Who Art Thou?

By REV. FRED B. CHANCE

This question of identity was put to John the Baptist by the priests and Levites of Jerusalem. They were concerned as to whether he was the Messiah, the Christ, and he answered them, "I am not the Christ." In this experience and other expressions he made some suggestions for us. During this commencement season it could be helpful for young people to ask this question of themselves. Let me suggest three answers.

First of all you are a name and what a name implies. In our culture a name is sometimes no more than a tag, but in a Hebrew culture names expressed hope, expectation, fear. Obadiah meant "Servant of Jehovah." Isaac meant "laughter." Jesus meant "Savior." Certainly he lived completely the meaning of his name. These other persons attempted to do so. Whatever a person's name may be etymologically, it does in fact express hope and expectation to parents and friends. Whoever we may be we are a hope and expectation to someone and to our society.

In answer to this question we might also say that a person is an influence. John the Baptist said, "I am a voice." He was a forerunner of the Messiah. As such he would prepare the way, influence the people to accept Christ when he came. Every one of us is an influence. Is it for good or bad? Is it for better scholarship or poorer? Is it as a witness to the Christ who has come at the salvation of the world? Is it for weekly worship in church or absence from the church? It has been well said, "Someone sees your footprint in the sand and is unconsciously going your way." In another way of answering this question we might say you are a need. This need takes many shapes. We are complex creatures and are pulled in many directions. Through Christ we have access to all God's resources. The Apostle Paul also said, "My God shall supply all of your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus." Who art thou? You are a name which implies promise and expectation. You are an influence for good or bad or in between. You are a need and your complex nature can find its needs met in Jesus Christ.

Altamonte Springs-A Situation Worth Watching

Altamonte Springs, the delightful spot which has been caught in the flood of progress now sweeping over Seminole County, may well find itself a prime example of what takes place when an inadequate governmental machine is pressed to such a degree that it falters and asks for an overhaul job.

Our news pages have carried the continuing and intriguing story of the controversies which have erupted at formal and informal meetings of the Altamonte Springs City Council.

The news that The New York Times is well on the way to developing a system for instantaneous retrieval of information on "virtually every subject of human research and inquiry" leaves us chilled and awed.

Discrimination Against Whites?

By RICHARD WILSON
WASHINGTON, D. C. — A strong case is being made by business interests that the real of federal officials to enforce integration in public schools has created a new evil, discrimination against whites.

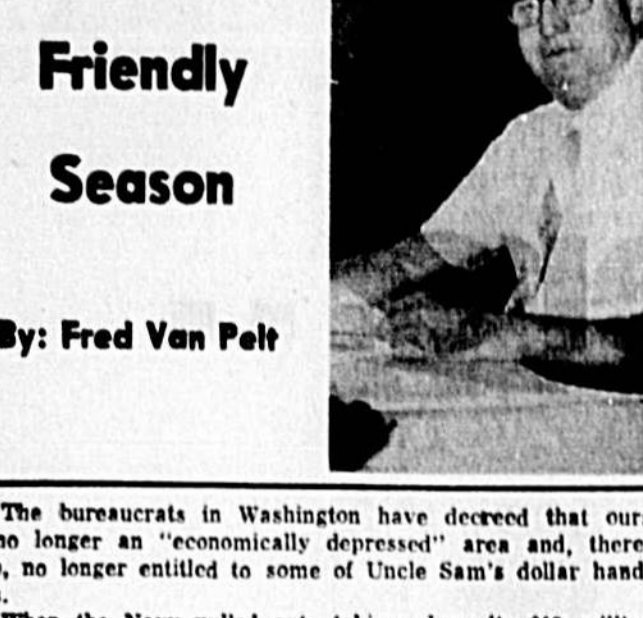

Discrimination Against Whites?

The provision by inserting that employers be "receptive" and work up "affirmative action programs." Recent hearings conducted by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy with an entirely different purpose in mind demonstrated that employers had to prove to the federal enforcers that they were giving preferential treatment on the basis of race, although the federal agencies denied this.

The Friendly Season

By: Fred Van Pelt

The bureaucrats in Washington have decreed that ours is no longer an "economically depressed" area and, therefore, no longer entitled to some of Uncle Sam's dollar hand-outs.

The Friendly Season

Washington's communications that now the area is classified as no longer "depressed" did not explain how that decision was reached. However, locally it was said that it is because employment is up 150 per cent in the area.

Wonder what goes on in Tallahassee, as the Legislature is about to close today? E. Pope Bessett said it was the Sanford Airport Authority bill that had been introduced in the House of Representatives.

Crooms Seniors Recall Highlights Of '69

Activities

Through various activities, the seniors have demonstrated those characteristics of scholarship, leadership, and character that are so vital to a good citizen. Their culminating performances began on April 21 with the presentation of a three-act mystery-comedy, entitled "Drums of Death," at the Sanford Civic Center. The Junior-Senior Promenade, using the theme "Oriental Fantasy," was a festive occasion held on a Saturday evening in May at the Sanford Civic Center. The astonishing bridge placed in the center of the dancing area and the romantic music enhanced the evening for the promenaders and helped to make this year's prom a truly gala affair.

On May 23rd, the seniors had the honor of participating in a unique Class Night Ceremony. Many honors were bestowed, and scholarships from leading colleges and universities were presented to seniors for outstanding achievement. Athletic scholarships were presented to several varsity participants.

Baccalaureate services will be conducted on Sunday morning, June 8, at 9 a.m. in R. A. Allen Gymnasium. The Reverend John E. Connelly, pastor of Grant Chapel AME Church of Oviedo will be the speaker of the morning. Local ministers have been invited to assist in officiating during the services.

The grand finale for the seniors will be Commencement exercises on Monday evening, June 9, at 8 p.m. in R. A. Allen Gymnasium. The speaker for the occasion will be The Reverend Roger Fair who is Chaplain at Bethune-Cookman College. Graduates will then receive their diplomas from Principal E. L. Blacksheare.

Seminole High School

MR. ANDREW BRACKEN, Principal

TO THE CLASS OF 1969

The complexity of modern life and the seriousness of the problems now pressing our society for solutions have increased the need for more active, more cooperative and better informed citizens and leaders. In our progressive civilization, education has become increasingly important as an agency for producing more responsible citizenship and more effective leadership. Our schools provide an opportunity for American youth to prepare to meet these challenges by discharging more efficiently their duties to family, community and nation. We, the faculty of Seminole High School are proud of the record of achievement of the Class of 1969, not only through their course work, standard of achievement scores and fine record of extra-curricular accomplishments, but perhaps more important their willingness to work together in a spirit of cooperation and leadership which is so necessary to help mold the future of tomorrow's society. We extend our congratulations and best wishes to all your future endeavors.

Seniors Recall '69, The Grooviest Yet!

The class of 1969 entered Seminole High School in the fall of 1966. Soon after classes began and sophomore class officers were chosen, the class held a three-day bake sale to raise funds. The money was readily put to use in building the Homecoming parade float. The sophomore class fulfilled its Homecoming obligations by providing the "fuel" for the bonfire.

SHS History

Homecoming '67 saw the class of '69 once again win honors in the Homecoming parade — the junior class float took first place. Junior salesmen embarked on a candy sale to raise funds for the year's activities. The junior year was highlighted by a journey into "Fantasia" at the Junior-Senior prom. Sammy Seminole disguised as "da judge", tied for first place honors in the Homecoming parade — rounding out the class of '69's float building days. A presentation of "This Is Your Life" featured the lives of one teacher and one SHS student, chosen by the student body, and netted funds for F.A.G. night. Other money-raising projects included a fire extinguisher sale and a Shy Guys concert. The historical class of '69 has lived three hysterical years at SHS. As graduation nears, we can only smile and agree — "Seniors win".

NINTH ANNUAL GRADUATION EDITION

Last Class Graduates From Original Lyman High

Colors
Blue and Gold

Commencement
June 9, 8 p.m.

The curtain opens on a group of Seniors just before graduation. They are recalling the experiences of the past twelve years.

"Well, here we are with only two weeks of school left."

"Yes, it really doesn't seem possible. You know, some of us started first grade right here."

The attention of the audience is then directed to a classroom. The little girls have on short, ruffled skirts and the boys are wearing knickerbockers and beanies. As the teacher enters the room, the children become silent.

"That was one of our class's greatest years at Lyman."

"Cheryl Clark was the only Junior on the Varsity cheerleading squad."

"And didn't Chris Butterworth do a great job on the basketball team?"

"The Junior class really made history that year."

"We surely did. Lyman had its first Junior-Senior Prom."

"And don't forget — the prom was opened for the first time in almost a decade."

The audience's attention is then directed to a prom committee meeting. As the light brightens the members are heard debating over the theme.

"Hey, what do you think about this one, 'Waltz of the Tornadoes'?"

"Yeah, we could decorate it with Spanish arrangements."

"And all of the sophomore servers could be dressed as senoritas and bull fighters."

"Mrs. Williams what do you think about that one?"

"I like it, but it is going to take a lot of work."

"With the Park Plaza as the location, this 1968 prom is going to be the best ever."

From the committee meeting, the light returns to the Seniors.

"Well, here we are — Seniors."

"I never thought I'd make it."

"This year has been full of memories, too." "Oh, remember Homecoming? Our football team was on its way to the regional contest after winning the OBC and District titles by creaming Lakeview."

"We really proved it with Pride!"

"What about the half-time show?"

"Debbie Dane is seen with Judy Andrews, Pat Forward, Judy Eller, and a photographer, while he is taking pictures."

"Do you remember our English teacher Miss Peterson?"

"She was always wearing red and white pleated skirts."

As this discussion ends, Miss Peterson is seen conducting a class. While she is writing on the board everyone is talking.

"Did you go to the dance on Friday?" "Yes." "Well, what happened?" "Mrs. Foster was there; the belle of the ball! She danced with all of the basketball players."

"And — we were only allowed two cookies and half a cup of punch for refreshments!"

"Now I ask you, 'Is that any way to run a dance?'"

The soon-to-be graduates take up this discussion.

"All of that entertainment for only 75 cents."

"The money was used to purchase benches for the front of the school."

"Yes, but they didn't arrive until after we left."

The Senior nostalgic discussion continues.

"Well, most of us managed to make it over to dear 'ol Lyman High."

"Wow, we surely were a bunch of petrified sophomores with all of those Juniors and Seniors."

As a group of frightened sophomores walk down the hall looking for their next class, one of them bumps into a very large Senior and knocks his books out of his arms.

"Oh, did I hurt you Sir? I'll pick them up for you, Sir."

"Well, can I polish your shoes, Sir?"

"Pardon us, Sir, but can you tell us where Room 22 is, Sir?"

The discussion group resumes its talk about it's sophomore days.

"You could easily tell the sophomores from the seniors."

"Yeah, the 10th graders were the only ones who could reach the water fountains."

"We did contribute something to the school that year, though. Chris Butterworth, our class president, was the only sophomore on the Varsity Basketball team."

History

As the light dims on the first grade classroom the Seniors resume their discussion.

"The following year all of us spread out and went to various elementary schools."

The discussion of past experiences is then resumed by the almost-graduates.

"From the seventh grade, most of us made it to the eighth."

"That was the year we had Mrs. Foster for English."

The 1969 graduates continue reviewing their past.

"We made it to the top of the ladder at South Seminole."

"Yes, that year was really full of experiences."

"That school hasn't been the same since!"

"Do you remember our English teacher Miss Peterson?"

"She was always wearing red and white pleated skirts."

As this discussion ends, Miss Peterson is seen conducting a class. While she is writing on the board everyone is talking.

"Did you go to the dance on Friday?" "Yes." "Well, what happened?" "Mrs. Foster was there; the belle of the ball! She danced with all of the basketball players."

NINTH ANNUAL GRADUATION EDITION

The Sanford Herald

Friday, June 6, 1969

Motto: "Carpe Diem" Seize the Day

Flower: Yellow Rose

Colors: Yellow and White

Commencement: June 9, 8 p.m. Lawton School Auditorium

"Seize the Day"

The half score and two years ago saw the beginning of what came to be our Senior Class of 1969, concerned with knowledge and dedicated to the proposition of obtaining our goals in life. We have been engaged in a quest for learning, testing whether our class or any class so concerned and so dedicated, can long endure. We have endured!

History

Our Senior year has been highlighted by memorable events. We hold the unique honor of being the first graduating class of the new Oviedo High School. One of the most exciting weeks of the year was that of Homecoming. Anticipation mounted with the construction of floats, nominations of candidates, and our building of the biggest bonfire in the history of O.H.S. Climaxing the homecoming activities was the crowning of our Queen, Miss Kay Cruce surrounded by her court: Polly Podmore, Susan Janson, Penny Porter, Ruth Bellhorn, Marion Smith, Judy Genton, and Janet Clonts.

Athletic Leaders

The Seniors led in sports. We were lucky to have All-State tackle Steve Bratton who was awarded a Grant in Aid at F.S.U. Senior lettermen were Rex Hieps, Bob Tulp, Richard Harris, Randy Janson, Steve Bratton, Jimmy Pearson, Rodger England, Dennis Day, and Joe Dinda. The Senior girls cheering the boys on were Jane Clonts, Susan Janson, and Carol Burns. Spirit was boosted with the hand led by Gilbert Michael, Drum Major, along with Polly Podmore, one of the majorettes who entertained at halftime.

The Senior-Freshmen powerluff team under the expert coaching of Randy Janson, Tommy Holder, and Richard Harris, defeated the Junior-Sophomores team with a score of 7-6. A boy of "heartless" grace the field at halftime when Bob Tulp was crowned Powderpuff Sweetheart. The members of his court were Rodger England, Jimmy Herring, Morton Hoff, Jimmy Pearson, Jimmy Alford, and Gil Michael.

Money-Raising Projects

Our class officers, President Bob Tulp, Vice President Robert Jacobs, Secretary Linda Lukas, and Treasurer Ruth Bellhorn organized the many projects by which we raised money. Participating in the first, U.M.C.C. (ugliest man on campus) were seniors, Jimmy Pearson, Jimmy Dettler, and Gilbert Michael. Following this were the Radio Hawkins Dance and Slave Day.

There was a rethinking attendance at our Senior Talent Show. Among the top winners was our Brazilian student, Jennifer Herzog, who sang a Portuguese Folk song. Lynn Scott did a fine job as emcee.

Seniors Lead Clubs

Many clubs were headed by seniors including Bob Tulp, Students Council and Science Club; Randy Janson, Student Council; Linda Lukas, Student Council; Polly Podmore, Beta Club and Student Council; Janet Clonts, Science Club; Susan Janson, Annual Editor and Beta Club; Ruth Bellhorn, Beta Club; Rodger England, Pep Club; Jimmy Pearson, Drama Club; and Jimmy Alford, Library Club.

They Won Honors

Winning honors for our school were Bob Tulp, Boy's State; Janet Clonts, Oviedo's Junior Miss; Polly Podmore, Betty Crocker Homemaker Award; and Ruth Bellhorn, Florida Gas Essay Award.

Randy Janson and Carol Burns reigned as Mr. and Miss O.S.H. at our Valentine Dance. They were crowned by senior attendants Bob Tulp and Polly Podmore.

Outstanding Students

The Senior Superlatives, chosen by their classmates as outstanding students, are Judy Genton, Lynn Scott, Janet Clonts, Robert Jacobs, Susan Janson, Steve Bratton, Ruth Bellhorn, Randy Janson, Rodger England, Polly Podmore, Penny Porter, Gilbert Michael, Linda Lukas, Jimmy Pearson, Carol Burns, and Bob Tulp.

Certainly we have had an unforgettable year and are proud to graduate the Class of '69. We can hardly express our appreciation for the invaluable help and advice given to us by sponsors, Mrs. C. A. Geyer and Coach R. S. Stevenson.

"Presently it is over, but never forgotten."

Area Head Start Cited As 'Model'

By DONNA ESTES

Notification has been received from the Atlanta Office of Economic Opportunity (EOA) designating the Head Start program of Seminole County Action as a model for the State of Florida. Rev. Amos Jones, SCA executive director, reported to The Herald today.

Accompanying the model designation is a federal grant in aid for some $24,838 to permit the local agency to organize and put into operation a career development program, the director said.

Jones and Head Start director Mrs. Portia Spencer were summoned to Atlanta last Friday to receive the news.

The Seminole County based program, which gives children of low income families a "head start," was one of eight model programs selected in the 11 states in the eastern section of the nation.

The grant will permit SCA to prepare a program that will allow career advancement for persons employed within the agency. For outstanding personnel further education will be provided to permit the employee to obtain better-paying employment outside the agency.

With the SCA Head Start as a model, other agencies throughout the state will be calling on the local organization for advice in setting up similar programs for children.

Head Start in Seminole County has 200 students with 10 classes in seven centers in all parts of the county.

Project Head Start here had its official beginning on June 17, 1968, when orientation classes were taught by Mrs. Spencer to the new staff. Child development centers began to get under way on June 24, 1968.

Founding Of Sanford Related

The War between the States was over. By wagon, muleback, and on foot emigrated Southerners straggled down to Florida from Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee—men and their families who had no property left, no money, and no place to go but the state which will offer free land to homesteaders.

The northern merchant class had fared much better. As the newly-rich Yankees began to travel with the proceeds of their new prosperity, those who did not want to take the Grand Tour of Europe turned instead to the warm sun of Florida.

Florida, as the settlers now thought of themselves, regarded the intemperance with mixed feelings. They WERE Yankees, of course, and they were always trying to change things, but they DID bring with them a commodity in short supply on the frontier: money.

One of the visitors, though, brought not only money but a dream as well.

Henry Shelton Sanford was born on June 15, 1825 to a Derby, Conn. family that had grown wealthy from the Shelton Tack Co. established by the senior Sanford and his brother.

Henry Sanford was educated at the Episcopal Academy in Chelsea, Conn. and at Trinity College (then called Washington College) in Hartford.

As befitted a son of a wealthy family, Sanford traveled in Europe, completing his studies with a law degree from the university at Heidelberg.

Even before his graduation, young Sanford had worked as secretary of the legation at the American embassy at St. Petersburg (Leningrad), Russia, and he had been acting secretary for the legation in Frankfurt, Germany. On his graduation, he received a Presidential appointment as secretary of the Paris legation. He later became charge d'affaires there.

Upon election in 1860, President Lincoln appointed the young diplomat U. S. Minister to Belgium, a post he held for eight and a half years while also serving as the government's fiscal agent and supervisor of the Secret Service.

Ground Broken For Gym

Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore broke ground in special ceremonies last Friday for the new Bernarr Macfadden gymnasium at Sanford Naval Academy.

Joseph P. Wieggers, chairman of Bernarr Macfadden Foundation, sponsor of the academy, gave the major address at the ground-breaking, citing the accomplishments of the man for whom the gymnasium was named and the late athlete's "faith in the youth of America" which inspired the construction of the learning facility.

"Bernarr Macfadden was an unusual man in many ways," Wieggers declared. "Perhaps his greatest contribution to this country and to the world was the inspiration he provided for young people in the world of health."

Among the dignitaries present for the ceremonies were Rev. Small and Capt. James Matthews, from the foundation; City Commissioner James Crapp, Mack N. Cleveland Jr., C. Vernon Mize and Larry Robinson, representing architect John Burton IV.

Invocation was given by Rev. Leroy Soper, rector of Holy Cross Episcopal Church.

Airport Act; First 1 Signed

By FRED VAN PELT

The Sanford Airport Authority Act was the first of 73 legislative measures for Seminole County to become law following passage by the Legislature prior to adjournment sine die Friday evening.

Rep. E. Pope Bassett said this morning that he and Rep. Lewis Earle prevailed on Gov. Claude Kirk early Saturday to sign the Sanford Airport Authority Act into law.

The original Sanford proposal, Bassett stated, was revised by Earle and himself in order to conform to requirements of the general industrial bonding law. They said Sanford needed the authority as soon as possible in order to attract new industry to the area.

Dr. Earle said today: "Contrary to recent irresponsible statements by some local politicians, most members of the Seminole-Orange delegation have worked diligently on nearly 100 local bill proposals and we successfully passed 73."

Bassett explained today that the airport authority act will permit the City of Sanford — to assist industrial firms in locating at the airport.

The legislator also said that he believes the City of Sanford may enter into urban renewal under a general state-wide act approved by the Legislature, since a local bill for the city was defeated in the Seminole-Orange delegation.

Bassett said among other measures enacted is one that places immediately all elections — municipal and otherwise — in the county under the jurisdiction of the county supervisor of elections.

Another measure places all local tax collections — municipal and otherwise — under the jurisdiction of the county tax collector immediately and assessments under the county tax assessor in 1970 or 1971.

AIRPORT AUTHORITY legislation for Sanford is signed into law by Gov. Claude Kirk, attired in camouflage fatigues and combat boots in preparation for reviewing troops as commander-in-chief of the Florida National Guard. Looking on are Reps. E. Pope Bassett (left) and Dr. Lewis Earle.

Casselberry Opens Signal Bids Tonight

One of Casselberry's problems is expected to be solved within the next 30 days with the scheduled acceptance of a bid at today's 7:30 p. m. meeting of the City Council for a new traffic control signal at the intersection of U.S. 17-92 and Triplet Drive.

The intersection has become a busy one with the operation of the county motor vehicle inspection station near the spot.

Bids for the signal are scheduled to be opened at the meeting at the Women's Club Building on Overbrook Drive.

Other business on the agenda includes consideration of authorization to request bids on a new fire truck; consideration of having mosquito control in the municipality and report from City Attorney Kenneth McIntosh on the action the city government may take over the water rate increase imposed by The City of Casselberry and South Seminole Utilities, a private utility company.
