Deregulation Of The Airlines

Since President Carter signed legislation deregulating the airline industry, the nation's major cities are anticipating dramatic imrovements in air passenger service.

Under the old regulatory procedures of the civil Aeronautics Board, permission for new routes ould take years, if they were approved at all. Inder the new law, decisions on new routes will be hade in a matter of weeks.

Most are expected to be approved.

In fact, air passenger service will now be mited chiefly by the availability of aircraft, flight rews and airport space rather than by the CAB. It's already apparent, then, that the immediate inners in the deregulation of the airlines are travelers living in and around major metropolitan reas - Oriando area included. For the residents of smaller cities and towns, the picture is less clear. In the short run, many of these secondary markets will probably suffer a decline in air service as the major carriers abandon uneconomical routes. In most cases, we suspect these service reductions will be only temporary. Departure of the national carriers from secondary markets will encourage the expansion of smaller commuter airlines to fill the vacuum. The use of lighter, more economical aircraft should enable the smaller carriers to operate profitably where national airlines could not. As for the industry, its prospects are more bullish than ever. Already enjoying the boom triggered by the limited, administrative deregulation implemented last year by former CAB Chairman Alfred E. Kahn, industry profits will top $1 billion this year, the highest in history and a spectacular turnaround from 1975 when the industry suffered a net loss of $84 million This year's record profiles will be achieved despite the bargaia-rate fares brought on by vigorous competition for passengers. Increased passenger traffic - a double-digit growth this year - stimulated by cheaper fares has made the difference.

Now if President Carter and Congress could only succeed in deregulating the trucking and railroad industries, consumers would have even more reason to celebrate.

Recent German criticism of NATO and the supreme allied commander, U.S. Gen. Alexander M. Haig, therefore, merits the skepticism it has received from West Germany's NATO partners.

They suspect that the complaints of Hans Apel, West Germany's defense minister, over property damage and danger to civilian lives during the exercises are designed to win political support from leftists within his own Social Democrat Party. No formal protest has been lodged either with NATO of-ficials or in the United States, which provides most of the 480,000

The growing military capability of the Seviet Union and its Warsaw Pact allies justifies the training program and the spectacular demonstration of NATO might as a deterrent to confrontation or Soviet attack.

Ah, but the injustices of the world! One pops up in our corner of the world this Saturday in the less than thriving Seminole County nmunity of Slavia. Don't bother looking on the map if you aren't Believe it or not, the winner of this game advances to the state playoffs. Seminole County teams have been on the short end of the playoff stick for years. Through a number of systems - points, standings and now record against district opponents - county elevens have been denied, despite often fielding an obviously more talented team.

Saturday's game makes up for all those other times. Makes up in spades! The catch to the playoff situation Saturday i District 5 - Trinity and Luther. There is really a third, Orlando Heritage, but it doesn't compete for the playoffs. It is ineligible because it wouldn't chedule the other two.

Thus it is a dream situation for coach Joel Kelley's Saints. In the team's worst season in a coon's age, it can attain heights unexpected by anyone with a simple victory Saturday.

The game won't be so simple, because Luther is probably a better team, although it plays a patay schedule compared to Trinity. "The two teams are a lot more evenly matched than the records indicate," said Kelley Monday before practice. "Our problem is that we are playing seven sophomores and have a disadvantage in size. But, it is nice to be in the position to do some real damage when you are 1-7."

The Sanford Soccer Longue needs help.

Seems the league is experiencing growing pains in respect to the fact it has more participants and teams than its operating expenses can cover. Thus the longue is planning a skating party Nov

Staten Island Ferry Hits

Seawall; 170 People Hurt

NEW YORK (UPI) - A Staten Island ferry boat loaded with rush-hour commuters missed a fogbound ferry slip as it was docking in lower Manhattan today and crashed into a concrete seawall, injuring more than 170 people, many of them seriously.

At least 100 of the injured, some with broken arms and legs, were taken to five area hospitals. Scores of other commuters were treated at the scene or required no aid. Harbor police searched the water for two people who witnesses reported seeing fall overboard

Most of the injuries amounted to cuts, bruises and bloody noses. Several of those hospitalized were squeezed between cars on the ferry's main deck.

$10 Million Computer Theft

SAN DIEGO (UPI) - Stanley M. Rifkin, 32, of Los Angeles, a computer expert, in what the FBI called one of the biggest bank swindles in U.S. history, allegedly stole more than $10 million from a Security Pacific Bank office in Los Angeles, then bought more than 19 pounds - in excess of 42,000 carats - of high quality diamonds, ranging in size up to 2¼-carat stones worth $30,000 each from a Soviet government firm.

Oddly enough, the "victimized" bank may make a multimillion-dollar profit on the robbery. Rifkin was located in a closet in a friend's apartment in Carlsbad, Calif., 31 miles north of San Diego, Monday where he was arrested by FBI agents.

Plane Crashes, 6 Killed

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) - A twin-engine aircraft, caught in a rainstorm and limping toward Jackson on one motor, sliced into a heavily wooded swamp Monday night and crashed, killing six people. The plane steamrolled into the Pearl River swamp, clipped tall pines and scattered debris before coming to rest on a small knoll about three miles from Jackson's airport.

Fumes Kill 5 Huddled Youths

MACOMB, III. (UPI) - Five youths, aged 15 to 20, huddled in a car which was bogged down in mud after being caught in a downpour about 2 a.m., were found dead of monoxide poisoning somewhere around noon Monday. they apparently fell asleep and were overcome by the fumes which seeped into the car because the exhaust pipe was submerged in mud and water.

"We've had people get overcome by carbon monoxide poisoning before, but never this many. This is bad," said McDonough County Sheriff John Bliven.

Sweet Time On Old 1-75

MARIETTA, Ga. (UPI) - Aboot 28 million honey bees swarmed around the Marietta Parkway off Interstate 75 today after the brakes failed on a flatbed tractor trailer truck carrying them and the vehicle overturned.

5 Children Die In Blaze

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C (UPI) - Five children, aged 2 to 6, were killed Monday night when burning candles set a house trailer on fire, authorities said. Authorities said Ernest T. McEachern, 24, was babysitting for three of his children for his estranged wife, Gwendolyn McEachern, and two of Jacqueline Johnson while the mothers were playing bingo. Candles were being used because the electric power had been cut off. He fell asleep.

Victims Hunted In Rubble

HONESDALE, Pa. (UPI) - The National Guard was called upon today to bring heavy equipment to the charred ruins of the Allen Motor Inn to help speed up the process of searching the rubble "piece by piece" for more victims of the weekend fire. The death toll from Sunday's blaze stood at 11 today after two more bodies were found Monday. Wayne County Coroner Robert Jennings said the two — both males — were found on the second and third fleers of the 138-year-old landmark.

Election: No 'Rascals'; All Angry At Taxes

The Taxpayers Rebellion that began in June with California's Proposition 13 has spread throughout the nation. No fewer than 15 states plus a number of localities - have issues on their ballots that would limit taxes or government spending. (Several states are considering other taxrelated issues. In Arkansas, for instance, voters will decide whether to eliminate the sales tax; however, backers of the meausre say any difference in revenue will be made up by increasing other taxes.) In some states, voters appear to be more interested in tax cut referenda than in the year's gubernatorial and senatorial campaigns. Though candidates of every political stripe have attempted to portray themselves as budget trimmers and tax slashers, it remains to be seen whether their often newfound fiscal conservatism will pay off at the polls. At any rate, a string of victories for the tax and spending limitation measures will not go unnoticed by public officials from White House to city hall.

Conservatives may be right when they claim there is a trend moving from left to right in the country. But it will be difficult to pot in today's election.

DON'T LOSE INTEREST IN YOUR CHECKING ACCOUNT.

THE REAL PROPERTY AND ADDRESS OF ADDRES

Your checking account can tie up a lot of money. First, there's your minimum balance. Then there's the amount you have to keep for your monthly bills. And you may be depositing extra money in checking to guard against overdrafts.

EA-Evening Hers Id, Senterd, FL

Good reasons to keep money in your checking account? Certainly. The problem is, most of that money isn't working for you. It just sits there, not earning a nickel. And that means you've been losing interest in your checking account. Until now.

ATLANTIC BANK BRINGS YOU INTEREST PLUS CHECKING.

Atlantic Bank brings you a great new concept in banking. It's called Interest Plus Checking. And it combines the advantages of an interestearning savings account with a zero balance checking account. So every dollar you deposit works for you. Here's how.

ZERO BALANCE CHECKING LETS ALL YOUR MONEY EARN INTEREST.

When you open an Interest Plus Checking account at Atlantic Bank, every dollar you deposit goes directly into a 5% per annum savings account where it will earn interest from the day of deposit to the day of withdrawal. Your checking account has a "zero balance." That's new. West and part of the last

Then, whenever you write a check, Atlantic Bank transfers the necessary amount from your savings account into your checking account. But the rest of your money stays in nere it continues to draw interest

ONE STATEMENT MAKES IT SIMPLE AND CONVENENT.

At the end of each month you will receive a single, simple-to-read statement showing all your transactions. Your deposits, withdrawals, transfers, balances in checking and in savings. You always know your exact balance because you keep track of it just as you do now. In your AMALABLE NOW. own checkbook. The difference is, your balance Atlantic Bank is offering Interest Plus Checkis in your savings account, earning interest.

INTEREST PLUS CHECKING MEANS AUTOMATIC OVERDRAFT PROTECTION.

All the while you are automatically protected against overdrafts by the automatic transfer procedure. And the extra money you used to keep in checking to guard against overdraft is earning 5% per annum interest from the day of deposit to the day of withdrawal.

Two of the winners had a feeling they would win, while the two opponents in another race thought it was going to be close.

And when it was all over, incumbents Pat Telson and Roland Williams kept their seats on the Seminole County School Board while another cumbent, E.C. Harper Jr., was defeated I newcomer William Kroll.

The three winners will be sworn in Nov. 21 at organizational meeting. However, while Telson and Williams thought they
