Fund Hopes Alive For Day Care Unit

A Central Florida day care agency that won almost $600,000 in federal funds for Seminole County last year will probably receive funds again this year from county government.

In a poll conducted today, a majority of the county commissioners said they would support funding for the agency.

Last year, commissioners gave $15,000 which brought in $445,000 that was used to care for 522 children of working mothers. The funds are administered by the Community Coordinated Child Care Agency, (4-C), which is headquartered in Orlando.

Initially, commissioners decided on whether to support the agency again. The vote was 4-2. Commissioners Richard Williams and Mike Kwikitowski and Commission Chairman Harry Hattaway have agreed to fund the agency.

"I think it will be funded—between $7,000 and $10,000," Kwikitowski said. And Williams said he will vote for $10,000 on a matching basis. The agency requested $20,000.

According to statistics by 4-C administrator Barbara Adams, there are 14 mothers who would be on welfare without the program.

About 307 Seminole County families received assistance last year, and 322 children were cared for by professionals in area day care centers, Mrs. Adams said.

"Children of the poor working mother are the greatest beneficiaries of child care," added Mrs. Kwikitowski, 4-C administrator.

She said children who spend early, formative years "in neglect" do not develop "self-respect, creativity, initiative, nor even normal intelligence or good health."

Also, Mrs. Carpenter pointed out day care benefits young, divorced, middle-class mothers.

"Without child care assistance, she cannot accept a new job and become a ward of the state," Mrs. Carpenter said.

Mrs. Carpenter pointed out that the infusion of a half-million dollars into the local economy is good business. Another beneficiary is the businessman who has a larger labor pool to draw from when mothers are able to place their offspring in day care centers.

"The population moves toward self support, stability and good health in cases which it otherwise would not," Mrs. Carpenter said.

Agency Audit Clears SEEDCO Of Illegalities

By ED FRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

A General Accounting Office (GAO) audit has cleared the Seminole County Economic Development Corporation (SEEDCO) of any evidence of illegal activity on the part of the agency or its director, Congressman Bill Chappell's office confirmed today.

A letter from the comptroller general dated Aug. 25 to Chappell says, "We do not find any evidence of criminal or illegal activities by SEEDCO, its director or its president."

A spokesman in Chappell's Washington office said the Congressman asked for an interim report to determine if SEEDCO was involved in any activities of an illegal nature.

"Generally our findings do not substantiate the specific or implied allegations which prompted the Congressional request for our review of SEEDCO," the GAO interim report says.

SEEDCO came under fire from the Orlando Sentinel Star. Then SEEDCO President Horace Orr requested a "Sunshine Audit" because Orr said he was "under fire" from the newspaper and wanted to "clear the air."

Orr was in Washington today and unavailable for comment. GAO is the federal government's watchdog agency, sent four auditors to Sanford and launched an intensive review of agency records.

Auditors completed their work last week. And Orr predicted it would be at least two months before final results were known. But Orr asked Chappell to seek an interim report so that it would "clear the air" and SEEDCO could borrow money from area banks and conduct normal business transactions.

All along Orr predicted GAO would find instances of poor management practices. But the $20,000-a-year director said no instances of illegality would be uncovered.

"I don't do business that way," Orr said last week.

Orr said the adverse publicity has done serious damage to SEEDCO efforts to get its "ventures" on the road to prosperity. One major disadvantage, Orr said last week, is that local businessmen have shunned SEEDCO since managerial inefficiency, the final audit results will be forthcoming in about two months as Orr and other officials predicted.

The Landlord And The Leaky Roof

By KRIS NASH
Herald Staff Writer

School is scheduled to open in just four days, but the Edward Gagnon family of Sanford has no clean clothes in which to send its three children to class.

In addition, the Gagnons have not been able to live in their home at 601 W. 21st St. since Aug. 14, when they say a roofing flasco caused by their landlord, Wendell Agee, sent gallons of rain water cascading into the house.

The Gagnons moved into a motel 15 days ago and now face financial hardship from having to pay the $102 weekly bill and feed the five-member family at a restaurant each day because their home kitchen is too wet to use.

The Gagnons say Agee, vice-president of the Flagship U.S. Bank of Seminole and a recent appointee to the Seminole County Port Authority (SCPA), was responsible for their home being flooded. But they say Agee has done nothing to correct the situation and that when they pressed him for action he became indignant and ordered them to "get your stuff out of my house!"

"They knew the risk. They wanted to take a chance," Agee said in a telephone conversation Wednesday. "I recommended that they move to another house while the repairs were being done but, no, they didn't want to do that—they wanted to stay there rent-free. When the roofers stripped the old roof off, why, it rained in on them."

Mrs. Gagnon stoutly maintains that Agee never explained the potential danger of the situation.

"If he'd told us they were going to take the roof off, we'd have said 'sure' and gone ahead and moved into a motel for a few days," she said Wednesday. "If we'd known it was going to be raining in, why, we've got a nice big garage (carport) there we could have put stuff in. We wouldn't have just let it get soaked!"

Little excitement was generated by the three-minute long speeches of the various candidates from Orange and Seminole Counties during the three-hour event.

Seminole County Commission Chairman Mike Hattaway, the only incumbent running in the Democratic primary, explained his campaign slogan "Keep a Man Who Has Kept His Word," by saying he has fulfilled campaign promises made prior to his first election four years ago.

He said he has successfully helped build a county park system, a county-wide fire department which has matched all agreements with all seven cities, pursued a comprehensive land use plan and promoted better cooperation among the seven Seminole cities and the county.

Sanford, Lake Mary Move On Sewer Planning

By JACKIE DOWD
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford and Lake Mary have agreed to go ahead with a regional sewer program even if Seminole County doesn't participate.

County Commissioner John Kimbrough, who was appointed Tuesday to serve as regional sewer liaison, did not attend the Wednesday night meeting at Sanford city hall.

"Would you try to impress upon the county commissioners the urgency of this?" Committee Chairman John Morris asked the county's Executive Assistant Roger Neiswender, who arrived just as the meeting was ending.

Neiswender denied charges from Leo Miller of the Florida Winter Springs Acta, Page 2-A Department of Environmental Regulation that Sanford, as lead applicant for the regional sewer program, was four months behind schedule because the county has been dragging its feet.

"That is absolutely not the case," Neiswender said. "If we're four months behind, we've got four months behind as an agency."

But county officials have not attended a single meeting of the regional sewer committee, which has been working for 18 months to set up the regional sewer system planned to serve Sanford, Lake Mary and the north end of Seminole County.

A $50,000 engineering study of Sanford's existing sewers — the first step in constructing the regional system — was approved by representatives of Sanford and Lake Mary who attended the Wednesday night meeting.

Sanford city commissioners have agreed to chip in $47,500 toward the study, which will directly benefit just Sanford residents. The federal government is expected to pick up the tab for the remaining $22,500.

The study, which will be conducted by city consulting engineers Clark Dietz and Associates of Sanford, is expected to take about six months to complete. It will be prepared by city officials and Lake Mary, although alternatives for expansion if the county does decide to participate will be included.

"The door is open," said Sanford City Manager Warren Knowles, "but we're not waiting."

In the meantime, city attorneys from the two cities will be meeting to work out a loose interlocal agreement between the two cities as well as the details of legislation creating a regional sewer authority which must be formally created by the Florida Legislature.

Committee members also will continue their work. Jim Morris said they won't stop trying to convince the county to join up.

Blackburn Wins Bond Bid; Was Arrest 'Set-Up?'

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

Harlan "The Colonel" Blackburn, 37-year-old former central Florida gambling czar, remains free on appeal bond today.

State Atty. Abbott Herring Wednesday failed to produce a mystery witness, identified only as "Mona Lisa," at a circuit court hearing on Herring's effort to revoke the bond willens granted Blackburn to prison.

After 90 minutes of testimony, Circuit Judge Volie Williams refused to revoke Blackburn's bond and noted, "from evidence before me it appears someone may have set Blackburn up as a patsy instead of him being involved with 40 pounds of marijuana."

Asst. State Atty. Bill Heffernan argued that Blackburn's arrest at Orlando on July 16 when Orange County Sheriff's agents found the marijuana from a locked car trunk at a motel parking lot showed Blackburn "exceeded lawful living as required by the appeal bond."

Blackburn is free on $100,000 appeal bond while defense attorneys are attempting to get U.S. Supreme Court review of his conviction in connection with a 1971 assassination attempt on his former associate, gambler Clyde Lee.

Sam Cagnina of Tampa was accused of being the hired triggerman who wounded Lee while he was in a Longwood telephone booth. He was acquitted. Blackburn was convicted and sentenced to six-months to 10 years in prison in the case by Judge Williams.

A confidential informant, identified by Orange County agents only as "Mona Lisa," made three telephone calls that resulted in Blackburn's appearance early July 16 at the Holiday Inn parking lot, South Orange Blossom Trail, Orlando, according to agents.

Conference Panel Weighs Massive Tax Revision Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional tax negotiators have extended existing general business tax cuts while deciding to retract tax deductions for individuals using part of their homes for business purposes.

These decisions were reached Wednesday by Senate-House tax conferees on their first day of work on a massive tax revision bill. The conferees postponed votes on individual tax reductions and other major revenue matters and instead took up business and foreign income features of the bill.

Viking Finds Clue To Life

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A Viking experiment has again given a signal that could mean Martian life, adding one more piece to a puzzle that seems to hint at a different answer nearly every day.

The outcome of a control experiment first used Wednesday "increased the chances" that soil taken aboard the lander contains life, said Dr. Norman Horowitz, a biologist on the Viking research team.

FAIRFAX, Va. (AP) — Arthur F. Goode III, convicted Wednesday of strangling 11-year-old Kenny Dawson of Falls Church, Va., is to undergo psychiatric testing before he is sentenced Sept. 24.

The tests at Central State Hospital in Petersburg, Va., are to determine the type and extent of any sexual abnormality Goode may have.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Singer Tiny Tim says he won't give his estranged wife, "Miss Vicki," something she wants — a divorce.

"I don't believe in divorce. I'll always be married to Miss Vicki," the singer said in an interview Wednesday. "She wants a divorce but I'm not going to give it to her. We're married until death do us part."

Tiny Tim, who is performing in the Nashville area, was asked whether he still loved his wife. "That's hard to say," he replied. "I-O-V-E is proven only by deeds, not words. I like Miss Vicki."

Swedish PM Has Sore Throat

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Swedish Prime Minister Olof Palme picked a bad time to come down with a sore throat — just 25 days before his country's parliamentary elections.

Officials of the Social Democrat party which he heads announced Wednesday that Palme's doctors had ordered him to keep silent for at least a few days to ease a vocal chord infection.

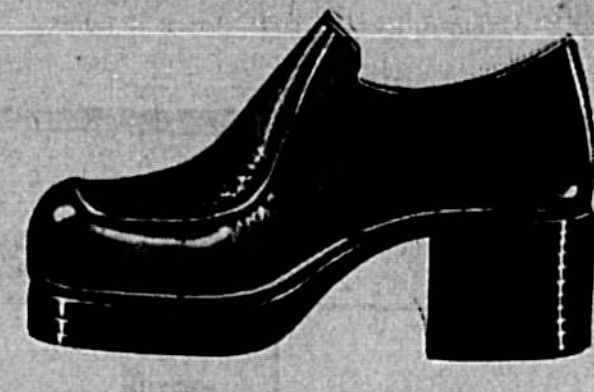

He developed the same symptoms during the last election campaign three years ago. Then, his party barely won enough votes to retain power.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Editor Kidnap Suspect Found Guilty Of Extortion

KEY WEST (AP) — "The jury system continues to make good sense," said newspaper editor Reg Murphy after a seven-woman, five-man panel found William A.H. Williams guilty of extorting $700,000 from the Atlanta Constitution following Murphy's abduction.

Williams, a former Lilburn, Ga., contractor, had pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to the charges, which stemmed from Murphy's abduction in February 1974. Murphy was editor of the Constitution at the time.

Williams, 36, was found guilty in August 1974 but was given a new trial here because of pretrial publicity and a questionable closing argument by the prosecution. He was sentenced to 40 years in prison in the first trial.

Petroleum Properties Sold

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — The Charter Co. says it has sold substantially all its petroleum exploration and production properties. The properties, including some producing 2,000 barrels a day, were sold to Crystal Oil Co. of Shreveport, La., for more than $16 million in cash, the company said Wednesday.

Charter, a holding company involved principally in land, oil, communications and money, also announced it has refinanced most of its short-term bank debt in three-to-five-year loan agreements.

This will provide funds sufficient to meet all present needs, a company spokesman said.

Christian Rulings Stand

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The Florida Supreme Court has refused to review two lower court rulings that former Education Commissioner Floyd Christian is entitled to his $25,000-a-year pension despite a kickback conviction.

A Department of Administration official said today that the court's ruling means the state must pay the pension.

"The court's ruling he's eligible for a pension," said William Gibson, aide to Lt. Gov. Jim Williams. "It's just a question of how long it will take to get him back on the payroll."

Florida White House For Rent?

KEY BISCAIYNE (AP) — The island home that once served as the Florida White House for former President Richard Nixon soon may be available to seasonal renters.

But the only vestige of presidential living may be a barren helipad.

The property was sold in July to Dr. Sherwood Appleton, a Toronto psychiatrist, for $390,000. Appleton is a friend and business associate of Maritza Hibbard, who lives next door in the former home of industrialist Robert Applanap. She bought that property in March.

Trucking Donations An Issue

MIAMI (AP) — Public Service Commission candidate Phil Brewer, who said he solicited campaign contributions from a PSC-regulated trucking company during an unsuccessful 1966 try for the post, says he will not seek such contributions this year.

Brewer's statement came Wednesday during a speech to a Miami-area political club. Earlier, opponent Katie Nichols of Tallahassee said she received a copy of a letter written by Brewer in 1966 to a Miami trucking official.

Illegal 'Still' Closed Down

PLANT CITY (AP) — Hillsborough County hadn't seen such a raid in eight years. Armed with axes and a search warrant, officials put an end to an illegal backyard distillery business they said was capable of producing about $1,000 worth of moonshine a week.

Eddie B. Taylor surrendered at his home following the episode Tuesday and was charged with five state counts of operating a still, police said.

TAMPA (AP) — Three school girls were hospitalized today, one in poor condition, after they were struck by a car as they walked to school near Tampa, police said.

Two other youngsters were treated and released.

Officers said there were at least five children, ages 12-14, walking together on the first day of school in Hillsborough County.

B. C. CONKLIN

Springs, Utilities May Combine $ Requests

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

WINTER SPRINGS— City Planning Commission agreed Monday night to recommend to City Council on Monday that Winter Springs cooperate with two private utility companies in an effort to get federal funding for preliminary regional sewer collection studies.

Deadline for application for federal funds is Sept. 3, City Consulting Engineer B. C. (Cal) Conklin said. He said that even though the city does not own the water and sewer facilities it probably will eventually and should participate in planning for Orlando's regional sewerage collection system.

Conklin said the law providing treatment requirements and funds for meeting increasingly stringent pollution control demands until it reaches zero discharge of pollutants by 1985 does not provide for direct payment to private utilities.

He said, however, the city could apply for the 75 per cent government funding of the required "infiltration inflow" (II) analysis of the existing privately owned lines and cooperate with Southern States Utilities and North Orlando Water and Sewer Company in funding the remaining 25 per cent.

He estimated the II analysis, which would determine the extent of water leakage into the lines, would cost a total of $19,000. Conklin said he thought the two firms might be willing to help fund 25 per cent of the amount if the city would share in the cost.

Funding may also be available for preliminary studies from Winter Springs' standpoint, which Conklin estimated would cost a total of $6,000. The 25 per cent local share would come to $1,500. Included would be an alternative analysis, plan selection, preliminary engineering data and implementation of the plan.

City Councilman Donald Sines, who represents Council on the Planning Commission, agreed to go with Conklin Friday to meet representatives of the two utility firms.

City Planner Alan Bush said he would have a synopsis of Conklin's report in the folder of each councilman today. Sines said he also would have Conklin placed on the Council agenda for Monday.

Winter Springs is included in the Eastern section of Orlando planning area along with Oviedo, Maitland, Casselberry and some unincorporated areas of Seminole and Orange Counties. Conklin said the City of Orlando has been planning for the past year and it has been determined a single plant (the proposed Iron Bridge plant south of Oviedo in Seminole County) would be the most cost effective. Oviedo has completed 80 per cent of the first step, but the II analysis has not been done in many outlying areas, he said.

Are Americans Really Free?

We Americans call ourselves a free people, but are we truly free?

When any individual loses control of 100 per cent of his production, he is a slave. Then is a person who loses control of 40 per cent of his production a free man? Or is he 40 per cent slave?

Today local, state and federal governments take about 40 per cent of our production on the average and use it as they see fit. Because that is an average, some people have a lower percentage taken from them and others a higher.

What about those who have 70 per cent of their production taken from them by government? Are they 70 per cent slaves?

Despite all the propaganda about tax free shelters, most productive people pay taxes. And the more productive they are the higher the percentage of their production which goes to taxes.

Tax free shelters consist mostly of non-productive assets—government bonds, charitable contributions, capital losses, etc.

The great industrialists who founded our present-day industries controlled more of their assets than they could today. As a result they furnished employment for millions of people. Most savings and investments in tools and equipment come from people with above average income.

When governments take 70 per cent of an individual's income in taxes they destroy tools and equipment for which most of these funds would have been spent.

Government spending reduces private spending. Government spending is mostly non-productive.

Private investment in tools and equipment results in increased production. By destroying this type of private spending, government lowers our standard of living.

When politicians or bureaucrats decide how money is to be spent instead of this decision being made by the individual who earned the money, freedom, loss and private investments are destroyed.

How can the individual who has 70 per cent of his earnings taken from him and spent by bureaucrats call himself free?

Then what about the man who has 40 per cent of his income seized by government and spent as the bureaucrats decide instead of as he decides? Is he free?

Keeping Peace

In recognition, perhaps of the improbability of an accord being reached in the United Nations Law of the Sea Conference, the United States and Mexico have been working quietly toward a bilateral agreement on fishing rights.

Both nations have adopted 200-mile offshore economic zones. The U.S. limit will become effective in 1977. Mexico has delayed implementation of its own law during bargaining sessions with U.S. State Department negotiators.

Thanks to the restraint, Mexico will begin enforcing its regulations under terms that the U.S. tuna fleet can live with and that will be acceptable presumably to the six-member Inter-American Tropical Tuna Association, which is concerned with both the economic and conservation aspects of the industry.

The action certainly will mean higher prices. Permit fees and licenses are costs that will be passed on to the consumer. But the agreement should encourage progress in the Law of the Sea effort to eliminate the mishmash of international regulations that has threatened to trigger an explosion of violence.

The Clock

By BILL CURRIE

The 1976-77 school term opens for business on Monday.

More than 30,000 Seminole County youngsters will either be trekking back for another year of education or will be entering the school system for the first time.

If you've got only one, or even maybe two, school-aged youth in your home, you might not get hit too hard in the pocketbook, but beyond one or two, believe me, it will be costly.

Many people figure that because they pay school taxes they don't have to shell out any more. This is especially true of young married couples who haven't yet started raising a family.

Oh, are they in for a surprise. Sure, they reckon, we know it costs money to feed and clothe the kids for school, but beyond that there's nothing.

What a joke! Besides shelling out that hard-earned cash for school clothes, shoes and the like, there are so many 'hidden' expenses it's unbelievable.

DON OAKLEY Struggle Defends Liberty

It is a little over three years since the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) filed a $27 million damage suit against the FBI and other agencies and officers of the U.S. government. The suit charges the bureau with carrying out a systematic campaign of harassment and ill-treatment against the party, ranging from poison pen letters to planting informers and provocateurs inside the party's ranks.

The case was most recently set for trial in U.S. District Court in Manhattan July 2; it is now scheduled for early next year.

One reason for the long delay is that since the suit was filed, a continuing string of revelations — many of them documented by court-ordered disclosures of the FBI's own files — have been forthcoming to support the party's allegations.

Last March, for example, it was revealed that in a six-year period, FBI "black bag" experts had burglarized the SWP's New York office at least 40 times, or an average of once every three weeks.

Unbelievably, and in spite of enough damage had not already been done to its once proud reputation, the FBI has apparently learned nothing, changed nothing, reformed nothing.

In the latest bombshell, it has been revealed that an FBI informant named Timothy Redfern stole documents from the Denver office of the SWP on July 7. That is, only five days after the party's suit against the FBI went to trial, the party was again the target of an FBI break-in.

The FBI also tried to bribe Redfern to burglarize and that he refused. A copy of the documents from Redfern. However, it did not report the burglary to Denver police for three weeks. In the meantime, copies of the documents were sent to the Denver office, and somehow found their way into its files, and correspondence between Denver and Washington suggests a pattern we came to know well during Watergate — a decision to "stonewall" the whole matter.

Just a few days ago on television, FBI director Clarence Kelley stated that he had been deceived (he doesn't know who deceived him) into believing that the bureau had gotten out of the burglary business in 1966. He later found out that others had taken place as recently as 1972.

In light of the Denver affair, it would seem that somebody is still being deceived.

It might be one thing if the taxpayers were getting something for their money. But Redfern's reports on the Denver branch of the SWP over a period of five years contain nothing but useless gossip and rumors and such data as the smoking and eating habits of party members.

For this he was paid $400 a month, and despite a bilateral agreement on fishing rights. Both nations have adopted 200-mile offshore economic zones. The U.S. limit will become effective in 1977. Mexico has delayed implementation of its own law during bargaining sessions with U.S. State Department negotiators.

Thanks to the restraint, Mexico will begin enforcing its regulations under terms that the U.S. tuna fleet can live with and that will be acceptable presumably to the six-member Inter-American Tropical Tuna Association, which is concerned with both the economic and conservation aspects of the industry.

The action certainly will mean higher prices. Permit fees and licenses are costs that will be passed on to the consumer. But the agreement should encourage progress in the Law of the Sea effort to eliminate the mishmash of international regulations that has threatened to trigger an explosion of violence.

Jobless Data Puzzling

NEW YORK (AP) — As we in America become more dependent on computer-produced numbers to tell us the state of the economy, it behooves us from time to time to ask questions about those numbers.

If the numbers aren't correct, don't we risk making inculcated bad decisions? In investments, in tax policy, in politics?

As with any numerical products, the economic statistics that guide such decisions are only as good as the validity of the concepts involved, the soundness of techniques, and the quality of the raw data to be processed.

In this mind, a person scanning the jobless figures for 1976 might have reason to pause and ponder. These figures, as popularly and officially used, are seasonally adjusted to offset temporary factors.

If we look at the raw data — that is, unadjusted — we find that there were 8,174,000 unemployed jobs in January 1976, but only 7,577,000 without jobs in June.

If we now look at the seasonally adjusted data we see a different story. In this column we find that there were only 7,200,000 without jobs in January, but that there were 7,428,000 unemployed in July.

Which way did unemployment go? Down, as we would expect, or up, as in the seasons after the justed figures? Do we accept the raw count, or instead, the formulation of the statisticians?

The official jobless rate is based on the adjusted figures. It is on this rate that government mental decisions are based, and the millions of voter and investor decisions.

It is also a rate that, based as it is on a somewhat arbitrary formula, at best is a good estimate. At the end of the year these adjusted figures are often raised, which is to say corrected.

A simple set of numbers in the June 1976 issue of the Federal Reserve Bulletin also offers reason to reflect on statistical procedures. It is the number of industrial production as an annual percentage.

From 1948 to 1963, the Fed reports, industrial production rose at an annual percentage of 4.2 per cent. And from 1963 to 1971, it states, the annual increase was 4.6 per cent.

Republicans won't be able to use the traditional campaign theme, "Don't change horses in midstream."

At least that's what Democratic party boss Bob Strauss is saying. In a fund-raising letter, Strauss outlines the game of government musical chairs the GOP has been playing during the past seven years.

Both Richard Nixon and Spiro Agnew resigned from office. That meant two appointed vice presidents and one appointed president, Strauss points out.

There have been six different Republican Attorneys General, five Commerce and Labor Secretaries, four Secretaries of Defense, Interior, and Health, Education and Welfare. The Department of Housing and Urban Development has had three different bosses in seven years.

Meanwhile, the CIA is on its fourth new director, as is the Boy's and Girls and the Federal Reserve Administration. The FBI command has turned over three times in the past seven years.

Strauss, of course, is pushing for one more change at all of these agencies. That would be the appointment of Democratic party faithfuls in a Carter administration.

WASHINGTON WHEEL: Prior to a recent House poll on anti-abortion, Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, was asked by his cloakroom colleagues how he planned to vote. Hays, who has admitted to a personal liaison with Elizabeth Ray, smiled back: "Since I've come out four-square for (sex), I guess I have to favor abortion."

Rep. Robert Glavin, D-Conn., may now be regretting his ardent support for Washington. The funding of a subway system for Washington. The construction crews have now made a trench out of the street in front of his home, and he is awakened every morning by the turmoil.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Korea Tensions Ease After Clash Negotiations

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Tension appeared to have eased in South Korea today after talks between U.S. and North Korean representatives on ways to avoid incidents like last week's bloody clash in the truce village of Panmunjom.

"It's all over as was a typical expression heard among some American and South Korean officials who had a few sleepless nights during the week-long crisis.

A U.S. forces spokesman said, however, that the 41,000 American troops south of the demilitarized zone remained on alert, as they have been since two U.S. Army officers were slain by North Korean guards in last Wednesday's melee.

MOSCOW (AP) — An American testified at his Soviet trial on drug smuggling charges today that Chinese traffickers had threatened to kill him.

Gerald R. Amster, 33, of New York City, gave few details of the threats. He said in a rambling statement to the court that they were made outside the Soviet Union by Moscow and two other Americans are accused of trying to smuggle nearly 63 pounds of heroin from Asia to Europe via Moscow airport.

KANSAS CITY — According to Republican moderates, party fortunes began to decline with the death of Teddy Roosevelt. It did from being the party of Lincoln, T. and progressivism to being the party of Calvin Coolidge, Herbert Hoover, Al Landon, Tom Dewey, Barry Goldwater, and Richard Nixon.

One this wonders what everyone is cheering about. The slide has become an avalanche. Republicans are on the endangered species list. Four out of five Americans polled refuse to identify with the Grand Old Party. Thirty seven of the 50 states have anti-Republican administrations. The wags here believe that if something isn't done to reverse the party's decline, the next convention may easily be held in the foyer of the Ripon Society.

In one important sense the party deserves its troubles. In its haste to become the party of responsibility and respectability it has forgotten that politics is people. Ideology has replaced human concern in the leadership, a balanced budget in Washington has become more important to the cause than a balanced budget in Appalachia. Has Jerry Ford been to Bedford Stuyvesant? Does Ronald Reagan give a thought for the millions who would die if he pushed his party with communism to its logical end? Fair or not, the party's image is one of aloof arrogance, and millions of Americans resent it.

Ironically, many of these millions are philosophically if not formally Republican. The nation has for 200 years been conservative and constructionist. But as New York University Prof. Irving Kristol reminds us, the majority cannot simply be assumed, "it has to be welded together out of disparate parts. And the Republican arc has gone cold. Rather than mass its potential constituencies, it has over the years fragmented into them wander away.

Older citizens are a case in point. Kristol says they tend to be conservative, often hold on to the old values, and thus should appreciate Republicanism. Yet increasingly they do not. Many elderly Republicans are tending to vote Democratic. Others are so disillusioned with the party they are dropping out of the political process altogether. John Pecoraro of Washington's "Concerned Seniors" Better Government says he thinks six of 10 older people will vote for Jimmy Carter this year, "and I personally hope it's 10 of 10."

Why the switch? "Because we can read the papers, too," says Rudy Danstedt of the National Council of Senior Citizens. He recalls that Nixon opposed "almost every social security increase that came across his desk," and that Jerry Ford has tried to cut more recent SS benefits in half. As for R. Reagan, he denounces SS at any cost, a thought that terrifies most elderly voters who get the monthly checks.

So it is that many older people wonder why they should support the GOP when it doesn't support them. In the 94th Congress there were well over 100 Democrats, but only nine Republicans, who sided with the aged on 90 per cent or more of beneficial legislation. "When people get old," says Pecoraro, "they need help more than ever. The trouble with Republicans is they just don't seem to care about it."

Hence the snide deeper on the party. Besides the elderly, the rural constituency is shrinking, and the suburban, and the small town. Negligence is the ultimate sin for a political party. People do not want to be engineered, nor do they want to be forgotten.

The road back for Republicanism, then, is lined with hard things. They need to be codified by their party but they must be defended by it.

For instance, polls indicate that at least 40 per cent of people over 65 percent having been forced into retirement; it is a form of discrimination which one day, one way or another, will end. Will the GOP hold it? Will the party fight for the right of everyone to hold his job as long as he is physically able? One suspects not, but one hopes so. If Republicanism is to survive (and if it ceased to exist we'd have to reinvent it) it will have to begin battling for rather than against these good people who hold its fate in their hands.

House Gets Boney 'Ethics' Probe Bid

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

A House ethics committee official said today he didn't know "what the hell" will be done with a request for an investigation into alleged "unethical conduct" on the part of Democrat Rep. Bill Chappell.

Bill Arbogast, staff director on the House Committee on Standards of Official Conduct, confirmed from Washington that his office has received a letter from Chappell opposing Tommy Boney's request for an investigation into what Boney says is "unethical conduct" on Chappell's part.

"We'll call it to the committee's attention on Monday. They'll decide what to do then. If anything, I don't know what the hell they'll do with it," declared Arbogast.

Boney charges center on Chappell's refusal to vote on a House censure of U.S. Rep. Bob Sikes and on a $100,000 federal contract award to be completely untrue and without foundation," Chappell said in reply to charges that his firm, J&J Electric Inc., got the contract after Chappell supported an application for the federally backed project.

Boney contends Chappell refused to censure Sikes because of a "long standing friendship and long-standing admiration for Sikes; and, secondly, because Chappell has been guilty of the same type of unethical conduct."

Chappell says he abstained from the House vote because he felt his position was similar to that of a judge. "I felt all members of the Florida Delegation should have done the same thing, the same as a judge does."

All members of the Florida Delegation voted for the Sikes reprimand except Chappell and Rep. James Haley. The House vote was 381 to three.

Arbogast said the 12-member ethics committee has no rules concerning nearness to a primary when considering requests for investigations. Though the committee met Wednesday he said the agenda was full and Boney's letter didn't make it to the floor.

Chappell faces Boney and J.O. Tomney on Sept. 7. The winner of the primary was all since there is no Republican opposition.

Landlord, Leaky Roof

 were completed.
 "The house was in bad condition," Agee said. "In fact, it was so bad I told them they had to pay for it. They were living in it. I told them we'd put a new roof on it and get it fixed up, and I said they wouldn't have to pay my rent until such time as the work was finished. But I did recommend that they move to another house while repairs were being done. So that's why they stayed there—so they wouldn't have to pay my rent. They hadn't been paying any rent for four or five months."

WENDELL AGEE
 ... 'they knew risk'

Mrs. Gagnon said the roof leaked when the family moved into the house in early 1976, but they had put up with it because of the location. The house stands just across the street from a doctor's office and Pincrest Elementary School, where 6-year-old Patricia (P.J.) Gagnon attended kindergarten last year.

The youngest was born about a year ago and Mrs. Gagnon said she felt being close to the school reduced the danger of the child's having an accident while walking to or from class.

Mrs. Gagnon herself has a birth-defective hand and is unable to drive. She worked at a liquor store less than a block from the house until she was laid off several months ago. Since then the family has been living on $112 a week brought home by Gagnon from his job at the 'N Truck Stop on U.S. 17-92.

Mrs. Gagnon said Agee and two helpers began working on the roof Friday, Aug. 13, but stopped about noon when the weather turned cloudy. Torrential downpours lashed Seminole County late that afternoon and water leaked in across the top of one bedroom wall, drenching Gagnon's dresser and half the mattress on the parents' bed.

Workers returned Saturday morning, Mrs. Gagnon said, and stripped all the tar and protective coating from the roof. She said they once again departed when the sky grew overcast, leaving only a thin piece of construction plastic covering half of the roof. In a few hours, another blinding thunderstorm raked the area.

"It was terrible Saturday afternoon—unbelievable!" Mrs. Gagnon related. "I used every pan, every bowl, every wastebasket, everything I had—and it was still coming in. It was raining harder inside than it was outside! It just got to be a losing battle. You couldn't put enough stuff around."

have to see about an attorney. "Then he got back to us," Mrs. Gagnon went on, "and he was very indignant. He told my husband: 'If you're going to start making threats when I am trying to help you, then you can just get your stuff out of my house!' And that was the last we heard."

"I don't have any obligation to them; let's put it that way," Agee said Wednesday. "They've never paid me any rent. There's no lease involved or anything. They had the option of moving out. They were advised of the situation. But that's what they wanted to do."

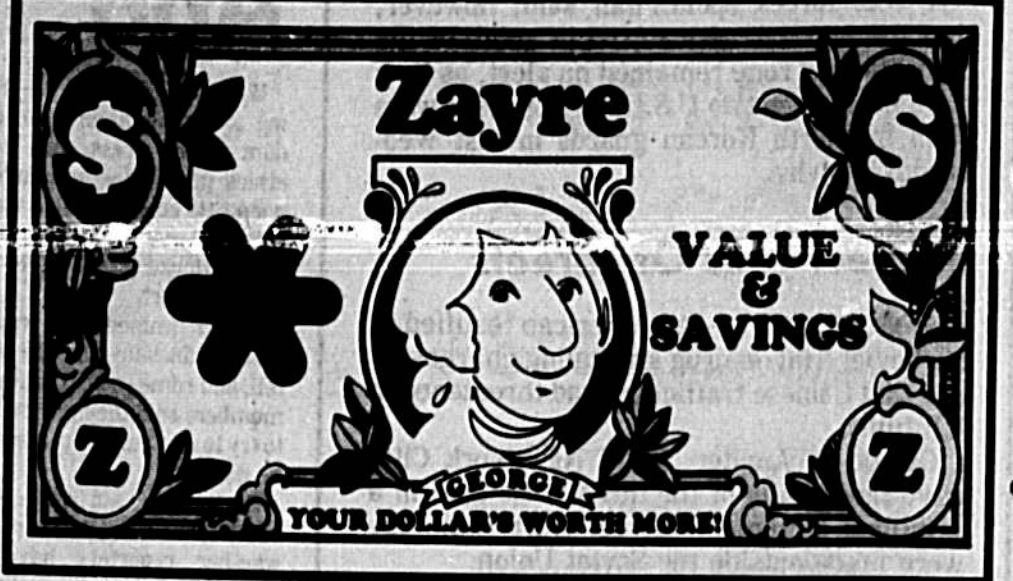

Mrs. Gagnon said the family called several attorneys in an effort to find out what could be done, but said none of them, including the Seminole County Legal Aid Society—would offer assistance.

"Most of the lawyers are either 'out' or too busy when they find out you don't have any money," Mrs. Gagnon said. "Legal aid isn't a benefit from it, so they wouldn't take it. And (Alan) Dickey told us we didn't even need a lawyer. He said to just get it taken care of, get estimates, get ourselves a piece to live, then take all our receipts and bills down to small claims court and sue him (Agee)."

Ford, Carter Teams Preparing For Debates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although some major legal issues remain unresolved, representatives of President Ford and Jimmy Carter are ready to begin arranging details for the proposed debates between the presidential candidates before private organizations in general.

Emissaries from both camps planned to discuss specifics today with officers of the League of Women Voters, which has offered to sponsor the series of televised debates.

The Federal Election Commission, meanwhile, also planned to meet to discuss the claim by some staff attorneys that the debate format proposed by the league might violate federal campaign financing laws.

Peggy Lampi, executive director of the league, said she is the biggest potential obstacle to the debates.

"It really concerns us," she said. "Not only could an adverse ruling by the election commission upset our plans, but it could preclude any appearance by presidential candidates before private organizations in general."

Daniel Swillinger, assistant general counsel for the commission, has claimed that the league-sponsored debates could violate the provision that forbids presidential candidates from accepting private contributions once they have agreed to accept public financing of their campaigns.

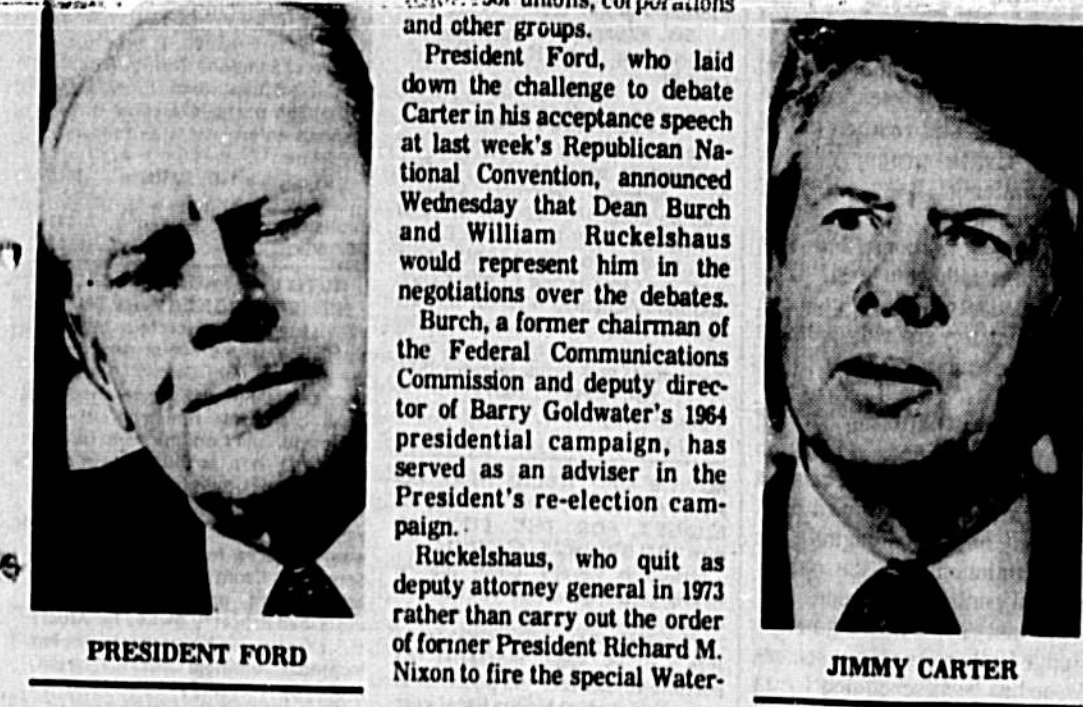

Both Ford and his Democratic challenger have gone the public-financing route, with each expected to get about $21 million in tax funds.

The league estimates that the debates will cost $150,000 — most of which it plans to solicit from unions, corporations and other groups.

President Ford, who laid down the challenge to debate Carter in his acceptance speech at last week's Republican National Convention, announced Wednesday that Dean Burch and William Ruckelshaus would represent him in the negotiations over the debates.

Burch, a former chairman of the Federal Communications Commission and deputy director of Barry Goldwater's 1964 presidential campaign, has served as an adviser in the President's re-election campaign.

Ruckelshaus, who quit as deputy attorney general in 1973 rather than carry out the order of former President Richard M. Nixon to fire the special Water-

Robert Dole Planning 'Aggressive' Campaign

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Republican vice presidential nominee Robert Dole said he expects to do most of the initial campaigning for the Ford-Dole ticket and wants an "aggressive campaign."

Dole heads for a campaign strategy meeting with President Ford today at Ford's vacation home in Vail, Colo., after following Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter halfway across the country. Dole said it was mere coincidence that he appeared in both Seattle and Iowa a day after Carter.

The Kansas senator said his meeting today and Friday morning with Ford would be their first extended discussion of how to conduct the campaign. He said in earlier talks he got the impression that he would be on the campaign trail most of the time while Ford tended to presidential duties.

"I just want a chance to sit down with the President and others and talk about what strategy is planned. I think we need to carry on a very aggressive campaign," Dole said.

Dole kicked off his campaign Wednesday with a speech to the American Legion National Convention in Seattle and then flew to Des Moines for an appearance at a Lawrence Walk concert at the Iowa State Fair.

Asked whether his visit to the fair had anything to do with Carter's appearance there a few hours earlier, Dole replied, "I didn't know he was going to be here — I just got to the best events in the country."

Dole said he might take his campaign to Carter's home state of Georgia this weekend but that no final decision has been made. He said that if Carter is home there — as he usually is on weekends — that would be just another coincidence in campaign scheduling.

In Seattle, Dole received a standing ovation from 4,000 legionnaires when he said there would be "no blanket pardon, no amnesty, no blanket clemency" from the Ford administration for Vietnam war deserters and draft evaders.

He said there is no difference between amnesty and pardon and accused Carter of confusing the issue in his speech to the same convention a day earlier.

Carter said Tuesday that he favored pardon for draft evaders but opposed amnesty.

Scoreboard Decision Due Friday

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — The weekly lottery, scheduled to begin next Wednesday, would have two parts.

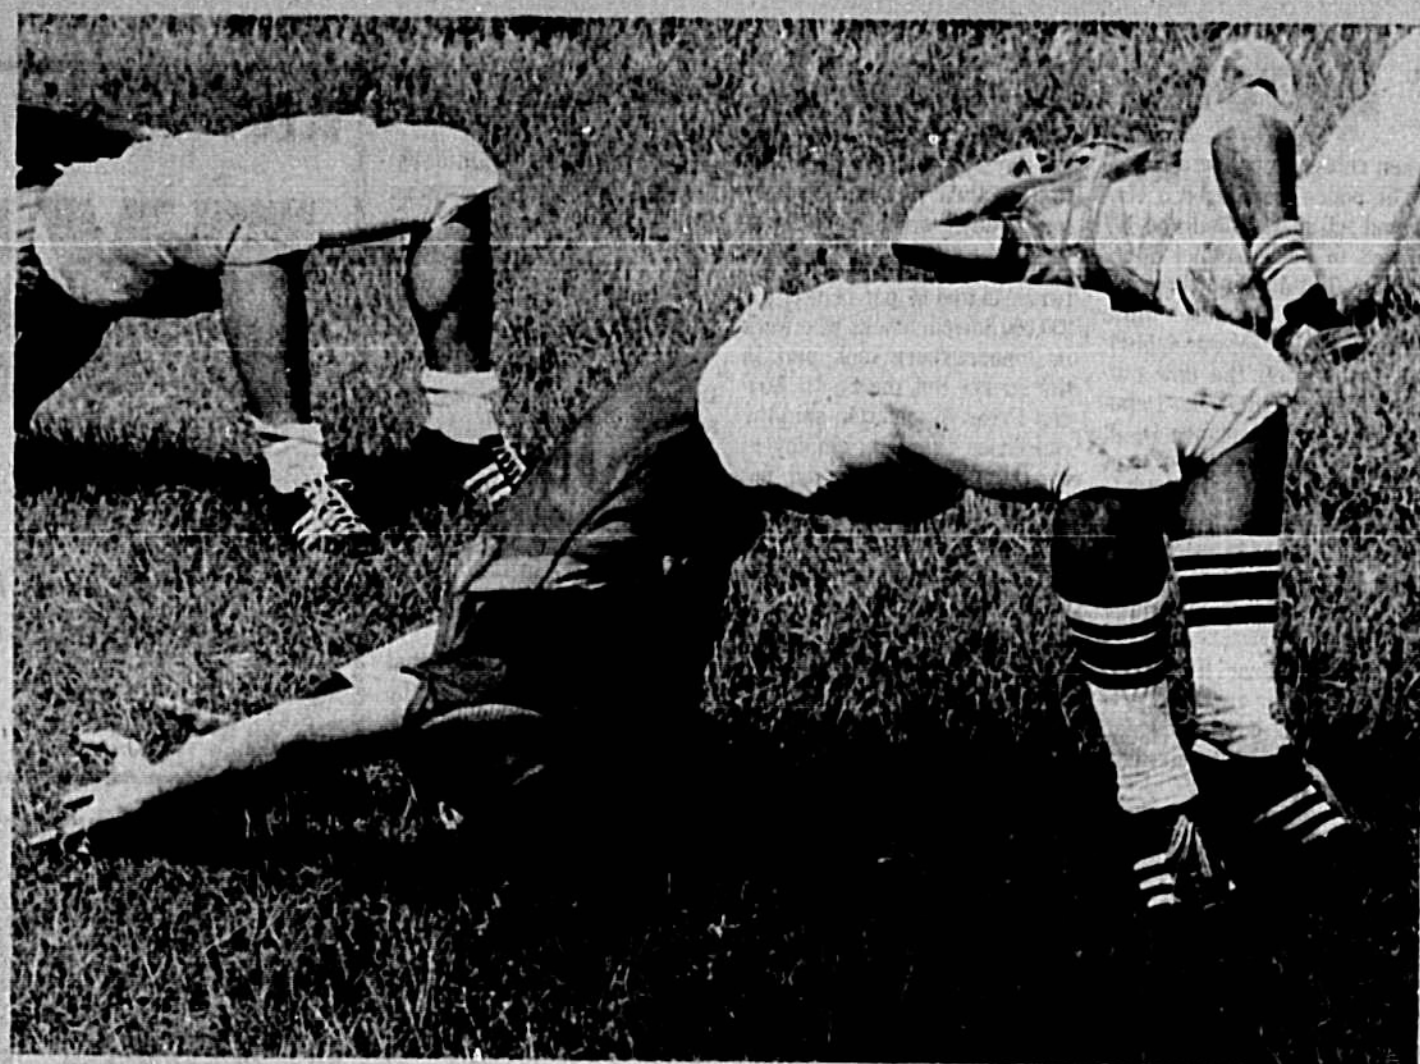

One, "Touchdown," would resemble football cards in which a person would bet on three, four or five games and have to pick both the winning teams and point spreads.

The second game, "Football Bonus," would have two slates of seven games each. A bettor could wager on one or both slates.

Much of the effect of the lottery on the NFL.

That effect would be negative, claimed Vessey, because "a missed pass in the end zone would raise public cynicism" about whether the player had purchased a lottery ticket. The NFL would be "stigmatized" through a "forced association with legalized gambling."

But James Mulligan, speaking for the state, called the lottery "a simple extension of the old, normal football pool that millions of people have been playing for years. It would cause no irreparable harm to the NFL."

High School Football Gametime Near, Jamborees Sept. 2, 3, 4

High school football teams from Seminole County start mixing it up a week from tonight.

That's when the first of five jamborees will take place as Seminole and Oviedo travel to Winter Garden to play in West Orange's preseason exhibition.

The same night Lyman is at Orlando Oak Ridge in the Metro Conference jamboree. A night later Lake Brantley hosts its own four-way affair, and Lake Howell jaunts to distant Brooksville for its preseason test.

And on Sept. 4, Trinity Prep is the site of a four-way jamboree in the afternoon.

The jamboree at West Orange also involves Groveland. West Orange faces Seminole in the opening quarter with Oviedo meeting Groveland in the second, Oviedo facing Seminole in the third and West Orange facing Groveland in the last stanza.

Kickoff is 7:30 p.m. and tickets at the gate will be $2.50.

Age First, Tiant Cops 15th Win

Luis Tiant says he doesn't want to pitch forever. Funny... most people thought he already had.

The amazing right-hander, who may be the oldest person ever born on his listed birthdate of Nov. 23, 1940, continued his resurgence from a fivegame July 10 loss to a fivegame July 11 triumph over the Boston Red Sox to an 8-2 triumph over the California Angels. It was his fifth victory in a row this month and boosted his record to 15-10.

Despite the victory, Tiant was still ranked by a recent Boston radio show on which sports writers brought up his age.

"They're all the time talking about how old I am," he griped. "I'm not old. I'll have to retire. I don't want to pitch forever. But I'm not complaining about anybody. I'm just going out and pitching."

Joining Tiant as 15-game winners in the American League were a couple of youngsters, Pedro Martinez and Steve Carlton. Martinez pitched a five-inning shutout for the Milwaukee Braves, while Carlton pitched a five-inning shutout for the Chicago White Sox while Travers bested the Texas Rangers 5-1 with help from two Brewer relievers.

Yankees 5, Twins 4
Mickey Rivers' two-out fly ball sailed over the head of Minnesota center fielder Steve Brye for a run-scoring single in the 19th inning, scoring Oscar Gamble from second base with the winning run in a 5-2 marathon.

Brewers 5, Rangers 1
Don Money's two-run homer helped Milwaukee defeat Texas for the eighth time in a row.

Kison Wins With Tip From Blass

Steve Blass no longer is with the Pittsburgh Pirates, but the former World Series hero's presence still is evident—in the pitching of Bruce Kison.

Kison, remembering some tips given to him by Blass, fired a five-inning shutout Tuesday night, pitching the Pirates to a 3-0 victory over the San Diego Padres.

After striking out six and not walking a batter en route to his first shutout of the season, Kison, 10-4, said: "My changeup was going real good. I picked up that pitch from Steve Blass when he was with the club. It's taken me a couple of years to get the confidence to use it and now I use it in spots. Tonight, it worked very well."

Blass starred for the Pirates in the 1971 World Series against the Baltimore Orioles, hurling two complete one-run victories, one a three-hitter and the other a four-hitter in the decisive seventh game.

Kison's 11-year-old rookie that year, also played an important role in the Series triumph, winning the fourth game with 4-3 innings of scoreless, one-hit relief. Since then, his major league career has been undistinguished.

Kison got the nod to hit 10 ground ball outs, and all five hits off him were ground ball singles. All of the fly balls San Diego hit were weak.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the Montreal Expos 5-1, as Atlanta Braves beat the Philadelphia Phillies 5-1, the San Francisco Giants whipped the New York Mets 7-1,

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — "The world is not going to come to an end because I'm not going to play football anymore," says George Blanda, the flinty star waived by the Oakland Raiders after 20 seasons of professional football.

A hero to every aging would-be athlete, Blanda was placed on waivers by the Raiders Tuesday to open football camp. He confirmed the story himself when word leaked out and the team refused to confirm or deny it until Wednesday.

He left camp here quietly Wednesday, saying goodbye to the man who holds the all-time National Football League scoring record and the record for field goals.

But Raiders Managing General Partner Al Davis suggested that the team may have plans for Blanda's future. "It is a possibility that Blanda could play this year," Davis said. "I'm going to talk to him Friday. We're still got some things to discuss."

Rattlers Unbeaten

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — If positive thinking wins football games, Florida A&M's Rattlers are heading for an undefeated season.

"We're very positive about it," said FAMU Coach Rudy Hubbard. "We think we can beat anybody we play."

There was good reason for Hubbard's confidence as about 10 players reported to the A&M camp today to open football practice — most of them veterans who fashioned a 9-2 record last year.

Some Rattlers fans have become so positive, that A&M football publications are speculating about the possibility of an undefeated season. "That's a bit much for Hubbard."

"I think anybody in their right mind would be crazy to be saying that at this stage of the game," he said. "I'm not going to."

For one thing, Hubbard said, fans tend to forget that the Rattlers barely squeaked through several of the games they won last year. For another, the schedule is tough.

Playing only four games at home, Florida A&M faces old rivals such as Tennessee State, Wake Forest, Southern and Bethune-Cookman.

"I don't hesitate to say that we're going to have a good football team," Hubbard said. "The biggest thing we have to do is to keep our players from becoming overconfident."

FAMU returns a number of offensive linemen who have lost some key players on defense, including three defensive backs, linebacker Frankie Poole and record-setting place kicker Greg Coleman.

"You can't expect two players like that to come along year after year," Hubbard said. "We don't have a great linebacker like Frankie Poole, but we have guys that can play very, very well for us."

Charles Floyd and Steve Isaac, veterans who saw a lot of action as substitutes last year, move in at linebacker to replace Poole and Claude Johnson.

Starting quarterback Robert Patterson has departed, but Ricky Pope and Albert Chester, who lettered as freshmen last year, have shown promise in their fight for the position.

The Rattlers appear loaded at running back where last year's three leading rushers, Mike Thomas, Clarence Hawkins and James Early, are back.

Also returning at running back are Ralph Kyle, a senior who missed two seasons, and Ralph Branca, husky 6-3 right-hander, is brought in from the Brooklyn bullpen. His first pitch is a strike. His second pitch was a high inside fastball. Thomson, the lean Scot, swung and the ball drifted high toward left field.

"We're going to be strong in the back field," Hubbard said. "Our offensive line has been weak, but this year we hope it's going to be as strong as we've expected it to be."

Chicago's Ray Burris hurled a seven-hitter, with four strikeouts and one walk, for his seventh victory in the past eight games and his 11th overall.

Bill Madlock supplied the batting power for the Cubs, drilling a two-run homer in the first inning and a two-run double in the second.

Anyone Want A Broken-Down, 48-Year-Old Legend?

MIAMI (AP) — Nick Buoniconti, seemingly passed over by time a few weeks ago, returns to the Miami Dolphins today with the team's success this season possibly riding on his ability to make a comeback.

The 48-year-old veteran of 13 National Football League seasons put his law books in mothballs and got No. 85 out of storage Wednesday when he passed a physical exam and survived a required 10-minute run.

Workouts with other members of the injury-struck line-backing corps began today.

Buoniconti, a member of the all-time American Football League honor squad, announced his retirement before training camp opened when told he would be considered only for a backup role.

But knee injuries to Earnest Rhone and first round draft pick Kim Baker, plus the uncertainty that Mike Anderson will be able to come back from a 1975 knee injury, led this week to a call to arms from Coach Don Shula.

And Buoniconti, who missed the entire 1975 season after shattering his right thumb in a preseason game, appears to have a solid chance at resuming his role as a starter.

Bob Lally, who labored in the World Football League last year, currently is lining up beside Steve Tuohy in the middle, while Kim Baker and rookie Larry Gordon are on the outside.

Shula made room for Buoniconti on the roster by trading rookie fullback Don Testerman to the Philadelphia Eagles for an undisclosed future draft choice.

"It's going to be good to see the old man again," Kolen said Wednesday of Buoniconti. "Any time you have a guy with his experience and leadership qualities, it's got to mean something to you."

Kolen was optimistic that he himself would be able to help Buoniconti's linebacking dilemma next week.

Kolen said he would begin contact workouts next week and expected to be ready for the Sept. 17 season opener at Buffalo. He has been sidelined since injuring his left knee in the ninth game last year.

"The last two days are the only two I've had any real (pain) relief," Kolen said Wednesday. "Structurally, the knee is sound. I just haven't been able to work with it like we want."

"I don't know how it's going to react," added the 28-year-old six-year veteran. "You always have doubts. I definitely will try not to favor it. And, hopefully, it won't bother me at all."

Shula also said he had hopeful news from Mercy Hospital, where wide receiver Freddie Solomon underwent a successful operation to remove a kidney blockage. Solomon is expected to rejoin the team in four to six weeks.

Shula also said that he was uncertain of the status of safety Bryant Salter, obtained Tuesday from Washington in return for safety Jake Scott and a future draft choice. Shula said the trade would be voided if Salter failed to report.

"No, it's not disheartening. I feel it's a plus that I'm a part of history that was involved in such a memorable moment. People are always coming up to me and saying, 'I was walking down 18th street when it happened. I, like to be out there, feeling the ball, looking at the stands, winding up and throwing...'"

"I guess I'm remembering my youth and that I had succeeded in my dream of pitching in the big leagues, and now I'm an old man on the mound recalling that dream..."

"I didn't bother me in my early years in the big leagues. I won 26 games in a season before I was 30 years old. Only six pitchers in history ever did that. Can you name them?"

"They were Bobby Feller — everyone gets that one — and Wes Farrell, Lefty Gomez, Christy Mathewson — they called him 'The Big Six,' and me. That's five. Number six? Babe Ruth! That's right. He was helluva pitcher, and he was in that kind of company, well..."

"In the spring of 1952, I went to training camp and the club house man handed me uniform number 12. I was livid. The club prevailed upon me. In those days, ballplayers didn't have the strength of independence with owners they have today."

"Things were beginning to go bad now. I hurt my arm in a freak accident in an exhibition game in Japan when the Dodgers over that winter. I was traded to Detroit the next season and I would up my career after 1956 at age 31."

"I won 88 games in my career, which isn't so bad and long. (After 1954, however, Branca won only 12 games while losing 12.) But today, anybody remembers is that I pitched 17 years to Thomson. They call it 'The hit heard 'round the world.' And they say it was the Miracle at Coogan's Bluff."

"Thomson and I kid about it. I tell him I made him hero. He tells me he made me famous. And I guess he's right. I think it's been a long time for me, in my business. I call on somebody and they immediately know me. They want to talk baseball."

"Sure, it used to be painful. But I didn't suffer that long with the memory, maybe five years. Ten at the most. As I get more mature, I was able to place it in perspective."

"My friends really bled for me, though. They ask people who criticize me, 'Who would you say the manager was going to bring in at that crucial moment, his best pitcher or his worst?'"

MIAMI (AP) — Nobody's gotten around to calling the University of Miami a "graveyard of coaches" yet, but it's not because of the coaches' a drawn up for the Hurricanes in recent years.

Andy Gustafson's last coach to get in Miami's Hall of Fame was Carl Selmer, who took over the head duties last season. "The way he has succeeded in my opinion is the last coach to make the Hall of Fame."

Gustafson, who posted a coaching record of 95-63 between 1948 and 1963, served as athletic director until 1968 and helped draw up schedules that have left Miami a loser six of the last seven seasons.

While the quarterbacking is up for grabs between E.J. Baker, Frank Glover and George Mason, most positions are set. Otis Anderson averaged 3.4 yards a carry while totaling 383 yards as a 190-pound freshman fullback last year. He is being switched to I-back to make better use of his 4.5 speed over 40 yards.

Other backfield candidates include wingback Larry Cain (4.5 for 40 yards) and fullback Woody Bennett (4.6 for 40).

Phil August returns at split end and de-light ends Charley Clark and Dennis Jackson. Other offensive starters returning are tackles Bob O'Gara and Larry Brown and guard Frank Makaravich.

MIAMI (AP) — The New York Giants cut offensive tackle Willie Young, in his 11th year — longest in terms of service on the Giants.

The Los Angeles Rams cut wide receiver Earl McCulloch, formerly a track star at the University of Southern California.

Detroit Lions veteran defensive tackle Herb Orvis was suspended after an apparent confrontation with coach Rich Forzano Wednesday.

Washington had dealt Salter to Miami Tuesday for Jake Scott and an undisclosed draft choice.

"It's not quite clear what Salter's going to do," said Miami Coach Don Shula. "We want him down here as quick as possible. We'll give him a reasonable time to report."

If he doesn't report, the trade would be jeopardized.

The Dolphins Wednesday traded Don Testerman, a running back, to the Philadelphia Eagles for an undisclosed draft choice.

Selmer 'Canes Set

MIAMI (AP) — Nobody's gotten around to calling the University of Miami a "graveyard of coaches" yet, but it's not because of the coaches' a drawn up for the Hurricanes in recent years.

Andy Gustafson's last coach to get in Miami's Hall of Fame was Carl Selmer, who took over the head duties last season. "The way he has succeeded in my opinion is the last coach to make the Hall of Fame."

Gustafson, who posted a coaching record of 95-63 between 1948 and 1963, served as athletic director until 1968 and helped draw up schedules that have left Miami a loser six of the last seven seasons.

While the quarterbacking is up for grabs between E.J. Baker, Frank Glover and George Mason, most positions are set. Otis Anderson averaged 3.4 yards a carry while totaling 383 yards as a 190-pound freshman fullback last year. He is being switched to I-back to make better use of his 4.5 speed over 40 yards.

Other backfield candidates include wingback Larry Cain (4.5 for 40 yards) and fullback Woody Bennett (4.6 for 40).

Phil August returns at split end and de-light ends Charley Clark and Dennis Jackson. Other offensive starters returning are tackles Bob O'Gara and Larry Brown and guard Frank Makaravich.

Woodcarvers, leather workers and a handprinting analyst expert will also be at the festival, which in many ways resembles an old-time country fair. This 24th Florida Folk Festival is a major Bi-Centennial celebration at the Stephen Foster Memorial.

Single day admissions are $5 for adults and $1 for children through age 13. The four-day weekend tickets are $10 for adults and $5 for students.

Women To Train As Jet Pilots

By DIANE ROWLAND Associated Press Writer

WILLIAMS AIR FORCE BASE, Ariz. (AP)—Women have been training in jet aircraft to be accepted for navigator jobs in March 1971.

Some of the 30-40 men entering basic flight training recently are active duty pilots, said, but many come straight to pilot school from college.

The Air Force now toward full integration of women in the picture began in 1972, when the draft ended and the need for pilots increased. Like sea, since then, there has been female airplane mechanics, flight attendants, military policewomen, nurses and secretaries.

But never pilots, except during World War II, when the Women's Auxiliary Pilots flew combat missions.

"The Navy has been training women pilots for about a year, only in propeller aircraft," said Capt. Marcello. "There will be no distinction. The women will not be qualified to fly combat aircraft, since women are still prohibited by law from combat aircraft, according to Col. Carl G. Bailey, deputy commander for operations at Williams.

"To get in the program, the women will have to meet the men's minimum physical requirements, including not being more than 27 years old or less than 5-foot-4 inches tall. Once training begins, they'll have to keep up with the daily running, military policewomen, nurses and secretaries.

If not, they'll wash out, just like the men."

Another 10 women will begin pilot training Feb. 11, 1971, and six will be accepted for navigator jobs in March 1971.

"The machine," as French sees it, is made up of county Commission Chairman Mike Hattaway and County Atty.

DEAR DR. LAMB— I have read that the hardened oils in margarine are just high in cholesterol as the animal fat in butter. What is your opinion of being vegetable oil into butter to make a soft spread? Would this cut down on the cholesterol problem?

DEAR READER— Cholesterol is not fat and fat is not cholesterol. There is no cholesterol in any margarine made only with vegetable products. Hardening vegetable oils by adding hydrogen to the unsaturated fats converts them to saturated fats. One of the purposes of using a vegetable margarine is to decrease the saturated fat intake. A high saturated fat intake may cause the body to produce excess amounts of cholesterol whether the saturated fats come from animal or vegetable products.

You can improve both butter and vegetable margarine by heating in a polysaturated fat. I use one of the corn oil margarines mixed with safflower oil. Two small tubs of margarine are mixed with one tub of safflower oil. You can improve its butter flavor then by seasoning to your taste with imitation butter flavored salt. You can usually find that with the spices at the supermarket. If you want it to be more solid like ordinary margarine, you can keep it stored in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator.

DEAR DR. LAMB— Since I was a small child I have had those ugly white patches on my body—a pigment problem. Also my hair is white in places. My mother said that I was not born that way but developed it when I was 5 years old and started school. I have always been told to just live with it, but I wish those people had to. If there is something for it I really would like to know—a special diet—a vitamin—shots or anything. Any information you can give me will be appreciated.

DEAR READER— You probably have vitiligo which means a failure of the skin to form pigment in spots. This results in hard-white spots that are particularly noticeable in dark complexioned people. It is not dangerous and is important only from a cosmetic point of view.

Treatment certainly leaves something to be desired, but some people with this condition get help from treatment with a medicine called Oxoralen (methoxalen). After taking the medicine by mouth the patient is exposed to sunlight or artificial light sources that induce the same effect in shorter periods.

It can be applied locally and then a light source used but this should be done under a doctor's supervision and not by the patient. The combination of the stimulation of the light plus the medicine will sometimes help to eliminate the problem but the treatment is not always successful. A dermatologist could help you with the problem.

to four spades. As it was merely bid three spades to set the suit. South didn't know if North had a good hand or a very bad one so he merely bid four spades. North bid five hearts to show that ace. Whereupon South decided there was just might be a grand slam, so he bid six diamonds to show second-round diamond control and grand slam interest.

This was enough for North. He bid the grand slam.

There was nothing to the play since trumps broke 3-2 and declarer could set up either the fifth diamond or fifth club for his 13th trick.

An Illinois reader wants to know the significance of the double in the sequence two spades (forcing), four hearts by the met and double by the partner of the opener. The double is both a penalty double of the four-heart bid and a warning to partner that you really don't have help for him.

Officials Briefed On Evidence

Longwood Theft Probe Continues

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — Mayor James R. Lormann, City Council Chairman J.R. Grant and City Attorney Ned Julian met with officers of State Attorney Abbott Herring's office this morning, according to informed sources, to be briefed on evidence gathered in the continuing probe of alleged stealing by city employees of city property said to be valued in the "thousands of dollars."

An exact estimate of items stolen — reported to include oil, oil filters, gasoline and repairable water meters — is yet officially available.

Grant said today that he had been instructed not to answer questions concerning the probe, but has called a special meeting of the city council for 7:30 p.m. Monday. He said although he knew what was to be brought before the board, he could not reveal the matters at this time.

According to an official notice posted on the city hall bulletin board, the item on the agenda for the special meeting is adoption of a resolution authorizing Mayor Lormann to sign a mutual aid pact with the Seminole County Fire Department.

A workshop with City Auditor Harold Hartcock on amending the 1975-76 budget to reflect actual income and expenditures was being previously scheduled for Monday night and apparently will still be held after the special meeting.

Grant said today that the city attorney is preparing a statement for the press on the probe involving the maintenance department. Julian, however, was not available for comment.

According to sources, he detected that six employees of the maintenance department, conducted by a polygraph expert, Billy Moody of Winter Park, have been concluded. The six are said to have taken the tests voluntarily. It is also reported that three employees declined to take the tests.

"One of the three is said to have requested that the city assume liability for any catastrophic illness which could be caused by stress and strain of the testing as a condition of taking the test and that city officials refused."

According to an official in Herring's office, it is expected (See LONGWOOD, page 3A)

Utility Rate Hike Eyed

County commissioners today agreed to look into the possibility of raising water and sewer rates for about 2,000 customers in south Seminole.

Commissioners authorized a study to be completed within 60 days which should provide information on the rate hike needed to cover an estimated $128,000 deficit to the county utility department.

Commissioner Harry Kwiatkowski indicated "there is a possibility" if the money can be found that the deficit can be made up without a rate hike.

However, Office of Management Analysis and Evaluations (OMAE) Director Pat Glisson said the deficit must be erased if the fiscal 1977 budget is to balance.

Most of the bills average about $10.50 per month for water and sewer use. The county's present rates are lower than water and sewer rates in most Seminole cities.

Glisson was on hand at today's meeting to inform the commission that next year's budget has been balanced. If the present budget is adopted at a public hearing on Sept. 14, homeowners will pay $3.37 for each $1,000 property assessment.

This year's $3.37 millage is the same as the 1975-76 level.

Grady's Panama Stand Gets Standing Ovation

Grady said some inequities do exist in the law to provide protections for women, adding that he echoes the remark of former U.S. Sen. Sam Ervin that "ERA is the worst piece of legislation ever brought before me."

He said ERA is a "Trojan horse, a red herring" and that laws now on the books are designed to prevent homosexual marriages and to prevent homosexuals from adopting children.

Grady said even without ERA the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare is studying "we cannot have father-son banquets or mother-daughter picnics."

Grady announced to the audience the appointment of Fred Streetman as his Seminole campaign manager.

Streetman is a member of the Republican state executive committee and was a delegate to the recent Republican National Convention.

Helen Hansel, an attorney from St. Petersburg, also a candidate for the GOP nomination for the Senate, said she favors the ERA, but believes the nation's big concerns are the economy and conservation of energy.

During a rebuttal period she attacked Ervin's position on the periodic review of Supreme Court appointments, saying the former "is of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA),

Kimbrough Requests Details Of Legal Cost

By ED FRACKETT Herald Staff Writer

County Commissioner John Kimbrough has fired off a letter requesting that Commission Chairman Mike Hattaway instruct the board by Monday to ask County Attorney Tom Freeman for a detailed breakdown of more than $13,000 in legal fees paid to his law firm.

Freeman maintains he has fulfilled his obligations per his contract with the county for legal services. In a letter to Kimbrough the attorney referred the commissioner to the contract. Meanwhile, Kwiatkowski says his committee recommendation will be to retain the present fee system. Kimbrough, on the other hand, has opted for creating a county legal department, a move officials say will save taxpayers $100,000 a year in legal fees.

"It's a big political issue," Kwiatkowski said. "I've come to the conclusion that it's got to be on a contractual basis."

Kwiatkowski said Democrats didn't complain when the attorney's position was occupied by Howard Marzess, a Republican. He said he is studying what other governmental entities pay for convenient to make charges near election time.

Ford, Dole Meet To Plot Strategy Against Carter

By The Associated Press

President Ford holds another in his series of campaign strategy sessions today, and one reported that Carter said the first item on the agenda in Ford's talks with vice presidential running mate Bob Dole will be the role of Dole's wife in the campaign.

Elizabeth Dole is a member of the Federal Trade Commission. Although she could legally retain the post during the campaign, Ford's advisers have decided that she could not combine her duties with a full round of campaign appearances for her husband and the President.

Ford and Dole plan to confer on the vacationing Ford in Vail, Colo., Thursday night.

In Plains, Ga., Democratic candidate Jimmy Carter told reporters he was not surprised by polls that show a sharp drop in his lead over Ford.

"I've never expected an easy time," said Carter, who said his lead was still "substantial."

The latest Gallup Poll, released Thursday and based on interviews with 1,106 registered voters last weekend, concluded that 49 percent of the electorate supported Carter and 39 percent supported Ford. Prior to the GOP convention last week, Ford trailed Carter 56 to 35.

An increase of several percentage points is expected in the next poll, Carter's aides said.

Meanwhile, representatives from the Carter and Ford camps Thursday concluded their initial round of talks in Washington on a date and format for the proposed debates between the candidates.

While Ford has suggested the first debate be held shortly after Labor Day, Carter favors the League of Women Voters' (See FORD, page 3A)
