price.
Whatever the increase, it will be tied to the upward revaluation of some major foreign currencies that will further increase their worth in terms of dollars.
The devalued and inflated cost of U.S. goods cheaper in foreign markets and increase the cost of foreign goods in U.S. markets. This hopefully will stimulate U.S. exports, curb imports and wipe out the hemorrhaging U.S. payments and trade imbalances.

India Faces Refugee Problem

By ANDREW TORCHIA
Associated Press Writer

CALCUTTA (AP) — India won the war but the refugee problem that drove Indira Gandhi to power may be with her for a long time.

Indian officials say that within a month or two at most, nearly all the 8.5 million Hindu and Moslem Bengalis who fled from the Pakistan army will be back home in the Bangla Desh nation India fought to create.

"The 'I'll go the way they come-or less," said an administrator in the Ministry of Rehabilitation. Road or rail transportation would be impossible to arrange for so many, he said. Foreign observers are not so sure. Millions of refugees are homeless and tired of living in camps. But many who arrived six months ago starving and grateful for any help now are setting conditions for leaving India.

"I'll go back on my own terms if the government gives me transportation. If we go on foot, we will die," said Dwarbar Sen, 55, a farm worker who walked into India with his wife and two children last July. "Our home has been destroyed and our fields torn up. There must be some provision for us when we get back."

"Send me back home as soon as possible," said Mrs. Tribhan Sen, 66, who came with her 75-year-old husband, three children and seven grandchildren. "But how can I walk? Coming here we managed to suffer through. But how can I walk back?"

One American relief agency official in Calcutta thinks as many as half the refugees—nearly five million people—will stay in India.

"India is a Hindu nation and most of the refugees were Hindus living in a Moslem country," he said. "Most of them were poor agricultural workers. They are in debt to money lenders. Why would they want to go back? If they refuse to go, what can India do—order them out as a punishment?"

A Calcutta newspaper quoted Tajuddin Ahmad, the Bangla Desh prime minister, as rejecting any aid offers from the United States and other countries which he said opposed Bangla Desh independence. Indian officials say any returning refugees also will have trouble proving they owned their land since many people have destroyed the property records.

Legal Data Mouldering To Nothing

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of American records are mouldering in the vaults of the National Archives. The Constitution and Declaration of Independence which are proudly and carefully maintained in the National Archives.

What they don't see are the thousands upon thousands of legal records, many dating to colonial times, that by mouldering and disintegrating in the dusty basements of courthouses throughout the country.

According to the American Society for Legal History and officials at the National Archives, these documents will be useless in 10 to 15 years—unless they are preserved.

The society, headed by University of Pennsylvania law professor George J. Haskins, is in the midst of a drive to preserve and reorganize these documents through a proposed federal preservation act.

"Federal legislation is needed," Haskins says, "to insure that the preservation of these records will be a national priority."

Santa Claus Tops Ebenezer Scrooge

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The country's choice, Santa Claus, won the Christmas war in Congress today as Capitol Hill "one giant lobbying" surged beyond its $100 million goal to meet a $100 million for Santa Claus.

The letter was reported to have been sent to London today. The letter was not even able to connect to reports in a prepared statement. "I only hope I will be able to keep the Christmas spirit alive," said Santa Claus.

Last-minute activities in the North Pole office kept the prominent letter carrier from the final of a three-week campaign to win the hearts of Congress members and staff.

"Money was still coming in from the official closing time of the office with Claus already on his way to the north pole," said a House Agriculture Committee spokesman.

In Casselberry Controversy Chief Clears Officer Of Charge

By DONNA ESTES

CASSELBERRY — Police Chief George Karcher today said his investigation of charges by a person arrested early Monday by a police brutality revealed nothing to indicate that the officer acted improperly.

Karcher said "While in the rear of the police vehicle and while thrashing about on the floor of the vehicle, Burns was held at the base of his thumb was lacerated as his hand came in contact with the patrol vehicle."

The chief said Patrolman Johnson requested the Orange County sheriff's deputies take Burns to the nearest hospital. Burns, according to Karcher, was first taken to Orlando General Hospital, where no emergency room facilities were available, and he was then transported by the most direct route to Winter Park Hospital, where he arrived at approximately 1:30 a.m.

Karcher said Burns refused to enter the emergency room of the hospital for treatment for some 50 minutes but finally, through the efforts of his brother, was persuaded to allow treatment at the hospital at 2:30 a.m.

Karcher said charges of driving while intoxicated, eluding a police officer and resisting arrest are pending against Burns.

Officer Johnson is an experienced law enforcement officer and, based upon my investigation of the incident, I have no reason to believe that he acted in force other than that force required under the circumstances surrounding enforcement of the conditions of this violation," Karcher stated.

Ronnie Miller and Deputy Sheriff Elijah Faulkner (standing left to right) observe as Deputy Sheriff Charles Werner checks the bare feet of Robert Donald Bowen, 33, of Orlando, for glass fragments from the broken door of the Oviedo drug store which was broken into early this morning. Girl Faces Charge: Hitting Teacher

School Board action against a teenage student charged with striking a teacher was delayed Tuesday afternoon pending Juvenile Court decision on a criminal charge against the girl involved. Stuart Culpeper had moved to expel the girl from Seminole High School but later withdrew his motion when Supt. John Angel said the case is in Juvenile Court.

The matter was brought up after the board had officially expelled for the rest of the year three other students, one each from Seminole High, Lakeview Middle and Sanford Middle Schools, for alleged misconduct.

The latter three already had received the maximum three suspensions from class this year and, according to school policy, the students faced automatic expulsion on the next misconduct incident.

In discussing the teacher-striking incident, alleged to have occurred when a teacher tried to separate two fighting students, Supt. Angel said an investigation should be completed before any action by the board.

Jack Redding, Seminole High principal, stated he signed a complaint against the teenage girl after the incident and the matter was being handled by Juvenile Court. He said the accused had no prior misconduct record and received a 10-day suspension from school. That suspension was up nearly a week ago and the girl returned to classes Friday before the start of the Christmas holidays.

Board Chairman A. F. Keith said he would like to have a recommendation from the school principal regarding the striking incident. Douglas Stenstrom, board attorney, viewed the case may be in court but added the board has the right to expel students.

After the discussion, Culpeper withdrew his motion awaiting the court verdict in the case.

Two Held In Burglary

By LARRY NEELY

Two Oviedo men were arrested early this morning by Oviedo police and sheriff's deputies in connection with the 1:20 a.m. breaking and entering of the Oviedo drug store. The arrests and crime scene search was spiced by the arrest of an Oviedo man for possession of marijuana.

The breaking and entering was observed and reported to the Oviedo police. Patrolman Keller Force responded within seconds and stopped David Edward Ross, 30, of Oviedo, when he ran from the store. The other suspect, Robert Donald Bowen, 33, of Orlando, was captured nearby by Deputy Sheriff Elijah Faulkner who came to the store and Constable Chester Boyd. Bowen was hiding in tall weeds not far from the (Oviedo drug store at the time of his capture.

The third arrest came when Richard C. Millard, 23, Oviedo, drove up to the scene at 2:30 a.m. looking for a place to purchase cigarettes. Sheriff's Detective Ray Parker ordered Millard detained. Parker later searched Millard's car and discovered small quantities of what is alleged to be marijuana. Parker subsequently arrested Millard's arrest. At the time of the arrest, Parker and Millard, "You happened to be at the wrong place at the right time."

Police and sheriff's deputies recovered a pillow case and a tire iron dropped by Ross when he was captured by Force. Authorities theorized the tire iron was used to break the glass in the front door where Bowen and Ross allegedly entered and left the store. The contents of the pillow case were identified by Jack Deper, owner of the drug store, as being amphetamines from a storage cabinet in his store. Parker said the wholesale value of the drugs is a minimum of $300.

All three of the arrested men were lodged in the county jail in lieu of bond. Millard is charged with possession of marijuana and bond was set at $2,500. Bowen is charged with breaking and entering with the intent to commit a felony and his bond has been set at $2,500. Bowen is entering his bond is also set at $2,500.

Newcomers Promise Changes McClanahan, Morris Victorious

By BILL SCOTT

Two political novices were elected by Sanford voters in Tuesday's municipal election run-offs that saw the defeat of six-year City Commissioner veteran W. Vincent Roberts and the overwhelming of political newcomer Rev. John Connelly.

Incumbent Roberts lost a close, hard fought election to A. A. McClanahan, Connelly was defeated soundly by John Morris.

With 35 absentee ballots to be counted at noon today, unofficial returns from Tuesday balloting gave McClanahan 1,064 votes to Roberts' 988 for the group 1 victory. Morris at the polling 1,403 votes to Connelly by the narrow margin of 280.

The new commissioners will take office Jan. 3 in a City Commission reorganizational meeting. Commissioner J. H. Crapp did not seek re-election.

The addition of the pair will give the five-man board two real estate brokers, since Julian Stenstrom, elected in 1970, and McClanahan are employed in selling real estate.

McClanahan said one of the first moves he will make on taking office will be to press for weekly Commission meetings on a regularly scheduled basis rather than have several called when an emergency warrants.

He stated this meeting change might have to be done by charter or by resolution of the Commission. "I feel the responsibility of the next three years and will strive to do my best," he added.

Victorious Morris was beaming after the vote was tabulated Tuesday night and said his first action would be to institute Roberts' rules of order at Commission meetings. "We need some type of rules to go by," Morris said.

Reflecting on the face, Morris said Rev. Connelly's mistake was the minister's statement on the tax issue. Morris estimated 30 per cent of the city's Negro voters supported him and added, "I am gratified and will represent the black community."

Connelly took the defeat in a gracious manner and stated that under the present city wide election system, no black man can be elected to the city office. "Therefore," he said, "we will be seeking to change the present system by legislation to district election." He added.

He said a large registration drive would begin immediately to obtain more Negro voters, thus helping insure the victory in December 1972 of Rev. Joseph Smith as mayor of Sanford.

Dr. Roberts today issued the following statement regarding his loss: "I have no regrets. My candidacy was based on an offer of service to my community. My campaign was based on honesty and truthfulness. I sincerely thank all those who supported my effort."
