

Of Lice... —Parental Apathy, Wrong Treatment Blamed For Continuing Problem

By LEONARD KRANEDORF
Herald Staff Writer

It's been nearly two months since the Seminole County school district discovered it has a major head lice problem at its elementary schools — and today the problem is unchanged because of incorrect treatment and parental apathy, according to Marian Small, district health officer.

Mrs. Small said today children sent home from school because they have head lice are being treated by parents with conventional shampoos instead of medicinal shampoos, or not being treated at all.

And, she noted, in those cases where children are sent home, they are supposed to be checked by school personnel before being re-admitted, but in many cases the check isn't made and these children are getting back into the schools undetected.

"I would say the problem is still the same as it was earlier this year and I haven't seen any real change," said Mrs. Small, consultant coordinator of health education and health services for Seminole County schools.

"In some cases the parents are just not giving the students any treatment for the lice," she noted.

...And Midges —Reservoir Near FP&L Eyed As Breeding Site

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

A major breeding place of the horde of midges (blind mosquitoes) which infest the lakefront of Lake Monroe during certain periods of time each year may have been found.

It appears at this point that the place may be an 1,100-acre cooling reservoir located a mile north of the Sanford plant of Florida Power and Light (FPL), U.S. 17-82 on the Volusia County side, according to Dr. Arshad Ali, Dr. Ali is in charge of the research program at the Sanford Agricultural Research and Education Center of the University of Florida.

But, said Dr. Ali, much more work is required before it can be determined for a certainty that the cooling reservoir is "the" major breeding place.

Then it must be determined how to reduce the midge population at that site and the effects on the fish population from various forms of reducing the midges to acceptable levels.

Dr. Ali said he has been sampling Lake Monroe every week for more than three months. "The level density of the larvae is very low compared to previous years in

Commissioners: Sanford PD Panel Would Find Nothing

DIME(S) MARCHES ON

Sanford Grammar School youngsters held their own mini-walk for March of Dimes today led by top pledge-getter Sharon Dymn, 11, (left) who raised more than $23 and Barbara Powell, 12, who was second with more than $22. Marchers used the block around their school as their course.

Sanford city commissioners today said any panel established to look into the affairs of the city police department would find no evidence of wrongdoing or mismanagement.

These were the thoughts expressed by the commissioners who reacted today to an Evening Herald article published Sunday in which a commission candidate said he would demand a panel be established to look into the police department's affairs.

He said he would ask for the panel because of statements made to him by the general public during his campaign.

The candidate is David Farr, working a third district seat opposing incumbent A.A. McClanahan. Farr said he would ask the commission to establish such a panel.

McClanahan referred to the move as "political theater" today.

"It is regrettable any candidate would deal in last minute political theater in an attempt to enhance his position," said McClanahan.

"The citizens of Sanford lack confidence in the police department, because of the alleged irregularities or questions of impropriety such as the incident at the Pwter Pub; police resignations; low morale at the department; and the fear of retribution by police officers who want to speak out," Farr said.

Commission members opposing the panel were McClanahan and John Merritt. Commissioner Julian Stromstrom said he did not feel the review is necessary, but would vote for such a panel if citizens demanded it. Mayor Lee P. Moore said he felt more information was needed on the proposal. Commissioner Eddie Keith said he did not feel the committee is needed but would like more information.

"From my personal contact with the police department," said McClanahan, "morale at the police department is higher today than in 14 months."

McClanahan also said he did not feel citizens were calling for such an investigation.

"In making 1,200 phone calls in the past week and from my workers calling on over 4,000 households not one time has that question been raised," said McClanahan.

McClanahan said he received about 20 telephone calls since the article revealing Farr's

County PTA: From Tea And Cookies To Speaking Out

By LEONARD KRANEDORF
Herald Staff Writer

A pleasant group of women are sitting around a table cluttered with tea and cookies. Their conversation is filled with the latest gossip about friends and neighbors.

For years, this scene has been the image of the Parent Teacher Association (PTA).

However, across the country and in Seminole County this scene has changed to where social activities has taken the place of the life conversation and more men are taking an interest in the workings of the organization.

"There is no doubt we are getting away from the image of mothers just sitting around drinking tea and eating cookies and really not doing much for the school or community," says Lila Litter who served for two years as president of the Altamonte Elementary School PTA.

"I think as a whole parents are becoming more knowledgeable and aware of laws and community involvement and are starting to use the PTA as a way to show their interest," she added.

Mrs. Litter cited her recent unsuccessful attempt to have the school board place a fence around an area of the school that the PTA thought was a hazard to students.

"Although we were defeated I think it showed people the PTA has many diverse concerns," she said.

A similar viewpoint is shared by Patry Prunty, who is serving her second term as president of the Tusculum Middle School PTA.

"I think parents are looking more at the family and what affects them and feel they want to have more say, especially on what is going to affect their children," she said.

'Parents are becoming more knowledgeable and aware of laws and community involvement...'

She cited the PTA's recent stand against the attempt to legislate child gambling in Florida. "PTA's took a no stand against that issue because it was feared that it would have an adverse effect on children of all ages," she said.

One organization which has been active in promoting this activism is the County Council of PTA.

The president of this council, Ann Boston, is also aware of the change.

"Several years ago the PTA would just be interested in fund raising for parties," she said, "but within the last few years PTA people are starting to speak out on issues and have even established a lobbying office in Washington D.C. and Tallahassee."

PTA membership last school year was 4,800 a decline from 7,000 two years ago. Mrs. Boston attributed the decrease to the disbanding of some PTAs last year.

"I'm a firm believer in involving everyone and I think we are making good moves in that direction in this county," she said.

One of these male presidents is Jay Robert who is serving his first year as Lyman High School PTA president.

"I became interested in the school and the students and thought

30,000 Watch Altamonte Parade

The first of several parades, the fourth annual Alamonte-Casselberry Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade, Sunday afternoon in weather more reminiscent of the Fourth of July drew an estimated 30,000 spectators who lined SR 434 from the Alamonte Mall to 17-82 for the 1 1/2 hour march.

This was the biggest crowd yet for the annual event, according to chamber officials. There were more than 90 units in the parade.

"We had 18 scheduled, but people we never heard of kept showing up at the last minute," said Bill Taylor, executive director of the chamber.

The developer's trophy for the best marching unit went to the Lake Brantley High School Band. The grand marshal's trophy for the best commercial float went to Sun Beach.

The "Best non-commercial float," a float depicting an old-fashioned Christmas entered by the Elks ELS 252 of Apopka and Elksites, was awarded the president's trophy.

The Tangent Sports Assn. Duet won the mayor's award for best theme and the chairman's trophy for first runner-up went to the Seminoles Indian Princesses Teen Federation.

Sanford's Christmas Parade will be Saturday, beginning at 10 a.m. from San Carlos Avenue west on First Street to Laurel Avenue.

The parade will be sponsored by the Christmas Parade Committee of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce. Grand Marshal will be Mayor Rusty Wilson, founder and president of the Good Samaritan Home.

Makeshift Gas Hose Leaks, 9 in Family Die in Fire

HOUSTON (UPI) — A quick-moving fire caused by a leaking makeshift hose rigged to provide heating gas after the service had been disconnected killed nine members of a family early today, ranging in age from 2 to 18.

Area investigators said four members of the family escaped after the blaze broke out at about 2 a.m. today but they had not been located.

The fire started in the kitchen of the one-story, five-room frame house and it was contained "very, very quickly," a Fire Department spokesman said.

Tracks Jumped, Several Die

ELMA, Va. (UPI) — The luxurious Southern Crescent, queen of passenger trains, derailed in rural Virginia Sunday, its gleaming silver cars, in a wild tumble down a steep embankment, piled on top of each other like toys. At least six people were killed and as many as 80 others injured, five critically.

Three of the train's four locomotives and all six passenger cars jumped the tracks near Elma, a rural town halfway between Charlottesville and Lynchburg.

Senate Panel Blasts SEA

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Small Business Committee charged today there has been a misuse of federal funds designed to help businesses operated by socially or economically disadvantaged persons, and no way to know how much is paid due for repayment. It said the Small Business Administration, which distributes the money, has a "blatant age mentality" in re-allocating and does not know how much is currently owed, past due or in jeopardy of not being repaid.

6 Pot Smugglers Nabbed

PATTERSON, La. (UPI) — Six men trying to smuggle 10 to 12 tons of marijuana into south Louisiana in a leaky shrimp boat were surprised by a St. Mary Parish sheriff's deputy on routine patrol in a remote area, the sheriff said. Sheriff Chester Boudreaux said the marijuana had an estimated street value of about $8 million. It was transported to Morgan City, where it was held in lieu for use as evidence in the court cases against the suspects.

Ellsberg Targets A-Protest

GOLDEN, Colo. (UPI) — Former Pentagon analyst Daniel Ellsberg says the Rocky Flats nuclear weapons plant, 15 miles northwest of Denver, will be the central target among the nation's seven nuclear bomb plants for major protest demonstrations. Ellsberg, one of 10 criminal trespassing as a result of protests staged near Rocky Flats during the past six months, said it would be hardy to organize at the other plants because of their remote location.

Woman Robbed By A Slick Thief

By DENISE FIEDLA
Special Staff Writer

An Altamonte Springs woman was robbed at her business after she was duped into opening a rear door.

The incident occurred Saturday at 9 a.m. at Roca Brown, 38, on opening the back door of the Quality Stamp Co., 817 N. Orlando Ave., near Maitland.

The thief slipped the door open as she was opening the door. She was wearing a $100 dress.

"Give me your money, I don't want to hurt you. I just want your money," the woman quoted the man as saying.

The man forced the woman to get about $20 in a clear plastic bag and the thief ran out the back door, according to records.

The man snatched several heavy boxes against the business door before leaving through the rear door, records indicate.

Sheffield's department reports do not indicate a weapon was used during the robbery.

A total of $1,000 in cash and jewelry was reported stolen from the Burger King Restaurant on Highway 17-82 in Fern Park.

Scott Vanatta, 25, told sheriff's deputies a key must have been used to gain entry to the store and the thief apparently knew the company's records.

The theft was discovered at 4 a.m. Saturday.

Burglar got about $200 in cash and merchandise from the LF Champ convenience store at 1118 Colony Ave., Sanford.

The burglars apparently gained entry to the business by breaking a rear window of the store by forcing open a window screen, records indicate.

The burglars tried to open a door into the store, but the door was locked. The burglars made their way to the back door, records indicate.

Among the items reported stolen were 50 packs of cigarettes and one lighter. Also taken were 94 packages of cigarette rolling paper.

The burglars got about $200 in cash by forcing open a window screen, records indicate.

The same store, owned by Lois Alford of Sanford, was vandalized twice in November with damage estimated at $600.

William Cantrell, 38, of 1000 McArthur Ave., reported the 16 horsepower Mercury motor stolen, according to records.

Mark Wright, 25, told Sanford police he was watching television at 8:30 p.m. Sunday when someone threw something clattering the sliding glass doors at his apartment.

LET'S RE-ELECT DON WILLSON TO CASSELBERRY CITY COUNCIL

VOTE DEC. 5TH - CITY HALL TO THE CITIZENS OF CASSELBERRY:

Since councilman Schutte questions the truthfulness of my statements and figures in my ads and handbills, I desire to assure you that every statement I correct—every figure is accurate. I did indeed vote against his proposal to reduce the Ad Valorem 55 mills because I consider it ridiculous. I demand that the entire Ad Valorem tax of 2 mills be abolished for this fiscal year as I promised the citizens when I filed for office in 1978.

I did support the proposal of the $1,000,000 supper club and the estimated $20,000 annual net income for the city, along with 125 new permanent jobs for the local people. My campaign contributions total $1,254 rather than $1,454 as Mr. Schutte claims. It seems that 7th grade arithmetic gives Mr. Schutte some trouble. These contributions range from $1 to $200 from business and professional people and retired citizens. My dear wife, Hazel, was a charter member of the Womens Club. My son, Billy, is the oldest volunteer fireman in term of service; more than 22 years.

Thank you, kind people, for the many honors you have bestowed upon this humble person. With kindest personal regards.

Local Elections Most Important

It's not quite over yet. Just one more election day to go in 1978. But there's a built-in danger to Tuesday's vote: after all the hoopla and excitement of the countywide and statewide elections of only a month ago, there could be a temptation for many Seminole County residents to downplay the municipal elections.

To that temptation we offer one word of warning: DONT.

The reality is this: to a large extent decisions made in your city hall have much to do with forming, framing and defining the quality and quantity of life you can expect for the next several years.

It is in these city halls that decisions are made on such matters as planning, zoning, taxes — all of which touch you directly.

This is particularly true in Seminole County, a county on the threshold of overnight, incredible growth. It will be your representatives in city hall who will have the greatest say in dealing with this growth on your behalf.

For the past several days, The Herald has offered you a complete look at the candidates in Sanford, Lake Mary, Longwood and Casselberry — from a look at their personal interests and aspirations to their professional qualifications and political plans.

The final step now is up to you. Take all of this information and go out Tuesday to vote for the candidates you want as your spokesmen.

And avoid the temptation of comparing these four local elections to the recently completed county- and state-wide campaigns and downgrading them.

The outcome of these four races can be even more significant for you — and your family.

Friends In OPEC

The persistent lag in the effort by the United States to secure a measure of energy independence and the assets that cling to the U. S. dollar discourage optimism over the outlook for providing even higher energy prices for the rest of the world. Members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries have found their purchasing power deflated because of the weakened currency as which revenues are paid.

Iran, the most extreme of the OPEC nations, wants to increase prices by 25 percent at the organization meeting to begin Dec. 12.

Saudi Arabia will again play a central "broker" role, as of price at the current level. Saudi Arabia's OPEC ally, the United Arab Emirates, will support the effort.

U.S. Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal concedes that "a no-price-between situation this year" will be difficult to achieve.

The Saudi Arabian situation, however, may encourage enough interest to hold the increase to less than 10 percent.

Should such a price "victory" materialize, the U.S. consumer can be grateful to a responsible and understanding friend within the OPEC structure.

Leveling Test Discussion: 'Positive'

Leveling Test Discussion: 'Positive'

By LEONARD KRANEDORF
Herald Staff Writer

The first steps toward leveling tests are being taken by a group of teachers and administrators from the Seminole County school district.

The leveling test is a new concept in education. It is a test that is given to all students in a particular grade level, regardless of their individual abilities.

Both sides have agreed to meet again in mid-January to further discuss the tests, but the changes have been agreed upon and will be implemented in the next few weeks.

Under the proposed regulations, the tests would be given to all students in a particular grade level, regardless of their individual abilities.

Other areas which will also be studied will include access to tests by developing and having other criteria such as individual teacher tests and student class performance to be used as a basis to pass the student, Mrs. Greene said.

End Breaks For Some Private Schools?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The IRS wants to deny tax exemptions for private schools that practice racial discrimination. Such a move would deprive private schools of an important source of income for their schools.

But the biggest reaction against the IRS move is coming from conservative, religious and educational groups in trying to block the effort.

The IRS spokesman who called the regulations said Sunday the agency has received more than 100,000 protest letters and expects a large number of critics to show up Tuesday when the proposal comes up for public hearings.

Schools with stated policies of racial discrimination are subject to suits already, but the IRS now is aiming at schools that discriminate without advertising it.

Under the proposed regulations, the IRS would presume a private school is discriminatory if it opened — or expanded during a period of local school desegregation. The provision is aimed at schools that were opened to avoid integration laws imposed on local public schools.

If 50 percent of the school's students were found to be from the local school-segregation plan, the tax status would be null.

But if the school failed to meet that test, it could have to sue to avoid integration laws imposed on local public schools.

Accepting a certificate of appreciation from the league on behalf of the county commission, Williams, pointing to the controversy and debate over the years before major accomplishments were made in county government.

Rep. Philip Crane, R-Ill., head of the American Conservative Union, said the IRS is casting doubt on the role of a social engineer, a role clearly not intended for it.

Later in the program, Williams was specifically recognized with a certificate for his responsiveness to the league's needs.

State Rep. Bobby Hattaway, D-Alamogordo, accepted an award for the Seminole County Legislature Delegation for its work to rotate the juvenile detention center to the county.

Other certificates were presented to the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council for its work in regional transportation and water quality; city of Alamogordo, accepted by Vice Mayor Harry Jacobson for its outstanding fire department, regional power and drainage systems; Councilman for its community development; and Mayor Terry Frisell for its planned unit developments of different types DOMINA ESTES

SANFORD CITY COMMISSION

Committed to efficient, organized government

Occupied in the pursuit of progress thru a planned, concerted effort.

Dedicated to the revival of an attractive, rejuvenated Sanford.

Devoted to implementing a more effective government, better sanitation procedures.

Incorporating ideas with actions.

Nature is the Creator's living example of harmonious relationship. Sanford's growth should be centered within these ecological boundaries. "Sanford and nature belong together."

Geared for continued growth through increased housing and controlled industrial expansion.

Trustworthy; because I believe that "honesty is the best policy."

Obedient to the voice of the people! As your elected official my vote will always represent the will of the community.

Leading your vote on Dec. 5th; as government is by and for the people, it is beyond any one individual to elect and control. So after you've examined the choices I ask you to join with me, in clear conscience, in making Sanford a better home for us all.

NFL Deals Hands To 12, Only 7 To Draw

Twelve anxious teams at around the playoff table as the NFL gets ready to deal the final and most important by-product of the season: the Super Bowl.

Pittsburgh clinched the AFC Central crown Sunday with a 17-12 triumph over Houston that improved the Steelers' league record to 12-2.

After assuming a 7-4 lead despite being thoroughly outplayed in the first half, the Steelers used a 10-yard TD pass from Craig Morton to Steven Mous and linebacker Randy Gradnager's 39-yard TD return of a fumbled handoff to improve their record to 9-4.

To be more specific, he's been invited about a couple of new managing jobs for the coming season and very likely will accept one when the climate is a little better — maybe even before the season opens.

Crooms Cagers Home Tonight

Crooms High School's basketball team makes its debut at home tonight in a 6:30 game against Daytona Beach Panther Legion. Coach Chris Marletto indicates his 12-man squad will be quicker than last year's team even if it doesn't have the same scoring punch as last year's outfit. "Depth is one of the big pluses," said Marletto this morning. "Last year we had seven guys who could play. This year, all 12 can play."

Abby Says: Let Me Tell You The Gifts NOT To Buy

DEAR READERS: Can you believe it's time to prepare for the holidays again? Well, it is, so do yourselves a favor and do your Christmas or Hanukkah shopping early.

If you're wondering what to give Aunt Bertha or Grandpa, who don't get out much, let me tell you what NOT to give them: No clothing powder, after-shave or cologne. (They probably have several unopened boxes gathering dust on their closet shelves.) Grandpa doesn't need another necktie, and Grandma doesn't really want any more brooches, necklaces or bracelets.

With the price of groceries so high, folks who live alone on a fixed income probably would be delighted to receive a basket of goodies, including small cans of salmon, chicken, ham, tuna, vegetables, fruit, instant coffee, tea bags, crackers, cookies and instant soup mix.

Another thought gift to avoid is stationery with envelopes and a generous supply of postage stamps. (Each one has its own price tag.)

Shirley would appreciate a box of greeting cards for all occasions so they too can send birthday, anniversary, graduation, get-well and condolence cards to others. (A special! Stamp some envelopes.)

Don't give anyone a gift of clothing unless you're absolutely sure the size is right. That goes for the color and style, too.

If you're tempted to pass along a scarf, purse, wallet or some useless little doodad you received for Christmas three years ago, please don't. It's a pretty fair bet the recipient will find it just as useless as you did. (Besides YOU might get it back the year after next.)

If someone on your gift list is living on a pension, a check for any amount would be much more appreciated than a frivolous little trinket. Or give someone who's counting his pennies a year's subscription to a newspaper or magazine you know he'll enjoy.

Don't give a pet to anyone unless you're absolutely sure it's wanted and will be properly cared for. If you want to delight a friend whose dog or cat he considered a member of the family, include a tin of cat or dog food for the pet.

Don't give gifts of wine or liquor unless you're sure the recipient likes them. Candy, nuts and fruitcake make wonderful gifts for those who aren't counting their calories, but please hurry, companies for these who are, and lead them not into temptation.

Before giving toddlers stuffed animals with dolls that are bigger than they are, Furville will thank you for not sending their children horns, drums, streamers or whistles. If you give a child a game or book, be sure it's in the appropriate age range.

Instead of giving someone a gift with permission to "take it back and exchange it if it's not what you want," why not save yourself (and them) much time and effort by giving them a gift certificate to the place of their choice.

ABBY P.S.: To be alone at Christmas is not beyond measure. If you know someone who loves being thought of, give him or her the greatest gift of all: an invitation to spend the holiday with you and your family.

Festival Of Music

The Golden East Opera Company, under the direction of William and Adele Pirigyi, will present a "Christmas Festival of Music" at the Sanford Civic Center on Sunday, Dec. 17 at 8:00.

The concert is being sponsored by the City of Sanford and the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

The festive program will be free to the public and will feature singing, solo and choral selections as well as Hawaiian dancing—all in the holiday spirit.

The cost of 25 will allow an afternoon of entertainment for the entire family to enjoy. For further information call the Sanford Recreation Department at 323-9181.

Ballet Drive Underway

Ballet Guild of Sanford-Seminole (BGS) is entering its second decade of performing arts service to the community with an exciting 11th season underway.

The two objectives of the BGS this year are innovative, imaginative presentations geared toward the advancement of the performing arts for the community at large.

In a break from regional tradition, the BGS has choreographed a fast-paced passepied dance to the graceful music of ballet to highlight the forthcoming annual concert.

The '78-'79 BGS Dance Company and repertoire will premiere at the Sanford Civic Center on March 3 and 4. A reception with the dancers in costume is scheduled for a evening of March 3 following the concert for this season's BGS supporters.

According to Dora Lee Russell, BGS president, the BGS recognizes that cultural enrichment need not be classified in community subdivisions. In planning the season, the Guild has committed itself to 13 mini-performances and lecture demonstrations at area rest homes and in public schools. This plan has brought acclaim from the residents of the rest homes, educators and the youth of Seminole County.

The BGS is presently holding its annual membership drive to meet the challenge of rising production costs. A Guild Member receives two tickets to the annual Premiere Concert, the reception for two and listing in the souvenir program, for $15.

In meeting this year's substantial objectives, the BGS needs the individual and collective support of the community toward making the arts accessible to everyone. For information on how you can be a visible supporter of the performing arts in your community for only a token tax deductible donation, call the BGS office at 323-8514.

Chronic Bad Breath: The Causes Can Vary

DEAR DR. LAMB—I have a daughter who has had bad breath since she was a young girl. We have been to an ear, nose and throat doctor and a dentist and our family doctor. We have had her tonsils removed and that didn't help at all. Most of the doctors tend to say that she has bad breath.

DEAR READER—It is indeed a happy occasion when a person has bad breath and it is a way to cure it. Unfortunately, that is easier said than done in too many cases. You have done the things I usually recommend. Bad breath can be caused from a chronic sinus infection. It can be caused from an infection in the back of the throat and it can be caused by bad teeth, but that is very rarely the cause.

HOROSCOPE by BENCKE BEECHER

For Tuesday, December 5, 1978

YOUR BIRTHDAY December 5, 1978
This coming year you will go through a process of sifting the wheat from the chaff and select truly important objectives. Your success will be in the ones you single out.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Watch yourself in any commercial dealings today. Be especially alert for tiny loopholes that aren't evident at first.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
You might be a little less concerned as to whether the other is pulling his own weight today to do your share. Judge not, lest you be judged.

CANCER (June 21-July 21)
Large projects you're not too fond of anyway should not be attempted today. You won't complete them and will only make a bigger job for yourself to do later.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22)
You are especially minded today of spending more than you can afford. They for luxury items when the budget permits.

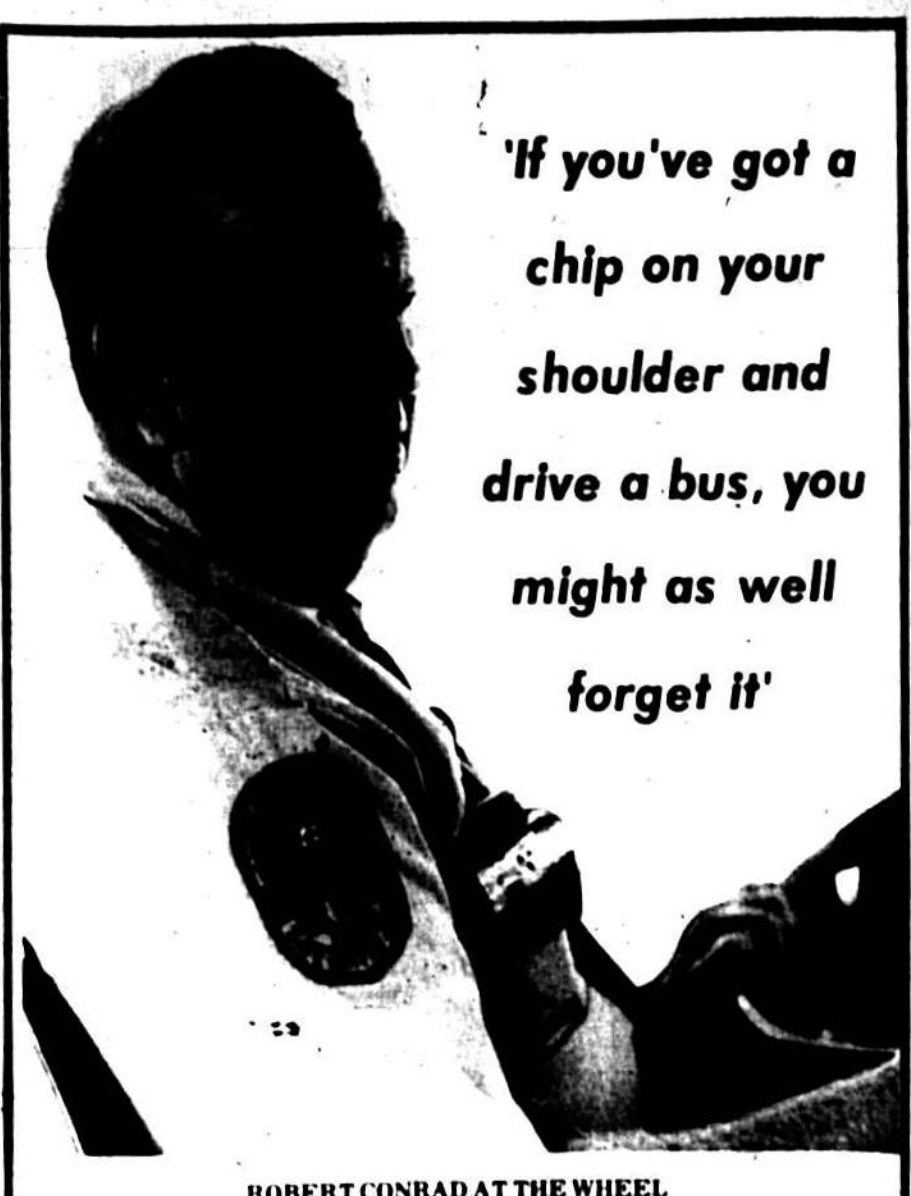

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Things won't come as well as you hoped if you're not involved in representing yourself. Others will see right through you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
There's a danger you could be more talkative than you should be to the wrong people today. The safest thing to do: Don't tell anything important to anyone.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
This is one of those days when you might not have your wits about you concerning your possessions. Don't lend or give anything you can't afford to lose.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
A frustrating situation may arise today when someone you're associated with undermines your productivity and all your grand plans.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Watch yourself in any commercial dealings today. Be especially alert for tiny loopholes that aren't evident at first.

First Day On Bus: Extra Sleep, Cheers

By MAX EKKELTIAN
Herald Staff Writer
The sun rose slowly. Like everyone else it seemed to be having a hard time getting up Monday morning.

Conrad gained the extra hour of sleep because it takes only a few minutes from his Casselberry home to reach the bus stop at the county's Five Points complex.

Monday marked the beginning of bus service for Sanford from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. over three routes serving the western, central and eastern sections of the city.

"Usually I get up at four," said Conrad, who has been driving buses 23 years, 17 years in Orange County. "This morning I got to sleep in until five."

Four Teens Nabbed In Burglar Ring

Sheriff's department detectives say they have smashed a burglary ring responsible for 21 residential burglaries in the English Station subdivision near Park Park.

An adult and four juveniles were taken into custody Monday afternoon. The adult was identified as Steven Charles Gramham, 18, of 3682 Action reports, Page 3A.

He is being held at the Seminole County jail for armed burglary in a residence and grand theft.

According to records, Gramham is charged in connection with a burglary at Castwood Drive. Five guns valued at $1,800 were stolen in the burglary, detectives said.

Sheriff's department spokesman John Spolasko said the ring netted $5,000 in stolen merchandise in six burglaries since Thanksgiving.

Spolasko said mostly cash and jewelry were taken in the burglaries and he said they all occurred during daytime hours. He said the four juveniles, who were turned over to juvenile authorities, ranged in age from 13 to 18.

'Value-less' Seminole CETA Seen If Planned Carter Changes Made
