Circusland Signing Up Leases For Space

Circusland reported today that leases for space at the amusement site are being signed and that preparation of the land for construction of the big attraction should begin in June.

Maurice Marshall, head of the Circusland development firm, who originally had set May 15 as a target date for starting work on the site, said "we won't miss it too far." A total of 18 leases for space at Circusland are being negotiated and four of them already are completed for a 10-year period, Marshall said.

The Coca-Cola Co. has agreed to a 10-year lease for a soda fountain of 1920 vintage;

Chun King Foods has approved a multi-aisle building in which foods of all nations will be served; A & W Root Beer will operate a snack center and the famous William J. Burns Detective Agency has agreed to operate a Circusland police station and crime museum, Marshall said.

Leases are being drawn with an automobile manufacturer for a road race ride and model garage; a film manufacturer for a camera shop; an old-fashioned drug store; an electrical lighting display; a hat manufacturer, a stationery and pen firm; a country restaurant and a toy manufacturer and there will be others.

"I visited Freedomland in New York a few months ago and the place was in a mess—now it will premiere its attractions June 18 on the Ed Sullivan show," Marshall said in explaining that work on construction of Circusland should progress rapidly enough to be 80 percent completed by the end of the year.

Opening day was planned for Dec. 26, but it just takes more time than we thought to iron out the details of contracts," Marshall said.

"We expect to have a better estimate of the completion date shortly," he said.

New Airport Site Up For Approval

The Florida Development Commission has given tentative approval for a commercial airport to be built on a 300-acre tract between Oviedo and Chuluota off of SR 419.

The area is owned by E. J. Slomka and Thomas E. Tuck, developers of Seminole Ranches Industrial Park, who said today that construction of the 14,000-foot runway will be started as soon as the Development Commission gives its final approval on the site May 23.

The airport will be built in conjunction with an industrial park on that site and Slomka reported that his firm is negotiating with several electronics plants on relocating there.

Slomka said that one of the plants is one of the leaders in the electronics field, and would employ more than 1,000 persons.

Slomka reported also that he is negotiating with several other industries to relocate there "as long as they won't be an eyesore for residents living in the area."

The county zoning office received word this week from development officials who said the commission inspected the tract and found the "site to be suitable for an airport."

In a letter to Zoning Director Robert Brown, the commission said that "public notice is hereby given that airport site approval will be issued on May 23 unless cause is shown in writing to this mission that such a permit should not be issued."

Brown reported that the plan for Seminole Ranches was approved by the County Commission several months ago. Under the new comprehensive zoning proposal that area will be zoned industrial, he said.

State Approves Record Seminole Road Program

For the first time in the history of Seminole County, all its recommended road and bridge projects have been placed in the current State Road Department budget.

The County Commission has received a copy of the road work scheduled during the coming fiscal year and its proposed primary and secondary projects are all listed.

The year's construction includes the new Osteen bridge and approaches, four-laning of W. First St. from French to new Interstate Hwy. 4, four-laning Geneva Ave. from French Ave. to Mellonville Ave.; connecting Geneva Ave. to the new Osteen bridge and rebuilding SR 436 from 17-92 east to the Mallard Turkey Farm.

These are primary road projects. The secondary program includes paving SR 627 from Allamonte Springs to the Orange County line; SR 427 from Longwood to Allamonte Springs; Bear Lake Road from SR 436 to the Orange County line; Molnar Ave. from Longwood to SR 418; SR 428 from Goldenrod to SR 46, and two concrete bridges across Red Bug Lake Road.

All this work is budgeted in the fiscal year from July 1, to June 30, 1961. It constitutes the largest road program ever recommended in Seminole County and resulted from two years of efforts by the County Commission to outline the projects and get the state to include them in its program.

The primary program will give the county the long-needed bridge over the St. Johns River and that alone is expected to increase east-west traffic across this section greatly.

These projects are all new construction and will be accomplished in addition to the regular county road improvements.

The House group asked the Defense Department to provide a detailed report by next January on the continued construction of "more and more" facilities for manned planes and the trend for the military to do its own research instead of letting contracts to civilian firms.

The committee also wanted to know about what it termed a trend to provide servicemen with more recreation than is available to civilians.

The committee said it frequently has become concerned before they were completed because they were partially used because of cuts back in various programs.

The committee slashed sharply at what it considered frills by refusing to allow a county for commissaries or for housing for servicemen's families in the United States or overseas.

The committee said a "more strict policy on controlling independent going overseas is necessary and it is necessary at once."

Top Russians Cancel U.S. Good Will Tour

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Russia, in a blunt rebuff to the United States over the spy plane incident, today abruptly canceled a scheduled U.S. good will trip by its top air force generals.

Marshal K. A. Vershinin, commander-in-chief of the Red Air Force who had been scheduled to arrive here Saturday with nine fellow officers, notified the U.S. Air Force he was calling off the visit because "unfavorable circumstances have been created."

The development was the latest in the mounting cold war crisis touched off May 1 when the Russians downed a U.S. plane on a spying mission over the Soviet Union.

The crisis already has raised doubts about President Eisenhower's scheduled visit to Russia next month. Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev himself suggested that Eisenhower might not be welcome.

The president, however, has let it be known that he would not cancel the trip unless Khrushchev personally withdraws the invitation. Eisenhower has said that would be all right with him.

The White House had no comment on the cancellation of the Soviet generals' visit.

Key figures of the summit conference start drifting into Paris today to prepare for the first top-level East-West meeting in five years.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was due at Orly Air Field at noon to begin the talks that will lead to the momentous conference Monday.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko are due Thursday. President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will arrive Sunday.

Khrushchev is arriving a day earlier than originally expected—the change of plan was announced Thursday—and some Allied diplomats feared it was a deliberate maneuver to establish a propaganda beachhead before Eisenhower's arrival.

If so, the Soviet leader could be expected to continue to exploit the incident of the American spy plane captured deep inside Russia.

Judge To Hear Mixing Arguments

DELAND (UPI)—Circuit Judge Thomas Tappay is to hear further argument June 21 in the Volusia County school integration case.

Thirty Negroes submitted a petition asking the county to discontinue its plan in operating segregated schools. The county school board then asked Tappay for a declaratory judgment upholding the board's position.

The judge arguments are on the Negroes' motion to dismiss the school board's request for a declaratory judgment.

Field To Attend Postmaster's Meet

Postmaster Joel Field and Mrs. Field will attend the meeting of the Florida Chapter, National Assn. of Postmasters, at Sarasota this weekend.

A past president of the state chapter in 1948, Field is serving as chairman of the auditing committee and as parliamentarian for the organization.

Plots In Prison

RAIFORD (UPI)—A prisoner at Raiford State Prison has admitted smuggling equipment into his cell in an illegal plot to counterfeit $10 U. S. Treasury Notes, officers disclosed today. McDavid said William H. Fox, 34, of Tampa, a former professional photographer, admitted making the counterfeiting equipment—including photographs and plates of a $10 bill.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS met in brief session Thursday to approve the bond of Arthur Beckwith Jr. as clerk of the Circuit Court. Beckwith will take office Monday succeeding David Gatchel, said his plans to change the personnel of the clerk's office. Candidates Match Promises

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—Yarris Bryant and Doyle E. Carlton Jr. matched promises to maintain integrated schools Thursday night as the two candidates for governor met in debate.

Carlton, called a moderate on the racial issue, said he would do all he could "lawfully and legally" to preserve segregation. But he said he never would allow the schools to be closed.

Bryant, who calls himself a firm segregationist, said, "I will support segregation in public schools with all the talent, all the strength and all the will I have."

"I shall fight for segregation in public schools—and to keep them open at the same time," the hour-long television debate lacked the fire of a similar appearance in Miami Sunday when Carlton accused Bryant of pulling out smear literature and Bryant said Carlton was stirring up emotional issues.

Thursday's debate came hours after Bryant had charged Carlton owed his place in the runoff to Negro votes.

"The people ought to ask what it was that brought Negro voters to go over him in such a bloc," Bryant said.

Carlton answered that he sought and received the support of people of every race and religion.

The candidates in the May 24 runoff Democratic primary stuck to issues in the television debate, and only when they discussed school segregation did they appear heated.

The debate ranged to segregated lunch counter demonstrations and Bryant said he felt merchants should be allowed to choose their own customers.

He said he would use the "full force" of the governor's office to "discourage" any incident of demonstrations.

Carlton said he also felt a merchant is entitled to serve whom ever he pleases, and said as governor he would see this right is not violated.

Highlights of their other points: Reapportionment: Bryant said he has demonstrated the leadership needed to achieve it. Carlton repeated his campaign plank for a 105-member House and a 44-member Senate.

Roads: Bryant was critical of State Road Department audits and proposed lighter fiscal control over road spending. Carlton urged a close working relationship between the road board and local officials, and called for a "businesslike approach" to road problems.

Home rule: Both candidates favored home rule for areas that want it.

New College

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—A committee is scheduled to report to the 8th annual convention of Florida Christian Churches today on the possibility of establishing a Christian college in the state. About 1,000 delegates from over the state are here for the meeting, which ends Saturday. Thursday they elected the Rev. Rhodes Thompson Jr. of Daytona Beach president of the Florida Christian Ministers Assn.

Adlai Critical

CHICAGO (UPI)—Adlai E. Stevenson Thursday night accused the administration of blundering on the eve of the summit conference and of selfishly seeking national security rather than world peace. Stevenson said the downing of the U. S. spy plane in Russia and President Eisenhower's May 7 statement that the United States would resume nuclear testing may have chances of a nuclear test agreement at the summit.

Construction Crews Commended Here

The City Commission has commended city work crews on "the excellent construction work" accomplished on the widening of Sanford Ave. from 13th St. south to 25th St.

In a letter from City Mgr. Warren Knowles to city work crews, Knowles said, "The lack of congestion and turmoil usually accompanying such work, the speed and dispatch with which each separate phase of the work was performed have been so outstanding that even a person unfamiliar with construction work can easily recognize a job well done."

"The responsibility for this kind of operation is due to the efforts of every individual from the supervisors through to the individual laborer," Knowles added.

'Radio Mirror' Satellite Fired Into Space, Then Lost

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—American scientists fired a "radio mirror" balloon satellite into space today and then apparently lost it.

The 125-pound Project Echo satellite rode into the skies on a 25-foot-tall Thor-Delta, the nation's newest space rocket.

For the first few minutes, the shot looked good as the missile climbed high into the black, morning sky. Then the tracking operations apparently went haywire.

Robert H. Gray, field project manager for the federal space agency's Goddard space flight center in Washington, said there were indications of a malfunction during the satellite's long coasting phase which was to have pushed it to an altitude of 1,000 miles.

Leonard Jaffe, project official for the launching, said "There is no indication of this thing being in orbit."

Jaffe said there was a remote possibility the satellite had gone into some other orbit than the 1,000-mile high circular path which had been planned.

Gray said any number of things could have happened—"It could have been successful, it could have gone into an entirely different orbit, or it could have gone straight up or straight down and failed."

Wife Calls Tobacco Heir Dishonorable

DARIEN, Ga. (UPI)—Mrs. Muriel Marston Reynolds charged under cross-examination by her multi-millionaire husband's divorce lawyers today that her spouse was "a psychological sadist."

The 44-year-old Mrs. Reynolds, a former Canadian Socialist who is contesting the divorce action by her husband, cigaret heir Richard J. Reynolds, testified that during their married life he tortured her about matters of financial security.

She told the McIntosh County jury that Reynolds' attacks against her since she started divorce proceedings proved to her "that he is not the man I knew."

"You want to tell the jury he was a sadist?" asked attorney Aaron Kravitch, Reynolds' leading counsel.

"I know he's a sadist...an utterly dishonorable man," she replied.

Mrs. Reynolds testified that her husband, 54, who is suing for divorce on grounds of cruelty and harassment, "planted the seed of doubt in my mind with his verbal torturing about financial security and made me think I was at his mercy financially."

He attacked me, an innocent woman, and sent detectives to prove things against me, who took care of him for seven years."

Churches Elect James

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—Dr. Richard L. James of Jacksonville was chosen today to serve as president of the 1961 convention of Florida Christian Churches in Miami. James was named at the churches' annual convention.

Sales Taxes Up

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Comptroller Ray Green reported today that sales tax collections for April, based on March sales, amounted to $10,000,000. Green said that was an increase of $2,000,000 over the $12,000,000 collected in the same month last year.

Adams, County Supporters To Meet

State Sen. Tom Adams will meet with his Seminole County supporters at 7 p. m. today at the Pinescroft Inn to discuss his race for secretary of state.

Square Dancing Institute Saturday

It will be square dancing time in Sanford Saturday. Sanford's St. Light Promenaders will host to the second annual square dance institute of the Central Florida Square Dancers Association, with more than 300 dancers expected to attend. The institute will be held all day with instructional sessions including styling and a big dance to climax the sessions.

First Methodist Church Schedules Dinner Sunday

The First Methodist Church in Sanford will have an old-fashioned dinner at the church this Sunday at 12:30 p. m. after the 11 a. m. church service.
Everyone is invited, especially any Navy personnel.
Bring kids, fork, spoon and basket lunch. Drinks and the rest will be furnished by the church. The dinner will be held in observance of Annual Family Week.

Youth To Conduct Sunday Service

The youth of the Presbyterian Church in Lake Mary will conduct this Sunday's morning service.
An entire program conducted by youth of high school age will include David Wilson reading the call to worship and scripture reading by Dolores Kirsh.
The rest of the church program will be conducted by Sandy Rowell, prayer; Ronny Lanford, announcements; and three sermons given by David Wilson, Bobby Osborne and Judi Taylor. Myrna Williams will read the benediction.
Ushers for the service are Bobby Lanford, Joey Muse, Bill Shook and Don Coleman.

Circle Five Holds Meeting

STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE

Mr. Walling mows his lawn every Saturday — he and his two children.

Technically, it's a one-man operation. But not to Billy and Jean. They insist on helping.

And, what is more, they NEED to help! Imitating what Daddy does is standard operating procedure for children. It's an essential part of growing up.

Remember this need as another Sunday approaches. You are alarmed over the spread of delinquency. You are determined that your children have adequate religious education.

The Church can provide all but one of the essentials in religious education. THE EXAMPLE which affords real incentive for your children's every effort MUST COME FROM YOU.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest force we have for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his word and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and send your $5th dch.

Whatley, Wingo Betrothal Announced

Rev. and Mrs. Simeon Lee Whatley, of 8124 Sixth Ave., Birmingham, Ala. and formerly of Sanford, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Nellie Jane, to Mr. Tazwell Clay Wingo Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Tazwell Clay Wingo Sr., 2536 Kimball Ave., Memphis, Tenn.

Rev. Whatley is a former pastor of the Central Baptist Church in Sanford. Miss Whatley attended Seminole High School, Sanford, Woodlawn High School, Birmingham, Clarke Memorial Junior College, Newton, Miss., and Howard College in Birmingham.

While at Clarke Memorial College, where she received her associate degree in arts, she was a member of the Aurelian Society and made the Dean's list. She formerly was organist of the Lake Highlands Baptist Church in Birmingham and is presently a member of the Sanctuary choir of the La Mar Heights Baptist Church of Memphis, Tenn.

The groom-elect is a graduate of Central High School in Memphis and attended Memphis State University at Memphis. While in high school he was a member of the student council and an officer in the R. O. T. C. He is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity and at present is employed by Hohenberg Bros. Co. of Memphis.

The wedding will take place July 3, at 4 p. m. in the Lake Highlands Baptist Church, 8133 Sixth Ave., North Birmingham, Ala.

Miss Ella Boutwell Celebrates Eighth Birthday

Ella Boutwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olan Boutwell, celebrated her eighth birthday with a party at the home of her parents in Little Venice.

The young guests came at 2 p. m. dressed in cowboys outfits and spent the afternoon enjoying games and riding "pepper" the pony.

Mrs. Boutwell served a picnic lunch, including a birthday cake decorated in a ranch theme, featuring Indians and cowboys.

Those attending were Kathy Kimmons, Elizabeth Rogers, Beth Williams, Bunny Thorsen, Dianne Beach, Kris Kimmons and the honoree.

Baptist Teenagers Enjoy Ranch Party

Forty-four teenagers from the First Baptist Church Intermediates enjoyed an outing at the M. Q. Ranch recently. The group arrived in the church's "covered wagon" with Gene Estridge as wagon master. He was assisted by H. E. McSwain, Mr. and Mrs. Kenney Echols, Mrs. John Fox, Mrs. A. L. Barineau, F. L. Dempier and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Estridge Sr.

They were taken on an extensive sightseeing trip around the ranch, went swimming in Lake WeeChusa and enjoyed horse back riding before supper was served "western style." The evening was completed with the boys and girls sitting around a huge fire listening to western stories told by the ranch boss, Herman Morris.

Navy Group Plans Picnic Sunday

Lake Mary HD Club Holds Last Meeting Of Club Year

The Lake Mary Home Demonstration Club met at the firehouse for the regular monthly meeting. Mrs. William Heinbuch spoke on the topic for the day, "stop worrying and start living."

She pointed out eight ways of unlocking the worries and letting them go: balance work with play—loaf a little—learn to let some things go—work off tensions—talk out troubles—learn to accept what you cannot change—get away from it all and have regular physical check-ups.

Hostesses for the luncheon, served at noon, were Mrs. John Kshir and Mrs. Helen Powell. Members decided to cancel the June meeting in order to join the council picnic. The next meeting is scheduled for September.

Story League Meeting Changed

The Little Women's Story League, scheduled to meet Monday has been postponed until Tuesday. The group will meet at the home of Miss Linda Mitchell, on W. Third St. at 7 p. m.

All members are urged to attend as new officers will be elected for the coming year.

Sorority Tea Honors Mothers

Members of the Gamma Omega Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha honored their mothers at a mothers' day tea at the home of the president, Mrs. John Dickey, on Lake Minnie.

Guests who called between the appointed hours of 3-5 p. m. were met at the door by Mrs. Dickey and Mrs. I. E. Estridge III, vice president, and escorted to the patio where they were served.

The table held an arrangement of pink carnations, iris and fern.

Mrs. Jack Schirard and Mrs. K. W. Pite Jr. poured punch and coffee which were served along with dainty sandwiches, petit fours, nuts and mints. Approximately 34 were invited to call during the afternoon.

Women on the Go

By JEANNE WARNKE.

A TRAIN PARTY to Jacksonville today, and returning tonight, is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Howard McNulty and his mother, Mrs. Jennie McNulty, Mr. and Mrs. John Burton, and Mr. and Mrs. David Bach. They are in Jacksonville to attend a champagne buffet given by Sylvia McNulty's mother for the clientele of her shop known as "Interiors by Mrs. Maxwell."

THERE WILL BE SEVERAL small parties in town tonight preceding the Navy's gala gilded Cage Ball at the Langford Hotel in Winter Park.

Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Wakeman will entertain at their home on Laurel Avenue. Guests will be Ledr. and Mrs. Steve Oliver, Ledr. and Mrs. Warren Hoeller, Cdr. and Mrs. Ernest Horrell, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Parker, Lt. and Mrs. Lou Beverly, Ledr. and Mrs. William Reyn, Ledr. and Mrs. Drew Chevalier and Lt. and Mrs. Robert Martin.

ENLISTED MEN'S wives of VAHS had a surprise baby shower Tuesday for Josephine LeFites at the home of Ruby Travis. A desert-course was served from a lace-covered table that was centered with a large stork. The clever stork, which served as a holder for the honoree's gifts, was made by Irene Chaney. During the afternoon the party guests enjoyed seeing movies made in the various countries now being visited by Mrs. LeFites' husband. At the present time he is aboard the USS Forrestal.

Guests were Mrs. Chaney, Norma Welsh, Jane Leeskamp, Vickie Guynn, Rounette Sulzpio, Edna Kidd, Helen Hurst, Shirley Parke, Carol King, Nan Quinn and Mary Ellen Fields.

WHEN OUT FOR A DRIVE this weekend go by 2017 Melonville Ave., and see the lovely "Garden of the Month" which belongs to Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Fleming. In fact, one can enjoy the beauty of all the gardens near the Fleming's home.

Their next door neighbors, the J. A. Calhouns, spend much time in their yard, too, and especially in back where they have a patio complete with picnic table and a place to barbecue. Alvin Calhoun, known for his ability to prepare the "best smoked mullet" also has a way of barbecuing pork chops to a delectable goodness—the Warnkes along with Millie and Ollie Loper and Zona and Art Beckwith can testify to that since they were the Calhouns' guests at a picnic supper Tuesday night.

HEADED TOWARD MIAMI BEACH tomorrow will be Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Epps, Jr., who will stay at the Deauville Hotel while he attends the Florida State Dental convention.

Let Argument Cease

The governor has reinstated Mrs. Mary Earle Walker as our tax assessor and he closed his remarks on the long controversy over assessments in the county by saying "I am hopeful that the end result will prove beneficial to the people of Seminole County."

There can be no other end result.

Mrs. Walker told the voters during the campaign in which she won re-election for the term beginning in January that she will assess property on the basis of full cash value as required by state law.

She got a large vote in the primary and the governor said he has a "great respect for the voice of the people."

Mrs. Walker was reinstated to her office effective immediately and that gives her one advantage over most of the candidates who made commitments to the voters during the campaign—she has an immediate opportunity to fulfill them.

We wish Mrs. Walker well in continuation of her long service in the assessor's office and in her efforts to carry out a repeated promise of an equitable tax roll—and we take that to mean one which will sustain the county's progress.

The controversy over who was right about her previous assessments should end right now. Mrs. Walker is the tax assessor and is obligated to do the job right.

And all taxpayers are obligated to carry their share of the county's tax load—and Mrs. Walker should not let them forget it.

WASHINGTON CALLING by Marquis Childs

GENEVA — The incidents of the past few days are ready made for those who want to continue the cold war and who have persistently by every means sought to prevent any meaningful negotiations with the Soviet Union.

Here in Geneva, where a negotiation has been going on for 18 months, this is seen in the sharp and most dramatic fashion.

The announcement from Gettysburg by President Eisenhower that the United States intends to resume nuclear experiments for research purposes fits the pattern. It was made without any notice to the American delegation. More important, it came as the three powers—Great Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union—were trying to get agreement on a joint program of research into improved methods for detecting explosives.

What is little understood is the way in which the Soviets have been in a constant state of offense, coming around time after time to the Western view. They began by saying they would not discuss any control system until after a treaty on general principles had been signed. After four months they agreed to talk about how a control system would function in the Soviet Union and the U.S.S.R.

They came around to agreeing to a discussion by scientists from each country on the problem of underground identification. Having said they would never agree to a threshold and a moratorium outside a nuclear test treaty on conditions below that threshold, they finally accepted this position. They would never accept any criteria for detection which they called "absurd," but they accepted them.

With literally dozens of conditions by the Soviets, the plan of a treaty has evolved. Major issues—the number of inspections in each country, the length of the moratorium—seems to be determined presumably by the heads of governments who meet in Paris.

The American negotiator through all these long, trying months has been James J. Wadsworth, who is deputy head of the American delegation to the United Nations. Wadsworth's Western colleagues say he has shown more skill, patience and persistence in dealing with the Russians than any other American since the end of World War II.

What has made Wadsworth's position doubly difficult is that, while leaning the Russian way little by little to the Western view, he has constantly been fighting a rear-guard action with those in Washington who have been determined to block any treaty. In this context the Gettysburg announcement is seen as the latest attempt to sabotage the negotiations. While no one will say this officially, it is the view of observers close to the conference for many months.

No one would accuse President Eisenhower of such an intention. But since he has not followed at close range the complex negotiations he must take his lead from one faction or another. And while the committee of principals dealing with this matter at the top level of government in Washington is reportedly in favor of a test treaty with proper inspection and control by a majority of nations, the minority in the Pentagon and the Atomic Energy Commission has shown great resourcefulness in blocking tactics. Incidentally, government by committee, with long intervals for taking the decision with the conference stalled, is one of Wadsworth's handicaps.

There should be no illusions back home about the situation the United States confronts. If a treaty fails to be agreed to because of what seems to be obstructive tactics from the American side or if a treaty is rejected by the Senate, the Western alliance will be split apart and the United States left in the position of standing almost alone in the world. Here are the reasons why.

The Conservative government in London has never wavered in the determination to get a treaty that would mean the beginning of inspection behind the Iron Curtain and perhaps the beginning of a pattern of disarmament. They concede the risk of some cheating under any control system, but they believe this is minimal and is heavily outweighed by the gain of a beginning at inspection and control.

Opinion in Britain is virtually unanimous on this score, as it is in the Scandinavian countries, West Germany and most of Asia and Africa. Furthermore, the British here believe that it would have been possible to get a treaty with adequate guarantees any time during the last nine months. If it had not been for America's delaying tactics, the Russians have a large stake in the success of this undertaking, and if the blame for failure could be put on the United States the belief here is that they would undoubtedly take the issue to the General Assembly of the United Nations.

In a vote on the right to continue nuclear testing the United States would stand with very few supporters. The question written large across the sky would be: Why, if you did not believe in a treaty, did you go so far in the negotiations and, having had your way in instance after instance, why do you now pull back?

WASHINGTTON CALLING

WASHINGTON — A string of errors led to some interesting mailing habits of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, the preacher-lawmaker of Harlem who's been having all kinds of trouble lately.

Some of the New York Democrat's outgoing letters ended up in the box of another lawmaker whose office opened them to find — lo! — an apparent flagrant abuse of franking privilege.

Every member of the House of Representatives receives a hefty allowance for personal mail. In addition, the taxpayers allow the lawmakers several million dollars a year to send out business mail, under their stamped signature — providing, of course, that mail is strictly official business.

Some time ago an envelope stamped with the Powell signature was returned for lack of address. But then something happened to give this comedy of errors a real bizarre sequel. A second misdirected Powell missive showed up.

It, too, had apparently gone through the addressing machine with a blank address. And it, too, ended up inadvertently in the wrong congressman's basket and, again, was opened by the staff by mistake.

This time, the enclosure was a mimeographed "To Whom It May Concern" type of letter addressed at real estate prospects in Washington.

The letter, sent under Powell's franking privileges, was an offer to sell real estate. It reads, in part:

"I own the last house of the Douglas Berry Alley Restoration Project just ten blocks in back of the Supreme Court Building. I will sell the house only to those who work on Capitol Hill."

"This is strictly for the young in heart. Perfect for a couple, two bachelors, or two girls. Everything brand new from beams to roofs except the old white brick walls."

"No lawn, no maid service needed, no parking problem. All this for $965 down, $99 a month. Total price, $9,950, or rent for $99 a month."

"Interested? Contact Roxana Dorian Associates, Inc., 235 Pennsylvania Ave., S. E., Lincoln 6-4500."

The girl in Powell's office said the house was sold — to Roxana Dorian Associates.

But, she said, the congressman may have to foreclose and resell the house because of unsatisfactory financial arrangements.

A United States Congressman receives $400 a year to spend on postage — no questions asked. In addition, he receives $1,800 a year for "stationery" which he can convert into cash and spend for postage — or just anything he wishes.

The franked mail is reserved for matters that directly affect the taxpayer. Selling houses under congressional mailing privilege hardly seems to be in the best interests of the taxpayer.

"Out where the tail fin's a little longer,"

"Out where the gas is a little stronger,"

"And the radar says you're a little wronger,"

"That's where the West begins."

Though Phoenix, Ariz., started out as a horse-drawn town, it is now completely mechanized.

The city (now an estimated half million people) spreads over miles of cactus desert. I suppose there are official city limits. But everybody within 30 miles says: "I live in Phoenix."

Such vast spaces has put everybody on wheels. And even the mopeds will not run to the corner grocery for a quart of milk unless they can do it by kiddie car.

In honor of the Old West, however, there are quantities of dude ranches and riding stables in the area.

This requires a peculiar dress—Parker's with a branch store at Scottsdale is probably the biggest all-Western store in the world.

The dress required is skin-tight blue jeans. (We are also getting jeans in beige, apple-green and lavender. But we call them "blue jeans" just the same.)

The jeans must be faded. There is a Phoenix clemmer who will fade them for you. You can do the same thing yourself by soaking them in salt water if you have the patience.

The skirts are Western-style. They have pearl buttons.

Naturally, we have boots. High-heeled boots.

This should be topped with a Western 16-gallon hat.

When we take our sugar to tea, she looks like she is ready to play "Gunsakoke."

This gorgeous gallop, plus 100 percent guaranteed desert sun, brings tourists galloping to Phoenix at the rate of a million a year.

A good many of them remain to live—it is my opinion that they cannot get their cowboy boots off and therefore HAVE to stay. You have no idea how those things can hang onto your feet.

They build plush desert houses among the cacti. They wear Indian jewelry and begin ordering their steak rare.

They run a two-car household to get out to the stables to get on the horse. And in every way it is a most enriching sort of life.

Naturally, this has amazed the older natives who were grateful when they could sell Old Paint and get a Model-T Ford. (They sold Old Paint to the tourist riding stables and desert lot to the incoming Easterners. That's HOW the West began.)

They were amazed but gratified. To them it still looks like desert.

The very biggest electronic firms have moved into Phoenix. For a reason which I quote:

"One of our major problems was getting trained personnel. Everybody in the electronics business is stealing engineers from each other."

"Now when we go East on what we call a 'personal recruitment trip,' we just show the prospect a picture of those desert sunsets and a few girls in Western clothes. And the employe quips and comes to Phoenix to be a part-time cowboy!"

"Westerns on TV have done more for us than anything else. We really ought to pay them."

Such day dreaming has done wonders for the electronics people. Been a flood of golden sunshine to the real estate men, the banks, the restaurants and the Phoenix stores.

The Chamber of Commerce people get all cheery up when they tell you about it.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

CASE E-469: Hal W., aged 19, is a college freshman.

"Dr. Crane," one of his classmates began, "Hal might make a successful man, but I think his parents are spoiling him."

"For example, they give him $60 per week just for spending money!"

"Why, most of us college guys don't have $60 per semester! And Hal realizes he is playing his parents for money!"

"In fact, he brags about how he feels his Dad. And when his Dad occasionally protests, Hal puts up a sob story, so his mother then jumps all over his Dad and makes him send the money."

"Hal now hires other kids to write his English themes. He also sleeps late and almost was dropped from his 8 a. m. lecture class."

"But he now pays another fellow $1 each morning just to sit in that class and pick his for him."

"The prof is having in his lecture, so most of the students sleep, anyway. And it isn't a quiz class, so the prof doesn't even know Hal is absent.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

"The prof takes the roll every morning by means of a seating chart. If your seat is occupied, you get credit for being present."

"So Hal has been marked present for the past two months, yet hasn't been in class even once!"

"And when exams occur, Hal hires an upper classman to take his place and write his exam. If Hal gets an 'A' on the exam, then he pays the upper classman $25. The price is $20 for a 'B' and $15 for a 'C' grade."

"But, Dr. Crane, won't the time come some day when Hal can't buy his way with his Dad's money. Then what will happen?"

"Hal is the product of uncooperative parents. His dad has often tried to teach Hal to stand on his own feet."

"But his mother has always subsidized Hal on the job or has bribed her husband into surrendering to Hal's demands."

Hal admits to his classmates that he plays his mother against his dad until he always gets what he wants.

He never has a foreign sports car. He squanders money needlessly on clothes, hardly wearing his suits or neckties long enough to get them wrinkled.

And he is being educated to think he can buy his way to success. Perhaps he may even learn he can buy his way into Heaven, too.

Parents, regardless of how much money you possess, should remember that kids must be educated to realize that dollars represent minted human life.

Automobile drivers must not let go of the steering wheel when they sneeze, according to a German court ruling.

One young driver, arrested after an accident, protested that he was only trying to protect his fellow passenger from cold germs when he sneezed into his hand up to his face to cover his sneeze.

The passenger, who had been injured in the resultant accident, maintained that he would have much preferred the germs to the injuries.

The driver was fined $25.

It is important to remember that we are responsible for all that we say and do. It is easy to cause extensive harm by overlooking the far-reaching consequences of an impulsive word or action.

The deeper our love for others, the more likely we are to think things through from their point of view as well as our own. By seeking their temporal and eternal good there will be little chance of harming them in any way.

"While we have time let us do good to all men." (Galatians 6:10)

Happiness Through Health Your Baby

(By DR. F. LEO KERWIN)

It is only in recent years that it has been recognized that the excessive crying of babies is unnatural. The most common cause for making mother or dad take their turn walking the floor half the night is the condition known as colic. Frequently this occurs from baby uncovering himself so that the legs and back become cold. This, in turn, causes muscular contraction and spinal distortions which irritate nerves to the digestive system so that gastric and intestinal juices are insufficient in their flow.

The Chiropractor can, by careful adjustment, remove such irritation from important nerve centers, the adjustments dispel gas and restore the normal secretion of gastric and digestive juices. If, however, this condition is left uncorrected, it can pave the way for frequent intestinal upsets and constipation, and eventually lowered resistance to many so-called babies diseases.

Chevy hums through Chicago traffic to the tune of 21 miles to the gallon!

Working for bumper and auto of 1960. Inc. has 1960 Chevrolet pickup trucks (Chicago traffic) day after day. Each truck averages about 21 miles a month in this working city and spend delivery service. Mr. Harry Miller, General Manager of S & H Truck Leasing, who keeps the trucks to the bumper firm, reports: "We provide full maintenance on the trucks—gas, oil and everything else—so it pays us to know just where we stand on costs. And our records show that the '60 Chevis are giving us an average of 21 miles per gallon... with an average of better than 17 miles per gallon. Mister, these are aw kind of trucks!"

Truck owners have good things to say about all Chevy engines. And when they're not talking about Chevrolet performance and economy, they're talking how great that new Transmission is. How it holds up under load. Lets you run at faster, safe speeds to get more work done in a day. Drive a torque-spring Chevy now. We'll not our case on that one side.

Beverly's Mom Explodes At Judge

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The scene was of a slightly tipsy mother tongue-lashing at a distance a dignified judge.

It could have been a funny Hollywood courtroom farce—except it was for real and a teenage girl's future hung in the balance.

The girl, 17-year-old Beverly Aadland, was in tears, sobbing loudly, while her bleached-blond mother strutted around the hall after being thrown out of her daughter's hearing for interrupting testimony.

"I called the judge an ----!" Mrs. Aadland boasted to reporters and then added some choice comments about the jurist.

Bailiffs denied Mrs. Aadland used any profane words in the judge's hearing.

Beverly, the blonde playmate of the late Errol Flynn, returns to the courtroom today where Superior Judge Allen Miller will decide her future.

If he agrees with county probation authorities that Beverly is a sex delinquent, he can have her committed to a home for wayward girls until she is 21. A ruling in her favor could give Beverly her freedom.

Lockheed Plans Program To Insure Against Crashes

FURBANK, Calif. (UPI)—Lockheed today prepared a 25-million-dollar modification program for all Electra airliners to insure against crashes similar to two air disasters that claimed 97 lives when the planes' wings snapped off at high speed.

But who will pay for the modifications—estimated at more than 180 million dollars for each of the 136 four-prop-jet planes now in service?

Lockheed did not talk about financing the modifications Thursday when it held a day-long meeting with representatives of the airlines, Airline Pilots Assn., government aviation agencies and technical people.

Asked today about who would pay for the changes, Lockheed had a flat "no comment."

At the session Lockheed said its 2 1/2 million dollar test program of the Electras following the Tall City, Ind., and Buffalo, Tex., crashes showed the wings of both planes snapped.

The hullier of the five-million-dollar airplanes said the crashes could not have been caused by high speed alone, but had to be coupled with structural damage to the outboard engine housing.

As explained by Lockheed engineer M. C. Haddon, the crashes occurred when:

The outboard engine began to vibrate at high speed because of some structural break in the engine mounting or housing; the wobble was, in turn, transmitted along the wing and the extra force of the wobble caused the wing to flutter and then snap like a dry stick during high speed flight.

He did not say what had caused the engine mounting to become loose or broken but said it could be caused by an abnormally hard landing.

Swiss Expel Soviets Spies

BERN, Switzerland (UPI)—Two Soviet diplomats caught spying on U. S. rocket bases in West Germany and Swiss radar installations were expelled Thursday in what the government called the gravest case of Soviet espionage here since the war.

While Switzerland tightened security measures against Communist diplomats the two Russia spies boarded a Czech plane with their families and took off from Zurich for Prague. They carried flowers and waved gaily as they left.

The two embassy secretaries listed on the passenger list as "Modin" and "Frolov" were caught red-handed Tuesday in Zurich while planning to meet a Soviet agent here. The incident stunned a country already embarrassed by and critical of the U.S. "spy plane" incident in Russia.

They were ordered Wednesday to leave within 24 hours. Today they flew back behind the Iron Curtain.

Varied Reading At Sanford Library

A take-off on Washington politics, a history of Sicily and a tale of submarine warfare are a few of the new stories you may curl up with at the Sanford Public Library.

The library has recently acquired "They Went Thataway," Dee Brown's tale of foibles in the nation's capital Giuseppe Lempedusa's Sicilian history, "The Leopard;" and "Wolf Pack," a story of undersea fighting by William Hardy.

Other recent additions to the library shelves are Garland Roark's "Should the Wind Be Fair," a Civil War story; the comic "Sail a Crooked Ship" by Nathaniel Benchley; Hank Searls' "The Crowded Sky," about airplanes; Ika Chase's "Three Men on the Left Hand," a modern political story; a biographical novel about Sam Houston, "The Raven and the Sword," by Matthew Gant; "Reluctant Cavalier," by Donald Chidsey and Atkinson's "By Rocking Chair Across America."

Sanford Cub Scout Pack 345 will start the season of sun and fun with a day of picnicking and swimming at Lake Golden May 21.

The boys will hike to Lake Golden from the Naval Air Station gate. The First Presbyterian Church pack will have other outings at Boy Scout Camp La-No-Chee later in the summer.

Denis One and Five won the pack inspection banner at a recent monthly meeting. Eddie Small won gold and silver arrow points; Bobby Slye won a one year pin; John Bryant, Clifton Gainey, and Jeff Cox won wolf badges and Donnie Ethell and Bobbie Repp won bear badges.

Mrs. Woodall and Mrs. Cushman received den mother pins. The pack's increase in membership has made it necessary to create two new dens. The six new Bobcats inducted this month were Branny Chiles, Terry Morrison, David Cook, Michael Cobb, John Gillespie and Mike Rudd.

Front - Running Giants Getting Top Pitching

United Press International. The National League race is fast changing up into a battle of San Francisco pitching against Milwaukee power. It's an ironic twist for the rival managers, for because Bill Rigney of the Giants has always been an advocate of "crank"-long ball hitting — and Charlie Dressen of the Braves has always championed sharp pitching combined with inside baseball. But neither has any reason to complain today with their teams already wiping out the bitter disappointment of 1959 when the Los Angeles Dodgers "stole" the flag from them with a late-season rush and a post-season playoff victory. The front-running Giants increased their winning streak to six games Thursday when they beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 1-0, while the Braves used their long ball "punch" for the second straight day to down the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3. The Cincinnati Reds scored 13 runs in the first two innings and crushed the Chicago Cubs, 14-1, in the only other NL game. Gary Bell became the American League's first four-game winner of the year when he pitched the Cleveland Indians to a 3-2 win over the New York Yankees and Tom Brewer's two-hitter enabled the Boston Red Sox to shade the Chicago White Sox, 1-0, in other big league action. Jack Sanford continued the amazing San Francisco pitching streak through 20 shutout innings Thursday with a two-hitter embellished with 11 strikeouts—matching Sandy Kousser's performance of the previous day. Robin Roberts had a no-hitter until two were out in the fifth inning but then the Giants scored the game's only run when Willie Kirkland singled, stole, second, went to third on wild throw and tallied on Hobie Landrits's single. Eddie Mathews' third homer in two games and sixth of the season gave the Braves their second straight victory after the Cardinals whittled away at Bob Buhl to overcome Milwaukee's early 3-0 lead. Bob Purkey breezed to his second win behind a 17-hit Cincinnati attack that included three hits each by Eddie Kasko, Vada Pinson and Tony Gonzalez. Bob Anderson, Mo Braboway and Ben Johnson were rocked for the Reds' 13 runs in the first two innings as the Cubs suffered their second straight loss under manager Lou Boudreau. Bel scattered 10 hits and gained his fourth win when batterymate Russ Nixon homered off Ralph Terry in the 11th inning. Yogi Berra, celebrating his 35th birthday, tied the score in the eighth inning with his second homer of the season. Pete Runnels' bases-filled single in the last of the ninth rewarded Brewer with his second win and tagged Bob Shaw, an 18-game winner for the White Sox in 1959, with his second defeat.

Title Starved Maxwell Leads Field In Colonial Tournament

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Title-starved Billy Maxwell, who pockets plenty of folding money on the tour each year but who hasn't won a crown in two years, led the Colonial National Invitation golf tournament field into the second round today with a one-stroke edge. The chunky, unassuming 30-year-old Texan, who plays out of Oceanide, Calif., fired a three-under-par 34-33-67 Thursday to nose out little Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, the Tournament of Champions titlist, who had 35-33-68. Both had to turn in a sterling golf shot on the final hole of crowd in ahead of seven rivals who also managed to conquer Colonial Country Club's rugged 7,014-yard, river-lined par 35-35-70 layout. Maxwell, who learned his short iron shot on the final hole of West Texas, needed that back-ground Thursday when his second shot caught a trap on the 18th. He pulled out his trusty Texas wedge, blasted to within four feet and ran it home for the stroke edge. Barber had just finished and had a fine 68 on the board thanks to a 60-foot chip-in from off the green on the final hole. While Maxwell and Barber grabbed the headlines Thursday, defending champ Ben Hogan and pre-tournament favorite Arnold Palmer weren't out of the running. Hogan was among the seven who shot 69s, while Palmer—winner of near $50,000 this year—was among a quartet at 71. Five other players were bounced at even par 70. Bracketed with Hogan were Johnny Palmer of Tulsa, Okla., Kel Nagle of Sydney, Australia, Don January of Dallas, Doug Sanders of Miami, Ken Venturi of Palo Alto, Calif., and Gene Littler of Slating Hills, Calif.

Lights Too Much For Heavy Champ?

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (UPI)—No more bright lights for Ingemar Johansson! The heavyweight champion today angrily banned movie lights from his training ring because he blamed them for a terrific punch in the face he received from a new sparring partner. Johansson claimed he couldn't see the punch because of the dazzling lights during his second round late Thursday with Cortez Stewart, a new sparring partner from New York. It was the first time 160-pound Stewart had boxed with Johansson, training here in the Catskill Mountains for his June 20 title defense against Floyd Patterson. Stewart's right jolt to Johansson's cheekbone knocked the champion back onto his heels. Stewart was well shaken but he did not go down. However, the punch made him so angry he refused to box any more or to do any gymnasium work.

Dodgers Call Howard For Help

Islanders Rap Sanford; Locals Drop To Third

Daytona Beach snapped a five game losing streak with an 8-7 triumph over Sanford Thursday night. John Kepic's three-run homer in the seventh was the victory margin. The loss dropped Sanford into third place, eight percentage points behind Palatka. Tonight the Greyhounds travel to Orlando for a game.

Greyhound Manager Robbie Robertson will lead with his ace when the Los Angeles owned Orlando Dodgers appear at Memorial Stadium here Saturday night at 7:45 in the first of three top Florida State League tilts slated for the weekend. Bob Golick, talented and hard-throwing righthander with a four and one record will be assigned mound duties against Sanford's oldest rivals. The Greyhounds swamped the Dodgers, 13 to 4, on their last visit here, and hold a two game advantage over them. So desperate has been the plight of the Dodgers that Brandy Davis, manager, who had not planned to play this season at all, has been patrolling the outfield, adding both defensive strength and plenty of offensive ability as well. Meantime, local fans who like their players big, blustery, and boastful will have their opportunity Sunday and Monday when the Philadelphia owned and rapidly improving Tampa Tarpons are at Stadium in their first appearance here this year. In other PSL action Thursday, Mickey Matlack, Palatka's ace righthander, hung up his second no-hit game of the season Thursday night as the Redlegs routed Tampa 21-0 to move into second place in the League. Matlack struck out 10 and cut his earned run average to 0.55. He has allowed only two earned runs in 33 innings. He hurled his other no-hitter against Daytona Beach May 3.

Bankers Pace Business Loop

Sanford Atlantic Bank took over first place in the Seminole County Businessmen's Bowling League by defeating Harvey's Plumbing in three games. Wally's Phillips 66 climbed into the second spot with 17 wins, and Gator Lumber holds third with Owen's Gulf Service, both having 16 1/2 wins. Harveys dropped to fourth with 14. Sanford Auto Parts is in fifth with 13. Vulcan Materials and Wall's Plumbing hold sixth with 14 1/2 wins each. Pol-Air and Benton Contracting hold seventh spot with 13, followed by Horne's Distributors, 12. Florida State Bank, 11, Abstract Corp., Sanford Electric, and Ride-A-White Stables, all with 10, and The Atlantic East Line in eleventh spot with seven wins. High bowler of the week was George Swann who added enough to his 253 scratch game to give him a 300 series to lead the league. Other 300 plus series were rolled by Jim Kanis 374, Ed Callan 354, Fred Walf 347, Dewey Dunott 345, Jim Doucette 341, Gene Estridge 338, Washy Woods 336, Jess Carstherse, 335, Al Moretz 330, Bill Brown, Martin Yost, and Buddy Bass, all with 315, Buddy Prector 311, Wally Phillips and Tom Armas, both with 303.

Scotch Kegler Tourney Slated Here May 22

A Scotch doubles bowling tournament will be held at 7:30 p. m., May 22 at Jet Lanes. In a Scotch Tournament, the man rolls the first ball, then his partner must try to convert his savings to a spare. In the second frame, the women get first shot at the pins, leaving the man to show his skill at picking up the news. This will be a handicapped series of three games, making it as fair for the low bowler, as it is for the high average bowler.

Bait Box

Fishing was reported improving in most areas around Sanford this week and Wilbur Brewer said at Camp Seminole on the Wekiwa River that both bass and bream fishing is real good. Brewer said there has been an unusual run of large bass in this area, with many weighing a pound or more being brought in. Every boat was landing the limit too, he said. Bass were more active in the Wekiwa the past few days and Brewer said he weighed one in at nine pounds. John Crim at Lemon Bluff said the St. Johns is getting down to its proper level, but that no spectacular catches of bass have been reported yet. Most of those caught have been landed by plugging, he said. The St. Johns River Marathon turn-around at Sanford was witnessed by a large crowd of boat-ing enthusiasts and most of the spectators commented on how close the arrival of the leading boats came to the estimated time of arrival announced by the Sanford Boat and Ski Club. The first racers made their turns within minutes of the expected time, indicating that racing boats and motors have gained a great degree of dependability as well as speed. The Boat and Ski Club served snacks to several hundred boating fans during the morning and there was a boat display on the bank shell area which got a lot of viewers.

Drivers Predict 'Record' Race

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—Drivers and officials predicted today all speed records will be smashed when qualifications for the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race open Saturday. With a promise of a generally fair and warmer weekend, activities at the sprawling racing plant in suburban Speedway City mushroomed to a fever pitch as drivers and mechanics toiled virtually around the clock to get set for the time trials.

Vatican Still Quiet On Third Secret Of Fatima 'Vision'

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—It was 33 years ago today that three Portuguese shepherd children said they saw their first vision of the Virgin Mary but there was no indication the Vatican would use the occasion to release the "third secret" of Fatima.

Reports which have circulated abroad for the past year have said the Vatican would mark today's anniversary by disclosing the secret.

Some of these reports said the secret would prove to be a prophecy of the imminent end of the world in a final battle against communism. The Vatican never gave substance to such reports.

The "secret" is a document written by a Roman Catholic nun,

Sister Lucia, now 53, the sole survivor of the three shepherd children who said they saw the Virgin Mary in apparitions at Fatima, Portugal, beginning May 13, 1917 and lasting through October of that year.

The children said the apparition confided to them three secrets of the world's future.

In 1942, the church belatedly revealed the first two parts of the "secret message":

A vision of hell to which was linked the prediction that World War I would end (the original vision was in 1917) but another war would break out during the reign of Pius XI. Pius XI died Feb. 10, 1939, when Hitler's legions were on the march toward World War II.

The necessity for devotion to the immaculate heart of Mary to convert Russia which, it was predicted, would spread terror and havoc throughout the world.

Some rumors about the "third secret" have reported cataclysmic events or warfare that would end life on earth.

Twenty years ago, while ill and fearing death, Sister Lucia wrote the "prediction" and sealed the envelope with instruction to open it either upon her death or in the year 1960, whichever came first.

Sister Lucia is still alive in a Carmelite convent at Coimbra, Portugal.

Playboy Turned Diplomat, Aly Khan Dies In Crash

PARIS (UPI)—Playboy-diplomat Prince Aly Khan died in the crash of his fast sports car last night with the name of a beautiful woman on his lips.

Aly, 48-year old millionaire son of the late Aga Khan, father of the present Aga Khan, and former husband of Rita Hayworth, was pronounced dead in a Paris hospital shortly before midnight after his Lancia collided head-on with a French sedan.

Witnesses said his dying words were "how is Bettina?" He was asking about the beautiful French model who has been his constant companion in recent years and who was beside him in the car. Aly was at the wheel.

Bettina and Aly's chauffeur, who was in the rear seat, were not seriously injured in the crash. Dressed in a smart green evening gown, she was hospitalized for stitches in a head wound.

Then after being told of Aly's death, she bravely returned to help the police investigation.

Aly, famous for his taste in women, racehorses, and powerful cars, was driving the Italian-made car along a road near the Longchamps race track, one of his favorite haunts as gentleman jockey and Thoroughbred owner.

Just across the Seine River bridge, it met the sedan driven by Frenchman Herve Bichaton.

Witnesses said that Bichaton's car was on the wrong side of the road. Both drivers braked hard, but too late, and they collided head-on. Aly was thrown forward onto the plastic steering wheel.

Witnesses said that Bichaton's car was on the wrong side of the road. Both drivers braked hard, but too late, and they collided head-on. Aly was thrown forward onto the plastic steering wheel.

Miss Hayworth, now the wife of Hollywood producer James Hill, said she was "deeply moved" and that Aly's death "will be a tremendous loss to Yasmin," the daughter of their 1940-1953 marriage.

"He had warm friends in all walks of life and was a most generous and considerate man," Henry Cabot Lodge, chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations, said.

"His death was a great shock to me and I mourn his passing."

Aly was Pakistani delegate to the United Nations and had recently been appointed Pakistan's ambassador to Argentina.

The playboy side of Aly's character had been pushed into the background in recent years.

He took his U. N. work seriously and won widespread respect among his diplomat colleagues for his brief and to-the-point speeches. He generally backed the Western position but did not hesitate to voice independent views on controversial subjects.

Racial Unrest Continues To Grow In South

By United Press International
Racial unrest in the South appeared to be increasing today with new appeals from Negroes for an end to all forms of segregation and rumors of a Negro celebration next Tuesday — the sixth anniversary of the U. S. Supreme Court's school desegregation ruling.

Rumors of the celebration brought a warning from Police Commissioner L. B. Sullivan in Montgomery, Ala., that "we do not intend to tolerate parades, congregations or demonstrations in a manner that would tend to incite racial discord."

Alabama already is training a special riot squad because of recent Negro demonstrations, and Sullivan said officers trained in riot-breaking have been alerted to "prepare for the worst and hope for the best."

There were new developments Thursday in almost all areas of the racial problem, ranging from charges of voter discrimination to new arrests of Negroes for sidewalk demonstrations and new demands for school desegregation.

Fifty Negroes, most of them high school students, were arrested at Chattanooga, Tenn., for refusing to leave the S. H. Kress dime store. Manager R. V. Thacker said he agreed to overlook the demonstration if the Negroes would come into the store in small groups, but he called police when they came in a body because "you can't just let them take over your store."

Nine Negroes filed a claim with the Civil Rights Commission that they were denied the right to vote in Franklin County, N. C. They said Registrar Owen Wilder asked them such questions as "who created the world" and "what is habes corpus" and then refused to accept their answers.

A delegation of 20 Negroes asked the City School Board of Charlottesville, Va., to desegregate all elementary and high schools because a court-ordered integration program "is not moving as fast as it should." A Negro minister in Petersburg, Va., filed suit for desegregation of the city library.

Alabama Gov. John Patterson tried again to give Macon County, predominantly Negro, its first functioning board of registrars since 1958. One man appointed turned it down because of a Justice Department anti-discrimination suit.

A Negro policeman at Goldsboro, N. C., was suspended and charged with assault with a deadly weapon for beating a white airman who tried to buy a soft drink in a Negro nightclub.

M. H. Anderson Dies At Age 84

M. H. Anderson, 84, a resident of Sanford for 37 years died Thursday at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Anderson was a native of Hampton County, S. C. and was a retired farmer. While living in Sanford, Mr. Anderson was a member of the First Baptist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Essie Anderson; two sons, M. D. Anderson and F. H. Anderson; two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Livingston and Miss Ruby Anderson.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the Brinson Funeral Home with Dr. W. T. Brooks officiating. Burial will be in Oaklawn Cemetery.

Active pallbearers will be Randall Chave, T. W. Jones, Donald Jones, M. L. Cullum, W. W. Tyre, and W. B. Wray.

Church To Hear Missionary Speak

Miss Mary Culler White, a retired missionary now living in Georgia, will speak at the morning services of the First Methodist Church in Oviedo.

On Monday a Family Night, featuring a basket supper, will be held at 6:30 p. m. honoring Miss White and again at 8 p. m. she will speak.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with two boys and don't know which one to marry.

First there's Andy. He's sort of blond and sells insurance. Mamma likes him, which helps a lot.

Then there's Tony. He's dark and sort of gives me the creeps. (But they're awfully nice creeps, if you know what I mean.)

I don't know which one I like best. In the daytime I like Andy, but I believe I like Tony better at night.

DEAR "ANDY OR TONY?": Don't marry either one. If it's a toss-up, date them and make comparisons.

DEAR ABBY: The woman who signed herself "HELENE" and said she wanted to divorce her husband because he might go blind at any moment was blind herself.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter Millie, who is 16, has been running around with a fellow who is 24. Now I find she's pregnant.

he can't support himself much less a wife. Can we force him to marry her?

I suppose I should tell you that when Millie was 15 she went out with an older man who got her drunk and got her in trouble.

Should we try to force this second fellow to marry her? I can't raise another one of her mistakes.

DEAR MOTHER: You can't force a man to marry anyone. But he does have obligations toward the support of the child.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ON THE SPOT": Your husband is right. Return the gift.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Teenagers Want To Know," send 25c and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

ROBERT MITCHUM reprimands his rebellious son George Hamilton, in a scene from "Home From The Hill" coming to the Movieland Drive-In Saturday.

'Home From The Hill' At Movieland

"Home From The Hill," the film version of George Humphrey's best selling novel will come to the screen at the Movieland Drive-In Saturday and continue until next Wednesday.

The other feature on the program is "Designing Woman" starring Gregory Peck and Lauren Bacall.

Home From The Hills deals with a bitter conflict in a Texas family and stars Robert Mitchum, George Hamilton, George Peppard, Everett Sloane and Luana Patten.

On Thursday and Friday of next week, "Party Girl" starring Robert Taylor and Cyd Charisse will play and "They Came To Cordura," starring Gary Cooper and Rita Rayworth.

Three features will play on Saturday. They are "Watusi," "Man-hunt in the Jungle" and "Coase Crossing."

Actor's Strike May Hit N. Y.

NEW YORK (UPI)— Broadway producers are holding off production on all shows scheduled for next fall because of the possibility of an actors' strike.

The decision was made Wednesday at a meeting of the League of New York Theaters.

Louis A. Lottito, president of the league, said Actors' Equity, the actors' union, "threatened a strike. The general feeling of the producers is they can't afford to plan ahead with the situation so uncertain."

Latter Day Duncan Hines Aiding People On How To Enjoy Vacations

WASHINGTON (UPI)—There is a fellow here, a sort of latter day Duncan Hines, who is a professional tourist.

It is his mission in life, and a noble calling it is, to teach people how to enjoy vacations. But however worthy the undertaking, it looks to me like a hopeless task.

The way I look at it, if the good Lord had intended for people to enjoy vacations, he would have made them that way. I mean, he would have made them resistant to sunburn and mosquito bites and poisonous poison and lumpy mattresses.

Nevertheless, this fellow, Michael Frome by name, keeps plugging along on the chance that if he can't make vacations enjoyable, he might at least make them bearable. Skeptical as I am, I must say that I think his basic approach is sound.

Frome takes the tack that nobody can enjoy himself as long as he is spending money. It is his theory that if vacations were cheaper, people would be better able to tolerate them.

A former newspaperman and travel editor for the American Automobile Association, Frome last year brought out a book on this subject entitled "Better Vacations for Your Money." Let me add here that his motives were not entirely altruistic. The book costs $1.95.

I particularly admired his solution to the tipping problem, which as everyone knows, is the most distasteful thing about vacations. Frome's advice was that men should turn over this chore to their wives. You can immediately see the advantages this offers.

Beauty after Forty

EDYTH THORNTON MCLEOD

The other day I went looking at fashions and spent the time viewing two collections — beads and bags. The beads are only an accessory but a bag is both an accessory and a necessity.

At Jans, where they fashion wonderful bags, I found that there were some really new ideas. I like the "Mailbox," a square-off bag with box-like contours.

I liked very much, has a detachable passport case, fastened from bone beige to black. It is so perfect for a trip.

Tale About Impact Of Divorce Upon Woman, Son Fails

By FRED DANZIG NEW YORK (UPI) "Separate Parents," a story about the impact of divorce upon a woman and her young son, certainly belonged on TV.

The title is a legal, dispassionate "Armstrong Circle Theater" style — known in the trade as "the actual" — created jarring, unsuitable background noises for this story of delicate relationships and confused feelings. I had the feeling that Alvin Boreis's scrip had been rejected as a straight drama by "Playhouse 90" and, possibly, "U.S. Steel Hour," so he sold it to the Armstrong show on CBS-TV by tacking on to it the necessary organizational standard.

In this case, the pitch was for a club called, "Parents Without Partners," or "PWP" which attempts to help divorced or widowed parents repair their lives. As an example of the jarring note this "actual" format created, I recall scenes in which Nancy Wickwire, as the new divorcee in town, used her considerable acting skill to convey meaningful gestures and sensitive thoughts, only to have narrator Douglas Edwards explain it all anyhow. It was a disservice to the actress, to the story and to the viewer.

I also felt that the PWP group therapy approach had surprisingly little to do with the final adjustment made by Miss Wickwire. This feeling is what made me think the PWP was a late addition to the script.

Miss Wickwire faced up to the realities of a divorcee's life with the help of her father, her own intelligence, her son's behavior and some unpleasant experiences.

Another discordant note in the story was the tendency to make Miss Wickwire's case the textbook example.

'SNAS To Hold 'Open House' On Armed Forces Day Here

The Sanford Naval Air Station Armed Forces Day Committee today announced some of the exhibits and events to be shown the public during the "Open House" to be held May 21, from 11 a. m. until 3 p. m. at the local base. Included will be two tactical missiles, now in operation with the armed forces; the Navy's "Bull Pup" and the Air Force's "Matador".

Of particular interest to model airplane fans, will be the State of Florida Model Plane Meet, sanctioned by the American Model Association, which will feature contestants from throughout the state. On display at the Seminole Boulevard Bandshell pier will be a sixty-five foot Aviation Rescue Boat, (AVR), more commonly known as the Navy's "Crash Boat", which should prove interesting to the many small boat owners in this area.

Also on the program will be a dummy parachute jump, a helicopter rescue operation, aircraft static displays, movies, and a simulated "pill box attack", staged by the men of the NAS Marine Barracks.

Tentatively scheduled to appear are the internationally famous

Mark Twain Died 50 Years Ago; Film Of Life Planned

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—Just 50 years ago this week, Samuel Langhorne Clemens, the beloved Mark Twain of literature, died at his home here at the age of 74, ending a life that was more fascinating than anything he had created in fiction.

Now, a half-century later, technicians are at work preparing a new movie about Twain which will portray his life in his Connecticut home.

The film, being produced by Coronet Instructional Films of Chicago, a producer of films for classroom use, will star Hal Holbrook, who has spent 12 years recreating Twain in lectures and on the Broadway stage.

To write the script for the movie, six members of the Coronet staff spent several months researching Twain's life and times, reading every existing work by and about him. They uncovered many little-known or forgotten facts about the author.

For example, they discovered that America's foremost humorist, whose characters have become a part of American folklore, spent more than 25 per cent of his adult life abroad.

Twain's life was always a combination of luck and tragedy. When he returned from a trip to the Sandwich Islands in 1866, he traveled from San Francisco to New York by ship to avoid the hardships and dangers of a stagecoach journey. The ship he boarded was infected with cholera and Twain was one of the few who survived the voyage.

He was a best-selling author during his lifetime. Today more than 5,500,000 copies of his books have been printed and sold in America alone. Twenty of his books are still in print. Twelve of his books were written either here or at his in-laws' summer home near Elmira, N. Y.

Twain lived the last months of his life in Bermuda. When, early in 1910, he was stricken with bronchitis and a series of heart attacks, he returned to his Connecticut home to die.

Actor Holbrook believes there is more in portraying the famous author than just fame as a performer.

"There is the reward you get from intimately studying a great man like Twain," he said. "This is greater than a theatrical success, or failure, itself."

AAU Tryouts Slated Monday

Sanford's recreation department swimming team, the Seminole Swim Assn. will have its first practice tryouts Monday afternoon at 4 p. m.

Ronald Perry, director of recreation and parks, announced today that he has secured John Colbert, Seminole High swim coach to guide the summer program of the A.A.U. swimmers. In the last two years the S.S.A. swimmers have taken many ribbons in competition throughout central Florida. All youngsters between 8 and 16 who are interested in trying out for the team should report to Colbert at the Ft. Mellon Park pool Monday.

Curci Signs With Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Fran Curci and Hank Stram will be together again next fall on the gridiron.

The Dallas Texans of the new American Football League Wednesday traded New York Giant guard Dalton Truax to Oakland for Curci, the 210-pound quarterback at the University of Miami.

Stram coached Curci at Miami last fall, but Stram came to Dallas as the head coach of the Texans. Since then, he has wanted Curci, whom he called "the best all-around quarterback I've ever coached."

Babe Ruth Loop Action Tonight

The first of a series of night Babe Ruth League games will be held tonight at Memorial Stadium, under the sponsorship of the Sanford Recreation Department.

Tonight's game, to begin at 7:30 p. m., will pit the Lake Mary team coached by Sam Day against Harry Canell's Rotary Club nine.

He Dies For Dates

CAIRO (UPI)—Police said Farag Abdel Hamid decapitated Abdallah Ayyoub because his "friend" climbed the date tree in Hamid's backyard and ate some dates. Hamid was waiting for him with a razor when he came down.

Light Bulb Sale To Aid Boy Scouts

The Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce will hold a light bulb sale to raise money for the community Boy Scout troop, James Avery will be chairman of the sale, which is scheduled to start within a month. Chamber members agreed that last week's meeting would be the last session held until next September.

The Civitan Club defeated Rotary in Babe Ruth League play Thursday, 8-4. In softball play, First Christian Church beat First Methodist, 10-3.

Hide Toothbrush If You Want To Keep Secret

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The executive vice president and medical director of the Albert Einstein Medical Center here says that how you brush your teeth tells a lot about your personality.

Dr. P. F. Lucchese reported that a two-year survey of toothbrushes turned up some odd facts about how hard you brush your teeth.

The researchers — Doctors Benedict B. Kimmelman and Gustav C. Tassman — turned up, for example, that if you brush your teeth like crazy and use a hard brush it means you're more interested in how your teeth feel to your tongue than in how clean your teeth really are.

Terminal Fund Curb Planned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) planned Thursday to introduce an amendment to bar the use of federal funds in construction of southern airport terminals which would include segregated facilities.

Javits said he would offer the amendments to the independent office's appropriations bill. It specifically would prohibit use of nearly $300,000 for airports at Birmingham, Ala., and Tallahassee.

Way Paved For Fast School Bill Action

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Democratic leaders paved the way Thursday for early action on the stalled $75 million dollar school construction bill.

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) gave a commitment from chairman Edward W. Smith (D-Va.) of the House Rules Committee to hold hearings on the measure next week.

The bill was approved by the House Education Committee in March, but has been delayed by the conservative-dominated rules committee for six weeks.

The House bill would provide for federal grants of $25 million dollars annually to states to help construct needed classrooms.

The Senate passed a two-year, $1,200,000,000 education measure in February which would cover construction and also for teachers' salaries.

Town Of Telephone Gets Phone Service After 11 Years

TELEPHONE, Tex. (UPI) — Telephone, which has been without telephones for nearly 11 years, has telephones again.

The return of service has created a new problem.

"You can't get a number on any line after school is out," said Homer Sledge, principal of the Telephone public school. "All the kids are calling their friends. They haven't had any trouble with the new dial system — but the old boys have."

The new company is the Win-Tel Telephone Co. which also serves Elwood, Duplex, Tulip and Lomax. The original Telephone telephone exchange, operated by Weston Teleman, never restored service after winter ice storms in 1930-32 broke down all the lines.

Future Nurses Learn Hardships Of Profession Early

These teenage girls that whisk around Seminole Memorial Hospital in their aqua and white uniforms aren't student nurses who skipped a few grades, or a new branch of the Women's Auxiliary. They're Seminole High Future Nurses, who perform a real service at the hospital while learning whether they'd like to become nurses.

Two future nurses are "on duty" each weekday from 4 p. m. until 6 p. m., all day Saturday and Sunday afternoons. They serve meals, fill water pitchers, arrange flowers, feed patients, run errands and help the nurses in any way they can. The young nursing aspirants are also taking courses in first aid and child care.

The club was formed to help girls understand what a nurse's job involves and help the youngsters a better idea of whether they want to enter the profession, Seminole High Faculty Advisor for the club, Miss Barbara Ruprecht said. About 30 SHS girls are Future Nurses now.

To belong to the club, a girl must have an interest in nursing and a desire to enter the profession. Future nurses usually take biology, chemistry and latin courses. They are also encouraged to enter the x-ray field and to serve as lab assistants and technicians, Miss Ruprecht said. Even boys with an interest in nursing are encouraged to join the club.

Club sponsors make information on nursing schools available to the girls and help them get nursing scholarships.

Pharmacy Alarm Turned Out False

Firemen and police rushed to Touchton's Drug Store Wednesday, only to find that what was reported as a fire was only insecticide fog.

The management was fogging the store and had neglected to tell the fire or police departments, police reported. Fire Chief Mack N. Cleveland warned Pharmacy Manager Alfred Chiles that charges would be brought against him the next time Chiles had the store fogged without telling the firemen or police.

Giving Up

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—The City of San Antonio wants to get out of the jail business. City Manager Lynn Andrews has asked county commissioners for an early decision on rental rates for city prisoners in the new county jail.

Hospital Week Observed Here

Seminole Memorial Hospital, its staff and auxiliary are winding up observance of National Hospital Week and the Pink Ladies held a card party and fashion show to highlight their participation.

The theme of the week was "The Hospital—Many Hands and Many Skills." Administrator Harry Weir pointed out that very few people realize that there are 325 persons directly connected with the local hospital. They are 127 employees, 175 Pink Ladies, five trustees, and 18 active medical staff members.

The 77-bed Seminole Memorial listed 2,963 adult admissions during its last fiscal year and recorded 599 births. A total of 80,233 meals were served to patients who stayed in the hospital an average of 6.3 days. The annual payroll was $240,000 and the hospital absorbed the cost of free services which totaled $15,000 for the year. An addition to the hospital was approved and funds provided during the year and the Seminole County Blood Bank got a new building on the hospital grounds so its services could be expanded also.

Thank You . . .

For the Vote of Confidence You Gave Me on . . .

I earnestly solicit your support to re-elect me your County Commissioner, District 3 on May 24.

Reds Hail Newest Space Probe

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today hailed its launching of a huge model space ship, complete with a dummy spaceman at the controls, as well-timed proof of Russian superiority in rockets for both peace and war.

The 9,000 pound space vehicle launched early Sunday from a secret site inside the Soviet Union was traveling straight in a south-north orbit that carried it over Paris—where the Big Four chiefs are meeting—once every 91 minutes.

Today's Communist Party newspaper Pravda proclaimed in a headline, "Soviet space ship blows the trail to the stars for mankind." It's front page was covered with predictions by scientists and citizens of greater space feats to come.

The writers emphasized the "peaceful" purpose of the Soviet project, contrasting it with the U-2 spy plane.

Scientists here proudly announced that conditions inside the pressurized cabin where the man-sized dummy astronaut was sealed "are like an ordinary breathing unit"—meaning they believed one of the biggest problems to manned space flight had been solved.

Western scientists agreed the new satellite's record size represented an achievement that brought the dummy close to manned flight in space.

They pointed out that America's man-in-space project, Project Mercury, was not scheduled to begin tests on man-capable space capsules until July.

Dr. John F. Hixson, former director of the Vanguard earth satellite program, said the latest Russian launching represented only a minor step forward because "the real problem is to get the vehicle safely back to earth."

Other scientists said the "dummy" the Russians said they placed aboard the space ship might turn out to be a living man "if they get him down unharmed." Otherwise, they added, "he remains a dummy."

A BOND was given to the first Hospital Week baby in Seminole County last week. Mrs. Irving Pryor of the Seminole Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, right, presented the infant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Leonard of Oakland Ave. with a $25 savings bond. The baby, David Mark, was born last Sunday, the first day of the Hospital Week observance here. (Herald Photo)

City Asks Water Survey Proposals

The first step in relieving Sanford's water supply problem was taken today when City Manager Warren Knowles sent out inquiries to eight leading Florida engineering firms asking a plan for a study of the water supply problem here.

The study would include a review of the present supply and storage system in comparison with the present city needs. The survey would also project the growth of the city in the next 20 years, Knowles said.

Knowles was authorized by the City Commission to get the ball rolling on the survey after he told commissioners that the natural growth of the city is straining the capacity of its water system.

Knowles pointed out to the board that water consumed in the city is 1,650,000 gallons daily for the 10,000 people, which amounts to $6.84 gallons per capita per day.

Knowles said today that "we have to increase our supply or stop the population growth."

Knowles asked each engineering firm to please notify his office of its interest before May 23. Arrangements will be made for each firm to meet with the commission on its individual proposal.

Congress Faces 4 More Hot Issues

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson predicts that Congress will act on at least four more politically hot issues and adjourn before the Democratic convention opens July 11.

Johnson said Sunday night that the Democratic-controlled House and Senate have compiled a progressive and responsible record so far but still must act on several measures that lie in sharp political debate.

Among these "must" bills still awaiting final action, he said, are measures involving housing, medical care for the aged, social security and agriculture.

In addition, Congress has to take action on a number of appropriations bills, including the measure to finance the foreign aid program for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Board To Rule On Zoning Tuesday

The County Commission is expected to adopt the new comprehensive zoning law for Seminole County at a special meeting of the board, 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

At a meeting in April, the zoning board and commissioners paved the way for the adoption move by going over individual complaints on the new proposal.

The board will hold the final hearing Tuesday and then vote on adopting the proposal which will equalize zoning throughout the county and raise the standards of county zoning.

The zoning board has worked on the plan for four months and has conducted hearings in all the districts with the exception of Sanford.

Adams Meets With Workers

Sen. Tom Adams, candidate for secretary of state, held a meeting with his Seminole County campaign workers at the Pines Great Inn Friday.

County Campaign Chairman Tom McDonald said Adams held a question and answer period for all the workers.

He urged them to get set for the "final push" now that the runoff is drawing near.

Mom Does Best, But Fails In Effort To Land Plane

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Below her Mrs. Spencer F. Black, 39, mother of five children, could see the lights of buildings surrounding Dallas Love Field.

Beside her, perhaps dying, was her husband, 50.

Black would have known what to do in a situation like this. He was a licensed pilot who survived a crash three months earlier in California. Now he lay motionless in his seat in their four-place plane.

Mrs. Black was terrified. She had never flown a plane before, but she had to get her husband on the ground and call a doctor. She had felt his pulse and could detect none.

Lying across her husband's chest, Mrs. Black tried to pilot the plane with one hand and hold the radio microphone with the other.

Control tower personnel at Love Field heard her frantically shouting "BOB, BOB, BOB" into the microphone. They calmly radioed instructions to her—trying to teach

County Slates Policy Hearing On Septic Tanks

The County Commission will adopt a policy at its Tuesday meeting setting up standards on installing septic tanks in subdivisions over the county, Chairman John Krider said today.

Krider urged all developers to attend the afternoon session of the County Commission meeting to hear the standards. The time of the meeting will be 2 p. m.

At the last commission meeting, Dr. Clyde Brothman, county health director, told the board that the county health unit is working on a proposal for such standards.

During the past two months, the commission has refused to issue building permits to three developers because the State Board of Health said their property was not suitable for septic tank use.

Brothman recently said he personally feels that any new subdivision should install a sewer system as one way of eliminating health hazards in the county.

The commission began cracking down on developers installing septic tanks two months ago when they adopted a policy that the health department must rule on the feasibility of septic tank use before any building permits are to be issued.

Heir's Attorneys 'Lambast' Wife

DARIEN, Ga. (UPI) — Attorneys for tobacco heir R. J. Reynolds lambasted his wife today as a woman who either "killed" him while he was drunk" or who had turned out as his divorce trial.

A shirt-sleeved 12-man jury was expected to start deliberating late today whether to give Reynolds the divorce he wants from his wife.

Attorneys for Reynolds in the case pictured her in final arguments as a loving wife for Reynolds who "spent half her life holding him—keeping his name in this community and in the name of the Gambrells."

But Aaron Kravitz, No. 1 lawyer for the heir to a cigarette million, charged Mrs. Reynolds "took her husband to the tune of more than a million dollars."

She either "killed him while he was drunk or she hasn't told the truth" in discussing her finances, Kravitz said.

Order Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Adlai Stevenson urged Congress today to enact legislation this year which would bring "some order and intelligent discussion into the present confusion and showmanship of presidential campaigns."

The longtime Democratic presidential candidate appeared before the Senate communications subcommittee to strongly endorse a bill implementing his own idea for a "great TV debate."

Elevated Train Wreck Injures 24

CHICAGO (UPI) — An elevated train jumped the tracks early today, injuring 24 persons, two seriously.

The accident occurred about a half mile from where a four-car train derailed last month, injuring some 50 persons.

Chicago Transit Authority officials said the leading car of a two-car Englewood line elevated train went off the tracks while rounding a curve but did not fall to the street.

Avoiding Conflict

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today withdrew the nomination of Edward K. Mills Jr. to be a member of the Federal Communications Commission to avoid a possible conflict of interest.

Nikita Cancels Ike Invite; Summit Meet Gloomy

PARIS (UPI) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev today withdrew his invitation to President Eisenhower to visit Russia, and in a bitter exchange over U. S. spy flights was accused by Eisenhower of coming all the way from Moscow just to sabotage the summit talks.

The Big Four conference (closed) on the verge of immediate collapse after Khrushchev delivered what Western sources called an "insulting" attack on Eisenhower and the United States.

The Soviet premier threatened at the opening three-hour session to walk out of the summit meeting unless the United States halted its spy flights and punished those responsible.

Eisenhower issued a statement after today's angry and abortive opening session in which he said intelligence flights already had been suspended since the U2 incident and asserted they will not be resumed.

Eisenhower then offered to negotiate directly with the Russians on such flights.

The sharp and bitter public statements by the two leaders threw the world into a new stage of crisis and gloom.

Khrushchev also insulted Eisenhower in a different way — he suggested any summit talks be postponed for six to eight months, or until the United States has elected a new president to take Eisenhower's place.

Western diplomatic sources said Khrushchev's statement had virtually wrecked hopes the summit conference could actually get started. He lambasted Eisenhower over the spy plane incident and repeated his threats of retaliation against the United States and its allies who provide bases.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan formally appealed to Eisenhower and Khrushchev to let the summit conference proceed.

In Moscow, the Soviet Union delivered a new note to the U.S. embassy today on the US spy incident. The note was rushed promptly to Eisenhower.

Eisenhower, in a statement read by Press Secretary James Hagerly, was far more conciliatory than Khrushchev although he was visibly angered during the morning session, and answered Khrushchev with heatedly firm remarks of his own.

Eisenhower made it clear he is prepared to stay in Paris and continue the summit talks even though he refused to bow to the Soviet ultimatum or to make a public apology as demanded by Khrushchev.

The summit meeting was almost wrecked before it could get started, but the Western foreign ministers called a meeting this afternoon to try to save it. No time had been set for another Big Four session.

Eisenhower rejected Khrushchev's demand and said Russia's "unilateral preparation made it necessary for the free world to keep track of what was going on inside Russia."

There was no immediate official statement from the West. The population of the Western leaders was that the Khrushchev statement was so insulting they wanted the world to see it before stating their case in detail later today.

Candidates Exchange Words

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — gubernatorial candidate Doyle Carlton Jr. charged opponent Farris Bryant Sunday with railing in a Jacksonville Negro restaurant to get Negro votes.

Bryant, appearing in a debate with Carlton, denied the charge.

The two candidates moved to South Florida today with Carlton going to Miami and Bryant to Fort Pierce. Bryant was to visit Melbourne and Orlando later today.

The clash over the Negro restaurant charge developed when Bryant said Carlton got most of the Negro vote in Duval County in the first primary. Carlton replied that Bryant got the Negro vote in East Volusia County, and then said Bryant sat down for dinner in a Negro restaurant in Jacksonville.

"You stoop so low, sir, to charge me with something I didn't do. I say I didn't," Bryant said.

"It's a matter of fact, Mr. Bryant, and you know it," Carlton said.

Both candidates said they do not expect substantial integration in Florida's public schools.

Carlton said in the event of a "school-segregation" situation, he would support a school, or a similar decision by a local board, "I would honor that course of action."

Bryant said he would exhaust every judicial remedy before complying with such a court order.

Both Carlton and Bryant have promised to keep Florida schools open despite forced integration or threatened violence.

Carlton said he would rely on local school boards and the Pupil Assignment Law to handle school integration situations. Bryant promised he would use the full force of the governor's office to resist federal attempts to enforce school integration.

The two runoff candidates for governor made these and other statements in answer to questions on the racial problem posed by the Miami Herald. Here are the questions and the candidates' answers:

Question: Do you have a specific program in regard to handling the integration issue?

Bryant: I do have. The integration problem falls within the overall problem of maintaining constitutional government. You do the people of Florida no service by constantly badgering me with questions about the race issue, and then berating me on your editorial pages for answering your questions. In every interview your reporters, obviously under your specific instructions to do so, come back to the race question.

I am glad to take this opportunity to make my position crystal clear, if it is not already so, on the matter of constitutional government as it relates to the state of Florida. There must be no uncertainty about the position I will take on the basic question.

Certain rights were reserved to the states when the federal constitution was adopted, and I intend to demand the observance of each of those rights. I serve notice now that I will, in every legal way open to me as governor, throw the full force of the state and the
