

Four qualify for mayor's race

By Joe DeSantis

Kuhn, Woodruff face off in District 1; Williams unopposed

SANFORD — Ladies and gentlemen, start your campaign engines. Official qualifying for Sanford's March 6 Mayoral and City Commission races ended at noon Friday, setting the field for a crowded mayor's race, a two candidate race in District 1 and incumbent commissioner Velma Williams emerging unchallenged in District 2. Friday's qualifying deadline also set-led the question of whether incumbent Mayor Larry Dale would seek a second term. Dale initially stated he would not run again, reconsidered in December, and decided against seeking reelection by the end of the qualifying period.

Now, candidates have 45 days to inform and persuade city voters to return to the polls following a contentious and fractious presidential election. The field for Sanford's mayoral race is the most crowded with four qualified candidates seeking the post. Current District 1 Commissioner Brady Lessard is vacating his seat in an effort to gain the mayor's office. He'll be joined in the race by former commissioner Kerry Lyons who served on the board from 1992 to 1996. Lyons lost a special election bid in District 3 last year to Randy Jones. The election was held to fill the unexpired term of former board member A.A. "Mac" McLanahan who

Museum baffled by donated item

Tool supposedly used in the celery fields

By Michelle Jeria

SANFORD — A rare item has found its way to the Museum Of Seminole County History. So rare, in fact, museum officials aren't sure what it is. The item was recently donated to the museum by a local resident who found it while browsing an antique store, said Museum Specialist Karen Jacobs. Historians believe it may be an old piece of agricultural equipment. "When it was donated to the museum, we were told it was used in the celery fields," Jacobs said. "It was used for nailing crates.

"We've all looked at it, but we don't know how it worked," she said. "It's a mystery."

Jacobs estimates the item was made around the turn of the century. It probably was homemade and was not mass produced.

The mechanism sits in a hinged box with a 6-inch slot on top of it. Jacobs believes the handle on the top indicates the tool was portable.

A device inside has three adjustable metal rods where nails or staples may have been placed. The box also contains a wooden, scoop-like item, which may have been used to catch scraps or nails.

"But, right now we are only guessing," Jacobs said. "We have no idea what it is."

Charlie Carlson Jr., Seminole County historian and author of "When Celery Was King," is also baffled by the mysterious box.

"I've seen almost everything, and I've never seen anything like this," Carlson said.

According to Carlson, vegetable farming in Seminole County started booming after the big freeze of 1894-95, when most of the citrus trees in the area were destroyed. After several years of experimentation, farmers realized celery thrived in Central Florida's climate and soil. By the late 1920s, celery farming in the area was at its peak.

"Production was so great, the second largest ice house in the country was built in Sanford," Carlson said.

Nevertheless, celery production started declining in the 1940s when the economy began moving from agriculture to development. By the 1970s,

Anthrax scare is a hoax

Two letters, one to the State Attorney's Office and one to the sheriff's office, oozed oily substance

By Joe DeSantis

SANFORD — Public Safety officials and the Seminole County Hazardous Materials Team (HAZMAT) rushed to two Sanford locations Friday after employees at the Seminole County Sheriff's office and the State Attorneys office received letters in the mail suggesting possible exposure to deadly Anthrax.

According to Sanford Police Department public information officer Cleo Cohen, employees at the downtown Sanford offices of the State Attorney and employees of the Seminole County Public Safety Office on Bush Boulevard, received letters at about 11 a.m. Friday that were oozing an oily type of liquid. Cohen said when workers opened the mail a message inside reflected something to the effect, "Now that you have opened this, you have been contaminated with Anthrax."

Anthrax is an infectious disease transmitted by wild and domesticated animals. It can be contracted by humans through

Proctor is finalist for Florida Outstanding School Volunteer

By Michelle Jeria
Managing Editor

SANFORD — An Idyllwilde Elementary School parent volunteer, known to students as Professor Molly Cule, is one of only 11 finalists recognized as a Florida Outstanding School Volunteer.

Pam Proctor, the 2000 Dividend of the Year, was recognized recently by the state Department of Education as the Region 3 Florida Outstanding School Volunteer. By receiving the title, she earned the right to attend the Partners In Education banquet scheduled for March.

"This is a complete surprise," Proctor said Thursday when she was told about the honor. "I didn't expect this."

But, Idyllwilde Principal David Scott wasn't surprised. "I can't say surprised is the right word," Scott said. "Mrs. Proctor has done such a great job. Probably the biggest surprise to me was reading her write up and finding out everything she does."

Seven years ago, Proctor began participating in the Dividend School Volunteer Program at Idyllwilde, where her son, Adam, was a student. Her other son, James, currently is a third-grader at the school.

On average, she spends about eight hours a week volunteering. Since August 1999, she has spent almost 600 hours working with students in various grades.

"When others have run out of time — Pam finds even more time," Dividends School Volunteer Program Manager Jane Lane said. "From cooking

Family relieved Mack is back

By Joe DeSantis

SANFORD — A potential tragedy turned into a relieved family reunion this week when a missing Sanford teen was located unharmed in Oviedo.

Mack Jackson, a 15-year-old Seminole High sophomore, missing since he got off a school bus on Friday, Jan. 12, was reunited with his parents Wednesday, Jan. 17.

Jackson, known as "Lil Mack," spent one night at a friends house in Oviedo and then wandered public parks for three days before fliers about his disappearance caught the eye of an Oviedo parent whose child had been telephoned by Jackson requesting to use the friend's telephone.

"We're just so relieved that he's back home safe," said his mom Darlene Kendrick. "We didn't know what happened Friday. It was so unlike Mack to just disappear. We filed the missing persons report at 6 p.m. Friday and we had been searching ever since, putting up fliers with his picture all over Seminole County."

According to Kendrick, "Lil Mack's" disappearance was triggered by peer pressure at school.

"We didn't realize he was having problems and we didn't see the signs that something was wrong," said Kendrick. "Like many teenagers he was dealing with a lot of stress that sometimes parents don't pick up on. When we got him back home he just said 'Mom, you just don't understand.'"

Kendrick said the family is getting the teenager into counseling to help with stress, peer pressure and opening up lines of communication.

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Television's old-fashioned fun

In my many years interviewing celebrities on local television — there is one person I always wanted to meet and talk with — George Burns. I expect he was one of the kindest and sweetest men in show business.

Jan. 20 is the anniversary of his birth in 1896.

Nick Pfeifauf

Late in his life, he wrote a book "How to Live to be 100," and he did just that, dying just two months after his 100th birthday in 1996. It was a humorous book filled with anecdotes of his life as well as others he knew such as Jack Benny. I did have the opportunity to interview Benny, and he made no bones about the fact that George was one of his closest and dearest friends. George started in vaudeville when still a youngster, teaming with sometimes one, sometimes three or four comedians in routines which went over like the traditional "lead balloon." It wasn't until he met, and later married Gracie Allen, that his career took off with the Burns and Allen Show. Probably very few folks, just those in their teens or younger, haven't seen or heard of George and Gracie.

In most areas, the "George Burns and Gracie Allen Show" is in syndication, and can still be seen — black and white of course — on certain TV channels. Have you considered what they did and how they did it?

There was never any sexist innuendo, never any racial slurs, and never an unkind word about another — except when poking fun at their announcer Harry Von Zell, or talking about Benny's supposed tightness with money.

That kind of television situation comedy is no longer seen. Possibly it started with Archie Bunker who was one of TV's biggest bigots. From there it spread. Now, not only do almost every one of the sitcoms have sex in them, but when producers found the could only go so far with censors, they came up with cartoon characters who could and do get away with everything imaginable.

Critics are quick to condemn such cartoon shows as the Roadrunner, where Wiley Coyote often is shoved off a cliff or struck by a bus. "It teaches our kids violence," they say. Yet they completely ignore real-life shows that go way beyond violence and/or sexual activities.

Their excuse is that such shows depict "real life" and should be shown. Right! Bart Simpson steals something from a convenience store, Frazier talks about how many females he has, or has not had intimate relationships with, Friends and many other shows are continuously talking about sex.

Don't get me wrong. I'm not a prude, in fact I often watch some of these programs for lack of anything better (I don't have cable). But I think of the youngsters watching programs where sexual achievements are the main plot line, or where murder and mayhem are the solutions to all problems.

How I long for good old-fashioned comedy like that presented by Burns and Allen, Jack Benny, or even Fred Allen — but few remember him anymore.

Central Florida zoo looking for volunteers

From staff reports

The Central Florida Zoological Park is looking for animal-loving individuals interested in wild and exciting volunteer opportunities.

Teaching volunteers, referred to as Docents, assist the zoo's Education Department by teaching thousands of zoo visitors about the wonders of wildlife. Docents share their knowledge about of animals and the environment to both children and adults.

To educate new volunteers, the zoo is hosting its Docent Training Program beginning Wednesday, Feb. 21 and Saturday, Feb. 24 from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. Two classes run concurrently, one on Wednesdays and one on Saturdays. Applications are to be submitted by Feb. 7 and orientation will be held on Feb. 13. This seven-week course is open to anyone 18 years of age and older. Tuition for the class is $35 which includes class materials and a zoo T-shirt.

Upon graduation from the Docent Training Program, Docents are qualified to conduct zoo tours and provide exhibit interpretation as well as many other types of educational adventures. New Docents may also participate in the animal handling class and upon completion provide animal encounters and outreach programs. The zoo is especially looking for volunteers to present programs to school children on the weekdays.

For more information on the Docent Training Program and other volunteer opportunities at the zoo, phone 407-323-4450, ext. 120, or visit the zoo at 3755 Highway 17-92 in Sanford.

New Mazda purchased for $40 worth of crack

Michael Leon McKinney, 33, of Winter Park, has been arrested in connection with the theft of a 2000 Mazda Protege from Fairbanks Mazda in Longwood.

The incident was complex and involved Seminole County Sheriff's deputies, Sanford Police and Longwood Police.

The case started on Jan. 13, when Sanford Police located the Mazda at 8th Street and Pecan Avenue, before it was reported as stolen by the Longwood Police. Two persons in the vehicle were placed under arrest, while a third managed to escape.

The driver, identified as Twaunte Veshawn Cannon, 22, of Mangoustine Avenue, Sanford, was arrested on charges of Theft of a motor vehicle, possession of cocaine with intent to sell/deliver, possession of marijuana, and resisting an officer without violence.

During an interview however, Cannon said he had received the keys for the vehicle from Michael McKinney, in exchange for approximately $40 worth of cocaine. McKinney had been employed at the Mazda dealership.

On Jan. 15, the manager of the dealership brought the vehicle to the Seminole County Sheriff's office to be used in a reverse sting. The vehicle was parked at the Wal-Mart Plaza on U.S. Highway 17/92 in Sanford, and McKinney was notified that the car had been recovered, and he could pick it up.

When McKinney attempted to remove the vehicle from the parking lot, officers converged on him and placed him under arrest.

According to the Sheriff's Department arrest report, McKinney confirmed he had traded the keys for cocaine, and further stated that this was a one-time-only transaction and that he did this only to support a substance abuse problem.

McKinney has now been charged with grand theft of a motor vehicle. He was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility where bond was set at $1,000.

Banfield Funeral Home

Family Owned & Serving Central Florida Since 1989

We are alarmed by the decision of some corporate owned funeral homes to remove PreNeed trust funds from the Trust. Florida Law does allow a funeral home to buy a bond in lieu of depositing PreNeed funds in a state approved trust. At the time you pre-arranged your funeral we told you your money would be deposited in a state approved trust fund according to the requirements of Florida Statutes. As promised, the proper deposits have been made to the trust fund.

Our promise to provide a loving and respectful funeral according to your wishes will be honored. Your peace of mind is important to us...so we send this assurance that your money will stay in the trust fund until we certify to the trustee that death has occurred and we have provided the services and merchandise.

Our funeral home is family owned and operated and we thank you for knowing our family is good to our word. If you have any questions, please call us.

Informed voters make good decisions

Now that qualifying for Sanford's Mayoral and District 1 and 2 City Commission races has been completed, the real work begins. Between now and election day March 6, those seeking public office and the confidence of Sanford voters have a responsibility and obligation to clearly state to local electors their respective qualifications, experience, and stands on major issues that affect local governance. That responsibility and obligation should rightfully be shared by those who go to the polls and cast ballots.

Understandably, many of us may still be suffering from psychological exhaustion following a confounding presidential election. Be that as it may, we encourage local voters to refocus on our upcoming municipal elections; elections that afford us the most direct and intimate opportunity in deciding the future of our fair city.

For the next several weeks respective candidates will be walking neighborhoods, knocking on doors, and mailing campaign literature to potential voters. We encourage voters to make the effort to learn about those who would lead us. Educated and informed electors benefit directly from making good decisions.

To that end, the Seminole Herald will begin a series of in-depth candidate interviews and profiles. Following an editorial board interview with all qualified candidates, we will offer our endorsements and recommendations to our readers. In cooperation with the Sanford/Seminole Chamber of Commerce, your local newspaper will also co-sponsor a February candidate debate at the Helen Stairs Theatre.

We hope each of you takes the time and extends the effort to review the merits of each candidacy and make smart choices. Sanford's future depends directly on your participation at the polls March 6 and in the campaign process leading up to election day.

Selling Out

Dr. King's memory should not be used for commercial gain

This country knows how to make a buck or two. Our stringent belief in capitalism has allowed the United States to become the economic powerhouse of the world. A by-product of this drive for the almighty dollar has led to remarkable discoveries in science, computers and other technologies that improve our lives. There's a downside, too: Infomercials, pressuring us to buy the latest gadgets; online flea markets like eBay to get rid of all those gadgets; and the commercialization of everything from college bowl games to rockets shot into space. (Pizza Hut even considered projecting its logo on the moon).

Most of these are harmless examples of consumerism on overdrive and provide more of an annoyance than a threat. However, the over-commercialization of America crosses the line when the names and images of our heroes — true heroes, not the made for television kind — are used to make a buck.

A case in point is the annual Martin Luther King Parade held each year in Sanford. The parade is not the problem, although many have complained about the inappropriateness of some of the music and dancing. (We can argue First Amendment issues, but it's doubtful Dr. King would appreciate any event in his honor where someone blares Shaggy singing "Picture this, we were both built-naked banging on the bathroom floor.")

No, the real problem is the festival in Fort Melon Park following the parade. Organizers charge vendors $35 to set up a booth, then restrict them on what they can sell because the organizers also have vendor booths. Many festivals charge for booths. The rub is a state commission has declared Martin Luther King's name can not be used for private financial gain. Any money raised through events honoring Dr. King is suppose to go to scholarships, not someone's wallet. To this point, no scholarships have been awarded.

The Dr. Martin Luther King Steering Committee, which serves as the city of Sanford's official planner for events honoring Dr. King, has for many years distanced itself from the parade and post-parade festival because of concerns about how the finances are handled. This year, the two groups appeared to work closer, and the instances of inappropriate behavior during the parade have declined. We hope that's a positive sign for the future, and we encourage the two groups to cooperate as much as possible. The Steering Committee, however, should stand its ground and demand that Dr. King's legacy serve as something more than an opportunity to line one's pockets.

Fann doesn't agree with Tucker column

To the editor: It is a mystery to me why Cynthia Tucker would warn us that, "Ashcroft will push blacks away from the GOP", if he is confirmed as Attorney General. Bush got enough electors to be elected President with less than 10 percent of the black vote. Will Ashcroft lose enough black votes to get 100 percent of blacks against the next Republican candidate? Not likely.

It is my considered opinion that things will happen in the next four years to keep the blacks who voted for Bush in the GOP fold and gain a few more to boot. Just wait until those black athletes out there finally realize they are among the richest 1 percent in the country and start reaping the benefits of a tax cut. Four years will be enough for black parents who choose Charter Schools or school vouchers to see their kids get a better education and begin to rebel against negative black leaders. Sorry, Cynthia. Ashcroft will be the next Attorney General, federal law will be enforced properly for the first time in eight years, and the GOP will get more than 10 percent of the black vote four years from now. Mark my word. Donald M. Fann Sanford

Campaign finance reform up to Bush

The story goes that a man running for re-election to the Senate some years ago in Louisiana was handed a campaign donation in the amount of $5,000 from a trade union. The union rep said he and his colleagues simply wanted good government.

Joan Ryan

The politician looked puzzled. "For $2,500 you can get good government," the politician said. "For $5,000 you can get any kind of government you want."

Soon after George W. Bush takes office, we will find out what kind of government he wants. John McCain says he will introduce his campaign-finance reform bill in the Senate two days after the inauguration. He says he has the 60 votes he needs to avoid a Republican filibuster, which doomed the bill in the past. But he probably doesn't have the 67 votes necessary to override a presidential veto. So reforming our government likely will ride on the tip of our new president's pen.

OK. Your eyes are glazing over. I know. Most people in the country, according to the polls, are resigned to this campaign system that allows those with the most money access to those with the most power. But every American ought to care. No other important issue — gun control, prescription drugs, environmental protection — can be fully and fairly addressed until we get big money out of politics.

Consider, for example, that in 1999, the year of the Columbine shootings, the National Rifle Association donated $500,000 in soft money to the political parties. The NRA had never given that much in an entire election cycle, much less one year. Think about that the next time you wonder how yet another madman got his hands on an AK-47.

"A lethal cocktail of soft money and sham issue advocacy is corrupting our system to its core," Rep. Marty Meehan, D-Mass., told listeners at Arianna Huffington's Shadow Convention during the Democratic Convention in Los Angeles this summer. "It's the megaphone by which the voice of the powerful is drowning out the voice of the people."

Meehan co-sponsored McCain's campaign-finance reform bill in the House of Representatives. The bill is far from perfect. It's full of loopholes. It might even be unconstitutional. For example, how can we tell public advocacy groups they can't buy ads that support or oppose certain issues that are closely connected to a particular candidate? The bill is not completely successful in balancing free speech with our interest in preventing political corruption. In the name of broader equality, McCain-Feingold surely will create certain inequalities.

But as flawed as McCain-Feingold is, it's all we have at the moment. In an ideal world, we would have a bill advocating complete public financing of elections, thus eliminating all perception of influence-peddling and freeing up politicians to raise issues instead of money.

This won't happen any time soon. The current system favors incumbents, who are very attractive to big-money donors. And incumbents have little incentive to change a system in which they have triumphed.

So the very people we need to change the rules are the ones most invested in keeping them the same.

George W. Bush certainly lands in this category. No one in the history of politics has been more successful in raising money. He had $37 million in his campaign account before his opponents had swallowed their first bite of rubbery chicken.

Bush might have good reasons to veto McCain-Feingold. Fine. But I hope it is with the intention of fashioning a stronger law with fewer loopholes and sharper teeth.

The pledge to our flag talks of liberty and justice for all, not just for the monied and influential. In his first week in office, Bush should seize the opportunity to set a hopeful tone for his presidency by moving us a step closer to that ideal.

Art Zielinski asks people what they think ...

Although Central Florida may see some rain this weekend, the ground water level throughout the area is down nearly 25 inches. Because of the drought, the St. Johns River Management District decided to place restrictions on water usage. Our question today is, "Do you agree with the SJRMD to further restrict water usage because of the drought?"

No, I don't agree. Because I have a well they're telling me I can't use my own water. You should also be able to use city water — you're paying for it. They could pump water out of Lake Monroe and use it. Body Howard, Orlando

I think they should restrict it for a little while. I understand the reason for it, but I hope they can get this problem solved quickly. Craig Eudell, Sanford

Yes I agree with it. Everyone should have to comply, both rural and urban users. They also should restrict the businesses. Kim Bridges, Sanford

I don't think we need more restrictions. Is everyone complying with it? How will they enforce it? The key thing is to be aware of the restrictions, then comply with them. Joyce Fagan, Deltona

I think they should have started the restrictions a lot sooner. I think they should enforce it, so we might not have to cut back even further. Karen Jackson, Mount Dora

The Way We Were: SHS activities in 1945

The majority of the items in this column are from the May 31, 1945 edition of the Seminole High School Celery Fed. Student Council has Successful Year This year's activities were begun under the able leadership of President Neil Powell with the assistance of sponsor Mrs. Gladys Smith. When Neil was called into the Army in April, Vice President Glenn Lingle took over and did a fine job completing the year. Sadie Hawkins day, held in February, was sponsored by the Council. Highlight of the day was the crowning of Sylvia Meisch and Herman "Foots" Brumley as Daisy Mae and Lil' Abner. Every girl who wanted a man, caught one in the race held on the football field. Following this, a carnival was held in the gym. Features were Marryann' Sam, a cake walk, penny throwing and dancing. The Council also sponsored a used clothing drive with Salle Morrison as chairman of the committee. Many hundreds of articles were donated by the students.

Grace Marie Stinecpher

Another project was the posting on the bulletin board of names of SHS alumni in the armed service. Everyone was urged to write to the boys. On Mother's Day, the Council sent flowers to Mrs. Percy whose son had been killed in action. A wreath was also sent to Mrs. Hodge, LeRoy's mother. Other projects included purchase of a Florida flag for the school and redecorating the Student Council room. Sally Staff Enjoys Boat Picnic On May 23, 1945, the Salmagundi staff enjoyed a boat trip to Lemon Bluff and a picnic supper while there. Fourteen staff members plus Miss Rebecca Stevens, Saidee Williams, Mr. and Mrs. H.E. Morris attended. The boat trip on Mr. Roumillat's boat took two hours. Activities aboard included sun bathing, bridge games and visiting. After landing at 7 p.m. preparations were begun for supper. Beaufie Robson and Saidee gathered wood, Sonny Raborn and Sylvia Meisch cut sticks for the hot dogs, Camille Batgen and Mary Ann Whelchel fixed the plates. In addition to hot dogs, there was plenty of other food plus RC Colas. The boat was homeward bound by 8:30 p.m. Most sat on the deck singing, but a few were below writing letters and studying. The boat landed at the boat works at 11 p.m., and most were able to return home. A few went to Miss Stevens' home to read the Sally proof. They arrived home at 1:30 a.m. Other staff members attending were Dorothy Morrison, Betty Moore, Martha Page, Caroline Hutt, Pauline McClellan, Audrey Bach, Edith Chestnut, Charlotte True and Billy Shoemaker. May Day Ball The King and Queen of May were crowned during the May Day Ball given by the PAKs on May 23 at the Celery Crate. Those receiving this honor were Sylvia Meisch and Foots Brumley. Their crowns were carried by little Miss Kay Ivey and Butch Anderson. Presenting the crowns to the king and queen was Billy Gray, master of ceremonies. Other attendants were Beaufie Robson and Gerald Lossing, Camille Batten and Sonny Raborn, Audrey Bach and Tommy Vaughn, Mary Ann Whelchel and Troy Ray, Martha Page and Bill Shoemaker, Janet Hetzel and Pete Buker. The court was entertained by a floor show consisting of an adagio dance by Steve Hodgins and Mona Jobe, a difficult acrobatic solo by Anita Aiken and two numbers by Shirley Cameron. Senior Picnic The annual senior picnic was held Monday, May 28. The seniors traveled to Daytona Beach on a Greyhound Bus that WATER SHORTAGE NOTICE MANDATORY Phase 11 water use restrictions were ordered by the St. Johns River Water Management District (District) at its Governing Board meeting on Wednesday, January 10, 2001, pursuant to state law and District regulations. The Order applies to all sources of water within the St. Johns River Water Management District, except reclaimed water, in Lake, Marion, Orange, Polk, Seminole, and Volusia counties, regardless of whether the water comes from a private surface water withdrawal, a private well, or a privately owned or publicly owned water utility. Additionally, the Order applies to water users, with the exception of reclaimed water users, within Brevard County served by the City of Cocoa public water supply system or by the City of Titusville public water supply system. Please note that all water users within the St. Johns River Water Management District portion of Polk County are required to restrict their use of water in accordance with the water shortage restrictions currently in effect for the Southwest Florida Water Management District; the restrictions set forth in the table below do not apply to Polk County. The Phase 11 Severe Water Shortage restrictions take effect at 12:01 a.m. on Monday, January 15, 2001. The restrictions are needed because conditions are such that there is a likelihood that insufficient water will be available to meet user demands and a reduction in total water use within the area is necessary to protect water resources from serious harm. The Order shall remain in effect until rescinded or modified by the District's Governing Board. Pursuant to sections 373.609 and 373.613, Florida Statutes, every state and county attorney, sheriff, police officer, and other appropriate city and county official has the authority to enforce this order. Look for more information and details on television and in print news. You may also contact the District at 1-800-232-0904 or log on to the District's website at http://ejr.state.fl.us.

PHASE 11 SEVERE WATER SHORTAGE RESTRICTIONS LANDSCAPE IRRIGATION Landscape irrigation is restricted to a maximum of two days per week and shall not occur between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. Irrigation of existing landscape with odd addresses is only allowed on Wednesday and Saturday. Irrigation of existing landscape with even addresses or no address is only allowed on Thursday and Sunday. Irrigation on these designated days shall only occur when actually needed because of a lack of rainfall, and shall be limited to the application of no more than 3/4" of water in the irrigated area. Low-volume irrigation is permitted anytime with a hand-held garden hose provided it is fitted with an automatic shutoff nozzle. Irrigation resulting from the operation of water-to-air heat pumps is permitted anytime. New landscape may be irrigated on any day between the hours of 4:00 p.m. and 10:00 a.m. during the first 30 days following its installation. The installation of new landscape should be postponed until this water shortage order is rescinded.

WATER BASED RECREATION USE Draining of facilities into sewers or onto impervious surfaces is prohibited. Waterbased recreation water use should be voluntarily reduced.

AESTHETIC AND OTHER OUTSIDE USES Outside aesthetic use of water utilizing non-re-circulating fountains are prohibited. All surface water augmentation is prohibited except that which is specifically authorized for irrigation use under a valid consumptive use permit. Personal vehicle washing must be done using a handheld hose equipped with an automatic shut-off nozzle. All other discretionary uses of water should be reduced to the greatest extent possible.

ADDITIONAL RESTRICTIONS Additional restrictions applicable to Agricultural Uses, Nursery Uses, Golf Course Uses, and Recreation Area Uses are set forth in the District's Order.

NOTICE OF RIGHTS A person whose substantial interests are affected by the Order has the right to request an administrative hearing by filing a written petition with the St. Johns River Water Management District (District), or may choose to pursue mediation as an alternative remedy under Sections 120.569 and 120.573, Florida Statutes, before the deadline for filing a petition. Choosing mediation will not adversely affect the right to a hearing if mediation does not result in a settlement. The procedures for pursuing mediation are set forth in Sections 120.569 and 120.57, Florida Statutes, and Rules 28-106.11 and 28-106.401-405, Florida Administrative Code. Pursuant to Chapter 28-106 and Rule 40C-1.1007, Florida Administrative Code, the petition must be filed at the office of the District Clerk at District Headquarters, P. O. Box 1429 Palatka, Florida 32178-1429 (4049 Reid St., Palatka, FL 32177) within 21 days of newspaper publication of the notice of District decision. A petition for an administrative hearing is deemed filed upon delivery of the petition to the District Clerk at the District Headquarters in Palatka, Florida. A petition must comply with Chapter 28-106.11, Florida Administrative Code.

A substantially interested person has the right to a formal administrative hearing pursuant to Sections 120.569 and 120.57(1), Florida Statutes, where there is a dispute between the District and the party regarding an issue of material fact. A substantially interested person has the right to an informal hearing pursuant to Sections 120.569 and 120.57(2), Florida Statutes, where no material facts are in dispute. A petition for a formal or informal hearing must comply with the requirements set forth in Rule 28-106.301, Florida Administrative Code.

The right to an administrative hearing and the relevant procedures to be followed are governed by Chapter 120, Florida Statutes, and Chapter 28-106, Florida Administrative Code, and Section 40C-1.1007, Florida Administrative Code. Failure to file a petition for an administrative hearing within that requisite time frame shall constitute a waiver of the right to an administrative hearing (Section 28-106.111, Florida Administrative Code).

Any substantially affected person who claims that final action of the District constitutes an unconstitutional taking of property without just compensation may seek review of the action in circuit court pursuant to Section 373.617, Florida Statutes, and the Florida Rules of Civil Procedure, by filing an action in circuit court within 90 days of rendering of the final District action (Section 373.617, Florida Statutes).

Pursuant to Section 120.68, Florida Statutes, a person who is adversely affected by final District action may seek review of the action in the District Court of Appeal by filing a notice of appeal pursuant to the Florida Rules of Appellate Procedure within 30 days of the rendering of the final District action.

A District action is considered rendered after it is signed on behalf of the District, and is filed by the District Clerk. Failure to observe the relevant time frames for filing a petition for judicial review or for Commission review, both as described above, will result in waiver of that right to review.

 most of the celery production had moved to Southern Florida. With Seminole County's rich history of celery production, both Carlson and Jacobs hope someone will be able to identify the mysterious box. If anyone has information about the mechanism, call the Museum of Seminole County History at 407-321-2489.

Jacobs said the box will not be displayed until they find out what it is. "Museum supporters occasionally donate items to us," Jacobs said. "Usually, we know what it is when they bring it in. "I think this is the first time we didn't know what an item was used for," she said. "Hopefully, someone will be able to tell us."

 "I'm just thankful that we have him back and I'm thankful for the phone call from the father of Mack's friend in Oviedo," she said. "We're getting Mack the help he needs in dealing with how to fit in with his friends." There had been some speculation that the teenager might have headed to New York.

Kendrick said her other children mentioned that Mack had said he was going to New York for three weeks shortly before his disappearance. "That didn't sound like Mack to me," Kendrick said. "He had no money to get there and no clothes for three weeks. We do have family in New York, but they are distant relatives that Mack hardly knows."

 This year's Mayoral race will also feature Sanford's first openly gay candidate in Bates Reed. The hotel marketing executive plans a campaign built on diversity and inclusion. Back for a second run at the mayor's job is perennial candidate Dean Ray, whose most previous political run was a losing effort in a County Commission race against Daryl McLain. There will be two long-time District 1 residents vying to fill the seat being vacated by Lessard. Former Main Street executive director Linda Kuhn will square off against Oviedo High physics teacher Art Woodruff. District 2 Incumbent Velma Williams was walking through City Hall Friday moments after the qualifying deadline when she found out she'll be unchallenged.

"I'm very elated by the confidence expressed by the residents in District 2," she said. "There are jobs to be finished in my district and citywide." Williams said she was looking forward to a second term and would focus her energies on improving street lighting throughout Sanford, adequate sidewalk repair, redevelopment of the 13th Street corridor, improving affordable housing opportunities in Sanford, and working toward developing business opportunities at the Sanford International Airport.

Candidates must now submit financial reports to the City Clerks office on Feb. 16 and March 2 prior to the March 6 election. In the event no candidate receives at least 50 percent of votes in the four candidate mayor's race, a run-off between the top two finishers will be conducted March 20.

whose son had been killed in action. A wreath was also sent to Mrs. Hodge, LeRoy's mother. Other projects included purchase of a Florida flag for the school and redecorating the Student Council room.

Student Council has Successful Year

This year's activities were begun under the able leadership of President Neil Powell with the assistance of sponsor Mrs. Gladys Smith. When Neil was called into the Army in April, Vice President Glenn Lingle took over and did a fine job completing the year.

Sally Staff Enjoys Boat Picnic
 On May 23, 1945, the Salmagundi staff enjoyed a boat trip to Lemon Bluff and a picnic supper while there. Fourteen staff members plus Miss Rebecca Stevens, Saldee Williams, Mr. and Mrs. H.E. Morris attended.

Sadie Hawkins day, held in February, was sponsored by the Council. Highlight of the day was the crowning of Sylvia Meisch and Herman "Foots" Brumley as Daisy Mae and Lil' Abner.

The boat trip on Mr. Roumillait's boat took two hours. Activities aboard included sun bathing, bridge games and visiting.

Every girl who wanted a man, caught one in the race held on the football field. Following this, a carnival was held in the gym. Features were Marrylan' Sam, a cake walk, penny throwing and dancing.

After landing at 7 p.m. preparations were begun for supper. Beaufie Robson and Saidee gathered wood, Sonny Raborn and Sylvia Meisch cut sticks for the hot dogs, Camille Batgen and Mary Ann Welchel fixed the plates. In addition to hot dogs, there was plenty of other food plus RC Colas.

The Council also sponsored a used clothing drive with Salle Morrison as chairman of the committee. Many hundreds of articles were donated by the students.

The boat was homeward bound by 8:30 p.m. Most sat on the deck singing, but a few were below writing letters and studying.

Another project was the posting on the bulletin board of names of SHS alumni in the armed service. Everyone was urged to write to the boys.

The boat landed at the boat works at 11 p.m., and most were able to return home. A few went to Miss Stevens' home to read the Sally proof. They arrived home at 1:30 a.m. Other staff members attend-

Winn-Dixie donates $140,000 to Central Florida charities

Winn-Dixie Orlando spread the holiday cheer to nonprofit organizations at its 2000 Good Citizenship Awards luncheon, distributing $140,000 in grant monies to 36 charitable organizations in Central and West Florida last month.

"The individuals accepting grants for their organization were very excited to be a part of this year's luncheon," said Mark Sellers, president of Winn-Dixie Orlando. "Winn-Dixie was honored to recognize those organizations that give so much to our community and those people who work so hard year-round to make it happen."

Winn-Dixie's 2000 Community Good Citizen, 10-year-old Stacey Hillman, founder of Pennies to Protect Police Dogs, was the youngest recipient to ever receive this award. K-9 Officer Baron from the Eatonville Police Department and K-9 Officer Mako from the Sanford Police Department were on hand to surprise her with a donation from Winn-Dixie to buy bulletproof vests for themselves and two other dogs. Stacey founded her organization in March and has donated more than 60 K-9 bulletproof vests to police departments across Florida.

"I was so excited to receive the award and was really happy when the dogs surprised me on stage," said Stacey. "I would like to thank Winn-Dixie for its generous donation. Because of Winn-Dixie, I will be able to buy four other vests to police dogs in need."

Winn-Dixie provided grants to 36 organizations across an 18-county region including Brevard, DeSoto, Hardee, Hernando, Highlands, Hillsborough, Indian River, Lake, Manatee, Orange, Osceola, Pasco, Pinellas, Polk, Sarasota, Seminole, St. Lucie and Volusia. Those receiving grants ranged from organizations that help the homeless, to those that provide guidance and support to troubled youth and to those that help individuals or families deal with terminal illness.

The Orlando Division of

Winn-Dixie also honored one of its own associates, Deborah Coney. Deborah was presented with the special Winn-Dixie Founder's Award. Deborah was nominated by several of her co-workers for her involvement in the community and dedication to youth. The Founder's Award is bestowed to a Winn-Dixie associate who dedicates unparalleled time and effort in serving the community.

The Hon. José Rodriguez, Orange County juvenile court judge, was this year's keynote speaker. Judge Rodriguez has served in the 9th Judicial Circuit Court for four years and has received national recognition as a "Mentor Court Judge." He was also the first Hispanic judge to serve on the Orange County Bench.

Winn-Dixie's founders, the Davis family, established the Good Citizenship Awards in 1963 in an effort to recognize the often unheralded efforts of those who give so much to our young people and to the community at

Dunn plans automobile dealership in Sanford

Location: 309 Elm Avenue, formerly vacant property. Approximately 1 acre, unoccupied for approximately five years. The site was previously used as a concrete manufacturing facility (Miracle Concrete Company). An estimated 90 percent of the property is covered in concrete.

Property Owner: Jim Dunn of Sanford. Dunn, whose family has resided in Sanford since 1861, purchased the property from the Terwilliger Family, another long-time Sanford family.

Property Developer: Jim Dunn is supervising the work himself. "People are stopping by and staying how well we are handling this development," he said. "Located in Historic Residential Area, we have to comply with many demands, but we're happy to do it."

We want this to be not only a good business, but a way of preserving the integrity of the area. After all, would we want this place to have stayed as it was for another 15 years?"

Completion Date: Dunn

says the first phase, the auto dealership, should be in operation within the next 30 days. Phase II, which will include construction of a new building for repairs and service, will be completed in approximately four months.

FYI: The facility was originally planned to include truck sales and service as well as automobile and truck rentals, but Dunn said that portion of the plan has now been canceled.

In helping preserve the historic appearance, Dunn is installing decorative fencing on the front of the property, and a site fence to separate the business from the historic area.

Business Notes

Promotions
Florida Solar Technology, Inc., in Sanford has promoted two stellar workers and appointed a third to a top administrative position at the firm.

Florida Solar Founder and Company President Skip West said he promoted Jamie Hagerman to accounts payroll specialist. Hagerman who lives in DeBary has been with the company for one year. West said he promoted Jamie Hayne to internal payroll specialist. An Oviedo resident, Hayne joined Florida Solar three years ago. West also said he appointed Carolyn Emertica to the firm's new business development division. She is a resident of Deltona and will handle permits for the installation department.

New Internet Company
Onlinelabels.com, the Longwood-based Internet company that specializes in peel-and-stick labels for desktop inkjet and laser printers has launched a new nationwide offer in an effort to attract new customers and become a major U.S. supplier of labels for desktop printing.

David Carmany, founder and president said sales average about $70,000 per month now and he hopes to double that figure in 2001. Onlinelabels.com sells labels in more than 600 different combinations of sizes, shapes, colors and finishes.

Once a potential customer finds his site and tries the product, Carmany said, he has no trouble keeping them. To get new customers to visit his site, Carmany is now offering 20 sheets of labels free to first time customers in the U.S. The offer includes blank labels for CD-ROM labels as well as address and return address labels. Shipping costs are not included in the free label offer, Carmany added.

in kindergarten, mummies in Art, special projects in the Spanish immersion program and performing as Professor Molly Cule for the Super Scientists Program, she is everywhere.

According to Lane, the distinguished volunteer not only focuses on the students' academics, but also on their physical needs. When Proctor noticed a portable classroom didn't have a water connection, she contributed a water cooler and every week replaces the water and provides cups.

Proctor's commitment to public education in Seminole County was one the main reason Lane decided to nominate her for the statewide award. And, the judges noticed.

According to Lane, this is the first time in seven years an individual from Seminole County has been chosen as a finalist for the recognition.

"Because we have not had one in seven years, I asked them, 'What does it take?' Lane said. "They said it had to be a 'Wow' sort of person. I knew this was the gal that was going to get it."

When Proctor isn't at Idyllwilde, she works as a full-time nurse in Arnold Palmer Hospital's neonatal intensive care unit, where she devotes her time to the youngest and neediest members of our society.

Many people have asked Proctor when she finds time to sleep. She gives a lot of credit to the staff and other volunteers at Idyllwilde and to her husband, Howard.

"He drops anything when I need him," she said.

And, if the faculty and staff are worried about Proctor leaving once her youngest son enters middle school, they shouldn't.

"I plan to continue volunteering at Idyllwilde," she said. "I think this is my home."

My Friends:

FINALLY!

For those of you who have given up on traditional church services, an old traditional church has been redesigned especially for you. It's a fact, not many people are excited about church anymore.

WHAT'S THE REASON?

- The sermons are dry and boring and cannot be applied to daily living
- Too often churches seem to be more concerned about your money than about you
- The members are cold and indifferent toward visitors

If you think attending church should be an enjoyable experience

THERE IS GOOD NEWS FROM GEORGETOWN!

THE NEW BETHEL CHURCH is an old traditional church that has been redesigned to meet your needs in the new millennium

At the Georgetown NEW BETHEL CHURCH you will

- Meet many new friends and get to know what it feels like to belong
- Enjoy upbeat contemporary music
- Hear positive, practical sermons that will lift your spirit

I invite you to be my special guest as we celebrate JESUS this Sunday at 11:00 AM. We are located here in SANFORD on the corner of 10th street and HICKORY Ave., in the GEORGETOWN subdivision.

Come And Experience The Difference

If you don't have a church home why not give us a try?

Sincerely,
Bill Lewis Pastor

Billboard moratorium tops county commission agenda

By Joe DeSantis
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Seminole County's Board of County Commissioners will conduct the second of two public hearings Tuesday night on a proposed 180-day moratorium on the placement of new billboards in unincorporated areas of the county.

Two weeks ago the board heard from half a dozen citizens in support of the moratorium, as well as representatives from the billboard industry. While industry officials agreed in principle with the moratorium, they also requested to have input on the structure of any new ordinances regulating the billboard industry.

Additionally, the board will rule during Tuesday afternoon's session on a pair of appeals against the Board of Adjustment's rulings dealing with separation requirements of billboards owned by Oxford Outdoor Advertising located near SR 436 and Howell Branch Road and Highway 17-92 and SR 434.

If approved, the moratorium would limit the approval or issuance of development permits for the placement of outdoor advertising in unincorporated Seminole County for a period of 180 days. The moratorium would apply to applications currently under review and would prohibit the filing of new applications after an adopted ordinance date.

The proposed ordinance does not however, prohibit bringing non-conforming billboards into compliance and does not extend the date for non-complying billboards to be brought into compliance by Feb. 1 in accordance with Ordinance 99-5 passed in March of 1999.

Ordinance 99-5 was the result of some 20 meetings held between 1995 and 1999 between county staff, billboard companies, commission work sessions and public hearings.

In other commission items Tuesday, the board is expected to:

- Approve a Special Event Permit for X-treme Challenge Event to be held on the Yarrowburgh Ranch property later this year.

- Continue a hearing on the possible hiring of a Owner's Representative for the County's Courthouse Project.

- Consider authorization of the creation of a 2001 Economic Development Task Force, and update the County's five-year Economic Development Strategic Plan.

- Approve a strategy plan for Implementation of the Trails/Natural Lands program.

skin pores or inhalation, causing fever, chills, nausea, vomiting and black skin ulcers. If inhaled and left untreated it is almost always fatal.

By early Friday afternoon a special unit from Orange County was on hand to help decontaminate the areas where the envelopes were opened at the dual locations.

Tim Robles, public information officer for the Sanford Fire Department said by 3 p.m., two employees of the State Attorney's office and a mail carrier were being transported to Florida Hospital Altamonte for precautionary testing.

"If there was something in those envelopes that could compromise the health of these people we want to take the proper steps," he said.

Robles indicated public safety officials were encouraged by the fact none of the affected employees appeared to be suffering from any adverse symptoms.

"In this case there would be fever and fatigue, accompanied by coughing, respiratory problems and irregular tract problems," Robles said. "Those would be the symptoms we would see quickly and at this time we are fortunately not seeing that in these three individuals."

He added that HAZMAT teams would be working throughout Friday afternoon to run two separate tests in attempts to determine exactly what the substance was on the two envelopes. Robles said the envelope that showed up at the State Attorney's office had a return address of 761 West 13th biological and chemical agents.

"Both tests came back negative," said Ritchey. "A total of 12 people in this building were initially quarantined as a precaution. Four employees were in the process of being transported to Florida Hospital North purely as a precaution along with the three employees from the State Attorney's office. We made the decision to bring them back here to have them checked by the County medical officer because of the HAZMAT test results. None of them has shown any symptoms or ill effects of any contamination."

Ritchey said the postal carrier, Tom Hockaday, who delivered the letter to the Public Safety Building was also being contacted as a precaution. She added that mail at other public offices including the County Services Building would be scrutinized for abnormalities.

Cohen said late Friday afternoon that both envelopes would likely be turned over to the Seminole County Sheriff's Office for investigation. Public Safety officials also indicated that the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Florida Department of Law Enforcement would be joining the investigation.

Street, Sanford, but no such address exists.

The situation was similar at the County's Public Safety Building. Public Safety/Emergency Management public information officer Paul Ritchey said by 3 p.m. HAZMAT teams had completed testing for hazardous materials and radioactivity on the building's third floor as well as testing for Winter or not, softball goes on in Sanford, Lake Mary

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — The calendar may say January, and the temperature on some nights is downright frigid, but the boys (and in some cases girls) of summer are busy trophy hunting in Sanford and Lake Mary.

Five adult recreational slow pitch softball leagues, called Polar Bear Leagues, got underway in the two Seminole County cities last week and while the number of teams competing are down from the Spring and Fall leagues, there are still plenty of games being played. The City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Polar Bear Slow Pitch Softball League season opened with the Women's League at Pinehurst Park on January 9th.

Only one game was played on the evening, but it was a beauty.

The Sharks took a quick 4-0 lead in the top of the first inning, but that outburst was answered in the bottom of the first inning by a three-run salvo by Wynn Chiropactic.

The Sharks were able to maintain a slim lead until the bottom of the seventh inning when Wynn Chiropactic with two doubles five singles and a walk to score six runs and pull out a 14-13 victory.

Marie Dye had a double and three singles for Wynn Chiropactic, while Terry Rhian had a triple and two singles and Liz Turner added three singles.

Gloria Efrid and Jenny Blowers had three hits each for the Sharks.

This Tuesday night at Pinehurst Park, Donnie's Darlins takes on the Sharks at 7 p.m. and Wynn Chiropactic battles Sunny's Auto Sales at 8 p.m.

WRESTLING TONIGHT IN ALTAMONTE

Southern Championship Wrestling will be held at the Eastmonte Park Civic Center in Altamonte Springs tonight (Saturday) at 7:30 p.m.

This show is entitled "SCW Battle Zone" and will be taped for television and aired beginning in February on a Central Florida television network.

In the main event, confined in a steel cage, "ECW Signer" Frankie Capone will battle against SCW Champ Python (Sanford resident Mike Christaus).

In a Hardcore Championship match, where one opponent must go through a table, Von Tankard will take on Rico Casanova.

Local radio celebrity, Buckhead from WXXL 106.7, will be making a major announcement.

Also on the card will be "Mr. Money" Jeff Deane, who is making his return to SCW, plus several other matches and the very beautiful ladies of the SCW.

Tickets are $10.

SEMINOLE PONY BASEBALL SIGNUPS

Seminole PONY Baseball will be holding registrations the next two Saturdays (January 20th and 27th) from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Seminole PONY Complex on State Road 419, just East of 17-92.

Five age groups, 5-6 and 7-8 are coach-pitch leagues, and 9-10, 11-12, and 13-14 are professional-style (stealing, etc.) with certified, paid umpires, are being offered.

Bring your birth certificate to sign-up, or for more information, call (407) 513-5570 or visit the website at www.etsamz.com-seminolepony.

SANFORD BABE RUTH BASEBALL SIGN-UPS

The Sanford Recreation Department is now taking registrations for the 2001 Babe Ruth Baseball Season.

The games will be played at the new youth four-field baseball complex at Chase Park.

Opening Day ceremonies will be held at the complex (on West Celery Avenue past Mellonville) on Saturday, March 3, at 9 a.m.

Player Placement/Skills Assessment Day will be Saturday, February 3rd for the following leagues with times and place:

- Major (11-12 year olds) - 9 a.m. at Ft. Mellon.
- Minor (9-10 year olds) - 11 a.m. at Ft. Mellon.
- Rookie (7-8 year olds) - 1 p.m. at Ft. Mellon.
- Girls Softball (9-12 year olds) - 3 p.m. at Ft. Mellon.
- Babe Ruth (13-15 year olds) - 9 a.m. at Zinn Beck Field.
- Tee-Ball (5-6 year olds) - no tryouts, register at Recreation Department.

For more information call 407-330-5697.

TEAM FLORIDA BOYS AAU HOOP TRYOUTS

Team Florida, an elite AAU all-star boys basketball traveling team, is currently looking for the best players in the state between the ages of 9-and-17.

NBA stars Vince Carter and Tracy McGrady are former Team Florida members.

Age groups are: 9 (3rd Grade); 10 (4th Grade); 11 (5th Grade); 12 (6th Grade); 13 (7th Grade); 14 (8th Grade); 15-and-Under; 16-and-Under; and 17-and-Under.

All-SAC football teams named

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — Seminole Athletic Conference champion Lake Brantley led the way with seven First Team picks on this year's 2000 All-Conference Football Team.

Led by senior quarterback Taylor Ramsaur, the Patriots had four First Team Offensive players and three First Team defensive selections.

In addition to Ramsaur, who guided Lake Brantley to a 9-3 record this season, other Patriots on the First Team Offense were senior running back Josh Demateis, senior record-setting wide receiver Corey Dryden, and 6-foot-8, 345-pound senior lineman Jorge Morales.

Being named First Team Defense from Lake Brantley were junior linebacker Corey Andrade, senior defensive back Jon Shaw, and senior punter Ryan Berry.

Seminole and Oviedo both placed five players on the First Team.

Seminole High School's leading rusher, senior running back Willie Bennett (No. 31), picked up yet another honor as he was one of five Fighting Seminoles named to the First Team and 11 Tribe players total selected to the 2000 All-Seminole Athletic Conference Football Team by a vote of the league's seven head coaches.

Earning the nod from the Fighting Seminoles were senior running back Willie Bennett, senior offensive lineman Jarrod Ryals, junior place-kicker Matt Groover, senior defensive lineman Henry Oliver, and junior defensive back Justin McKinney.

Gaining First Team honors for the Lions were junior wide receiver Steve Asby, senior tight end Ryan Roberts, junior linebacker Matt Ford, senior defensive back Mike Carroll, and senior defensive back Sammy Hughes, who impressed coaches enough with his play before suffering a season-ending broken neck to make the team.

Defending SAC Champion Lake Mary had four players tabbed, sophomore running back Reggie Campbell, senior offensive lineman Brett Swann, senior defensive lineman Komondreas, and senior linebacker Joey Licata.

Lake Howell had three First Team picks, senior offensive lineman Ryan Houck, sophomore defensive back Tyler Sommer, and senior defensive lineman A.B. Morales.

Winter Springs had a pair of selections, senior offensive lineman Kevin Inge and junior defensive lineman Kyle Chase.

The final First Team selection was senior linebacker John

Soccer's best roll an "11"

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — The two best soccer team's so far this season in the Seminole Athletic Conference, the Lake Mary boys and Lake Howell girls, continued to show their domination this week as both squads netted 11 goals in victories.

Sophomore Tarek Jawad poured in three goals and the Rams boys (16-2-2) turned a comfortable 3-0 halftime lead into an 11-1 blowout of DeLand at Don T. Reynolds Stadium Tuesday night.

The defending Class 4A State Champion Silver Hawks (20-1-2) girls also had an easy time of it, coasting to a pair of shutout wins, 5-0 over Lyman on Tuesday and an 11-0 mercy rule triumph over Seminole on Thursday.

What makes the victories even more impressive was that they both came on the road and Lake Howell outshot their foes 42-3.

The boxes from soccer and wrestling this week:

TUESDAY BOYS SOCCER
RAMS 11, BULLDOGS 1

District showdowns on tap in basketball

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

WINTER SPRINGS — This is the week in the high school basketball that the fans have been waiting, showdowns between the top Class 6A teams in both boys and girls hoops.

But there are two problems - 1. If you hope to get a seat, you may have to get in line today; and 2. Both games are on Tuesday night.

In boys action, defending district champion and 14-2 DeLand will be at undefeated and No. 1 state-ranked Oviedo (19-0) starting at 7:30 p.m.

The Bulldogs will be looking for revenge as they were crushed, 79-56, by the Lions in the first meeting between the pair at DeLand's new "Dog House."

Both teams had games scheduled this weekend, but in games they had played earlier this week, they had both been impressive.

The Bulldogs won a pair of back-to-back home games over Seminole Athletic Conference foes, whipping Lake Brantley 68-45 on Tuesday and humbling Lake Mary, 56-36, on Wednesday.

Oviedo continued its assault on the record books with a win over Lake Brantley, but it was a rare come-from-behind win this time.

The Patriots actually led 21-18 after the first period, but the Lions came to life in the second quarter, winning the frame 28-15 to lead 46-36 at intermission and holding off their hosts, 86-72.

In girls action, Lake Mary (20-2) will be at two-time defending state champion Winter Springs (19-2) for a 7:30 p.m. start.

The Rams will be looking for the season sweep, as they handed the Bears their first loss of the season at home, 56-42, in early December.

Winter Springs tuned up with an impressive 20-point plus victories over Seminole (73-53) and Lake Brantley (55-31).

Lake Mary had a little more difficulty on the road, jumping out to a quick 16-7 first period lead over Oviedo, but then having to hold on for a 59-51 win.

M-FC doubleheader at SCC

Raider hoop teams begin hunt for trip to State tonight

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — The 'second season' begins for the Seminole Community College basketball teams at home tonight (Saturday) when they host Santa Fe Community College from Gainesville in a Mid-Florida Conference doubleheader.

Coach Stan Cromartie's men's team opened their M-FC schedule in Palatka on Wednesday, dropping a 72-57 decision to St. Johns River Community College.

Sophomore guard Matt Story led the Raiders, who are now 8-13 on the season, with 17 points.

Also scoring for SCC were Jason Currington (15 points), Dennis Williams (12 points), Che Morgan (five points), Walter Green (four points) and Joe Williams and Tim Morrison (one point each).

guard and University of Florida assistant, are led by former Seminole High School standout Cornelius Blue and figure to be handful for the young Raiders.

The men's game is set to begin at 8 p.m., following a 6 p.m. contest between the SCC and Santa Fe women.

This will be the opening game of conference play for coach Ken Patrick's Lady does not have a women's program.

SCC is 16-5 and coming off a pair of blowout victories, 83-35 over Abraham-Baldwin Agricultural College in Tifton, Georgia last Friday and 92-51 over the Community College of Rhode Island at home on Sunday.

Admission is free to all games at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center.

Harney Cove because of its close proximity to Lake Harney, was the original name for Geneva. Around 1870, a man from New Geneva, N.Y., moved in and built a large house, and the town began to call the area Geneva. The name stuck.

Between Geneva and Sanford wasn't built until the 1920s, known as SR-10. Until that time, folks living in Harney Cove had to go to the shore of Lake Harney and travel across the Johns River, which certainly wasn't a straight line to the shore of Sanford. Once the road was built, the distance was only approximately 18 miles.

At the time the name of a major citrus planter who settled in Harney County, which later became Seminole County. In 1888, the community, named in his honor, had a factory to produce shingles, sapwood, farina and other products from the cypress plant that was very abundant. It only lasted 10 years because of competition made it unprofitable.

Why the town of Geneva changed its name to Lake Harney is up for speculation. One common belief is that a minister established a church in this community of many lakes, and named the lake next to his church after his wife, Mary. Subsequently, the entire city became Lake Mary.

Another source says it was named for the wife of Major William Joseph, father-in-law of Will Wallace Harney, an Ocala resident.

Ever hear of Harney? It was located on the western shore of what became Lake Monroe. During President James Monroe's administration, the lake was named, Florida was acquired by the U.S., and Harney became known as the town of Lake Monroe.

On the Road

Bruce Danilla makes sure people always get from Point A to Point B

Driving a cab is a lively way to earn a living. One reason may be the diverse personalities of people taxi drivers come in contact with. From the movie star and professional athletes, to the senior citizen going shopping or the drunk needing a ride home from a party, the taxi driver meets them all.

Bruce Danilla has been driving for the Yellow Cab Company of Orlando Inc. for the past 13 years. Danilla lives in Sanford with his wife, Cheryl, and their three children, Danielle, 13; Nick, 12; and Amber, 8. Danilla said he has always been in the transportation business. "Being able to get from point A to point B is what I do best. A 10- or 12-hour day is no problem," he said.

Danilla drove a tractor-trailer in the New York City area for several years, but said the taxicab gives him more flexibility. "I was able to spend more time with my family — rather than being out on the road — and be there as the kids were growing up. Driving a cab is my way of serving the community." Danilla parked his Yellow Cab at the Seminole Herald and talked with Staff Writer Arthur Zielinski about some of his experiences on the streets of Seminole and Orange counties.

Q: Have you ever had a famous person in your taxi, movie star or professional athlete?

A: I've had a lot of professional basketball players in the Orlando area. The comic Andrew "Dice" Clay. He didn't crack any jokes. He was very subdued, and LeVar Burton from Star Trek. Most of them just needed a ride to the hotel or wanted me to take them to the mall.

Q: What was the largest tip you made?

A: With tips everyone is different. My largest tip didn't come from a celebrity, it was from a business man leaving a bachelor party. The fare was only $9. It was a short run, but I didn't complain. You need a few $30 and $40 runs to make money, but I'll also take short runs. So he gave a $100 tip. That's a nice tip.

Q: Do you consider your job a dangerous job? Have you ever been robbed or attacked?

A: It's always in the back of your mind. I think about it every time I'm dispatched to a call. This is a very high stress job. I've only been a life-threatening situation once. I had a knife pulled on me. The man only wanted to go three blocks, and I let my mind lapse, I was thinking about my next call. When I looked back he was holding a steak knife and told me to give him all my money. I grabbed his arm and we started to struggle as the car went across two lanes of traffic. The car wasn't going fast so I opened the door and rolled out of the car. He jumped out and ran away. The police eventually caught him. He was a repeat offender and got 10 to 15 years in jail.

Q: Has anyone not paid you?

A: Yes, it's happened. You always have people trying to beat you like that. The city of Orlando says you can ask for your money up front. I try not to do that, because some people get

Historical Society doesn't need recount after first official election

The votes are in and a recount wasn't necessary! The Lake Mary Historical Society Inc. held their very first official election on Jan. 11. A nominating committee consisting of Mary Wolff, Mary Jane Duryea, Fran Brender, Claire O'Connor and Clinton Rhodes presented the slate of officers to the members for unanimous passage. The new officers are Jan Jernigan, president; Clinton Rhodes, first vice president; Mary Jane Duryea, second vice president; Peggy Wolfe, recording secretary; Karen Beal, treasurer; and Nikki Clark, board of directors. The society is already getting active. They have agreed to provide volunteers for the upcoming Olde Lake Mary Days. This year's festival is scheduled for Saturday, March 3, at City Hall. It promises to be bigger than last year with greater emphasis on living history. Slated to be part of Olde Lake Mary Days this year are the Civil War Reenactors, the Talako Indian Dancers, a Florida Cow camp, a flint knapping demonstrator (arrow head making) and more. The Historical Society will also be holding a fund-raiser at Olde Lake Mary Days. They have tentatively scheduled a bake sale. What do you have to do to join the society? Simply come to their next meeting, scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 8, at 7 p.m. and sign up. Membership fees are: single membership, $10 a year; family membership, $15 a year; student membership, $5 a year; corporate membership, $250 a year and friends of the society, $5 a year. Two types of lifetime memberships are also available: lifetime individual membership, $150; and lifetime family membership, $250. If you are interested in finding out more about Olde Lake Mary Days or signing up for a civic or craft booth, you can contact Dee Gracey at 407-324-3065. If you are interested in participating as a living history demonstrator, contact Peggy Wolfe at 407-327-8207.

The new officers of the Lake Mary Historical Society include Jan Jernigan, president; Clinton Rhodes, first vice president; Mary Jane Duryea, second vice president; Nikki Clark, board of directors; Peggy Wolfe, recording secretary; and Karen Beal, treasurer.

Communities

Wagner has simply disappeared. It was located on what is now SR-434, just west of Oviedo — near Oviedo Oaks. There were a few stores, several houses, and a railroad station, as the Seaboard Coastline System had a spur track in that area. Wagner was recognized as a city by the U.S. Postal Service from 1911 until 1925. When the railroad depot was built, the railroad named the community Wagner after one of its employees. Ginderville is a community which no longer exists. It was located on what is now South Sanford Avenue, at the curve just before crossing Lake Mary Boulevard. It was named for a long-time local resident Merrill Ginder. It is now within the Sanford City Limits. People began settling in what is now Oviedo in 1869, and built a post office in 1879. They wanted to give the city a name unlike any other in the United States. One of the settlers, Andrew Aulin suggested the name of a city in a Spanish province. It was Ove-yay-do. Because it looked difficult to pronounce, they subsequently shortened it to Oviedo. One more story — this one probably untrue. A Seminole brave was courting a maiden named Luota. One day he brought her some sassafras roots. "What am I to do with these?" she asked. The brave replied, "Chew, Luota." Actually the name of Chuluota, east of Oviedo, is comprised from the Creek Indian words: chule (pine) and ote, (island). Some say the name came from the Seminole Indian word meaning "fox den." Others say it was named by early settler Robert A. Mills who gave it the Indian name. Still others say the community was named by the Prevatt family who settled in 1866. There were other communities and settlements — such as Upsala, Mayfair, Fort Reid, King Philipstown, Osceola (now part of Geneva), Fort Lane, Slavia, and a number of others, some of which have disappeared during the passing of time. Editor's note: There are many historians and descendants in northern Seminole County who know a great deal about this subject. Some may wish to add to this material, or they have other information regarding the early history of these communities. Interested persons are welcome to submit their information to the Seminole Herald.

Ruffo, Waller exchange vows

Julie Annette Ruffo and Bryan Paul Waller were married Saturday, Jan. 8, 2000. The bride is the daughter of Carol Ruffo of Sanford and the former Richard Ruffo. The groom is the son of Paul and Billie Waller of Winter Park. The wedding ceremony has special meaning for the bride's family. When the couple got engaged, Richard Ruffo was terminally ill with pancreatic cancer. Rather than missing his only daughter's wedding, the event was planned in five weeks. According to the family, the wedding "truly was magical." Julie was married on Jan. 8, and Richard died on Feb. 8. He lived long enough to give his daughter away in marriage. The wedding was held at the Altamonte Springs Embassy Suites Hotel, with Attorney Amber Jade F. Johnson officiating. The bride wore an off-white silk gown with lace and pearls on the bodice and a lace trimmed hem. Her headpiece was a halo of flowers with a short veil. She carried a bouquet of star gazer lilies and white roses. The co-maids of honor were Courtney Crowley and Erin Callaghan. They wore dresses of silver with pink stoles and carried pink purses with cascading lilies and roses.

Julie Annette Ruffo and Bryan Paul Waller. Bridesmaids were Jen Clark and Sharon Penland, who wore dresses similar to the maids of honor. Co-best men were Brad McCulloch and Ed Palmer. Ushers were Murray Morgan and Kevin Terry. Flower girls were Taylor and Ashley Weido and Ciara Nowak. Ring bearer was Cheyne Wilson. A reception was held after the ceremony. Assistants were Colin Wilson and Davis Weido. After a three-week wedding trip to Italy, the couple now resides in Winter Park, where the groom works as a quality assurance manager and the bride is a freelance writer and editor and president of Words of Winter Park.

Lamplays celebrate 50 years

Howard and Jacqueline Lampley of Winter Springs celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary, Saturday, Jan. 20. The couple were married in Phoenix, Ariz., on Jan. 20, 1950, in Central Methodist Church. An anniversary reception was held for the couple. About 30 guests from Florida, Arizona and Ohio were expected to attend. Reception assistants were the couple's children, Terri Licking, Neil Lampley, Denise Owens, Brian Lampley and April Lampley. They also have six grandchildren and one great grandchild. The Lampleys, who are retired business owners, enjoy snowskiing, traveling and enjoying time with their grandchildren. The couple's offended. Each time I weigh the situation. On a short run I won't, but if it's going to take an hour or more, or if I'm in a bad neighborhood where I've had problems in the past, I'll ask for the cash up front. Q: What was the shortest distance someone wanted to go? A: It was on Orange Avenue. I went from one side of the street to the other. It was pouring down rain and the person didn't want to get wet. I drove across three lanes of traffic and the person slid across the seat and got out the other door. Q: What was the longest distance you had to drive? A: My longest run was taking a Haitian man and his daughter to Miami. They got separated from their group and were lost. He wanted me to drive them using their car. I told him if I did that I wouldn't have a way back home. I gave him a map and showed him the way, but he still wanted me to take him and his daughter. So I drove my cab and they followed me all the way to Miami. It was nice because I didn't have to make conversation. I charged him about $250. Q: What do you like most about the job? A: I'm here to serve the public. I love people, and I love God. And as long as I'm not getting taken advantage of, I'll take you anywhere you want to go.

Allen, Holt Distinguished Service recipients

Tradition returned to the Seminole Community College campus and the Sanford community. After 10 years, the African-American Culture Forum opened the Heritage Jubilee 2001 celebration.

It was a varied and "spirited" celebration of leadership in America, with special emphasis on the contributions of all black leaders who are "too often forgotten." It was also a time to commemorate the birth and achievements of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Marva Hawkins

A memorial was given to late Gwendolyn E. Brooks (June 7, 1917 to Dec. 3, 2000), who was a poet laureate of Illinois, past poet consultant for the Library of Congress and a friend to SCC.

The Heritage Jubilee Year 2001 program opened with Brandon Richards, vice president of the SCC African American Cultural Forum. Dr. E. Ann McGee, president of SCC, gave words of welcome and Professor Annye Refoe gave the occasion.

Distinguished Service recipients for 2001 were presented by Abner Jackson Jr., president of the African American Cultural Forum, Brandon Richards and Dr. Stephen Caldwell Wright of the SCC faculty. The recipients are Ruth Allen and Willie G. Holt.

Ruth Hatch Allen, a Sanford native, received her education in the Seminole County schools. In 1942, she married Willie Hatch and reared four daughters, who are ardent active members of the communities in which they live. Mrs. Allen is deserving of this Distinguished Service Award, she has served her community as a volunteer with the American National Red Cross, Gray Lady at Crooms, and at Goldsboro Elementary School. She is a mentor for young girls in the community.

Seminole Strollers mark five years of walking the mall

Strolling down the mall has been a popular program of the Senior Friends Chapter of Central Florida Regional Hospital since the Seminole Strollers were organized five years ago. The strollers walk from 7:30 to 9 a.m. every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the Seminole Town Center Mall before the mall opens. Of course, after 9, the strollers can shop 'til they drop if they so desire.

On Friday, Jan. 26, beginning at 8 a.m., the Seminole Strollers will celebrate their fifth anniversary and invite those interested to join them to become acquainted with this free fitness program. During the festivities, there will be giveaways, health screenings, games and fun, according to Michelle Hendrick, June McFadden and Grace Hudson.

Senior Friends Advisor.

A speaker is featured the first Wednesday of the month, and every Friday, the hospital sponsors blood pressure checkups. To become part of the Seminole Strollers, contact Michelle at 407-321-4500, Ext. 5784.

Michelle says that the CFRH Chapter of Senior Friends has 2,000 members and meets the second Thursday of the month at 10:30 a.m., at the Sanford Civic Center. At the last meeting, with 60 in attendance, the group reviewed the 2001 Interest Survey Results on alternative medicine. At the February meeting, long term care insurance will be discussed.

Michelle also reminds the general public that the Fab Follies of the Sanford Senior Center will be presented Sunday, Jan. 21, at 2:30 p.m., at the Sanford Civic Center. Admission is $5 per ticket.

Heaton Hosts Bridge Social

The January Bridge Social of the Woman's Club of Sanford Inc. was held at the Elliott Avenue home of Wilma Heaton. Assisting as co-hostess was Helen Ernest. A dessert course of "lovely refreshments" was served according to Shirley Mills including "three wonderful homemade pies, mulled cider, toasted nuts and petit fours."

Winners were Betty Bruestle, high; Doris Stein, second high and Rose Jacobson, third high.

Others attending were: Carol Dennison, Zelda Siskind, Emy Sokol, Terri Millikan,

Miss Seminole County Pageant Under Way

Last year, a group of interested citizens pulled together a Miss Seminole County Scholarship Pageant on a real short notice. The event was so successful that many of the same committee members are combining their talents to stage a bigger and better pageant this year.

The pageant, a preliminary to the Miss America Scholarship Pageant, will be held March 24, at the Helen Stairs Theatre in downtown Sanford. According to Martha Yancey, contestants must be at least 18 years of age and live within a 75-mile radius of Seminole County. The complete details will be announced when the plans are finalized.

Freeloading couple upsets paying friends

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are friends with a couple who consistently wined out of paying their share when we socialize with them. They're part of a large group we spend time with, as opposed to one-on-one. They have good jobs, new cars, and probably more in savings than all of us other couples combined.

Dear Abby
This couple gets a kick out of telling us that they go to happy hour at local bars to fill up on free pastas and popcorn so they don't have to buy dinner. They also brag that they attend parties so they can eat for free.

They tell us they don't like Chinese food, but when several couples are going out for Chinese, they insist on being included. When it's time to order, they share one order of fried rice and ask to "try" each of our dishes, which winds up being a full plate of food. When the bill arrives, they pay only for their one dish of fried rice. They even joke about the fact they had sampled everyone else's food, and laughingly ask if they should pay a part of everyone's order. Of course, no one takes them up on the sarcastic offer.

The Mrs. planned a surprise birthday party for the Minister at an expensive steakhouse. When the bill arrived, she initiated the breakdown of the bill by saying, "Now you don't really have to pay for us..." Well, not only did we pay for the "birthday boy"; the birthday party was a free meal at an expensive steakhouse for both of them.

Last month we received an invitation to their house for a holiday party. The invitation read, "Bring your favorite hors d'oeuvres and beverages." When we got the invitation, all of us laughed, saying they're the only people who could have a party at their house that would cost them nothing!

Should we stop socializing with them? My husband and I think they're nice people, but no longer feel we can subject ourselves to the unnecessary frustration every time we see them. How would this affect our relationship with the other couples?

ALWAYS SHELLING OUT IN ARIZONA

DEAR SHELLING OUT: Nice people? Those professional freeloaders have turned taking advantage of others into an art form. Before you allow yourselves to be taken advantage of again by Mr. and Mrs. Freebie, ask yourselves what you really have in common with them. I'm betting it's very little.

As for your relationships with the other couples in the group, I'm sure that at least some of them are as fed up with the Freebies as you are and would also like to do some socializing without them.

DEAR ABBY: Everyone needs a grandmother like ours. She was 86 years old when she passed away. She was in bed the last 15 years of her life, but always had a smile on her face. She played board games with us, and every Christmas she made all of us something. She had 60 grandchildren and great-grandchildren. I am going to miss her.

She would tell us stories of her life and raising her daughters. Boy, what a life she had!

Please tell all grandchildren to enjoy their grandparents as long as possible. Thank you.
WESTLEY (AGE 11), SUN VALLEY, CALIF.

DEAR WESTLEY: What a warm and loving tribute to your grandmother. How proud she would be that you wrote about her. I hope your letter will provide an incentive to people of every age to reach out to relatives they love.

St. Luke's kicks off 2001 concert series

St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Oviedo, is kicking off the 2000-2001 Concert Series Saturday, Jan. 27, with the Orlando Philharmonic Orchestra's Philharmonic Winds.
Master musicians will present a program entitled "Winds Through the Centuries." Ensemble includes flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon, horn and piano, with program selections ranging from the time of Mozart to the works of living composers.
Parents are invited to bring their children — there will be special treats for them. A nursery will be available for children age four and under.

The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. There is no charge for admission, and no offering to be taken.
The next concert in the series will be March 9, at 7:30 p.m., when the Orlando Philharmonic will present Bjella and Rurnells, billed as the Dynamic Duo. The event starts at 7:30 p.m. and is free of charge.

Today's clergy moonlighting as pub workers

It was quite a sight on Wednesdays in the 1950s to look into nearly every neighborhood bar and see the TV tuned to a Roman Catholic priest in full clerical regalia talking about religion.

The attraction was Bishop Fulton Sheen — equal parts showman and man of the cloth. Opposite him on another channel was comedian Milton Berle, whose ratings took a beating from his competition.

"Well," said the philosophic Berle, "you must remember that the bishop and I are a lot alike. We both use old material."

Religion is back on the barstools in the new millennium. A crowd of nearly 300 young Roman Catholics ("20- and 30-somethings," according to a Religion News Service article) left a few in Lulu's Bar in Washington, D.C., and talk about God every Wednesday night.

"But church it is not," the story says. "Indeed, the only 'Hall Marys' discussed are the passes from the weekend's football games."

"Religion does not come easily for Generation X," the article continues. "But coupled with a bottle of Sam Adams beer and a relaxed atmosphere, a personal faith in God becomes real and active for these young adults."

These "Theology on Tap" sessions were started by a Chicago priest in 1981. "It's time," he said, "for the church to go where the people are and not wait for them to come to us — for obviously, that's not working."

The pub's connection with religion may have a long history. Some say today's pubs may parallel the wells of Palestine, where Jesus is said to have frequently met with people (including "winebibbers," according to the Bible) during his ministry.

A few years ago, Krackers Restaurant on Manhattan's East Side had a Lutheran minister for a bartender.

When people would ask Rev. Dale Lind, "What's a nice minister like you doing in a place like this?" he could tell them his Lutheran synod had authorized his pub ministry.

Lind, during his three years as assistant pastor at a Lutheran church in Manhattan, became concerned about what young people were doing with their lives. Later, while attending New York Theological Seminary where he earned a master's degree in Urban Ministry, Lind took a crash course at a bartending school and landed a job at a bar on the West Side.

Much of the pastor-bartender's work is counseling — but not the formal kind. Often it is done with a bar rag in one hand.

Lind said he had to learn to speak the language of today's young people.

Sometimes, he discovered, patrons became suspicious when they learned he was a clergyman. "The wary ones, however, soon got to trust me as a person."

"The bar has been a confessional for ages," Lind said. "The bartender hears what men won't tell their wives or close friends. Like a good minister, a bartender must be a good listener. Quite a few bartenders I know can give a lesson to preachers who talk too much and don't listen enough." Set 'em up, Reverend.

Sanford Main Street Kicks Off Membership Drive

Your Community Needs YOU!

If you believe in our Historic Downtown, if you like what has been happening, if you have a vision of what downtown can be, you need to be a member of Sanford Main Street, Inc. You don't have to own a business to belong to Main Street. We are not a merchant organization.

The primary objective of Main Street is to preserve our historic downtown and to energize and revitalize it!

If you believe that can happen (and it is in fact happening) we need you to invest in Main Street. Membership investments in Main Street range from $25 Booster membership to $4,000 Patron. If you are hesitating to reach into your pocket for your checkbook, just ask yourself this, "Whose downtown is it anyway?" It doesn't belong to the mayor, it doesn't belong to the city. It's yours! It belongs to you! Main Street is an organization that can and will help you preserve your downtown.

We are beginning a major membership drive. It will continue through the First Quarter of 2001. Not only are we asking you to invest in downtown and become a member of Main Street, but as soon as you do, we're asking that you immediately find two friends whom you know believe in Sanford and get them to join also.

You can call or stop by the main Street office (209-B W. 1st St.) to pick up a membership packet or contact our membership chairwoman, "Bert" Padgett at 407-324-9238. Contact Walt Padgett at: 407-322-5600.

In Sociology.

He is married to his school sweetheart, Elnora. They have two children.

To further his career in education, he taught social studies and coached in Franklin County. In 1959 he became social studies teacher/coach at Crooms High School.

During the transition to integrated schools in Seminole County, Holt was assigned to Lakeview Middle School as a teacher, where he became Dean and Assistant Principal (1973-82). He continued his education by earning his Master's Degree in Administration and Supervision from Florida Technological University, UCF. From 1982 to 1989, he served as principal of Milwee Middle School.

To further his career in Seminole County's education system, he became Seminole County's Director of Middle Schools.

Holt's contribution to the youth of this community has touched the lives of many student athletes who received scholarships to further their education.

With his desire to help students, he was instrumental in helping to develop a model for teaching gifted education in the middle schools of Seminole County. The model was later used in other counties.

Holt founded "Awareness as a Solution, Inc.", which introduced positive methods, facilitated problem-solving, team-building, and established strategies which resulted in decreased violence in schools and communities.

During his 37 years in the educational field of Seminole County, he has touched the lives of an infinite number of young people.

He is an ardent member of St. Paul Missionary Baptist Church and founder of the Orlando graduate chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity.

The celebration of the human spirit for the guest and honorees was an evening of cultural entertainment of music presented by artists of Sanford.

The Hamilton Singers, a group of youthful voices rendered songs that fed the soul deep down in the heart, under the direction of Gracia M. Miller, Hamilton Elementary cluster magnet communication through advanced technology.

The inspirational singers' selections told us in song of how families of all "Got Over." The old spirituals will always smooth the soul, with renditions of "Guide Me O Thou Great Jehovah", "Over My Head", "Hush Somebody's Calling my Name". Some of Sanford's golden voices sang those songs of comfort to the glory of God. Blending their voices were talented angels of song: Beverly Jenkins, Marylene M. Jennings, Arlene Jones, Gracia M. Miller, Robin Muller, Catherine Mullins, Patricia Whitley. Narrator was Valada Flewellyn.

To the audience's enjoyment, Broadway artist, Sanford's Alton LaThrop presented "Anticipation Jubilation" as he stole the show with Broadway renditions from "Hello Dolly", "Saturday Night's Life", and "The Impossible Dream". The memory of many looked back at such greats as Pearl Bailey and Cab Calloway. Joining LaThrop was Doug Siringu, pianist, musical director Joseph Whitt, bassist, Tina Flewellyn, Tamiya Johnson, Tovah Gill, dancers.

Chocolate for your Valentine

Consisting of cocoa and sugar, other ingredients like milk, honey, dried fruits, nuts, liqueur, etc, have been added to chocolate for centuries by expert chocolate makers to refine taste, consistency, smoothness and quality.

In 1778, the first hydraulic machine for crushing and mixing the chocolate paste appeared in France; and in 1819, Pelletier built the first factory to use steam. Families such as Van Houten in the Netherlands, (1815), Menier in France (1824) Cadbury and Rowntree in England and Nestle Lindt and Kohler in Switzerland were among the founders of the chocolate industry. Doctor Peter, a Swiss man, was responsible for the invention of milk chocolate in 1818.

Chocolate, an essential ingredient in numerous cakes, pastries and desserts, was also considered equally important in the medical world. In the 16th and 17th Centuries, a certain type of chocolate was used by pharmacists in apothecary remedies for the treatment of stomach illnesses, even for royalty such as Louis XVI.

The Quality Of Chocolate

The quality of the chocolate depends on the quality of the raw materials and on the care taken at the different stages of manufacturing: roasting and crushing the cocoa beans and mixing the cocoa paste.

A good chocolate is shiny brown, breaks cleanly, and is free of lumps, tiny burst bubbles, and white specks. It melts on the tongue like butter, has a true aroma of chocolate rather than of cocoa powder, and is neither greasy nor sticky.

The more cocoa butter it contains, the softer and creamier is the chocolate. The less it contains, the harder and more brittle it is. The more bitter the chocolate, the more flavor it has.

Chocolate Cake

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Sieve 125 grams (4 ounces, generous cup) flour. Break three eggs, separating the white from the yolks. Add 125 grams (4 ounces, scant 2/3 cup) firmly packed sugar to the yolks and beat with wooden spoon until the mixture has increased in volume and has become foamy.

Break 150 grams (5 ounces) unsweetened cooking chocolate into small pieces in a saucepan. Heat it gently with 3 tablespoons milk in a Bain Marie with the lid on. Whip the eggs whites into very stiff peaks with a pinch of salt.

Blend 125 grams (4 1/2 ounces, generous cup) softened butter with the chocolate, stir until it has melted and becomes smooth (possibly adding 1 tablespoon instant coffee) and then pour the chocolate mixture into a warm mixing bowl. Immediately add the mixture of egg yolks and sugar and stir briskly. Then add the sifted flour and quickly blend in the stiff egg whites.

Pour the mixture into a buttered mold and bake in the oven for about 45 minutes. During this time, prepare a caramel with 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon of water, and 1 tablespoon vinegar. Roll 10 walnuts in the caramel, and set aside on an oiled plate.

When the cake is cooked, leave it to cool in its mold, and prepare a chocolate icing (frosting) according to the recipe below. Turn out the cold cake onto a rack above a dish. Pour the icing over the cake and spread it over the top and sides with a palette knife. Decorate with the walnuts and keep in a cool place until ready to serve.

Chocolate Icing (Frosting)

Sift 4 ounces (1 cup) confectioners sugar. Melt 4 ounces cooking chocolate in a Bain-Marie, working it with a wooden spoon. Add the sifted sugar the 2 ounces (5 tablespoons) softened butter (in small pieces). Continue to stir until the mixture is completely melted and remove from heat. Then dilute gradually with 6 tablespoons (scant 1/2 cup) cold water. Use the icing (frosting) when slightly warm.

Hot Chocolate, Anyone?

It was in the form of a drink that chocolate was discovered in Mexico and then introduced into Europe by the Spanish. The Aztecs prepared a highly spiced beverage with cocoa beans that were roasted, pounded in a mortar, and mixed and flavored with pepper, chilis, vanilla, annatto (to dye it red), and sometimes honey and dried flowers.

The Jesuits were the first to improve this product in order to make a profit from it. Chocolate, at this time, was always prepared with water, but it was very sweet and flavored with vanilla, strengthened with ambergris and musk.

Soon, chocolate became fashionable among the high society of Spain.

In 1615, Ann of Austria introduced this novelty to the French court, and her maids of honor circulated the recipes.

It was in England that it became customary to prepare it with milk, and even to add Madeira and beaten eggs. Since the church did not consider that chocolate broke the fast, society ladies had the drink served in church during the sermons.

Austria, Spain, and France were the countries where the chocolate powder began to retail during the 19th century. Baizac did not think highly of it; "Who knows whether the abuse of chocolate has not had something to do with the debasement of the Spanish nation, which, at the time of the discovery of chocolate, was about to recreate the Roman Empire." But Brillat-Savarin rose to its defense: "Chocolate is one of the most powerful restoratives."

Foamy Chocolate

4 cups milk
9 ounces chocolate
1 tablespoon vanilla
1 tablespoon sugar
A pinch of cinnamon

Break the chocolate into small pieces in a saucepan and heat gently.

When the chocolate begins to soften, add the chosen flavors together with a small cup of boiling milk. Beat the chocolate thoroughly with a whisk. Then gradually pour in the rest of the hot milk.

Warm over a gentle heat, whisking all the time to make the chocolate foamy. The vanilla (or cinnamon) might be replaced by 1 tablespoon of instant coffee.

Grace Hudson Visited At Amaranth Home

Amaranth members from all-Florida are assigned "moms and pops" annually among the residents of the Amaranth Masonic home in St. Petersburg. During the year, Amaranth members remember these "moms and pops" on special occasions.

According to the past Grand Royal Matron June McFadden, in January the Grand Associate Matron and Grand Associate Patron visit the home on Amaranth Masonic Home Day and present each mom and pop with love money and a corsage. The guests of honor are also entertained. This year's oldest guest of honor was 91 years old, and the youngest was 72. A love offering is raised annually toward the purchase of a gift with this year's funds going toward a large television for the entertainment center.

While at the home, June visited with Grace Hudson, formerly of Sanford, where she was a member of the First United Methodist Church. June said, "To visit the home is such a blessing. They have all the comforts of home. I had the opportunity to visit Grace Hudson. She is very happy."

Her address is: Grace Hudson, C/O Diane Butler Social Services, 3201 1st Street, St. Petersburg, FL 33704.

'Mother Hicks' Coming

The delightful play, "Mother Hicks," which tickled local audiences in Sanford is back by popular request. Mother Hicks will be presented at 8:00 p.m., on Feb. 12 and 3, Feb. 8, 9 and 10, at the Helen Stairs Theatre. The cast is all local and is said to be "a fun thing."
