Sanford Reviews Comprehensive Land Use Plan

By Maryann L. Cross Merald Staff Writer

The preliminary draft of the plan that will affect future land development decisions in Sanford will be reviewed by city commissioners today at 4 p.m. during a workshop meeting at City Hall.

Sanford's Comprehensive Plan, based on fiveand 10-year planning periods, also will establish policies for traffic circulation, water and sewage systems, police and fire protection, recreation facilities, downtown design, housing, conservation, government coordination, and capital im-

"If the public has something to say (about the comprehensive plan), now's the time to say it." said City Planner Jay Marter.

The plan is scheduled to be adopted Dec. 28. Before that date, six workshops will be held on the first and third Thursdays of October, November and December. The workshop dates and times will be printed on the back of the utility bills sent out by the city. Marter said changes, corrections, additions, comments and modifications can be made to the plan before its final adoption in December.

A questionnaire will be available at the workshops to give people a chance to comment on the pian. The nine areas of the pian are explained briefly on the form and the public is asked to circle the letter that corresponds to their opinion. At the end of the questionaire is space for additional comments. Copies of the complete comprehensive plan, which goes into extensive detail about the different areas, also will be available at the workshops.

Marter said his department has been working on the plan for a year. The plan was developed using extensive data and analysis in accordance with the Local Government Comprehensive Planning and Land Development Regulation Act of 1985. Although Sanford's plan addresses lands both inside and adjacent to the city, the plan is only effective for lands within the city limits.

The following is a brief summary of the major goals of each aspect of the plan:

Resource protection areas, neighborhood areas, and commerce areas are the land-use categories addressed by the future land use plan. Under the plan all land uses will be made based on location, development standards and policies. The timing and sequence of development will be determined by what urban services (such as water and sewage) are available and will not be based solely on zoning. In addition, established agricultural activities and single family housing

Presidential Hopefuls Vie For Support

Herald Staff Writer Six Republican presidential contenders came to Florida over the weekend vying for the support of what was described as the largest political organization of its kind in the country - the National Federation of Republican Women.

In the six speeches to the 2,600 delegates gathered at the Orange County Convention Center south of Orlando. there was much Democratbashing and promising to carry on the work that President Ronald Reagan has started. # Legislators Debate Tax Repeal, Revision

Herald Staff Writer

Like hornets from a destroyed nest, state legislators are swarming over the Florida service tax in Tallahansee today and no one knows where they'll land on the issue or who'll get stung in the process.

The House and Senate convened today in a special s to deal with the governor's call for junking the law, which took effect July 1. The law extended the 5-percent sales tax to such previously exempt services as advertising, legal counsel, various real estate transactions, capitol into an abattoir and lawn-care and pest-control work. and a host of others.

Dire predictions hinging on the repeal of the tax range from drug wars to barebone education to streets flooded with released prisoners. Although those of less of a doomsday mentality think such "horribles" are more fiction than fact, they, too, admit the issue is pretty "fluid" in halls of the capitol.

"You go from room to room in Tallahassee and everybody is talking about it," said Rep. Art Grindle, R-Altamonte Springs. But, he said, what will come out of the 24 day session is the big unknown. If an agreement is not distilled from the rhetoric by Wednesday, legislaturs will probably be sent home until a week from today, when they would reconvene to ferment more and reach a decision palatable to all. The session probably would not be extended from Wednesday to Thursday because of the Jewish holiday Rosh Hashana, which is Thursday.

Legislators, on the prong of public opinion, could change the slaughter the tax out of existence. Or the tax could receive legislative plastic surgery and be shaped more pleasing to the taxpayers' eye and pocketbook. A third alternative is a beauty-contest ballot parade in part, whole or with possible changes - during a referendum that would get legislators off the voters' angry hook and lay the broad-based tax under the collective Floridians' ax. # Late Checks Blamed On Computer, Confusion

By Richard Whittaker Herald Staff Writer

Computer errors and a misunderstanding between Lake Mary Mayor Dick Fess and Police Chief Charles Lauderdale on the Issue of overtime were responsible for a delay of paychecks for some city employees Friday.

Eight patrol officers and three police dispatchers had to wait on Fess and Lauderdale to Iron out the matter before receiving their paychecks at 3 p.m. on Friday. Several other employees also had to wait on their checks because of paycheck errors made by a computer.

Fess said one of the computer bloopers on checks he caught was the payment of $10.02 for an employee who had worked all week. "That was obviously low."

Fess said. "Even in Lake Mary. they (city employees) have got to earn more than that."

Errors were cleared up and those employees were paid.

However. Fess left word for City Treasurer Madeltene Minns not to sign paychecks for the 11 police department employees until he could confer with Lauderdale on a situation with one officer who had exchanged hours with another. Fess said there was confusion over whether the officer should be paid overtime for those hours he worked because of the exchange.

"I will not sign a paycheck that is illegally prepared." Fess said. "The city can't violate the law and department heads can't make promises the city can't keep," he said.

Minns said the mayor noticed what he thought was an inordinate amount of overtime being worked by the police department while he was looking into the situation with the one officer. The police department worked a reported 601/2 hours of overtime for which the city had to pay its officers at a rate of time and a half, according to Minns. The total cost of the hours the officers worked at that rate to Police Captain Sam Belflore said the reason for the overtime the department is recording is because of having one less patrol officer than normal and the loss of dispatcher Jeff Bailard because he joined the Air Force. "The other dispatchers are trying to fill in until we get another with Lauderdale.

one hired." Belflore said. He also indicated the department is attempting to hire another road patrol officer.

Another reason Belfiore gave for the overtime is the department's caseload has increased by over 100 percent since he's been with the department. He included both time spent on criminal and traffic cases in that category. "We're spending a lot more time in court too," Belflore said of the reasons for depart; ment overtime.

Belflore said the problem with department paychecks being delayed had no effect on the service it provided to the city. Minns said the mayor instructed her to go ahead and sign the checks after conferring

Emily is the fifth tropical storm of the 1987 hurricane season which began in June and ends in November.

Dennis's poorly defined center was about 1,000 miles east of Bermuda and had top winds near 30 mph. It was moving toward the east northeast at 20 to 25 mph and was expected to continue that motion through today. Thunderstorms lingered in

The attack Sunday on the 39,115-ton Petroship-Bulk broke Iran's 10-day hiatus in attacks on merchant ships and came shortly before the 21 Arab League states agreed to a November summit to discuss the 7-year-old Iran-Iraq

Reagan Trumpets Arms Pact Before U.N. General Assembly

WASHINGTON (UPI) - With a superpower arms agreement almost in hand. President Reagan today was bound for the U.N. General Assembly to trumpet the outlook for historic cuts in nuclear arsenals and to reinforce his call for reduced world tensions.

As he has done in each of the last six years, Reagan decided to use a speech to the General Assembly to promote the spread of democracy worldwide. This year, however, a backdrop of unrivaled optimism enabled him for the first time to use the platform of the United Nations to boast of concrete progress in arms control and

U.S.-Soviet relations. As described by White House officials on the eve of the speech. Reagan's central theme remained praise for the rising tide of democracy in Latin America and other parts of the world since he took office in 1981.

Adamson noted that Codisco has grown from a small com-pany to one with 990 million in sales for the last year.

Codisco, which is breaking ground for a new headquarters building Wednesday, began in 1958 as Fort Lauderdale Steel, Bauerle said, moving first to Orlando, and then Sanford in 1973, becoming one of the first industries to locate at the Sanford Airport Industrial Park.

Make 'Em Ready When We Are

When former U.S. Secretary of Transportation Elizabeth Dole declared that the "American people have a right to truth in airline schedules," the nation's major air carriers should have enthusiastically agreed.

Instead, the idea of making commercial planes fly on time had some airline executives positively sulking. They made it clear they would try to improve only because Dole's department insisted — and threatened government-imposed fines. "We'll do better." they seem to be saying, "but the government made us do it."

This sullenness clouded an otherwise admirable attempt to reduce airport delays that have become more predictable than the flights themselves. Six major airlines signed a consent agreement that requires them to reschedule their chronically late flights at four busy airports. The federal government did more than a little coaxing. If some flights continue to arrive late more often than not, an airline could be fined up to $1,000.

To their credit, commercial airlines didn't squawk when Dole ordered them to start filing monthly reports; starting Oct. 15. detailing the on-time performance of their flights. But reports are one thing, corrective action another. The airlines must make more than a token gesture to cut off the rumbles on Capitol Hill.

The government could crack down a lot harder. If the public comes to believe deregulated air travel is unsafe, predictable and out of control, Congress could end the days of airline deregulation. That would be unfortunate. Full-scale deregulation might solve the delays, but kill off the competition that resulted in cheaper flights.

The best way for airlines to head off government control is to heed consumerwarning signs and show they're willing — nay, bending over backwards — to try to solve problems voluntarily.

The best path back to government regulation is to deny the problem and bare fangs at federal officials and consumers. Who might be helping that cause? Some of the very airlines that object most vehemently to government control.

After the flight rescheduling agreement was announced, a spokesman for American Airlines, one of the signators, said his company already had corrected its scheduling problems. If that's true, fine. We compliment American. But the spokesman then griped that his company had been forced unjustly to sign the agreement. Surely American doesn't have grounds to protest that loudly. It is a party to the agreement because 179 of its flights were late 70 percent of the time during the first six months of this year.

Robin Matell, a spokesman for Eastern Airlines, reacted even more indignantly, calling the agreement "a very pooor example of the government process in action."

"This is no way to run a delicate and sensitive industry," he said.

Yes, Mr. Matell. And ignoring the needs of the long-suffering airline passenger is no way to run a deregulated airline.

The Bork Battle: The Ideological Stakes

By Arneld Sevislak UPI Senior Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Franklin D. Roosevelt occupied the White House for more than 12 years, longer than any president, and appointed eight members of the Supreme Court. All but one of them remained on the bench long after FDR died.

FDR's high court appointees served an average of more than 18 years, and two of them, Hugo Black and William Douglas, lasted more than 30 years.

Nowadays, presidents can't serve longer than eight years, but most Supreme Court justices now remain on the job for décades.

And that is why liberals are pulling out all stops trying to keep conservative Robert Bork off the Supreme Court.

They know Ronald Reagan will be gone at the end of 1988 and belive that with enough votes in Congress and a friendly president, they can undo the conservative "revolution" Reagan brought to Washington in 1981.

But they feel if Bork gets the lifetime appointment that goes with federal judgeships, Reagan will have left an ideological roadblock that probably will stand in their way well into the 21st century.

Bork is 60 years old, but there is no reason to believe he can't serve 15 or 20 years on the high court. There are several justices now who are 75 or older, and with medicine's constant lifelengthening advances, it is entirely possible that Bork would serve through three or four two-term presidencies.

With only two exceptions, all the justices appointed by Presidents Kennedy, Johnson. Nixon and Ford still are on the bench — an average tenure of more than 20 years. Justice William Brennan has passed the 30-year mark and Justices Byron White and Thurgood Marshall have each served more than 20 years. Arthur Goldberg and Abe Fortas, the only two short timers appointed since 1961, resigned.

Resignations also created all three high court vacancies during the Reagan presidency. Potter

Stewart, Warren Burger and Lewis Powell all served more than 15 years before leaving the court.

President Reagan's first two appointees,
Sandra Day O'Connor and Antonin Scalia, both are younger than Bork and also figure to be on the bench past the end of the century. Chief Justice William Rehnquist is 61, which means there probably will be a strong conservative bloc

on the court for many years if Bork is confirmed.

Even without further erosion of the court's aging liberal bloc. Rehnquist, O'Connor. Scalia and Bork would need only one more vote — White is often cited as a probable ally — to accelerate what liberals see as an alarming and accelerating movement toward the right in Supreme Court decisions.

Reagan has called the opposition to Bork "political." If he is using he word in the sense of a Republican-Democratic conflict, the president probably is off the mark, but if he means it in the ideological sense — conservative vs. liberal — he is on the target.

Get EPA Out Of Planning

The Clean Air Act was never supposed to turn urban planning over to the Environmental Protection Agency. Yet the law may do that if the public isn't alert.

Here's how: For dozens of cities, compliance with national clean-air standards remains a distant dream. They haven't a chance of achieving the ozone or carbon monoxide levels required by the end of this year. Like Sisyphus, a few could labor indefinitely and never reach their goal.

Hence EPA's opportunity to expand its influence. If the agency is diplomatic, but firm, it could insinuate its way into a host of local planning and development decisions in which a national bureaucracy has no legitimate claim.

There is some evidence the agency intends to do that.

In a "fact sheet" put out by the agency earlier this year, EPA warns that several contemplated programs "will be both expensive and socially disruptive." Just so. By the EPA's own admission, such measures include "restrictions on vehicle use, expanded controls on existing industrial sources, restrictions on new growth and development, new controls on gasoline distribution, prohibitions on the use of some consumer products ... and the possible shutdown or relocation of some major industrial emitters."

Most people have no idea that their cities, not to mention their lifestyles, could be remade in the name of cleaner air. By wide majorities they favor controlling pollution, but tend to assume the job will be accomplished through less intrusive means.

Nor can you blame them, for this is how air quality has been improved up until now — and dramatically so, by many measures. Between 1976 and 1985, for example, carbon monoxide levels dropped an average of 36 percent; sulfur dioxide, 42 percent; airborne lead, 79 percent; ozone, more than 7 percent; airborne soot and dirt, 24 percent.

Having come so far, though, regulators seem attracted to even more draconian policies — and all because of an arbitrary deadline passed by Congress.

Some people argue that airpollution deadlines and standards cannot be compromised because they relate to health and safety. Indeed they do, but somewhat in the manner that highway speed relates to health and safety. Lowering pollution standards even further, like lowering the speed limit, might save more lives, but there is a point at which cost and inconvenience should give us pause.

Auto Safety On Skids

WASHINGTON (NEA) — "The Car Book" should have been a delight to conservatives who embrace "free market" economic theories because it allowed every model of new car to compete on the basis of ability and performance.

The paperback book, published and distributed free by the federal government, was a bonanza to consumers because it showed how autos ranked in everything from horsepower to crashworthiness.

Thus, it's not surprising that the publication was very popular. In 1980, the initial printing of 500,000 copies was quickly exhausted and an additional 1.25 million copies had to be printed.

But in 1981, shortly after President Reagan assumed office, "The Car Book" was terminated. It never again has been printed by the federal government.

That action is emblematic of what the Department of Transportation's National Highway Traffic Safety Administration has done to the federal government's entire vehicle safety program during the Reagan administration.

When Reagan moved into the White House, the auto industry was disturbed about regulations mandating improved emission controls, fuel economy and motor vehicle safety. In April 1981 — less than three months after Reagan's inauguration — Vice President George Bush announced that a "regulatory reform" task force he headed had identified 34 draft regulations dealing with motor vehicles that would be rescinded or revised.

In the ensuing years, NHTSA has voluntarily promulgated only one significant new safety requirement — a rule mandating that new cars be equipped with a high, rear-end, center-mounted brake light.

At the same time. NHTSA has terminated proceedings to craft rules that would have increased braking requirements for heavy trucks, enhanced side-impact protection for passenger cars and required tamper-resistant

Odometers When P

When Reagan entered the White House, a NHTSA rule required that automakers equip new cars with bumpers that would prevent damage (except for minor dents) if the autos were traveling 5 mph or less prior to a crash.

But that rule has been weakened to allow flimster bumpers that would protect cars from damage at only 2½ mph. That means the automakers can equip their cars with cheaper bumpers — and consumers must pay higher repair bills if they're involved in an accident.

During the Reagan administration, NHTSA has not once exercised its power to declare a car defective and order a manufacturer's recall to ensure its safety.

Under federal law, NHTSA can require a manufacturer to recall a vehicle and repair it at no cost to the owner at any time during the first eight years of its life.

But defect investigations have languished so long in NHTSA files during the Reagan administration that the recall deadline has come and gone in the case of 4.5 million allegedly defective vehicles. Within the next year, that deadline will pass for another 1.5 million to 2.0 million vehicles.

Finally, there are countless safety measures NHTSA might have considered but has ignored. Atop that list is the agency's refusal to extend numerous auto safety standards to light trucks, minivans and similar vehicles.

In the months following Reagan's inauguration, NHTSA revoked the requirement that air bags be installed in cars to provide crash protection — but a unanimous U.S. Supreme Court reversed that "arbitrary and capricious" decision.

Even in that case — presumably resolved by a court order from the nation's highest tribunal — NHTSA has persisted in foot-dragging as part of its shameless effort to undermine the concept of motor vehicle safety.

Winter Sun Offers No Vitamin D

By Rob Stein UPI Science Writer

BOSTON (UPI) — If you count on the sun for your vitamin D, you may be out of luck in the winter if you live in northern states.

"In these areas, sunlight exposure in winter gives you no advantage at all in terms of vitamin D nutrition," said Dr. Michael Holick, director of the clinical research center at the Boston University School of Medicine.

Based on his research, Holick recommends people living in northern areas supplement their diets in the winter by taking vitamin D tablets or consuming food that contains vitamin D, such as milk.

Vitamin D. known as "the sunshine vitamine, is essential for the maintenance of healthy bones.

Rickets, a vitamin D deficiency in children, and osteomalacia, the adult counterpart of rickets, occur more frequently in the winter. Because of this, some scientists have assumed the skin made less vitamin D during the winter.

Many had thought the sun's rays were weaker in the winter and people were exposed to the sun less because they spent more time indoors and wore more clothes that covered more skin.

But Holick's research indicates the reason the skin does not synthesize as much vitamin D in the winter in northern areas is the angle of the sun to Earth.

of the sun to Earth.

Because the sun is no longer overhead, the rays must travel through more of the ozone layer in the atmosphere, which filters and scatters more of the ultraviolet light necessary for vitamin D synthesis.

The chemical provitamin D occurs naturally in the skin. When exposed to ultraviolet light, provitamin D is converted to previtamin D, which spontaneously turns to vitamin D in two to three days, Holick said.

Working with Ann Webb, a British physicist and postdoctoral fellow. Holick placed a rack of quartz test tubes containing a liquid form of provitamin D on the roof of a downtown Boston skyscraper.

The provitamin D was exposed to sunlight for three hours a day for several days in the middle of each month of the year and checked to determine how much previtamin D had been formed. Holick said.

The researchers found that virtually no previtamin D was formed from November through February. The results were confirmed using samples of human skin, which were similarly exposed.

Holick estimated vitamin D production may be deficient in the winter as far south as Washington, D.C.

Is There A Coverup On Brutality At VA?

By Jack Anderson And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — Veterans Administration documents indicate that Administrator Thomas Turnage was urged by subordinates last November to contact his friend Attorney General Edwin Meese about a potentially embarrassing FBI investigation of alleged police brutality at the VA medical center in Cincinnati.

A month later, Turnage wrote to Meese's associate attorney general, Stephen Trott, saying the VA hoped that the FBI probe would be wrapped up quickly because it was hurting worker morale at the hospital.

Trott's response came two weeks later: The FBI had turned up new leads and, once they were investigated. Justice Department attorneys would decide quickly whether the case would go to court.

In March, the Justice Department announced that it would not seek prosecution of the hospital's police chief, Daniel Wilson. In testimony before Congress, police officers at the medical center had accused Wilson of hurling racial epithets at blacks as he beat them bloody for such transgressions as begging on the premises and parking in unauthorized places.

A spokesman for Turnage said he never contacted Meese. And, we have found no further communication with the Department of Justice other than Turnage's letter to Trott. Nevertheless, that letter has fueled speculation that the case is being covered up.

We can't say with certainty that a coverup is afoot, but our associate Stewart Harris has dug up additional evidence that, in our opinion, tends to support the theory:

 At a recent hearing, Sen. David Pryor. D-Ark., waved a secret FBI report that he said does not exonerate Wilson. The Justice Department is resisting efforts to make the report public, although normally such reports are released with deletions of the portions protected by privacy laws.

The Government Accountability Project, a public-interest group, filed suit under the Freedom of Information Act to obtain a copy of the FBI report. Even though some of the witnesses interviewed by the FBI have signed affidavits supporting the GAP's access to their testimony, the FBI is stalling release of the report.

— VA officials considered prosecution of two officers who blew the whistle on Wilson. According to VA records, agency officials met with the U.S. attorney in Cincinnati on Nov. 18, 1986, and asked that Paul Headley and John Berter be prosecuted for making "false statements." The meeting was held before the FBI had concluded its investigation of the allegations.

against Wilson. Cathy Brinkman. the assistant U.S. attorney who worked on the case in Cincinnati, declined comment. Headley and Berter have not been prosecuted. - The day after the Cincinnati meeting, a regional VA official in Chicago wrote a memorecommending that Turnage "make the appropriate contacts at the Department of Justice to facilitate an end to the FBI's investigative activities." It was another official's memo that suggested that Turnage could raise the issue with his good friend Meese.

— In Senate testimony, VA center police officer Harold Hipple said Wilson had bragged about being sent in to "clean up" the Cincinnati hospital. He said Wilson claimed that James Fasone, chief of security for the VA, and the director of he Cincinnati hospital were "completely behind him." Fasone did not return our calls.

Curry Still Runs Favors For Rams

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS -John Curry has always given the Lake Mary Rams the big play when he needed it. The sight of Curry weaving his way through defenders and crossing the goal line has been a common sight the last three years.

Curry showed once again on Friday night that he still has plenty of big plays left in him as he ran for 136 yards and two touchdowns in Lake Mary's 21-0 Seminole Athletic Conference and District 5A-4 victory over Lake Brantley. Curry's 59-yard touchdown run in the first quarter was a thing of beauty. He took the handoff from quarterback Carlos Hartsfield and broke a pair of tackles at the line. He then cut to his right and rambled down the sideline only make a sharp cutback to his left and charge into the center of the end zone.

Lake Mary coach Harry Nelson said Curry's effort was inspirational. "That was a great run by John." Nelson said. "That early touchdown got us all fired up. and John has always had a big game when we needed him to have one."

Nelson is hoping that the hard-running senior has a big game this Friday when the Rama (1-1) play host to Seminole (2-0). Seminole came from behind to edge Edgewater, 29-20, Friday night for its second victory.

"I think that this game is what we needed going into Seminole." Curry said. "It is going to be a tough game, and I hope that we will be ready."

Lake Mary running back Ray Williams complemented Curry as he picked up 48 yards on eight carries, with a 33-yard touchdown run. "We played pretty well tonight," Williams said. "Seminole will be tough. but our ground game is solid."

The Lake Mary offensive line played well as Alex Birle, Eric Birle, Chad Gay, Jason Rieb, and Todd Wright bulldozed the Brantley defensive line. "This was a big game mentally for us," Eric Birle said. "We really ran the ball well tonight, and I'm just hoping that we can do the same next week."

Nelson saod that he just wants to savor the victory over Brantley before thinking about Seminole. "I'm Just going to enjoy this one," Nelson said. "I'll worry about Seminole next week. Seminole, too, is savoring a victory. The Tribe fell behind Orlando Edgewater, 20-9, Friday but then rode the brilliant arm of Jeff Blake to a comeback 29-20

As it did last week. Seminole's defense turned in a superb goal-line stand to ignite the offense. Linebacker Steve Warren and defensive end Paul Newell ganged up on Luther Walls at the Seminole 1-yard line on fourth down. Blake, who hit 8 of 18 passes for four TDs, once again spread around his scoring receptions. The senior QB hit Jerry Governali for 14 yards. Terrance Eady for nine yards, Jerod Jones for 36 yards and Dwight Brinson for 32 yards. J.J. Partlow added a 24-yard field goal.

Jones, a Junior, had 70 yards rushing, 36 yards receiving and 120 return yards for 226 total.

Elsewhere Friday, Oviedo's Lions turned in a strong defensive effort to shut out Orlando Dr. Phillips, 14-0. Lake Howell couldn't generate much offense in the 16-6 setback at DeLand.

Emery Sneed, Pete Lingard, Willie Pauldo, Nay Mathis, Tim Whitaker and Chad Duncan were the leaders on defense. Offensively, Rodney Thompson (97 yards), Brad Bennett (28 yards), Preston Dames (56 vards) and Duncan (30 yards) followed the blocking of tackle Andy "Clydesdale" Palmer. John Pettit's three-yard toss to Alan Greene accounted for the first score. Bennett's seven-yard run supplied the second TD.

Lake Howell, meanwhile, scored late in the game when Jeff Neace hit tight end David Yapo with an eight-yard TD pass. Freshman Marquette Smith raced for 92 yards.

Coach Bill Scott's Lyman Greyhounds, who opened the season with a 26-0 victory over Orlando Boone, were idle last week. The 'Hounds host Edgewater Friday.

Upshaw: Strike Could Wipe Out Season

NEW YORK (UPI) - With less than 24 hours remaining before NFL players planned to walk off the job, the two sides had no meetings set and the head of the union said the strike could wipe out the entire season.

'Today is a day when everyone is sort of getting prepared for the ultimate deal and that's a strike," Gene Upshaw, executive director of the NFL Players Association, said Sunday in Washington.

"We have to be willing to stay out. And the players understand that when you walk out, you're walking out for the season. I don't want anyone to think that it's going to be a week, a day, two weeks or eight weeks. It's for the duration and they know that."

Despite outward signs of normalcy with a full slate of games Sunday, a strike deadline remained fixed for Tuesday and there seemed little possibility of an agreement before then. The walkout of 1,600 NFL players was set for 12:01 a.m. EDT Tuesday, or immediately following Monday night's Jets-Patriots game at East Rutherford, N.J.

"I'm very reluctant to say that, but I do believe we'll have a strike," Jack Donlan, executive director of the NFL's Management Council, said on NBC's "Sunday Today.

With the strike less than two days away, opposing sides were nowhere near the bargaining table and players, management and fans were girding for the league's second walkout in the last five

Donlan and Upshaw last met Friday in Washington, and no new talks are scheduled. According to the Management Council, the last word from Upshaw to Donlan was. "I'll be in touch."

The strike over a new collective bargaining agreement follows the 57-day walkout in 1982 in which seven weeks of the season were lost.

"There is an aura of insanity about this strike," said Joe Robbie, owner of the Miami Dolphins.

The owners intend to continue the season beginning Oct. 4 with whatever players are available, although Upshaw said those who cross a picket line to play would be paid only after each game involving scab players.

The networks are obligated to televise games involving non-union players. CBS. NBC, ABC and ESPN paid $476 million for the right to televise NFL games this year. It was not clear if the networks would provide rebates to ad-

Slack's Relentless Attack Buries Elon

By Scott Bander

Herald Sports Writer ORLANDO - University of Central Florida quarterback Darin Slack has taken a lot of heat over the past few years. When the UCF offense wasn't producing, fans were quick to point the finger at Slack. He was often criticized, but seldom praised. But Slack has shown that he'is a tough cookie. The 1983 Lake Howell High graduate put all of his doubters to rest on Saturday night. Slack led a relentless aerial assault with three touchdown passes and 321 yards en route to a 34-10 triumph over 11th-runked NAIA Elon (N.C.) College before 11,752 fans at the Florida Citrus Bowl-Orlando.

"I was very enthused with the way that Darin performed tonight," UCF Coach Gene McDowell said. "He threw ball with a great deal of confidence and think that he is improving."

UCF's game plan was a quarterback's dream as the Knights came out in a no-huddle shotgun offense with five wide receivers and no running backs. The odd formation left the Fight'in Christians baffled.

By the time the Fight'in Christians realized just what UCF was up to, it was too late as the third-ranked Division Il Knights jumped out to a quick 21.0 first-quarter lead and never looked back.

The game marked the first of three critical contests for the Knights as UCF (2.0) will host Div. 1-AA powerhouse Eastern Kentucky next week before traveling to Statesboro. Ga. to take on two-time defending I-AA National Champion Georgia Southern. UCF will be looking to avenge losses to both EKU and GSU last season. Slack, who threw for 1.799 yards as a funlor last season, had one of the finest outings as a Knight. He was 22 for 39 for his 321 yards with two interceptions.

Slack said that the unique offense was just the formula that UCF needed to get out of the gate quickly. "That no-huddle offense really caught them (Elon) off guard." Slack said. "We knew that if we had five cover wide receiver Bernard Ford with a linebacker, and that is a mismatch.'

Slack helped wide receivers Ford and Arnell Spencer to set schoolrecords for the most catches in a game and most receiving yards.

Slack's primary target was Ford. The highly-regarded senior hauled in a school-record 13 passes for 148 yards and a touchdown. Ford's fine effort broke Ted Wilson's record of 11 catches against both Samford and Western Kentucky last season. UCF coach Gene McDowell said that although he expected the nohuddle offense to work, he didn't expect it to produce so quickly. "I really didn't expect to score three touchdowns," McDowell, who is starting his third year as head coach at UCF, said. "Darin (Slack) did a heck of a job and hopefully we will be ready for EKU next week." Spencer also had a fine night as the speedy junior set a UCF record with 152 receiving yards. Spencer pulled down six passes for 152 yards and a pair of touchdowns. The 152-yard

Bears Run Over Bucs

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Bears' plan for the future has Neal Anderson inheriting Walter Payton's spot in the offensive backfield. The present calls for the two to play together.

Payton scored his NFL-record 107th rushing touchdown and Anderson notched his first Sunday to lead the Bears to a 20-3 rout of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

The Bears' defense sacked quarterbacks Steve DeBerg and Vinny Testaverde four times and held the Buccaneers to a first-half field goal while improving to 2-0. Tampa Bay fell to 1-1, giving first-year coach Ray Perkins his first loss with the Buccaneers.

Payton set the NFL record for most rushing touchdowns when he scored from 1 yard with 5:46 left in the first quarter. He passed Jim Brown's total and gave Chicago a 7-0 lead.

Payton also scored on a 9-yard pass from Mike Tomczak with 3:20 to play. Anderson, drafted in the first round of the 1986 draft out of Florida, scored on a 27-yard run in the second quarter for his first career rushing touchdown and a 14-3 Bears advantage. Anderson rushed 16 times for 115 yards, his first career 100-yard game. Payton gained only 24 yards in 15 carries.

"There happened to be a lot of big holes."
Anderson said. "We (he and Payton) do it together. When he has the ball, I block and, when I have the ball, he blocks.'

"We felt we had to make this team respect our running game," Bears Coach Mike Ditka said. They were taking things away from Walter.'

Tampa Bay lost two fumbles and DeBerg threw two interceptions. Tampa Bay moved inside the Chicago 30-yard line four times without reaching the end zone.

DeBerg, who threw five touchdown passes last week against Atlanta, completed 18 of 35 passes for 195 yards. Testaverde replaced DeBerg in the final three minutes and was 1 of 4 for 14 yards. It was the first regular-season action for Testaverde. the first pick in April's draft.

Tomczak completed 15 of 27 passes for 150 yards with two interceptions. The Bears also fumbled twice, but the Buccaneers failed to take advantage of the turnovers.

"They're a great football team," Tampa Bay Coach Ray Perkins said. "They weren't on the top of their game and that's to their credit, that they can play less than their best and still win.

"The effort was pleasing. Our defense played well, but we keep getting back to the mistakes.

A Tampa Bay turnover and penalty set up the Payton touchdown, which gave the Bears a 7-0 lead. James Wilder fumbled after slipping a tackle by Mike Singletary and Singletary recovered at the Chicago 22-yard line.

On the next play, Tampa Bay cornerback Rod Jones was called for pass interference at the Buccaneers 29-yard line. Payton scored nine plays later - all rushes - for the game's first touchdown.

Dolphins......23

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) - The Miami Dolphins and quarterback Dan Marino extended two of the NFL's most impressive streaks at the expense of the Indianapolis Colts. Marino threw three touchdown passes Sunday to lead Miami to a 23-10 victory over host Indianapolis, giving the Dolphins their 14th straight triumph over the Colts in the past seven

"We've done well against them and we match up quite well against them," said Marino, whose best NFL statistics have come against the Colts. "We were running the ball pretty well, so we tried some play-action passes and got that working. We had some good timing. We were just on early.

Marino completed 23 of 32 passes for 254 yards, including touchdown passes of 18 yards to Troy Stradford, 10 yards to Mark Clayton and 6 yards to Jim Jensen. He completed passes to seven different receivers as Miami improve to 1-1 and the Colts fell to 0-2.

Buccaneers Sign Riggins

Charles Riggins, a former Seminole High football standout, has signed a contract with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Riggins, who currently lives in Tampa, will play for the Bucs in the event of an NFL strike.

Riggins, a 1977 graduate, had a fine career as a defensive end for Bethune-Cookman College. He was drafted by the Green Bay Packers, but did not make the team. He then played for the Orlando Renegades of the United States Football League before it folded.

Riggins, a defensive tackle, currently lives in Tampa. The Bucs also signed NFL and USFL veteran quarterback John Reuves. Tampa Bay Player Personnel Director Eric Widmark said the Bucs have 50 players signed up if the strike begins Tuesday as expected.

Brewers Belt AMERICAN LEAGUE M L Poi. 4. Morris, 11-4; Jays Close In

Although involved in a tight pennant race, Sparky Anderson prefers playing a team that hasn't given up. "Here's a club (Milwaukee) that can't win it and they're out here every day." Anderson said Sunday after the Brewers belted three home runs off his ace, Jack Morris, to beat Detroit, 11-4. 'It's a pleasure to see," Anderson said. "I have a lot of respect for clubs like that.

What bothers me is beating a club that doesn't want to be there," he added.

Juan Nieves, 13-7, won for the seventh time in his last eight decisions and Chuck Crim worked 3 1-3 innings for his 10th save. Morris, 18-9, lost for the third time in nine decisions. Nieves only went 5 2-3 but he dropped Detroit's record against southpaws to 18-27, a statistic that may bother Anderson who's Tigers may face as many as seven left-handers over the final weeks of the season.

Paul Molitor, Yount and Glenn Braggs opened the game with singles to give Milwaukee a 1-0 lead.

Left sielder Kirk Gibson misplayed B.J. Surhoff's fly ball to open Milwaukee's four-run second inning. Two outs later. Sveum hit his 23rd homer. Molitor doubled and Yount followed with his 18th homer.

"Early he didn't have his good stuff," Milwaukee Manager Tom Trebelhorn said of Morris. "Then he got it but fortunately we got a couple of good hits. We got pretty good swings off everybody."

Larry Herndon lined a two-run single in the third to make it 5-2. Molitor hit his 14th home run. leading off the fifth inning, to give the Brewers a 6-2 lead. The Brewers added four more runs off reliever Eric King in the seventh. Surhoff doubled home two runs and Schroeder hit his 13th home run to make it 10-2. Braggs led off the ninth with his Gibson hit his 22nd homer to open the eighth.

Elsewhere. Toronto downed New York 6-2. Boston swept the Ortoles 5-1 and 6-3, Minnesota Blue Jays...... edged Cleveland 3-2. Oakland Yankees.....2 downed Kansas City 7-6, Texas nipped California 2-1 in 10 innings and Chicago defeated Seattle 5-3.

Extraordinary Emmitt Races Gators By Tide

United Press International BIRMINGHAM. Ala. - In just two games, the focus of Florida's offense has shifted from a senior quarterback to a freshman tailback.

But this is no ordinary freshman tallback.

Emmitt Smith, who finished his high-school career at Pensacola Escambia as the No. 3 rusher in prep history, made a dynamic first collegiate start Saturday. In breaking a 57-year-old school rushing record and upstaging Bobby Humphrey, Smith led Florida to a 23-14 victory over 10th-ranked Alabama and firmly established himself as the hub of the Gators'

"He has great vision. He has great balance." Florida Coach Galen Hall said after Smith rushed for 224 yards and two touchdowns in 39 carries. "Very seldom do you get a real clear shot at Emmitt. He was truly a great player today. He has earned the starting spot and I hope he has many more like

Before the season began, quarterback Kerwin Bell was being primed for a Heisman run. but his production has dropped with the resurgence of Florida's ground game.

This was the third game and we did it without any mistakes," Smith said. "I played a lot looser today than I did in Miami. As long as the job gets done, I don't care who gets the record. The record I set today was due to the blocking up front."

Flortda's defense also played superbly as the Gators snapped an eight-game losing streak to Alabama. Humphrey, who set a Tide rushing record with 1.471 vards last year and gained 220 a week ago against Penn State. ran for just 73 yards in 19 carries against a Gator defense that registered six sacks.

Smith, 5-foot-10 and 201 pounds, topped Florida's single-game rushing record of 218 yards set by Red Bethea against Chicago in 1930. Neal-Anderson, currently playing for the Chicago Bears, held the

The Knight defense did its part as it limited NAIA All-American runing back Dwayne Clark, who ran for 1,473 yards and 19 touchdowns last season, to 89 yards on 21 carries.

UCF got on the board quickly as it scored the first two times that it had the ball. After holding Elon (0-1) on its opening possession, the Knights drove 57 yards in three plays. The 18-second drive, which consisted of three consecutive passes, was capped when Slack hit Ford with a 22-yard touchdown strike. Slack's 40yard bomb to Spencer set up Ford's score.

The Knights lengthened their lead to 21-0 when Slack culminated a seven-play, 69-yard march with a 27-yard touchdown pass to Spencer.

Giants, Rams Face Trouble, Strike Or Not

United Press International Either way you look at it, the New York Giants and Los Angeles Rams enter this week facing discouraging prospects. For the Giants and Rams will either be walking a picket line as part of a strike or stumbling into Week 3 of the season 0-2.

At East Rutherford, N.J., Bill Bates grabbed two of four Dallas interceptions and Roger Ruzek kicked three field goals Sunday. lifting the Cowboys to a 16-14 upset of the defending Super Bowl champion Giants.

At Anaheim, Calif., Wade Wilson connected with Hassan Jones for a 41-yard touchdown pass with 30 seconds remaining. rallying the Minnesota Vikings to a 21-16 victory over the Rams, sending Los Angeles to its first 0-2 start since 1982.

Thus, two of the teams expected to challenge for the NFC title were 0-2. And the chances of working on their problems dwindled every minute as a players' strike scheduled for Tuesday if their is no collective bargaining agreement approached.

This was the most gutwrenching loss I've ever experienced," Giants safety Kenny Hill

Dallas, 1-1, made a goat of Super Bowl MVP Phil Simms, who was booed by the Giants Stadium fans. Ruzek kicked field goals of 46, 43 and 28 yards. with the 28-yarder putting Dallas ahead 16-14 with 5:26

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A surge in auto and truck buying pushed consumer spending up 1.5 percent in August, the biggest gain in six months, while personal income rose a healthy 0.5 percent, the Commerce Department said today.

Americans spent at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $3.03 trillion in August, $44.4 billion ahead of July's pace, the government said. About twothirds of that gain came from provide better, safer care." Averbach and his colleagues reached their conclusions after studying 102 ambulance accidents reported to the Tennessee Department of Health and Environment between 1983 and mid-1988. All but four of the accidents were recorded after new reporting regulations were put in place in 1985.

The researchers noted that almost half of the accidents occurred at intersections and that in 27 accidents, ambulance drivers were cited by police for speeding, ignoring signs and signals or other traffic violations.

Yet only about a third of the patients being transported were so severely ill that time was a factor in getting them to the hospital, Auerbach said.

'And the instances where saving a minute or two getting to the hospital is absolutely crucial are a very, very small minority of that," he said. "This is an urban environment where the nearest hospital is usually only a few miles away anyway.

"Our people are instructed to stop at all controlled intersections (one with stop signs or lights)," Walter said. "We tell our people to stop, look, listen and then proceed." Although Walter said that policy sounds funny to some people, it has gone a long way towards making Rural/Metro service safer. Walter also said that Rural/Metro drivers are instructed by company policy to go only 10 miles above the posted speed limit. "The state doesn't have a limit for us in its statutes, but that's our policy," he said.

"It's a judgment issue," Auerbach said, "but on busy city streets, it doesn't make much sense to run lights or speed to take any sort of chance for the sake of time."

On average, the ambulance accidents in the study resulted in a nine-minute delay in getting the patient to the hospital, which "may have adversely influenced patient outcome" for the more severely ill patients, the researchers said.

"We do not have data to make this statement definitively," they said. "But the risk is

In addition, 29 of the accidenta resulted in a total 65 injuries to drivers or passengers: 16 trivial injuries; 29 minor cuts, brutses or sprains; 18 fractures, concussions or other moderate to severe injuries; and two deaths. One death was caused by a pre-existing condition and could not be attributed directly to the crash itself, the researchers said.

Failure to use scatbelts and: other restraints was the major factor determining whether an accident resulted in injury, with less than half of drivers and other passengers wearing the belts, and 40 percent of the patients not being properly restrained.

Walter said all Rural/Metro employees have been told to wear seat belts when on an ambulance run. He added that any passenger being treated while in an upright position should have a shoulder harness on and that patients being treated while lying down would be on a stretcher mechanically locked into the ambulance unit. "As far as four- or five-point restraint (tying down of wrists and ankles)," he said. "we don't do that sort of thing."

On the study. Auerbach commented. "That is an abysmal record. Sometimes the patient may need to be un-restrained to administer proper care, but there really is no excuse for anyone to be unrestrained in the drivers seat and the passenger seat."

will be protected by urbanization or more intensive land uses.

The traffic circulation plan requires uniform building aetbacks and designated right-of-way widths for new construction that will allow the city to widen roads as more lanes are needed. The traffic plan also calls for widening some major roads within the city limits and building roads in conjunction with anticipated development.

The public facilities and services element states that governmental and private developers should use Sanford's water and sewage services for existing and future development in the north central urban service area of Seminole County. In addition, this portion of the plans calls for a water reuse system, a landfill for biodegradable waste. adequate draining systems, protection of the natural groundwater aquifer system, and adequate police and fire protection.

 The recreation and open space plan provides for non-vehicular routes for pedestrians and bicycles that would connect parks, schools and other recreation facilities. It also calls for the Lake Monroe waterfront to be designated as a special scenic corridor. Included under this area are plans for a 30 to 50 acre sports complex, a community swimming pool, a senior citizens' center and neighborhood community centers. The downtown design concept calls for cohesiveness between the marina/waterfront, the

The housing plan seeks to eliminate substandard housing, improve housing conditions. preserve historically significant housing, preserve neighborhood quality and provide for group homes' foster care facilities.

The goal of the conservation plan is to preserve and conserve forested uplands and wetlands and protect water quality and quantity.

The intention of the intergovernmental coordination plan is to establish a single comprehensive plan for the Sanford urban area with the input of city and county officials working together. The plan seeks to define the responsibilities for urban services in the north central urban service area. Under this plan, the city would provide water and sewage systems and the county would be responsible for major transportation improvements.

The capital improvement element's goal is to adopt sound financial policies and programs to guide the funding of the improvements in the comprehensive plan. This includes coordinating land-use decisions and available or projected funds and making sure that future development bears a proportionate cost of the improvements.

Every five years, state planning law requires each local government to review its comprehensive plan to consider results, successes, failures, strengths, weaknesses and the need for

Martinez, who Grindle says has been open and forthright during the buzzstorm following his bid to put the tax on a referendum ballot, admits the furor raised by unconsulted polittical leaders could have been avoided but said he still likes the tax income and think Florida is better with something than nothing, Lt. Gov. Bobby Brantley, of Longwood, said the Martinez administration has defined about $400 million worth of cuts that could be made in the state's budget without jeopardizing education, prison efficiency or reducing drug education programs.

Grindle said he would like to see the tax repealed then replaced with something wellstudied this spring at the Legislature's regular session. Grindle said he thinks a substantial amount of the budget shortfall that could be created by a repeal of the tax can be made up by cutting administrative costs out of the state's budget.

The 120-member House is about evenly split on repeal and revision, and very few of those votes are unremovably stuck in the philosophical mud. The 40-member Senate probably likes revision, according to Senate President John Vogt. D.Cocoa Beach, Sam Bell, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, is squarely against repeal.

The battle flags have attracted the yeas and nays, with teachers against the tax, but their unions for it. DEAR ABBT: Our son is 3 years old. Our daughter is 5. My parents live one hour away - by car. I recently phoned and asked them to come and stay with their grandchildren for a weekend while we attend a convention in another city.

My mother immediately checked to see if the dates (two months away) were on their "RV group" weekend. Since we so rarely ask them to baby-sit our children, and the children love "Nini and Papa" so much, I was hurt, and wrote and told them

Mother wrote back, listing her priorities as follows: (1) Her Job. (She sells real estate.) (2) Her favorite activity. (Taking RV group trips with her husband, who is retired.) (3) Her grandchildren.

World's Financial Planners Meeting

WASHINGTON (UPI) Talk of debt, the dollar and the world's economic direction will occupy government and private financiers when they meet in Washington this week for the World Bank-International Monetary Fund annual meeting.

An estimated 9,000 staff members, journalists, private bankers and officials from some 150 countries are expected to take part in what often ends up looking more like a three-ring circus than an orderly convention.

World Bank and IMF activities will fill only one of those rings. Another will be occupled with debt. particularly Brazil's latest maneuverings to refinance much of the $112 billion it owes foreigners.

The third ring will feature the treasury ministers of the world's seven biggest economies as they struggle to keep their currencies balanced and their economic growth in step.

Many recent meet-ings of the so-called Group of Seven have focused on Japan, but this one is likely to give a much higher profile to West Germany and its sluggish economy.

The action starts Thursday morning when deputies of 24 developing nations begin their semiannual meeting.

That will be followed over the weekend by sessions featuring other bank and IMF groups and will culminate with the start of the formal meetings Tuesday, Sept. 29. The flurry ends Thursday. Oct. 1.

The World Bank-IMF meetings have long been a financial meeting place because the two agencies represent so many countries and shell out so much cash. The bank lent $14.6 billion during the past fiscal year and plans to commit $17 billion to $19 billion this year.

Bank money traditionally goes to development projects, such as building dams or improving schools.

Medication Effective For Prolactin Excretion

DEAR DR. GOTT - Please give me some information about the medication given to a woman to dry up her milk if she is not going to breast-feed her baby. Does it increase the chances of breast cancer? Is there a way of making the milk dry up naturally?

DEAR READER - Pariodel (bromocriptine) is a prescription drug that blocks the secretion of prolactin, the milk-producing hormone that is formed in the pituitary gland. When given under medical supervision, it is a safe way to dry up a women's breasts after she has delivered. Although Pariodel has not been reported to cause breast cancer, it can cause low blood pressure, nausca, headache, dizzinesa, fatigue and light-headedness.

in the past, before the use of medicines for this purpose. women who wanted to stop laciating had to stop nursing. bind their breasts and limit fluid intake. This was uncomfortable and often led to mastitia (breast infection). All in all, the modern drug inhibition of lactation is superior to the older, "natural" method.

DEAR DR. GOTT - I am a respectable, middle-class, 69-year-old widow, and I am ashamed to say I think I have head or body lice. The only place I think I could have gotten them is at the beauty shop. They use the same rollers on everyone without sterilizing them. What can I do to get rid of these nasty, distasteful things?

DEAR READER - Having lice does not mean a person is unclean or disreputable; it means simply that you picked up the lice from another person. The beauty shop is a possibility.

Ask your doctor for a prescription for Kwell shampoo. When used according to directions, it will eliminate the lice. By all means, share your concerns with the beauty-shop operators. They will surely want to tighten up their hygienic practices.

DEAR DR. GOTT - Is it true that every time one sneezes, the heart skips a beat?

DEAR READER - Sneezing does not usually cause the heart to skip a beat. However, the vagus nerve - which slows the heart rate - can be stimulated by straining or encezing.

_ Foxa

Therefore, a person with an overactive vagus reflex might detect a slowing of the heart during repeated sneezing.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

"A New Approach to Play and Defense," last year's awardwinning book by Eddie Kantar. was so well received that a second volume has been published. The deals are different but the theme is the same. You first have the chance to place yourself in the role of declarer. Later on, the same deal is repeated, sometimes with slight changes, and you have the opportunity to come up with the winning defensive play.

In today's deal. South bid six clubs after North had cue-bid the heart ace to show a maximum no-trump opening with both heart control and club support. Declarer won dummy's ace of hearts, came to his hand with a club and led a spade toward dummy. He did not draw trumps right away because he needed communication back to his hand. West ducked and the king won in dummy. Declarer returned to his hand with a second club, exhausting the opponents of trumps, and played a second spade. West ducked once again, and dummy's queen won. If declarer plays a third spade. hoping that the suit will split. West can play a fourth spade and South will later lose a diamond. Instead, declarer should now play dummy's remaining heart, shedding his small spade on it. He can now ruff dummy's third spade, leaving West holding the master spade in front of dummy. But now the trump suit is run, and West is squeezed between his last spade and his four diamonds to the Jack. Eventually he must either throw away the high spade or unguard the diamond suit, and the slam is made.
