16-Cent Spread in Sanford Gas Prices Puzzles Oilmen

Another supplier, Earl Higginbotham of Standard Oil Company in Sanford, said: "The oil companies are doing the best they can to put gasoline out for consumers despite the insurmountable problems they are encountering." The price difference of 16 cents seemed unusual to Wayne H. Thraill, president of Acme Oil Company, which supplies gasoline for the American Petrofina stations. "It makes no sense to me," he said, adding that the only price his company sets is the tank price they charge the dealer. "The retail prices are entirely up to the dealers. We leave our stations to dealers. We don't have any control over what they do," said Thraill. In response to the question of whether independent service stations buy gasoline from brand name suppliers and get a price break Higginbotham said, "don't let anybody shoot you that line. As of February 8 there were nine pages of wholesalers doing business in Florida - 253 of them."

LAKE HODGE ESTATES HOMEOWNERS PROTEST PROPOSED ZONING CHANGE.

Lake Hodge Group Balks At Hattaway Rezoning Plan

Lake Hodge Estates Homeowner's Association members are organizing citizens to protest in mass before the Casselberry City Council Monday night the proposed rezoning of 2.26 acres at the entranceway of the subdivision, south of SR 44, Frank Lucadamo said today. Lucadamo, a member of the group, said that property owners Thursday picketed the property which former county commissioner J.M. (Mike) Hattaway and his father, J.R. Hattaway, have petitioned to be changed in zoning designation from mobile home residential to commercial. The same group appeared before a recent meeting of the city's planning and zoning commission, which voted 32 to 1 to recommend to the city council that the zoning be denied. Lucadamo said that a nine-page petition containing the signatures of 190 residents opposing the change has been presented to the city. Hattaway told city councilmen earlier this week that a convenience store is planned for the site, with other commercial enterprises to be added at a later time. He assured that, contrary to an unsigned letter distributed in the area, there are no plans to build either a massage parlor or a topless go establishment there. Lucadamo said the residents of Lake Hodge Estates were told when they bought their property that zoning at the entranceway abutting SR 44 would remain zoned for residential mobile homes - and that the residential character of the area would be retained. Among the picketers Thursday were: Fran Phillips, Mrs. Liz Lumbrazo, Rocco Lumbrazo, John Fick, president of the Lake Hodge Estates Homeowners Association; John Fick Jr., Dan Ball and Lucadamo. Their signs read, "Say No to Rezoning," "Don't Destroy Our Entrance," "Mr. Hattaway, Don't Profit at Our Expense," and "Save Our Entranceway."

Cowart Bars Press From Divorce Records; But Is Order Valid?

Court records of divorce cases filed in the clerk of courts office in Sanford no longer are available to the general public as a matter of course, according to an administrative order issued by Judge Joe A. Cowart Jr., chief judge of the 18th Judicial Circuit which includes Seminole County. Judge Cowart's order points out it is against state law for the court clerk to permit files to be removed from his office and sets up guidelines for certain persons who wish to do so. However, in turning out the files in the offices of the Clerk of Court, except dissolution of marriage files as mentioned hereafter. In qualifying the order regarding divorce files, Judge Cowart wrote in the order: "Due to their personal sensitivity, access to all files in divorce dissolution of marriage... is hereby limited. Attorneys at law, the parties and any judge of this circuit shall have the same access to such files as if civil files of an ordinary nature. Others shall have access to such files only upon motion, notice to the affected parties, and a showing of good cause for granting access to these categories of such files." Beckwith said he interprets the judge's order as "a blanket restriction on the examination of divorce files." "We don't like it any more than you do. It's limiting to us, too. There wasn't any problem with people examining files in our office, only with those files taken out of here which judges had some problems locating."

In May, the State Supreme Court issued a ruling in a case involving a divorce action for a Florida state attorney newsmen asked to see the files, but the judge, exercising his discretionary powers, ordered the files sealed. Judge Cowart's order points out it is against state law for the court clerk to permit files to be removed from his office and sets up guidelines for certain persons who wish to do so. However, in turning out the files in the offices of the Clerk of Court, except dissolution of marriage files as mentioned hereafter. Taxation, Annexation Battles Pending

Lake Mary, County Head For Court

The City of Lake Mary and the Seminole County Commission are headed for court on two separate matters - double taxation and the annexation of the Heathrow planned unit development. The city council Thursday night on the recommendation of City Atty. Gary Massey unanimously authorized Massey to join with the City of Sanford in the double taxation lawsuit filed by Sanford City Atty. Vernon Mize Thursday afternoon. The suit filed on behalf of the Sanford City Commissioners as individuals and in their official capacity, representing more than 4,000 property owners, asks the court to determine whether double taxation exists and if so to enjoin the county from levying taxes on city property owners for those specific services and to order refund of taxes collected in 1976 from Sanford property owners for those services. Massey told the Lake Mary City Council that Lake Mary could seek to enter the suit as a friend of the court, but that participating as a party to the action would have "more impact." He said that all the cities of Seminole have basically the same concerns over double taxation, but that Lake Mary is the only one that has the political will to take the case to court. The city council, despite a protest lodged by Asst. County Atty. Gary Segal, passed on first reading an ordinance annexing proposed Heathrow planned unit development (PUD) and four other tracts of land. Dykes To Hear Tax Suit

Circuit Court Judge Roger F. Dykes, of the 18th Judicial Circuit (Seminole and Brevard Counties), has been assigned to preside at the trial and hearings on the City of Sanford's double taxation suit against Seminole County. Dykes has been a circuit court judge for the past 13 years and resides in Brevard County. He was the judge who presided during the county seat relocation battle nearly 10 years ago when a group of South Seminole residents attempted in the courts to move the county seat from Sanford south to the Five Points area. The suit charged that the county did not hold required public hearings prior to planning for construction of the new courthouse. Dykes ruled that the suit was premature. The county held the proper public hearings and Dykes decision was upheld in the Florida Supreme Court. Representing the county is City Attorney Gary Massey, who also represents as city attorney the City of Winter Springs, said Thursday night that he will recommend to the City Council at a meeting Monday night that it also join in the suit. Massey said that he expects most, if not all, of Seminole's seven cities to join in the lawsuit. The county position is that there is no double taxation in Seminole County, but insists that duplication of services do exist. The county attorney is Joe Mount. The county in the past several months used the services of Robert Nabors, a Brevard County attorney, who is representing Brevard County in a suit filed by the City of Cocoa Beach on the double taxation issue. Nabors has been identified by Seminole County commissioners as an expert in the field of double taxation. - DONNA ESTES
